SATURDAY STORYLINES

RED RAIDERS TAKE 3-0 START TO AUSTIN

- Texas Tech will look to continue its hot start to the 2021 season this weekend when the Red Raiders open Big 12 play against Texas inside Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. The Red Raiders head to the state capital with their first 3-0 record to start a season since 2017.
- The Red Raiders have found success in Austin in two of their last two trips to the state capital as Texas Tech topped its in-state rival, 48-45, in 2015, and then again in 2017 with a 27-23 victory. A win over the Longhorns would mark Texas Tech's first 4-0 start to a season since the Red Raiders won the first seven games of the 2013 campaign.

STRENGTH vs. STRENGTH IN RUN GAME

- Saturday's matchup will pit one of the nation's top rushing offenses in Texas against one of the early FBS leaders in rushing defense in the Red Raiders, who are only giving up 57.3 yards per game on the ground thus far. Texas Tech enters this weekend ranked ninth in the FBS for rushing defense, allowing just 57.3 yards per game. The Red Raiders' 163 rushing yards allowed this season are their fewest through three games dating back to 2000.
- The Red Raiders, who are allowing only 21.3 points and 295.3 yards of total offense per game, will face a Texas offense that is averaging 240.3 rushing yards per game (15th in the FBS) and 39.0 points per game.

SHOUGH COMING OFF CAREER GAME

- Tyler Shough is coming off a career game in only his third start as a Red Raider as he completed 26-of-35 passes for 399 yards and four touchdowns in the win over FIU. The 399 passing yards marked the third 300-yard outing of Shough's career, snapping his previous career-high in the process.
- Shough spread the ball around throughout the FIU win, finding 11 different receivers and three Red Raiders for touchdowns. Three of Texas Tech's four touchdown passes went to the tight end position as Travis Koontz hauled in a career-high six passes for 53 yards and two touchdowns, while true freshman Mason Tharp had three catches for 61 yards and a score.

TEAM NOTEBOOK

TEXAS TECH, TEXAS SET FOR 71ST ALL-TIME MEETING

- Texas Tech and Texas will meet for the 71st time in history and the 62nd-consecutive year Saturday afternoon. The Longhorns control a 53-17 all-time advantage in the series, which includes a 31-7 mark in games played in the state capital.
- The Red Raiders have left Austin with a win in two of their last three trips after topping the Longhorns, 48-45, in 2015 and then 27-23 in 2017. It marked the first time in program history where Texas Tech has won back-to-back road games over Texas.
- Outside of the 2019 meeting in Austin, the two in-state rivals have gone to the wire over the past six years as five of those meetings have been determined by a touchdown or less. Texas Tech has used some late-game heroics in two of those wins as Jakeem Grant hid behind the offensive line before scampering 40 yards around the left side to the end zone to give Texas Tech a 48-38 lead with 2:41 remaining in the 2015 victory. Justus Parker, meanwhile, picked off a Sam Ehlinger pass with just over two minutes remaining in 2017, setting up a Cameron Batson touchdown from Nic Shimonek that was followed by a Douglas Coleman III interception to seal the victory.
- Texas Tech will be making the trip to Austin on a non-Thanksgiving Day weekend for the first time since the 2011 season when the two schools met on Nov. 5. It will be the first time the Red Raiders traveled to the state capital in the month of September since 2009 when the Longhorns edged Tech, 34-24, on Sept. 19.
- This will be the seventh time in the past nine years the two in-state rivals have entered the game unranked. Prior to the 2013 season, at least one of the two schools entered the annual matchup ranked nationally in each of the previous 15 meetings from 1998-2012. The two exceptions came in 2018 when Texas was ranked 19th and then a year ago when the Longhorns were No. 8 nationally.

FAMILY TIES

- There are several ties between the Texas Tech and Texas programs, none possibly more noticeable than Red Raider senior linebacker Colin Schooler and his brother Brenden Schooler, a senior wide receiver for the Longhorns. The Schooler brothers were previously slated to play their final collegiate season together at Arizona in 2020 before both deciding to transfer after the Pac-12 delayed its season. Brenden Schooler played his first three seasons at Oregon before transferring to Arizona and then Texas.
- Colin Schooler will need a win this weekend to even the all-time series with his brother as the two split a pair of meetings while at Oregon and Arizona. Brenden Schooler and the Ducks topped Arizona, 48-28, in 2017 in the first meeting between the two siblings before Arizona routed Oregon, 44-15, the following year. A year ago, Brenden Schooler and Texas rallied to top the Red Raiders in Lubbock. This will be the final year of eligibility for both brothers, who both chose to return to the collegiate ranks for the extra year allowed due to the 2020 COVID-shortened season.

TEXAS TECH-TEXAS COACHING NOTABLES

- Texas Tech offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie found plenty of success against the Longhorns during his seven seasons on staff at TCU as the Horned Frogs were a combined 6-1 versus Texas during that span. TCU averaged 34.1 points per game against Texas during Cumbie's tenure (2014-20) and 27.5 points per game in his four seasons as offensive coordinator (2017-20).
- While this will be the first time both Matt Wells and Steve Sarkisian have faced each other as head coaches, it won't be the first time Wells has seen another face on the Texas sideline. Texas co-defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach Jeff Choate was previously the head coach at Montana State, which was the first-ever opponent for the Red Raiders under Wells in 2019. Texas Tech topped Montana State in that game, 45-10.

CAREER NOTABLES VERSUS THE LONGHORNS

- Texas Tech's last trip to Austin was a breakout game of sorts for Erik Ezukanma as the then-redshirt freshman hauled in seven passes for 135 yards and a touchdown. It was the first 100-yard performance of Ezukanma's career at the time. He followed with seven catches for 91 yards and another score a year ago as Ezukanma has totaled 14 catches for 226 yards and a pair of touchdowns over his career against Texas.
- DaMarcus Fields has recorded 21 tackles and a pass breakup during his career against Texas. He notched a career-high with 13 tackles in the 2019 meeting against the Longhorns, his first of now two games with double digits for tackles.
- Riko Jeffers leads the team with 27 career tackles against Texas, which includes 1.5 that have gone for a loss. Jeffers had nine tackles in his first meeting against Texas in 2018 and followed with eight stops in 2019 and 10 a year ago. His 10 tackles against Texas last season marked his most recent game with double-digit tackles.
- Austin McNamara has had a couple memorable performances in the punting game as he is averaging 48.4 yards per attempt, considerably higher than his already impressive 45.5 career average.
- Jacob Morgenstern arrived at Texas Tech known for his prowess on special teams from his time at Duke and proved it in only his second game as a Red Raider a year ago as he got his hands on a Texas punt attempt. He also had what was a career high five tackles, including one that went for a loss.
- SaRodrick Thompson, who returned to the Texas Tech back field last weekend for the first time this season, has 190 career rushing yards and three touchdowns in his career against Texas. Those totals include 104 rushing yards versus the Longhorns a year ago, his third of now four career games with at least 100 yards on the ground.

