PRESEASON NOTES

RED RAIDERS LOOK TO RETURN TO BOWL IN THIRD YEAR UNDER WELLS

■ Matt Wells will look to return the Red Raiders to bowl eligibility in his third season leading the program as Texas Tech will be searching for its first postseason appearance since traveling to the Birmingham Bowl during the 2017 season.

■ Texas Tech had not previously experienced three-consecutive years without a bowl appearance since the 1990-92 seasons. The Red Raiders are looking to avoid their first four-year bowl absence since staying home from postseason play over eight-consecutive seasons from 1978-85.

■ The three-year bowl absence is a rarity for Texas Tech since joining the Big 12 Conference as the Red Raiders remain one of the most active postseason teams in FBS history, ranking 21st all-time and third in the conference with 38 bowl trips.

ABOUT THE 2021 SCHEDULE

■ Texas Tech will officially kick off the 2021 season Sept. 4 when the Red Raiders travel to Houston for the Texas Kickoff at NRG Stadium. It will be the Red Raiders' second all-time appearance in the neutral-site contest as Tech previously fell to Ole Miss to start the 2018 season.

■ The Red Raiders will open their season with a neutral-site contest for only the fifth time in program history and just the second time since 1959. In addition to the 2018 contest versus Ole Miss, Texas Tech previously met Texas A&M in Dallas to start the 1958-59 seasons and then Oklahoma City to face then Oklahoma A&M (now Oklahoma State) to open the 1940 campaign.

■ The Houston game is one of five contests inside the state of Texas over the Red Raiders' front half of the schedule as Texas Tech will host Stephen F. Austin (Sept. 11), Florida International (Sept. 18) and TCU (Oct. 9) during that span with road games at Houston, Texas (Sept. 25) and West Virginia (Oct. 2).

■ Texas Tech will open Big 12 Conference play with back-to-back road games at Texas and West Virginia, marking the first time since 2014 where the Red Raiders started their league slate on the road for the first two contests. Tech also opened the 2002 and 2004 seasons with consecutive road games to start conference play (no neutral sites), both of which resulted in at least eight wins overall.

■ Texas Tech will play nine-straight games to start its season before experiencing its lone open week on the 2021 season, which comes Nov. 6 prior to back-to-back home games versus Iowa State and Oklahoma State. It is the furthest Tech has had to wait for an open date since 2015 when the Red Raiders lone weekend off came prior to the regular-season finale at Texas.

RED RAIDERS LOOKING FOR BIG 12 WIN NO. 100

■ Texas Tech will enter the 2021 campaign searching for its 100th all-time Big 12 Conference victory since joining the league as a charter member in 1996. The Red Raiders, who open their league slate Sept. 25 at Texas, are 99-111 over the course of their 25 seasons in the Big 12.

■ The Red Raiders boast the fifth-highest win total in Big 12 games over the course of the league's history as Texas Tech trails only the totals of Oklahoma (159), Texas (140), Kansas State (122) and Oklahoma State (113).

ALL-TIME BIG 12 CONFERENCE VICTORIES (1996-Present)

CUMBIE RETURNS HOME AS OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

■ Texas Tech fans will recognize a familiar face roaming the sidelines next fall as former quarterback and assistant coach Sonny Cumbie was hired in December as the Red Raiders' new offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

■ Cumbie, who spent the past seven seasons at Big 12 counterpart TCU, returns to his alma mater where he was the starting quarterback in 2004 before later serving as a graduate assistant in 2009 and then an assistant coach from 2010-13.

■ A native of nearby Snyder, Texas, Cumbie helped TCU boast the Big 12's second-best conference record (38-25) and third-best overall mark (58-30) over his seven seasons, which coincided with six bowl appearances. He oversaw the Horned Frogs' quarterbacks throughout his tenure and served as the sole offensive play caller each of his final four years.

■ Once the quarterback in one of Texas Tech's biggest bowl wins, Cumbie threw for 4,742 yards as a senior in 2004, the sixth-highest total in school history and one of the top-25 marks in NCAA history. Cumbie, who waited patiently as a former walk-on quarterback to finally lead the prolific Tech offense, twice led the Red Raiders to 70-point games that season en route to garnering honorable mention All-Big 12 accolades as well as Academic All-Big 12 first team honors.

■ Cumbie might be best remembered, however, for his 520 passing yards in Texas Tech's 2004 Holiday Bowl victory over (then) No. 4 California, capping off an 8-4 season. Cumbie was tabbed the Holiday Bowl MVP for his performance as he still owns the Holiday Bowl and the Tech bowl records for most passing yards.

A NEW TERM FOR 2021 - SUPER SENIORS

■ Media and fans alike will likely hear a new term throughout the 2021 season - Super Seniors. The phrase describes many of the seniors across the country who decided to utilize the extra year granted by the NCAA for the 2020 season.

■ For Texas Tech, the Red Raiders lead the Big 12 Conference with 12 super seniors according to recent research by the Associated Press. The list of returnees includes nine players that were on Tech's roster this past fall as well as three others in T.J. Storment, who transferred to join the Red Raiders this spring following one season at TCU, Kaylon Geiger, a veteran wide receiver from Troy, and Marquis Waters, who started in 35 games over his career at Duke.

■ According to the Associated Press' research this past spring, Texas Tech is tied for sixth among power-five programs with 12 super seniors as the Red Raiders only trail the likes of Illinois (17), Arizona State (14), USC (14), Rutgers (13), Pittsburgh (12) and are tied with Arizona (11), Utah (11) and Tennessee (11).

GETTING OLDER...

■ One of the goals for Matt Wells and his staff upon their arrival in Dec. 2018 was making the Red Raiders older as a roster. They have done just that, bringing in 20 scholarship transfers from four-year colleges during that span, including 15 that appear on the 2021 roster.

■ An area, in particular, Wells and his staff have taken advantage of is transfers with multiple years of eligibility remaining as Texas Tech has signed 14 players in his tenure that will ultimately play multiple seasons for the Red Raiders. That total includes nine Red Raiders who are entering their second season at Texas Tech this season and three more who will have multiple seasons of eligibility after arriving in Lubbock this past January.

■ Texas Tech has signed the bulk of its transfers from other power-five schools under Wells as 14 players have arrived after playing in the ACC, Big 12, Big Ten, SEC or Pac-12. Five of Texas Tech's transfer additions for this season came from power-five schools as the Red Raiders signed the likes of Malik Dunlap (N.C. State), Jesiah Pierre (Florida), T.J. Storment (TCU), Marquis Waters (Duke) and Rayshad Williams (UCLA).

■ Both Storment and Waters were considered instant-impact signees for the Red Raiders as Storment garnered All-Big 12 second team honors by the Associated Press this past season at TCU, while Waters started 35 games over his Duke career, totaling 234 tackles and three interceptions during that time.

■ Wells did go outside the power-five to land additional depth at wide receiver this summer with the signing of Troy transfer Kaylon Geiger. Over his two seasons at Troy, Geiger caught 141 passes for 1,625 yards and eight touchdowns over 23 games as he was tabbed the Sun Belt Newcomer of the Year as a junior in 2019 as well as an All-Sun Belt first team honoree. He collected second team accolades from the conference coaches this past season. Geiger previously starred at Navarro College prior to transferring to Troy as a junior in 2019.

■ Over his first two seasons leading the Red Raiders, four-year college transfers into the program under Wells have accounted for 84 starts.

PLENTY OF EXPERIENCE RETURNING ALONG O-LINE

■ Steve Farmer returns the bulk of his position room this spring as the Red Raiders bring back four starters on the offensive line, including All-Big 12 second team selection Dawson Deaton at center. Texas Tech boasts 65 career starts as a Red Raider among its offensive line and 109 career starts when you factor in a pair of transfers such as Josh Burger and T.J. Storment.

■ Deaton, a two-year starter at center, ranks second on the team with 24 career starts, trailing only DaMarcus Fields' 38 career starts among returners. Deaton became the first Red Raider center to earn All-Big 12 first or second team accolades this past fall since Dylan Gandy was also a second-team honoree in 2004.

■ In addition to Deaton, the Red Raiders also benefit from the return of junior Weston Wright and senior Josh Burger, who both started in all 10 games this past fall. Wright has now started in each of his last 18-consecutive games, while Burger has been the starter at right tackle in 35-straight games dating back to his time at Wofford. He transferred to Texas Tech prior to the 2020 season.

■ At the left tackle position, the Red Raiders return its top two starters from this past year as junior Ethan Carde earned seven starts, while sophomore Caleb Rogers, as only a true freshman at the time, made the start in the final three games.

■ Texas Tech's lone departure from the starting rotation was junior Jack Anderson, who was selected in the seventh round of the 2021 NFL Draft this past spring by the Buffalo Bills. He became the second Red Raider offensive lineman to join the NFL ranks in as many years after Terence Steele started in 14 games at right tackle this past season as an undrafted rookie for the Dallas Cowboys.

■ Anderson joined Deaton as an All-Big 12 selection this past fall as he was recognized on the first team by the conference coaches. It marked the first time since 1999 where Texas Tech has featured an All-Big 12 first and second team honoree along its offensive line as Jonathan Gray (first team) and Curtis Lowery (second team) were recognized that season.

THOMPSON, EZUKANMA HIGHLIGHT RETURNERS

■ New offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie will benefit from the return of both Texas Tech's leading rusher in SaRodorick Thompson and its leading receiver in Erik Ezukanma. Thompson paced the Red Raiders on the ground in 2020, totaling 610 rushing yards and eight touchdowns, while Ezukanma secured 46 catches for 748 yards and six touchdowns.

■ Thompson and Ezukanma also led the Red Raiders in both categories as freshmen in 2019, making them the first duo to lead the team in rushing and receiving in back-to-back seasons since the 2014-15 campaigns when current Miami Dolphins

THE QUARTERBACK CANDIDATES

Matt Wells and new offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie will continue their search for a new signal caller when Texas Tech officially opens preseason camp in August. Of the five candidates vying for the job, two have previous starting experience in returning senior Henry Colombi and junior transfer Tyler Shough from Oregon. Below is a breakdown of the Red Raiders' quarterback room entering the 2021 season.

HENRY COLOMBI | SR.

Colombi returns for his second season at Texas Tech as he transferred from Utah State last summer prior to preseason practices. Colombi threw for 1,065 yards and eight touchdowns last season, while making four starts in six total appearances. He completed 65.7 percent of his passes, while also rushing 51 times for 103 yards and a touchdown.

MAVERICK MCIVOR | SO.

McIvor is entering his third season at Texas Tech after signing with the Red Raiders as part of the 2019 class. He was listed as a backup throughout the 2020 season and redshirted the 2019 campaign due to an injury. The son of former Texas quarterback Rick McIvor, he was rated among the top 20 dual-threat quarterbacks nationally out of San Angel Central.

BEHREN MORTON | FR.

Morton joined the Red Raider this past January as he signed with Texas Tech with the intention of enrolling in time for spring practices. A four-star prospect out of Eastland High School, Morton became the highest-rated quarterback to ever sign with the Red Raiders after totaling more than 8,800 passing yards and 80 touchdowns in high school.

TYLER SHOUGH | JR.

Shough adds a veteran presence under center after leading Oregon to a Pac-12 Championship and an appearance in the Fiesta Bowl a year ago. Shough started in all seven games during 2020 season, throwing for 1,559 yards and 13 touchdowns while completing 63.4 percent of his passes. He was the backup to eventual first-round pick Justin Herbert in 2019.

DONOVAN SMITH | R-FR.

Smith joined the Red Raiders out of local Frenship High School as part of Texas Tech's 2020 signing class. Originally from Las Vegas, Smith played his senior year at Frenship, throwing for 3,123 yards and 25 touchdowns while rushing for 489 yards and 13 scores. The son of running backs coach DeAndre Smith, the younger Smith missed the 2020 season with an injury.

PRESEASON NOTES

tandem DeAndre Washington and Jakeem Grant helped Tech rank among the nation's top offenses.

■ Additionally, this is the first time in school history where a pair of teammates have led the Red Raiders in both rushing and receiving yards during their freshman and sophomore seasons.

YARDS, TOUCHDOWNS STARTING TO RACK UP FOR THOMPSON

■ SaRodorick Thompson has established himself as Texas Tech's top running back the past two seasons as the junior has combined for 1,480 yards and 23 touchdowns on the ground to become the first Red Raider to lead the team in rushing back-to-back years since DeAndre Washington during the 2014-15 seasons.

■ Thompson is only the sixth Red Raider all-time to lead the team in rushing as both a freshman and sophomore, joining an elite list that includes two Doak Walker Award winners in Byron "Bam" Morris (1991-92) and Byron Hanspard (1994-95) as well as James Gray (1986-87), Ricky Williams (1997) and Taurean Henderson (2002-03).

MAKING IT LOOK E-Z

■ Through two seasons, Erik Ezukanma has established himself among the Big 12's top wide receivers as he has caught 90 passes for 1,460 yards and 11 touchdowns during that span. He led the Red Raiders with 46 receptions for 748 yards and six touchdowns this past season en route to becoming the first Red Raider wide receiver to garner All-Big 12 first team honors since two-time Biletnikoff Award winner Michael Crabtree in 2008. He joined his position coach Joel Filani as one of five Red Raider wide receivers to collect first team honors during the Big 12 era (Crabtree, Filani, Jarrett Hicks, Mickey Peters).

■ Ezukanma will enter his junior season as the Big 12's returning leader in receiving yards per game as he ranked second in the league after averaging 74.8 yards, trailing only departed Oklahoma State standout Tylan Wallace and his 92.2 yards per game. Ezukanma averaged 10 more yards per game more than any other returning Big 12 wide receiver as he also ranked third in the league for total receiving yards.

4.	Winston Wright Jr. (West Virginia)	55.3
5.	R.J. Sneed (Baylor)	55.2

PLENTY OF EXPERIENCE RETURNS ON DEFENSE

■ Keith Patterson might have his most experienced defense of his tenure in 2021 as the third-year defensive coordinator brings back eight starters as well as the majority of his two-deep. Overall, Texas Tech's 2021 defense will feature eight players with 10 or more starts over their career and three players with at least 200 tackles for their career.

■ Between returning linebackers Colin Schooler and Riko Jeffers and newcomer Marquis Waters, Patterson will have three players with plenty of experience as all three have recorded more than 200 tackles for their careers. In fact, Texas Tech is the only FBS program in the country with three players on its 2021 roster that currently boast 225 or more tackles.

■ Waters will be a welcome addition to the Red Raider secondary as he arrives as a three-year starter from Duke where he made 234 tackles as a safety. He made 35 starts during his time as a Blue Devil, which coincided with the tenure of Texas Tech second-year associate head coach and secondary coach Derek Jones, who departed the Duke staff following the 2018 season.

STILL MORE FOOTBALL TO BE PLAYED

■ It didn't take long for Seth Collins to decide he would return for a seventh season. The super senior made his decision before the Red Raiders played their final game of the 2020 season, simply stating he had plenty more football left in him.

■ Collins, who was sidelined with an injury after the first four games, moved to the secondary following the season opener against Houston Baptist, a position he will remain for his final year of eligibility. Collins approached Matt Wells and his staff about the position switch as he saw increased time in the secondary last season and was a standout on special teams, finishing tied for the team high with four tackles on kickoff coverage alone.

■ It's the third position switch of Collins' career as he was previously a quarterback at Oregon State as a true freshman in 2015 before transitioning to wide receiver a year later. He transferred to Texas Tech prior to the 2018 campaign and remained a wide receiver, catching 33 passes for 322 yards and a pair of touchdowns during that time, the bulk of which that came in his debut season.

REWRITING THE RECORD BOOK

Austin McNamara has quickly become a fixture in the Texas Tech record book in only two seasons as the junior punter already owns two of the top five single-season averages in program history as well as the longest punt by any Big 12 player in league history. His success will make him a sure candidate for the Ray Guy Award entering the 2021 season.

McNamara wrapped the 2020 season averaging an impressive 46.3 yards per punt, the second-highest clip in school history behind only the 46.8 average compiled by Mark Bounds in 1991. He previously averaged 45.0 yards per punt as a true freshman in 2020, which now ranks fifth in program history. He is the only Red Raider with two of the top-five punting averages currently in the school record book.

TEXAS TECH SINGLE-SEASON PUNTING AVERAGE LEADERS

1. Mark Bounds (1991) — 46.8
2. Austin McNamara (2020) — 46.3
3. Taylor Symmank (2015) — 46.0
4. Alex Reyes (2006) — 45.2
5. Austin McNamara (2019) — 45.0
6. Maury Buford (1981) — 44.8

FIELDS TO THE PROS

■ Not many defensive backs in the Big 12 yet alone the country have likely seen as much playing time as DaMarcus Fields the past four seasons. Fields, entering his sixth and final season as a Red Raider, leads the team with 38 career starts at Texas Tech from his spot at cornerback where he has recorded 174 tackles, four interceptions and 38 passes defended over his career.

■ Fields led the Big 12 and ranked fourth in the FBS this past season after averaging 1.4 passes per game. He is third among returning FBS players in the category, trailing only the averages of Maryland's Tarheeb Still and Michigan's Germon Green.

■ For his career, Fields ranks second among returning FBS players with his 38 passes defended, which trails only the 46 of Devin Taylor from Virginia Tech. His total ranks third among Red Raiders since 2000 as Justis Nelson (2013-16) had 39 over his career, while Jamar Wall (2006-09) recorded 43.

BACK TO SCHOOL(ER)

■ Texas Tech will boast the nation's active leader in both tackles and tackles for loss entering the 2021 season as Colin Schooler returns for his final collegiate season. Schooler, who arrived at Tech as a graduate transfer in the weeks leading up to the 2021 season, has totaled 375 tackles over his career, which includes 51.0 that have gone for a loss.

■ Schooler, a Freshman All-America honoree and the Pac-12 Freshman Defensive Player of the Year in 2017, will enter his final collegiate season as the FBS active leader in both career tackles and career tackles for loss. Schooler will need 5.0 tackles for loss during the 2021 season to join the all-time leaders in FBS history as he will match Cincinnati's Antwan Peek (2000-02) and Michigan's Brandon Graham (2006-09) for 24th all-time in FBS history.

5.	Demetrius Taylor (Appalachian State)	35.5

MORE ON AUSTIN MCNAMARA...

■ Austin McNamara set social media on fire midway through the 2020 season with his booming 87-yard punt against West Virginia, which marked the longest by an FBS kicker since 2017 and the longest in Texas Tech and Big 12 history. McNamara broke the Texas Tech single-game record for the longest punt that was previously set by R.W. Moyers in 1945 against West Texas State. Moyers launched an 85-yard punt in the win, which is the only other punt of 80 yards or longer in school history. He broke the previous Big 12 record of 85 yards that was set by Oklahoma's Tress Way in 2010 against Utah State.

■ McNamara closed the 2020 season ranked fifth in the FBS for punting average and fourth among punters who played in at least five games. He was easily the Big 12 leader in punting as his average was five yards higher than any other specialist, earning him All-Big 12 first team honors for a second-consecutive season.

■ McNamara became the first Red Raider since Le'Raven Clark in 2014-15 to collect first team honors in consecutive seasons and the first Tech specialist to do so during the Big 12 era. He joins Clark (2014-15), Michael Crabtree (2007-08), Joel Filani (2005-06), Jarrett Hicks (2004-05), Kevin Curtis (1999-00) and Montae Reagor (1997-98) as the only other Red Raiders to garner All-Big 12 first team accolades twice in a career.

BIG 12 RETURNING LEADERS IN RECEIVING YARDS PER GAME

	Name (School)	Opponent	Yards
1.	Austin McNamara (TTU)	West Virginia (2020)	87
2.	Tress Way (Oklahoma)	Utah State (2010)	85
3.	Sam Koch (Nebraska)	Pittsburgh (2005)	84
4.	Curtis Ansel (Kansas)	Baylor (2002)	83

DEGREES IN HAND

■ Texas Tech will enter the 2021 season with 16 student-athletes who are current college graduates, including seven who earned their undergraduate degrees in Lubbock. The list of Tech graduates includes Seth Collins, Dawson Deaton, Riko Jeffers, McLane Mannix, DaMarcus Fields, Xavier Martin and Nelson Mbanasor.

■ In addition, nine other Red Raiders transferred to Texas Tech after earning their degrees at various other universities. That list features Brandon Bouyer-Randle (Michigan State), Josh Burger (Wofford), Eric Monroe (LSU), Jacob Morgenstern (Duke), Colin Schooler (Arizona), Chadarius Townsend (Alabama), Marquis Waters (Duke), Tyler Shough (Oregon) and T.J. Storment (Colorado State).

IN THEIR WORDS

Throughout the past year, Texas Tech has published a series of first-person narratives from various Red Raiders appropriately titled "In My Words." Texas Tech began the series last summer during the COVID-19 pandemic, highlighting several off-the-field stories. The series included stories from Jaylon Hutchings and his journey to recover from a knee injury that ended his junior year of high school as well as Tony Bradford Jr. in the weeks that followed the killing of George Floyd. Each of these stories can be found via @TexasTechFB on Twitter and on the student-athletes' own Twitter pages. You can also find the pages via TexasTech.exposure.co.

COACHING STAFF

MATT WELLS

Head Coach | Third Season
Utah State '96
52-48 as Head Coach

@TTUCoachWells

Matt Wells, a two-time conference Coach of the Year recipient, enters his third season at Texas Tech as he was named the 16th head football coach in school history on Nov. 29, 2018.

The 2021 season will be Wells' ninth season as a collegiate head coach as he has compiled a 52-48 overall record following six seasons at his alma mater, Utah State, and two years leading the Red Raiders. He led the Aggies to five bowl appearances during his tenure, a feat he will look to accomplish frequently as he continues to build the Texas Tech program.

TEXAS TECH

Through his first two seasons in Lubbock, Wells has set the groundwork for future success at Texas Tech behind a commitment to creating a true developmental program with the Red Raiders. That effort has already paid off as Tech has landed seven All-Big 12 first team selections during that time, its most in a two-year span since the 2004-05 seasons.

In only their first season, Wells and his staff helped Jordyn Brooks and Douglas Coleman III produce their best seasons as Red Raiders, ultimately leading to All-Big 12 first team accolades. Both were strong candidates for national awards as well with Coleman a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and Brooks a finalist for the Butkus Award. They were joined on the All-Big 12 first team by punter Austin McNamara, who led all FBS freshmen after averaging 45.0 yards per punt during the 2019 season.

McNamara was recognized on the All-Big 12 first team again following the 2020 season as he was one of four Red Raiders honored by the conference coaches, joining offensive lineman Jack Anderson, wide receiver Erik Ezukanma and defensive back Zech McPhearson. It marked Tech's most first-team accolades since 2005, highlighting a challenging season that will be forever remembered for the challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The arrival of Wells and his staff was a welcome sight for Brooks, who thrived in a new defensive scheme that helped him rank among the national leaders in total tackles and tackles for a loss. Brooks was a regular in the backfield as he notched 20.0 tackles for a loss as a senior, the most for a Red Raider since Adell Duckett set the school record in 2003. He averaged 1.8 tackles for a loss per game, which ranked second in the FBS despite Brooks missing significant time in November due to injury.

National pundits also noticed Brooks' efforts as he was tabbed a second team All-American by multiple publications following the season. It marked the first time a Tech linebacker had earned first or second team All-America accolades since College Football Hall of Famer and Ring of Honor member Zach Thomas in 1995.

The Seattle Seahawks agreed with many of the awards committees as well, selecting Brooks with the 27th overall pick of the 2020 NFL Draft. He became only the eighth Red Raider all-time to go off the board in the first round and just the third defensive player to do so, joining the likes of Ted Watts (1981) and another College Football Hall of Famer and Ring of Honor member in Gabe Rivera (1983).

Brooks is one of four Red Raiders to hear his name called during the NFL Draft under Wells as Broderick Washington Jr. was picked in the fifth round by the Baltimore Ravens in 2020, while McPhearson was selected in the third round of the 2021 draft by the Philadelphia Eagles followed by Anderson in the seventh round to the Buffalo Bills.

For Wells, he became the first head coach to deliver multiple NFL Draft picks in each of his first two seasons since Jerry Moore during the 1982-83 drafts. It also marked the first time since the 2004-05 seasons where Tech boasted multiple NFL Draft selections in back-to-back years.

Wells and his staff have also been instrumental in helping Red Raiders land free-agent opportunities in the NFL. Terence Steele is a shining example of that effort after joining the Dallas Cowboys in 2020 where he made 14 starts at right tackle as a rookie. Tech also had three Red Raiders sign free-agent deals following the 2021 draft as Eli Howard joined the Atlanta Falcons, while T.J. Vasher joined Steele with the Cowboys and Thomas Leggett went to the Kansas City Chiefs.

UTAH STATE

Wells was tabbed the head coach for his alma mater on Dec. 20, 2012, following two seasons as an assistant coach on staff. Utah State experienced its best stretch in history during Wells' tenure as the Aggies won 44 games and played in five bowl games under his guidance, quite the feat for a program that had only eight postseason trips to its record prior to his promotion.

Wells, the fourth-longest tenured coach in program history, departed Utah State as the only coach to lead the Aggies to at least three bowl games as well as multiple bowl victories. In fact, Wells was a player (1993), a coordinator (2012) or the head coach (2013-14) for four of Utah State's five bowl wins in its history with the lone exception coming at the 2018 Gildan New Mexico Bowl after he had already accepting the job at Texas Tech.

Wells closed his tenure in Logan as the second-winningest coach in program history as his 44 victories trailed only the total of E. Lowell Romney, who accumulated 128 wins over a 29-year stretch from 1919-48. Additionally, Wells compiled a 30-18 record in Mountain West play, trailing only Romney in all-time conference wins among Utah State head coaches.

The Aggies recorded two of their three 10-win campaigns in school history under Wells as Utah State finished 10-4 in only his second season in 2014 and then 11-2 in 2018, which matched the school record for victories. Utah State was also 9-5 during Wells' debut season in 2013, which marked the most wins for a first-year head coach in program history.

Utah State recorded one of its best seasons in school history in Wells' final year as the Aggies closed the 2018 campaign ranked 21st in the final Amway Coaches' poll and 22nd in the Associated Press poll. It marked only the fourth time in school history the Aggies, who climbed as high as No. 13 during the regular season, ended a year among the top-25 schools in the AP poll. The No. 13 ranking was Utah State's highest at any point in a season since the 1961 campaign.

