IN MEMORANDUM: TOMMY MCVAY

Texas Tech Athletics suffered a deep loss prior to the 2020 season with the passing of longtime Director of Football Operations Tommy McVay. The Red Raiders will wear a helmet sticker in all 12 games this year to honor the late McVay, who passed suddenly on Aug. 13 at the age of 76.

McVay was always a familiar face on the Red Raider sidelines where he spent 23 full seasons under five different head coaches. He was among the first hires for head coach Matt Wells shortly after he touched down in Lubbock for the first time. McVay was responsible for Texas Tech landing future Red Raider standout and NFL great Wes Welker during his career as he convinced then head coach Mike Leach to use the program's last scholarship on the relatively-unknown recruit out of McVay's native Oklahoma. McVay was a standout basketball and track and field athlete at Southeastern Oklahoma State where he was inducted into its Hall of Fame in 2009. He was honored for his work locally in 2017 when the Texas Tech chapter of the National Football Foundation presented him the award for outstanding contribution to amateur football at its annual banquet.

TALE OF THE TAPE

SATURDAY STORYLINES

RED RAIDERS KICK OFF NEW-LOOK 2020

- After months of waiting, Texas Tech will kick off its 96th season of football Saturday when the Red Raiders host Houston Baptist inside Jones AT&T Stadium. It will be Texas Tech's lone non-conference game as part of the Big 12 Conference's "9+1" scheduling model for this season.
- Texas Tech and Houston Baptist will be meeting for the first time in history as the Red Raiders will be looking to open yet another season with a win. The Red Raiders have started 16 of the last 17 seasons with a victory and have been dominant over FCS foes with a 23-1 record all-time. Tech is averaging 52.6 points per game against the FCS.

BOWMAN BACK TO LEAD OFFENSE

- Alan Bowman will look to return to form Saturday as the sophomore quarterback will be making his first start since suffering a shoulder injury against Arizona last year. Bowman missed the following nine games en route to redshirting the 2019 season.
- Bowman will be making his 11th career start on Saturday as the sophomore has thrown for 3,658 yards and 23 touchdowns over his still young career while also completing 68.2 percent of his passes. Bowman will have several reliable options around him as Texas Tech returns its leading rusher in SaRodrick Thompson as well as its leading receiver in Erik Ezukanma.

PLENTY OF NEW FACES TO LEARN

- Red Raider fans will have several new faces to learn as Matt Wells and his staff have signed six new graduate transfers in recent months, including two with national championship experience in junior running back Chadarius Townsend (Alabama) and senior defensive back Eric Monroe (LSU).
- The list of graduate transfers features former Arizona linebacker Colin Schooler, who is the FBS active leader in tackles for a loss entering this season. Schooler also ranks second among active FBS players with 312 career tackles over his first three years at Arizona where he was a three-time All-Pac 12 selection and a Freshman All-American in 2017.

SERIES HISTORY

- This will be the first meeting all-time between Texas Tech and Houston Baptist.
- The Red Raiders are 18-3 all-time against current members of the Southland Conference with their last win coming in a 77-0 rout over Lamar in 2018.

TEXAS TECH-HBU CONNECTIONS

- This weekend's opener has affectionately been referred to as the "Schovanec-Kittley Bowl" by several Red Raiders since it was scheduled this summer due to the ties on the Houston Baptist staff and Texas Tech University. The Huskies have two Red Raider alumni in offensive coordinator Zach Kittley and offensive line coach Jared Kaster on its staff along with special teams coordinator and running backs coach Tyler Schovanec, another former Texas Tech staff member.
- Kittley is the son of longtime Texas Tech Director of Track and Field Wes Kittley and was previously a graduate assistant for the Red Raiders from 2015-17 before being hired at Houston Baptist. Kittley, who was also an offensive intern for the Red Raiders in 2014 and a student assistant coach in 2013, graduated from Texas Tech in 2014.
- Kaster, meanwhile, was a three-year starter at center for the Red Raiders from 2012-15, earning honorable mention All-Big 12 accolades as a senior. Kaster, who started the final 37 games of his career, was a quality control assistant for the Red Raiders from 2016-17 following his playing career.
- Schovanec, another Lubbock native, was previously a special teams quality control and personnel assistant for the Red Raiders during the 2017 season. He is the son of Texas Tech President Lawrence Schovanec.

TEXAS TECH IN SEASON OPENERS

- Texas Tech is 65-27-3 all-time over its 95 season openers after opening 16 of the past 17 years with a victory. The lone loss during that stretch came two years ago when Ole Miss handed the Red Raiders a 47-27 loss in the AdvoCare Texas Kickoff Game in Houston. The Red Raiders rebounded to top Montana State, 45-10, a year ago.
- Prior to the loss to Ole Miss, the Red Raiders boasted the third-longest winning streak nationally for season openers, trailing only Ohio State and Alabama among FBS programs. Texas Tech's 15 game winning streak in season openers was its longest in program history.
- Matt Wells is 3-4 over his career in season openers with wins over Southern Utah in 2015 and Weber State in 2016 while the head coach at Utah State and then Montana State a year ago in his Texas Tech debut. All four losses came to power-five programs, including two preseason top-15 teams in No. 9 Wisconsin (2017) and No. 11 Michigan State (2018).

TEXAS TECH IN HOME OPENERS

- The Red Raiders have been dominant in home openers during their history as Texas Tech is 76-17-2 all-time after winning each of its last 20 openers inside Jones AT&T Stadium.

- Since 1980, Texas Tech is 36-4 in home openers with two of those losses coming to ranked opponents (1992 vs. No. 15 Oklahoma and 1990 vs. No. 18 Houston).
- Texas Tech has scored at least 40 points in each of its last eight home openers. The Red Raiders, who are averaging 49.9 points per game in home openers since 2000, have scored 50 or more points in nine of those games and 60 points four times.
- Texas Tech has won each of its last 20 home openers, the majority of which being in a blowout fashion. The Red Raiders have averaged 29.4 points as their margin of victory over the course of the winning streak.
- Texas Tech has not dropped a home opener since 1999 when North Texas shocked the Red Raiders, 23-14, in the third game of the season.

NON-CON SUCCESS FAMILIAR FOR TECH

- Texas Tech enters this weekend having won each of its last 11 non-conference games at home and 36 of its last 37 contests dating back to the 2002 season. The Red Raiders are an impressive 43-2 overall in non-conference home games since moving to a spread offense in 2000.
- Texas Tech's success against non-conference opponents from either the FCS level or a Group of Five conference is even more impressive as the Red Raiders have won each of their last 26 contests at home or on the road against non-power five members.
- In fact, Texas Tech has not dropped a non-conference game against a Group of Five opponent since falling at No. 17 Houston, 29-28, early in the 2009 season. In addition, Tech has not lost to an unranked, Group of Five opponent since New Mexico surprised the Red Raiders, 27-24, in 2004.

