- Of the Longhorns' current starting five - despite four of those players returning from last season - all had to adjust to a new position this season.
- A detailed breakdown to the adjustments players in the current starting lineup had to make this season is available on the next page.

"Texas got two outstanding prospects. They got both front-court and back-court help with two of the elite prospects of the 2017 class. Virtually the best point guard in the country in Chasity Patterson stayed close to home. She is electrifying, explosive and, end-line to end-line, she is maybe the speediest player in the class of 2017. She is going to be a real crowd favorite. Rellah Boothe, on a pure athleticism, raw talent basis, could be the best player in the country. She has to put it all together, but she's got four years now to do that under Karen Aston. They are both just going to add to the depth that already exists at Texas once they start playing there."

Underwood, Jada

“You find out your strengths, and use them against people. I know that maybe I can out-quick them, and I can shoot the ball from deep. I can extend the floor, not just to get opportunities for me, but for my teammates.”

—Brooke McCarty

“McCarty uses her height

as a bit of fuel. At 5-4, she heard the “too small” comments at times before she got to college, but didn’t let them discourage her. Just the opposite, in fact.”

—Mechelle Voepel, ESPN.com

—TCU head coach Raegan Pebley

—Dan Hughes, Fox Sports Analyst
Former Head Coach, San Antonio Stars

“She’s incredibly impressive. She can handle, she can shoot, she can rebound, she can run and she can fly. She is a 6-3 athlete with tremendous strength. Kind of like a LeBron James on the floor in the women’s game. She’s so multi-talented.”

—Neil Fortner, ESPN analyst

“I have never seen a player of her size at the forward position be able to do the things that she has done. She is very powerful, but kind of unassuming at times. She has this star power that everyone just isn’t blessed to have.”

—Tina Thompson, Texas Assistant Coach

PALO ALTO, Calif. -- Stanford junior guard Brittany McPhee posted a career-high 28 points to lead all-scorers en route to No. 11/10 Stanford's win over No. 8/6 Texas inside Maples Pavilion on Monday night, 71-59.

Tonight marked Texas head coach Karen Aston's 300th career game as a head coach. Aston holds an all-time record of 190-110 (.635) in her 10th season at the helm of a collegiate program.

The Cardinal leads the all-time series over the Longhorns, 7-4, and picks up its first against Texas since the 2013-2014 season.

"They were the better team. We haven't executed things in practice the way we need to," said Aston. "We went through a stretch where we fouled too much, and we went through a stretch where we weren't helping each other defensively. We will get home and get to work because that's all we can do."

Junior guard Brooke McCarty led the Horns across the board, registering a team-high 20 points and five rebounds on the night. Junior guard Ariel Atkins joined her in the double-figures with 14 points, including a 3-of-6 effort from downtown, and a game-high four steals.

As a team, Texas shot 35.3 percent (24-of-68) from the field to Stanford's 54.9 shooting percentage (28-of-51). The Horns outrebounded the Cardinal, 38-32, and registered nine steals in the contest.

Stanford's McPhee capped off her record night with seven rebounds and two assists.

Texas held the early 9-8 edge headed into the first media timeout, but Stanford answered with a 9-4 rally to lead by four (17-13) with 48 seconds remaining in the quarter. The Horns wasted no time on offense with a quick three-pointer from sophomore guard Higgs, and a buzzer-beating tip-in from Atkins closed the first in favor of Texas, 18-17.

The Longhorns held onto their lead until the 5:23 mark of the game when a Cardinal trey tied the match at 24. Stanford gained momentum behind an 11-3 run to lead at the half, 35-29.

Atkins and McCarty found the sweet spot behind the arc to open the second half, cutting the margin to five (40-35 Stanford) at 8:20 mark of the third. The Cardinal extended their lead to double-digits (52-42), but another trey from McCarty and a layup from freshman guard/forward Joyner Holmes got the Horns within five once again. Stanford continued to find its strength in the paint and held the lead heading into the final stretch, 58-50.

An 8-0 Cardinal run was cut short by a three-point play from McCarty, but Stanford continued to convert in the paint. The Cardinal would outscore the Longhorns, 13-9, in the fourth to close the game with the 71-59 win.

Texas will host its first regular season game against the Houston Baptist Huskies inside the Erwin Center on Wednesday, Nov. 16. Tip is slated for 11 a.m. and the game will be carried live on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas -- Freshman Joyner Holmes was one rebound shy of her first career double-double and led all scorers with 22 points and nine rebounds as the No. 8/10 Texas Women's Basketball toppled Houston Baptist, 98-46, in front of 6,378 fans inside the Frank Erwin Center on Wednesday.

With the win, the Longhorns move to 39-4 (.907) all-time in home openers and hold an unblemished 5-0 record under Texas head coach Karen Aston.

This was the first meeting between Texas and Houston Baptist in program history. The Horns lead the all-time series over Southland Conference foes, 36-9.

"I thought our team came out with a lot of energy," said Aston. "It was a difficult game for us to play this morning, honestly, because of the road trip and how late we got back. I was anxious to see how we would bounce back from a loss. I was pleased with the face that we were focused and ready to play today."

Holmes's 22-point game came behind an 8-of-17 shooting effort (.471) from the floor. She also added three blocks and one assist. Junior Brooke McCarty followed suit with 16 points, including a 4-of-5 effort from downtown, and four assists.

