PRESS BOX SERVICES

A complete NCAA box score and pertinent game facts will be distributed to members of the working media following the conclusion of the game.

DAN LAW FIELD AT RIP GRIFFIN PARK

The Texas Tech baseball program received private donations for a $5 million renovation to its home stadium prior to the 2012 season which made the home of Red Raider baseball one of the best on-campus collegiate baseball facilities in the country.

Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park opened in 2012 with many notable structural improvements, including 10 luxury suites, a new press box complete with radio, television and broadcast areas and a club level with outdoor seating for 75 individuals.

Additional highlights of the renovation included a shading structure that covers the area in the center portion of the grandstands, the addition of 1,154 chair-back seats that replaced aluminum bleacher seating, an additional five rows of field seating, new elevator for club/suite/press box access, banners showcasing the history of Tech baseball and a circular landscaped seating area with brick inlaid Double T in front of the entrance of the stadium.

The facility was further improved prior to the 2016 season as Tech replaced its current video board with the one that previously occupied Jones AT&T Stadium and also installed a new FieldTurf playing surface. The nearly $1 million project, funded privately through philanthropic contributions and gifts to The Campaign for Fearless Champions, provides Tech with one of the largest video boards in college baseball. Before the 2017 season, the outdoor fence was replaced with a new, padded wall, with a lowered height of 7'-6".

The 2012 renovation continued Tech's commitment over the past decade to making the home of Red Raider Baseball one of the top venues across the country. In 2001, the university showcased its support with a $1.7 million project for a new clubhouse, outfield fence and interior brick facade. Two years later, Tech officials made another addition with a new scoreboard, complete with the program's first state-of-the-art video screen. Tech installed its first FieldTurf playing surface in 2007 and later remodeled its clubhouse in the summer of the 2009, helping Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park become one of the premier college baseball facilities in the nation.

Already owning one of the top home-field advantages in the nation, Tech looks to continue its home-field dominance where it has won over 75 percent of its home games the past 32 years (806-258-11). That dominance has continued under coach Tim Laddock, who has compiled a 177-52 home record in seven seasons.

Tech's fan base has been an integral component to the Red Raiders success over the years in Lubbock as Texas Tech's fans have ranked among the top 31 in the nation over the past 20 seasons. The last two years alone, Tech has ranked in the top 10 nationally for total attendance with 141,158 entering the gate in 2018 and 144,339 welcomed in 2019. The Law should continue to rock in 2020 as Tech set a new season ticket sales record of over 2,700 while selling out of its season ticket allotment for a sixth-consecutive year.

Tech's stadium has been home to various NCAA regionals and conference postseason events. Tech has been selected to host an NCAA baseball regional on six occasions and has had the fortune of advancing to host a super regional four times.

In 2014, the Texas Tech baseball program made history on its home field by advancing to the NCAA College World Series after back-to-back 1-0 shutouts over No. 16 College of Charleston. The Red Raiders, who were hosting a NCAA Super Regional for the first time in program history, tied a school record for wins at home (33) in 2014 while hosting 4,811 Red Raider fans back-to-back days during Tech's Road to Omaha.

The Red Raiders earned the program's first national seed in 2016, checking in at No. 5, which earned Tech the right to host the NCAA Regional & Super Regional rounds. Both series featured record crowds of 4,732 (Regional) and 4,817 (Super Regional), and played a significant role in the Red Raiders reaching their second trip to the College World Series in three years.

In 2017, Tech earned the No. 5 NCAA National Seed for the second-straight season, after securing back-to-back Big 12 titles. Every conference game reached sellout status, along with the last 13 games, helping the Red Raiders to a 23-6 record at home.

For the third time in four years, Tech claimed a National seed and earned the right to host the NCAA regional and super regional rounds. Tech advanced past Duke for its third trip to Omaha in five seasons thanks to record crowds of 4,818 for the first two games, which marked new Rip Griffin Park single-game attendance records. The program also set a total attendance record for 2018 at 141,158, which ranked No. 10 in the nation. Tech fans also set a record for consecutive 3,000-plus attendance games with 34 from Feb. 16-June 11, helping Tech to a 27-6 home mark.

In 2019, the Red Raiders claimed their third Big 12 title in four seasons en route to a No. 8 national seed. Tech swept its regional and went on to top Big 12 foe Oklahoma State in a memorable super regional that featured a record crowd of 4,833 for game two, earning back-to-back trips to the College World Series for the first time in program history. Overall, Tech played in front of 14 capacity crowds at home throughout the year, and established a new total attendance record of 144,339 fans as it posted another strong home record of 30-7.

In 1999, Texas Tech hosted the four-team NCAA Regional in Lubbock and ranked sixth among the 16 regionals in attendance as the tourney drew a total of 19,869 fans to see Texas Tech, Rice, Rutgers and Wisconsin-Milwaukee play. Tech averaged 2,838 fans during the seven-game tournament. The 1997 NCAA Regional drew 4,992 fans to see Tech play Texas State. Overall, the 10 games in the 1997 NCAA Regional drew 23,407 total fans, an average of 2,304 fans per game. In 1996, an average of 2,808 fans attended per game as Tech hosted a six-team NCAA Regional.

SEASON PREVIEW

SEASON PREVIEW

It's baseball time in Lubbock! Texas Tech baseball returns for its 71st season in 2020, and Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park is ready for Red Raider fans of all ages to flood the stands and create one of the top atmospheres in college baseball.

2019 provided yet another historic season, and Red Raider fans will recognize several familiar faces on the diamond this spring, while a slew of talented newcomers enter the mix to complete the 2020 roster.

The Red Raiders are scheduled for 30 home games at Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park this season, where Texas Tech is coming off back-to-back total attendance records of 141,158 from 2018 and 144,339 last season, numbers that rank in the top 10 in the nation. Additionally, Tech broke the single-game attendance mark for Rip Griffin Park with 4,833 fans at the second game of the NCAA super regional.

The Lubbock faithful were instrumental in helping Tech post its fourth consecutive 45+ win season as the Red Raiders went 30-7 at home and captured its third Big 12 title in four years. The Red Raiders became the only school in the country to host an NCAA regional each of the last four years, earning the No. 8 national seed.

2019 IN REVIEW

For the fourth time in six years, it was 'Guns Up' in Omaha. The 2019 season was yet another landmark campaign for coach Tim Tadlock and his staff as the Red Raiders returned to the College World Series for the fourth time in six years and made their deepest run yet. Tech fought off elimination twice to advance to the national semifinal for the first time in program history and finished the season ranked No. 4 in the final polls, matching a program best.

It wasn't all roses from the beginning, however, as Tech returned from an extended road trip in early April having lost three of four at West Virginia and Duke to sit at 23-12 overall and 6-6 in Big 12 play. The Red Raiders had several close games go the other way early on, but things began clicking during the second-half of league play after All-American third baseman Josh Jung slid over to shortstop and the rotation became settled with freshman All-American Micah Dallas on Friday nights, veteran Caleb Kilian on Saturdays and Arkansas transfer Bryce Bonnin on Sundays.

Texas Tech finished the season on a tear, going 13-2 down the stretch with series wins over No. 18 Baylor, TCU and sweeps over No. 16 Oklahoma State and at Oklahoma. The run, capped off by an 8-4 win over TCU in the regular season finale, allowed Tech to win the Big 12 title for the third time in four years. Crowned as the No. 1 seed at the Phillips 66 Big 12 Championship, Tech went on to win three games in Oklahoma City for its best showing since 1998.

The road to Omaha ran through Lubbock once again as Texas Tech welcomed Dallas Baptist, Florida and Army to West Texas. The Red Raiders rattled off an 11-2 win over Army before defeating Dallas Baptist 3-2 and 3-0 to advance to its fourth super regional. The Red Raiders topped Big 12 rival Oklahoma State in dramatic fashion in what was an entertaining offensive series to advance to its fourth College World Series in six years. Tech and OSU split the first two games of the super regional, setting the stage for an epic slugfest in the finale. Trailing 6-4 entering the bottom of the eighth, Josh Jung would hit his second home run of the day in his final at bat in Lubbock to cut the lead in half before Kurt Wilson launched a three-run bomb that sent the stadium into hysteria as Tech went on to claim the 8-6 victory.

Texas Tech made its first trip to Omaha in an odd year while picking up two wins at the CWS for the first time in program history. After dropping the opener to eventual national runner-up Michigan, Tech rebounded for a 5-4 win over Arkansas as Cody Master's RBI triple in the eighth broke a 4-4 tie with Cam Warren scoring all the way from first. The Red Raiders avoided elimination once again with a 4-1 victory over Florida State, which marked the final game for legendary FSU head coach Mike Martin Sr.

Several Red Raiders received national recognition for their performance in 2019 led by Josh Jung, who was tabbed a unanimous All-American, Big 12 Co-Player of the Year, winner of the third-annual Bobby Bragan Collegiate Slugger Award, NCBWA District 7 Player of the Year and ABCA All-Region First Team before being drafted No. 8 overall by the Texas Rangers, the second first-round selection in program history. Cameron Warren received All-America honors by four publications, was named to the CWS All-Tournament Team and awarded MVP of the Lubbock Regional. Freshman pitchers Micah Dallas and Clayton Beeter were also recognized with multiple freshman All-America honors.

MEMORABLE MOMENTS & PERFORMANCES FROM 2019

- Tech rallied from down 8-0 to pick up its first win of the season against Oregon.
- Tech racked up 19 runs on 19 hits for a 19-4 win over Kentucky that wrapped up a series sweep.
- Cameron Warren hit a grand slam with Tech down to its last out at San Diego State in a 12-9 win.
- The Red Raiders swept Wichita State and No. 22 Michigan at home in March.
- Two walk-off wins happened within a two-week span at home during Big 12 play, first with Brian Klein knocking in Gabe Holt for a 5-4 win over Kansas and then Cody Masters driving in Josh Jung for the 3-2 walk-off win over No. 18 Baylor.
- Then-freshman Micah Dallas matched TCU's Nick Lodolo with seven scoreless innings and eight strikeouts against the Horned Frogs in a series opener that remained scoreless until the 11th inning.
- In the regional final against Dallas Baptist, Bonnin struck out the first seven batters he faced as he tossed seven scoreless frames with seven strikeouts.
- Caleb Kilian threw a complete-game two-hit shutout with nine strikeouts at West Virginia, the lowest hit total by a Tech pitcher in a complete-game shutout since 2007 and the first complete-game effort with no free passes since 2013.
- Taylor Floyd earned a three-inning save at Oklahoma with six strikeouts as no Sooners reached base.
- The Texas Tech pitching staff combined for 46 strikeouts in the three-game sweep of No. 16 Oklahoma State in April.

STRONG SCHEDULE ON TAP FOR RED RAIDERS

Since being named Texas Tech's head coach prior to the 2013 season, Tim Tadlock has annually put together a challenging schedule that featured several ranked opponents during non-conference action.

The 2020 season will be no different, as the Red Raiders will play 21 games against 2019 NCAA Tournament teams, three NCAA regional hosts, four super regional teams and two College World Series teams. For the second consecutive year, Tech will face an opponent from all five Power-5 Conferences with 11 games on the docket against teams from the ACC, SEC, Big Ten and Pac-12.

For the 11th time in 12 years, the Red Raiders will begin the season in Lubbock, with both Houston Baptist and Northern Colorado heading to the South Plains for a four-game weekend. From there, Tech travels to Round Rock where it will once again take part in one of the nation's premier tournaments when it takes on Tennessee, Stanford and Houston in the Round Rock Classic.

A trip to Florida State closes February and opens a busy month of March, in which Tech will host 16 home games, including series with Rice, Minnesota and Oregon. Big 12 play also gets underway with a pair of conference home series against West Virginia and K-State.

The Red Raiders make a couple of interesting road trips between March and April, starting with a two-game set against Mississippi State in Biloxi, Miss. Tech also travels to New Mexico, UTSA and makes its annual trip to Midland where it will play host to Abilene Christian.

Four of the last six conference series will be on the road this year with Tech traveling to Oklahoma State, Baylor and Kansas during April before hosting Senior Weekend May 1-3 against Texas. One more road swing takes to Tech to the metroplex to close out the year at DBU and TCU.

PITCHING STAFF HIGHLIGHTS BEVY OF RETURNING TALENT

Texas Tech will feature an experienced roster with 20 letterwinners back from last year's squad, most notably on the pitching staff. Micah Dallas was a freshman All-American last season and took over the Friday night role on his way to a 7-2 record. Bryce Bonnin also returns after a 7-1 campaign as the Sunday starter. Tech also gets a boost as John McMillon chose to come back for his senior season after being selected in the 11th round of the 2019 MLB Draft.

Several bullpen pieces return as well, highlighted by freshman All-America closer Clayton Beeter. He is joined by veterans Connor Queen and Ryan Sublette, along with a couple of part-time starters in Mason Montgomery and Hunter Dobbins. A host of talented newcomers will look to make an impact, highlighted by Vanderbilt transfer Austin Becker.

Texas Tech quietly returns an experienced lineup as well, led by All-Big 12 second team members Brian Klein and Dylan Neuse. Seven other Red Raiders who started at least 20 games return, including catcher Braxton Fulford, outfielders Kurt Wilson, Cody Masters, Max Marusak and Tanner O'Tremba and infielders Parker Kelly and Cole Stiwell.

AWARDS & HONORS

2018 National Coach of the Year
2014 National Coach of the Year
2016 Big 12 Coach of the Year

Tim Tadlock will embark on his eighth season as the head coach at Texas Tech in 2020 after his program earned its fourth College World Series appearance in 2019 and finished No. 4 in the country in the final polls.

A two-time National Coach of the Year, Tadlock was named head coach of his alma mater on June 8, 2012, becoming the ninth head coach in program history. Tadlock will enter his 28th year in collegiate baseball in 2020. He owns a collegiate career record of 720-279 in 16 years as a head coach with nine seasons at Grayson County College (435-127) and seven at Texas Tech (285-152).

Under Tadlock, the Red Raiders have become one of college baseball's most consistently elite programs. Tech is one of three schools in the nation to go to the College World Series four of the last six seasons, including consecutive trips in 2018 and 2019 for the first time in school history. It is also one of three schools in the country to earn a national seed in three of the last four years and the only program to host an NCAA regional four straight years.