TEXAS TECH ALL-TIME IN BIG 12 OPENERS

- Texas Tech enters this weekend with a 14-11 all-time record in Big 12 openers. The Red Raiders have dropped each of their last two Big 12 openers after falling at No. 6 Oklahoma in 2019 and then No. 8 Texas in overtime a year ago.
- This will be the fifth time in school history and the second time in as many years where the Red Raiders have kicked off league play against the Longhorns as Texas is a perfect 4-0 in those games with wins in 2001, 2009, 2010 and 2020. Texas was ranked among the top-10 teams nationally entering each of those four games. This will be the first time Texas Tech has opened Big 12 play against an unranked Texas team.
- In fact, this will be the first time since 2016 where the Red Raiders have not faced a ranked opponent to open conference play. Over the course of its 25 league openers in the Big 12 era, Texas Tech has been slated against a ranked opponent 12 times.
- The Red Raiders are 11-2 against unranked foes in Big 12 openers all-time with the lone two losses coming at Texas A&M in 2000 and at Oklahoma State in 2007.

FIRST GOAL ACHIEVED: RED RAIDERS WRAP PERFECT NON-CONFERENCE SLATE

- The victory over FIU crossed off one of the first goals for Matt Wells this season: a 3-0 start to the season with three non-conference victories. The Red Raiders went on the road to defeat Houston to start the season and then followed with home victories over Stephen F. Austin and FIU for their first 3-0 start since the 2017 season.
- Texas Tech head coach Matt Wells is now 6-1 in non-conference games during his tenure at Texas Tech and is 18-14 over his career with 10 of those losses coming to power-five schools, nine of which that were during his tenure at Utah State. The victory over FIU sealed the first undefeated non-conference slate of Wells' career (not including 2020 where there was only one non-conference game).
- Over the course of its time in the Big 12, Texas Tech has wrapped non-conference play without a blemish 13 times now, advancing to a bowl in 11 of those seasons - 1998, 2000, 2001, 2005, 2007, 2008, 2010, 2012, 2013, 2015 and 2017. The lone year the Red Raiders failed to make a bowl game following an undefeated non-conference slate came in 2011.
- The FIU victory also pushed Texas Tech's non-conference home winning streak to 14 games as the Red Raiders have won 39 of their last 40 contests dating back to the 2002 season. The Red Raiders are an impressive 46-2 overall in non-conference home games since moving to a spread offense in 2000.

RED RAIDERS TURNING INTO A SECOND HALF TEAM

- Texas Tech has showed all the signs of being a strong second-half team through the first three weeks of the season as the Red Raiders erased a 14-point deficit to win at Houston and then battled back from a slow start to edge Stephen F. Austin two weeks ago. It marked the first time the Red Raiders had battled back to win from halftime deficits in back-to-back games since Texas Tech topped both Nevada (35-34) and Kansas (45-34) early in the 2011 season.
- Texas Tech overcame a 14-point deficit against Houston to win for the second time in a four-game stretch facing that type of deficit as the Red Raiders previously battled back late in the 2020 season against Baylor. Prior to that game, the Red Raiders had not overcome such a deficit since rallying from a 20-0 hole against Kansas in 2011.
- Texas Tech is currently outscoring opponents, 71-16, in the second half this season as the Red Raider defense has allowed only two touchdowns, one of which came on a short drive that started just outside the red zone against Stephen F. Austin.
- The Red Raiders shut out Houston over the final 30 minutes of play, marking the first second-half shutout by Texas Tech since blanking No. 15 Oklahoma State to open Big 12 play with a victory in 2018.

SCORING IN A VARIETY OF WAYS

- The Red Raiders have found multiple ways to find the end zone this season as Texas Tech currently ranks tied for third nationally with two defensive touchdowns, which have come from interceptions by both Riko Jeffers and Marquis Waters. Baylor is the only other Big 12 program with multiple defensive touchdowns so far this season.
- Dating back to the start of the 2000 season, this is the first time the Red Raiders have recorded a pair of pick-six touchdowns through the first three games of a season. Jeffers' interception versus Houston marked the first pick-six by a Red Raider since Adrian Frye went 43 yards into the end zone against Lamar in 2018.
- Texas Tech enters Big 12 play averaging 40.0 points per game, a return to the high-scoring ways many are accustomed to with the Red Raiders. Tech heads to Austin ranked 26th in the FBS and third in the Big 12 for scoring offense as the Red Raiders' 120 points thus far are their most through three games under Matt Wells.
- Despite a slow start, the Red Raiders scored 54 points last weekend versus FIU, marking the first time Texas Tech has hit the 50-point mark since facing Texas in the second game of the 2020 season. It marked the second 50-point performance for the Red Raiders under head coach Matt Wells.

CLOSE WINS TURNING FOR THE RED RAIDERS

- After struggling to finish out tight games in Matt Wells' debut season in 2019, the Red Raiders have turned the tide in one-possession games as the Stephen F. Austin victory marked Texas Tech's fifth win since the start of the 2020 season in games determined by eight points or less. The Red Raiders are 5-2 in one-possession games during that span, which includes three Big 12 wins over West Virginia, Baylor and Kansas.
- If recent history repeats itself, this weekend could be another chance for the Red Raiders to prove themselves in a close game as the winner between Texas Tech and Texas has been determined by a touchdown in five of the last six meetings. The Red Raiders are 7-5 all-time in one possession games settled by seven points or less against the Longhorns.

ON THIS DATE...

Sonny Cumbie completed 28-of-52 passes for 356 yards and a pair of touchdowns in the win, finding Trey Haverty for 143 yards and Jarrett Hicks for another 131 yards.