ON THIS DAY IN TEXAS TECH HISTORY

- Texas Tech is 7-1 all-time on Sept. 12 as the Red Raiders have won six-straight on the date, including a 69-20 rout over UTEP in 2015.

RED RAIDERS VERSUS THE FCS

- Since 1978 when the NCAA divided its Division I schools into two divisions, Texas Tech has compiled a 23-1 all-time record against FCS opponents. All of those games have been played at Jones AT&T Stadium.
- Texas Tech has won its last 17-consecutive games against FCS opponents dating back to the 1988 season. The NCAA renamed Division 1A and Division I-AA to FBS and FCS in 2006 to note the distinction in football programs.

A DIFFERENT TYPE OF SCHEDULE

- As many around college football know by now, the 2020 season will be, well, different. Instead of its normal 12-game regular season, Texas Tech has adopted a 10-game schedule as part of the Big 12 Conference's "9+1" model.
- Texas Tech hasn't opened a season this far back on the calendar since 1984 when the Red Raiders recorded a 44-7 victory over UT-Arlington. Tech was slated to open its season Sept. 5 at UTEP as part of its original 2020 schedule.
- Texas Tech's 10-game schedule marks its fewest regular-season contests since 1969 when the Red Raiders finished 5-5 overall under head coach JT King.
- Texas Tech will open Big 12 play against Texas, marking the fourth time in league history where the two in-state rivals have kicked off league action against each other. It will also mark the first time since 2010 the two schools have met outside the month of November.
- Texas Tech went from playing on the road on Halloween to hosting Oklahoma in the new schedule format. It will mark the first time since 2015 that the Red Raiders have played on Halloween and the first time that Tech has faced the Sooners on the date. Tech will be looking for its first win over Oklahoma since 2009.
- The Red Raiders' regular-season finale was pushed back a week for a Dec. 5 kick at home versus Kansas. It marks the first time Texas Tech has hosted a home game in the month of December since the Red Raiders clinched the 1976 Southwest Conference crown with a 24-21 victory over No. 18 Baylor on Dec. 4 of that year. Texas Tech has played two other regular-season games in December since then, facing Arkansas on the road in 1978 and then Oklahoma State in 1988 as part of a neutral-site contest in Japan dubbed the Coca-Cola Classic.
- Texas Tech will have open dates on Oct. 17 following its game at Iowa State and then again Nov. 21 after hosting Baylor. In both instances, Texas Tech will be playing an opponent the following week who did not share the same open date with the Red Raiders.

WHAT RETURNS FOR THE RED RAIDERS

- Texas Tech returns the bulk of its starters from a year ago, including its leading rusher in SaRodrick Thompson and leading receiver Erik Ezukanma. The Red Raiders boast six starters returning on the offensive side of the ball and eight more on defense. Texas Tech also brings back each of its three specialists as well.
- Below is a breakdown of the percentage the Red Raiders return in each statistical category:

BREAKDOWN OF WHAT RETURNS FOR THE RED RAIDERS

Category	Percentage
Rushing Yards	46.5%
Passing Yards	27.1%
Receiving Yards	69.0%
Scoring	83.6%
Total Offense	33.2%
All-Purpose Yards	61.1%

Pass Breakups	80.0%
Forced Fumbles	83.3%
Fumble Recoveries	40.0%
Punt Return Yards	100%
Kickoff Return Yards	55.6%
Field Goals	100%
Punting Yards	100%

GETTING OLDER...

- One of the goals for Matt Wells and his staff upon their arrival in Dec. 2018 was making the Red Raiders older as a roster. They have done just that, bringing in 12 graduate transfers during that span, including eight who appear on this year's roster.
- One area Wells has taken advantage of is graduate transfers with multiple years of eligibility remaining. Zech McPhearson and Ja'Marcus Ingram are entering their second year with the Red Raiders, while Brandon Bouyer-Randle and Chadarius Townsend both arrived in Lubbock as juniors this offseason.
- Of the 12 graduate transfers to arrive under Wells, eight have come from power-five schools, including five in this year's class alone.
- Wells' first class of graduate transfers provided an immediate impact in several ways a year ago as McPhearson started in all 12 games at cornerback, while Armand Shyne and RJ Turner ranked as the Red Raiders' second-leading rusher and receiver, respectively. Ingram also appeared in all 12 games, while Evan Rambo made two starts at linebacker before medically retiring.

GRAD TRANSFERS UNDER MATT WELLS

Name	School	Year	Eligibility
Ja'Marcus Ingram	Utah State	2019	Jr.
Zech McPhearson	Penn State	2019	Jr.
Evan Rambo	Cal	2019	Jr.

Jacob Morgenstern	Duke	2020	Sr.
Colin Schooler	Arizona	2020	Sr.
Chadarius Townsend	Alabama	2020	Jr.

CHAMPIONSHIP EXPERIENCE

- Among Texas Tech's graduate transfers, two already own national championship rings in former Alabama running back Chadarius Townsend and LSU safety Eric Monroe. Townsend was a redshirt on Alabama's 2017 national championship team and later played in the Crimson Tide's College Football Playoff run in 2018. Monroe, meanwhile, saw action in 12 games during the 2019 campaign, including both of LSU's victories in the College Football Playoff.
- Texas Tech linebackers coach Kevin Cosgrove was also part of LSU's national championship run in 2019 as he was a senior defensive analyst for the Tigers.

HOWARD AMONG BIG 12 SACK LEADERS

Eli Howard has become a familiar face for not only Red Raider fans but to opposing quarterbacks over his career as the Preseason All-Big 12 pick enters his senior season needing one more sack to enter the top 10 in school history. Howard, who enters his sixth year at the collegiate level, has totaled 14.0 sacks over his Red Raider career, one shy of tying Brandon Sharpe for 10th all-time in program history.

Eli Howard (2017-present)	14.0

BACK TO SCHOOL(ER)

- It's not everyday a school can add a three-time All-Conference selection to its roster leading up to the season. The Red Raiders did just that, however, late in preseason camp when Arizona graduate transfer Colin Schooler chose to play his final season in Lubbock.
- Schooler, a Freshman All-America honoree and the Pac-12 Freshman Defensive Player of the Year in 2017, recorded at least 90 tackles in all three seasons with the Wildcats, including a career-high 119 in 2018. He has totaled 312 career takedowns over his career, which trails only Northwestern's Paddy Fisher for the most among active FBS players entering the 2020 campaign.
- Schooler leads all active FBS players in tackles for a loss as he has posted 46.0 knockdowns behind the line of scrimmage entering this season, including 9.0 that have gone for sacks. He needs 10.0 additional tackles for a loss this season to match Cincinnati's Antwan Peek (2000-02) and Michigan's Brandon Graham (2006-09) for 24th all-time in FBS history.
- Schooler hails from a football family as his father, Tom, played at Eastern Michigan, while his older brother, Brendan, played at Oregon before joining him at Arizona for one season. His mother, Christine, was also a collegiate athlete as part of the Cal State Los Angeles volleyball program.