During Tadlock's seven seasons, the Red Raiders have recorded five 45+ win seasons and three Big 12 titles. Individually, Tech has earned 35 All-America honors, 24 Freshman All-America honors, a College Baseball Foundation National Pitcher of the Year and two Bobby Bragan Collegiate Slugger Awards. At the conference level, Tech has accumulated 51 All-Big 12 selections, three Big 12 Player of the Years, a Big 12 Pitcher of the Year, two Big 12 Freshman of the Years and a Big 12 Newcomer of the Year.

The Red Raiders have had 48 student-athletes selected in the MLB Draft under Tadlock, including a school-record 11 in 2018. Overall, Tadlock has coached 157 MLB Draft picks, including at least one draft pick during the last 25 seasons and has coached four first-round selections, 14 players taken in the top five rounds and 42 selections in the top-10 rounds of the draft during his coaching career. Tadlock's players have heard their names called a lot recently in the MLB Draft with 57 selections over the last eight years (2012-19). Eight years during his coaching career Tadlock has had at least nine players taken in the draft.

With the remarkable team success, Tech fans have packed Rip Griffin Park in Tadlock's seven seasons. In 2015, Tech sold out its season ticket allotment for the first time ever following Tech's first appearance in the CWS. The 2019 season marked the fifth-straight that season tickets have sold out prior to the start of the season as a school record 144,339 filled Rip Griffin Park. Tech has consistently ranked among the national leaders in attendance, averaging over 4,000 fans per game for the last three seasons as the Red Raiders have gone 81-19 at home.

2019 – Big 12 Title, Deepest CWS Run

The 2019 season was the most successful campaign in Texas Tech history. The Red Raiders captured their third Big 12 title in four years, earned the No. 8 national seed and advanced to the College World Series for the fourth time in six seasons. Tech made its deepest postseason run ever, eliminating Arkansas and Florida State to finish as one of the last four teams remaining in Omaha.

The 2019 squad tallied Tadlock's fifth 45+ win season with a 46-20 record and a 16-8 mark in Big 12 play. Junior Josh Jung and senior Cameron Warren were named All-Americans while Clayton Beeter and Micah Dallas received Freshman All-America honors. Jung was named the Big 12 Co-Player of the Year while four other Red Raiders received All-Big 12 First Team recognition and three more received second team nods. Beeter and Dallas led a trio of Big 12 All-Freshman Team selections.

Jung was selected No. 8 overall in the 2019 MLB Draft by the Texas Rangers to become the second first round pick in Tech history. He led a group of seven draftees with four of those occurring in the first 10 rounds as Gabe Holt went in the seventh round, Caleb Kilian in the eighth and Taylor Floyd in the 10th.

2018 – Third CWS Appearance

In 2018, the Red Raiders posted their fourth 45+ win season under Tadlock with a 45-20 record and a 15-9 mark in league play. Four Red Raiders garnered All-America recognition while five received All-Big 12 First Team nods. Additionally, Gabe Holt took home Big 12 Freshman of the Year to make it consecutive years a Red Raider has won the award.

Josh Jung was named an All-American by five of six major publications, Grant Little was selected to three All-America teams, Zach Rheams was named an All-American by ABCA All-America and Gabe Holt earned Perfect Game All-America Honorable Men-

2017 – Back-to-back Big 12 Titles

Tech recorded back-to-back Big 12 titles after putting together a 45-17 record on the diamond in 2017, with a 16-8 record in league play. For the second-straight year, the Red Raiders earned the No. 5 National Seed in the NCAA Tournament, which capped off 13 consecutive sellout crowds at Rip Griffin Park to end the season.

Tadlock's squad picked up multiple All-America accolades, as well as conference recognition. Steven Gingery became the first unanimous first team All-American in program history, while also earning Big 12 Pitcher of the Year and National Pitcher of the Year by the College Baseball Foundation. Hunter Hargrove, an All-American by Collegiate Baseball, received Big 12 Player of the Year honors and Josh Jung, a freshman All-American by three different outlets, garnered Big 12 Freshman of the Year accolades. Grant Little also picked up three freshman All-America bids.

2016 – Big 12 Title & Omaha

The Red Raiders posted their second 45+ win season under Tadlock in 2016, going 47-20 overall, the third-most wins in the program record books. Tech earned its fifth conference title in school history after tallying a 19-5 Big 12 mark and advanced to the College World Series for the second time in three years.

For the first time in program history, the Red Raiders were awarded a national seed for the NCAA Tournament, checking in at No. 5. In Omaha, the Red Raiders recorded their first CWS victory in Tech history after defeating No. 1 Florida, 3-2, in an elimination game. The Red Raiders ended the year ranked fourth in the final poll of the 2016 season, their highest ever in program history.

2015 – Consecutive 30+ win seasons

Tech finished 31-24 overall in Tadlock's third season in 2015, marking the first time since 2005-06 where the Red Raiders have posted consecutive 30-win seasons. The Red Raiders completed Big 12 play at 13-11 overall, securing a tie for third place in the conference standings, Tech's highest finish since the 2004 season. It was also the second-straight season where Tech has finished among the top four in the Big 12 standings, a first for the Red Raiders since the 2001 and 2002 seasons.

Over the 2014-15 seasons, Tech combined for 76 victories -- its most over a two-year span since the 2001 and 2002 seasons (85 wins). In addition, the Red Raiders also combined for 27 wins in Big 12 play, their most since those same two seasons.

Tim Tadlock led Texas Tech to the biggest turnaround in school history in 2014 - his second season as head coach - with a 45-21 record while leading the Red Raiders to their first-ever NCAA regional and super Regional titles and making the programs first appearance at the College World Series. He did it again two years later, as Tech went 47-20, en route to a Big 12 championship, a national seed, NCAA regional and super regional titles and the program's first win at the CWS ever.

Tadlock picked up his 100th career win as Tech's head coach late in the 2015 season as the Red Raiders defeated Texas, 5-1, on May 3. Tadlock collected his 100th win in just his 171st game, making him the fastest head coach in school history to reach that mark.

The Red Raiders once again were among the national leaders defensively, ranking 10th in the country for double plays per game and 14th for double plays. Corey Taylor, meanwhile, led the country with a 0.31 ERA, the lowest in both Texas Tech and Big 12 Conference history, after allowing just two earned runs over 57.1 innings. Taylor became the first Red Raider to earn All-America honors in Tadlock's tenure as he was third team All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA). His selection marked the first time since John Neely in 2011 where a Red Raider pitcher garnered All-America accolades.

Eric Gutierrez joined Taylor in collecting national accolades as he was named to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) Rawlings Gold Glove Team, becoming just the second Red Raider in program history to collect the honor. Gutierrez, one of six Red Raiders also on the All-Big 12 teams, ended his junior year with an impressive .992 fielding percentage.

2014 - Tech's first CWS Appearance

Tadlock and the Red Raiders completed the biggest turnaround in school history and the second biggest turnaround in Big 12 history, going from 26 wins in 2013 to 45 wins in 2014. The season culminated with Tech's first trip to the College World Series in Omaha.

The Red Raiders' historic 2014 season included winning 45 games (fourth-most in school history), setting 10 school records, sweeping six series (three Big 12 series) and defeating 12 nationally-ranked programs, including six top-10 teams. Texas Tech spent 18-consecutive weeks in the national rankings, which spanned the entire season, before ending the year with a No. 8 national ranking in the final poll of the year.

Tadlock was named the ABCA Midwest Region Coach of the Year, the Skip Bertman National Coach of the Year and the College Baseball Hall of Fame National Coach of the Year while guiding the Red Raiders to their best season in school history with a 45-21 overall mark and 14-10 Big 12 record. Tech posted just the sixth 40-win regular season in school history while claiming its first-ever NCAA Regional title at the Coral Gables Regional hosted by No. 3 nationally-ranked Miami (Fla.). Tech won the regional with three wins, two of them coming against Miami on its home field.

Tech returned to Lubbock the following week for its first-ever NCAA Super Regional where Red Raider fans sold-out Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park within 40 minutes of tickets going on sale. Tech responded with two thrilling 1-0 shutouts over No. 16 College of Charleston to punch its ticket to Omaha for the first time in school history.

On the way, Tech became just the second team in NCAA super regional history (since 1999) to post back-to-back shutouts (2002 -- LSU) and is the first team to ever win back-to-back 1-0 games in a Super Regional.

Fan support was at an all-time high prior to the 2014 super regional as fans sold out tickets within 40 minutes of going on sale. The series drew 4,811 fans at each of the two games, pushing Tech's average attendance to 3,266 fans per game, its highest average since 2000, after 98,969 fans stepped foot in Rip Griffin Park during the season. Tech ranked 15th nationally in average attendance and 17th for total attendance.

The Red Raider pitching staff shined during the postseason as Tech tied the NCAA all-time record with four shutouts in a postseason, joining Cal State Fullerton (2004), Pepperdine (1992), Arizona State (1972), Florida State (1970), St. John's (1968) and Wake Forest (1955) as the only teams in college baseball history to tally four shutouts in a single NCAA postseason. In fact, it was the first time since 1976 that the Red Raiders had posted three straight shutouts at any point of the season.

Also in 2014, Tadlock led Tech to 14 league wins -- the program's most since 2004 -- while picking up his 500th collegiate career win in a 3-2 victory over West Virginia in Lubbock on May 16, 2014. Tech tied a school record with 33 home wins (1993) and set a new school record by holding its opponent to two or fewer runs 30 times (25-5 record). Tech also set the following school records in 2014 -- shutouts (9), ERA during aluminum bat era (since 1974, 3.11), fielding percentage (.980), ERA in Big 12 games (4.09), games played (66), innings pitched (587.2), putouts (1,763) and assists (809).

The Red Raiders were solid in all three phases during Tadlock's second season as head coach. Tech ranked among the Big 12's top three in 12 statistical categories while leading the league in slugging percentage and triples and finishing second in the conference in runs, hits, doubles, home runs and RBI.

Outfielder Tyler Neslony became the first Red Raider to lead the Big 12 in batting (.375) while first baseman Eric Gutierrez led the league in home runs (12) and RBI (58), becoming just the second Red Raider to accomplish that feat in the Big 12 era and the first since 2004. Second baseman Bryant Burleson and outfielder/designated hitter Adam Kirsch tied for the Big 12 lead in doubles (21) while Kirsch, the 2014 Big 12 Newcomer of the Year (second time a Red Raider to earn award), led the league in slugging percentage (.560), just ahead of Gutierrez (.539).

Tech finished third in the country in triples (26) and ranked sixth in both double plays turned (65) and fielding percentage (.980). Overall, the Red Raiders ranked among the top-30 in the country in 10 different statistical categories.

Tadlock guided the Red Raiders to a 16-game home win streak to end the 2014 season -- a new school record for consecutive home wins to complete the season. That streak was also the longest active home win streak in the nation to end the 2014 season. The accolades and honors poured in for the Red Raiders in 2014 with six players selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Players Draft or signing a free agent contract with an MLB organization following the draft. A pair of players -- both whom had not been drafted previously in their careers -- were selected in the top-10 rounds with left-handed pitcher Chris Sadberry going in the sixth round (Miami Marlins) and catcher Hunter Redman taken in the eighth round (Los Angeles Dodgers).

For the first time in school history the Red Raiders had a pair of Freshman All-America selections in consecutive seasons -- both under Tadlock as head coach -- as left-handed pitcher Dylan Dusek and Stephen Smith received the honor in 2014. The previous year, Eric Gutierrez and Jarrard Poteete were selected as two of the top freshmen in the country. The Red Raiders had six All-Big 12 selections in 2014, including three first-team picks -- a first for Tech since 2004. Tech also had three All-Big 12 second team selections, one Big 12 All-Freshman Team (Stephen Smith) member, the Big 12 Newcomer of the Year (Kirsch), three Academic All-Big 12 honorees, two ABCA All-Midwest Regional selections and Tyler Neslony who was named a finalist for the Gregg Olson Breakout Player of the Year Award. Tech had three Big 12 Player of the Week picks and had three players named Big 12 Newcomer of the Week.

2013 – First Season as Head Coach

Texas Tech's quick turnaround was built off the groundwork laid in Tadlock's first season in 2013. Faced with the youngest team in the country that featured a nation-leading 22 newcomers, Tadlock and his coaching staff developed their young roster throughout the season as the Red Raiders won eight of their final 14 games.

The Red Raiders won their Big 12 Conference series opener, taking two of three games over Texas in Austin. It marked the first time Tech had won a series over the Longhorns in Austin since 2001 and was Tech's first series win over Texas since 2002.

The Red Raiders knocked off five nationally-ranked opponents in Tadlock's first season, including defending national champion Arizona in Tucson. Tech also strung together three-consecutive wins over ranked opponents during the year -- a first by the Red Raiders in 11 years.

Tech broke the all-time school record for fielding percentage and double plays turned in a season (68) during Tadlock's opening year alone as the Red Raiders finished 26-30 overall and 9-15 in Big 12 play, a two-win improvement against conference foes from the previous year.

Tadlock mentored four All-Big 12 selections (one All-Freshman team pick), four Academic All-Big 12 picks and three Major League Baseball Draft picks, including fifth rounder right-handed pitcher Trey Masek.

2012 – Tadlock Returns to Tech

Tadlock returned to his alma mater for the 2012 season as the program's associate head coach and recruiting coordinator. During his one season in this role, the Red Raiders had a school-record nine MLB Draft picks, including first-round selection center fielder Barrett Barnes, who became the third highest draft pick in school history with the 45th overall pick. The nine MLB Draft picks in 2012 ranked second in the nation only behind Arizona State's 10 draft selections. The nine draft picks marked the fifth most in Big 12 history.

2006-2011 – Oklahoma

Tadlock served six successful seasons as an assistant coach/recruiting coordinator at Oklahoma from 2006-2011. Tadlock produced several of the nation's top recruiting classes while an assistant coach at Oklahoma, helping lead the Sooners back to the College World Series in 2010, the Sooners first trip to Omaha since 1995. During his time in Norman, Tadlock helped the Sooners to five NCAA Tournament trips, marking their first time making five postseason appearances in a six year span since 1987-1992.