NEWS & NOTES FROM THE FIRST THREE WEEKS

- The victory over Houston marked the fourth-straight for the Red Raiders over the Cougars as Texas Tech is now 16-3 against former Southwest Conference foes since the league disbanded in 1995. The Red Raiders have now won nine of the past 10 meetings against Houston, including four of the five meetings since joining the Big 12 in 1996.
- Texas Tech notched four interceptions in the win over Houston, its most in a game since the Red Raiders picked off five passes against SMU early in the 2008 season. The Red Raiders are one of four schools who have notched at least four interceptions in a game this season, joining Tennessee, Troy and Kent State, the final one of which has done so twice already.
- Texas Tech posted its second defensive touchdown of the season thanks to Marquis Waters' momentum-changing 72 yard return in the first quarter versus FIU. The Red Raiders are one of 13 FBS program to own multiple defensive scores in 2021. The INT also increased the Red Raiders' season total to five, each of been made by a different player, and matches the team total of five INTs in 2020 (10 games).
- Texas Tech's five interceptions so far this season lead the Big 12 and rank tied for 10th nationally entering this weekend.
- Texas Tech has limited opponents on the ground and through the air this season as the Red Raiders are giving up only 290.3 yards of total offense per game. That currently ranks 29th nationally and fifth in the Big 12 entering league play. Texas Tech's 871 yards of total offense allowed thus far is the fewest through three games since 2012 when the Red Raiders gave up 481 yards to the likes of North-western State, Texas State and New Mexico.
- Texas Tech limited Houston to only 251 yards of total offense, marking the second-straight game the Red Raiders have held an op-ponent to less than 300 yards dating back to the 2020 finale against Kansas. The Cougars only totaled 53 yards of total offense in the second half and went no where on the ground with negative-18 yards.
- The Red Raiders have totaled 23.0 tackles for a loss through three games, just shy of defensive coordinator's goal of 8.0 per game. Texas Tech recorded 11.0 tackles for loss in the Houston win alone, its most since recording the same amount against Baylor midway through the 2019 season. Tech currently ranks 26th nationally and third in the Big 12 with 7.3 tackles for loss per game.
- Tahj Brooks has been the breakout star for the Texas Tech offense through the first three weeks as he has carried 35 times for 284 yards and four touchdowns. Brooks has been explosive in finding the end zone, scoring on touchdown runs of 41 and 44 yards against Houston before breaking loose on a 67-yard scamper against SFA. To this point in the season, Brooks joins Ohio State's TreVeyon Hen-derson as the only FBS running backs with three runs of at least 40 yards or longer. He leads the Big 12 and ranks seventh nationally, averaging an impressive 8.1 yards per carry.
- Brooks finished with a career-high 134 rushing yards against Houston and then added 103 on the ground versus SFA, marking his first two games to reach the 100-yard mark. He currently ranks 32nd nationally and fifth in the Big 12 for both rushing yards and rushing yards per game (94.7) and 27th in the FBS for rushing touchdowns (4).
- The Red Raiders added to their list of explosive plays of 50 yards or better, with now seven, behind a Kaylon Geiger 52-yard catch, and Dalton Rigdon's 59-yard catch. Texas and Michigan lead the nation in that category with seven a piece.
- Xavier White added a 52-yard run against SFA as part of seven carries for 88 yards and a touchdown. With that run, Texas Tech has four carries go at least 40 yards this season, which ranks tied for second nationally despite not adding to that total against FIU.
- Texas Tech scored 35 points the first half against FIU, the most points in a first half since scoring 35 against West Virginia in 2019.
- Tech ran 28 plays and scored 28 points in the second quarter. The last time Tech scored 28 points in a single quarter was on Sept. 8, 2018 against Lamar in the second quarter.

A NEW TERM FOR 2021 - SUPER SENIORS

- Media and fans alike will likely hear a new term throughout the 2021 season - Super Seniors. The phrase describes many of the seniors across the country who decided to utilize the extra year granted by the NCAA for the 2020 season.
- The defense was the greatest benefactor of the Super Senior movement, retaining a collective 156 career starts between seven players entering this season. The group is led by Colin Schooler, the team's most veteran player, who owned 41 career starts between his playing time at Arizona (33) and Texas Tech (8), entering 2021.
- The offense boasts five Super Seniors who own a collective 58 starts among them. The most experience of that group is shared by a pair of transfers in Kaylon Geiger (19) and T.J. Storment (19), who each arrived to Lubbock as Super Seniors.
- For Texas Tech, the Red Raiders lead the Big 12 Conference with 12 super seniors according to recent research by the Associated Press. The list of returnees includes nine players that were on Tech's roster this past fall as well as three others in T.J. Storment, who transferred to join the Red Raiders this spring following one season at TCU, Kaylon Geiger Sr., a veteran wide receiver from Troy, and Marquis Waters, who started in 35 games over his career at Duke.
- According to the Associated Press' research this past spring, Texas Tech is tied for fifth among power-five programs with 12 super seniors as the Red Raiders only trail the likes of Illinois (17), Arizona State (14), USC (14) and Rutgers (13) and are tied with Pittsburgh (12). The arrival of Geiger pushed the Red Raiders ahead of Arizona (11), Utah (11) and Tennessee (11).

NEW TO TOWN BUT NOT TO THE GAME

- One of the goals for Matt Wells and his staff upon their arrival in Dec. 2018 was making the Red Raiders older as a roster. They have done just that, bringing in 22 scholarship transfers from four-year colleges during that span, including 17 that appear on the 2021 roster.
- An area, in particular, Wells and his staff have taken advantage of is transfers with multiple years of eligibility remaining as Texas Tech has signed 14 players in his tenure that will ultimately play multiple seasons for the Red Raiders. That total includes nine Red Raiders who are entering their second season at Texas Tech this season and three more who will have multiple seasons of eligibility after arriving in Lubbock this past January.
- Texas Tech has signed the bulk of its transfers from other power-five schools under Wells as 14 players have arrived after playing in the ACC, Big 12, Big Ten, SEC or Pac-12. Six of Texas Tech's transfer additions for this season came from power-five schools as the Red Raiders signed the likes of Malik Dunlap (N.C. State), Reggie Pearson Jr. (Wisconsin), Jesiah Pierre (Florida), Tyler Shough (Oregon), T.J. Storment (TCU), Marquis Waters (Duke) and Rayshad Williams (UCLA).
- Both Storment and Waters were considered instant-impact signees for the Red Raiders as Storment garnered All-Big 12 second team honors by the Associated Press this past season at TCU, while Waters started 35 games over his Duke career, totaling 234 tackles and three interceptions during that time.