Junior Ariel Atkins posted 11 points with three steals, while rookies Jada Underwood and Alecia Sutton rounded out the double-digit scorers with 11 and 10 points, respectively.

Senior Kelsey Lang put up two points and two blocks for the game, moving her onto the Texas all-time top-10 list for career blocks with 112.

As a team, Texas shot 46.1 percent (35-of-76) from the floor while holding Houston Baptist to a 28.8 shooting percentage (15-of-52). The Horns dominated every category across the board, including double-figures in assists (18), blocks (10), and steals (11).

Houston Baptist was led by freshman Lauren Calver with 11 points.

Texas jumped out on a 19-3 run to open the game, but the Huskies found their strength from the three-point range, draining four treys in the first quarter, to try and chip away at the Longhorns lead. Early foul trouble proved problematic for HBU, and Texas went on to end the quarter, 28-17.

The Horns held HBU to only four points in the second stanza and used their quick hands to convert 11 points off turnovers. The 29-4 margin quickly widened the Texas lead heading into the locker rooms, 57-21.

The third quarter played to Texas's post advantage, and the Longhorns went on to claim 14 points inside the paint. Holmes put an exclamation point on the quarter with a buzzer-beating jumper to end the stanza, 81-31.

Texas took its largest lead of the night, a 56-point spread, after a three-pointer from Sutton with 6:55 remaining on the game clock. In the end, the Longhorns finished just two shy of the century mark with the 98-46 victory.

Up next on the slate, Texas will travel to Starkville, Miss. to take on No. 10/9 Mississippi State on Sunday, Nov. 20. Tip-off is set for 5 p.m. and the game will be carried on the SEC Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Six Longhorns posted in double figures as No. 14/14 Texas Women's Basketball (2-2) downed Northwestern State (3-1) inside the Drum on Thanksgiving Eve, 86-39.

With the win, the Longhorns boast a perfect 5-0 record over the Lady Demons all-time. Texas holds a 47-9 (.839) record against members in the current alignment of the Southland Conference.

"I thought we played well," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I thought we worked on some areas that we were deficient in against Mississippi State. We got a chance to play everybody and play a lot of young guys some minutes where we can have some teaching moments with them and continue to work on them."

Sophomore Lashann Higgs led the way for the Horns with 14 points, five rebounds, and five assists. Freshman Joyner Holmes and senior Kelsey Lang both notched 12 points while junior Ariel Atkins posted 11 points and a team-high four steals.

Junior Brooke McCarty and freshman Jada Underwood rounded out the double-digits with 10 points and two treys apiece.

As a team, Texas shot 57.1 percent from the floor (36-of-63) while holding Northwestern State to a 28.3 shooting percentage (13-of-46). The Longhorns gobbled up the stats across the board, outrebounding the Lady Demons 39-20 and swiping nine steals to Northwestern State's three.

NSU was led by senior Beatrice Attura with 15 points and five boards on the night.

Texas shot into action with an Atkins jumper and Taylor triple and headed into the media timeout with the 11-6 lead. From there, the Horns went on an 11-3 rally to end the first, 21-9.

After pushing out on an unanswered 22-point run, the Horns held the Lady Demons to only five points in the second stanza. A total of 10 Texas layups were complimented by three-pointers from McCarty and Underwood to send the Longhorns into the locker room with the 47-14 advantage.

A 24-10 margin lengthened the Texas lead in the third quarter. The Longhorns utilized their strength in the paint, handing Higgs back-to-back layups in the heart of the stanza and closing the quarter, 71-24.

All 15 points in the closing quarter came off the Texas bench, including a triple from Underwood and a block from sophomore Olanide Aborowa. The Lady Demons answered with an equal 15 points, but Texas clenched the game, 86-39.

Next, Texas will host No. 3/3 South Carolina in the SEC-Big 12 Challenge on Thursday, Dec. 1 inside the Erwin Center. Tip is slated for 6 p.m. and the game will be televised on ESPN2.

AUSTIN, Texas – Senior Kelsey Lang had a record evening, posting her second career double-double, as No. 14/15 Texas Women's Basketball (2-3) fell to No. 3/3 South Carolina (6-0) inside the Erwin Center on Thursday night, 76-67.

Texas leads the all-times series over South Carolina, 2-1.

"I was really, really proud of our team and how they attacked the game plan," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "Then you look at the stat sheet, and we did some things that we set out to do. We just didn't manage the foul game at all. I'm really encouraged by Kelsey because that's what we need from Kelsey Lang. She stepped up to the plate tonight, and if she continues to work like she has in practice and perform like she did tonight then I'm very encouraged about our future."

Lang's double-double came behind a season-high 15 points, including a 7-10 shooting effort from the floor, and 12 rebounds. The senior also registered a career-high six blocks.

Junior Ariel Atkins registered 14 points and a game-high four assists, and freshman Joyner Holmes put up 11 points and brought down four boards on the night.

As a team, Texas shot 41.2 percent (28-68) from the floor while South Carolina notched a 42.3 shooting percentage (22-52). The Longhorns outrebounded the Gamecocks, 40-37, and posted nine blocks to South Carolina's six.

South Carolina's junior A'ja Wilson paved the way for the Gamecocks with 31 points and 12 rebounds.

Texas maintained a slim advantage until the 1:23 mark of the first when a Gamecock layup squared things at 14. After junior Audrey-Ann Caron-Goudreau blocked one in the paint, sophomore Lashann Higgs managed to fire off a jumper to beat the clock, ending the first, 16-14 Longhorns.