OU experienced unparalleled success at the plate under Tadlock's guidance, hitting over .300 all six seasons -- first time since 1995-00. His 2009 and 2010 clubs combined for 195 home runs, the most ever at Oklahoma in consecutive years, and led the Big 12 both seasons. In 2011, Tadlock coached 11 players who were selected in the MLB Draft, a total that matched the all-time Big 12 record at the time set by Texas in 2007.

Key to his success at Oklahoma, Tadlock produced several of the top recruiting classes in Norman. His 2006 recruiting class ranked fourth nationally by Collegiate Baseball Newspaper, the best OU class since 1987. Tadlock also had top-25 classes by Baseball America in 2006 (11th), 2009 (16th), 2010 (21st) and 2012 (13th). The 2012 class at OU received a No. 4 ranking by Collegiate Baseball Newspaper.

Grayson – Back-to-back NJCAA World Series Titles

After beginning his college coaching career as an assistant at Hill College (1993-96) for four seasons, Tadlock became the head coach at Grayson County Junior College, where he led the Vikings to back-to-back National Junior College Athletic Association World Series titles in 1999 and 2000. During his nine seasons at Grayson, Tadlock posted a 435-127 (.774) overall record while being named National Coach of the Year following both title runs (1999-2000).

Playing Career

After a prep career at Denton High School and two years at Hill College, Tadlock was a two-year starting shortstop for the Red Raiders while helping Texas Tech to its first-ever 40-win season as a senior in 1991 (42-18). In his two-year career at Tech, Tadlock played in 120 games, batted .289 (120-for-415) with 96 runs scored, 19 doubles, four triples, eight home runs, 68 RBI, 71 walks, 65 strikeouts and was 28-of-41 in stolen bases. Tadlock played for legendary coach Larry Hays while at Texas Tech.

Personal

Tadlock graduated with his bachelor's degree in physical education from Texas Tech in May 1992. He also earned a master's degree in education in August 1994 from the University of Texas at Tyler.

Tadlock and his wife, Kelly, have two children, daughter, Chloe (17), and son, Benjamin (16). Tadlock is originally from Denton, Texas, and was born in 1968.

19 ASSISTANT COACH / RECRUITING COORDINATOR J-BOB THOMAS

8th Season
Abilene Christian, '05

2017 Assistant Coach of the Year
(ABCA/Baseball America)

J-Bob Thomas enters his eighth season as the recruiting coordinator/assistant coach at Texas Tech in 2020. Thomas works primarily with the Red Raider catchers and assists with the team's hitters, while serving as the program's recruiting coordinator.

Thomas enters his 15th year in collegiate baseball – his eighth on head coach Tim Tadlock's coaching staff at Tech. He was named assistant coach/recruiting coordinator with the Red Raiders on June 20, 2012.

Known as a tireless worker and as one of the top recruiters in college baseball, Thomas has proven his abilities early and often throughout his career at Tech. He was recognized as the ABCA/Baseball America Assistant Coach of the Year in 2017 and by Perfect Game in September 2015 as one of 10 coaches nationally "who are everywhere recruiting."

To date, Thomas has been responsible for three of the highest-ranked recruiting classes in school history (2014, 2015, 2018), including Tech's best class to date in 2018 as he signed a group that ranked as high as sixth by Perfect Game. It marked the fifth signing class within Thomas's tenure at Texas Tech to receive top-25 rankings.

The Red Raiders first recruiting class under Tadlock with Thomas as recruiting coordinator received a top-25 ranking by Perfect Game (24th) and was tabbed 27th nationally by Collegiate Baseball. It marked the first time Tech had a nationally-ranked recruiting class by Collegiate Baseball since 2001.

Led by Thomas' recruiting efforts, Tech received a 13th ranked 2014 recruiting class, giving the Red Raiders back-to-back nationally-ranked recruiting classes for the first time since 2000-01. The No. 13 national ranking was, at the time, tied for the highest in school history (2000). The 2014 class was also ranked 23rd by Baseball America, which marked the program's first-ever ranking in BA's recruiting class rankings.

Thomas established a new standard once again in 2015 as he signed a group that ranked as high as ninth by several publications. The class was highlighted by three players drafted among the top 50 picks of the MLB First-Year Player Draft – Josh Naylor (No. 12 overall), Trent Clark (No. 15 overall) and Tony Santillan (No. 49). It marked the first time in program history where Tech has had multiple signees selected in the first round of the MLB Draft.

The 2016 & 2017 signing classes were equally as strong, with both ranked in the top-25 by Perfect Game, earning a No. 23 spot in 2016 and No. 21 for the 2017 group. Dustin May (3rd round), Devin Smeltzer (5th round), Ulysses Cantu (6th round) and JD Murders (31st round) were all selected in the MLB First-Year Player Draft in 2016. The 2017 class includes the No. 1 LHP in the country in Trevor Rogers (New Mexico), and also includes the top players in Mississippi (Cordell Dunn), Illinois (KC Simonich) and Georgia (Gabe Holt), as well as a strong mix of eight of the top players from Texas.

Of those recruited and signed under Thomas as recruiting coordinator at Tech, 46 have been selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Players Draft, including 28 taken in the top-15 rounds.

Thomas' efforts on the recruiting front have helped lead Tech to its first four College World Series appearances in school history. In 2014, the Red Raiders won the NCAA Coral Gables Regional and NCAA Lubbock Super Regional while advancing to the program's first-ever College World Series in Omaha. It marked Tech's first-ever NCAA Regional title and first appearance in school history at a super regional. Two years later, the Red Raiders did it again, earning the program's first national seed, helping secure home-field advantage en route to its second trip to Omaha in three years, where the Red Raiders picked up their first win at the CWS after knocking off No. 1 Florida, 3-2. The Red Raiders replicated their 2016 run with a No. 9 national seed and its third CWS appearance in five years, where Tech won its opener against No. 1 Florida, 6-3. For the first time in program history, Tech made back-to-back trips in 2018 and 2019 as Tech finished among the last four teams remaining in 2019.

Tech matched its highest final ranking in 2019 as it was slotted at No. 4 in several polls to close out the year after posting a 46-20 overall record. The Red Raiders won two games at the CWS for the first time ever after earning a No. 8 National Seed, sweeping the NCAA Lubbock Regional and defeating Big 12 rival Oklahoma State in the Lubbock Super Regional. Tech went 16-8 in Big 12 play to capture its third Big 12 title in four years. Junior Josh Jung was named Big 12 Co-Player of the Year and a unanimous All-American before becoming Tech's second first-round pick in the MLB Draft at No. 8 overall. Senior Cameron Warren also received All-America nods while Clayton Beeter and Micah Dallas earned Freshman All-America accolades.

Tech closed 2018 ranked as high as No. 5 in the nation in several polls after finishing 45-20 overall and 15-9 in the Big 12. It was the third-consecutive 45-win season for Tech, marking the second time the program has hit the benchmark three straight seasons. Tech earned its third straight NCAA National Seed ranking at No. 9, while garnering seven Big 12 honors, including Freshman of the Year for Gabe Holt, and five All-American accolades (Josh Jung, Gabe Holt, Grant Little, Zach Rheams).

In 2017, the Red Raiders captured their second-straight Big 12 championship after a 45-17 overall record and 16-8 clip in Big 12 play. Tech also earned its second consecutive No. 5 NCAA National Seed rankings, while earning three Big 12 Player of the Year honors (Steven Gingery, Hunter Hargrove & Josh Jung), as well as seven All-America honors and six freshman All-American awards.

Tech finished 2016 with a No. 4 overall ranking after posting a 47-20 overall record, including a 19-5 conference mark to claim the program's fifth conference title and first with Thomas. In 2014, the Red racked up 45 wins – fourth most in school history.

Tech posted the biggest turnaround in school history going from 26 wins in 2013 to 45 wins the following season (+19 wins). It is the second biggest turnaround in Big 12 history. Tech set 10 school records in 2014, including home wins (33), shutouts (9), ERA during aluminum bat era -- since 1974 (3.11) -- and fielding percentage (.980). In fact, Tech set a team fielding percentage school record during each of Thomas' first two seasons with the Red Raiders.

The Red Raiders carried that momentum into a 31-24 finish in 2015, Thomas' third season, marking the first time since 2005-06 that Tech had posted consecutive 30-win seasons. The Red Raiders completed Big 12 play at 13-11 overall, securing a tie for third place in the conference standings, Tech's highest finish since the 2004 season. It was also the second-straight season where Tech had finished among the top four in the Big 12 standings, a first for the Red Raiders since the 2001 and 2002 campaigns.

Over the past three years alone (2016-18), Tech has combined for 137 victories -- its most over a three-year span since the 1995-97 seasons (146 wins). In addition, the Red Raiders have also combined for 50 wins in Big 12 play, their most since 2000-02 (53 wins).

In back-to-back years (2013-14), both including Thomas' recruits, Tech had a pair of

COACHING STAFF

Freshman All-Americans for the first time in school history. In 2014, outfielder Stephen Smith and left-handed pitcher Dylan Dusek were named among the top freshmen in the country. Dusek had a historic freshman campaign while breaking the Big 12 freshman record for ERA (1.94). He became the first left-handed pitcher in school history to earn Freshman All-America honors and set a school record for wins in an NCAA postseason claiming the win in the NCAA Regional second round against Miami (3-0) and shutting out No. 16 College of Charleston (1-0) in the NCAA Super Regional to advance to the College World Series. In fact, Dusek became the first Red Raider freshman to ever start on the mound in the NCAA postseason while leading Tech to its first-ever shutout in an NCAA Tournament game while blanking the Miami Hurricanes for the first time in an NCAA game since 1995. In addition, he is one of only two pitchers in school history to post a perfect record (8-0) with at least seven decisions during a season. His eight wins marked a new freshman record at Texas Tech.

Red Raider outfielder Tyler Neslony became the first player in school history to lead the Big 12 in batting (.375) while first baseman Eric Gutierrez became the second player in school history -- and the first since 2004 -- to lead the Big 12 in home runs (12) and RBI (58). Designated hitter/outfielder Adam Kirsch transferred to Tech for his senior season in 2014 and made an immediate impact, batting .307 with 10 home runs and 51 RBI while being named the Big 12 Newcomer of the Year. He is only the second Red Raider to earn that award. A total of 10 Red Raiders received All-Big 12 honors in 2014 -- including six that received first and second team accolades. Gutierrez, shortstop Tim Proudfoot and designated hitter Adam Kirsch were named to the first team while Neslony, Chris Sadberry and Hunter Redman earned second team recognition.

Thomas and the Red Raiders ranked among the top three in the Big 12 in 12 statistical categories, including leading the league in triples and slugging percentage. Tech finished in the top-30 nationally in 10 statistical categories, including triples (3rd), double plays (6th), fielding percentage (6th), shutouts (14th), hits (15th) and runs (17th) to name a few.

Six Red Raiders were drafted or signed free agent contracts with Major League Baseball organizations in 2014, including catcher Hunter Redman who was selected in the eighth round by the Los Angeles Dodgers. Redman became the highest drafted Red Raider catcher since 2006. An All-Big 12 second team pick, Redman was the first Tech catcher to receive All-Big 12 during his first season at Tech since 2002.

Tech won 12 games against nationally-ranked opponents in 2014 -- six of which came against top-10 ranked teams. It marked the Red Raiders most wins against ranked opponents since 1998. In addition, the Red Raiders received 18 consecutive national rankings and for just the sixth time in school history finished the regular season with 40 victories. Tech swept six series -- its most since 2002 -- including three Big 12 series. The Red Raiders went 14-10 in league play, which marked its most wins in Big 12 play since 2004.

Tech's historic 2014 season also included a 16-game home win streak to finish the season (school record to end a year) as its win streak to end the season marked the longest active streak in the nation. Not only did Red Raider Nation rank 20th in the country in total attendance (89,355 fans) but sold out its NCAA Super Regional against College of Charleston in less than 40 minutes. Tech had 4,811 fans back-to-back days as the Red Raiders swept the super regional to advance to Omaha. Tech tied a school record winning 33 games at home (33-4) while ranking second in the nation in home winning percentage (.892).

Tech's pitching staff engineered one of the most dynamic pitching efforts in recent memory during the 2014 postseason. The Red Raiders posted a 0.76 ERA during eight NCAA Tournament games while recording 64 scoreless innings (72 total innings pitched) with 27 consecutive scoreless innings in three straight shutouts -- one to clinch the Coral Gables Regional and back-to-back 1-0 shutouts over College of Charleston in the Lubbock Super Regional to advance to the CWS. Tech tied an NCAA all-time record with four shutouts in the 2014 NCAA Tournament, a feat that had only previously been accomplished by Cal State Fullerton (2004), Pepperdine (1992), Arizona State (1972), Florida State (1970), St. John's (1968) and Wake Forest (1955). In addition, entering the postseason, the Red Raiders had played 33 games in the NCAA Tournament (1995-2004) and had never posted a shutout. It marked the first time Tech had three consecutive shutouts since 1976.

The Red Raiders carried that momentum into a 31-24 finish in 2015, Thomas' third season, marking the first time since 2005-06 that Tech had posted consecutive 30-win seasons. The Red Raiders completed Big 12 play at 13-11 overall, securing a tie for third place in the conference standings, Tech's highest finish since the 2004 season. It was also the second-straight season where Tech had finished among the top four in the Big 12 standings, a first for the Red Raiders since the 2001 and 2002 campaigns. Over the past two years alone (2014-15), Tech has combined for 76 victories -- its most over a two-year span since the 2001 and 2002 seasons (85 wins). In addition, the Red Raiders have also combined for 27 wins in Big 12 play, their most since those same two seasons.

The Red Raiders once again were among the national leaders defensively, ranking 10th in the country for double plays per game and 14th for double plays. Corey Taylor, meanwhile, led the country with a 0.31 ERA, the lowest in both Texas Tech and Big 12 Conference history, after allowing just two earned runs over 57.1 innings. He finished 4-0 in 19 appearances and held opponents to just a .186 batting average. Taylor became the first Red Raider to earn All-America honors since Thomas' arrival as he was third team All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA). His selection marked the first time since John Neely in 2011 where a Red Raider pitcher garnered All-America accolades.