- A few have garnered notice from the Athletic's Max Olson and Bruce Feldman as part of their College Football Transfer Portal Top 100 that was released prior to the season: Tyler Shough (No. 21), Marquis Waters (No. 49), T.J. Stormont (No. 74).
- Wells did go outside the power-five to land additional depth at wide receiver this summer with the signing of Troy transfer Kaylon Geiger. Over his two seasons at Troy, Geiger caught 141 passes for 1,625 yards and eight touchdowns over 23 games as he was tabbed the Sun Belt Newcomer of the Year as a junior in 2019 as well as an All-Sun Belt first team honoree. He collected second team accolades from the conference coaches in 2020. Geiger previously starred at Navarro College prior to transferring to Troy as a junior in 2019.
- Over his first two seasons, four-year college transfers into the program under Wells have accounted for 84 starts.

THEY'RE THE CAPTAINS NOW

- Matt Wells named 13 team captains to his leadership council at the start of preseason camp following a vote of their teammates. The captains circle consists of seven seniors, five juniors and one sophomore this season.
- Among the elected captains, Riko Jeffers, Erik Ezukanma and SaRodorick Thompson were selected to represent their peers for a third-consecutive season. It was the second-straight year for Dawson Deaton, Tony Bradford Jr. and Jaylon Hutchings to be recognized.

DEGREES IN HAND

- Texas Tech entered the 2021 season with 16 student-athletes who are current college graduates, including seven who earned their undergraduate degrees in Lubbock. The list of Tech graduates includes Seth Collins, Dawson Deaton, Riko Jeffers, McLane Mannix, DaMarcus Fields and Nelson Mbanasor.
- In addition, nine other Red Raiders transferred to Texas Tech after earning their degrees at various other universities. That list features Brandon Bouyer-Randle (Michigan State), Josh Burger (Wofford), Eric Monroe (LSU), Jacob Morgenstern (Duke), Colin Schooler (Arizona), Chadarius Townsend (Alabama), Marquis Waters (Duke), Tyler Shough (Oregon) and T.J. Stormont (Colorado State) and Matthew Young (New Mexico State).

YOU'RE ON SCHOLARSHIP

- Four Red Raiders closed preseason camp by hearing the three words every walk-on dreams of: "you're on scholarship." Matt Wells and his staff gave that opportunity to four different Red Raiders this past Saturday as sophomore offensive lineman Aaron Castro, sophomore linebacker Bryce Ramirez, junior tight end Henry Teeter and senior defensive lineman Troy Te'o were all recognized for their hard work.
- The presentation was set up, in part, by offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie, a former walk-on himself who discussed his journey to eventually earning a scholarship and then becoming the Red Raiders' starter behind center. Cumbie remains one of the most successful walk-ons in school history after leading the Red Raiders to a memorable win at the 2004 Holiday Bowl to close his career.
- Wells and his staff have rewarded at least one walk-on with a scholarship in each of his three seasons, a list that includes three other current Red Raiders in senior wide receiver Dalton Rigdon (presented in 2019), junior place kicker Trey Wolff (honored following 2019 season) and junior running back Xavier White (earned in 2020).

CHAMPIONSHIP EXPERIENCE

- Texas Tech has three members of its program with national championship rings in former Alabama running back Chadarius Townsend and LSU safety Eric Monroe. Townsend was a redshirt on Alabama's 2017 national championship team and later played in the Crimson Tide's College Football Playoff run in 2018. Monroe, meanwhile, saw action in 12 games during the 2019 campaign, including both of LSU's victories in the CFP. Texas Tech linebackers coach Kevin Cosgrove was also part of LSU's national championship run in 2019 as he was a senior defensive analyst for the Tigers. Matt Wells hired Cosgrove to his staff not long after LSU raised the title trophy in New Orleans.

MAKING IT LOOK E-Z

Currently the Big 12's leading receiver, Erik Ezukanma has established him- self among the Big 12's top wide receivers as he has caught 106 passes for 1,810 yards and 12 touchdowns over his career. He led Tech with 46 recep- tions for 748 yards and six touchdowns in 2020 en route to becoming the first Red Raider wide receiver to garner All-Big 12 first team honors since two-time Biletnikoff Award winner Michael Crabtree in 2008.

Ezukanma has picked up right where he left off this season as he ranks ninth nationally and leads the Big 12 with 350 receiving yards through three games. A Preseason All-Big 12 selection, Ezukanma hit the 100-yard mark in each of the first two games of the season after catching seven passes for 179 yards against Houston and then six catches for 143 yards and a touchdown versus Stephen F. Austin.

OFFENSIVE NOTEBOOK

CUMBIE RETURNS TO ALMA MATER AS OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

- Texas Tech fans will recognize a familiar face roaming the sidelines this season as former quarterback and assistant coach Sonny Cumbie was hired in December as the Red Raiders' new offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Cumbie, who spent the past seven seasons at Big 12 counterpart TCU, returns to his alma mater where he was the starting quarterback in 2004 before later serving as a graduate assistant in 2009 and then an assistant coach from 2010-13.
- A native of nearby Snyder, Texas, Cumbie helped TCU boast the Big 12's second-best conference record (38-25) and third-best overall mark (58-30) over his seven seasons, which coincided with six bowl appearances. He oversaw the Horned Frogs' quarterbacks throughout his tenure and served as the sole offensive play caller each of his final four years.
- Once the quarterback in one of Texas Tech's biggest bowl wins, Cumbie threw for 4,742 yards as a senior in 2004, the sixth-highest total in school history and one of the top-25 marks in NCAA history. Cumbie, who waited patiently as a former walk-on quarterback to finally lead the prolific Tech offense, twice led the Red Raiders to 70-point games that season en route to garnering honorable mention All-Big 12 accolades as well as Academic All-Big 12 first team honors.
- Cumbie might be best remembered, however, for his 520 passing yards in Texas Tech's 2004 Holiday Bowl victory over (then) No. 4 California, capping off an 8-4 season. Cumbie was tabbed the Holiday Bowl MVP for his performance as he still owns the Holiday Bowl and the Tech bowl records for most passing yards.