Wells was named the 2018 Mountain West Coach of the Year for the second time during his time in Logan, making him just the fifth Mountain West coach to receive the honor twice in a career, joining the likes of Sonny Lubick, Rocky Long, Urban Meyer and Gary Patterson. He also received the accolade following his debut season in 2013, which was highlighted by an appearance in the inaugural Mountain West Championship game and a victory over No. 24 Northern Illinois in the San Diego County Credit Union Poinsettia Bowl.

The bowl victory over Northern Illinois was the first of three wins over top-25 foes during Wells' tenure, one more than the Aggies had won in their previous 116 seasons combined. The Aggies followed with a top-25 win in each of the next two seasons after going on the road to defeat No. 18 BYU in 2014 and then topping No. 21 Boise State at home in 2015.

Utah State boasted one of the most dynamic offenses in the country in 2018, averaging 47.5 points per game, which only trailed Oklahoma among schools nationally. The Aggies, who also ranked among the national leaders for fewest sacks allowed (4th), total offense (11th), passing efficiency (14th) and passing offense (17th), lighted up scoreboards to the tune of 618 points, snapping the Mountain West and Utah State single-season records in the process.

Overall, the Aggies snapped 34 school records and tied six others during the 2018 season alone, breaking the previous marks for touchdowns (79), points scored (618), points per game (47.5), total offense per game (497.4), yards of total offense (6,466), total passing yards (3,825), completions (303), extra points (75) and yards per kick return (30.3). Utah State also had 29 scoring drives under one minute, nearly double its previous school record.

It wasn't only the offense that pushed the Aggies as Utah State led or shared the national lead in turnovers gained (32), passes intercepted (22), kickoff return average (30.3) and three-and-outs forced (5.7 per game). Utah State finished plus-14 in the turnover margin, ranking third in the FBS for the category.

Utah State found the end zone in multiple ways thanks to six defensive touchdowns and four others that came via special teams. The Aggies ranked second in the FBS with 10 non-offensive touchdowns, trailing only Temple among schools nationally. Over his six seasons, Utah State combined for 36 defensive and special teams touchdowns, which ranked among the nation's elite during that span.

Strong defenses were a staple under Wells as the Aggies allowed only 22.2 points per game in 2018, marking the third time during his tenure Utah State surrendered 25 points or less in a season. Utah State opened Wells' tenure as head coach by giving up only 17.1 points per game in 2013 (seventh in the FBS) and 19.7 points per game in 2014 (12th in the FBS). Opposing offenses averaged less than 30 points per game against Utah State in each of Wells' six seasons.

The category Utah State possibly made its presence known best was in the turnover department as the Aggies created 152 takeaways under Wells, which finished tied for fifth nationally over his tenure. Utah State led the Mountain West and trailed only Houston, Louisiana Tech, Washington and UCF in combined forced turnovers over those six seasons.

Utah State's success in all three facets of the game led to six Aggies being selected in the NFL Draft under Wells as defensive backs Maurice Alexander and Nevin Lawson were selected in the fourth round in 2014 followed by linebackers Nick Vigil and Kyler Fackrell in the third round two years later, running back Devante Mays in the seventh round in 2017 and another running back in Darwin Thompson in the sixth round of the 2019 draft.

Wells' draftees on the defensive side of the ball have already flourished at the next level as all four have played in over 100 NFL games over their respective careers entering the 2021 season. Thompson, meanwhile, claimed a Super Bowl title during his rookie season with the Kansas City Chiefs in 2019.

That list doesn't include quarterback Jordan Love, who excelled under Wells in 2018 after throwing for 3,567 yards and 32 touchdowns with only six interceptions. He snapped five single-season school record that year, breaking the marks for touchdown passes, passing yards, points responsible for (234) as well as games with 300 passing yards (7) and 400 passing yards (2).

Love declared for the NFL Draft following his junior season in 2019, ending his career as the school's all-time leader with 9,003 yards of total offense. Love, who also ranked second with 8,600 career passing yards and tied for second with 60 touchdown passes, was selected 26th overall by the Green Bay Packers in the 2020 NFL Draft, becoming the first Aggie to hear his name called in the first round since 1970. He was the first Utah State quarterback to be chosen in any round since 1988 and only the second signal caller to be selected in the first round.

One of the top stars of the Wells era went undrafted, however, as Zach Vigil signed with the Miami Dolphins as an undrafted free agent after earning Mountain West Defensive Player of the Year honors as a senior in 2014. He was also tabbed

A DEVELOPMENTAL PROGRAM

Since taking the reigns as Texas Tech's head coach, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in turning the Red Raiders into a "developmental program." Over his career, Wells and his staff have done just that with eight former players moving on to the NFL, including a pair of 2019 first-round draft picks in Jordyn Brooks and Jordan Love. Below is a look at several notable players under Wells who have moved on to the next level.

JORDYN BROOKS | LB

Brooks put together his best season of his career under Wells en route to being selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks in 2020 NFL Draft. He became the first Red Raider defensive player to be chosen in the first round since Ring of Honor member Gabe Rivera in 1983.

ZECH MCPHEARSON | DB

McPhearson developed into a top NFL prospect after transferring to Texas Tech prior to Wells' first season in 2019. He earned All-Big 12 first team honors as a senior before being selected in the fourth round of the 2021 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.

JORDAN LOVE | QB

Love set numerous school records on his way to establishing himself among the nation's top quarterback prospects under Wells and offensive coordinator David Yost at Utah State in 2018. He was later selected 26th overall by the Green Bay Packers in the 2020 NFL Draft.

NICK VIGIL | LB

Vigil, a two-time first team All-Mountain West selection under Wells, heard his name called in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft. He played his first four NFL season with the Cincinnati Bengals before signing with the LA Chargers and then the Minnesota Vikings.

a second team All-American by USA Today, becoming one of seven Aggies to garner All-America status during Wells' tenure.

Wells mentored a pair of first team All-Americans over his final two seasons as defensive back Jalen Davis (2017) and kick returner Savon Scarver (2018) were both recognized by the Walter Camp Foundation. For Scarver, he led the nation after averaging 33.7 yards per kickoff return, becoming only the third consensus All-American all-time at Utah State and just the 16th in Mountain West history.

Davis picked off five of his 11 career interceptions as a senior in 2017 as he also collected first team All-Mountain West accolades. Davis ended his Utah State career as the school leader with 37 pass breakups and 48 passes defended and ranked fourth all-time for interceptions. He was one of 14 Aggies to be named to the All-Mountain West first team under Wells.

Wells was only the second Utah State graduate to be appointed the school's head football coach, joining Chris Pella, who led the Aggies from 1983-85.

CAREER PATH TO BEING NAMED A HEAD COACH

Prior to accepting the head coaching position, Wells spent two seasons as an assistant coach with the Aggies, serving as quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator in 2011 before being promoted to offensive coordinator a year later. Utah State won 18 games in those two seasons, including a school-record 11 victories in 2012.

As offensive coordinator, Wells helped Utah State claim the Western Athletic Conference (WAC) title, its first outright conference championship since 1936 and just its third in school history. That season, Wells directed an Aggie offense that set single-season school records for total points (454), total offense (6,108), completions (285) and total yards per game (469.8), while ranking second in points per game (34.9) and total passing yards (3,445).

Nationally, Utah State's 2012 offense ranked second in the WAC and 23rd in the FBS for total offense, averaging 469.8 yards per game. The Aggies also ranked 18th nationally in passing efficiency (153.21), 25th in rushing offense (204.8 yards per game), 31st in fewest sacks allowed (1.38 per game), 33rd in scoring offense (34.9 points per game) and 39th in passing offense (265.0 yards per game). Utah State closed the 2012 campaign scoring 38 or more points in each of its final seven games.

Wells was instrumental in the development of quarterback Chuckie Keeton, who earned first team All-WAC honors in 2012 after setting single-season school records for touchdown passes (27), passing yards (3,373), completion percentage (.676), completions (275) and total offense (3,992). Keeton also earned WAC Offensive Player of the Week honors four times that year, which marked a new single-season school record.

Keeton remains Utah State's all-time leader in career touchdown passes (62) and ranks second for yards of total offense (8,808) and completion percentage (.629) as well as third for passing yards (7,393), completions (672), passing attempts (1,068). Keeton went on to join Wells' staff at both Utah State and Texas Tech as a graduate assistant before accepting his first full-time coaching position as the running backs coach for the Aggies immediately following the 2020 campaign.

Wells returned to his alma mater in a coaching role after two different stints at New Mexico, the first as the wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator from 2007-08. He rejoined the Lobos' staff as wide receivers coach in 2010 following one year as the passing game coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Louisville.

Wells has been part of 11 bowl teams and two conference championships during his coaching career, which began at the U.S. Naval Academy from 1997-01. Under then head coach Charlie Weatherbie, Wells served as the Midshipmen's quarterbacks, fullbacks and wide receivers coach where he was one of a few schools to recruit a future Red Raider legend in Wes Welker. Additionally, Wells was also Navy's junior varsity head coach throughout his tenure.

Following his time at Navy, Wells returned to his home state of Oklahoma to serve as the tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at Tulsa. During his six seasons with the Golden Hurricane (2002-06), Wells worked alongside two of his future assistant coaches in defensive coordinator Keith Patterson and co-defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach Derek Jones.

PERSONAL

Wells, a quarterback for the Aggies from 1994-96, was a member of two conference championship teams as a student-athlete, which came as a redshirt freshman in 1993 and as a senior in 1996 when Utah State was a member of the Big West Conference.

The Aggies earned a share of the Big West title each of those two seasons, the first of which garnered Utah State an invite to the 1993 Las Vegas Bowl II. Utah State topped Ball State, 42-33, in that game for its first bowl victory in school history.

A native of Sallisaw, Oklahoma, Wells earned his bachelor's degree in business marketing from Utah State in 1996, graduating cum laude. He and his wife, Jen, have two daughters, Jadyn and Ella, and one son, Wyatt. Jadyn will be a freshman at Texas Tech beginning this fall.

In only their short time at Texas Tech, the Wells family has contributed significantly to the Lubbock community through local non-profit organizations such as Voice for Hope and Women's Protective Services through his Women's Football Clinic as well as the South Plains COVID-19 Relief Fund.

SONNY CUMBIE

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks | First Season

Texas Tech '04

@SonnyCumbie_TTU

Sonny Cumbie, one of the top passers in school history and now one of the most-innovative offensive minds in college football, returns for his second stint on the Texas Tech staff as he was named offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach by head coach Matt Wells in December 2020.

Cumbie, who spent the last seven years at Big 12 rival TCU, was previously an assistant coach on the Texas Tech staff from 2010-13, serving first as the inside receivers coach his first three seasons and then as co-offensive coordinator and outside receivers coach his final year. He was also a graduate assistant during the 2009 season.

Cumbie departed Texas Tech following the 2013 season for TCU where he oversaw the Horned Frogs' quarterbacks throughout his tenure and served as the sole offensive play caller each of the final four years. TCU boasted the Big 12's second-best conference record (38-25) and its third-best overall mark (58-30) over his seven seasons, which coincided with six bowl appearances.

Once the quarterback in one of Texas Tech's biggest bowl wins, Cumbie returns to West Texas where he threw for 4,742 yards as a senior in 2004, the sixth-highest total in school history and one of the top-25 marks in NCAA history. Cumbie, who waited patiently as a former walk-on quarterback to finally lead the prolific Tech offense, twice led the Red Raiders to 70-point games that season en route to garnering honorable mention All-Big 12 accolades as well as Academic All-Big 12 first team honors.

Cumbie might be best remembered, however, for his 520 passing yards in Texas Tech's 2004 Holiday Bowl victory over (then) No. 4 California, capping off an 8-4 season. Cumbie was tabbed the Holiday Bowl MVP for his performance as he still owns the Holiday Bowl and the Tech bowl records for most passing yards.

Following his successful career at Texas Tech, Cumbie went on to play for the Los Angeles Avengers of the Arena Football League. He was named the AFL All-Rookie Team quarterback and was a finalist for Rookie of the Year. Upon completion of the 2006 season, Cumbie was signed by the Baltimore Ravens. He was back in the AFL for the 2007 season, leading the Avengers to their first playoff victory in franchise history while throwing for 83 touchdowns.

After the AFL suddenly ceased operations before the 2009 season, Cumbie became the head coach and director of player personnel for the San Angelo Stampede of the Indoor Football League. Four games into the season, Cumbie added starting quarterback to his list of responsibilities. Once again, as he had with the Avengers, Cumbie led a franchise to the playoff and its first playoff win in the organization's history.

The stint in the IFL helped Cumbie catch the coaching bug as he joined Mike Leach's staff that next fall as a graduate assistant. He was promoted to a full-time assistant coach the following year under Tommy Tuberville and then was retained with a co-offensive coordinator title under Kliff Kingsbury in 2013. The Red Raiders threw for at least 4,000 yards in each of his four seasons on staff, all while averaging an impressive 35.1 points per game during that span.

Cumbie coached a pair of 1,000-yard receivers in Darrin Moore and Eric Moore during the 2012 season, making the pair the first teammates to record 1,000-yard seasons since 2007 when two future NFL stars in Michael Crabtree and Danny Amendola did so. A year later, Tech utilized two true freshman quarterbacks and still boasted one of the nation's most prolific offenses, finishing second in the FBS for passing yards per game (392.8) and eighth for total offense (511.0).

Cumbie provided Red Raider Nation with a taste of his play-calling ability at the 2012 Meineke Car Care Bowl as he stepped into the role as interim offensive coordinator. The Red Raiders amassed 429 yards of total offense en route to a 34-31 win over Minnesota, one of four bowl victories for Tech with Cumbie on staff.

Cumbie's impact was immediately felt at TCU as the Horned Frogs became the nation's most-improved offense in both total yards (+188.2 yards per game) and scoring (+21.4 points per game) in only his first season. TCU's 21.4 points per game improvement broke the Big 12 record of 19.1 that was set by Oklahoma in 1999 and was the largest improvement by any team nationally since Northwestern increased its average by 24.0 points between the 1999-2000 campaigns.

The Horned Frogs ranked second in the FBS in scoring and fifth for total offense in 2014 after averaging 46.5 points per game and 533.0 yards. TCU set 26 school records on offense that season alone as the Horned Frogs went from 4-8 in the year prior to Cumbie's arrival to 12-1 overall with a Big 12 title and a 42-3 rout of No. 9 Ole Miss in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

TCU wrapped the 2015 season with an 11-2 record after rallying from a 31-0 halftime deficit to top No. 15 Oregon in the Valero Alamo Bowl, which matched Tech's own postseason record for the largest come-from-behind victory in bowl history. Bram Kohlhausen, making his first collegiate start, collected Alamo Bowl Offensive MVP honors and was tabbed to the Associated Press All-Bowl Team after completing 28-of-45 passes for 351 yards and two touchdowns to go with two scores on the ground.

TCU, for the second-straight year, set multiple school records offensively as the Horned Frogs ranked third nationally in total offense (562.8 yards per game) and seventh in scoring (42.1 points per game). TCU recorded at least 50 points in five different games that season and reached the 40-point mark an impressive eight times.

Over those two seasons, Cumbie was instrumental in the development of Trevone Boykin into a two-time All-American and a two-time finalist for the Davey O'Brien Award. Boykin, the 2014 Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year, finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy voting as a junior in 2014 and then ninth as a senior a year later. He later signed a free-agent contract with the Seattle Seahawks.

Cumbie helped push TCU to the Big 12 Championship game and a top-10 ranking in his first year as play caller in 2017 as the Horned Frogs closed the year at 11-3 overall following a 39-37 victory over No. 13 Stanford in the Valero Alamo Bowl. Kenny Hill set the TCU single-season mark for completion percentage (67.2) while leading the FBS for third-down completion percentage (67.3). Hill went to earn Alamo Bowl Offensive MVP accolades after throwing for 314 yards and two touchdowns, while also rushing for a score and catching another.

Max Duggan blossomed into the latest successful Cumbie protégé in 2019 as he broke the TCU true freshman records with 2,077 passing yards and 15 touchdowns after earning the starting nod in only the third game of the season. In his two seasons under Cumbie, Duggan has already thrown for 3,872 yards and 25 touchdowns, while also rushing for an additional 1,081 yards and 10 touchdowns. He was an honorable mention All-Big 12 pick following his true freshman season.

Cumbie and his wife, Tamra, are both natives of Snyder, Texas, and graduates of Texas Tech. Cumbie graduated from Texas Tech with a bachelor's degree in history, while his wife has a master's degree in technical communication. They are parents to two sons, Grey and Hays.

KEITH PATTERSON

@CoachP_TTU

Defensive Coordinator | Third Season

East Central University '86, Texas A&M Commerce '03

Keith Patterson enters his third season as Texas Tech's defensive coordinator, boasting 13 years of collegiate experience overseeing several of the nation's top defenses. Patterson mentored the Red Raider linebackers during his debut season in 2019 but shifted to assisting with the secondary starting with the 2020 campaign.

This is Patterson's third stint working alongside head coach Matt Wells and his second stop in the Big 12 Conference after spending the 2012-13 seasons in a similar role at West Virginia. Patterson arrived in Lubbock alongside Wells shortly after his hire as head coach as he was previously the defensive coordinator at Utah State in 2018. The two were also on staff together at Tulsa from 2003-06.

Patterson installed an aggressive scheme during his first season in Lubbock as the Red Raiders created 19 takeaways, 14 of which were via an interception. Texas Tech closed the season ranked third in the Big 12 and 17th in the country for interceptions, a category he helped Utah State lead the country in during the 2018 campaign.

Over his last three seasons at both Texas Tech and Utah State, Patterson's units have created 61 takeaways, which ranks tied for eighth among active defensive coordinators during that stretch. Patterson leads all Big 12 defensive coordinators over those three years as his Red Raider defenses have caused 29 turnovers already in his tenure.

The Red Raiders featured two of the nation's top defensive standouts in 2019 as Jordyn Brooks was a finalist for the Butkus Award (top linebacker), while Douglas Coleman III was a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award (top defensive back). For Brooks, it marked the first time Tech had boasted a Butkus Award finalist since Ring of Honor member Zach Thomas in 1995.

Brooks thrived under Patterson's guidance as he recorded 108 tackles, including 20.0 that went for a loss, despite missing the regular-season finale at Texas and most of the TCU game due to injury. He eventually earned second team All-America honors by nearly every organization as well as All-Big 12 first team accolades alongside Coleman, who closed the year with eight interceptions, the second-highest total in Tech single-season history.

Brooks was selected 27th overall of the 2020 NFL Draft as the Seattle Seahawks made him the first Red Raider defensive standout to hear his name called in the first round since College Football Hall of Famer Gabe Rivera in 1983. Brooks is one of three Patterson pupils to receive an NFL opportunity under Patterson as Broderick Washington Jr. was picked in the fifth round of the 2019 draft by the Baltimore Ravens, while Zech McPhearson was chosen in the fourth round a year later by the Philadelphia Eagles.

McPhearson developed into one of the nation's top defensive backs after choosing to transfer to Texas Tech prior to the 2019 season. McPhearson earned All-Big 12 first team accolades as a senior in 2020, becoming only the second Texas Tech cornerback in the Big 12 era to garner the honor. He was the highest-drafted defensive back since Darcel McBath was selected in the second round in 2009.

Patterson was among Wells' first hires at Tech after the two build one of nation's most opportunistic defenses at Utah State in 2018. The Aggies shared the FBS lead with 32 forced turnovers during Patterson's lone season as Utah State finished 11-2 overall, matching the most wins in program history after a victory in the Gildan New Mexico Bowl.

Additionally, Utah State also led the country in interceptions (22) and three-and-outs forced (5.7 per game) under Patterson, while ranking third in defensive touchdowns (6), 16th in third down conversion defense (33.0 percent), 19th in passing efficiency defense (113.76), 21st in fourth down conversion defense (41.9 percent) and 33rd in scoring defense (22.2 points per game).

The 11-win campaign marked only the third time in Utah State history the Aggies have won 10 or more games in a season. The success launched the Aggies into the top-25 polls as Utah State closed the season at No. 21 in the final Amway Coaches' poll and No. 22 in the Associated Press poll. It marked only the fourth in school history the Aggies have ended a season ranked in the AP poll.

Prior to his stint at Utah State, Patterson spent four seasons at Arizona State where he served as defensive coordinator from 2014-16 and then linebackers coach and defensive special teams coordinator in 2017. He worked with the Sun Devils' linebackers in all four of his seasons on staff.

Similar to his defense at Utah State, Patterson took little time in transforming Arizona State into one of the most opportunistic units in the country. The Sun Devils ended his first year on staff ranked sixth in the FBS for turnover margin at plus-14 and also led the Pac-12 with 14 interceptions. Arizona State was 29th in the country for interceptions that year and also ranked among the top-25 units for sacks (13th), fumbles recovered (18th) and red zone defense (23rd).

Arizona State won 28 games and played in three bowl games during Patterson's tenure in Tempe, highlighted by a 10-win campaign and victory in the Sun Bowl in 2014. The Sun Devils defeated four ranked opponents that season, including No. 16 USC at the Coliseum in Los Angeles as well as No. 23 Stanford, No. 18 Utah and No. 8 Notre Dame.

Patterson produced an aggressive defense in Tempe as the Sun Devils led the nation in sacks per game (3.54) following only his second season in 2015. Arizona State recorded 111 tackles for a loss that year, averaging 8.5 per game which led the Pac-12 and ranked third nationally. The Sun Devils forced 370 negative or no-yardage plays on the year, an impressive total that represented 38.3 percent of the total plays Arizona State faced.

Prior to his arrival in Tempe, Patterson spent two seasons at West Virginia where he worked as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach in 2013 and as the co-defensive coordinator and linebackers coach in 2012. His arrival in Morgantown coincided with West Virginia joining the Big 12.

Under Patterson, linebacker Isaiah Bruce was named to three Freshman All-America teams and a pair of All-Big 12 honors in 2012. Bruce finished second on the team with 94 tackles that season and fourth with 6.5 tackles for a loss, while also tying for the team high with two interceptions.

Patterson moved to West Virginia from its former Big East Conference rival Pittsburgh where he served as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach in 2011. The Panthers tormented opponents to the tune of 3.31 sacks and per game and 98.0 tackles for a loss on the year, which ranked third and 12th nationally among FBS programs.

Pittsburgh also closed the 2011 campaign ranked 14th in defensive third-down efficiency (32.98), 21st in rushing defense (116.9 yards per game), 38th in scoring defense (22.4 points per game) and 45th in total defense (350.6 yards per game). Patterson was named Pittsburgh's interim head coach following the regular season, leading the Panthers in the BBVA Compass Bowl. He is 1-1 over his career as an interim head coach as he helped the Red Raiders close the 2020 season with a 16-13 victory over Kansas.

Before that, Patterson spent eight seasons (2003-10) in his native state of Oklahoma at the University of Tulsa. Patterson served as the linebackers coach for his first three seasons with the Golden Hurricanes before being named the primary defensive play-caller in 2006. Tulsa played in six bowl games during Patterson's tenure, which was capped by three 10-win campaigns over his final four seasons.

Patterson molded a defense that led the country with 24 interceptions and ranked third in turnovers gained in 2010 as the Golden Hurricanes finished 10-3 overall after a 62-35 rout of No. 24 Hawaii in the Sheraton Hawaii Bowl. Tulsa picked off the nation's top passing offense five times in the rout, its third-consecutive bowl victory and fourth during Patterson's eight seasons.

Patterson's defense produced three first team All-Conference USA performers in Nick Bunting, Chris Chamberlain and Nelson Coleman, who all rank among the top-10 tacklers in program history. Coleman sits atop that list with 413 career stops, earning Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year honors in 2006 and Western Athletic Conference Newcomer of the Year accolades in 2003. Chamberlain, meanwhile, closed his career with the fifth-highest tackle total in Tulsa history before being selected by the St. Louis Rams in the seventh round of the 2008 NFL Draft.

Tulsa was Patterson's first full-time collegiate position after 16 years at the high school level in both Oklahoma and Texas. He spent two years (2000 and 2002) as the linebackers, defensive backs and special teams coach at Allen (Texas) High School, marking his second stint in the Dallas area after also serving as an assistant coach for the Eagles from 1995-96.

Patterson returned to Allen after serving as the head coach at Ardmore High School in Oklahoma, collecting District Coach of the Year honors after leading the Tigers to the District 1-5A title in 1999. Patterson was also head coach at Edmond Sante Fe High School in 1994, one of 10 years he spent overall in the Oklahoma high school ranks.

Patterson, a native of Marlow, Oklahoma, earned his bachelor's degree in health, physical education and recreation from East Central (Okla.) University in 1986. He was a four-year letterman at defensive back for ECU and later served his alma mater as a graduate assistant coach. He obtained his master's degree in kinesiology and sport studies in 2003 from Texas A&M University-Commerce.

Patterson and his wife Melissa have three daughters and one son.

DEREK JONES

Associate Head Coach/Co-Defensive Coordinator/Secondary
Second Season
Ole Miss '96

@CoachDJCheetah

Derek Jones enters his second season on the Texas Tech staff where he serves as the Red Raiders' associate head coach, co-defensive coordinator and secondary coach.

In only his first season, Jones mentored Zech McPhearson into an All-Big 12 selection, making him only the second Red Raider cornerback to garner first-team accolades since Texas Tech joined the conference in 1996. He was also tabbed a third-team All-American by Pro Football Focus, which was based on the website's grades and advanced statistics.

McPhearson closed the season, his second as a Red Raider, tied for eighth in the FBS for total interceptions and 12th in fumble recoveries as he was one of only four players nationally with at least four interceptions and two fumble recoveries and one of just three from a power-five conference. He shared the Big 12 high for fumble recoveries and also ranked third overall for interceptions.

The Philadelphia Eagles took notice of his strong season, selecting McPhearson in the fourth round of the 2021 NFL Draft. It marked the first time a Red Raider defensive back had been picked in the first four rounds of the draft since Darcel McBath heard his name called early in the second round of the 2009 proceedings. McPhearson was the first Big 12 cornerback chosen in the draft.