Eric Gutierrez joined Taylor in collecting national accolades as he was named to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) Rawlings Gold Glove Team, becoming just the second Red Raider in program history to collect the honor. Gutierrez, one of six Red Raiders also on the All-Big 12 teams, ended his junior year with an impressive .992 fielding percentage. During Thomas' first season at Tech, Tech fielded the youngest team in the nation. The Red Raiders had 22 newcomers that saw action, a number that led the nation.

The Red Raiders won their Big 12 Conference series opener in 2013 taking two of three games over Texas in Austin. It marked the first time Tech had won a series over the Longhorns in Austin since 2001 and was Tech's first series win over Texas since 2002.

Two players received Freshmen All-America honors during Thomas' first season while first baseman Eric Gutierrez (Mission, Texas) and catcher/designated hitter Jarrard Poteete (Briggs, Okla.) were recognized. In 2013, Texas Tech had four All-Big 12 selections (one All-Freshman team pick), four Academic All-Big 12 picks and three MLB Draft picks, including fifth-round right-handed pitcher Trey Masek (Chicago Cubs).

Thomas came to Texas Tech after spending seven seasons as the assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Howard College. During his time at Howard he helped turn the Hawks into the winningest Division I junior college program in the nation during his last five seasons (247 wins - average of 49 wins per season) while winning the NJCAA D-I World Series in 2009 with an astonishing 63-1 overall record, which included a college baseball record 57-game win streak. The overwhelming success during Thomas' tenure in Big Spring, Texas, made him one of the nation's top assistant coaches along with being regarded as one of the elite college baseball recruiters in the country. Thomas served as Howard's hitting and catching coach while also working with the team's base runners. Thomas was instrumental in the Hawks leading the nation in hitting three times (2008 - .430... 2009 - .421... 2011 - .394) while finishing in the top five in the country in hitting during each of his seven seasons. Three of Thomas' hitters led the nation in hitting while he mentored a total of seven hitters that finished in the top 10 in the country in batting.

In 2009 the Hawks won the national title and broke the all-time record for consecutive victories (previous record was 55 consecutive wins by Seminole State in 1987) on their way to a perfect regular season and to 57 straight wins. Following its only loss of the season, Howard won six straight games, including every game at the JUCO World Series while capturing the national championship. Thomas helped guide Howard to a school-record four straight conference championships, with title runs in 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012. Overall, Howard went 321-88 during Thomas' seven seasons. He coached 14 NJCAA All-Americans at Howard, including seven first team selections (2008-2012) - which led the nation during that time frame. In seven seasons at Howard, Thomas coached 52 Western Junior College Athletic Conference All-Conference selections, 23 NJCAA All-Region V picks, six WJCAC Player of the Year selections, five NJCAA Rawlings Big Stick Award winners, four WJCAC Pitcher of the Year selections, three NJCAA batting champions, two NJCAA Players of the Year and one Easton National Defensive Player of the Year. The Hawks produced several of the top defensive players in the country under Thomas' tutelage as five players were awarded the Rawlings Gold Glove Award during a four-year span (2009-2012) as players selected as having the best defensive seasons in the country at their respective positions.

Thomas consistently had one of the top catchers in the Region V, which was evident following five of his seven catchers signing with Big 12 or SEC programs. He mentored 71 players at Howard that signed at NCAA Division I programs, an average of seven players a year. In 2009, Thomas helped send 19 players to the D-I level and he coached 17 players in 2012 that signed letters of intent with D-I programs. In addition, 15-of-17 signees in 2012 went to Big 12, SEC or Pac-12 programs. Thomas coached 29 players at Howard that were selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Players Draft, including three top-10 selections.

Thomas' student-athletes at Howard were also successful in the classroom as 71 of his players graduated from 2008-2012. Thomas, along with academic advisor Linda Conway, initiated Howard's academic advising program in the fall of 2007. Howard finished third in the nation in 2007 with a 3.32 team grade-point average.

Prior to beginning his collegiate coaching career at Howard, Thomas spent a summer coaching in the Texas Collegiate League with the Coppell Copperheads. Thomas helped lead the Copperheads to a championship season with a 31-17 record and a Tris Speaker division title. He spent the 2004 summer as an assistant coach with the Dallas Mustangs - a perennial high school summer baseball powerhouse - under the direction of Sam Carpenter, who is one of the most prominent select baseball coaches in the country.

A graduate of Abilene Christian University in 2005 with a degree in mass communications, Thomas was a four-year all-conference catcher while beginning his career at Howard College before transferring to ACU and finishing his degree in four years. Thomas' collegiate playing career included throwing out 30 percent of would-be base stealers and tallying a .320 career batting average. He completed his college career being named to the All-Tournament team at the 2004 Lone Star tournament where ACU finished in the top-10 in the country with a 42-17 overall record while claiming its second consecutive league championship.

A native of Duncanville, Texas, Thomas played for legendary coach Bob Rombach at Duncanville High School where he led his team to three straight Texas High School state playoff appearances (1998-2000). Thomas was born in Duncanville, Texas, in 1982. Thomas and his wife, the former Victoria Landry of Houston, Texas, have one son: Park Landry Thomas (2).

ASSISTANT COACH MATT GARDNER

7th Season at Texas Tech
3rd Season as Asst. Coach

Oklahoma State, '08

Matt Gardner enters his seventh season on staff at Texas Tech and his third as assistant coach, where he assists with the Red Raider pitching staff and catchers, while also working with the outfielders.

Gardner was promoted to assistant coach on June 26, 2017, after serving four years as the program's volunteer assistant coach.

Gardner, who began his collegiate playing career for Tim Tadlock at Grayson County College in 2005, came to Tech following two seasons as pitching coach at Lubbock Christian University (2012-13). He previously spent three seasons as a graduate assistant coach (2009) and volunteer assistant coach (2010-11) at his alma mater, Oklahoma State.

The Red Raiders have posted consecutive 45-win seasons in each of the last four years and 30-win seasons in each of the last six years with Gardner on staff. Tech has combined for 183 victories the past four seasons, the most over a four-year span since 1995-98 (190 wins).

Since Gardner's arrival, Tech has had 27 pitchers that have been selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft or that have signed a free agent contract. Tech has set a school record for pitchers selected in the MLB draft in three of the last five seasons, with five selections in 2015, six in 2016, seven in 2018 and four in 2019. Seven Red Raider pitchers have been taken in the first eight rounds over the last four years in Matt Withrow, Corey Taylor, Dominic Moreno, Ryan Moseley, Parker Mushinski and Steven Gingery and Caleb Kilian.

Taylor recorded one of the best seasons in NCAA history in 2015 as the senior led the country with a 0.31 ERA that was the sixth-lowest in NCAA history and the lowest for any Division-I pitcher since Al Holland (North Carolina A&T) in 1975. His impressive year snapped both the Texas Tech and Big 12 records for ERA as he allowed just two earned runs over 57.1 innings. Taylor, a seventh round draft selection by the New York Mets, was named a third team All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA), marking the first time a Tech pitcher has earned All-America honors since John Neely in 2011.

In 2016, Tech added two Freshman All-Americans in Davis Martin and Steven Gingery, who put together strong debuts donning the scarlet & black. Martin recorded a 10-1 record, the first 10-win pitcher for the Red Raiders since Steve Rowe in 2002. His 10 victories were also the most ever by a Texas Tech freshman, led the Big 12 and tied for the most among freshman in the NCAA. His spotless 6-0 record in conference play and his 2.52 overall ERA helped him earn four Freshman All-America accolades, making him the second Red Raider in program history to receive Freshman All-American status by four publications, joining Barrett Barnes in 2010. Martin's 10th win made history, coming at the College World Series in a 3-2 thriller, which marked Tech's first-ever win at the CWS.

Gingery led the Red Raiders in 2016 with 63 strikeouts after notching a 4-2 record overall. In Big 12 play, Gingery went 3-0 with a tremendous 1.85 ERA, which led the conference. Tech finished the year with the third-most wins in school history at 47-20, while earning the school's fifth conference title behind a 19-5 Big 12 record. The Red Raiders' appearance in the College World Series marked the second berth in three years.

Gingery had another phenomenal season in 2017, becoming the program's first unanimous first team All-American, while also earning Big 12 & National Pitcher of the Year awards. He racked up 107 strikeouts, a 10-1 record and a 1.58 ERA in 15 starts on the mound. The Red Raiders put together a 45-17 record on their way to their second-straight Big 12 championship & No. 5 NCAA National Seed. The Tech bullpen also set a program record for saves in a single season with 22, finishing with a 3.73 team ERA.

In 2018, the Red Raiders posted their fourth 45+ win season under Tadlock with a 45-20 record and a 15-9 mark in league play. Four Red Raiders garnered All-America recognition while five received All-Big 12 First Team nods, including sophomore Caleb Kilian, who led the Big 12 in wins with a 9-3 overall record.

Kilian continued his dominance as the Red Raiders returned to the College World Series in 2019 for their fourth trip in six seasons. Tech won its third Big 12 title in four years behind Kilian's 7-0 record during conference play, making him one of just seven Big 12 pitchers since 2003 to earn seven conference wins without a loss. After earning a No. 8 national seed, Tech went on to win two games in Omaha for the first time as it finished as one of the last four teams remaining with a 46-20 overall record.

Kilian turned out to be the highest of four Red Raider pitchers drafted in the 2019 MLB Draft, going in the eighth round after being drafted in the 20th round in 2018. Kilian and fellow right-hander Taylor Floyd were All-Big 12 First Team selections while freshmen Clayton Beeter and Micah Dallas received Freshman All-America accolades.

Tech recorded back-to-back Big 12 titles after putting together a 45-17 record on the diamond in 2017, with a 16-8 record in league play. For the second-straight year, the Red Raiders earned the No. 5 National Seed in the NCAA Tournament, which capped off 13 consecutive sellout crowds at Rip Griffin Park to end the season. Steven Gingery became the first unanimous first team All-American in program history, while also earning Big 12 Pitcher of the Year and National Pitcher of the Year by the College Baseball Foundation.

The Red Raiders posted their second 45+ win season in 2016, going 47-20 overall, the third-most wins in the program record books. Tech earned its fifth conference title in school history after tallying a 19-5 Big 12 mark and advanced to the College World Series for the second time in three years. For the first time in program history, the Red Raiders were awarded a national seed for the NCAA Tournament, checking in at No. 5. In Omaha, the Red Raiders recorded their first CWS victory in Tech history after defeating No. 1 Florida, 3-2, in an elimination game. The Red Raiders ended the year ranked fourth in the final poll of the 2016 season, their highest ever in program history.

Tech closed the 2015 season at 31-24 overall and 13-11 in Big 12 play, which secured a third-place finish in the Big 12 standings, its highest since the 2004 season. The Red Raiders finished among the top four teams in the Big 12 in back-to-back seasons for the first time since 2001-02. The Tech pitching staff closed the 2015 season with a 3.33 ERA, marking the second-straight year Tech has posted a team ERA of 3.40 or lower. The Red Raiders had not previously accomplished that feat since the 1970 and 1971 seasons. Tech allowed just 184 earned runs overall, its fewest since giving up 176 in 1994. In addition, Tech also snapped the single-season record with a 3.21 team ERA during Big 12 play. Taylor and Moreno were dominant against conference foes as the duo combined to allow just five earned runs while posting 0.55 and 1.09 ERAs.

Taylor and fellow senior Cameron Smith were both recognized following the season on the All-Big 12 first team while Moreno was a second team honoree. Smith's selection marked the first time a Tech starting pitcher had been named to the first team since Brandon Roberson in 2001. Taylor, meanwhile, was the first Red Raider reliever to garner first-team recognition since Steve Rowe in 2002. Smith completed his two seasons on the Red Raider pitching staff with a 2.81 career ERA, seventh-lowest in Tech history, while Moreno ended his career eighth overall with a 2.97 ERA. Their two career ERAs rank fifth and sixth, respectively, in the aluminum bat era (since 1974), while Taylor is 10th in that category with a 3.30 career ERA. Gardner helped lead the Red Raider pitching staff to their best season in school history in 2014 -- Gardner's first season on the Texas Tech staff. The Red Raiders historic season included winning the NCAA Coral Gables Regional, NCAA Lubbock Super Regional and making Tech's first-ever appearance at the College World Series in Omaha. The Red Raiders won 45 games in 2014 -- the fourth most wins in school history while Gardner assisted pitching coach Ray Hayward with the pitching staff that set numerous school records, including shutouts (9), ERA during the aluminum bat era -- since 1974 (3.11), times holding opponents to two runs or fewer (30), innings pitched (587.2) and ERA during Big 12 play (4.09).

Tech's 2014 postseason run was centered on one of the most dynamic pitching efforts in recent memory. The Red Raiders posted a 0.76 ERA in eight NCAA Tournament games while recording 64 scoreless innings (72 total innings pitched) with 27 consecutive scoreless innings during three straight shutouts -- one to clinch the Coral Gables Regional title and back-to-back 1-0 shutouts over College of Charleston in the Lubbock Super Regional to advance to the CWS. In fact, it marked the first time in NCAA history that a team shutout their opponents 1-0 in back-to-back games in a Super Regional. Only once in the super regional era (since 1999) had a team advanced to Omaha with back-to-back shutouts (LSU -- 2002). Tech tied an NCAA all-time record with four shutouts in the 2014 NCAA Tournament, a feat that had only previously been accomplished by Cal State Fullerton (2004), Pepperdine (1992), Arizona State (1972), Florida State (1970), St. John's (1968) and Wake Forest (1955). In addition, entering the 2014 postseason, the Red Raiders had played 33 games in the NCAA Tournament and had never posted a shutout. It marked the first time Tech had three consecutive shutouts since 1976.

Tech's postseason was also highlighted by recording the first shutout in school history in the NCAA Tournament while in the process handing Miami (Fla.) its first shutout in the postseason since 1995. During Tech's 3-0 shutout over the Hurricanes, left-handed pitcher Dylan Dusek became the first freshman in Tech history to make a start in the postseason. The following game, fellow freshman Ryan Moseley pitched six scoreless innings in the second-straight start by a Red Raider freshman pitcher.