South Carolina was able to capitalize off Texas foul trouble in the second stanza, converting nine points from the charity stripe. After tying things at the 8:34 mark, the Gamecocks pushed ahead to lead by as many as six points, but a junior Brooke McCarty three-pointer made it a one-possession game at the half in the Gamecocks favor, 33-30.

Texas continued to stay on pace with South Carolina in the third, and back-to-back baskets from Higgs tied it at 47 and got the crowd on its feet. Texas took the lead back at the 3:47 mark courtesy of a freshman Joyner Holmes layup, but the Gamecocks close on an 11-3 stretch to head into the final quarter with the 55-49 advantage.

A basket from Lang at the 7:33 mark of the fourth made it a one-possession game (60-57 South Carolina) headed into the final stretch, but the Gamecocks never let the Longhorns closer than that. South Carolina outscored Texas, 21-18, in the closing quarter to seal the game, 76-67.

Up next on the slate, Texas will continue its challenging nonconference schedule as it travels to Uncasville, Conn. to take on the No. 2/2 UConn Huskies. Tip inside the Mohegan Sun Arena is set for 3 p.m. CT, and the game will be broadcasted on ESPN.

AUSTIN, Texas – Five Longhorns scored in the double-figures as No. 17/17 Texas Women's Basketball (3-4) held Tennessee (4-4) inside the Erwin Center on Sunday afternoon, 72-67.

Although Tennessee has the 23-15 edge over Texas in series history, this is the third consecutive meeting the Longhorns have won over the Lady Vols. Texas possesses a 144-72 (.667) record all-time against members of the Southeastern Conference.

"I think that this win is, first of all, much needed for our team," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "This was just a little bit of a preview of what our games might be like for a while, and that's not a bad thing. It was a good learning experience for our young players."

Junior Brooke McCarthy posted 13 points, including two treys, along with four blocks and assists on the match. Freshman Jada Underwood joined her with 13 points of her own, good for her new career high.

Senior Kelsey Lang notched another impressive performance, just two shy of her third-straight double-double with 12 points and eight rebounds. Lang also tied her career-high with six blocks while adding two assists and one steal for the game in a career-high 40 minutes of play.

Freshman Joyner Holmes flirted with her first career double-double, registering 12 points and eight boards. Sophomore Lashann Higgs totaled 12 points, including a 5-of-10 effort from the field.

As a team, Texas shot 45.2 percent (28-of-62) from the floor while holding Tennessee to a 41.8 shooting percentage (28-of-67). Texas outrebounded the Lady Vols, 40-32, and has won the battle of the boards in all seven matches this season.

The Lady Vols were led by junior Jaime Nared with 22 points.

The Longhorns jumped out on an 11-2 run early in the game capped off by a tip-in from Holmes headed into the media timeout. Underwood knocked down the last four points for Texas to close the first stanza in the Horns' favor, 22-12.

Texas took its largest lead of the game at the 6:10 mark of the second quarter when a jumper from freshman Alecia Sutton put Texas on top by 15 (31-16). Tennessee slowly chipped into the Longhorn lead, converting three from downtown, to close the gap to five points headed into the locker rooms, 37-32 Texas.

The Lady Vols opened the second half on a 7-0 rally to take their first lead of the game (39-37) with 6:19 left in the third. From there, it remained a one-possession game, and a buzzer-beater from Higgs put Texas on top headed into the final stretch, 48-46.

After things evened at 52 with 7:36 remaining in the game, the Horns widened their edge to as many as eight (66-58) after a three-point play from Holmes. Tennessee continued to find its strength from behind the arc, knocking down three triples in just over a minute, to make it a 70-67 Texas with 7.3 seconds on the game clock. Underwood put things on ice with two from the charity stripe to end the game, 72-67 Longhorns.

Up next, Texas will continue its homestand against UT Rio Grande Valley on Thursday, Dec. 15. Tip-off inside the Erwin Center is scheduled for 7 p.m. CT, and the game will be televised nationally on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Freshman Joyner Holmes and Senior Kelsey Lang both registered double-doubles as No. 16/17 Texas Women's Basketball defeated UTRGV inside the Drum on Thursday night, 85-61.

The victory marks 500 all-time wins for Texas Women's Hoops inside the Erwin Center. The Longhorns hold a 500-96 (.839) record at home since the Erwin Center opened during the 1977-78 campaign.

This is the first time two Texas players have notched double-doubles in the same game since Imani Boyette and Nneka Enemkpalu accomplished the feat against Kansas State on Jan. 26, 2013.

Texas holds a perfect 7-0 record over UTRGV in series history.

"It's always exciting to be part of a win that is historic," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I'm happy it was the 500th in the Erwin Center, and it just means a whole lot of special basketball has gone on here for a whole lot of years, and we're really proud to be a part of that."

Holmes led the way for Texas with a game-high 16 points and career-high 13 rebounds. The freshman also totaled a career-high four assists and three blocks.

Lang picked up her third double-double of the season with 10 points and rebounds, respectively. She also added one block for the night, moving her in a tie for 8th place all-time on the Texas blocked shots list with Tracy Cook (1998-02).

Junior Brooke McCarthy posted 14 points along with five boards and a game-high six assists. Freshman Jada Underwood rounded out the Longhorns in the double figures with 12 points, including a perfect 4-4 effort from both the field and the charity stripe.