EZUKANMA, THOMPSON HIGHLIGHT LIST OF RETURNERS

- New offensive coordinator Sonny Cumbie will benefit from the return of both Texas Tech's leading rusher in SaRodorick Thompson and its leading receiver in Erik Ezukanma. Thompson paced the Red Raiders on the ground in 2020, totaling 610 rushing yards and eight touchdowns, while Ezukanma secured 46 catches for 748 yards and six touchdowns.
- Thompson and Ezukanma also led the Red Raiders in both categories as freshmen in 2019, making them the first duo to lead the team in rushing and receiving in back-to-back seasons since the 2014-15 campaigns when DeAndre Washington and Jakeem Grant helped Tech rank among the nation's top offenses.
- Additionally, this is the first time in school history where a pair of teammates have led the Red Raiders in both rushing and receiving yards during their freshman and sophomore seasons.

YARDS, TOUCHDOWNS STARTING TO RACK UP FOR THOMPSON

- SaRodorick Thompson has established himself as Texas Tech's top running back the past two seasons as the junior has combined for 1,491 yards and 24 touchdowns on the ground to become the first Red Raider to lead the team in rushing back-to-back years since DeAndre Washington during the 2014-15 seasons.
- Thompson is only the sixth Red Raider all-time to lead the team in rushing as both a freshman and sophomore, joining an elite list that includes two Doak Walker Award winners in Byron "Bam" Morris (1991-92) and Byron Hanspard (1994-95) as well as James Gray (1986-87), Ricky Williams (1997) and Taurean Henderson (2002-03).

IS THAT A BASKETBALL TEAM?

- During a spring media availability, outside receivers coach Joel Filani was asked a surprising question: "Is there a certain height requirement to be a receiver now at Texas Tech?" While there is yet to be a set requirement, Texas Tech is beginning to resemble more of a basketball team at the receiver positions as eight Red Raider receivers or tight ends are listed at 6-3 or taller. The Red Raiders only boasted four receivers or tight ends at 6-3 or taller on its preseason depth chart in Matt Wells' first season in 2019.
- Outside of transfer Kaylon Geiger Sr., the Red Raiders boast a 6-3 or taller wideout at both outside receiver positions (X & Z) as well as at tight end, which features returning starter Travis Koontz (6-5) and a pair of talented true freshmen in Mason Tharp (6-9) and Jed Castles (6-7). The list of receivers includes Erik Ezukanma (6-3), Trey Cleveland (6-4), J.J. Sparkman (6-4), Loic Founji (6-4) and talented true freshman Jerand Bradley (6-5).

QB TYLER SHOUGH

SHOUGH COMING OFF CAREER DAY HEADING INTO BIG 12 PLAY

- Tyler Shough is coming off his best performance of his still young Texas Tech career as the junior completed 26-of-35 passes for 399 yards and four touchdowns in the win over FIU. Shough set career highs for passing yards, completions, pass attempts and yards of total offense in the win, while also matching his career mark for touchdown passes.
- Fast start: In Shough's game three performance, he was 15-of-18 for 246 yards with three scores at halftime. He connected on 11 of his first 12 passes to start the game.
- Shough's breakout game against FIU made him the first Big 12 quarterback to have a game of 375+ passing yards, 4+ TDs, a 70%+ completion percentage, and no INTs since former Texas signal caller Sam Ehlinger in Week 1 of 2020. Shough's performance is one of nine such performances since 2016 in the Big 12, and joins former Texas Tech quarterbacks Patrick Mahomes II (2016 vs La. Tech), Nic Shimonek (2017 vs. Arizona State) and Alan Bowman (2018 vs. Houston) on that list.
- In games Shough has been asked to throw the ball 30+ times, he is 3-1 in those games. His only loss was a narrow 41-38 defeat while the quarterback Oregon when facing Oregon State.
- Shough is tied for the FBS lead for passing completions of 50 yards or greater with Fresno State's Jake Haener. Both gunslingers own five.
- Shough leads all Big 12 quarterbacks in passing yards (804), passing yards per game (268.0), passing yards per attempt (9.93) and passing yards per completion (14.62).
- Shough has spread the ball out to 13 different pass catchers through three games. His top target, Erik Ezukanma leads the Big 12 and ranks ninth nationally both in receiving yards (350) and receiving yards per game (116.7).
- Shough is only the second Red Raider since 2000 to be named the starting quarterback out of preseason camp that did not begin his career at Texas Tech. Nic Shimonek garnered the starting nod for the Red Raiders in 2017 after originally beginning his collegiate career at Iowa before later transferring to Texas Tech. Shough won in his debut, improving Texas Tech to 16-2 since 2000 when its quarterback is making his first career start as a Red Raider.

WAITING THEIR TURN

- The journey to earning the starting nod didn't come without a few years of waiting for Tyler Shough at Oregon as he sat behind eventual first round selection Jordan Herbert for his first two seasons with the Ducks. Herbert, the NFL AP Rookie of the Year this past season with the Los Angeles Chargers, was Oregon's starter in each of Shough's first two seasons with the Ducks prior to him being named the starter prior to the 2020 campaign.
- Likewise, fellow Red Raider quarterback Henry Colombi had to wait his time at behind another 2020 NFL Draft first-round selection in former Utah State signal caller Jordan Love. Colombi was the primary backup to Love during his final season at Utah State before eventually transferring to Texas Tech in the weeks leading up to the 2020 campaign. Love, who jumped up NFL draft boards as a sophomore quarterback under Matt Wells in 2018, was chosen 26th overall by the Green Bay Packers.

DUAL THREAT

- Tyler Shough was one of only seven signal callers in the country last season to throw for more than 200 yards and rush for at least 80 yards in two or more games. He was one of only three quarterbacks from a power-five conference to do so, joining Virginia's Brennan Armstrong and Virginia Tech's Hendon Hooker. Since the start of the 2000 season, Texas Tech has only had three quarterbacks - Patrick Mahomes II, Jett Duffey and Seth Doege - throw for at least 200 yards and rush for 80 more once in a game but never twice in a season yet alone a career.