The Red Raiders experienced the biggest turnaround in school history in 2014 with 45 wins a year after winning 26 games. The turnaround marked the second biggest in Big 12 history. The Red Raiders posted a 40-win season for just the sixth time in school history in 2014 while going 14-10 in Big 12 play for a fourth-place finish. Tech's 14 conference wins marked its most since 2004. Tech won 12 games against nationally-ranked opponents in Hayward's second season -- the most by the Red Raiders since 1998. Tech was nationally ranked for 18 consecutive weeks -- ranked as high as No. 7 before finishing the year at No. 8, tying the school record for highest end of the year ranking. Tech finished the 2014 season tying a school record with 33 home wins. The Red Raiders finished the season breaking a school record with 16 straight home wins to finish a season -- the streak marked the longest active home win streak in the nation. Tech's pitching staff ranked 14th in the nation in shutouts and finished third in the Big 12 in both ERA (3.11) and opponent batting average (.248). Three pitchers ranked among the top four in the league in statistical categories as Chris Sadberry's 17 starts ranked second, Smith ranked fourth in shutouts (1) and also opponent batting average (.211) and Dusek broke a Big 12 freshman record with a 1.94 ERA which ranked fourth in the league among all pitchers. Sadberry earned All-Big 12 second team and was named Big 12 Newcomer of the Week during the 2014 season. Dusek became the first left-handed pitcher in school history to be named a Freshman All-American in 2014.

Gardner helped mentored three pitchers that were drafted or signed free agent contracts in 2014 -- none of them had previously been drafted. Sadberry was drafted in the sixth round by the Miami Marlins, Moreno was selected in the 33rd round by the St. Louis Cardinals and senior left-handed pitcher Jonny Drozd signed a free agent contract with the New York Yankees.

Just before arriving at Tech, Gardner was the pitching coach for the Chatham Anglers in the Cape Cod League during the summer of 2013. He helped lead the Anglers to the President's Trophy, awarded annually to the team with the best overall record (26-17). During his summer in the Cape, Gardner coached Red Raider catcher Hunter Redman and right-handed pitcher Dominic Moreno. He helped guide the Anglers to the Cape Cod League Eastern Division title while working with a pitching staff that tallied 332 strikeouts -- ranking second in the league -- which was anchored by the Cape Cod League's Most Outstanding Pitcher, Lukas Schiraldi. Also on his pitching staff was right-handed pitcher Tommy Lawrence, who was awarded the league's John Claffey Award, given to the top Cape Cod League Prospect from New England. Gardner's pitching staff posted a 3.33 ERA -- the Anglers' lowest team ERA since 2010 -- while eight of his pitchers posted an ERA under 2.00.

During Gardner's final season at LCU in 2013, the Chaps finished the season 44-17 overall and received a national ranking as high as No. 4 in the country while he led a pitching staff that broke a school record with three Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft selections. Gardner's pitching staff ranked in the top 25 in the nation in strikeouts in back-to-back seasons at LCU while his top pitcher in 2012, Tyler Rogers, ranked third in the country with 122 strikeouts and his ace pitcher in 2013, Derek Loera, a 28th round draft pick, was 18th in NAIA with 10 wins and 19th in the nation with 89 strikeouts. During his two campaigns at LCU the Chaps won 79 games, had 12 All-Sooner Athletic Conference selections and six NAIA All-America selections. LCU received a national ranking during every week of the season during Gardner's two seasons with eight rankings inside the top 10 in the nation.

While at Oklahoma State, Gardner assisted then-head coach Frank Anderson with the pitching duties during the 2010-11 seasons and worked with the team's catchers as a graduate assistant coach in 2009. Gardner's final season at OSU in 2011, the Cowboys pitching staff recorded a 3.79 ERA -- the program's lowest team ERA in 36 years (since 1974). During his first season assisting with the pitching staff, Oklahoma State ranked fifth in the nation averaging 8.9 strikeouts per nine innings. OSU advanced to a pair of NCAA Regionals during Gardner's time on the coaching staff with an appearance at the 2009 Clemson Regional (2-2 record) and advancing to the 2011 Nashville Regional. The Cowboys posted a 98-75 overall record from 2009-11. Gardner coached 21 MLB draft picks at Oklahoma State -- 10 of which were pitchers while five OSU players were selected in the top-10 rounds of the MLB Draft. In addition to coaching over 20 draft picks at his alma mater, Gardner mentored 18 All-Big 12 selections, 21 Academic All-Big 12 honorees, two Big 12 Pitchers of the Week and one All-American. Gardner's coaching career also includes a pair of assistant coaching stints at the junior college level while coaching the fall of 2009 at Ranger College and the fall of 2010 at Midland College.

A Friday-night starter at Oklahoma State for two seasons, Gardner was an All-Big 12 selection and Academic All-Big 12 award winner during his three-year career (2006-08) as a student-athlete with a 16-6 career record with a 4.89 ERA with 39 appearances, 30 starts, two complete games, 173.0 innings pitched and 108 strikeouts with 40 walks in three seasons (2006-08) as a Cowboy. He helped lead OSU to three-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, which included a trip to an NCAA Super Regional in 2007. Gardner and the Cowboys captured three straight 40-win seasons, something that hadn't been accomplished in Stillwater since 1997-99. Twice he was named OSU's Opening Day starter during his sophomore and junior seasons. He was named to the 2006 NCAA Fayetteville Regional All-Tournament team while recording a 7-3 record with 18 appearances, 10 starts, 83.1 innings pitched and 51 strikeouts.

His junior season the Cowboys advanced to the NCAA Louisville Super Regional after going 3-0 and winning the Fayetteville Regional. As a senior, the Cowboys finished their season hosting a regional in Stillwater going 2-2 and finishing a game away from back-to-back super regional appearances. His final season at OSU the Cowboys led the Big 12 with a 3.98 team ERA. Gardner was a 32nd round MLB Draft pick in 2007 by the Los Angeles Dodgers following his junior season at OSU. Gardner earned his bachelor's degree from OSU with a degree in education in 2008.

He began his collegiate career playing for Tim Tadlock at Grayson County College in 2005 while helping the Vikings to a 45-13 overall record and to a conference championship while being named an NCAA Honorable Mention All-American. He ranked eighth in the nation during his freshman year in wins going 10-1 with a 3.93 ERA in 73.1 innings with 62 strikeouts and 24 walks allowed. Gardner was also a catcher during his first college season batting .310 (40-for-129) with five home runs and 33 RBI. He was a 48th round selection in the 2005 MLB Draft by the Seattle Mariners.

He is originally from Andrews, Texas, graduating from Andrews High School in 2004. Matt is the son of Rodney Gardner and Vickie Gardner, both graduates of Lubbock Christian University. His father, Rodney, was a 1975 All-American at LCU playing under former Tech head coach Larry Hays. Rodney went on to coach locally in Lubbock as well as at Abernathy and Estacado High School.

Gardner was born in Lubbock on November 2, 1984. He and his wife Laiken were married in October 2015, and have a daughter Corbynn, born on June 4, 2017.

COACHING STAFF

12 VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT ERIC GUTIERREZ

2nd Season at Texas Tech

Texas Tech, '18

Former Red Raider All-American first baseman Eric Gutierrez begins his second season as a volunteer assistant coach in 2020.

Gutierrez returned to Lubbock to join Tim Tadlock's staff in 2018 after wrapping up a professional career in the Miami Marlins organization. In 2016, Gutierrez was drafted in the 20th round by the Marlins and spent three years with the Batavia Muckdogs, Greensboro Grasshoppers and the Jupiter Hammerheads.

Gutierrez, a native of Mission, was a four-year letterwinner and one of the most decorated student-athletes to don the scarlet & black at Texas Tech. He started every game of his collegiate career, primarily at first base, totaling 244 games, the most in school history. Gutierrez still holds four school records, leading the team in eight yearly categories and checks in with 30 marks that rank in the top 10 in the Tech record books.

Tech has gone to the College World Series in three of the four years Gutierrez has been associated with the program, going in 2014 and 2016 as a student-athlete before returning in 2019 during his first year in his current role.

The 2019 Red Raiders made their deepest run at the CWS to date, finishing as one of the last four teams remaining to earn a No. 4 final ranking, matching the highest in club history. Tech finished 46-20 overall and 16-8 in the Big 12 to earn its third Big 12 title in four years. The Red Raiders were awarded the No. 8 national seed, advancing to Omaha for the fourth time in six years.

Gutierrez helped mentor senior first baseman Cameron Warren into All-America accolades in 2019. Warren, who went undrafted as a junior, led the team in batting (.355), home runs (18), RBI (79), and slugging (.665) while committing just two errors on the year for a .997 fielding percentage. Warren was drafted in the 22nd round in the 2019 MLB Draft.

PLAYING CAREER

Over his four-year career at Tech, Gutierrez racked up a .302 batting average behind 264 hits, including 59 doubles, five triples and 36 homers, leaving the collegiate ranks with a .302/.423/.505 line. He also totaled 193 RBI and 173 runs scored, while reaching base 195 times via walk and hit-by-pitch.

Gutierrez immediately made an impact upon joining the Red Raiders as a freshman in 2013, Tadlock's first year as head coach, becoming the ninth player in school history to earn freshman All-America honors. He was the only Red Raider to play and start in all 56 games, batting cleanup for 42 of those games on his way to a .251 average with 48 hits, 29 RBI and 35 runs scored, including seven home runs, with four in consecutive games, the most by a freshman at Tech since 2010.

In 2014, Gutierrez helped guide the Red Raiders to their first College World Series in program history after being named to the NCAA Coral Gables Regional All-Tournament Team before a Lubbock Super Regional victory to punch Tech's ticket to Omaha. Sixty-two of his 66 starts came at the cleanup spot and he improved his marks to a .302 average with 74 hits, 18 doubles, two triples and 12 homers, along with 58 RBI and 46 runs scored. He finished the year ranked in the top 30 in the NCAA in three categories on his way to a Big 12 Player of the Year honors by the Waco Tribune-Herald and ABCA All-Midwest Regional Second Team accolades.

Gutierrez raised his batting average again in 2015, hitting .315 behind 64 hits, including 28 for extra bases, to go with 46 RBI and 38 runs scored as a junior. He added first team All-Big 12 honors and ABCA All-Midwest Region team accolades for the second-straight season before having his best year as a collegian in his final year in 2016.

The 2016 campaign saw the Red Raiders reach the College World Series for the second time in three years, as well as the start of consecutive seasons with Big 12 titles and No. 5 National Seed rankings heading into postseason play. Gutierrez captured the Big 12 Player of the Year award given out by the conference coaches and five All-America accolades after hitting .333 over 67 games. He finished the year with 78 hits, including 17 doubles, a triple and 13 homers, as well as 60 RBI and 54 runs scored.

After the 2014 and 2015 seasons, Gutierrez had the opportunity to participate in the College Home Run Derby, literally leaving his mark on TD Ameritrade Park in Omaha. In 2014, he broke the derby record by smashing 52 homers and finished runner-up at the event, smashing the previous mark of 20 while sending 29 over 400 feet. The next year, he finished fourth at the event with 17, coming just shy of making the final.

In August 2018, Gutierrez graduated from Texas Tech with a degree in general studies.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT RAY HAYWARD

8th Season at Texas Tech
3rd Season as Special Asst.

Oklahoma, '83

Ray Hayward enters his eighth season on staff at Texas Tech in 2020, his third in the role of special assistant. Hayward was named assistant coach on June 26, 2012, as part of Tim Tadlock's inaugural staff at Tech, and served in that role for the first five years of his tenure.

Under Hayward, Tech has had 30 pitchers that have been selected in the Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft or that have signed a free agent contract. Tech has set a school record for pitchers selected in the MLB draft in three of the last five seasons, with five selections in 2015, six in 2016 and seven in 2018. Seven Red Raider pitchers have been taken in the first eight rounds over the last four years in Matt Withrow, Corey Taylor, Dominic Moreno, Ryan Moseley, Parker Mushinski, Steven Gingery and Caleb Kilian.

Hayward was instrumental in the development of Taylor, who was selected in the seventh round by the New York Mets after leading the NCAA with a 0.31 earned-run average in 2015. His impressive year snapped both the Texas Tech and Big 12 records for ERA as he allowed just two earned runs over 57.1 innings. Taylor garnered third team All-America honors by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association as his 0.31 ERA marked the sixth-lowest in NCAA history and the lowest for any Division-I pitcher since Al Holland (North Carolina A&T) compiled a 0.26 ERA in 1975. He was the first Tech pitcher to receive All-America honors since John Neely in 2011.

In 2016, Tech added two Freshman All-Americans in Davis Martin and Steven Gingery, who put together strong debuts donning the scarlet and black. Martin recorded a 10-1 record, the first 10-win pitcher for the Red Raiders since Steve Rowe in 2002. His 10 victories were also the most ever by a Texas Tech freshman, led the Big 12 and tied for the most among freshman in the NCAA. His spotless 6-0 record in conference play and his 2.52 overall ERA helped him earn four Freshman All-America accolades. Martin's 10th win made history, coming at the College World Series in a 3-2 thriller over No. 1 Florida, which marked Tech's first-ever win at the CWS.

Gingery led the Red Raiders in 2016 with 63 strikeouts after notching a 4-2 record overall. In Big 12 play, Gingery went 3-0 with a tremendous 1.85 ERA, which led the conference. Tech finished the year with the third-most wins in school history at 47-20, while earning the school's fifth conference title behind a 19-5 Big 12 record. The Red Raiders appearance in the College World Series marked the second berth in three years.

The 2017 campaign was even better for Gingery, who posted 10 wins and a 1.58 ERA in 15 starts. His performance on the mound helped him become the program's first unanimous first team All-American, while earning him Big 12 & National Pitcher of the Year awards.

Tech posted a 45-17 record in 2017, with a 16-8 record en route to back-to-back Big 12 titles and No. 5 National Seeds for the NCAA Tournament. As a unit, the Red Raiders recorded a 3.73 ERA to go with 559 strikeouts and 22 saves, the most in a single season by a Tech squad.

The Red Raiders returned to Omaha for the third time in the last five years in 2018, as Tech finished 45-20 overall and 15-9 in Big 12 play, earning its third straight NCAA National Seed ranking at No. 9. The Red Raiders closed 2018 ranked as high as No. 5 in the nation with the pitching staff making up seven of the team's school-record 11 MLB Draft picks.