As a team, Texas shot 53.2 percent (33-62) from the field while holding UTRGV to a 29.2 shooting percentage (21-72). The Longhorns outrebounded the Vaqueros, 50-35, and have not lost a battle of the boards yet this season.

UTRGV was led by senior Shawnte' Goff and sophomore Bernesha Peters with 12 points each.

The Horns opened on a 9-2 push to start the game, and consecutive McCarthy to Holmes lay-ups made it 15-10 Texas at a UTRGV timeout with 6:08 remaining in the first. Texas closed with a sophomore Jordan Hosey jumper and six lay-ups to end the first quarter, 29-17.

It was a 17-15 battle with Texas narrowly holding the edge as the Vaqueros found all their points from downtown with five triples in the second stanza. McCarthy knocked down her first trey of the game at the 2:51 mark, and the Longhorns headed into the half with the 46-32 lead.

The Horns held UTRGV to only eight points in the third quarter and took their largest lead of the night, a 33-point spread, with just under a minute remaining. Lang knocked down two from the line to close the third, 71-40 Texas.

The Vaqueros held the edge in the closing quarter, 21-14, but it wasn't enough as Texas went on to win the game, 85-61.

Coming up, the Longhorns have a quick turnaround as they host UTSA inside the Drum on Saturday night. Tip is set for 5 p.m. CT, and the game will be broadcasted on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Senior Kelsey Lang picked up a new school record and her third straight double-double as No. 16/17 Texas Women's Basketball (6-4) took down New Orleans (4-5) inside the Erwin Center on Monday night, 80-48.

Lang's career-high 23 points set a new school record for the first player to make 11 shots in a single game with a perfect field goal percentage. The previous record for the most shots made with a perfect percentage was nine by Angela Jackson in the 1997-98 campaign.

Texas leads the all-time series over New Orleans, 2-0.

"I definitely thought that the team was ready to play," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "They paid attention to the things that we prepped for in this game, and I thought that we had some really good moments."

Lang also added 10 rebounds to put her in double-double territory and posted two blocks on the night. Junior Ariel Atkins totaled 15 points, including two three-pointers, and five rebounds.

Freshman Joyner Holmes brought down 10 boards along with three assists, and sophomore Lashann Higgs put up eight points and swiped a career-high five steals.

As a team, Texas shot 51.6 percent (33-64) from the floor, marking the third time this season the Longhorns have shot over 50 percent. New Orleans was held to a 30.4 (17-56) shooting percentage for the game.

New Orleans was led by senior Jewel Angelo with 17 points.

The Privaters managed to remain within striking distance of the Horns in the first quarter with Texas holding the 16-13 edge at the 3:38 mark. The Longhorns then fired off an 8-0 spurt to increase the lead to nine, but New Orleans captured the last two baskets of the stanza to make it 24-17 in favor of Texas.

Atkins knocked down the Horns' first trey of the game to open the second, and Texas continued to distance itself from the Privaters. Junior Brooke McCarty drained a signature triple, and two from the line from New Orleans sent the teams into the half, 43-28 Texas.

The Longhorns only allowed the Mountaineers two points in the third quarter coming from a lone jumper at the 3:52 mark. Junior Tasia Foman picked up two assists and converted a three-point play, and a layup from Higgs closed the quarter, 68-30 Texas.

The Privaters outscored the Longhorns in the final quarter, 18-12, but Texas captured the win, 80-48.

Texas will return to action on Thursday, Dec. 29 as it opens its conference schedule at home against Texas Tech. Tip inside the Erwin Center is set for 7 p.m. CT, and the game will be televised on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Junior Brooke McCarty registered a team-high 16 points and freshman Joyner Holmes posted her second double-double as No. 16/16 Texas Women's Basketball (7-4, 1-0 Big 12) defeated Texas Tech (8-4, 0-1 Big 12) in the first conference game of the season inside the Erwin Center on Thursday night, 67-47.

With the win, Texas has captured the past three conference lid-lifters.

The Longhorns lead the all-time series over the Lady Raiders, 68-29, and hold a 33-7 edge at home.

"I'm just excited that Big 12 play started," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I was really pleased with our team's effort. Not everything was perfect, and I don't think it's going to be, but I really thought that we executed a game plan and played hard."

McCarty complimented her 16 points with four rebounds and one assist, and Holmes's double-double came behind 10 points and rebounds. Senior Brianna Taylor rounded out the Longhorns in the double figures with 10 points, including a 5-7 effort from the field.

Senior Kelsey Lang and junior Ariel Atkins were just shy of their double-doubles. Lang posted eight points and tied her career-high with 13 rebounds, and Atkins posted nine points and eight boards along with a team-high three steals in the contest.

As a team, Texas shot 43.7 percent (31-71) from the field while holding Texas Tech to a 33.9 shooting percentage (19-56). The Horns outrebounced the Lady Raiders, 49-28, and has won every battle of the boards this season.

Texas Tech was led by sophomore Reece Caldwell with a game-high 24 points.

Texas darted off to a 16-4 lead to open the game at the 2:48 mark of the first, converting 12 points off layups. Texas Tech capped off the opening quarter with the next eight points, including two straight from downtown, to cut the margin to 16-12 Longhorns.

The Lady Raiders continued to nip at the Horns' heels, making it a one-possession game (20-17 Texas) after a jumper at the 4:46 mark of the second quarter. Atkins captured the next three buckets with midrange jumpers, and the Longhorns fired off the next ten points to lead at the half, 30-17.