"MOST-TALENTED QUARTERBACK ROOM IN MY TENURE"

- That's the quote Matt Wells used to describe his quarterback room throughout preseason camp as the third-year head coach felt the Red Raiders were four deep behind center with junior starter Tyler Shough followed by senior Henry Colombi, redshirt freshman Donovan Smith and true freshman Behren Morton.
- Colombi started four games for the Red Raiders a year ago, totaling 1,065 passing yards through the air and eight touchdowns, while also rushing 51 times for 103 yards and a touchdown. He transferred to Texas Tech in the weeks leading up to the 2020 season from Utah State where he played under Wells.
- Sonny Cumbie and Wells both feel the future is bright in the quarterback room thanks to a pair of freshmen in Donovan Smith and Behren Morton. Smith, the son of running backs coach DeAndre Smith, arrived at Texas Tech prior to the 2020 season out of nearby Frenship High School in the Lubbock area. He threw for more than 3,000 yards and 25 touchdowns as a senior after previously starring at Bishop Gorman High School in Las Vegas.
- Morton, meanwhile, is the highest-rated quarterback to ever sign with the Red Raiders after totaling more than 8,800 passing yards and 84 touchdowns in three seasons at Eastland High School. He was a consensus four-star prospect, ranking sixth nationally among pro-style quarterbacks. Morton grew up in Lubbock for part of his youth as his father was the head football coach at Monterey High School in Lubbock for 11 years.

PLENTY OF EXPERIENCE RETURNS ALONG OFFENSIVE LINE

- Steve Farmer returns the bulk of his position room this season as the Red Raiders bring back four starters on the offensive line, including All-Big 12 second team selection Dawson Deaton at center. Texas Tech boasts 80 career starts as a Red Raider among its offensive line and 121 career starts when you factor in a pair of transfers such as Josh Burger and T.J. Storment.
- Deaton, a two-year starter at center, ranks second on the team with 27 career starts, trailing only DaMarcus Fields' 40 career starts among returners with starts logged at Texas Tech. Deaton became the first Red Raider center to earn All-Big 12 first or second team accolades this past fall since Dylan Gandy was also a second-team honoree in 2004.
- In addition to Deaton, the Red Raiders also benefit from the return of junior Weston Wright and senior Josh Burger, who both started in all 10 games last fall. Wright has now started in 21-consecutive games, while Burger has been the starter at right tackle in 38-straight games dating back to his time at Wofford. He transferred to Texas Tech prior to the 2020 season.
- At the left tackle position, the Red Raiders return their top two starters from this past year as junior Ethan Carde earned seven starts, while sophomore Caleb Rogers, as only a true freshman at the time, made the start in the final three games. Both will likely shift to right tackle this season with the arrival of TCU transfer T.J. Storment.
- Texas Tech's lone departure from the starting rotation was junior Jack Anderson, who was selected in the seventh round of the 2021 NFL Draft this past spring by the Buffalo Bills. He became the second Red Raider offensive lineman to join the NFL ranks in as many years after Terence Steele started in 14 games at right tackle this past season as an undrafted rookie for the Dallas Cowboys.
- Anderson joined Deaton as an All-Big 12 selection this past fall as he was recognized on the first team by the conference coaches. It marked the first time since 1999 where Texas Tech has featured an All-Big 12 first and second team honoree along its offensive line as Jonathan Gray (first team) and Curtis Lowery (second team) were recognized that season.

POTENT NOTABLES (OFFENSE EDITION)

- Sonny Cumbie will look to return the Red Raiders back to their offensive ways of the past as Texas Tech only averaged 29.1 points per game a year ago, breaking a streak of 20-consecutive seasons of averaging at least 30 points per game. That streak was previously the longest in the Big 12 Conference.
- Texas Tech has averaged 6.5 penalties and 57.3 penalty yards per game under Matt Wells, which are the lowest two-year averages since the Red Raiders averaged 6.3 penalties and 54.5 penalty yards per game over the course of the 2001-02 seasons.
- Xavier White emerged as another potential option behind SaRodorick Thompson last season as the former inside receiver rushed for 436 yards and two touchdowns in his first season in the Texas Tech backfield. White eclipsed the 100-yard mark twice last season, totaling 113 rushing yards at Kansas State and then a career-high 135 yards on the ground in the season finale against Kansas.
- Senior running back Chadarius Townsend was tabbed to the annual Freaks List compiled by The Athletic and FOX Sports reporter Bruce Feldman this summer. Townsend, in his second year as a Red Raider after transferring from Alabama, currently benches 380 and power cleans 350, all while still managing to hit 22.5 MPH on Texas Tech's GPS tracker.
- Texas Tech's young wide receiver core received plenty of experience last year as Myles Price ranked second on the team with 300 receiving yards, while Trey Cleveland and Loic Fouonji both hauled in touchdowns during Big 12 play. On the ground, meanwhile, Tahj Brooks received 69 carries on the ground, totaling 255 yards and four touchdowns, the bulk of which came in the back half of the season.
- The Red Raiders have built their tight end position from the ground up as the entire room was recruited by Matt Wells and his staff. Texas Tech added two key additions at tight end this summer with the arrival of true freshmen Mason Tharp, standing at 6-9 in height, and Jed Castles, who is 6-7. The tight end position was responsible for three receiving touchdowns versus FIU with two going to Koontz and the final one finding Tharp, the first in his career.
- McLane Mannix has returned to health this offseason after being limited to only three games last season. Mannix previously caught 26 passes for 248 yards and three touchdowns as a junior in 2019, his first year back in West Texas after transferring from Nevada. Mannix was a Freshman All-American and an All-Mountain West selection in his two seasons at Nevada where he combined for 107 receptions for 1,653 yards and 13 touchdowns.

TEXAS TECH KNOWS OFFENSE

- One thing is certain when watching Texas Tech - the Red Raiders are going to find their way onto the scoreboard. Tech is currently riding a consecutive-game scoring streak that spans 294 games dating back to the 1997 season. The streak, which began against Texas A&M on Oct. 25, 1997, ranks eighth nationally and is the third-longest active streak in the Big 12 behind TCU and Oklahoma.
- The Red Raiders currently rank 11th in the FBS record book for consecutive scoring as Texas Tech trails Oklahoma by one game for 10th all-time and Boise State by eight games for ninth place. Both streaks from Oklahoma and Boise State are active. The next non-active streak is Air Force's streak of 306-consecutive games, which ranks eighth all-time.