Jones, who previously worked alongside head coach Matt Wells and defensive coordinator Keith Patterson at Tulsa in 2006, arrived in Lubbock following a 12-year stint at Duke, the final two of which were spent as the Blue Devils' associate head coach. He has coached defensive backs throughout his entire 23-year career, which also includes stops at Memphis (2007), Middle Tennessee State (2005) and Murray State (2000-04).

Duke rose from among college football bottom-tier teams to one of the top programs in the country during Jones' tenure. The Blue Devils, who had recorded only 10 wins in the previous eight seasons prior to Jones' arrival, claimed the ACC Coastal Division title in 2013 and have reached a bowl game in six of the past eight years with Jones on their staff.

Duke set a school record with 10 wins in 2013 before following with a nine-win campaign in 2014. Duke also boasted eight wins in both 2015 and 2018 after winning the New Era Pinstripe and the Walk-On's Independence Bowls. The Blue Devils' victory in the Pinstripe Bowl in 2015 marked their first bowl victory since 1961.

Jones mentored several Blue Devils into NFL draft picks during his tenure as Ross Cockrell was selected in the fourth round in 2014, while Jamison Crowder heard his name called in the same round a year later. Duke had not previously had a defensive back chosen in the NFL Draft since 1996 prior to Cockrell's selection.

Cockrell was a two-time selection to the All-ACC first team, a Freshman All-American in 2010 and earned honorable mention All-America accolades in 2012 as he finished with 233 tackles, 12 interceptions and 42 pass breakups over his career. He departed Duke as the school's all-time leader in total passes defended (54) and remains in the top 10 for career interceptions alongside fellow Jones mentees Breon Borders (2013-16) and Leon Wright (2006-09).

Borders ended his Duke career ranked second all-time with 34 pass breakups and third with 46 passes defended after also picking off 12 pass attempts over his four seasons. An All-ACC honoree, Borders joined fellow Duke defensive backs Matt Daniels (2012) and Leon Wright (2010) in signing NFL free agent agreements following their collegiate careers.

Crowder, meanwhile, excelled on special teams for the Blue Devils under Jones' watch, earning second team All-America honors by the likes of the Football Writers Association of America, Phil Steele and Sports Illustrated in 2013. He was a second team All-America choice by Lindy's the following year as an all-purpose player.

Crowder was one of three Blue Devils to garner All-America accolades during Jones' time as assistant special teams coordinator, a role he helped oversee for the first 10 years of his tenure. DeVon Edwards, who was also one of Jones' top defensive backs, earned second team All-America honors in 2013 as a return specialist and followed with honorable mention accolades the following two seasons by Sports Illustrated.

Prior to joining the Duke staff, Jones helped push Memphis to a 7-6 overall record in 2007 – a five-game improvement from the previous year – and a berth in the New Orleans Bowl. One of his main pupils off that team, LaKeitharun Ford, was named the squad's co-MVP after posting 45 tackles and two interceptions for the Tigers.

Jones was the cornerbacks coach during his one season at Tulsa in 2006 where Wells was also the tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator and Patterson was in his first year as the Golden Hurricane's co-defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. Tulsa led Conference USA in pass defense and total defense that season en route to an 8-5 record and appearance in the Armed Forces Bowl. His cornerback, Nick Graham, earned All-Conference honors that season and later player with the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL.

Jones joined the Tulsa staff following one season as the defensive backs coach at Middle Tennessee State and five years as the cornerbacks coach and recruiting coordinator at Murray State. Middle Tennessee State ranked 30th nationally in pass defense during Jones' one season on staff.

Murray State produced seven All-Conference selections at cornerback during Jones' five seasons as the Racers led the Ohio Valley Conference in pass defense in 2003 and, one year later, ranked 11th nationally in total defense and 23rd in scoring defense.

Jones received his start in coaching as a graduate assistant for football operations and recruiting at Ole Miss, his alma mater, in 1998. He then served as a defensive graduate assistant coach for the Rebels during the 1999 season.

In addition to his role as a football coach, Jones is a published author as his book, Always Play to Win, went on sale in 2017. The book is a collection of quotes designed to inspire and motivate readers to not only have a positive outlook on life but also to strive to approach every situation with a positive attitude.

A native of Woodruff, South Carolina, Jones lettered four seasons as a cornerback at Ole Miss from 1993-96. He garnered All-SEC second team honors twice and was elected a team captain as a senior before eventually playing in the prestigious Blue-Gray All-Star Classic. He also earned All-SEC accolades in track and field as a sprinter.

Jones received a degree in public administration from Ole Miss in 1996. He went on to play professional with the Toronto Argonauts and Edmonton Eskimos for the Canadian Football League and the Nashville Kats of the Arena Football League.

He and his wife, Naketa, have two daughters, Madison and Brooklyn Savannah. Jones has another daughter, Darquisha.

MARK TOMMERDAHL

Associate Head Coach/Special Teams Coordinator
Third Season
Concordia '83, Wyoming '86

@MTommerdahl

Mark Tommerdahl enters his third season as Texas Tech's associate head coach as he oversees the Red Raider special teams units. He previously assisted with the offensive line for his first two seasons on staff but will concentrate solely on special teams beginning with the 2021 campaign.

Tommerdahl, who arrived in Lubbock after spending the 2018 season at Purdue, brings an extensive background at the collegiate level with more than 30 years of experience, including 25 as a special teams coordinator. His previous stops include the likes of TCU (1998-00), Alabama (2001-02), Texas A&M (2003-07) and California (2013-16) among others.

This is Tommerdahl's second stint working under head coach Matt Wells as he was previously the special teams coordinator and running backs coach at Utah State in 2017. The Aggies played in the Arizona Bowl during his lone season, one of 15 postseason appearances for Tommerdahl over his career, which also includes six conference championships.

Tommerdahl's experience paid dividends for the Red Raiders during his debut season in 2019 as he took over a special teams room that had its starting place kicker, punter and deep snapper from the previous year all graduate. He turned to three freshmen to fill those roles, namely place kicker Trey Wolff and punter Austin McNamara, who turned in two of the best seasons in program history.

McNamara was tabbed a Freshman All-American by the likes of the Football

Writers Association of America (FWAA), Pro Football Focus and The Athletic after averaging a booming 45.0 yards per punt to lead all freshmen nationally. His clip helped Tech rank fourth in the FBS for net punting as the Red Raiders gained 42.5 yards per punt.

In addition, McNamara's average marked the highest mark among Tech freshmen punters in school history and ranked fourth all-time in the single-season almanac. He was also the first Tech punter all-time to garner All-Big 12 first team accolades and the first freshman to do so since Michael Crabtree in 2007. He earned first-team honors again as a sophomore in 2020, becoming just the seventh Red Raider all-time to be recognized by the conference coaches in consecutive seasons.

For as strong of a year McNamara had as a freshman, he was even better as a sophomore. McNamara averaged a booming 46.3 yards per punt in 2020, which easily led the Big 12 and ranked fifth among FBS punters. Additionally, it was the second-highest season average in program history, placing McNamara in an exclusive category as the only punter with two of the top-five years marks as a Red Raider.

The highlight of McNamara's season came midway through the year against West Virginia where he launched an 87-yard punt, essentially flipping the field at a critical moment for the Red Raiders. It set the Tech and Big 12 single-game records for the longest punt in history and followed a 74-yard attempt earlier in the game. The previous Tech record was set roughly 75 years earlier when R.W. Moyers booted an 85-yard punt versus West Texas State.

Wolff, meanwhile, provided a reliable leg as Tech's primary place kicker and kickoff specialist in 2019 as he finished an impressive 20-of-22 on field goal attempts to rank seventh in the FBS in field goal percentage. Wolff, who collected honorable mention All-Big 12 accolades, closed the year with the most successful field goals by a freshman kicker all-time and the second-highest total in school history. He also ranked 14th nationally in field goals per game and 27th in points scored per game.

The Red Raiders have been aggressive on special teams under Tommerdahl with seven blocked kicks during his two seasons, which ranks tied for second among FBS programs during that span. The Red Raiders lead the Big 12 in the category and trail only Army by one entering the 2021 season. Tech has ranked among the top-15 nationally both seasons in blocked kicks, finishing tied for 14th in 2019 and then tied for fourth in 2020.

Zech McPhearson was involved in three of Tech's blocked kicks over his career as he got his hands on two in 2019 and then returned another 90 yards for a touchdown in 2020. McPhearson, a fourth-round pick by the Philadelphia Eagles in the 2021 NFL Draft, became only the second Red Raider since 2000 to knock down multiple kicks in a season, joining current NFL defensive lineman Kerry Hyder from 2013.

The Red Raiders were also aggressive on special teams as well, ranking 14th in the FBS with three blocked kicks, their most in a season since 2008. Zech McPhearson got his hands on two of those blocked kicks, making him only the second Red Raider since 2000 to knock down multiple kicks in a season, joining current NFL defensive lineman Kerry Hyder from 2013.

Tommerdahl's special teams units played a significant role in Purdue's success in 2018 as well, namely in the return game with true freshman Rondale Moore, the 2018 recipient for the Paul Hornung Award that is presented to the nation's most versatile player. Moore was also the Big Ten Freshman of the Year and a first team all-conference pick.

Moore, a standout in the return game and through the air, snapped the Purdue single-season record for all-purpose yards and ranked fourth nationally in the category en route to joining the likes of Saquon Barkley, Christian McCaffrey and Odell Beckham Jr. as Paul Hornung Award winners. He combined for 744 yards on kick returns alone.

In Tommerdahl's lone season at Utah State, the Aggies led the Mountain West and ranked fourth nationally with four blocked punts, their most since the 2012 campaign. Utah State was also among the top-25 teams nationally for kick return defense, finishing 21st in the FBS after allowing only 18.1 yards per return.

Wells added Tommerdahl to his Utah State staff after four seasons at California, the final two of which were spent as the assistant head coach. Tommerdahl coordinated the special teams efforts throughout his tenure in Berkeley and also worked with Cal's tight ends and fullbacks in 2014 and its wide receivers in 2013.

The Golden Bears led the Pac-12 and ranked 14th nationally in kick return defense during Tommerdahl's final season after limiting opponents to only 18.0 yards per return. Dylan Kiumph was also among the nation's top punters that year after closing the 2016 campaign ranked eighth in the FBS with a 44.8 average.

That same season, kicker Matt Anderson broke the Cal school record with 117 points on his way to being named a semifinalist for the prestigious Lou Groza Award. Anderson matched the school record with 22 field goals, including a record-tying five against UCLA. He connected on 84.6 percent of his field goal attempts, finding the uprights on 22 of his 26 kicks.

Cal blocked three punts during the 2015 season en route to an 8-5 record, its first eight-win season since 2009. The Golden Bears, who ranked second nationally in blocked punts as well as punt returns allowed (6) and punt return yards allowed (62), ended the season with a 55-36 victory over Air Force in the Armed Forces Bowl, their first bowl win since 2008. It was Cal's first postseason appearance since 2011.

Trevor Davis became one of the most explosive players in the country under Tommerdahl's guidance in 2014, earning first team All-Pac 12 honors after averaging a school record 32.6 yards per kick return. Davis, who ranked second nationally for kick return average, became only the 20th player in FBS history to return two kickoffs for a touchdown in a game as he found the end zone from 100 and 98 yards out at Washington State.

Prior to his arrival at Cal, Tommerdahl coached one of the top punters in NCAA history at Louisiana Tech in two-time Ray Guy Award winner Ryan Allen, who became the first player to claim the accolade in consecutive seasons (2011-12) and only the second two-time recipient. Allen, now a three-time Super Bowl champion with the New England Patriots, earned first team All-America honors both of those seasons, including unanimous recognition in 2012.

Tommerdahl moved to Louisiana Tech from cross-state program Louisiana-Monroe in 2008 where he stayed one season as the assistant head coach, special teams coordinator and tight ends coach. Before that, he spent five seasons at then-Big 12 rival Texas A&M where he also oversaw the Aggies' special teams and tight ends.

Ten-year NFL veteran Martellus Bennett developed into a NFL Draft second round selection while with the Aggies as he ended his career as the program's all-time leader for both receptions and receiving yards by a tight end. Bennett and punter Justin Brantly both earned Freshman All-America accolades in 2005 under Tommerdahl, who was part of three bowl trips during his Texas A&M tenure.

Tommerdahl was also the special teams coordinator and tight ends coach in similar stops at Alabama, TCU, New Mexico (1997) and Minnesota (1995-96). Alabama claimed the 2002 SEC West Division title during his final season in Tuscaloosa as the Crimson Tide closed the year at No. 11 in the final Associated Press poll. TCU, meanwhile, won a pair of WAC titles over the 1999-2000 seasons, both of which ended in trips to the Mobile Bowl.

A native of Fergus Falls, Minnesota, Tommerdahl began his coaching career in 1984 as a graduate assistant at Wyoming. He spent a total of 11 seasons in various capacities with the Cowboys, helping Wyoming to four bowl appearances and three WAC titles during that time.

Tommerdahl earned his bachelor's degree in business and physical education from Concordia College in Minnesota and a MBA with an emphasis in marketing from Wyoming in 1986. He is married to the former Annette Jondahl, who holds a doctorate degree in counseling education with an emphasis in university administration.

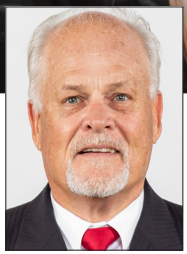
COACHING STAFF



KEVIN COSGROVE

Linebackers Coach | Second Season
Wisconsin-Oshkosh '80

@CoachCos25

Kevin Cosgrove enters his second season on Texas Tech's coaching staff after being named the Red Raiders' linebackers coach on Feb. 11, 2020.

The 2021 season will be Cosgrove's 40th at the collegiate level, which includes 23 seasons as a defensive coordinator. He has coached in 19 bowl games during his illustrious career and has mentored 50-plus players who have gone on to NFL careers as well as 16 All-Americans, four NFL first-round draft picks, a No. 1 overall NFL Draft selection and a Jim Thorpe Award winner.

Cosgrove arrived at Texas Tech after spending the 2019 campaign as the lead defensive analyst on LSU's national championship team. His resume fit the exact profile head coach Matt Wells was looking for in a new linebackers coach – an experienced assistant to mentor an already veteran group.

The linebacker position has developed into possibly Texas Tech's deepest spot heading into the 2021 season as the Red Raiders return their top four tackles, three of which are from Cosgrove's room. Krishon Merriweather led the Red Raiders with 75 tackles in his first year as a Red Raider in 2020 followed by Colin Schooler with 63 and then Riko Jeffers with 58. Schooler will enter the 2021 campaign as the NCAA's active leader in career tackles and career tackles for a loss dating back to his time at Arizona.

Cosgrove has served the bulk of his career as a defensive coordinator at a power-five institution with stops at the likes of Wisconsin (1995-03), Nebraska (2004-07) and Minnesota (2009-10). He also coordinated defenses at Southeast Missouri State (1988), Akron (2011) and most recently at New Mexico (2014-18).

Cosgrove spent a total of seven seasons at New Mexico, the final five of which were as the defensive coordinator. He oversaw the inside linebackers the first three years of his tenure before taking over the entire linebacker group for the remainder of his tenure.

New Mexico appeared in two bowl games during Cosgrove's stay in Albuquerque, breaking a seven-year absence from the postseason after earning a selection to the Gildan New Mexico Bowl in 2015. The Lobos stayed home for their bowl game again a year later, defeating UTSA to cap a nine-win season, which marked their most since 2007 and their second-highest total in program history. New Mexico's 16 victories during that two-year span also matched its most all-time in back-to-back seasons.

Cosgrove might be best known for his 14 seasons at Wisconsin (1990-03) under head coach Barry Alvarez where he started his tenure as linebackers coach for five seasons before being promoted to defensive coordinator prior to the 1995 campaign. During that time, Wisconsin won three Big Ten titles (1993, 1998, 1999), all of which were followed by a victory in the Rose Bowl.

Three of Cosgrove's linebackers led the Big Ten in tackles on three different occasions, including Pete Monty, who remains Wisconsin's all-time leader in career tackles after totaling 451 from 1993-96. Cosgrove's time in Madison earned him an induction into the Wisconsin Football Coaches Hall of Fame in 2008.

He departed Wisconsin in 2004 to join former Big 12 member Nebraska in a similar role where he oversaw a Huskers defense that led the country in sacks (50) and tackles for a loss (124) in 2015. Nebraska also ranked in the top 25 nationally for scoring defense and passing efficiency defense during the 2015 and 2016 campaigns, leading to appearances in both the Alamo and Cotton Bowls those two seasons.

Nebraska also played in the Big 12 Championship game in 2006 after the Huskers won the north division title as part of a nine-win season. Overall, Cosgrove mentored seven Huskers who earned All-Big 12 first or second team accolades during his four seasons.

A native of Chicago, Cosgrove began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Illinois from 1980-82. From there, he earned his first full-time position as the linebackers coach at Morehead State for the 1983 spring practices followed by five seasons in a similar role back at Illinois from 1983-87. He later accepted his first defensive coordinator position at Southeast Missouri State in 1988 and then moved to Colorado State as the Rams' linebackers coach the following year.

Cosgrove was recognized as one of the nation's top recruiters in 2006 by CBS College Sports Network analyst Tom Lemming. He was previously named the top coordinator in the Big Ten by The Sporting News in 2002 and one of the top coordinators in the country in 1999 by ESPN analyst Mel Kiper Jr.

Prior to his coaching career, Cosgrove played collegiately at Benedictine College (Ill.) in 1974 and at Wisconsin-Oshkosh from 1976-78 where he earned a bachelor's of science in physical education in 1980.

Cosgrove and his wife, Shelly, are parents to two sons, Clint and Connor, and one daughter, Shannon.

STEVE FARMER

Offensive Line Coach | Third Season
Illinois State '99

@CoachFarmerTTU

Steve Farmer enters his third season as the offensive line coach at Texas Tech, bringing 22 years of coaching experience at the collegiate level, including nine seasons as an offensive coordinator.

Over his two seasons, Farmers has mentored one of college football's top offensive lines as the Red Raiders have allowed only 34 sacks during that span despite attempting 929 passes. Texas Tech has ranked in the top 30 for fewest sacks allowed in both of Farmer's two seasons as the Red Raiders have been steady in protecting the quarterback even with the high number of pass attempts.

Five different Red Raiders have garnered All-Big 12 accolades under Farmer as Travis Bruffy was a second-team honoree in 2019, while Jack Anderson was named to the first team in 2020 with Dawson Deaton earning second-team recognition. Deaton was previously an honorable mention pick alongside Terence Steele in Farmer's debut season, while Weston Wright collected the same honor the following year.

Texas Tech had not previously had two offensive lineman named to either the first or second teams prior to 2020 when Anderson and Deaton, two former high school teammates, were recognized. It was the first time the Red Raiders had both a first team and second team honoree in more than 20 years since the 1999 season early in Texas Tech's tenure in the Big 12.

The Red Raiders have sent two offensive lineman to the NFL under Farmer as Steele signed as an undrafted free agent agreement with the Dallas Cowboys following the 2019 season. He was a regular at right tackle as right tackle in 2020, becoming only the fourth offensive tackle in the Super Bowl era and the ninth in NFL history to start at least 14 games as an undrafted free agent.

Anderson, meanwhile, was selected by the Buffalo Bills in the seventh round of the 2021 NFL Draft, which marked the first time a Red Raider offensive lineman had been picked since Le'Raven Clark in 2016. He was the first Red Raider to be chosen by the Bills since 1988.

Farmer followed head coach Matt Wells to Lubbock shortly after his hire at Texas Tech as he was previously in a similar capacity at Utah State. Farmer served three seasons as Utah State's offensive line coach, helping build the Aggies into one of the top offenses in the country.

Utah State boasted one of the top offensive lines nationally in 2018, ranking tied for fourth in the FBS after only allowing 10 sacks despite attempting 465 passes on the year. Farmer's unit trailed the likes of Army, Air Force and Florida International in sacks allowed, all of which ranked among the bottom 50 teams nationally in fewest passes attempted.

In fact, the Aggies were one of only three teams in the country to rank in the top 10 for fewest sacks allowed and the top 30 for pass attempts, joining both Washington State and N.C. State. Utah State surrendered only four of its 10 sacks allowed during Mountain West play alone.

Backed by its offensive line, Utah State averaged 47.5 points per game in 2018, finishing second nationally only behind Oklahoma thanks to a balanced attack on the ground and through the air. The Aggies were one of just three teams in the FBS to rank in the top 20 for passing and the top 35 for rushing offense, joining both Oklahoma and Houston.

Utah State closed the 2018 season at 11-2 overall, matching the single-season school record for wins. The Aggies ended the year at No. 21 in the final Amway Coaches' poll and 22nd in the Associated Press poll, marking only the fourth time in school history Utah State has finished a season in the AP rankings.

Under Farmer's guidance, four Aggie offensive linemen received 2018 All-Mountain West honors. Quin Ficklin collected first-team accolades, while Roman Andrus was tabbed to the second team and Rob Castaneda and Sean Taylor were named honorable mention selections. It marked the first time Utah State placed multiple offensive linemen on either the All-Conference first or second teams since 2012 when the Aggies were members of the WAC.

Over his three-year tenure, Farmer tutored a total of nine offensive linemen who earned All-Mountain West accolades as Roman Andrus and Quin Ficklin were recognized in 2017, while Austin Albrecht, Jake Simonich and Austin Stephens were honored in 2016. Simonich and Stephens both went on to sign NFL free agent contracts with the Houston Texans and Carolina Panthers, respectively.

Prior to Utah State, Farmer spent six seasons as the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at Louisiana-Monroe from 2010-15, his second stint with the Warhawks. Farmer was also on Monroe's staff from 2004-08, beginning as the offensive line coach from 2004-06 before earning a promotion to co-offensive coordinator in 2007. He was the sole offensive coordinator during his final season.

In his second stint at Monroe, Farmer mentored 17 offensive players who garnered various All-Sun Belt Conference honors, including quarterback Kolton Browning, who was named the league's Offensive Player of the Year as a junior in 2012. Browning helped lead Monroe to eight wins that season and an appearance in the Independence Bowl, the school's first postseason trip since transitioning to the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) level in 1995.

Browning was named a Freshman All-American by College Football News in 2010 after throwing for 2,552 yards and 18 touchdowns. He tied the Monroe school records for touchdown passes in a game (5) and consecutive games with 200-plus passing yards (8) before closing his career as the school's all-time leader for passing yards (10,263), pass completions (951), pass attempts (1,577) and touchdown passes (81).

During his first stay in Monroe, Farmer produced one of the best offensive lines in school history as his 2007 unit paved the way for Calvin Dawson, a two-time Sun Belt rushing champion, to his best season as a Warhawk with 1,414 yards on the ground. Dawson ended his career with 3,378 rushing yards, the most in Monroe history.

The Warhawks led the Sun Belt in fewest sacks allowed from 2004-06 after combining to surrender only 28 during that stretch. Monroe ranked second in the FBS with seven sacks allowed in 2004 before finishing fourth with only eight sacks a year later and then fifth in 2006 with 13 sacks given up.

Monroe shared its first Sun Belt title in 2005 after finishing 5-2 in conference play. The Warhawks added a historic victory two years later, traveling to Tuscaloosa to shock Alabama, 21-14, in the regular-season finale. The victory marked only Monroe's second victory over an SEC opponent in its history at the time.

In between his two stints in Monroe, Farmer returned to his alma mater, Illinois State, where he served as the offensive coordinator in 2009. Farmer was previously a first team All-Missouri Valley Conference honoree at center for the Redbirds in 1998 and a member of Illinois State's 1998 FCS playoff team.

Farmer, who began his collegiate career at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, remained on the Illinois State staff for two seasons, coaching the tight ends in 1998 and then the defensive tackles in 1999. Illinois State reached the NCAA FCS semifinals in 1999, his final year on staff.

Farmer moved from there into his first offensive line position at Eastern Illinois where his unit allowed only 17 sacks over the 2001-02 campaigns. Eastern Illinois averaged over 35 points per game en route to winning the Ohio Valley Conference titles each of his two seasons. Farmer mentored eight All-Ohio Valley linemen during that stretch as the Panthers made two appearances in the NCAA I-AA playoffs. Farmer departed the Eastern Illinois staff in 2003, moving to Eastern Michigan for one season.

Farmer earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Illinois State in 1999. He and his wife, Amy, have a daughter, Rebekah, and a son, Luke.

JOEL FILANI

Outside Receivers Coach | Third Season
Texas Tech '06, Boise State '14

@Coach_Fila

Red Raider great Joel Filani enters his third season as the outside receivers coach at Texas Tech, the same position he starred at during the mid-2000s.

Filani's work has been evident through his first two seasons back at his alma mater as he helped develop Erik Ezukanma into an All-Big 12 first team wide receiver in 2020 and a strong candidate for the Biletnikoff Award entering the 2021 season. Ezukanma became the first Red Raider wide receiver to garner first team All-Big 12 accolades by the conference coaches since Red Raider great Michael Crabtree did so in 2008.

In his two seasons under Filani, Ezukanma has combined for 88 catches for 1,412 yards and 10 touchdowns, all while becoming the first Red Raider to lead the team in receiving yards in consecutive years since Jakeem Grant in 2014-15 and the first underclassman to do so since Crabtree in 2007-08.

RJ Turner also developed into one of Tech's top targets during Filani's first season in 2019 as he led the team with 45 receptions en route to being named an All-Big 12 honorable mention selection. Turner, who arrived at Tech as a graduate assistant from Louisiana-Monroe, led the team with three different games of at least 100 receiving yards with all three coming during conference play.

Filani joined Matt Wells' charter staff prior to the 2019 season, returning to his alma mater where he was a two-time All-Big 12 first team selection and remains one of the top wide receivers in school history. Filani recorded 2,667 receiving yards and 23 touchdowns through the air during his career from 2003-06, both of which still rank among the top career leaders in school history.

Filani's best season came as a senior in 2006 when he caught 91 passes for 1,300 yards and 13 touchdowns, ranking in the single-season top 10 for all three categories. Filani, who still ranks fifth to this date in single-season receiving yards, remains as one of only three Red Raider wide receivers to earn All-Big 12 first team accolades twice in a career, joining Crabtree (2007-08) and his former teammate Jarrett Hicks (2004-05).