Texas continued to drive ahead in the third, and a McCarty three forced a Texas Tech timeout at the 6:07 mark with the Horns holding the 43-22 edge. The teams continued to trade baskets, and a jumper from sophomore Lashann Higgs ended the third, 48-28 Longhorns.

It was an even 19-19 spread in the closing stanza with Texas Tech finding its strength once again from behind the arc. The Horns closed on an 8-0 stretch to take the game, 67-47.

Up next, Texas will play its first conference road game in Ames, Iowa on New Years Day as it takes on Iowa State. Tip inside the Hilton Coliseum is set for 12 p.m. CT and the game will be televised on FSN.

LAWRENCE, Kan. – Junior Brooke McCarty registered a team-high 15 points as No. 15/17 Texas Women's Basketball (9-4, 3-0 Big 12 Conference) defeated Kansas (6-8, 0-3 Big 12 Conference) inside Allen Fieldhouse on Wednesday evening, 66-54.

With the win, Texas is off to its second straight 3-0 Big 12 start and fourth of program history.

Texas leads the all-times series over Kansas, 23-10, and has captured the last nine meetings.

"We did what we had to do to win," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "We'll get home tomorrow, and we'll regroup and be ready for TCU on Saturday."

McCarty also added six rebounds and a team-high three assists on the night. Freshman Joyner Holmes posted 13 points and a team-high nine boards and three blocks while junior Ariel Atkins notched 12 points and five rebounds in the contest.

As a team, Texas shot 39.1 percent (25-64) from the field while holding Kansas to a 26.4 shooting percentage (19-72). The Longhorns outrebounded the Jayhawks, 61-35, marking the seventh most rebounds recorded in a single game in program history.

Kansas was led by redshirt junior Jessica Washington's double-double of 23 points and 10 rebounds.

Four straight layups from the Longhorns gave them the early 8-0 edge headed into the first timeout, but a 7-1 run from the Jayhawks tightened things to 10-7 Texas at the 2:09 mark. Junior Tasia Foman knocked down the only three of the opening quarter as the Horns closed on a 7-2 spread to lead at the end of the first, 17-9.

The Jayhawks outscored the Longhorns 21-18 in the second quarter, but Texas paced itself behind two three-pointers from McCarty to hold onto the lead. After two straight triples from Kansas, freshman Jada Underwood notched her first bucket of the night to close the half, 35-30 Texas.

The Longhorn offense took over in the third stanza, outscoring the Jayhawks 19-8. A Holmes layup put Texas up by double-digits (47-36) at the 2:35 mark, and four from Atkins closed out the quarter, 54-38 Horns.

Texas took its largest lead of the night (66-46) after a layup from sophomore Jordan Hosey with 4:11 remaining in the game. From there, both teams were scoreless from the field with Kansas bagging the last six points of the match from the charity stripe, but the Longhorns came away with the 66-54 win.

Coming up, Texas will return home as it hosts TCU on Saturday, Jan. 7. Tip-off inside the Erwin Center is set for 6 p.m. CT as Aston goes for her 200th career win. The game will be televised on Longhorn Network.

AUSTIN, Texas – Freshman Joyner Holmes led all scorers with 18 points as No. 15/17 Texas Women's Basketball (10-4, 4-0 Big 12 Conference) defeated TCU (8-7, 0-4 Big 12 Conference) inside the Erwin Center on Saturday night, 83-54.

The victory marked head coach Karen Aston's 200th career win as a head coach. She is only one win away from 100 at the helm for the Longhorns with a 99-50 (.683) record.

Tonight also marked the largest margin of victory for the Longhorns in Big 12 play since Texas won by 37 at Kansas (75-38) on January 13, 2016.

Texas leads the all-times series over TCU, 39-2, and boasts a perfect 19-0 record inside the Drum.

"I was very pleased with the way we played tonight and our effort from start to finish," said Aston.

Along with her 18 points, Holmes added eight rebounds and two steals on her night. Junior Brooke McCarty totaled 16 points along with five boards and assists, while junior Ariel Atkins notched 14 points with a game-high four steals.

Senior Kelsey Lang brought down a career-high 14 boards coupled with six points and a game-high three blocks.

As a team, Texas shot 50.0 percent (34-68) from the field while holding TCU to a 29.8 shooting percentage (17-57). This is the fourth game this season the Horns have shot at or above the .500 mark.

The Longhorns outrebounded the Frogs, 49-30, and have won the battle of the boards in 13 of 14 contests this season.

TCU was led by junior Toree Thompson with 12 points.

Although never relinquishing the lead in the game, the Longhorns found themselves in a tight battle with the Frogs in the first quarter. TCU fought off a 14-8 Texas margin and ended the quarter with the first triple of the game, but Texas held the 16-13 edge.

The Longhorns only allowed eight points in the second quarter, taking their largest lead of the half (30-18) after a freshman Alecia Sutton jumper with 1:22 on the game clock. TCU knocked down a triple to slash into the deficit, but two from the line from freshman Jada Underwood sent Texas into the half, 32-21.

The Horns made it a 20-point game (43-23) after a McCarty trey at the 6:32 mark of the third quarter en route to a high-scoring stanza. Holmes accounted for eight of Texas's 24 points in the third quarter, and the Longhorns held the 56-34 advantage headed into the closer.

Texas continued to drive forward in the fourth quarter, taking its largest lead, a 32-point spread, after a Sutton jumper with 3:24 remaining in the contest (75-43 Horns). A layup from freshman Lashann Higgs sealed the deal for Texas, 83-54.