DEFENSIVE NOTEBOOK

PATTERSON CONTINUES TO BUILD RED RAIDER DEFENSE

- The Red Raiders will look to build on the defensive improvements under third-year coordinator Keith Patterson, who returned eight starters on his side of the ball this season. Patterson's first year leading the defense was highlighted by an aggressive scheme that had Texas Tech force 19 turnovers while allowing 30.3 points per game, its lowest average since 2009. The Red Raiders have totaled 34 takeaways over Patterson's two-plus seasons.
- Patterson's defenses have long been known for their ability to create turnovers as Utah State led the nation with 32 takeaways in 2018 prior to his hire at Texas Tech. Patterson's unit has created 66 takeaways the past three-plus seasons alone, which ranks eighth nationally among active defensive coordinators.
- Patterson has mentored three Red Raiders into NFL Draft selections during his short tenure as linebacker Jordyn Brooks was selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks in 2019 followed by defensive lineman Broderick Washington Jr. in the fifth round with the Baltimore Ravens. Defensive back Zech McPhearson might have benefited the most from Patterson's guidance as he jumped up draft boards to be picked in the fourth round this past spring by the Philadelphia Eagles.
- Patterson pushed Brooks into one of the top linebackers in the country in 2019 as the now Seattle Seahawk garnered second team All-America honors by multiple publications. He later became the first Red Raider defensive player to be drafted in the first round of the NFL Draft since College Football Hall of Famer Gabe Rivera in 1983.
- Brooks joined a list of defensive standouts to record at least 100 tackles in a season under Patterson as he finished with 108 in 2019, including 20.0 that went for a loss, despite missing a considerable amount of playing time in November due to injury. Patterson has now mentored 10 players who have recorded 100 or more tackles in a season since he became the defensive coordinator at Tulsa in 2006.
- For McPhearson, he finished tied for eighth in the FBS with four interceptions en route to becoming just the second Red Raider corner back to garner All-Big 12 first team honors. He later became the highest-drafted Red Raider defensive back since Darcel McBath was chosen in the second round of the 2009 draft.

PLENTY OF EXPERIENCE RETURNS ON DEFENSE

- Keith Patterson might have his most experienced defense of his tenure in 2021 as the third-year defensive coordinator brings back eight starters as well as the majority of his two-deep. Overall, Texas Tech's 2021 defense features eight players with 10 or more starts over their career and three players with at least 200 tackles for their career.
- Between returning linebackers Colin Schooler and Riko Jeffers and newcomer Marquis Waters, Patterson has three players with plenty of experience as all three have recorded more than 200 tackles for their careers. In fact, Texas Tech is the only FBS program in the country with three players on its 2021 roster that currently boast 225 or more tackles.
- Texas Tech could potentially add to that total during the 2021 season as DaMarcus Fields has totaled 178 tackles over his four seasons as a Red Raider. He is one of 12 Super Seniors on this year's team.
- Waters will be a welcome addition to the Red Raider secondary as he arrives as a three-year starter from Duke where he made 234 tackles as a safety. He made 35 starts during his time as a Blue Devil, which coincided with the tenure of Texas Tech second-year associate head coach and secondary coach Derek Jones, who departed the Duke staff following the 2019 season. Waters will also rejoin with teammate Jacob Morgenstern, who transferred to Texas Tech from Duke prior to the 2020 campaign.

HOW 'BOUT SOME POINTS ON DEFENSE?

- Matt Wells has been no stranger in seeing his defense put up points over his career as his teams have created 26 defensive touchdowns during his eight-plus seasons as a collegiate head coach. Texas Tech recorded the 25th defensive touchdown of Wells' career against Houston with Riko Jeffers' pick-six midway through the third quarter, and 26th defensive TD this past weekend thanks to Marquis Waters' 72-yard pick-six in the first quarter.
- Texas Tech is one of 13 programs to own multiple defensive touchdowns in 2021.
- Texas Tech made a knack for finding the end zone via its defense during the 2020 season as the Red Raiders ranked tied for seventh in the FBS and second in the Big 12 with three defensive touchdowns. It marked the most defensive touchdowns in a season by the Red Raiders since the 2017 campaign when Texas Tech had four over 13 games.

STILL MORE FOOTBALL TO BE PLAYED

- It didn't take long for Seth Collins to decide he would return for a seventh season. The super senior made his decision before the Red Raiders played their final game of the 2020 season, simply stating he had plenty more football left in him. Collins, who was sidelined with an injury after the first four games, moved to the secondary following the opener against Houston Baptist, a position he will remain for his final year of eligibility. Collins approached Matt Wells and his staff about the position switch as he saw increased time in the secondary last season and was a standout on special teams, finishing tied for the team high with four tackles on kickoff coverage alone.
- It's the third position switch of Collins' career as he was previously a quarterback at Oregon State as a true freshman in 2015 before transitioning to wide receiver a year later. He transferred to Texas Tech prior to the 2018 campaign and remained a wide receiver.

SCHOOLER NEARING 400 CAREER STOPS

Texas Tech boasts the nation's active leader in both tackles and tackles for loss in Colin Schooler, who arrived in Lubbock as a graduate transfer from Arizona in the weeks leading up to the 2020 season. Schooler, who currently leads the Red Raiders with 20 tackles this season, needs only five more stops to reach 400 for his career. Only three other Red Raiders in program history have recorded 400 career tackles at the FBS level as Schooler would potentially join the likes of Lawrence Flugence (1999-02), Brad Hastings (1983-86) and Kevin Curtis (1998-01).

NCAA FBS ACTIVE LEADERS FOR CAREER TACKLES

1. Colin Schooler (Arizona/Texas Tech)	395
2. Colby Campbell (Duke)	355
3. Jahad Woods (Washington State)	342
4. Carlton Martial (Troy)	335
5. Reed Blankenship (Middle Tennessee State)	335

NCAA FBS ACTIVE LEADERS FOR CAREER TACKLES FOR LOSS

1. Colin Schooler (Arizona/Texas Tech)	53.0
2. DeAngelo Malone (Western Kentucky)	43.5
3. Ali Fayad (Western Michigan)	42.0
4. Nate Leadman (Colorado)	41.0
5. Carlton Martial (Troy)	39.0

MORE ON SCHOOLER

- Colin Schooler heads into this weekend needing 3.0 tackles for a loss to rank among the all-time greats in college football history. Schooler, who will be playing his fifth season overall and second as a Red Raider, currently trails Cincinnati's Antwan Peek (2000-02) and Michigan's Brandon Graham (2006-09) by that total for 24th all-time in FBS history. Schooler totaled 5.0 tackles for a loss over nine games in 2020 in his debut as a Red Raider and has 2.0 already this season.
- Schooler hails from a football family as his father, Tom, played at Eastern Michigan, while his older brother, Brendan, played at Oregon before transferring to Texas. His mother, Christine, was also a collegiate athlete as part of the Cal State Los Angeles volleyball program.