Tech made it four College World Series appearances in six years and three Big 12 titles in four years in the 2019 campaign. The Red Raiders finished as one of the last four teams remaining with a 46-20 overall record and 16-8 Big 12 mark on their way to a No. 4 final ranking, which matched the highest final ranking in team history. Junior RHP Caleb Kilian, drafted in the 20th round in 2018, put together a 7-0 record in Big 12 play and was drafted in the eighth round of the 2019 MLB Draft in 2019.

It was the fourth-consecutive 45-win season for Tech, marking the first time the program has hit the benchmark four straight seasons. Over the past four years alone (2016-19), Tech has combined for 183 victories -- its most over a four-year span since the 1995-98 seasons (190 wins). In addition, the Red Raiders have also combined for 66 wins in Big 12 play, their most since 1999-02 (71 wins).

The Red Raiders, who closed 2016 at 47-20 overall and 19-15 in Big 12 play, have combined for 92 victories the past two seasons, the most over a two-year span since the 2001 and 2002 seasons (85 wins).

The Red Raiders, who closed 2015 at 31-24 overall and 13-11 in Big 12 play, have combined for 76 victories the past two seasons, the most over a two-year span since the 2001 and 2002 seasons (85 wins). In addition, the Red Raiders have also combined for 27 wins against Big 12 foes the past two seasons, which is also the most since 2001-02. Tech secured a tie for third place in the 2015 conference standings, marking its highest finish since the 2004 season. It was also the second-straight season where Tech has finished among the top four teams in the Big 12, a first for the Red Raiders since 2001-02. The Red Raiders closed the 2015 season with a 3.33 ERA, marking the second-straight season Tech has posted a team ERA of 3.40 or lower. Tech had not previously accomplished the feat since the 1970 and 1971 seasons. The Red Raiders allowed just 184 earned runs on the year, their fewest since surrendering 176 in 1994. For the second-consecutive season, the Red Raiders also snapped the school record with a 3.21 team ERA during Big 12 play. Taylor and Moreno led the way for the Tech pitching staff as the duo combined to allow just five earned runs while posting 0.55 and 1.09 ERAs against conference foes. Taylor and fellow senior Cameron Smith were both recognized following the season on the All-Big 12 first team while Moreno was a second team honoree. Smith's selection marked the first time a Tech starting pitcher had been named to the first team since Brandon Roberson in 2001. Taylor, meanwhile, was the first Red Raider reliever to garner first-team recognition since Steve Rowe in 2002. In all, Hayward has coached six Tech pitchers that have received all-Big 12 honors in his three seasons as Chris Sadberry was named to the second team in 2014 while Smith (2014), Jonny Drozd (2014) and Trey Masek (2013) have all been named honorable mention selections. Smith completed his two seasons under Hayward with a 2.81 career ERA, seventh-lowest in Tech history, while Moreno ended his career eighth overall with a 2.97 ERA. Their two career ERAs rank fifth and sixth, respectively, in the aluminum bat era (since 1974), while Taylor is 10th in that category with a 3.30 career ERA.

Hayward's pitching staff helped lead the Red Raiders to their best season in school history in 2014 -- Hayward's second year at Texas Tech. The Red Raiders' historic season included winning the NCAA Coral Gables Regional, NCAA Lubbock Super Regional and making Tech's first-ever appearance at the College World Series in Omaha. The Red Raiders won 45 games in 2014 -- the fourth most wins in school history while Hayward's pitching staff set numerous school records, including shutouts (9), ERA during the aluminum bat era (since 1974 - 3.11), times holding opponent to two runs or fewer (30), innings pitched (587.2) and ERA during Big 12 play (4.09). Tech's postseason run was centered on one of the most dynamic pitching efforts in recent memory. The Red Raiders posted a 0.76 ERA in eight NCAA Tournament games while recording 64 scoreless innings (72 total innings pitched) with 27-consecutive scoreless innings during three straight shutouts -- one to clinch the Coral Gables Regional and back-to-back 1-0 shutouts over College of Charleston in the Lubbock Super Regional to advance to the CWS. In fact, it marked the first time in NCAA history that a team shut out its opponents, 1-0, in back-to-back games in a Super Regional. Only once in the Super Regional era (since 1999) had a team advanced to Omaha with back-to-back shutouts (LSU -- 2002). Tech tied an NCAA all-time record with four shutouts in the 2014 NCAA Tournament, a feat that had only previously been accomplished by Cal State Fullerton (2004), Pepperdine (1992), Arizona State (1972), Florida State (1970), St. John's (1968) and Wake Forest (1955). In addition, entering the 2014 postseason, the Red Raiders had played 33 games in the NCAA Tournament and had never posted a shutout. It marked the first time Tech had three consecutive shutouts since 1976. Tech's postseason was highlighted by recording the first shutout in school history in the NCAA Tournament while in the process handing Miami (Fla.) its first shutout in the postseason since 1995. During Tech's 3-0 shutout over the Hurricanes, left-handed pitcher Dylan Dusek became the first freshman in Tech history to make a start in the postseason. The following game, freshman Ryan Moseley pitched six scoreless innings in the second-straight start by a Red Raider freshman pitcher.

Under Hayward's guidance, the Red Raiders have posted 19 shutouts in three seasons -- setting a new school record for shutouts in consecutive seasons. The previous record was 16 (1990-92). The Red Raiders experienced the biggest turnaround in school history in 2014 with 45 wins a year after winning 26 games. The turnaround marked the second biggest in Big 12 history. The Red Raiders posted a 40-win season for just the sixth time in school history in 2014 while going 14-10 in Big 12 play for a fourth-place finish. Tech's 14 conference wins marked its most since 2004. Tech won 12 games against nationally-ranked opponents in Hayward's second season -- the most by the Red Raiders since 1998. Tech was nationally ranked for 18 consecutive weeks -- ranked as high as No. 7 before finishing the year at No. 8, tying the school record for highest end of the year ranking. Tech finished the 2014 season tying a school record with 33 home wins. The Red Raiders finished the season breaking a school record with 16 straight home wins to finish a season -- the streak marked the longest active home win streak in the nation. Hayward's pitching staff ranked 14th in the nation in shutouts and finished third in the Big 12 in both ERA (3.11) and opponent batting average (.248). He had three pitchers that ranked among the top four in the league as Sadberry's 17 starts ranked second, Smith ranked fourth in shutouts (1) and also opponent batting average (.211) and Dusek broke a Big 12 freshman record with a 1.94 ERA which ranked fourth in the league among all pitchers. Dusek's successful season earned him Freshman All-America honors by Collegiate Baseball Magazine, making him the first left-handed pitcher in school history to receive the recognition. Two of Hayward's freshmen pitchers have recorded three saves during their debut collegiate season in back-to-back years as Johnathon Tripp (2013) and Ryan Moseley (2014) are tied for the Tech freshman record for saves in a season.

Hayward mentored three pitchers that were drafted or signed free agent contracts in 2014 -- none of them had previously been drafted. Sadberry was drafted in the sixth round by the Miami Marlins, Moreno was selected in the 33rd round by the St. Louis Cardinals and Drozd signed a free agent contract with the New York Yankees.

A former big league pitcher, scouting supervisor and one of the most respected pitching coaches in the country, Hayward came to the South Plains after spending eight years (2005-2012) at the professional ranks as the Midwest scouting supervisor for the Miami Marlins. During his first season back at the collegiate level, Hayward inherited one of the youngest pitching staff's in the country in 2013. Tech's pitching staff returned just three of 15 pitchers from the previous season that accounted for 20 percent of the team's innings pitched. In fact, Hayward's first pitching staff at Tech in 2013 included seven true freshmen and 10 total newcomers. Hayward's influence was felt immediately as all three returning Red Raider pitchers -- Masek, left-handed pitcher Andre Wheeler and right-handed pitcher Jerad McCrummen -- were drafted following the 2013 season. Masek, who hadn't previously been drafted, was taken in the fifth round by the Chicago Cubs while Wheeler, who was drafted out of high school in 2010 as an outfielder, went in the 15th round to the Chicago White Sox.

McCrummen, who set a school record with 70 appearances by a three-year pitcher, was drafted for the first time with a 23rd round selection by the Colorado Rockies. Masek went 5-2 in 11 starts with a 1.82 ERA to rank fourth in the Big 12 Conference. He posted three complete games pitching 79.0 innings with 69 strikeouts and 22 walks allowed. Opponents tallied only 56 hits and a .206 batting average this season. Masek is one of five Tech pitchers since 1991 to lead the Red Raiders in wins, ERA, complete games, innings pitched and strikeouts in the same season. In addition, his 1.82 ERA is the lowest by a Red Raider starting pitcher during the aluminum bat era (since 1974). Masek was an All-Big 12 honorable mention pick and became just the second Red Raider to be named to the Golden Spikes Award list during the last 14 years. He was also named to the National Pitcher of the Year Award Watch List and was a semifinalist for the Gregg Olson Breakout Player of the Year Award (Nation's Top Breakout Player). The Red Raiders won their Big 12 Conference series opener in 2013 taking two of three games over Texas in Austin. It marked the first time Tech had won a series over the Longhorns in Austin since 2001 and was Tech's first series win over Texas since 2002.

During his time as the Midwest scouting supervisor, the Marlins selected 32 players in the top-10 rounds of the MLB Draft from Hayward's area, including 21 pitchers and 11 position players.

While with the Marlins organization, Hayward supervised scouting in a 19-state area that includes, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Alabama, Michigan, Indiana, Mississippi, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota and the west portion of Kentucky and Tennessee. Hayward's scouting area produced four Marlins first-round picks while the organization selected seven players from within Hayward's area during the top-10 rounds in the 2012 MLB Draft. Hayward spent five seasons in the Big 12 Conference as the pitching coach at his alma mater, Oklahoma, from 2000-2004. Prior to beginning his coaching career, Hayward pitched three seasons in the big leagues with the San Diego Padres (1986-87) and the Texas Rangers (1988). He finished his playing career in the Rangers organization in 1991 before spending six years as an area scout with the Detroit Tigers (1994-99).

He returned to Norman as the Sooners pitching coach and recruiting coordinator in 2000, where he helped guide Oklahoma to three NCAA Tournament appearances in five seasons. Hayward's arrival brought an immediate impact to the Sooners pitching staff as his pitchers set a school record with 21 saves in 2000 -- a mark that remains today as the program's most saves in a season. In fact, during his first season as pitching coach, Hayward helped drop Oklahoma's team earned run average from 6.25 in 1999 to 4.74 in 2000. He also mentored two Oklahoma pitchers in 2000 that earned All-America recognition -- an impressive accomplishment when considering just one OU pitcher had received All-America status during the previous 15 years to Hayward's arrival as pitching coach. In fact, Hayward's first All-American pitcher at Oklahoma, Jeff Bajenaru, tallied an Oklahoma and Big 12 all-time record 20 saves during the 2000 season. Bajenaru went on to earn All-America accolades from six national publications -- including first team recognition from the ABCA and NCBWA. Overall, five of Hayward's pitchers at Oklahoma continue to hold school records while three of his hurlers collected six All-America/Freshman All-America awards. In addition, Hayward mentored 10 pitchers at Oklahoma that received All-Big 12 honors. Hayward developed 13 pitchers at Oklahoma into Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft selections, including five that were taken in the top-10 rounds.

His final season at Oklahoma in 2004, Hayward had six pitchers selected in the top-30 rounds, including left-handed pitcher David Purcey who went 16th overall in the first round to the Toronto Blue Jays. It marked just the second time in school history (1985) that six pitchers had been selected in the top-30 rounds of the MLB Draft.

Hayward first made his name known on the Oklahoma campus while being arguably the greatest all-around baseball player in Oklahoma history. He completed his four-year career at OU as the 10th overall pick of the 1983 MLB Draft by the San Diego Padres -- becoming the second highest drafted left-handed pitcher in school history (1976 -- LHP Bob Shirley, 8th overall -- San Diego Padres). He not only won 26 career games on the mound (ranks 4th all-time at OU), but he also recorded a .381 career batting average (ranked tied for 6th all-time at OU) while twice leading the team in batting as both a freshman and senior. Overall, Hayward remains in eight Oklahoma all-time record books while his 293 career strikeouts rank fourth and his 30 career complete games are a school record. In addition, Hayward's 30 career home runs remain in the OU record books tied for 10th all-time. Hayward was a two-time All-American, earning third team honors as a pitcher/first baseman in 1981 and receiving first team recognition in 1983 as a pitcher. In fact, Hayward was named All-Big Eight as a pitcher and position player in both 1981 and 1983. It marked the first time in league history that a player was named all-conference at two positions in the same year. Hayward's first time hearing his name called in the MLB Draft came in 1982 -- following his junior season at Oklahoma -- when the Pittsburgh Pirates selected him in the 12th round with the 295th overall pick. He completed his prep career at Enid (Okla.) High School where he was a standout Oklahoma All-State selection.

Hayward and his wife, the former Jeannie Benoit of Las Vegas, Nevada, have three children: Jaynie, David and Braden. Hayward was born in Enid, Okla., on April 27, 1961.

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS JOE HUGHES

7th Season at Texas Tech

Oklahoma, '08 & '10

Joe Hughes enters his eighth season as the director of baseball operations at Texas Tech in 2020. Hughes was named director of operations with the Red Raiders on July 17, 2012.

Hughes is responsible for the baseball program's day-to-day operations and oversees every Tech baseball student-athletes' needs. He manages team travel, scheduling and the program's team budget. Hughes also oversees facility needs for the home of Red Raider baseball, Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park.

In addition, Hughes serves as fall, winter and summer camp director for Red Raider baseball and works as the baseball team liaison with every area and department throughout the Texas Tech athletics department.

Hughes has played a key role for a program that returned to the College World Series for the fourth time in six years in 2019. The Red Raiders claimed their third Big 12 title in four years behind a 46-20 overall record and 16-8 league mark. Tech earned a No. 8 national seed to become the only school in the country to host an NCAA Regional four straight years. Tech posted a No. 4 final ranking to match its best finish in school history, earned nine All-America accolades, tallied three Freshman All-America awards, 11 All-Big 12 honors and had seven players drafted in the 2019 Major League Baseball Draft.

The Red Raiders returned to Omaha for the third time in the last five years in 2018, as Tech finished 45-20 overall and 15-9 in Big 12 play, earning its third straight NCAA National Seed ranking at No. 9. The Red Raiders closed 2018 ranked as high as No. 5 in the nation and had a school-record 11 players selected in the 2018 MLB Draft.