Next on the slate, Texas will host Oklahoma State on Tuesday, Jan. 10. Tip is set for 7 p.m. CT and the game will be televised nationally on Longhorn Network.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. – Five Longhorns scored in the double-digits as No. 16/17 Texas Women's Basketball (12-4, 6-0 Big 12 Conference) triumphed over No. 18/19 West Virginia (14-4, 2-4 Big 12 Conference) inside the WVU Coliseum on Saturday afternoon, 73-63.

With the win, the Longhorns are off to their first 6-0 Big 12 start of program history.

Texas leads the all-times series over West Virginia, 7-5, and has captured the past four meetings.

"It was a terrific road win," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "This is a really tough place to play. I have to give this game to our bench. They made the real difference in the game."

Junior Ariel Atkins and freshman Joyner Holmes both registered a team-high 15 points on the game. Atkins' 15 points came behind a 6-of-7 effort from the field while also contributing a game-high three steals.

Junior Brooke McCarty totaled 11 points and three assists while sophomore Lashann Higgs added 10 points with four boards and two steals. In her 120th game in the Burnt Orange, Kelsey Lang rounded out the Horns in double figures with 10 points and a team-high eight rebounds.

As a team, Texas shot 50.0 percent (32-64) from the field, marking the second-straight game the Longhorns have shot at or above the .500 mark. West Virginia held a 45.1 shooting percentage (23-51) from the field and a 46.2 percent (6-13) mark from downtown.

Texas found itself down 2-8 at the 5:40 mark of the opening quarter, but three consecutive layups from Lang tied things at 10. The Mountaineers extended their margin back to five, but the Horns trailed only by one after another Lang bucket closed the first, 17-16 WVU.

The Longhorns went off on a 12-0 run in the second quarter to take control of the lead for the first time in the game, holding West Virginia scoreless until one from the stripe made it 28-18 Texas at the 3:08 mark. It was back and forth from there, but the Horns maintained the 34-25 edge headed into the lockers.

The high-scoring third stanza was highlighted by a 9-0 Texas rally, six points of which came from Holmes, to lead 53-26 with 2:59 remaining in the quarter. The Mountaineers drained their fifth triple of the game to slash into the margin, but a freshman Alecia Sutton layup ended the third, 59-41 Texas.

The Longhorns held a 20-point spread (63-43) after an Atkins layup at the 9:03 mark, but West Virginia proved tenacious in the final quarter as it outscored Texas 22-14. The Mountaineer move was too little too late as the Horns took the game, 73-63.

Next, Texas will return home to host Oklahoma on Tuesday, Jan. 17. Tip inside the Erwin Center is set for 6 p.m. CT and the game will be carried live on FS1.

FORT WORTH, Texas – Junior Ariel Atkins led all scorers with 17 points as No. 12/13 Texas Women's Basketball (15-4, 9-0 Big 12 Conference) triumphed over TCU (10-10, 2-6 Big 12 Conference) inside the Schollmaier Arena on Wednesday night, 77-69.

Texas leads the all-time series over TCU, 40-2, and holds a 19-2 mark when the game is played in Fort Worth.

"Credit to TCU," Texas head coach Karen Aston said. "They challenged our discipline in a different way than they did in Austin. With the foul trouble, anytime you get in early foul trouble, it can mess up your rhythm. We've been in a pretty good flow as far as when we sub, in our roles coming of the bench, and it changed a little bit in the first half and I thought it threw us out of our comfort zone."

Atkins totaled 17 points behind a career-high tying three triples while also padding her stats with four rebounds and a game-high three steals. Freshman Joyner Holmes marked her third-straight double dip with 15 points and a game-high 14 boards.

Sophomore Lashann Higgs and junior Brooke McCarty both added 14 points on the evening to round out the Longhorns in the double figures. Senior Kelsey Lang registered eight points while bringing down a game-high five blocks.

As a team, Texas shot 47.1 percent (33-70) from the field and held TCU to a 33.3 shooting percentage (20-60). The Longhorns out-rebounded the Frogs, 41-36, and posted 17 assists to TCU's 6.

The Frogs were led by freshman Amber Ramirez with 15 points.

The Horns trailed the Frogs by one at the 4:46 mark of the opening stanza until an 8-0 spurt in a matter of 41 seconds gave Texas the 18-11 lead. It was an even spread from there, and McCarty layup capped the quarter, 24-18 Longhorns.

Four TCU triples paced the Frogs to a 16-13 scoring advantage over the Horns in the second quarter. Holmes led the way for Texas with eight points to close the half with the 37-34 margin.

It was a close third with Texas holding the narrow 50-49 edge with 1:47 left in the quarter. A 6-2 push ended by a Higgs jumper ended the stanza, 56-51 Texas.

Atkins proved to be the difference maker as she fired off seven-straight points to put the Longhorns up 67-60 headed into the final media timeout. TCU got to within four, but Texas was able to hold the Frogs advance off to claim the 77-69 win.

Next on the slate, Texas will return home to play host to No. 22/22 West Virginia on Sunday, Jan. 29 as part of Exes Weekend. Tip inside the Erwin Center is set for 3 p.m. CT and the game will be televised nationally by FS1.