PATTERSON CONTINUES TO BUILD #806D

- The Red Raiders will look to build on the defensive improvements from a year ago under second-year coordinator Keith Patterson, who returns eight starters on his side of the ball. Patterson's first year leading the defense was highlighted by an aggressive scheme that had Texas Tech force 19 turnovers while allowing 30.3 points per game, its lowest average since 2009.
- Patterson's defenses have long been known for their ability to create turnovers as Utah State led the nation with 32 takeaways in 2018 prior to hire his hire at Texas Tech. Patterson's unit has created 51 takeaways the past two seasons alone, which is tied for second nationally among active defensive coordinators. He only trails Clemson's Brent Venables in the category.
- Patterson, who will oversee the entire defense and assist with the secondary this season, mentored Jordyn Brooks into one of the top linebackers in the country a year ago as the now Seattle Seahawk garnered second team All-America honors by multiple publications. He later became the first Red Raider defensive player to be drafted in the first round of the NFL Draft since College Football Hall of Famer Gabe Rivera in 1983.
- Brooks joined a long list of defensive standouts to record at least 100 tackles in a season under Patterson as he finished with 108 on the year, including 20.0 that went for a loss, despite missing a considerable amount of playing time in November due to injury. Patterson, who is assisting with the secondary this year after overseeing Texas Tech's linebackers in 2019, has now mentored 10 players who have recorded 100 or more tackles in a season since he became the defensive coordinator at Tulsa in 2006.

TEXAS TECH KNOWS OFFENSE

- One thing is certain when watching Texas Tech - the Red Raiders are going to find their way onto the scoreboard. Tech is currently riding a consecutive-game scoring streak that spans 282 games dating back to the 1997 season. The streak, which began against Texas A&M on Oct. 25, 1997, ranks tied for seventh nationally with Oklahoma and is the second-longest active streak in the Big 12 behind TCU.
- Texas Tech's streak is now tied for the 13th longest in FBS history as the Red Raiders tied Texas' previous run of 282-consecutive games from 1980-2004. The Red Raiders' first time on the scoreboard Saturday versus Houston Baptist will move Texas Tech into a tie for 12th all-time with Georgia Tech after the Yellow Jackets went 283-consecutive games from 1997 to 2019.
- Texas Tech is the only school in the country to rank among the top 16 teams for total offense and top 10 for passing offense in every season since 2002.

YEAR TWO IN THE YOST OFFENSE

- Texas Tech has long been known for its ability to annually produce one of the nation's top offenses, a feat it continued a year ago under a new offensive coordinator in David Yost. The Red Raiders ranked seventh nationally in passing yards per game (324.7) and 11th in total offense per game (474.3) but finished only 53rd in scoring offense with 30.5 points per game.
- Since becoming Texas Tech's offensive coordinator, Yost as well as head coach Matt Wells have stressed the Red Raiders will find their most success beginning in year two in the offense, similar to what Utah State discovered in 2018. The Aggies went from averaging a similar 30.2 yards per game in their first season under Yost in 2017 to posting an impressive 47.5 points per game a year later, which ranked second nationally only behind Oklahoma.
- Texas Tech brings back its leading rusher (SaRodrick Thompson) and leading receiver (Erik Ezukanma) from a year ago plus three starters on the offensive line and a quarterback in Alan Bowman, who already boasts 10 starts over his career. Yost will be able to work with all three for the foreseeable future as they are all listed as sophomores entering this year.

STATISTICAL DIFFERENCES IN FIRST TWO YEARS UNDER YOST

Category	2017	2018	2019	2020
Total Offense/Game	397.4 (73rd)	497.4 (11th)	474.3 (11th)	--
Passing Yards/Game	226.0 (69th)	294.2 (17th)	324.7 (7th)	--
Scoring/Game	30.2 (51st)	47.5 (2nd)	30.5 (53rd)	--

MAKING IT LOOK E-Z

- Possibly no receiver emerged late into last season quite like sophomore Erik Ezukanma, who led the Red Raiders with 664 receiving yards, the majority of which came during Big 12 play. He became the first Red Raider since two-time Biletnikoff Award winner Michael Crabtree in 2007 to lead the team in receiving yards as only a freshman.
- Ezukanma developed a knack for the big play as well, hauling in a team-leading 13 plays of 25 yards or longer. He was easily the team leader with six more plays that went that distance than any other Red Raider.
- Ezukanma closed the 2019 season with his first career 100-yard outing at as he hauled in seven receptions for 135 yards, which included a 24-yard touchdown strike midway through the second quarter.

THOMPSON BACK TO ANCHOR RUN GAME

- Matt Wells has made it no secret that the Red Raiders will look to flourish in the running game under his watch, giving Texas Tech a balanced approach that can score via both an explosive play and in the red zone. One key component to that approach will once again through sophomore running back SaRodrick Thompson, who led the Red Raiders on the ground a year ago with 765 rushing yards and 12 touchdowns off 160 carries.
- Thompson, who ended the year ranked third in the Big 12 and 27th nationally for rushing touchdowns, became only the eighth became only the eighth Red Raider to lead the team in rushing as a freshman, joining the likes of James Gray (1986), Byron "Bam" Morris (1991), Byron Hanspard (1994), Ricky Williams (1997), Shaud Williams (1999), Taurean Henderson (2002) and Da'Leon Ward (2016).
- Among that group, Thompson ranks second all-time, trailing only Henderson's 793 yards from the 2002 season. Two members of that group in Morris and Hanspard went on to win the prestigious Doak Walker Award later in their respective careers.
- The bulk of Thompson's yardage came in Big 12 play a year ago as he ranked sixth after averaging 74.6 rushing yards per game against league foes. Thompson will look to carry that into this season when he looks to become only the fourth Red Raider in the Big 12 era to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, joining DeAndre Washington (2014-15), Williams (1998) and Hanspard (1996).

ANDERSON, DEATON BOOST O-LINE

- Texas Tech will lean on the experience of juniors Jack Anderson and Dawson Deaton this season as the Red Raiders navigate the loss of three longtime starters along the offensive line. Anderson boasts 28 starts at right guard over his career, while his former Frisco High School teammate has made 14 starts at center.
- An early injury to Anderson paved the way for extra playing time for sophomore Weston Wright, who made eight starts a year ago at guard. Casey Verhulst also made three starts as a sophomore, giving Texas Tech 53 career starts among its returners up front.
- Anderson remains one of the top signees in Texas Tech history as the junior is a likely NFL Draft selection over the next two years. Anderson has started in 28 games over his Red Raider career after signing with Texas Tech as a consensus four-star prospect and a top-50 prospect by ESPN.
- Texas Tech's biggest loss came at the two tackle spots with the departure of Travis Bruffy and Terence Steele, both NFL free agent signees with the Green Bay Packers and Dallas Cowboys, respectively. The duo accounted for 81 starts alone over their Red Raider careers. The 2019 season also marked the end of Madison Akamnonu's career as the veteran guard closed his tenure with 39 starts primarily at left guard.