Filani wrapped his Red Raider career with a memorable performance in the 2006 Insight Bowl as he caught 11 passes for 162 yards and a touchdown in a 44-41 overtime victory over Minnesota. He snapped the then Tech bowl records for both receptions and receiving yards that night on his way to helping lead the Red Raiders to the largest come-from-behind bowl victory in NCAA history.

His success in Tech's wide-open passing attack drew the attention of the Tennessee Titans, who selected Filani that next spring in the sixth round of the 2007 NFL Draft. Filani enjoyed a three-year NFL career with stops with the Minnesota Vikings, Seattle Seahawks, Detroit Lions, St. Louis Rams and Tampa Bay Buccaneers as well as the Titans. He concluded his professional career as a member of the Arena League's Chicago Rush in 2011.

Filani began his coaching career shortly after, accepting a graduate assistant position at Boise State from 2013-14 before moving to Washington State for the 2015 campaign. Washington State led the FBS in passing offense during his one season on staff, working as an offensive quality control assistant.

Filani departed the Washington State staff in 2016 to accept his first full-time coaching position at North Texas where he was part of a Mean Green program that won 23 games during his three seasons. In comparison, North Texas combined for only 23 victories in the five seasons prior to Filani's arrival and had not reached a bowl game since 2013.

North Texas boasted one of the nation's top passing attacks during Filani's tenure thanks in part to the play of Rico Bussey Jr., who shined at outside receiver in 2018. Bussey was among the top receivers in the country that season after hauling in 68 passes for 1,017 yards and 12 touchdowns. He closed the season as the Conference USA leader in receiving touchdowns and also ranked tied for eighth nationally in the category and 26th in receiving yards per game (84.8).

After three seasons under Filani, Bussey, who was an All-Conference USA first team honoree in 2018, closed his career in 2019 ranked tied for fourth with 21 touchdown receptions and nine with 1,941 career yards, the bulk of which came under Filani's tutelage. His 12 receiving touchdowns from 2018 alone ranked tied for second in North Texas history.

Filani received his bachelor's degree in finance from Texas Tech in 2006 and his master's degree in educational leadership from Boise State in 2014. He and his wife, Shayla, have three sons, Caleb, Levi and Asher, and a daughter, Tenley.

PAUL RANDOLPH

Defensive Line Coach | Second Season
Tennessee-Martin '90

@CoachPRandolph

Paul Randolph, who has more than 20 years of collegiate coaching experience with stops at the likes of Alabama, Arizona State and West Virginia, enters his third season as Texas Tech's defensive line coach.

Randolph was one of head coach Matt Wells' first hires to his charter staff at Texas Tech, reuniting him with defensive coordinator Keith Patterson after the two previously worked together at Arizona State (2014-15), Pittsburgh (2011) and Tulsa (2007-10).

Over his two seasons, Randolph has provided a strong presence for a defensive line that featured a pair of veterans in Eli Howard and Broderick Washington Jr. as well as a slew of newcomers in Tony Bradford Jr., Jaylon Hutchings and Tyree Wilson that have become staples up front. Texas Tech has steadily improved in the trenches under Randolph as the Red Raiders ranked 31st nationally in tackles for loss in only his first season.

Additionally, both Howard and Washington received NFL opportunities following their Texas Tech career as Howard signed an undrafted free agent agreement with the Atlanta Falcons in 2021, while Washington was a fifth round selection by the Baltimore Ravens in the 2020 NFL Draft. Washington post one of his best seasons as a Red Raider under Randolph's guidance in 2019, eventually earning All-Big 12 honorable mention accolades as well as invites to both the NFLPA Collegiate and Reese's Senior Bowls.

Howard, meanwhile, garnered All-Big 12 second team honors in 2019 after leading the Red Raiders with a team-high 5.0 sacks, all of which that came during Big 12 play. It marked the first time a Red Raider defensive lineman had earned All-Big 12 first or second team honors since current NFL standout Kerry Hyder also collected second-team accolades in 2013. Howard, who battled injuries during his senior campaign in 2020, closed his career ranked in the top 10 all-time in school history for career sacks.

Randolph arrived in Lubbock following three seasons in a similar role at the University of Memphis where the Tigers notched 26 wins and played in three bowl games during his tenure. The Tigers claimed The American West Division title each of his final two years en route to playing in both the AutoZone Liberty Bowl and the Birmingham Bowl.

The Tigers developed into one of the country's most opportunistic defenses during Randolph's tenure as Memphis forced 81 turnovers during that span, which ranked fourth among teams nationally. Memphis was among the nation's elite defenses for takeaways in each of his first two seasons, finishing tied for fifth with 29 turnovers in 2016 and tied for third in 2017 with 31.

Prior to joining the Memphis staff, Randolph spent a total of four seasons at Arizona State from 2012-15, three as the associate head coach, co-defensive coordinator and defensive line coach and the final year as the Associate Athletics Director for Championship Life. Arizona State posted a 28-12 overall record and 19-8 Pac-12 Conference mark during his first three seasons on staff, all of which resulted in bowl trips. The Sun Devils boasted a pair of 10-win seasons over the 2013-14 campaigns, which featured a 14-4 record during Pac-12 play alone.

Randolph mentored five defensive linemen into All-Pac 12 honors during his tenure, namely Will Sutton, who was a 2012 consensus All-America selection and a two-time Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Year recipient. Sutton was Arizona State's first consensus All-American since 2007 and became only the third defensive lineman in Pac-12 history to be named the Defensive Player of the Year in consecutive years since the league began awarding the accolade in 1980. Four of Randolph's five All-Pac 12 performers were either drafted or signed NFL contracts.

Over his three seasons, Arizona State featured one of the nation's most disruptive defenses as the Sun Devils led the FBS in tackles for a loss (9.0 per game) and ranked second in sacks (4.0 per game) in 2012. Arizona State ranked in the top 20 for both categories in each of the next two seasons as well.

Arizona State marked Randolph's fourth stop with then-Sun Devils head coach Todd Graham as he previously helped rebuild programs at Rice (2006), Tulsa (2007-10) and Pittsburgh (2011). Randolph oversaw linebackers at Rice before moving back to the defensive line in both stints at Tulsa and Pittsburgh.

During his four seasons at Tulsa, Randolph played an instrumental role in transforming the Golden Hurricanes into a perennial bowl team. Tulsa won 36 games during that time, including three bowl victories.

In his lone season at Rice, meanwhile, Randolph was part of a staff that helped produce one of the most impressive turnarounds in recent college football history. The Owls closed the 2006 regular season with victories in six of their final seven games to earn their first bowl berth in 45 years.

Randolph made his way to Rice following three years as the defensive ends coach at Alabama (2003-05) where he helped the Crimson Tide boast one of the nation's top defenses. Randolph was recognized for his work on the recruiting trail at Alabama as he was named one of the nation's top-25 recruiters by Rivals.

Randolph began his coaching career as the linebackers coach at his alma mater, Tennessee-Martin, in 1998. He moved from there to positions at Valdosta State (1999), Illinois State (2000), Toledo (2001) and West Virginia (2002), the final three of which he oversaw special teams in addition to the defensive line.

Randolph was an all-conference linebacker at UT-Martin where he earned his degree in electrical engineering technology in 1990. He went to play eight seasons in the Canadian Football League with stops at Winnipeg (1988-95) and Montreal (1996-97).

Randolph served two years as a team captain and player-coach while in Montreal after helping lead Winnipeg to the Grey Cup championships in 1998 and 1990. He was inducted into the Blue Bombers' Hall of Fame in 2002.

He and his wife, Mia, reside in Lubbock.

COACHING STAFF

DEANDRE SMITH

Running Backs Coach | Third Season
Southwest Missouri State '02

@CoachDLSmith1

DeAndre Smith, a veteran running backs coach with 22 years of experience at the college level, enters his third season on the Texas Tech staff as the Red Raiders' running backs coach.

This is Smith's third stint working alongside head coach Matt Wells as he served as Utah State's running backs coach in 2018 prior to his arrival in Lubbock. The two were also assistant coaches together at New Mexico in 2008.

Over his two seasons, Smith has mentored SaRodorick Thompson into one of the top running backs in the Big 12 as the junior has totaled 1,375 yards and 20 touchdowns on the ground during that span. Thompson, a two-time All-Big 12 honorable mention selection, has led Texas Tech in rushing each of his two seasons under Smith, becoming the first Red Raider to do so as an underclassman since Taurean Henderson during the 2002-03 campaigns.

Thompson rushed for 765 yards and 12 touchdowns during Smith's first season in 2019, becoming only the eighth Red Raider all-time to lead the team in rushing as only a freshman. He joined a prestigious group of former running backs to do so such as Doak Walker Award winners Byron "Bam" Morris and Byron Hanspard.

Thompson received the bulk of his carries during Big 12 play in 2019 as he closed the year ranked third in the league and 27th in the FBS for rushing touchdowns. He averaged 74.6 rushing yards per game against conference foes, which ranked sixth in the league at the end of the year. He later ranked 41st nationally in rushing touchdowns and second in the Big 12 for rushing yards per carry as a sophomore in 2020.

In his lone season at Utah State, Smith mentored Darwin Thompson to All-Mountain West second-team honors as the junior rushed for 1,044 yards and 14 touchdowns en route to helping the Aggies match the school single-season record with 11 wins. Thompson, who has also caught 22 passes for 336 yards and two touchdowns, averaged 6.8 yards per carry this season, which led all Mountain West rushers and ranked 14th nationally. He also ranked among the top 20 rushers nationally in both total touchdowns (16) and rushing touchdowns.

Thompson declared for the 2019 NFL Draft following his junior season where he was selected in the sixth round by the Kansas City Chiefs. The former junior-college product appeared in 12 regular-season games as a rookie in 2019 and then all three games in the playoffs as the Chiefs won their first Super Bowl title since 1970.

Prior to his arrival at Utah State, Smith spent the previous five seasons at a power-five conference school with stints at Syracuse (2013-15), Purdue (2016) and North Carolina (2017). He was also an assistant at Illinois from 2010-11 before returning to New Mexico for his second stint with the Lobos in 2013.

Smith began his collegiate coaching career as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Indiana State from 1999-00. He moved from there to Northern Illinois where he was the running backs coach and special teams assistant from 2001-04. He was part of the Miami (Ohio) staff as assistant head coach and running backs coach from 2005-07.

Over his two decades of coaching, Smith has mentored four All-Americans and has had 10 running back rush for at least 1,000 yards, namely Mikel LeShoure at Illinois and Michael Turner and Garrett Wolfe at Northern Illinois. LeShoure was a standout for the Fighting Illini in 2010 as he set school records for rushing yards (1,697), scoring (122 points) and rushing touchdowns (17) en route to earning All-Big Ten first team honors as well as second team All-America accolades. He was later selected by the Detroit Lions in the second round of the 2011 NFL Draft.

Turner and Wolfe, meanwhile, both earned All-America honors with the Huskies after ranking among the top rushers in the country. Turner was named a second-team All-American twice in his career (2002-03) after leading the Mid-American Conference in rushing, while Wolfe earned honorable mention accolades in 2004 after ranking fifth nationally in rushing yards (1,656). Both became NFL Draft selections as Turner was picked in the fifth round by the San Diego Chargers in 2004, while Wolfe was a third-round pick by the Chicago Bears in 2017.

Smith, a native of St. Louis, was a four-year letterwinner at quarterback for Southwest Missouri State where he was the 1990 Division I-AA Offensive Player of the Year as well as an All-American. He was named the Gateway Conference Player of the Decade from 1985 to 1995.

Smith, who earned his bachelor's degree in organizational communication from Southwest Missouri State in 2002, played professionally for the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League in 1992 and then in France in 1993.

Smith and his wife, Lori, have two sons, Ryan and Donovan, and a daughter, Ashley. Ryan played wide receiver at Duke from 2013-16, while Donovan is a redshirt freshman quarterback currently for the Red Raiders.

LUKE WELLS

Inside Receivers/Tight Ends Coach | Third Season
Oklahoma '02

@CoachLukeWells

Luke Wells, a veteran offensive coach with extensive ties to the state of Texas, enters his third season on the Texas Tech staff as the tight ends and inside receivers coach.

Wells, who has recruited the state of Texas for the majority of his career, has helped the Red Raiders continue their tradition of annually ranking among the nation's top offenses during this two seasons, all while incorporating the tight end position into the scheme. Wells has all but built the position from scratch since his arrival, adding Travis Koontz as a top junior-college prospect early in his tenure and then three high school signees in John Holcomb, Jed Castles and Mason Tharp.

Over his two seasons, Wells has had three members from his position room earn All-Big 12 accolades as tight end Donta Thompson and inside receiver Dalton Rigdon received the honor in 2019 followed by inside receiver KeSean Carter in 2020. Rigdon, a former walk-on, led Wells' position group with 34 catches for 486 yards and five touchdowns in only 10 games before suffering a season-ending injury late in the year.

Wells' arrival on the South Plains marked his third stint in the Big 12 Conference as he was previously a student assistant at Oklahoma from 1999-01 and then the wide receivers and tight ends coach at Iowa State from 2009-12. He spent a total of six seasons in various roles at Utah State prior to joining the Tech staff.

Wells served as the Aggies' co-offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator from 2013-16, working with the tight ends the first three years and then quarterbacks in 2016. He shifted back to overseeing Utah State's tight ends and inside receivers his final two years in Logan where the Aggies boasted one of the nation's top offenses.

The Aggies won 44 games and played in five bowl games during Wells' six seasons in Logan, which was highlighted by three 10-win seasons. Utah State finished 10-4 in only his second season on staff and then added an 11-2 campaign in 2018, matching the school single-season record for wins. Utah State only had one 10-win season in its history prior to his arrival.

Utah State closed the 2018 season ranked 21st in the final Amway Coaches' poll and 22nd in the Associated Press poll. It marked only the fourth time in school history the Aggies, who climbed as high as No. 13 during the regular season, have ended a year among the top-25 schools in the AP poll. The No. 13 ranking was Utah State's highest since the 1961 season.

Offense was a prevalent theme of Utah State's success during Wells' final two seasons as the Aggies averaged 47.5 points per game in 2018, which trailed only Oklahoma among schools nationally. The Aggies racked up 618 points on the season, snapping the Mountain West and Utah State single-season records in the process.

Utah State scored at least 40 points in 13 different games over his final two seasons, including 10 times with 50 or more points. The Aggies reached the 50-point mark a school-record seven times in 2018 alone en route to snapping almost every offensive record in Utah State history.

In Wells' first season, the Aggies set school records for pass completions (297), total offensive plays (1,073), touchdown passes (30) and first downs (310). Utah State scored 445 points that season and attempted 481 passes, which both ranked second at the time in the school record book. Utah State's tight ends also set the single-season school record for touchdown passes with nine, topping the previous record from 1993.

Wells mentored one of the top tight ends in Utah State history late in his tenure in Wyatt Houston, who completed his career with 86 receptions for 933 yards and nine touchdowns, all of which ranked second all-time among Aggie tight ends. Houston, who earned honorable mention All-Mountain West honors as a senior in 2017, went on to sign a free agent contract with the Carolina Panthers.

Prior to Houston, fellow tight end D.J. Tialavea thrived under Wells' direction before signing with the Jacksonville Jaguars as an NFL free agent in 2014. Tialavea went on to join the Falcons' organization a year later and was a member of the franchise when Atlanta played in Super Bowl LI. Fellow Wells tight end Jefferson Court joined the professional ranks in 2015 as he was the 37th player selected in the Canadian Football League Draft by the Ottawa Redblacks.

Before joining his brother's staff in 2013, Wells was the wide receivers and tight ends coach at Iowa State, helping the Cyclones to one of their most-successful stretches in history. Iowa State played in three bowl games during his four season, beginning with a 14-13 victory over Minnesota in the 2009 Insight Bowl.

Wells arrived in Ames following six seasons at Louisiana-Monroe where he began as an offensive graduate assistant in 2003 before being promoted to wide receivers and tight ends coach a year later. He served as the Warhawks' recruiting coordinator over his final two seasons, helping Monroe sign its highest-rated class in school history at that time.

Wells earned his first full-time coaching position managing the wide receivers at Denton High School in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex in 2002. He was previously a student assistant at Oklahoma for the first three seasons of Bob Stoops' tenure where the Sooners claimed the the 2000 Big 12 Conference crown and the BCS National Championship.

Wells earned his bachelor's degree from Oklahoma in secondary education in 2002. He and his wife, Coby, have a son, Walker, and a daughter, Kinsley.

COACHING STAFF

DAVE SCHOLZ

Head Strength & Conditioning Coach | Third Season
Wisconsin-Milwaukee '04, Utah State '08

@CoachDScholz

Dave Scholz enters his third season as Texas Tech's head strength and conditioning coach, a vital position under head coach Matt Wells in his goal to turn the Red Raiders into a complete "developmental program."

Scholz was among Wells' first hires after accepting the head coaching position at Texas Tech, bringing with him his strength and conditioning coach from all six seasons at Utah State. In his position, Scholz oversees the entire strength and conditioning and nutrition program for the Red Raiders, while also working closely with the athletic training staff.

Scholz' impact has been quickly felt during his time at Texas Tech as he has been credited with the physical transformations in eventual NFL Draft selections such as Jordyn Brooks, Broderick Washington Jr., and Zech McPhearson. Scholz and his staff were instrumental in the development of all three draft picks, using a strength program that combines the use of analytics with a dedication to nutrition.

Brooks, in particular, benefited from Scholz' arrival as he transformed his physique in only a year to rise into a first-round pick by the Seattle Seahawks in 2020. Brooks, a second team All-American as a senior in 2019, is one of three Red Raider defensive players all-time to be picked in the first round, joining the likes of College Football Hall of Famer Gabe Rivra in 1983 and Ted Watts in 1981.

Scholz spent the majority of his career at Utah State, beginning as a graduate assistant from 2006-08 and then as an assistant strength and conditioning coach from 2008-10. He was hired by Wells as the Aggies' head football strength and conditioning coach prior to the 2013 season.

In his first stint with the Aggies, Scholz assisted with all matters of the football program and served as the head of sports nutrition. He also was the lead strength and conditioning coach for both the softball and volleyball programs.

As a graduate assistant, Scholz tutored under current Minnesota Vikings head strength and conditioning coach Mark Uyeyama, who served in a similar capacity at Utah State from 2004-07. Uyeyama later hired Scholz as a strength and conditioning intern with the San Francisco 49ers in 2011.

Scholz was promoted to a strength, nutrition and conditioning assistant with the 49ers in 2012 where he was responsible for the programming of quarterbacks and kickers as well as all the nutritional aspects of the organization, including meal planning.

Scholz has earned his CSCS Certification from the NSCA, Precision Nutrition Certification, ISSA Sports Nutrition Certification, BioSignature Modulation, PICP Levels I & II Certification, Metabolic Analytics Certification, Kinetic Chain Enhancement Upper and Lower Body Certification, and Functional Range Conditioning Mobility Specialist Certification (FRCms).

Scholz, who played football at Wisconsin-Eau Claire from 2002-03, was a national-level powerlifter at the 275-power class. He earned his bachelor's degree in exercise fitness from Wisconsin-Milwaukee in 2004 and went on to obtain his master's degree from Utah State in health, physical education and recreation in 2008.

Scholz is married to the former Kara Krupski.

ANTONIO HUFFMAN
Associate A.D. /
Football Administration
3rd Season
Texas Tech '06

Former Red Raider defensive back Antonio Huffman enters his third season on the Texas Tech football staff and his first in the role of Associate Athletics Director for football administration. Huffman previously served as Chief of Staff under head coach Matt Wells before earning his current promotion in April 2021.

As part of his new expanded role, Huffman will continue to oversee operations for the football program, all while adding administrative duties within the athletics department. He will also be the football program's liaison to administration regarding any upcoming legislation pertaining to name-image-likeness (NIL), an important role not only for the football program but across college athletics.

Huffman returned to his alma mater prior to the 2019 campaign to oversee the non-coaching aspects of the football program, including departmental budget, academics, team travel, summer camps and all other day-to-day operations. He spent the seven previous seasons as the Director of Football Operations at Washington State.

This is Huffman's second stint on the Tech staff as he was previously the Director of Player Personnel during the 2008-09 seasons. Huffman served as the football program's liaison with athletics compliance during those two seasons, while also assisting with Tech's recruiting operations where he set up official and unofficial visits, campus tours and summer camps.

In addition, Huffman oversaw housing placement for each Red Raider student-athlete during his tenure and also worked closely with the academic staff at the Marsha Sharp Center for Student-Athletes. He added additional responsibility in 2009 as he supervised the presentation and maintenance of the aesthetics in the Football Training Facility.

Huffman orchestrated many of Tech's community relations activities during his tenure, including the popular "Huff's Huggables" charity drive he founded late in his playing career. "Huff's Huggables" provided stuffed animals to the Lubbock Police Department for officers to provide to local children during difficult moments.

Following his two seasons on staff, Huffman followed former Tech defensive coordinator Ruffin McNeil to East Carolina where he spent the 2010-11 seasons in a similar role with the Pirates. East Carolina played in the Military Bowl during McNeil's first season as the program's head coach.

Huffman departed East Carolina following the 2011 season to rejoin his former head coach Mike Leach at Washington State. He spent the first four seasons of his tenure as the Director of Football Operations before earning a promotion to Assistant Athletics Director after the 2015 season.

With the Cougars, Huffman oversaw the day-to-day operations of the football staff, namely team travel, the Cougar guest coach program and summer camps and clinics. He was also the football liaison for compliance, academics and student conduct throughout his tenure, which culminated with the Cougars winning 11 games in 2018, the most in school history.

A three-year starter at defensive back for the Red Raiders, Huffman completed his Red Raider career in 2006 with 189 tackles, four interceptions and 25 pass breakups. He was named the Defensive MVP in his final game as a Red Raider after picking off a crucial interception in Tech's 44-41 come-from-behind victory over Minnesota in the 2006 Insight Bowl.

Huffman excelled academically during his time as a student-athlete, earning selections to prestigious honors such as the John Wooden Leadership Cup (2007), NCAA Leadership Conference (2006), Draddy Award (semifinalist in 2006) and the President and Dean's List (2005-06). He earned his degree in human development and family studies from Tech in 2006 and has since pursued a master's degree in sociology.

Huffman, a native of Atlanta, Georgia, attended Garden City (Kan.) Community from 2001-03 before transferring to Tech. Following his collegiate career, he played one season for the Lubbock Renegades of the AFL2.

Huffman is married to the former Shelley Bartley of Lubbock. They are the parents of a son, Aeson Deon, and a daughter, Aniyah Jordan.

TROY KEMA
Assoc. AD / Player Development & Student Services
3rd Season
Utah State '98, Univ. of Phoenix '01

Troy Kema heads into the 2021 season as his third on the Texas Tech staff as he serves as the Associate Athletics Director for player development and student-athlete services. He arrived in Lubbock after spending the previous four seasons in a similar capacity at the University of Kansas.

The football program's involvement in the Lubbock area falls under Kema's prevue as he oversees the Red Raiders' community service projects and life skills curriculum. In addition, Kema serves as the liaison to the academic staff at the Marsha Sharp Center for Student-Athletes as well as a mentor for each Red Raider during their time as a student-athlete.

The Red Raiders increased their community service involvement by 350 hours from Kema's first season to his second as he helps organize the Special Spectator program as well as visits to various elementary and middle schools in the area and other worthy organizations. Even with the COVID-19 pandemic, the Red Raiders took precautions to eventually volunteer for 39 different opportunities over the calendar year with 19 different organizations.

Kema, who boasts a strong background in student-athlete advising, oversaw many of the same areas during his four-year stay at Kansas where he was the Director of Player Personnel and Student Services. Kema developed all aspects of player development and educational programing for football student-athletes at Kansas and also served as the liaison for the academic support, NCAA compliance and public relations offices as well as any NFL scouts or personnel.

During his time in Lawrence, Kema helped develop the Jayhawk 101 program, which included weekly educational and training sessions for all incoming student-athletes. He also created an internship program for football student-athletes in concert with the KU Leads organization.

Kema joined the Kansas football staff after previously serving as the Assistant Athletics Director for academic services at Texas A&M where he oversaw all academic counseling for football and basketball student-athletes. Kema spent a total of nine years in College Station as he was previously a senior scholastic supervisor prior to his promotion to Assistant A.D. in 2013.

In addition to his time at Texas A&M, Kema worked as an assistant director of academics at both Colorado (2003-06) and his alma mater, Utah State (2000-03). He is a member of the National Association for Academic Advisers for Athletics and belongs to the Minority Opportunities Athletic Association.

Kema played alongside Matt Wells during their final two seasons together at Utah State where he was a two-year starter at offensive guard and an Academic All-Big West first team honoree as a senior. Kema, who was named a team captain during his final season, transferred to Utah State from Dixie Junior College where he earned All-Western States first team accolades.

Kema graduated from Utah State with a degree in sociology in 1998. He later earned a graduate degree in educational counseling from the University of Phoenix.

Kema and his wife Stephanie have four children: Kailee, Noah, Malia and Isaiah.

SUPPORT STAFF

SAMMY MORRIS
Asst. Director / Player Support Development
1st Season
Texas Tech '99

Texas Tech great and NFL veteran Sammy Morris enters his first season on the Red Raider football staff as the assistant director of player support development.

In his role, Morris serves as Texas Tech's NFL liaison to scouts and team personnel, while also working as an advisor for freshman and transfer student-athletes entering the program. His most important role, however, is as a life coach and advisor for more than 100 student-athletes in the football program based on his own experiences as a collegiate athlete and NFL standout.

The job responsibilities outlined possibly couldn't be a better fit for Morris, who has his own unique story that will relate to student-athletes. Once one of the top athletes to come out of the San Antonio area, Morris looked to be the future at running back for the Red Raiders as a freshman in 1996 before academic issues kept him off the field for the next three seasons.

Morris returned and was elected a team captain prior to his 1999 senior season where he had a memorable 170-yard performance against rival Texas A&M and eventually led the team with 948 all-purpose yards. His efforts were recognized following the season as he was tabbed the Pete Cawthon Memorial Team MVP and was honored with Donny Anderson Sportsmanship Award.

Morris' redemption story earned him an opportunity at the next level a few months later when the Buffalo Bills selected him in the fifth round of the 2000 NFL Draft. The Bills were one of four stops for Morris during his 12-year NFL career as he played in Super Bowl XLII with the Patriots. He played for Buffalo from 2000-03 before stints with the Dolphins (2004-06), Patriots (2007-10) and the Cowboys (2011).