AUSTIN, Texas – No. 12/13 Texas Women's Basketball (16-4, 10-0 Big 12 Conference) capped its first perfect January since 1989 as it pushed past No. 22/22 West Virginia (16-6, 4-6 Big 12 Conference) inside the Erwin Center on Sunday afternoon, 69-54.

The Longhorns are now on a 14-win streak and boast their best opening conference record in program history.

Texas leads the all-times series over West Virginia, 8-5, and holds a perfect 5-0 record when the game is played in Austin. Today's win marks the Longhorns' second-straight season sweep over the Mountaineers.

"Neither team would probably say it was the best executed game offensively," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I think it had a lot to do with both teams playing competitively defensively. It was really just two tough, defensively minded teams."

Junior Brooke McCarty led all scorers with 15 points behind a 3-5 effort from downtown. She also tied her season high with six assists. Senior Kelsey Lang totaled 13 points and picked up game highs in both rebounds and blocks with eight and two, respectively.

Sophomore Lashann Higgs lifted the bench with 10 points and a team-high three steals.

As a team, Texas shot 47.3 percent (26-55) from the field while holding West Virginia to a 39.1 shooting percentage (18-46). The Horns outrebounded the Mountaineers, 35-28, and dished out 15 assists.

West Virginia was led by senior Lanay Montgomery with 11 points.

WVU held the early 6-2 edge, but Texas managed to tie things at 10 after a spin-move jumper from Lang. Two straight buckets from Higgs put the Horns on top by four, but the Mountaineers knocked down a triple at the buzzer to cut the lead to 14-13 Texas.

A 5-0 West Virginia push put the Mountaineers on top again, but the Horns responded with a 7-0 spread of their own to take the 21-18 advantage at the media. Texas stayed in control to lead 30-26 at the half.

McCarty led the way for the Horns with seven points and her first triple of the game in the third quarter, but West Virginia used 66.7 shooting percentage (6-9) to make it a one-possession game at the end of the third, 48-45 Texas.

As steady as ever, McCarty knocked down consecutive threes within 41 seconds of each other to put the Longhorns on top by nine (54-45) at the 8:11 mark of the fourth. Texas held WVU scoreless for over five minutes and held the 21-9 scoring edge to narrow in on the 69-54 victory.

Coming up, Texas will travel to Stillwater, Okla. to match up against Oklahoma State on Wednesday, Feb. 1. Tip inside the Gallagher-Iba Arena is set for 7 p.m. CT and the game will be carried live on Fox Sports Oklahoma.

AUSTIN, Texas – In a match that came down to the wire, freshman Joyner Holmes posted a team-high 21 points as No. 12/13 Texas Women's Basketball (18-4, 12-0 Big 12 Conference) overcame Kansas State (17-7, 7-5 Big 12 Conference) inside the Erwin Center on Saturday evening, 63-58.

With the win, the Longhorns tie their program record for consecutive Big 12 Conference wins with 12. The last time Texas has reached this mark was during the stretch between Jan. 29, 2003 to Jan. 10, 2004.

Texas leads the all-times series over Kansas State, 19-14, and has swept the last two season series.

"This was a really fought hard game," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I thought our players showed some resilience today."

Holmes also added nine rebounds and a game-high three steals.

Senior Kelsey Lang became the 41st player in program history to reach the 1000-point milestone. She was one shy of her double-dip for the night with 10 points and nine boards. Lang also posted a game-high five blocks, moving her into seventh place on UT's all-time career blocks list with 160.

Junior Brooke McCarty rounded out the Horns in the double-figures with 11 points while senior Brianna Taylor totaled a team-high three assists.

As a team, Texas shot 43.3 percent (25-60) from the floor while holding Kansas State to a 39.3 shooting percentage (22-56). The Longhorns dominated every category, including a 37-34 rebounding margin and 9-3 advantage in steals.

Kansas State was led by senior Kindred Wesemann with 21 points.

The Wildcats opened on a 6-0 spread, but the Longhorns regrouped with an 8-0 rally of their own to take their first lead at the 6:32 mark. Texas pushed its lead to as many as seven, but a KSU three-point play ended the stanza, 20-16 Horns.

The low-scoring second quarter included a nearly four-minute scoreless period, and a 10-7 Wildcat scoring advantage made it a narrow 27-26 ballgame in Texas' favor at the half.

Kansas State lifted the lid on the second half with the first eight points to regain control, 34-37, at the 8:23 mark. The Texas offense caught fire with a 14-0 run including eight-straight points from Holmes, and the Longhorns closed the third with the 44-38 lead.

The Wildcats found their strength from beyond the arc in the closer to make it a tie ball game at 57 with 2:54 remaining in regulation. Two layups from Holmes pushed the momentum in favor of Texas, and free throws ended the game, 63-58 Longhorns.

Coming up next, Texas will play No. 2/2 Baylor in Waco, Texas on Monday, Feb. 6. Tip inside the Ferrell Center is set for 7 p.m. and the game will be carried live on FS1.

WACO, Texas – Junior Brooke McCarty totaled a season-high 22 points and freshman Joyner Holmes posted her sixth double-dip of the season as No. 11/13 Texas Women's Basketball (19-4, 13-0 Big 12 Conference) broke No. 2/2 Baylor's (23-2, 12-1 Big 12 Conference) 21-game winning streak and handed the Lady Bears their first inside the Ferrell Center in nearly three years on Monday night, 85-79.

With the win, Texas snaps its 14-game losing streak to Baylor. The game also marked the Horns' first win over BU since March 7, 2010 and the first ever for Texas head coach Karen Aston.