QB ALAN BOWMAN

BOWMAN RETURNS AS QB1 FOR TECH

- Alan Bowman will return as Texas Tech's starting quarterback Saturday, making his 11th career start and his first since suffering an injury at Arizona a year ago.
- The Red Raider offense has proven to be more effective with Bowman under center the past two seasons as Texas Tech is averaging roughly 15 more points per game when he plays. Injuries have unfortunately sidelined Bowman for 13 games over his first two seasons as a Red Raider.

TEXAS TECH OFFENSE WITH AND WITHOUT ALAN BOWMAN

Category	With Bowman	Without Bowman
Points per game	42.2	26.9
Passing yards per game	382.0	301.9
Total offense per game	515.6	449.3

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Bowman became the sixth true freshman in school history to start a game at quarterback in 2018, joining a list that includes Ron Reeves (1978), Aaron Keesee (1984), Baker Mayfield (2013), Davis Webb (2013) and Patrick Mahomes II (2014).
- Bowman turned in one of the most impressive performances by a freshman in NCAA history in Texas Tech's victory over Houston in 2018 as he completed 43-of-59 passes for 605 yards and five touchdowns. Bowman's 605 yards through the air marked the most by a freshman in Big 12 history, snapping the previous record of 598 yards set by Patrick Mahomes II against Baylor in 2014.
- Bowman's performance versus Houston finished only six passing yards shy of the NCAA freshman record that was set in 1998 by Nevada's David Neill against New Mexico State. It marked only the third time in FBS history where a freshman has thrown for at least 600 yards in a game (second time by a true freshman).
- Bowman wrapped the 2018 season with 2,638 yards through the air, finishing only 80 yards shy of the Texas Tech freshman passing record that was set by Davis Webb in 2013.

JUST A SOPHOMORE BUT EXPERIENCED

- This will be Alan Bowman's seventh-straight year to be named the starting quarterback dating back to his time at Grapevine High School in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex. It took only three games into Bowman's high school freshman season for him to earn the starting nod. Once he arrived at Tech in 2018, he was

NOTEABLE NFL QUARTERBACKS UNDER DAVID YOST

CHASE DANIEL | MISSOURI

Daniel has experienced quite the professional career since playing for Yost at Missouri. A former undrafted free agent, the former Heisman Trophy finalist will enter his 12th season of NFL duty in 2020 after already appearing in 65 games over his pro career.

BLAINE GABBERT | MISSOURI

Gabbert followed a long line of successful Missouri quarterbacks under Yost as he was selected 10th overall in the 2011 NFL Draft. The 2020 campaign will mark Gabbert's 10th season at the pro level as he will enter his second year with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

JUSTIN HERBERT | OREGON

Yost spent one season as Herbert's quarterbacks coach as he became the first Oregon true freshman to start behind center since 1983. Herbert was later selected sixth overall in the 2020 NFL Draft by the Los Angeles Chargers organization.

JORDAN LOVE | UTAH STATE

Yost mentored Love into one of the nation's top quarterbacks over the 2017-18 seasons, setting numerous Utah State school records in the process. The Green Bay Packers later used the 26th overall pick to select Love in the 2020 NFL Draft.

SPECIAL TEAMS WATCH

DIFFERENT LOOK TO SPECIAL TEAMS

■ Mark Tommerdahl enters the 2020 season with a lot different outlook than his first season at Texas Tech a year ago. The special teams coordinator inherited a depleted room a year ago that needed a new starter at every specialist position, namely place kicker and punter.

■ Tommerdahl found a starter at both of those spots and then some as place kicker Trey Wolff and punter Austin McNamara both ranked among the top specialists in the country. They both enter the 2020 season as preseason candidates for the Lou Groza and Ray Guy Awards, making Texas Tech one of only eight schools nationally represented on both watch lists.

■ Texas Tech's success on special teams in 2019 came despite all three of its specialists - McNamara, Wolff and long snapper Luke Rizzo - being classified as freshmen. During preseason camp this August, Matt Wells described all three of having the potential to play on Sundays.

MCNAMARA AMONG NATION'S BEST

■ McNamara, who garnered Freshman All-America honors by the FWAA and The Athletic, quickly turned heads in his first year as Texas Tech's punter as the then-true freshman averaged a booming 45.0 yards per punt, which ranked second among freshmen nationally and ranked 16th overall. He downed 20 kicks inside the 20 on the year and sailed 17 at least 50 yards.

■ Behind McNamara, Texas Tech ended 2019 ranked fourth nationally and first in the Big 12 for net punting as the Red Raider coverage unit averaged 42.5 yards over the course of the year.

TEXAS TECH SINGLE-SEASON LEADERS IN PUNTING AVERAGE

Name (Year)	Avg.
1. Mark Bounds (1991)	46.8
2. Taylor Symmank (2015)	46.0
3. Alex Reyes (2006)	45.2
4. Austin McNamara (2019)	45.0

ACCURACY KEY FOR WOLFF

■ Wolff, meanwhile, provided a reliable leg as Texas Tech's primary place kicker and kickoff specialist as he finished an impressive 20-of-22 on field goal attempts to rank seventh in the FBS in field goal percentage. Wolff closed the year with the most successful field goals by a freshman kicker all-time and the second-highest total in school history. He also ranked 14th nationally in field goals per game and 27th in points scored per game.

■ Both of Wolff's misses came from 40 yards or longer as he ended the year ranked seventh in field goal percentage (90.9). His percentage marked only the second time in school history a Red Raider had connected on 90 percent or higher of his field goal attempts of a season, joining Clayton Hatfield from 2016.

■ Wolff found the uprights on each of his first seven attempts prior to a miss against Oklahoma State, making him the first Red Raider dating back to 2000 to successfully find the uprights in each of his first seven career attempts. He enters this season having connected on each of his last eight attempts, which is five shy of Hatfield's record that was set in 2018.

GETTING TO THE KICKER

■ The Red Raiders were aggressive on special teams a year ago, ranking 14th in the FBS with three blocked kicks, their most in a season since 2008. It marked only the third time since 2000 where Texas Tech has blocked three or more kicks in a season.

■ Zech McPhearson got his hands on two of those blocked kicks, making him only the second Red Raider since 2000 to knock down multiple kicks in a season, joining current NFL defensive lineman Kerry Hyder from 2013.

UNIFORM WATCH

(Since 2009)

Over the past decade, Texas Tech has been among the most innovative teams in the country related to team uniforms. The Red Raiders have multiple uniform combinations in their wardrobe and often do not use the same combination twice in a season. Here's a look at Texas Tech's record in various uniform combinations:

IN THEIR WORDS

Throughout the spring and summer when many of the Red Raiders were away from campus, Texas Tech published a series of first-person narratives from various Red Raiders that was appropriately named "In My Words." The range of stories ranged from Jack Anderson describing living his childhood dream of being a Red Raider to Jaylon Hutchings journey to recover from a knee injury that ended his senior year of high school before it even started. Tony Bradford Jr., in the weeks that followed the killing of George Floyd, detailed how he wanted to join law enforcement once his football career was over. Bradford also described the weeks that followed the start of the COVID-19 pandemic as he remained in Lubbock to continue what was supposed to be a one-week internship with the Texas Tech Police Department.