In 2017, Tech captured its second-straight Big 12 championship and No. 5 National Seed for the NCAA Tournament after putting together a 45-17 overall record and 16-8 clip in conference play. The Red Raiders earned another top-10 finish in the polls while wrapping the year with 13-straight sellout crowds at Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park.

Two years after recording their best season in program history, the Red Raiders topped it with their second trip to the College World Series in three years. Hughes and the Red Raiders put together their second 45+ win season in three years at 47-20, the third-most wins in school history. Tech tallied its first Big 12 Championship in the Tadlock era behind a 19-5 conference record, which ranks second among Big 12 victories in school history.

In front of the largest crowds in Dan Law Field at Rip Griffin Park history, Tech claimed the Lubbock Regional and Lubbock Super Regional titles and punched its ticket to the College World Series. In Omaha, the Red Raiders earned their first-ever CWS win in school history after a thrilling 3-2 victory over No. 1 Florida. Tech ended the season at No. 4 in the final poll, marking the highest finish in program history.

In just year two of the Tim Tadlock head coaching era, the Red Raiders put together the best season in program history while winning Tech's first NCAA Regional (Coral Gables), capturing the NCAA Lubbock Super Regional and advancing to the first College World Series in school history.

Tech's turnaround (26 wins in 2013 -- 45 wins in 2014) is the biggest turnaround season in school history and the second biggest turnaround in Big 12 history.

Hughes and the Red Raiders posted a 45-21 overall record in 2014 while finishing 14-10 in the Big 12, marking the program's sixth 40-win regular season and collecting the most conference wins by the Red Raiders in a decade.

The Red Raiders followed with a 31-24 campaign in 2015, marking the first time the Red Raiders had compiled consecutive 30-win seasons since doing so over a 14-year stretch from 1993-2006. The 76 combined victories over the past two seasons were the most over a two-year stretch since Texas Tech totaled 85 wins from 2001-02, but was passed with a combined 78 in 2015-16.

The 2014 season was highlighted by numerous team and individual accomplishments, including breaking several all-time records, a number of individual accolades and countless on-field performances.

Tadlock was named the ABCA Midwest Region Coach of the Year and also the College Baseball Hall of Fame Skip Bertman National Coach of the Year, outfielder Tyler Neslony became the first Red Raider in school history to lead the Big 12 in batting, left-handed pitcher Chris Sadberry was a sixth-round draft pick by the Marlins, designated hitter Adam Kirsch was named the Big 12 Newcomer of the Year, left-handed pitcher Dylan Dusek broke the school record for NCAA Tournament wins in a season, Big 12 freshman ERA (1.94) and was one of two Red Raiders (Stephen Smith) to earn Freshman All-America.

That was just the start of what the Red Raiders accomplished in 2014.

Tech had a pair of sellouts hosting the NCAA Lubbock Super Regional where they recorded back-to-back 1-0 shutouts (first time in NCAA Super Regional history) over No. 16 College of Charleston. The over capacity crowd of 4,811 that attended both games of the Super Regional, set a new stadium record (since 2012 renovation) for single-game attendance and also two-game series attendance at Rip Griffin Park. In addition, Tech fans purchased the tickets available for the Super Regional in less than 40 minutes from when tickets went on sale soon after Tech won the NCAA Coral Gables Regional.

The Red Raiders followed with a 31-24 campaign in 2015, marking the first time the Red Raiders had compiled consecutive 30-win seasons since doing so over a 14-year stretch from 1993-2006. The 76 combined victories over the past two seasons are also the most over a two-year stretch since Texas Tech totaled 85 wins from 2001-02.

Hughes, who also handles on-campus recruiting duties, has been instrumental with Tech's rise in recruiting on the national level as the Red Raiders have tallied back-to-back nationally-ranked recruiting classes. In 2013, Tadlock's first season as head coach, the Red Raiders earned a No. 24 ranking by Perfect Game and a No. 27 ranked class of 2013 recruits by Collegiate Baseball.

Tech's second season with Tadlock as head coach and Hughes as director of operations, Tech received a No. 13 national ranking for its 2014 recruiting class by Collegiate Baseball and a No. 23 ranking by Baseball America, which marked the first

Baseball America recruiting class ranking for the program.

Tech assembled the No. 14 recruiting class in the country and top one in the Big 12 according to Perfect Game in 2015. The class was boosted by three of the top 31 high school players in the country.

Texas Tech won its first NCAA Regional (Coral Gables) during Hughes' second year on the Red Raider staff in 2014 while also winning the NCAA Lubbock Super Regional and advancing to the College World Series in school history.

A former college baseball player at Oklahoma (2006-07), Hughes joined the Red Raiders coaching staff after a year as assistant director of event management at Oklahoma (2011-2012).

Hughes worked with all 21 intercollegiate athletics programs at OU in event management. Hughes spent significant time working with athletics administration, individual coaching staffs, sport administrators, athletics communications, ticket sales, athletic trainers, marketing and officials to list a few.

Hughes served as a student assistant coach with the Oklahoma baseball program in the fall of 2007 and following his post-graduate studies became a graduate assistant in the OU athletics department in January 2011.

In addition, Hughes worked Oklahoma baseball camps along with private lessons while coaching high school and youth baseball teams during his time in Norman.

Hughes' relationship with Texas Tech head coach Tim Tadlock dates back to the beginning of his collegiate playing career at Grayson County College (2004-05) when Tadlock served as the head coach of the junior-college program in Denison, Texas.

Following his junior-college career, Hughes turned down numerous NCAA Division I scholarship offers to reunite with Tadlock at Oklahoma where he was a two-year starter for the Sooners while helping lead the Sooners to the 2006 Norman Regional championship and to an NCAA Super Regional appearance. In fact, Hughes was a key member of the Sooners offense that led the Big 12 in hitting (.323) in 2006.

Following his senior season, Hughes signed a free agent contract with the Kansas City Royals where he made 16 appearances during the 2007 season with Idaho Falls in the Pioneer League. Hughes' playing career came to an end following 2008 spring training due to an arm injury.

Hughes played the outfield and pitched for the Sooners. He received several honors during his Oklahoma career, including All-Big 12 honorable mention, Academic All-Big 12 1st team and Big 12 All-Tournament Team as a senior, and he was named Big 12 Player of the Week during the second week of the season in 2006.

He was a .348 (73-for-210) career hitter at Oklahoma while playing in 86 games (62 starts) with 43 runs, seven doubles, two triples, two home runs and 42 RBI with a .990 fielding percentage.

Hughes' senior season he batted .333 (43-for-129) with 22 RBI and won six games on the mound (6-3) with a 5.32 ERA in 16 appearances (12 starts) with 66.0 innings, 48 strikeouts and 25 walks allowed while picking off three runners.

Hughes batted .375 during his freshman season at Grayson County in 2004 where he helped lead the Vikings to the NJCAA World Series in Grand Junction, Colo., following a Region V Tournament title. Hughes helped guide Grayson County to a conference championship in 2005 with a 41-10 overall record while batting .367 with 20 RBI and 13 stolen bases while pitching 35.1 innings with a 3-1 record and 3.57 ERA with 34 strikeouts.

Hughes graduated from Oklahoma in 2008 with a degree in human relations. He earned his master's degree in 2010 with a degree in adult and higher education with an emphasis in intercollegiate athletics administration.

Hughes is originally from Plano, Texas, where he played high school baseball at Plano East Senior High School. Hughes was born in Oceanside, Calif., on October 4, 1984. He is married to his wife, Amy, and they have two daughters.

Texas Tech has been to the College World Series four times during Hughes's tenure as the program's director of operations. The Red Raiders won their first-ever NCAA Regional and also won the NCAA Lubbock Super Regional on their way to the school's first appearance at the NCAA College World Series in 2014, returned two years later in 2016 after claiming the conference title, made the trip in 2018 after its third-straight 45-plus win season and returned in 2019 to make its deepest run yet, finishing among the last four teams remaining.

TIM TADLOCK HONORS

TIM TADLOCK NAMED NATIONAL COACH OF THE YEAR

Texas Tech's 45 wins are the fourth most wins in a season in school history

June 13, 2014

OMAHA, Neb. - Texas Tech second-year head baseball coach Tim Tadlock has been named the 2014 National College Baseball Hall of Fame Skip Bertman National Coach of the Year, the organization announced Friday morning.

Tadlock led his alma mater to the College Baseball World Series for the first time in school history while the Red Raiders have posted a 45-19 overall record this season.

The award is given annually to the top collegiate baseball coach from any level, including NCAA D-I, II, III, NAIA or Junior College. Tadlock will be honored at the Hall of Fame's annual Night of Champions celebration on Saturday, June 28 in Lubbock.

The Red Raiders memorable season includes winning the program's first-ever NCAA Regional Tournament and NCAA Super Regional while recording the biggest turnaround in school history with 19 more wins than in the previous season (26-30 record).

Tech knocked off No. 3 Miami (Fla.) at the Coral Gables Regional before sweeping No. 16 College of Charleston at the Lubbock Super Regional last weekend with a pair of 1-0 victories. It marked just the second time in NCAA Super Regionals history that a team had shutout an opponent during the best-two-of-three series.

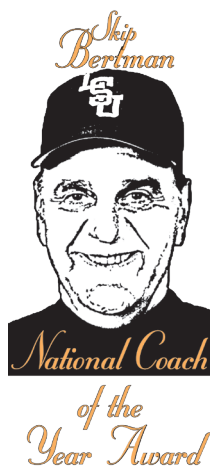

Tech's 45 wins are its most since the 1997 season while 17 wins this season have been in come-from-behind fashion. The Red Raiders currently lead the Big 12 in batting (.287), slugging percentage (.409), hits (612), doubles (123), triples (24) and fielding percentage (.981).

The Red Raiders broke a school record with nine shutouts this season - four of which have come in the NCAA Tournament. Tech's pitchers bring a 3.17 ERA into the CWS - which marks the program's lowest ERA during the aluminum bat era (since 1974).

Tech matched a school record and ranked second in the nation with 33 home wins. Tadlock and the Red Raiders won 16 straight games to end the season, which was the longest active home winning streak in the country.

It marks Tadlock's third career National Coach of the Year honor after winning back-to-back National Junior College Athletic Association championships while at Grayson County College in 1999-2000.

The award, sponsored by Easton-Bell Sports, is named for Bertman, who coached at LSU from 1984-2001. During his tenure, he won five national championships and was named National Coach of the Year six times. He coached 31 players who went on to play Major League Baseball and was inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame as part of the inaugural class in 2006. Since that time, three of his players have joined him in the Hall of Fame.

Tim Tadlock - in just his second season as head coach - guided the Red Raiders to their best season in school history leading Tech to an NCAA Regional and Super Regional championship while making the program's first appearance at the College World Series.

TEXAS TECH HALL OF FAME

The Texas Tech Hall of Fame was established in 1961 to recognize a select group of people who have had a special impact on Texas Tech Athletics. Induction into the hall is not limited to past athletes or administrators, although many Red Raider stars are among the members. The Hall of Honor is designed so that any person who has made a significant contribution to Red Raider athletics is eligible for consideration. Since the Hall of Honor's initial ceremony, 18 former baseball players and coaches have been inducted.

HALL OF FAME

TEXAS BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

On November 15, 2001, former Texas Tech Head Baseball Coach Larry Hays was inducted into the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame. Hays became the first individual with Texas Tech ties to be enshrined in the hall. The Texas Baseball Hall of Fame operates under the structure of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in Waco, Texas, and is sponsored by the Ex-Professional Players Association of Texas, the Texas Rangers and the Society for American Baseball Research.

TECH'S HAYS EARNS HALL OF FAME HONOR

by George Watson, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

When you ask Texas Tech baseball coach Larry Hays about what it means to have coached in so many games, won a majority of those, earned numerous titles and championships and been a part of building a program, you will likely get one response.

"It says I'm old," Hays said.

Now, however, it also says he's in the Hall of Fame.

Not the one in Cooperstown, N.Y., but rather the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame based within the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in Waco. That's where the longtime coach of the Red Raiders will be enshrined come Nov. 15. And his response upon learning his induction was humble yet honoring.

"It's an honor because it says a lot for all the players that have played for me in the past, what they've done," Hays said. "Also guys like (assistant coaches) Greg Evans, Daren Hays and Ryan Brewer, those coaches, for me it's a credit to them for what they've done. It's only because of a lot of great players and coaches that I'm getting this honor. That's the only way to justify it in my mind."

Yet, Hays' record speaks for itself. Going into the 2002 season he has compiled a career record of 1,278-686-3, which includes 15 seasons at Tech and another 16 years at Lubbock Christian University. He ranks fourth on the list of active winningest baseball coaches and eighth all-time.

Some time in the coming season he will reach two more milestones — his 1,300th career victory and 2,000th career game as a coach.

Hays will be just the fourth collegiate coach ever to be inducted into the Hall, joining former Texas A&M great Tom Chandler, legendary Texas coach Cliff Gustafson and Al Ogletree from UT-Pan American.

Also included in the 2001 class of inductees will be former Texas Rangers first baseman Will Clark, Cy Young award-winner Doug Drabek, former umpire Durwood Merrill, current Texas Rangers outfielder Ruben Sierra, ex-Texas League standout Jack Lindsay and Curtis Walker, a member of the Cincinnati Reds during the 1920s.

"How in the world a guy who never got a hit, never threw a pitch and all the things these other guys did, these great players that have earned this spot, how a guy like me can be included in this group is something else," Hays said.

Lubbock businessman Rip Griffin, a longtime friend and supporter of Tech and LCU athletics, will introduce Hays at the banquet, to be held in Fort Worth.

Hays, a native of Dora, N.M., began his career at Lubbock Christian in 1971 and eventually guided the Chaparrals to the 1983 NAIA College World Series title. Four years later, he took over at Tech, turning a 21-28 team his first year into a program which perennially competes for Big 12 Conference and national championships.

He has guided the Red Raiders to the NCAA postseason in each of the past seven seasons, along the way winning the 1995 Southwest Conference championship, the inaugural Big 12 regular-season title in 1997 and the conference tournament title the following year. Last year may have been one his best, taking an almost entirely new team and molding them into a squad which finished second in the Big 12 and was within one victory of advancing to the NCAA super-regional round.