The Longhorns now boast the second-best active win streak in the NCAA with 17 and hold a perfect 13-0 record in Big 12 Conference play for the first time in program history.

Texas leads the all-times series over Baylor, 58-35.

"This was a really good basketball game," said Aston. "You saw tonight how good the Big 12 was. I'm really proud of our players. I thought they were tough tonight."

McCarty's 22-point night came from a 9-14 effort from the field and made her the 42nd member of the Texas 1,000-point club. She padded her stats with five rebounds and four assists.

Holmes' double-double was the result of 18 points and a game-high 10 rebounds. She also added two assists, blocks, and steals on the night.

Junior Ariel Atkins notched 20 points with three rebounds, and sophomore Lashann Higgs rounded out the Longhorns in double-digits with a season-high 16 points.

As a team, Texas shot 51.6 percent (33-64) from the field while holding Baylor to a 43.9 shooting percentage (29-66). The Longhorns outrebounded the Lady Bears, 38-37, and swiped six steals to BU's two.

Baylor was led by sophomore Kalani Brown with 24 points.

McCarty got things firing for Texas on all cylinders with 10 points in the first quarter. After a Baylor free throw got the Lady Bears within four, the junior fired off a triple from way downtown to beat the buzzer and give Texas the 23-16 lead.

Texas shot 73.3 percent (11-15) in the second quarter. Equal 12-point performances from Atkins, Holmes, and McCarty sent the Longhorns into the locker room with the 47-35 edge at the half.

The Horns took their largest lead of the game, a 16-point spread, after a McCarty jumper at the 7:50 mark of the third. Texas kept its edge in double-figures with strong paint play accounting for 12 of its 19 points to end the quarter, 67-54.

The Baylor offense wasn't done yet, pushing out on a 25-5 charge to tie things at 76 with 1:28 remaining in regulation. Holmes captured the next four straight points, and senior Brianna Taylor took a charge that ignited the flame in Texas. Baylor knocked down a triple in the final seconds, but a Taylor layup with four seconds on the clock handed the Longhorns their first win over BU since 2010, 85-79.

Next on the schedule, Texas will return home to host Kansas on Saturday, Feb. 11. Tip inside the Erwin Center is set for 1:30 p.m. and the game will be carried live on Longhorn Network.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Junior Brooke McCarty proved to be the anchor with a career-high 29 points while playing all 50 minutes as No. 8/10 Texas Women's Basketball (21-4, 14-0 Big 12 Conference) posted a 92-88 win in a double-overtime thriller at No. 4/4 Florida State (23-3, 11-1 ACC) inside the Tucker Center on Monday night. This is the first time Texas has played in a double overtime game since January 29, 2015 against Oklahoma.

"I just can't get over how tough we were," said Texas head coach Karen Aston. "I could not be any more proud of our coaches and players."

Along with her game-high 29 points, McCarty tied her season highs with five triples and eight assists. Junior Ariel Atkins added 21 points along with seven boards and a team-high two steals. Freshman Joyner Holmes dropped her eighth double-double of the season with 14 points and 14 rebounds.

As a team, Texas shot 50.7 percent (37-73) from the field while holding Florida State to a 33.7 shooting percentage (29-86). The Horns outrebounded the Seminoles, 47-45, and posted 17 assists to FSU's 11. Florida State was led by junior Shakayla Thomas with 23 points and 11 rebounds.

A McCarty triple broke the seal for Texas in the opening quarter. After trailing 13-8, the Horns used a 5-0 run to tie things at 13 at the 1:26 mark. An Atkins free throw gave Texas the one-point edge, but a Seminole layup closed the stanza, 15-14 Florida State.

The Seminoles extended their lead to as many as 11 points in the second quarter, but five straight points from McCarty cut the margin to 27-21 with 5:13 left in the first half. FSU powered forward with two triples and held a 35-26 advantage at the break.

A 7-2 Horns' run made it a four-point game early in the third, but Texas foul trouble allowed the Seminoles to capture their last five points from the stripe. Florida State led by as many as 13, but a McCarty triple at the buzzer gave life to the Horns offense and closed the quarter, 59-48 FSU.

The Longhorns managed an 11-0 run in the heart of the fourth to chase down the Seminoles and make it a one-point game (61-60) with 5:24 remaining. Atkins drained three straight buckets to hand Texas its first lead of the night since the opening minutes, and another basket from Holmes made it 68-63 Texas at the 1:25 mark.

Down by three with seconds remaining, FSU brought down an offensive board and drained its only three-pointer of the second half to force overtime, 71-71.

It was back and forth in the first period of overtime. With the score tied at 80 and just seconds left on the game clock, McCarty tossed up a last-second jumper that bounced in and out, sending the game into a second overtime.

It was Texas who held the 89-88 edge at the 1:35 mark of double overtime, and sophomore Clamide Aborowa made a huge layup with 1:11 on the clock to put the Horns up by three. The Seminoles had possession with 16 seconds remaining and got two shots at tying the score, before freshman Jada Underwood came away with the defensive board. Sophomore Lashann Higgs was fouled with one second remaining and a closing free throw sealed the thriller for Texas, 92-88.

Next on the schedule, Texas will travel to Norman, Okla. to face No. 19/20 Oklahoma on Saturday, Feb. 18. Tip inside the Lloyd Noble Center is scheduled for 1 p.m. Central, and the game will be televised by Fox Sports Net.