Following his playing career, Morris served as an assistant coach for Attleboro High School (Mass.) beginning in 2013 and then as an assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Patriots from 2016-18. He was hired in 2018 as the running backs coach at Dean College.

The son of an Air Force veteran, Morris earned his undergraduate degree at Texas Tech in communications studies in the fall of 1999. He and his wife, Leslie, are parents to three children, daughters, Kiera and Jadyn, as well as a son, Sammy. Kiera and Jadyn are currently students at Texas Tech, while Sammy will be a freshman at Texas Tech this fall.

NICK HOLT
Offensive Analyst
1st Season
Boise State '81

Nick Holt, a veteran defensive coordinator with more than 30 years of experience at the collegiate level, enters his first season as an offensive analyst on the Texas Tech staff.

In his role, Holt will assist offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie and the Red Raider coaching staff, providing advance scouting of opponents while also tracking in-game tendencies. He joins defensive analyst Art Valero on Texas Tech's analyst staff, giving head coach Matt Wells a pair of veteran voices with more than 30 years at either the collegiate or professional levels.

Holt arrives in Lubbock following one season as the head coach of the Varese Skorpions, a professional team in Italy. Prior to that, he was the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Purdue for three seasons (2017-19) where he helped lead the Boilermarkers to two bowl appearances and memorable wins over No. 2 Ohio State and No. 19 Iowa in 2018.

Holt has 19 years of experience as a defensive coordinator at the collegiate level with previous stops at Western Kentucky (2013-16), Washington (2009-11), USC (2006-08) and Idaho (1994-97). He was also the defensive coordinator for the Vandals during his two seasons as head coach from 2004-05.

His tenure at Idaho split two different stints at USC as he was the linebackers coach from 2001-03 before returning as the defensive coordinator and defensive line coach in 2006. The Trojans claimed the 2003 national championship and five Pac-10 titles during his six combined seasons on staff, which resulted in a 63-14 overall record during that time.

Overall, Holt has coached in 17 bowl games during his career, including seven BCS bowls. He has additional experience as the defensive line coach at both UNLV (1988-89) and Louisville (1998-2000) and as the recruiting coordinator at Arkansas in 2012.

A native of San Jose, California, Holt was a four-year letterwinner, a two-time captain and Most Valuable Player as a linebacker at the University of the Pacific. He was named to the Associated Press All-West Coast team in 1984 and 1985 and was an honorable mention All-American in 1985.

Holt graduated from Pacific in 1986 with his bachelor's degree in political economics. He and his wife, Julie, have two adult sons, Nick and Ben. Ben Holt was a linebacker under his father at both Western Kentucky (2015-16) and then Purdue (2019).

ART VALERO
Senior Analyst - Defense
1st Season
Boise State '81

Art Valero enters his first season on the Texas Tech football staff as he was named a senior analyst by head coach Matt Wells in March 2021.

Valero, a veteran coach at both the college and NFL levels, will serve as a senior analyst for the football staff, assisting with advance scouting of opponents for the Red Raider defense as well as tracking tendencies.

Valero joins the Red Raiders with more than 30 years in coaching, including 10 seasons in the NFL, most recently as the assistant offensive line coach for the Tennessee Titans in 2011. He previously served as the offensive line coach for the Seattle Seahawks in 2010 and prior to that, as the assistant head coach and running backs coach for the St. Louis Rams in 2008 and assistant offensive line coach in 2009.

Valero's most notable stint came during his six seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers under head coach Jon Gruden. He was tabbed to his first NFL position in 2002, coaching the tight ends for a Buccaneers organization that went on to win Super Bowl XXXVII versus the Oakland Raiders. He transitioned to coaching the running backs for the 2004-07 seasons, adding an assistant head coach title for his final two years.

Under his direction, Buccaneers running back Carnell (Cadillac) Williams earned NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors in 2005 after rushing for a team rookie-record 1,178 yards. In 2007, his unit amassed the sixth-best rushing total in franchise history with 1,872 yards. Over his six total seasons, Tampa Bay won the NFC South three times.

Prior to his tenure in the NFL, Valero coached at the college level for 21 years, primarily working with the offensive line. He spent four years at Louisville (1998-01) as the assistant head coach and offensive line coach, a similar role he also held at both Utah State (1995-97) and Idaho (1990-94). Valero added offensive coordinator responsibilities during his final season at Idaho in 1994 as he helped guide the Vandals to the league highs for total offense, scoring and rushing.

His tenure at Utah State coincided with the final two years of Wells' playing career as a student-athlete with the Aggies. Valero arrived as the offensive line coach prior to Wells' junior season in 1995 as the Aggies went on to win the Big West Conference title only a year later.

Valero began his coaching career at his alma mater, Boise State, from 1981-82 and followed with coaching stops at Iowa State (1983), Long Beach State (1984-86) and New Mexico (1987-89), all as offensive line coach. Following his stint in the NFL, he returned to the college game as the offensive line coach at Colorado State from 2013-14 and Wisconsin-Stevens Point from 2019-20.

Valero was a two-time letterwinner along the offensive line at Boise State from 1979-80 where he helped the Broncos to the NCAA I-AA national championship his final season. Valero earned his degree in sociology and psychology from Boise State in 1981.

He and his wife, Alicia, have five children, sons Kyle and Brandon, and daughters Kimberly, Alexa and Cami.

PRESTON PEHRSON
Dir. of Player Personnel
3rd Season
Towson '09, Georgia Tech '14

Preston Pehrson enters his third season on the Texas Tech football staff and first as Director of Player Personnel. He was previously the Director of Recruiting under head coach Matt Wells before earning his current promotion following the 2020 campaign.

In his role, Pehrson oversees Texas Tech's entire recruiting operation where he coordinates the football program's efforts in attracting potential student-athletes. Pehrson is instrumental in the initial evaluation process as he works closely with Wells on roster and scholarship management, while also directing Texas Tech's summer recruiting camps and the student-athlete enrollment process.

Pehrson, who has an extensive background in recruiting, moved to Lubbock prior to the 2019 campaign following two seasons as the Director of Player Personnel at the University of Houston. He previously held the same title at Navy for roughly six months after serving as a recruiting coordinator for two full seasons with the Midshipmen.

Pehrson managed the entire recruiting process while at both Houston and Navy, organizing official and unofficial visits while also setting up weekly and monthly recruiting trips for the coaching staffs to visit and evaluate prospects. He was responsible for the outbound marketing efforts via social media for both schools to attract potential student-athletes.

Prior to moving into a personnel position, Pehrson spent four seasons at Georgia Tech, three as a graduate assistant coach and the other as an offensive quality control assistant. During this time, he was responsible for helping coach the offensive line, specifically the tackles. The Yellow Jackets were an impressive 33-21 during his four seasons, which featured four postseason appearances and a pair of bowl victories, including a 49-34 win over Mississippi State in the 2014 Capital One Orange Bowl.

Georgia Tech was Pehrson's second position at the collegiate level as he previously served as a graduate assistant at Lamar during its 2011 spring practices. He worked as the outside linebackers coach and assistant tight ends coach at Houston Christian High School in 2010 prior to his hire at Lamar. Pehrson broke into the coaching ranks after serving two internships at the United States Naval Academy in 2006 and again in 2009.

Pehrson attended Jacksonville University as a baseball student-athlete for two years before transferring to the University of Texas for one year. He finished his playing career at Towson where he earned his bachelor's degree in sports management in 2009. He later received his masters from Georgia Tech in building construction and facility management in 2014.

In between, Pehrson was selected in the 47th round of the 2007 MLB Draft by the Baltimore Orioles. He played two seasons in the minor league system before joining the coaching profession.

Pehrson is the son of Dale Pehrson, who retired in 2018 after a 40-year coaching career at the collegiate level. He and his wife, Kim, are parents to a daughter, Austin, and a son, Tuff.

JESSICA HRYN
Dir. On-Campus Recruiting
1st Season
Alabama '18

Jessica Hryn enters her first season on the Texas Tech football staff as she was named Director of On-Campus Recruiting in March 2021.

Hryn, who arrives in Lubbock following two seasons in a similar capacity at Temple, will oversee many of the recruiting functions regarding campus visits from prospective student-athletes, including the planning of all travel, accommodations, meals, meetings, tours and activities. She will also coordinate the gameday experience for all recruits traveling to campus on home football weekends.

Hryn was previously the assistant director for on-campus recruiting at Temple where she oversaw all unofficial and official visits, junior days and gameday recruit programing. She was promoted to her current role in February 2020 after spending the 2019 season as a graduate assistant in the Temple recruiting office.

Prior to Temple, Hryn spent one year as an entertainment intern for the Carolina Panthers, assisting with not only the gameday experience but also coordinating events such as Training Camp Kickoff. She was previously an entertainment intern with the Chicago Bears during the summer of 2017.

During her time with the Panthers, Hryn was also a volunteer recruiting assistant for the University of North Carolina-Charlotte staff where she coordinated the gameday recruiting operation and helped maintain the recruiting database throughout the 2018 season.

A native of Chicago, Hryn earned her bachelor's degree in sports broadcasting from the University of Alabama in 2018. While in Tuscaloosa, she served three seasons as a student recruitment team member for the Crimson Tide, assisting in all aspects of on-campus recruiting for an Alabama program that boasted two top-ranked classes during that time.

ASHTON WASHINGTON
Dir. of Recruiting Operations & Creative Content
1st Season
Huston-Tillotson '19

Ashton Washington enters her first season on the Texas Tech football staff as she was named Director of Recruiting Operations and Creative Content by head coach Matt Wells in March 2021.

Washington returns to her home state as part of the Texas Tech recruiting staff following one season as the Director of High School Relations at the University of Illinois.

Prior to her hire, Washington participated in the NFL Women's Careers in Football Forum that allows participants to discuss opportunities in professional football with league executives, head coaches, industry experts and hiring managers. The 2021 virtual panel included three NFL owners, seven general managers and various head coaches such as Bill Belichick and Bruce Arians.

Washington joined the Illini after serving as a business and gameday operations specialist for the XFL's Houston Roughnecks during the league's 2020 season. With the Roughnecks, Washington helped managed business operations, logistics, facility operations and gameday operations. She also served as the business team's primary liaison to the Director of Football Operations to communicate and coordinate necessary logistics.

A native of Houston, Washington began her career in football as the Director of Operations/Recruiting for The Old Coach, a media outlet dedicated to statewide coverage of Texas high school football. Washington was the head of social media for the company, helping build a strong reputation with parents, coaches and student-athletes across the state.

Washington earned her bachelor's degree in mass communications from Huston-Tillotson University in 2019 where she was a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated.

JAKE BROWN
Offensive Quality Control
1st Season
North Texas '09

Jake Brown enters his first season on the Texas Tech football staff as he was tabbed an offensive quality control coach in February 2021. He returned to West Texas following one year in the same capacity at Big 12 counterpart Baylor.

Brown moved back to the FBS level at Baylor following one season as offensive coordinator at West Texas A&M in Canyon. He helped the Buffaloes to an 8-3 mark in 2019 after guiding the offense to a scoring increase from 23.0 points per game to 32.5 in only a year. WTAMU averaged nearly 100 yards more of total offense per game from 2018 to 2019 under Brown as well.

Brown spent 2018 as an analyst at TCU, following two seasons as running backs coach at Stephen F. Austin (2016-17). During his second season at SFA, he was instrumental in pushing running back Kijana Amous to 983 all-purpose yards, marking the most for a Lumberjack in a single season since 2014. He helped Amous finish 2017 with 639 rushing yards, including 471 in the final five games of the season.

Brown spent three previous seasons at TCU from 2014-16, serving as the Horned Frogs' director of high school relations in 2016 after working as a graduate assistant for the 2014 and 2015 campaigns. Brown primarily served as an inside wide receivers coach as a graduate assistant where the Horned Frogs' posted a record of 23-3, capturing the 2014 Big 12 Championship and earning victories in both the 2014 Peach Bowl and the 2016 Alamo Bowl. During his time in Fort Worth, Brown helped coach seven players who made NFL rosters following their collegiate careers as TCU ranked in the top five in the nation in offense.

Before arriving at TCU, Brown coached on the high school level at Arlington Martin, Lake Travis and Midlothian where he worked with a number of Division I players, including a pair of No. 1 overall draft picks in Myles Garrett and 2017 Heisman Trophy winner Baker Mayfield.

The Ennis, Texas native graduated with his bachelor's degree from North Texas in 2009. He is married to the former Brittany Bunnell. The couple has a daughter, Harper.

JOHN CANNOVA
Offensive GA
3rd Season
North Central College '14

John Cannova enters his third season as an offensive graduate assistant at Texas Tech where he works primarily with the Red Raider offensive line. This is the fifth-consecutive season for Cannova to work under offensive line coach Steve Farmer as he also served in a similar capacity at Utah State for two years prior to their arrival in Lubbock.

Tech has featured one of the top offensive lines in the country during Cannova's two seasons on staff as Texas Tech has ranked among the top-30 schools in the FBS for fewest sacks allowest despite being one of the most active teams in the country through the air. In fact, Tech attempted 531 passes in 2019, the fourth-highest total in the FBS. Still, the Red Raiders ended the year as one of only two power-five teams with at least 500 pass attempts to also rank in the top 25 for fewest sacks allowed.

Tech's success up front mirrored the type of play Utah State put together offensively during Cannova's two seasons. The Aggies played in a pair of bowl games and scored at record numbers both seasons, thanks in part to the work of the offensive line. Utah State surrendered only 10 sacks during Cannova's final season, ranking tied for fourth in the FBS despite attempting 465 passes. The Aggies trailed the likes of Army, Air Force and Florida International in sacks allowed, all of which ranked among the bottom 50 nationally in fewest passes attempted.

Most impressively, Utah State averaged 47.5 points per game in 2018, which trailed only Oklahoma among FBS schools. The Aggies boasted a balanced attack as one of only three teams in the country to rank in the top 20 for passing and the top-35 for rushing, joining both Oklahoma and Houston. Utah State scored at least 40 points in 13 different games over his two seasons, including 10 times with 50 or more points. The Aggies reached the 50-point mark a school-record seven times in 2018 alone en route to snapping almost every offensive record in school history.

Four offensive linemen garnered All-Mountain West honors during his tenure with Quin Ficklin collecting first team accolades in 2018, while Roman Andrus was a second-team selection. Rob Castaneda and Sean Taylor were both honorable mention picks that season as were Ficklin and Andrus in 2017. Utah State had not previously placed multiple offensive linemen on either the all-conference first or second team since 2012 when the Aggies were members of the WAC.

Prior to his arrival at Utah State, Cannova spent three seasons at St. Ambrose University in Iowa where he began as a graduate assistant in 2014 before earning a promotion to offensive line coach a year later. He coached seven all-conference offensive linemen while at St. Ambrose, which closed the 2015 campaign ranked 20th in the NAIA coaches' poll.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Cannova was also St. Ambrose's academic coordinator throughout his tenure where he helped the football program record the highest team GPA in the NAIA for the 2014 and 2015 seasons.

Cannova began his coaching career following a successful playing career at North Central College in Illinois. He was a three-year starter at offensive guard and center from 2011-13, pushing the Cardinals to three College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) titles and three NCAA Division III playoff berths, including a semifinals appearance in 2013.

Cannova, a native of Wheaton, Illinois, was a National Football Foundation Hampshire Honor Society honoree along with an Academic All-CCIW recipient during his collegiate career. He previously prepped at Benet Academy in Lisle, Illinois, earning All-Conference accolades as an offensive linemen his senior season.

MATT CLARK
Offensive Quality Control
2nd Season
Western Washington '08,
Louisiana-Monroe '11

Matt Clark enters his second season as an offensive quality control assistant on the Texas Tech staff where he will assist offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie and the Red Raider quarterbacks.

Clark arrived in Lubbock following two seasons as the offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach at New Mexico Highlands University. The Cowboys averaged 29.3 points and 407.1 yards per game in only his first season directing Highland's offense.

Prior to that, Clark spent two seasons as the run game coordinator and offensive line coach at Hutchinson Community College in Kansas. In only his first season, Hutchinson led the Kansas led the Kansas Jayhawk Community College Conference in rushing behind a back field that featured a future Red Raider in Tre King.

Hutchinson, which averaged 201.5 yards per game on the ground during Clark's first season in 2016, featured five All-KJCCC selections during his tenure and one All-American.

Before heading to Hutchinson, Clark was the tight ends coach at the University of Louisiana at Monroe where he worked alongside current Tech offensive line coach Steve Farmer, who was in his final year as the Warhawks' assistant head coach and offensive coordinator. Clark was also an offensive graduate assistant at Monroe from 2009-11 shortly after ending his playing career.

Clark was hired full-time at Monroe following four seasons in various coaching roles at Nicholls State. He oversaw the Colonels' offensive line and tight ends coach at various points during his tenure, while also serving as the academic and recruiting coordinator.

Clark played collegiate at Air Force for one season (2004) before playing his final three years at Western Washington (2005-07).

Arizona State '16

Conor Dubin is in his third season as a quality control assistant on the Texas Tech staff, bringing with him a strong familiarity with defensive coordinator Keith Patterson.

Dubin has worked under Patterson each of the past six seasons after serving in various roles at Arizona State from 2015-17, as a defensive graduate assistant at Utah State in 2018 and then in his current role at Tech in 2019. He began his tenure in Tempe as a student assistant for two seasons before being elevated to a defensive quality control coach in 2017.

Utah State transformed into one of the most opportunistic defenses in the country during Dubin's one season in Logan as the Aggies shared the FBS lead with 32 forced turnovers. The production defensively helped push Utah State to an 11-2 season, matching the most wins in program history.

In addition, Utah State also led the country with 22 interceptions, the majority of which came from the defensive backs group Dubin assisted with. The Aggies were also the nation's leader in three-and-outs forced (5.7 per game) and ranked third in defensive touchdowns (6), 16th in third down conversion defense (33.0 percent), 19th in passing efficiency defense (113.76), 21st in fourth down conversion defense (41.9 percent) and 33rd in scoring defense (22.2 points per game).

Dubin primarily worked with Arizona State's linebackers prior to his arrival in Logan as he helped mentor Pac-12 tackles leader Sam Christian in 2017 as well as fellow linebacker DJ Calhoun. Fellow linebacker Antonio Longino shared the FBS lead with 1.7 tackles for a loss per game in 2016, while Fiso Salamo led the Pac-12 in the category (20.0 tackles for a loss) during Dubin's first season on staff.

Prior to his time in Tempe, Dubin was the inside lienbackers coach and varsity defensive coordinator at Flintridge Preparatory School in La Canada, California. He also served as an athletics department assistant during that time as well.

A native of Los Angeles, Dubin was a linebacker at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania from 2010-12 before an injury forced him to medically retire. He graduated from Arizona State in 2016 with a degree in sociology.

He and his wife, Elyse, reside in Lubbock.

KIRBY ENNIS
Defensive GA
2nd Season
Texas A&M '12, '14

Kirby Ennis enters his second season as a defensive graduate assistant at Texas Tech where he works primarily with the Red Raider defensive line. This is Ennis' first coaching position at the collegiate level after transitioning from the high school ranks.

In only his first season, Ennis was instrumental in helping mentor a young unit that featured a first-time starter in Tyree Wilson and key reserves in junior-college transfer Devin Drew and true freshman Philip Blidi. Ennis also assists with Texas Tech's annual summer camps and game-planing responsibilities in addition to helping with the defensive line.

Prior to his arrival at Texas Tech, Ennis spent three years at North Forney High School where he served as a special education teacher and defensive line coach. He previously served in a similar capacity at Athens High School for two years.

A Texas A&M University graduate, Ennis played five seasons for the Aggies (2009-14) at nose guard where he anchored the Aggies defensive unit. Ennis, who totaled 53 tackles in his career as an Aggie, was a 2013 Preseason All-SEC selection according to TideFans.com/NARCAS.

Ennis earned his undergraduate degree in sport management and masters in health education at Texas A&M. He was an Academic Excellence Award recipient and a SEC Honor Roll selection in 2014.

Ennis, a native of Huntsville, Texas, is married to Courtney Ennis. They are the parents of son, Kirby Ennis Jr.

HUNTER HOLMES
Special Teams QC
1st Season
Louisiana-Monroe '18

Hunter Holmes enters his first season on the Texas Tech football staff as he was tabbed the special teams quality control assistant prior to the start of preseason camp.

In his role, Holmes assists special teams coordinator Mark Tommerdahl with practice preparations and scouting for each of the Red Raiders' special teams units, a position he is familiar with after previously serving in similar capacities at both Louisiana-Monroe and Incarnate Word. He was also the Director of Recruiting for Monroe during the 2020 season.

Holmes spent the 2018-19 seasons as a special teams assistant with the Warhawks where he helped push a pair of specialists to the best seasons of their career. During the 2018 season alone, Jared Porter recorded the third-highest single-season punting averaging in Monroe history, while place kicker Jacob Meeks finished with the second-highest touchback percentage all-time at the school.

Prior to his time at Monroe, Holmes worked as a special teams assistant at Incarnate Word during the 2017 season. In his one season, Holmes was responsible for recruiting and coaching the specialists, which included all-time Southland punter and current professional Joe Zema.

Holmes was a punter himself at Arkansas State from 2013-15 before playing his final season at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor in 2016. A native of Dallas, Holmes earned his bachelor's degree in general studies from Louisiana-Monroe in December 2018.

B.J. JOHNSON
Offensive GA
1st Season
Georgia Southern '16

B.J. Johnson enters his first season on the Texas Tech football staff as he was named an offensive graduate assistant in February 2020. He will work with the Red Raiders' inside receivers and tight ends.

With his hire, Johnson will return to the offensive side of the ball after previously serving as a defensive graduate assistant at Colorado for the 2020 season. The Buffaloes finished 4-2 during the COVID-19 shortened season en route to an appearance in the Valero Alamo Bowl.

Prior to his stint in Boulder, Johnson served as the wide receivers coach at Savannah State in 2019 under its first-year head coach, Shawn Quinn. The Tigers were 7-3 overall that season, marking their first winning season in 22 seasons. Savannah State was a perfect 5-0 in Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SIAC) play but was unable to play for the league championship as it was transitioning to the NCAA Division II level.

Johnson joined the coaching ranks following one season as a volunteer assistant coach at his alma mater, Woodruff High School in South Carolina. He was a two-time All-State performer while a football athlete at Woodruff where he set all major school single-season and career receiving records after recording 165 receptions for 2,780 yards and 30 touchdowns.

His success at the high school level led to a scholarship at Georgia Southern (2013-16) where he lettered for four years as a wide receiver. He concluded his career with 93 receptions for 1,338 yards and six touchdowns, averaging a healthy 14.4 yards per catch. He was a member of the school's 2015 GoDaddy Bowl championship team that defeated Bowling Green.

Johnson was later signed as an undrafted free agent by the San Francisco 49ers and had made the team before a serious hamstring injury suffered in practice during th first week of the 2017 regular season cut his career short. He began his coaching career shortly following.

DIEGO ORTIZ
Recruiting Quality Control
5th Season
Universidad Inter. '13
Texas Tech '18

Diego Ortiz enters his fifth season on the Texas Tech staff and his third as a quality control assistant where he focuses primarily on recruiting.

Ortiz previously served as a graduate assistant for running backs with the Red Raiders during the 2017 season. He oversaw productivity measures of all running backs during fall camp and in-season, as well as assisted with weekly game plan installation of new plays. Additionally, he created weekly video breakdowns, managed recruiting evaluation film and updated recruit profile tapes each week.

In his first season with the program, Ortiz worked as a recruiting and operations intern where he worked under the Chief of Staff and Director of Player Personnel with recruiting tasks and high-level clerical and administrative duties. He was heavily involved in the evaluation of game film for the 2018 recruiting class.

Prior to his time with the football program, Ortiz worked at the Marsha Sharp Center for Student-Athletes as a graduate assistant advisor. He worked closely with freshmen and at-risk student-athletes of the Red Raider track & field, volleyball and women's tennis programs, while producing the annual academic report for the entire athletic department.

Ortiz graduated with a master's in science and sport management from Texas Tech in May 2018, becoming the first person of Mexican nationality to graduate from the program. He earned his bachelor's degree in international trade relations from Universidad Intercontinental in Mexico City, where he won the yearly "Letter of Merit" for obtaining the highest GPA of the class four years in a row.

JULIAN WILSON
Defensive GA
2nd Season
Oklahoma '14

Former NFL and Oklahoma defensive back Julian Wilson enters his second season as a defensive graduate assistant on the Texas Tech staff where he works primarily with the Red Raider secondary.

In only his first season, Wilson helped mentor Zech McPhearson into an All-Big 12 first team cornerback and a NFL Draft selection. McPhearson, who was chosen in the fourth round of the 2021 draft by the Philadelphia Eagles, became only the second Red Raider cornerback to garner first-team accolades since Texas Tech joined the conference in 1996.

McPhearson was the first Red Raider defensive back to be picked in the first four rounds of the draft since Darcel McBath heard his name called early in the second round of the 2009 proceedings. McPhearson was the first Big 12 cornerback chosen in the draft.

This is Wilson's first coaching position after a successful playing career at the University of Oklahoma and then in both the NFL and Canadian Football League. He spent time with the Baltimore Ravens (2015-16), Minnesota Vikings (2016) and Kansas City Chiefs (2017) in the NFL before later joining the Calgary Stampeders of the CFL.

Wilson played in 48 games during his Oklahoma career as he totaled 99 tackles over his four seasons to go along with four interceptions and 15 pass breakups. He made 20 of his 22 career starts over his final two seasons as a Sooner where was a four-time Academic All-Big 12 honoree.

A native of Oklahoma City, Wilson was among the nation's top recruits coming out of Southmoore High School where he was an All-State honoree as a senior. Wilson also ranked among the top track and field sprinters in Oklahoma, placing second in the 100-meter dash, third in the 200 meters and first in both the 4x100 and 4x400-meter relays. His success helped Southmoore claim the team title at the state meet his senior year.

Wilson earned his degree in human relations from the University of Oklahoma in 2014.

