PLAYER TO WATCH: LAUREN DOUGLASS

Senior Lauren Douglass has arguably been one of the most dominant players in Texas Tech history at the middle blocker position. The Flower Mound native set the school with a single-season hitting percentage of .377, while also leading the team last year in kills and blocks.

CONFERENCE PLAY ON DECK

This week the final week of nonconference play for the Red Raiders as Texas Tech opens its Big 12 slate Wed., Sept. 21 at TCU, before its first Big 12 home match against West Virginia on Sat., Sept. 24. Texas Tech has opened Big 12 play with a win in each of the last two seasons (Oklahoma in 2015, TCU in 2014). The Red Raiders have a chance to eclipse last season's 11-3 nonconference record with the four matches on tap this weekend. Texas Tech hasn't posted more than 12 nonconference wins since 2011 when it posted a 14-1 mark outside of league play.

STREAKING

After a pair of tough outings to open its season, Texas Tech has responded with nine straight wins leading up to this week's road trip. Five of the Red Raiders' nine wins during the streak have been sweeps (vs. South Dakota State, at North Dakota, UTEP, Abilene Christian and UTRGV). The streak is Texas Tech's longest since opening 13-0 in the 2014 season.

ALL-TIME HISTORY

Texas Tech holds a 29-2 series lead against sister-school Abilene Christian. The Red Raiders took the last meeting 3-0 at the United Supermarkets Arena. The Red Raiders are 16-1 at home against the Wildcats, with the loss coming at ACU in 2013. Texas Tech leads the all-time series versus Stephen F. Austin 11-3, but the Lumberjacks have won each of the last three contests, including a 3-0 win at SFA last season. Texas Tech's match against UT Rio Grande Valley marks the first battle between the two squads in program history. Texas Tech holds an 11-6 lead in the series against Oral Roberts, including five straight wins and a 5-1 advantage in Lubbock.

DEFENSIVE DUO

After surrendering hitting percentages of .326 and .404 in their two losses, the Red Raiders have shown tremendous improvement defensively, holding opponents to under .200 hitting in all but one of their nine-straight wins. Overall, Tech is holding opponents to a .175 hitting percentage, which ranks third in the Big 12. The combination of senior Lauren Douglass at the net and sophomore Reyn Akiu in the back has proven a tough code to crack. Douglass (1.35 blocks/set) and Akiu (4.93 digs/set) both rank second in the conference in their respective defensive categories.

MEMORABLE ACHIEVEMENT

Texas Tech hit .507 (42-6-71) in a sweep of Abilene Christian, marking the first time since the 1998 season the Red Raiders have hit over .500 in a single match. The .507 hitting percentage matched the fourth-highest hitting percentage in school history and is the highest offensive output in the Big 12 this season.

N THE RECORD BOOK

Seniors Marguerite Grubb and Lauren Douglas didn't waste any time planting themselves in the Texas Tech record book this season. In the Red Raider's first match of 2016, Grubb compiled 52 assists to crack the school's all-time top 10 list in assists. Douglas made a mark of her own in a win against Portland State, powering her way to 17 kills with a .773 hitting percentage, a clip that ranks as her career-best and sixth all-time in a single match in the Texas Tech record books.

FORCE IN THE MIDDLE

Leading the pack in the middle for the Red Raiders is two-time All-Big 12 honoree and All-Southwest Region award winner Lauren Douglass, who returns for her final year in the scarlet & black after rattling off a school-record hitting percentage of .377 last season. Douglass is currently the Big 12's second-leading attacker (.435) with 138 kills overall, and is the driving force behind Tech's .274 team-hitting percentage, which ranks third in the conference.

SET UP ARTIST

In 2015, Marguerite Grubb put up 1,007 assists, becoming the first Red Raider to record 1,000+ assists in a single season since Emily Ruetter in 2013. She cracked the school's all-time top 10 list in assists in the Red Raider's first match of 2016, compiling 52 assists against Colorado. Overall, Grubb has dished out 424 assists in the first 11 matches and ranks sixth in the conference with 10.6 assists/set.

YOUNG PASSERS

Sophomores Reyn Akiu and Katelyn Bryant have stepped in at the libero/defensive specialist position, providing solid play in the back line. Akiu has consistently been one of the Big 12's top performers with a conference-leading 197 digs and ranks second in the Big 12 with 4.93 digs/set. Last week alone, she compiled 80 digs, which led the Big 12, and she is also second on the team with 34 assists. Fellow sophomore Katelyn Bryant has also been terrific defensively with 90 digs, while senior Marguerite Grubb has chipped in 93 of her own. Freshmen Maggie Sagers and Kylie Rittmann have combined for 89 digs as well, providing a spark off the bench.

OUTSIDES & RIGHT SIDES

A strong mix of veterans and newcomers complete the outside hitter/right side position for the Red Raiders. Juniors Victoria Hinneburg, Audrey Fragniere and Alyssa Ybanez make up the oldest group of returnees and have been known to pack quite a punch on the attack. The trio combined for 265 kills and 84 blocks in 2015. Ybanez was the star of the Red & Black scrimmage on Aug. 20, tallying 17 kills. Last season, they were flanked by Sarah Redding, who posted a strong freshman season with 173 kills, averaging 2.22 per set. Joining them are freshmen Chandler Atwood, Hannah Henriksen and Toni McDougald, while junior Courtney Ensich returns to the program after not playing last season.