The "In My Words" series also features first-person takes from Erik Ezukanma, Zech McPhearson, SaRoderick Thompson, Adrian Frye, Riko Jeffers, T.J. Vasher, Eli Howard and outside receivers coach Joel Filani. The series can be found by visiting www.Texas-Tech.exposure.co.

VASH FOR SIX - A COMMON THEME

■ Over the past three seasons, T.J. Vasher has become one of the top red zone threats in the country as the 6-6 wideout has been labeled the "top red zone receiver in the Big 12" this off-season by Matt Wells. Vasher has hauled in 19 touchdown grabs so far in his career to go along with a multitude of headline-grabbing catches. Vasher has totaled 1,756 receiving yards on 127 catches, both of which lead all active Red Raiders.

■ Vasher enters his final season as a Red Raider needing only two touchdown catches to match the likes of Carlos Francis, Wes Welker and Nehemiah Glover for ninth all-time in program history.

Michael Crabtree remains Texas Tech's career leader for touchdown passes as the two-time Biletnikoff Award winner snagged 41 touchdown grabs over his illustrious career.

■ Vasher also has a chance to potentially catch his position coach in Joel Filani, who still ranks sixth all-time in Texas Tech history with 23 career touchdown catches from 2003-06

YOU'RE ON SCHOLARSHIP

■ Matt Wells has surprised two former walk-ons in sophomore place kicker Trey Wolff and sophomore running back Xavier White with scholarships since the end of the 2019 season. Wolff received a phone call from Wells on Christmas Day last December, while White was presented with his scholarship during a Zoom midway through preseason camp.

■ The use of Zoom has become a popular tool for the Red Raiders this summer as Texas Tech utilized the platform for many of its team meetings. White believed he was in the middle of a normal Sunday night meeting until Wells introduced his grandfather, Joe Washington, who proceeded to deliver the scholarship presentation. White, a local product out of Monterey High School, is a third generation student-athlete at Texas Tech as his grandfather and uncle, Josh Washington, were both members of the men's basketball program.

THE SIXTH-YEAR VETERANS

■ Texas Tech will have two veterans on each side of the ball this year with a pair of sixth-year players in wide receiver Seth Collins and defensive lineman Eli Howard. Collins was granted an extra year after missing the entire 2019 season with a shoulder injury. Howard, meanwhile, was returned a year of eligibility following the 2017 season due to the nature of his transfer from North Texas.

■ The NCAA has already declared all fall sport student-athletes will not lose a year of eligibility this year due to the COVID-19 pandemic, meanwhile both Collins and Howard could return in 2021 for a seventh season. Texas Tech had a seventh-year senior only a few years ago in offensive lineman Tony Morales, who was with the Red Raiders from 2011-17.

(MULTIPLE) DEGREES IN HAND

■ Eli Howard is not only one of the top returning sack leaders in college football but also a rarity in the fact that he is a two-time college graduate from Texas Tech. Howard, who arrived in Lubbock as a walk-on transfer from North Texas prior to the 2016 season, earned his undergraduate degree in management at Texas Tech prior to his 2017 sophomore season and then added his master's in personal financial planning this spring.

■ The 2020 season will be Howard's sixth as a collegiate student-athlete as he was awarded an extension to his five-year clock prior to the 2017 campaign. A native of San Angelo, Texas,

COLOMBI GRANTED NCAA WAIVER

■ Texas Tech junior quarterback Henry Colombi was granted a NCAA waiver during preseason camp that will make the former Utah State signal caller immediately eligible this season. Colombi transferred to Texas Tech early in camp from Utah State where he previously played under both Matt Wells and offensive coordinator David Yost.

POLICE CHIEF, TONY BRADFORD JR.

■ In the midst of a national conversation regarding social injustice in this country, Texas Tech has found a voice with a unique perspective - sophomore defensive lineman Tony Bradford Jr., who desires to join law enforcement once his playing career is over. Bradford's goal is to one day rise to the role of police chief where he says he "can make real change."

■ Bradford received a crash course in his future profession throughout the spring as he served as a security guard with the Texas Tech Police Department. Bradford, who was initially set to only work one week with TTPD during Spring Break, extended his internship through June due to the COVID-19 pandemic that ultimately canceled spring practice.

■ Despite being in his second year on campus, Bradford has become a leader in the Red Raider locker room as he has helped organize peaceful walks on the Texas Tech campus and in East Lubbock throughout the summer and preseason camp.

GIVING BACK

■ Since his hire at Texas Tech, Matt Wells has stressed the Red Raiders will be heavily involved in the community. That initiative was so important, in fact, that one of his first hires was a former teammate of his in Troy Kema as the football program's Associate Athletics Director for player development and student-athlete services to work closely with the J.T. and Margaret Talkington Leadership Academy staff on integrating the Red Raiders with the Lubbock community.

■ In only a year, that priority has already paid off as Texas Tech ranked 10th nationally and third among power-five football programs in community service hours logged, according to a survey of 60 athletics departments who utilize the Helper Helper app that was published this past May.

■ The Red Raiders will remain a high presence in the Lubbock community this season with plans already in place to volunteer for Habitat for Humanity and other organizations. Texas Tech's plans focus primarily on East Lubbock where many of the Red Raiders have expressed their desire to volunteer.

■ In recent weeks, the Red Raiders have worked voter registration booths, cleaned up a community center, organized an outreach program for local youth and participated in a Habitat for Humanity project in East Lubbock. Texas Tech will continue to volunteer in East Lubbock on Friday mornings of each home football weekend throughout the season. -

CRABTREE, HARRELL SET FOR HOF

■ Red Raider greats Michael Crabtree and Graham Harrell will be inducted together into the Texas Tech Hall of Fame as part of the 2020 class that was announced this summer. Arguably the top quarterback-receiver duo in school history, Crabtree and Harrell are part of a seven-person class that also features All-America guard Ronald Ross, former discus national champion D'Andra Carter, golfer Brooke Lowrance, volleyball standout Chris Martin and All-American infielder Jason Totman.

■ Induction plans for Texas Tech's 2020 class are still pending at this time.