ZANE PERRY
Asst. Athletics Director
Equipment Operations
17th Season
Texas Tech '05

Zane Perry enters his 17th season working with the Texas Tech football program and third in the role of Assistant Athletics Director for Equipment Operations.

This will be Perry's 22nd season on the Red Raider sideline as he has risen from a student manager all the way to the head football equipment manager and now his current role. He was also an assistant equipment manager during that time as well.

Perry oversees a staff of six members who work directly with each of Texas Tech's athletics programs. He is the point-person for Under Armour on all apparel requests as well as uniform designs, namely the Red Raider throwback uniforms that Tech has utilized in recent years.

Perry was promoted to Director of Equipment Operations in 2018 after previously serving over a decade as the Red Raiders' head football equipment manager. He added an Assistant Athletics Director title in 2019.

Perry, a Lubbock native, joined the full-time equipment staff after graduating from Texas Tech with a degree in exercise and sport science in 2005. During his tenure as a student equipment manager, Perry served as an NFL intern for two summer camps for the Carolina Panthers equipment staff. After his graduation from Monterey High School in 1999, Perry received a scholarship to join the student equipment staff with the Texas Tech football program.

Perry and his wife, Erica, have two daughters, Presley and Finlay and a son, Walker, who was born during the 2019 season.

CAYMAN ANCELL
Head Equipment Manager
5th Season
Texas Tech '16

Cayman Ancell enters his fifth season with the Texas Tech football program and his first as the head equipment manager for the Red Raiders.

Ancell, a Lubbock native, was promoted to his current position following the 2020 season from his role as an assistant equipment manager. He is responsible for the equipment of all football student-athletes and making sure each player is properly equipped.

Ancell's other responsibilities include issuing all protective and workout gear, preparation of team uniforms, ordering of all team gear including helmets, shoulder pads and other equipment such as Under Armour apparel. He also oversees the issuing of practice and game clothing for coaches, full-time staff and student staff and making sure the equipment is loaded in advance of away games and bowl games.

Prior to being named to Texas Tech's full-time equipment staff, Ancell was a student manager for two seasons beginning with the 2015 campaign. He was hired as an assistant equipment manager shortly after earning his bachelor's degree in sports management from Texas Tech in December 2016.

In addition to his duties at Texas Tech, Ancell has worked on the professional level, serving a summer internship with the Miami Dolphins during its 2016 training camps.

Ancell and his wife, Kayla, were married in July 2020.

CHRIS VELASQUEZ
Video Coordinator
11th Season
East Central '09

Chris Velasquez, the 2020-21 Bob Matey National Video Coordinator of the Year, enters his 11th season directing the video responsibilities for the Red Raider football program.

In this role, Velasquez oversees all the video needs for the Tech coaching staff, including filming and editing practice and game film in addition to breaking down opponent film.

For his efforts, Velasquez was honored as the Big 12 Conference Video Coordinator of the Year following the 2016 and 2020 seasons in a vote by his peers in the Big 12. He was recognized as the national winnner for the 2020 season at the Collegiate Sports Video Association (CSVA) conference. The Bob Matey Award is presented annually to the video coordinator who displays innovation, determination, perseverance and technical skill as portrayed by the late Matey, a longtime video coordinator at Texas A&M.

Prior to his arrival in Lubbock, Velasquez served in a similar position for the start-up UTSA football program where he built the video department to FBS caliber in just two years.

A native of Odessa, Texas, Velasquez earned his bachelor's degree in mass communications with an emphasis in electrical/print media in 2009 from East Central University. He has been a member of the Collegiate Sports Video Association (CSVA) since 2008.

He and his wife, Tracy, were married in June 2021.

ERIC GERALD
Asst. Video Coordinator
6th Season
Texas Tech '15

Eric Gerald enters his sixth season with the Texas Tech athletics department as the assistant video coordinator for the Red Raider football program.

In his role, Gerald assists Chris Velasquez and a team full of student assistants with the daily video needs for the Red Raider coaching staff, which includes cutups of all practices and games as well as future opponents. He also oversees all internal creative video as he creates various motivational highlight packages for the Red Raiders and recruits throughout the year.

Prior to joining the athletics department, Gerald was a video journalist for KCBD-TV in Lubbock where he assisted in both news and sports coverage. It was his first full-time position after graduating from Texas Tech in December of 2015 with a degree in electronic media and communications.

Gerald was a student assistant in the Texas Tech sports broadcasting department throughout his time as an undergraduate student. He was a key student assistant for Velasquez, traveling to many road games, while also contributing to video board and live television coverage during both basketball and baseball season.

Gerald was an offensive lineman for Coronado High School in his hometown of El Paso. He also got his start in creating highlights during that time, too, as he assisted the Coronado staff with coaches video.

Gerald is engaged to Katlyn Cook.

MIKE LACEY
Assistant A.D./Academics
2nd Season
Idaho State

Mike Lacey currently serves as an Assistant Athletic Director and Director of Football Academics. In this role, he provides leadership for the football academic support staff and overseas the day-to-day support operations for more than 120 football student-athletes. Lacey arrived to Texas Tech University in January 2020.

Lacey, a native of Atlanta, competed in basketball at Idaho State University (ISU) before eventually beginning his career in student support services as in intern and then graduate assistant. After serving as an academic advisor for men's basketball, Lacey was promoted to Director of Football academics where he solely managed a caseload of 110 football student-athletes. He then transitioned to Florida Atlantic University where he served as an Assistant Athletic Director and Director of Football Academics.

Lacey earned his bachelor's degree in sports management and his master's degree in athletic administration from Idaho State.

SPORTS MEDICINE

GRANT STOVALL
Senior Associate AD
8th Season
Texas Tech '94, '98

Grant Stovall, a well-respected athletic trainer and administrator, enters his eighth year as Senior Associate Athletics Director for Student-Athlete Health and Well-Being at Texas Tech University, assuming the position prior to the 2013-14 academic year.

Stovall leads the sports medicine unit at Texas Tech, serving as both the primary administrator and a hands-on athletic trainer. He added additional responsibilities in Feb. 2021 as the primary administrator for the athletics department's strength and conditioning and nutrition units.

Stovall joined the athletics department after spending nine years as Director of Clinical Services at Lubbock Sports Medicine. While at LSM, he worked alongside numerous orthopedic surgeons that provide care for the 400-plus student-athletes at Texas Tech. He was in charge of day-to-day operations of the clinic while managing the durable medical bracing business, sports medicine outreach contracts and marketing.

Prior to joining Lubbock Sports Medicine, Stovall spent six years as the Sports Medicine Manager at Covenant Health Systems where he oversaw the day-to-day operations of the sports medicine department.

His experience in athletic training included two clinical stops while he was pursuing his master's degree in physical therapy at the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center.

From 1994-98, he served as an athletic trainer at Rehability Sports Medicine Network and at Methodist Hospital SportsCare. During that time he provided coverage as an athletics trainer at a number of area high schools.

Stovall earned a Bachelor of Science from Texas Tech in 1994 and a Master of Physical Therapy from the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center in 1998. He holds athletic training certifications from the Texas Advisory Board of Athletics Trainers, the NATA Board of Certification as well as the Texas Board of Physical Therapy Examiners.

Stovall lives in Lubbock with his wife, Denise. They have a daughter, Kassidee, and a son, Kooper.

DR. KEVIN CRAWFORD
Medical Director / Head
Orthopedic Surgeon
16th Season

Lubbock has always been home for Dr. Kevin Crawford. He attended Monterey High School, received his Doctorate of Medicine from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. After his Orthopedic Surgery Residency, he returned to Lubbock to begin his career.

After a successful start to his practice he accepted an invitation to do a Sports Medicine Fellowship with the prestigious Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colorado.

During his year-long fellowship, he received advanced training in arthroscopic knee and shoulder surgery. In 2006, Dr. Crawford was asked to serve as a U.S. Ski and U.S. Snowboard Team Physician. Since that time, he has traveled the world to care for the U.S. athletes.

Dr. Crawford currently oversees the Sports Medicine Department at Texas Tech. He has been involved with Texas Tech Athletics since 2005. He is in private practice at Lubbock Sports Medicine where he serves as Team Physician for several local high schools and area colleges.

Dr. Crawford and his wife, Maura, have three children, Kylie, Colin, and Cadan.

DR. MICHAEL PHY
Head Team Physician
14th Season

Dr. Michael Phy enters his 14th season serving as Head Team Physician with the Texas Tech football team.

Dr. Phy is an Associate Professor in the Department of Internal Medicine at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC). He is also the Chief of General Medicine and the Program Director of the Internal Medicine Residency.

Dr. Phy graduated from Dartmouth College where he played four seasons as a wide receiver for the Dartmouth Football Team. He then completed medical school at the University of North Texas Health Sciences Center graduating with Honors.

Dr. Phy completed his residency in Internal Medicine at TTUHSC in Lubbock and served as Chief Resident in 2012. He was selected as the first fellow in Hospital Medicine at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and worked as faculty there for two years. In addition to providing sports medicine coverage for the Texas Tech football and baseball programs, Dr. Phy's practice and research interests center on perioperative medicine and care of the hospitalized patient. He is board certified in internal medicine.

Dr. Phy grew up in San Antonio, Texas, and graduated from James Madison High School. He is married to Dr. Jennifer Phy and they have a son, Tyler, and a daughter, Sara.

DREW KRUEGER
Associate A.D.
Head Athletic Trainer
8th Season

Drew Krueger enters his eighth season as a member of the Texas Tech sports medicine staff and sixth in the role of head football athletic trainer. He was elevated to Assistant Athletics Director in January 2018 and Associate A.D. following the 2020 season.

Krueger, who joined the Tech staff prior to the 2014 season, oversees the sports medicine needs for the Tech football program, providing round-the-clock care to more than 100 student-athletes in the Football Training Facility. He and his staff of three additional athletic trainers work directly with team doctors to provide each student-athlete with the most up-to-date medical prevention- and rehab attention.

In addition to his role with the football program, Krueger serves as the primary athletic trainer for both the Tech men's and women's golf programs. As part of his role, he was the sports medicine contact for all student-athletes who participated in the 2017 NCAA Lubbock Regional that was held at The Rawls Course.

Prior to his arrival in Lubbock, Krueger served a one-year internship with the New England Patriots of the NFL during the 2013 season. He spent the 2011-12 seasons as a graduate assistant with the Oklahoma football program.

Krueger earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Minnesota in 2008 and then added his master's degree in athletic training from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro in 2010.

NEWS & NOTES FROM 2020

- Texas Tech improved to 4-2 at home with its win over Kansas in the regular-season finale, marking its first winning season at home since going a similar 4-2 in 2015. It also marked the first time the Red Raiders had posted three conference wins at home since the 2009 season.
- Texas Tech is now 42-16 against non-ranked conference opponents at home since the Big 12 was formed in 1996 as the late wins over both Baylor and Kansas guaranteed the Red Raiders at least a .500 record at home for the 22nd time in the past 25 seasons.
- Texas Tech committed only 67 penalties for 577 yards in 2020, continuing a trend under Matt Wells where flags remain in the pockets of the officiating crew. Texas Tech's season totals marked the fourth-lowest total penalties through 10 games dating back to 2000 and the third-lowest penalty yardage during that span. In two seasons under Wells, the Red Raiders are averaging 6.5 penalties per game to the tune of 57.8 yards, an improvement from the 7.8 flags and 69.4 penalty yards per game Tech previously averaged from 2000-18.
- Texas Tech boasted three wins in Big 12 contests decided by a possession or less (8 points) as the Red Raiders had not previously won a close game against a league foe since topping TCU, 17-14 midway through the 2018 season. The Red Raiders were in the midst of a six-game losing streak in such games prior to defeating West Virginia. Tech was 4-2 in one-possession games this season after falling to Oklahoma State.
- Texas Tech ended the season averaging 29.1 points per game, snapping a streak of 20-consecutive years where the Red Raiders averaged at least 30 points. It was previously the longest active streak in the Big 12.
- The Red Raiders were able to recover from an early 14-point deficit to pick up the 24-23 win over Baylor. The win marked the first time Texas Tech had overcome a two-touchdown deficit since rallying from an early 20-0 setback to top Kansas, 45-34, in 2011.
- Texas Tech ranked tied for 30th nationally in fewest sacks allowed as the Red Raiders gave up only 16 on the season (1.60 per game) to rank third in the Big 12. It marked the second-consecutive year the Red Raiders had ranked both in the top 30 of the FBS and among the league's top-three teams in the category as Tech previously surrendered 1.50 sacks per game in 2019 to rank tied for 25th nationally and second in the Big 12.
- Despite being limited to only six games on the season, Eli Howard was able to place his name in the Texas Tech record book, closing his career ranked ninth all-time with 16.5 career sacks. Howard, who had 2.5 sacks on the year, passed both Brandon Sharpe (2008-09) and Pete Robertson (2011-14) early in the season, officially joining the top 10 with his sack against Texas.
- Matt Wells announced one staff change following the completion of the season as offensive coordinator David Yost was not retained. Wells later tabbed former Red Raider quarterback and assistant coach Sonny Cumbie to the position after seven seasons in a similar role at Big 12 member TCU.

MAKING IT LOOK E-Z

- After emerging as Texas Tech's leading receiver as a redshirt freshman in 2019, Erik Ezukanma continued to be a threat through the air in 2020 as he has caught 46 passes for 748 yards and six touchdowns. He was the team leader in all three categories and also ranked second overall in the Big 12 for receiving yards per game, third in total receiving yards and fifth in receptions per game (4.6).
- Ezukanma became the first Red Raider to lead the team in receiving yards in back-to-back years since current Miami Dolphins wide receiver Jakeem Grant did so from 2014-15. He was the first Red Raider underclassman to do so since two-time Biletnikoff Award winner Michael Crabtree during the 2007-08 seasons.
- Ezukanma was added to the Biletnikoff Award watch list late in the season after catching seven passes for a career-high 183 yards against Oklahoma State. It marked the first time in Ezukanma's career where he has appeared on the Biletnikoff watch list.
- The performance against Oklahoma State marked the second time in Ezukanma's career where he has recorded at least 100 yards through the air as he previously totaled 150 receiving yards in the 2019 season finale versus Texas. It marked the third highest single-game total by a Big 12 receiver during the season, trailing only the Oklahoma State duo of Tylan Wallace and Dillon Stoner.
- Ezukanma led the Red Raiders with nine plays from scrimmage of 25 yards or longer as SaRodorick Thompson ranked second on the team with five of his own. No other Texas Tech receiver totaled more than three receptions of at least 25 yards yet alone nine like Ezukanma.

HOW ABOUT SOME POINTS ON DEFENSE?

- Texas Tech made a knack for finding the end zone via its defense in 2020 as the Red Raiders finished tied for seventh in the FBS with three defensive touchdowns. The Red Raiders were second in the Big 12, trailing only the four defensive scores from Oklahoma State.
- Matt Wells has been no stranger in seeing his defense put up points over his career as his teams have created 24 defensive touchdowns during his eight seasons as a collegiate head coach. This was the fifth year during that span where his team has recorded at least three defensive touchdowns in a season and the first time during his time at Texas Tech.
- Zech McPhearson was the most frequent Red Raider finding the end zone as he scored on a 90-yard return off a blocked field goal at Iowa State and then scooped a loose fumble against West Virginia for a 56-yard touchdown return. McPhearson had another fumble recovery at Kansas State as he shared the Big 12 high following the season. McPhearson's two fumble returns for a touchdown (the blocked field goal is credited as a fumble return) marked the most by a Red Raider since Paul McClendon set the Texas Tech single-season record with three in 2001.

SEASON NOTES

ANOTHER RECORD-SETTING YEAR FOR MCNAMARA

■ Austin McNamara proved why he is one of the top punters in the country once again during the 2020 season as the sophomore snapped the Big 12 Conference and Texas Tech records for longest punts while also recording the second-highest punting average in school history.

■ McNamara wrapped the 2020 season averaging an impressive 46.3 yards per punt, the second-highest clip in school history behind only the 46.8 average compiled by Mark Bounds in 1991. He previously averaged 45.0 yards per punt as a true freshman in 2020, which now ranks fifth in program history. He is the only Red Raider with two of the top-five punting averages currently in the school record book.

■ McNamara set social media on fire midway through the 2020 season with his booming 87-yard punt against West Virginia, which marked the longest by an FBS kicker since 2017 and the longest in Texas Tech and Big 12 history. McNamara broke the Texas Tech single-game record for the longest punt that was previously set by R.W. Moyers in 1945 against West Texas State. Moyers launched an 85-yard punt in the win, which is the only other punt of 80 yards or longer in school history. He broke the previous Big 12 record of 85 yards that was set by Oklahoma's Tress Way in 2010 against Utah State.

■ McNamara closed the 2020 season ranked fifth in the FBS for punting average and fourth among punters who played in at least five games. He was easily the Big 12 leader in punting as his average was five yards higher than any other specialist, earning him All-Big 12 first team honors for a second-consecutive season. He became the first Red Raider since Le'Raven Clark in 2014-15 to collect first team honors in consecutive seasons and the first Tech specialist to do so during the Big 12 era.

FIVE RED RAIDERS GARNER ALL-BIG 12 ACCOLADES

■ Texas Tech had five players recognized on the All-Big 12 teams following the season as junior offensive lineman Jack Anderson, sophomore wide receiver Erik Ezukanma, sophomore punter Austin McNamara and senior defensive back Zech McPhearson were named to the first team, while junior center Dawson Deaton was tabbed to the second team in a vote by the conference coaches.

■ It marked the second-consecutive year Texas Tech has placed five players on either the first or second teams as McNamara was the only Red Raider to earn the honor in back-to-back seasons. Tech had not previously boasted four first-team honorees since 2005 when Taurean Henderson, Jarrett Hicks, Dwayne Slay and its now outside receivers coach Joel Filani were all selected.

■ For McNamara, he becomes the first Red Raider since current Indianapolis Colts offensive lineman Le'Raven Clark in 2014-15 to garner first-team accolades in back-to-back seasons. He is the first Tech specialist in the Big 12 era to do so and the seventh Red Raider overall, joining Clark, Michael Crabtree (2007-08), Filani (2005-06), Jarrett Hicks (2004-05), Kevin Curtis (1999-00) and Montae Reagor (1997-98).

■ This was the second All-Big 12 accolade for Anderson, who was a second-team honoree in 2018. Ezukanma and McPhearson, meanwhile, were awarded for the first time in their respective careers. McPhearson was only the second Red Raider quarterback in the Big 12 era to collect first-team accolades from the league coaches.

■ Texas Tech also had 10 other Red Raiders recognized as honorable mention selections for receiving a vote by the panel of conference coaches. The list included sophomore defensive lineman Tony Bradford Jr., junior wide receiver KeSean Carter, junior quarterback Henry Colombi, senior defensive back DaMarcus Fields, senior defensive lineman Eli Howard, senior linebacker Riko Jeffers, junior linebacker Krishon Merriweather, senior linebacker Colin Schooler, sophomore running back SaRodorick Thompson and sophomore offensive lineman Weston Wright.

MCPHEARSON, ANDERSON SELECTED IN 2021 NFL DRAFT

■ Texas Tech had two selections in the NFL Draft for the second-consecutive season as defensive back Zech McPhearson was selected in the fourth round by the Philadelphia Eagles followed by offensive lineman Jack Anderson in the seventh by the Buffalo Bills. It marked the first time Tech had boasted multiple NFL Draft picks in back-to-back years since the 2004-05 drafts.

■ McPhearson was the first Red Raider defensive back to be selected since Jamar Wall was taken in the sixth round of the 2010 draft by the Dallas Cowboys. He is the highest defensive back to be drafted since Darcel McBath was chosen in the second round of the 2009 draft. McPhearson was also the first cornerback to be selected in this year's draft and one of four from the conference to be chosen overall.

■ Anderson, meanwhile, was the first Red Raider offensive lineman to be selected since Le'Raven Clark was picked in the third round of the 2016 draft by the Indianapolis Colts. He is the sixth Red Raider offensive lineman since 2000 to be drafted, joining Dylan Gandy (4th Round, 2005), E.J. Whitley (7th Round, 2006), Manuel Ramirez (4th Round, 2007), Louis Vasquez (3rd Round, 2009) and Clark.

■ Texas Tech now has four NFL Draft selections in just two years under head coach Matt Wells as Jordyn Brooks was taken in the first round a year ago followed by Broderick Washington Jr. in the fifth. Wells is the first head coach to deliver multiple NFL Draft picks in each of his first two seasons since Jerry Moore in the 1982-83 drafts.

■ In addition to the two draft selections, three Red Raiders agreed to free agent or mini-camp agreements with NFL organizations with Eli Howard joining the Atlanta Falcons, T.J. Vasher to the Dallas Cowboys and Thomas Leggett with the Kansas City Chiefs.

GAME RECAPS

GAME 1
TEXAS TECH 35, HOUSTON BAPTIST 33

Jones AT&T Stadium (11,157)
September 12, 2020

SCORE BY QUARTERS	1	2	3	4	FINAL
Houston Baptist	3	7	10	13	33
Texas Tech	14	7	7	7	35

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) – Alan Bowman threw for 430 yards and two touchdowns and Texas Tech stopped FCS team Houston Baptist on a 2-point conversion attempt late in the fourth quarter, hanging on for a 35-33 victory Saturday night.

SaRodorick Thompson ran for two scores in the opener of the pandemic-shortened season for the Red Raiders in front of a socially distanced crowd of 11,157.

Bailey Zappe threw for 567 yards and four touchdowns in the first game for Houston Baptist (0-2) against a Power 5 opponent a week after finishing with 480 yards passing and three scores in a 57-31 loss to North Texas.

Zappe's final TD pass to Jerreth Sterns pulled the Huskies within two with 3:23 remaining, but his pass to the sideline on the 2-point play was wide and high. The Red Raiders then ran out the clock.

Josh Sterns had 209 yards receiving and two touchdowns, including a 75-yarder to get Houston Baptist within eight early in the fourth quarter. Jerreth Sterns had 12 catches for 130 yards.

The Huskies set up their chance to tie by stopping Bowman on a quarterback sneak on fourth-and-1 from the Houston Baptist 4-yard line.

Bowman spread the ball around, with five receivers getting at least four catches and 46 yards. KeSean Carter, who led Texas Tech with 86 yards receiving, and Erik Ezukanma had receiving TDs.

Thompson had 118 yards on 22 carries as the teams combined for 1,224 total yards (624 for Texas Tech to 600 for Houston Baptist.

The crowd was about 18% of the capacity of 60,454 at AT&T Jones Stadium.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) -- Sam Ehlinger threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to Joshua Moore in overtime, sending No. 8 Texas to a wild 63-56 victory over Texas Tech on Saturday that saw the Longhorns rally with two touchdowns in the final 3 minutes of regulation.

Moore's second touchdown catch came with 40 seconds left and Ehlinger's 2-point conversion pass to Brennan Eagles tied it to get to overtime. Texas got the ball first and quickly scored when Ehlinger and Moore connected for their third score of the day.

Texas Tech's possession ended when Alan Bowman was forced to scramble and threw a wild pass that was intercepted by Caden Sterns.

Texas, chasing its first Big 12 title since 2009, had looked done when the Red Raiders went ahead 56-41 late in the fourth quarter on touchdowns from T.J. Vasher and SaRodorick Thompson Jr. But Ehlginer engineered a quick drive for a touchdown pass to Eagles and the Longhorns recovered the onside kick to set up the tying score.

Texas is 2-0 for the first time under fourth-year coach Tom Herman.

Ehlinger finished with 262 yards passing with five touchdowns and also ran for a score for Texas (2-0 1-0) . Bowman passed for 325 yards and five touchdowns for the Red Raiders (1-1, 0-1) but also threw three interceptions.

MANHATTAN, KAN. (AP) – Deuce Vaughn had a rushing touchdown and another receiving, Will Howard threw for 173 yards and a score and Kansas State held off Texas Tech for a 31-21 win Saturday.

Up 24-21 with two minutes left, Howard found Vaughn across the middle on third down for a 70-yard touchdown pass to seal the win.

Henry Colombi threw for 244 yards and two touchdowns, Xavier White added 113 yards rushing and a score on 12 carries for Texas Tech, which lost its ninth game in 10 tries against the Wildcats.

Colombi had one big mistake despite an efficient performance, throwing into double coverage on a drive deep in Wildcat territory which was intercepted by Jahron McPherson late in the fourth quarter.

Both starting quarterbacks spent more time in the locker room than the field after suffering injuries in the first half.

Red Raiders QB Alan Bowman left the game after he took a hit to his right leg midway through the first quarter and didn't return.

Halfway through the second quarter, Kansas State's Skylar Thompson was hit and injured his right arm. He watched the second half from the sideline in a sling after going 5 of 10 for 33 yards and a passing touchdown.

Highly-touted freshman Will Howard, who took over for Thompson, completed 7 of 12 passes and looked poised in first game as a Wildcat.

Kansas State (2-1, 2-0 Big 12) blocked a punt for the third straight game and took advantage two plays later with a 12-yard touchdown pass from Thompson to Briley Moore which opened up the scoring.

It was Moore again in the fourth quarter who eluded two defenders for a 66-yard catch and the Wildcats scored on the next play on a 4-yard TD run by Harry Trotter to regain the lead 24-21.

Texas Tech (1-2, 0-2) kicker Trey Wolff missed 33- and 35-yard field-goal attempts in the first half.

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Brock Purdy passed for 302 yards and two touchdowns, Breece Hall ran for 135 yards and two scores and No. 24 Iowa State beat Texas Tech 31-15 on Saturday.

The Cyclones (3-1, 3-0 Big 12) opened conference play with three straight wins for the first time since 2002 and only the second time since 1950.

Purdy was 32 of 43 with no interceptions. He also ran seven times for 42 yards.

The Cyclones rolled up 516 yards of total offense and held Texas Tech (1-3, 0-3) under 100 yards until early in the fourth quarter.

Texas Tech celebrated early when Eli Howard blocked Connor Assalley's 20-yard field goal attempt in the first quarter, and Zech McPhearson scooped up the ball and ran 90 yards for a touchdown.

Iowa State mounted another 60-plus yard drive on its next possession and tied it at 7 on Hall's 11-yard run.

By the end of the first quarter, Iowa State already had outgained the Red Raiders 208-14.