"Being a part of a team and winning games is always a highlight," Hays said. "But you also take away from those games what's really important and that's what your players do, and all that. I'm definitely humbled and honored."

The Texas Baseball Hall of Fame was founded in 1978 by George Schepps, former owner of the Dallas Rebels of the Texas League from 1938 to 1948. Inductees are now elected by the Ex-Professional Players Association of Texas, the Texas Rangers and the Society for American Baseball Research.

RETIRED JERSEYS

LARRY HAYS (1987-2008)
Head Coach • Dora, N.M.
Jersey Retired: March 23, 2009

27

On Monday, June 2, 2008, Larry Hays stepped down as head coach after spending 22 seasons as the skipper of the Red Raiders. Over the span of 22 seasons, Larry Hays cultivated a program that saw numerous championships, players go on to careers in Major League Baseball, the expansion of Dan Law Field and record attendance. His most important product, however, came in the quality young men he coached, mentored and developed into business, civic, church and family leaders.

"Larry (Hays) has accomplished a lot of great things in baseball here at Texas Tech," said Director of Athletics Gerald Myers. "He has led us to all four of our conference titles and all nine of our NCAA Tournament appearances. Larry is one of the all-time winningest coaches in the game and the winningest in our school history. We appreciate the time and effort over the years that he has given to our baseball program. Texas Tech is considered to be a strong and viable program in the Big 12 Conference thanks to his leadership. He has been a strong ambassador for Texas Tech University and this community for many years and we look forward to him staying on our staff where he will assist in development and the renovation and upgrading of Dan Law Field."

His retirement from coaching signaled the end to one of the most storied coaching careers in both school and NCAA history as he just completed his 22nd season as the skipper of the Red Raiders and his 38th as a collegiate head coach. The 22 seasons he spent as the head coach at Texas Tech ranks second behind Marsha Sharp who led the Lady Raiders for 24 years. Hays and Sharp were part of an unprecedented Southwest Conference season back in 1995-96 in which all four major sports took home conference titles (football, men's and women's basketball and baseball). He currently ranks fourth on the NCAA all-time wins list and his 38 years of head coaching experience ranks third on the active coaches list behind Texas' Augie Garrido and Bradley's Dewey Kalmer.

On April 2, 2008, his name was forever documented in the history books as he became just the fourth coach in NCAA history to reach the 1,500-win plateau. The historic win was witnessed by a home crowd at Dan Law Field as the Red Raiders defeated Texas A&M-Corpus Christi 10-5. He joined Texas' Augie Garrido, Wichita State's Gene Stephenson and Florida State's Mike Martin as the only coaches in NCAA Division I to accomplish that feat.

Success has been the norm for Hays during his tenure with the Red Raiders, as he led the school to its only two regular-season conference championships (Southwest Conference in 1995 and Big 12 in 1997) and two tournament championships (Southwest Conference in 1996 and Big 12 in 1998). Under his guidance, he led Tech to nine consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, including the first back in 1995 when the Red Raiders were sent to the Midwest Regional in Wichita, Kan. Of those nine NCAA appearances, three were held at Dan Law Field as Tech hosted NCAA Regionals in 1996, 1997 and 1999.

That success did not come easy for Hays as he inherited a program with an overall losing record (550-576) in 1987 and turned it into a winner just two seasons later. Over his career at Tech, he would only endure two losing seasons and the program now boasts an overall mark of 1,365-1,054-9.

During his time as skipper, he coached 36 All-Southwest Conference performers, 18 First Team All-Big 12 recipients, 14 consensus All-Americans and six USA Baseball National Team selections. His players also have gone on to great success in professional baseball as to date 84 of his former players have been drafted by Major League Baseball and 17 have gone on to play at the Major League level.

Hays also is highly regarded by his coaching peers. He has been honored as "Coach of the Year" following nine different seasons in his entire career including the 1997 season when he was named the Big 12 Coach of the Year by the coaches, the Dallas Morning News and the Austin American Statesman.

On Nov. 15, 2001, he became the first collegiate baseball coach in the state to be inducted into the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame and was enshrined with fellow inductees Will Clark, Doug Drabek, former umpire Durwood Merrill, Ruben Sierra, Jack Lindsay and Curtis Walker. He also has been inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame.

Prior to becoming the head coach at Texas Tech in 1987, he spent 16 years as the head coach at Lubbock Christian University where he is the all-time wins leader with 695 and led the Chaps to the 1983 NAIA National Championship.

He and his wife Nell are the proud parents of five children and 11 grandchildren.

KAL SEGRIST (1968-1983)
Head Coach • Dallas, Texas
Jersey Retired: May 1, 2010

24

On Saturday, May 1, 2010, Kal Segrist had his #24 jersey retired, making him just the fourth individual and second Texas Tech head coach to have their number retired in Texas Tech baseball history. Segrist is the second longest tenured head coach in Tech history, as he served 16 seasons guiding the Red Raiders to a 317-324-2 overall record from 1968-1983 - which at that time marked a school record for wins. His 317 victories are second in Texas Tech baseball history.

During his career at Tech, Segrist led the Red Raiders to nine 20-plus win seasons, including seven during an eight-year span (1975-82). Twice Segrist and Tech finished third in the Southwest Conference, and in 1980 he guided his squad to a 28-23-1 overall record and to a 14-10 record in league play. His 14 conference wins were the most by a Tech team during the first 31 years of baseball.

He paced Tech to a 32-win season in 1976. That season saw the Red Raiders enjoy a season-long eight-game win streak while sweeping conference series against SMU and Baylor while also taking two out of three games against Rice.

Regarded as one of the top offensive coaches in the country, Segrist was recognized as the SWC Coach of the Year on three occasions (1969, 1980, 1982).

Segrist was the person responsible for spearheading the idea of having the Southwest Conference Postseason Tournament. Segrist then led the Red Raiders to the SWC Tournament - the first post-season appearance by any Tech baseball team - while winning 11 of 12 games in 1980 to qualify for the tournament.

Segrist experienced a brilliant baseball career at Adamson High School in Dallas before starring for the Texas Longhorns. While helping the Longhorns to the national championship, Segrist was named to the all-tournament team after leading the tourney in home runs. He was named to the All-SWC team after leading the league with a .442 average. After the national title run, Segrist signed a professional contract with the New York Yankees in 1951. He made his major league debut with the Yankees on July 16, 1952. He also played part of one season with the Baltimore Orioles in 1955 before ending his pro career when he announced his retirement in 1961.

Segrist then returned to college and received his bachelor's degree from North Texas State in 1962 and became an assistant to Berl Huffman at Tech in 1965.

Segrist and his wife, Becky, have four children, Kris, Scott, Sunny Beth and Sandy.

NO-HITTERS

Texas Tech at McMurray - April 19, 1926 (Abilene, Texas)

Result: Texas Tech 3, McMurray 0

Pitcher Involved: Volney Hill

Volney "Snatch" Hill not only threw the first no-hitter in school history, but also drove in two of the three runs the Red Raiders scored. Hill, who threw four complete games in five starts, had hurled an 11-inning game against Daniel Baker that was halted by darkness (3-3) in his first outing as a Raider.

Volney Hill

Eastern New Mexico at Texas Tech - April 2, 1962 (Lubbock, Texas)

Result: Texas Tech 2, Eastern New Mexico 0

Pitcher Involved: Ramey Brandon

Ramey Brandon was in hot water much of the game due to seven walks and two wild pitches. One batter reached third base and three others made second. In the third, Gordon Hill walked, was sacrificed to second and took third on a wild pitch. On a potential wild pitch, catcher Doug Cannon threw Hill out at the plate with Brandon covering. In the fourth, Brandon walked two but one was caught stealing and the other was caught trying to go from first to third on an error by second baseman Ronnie Ayers. Eastern New Mexico went down in order in the second, fifth and sixth innings. In the seventh, the first two batters walked but Brandon fanned the third batter. The final batter bounced into 4-6-3 double play to end the game.

Ramey Brandon

West Texas State at Texas Tech - April 27, 1966 (Lubbock, Texas)

Result: Texas Tech 17, West Texas State 0 (5 inn.)

Pitcher(s) Involved: Dave Callerman & Pat Abbott

Lee Watt's three-run homer highlighted a 14-run first inning in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The game was never in doubt as the Red Raiders managed 17 runs on 17 hits. Dave "The Cisco Kid" Callerman pitched four innings and Pat Abbott retired the side in order in the fifth inning, when the game was called by the "mercy" rule.

Pat Abbott

Texas Tech at Baylor - April 23, 1971 (Waco, Texas)

Result: Texas Tech 1, Baylor 0

Pitcher Involved: Ruben Garcia

Ruben Garcia, who had flirted with no-hitters twice earlier in the year, needed eight innings to post his school-record-setting seventh win of the season. The Brownfield southpaw allowed only four base runners: one on an error in the first and a hit batter in the second. After that he retired 19 straight batters before walking a pair of pinch-hitters in the eighth. Garcia, who collected his second hit of the year, recorded his fifth shutout, seventh complete game, notched his 105th strikeout and lowered his ERA to 0.55, all Tech records at the time.

Ruben Garcia

College of the Southwest at Texas Tech - March 20, 1990 (Lubbock, Texas)

Result: Texas Tech 11, College of the Southwest 0

Pitcher(s) Involved: Jeff Beck, Kevin Kirk, Brian Boesinger and Kurt Shipley

Four Red Raiders split the honors. Jeff Beck pitched three perfect innings. In the first, all three batters bounced back to the mound. In the second, the Mustangs went down F-9, 3-1 and L-4. In the third it was F-9, F-8 and P-3. Kevin Kirk worked the fourth and fifth, walking one and hitting a batter with two down in the fourth. Brian Boesiger got two strikeouts and a fly to left in the sixth and Kurt Shipley got a pop to left, a 4-3 grounder and then ended the game with a strikeout. Tech pitchers faced only 23 batters and just one runner advanced to second.

GUTIERREZ BREAKS DERBY RECORD WITH 52 HOME RUNS

Gutierrez finishes runner-up while breaking all-time record with 52 home runs in memorable derby

July 3, 2014

OMAHA, Neb. - Texas Tech sophomore first baseman Eric Gutierrez hit 52 home runs breaking the College Home Run Derby record while finishing runner-up at the event Thursday night at TD Ameritrade Park in Omaha in front of 22,352 fans in attendance and a national television audience on ESPN.

Gutierrez was defeated in the championship by Texas freshman catcher - and Sharyland High School teammate - Tres Barrera who hit 25 home runs in the finals while Gutierrez hit 18 homers in the championship round.

Gutierrez' 52 home runs in the derby destroyed the previous record of 20 by Rice's Michael Aquino last year.

Gutierrez hit 15 home runs in the opening round - four more than Barrera - and blasted 19 homers in round two which gave him 34 homers entering the championship round. Barrera tallied 16 homers heading into the finals. Ohio State's Zach Ratcliff posted nine homers and Richmond's Matt Dacey finished with 14 homers after the semifinals.

"It was a crazy night," Gutierrez said following the event. "Having the opportunity to come back to Omaha, especially with my Dad throwing to me, was just incredible. It was also a special experience to be there in the finals with Tres (Barrera) - being able to represent the Big 12 Conference and Sharyland High School with him was great. It felt like old times back in high school when we would take batting practice together. Overall, it was just an amazing night."

Gutierrez, who led the Big 12 in home runs (12), RBI (58) and total bases (132) this season, brought his father, Rigo, along to pitch to him.

Other competitors included Aquino (4 home runs), Oklahoma's Hunter Haley (1), Arizona's Bobby Dalbec (3) and Ole Miss' Sikes Orvis (4).

HOME RUN DERBY NOTES:

- Gutierrez hit all of his 52 home runs to either left field, left-center field or down the left-field line.
- Gutierrez hit 29 home runs that traveled at least 400 feet... nine of his 18 home runs in the final round went at least 400 feet while his last five homers hit all went at least 410 feet.
- Gutierrez' furthest home run hit went 446 feet and landed on the concourse over the LF wall for his 25th overall homer and his 10th home run during the semifinal round.
- Gutierrez' 50th home run went 411 feet into the seats behind the left-field fence with nine outs in the championship round.
- Gutierrez hit 18 home runs to left field, 16 to left-center field and two down the left-field line.

Eric Gutierrez became the first Red Raider in school history to participate in the College Home Run Derby. He broke the all-time record for home runs in any home run derby - College or MLB - shown on ESPN with 52 homers.

Gutierrez was joined by his father, Rigo, who threw to him during the competition. Gutierrez hit 52 total homers - 29 of those traveled at least 400 feet.

GUTIERREZ FINISHES 4TH AT COLLEGE HOME RUN DERBY

Gutierrez connected on 17 home runs during the 2015 College HR Derby

July 2, 2015

OMAHA, Neb. - Texas Tech junior first baseman Eric Gutierrez put on another solid performance at the College Home Run Derby held in Omaha on Thursday night as he cleared the TD Ameritrade Park fence 17 times en route to finishing fourth overall.

Gutierrez, hitting in front of a nationally-televised audience on ESPN as well as the 20,087 in attendance, crushed nine home runs in the opening round before adding eight more a short time later. The 2014 runner-up was the final participant to hit in the first round.

His 17 combined home runs finished seven shy of advancing to the finals as Wake Forest standout Will Craig led the eight-player field with 25 long balls, one more than the total of North Dakota's Jeff Campton. Georgia Tech's Kel Johnson narrowly missed advancing to the finals after recording 23 combined home runs.

Campton went on to win the derby title after defeating Craig in the final round with 10 home runs. Craig, who was tied with Gutierrez following the opening round, totaled five home runs in his final plate appearance.

Gutierrez was the only participant making a return trip the College Home Run Derby as he set an event record with 52 home runs in 2014. That record still stands after Campton led all players with 34 home runs over the three rounds.

Gutierrez, a native of Mission, Texas, also held the individual records for total home runs after both the first and second rounds. His first-round mark fell early in the night as Campton totaled 20 long balls in the opening round alone.

The eight participants shattered the College Home Run Derby record with 79 home runs in the first round. The group fell just one home run shy of matching the three-round record set just a year ago.