RED RAIDERS IN THE NFL

SPORTS LARGEST CONTRACT

- There isn't a bigger star in the NFL right now than Texas Tech's own Patrick Mahomes II. The one-time Red Raider gunslinger has transformed the NFL in only three professional seasons, claiming NFL MVP honors in 2018 before leading the Kansas City Chiefs to a win in Super Bowl LIV this past season.
- Mahomes finished with 286 yards through the air and accounted for three touchdowns on his way to becoming the youngest player in history to be named the NFL MVP and also win a Super Bowl. Mahomes, who at only 24 years of age, was also tabbed Super Bowl MVP after leading the Chiefs to only their second Super Bowl title in history and their first since 1970.
- In July, Mahomes signed the richest contract not only in NFL history but in all of sports as he and the Chiefs agreed on a 10-year extension worth up to $503 million. It marked the second time in school history where a Red Raider has signed the richest NFL contract as Ring of Honor member Donny Anderson previously did so with the Green Bay Packers upon being drafted in 1965.
- Mahomes claimed NFL MVP honors in 2018 following a memorable debut where he became only the second quarterback in NFL history to throw for 5,000 yards and 50 touchdowns in a regular season. The season ended with Mahomes and the Chiefs falling just a win shy of a Super Bowl appearance.
- Dating back to his time as a Red Raider, the 2016 Sammy Baugh Trophy winner is the only quarterback in history to throw for 5,000 yards at both the collegiate and NFL levels. Mahomes threw for 5,052 yards in only 12 games as a junior in 2016, his final season as a Red Raider before being selected with the 10th overall pick of the 2017 NFL Draft.
- Mahomes is the first Red Raider in school history to garner NFL MVP honors as he was also an All-Pro selection and the AFC starter in the annual Pro Bowl game. He was also the first Kansas City Chief to be recognized with the NFL's top honor.

BROOKS SELECTED IN FIRST ROUND

- Jordyn Brooks joined the likes of Red Raiders now in the NFL as the four-year starter was selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks this past April.
- Brooks became the eighth Red Raider all-time to go off the board in the opening round, joining an elite group that includes Walter Schlackmann (1945), Dave Parks (1964), Donny Anderson (1965), Ted Watts (1981), Gabe Rivera (1983), Michael Crabtree (2009) and Patrick Mahomes II (2017). Of that list, the late Rivera, a College Football Hall of Famer and member of the Texas Tech Ring of Honor, was the last defensive player to be chosen in the first round as the Pittsburgh Steelers took Señor Sack with the 21st overall pick in 1983.

- Broderick Washington Jr. followed Brooks in hearing his name called in last year's draft as the Baltimore Ravens used the 170th overall pick to select the three-year starter.
- Brooks and Washington were two of 14 Red Raider alumni to find their way on NFL 53-man rosters as was fellow 2019 graduate Terence Steele, who earned his spot on the Dallas Cowboys offensive line despite signing as an undrafted free agent.

RED RAIDERS IN HEAD COACHING ROLES

- Texas Tech is one of only two FBS programs in the country to boast two former players as NFL head coaches this season as Anthony Lynn enters his third season leading the Los Angeles Chargers, while Kliff Kingsbury heads into his debut season with the Arizona Cardinals. The only other school in the FBS with multiple alumni as NFL head coaches is Miami of Ohio, which features John Harbaugh (Ravens) and Sean McVay (Rams). William and Mary at the FCS level also sports two of its former players roaming NFL sidelines in Sean McDermott (Bills) and Mike Tomlin (Steelers).
- Lynn, who earned the Chargers job after serving as the Bills' interim head coach to end the 2016 campaign, led the Chargers to a 12-4 record in 2018 and an appearance in the AFC Divisional round. He returned to Lubbock for a men's basketball game in recent year and took part in a Zoom chat with the Red Raiders this summer.
- In addition to the two head coaches, Texas Tech also has three former letterwinners in prominent assistant coach positions as Kris Kocurek and Wes Welker are in their second seasons with the San Francisco 49ers as the defensive line and wide receivers coaches, while Mike Smith is entering his second year as the outside linebackers coach with the Green Bay Packers.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES

- Danny Amendola is in his 12th NFL season and second with the Detroit Lions as he has caught 547 passes for 5,362 yards and 21 touchdowns over his professional career. He is one of four Red Raiders all-time to win multiple Super Bowls.
- Kerry Hyder and Cody Davis both found new homes this offseason after signing with the San Francisco 49ers and New England Patriots, respectively. Dakota Allen found his way on a 53-man roster for the first time with the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Kerry Hyder (2009-13)	San Francisco 49ers

Matt Wells, a two-time conference Coach of the Year recipient, was named the 16th head football coach in Texas Tech history on Nov. 29, 2018.

The 2020 season will be Wells' seventh season as a collegiate head coach as he has compiled a 48-42 overall record following six seasons at his alma mater, Utah State, and one year leading the Red Raiders. He led the Aggies to five bowl appearances during his tenure, a feat he will look to accomplish frequently as he continues to build the Texas Tech program.

Despite missing bowl eligibility for only the second time in his career, Wells set the groundwork for future success at Texas Tech behind the efforts of a senior class that featured a pair of All-Big 12 first team selections in Jordyn Brooks and Douglas Coleman III. Both were strong candidates for national awards as well with Coleman a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and Brooks a finalist for the Butkus Award. They were joined on the All-Big 12 first team by punter Austin McNamara, who led all FBS freshmen after averaging 45.0 yards per punt.

National pundits also noticed Brooks' efforts as he was tabbed a second team All-American by multiple publications following the season. It marked the first time a Tech linebacker had earned first or second team All-America accolades since College Football Hall of Famer and Ring of Honor member Zach Thomas in 1995. The Seattle Seahawks agreed with many of the awards committees as well, selecting Brooks with the 27th overall pick of the 2020 NFL Draft. He became only the eighth Red Raider all-time to go off the board in the first round and just the third defensive player to do so, joining the likes of Ted Watts (1981) and another College Football Hall of Famer and Ring of Honor member in Gabe Rivera (1983).

Wells was tabbed the head coach for his alma mater on Dec. 20, 2012, following two seasons as an assistant coach on staff. Utah State experienced possibly its best stretch in history during Wells' tenure as the Aggies won 44 games and played in five bowl games under his guidance, quite the feat for a program that had only eight postseason trips to its record prior to his promotion.

Wells, the fourth-longest tenured coach in program history, departed Utah State as the only coach in school history to lead the Aggies to at least three bowl games as well as multiple bowl victories. In fact, Wells was a player (1993), a coordinator (2012) or the head coach (2013-14) for four of Utah State's five bowl wins in its history with the lone exception coming at the 2018 Gildan New Mexico Bowl after he had already accepting the job at Texas Tech.

Wells closed his tenure in Logan as the second-winningest coach in program history as his 44 victories trailed only the total of E. Lowell Romney, who accumulated 128 wins over a 29-year stretch from 1919-48. Additionally, Wells compiled a 30-18 record in Mountain West play, trailing only Romney in all-time conference wins among Utah State head coaches.

Wells, a quarterback for the Aggies from 1994-96, was a member of two conference championship teams as a student-athlete, which came as a redshirt freshman in 1993 and as a senior in 1996 when Utah State was a member of the Big West Conference.