Backup quarterback Henry Colombi took over for Alan Bowman for the last two series of the game and completed 10 of 12 passes for 115 yards and a touchdown.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Cornerback Zech McPhearson returned a fumble 56 yards for a touchdown with 8:44 left to lift Texas Tech to a 34-27 victory over West Virginia on Saturday night.

West Virginia's Sam James caught a short pass from Jarret Doege but fumbled on a hit from Jacob Morganstern. McPhearson, a graduate transfer from Penn State, picked up the ball and went the length of the field untouched.

West Virginia punted from near midfield on its next series and got the ball back one last time at its 17 with 42 seconds left and no timeouts. Doege moved the Mountaineers past midfield but his pass into the end zone as the clock ran out fell incomplete.

Texas Tech (2-3, 1-3 Big 12) snapped a three-game home losing streak to the Mountaineers (3-2, 2-2). McPhearson's heroics made a winner out of Henry Colombi, who was making his first career start.

Colombi, a junior transfer from Utah State, was named the starter a week ago after he replaced Alan Bowman midway through an Oct. 10 loss at Iowa State.

Colombi completed 22 of 28 passes for 168 yards and one score. He also ran for 40 yards and another TD.

West Virginia's Leddie Brown scored on two short runs but was held to 77 yards, well below his 129-yard average.

Doege was trying to win on the same field that he stormed as a fan in 2012 after his hometown Red Raiders beat then-No. 5 West Virginia behind his brother, quarterback Seth Doege.

West Virginia trailed 20-10 just before halftime after Columbi hit Trey Cleveland with an 11-yard scoring pass.

The Mountaineers got a 45-yard field goal from Evan Staley as time expired at the half. Then, after Dante Stills recovered a Ja'Lynn Polk fumble at the Texas Tech 24 to start the third quarter, T.J. Banks caught his first career touchdown pass, a 2-yarder from Doege to knot the score.

Doege completed 32 of 50 passes for 347 yards.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Rhamondre Stevenson ran for three first-half touchdowns in his return for No. 24 Oklahoma, Spencer Rattler threw for 288 yards and two scores in about 2 1/2 quarters and the Sooners beat Texas Tech 62-28 on Saturday night for their third win in a row.

Stevenson made his season debut, along with defensive end Ronnie Perkins, after they had been suspended since before the Peach Bowl last season. They last played in the Big 12 championship game last year.

At one point, Stevenson revealed a T-shirt reading "I'm back" that he was wearing under his jersey. He ran 13 times for 87 yards, his third TD putting the Sooners (4-2, 3-2 Big 12) up 42-7 with 6 1/2 minutes left in the first half. Stevenson had a 6-yard score and two 1-yard TD runs.

Perkins had three tackles, two for losses.

Oklahoma scored touchdowns on six consecutive drives after Texas Tech (2-4, 1-4) opened the game with a 75-yard, seven-play drive. SaRodorick Thompson's 5-yard TD run, after his 28-yard scamper, gave the Red Raiders a 7-0 lead.

Rattler was 21-of-30 passing before backup Tanner Mordecai took over midway through the third quarter with the Red Raiders up 55-14, and freshman Chandler Morris got some late snaps. Theo Wease had five catches for 105 yards, while Austin Stogner and Jeremiah Hall had TD catches.

Henry Colombi, the former Utah State transfer quarterback, was 15 of 28 for 227 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions in his second start for the Red Raiders. He was 3 for 3 for 36 yards and had an 11-yard run on the opening drive.

Safety Tre Norwood had both interceptions for Oklahoma, becoming the first Sooners player with two in a game since 2016.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) -- TCU quarterback Max Duggan ran for 154 yards and three touchdowns on a day when he threw for only 73 yards, and the Horned Frogs snapped a five-game home losing streak with a 34-18 win over Texas Tech on Saturday.

The Horned Frogs (3-3, 3-3 Big 12) hadn't won at home since beating Texas on Oct. 26, 2019, and had lost their first three games at Amon G. Carter Stadium this season. The win also snapped a five-game streak in the series against Texas Tech (2-5, 1-5) in which the visiting team had won each time.

Texas Tech quarterback Henry Colombi was sacked five times while completing 23 of 40 passes for 234 yards with two long second-half touchdowns and two interceptions. Ja'Lynn Polk had a 60-yard catch-and-run when C.J. Ceasar II fell down, and the usual third-string sophomore cornerback in his first start for TCU was also beat on Erik Ezukanma's 57-yarder.

After TCU's opening drive started at the Tech 33, Duggan's deep pass on the first play was intercepted in the end zone by Zech McPhearson. That ended Duggan's streak of 127 consecutive passes without a pick.

Trey Wolff kicked a 40-yard field goal on the final play of the first half, Tech's first made field goal this season. But he was wide left on a 37-yard attempt with 2:44 left in the game.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Jonathan Garibay took over as Texas Tech's primary kicker this week. His game-winning field goal capped a fourth-quarter rally directed by former starting quarterback Alan Bowman.

Garibay kicked a 25-yard field goal on the final play of the game, after a final drive when Bowman had two 30-yard completions, and the Red Raiders beat Baylor 24-23 on Saturday.

It was the fourth field goal for Garibay in his first game as starting kicker for the Red Raiders (3-5, 2-5 Big 12). The junior transfer from Riverside City College also made kicks of 48, 28 and 46 yards after replacing struggling Trey Wolff, who is 1-of-5 on field goals.

Tahj Brooks to TD runs for Texas Tech and Bowman, replaced as the starter three games ago, led the Red Raiders on three consecutive scoring drives in the fourth quarter.

Red Raiders coach Matt Wells said the plan was to use both Henry Colombi and Bowman, whose only pass in the first half was intercepted and returned for a touchdown. Colombi never came back in the game after banging his elbow for the second time early in the third quarter, though Wells said he could have played more.

Colombi was 9-of-15 passing for 76 yards. Bowman finished 14-of-23 for 181 yards.

Jalen Pitre returned an interception for a touchdown for the second week in a row for Baylor (1-5, 1-5), which lost its fifth game in a row since winning head coach Dave Aranda's debut in September.

"The locker room's hard. We've been through a fair amount of adversity, and we added some more to our plate tonight," Aranda said. "This was a game I thought we played well enough to win, disappointed that we didn't finish with a win."

Pitre's 26-yard return put the Bears up 7-3 at the end of the first quarter, and they led until Garibay's final kick.

Baylor quarterback Charlie Brewer, who was 17-of-26 passing for 153 yards, had an 8-yard TD keeper early in the third quarter to put the Bears up 20-6. Their only other score was John Mayers' third field goal later in the third quarter, a 23-yarder after Brewer was stopped just short of the end zone when Colin Schooler knocked a tight end out of the way to make the TD-saving play.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Dezmon Jackson rushed for career highs of 235 yards and three touchdowns, and No. 21 Oklahoma State bounced back from a disappointing loss to rival Oklahoma to beat Texas Tech 50-44 on Saturday.

Jackson had 36 carries in part because the top two backs, Chuba Hubbard and LD Brown, did not play. The Cowboys still ran for a season-high 317 yards.

Spencer Sanders passed for 222 yards and ran for 78, and Tylan Wallace caught seven passes for 129 yards and a score for Oklahoma State (6-2, 5-2 Big 12), which remained in the running for a spot in the Big 12 title game.

Alan Bowman passed for 384 yards and three touchdowns, Erik Ezukanma caught seven passes for 183 yards and two touchdowns, and SaRodorick Thompson ran for 133 yards and two scores for Texas Tech. The Red Raiders (3-6, 2-6) gained 639 yards, but Oklahoma State made up for it with a safety, an onside kick return for a touchdown, and an interception return for a score.

Texas Tech took a 24-21 lead in the third quarter on a 48-yard pass from Bowman to Ezukanma. The Red Raiders went for an onside kick, but the ball bounced right to Oklahoma State's Jason Taylor, and he ran it back for a touchdown to put the Cowboys ahead again.

Later in the quarter, Oklahoma State's Tre Sterling had a 61-yard interception return to put the Cowboys up 34-24. After Tech's Xavier White bounced off a would-be tackler and went 70 yards for a touchdown, Oklahoma State came right back when Wallace hauled in a 27-yard TD pass for a 41-31 lead.

In all, five touchdowns were scored during a 5:53 stretch in the third quarter.

Bowman threw a 31-yard touchdown pass to Loic Fouonji with 1:51 remaining in the fourth quarter to cut Oklahoma State's lead to 50-44, but the Red Raiders' onside kick went out of bounds and the Cowboys ran out the clock.

SCORE BY QUARTERS	1	2	3	4	FINAL
Kansas	0	3	3	7	13
Texas Tech	10	0	3	3	16

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) – Xavier White had 135 yards rushing and 28 receiving, Jonathan Garibay made a late go-ahead field goal and Texas Tech overcame four turnovers to hold off winless Kansas, 16-13, on Saturday without coach Matt Wells.

Kansas had two opportunities to tie it in the final five-plus minutes — for a chance to win in Lubbock for the first time since 2001 — but managed just eight plays in two drives.

Garibay made a 36-yard field goal, despite Caleb Sampson getting a hand on it, with 5:36 left to give Texas Tech a 16-13 lead. The Red Raiders forced a turnover on downs when defensive back Eric Monroe stuffed Daniel Hishaw Jr. on fourth-and-1.

Texas Tech had to settle for another field-goal attempt. Garibay missed his third of the game, from 45 yards, with 1:58 remaining and Kansas turned it over on downs again as Miles Kendrick wasn't able to connect with Takulve Williams.

Alan Bowman was 15-of-26 passing for Texas Tech (4-6, 3-6 Big 12). Myles Price scored the Red Raiders' only touchdown on a 70-yard reverse. Defensive coordinator Keith Patterson served as head coach after Wells tested positive this week for COVID-19.

There were just 219 combined passing yards.

Kendrick was 17 of 29 for 102 yards for Kansas (0-9, 0-8). Hishaw added 87 yards on the ground, and his 12-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter tied it at 13.

Kansas scored 10 points off Texas Tech turnovers after entering with just 10 points in that category all season.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL FOUNDATION
COLLEGE FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

The National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame recognizes those who made an impact on college football during their careers. There are more than 850 members currently in the Hall of Fame, selected from a pool of more than four million players throughout collegiate football history. Five are from Texas Tech – E.J. Holub, Donny Anderson, Dave Parks, Gabe Rivera and Zach Thomas.

Holub became Texas Tech's first-ever inductee into the NFF College Hall of Fame in 1986 and was later joined by Anderson in 1989. Texas Tech has added three more former players as inductees in recent years as Parks was enshrined in 2008 while Rivera earned the call in 2012. Thomas is Texas Tech's most-recent inductee as he joined the prestigious club in 2015. Former head coach Jerry Moore (1981-85) was also inducted into the NFF College Hall of Fame in 2014.

E.J. Holub (1986), Donny Anderson (1989), Dave Parks (2008), Gabe Rivera (2012), Zach Thomas (2015)

TEXAS TECH RING OF HONOR

Texas Tech announced the creation of the Football Ring of Honor in June 2012. The Ring of Honor consists of an elite group of players and coaches that made outstanding contributions to Red Raider Football. Inductees have their names permanently etched on the west stadium building facing the playing surface inside Jones AT&T Stadium. Candidates for the Ring of Honor are chosen and screened by an anonymous selection committee. Once the committee has determined a suitable candidate(s) for induction, the group will make a formal recommendation to the Director of Athletics.

DONNY ANDERSON, RUNNING BACK, 1963-65 INDUCTED IN 2012

Nicknamed the "Golden Palomino" ... one of three Red Raiders to have his jersey formally retired at Texas Tech ... a 1989 inductee into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame ... Consensus First-Team All-American in 1964 and 1965 ... finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1965 ... Co-National Player of the Year in 1965 by The Sporting News ... All-Southwest Conference selection in 1963, 1964 and 1965 ... first-round draft choice in both the AFL (Houston) and NFL (Green Bay) in 1965 ... inducted into the Texas Tech Hall of Honor in 1978 ... averaged 4.5 yards per-carry during his three-year career as a running back and 39 yards per-punt as the team's punter ... holds the school record for the longest touchdown run (90 yards vs. TCU in 1964) ... ranks ninth all-time at Texas Tech in career rushing yards with 2,280 and eighth with 526 attempts ... ranks second on the Texas Tech single-season all-purpose yards list with 2,107 in 1965 ... played six seasons of professional football with the Green Bay Packers and four seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals.

E.J. HOLUB, CENTER/LINEBACKER, 1958-60 INDUCTED IN 2012

Nicknamed "The Beast" ... one of three Red Raiders to have his jersey formally retired at Texas Tech ... Texas Tech's first inductee into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame (1986) ... First-Team All-American in 1959 and 1960 ... finished 10th in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1960 ... Texas Tech's first All-Southwest Conference honoree in 1960 ... named to the Street & Smith's 50th Anniversary Team ... selected to the play in the Coaches All-American Game, The Chicago Tribune All-Stars Game and the East-West Shrine Game ... was a first-round draft pick by the AFL's Dallas Texans and a second-round draft choice by the NFL's Dallas Cowboys ... inducted into the Texas Tech Hall of Honor in 1977 ... was an AFL All-Star in 1961, 1962, 1964, 1965 and 1966 ... is the only player in history to start two Super Bowls at two different positions (started Super Bowl I at linebacker and Super Bowl IV at center) ... won a world championship with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1970 ... inducted into the Kansas City Chiefs Hall of Honor in 1976 ... played 10 seasons of professional football with the Dallas Texans (1961-1962) and the Kansas City Chiefs (1963-1970) ... passed away Sept. 21, 2019, at the age of 81.

DAVE PARKS, SPLIT END, 1961-63 INDUCTED IN 2012

One of three Red Raiders to have his jersey formally retired at Texas Tech ... a 2008 inductee into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame ... Consensus First-Team All-American in 1963 (Associated Press, Sporting News, Boston Recorder-American, Sports Extra, American Football Coaches, Time Magazine, Williamson Racing and Football Weekly) ... All-Southwest Conference selection in 1962 and 1963 ... Team MVP in 1962 and 1963 ... top overall pick in the 1964 NFL Draft (San Francisco 49ers) and remains the only Red Raider chosen as the first pick in the draft ... inducted into the Texas Tech Hall of Honor in 1990 ... holds the Texas Tech school record for the longest interception return (98 yards vs. Colorado in 1962) ... selected to play in the 1963 East-West Shrine Game, the 1964 Senior Bowl and the 1964 Coaches All-America Game ... spent 10 seasons in the NFL with San Francisco (1964-67), New Orleans (1968-72) and Houston (1973) ... passed away Aug. 8, 2019, at the age of 77.

GABE RIVERA, DEFENSIVE LINE, 1979-82 INDUCTED IN 2014

Nicknamed "Senior Sack" ... a 2012 inductee into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame ... Consensus First-Team All-American in 1982 ... Honorable Mention All-American in 1980 and 1981 ... dominated the Southwest Conference during his four-year career that spanned from 1979-1982 ... one of the most feared defensive linemen in college football, Rivera compiled 321 career tackles, 34 tackles for loss, 14 sacks, 11 pass deflections and six fumble recoveries ... averaged 80 tackles per season from his defensive tackle spot ... compiled 62 solo tackles, 43 assists, 10 TFL, five sacks, 25 quarterback pressures and eight pass breakups during his All-America campaign in 1982 ... inducted into the Texas Tech Hall of Honor in 1993 and then to the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 2007 ... following an appearance in the Blue-Gray All-Star game at the end of his senior season, he was selected in the first round of the 1983 NFL Draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers ... passed away July 17, 2018, at the age of 57.

ZACH THOMAS, LINEBACKER, 1992-95 INDUCTED IN 2016

Remains one of, if not the best, linebackers in Texas Tech history ... a 2015 inductee into the College Football Hall of Fame ... one of five Red Raiders in team history to be named a unanimous first team All-American in 1995 ... two-time Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Year honoree in 1994 and 1995 ... first-team All-SWC in 1995 ... first team UPI All-American in 1994 ... led the Red Raiders to three bowl games in his four-year career from 1992-95 ... finished his career fifth all-time in Texas Tech history with 390 career tackles ... posted an impressive senior campaign with 131 tackles, six forced fumbles, and four fumble recoveries ... fifth-round draft pick in 1996 to the Miami Dolphins ... continued his dominance in the NFL as he ended his career with seven Pro Bowl selections (five first-team), which ranks third all-time in Dolphins history ... recorded 1,720 tackles, 20.5 sacks, 17 interceptions, 17 forced fumbles, eight fumble recoveries, and four touchdowns during his 13-year NFL career.

MICHAEL CRABTREE, WIDE RECEIVER, 2007-08 2021 INDUCTEE

Will become the first Red Raider from the Big 12 era to join the Ring of Honor when he is inducted during the 2021 season ... still regarded as one of the top wide receivers in college football history following his two-year career as a Red Raider ... two-time winner of the Biletnikoff Award, presented to the nation's top receiver regardless of position ... first two-time winner of the award in its history and the first freshman all-time to be named the receipient ... only two-time unanimous All-American in program history ... joins fellow Ring of Honor members E.J. Holub, Donny Anderson and Zach Thomas as the only two-time first team All-Americans in school history ... set the Texas Tech single-season marks and NCAA records for freshmen with 134 receptions, 1,962 receiving yards and 22 receiving touchdowns in 2007 ... record remains the third-highest total for receiving yards in a season in NCAA FBS history ... closed his career as Texas Tech's all-time leader with 3,127 receiving yards and 41 touchdown catches ... receiving yards record has since been broken but he still remains the school record holder for receiving touchdowns and all single-season categories ... led Texas Tech to an 11-2 record during final season in 2008 that saw the Red Raiders climb to No. 2 in national polls following memorable win over top-ranked Texas ... had the game-winning catch against the Longhorns, hauling in a 28-yard strike from Graham Harrell with one second remaining to shock the Longhorns ... forego his final two seasons of eligibility to declare for the 2009 NFL Draft where he was selected 10th overall by the San Francisco 49ers ... played 11 total NFL seasons, totaling 637 career catches for 7,499 yards and 54 touchdowns while playing for the 49ers, Oakland Raiders, Baltimore Ravens and Arizona Cardinals.

ELMER TARBOX, HALFBACK/DEFENSIVE BACK, 1936-38 2021 INDUCTEE

Will become the seventh Red Raider in school history named to the Ring of Honor early in the 2021 season ... represents the early stages of the Red Raider football program when the school was named Texas Technological College ... arrived at Tech in 1935 having never played a single down of football and had only seen part of one game while growing up in small Panhandle town of Higgins near Oklahoma border ... joined the Red Raiders as a walk-on under then head coach Pete Cawthon ... played three seasons for the Red Raiders from 1936-38, quickly developing into one of the most prominent two-way players in the country ... was an honorable mention All-America selection as a half back as a senior after leading the country in yards per catch while also finishing seventh in the nation in rushing yards and 10th for receiving yards ... legacy was best felt on the defensive side of the ball where he totaled a school record 11 interceptions as a senior in 1938 ... that record has not been seriously approached by a Red Raider since Tarbox's playing career ended ... also had the school record with 17 career interceptions, a mark that lasted nearly 50 years until four-time All-Southwest Conference defensive back Tracy Saul broke the record ... became only the second Red Raider at the time to hear his name called during the NFL Draft as the then Cleveland Rams selected him 18th overall in 1939 ... never played a down in the NFL, though, as he elected to enlist to fight in World War II ... later in life elected to the Texas House of Representatives ... passed away on Nov. 2, 1987, at the age of 71.

TEXAS TECH HALL OF FAME

▲ WES WELKER joined the prestigious group of former student-athletes to join the Texas Tech Hall of Fame in 2016. Welker, who had an outstanding NFL career with stops with the Dolphins, Patriots and Broncos, is seen here with Double T Varsity Club Director Rodney Allison as well as the late Tommy McVay and Toby Cecil.

The Texas Tech Hall of Fame is determined by outstanding athletic achievement and the individuals that have brought distinction to the Texas Tech Athletics program through their athletic accomplishments, but also continually displaying qualities of sportsmanship, character and integrity. Former athletes are eligible for consideration a minimum of 10 years after their class has graduated. Since the Hall of Fame's initial ceremony, 147 people have been inducted. More detailed information can be found at TexasTech.com.

TEAM RECORDS

▲ Texas Tech has rewritten its offensive record book since the turn of the century with 13 games of at least 700 yards of total offense since the 2000 season. The Red Raiders, led by PATRICK MAHOMES II, shattered the school record for total offense with 854 yards in 2016 in a memorable back-and-forth battle with Oklahoma.

TEXAS TECH SPORTS NETWORK

The Red Raiders play here! The Texas Tech Sports Network from Learfield is your home for all of the excitement of Texas Tech football. Week after week, TTSN's complete coverage of the Red Raiders provides Texas Tech fans with everything they need to know about Red Rider football.

TTSN, over 35 radio affiliates strong, blankets Texas with complete coverage of Red Raider Football. Fans have the luxury of listening to the Red Raiders statewide thanks to the network's strong lineup of affiliates. TTSN was there every step of the way through Texas Tech's 2018 football season and will be on hand once again this year as the Red Raiders challenge for the Big 12 championship.

Play-by-play announcer Brian Jensen returns for his 22nd season with the network, joined by color commentator John Harris and sideline reporter Chris Level. Together they bring the action and excitement of Red Raider football to the Lone Star State and beyond.

Football on TTSN begins with "The Pregame Show," featuring Texas Tech head coach Matt Wells. The network's coverage continues with an extensive halftime show, updating you with updated scores and college football news from around the nation. It extends well after the final play into the locker room for postgame interviews that provide insight from Texas Tech coaches and players. Whether you're at Jones AT&T Stadium, at home or in your car, TTSN is a must for every fan on gameday.

Fans outside the coverage area will once again be able to listen to Red Raider games live on the Internet through Texas Tech TV. By logging onto www.TexasTech.com, live play-by-play of Texas Tech Football is just a click away. The games also are carried on Sirius/XM Satellite Radio (channel varies).

All games will also be available on the TuneIn Radio App, available for download in your iTunes or Android store.

For complete coverage of Red Raider Football, there's no better seat in the house, in the car or at the stadium than with TTSN.

BRIAN JENSEN

Jensen will be handling play-by-play duties for the 22nd season. He matches the Red Raiders high-octane attack by bringing an energetic style to listeners throughout the Texas Tech Sports Network. Jensen is an award-winning broadcaster, earning a Regional Emmy for live reporting and a Dallas Press Club Katie Award for "Best Sportscast" as a television anchor and reporter in the Dallas - Fort Worth market throughout the 1990's. Jensen is a Texas Tech graduate.

JOHN HARRIS

A name synonymous with sports on the South Plains, John Harris enters his 39th season of Red Raider Football on the airwaves. Harris began his association with Texas Tech Football on radio in 1984 as a color analyst with broadcasting legend Jack Dale. He has sat in the anchor position at all three Lubbock television stations and retired from anchoring at KAMC-TV in May 2000. In 1997, the Associated Press awarded Harris with "Best Sportscast in Texas" honors. Harris is a Texas Tech graduate while majoring in telecommunications with a minor in English.

CHRIS LEVEL

Level, co-host of Tech Talk on Double T 97.3 FM, enters his 12th season as the sideline reporter for the Red Raiders. Level is also entering his eighth year of hosting the weekly Red Raider Football Show radio show, which airs each Wednesday during the season at Rudy's BBQ (Loop 289 location). He is also site publisher for RedRaiderSports.com, an affiliate of Rivals.com and managing editor of Red Raider Sports magazine. Level is a frequent contributor to radio shows around the state and nation as well as nationally syndicated Rivals Radio. Level is a 1996 graduate of Texas Tech with a bachelor's degree in business management.

STEVE PITTS

This season marks Steve Pitts' 43rd year with Texas Tech as producer and engineer of the Texas Tech Sports Network. Under his guidance and direction, he has never failed to get a broadcast on the air. Pitts explains his position as "being the voice in the ear of the voices you hear." Brian Jensen usually refers to him simply as "the rest of the Texas Tech Sports Network radio broadcast crew." Pitts received a telecommunications and English degree from Texas Tech in 1975.

TEXAS TECH ADMINISTRATION

TEDD L. MITCHELL, M.D.
Chancellor, TTU System

Tedd L. Mitchell, M.D., was named the fifth chancellor of the Texas Tech University System (TTU System) on Oct. 25, 2018.

As chancellor, Mitchell is the CEO of a $2.5 billion, five-university higher education enterprise consisting of Texas Tech University, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Angelo State University, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center El Paso and Midwestern State University.

Collectively, the TTU System enrolls more than 63,000 students, has an endowment valued at more than $1.3 billion and operates on 23 academic locations in 20 cities (18 in Texas, 2 internationally).

Mitchell works collaboratively with the TTU System Board of Regents, TTU System Administration and university presidents to enhance the TTU System's profile and support shared missions of advancing higher education, health care, research and community outreach. Additionally, Mitchell guides the TTU System's engagement with elected officials in Austin and federal leaders in Washington, D.C., to further increase funding and support.

Mitchell was instrumental in securing the partnership with MSU Texas, which officially joined as the fifth member institution of the TTU System on Sept. 1, 2021, following the 87th Texas legislative session when Gov. Greg Abbott authorized House Bill 1522.

Historic milestones were achieved under Mitchell's leadership in 2019 during the 86th Texas Legislature, when legislative support and approval was provided to establish the TTU School of Veterinary Medicine in Amarillo and the Woody L. Hunt School of Dental Medicine at TTUHSC El Paso. These achievements marked the state's first veterinary school in more than a century and the first dental school in Texas in more than 50 years. The addition of these two schools makes the TTU System one of only nine in the nation to offer programs for undergraduate, medical, law, nursing, pharmacy, dental and veterinary education, among other academic areas.

Mitchell also implemented a values-based culture at the TTU System Administration, where all employees embarked on a journey together to identify and establish a set of commonly shared values. Nearly 200 team members determined People First, Integrity, Community, Respect and Exemplary Service as the five shared values of the TTU System Administration.

Mitchell first joined the TTU System when he was named the eighth president of TTUHSC on May 17, 2010. He held a dual appointment as chancellor and president for approximately one year until deciding to close his presidential tenure in 2019 after nearly a decade at the helm of TTUHSC. He is the longest-tenured president in the 52-year history of the university and led the institution to monumental milestones, record growth in enrollment, academic excellence and physical campus expansion.