ATTACK ATTACK

The Red Raiders racked up 1,308 kills during the 2015 season, with 931 of those kills back and ready to go for 2016. Tech returns four of their top five attackers from last year in Lauren Douglass (280), Sarah Redding (173), Katy Keenan (128) and Victoria Hinneburg (122). The Red Raiders tallied 15 more kills than their opponents last season, averaging 13.3 per set for an overall hitting percentage of .209.

CONTINUING THE TREND

In each of the last six years, a Red Raiders has cracked the top 10 in single-season digs at Texas Tech. In 2010, Tori Vaughn put up 409 digs, but was knocked out by Eric Ruegg in 2011 with 419 digs. The next three years were dominated by Rachel Brummitt, who set the school record in 2012 (510) and 2013 (604), then posted 510 digs in her 2014 senior season. Those three years also catapulted her to the Texas Tech career digs record with 1,624. Last year, Carlie Foust notched 491 digs, which ranked fourth on the list. Who continues that trend in 2016?

2015 QUICK HITTER

The Red Raiders finished the 2015 season with a 14-4-5 overall record and captured the program's first Big 12 Championship. Tech also advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the fourth consecutive season. In January, two Red Raiders were drafted in the 2016 National Women's Soccer League (NWSL) College Draft, as Janine Beckie went eighth overall to the Houston Dash, followed by Alli Murphy to the Washington Spirit with the 20th pick. With the selections, Texas Tech became one of four college programs in the nation to have multiple picks in the first two rounds. Tech was the only Big 12 school to have a player drafted in the top 10 for the second-straight season and the only school in Texas in the last two years to have a player drafted in consecutive seasons. Beckie also represented Canada in the 2016 Olympic Games, tallying three goals, including the fastest goal ever scored in a women's Olympic soccer match, coming 21 seconds into their opening match against Australia.

HEAD COACH

@TonyGraystone

TONY GRAYSTONE

18th Season Overall • 1st Season at Texas Tech • University of Louisville '96

Entering his first season at Tech, Tony Graystone has a solid mixture of great newcomers and established veterans

Tony Graystone was named the head coach of Texas Tech volleyball on Thursday, Jan. 21, 2016. Graystone arrives at Texas Tech after serving seven seasons as the head volleyball coach at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi.

"Tony Graystone is a proven winner and a respectful leader and coach with tremendous ties to the state of Texas, specifically in West Texas," Texas Tech Director of Athletics Kirby Hocutt said. "We are so thrilled to welcome him, along with Lauren, Drew and Dylan to the Texas Tech Athletics family."

In seven seasons at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, Graystone turned the Islanders into one of the premier volleyball programs in the Southland Conference. Last season, the Islanders put together their best season in program history, finishing 31-5 overall, with a spotless 16-0 conference mark. It was also the first NCAA Tournament berth for the Islanders, who faced Texas A&M in first round play. Their win total was the best in school history and was one win short of the winningest season by any Southland program.

Graystone's squads have recorded 20 or more wins in three of the last four seasons, finishing one victory shy of that mark in 2014. He improved his team's win total in each of his first four seasons on the Island, culminating with the 2013 season, which was a historic season for the Islanders. The team finished with a 20-12 record, including a then school-best 13-5 record in Southland Conference play. The Islanders also made history by advancing to the semifinals of the conference tournament for the first time.

"This is a very special day for me and my family," Graystone said. "Lubbock is definitely home for us and there's no place we'd rather be than at Texas Tech. I am looking forward to meeting the team and getting started on the court as soon as possible. We all know the challenges ahead of us to improve the program and take positive steps in the Big 12. But I know I'm starting with a group of talented, committed players and together we will make it happen."

In the last four years, Graystone has collected a 91-44 record, including a 52-16 record in Southland play. In 2015, the Islanders made their fourth consecutive appearance and fifth overall trip to the Southland Tournament. For the second-straight year, the Islanders advanced to the semifinals while finishing with a 19-16 record, including an 11-5 record in conference play.

The squad set a school record in 2012 with a 21-11 mark. The Islanders won 12 Southland matches and finished third in the conference, both first-time accomplishments for Texas A&M-Corpus Christi. Since Graystone took over the program, the Islanders have improved their national RPI by 235 spots, making them the most improved NCAA Division I team in the country over that time.

Prior to coming to the Island, Graystone spent 10 seasons as the head coach at West Texas A&M in Canyon, where he posted a 315-61 record and became the all-time winningest coach in program history. His .837 winning percentage was the third-highest among active NCAA Division II head coaches and he reached 300 victories faster than any other coach in the division's history. He reached 100 wins in 106 matches making him the quickest coach at the time in any NCAA sport or division to reach the century mark in wins. He was named the Lone Star Conference Coach of the Year five times and the AVCA Southwest Region Coach of the Year on four occasions.

At West Texas A&M, he guided the Lady Buffs to five NCAA Regional appearances and eight Lone Star Conference crowns in 10 seasons. He mentored 16 All-Americans and one Division II National Player of the Year in 1999. His 2001 team was ranked No. 1 for seven weeks, while his 2002 team held the top spot for five weeks. In 2003, his team set an NCAA standard with 77 conference wins in a row.

Before becoming the head coach, Graystone was an assistant coach for the Lady Buffs and was part of a coaching staff that won the NCAA Division II Championship in 1997. He also served as the program director for the Amarillo Junior Olympic Volleyball Club. He began his career as a head coach at Waggoner and Ballard High Schools in Louisville, Kentucky.

Graystone earned an M.S. in exercise physiology from the University of Louisville in 1996 after graduating with a B.S. in Health Sciences with an emphasis in exercise science from Grand Valley State (Mich.) in 1992.

He and his wife Lauren, a native of Whitharral, Texas, have two sons, Drew and Dylan.