A DEVELOPMENTAL PROGRAM

Since taking the reigns as Texas Tech's head coach, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in turning the Red Raiders into a "developmental program." Over his career, Wells and his staff have done just that with eight former players moving on to the NFL, including a pair of first-round draft picks last year in Jordyn Brooks and Jordan Love. Below is a look at several notable players under Wells who have moved on to the next level.

JORDYN BROOKS | LB

Brooks put together his best season of his career under Wells en route to being selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks in 2020 NFL Draft. He became the first Red Raider defensive player to be chosen in the first round since Ring of Honor member Gabe Rivera in 1983.

KYLER FACKRELL | LB

Fackrell was one of seven Aggies who earned All-America honors under Wells before being selected in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft. He enters his fifth NFL season this fall with the New York Giants after playing his first four years with the Green Bay Packers.

JORDAN LOVE | QB

Love set numerous school records on his way to establishing himself among the nation's top quarterback prospects under Wells and David Yost at Utah State in 2018. He was later selected 26th overall by the Green Bay Packers in the 2020 NFL Draft.

NICK VIGIL | LB

Vigil, a two-time first team All-Mountain West selection under Wells, heard his name called one pick before Fackrell in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft. He played his first four NFL season with the Cincinnati Bengals before signing with the LA Chargers this offseason.

SECOND-YEAR HEAD COACHES ALL-TIME

■ Matt Wells will look to become only the third head coach in program history this season to lead the Red Raiders to a bowl game in only his second season. Steve Sloan (1976) and Mike Leach (2001) previously guided the Red Raiders to a bowl appearance in their second season overseeing the program.

■ Below is a look at how Texas Tech head coaches have fared in their second year leading the Red Raiders.

IN ELITE COMPANY

■ Wells' reputation as a program builder was highly recognized during his Utah State tenure as he was twice named the Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He is one of only five coaches in the conference's history to earn the honor twice in a career, joining a list that also includes Sonny Lubick, Rocky Long, Urban Meyer and his now Big 12 counterpart, Gary Patterson.

STABILITY ON STAFF

■ This is the third-consecutive season and second at Texas Tech where head coach Matt Wells, defensive coordinator Keith Patterson and offensive coordinator David Yost have all worked on the same staff. The trio began their time working together at Utah State in 2018 when Patterson was hired to oversee the Aggies' defense. Yost began his relationship with Wells a year earlier at Utah State.

TWO NEW FACES ON STAFF

■ Texas Tech will have two new faces on its sideline this fall as coaching veterans Kevin Cosgrove and Derek Jones joined the staff prior to the start of spring practice. Cosgrove was hired to oversee the Red Raider linebackers as defensive coordinator Keith Patterson will transition to overseeing the entire unit while assisting Jones with the secondary.

■ Jones was tabbed associate head coach and co-defensive coordinator as part of his hiring that reunites him with both Patterson and Matt Wells. The trio all coached together at Tulsa in 2006 before Jones departed for Memphis a year later and then 12 years at Duke, eventually rising to associate head coach. Duke had recorded only 10 wins in the previous eight seasons prior to Jones' arrival before eventually claiming the ACC Coastal Division title in 2013. The Blue Devils reached a bowl game in six of the final eight years Jones was on staff.

■ Cosgrove, meanwhile, joined the Texas Tech staff fresh off winning a national championship ring as the lead defensive analyst at LSU. He arrived in Lubbock with 39 years of collegiate coaching experience, including 22 seasons as a defensive coordinator with stops at Wisconsin, Nebraska and Minnesota among others.

FAMILIARITY WITH STAFF

■ When he interviewed with Director of Athletics Kirby Hocutt and President Lawrence Schovanec in November 2018, Matt Wells made it clear his hire wouldn't just bring the then Utah State head coach to Lubbock. It would, in fact, bring his entire program as Wells stressed the importance of hiring a staff that believed in the same philosophy.

■ Wells has five members of his final Utah State staff entering their second year at Texas Tech, notably both of his coordinators in defensive coordinator Keith Patterson and offensive coordinator David Yost. Patterson led the Utah State defense during Wells' last season in Logan, while Yost coordinated the offense over the final two years. Wells also brought offensive line coach Steve Farmer, strength and conditioning coach Dave Scholz, running backs coach DeAndre Smith and inside receivers and tight ends coach Luke Wells with him from Utah State.

■ For his special teams position, Wells went back to his Utah State roots, hiring veteran coordinator Mark Tommerdahl as his associate head coach. Tommerdahl, who also assists with the offensive line in addition to his role as special teams coordinator, previously served in a similar role at Utah State in 2017 where the Aggies led the Mountain West and ranked fourth nationally with four blocked punts. Utah State was also among the top-25 teams nationally for kick return defense after allowing only 18.1 yards per return.

■ Paul Randolph, meanwhile, was quickly pursued for the defensive line position due to his ties to Patterson from their time together at Arizona State, Pittsburgh and Tulsa. Known as one of the top defensive line coaches in the country, Randolph served in a similar role at Memphis from 2016-18 and has also made similar stops at the likes of Alabama and West Virginia.

■ Wells also tabbed a former Red Raider great to his staff in outside receivers coach Joel Filani, who starred at Texas Tech from 2003-06 and previously worked with Yost as a quality control assistant at Washington State in 2015.

IT'S NOT ONLY OFFENSE WITH WELLS

■ Just because Matt Wells came up on the offensive side of the ball doesn't mean he doesn't know about defense. In fact, he boasted one of the nation's most disruptive defenses in the country during his tenure at Utah State, highlighted by 152 forced turnovers, which led the Mountain West and ranked tied for fifth nationally during that span.

■ Utah State shared the FBS lead with 32 forced turnovers in 2018 on its way to an 11-2 season, which matched the most wins in program history. The Aggies also led the country in interceptions (22) as well as three-and-outs per game (5.7) and ranked third with six defensive touchdowns.

■ In addition, the Aggies surrendered only 224 touchdowns during his six seasons, which ranked third nationally behind only TCU (218) and Utah (221). The Aggies ranked fourth in the country with 1,853 points allowed over his tenure, which trailed only Utah (1,834), TCU (1,834) and Minnesota (1,836).

■ Utah State allowed only 23.9 points per game over Wells' tenure as opponents were held to 15 or less a total of 21 times.

■ Defense wasn't the only area Wells stressed throughout his Utah State tenure as the Aggies also scored four touchdowns via special teams in 2018. Utah State ranked second in the FBS with 10 non-offensive touchdowns.

GIVING BACK TO WEST TEXAS

■ In only their short time at Texas Tech, the Wells family has contributed significantly to the Lubbock community through non-profit organizations such as Voice for Hope through his Women's Football Clinic as well as the South Plains COVID-19 Relief Fund.