During Mitchell's tenure as president, TTUHSC and its leadership spearheaded the university's first fundraising campaign, a $100-million initiative, and successfully implemented a values-based culture at the university and its six campuses across the state. In 2013, Mitchell helped transform TTUHSC's regional campus in El Paso into a standalone university and the system's fourth institution, TTUHSC El Paso.

Prior to arriving at TTUHSC, Mitchell served as president and CEO of the Cooper Clinic in Dallas, an internationally recognized center of excellence in preventive and sports medicine. Mitchell earned a Bachelor of Science at Stephen F. Austin State University in 1983. He is an Ashbel Smith Distinguished Alumnus of the University of Texas Medical Branch, where he received his Doctor of Medicine in 1987 and in 2012 was honored as a distinguished alumnus of the Department of Internal Medicine. He is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and the American College of Sports Medicine. From 1988 to 1996, he served as a captain in the U.S. Army Reserves (Medical Corps).

Mitchell is married to Janet Tornelli-Mitchell, M.D. They met while in medical school and practiced together for nearly two decades. As the TTU System's first lady, Tornelli-Mitchell has led a health and wellness initiative that is offered to employees of the TTU System through the Employees Retirement System of Texas benefits program.

The Mitchells have three children: Katherine Schwartz, an assistant district attorney in Dallas; Charlie, a petroleum engineer in Dallas and a TTU alumnus; and Chris, a TTU and Villanova alumnus, who is pursuing a career in the military. In 2020, they welcomed their first grandchild, Isabelle Grace, daughter of Katherine and her husband Ben.

DR. LAWRENCE SCHOVANEC
President

Since Dr. Lawrence Schovanec was named president in 2016, Texas Tech University has seen record levels of enrollment, student retention, graduation rates, degrees awarded and research expenditures, as well as pivotal accomplishments reflecting the university's commitment to research and outreach to communities and industry. In spite of the challenges presented by COVID-19, Texas Tech experienced a four percent growth in enrollment in fall 2020 and for the first time enrolled more than 40,000 students.

A historic benchmark in Texas Tech's history and in veterinary care in the state of Texas was achieved in May 2019, when the Texas Legislature and Gov. Greg Abbott approved the establishment of the Texas Tech School of Veterinary Medicine, the state's first in more than a century. The School of Veterinary Medicine received a letter of reasonable assurance of accreditation from the American Veterinary Medical Association in September 2020, which allowed the program to begin accepting student applications for the inaugural class in August 2021.

Texas Tech is one of 16 institutions in the Carnegie Very High Research Activity classification that is also designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution. The university was one of four institutions in the nation to be named as a recipient of the 2018 W.K. Kellogg Foundation Community Engagement Scholarship Award, which qualified Texas Tech as a finalist for the national C. Peter Magrath Community Engagement Scholarship Award, presented annually by the Association of Public and Land Grant Universities. The university was also recognized by NAFSA as a recipient of the 2018 Sen. Paul Simon Award for Comprehensive Internationalization.

Schovanec, who received his doctorate in mathematics from Indiana University, has emphasized student success and scholarship support. Since being appointed president, Texas Tech has increased annual awards for merit- and need-based scholarships by more than $30 million. These investments have contributed to record freshman classes and record numbers of National Merit Finalists, Presidential Scholars and first-generation students. In support of Texas Tech's commitment to both its educational and research missions, Schovanec has established 50 Presidential Teaching and Research Excellence Professorships.

Texas Tech continues to increase and improve its infrastructure during Schovanec's tenure. Since his appointment Texas Tech has dedicated or started construction of new facilities that represent an investment of more than $300 million. This includes a new Honors Residence Hall, Experimental Sciences Building, and major renovation of the university theatre. Texas Tech has also established Texas Tech University at Costa Rica (TTU-CR), an endeavor that was finalized shortly after Schovanec assumed the role of president. The TTU-CR campus hosted its first class in fall 2018.

President Schovanec serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of the Texas International Educational Consortium, Vice Chair of the Texas Council of Public University Presidents and Chancellors, Vice Chair of the Big 12 Board of Directors, and is a member of the NAFSA Board of Directors.

TEXAS TECH ADMINISTRATION

▲ KIRBY HOCUTT has led Texas Tech to new heights since being named the 13th Director of Athletics in school history on March 2, 2011.

KIRBY HOCUTT
Director of Athletics

Kirby Hocutt, a 2018 Under Armour Athletics Director of the Year, has guided the Texas Tech athletics department to unprecedented success since being named the 13th Director of Athletics in school history on March 2, 2011.

Under his leadership, Texas Tech has developed into one of the nation's elite athletics programs with a top-15 showing in the 2017-18 Capital One Cup men's standings and a top-five finish for the 2018-19 academic year. Texas Tech ranked as the top men's program in the state of Texas following both years and posted its highest two finishes all-time in the Capital One Cup.

The 2018-19 academic year ranked as arguably the best in school history as the men's track and field team claimed the NCAA Outdoor title, the first national championship for a men's athletic program in school history. Texas Tech also made its fourth appearance at the College World Series in a six-year span, concluding its trip to Omaha by finishing among the final four teams for the first time ever.

Texas Tech came close to another national title earlier that year as the Red Raider men's basketball program navigated its way to the Final Four for the first time before falling to Virginia in the National Final. The Red Raiders, who advanced to the Elite Eight round just a year before, also claimed the program's first ever Big 12 regular-season crown, one of 11 league titles for Texas Tech over the past six years.

Hocutt, who completed a two-year term as chairman of the College Football Playoff Selection Committee in 2017, has watched six of his programs – men's track and field (indoor and outdoor), women's tennis, men's basketball, men's golf and baseball – finish among the top-eight teams in the country for their respective sports the past four years. During that four-year span, Texas Tech has boasted 15 of its 17 athletic programs competing in the NCAA postseason or a bowl game.

In addition to Texas Tech's success in competition, Hocutt has boosted Texas Tech's athletic profile with a list of achievements such as:

- Texas Tech has claimed 14 Big 12 Conference titles during Hocutt's tenure (four in women's tennis, four in men's track and field, three in baseball and one in men's basketball, men's tennis and soccer).
- Hocutt has made several notable coaching hires over his Texas Tech career, none possibly more impressive, though, than baseball coach Tim Tadlock. Under Tadlock, the Texas Tech baseball program advanced to the College World Series for the first time in school history in 2014 and has since made three return trips to Omaha in 2016, 2018 and 2019.
- In addition to Tadlock, Hocutt is also responsible for the hiring of Matt Wells as the head football coach, Krista Gerlich as the head coach for Lady Raider Basketball and the promotion of Mark Adams to oversee the Red Raider basketball program.
- In August 2014, Texas Tech unveiled the first athletics specific fundraising campaign in university history: The Campaign for Fearless Champions. The campaign includes four components: enhance athletic facilities, invest in the athletics scholarship endowment, grow the Talkington Leadership Academy and provide for the future of Texas Tech Athletics. The now more than $200 million initiative focuses on benefiting all 17 Texas Tech athletic teams.
- As part of The Campaign for Fearless Champions, Hocutt provided the vision for and the plans to build the $48 million Sports Performance Center, which opened in the fall of 2017. The world-class facility houses an indoor track and field competition venue and the Petersen Family Indoor Practice Facility along with sports medicine, nutrition and strength and conditioning areas.
- Texas Tech officially opened the Dustin R. Womble Basketball Center in May 2021, which is a $32.2 million, nearly 59,000 square foot training facility for the Red Raider and Lady Raider basketball programs. The facility is easily among the finest in college athletics, providing both programs with their own practice courts as well as a 6,500-square-foot strength and conditioning area, one of the largest of its kind in the NCAA that is on-par with similar team headquarters in the NBA. Texas Tech's final investment in the facility was the mounting of video boards in both gyms, making the Womble Center the only practice facility in the country with interactive video boards.
- The student-athlete experience has been a priority under Hocutt's leadership as Texas Tech opened the Cash Family Sports Nutrition Center in February 2020. The state-of-the-art facility is the day-to-day dining location for the university's more than 400 student-athletes, offering on-site meal preparations, a 220-person seating capacity as well as the Dean and Christi Quinn Education Kitchen for Texas Tech's nutritional staff to educate student-athletes on proper cooking prep and storage.
- Hocutt and Hall of Fame Coach Marsha Sharp created the J.T. and Margaret Talkington Leadership Academy in 2014 to help prepare student-athletes for success after graduation. The academy focuses on many life skills for student-athletes such as resume building, etiquette training, interview skills and leadership development.
- Texas Tech has made several upgrades to Jones AT&T Stadium through The Campaign for Fearless Champions, including a new state-of-the-art FieldTurf playing surface, upgraded premium seating in the north end of the stadium, the north end zone colonnade and a new high-definition video board and control room. Texas Tech has also invested into the Football Training Facility, upgrading the weight room and team locker room in 2017 and then replacing both practice field surfaces in 2018.
- Texas Tech student-athletes have excelled in the classroom under Hocutt's watch, raising the bar multiple times in terms to the highest term and cumulative grade-point averages in school history. Texas Tech student-athletes have combined for at least a 3.0 GPA over 12-consecutive semesters through the 2021 spring term where student-athletes set new school records for the highest semester and cumulative GPAs in history.

Throughout his tenure at Texas Tech, Hocutt has been prominent on several national committees, possibly none more recognizable than his role on the College Football Playoff Selection Committee. Hocutt was named to the CFP Selection Committee in 2015 and served his second year as the committee chairman during the 2017 season. The CFP Selection Committee is responsible for selecting the top four teams in the playoff while also placing the next group of teams to the remaining New Year's bowls.

Hocutt's success at Texas Tech was recognized in March 2018 as he was named an Under Armour Athletics Director of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA). Hocutt was one of four sitting athletics directors at the NCAA FBS level to win the prestigious award.

Hocutt arrived at Texas Tech following three years at the University of Miami (Fla.) where he was named Athletics Director on Feb. 8, 2008. He previously earned his first opportunity as an NCAA Division I athletics director at Ohio University in 2005 at only the age of 33.

A Sherman, Texas native, Hocutt also served stints in the athletics departments at Kansas State (1996-97) and the University of Oklahoma (1998-2005). Prior to his time at Oklahoma, Hocutt served as the coordinator of licensing at the National Collegiate Athletic Association. He began his sports administration career as the assistant director of marketing and promotions at his alma mater, Kansas State.

A former football student-athlete at Kansas State, Hocutt was a four-year letterman at linebacker while leading the Big 8 Conference in tackles as a junior in 1993. Hocutt, who was elected captain his senior year, was named to the All-Big 8 Conference team following his junior season. The Sporting News selected him in 1993 as one of the nation's top-20 "most underrated" players.

Hocutt earned his bachelor's degree from Kansas State in 1995 and his master's of education degree from the University of Oklahoma in 2001. He and his wife, Diane, have two sons – Drew Phillips and Brooks Ryan. Drew is currently a football student-athlete at Angelo State University.

TONY HERNANDEZ
Deputy Athletics Director

Tony Hernandez joined Texas Tech Athletics in June 2017 as Deputy Director of Athletics where he serves as the department's chief operating officer. In his role, Hernandez oversees all day-to-day functions within the athletics department and serves as the sport supervisor for both football and men's basketball.

Since his arrival, Texas Tech has experienced one of its most successful stretches in school history, namely in men's basketball as the Red Raiders advanced to the Elite Eight round in 2018 before finishing as the National Runner-Up a year later. The 2019 run marked Texas Tech's first-ever trip to the Final Four and also included a Big 12 regular-season title, the program's first since joining the league in 1996.

Off the field, Texas Tech has continued to pave the way in terms of facility enhancements during Hernandez' tenure as the athletics department opened the Dustin R. Womble Basketball Center in May 2021, a $29.5 million project that will become the day-to-day home for both basketball programs. The facility is one of several milestones under Hernandez as Texas Tech recently built the Cash Family Sports Nutrition Center, which opened in February 2020 as the day-to-day dining location for the university's more than 400 student-athletes.

Hernandez arrived in Lubbock after serving as a Senior Associate Athletics Director and Deputy Athletics Director under then Director of Athletics Kirby Hocutt during the latter's time at Miami from 2008-11. He also served as the department's Interim Athletics Director following Hocutt's departure to Texas Tech.

Hernandez joined his alma mater in 1998, working his way up the athletics department until eventually being appointed Deputy Athletics Director. In that role, Hernandez oversaw the following operations and sports: financial and business operations, human resources, equipment operations, video services, Adidas relations, legal and contractual matters as well as the sports of men's basketball, baseball and track and field.

Hernandez started his career at Miami as a graduate assistant in academic services. He was hired full time in 1999 as a compliance coordinator. Hernandez was subsequently promoted to Director of Compliance in 2002, Assistant A.D. for Compliance in 2004, Associate A.D. for Compliance in 2005, Senior Associate Athletics Director in 2007 and Deputy Athletics Director in 2010.

In 2005, he served as the Interim Associate Athletics Director for Development and has served as the Interim Associate Athletics Director for External Affairs on two separate occasions. During his term as Interim Associate Athletics Director for Development, the Hurricane Club exceeded its annual giving budgetary goal by nearly 10 percent.

In addition to his work at Miami, Hernandez has been involved at both the conference and national level. He has served on the following committees during his tenure:

- Chair of the NCAA Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee
- NCAA Amateurism Cabinet
- ACC Finance Committee
- Past President of the National Association of Athletic Compliance (NAAC)
- Division-I Athletic Directors' Compliance Task Force
- NCAA Academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet
- ACC Constitution and Bylaws Committee
- Chair of the NCAA Initial-Eligibility Waivers Sub-Committee.

During his time at Miami, Hernandez was also an adjunct professor in the university's School of Education for Sports Management and at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton.

Hernandez earned both a law degree and a bachelor's of business administration in finance from the University of Miami. He is married to the former Melissa Schumacher. The couple has two sons, Anthony Jr. and Austin.

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

▲ TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY was founded in 1923 as Texas Technological College before eventually being renamed Texas Tech University on Sept. 1, 1969.

HISTORY OF TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

Texas Tech University was created by legislative action in 1923 and has the distinction of being the largest comprehensive higher education institution in the western two-thirds of the state of Texas. The university is the major institution of higher education in a region larger than 46 of the nation's 50 states and is the only campus in Texas that is home to a major university, law school and medical school.

Originally named Texas Technological College, the college opened in 1925 with six buildings and an enrollment of 914. Graduate instruction did not begin until 1927 within the school of Liberal Arts. A "Division of Graduate Studies" was established in 1935 and eventually became known as the Graduate School in 1954.

By action of the Texas State Legislature, Texas Technological College formally became Texas Tech University on September 1, 1969. At that time the schools of Agricultural Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering and Home Economics also became known as "colleges." Architecture became a college in 1986. Two colleges changed their names in 1993 to reflect the broadening fields each serves: the College of Agricultural Sciences became the College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources and the College of Home Economics became the College of Human Sciences. The Honors College was established in 1998, and the College of Visual and Performing Arts opened in 2002. Mass Communications became a college in 2004 and became the College of Media & Communication in 2013.

The Texas State Legislature authorized funds in 1965 for establishing the Texas Tech University School of Law, and the Law School's first dean was appointed in 1966. The first class of 72 students enrolled in 1967. The Law School was approved by the American Bar Association in 1970 and is fully accredited by the Supreme Court of Texas (1968) and the Association of American Law Schools (1969).

As a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, Texas Tech began competing in the Big 12 Conference in 1996 after a 35-year membership in the former Southwest Conference.

TEXAS TECH TRADITIONS

▲ THE WILL ROGERS STATUE is wrapped with red crepe paper before every home football game, one of the most-popular traditions at Texas Tech University.

ARBOR DAY
When Texas Tech first started, most of the funds went towards the buildings, but the campus was lacking its landscape. Then, in 1937, President Bradford Knapp decided to dedicate one day every spring to beautify the campus. On the first day of this now annual tradition, 20,000 trees were planted. This Tech tradition still goes on today as student and teachers plant trees and beautify the campus on Arbor Day.

BANGIN' BERTHA (SADDLE TRAMP BELL)
Saddle Tramps carry Bangin Bertha, a bell on a trailer, to all home football games and homecoming events. Bertha was designed in 1959 by Saddle Tramp Joe Winegar, and was donated by the Santa Fe Railroad. Bangin' Bertha is considered a spirit-raiser and a big tradition at Texas Tech.

BLARNEY STONE
On St. Patrick's Day in 1939, Texas Tech University unveiled that they had discovered a piece of the Blarney Stone. According to the legend the stone was discovered by a group of petroleum engineers while they were on a field trip. After doing tests it was discovered that the stone was a piece of the original Blarney Stone. The stone now lies on a stand in front of the old Electrical Engineering Building. It is said that seniors that kiss the Blarney Stone upon graduation will receive the gift of eloquent speech.

CARILLON
In 1973, Ruth Baird Larabee made a donation to Texas Tech University to buy and install a carillon in memory of her parents. The Charles and Ruth Baird Memorial Carillon is located in the west tower of the administration building at the center of the Texas Tech campus. The beautiful music of the 36-bell instrument ring out over the campus during times of celebration and solemnity. Students, faculty, and staff, as well as visitors to the university, have enjoyed the music for 30 years. The carillon became one of Texas Tech's treasured traditions.

The carillon was refurbished and extended in 2005, adding additional bells to make 3 ½ octaves. The bourdon (the largest bell) weighs approximately 800 pounds, and the smallest, only about eight pounds. Twelve of the bells were cast by Whitechapel Bell Foundry in England, 24 were cast by the Paccard Foundry in France, and the newest bells, by Meek & Watson Foundry in Ohio. The estimated value of this collection of bells today is $250,000.

According to The Guild of Carillonneurs in North America, "A carillon is a musical instrument composed of at least 23 bells, arranged in chromatic sequence, so tuned as to produce concordant harmony when many bells are sounded together. It is played from a keyboard that allows expression through variation of touch."

Every year since its inception, the Carol of Lights has featured carillon music. Additionally, each year on the Fourth of July at 1:00 p.m., the carillon is played in conjunction with the ceremonial ringing of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia. Summer Sunday evening concerts are another Tech tradition.

CAROL OF LIGHTS
To celebrate the holiday season, Texas Tech holds an annual event called the Carol of Lights. The event starts off with the Texas Tech University Combined Choirs performing selections of classic holiday songs at the Science Quadrangle. When the lighting ceremony commences, Students, as well as those who came for the show, stand in awe as over 25,000 red, white, and orange lights illuminate the 13 buildings surrounding memorial circle.

This tradition started in 1959 when Harold Hinn came up with the idea and provided the funds to cover the science quadrangle and the administration building with lights. Unfortunately students were away on Christmas break and did not see the display. The following year, the Residence Hall Association created the Christmas Sing, which is now known as the Carol of Lights. Today, the Carol of Lights is one of Texas Tech's favorite traditions.

DOUBLE T BENCH
Located in the courtyard behind the Administration Building, this special bench was given by the seniors of the class of 1931. It was an announced tradition that no freshmen were allowed to sit on it.

DOUBLE T SADDLE MONUMENT
Before the football team runs onto the field, they touch the sculpture of a saddle. The saddle was dedicated by the Saddle Tramps to Double T, one of the many Masked Rider Horses that served proudly over the years.

DOUBLE T
There is no other symbol more recognized with Texas Tech than the Double T symbol. Though no one has yet stepped forward to claim credit for its design, historical evidence points to Texas Tech's first football coach E.Y. Freeland, who put the Double T logo on sweaters for the football players.

FIGHT SONG (FIGHT! RAIDERS! FIGHT!)
Fight, Raiders, Fight! Fight, Raiders, Fight!
Fight for the school we love so dearly.
You'll hit 'em high, you'll hit 'em low.
You'll push the ball across the goal,
Tech, Fight! Fight!

We'll praise your name, boost you to fame.
Fight for the Scarlet and Black.
You will hit 'em, you will wreck 'em.
Hit 'em! Wreck 'em, Texas Tech!
And the Victory Bells will ring out!
----Written by Carroll McMath

GOIN' BAND FROM RAIDERLAND
The Goin' Band from Raiderland is one of the largest spirit raisers on campus and among the finest bands in the country. The original band in 1925, numbering only 21 members, was dressed in matador uniforms. In recent years, the band's 400 members have returned to variations on that original look. The Goin' Band performs at home and away football games, parades and at other special events. Following home games, devoted fans stick around to join the band in their traditional march out of Jones AT&T Stadium, through the engineering key, around the circle, by the Administration Building and ending at the band parking lot behind the Music Building. The band was the 1998 recipient of the prestigious Sudler Trophy as the nation's top marching band.

GUNS UP
The "Guns Up" sign is the widely recognized greeting of one Red Raider to another. It is also the sign of victory displayed by the crowd at every athletic event. The sign is made by extending the index finger outward while extending the thumb upward and tucking in the middle, little and fourth fingers to form a gun.

The sign can be traced back to L. Glenn Dippel, a 1961 alumnus of Texas Tech. He and his wife Roxie were living in Austin and faced the daily presence of the "Hook 'em Horns" hand sign used by University of Texas fans. So, the Dippels decided to retaliate. They looked to mascot Raider Red and his raised guns for their inspiration and in 1971 developed the Guns Up hand symbol. The Saddle Tramps and Texas Tech cheerleaders immediately adopted Guns Up and a new tradition was born.

TEXAS TECH TRADITIONS

HOMECOMING

Homecoming is an exciting week full of activities for Texas Tech students. Such activities include a bonfire, parade, float competitions, open houses, award programs, and of course the homecoming football game. Another favorite event, which has been around since 1954, is the election of the homecoming queen.

MASKED RIDER

The Masked Rider is the oldest and most popular mascot of Texas Tech University that still exists today. Originally the Masked Rider started as a dare in 1936 and was then called the ghost rider, because no one knew the rider's identity. These ghost riders circled the field at home football games and then disappeared.

The Masked Rider did not become an official mascot until 1954, when Joe Kirk Fulton led the team out onto the field at the Gator Bowl. Fulton, wearing Levi's, red shirt, a black cape and mounted on a black horse, awed the crowd as the team made one of the most sensational entrances ever.

MATADOR SONG (ALMA MATER)

Fight, Matadors, for Tech!
Songs of love we'll sing to thee,
Bear our banners far and wide.
Ever to be our pride,
Fearless champions ever be.
Stand on heights of victory.
Strive for honor evermore.
Long live the Matadors!
----Music by Harry Lemaire, words by R.C. Marshall

RAIDER RED

Prior to the 1971 season, the Southwest Conference passed a rule that prevented members of the conference from taking live animals to non-home games unless the host team had no objections. So Jim Gaspard, a member of the Saddle Tramps, created Raider Red from a drawing by the late Lubbock cartoonist Dirk West as an alternative to the Masked Rider. Raider Red's student persona is kept a secret from the Tech community. Red is a public relations mascot who shakes hands with the crowds at athletic events and poses for pictures. Raider Red fires his two 12-gauge shotguns using powder-filled shells after every Tech touchdown and field goal.

SADDLE TRAMPS

Formed by Tech student Arch Lamb in 1936, this all-male booster organization supports men's athletics at Texas Tech. The name Saddle Tramp came from the stories of traveling men who would come to a farm for a brief time, fix up some things and move on. Lamb said he decided that he could fix up some things himself before moving on, and the Saddle Tramps were born. Since that time the Saddle Tramps believe if something was for the betterment of Texas Tech then they would work at it.

These Midnight Raiders "paint the campus red" with crepe paper before big home games, form the legendary "Bell Circle" moments before kickoff, ring Bangin' Bertha, participate in parades and other campus events (including the Carol of Lights), and ring the Victory Bells after Red Raider victories.

TEXAS TECH SEAL

Designed by the campus' master planner, William Ward Watkin, in 1924, the Texas Tech Seal's symbols are the lamp, which represents "school," the key for "home," the book for "church," and the star for "state." Cotton bolls represent the area's strong cotton industry and the eagle is suggestive of our country. The seal first appeared on Tech diplomas in 1948, but it wasn't officially approved as "The" Seal of Texas Tech University until 1953. On April 27, 1972, the seal was placed at the Broadway and University entrance to the campus in what became known as the Amon G. Carter Plaza. It is made of red granite and stands 12 feet high. It has been referred to by students through the years as "the Oreo."

TTAA CLASS RING AND CEREMONY

Since 1999, the official Texas Tech Alumni Association Class Ring has been the universal symbol of academic achievement at Texas Tech. The single ring is a tradition that was brought back from the 1950s that encompasses the Double T, Masked Rider, Administration Bell Tower, and the Texas Tech seal. Cast inside each ring is "Strive For Honor," taken from "The Matador Song." Rings are presented by the University president at the Official Ring Ceremony in the Merket Alumni Center.

VICTORY BELLS

In 1936 victory bells were given to Texas Tech as a class gift. The bells rang for the first time at the 1936 class's graduation. It is said that after the win over TCU, the following year, the bells rang throughout the night. The bells kept Lubbock residents up all night. Thereafter, the bell ringing was limited to 30 minutes. Saddle Tramps ring the bells after Texas Tech victories and during special occasions. The Victory Bells - one large and one small, which combine to weigh 1,200 pounds - hang in the east tower of the Administration Building.

WILL ROGERS AND SOAPSUDS

One of the most well-known landmarks on campus is the statue of Will Rogers and his horse Soapsuds. This memorial was dedicated on February 16, 1950 by longtime friend of Rogers, Amon G. Carter. Carter believed Texas Tech was the perfect setting for the statue and that it would fit into the traditions and scenery of West Texas.

The statue stands at 9'11" tall and weighs 3,200 pounds; its estimated cost was $25,000. On the base of the statue, the inscription reads "Lovable Old Will Rogers on his favorite horse, 'Soapsuds,' riding into the Western sunset."

Today, Texas Tech tradition and legends surrounds the statue. According to one legend, the plan to face Will Rogers so that he could be riding off into the sunset did not work out as it would cause Soapsuds' rear to be facing downtown. To solve this problem, the horse and Will was turned 23 degrees to the east so the horse's posterior was facing in the direction of Texas A&M, one of the school's rivals.

Before every home football game the Saddle Tramps wrap Old Will with red crepe paper. Will Rogers and Soapsuds have also been wrapped up in black crepe paper to mourn national tragedies.