TEXAS TECH SPORTS PERFORMANCE CENTER

Texas Tech is in its fourth year utilizing the $48 million Sports Performance Center, which officially opened in 2017 as one of the top indoor practice facilities in the country. The facility houses a 100-yard playing field that is within walking distance of the outdoor practice fields at the Football Training Facility, allowing Matt Wells and his staff to quickly transition indoors in the case of inclement weather.

In addition to supporting the Red Raider football program, the Sports Performance Center is also home to Texas Tech's national-champion track and field program. The facility houses a 200-meter bank track, which will allow Tech to host several of the nation's top collegiate and high school meets each year.

The Sports Performance Center, which funded entirely through philanthropic gifts to The Campaign for Fearless Champions, also includes 1,500 track seating for fans, a strength and conditioning area for many of Texas Tech's Olympic sports, the Becky and Kelly Joe Family Sports Medicine Center and the PlainsCapital Bank Nutrition Center.

The football program utilizes the Petersen Family Indoor Football Facility, which is named in honor of Gary Petersen, co-founder and managing partner of EnCap Investments and limited partner and minority owner of the NFL's Houston Texans and the Houston Astros of Major League Baseball.

JONES AT&T STADIUM | HOME OF THE RED RAIDERS

PROTECTING JONES AT&T STADIUM

■ Since his arrival at Texas Tech this past November, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in playing well inside Jones AT&T Stadium. In his words, teams that defend their home field elevate their season from “good” to “great,” a key message early in his tenure for a Red Raider program that hasn’t finished over .500 at home since the 2015 campaign.

■ The Red Raiders finished 3-3 overall at home in their first season under Matt Wells, who scored his first top-25 victory as Texas Tech’s head coach with a win over Oklahoma State. Tech won by an average of 26.7 points in its three victories en route to starting its home slate at 3-0 for the first time since 2016.

■ During his six seasons at Utah State, Wells compiled an impressive 27-7 record at home, an impressive .794 winning percentage. Wells led the Aggies to a .500 or better record at home in each of his six seasons and twice finished with a perfect 6-0 mark.

■ Texas Tech is looking to get back to its winning ways as the Red Raiders were 69-18 at home over the course of the first 14 years (1996-2009) in the Big 12 Conference (a .793 winning percentage). Tech boasted a .500 or better record at home in each of those seasons en route to playing in 12 bowl games with the two lone exceptions being a result of a self-imposed postseason ban in 1997 and the retirement of Spike Dykes in 1999. Tech was an impressive 29-4 during the final five years of that stretch, including a pair of percent 7-0 years (2005, 2008).

■ Since then, Texas Tech is only a combined 31-29 at home over the course of the past nine-plus seasons. The Red Raiders have lost at least two games at home each season during that time, including three years of 2-4 campaigns.

STADIUM HISTORY

■ Jones AT&T Stadium, home of Red Raider Football since Nov. 29, 1947, is arguably one of the most electric gameday atmospheres in all of college football. Armed with 60,000-plus rabid fans, Dave Curtis of The Sporting News proclaimed in May of 2010 that Jones AT&T Stadium was the best home field advantage in all of college football.

■ Overall, since 2003, Texas Tech has invested $150 million over the past 15 years with four major renovations making Jones AT&T Stadium one of the best on-campus football facilities in the country. Included in the renovations, a $34 million east side stadium building, including 29 luxury suites and 544 club seats. These renovations also include new concession areas and restrooms throughout the stadium as well as a newly enlarged Texas Tech Locker Room, the headquarters for all your Texas Tech gear and souvenirs. The West Side Stadium Building officially opened for the 2003 football season. The $52 million dollar, 175,000 sq. ft. facility provides a large and accommodating press level for local and national media, more than 150 TVs and video screens, 47 comfortable and private suites, 1,070 club seats, and a spacious, inviting club level.

■ The stadium was officially renamed from Jones Stadium to Jones SBC Stadium in 2000 following major corporate gifts (in excess of $25 million) from SBC Communications (now AT&T). The stadium was renamed again in 2006 to Jones AT&T Stadium after SBC Communications formally changed its name to AT&T. The “Jones” in Jones Stadium comes from former Texas Tech president Clifford B. Jones and his wife Aubrey. The stadium was named in their honor upon its opening in 1947.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Working media credentials for the 2020 Texas Tech football season must be requested online at www.SportsSystems.com/TexasTech. All requests must be submitted by the sports editor or director from each outlet. Due to safety recommendations and space limitations, Texas Tech will only issue single-game credentials for the 2020 season. Credentialing priority for football will be given to professional media outlets that cover Texas Tech Athletics on an active basis. This includes weekly press conferences, post-practice availabilities and each of Texas Tech's other athletic programs. Additional information on approval guidelines can be found below.

Media will have until 5 p.m. each Tuesday of a home game to submit credential requests. Any request made after this time will not be granted and no exceptions will be made. Media members are welcome to request credentials for every home game as part of their initial application. Please note, however, that Texas Tech will not approve or deny any credential requests until after that 5 p.m. deadline each Tuesday.

Due to safety recommendations, Texas Tech has set a limit on the amount of media credentials it will issue per game in order to promote social distancing in the pressbox as well as to ensure safety of our student-athletes and coaches on the sidelines. Per Big 12 guidelines for this season, Texas Tech will only issue four pool photographer passes for sideline access.

Please note that direct contact with Texas Tech student-athletes and coaches will not be allowed this season. Members of the media will have access to head coach Matt Wells and student-athletes via virtual interviews only. As a result, approved media members inside Jones AT&T Stadium and those not at the venue will have the same ability to take part in virtual interviews with Wells and select student-athletes following each game.

WWW.TEXASTECH.COM

This is the official website of Texas Tech Athletics. Texas Tech football releases as well as a wide variety of athletics department information can be found on the web. Weekly game notes, news and statistical information can be found here throughout the football season.

MATT WELLS RADIO SHOW

"Red Raider Football with Matt Wells" will air live each Wednesday evening beginning Aug. 28 on the Texas Tech Sports Network. The show is hosted each week by Chris Level and runs between 7-8 p.m. The show will tape live from Rudy's BBQ located on Slide Road and South Loop 289.

PHOTO REQUESTS

Please submit your requests to Ty Parker or Preston Jordan.

USE OF AUDIO/VIDEO

Any media entity collecting any sort of "video or audio materials" (film, traditional video or audio, digital video or audio, photos, etc.) from Texas Tech University Athletics game events or press conference/media events may use that material only for traditional television newscasts, web-based or print coverage, or other electronic transmission as approved by the University in writing, with a limitation of up to three (3) minutes in length from any single event. Such media entity may not offer any live video, audio or other coverage of the event without the advance, written permission of Texas Tech University Athletics.

TEXAS TECH SPORTS NETWORK

The Texas Tech Sports Network from Learfield Sports will carry all the exciting action of Red Raider Football beginning with the season opener with Sam Houston State and all the way through the bowl season. Brian Jensen (play-by-play) and John Harris (color analyst) return to the broadcast booth and will be joined on the sidelines by Chris Level (sidelines).