FIELDS TO THE PROS

- Not many defensive backs in the Big 12 yet alone the country have likely seen as much playing time as DaMarcus Fields the past four seasons. Fields, entering his sixth and final season as a Red Raider, leads the team with 40 career starts at Texas Tech from his spot at cornerback where he has recorded 178 tackles, four interceptions and 42 passes defended over his career.
- Fields led the Big 12 and ranked fourth in the FBS last season after defending 1.4 passes per game. He is third among returning FBS players in the category, trailing only the averages of Maryland's Tarheeb Still and Michigan's Germon Green.
- For his career, Fields ranks second among active FBS players with his 42 passes defended, which trails only the 50 of Devin Taylor from Bowling Green. His total ranks second among Red Raiders since 2000 in category, trailing only Jamar Wall, who recorded 43 from 2006-09. He passed Justis Nelson (2013-16) during the SFA game as he had 39 over his respective career.
- Fields became the first member of his family to receive a college degree this summer as he graduated in May as a public relations major. Fields, who was cited by Matt Wells as one of three Red Raiders who chose to return for a Super Senior season despite having an NFL Draft grade, said at the time he elected to come back for a final year in order to obtain that degree.

MERRIWEATHER ARRIVES AS ADVERTISED

- It didn't take long for Krishon Merriweather to emerge as one of Texas Tech's most steady forces in its linebacker core as the junior-college transfer led the team with 75 tackles a year ago and was second with 6.5 tackles for loss. He closed the season by matching his career-high with 12 tackles in the win over Kansas.
- Merriweather arrived at Texas Tech as one of the top junior-college prospects in the country as he earned NJCAA first team All-America honors in 2019 after leading the country with 153 tackles. He picked the Red Raiders over offers from the likes of Arkansas and Oklahoma State.

POTENT NOTABLES (DEFENSE EDITION)

- Keith Patterson, a strict believer in cross training his defense at different positions, rotated defensive lineman Tony Bradford Jr. and Jaylon Hutchings at nose guard this spring after the two combined for 51 tackles a year ago, including 9.0 that went for a loss and 2.0 sacks. The move was a switch for Bradford, who can still play the tackle position as part of Texas Tech's defensive front. The duo each recorded a sack in the season opener against Houston with Hutchings adding another against SFA.
- Riko Jeffers has 26.0 tackles for loss over his career as his 8.5 stops behind the line a year ago was one shy of his career high. Jeffers has 240 tackles for his career after totaling at least 55 tackles in each of the last three seasons, including two with 70 or more stops.
- The Red Raiders received a big pickup in the weeks leading up to the 2020 season in Tyree Wilson, who transferred to Texas Tech from Texas A&M. He has 3.0 sacks for his career over his time with the Aggies and the Red Raiders.
- Jacob Morgenstern's blocked punt against Texas last season likely didn't come to a surprise to many of his former teammates at Duke where he was presented the team's Bill Keziah Award in 2019 as the school's top special teams performer.

REWRITING THE RECORD BOOK

Austin McNamara has quickly become a fixture in the Texas Tech record book in only two seasons as the junior punter already owns two of the top five single-season averages in program history as well as the longest punt by any Big 12 player in league history. His success will make him a sure candidate for the Ray Guy Award throughout the 2021 season.

McNamara wrapped the 2020 season averaging an impressive 46.3 yards per punt, the second-highest clip in school history behind only the 46.8 average compiled by Mark Bounds in 1991. He previously averaged 45.0 yards per punt as a true freshman in 2020, which now ranks fifth in program history. He is the only Red Raider with two of the top-five punting averages currently in the school record book.

TEXAS TECH SINGLE-SEASON PUNTING AVERAGE LEADERS

1. Mark Bounds (1991)	46.8
2. Austin McNamara (2020)	46.3
3. Taylor Symmank (2015)	46.0
4. Alex Reyes (2006)	45.2
5. Austin McNamara (2019)	45.0

SPECIAL TEAMS NOTEBOOK

MORE ON MCNAMARA...

- Austin McNamara set social media on fire midway through the 2020 season with his booming 87-yard punt against West Virginia, which marked the longest by an FBS kicker since 2017 and the longest in Texas Tech and Big 12 history. McNamara broke the Texas Tech single-game record for the longest punt that was previously set by R.W. Moyers in 1945 against West Texas State. Moyers launched an 85-yard punt in the win, which is the only other punt of 80 yards or longer in school history. He broke the previous Big 12 record of 85 yards that was set by Oklahoma's Tress Way in 2010 against Utah State.
- McNamara closed the 2020 season ranked fifth in the FBS for punting average and fourth among punters who played in at least five games. He was easily the Big 12 leader in punting as his average was five yards higher than any other specialist, earning him All-Big 12 first team honors for a second-consecutive season.
- McNamara became the first Red Raider since LeRaven Clark in 2014-15 to collect first team honors in consecutive seasons and the first Tech specialist to do so during the Big 12 era. He joins Clark (2014-15), Michael Crabtree (2007-08), Joel Filani (2005-06), Jarrett Hicks (2004-05), Kevin Curtis (1999-00) and Montae Reagor (1997-98) as the only other Red Raiders to garner All-Big 12 first team accolades twice in a career.

THE RIGHT GUARD

- Since becoming a collegiate head coach at Utah State in 2013, Matt Wells has prioritized special teams, so much so that every skill player on both sides of the ball is expected to contribute. If you're the top "bigger skill player" (i.e. linebackers, running backs and tight ends), you will find your way on punt coverage as the right guard. Krishon Merriweather will take over the position this season, continuing the tradition Wells has employed throughout his career.
- Merriweather was Texas Tech's leading tackler a year ago after totaling 75 stops in his debut as a Red Raider. Merriweather, who transferred to Tech from Garden City Community College, was third in the Big 12 for total tackles per game (7.5) en route to garnering All-Big 12 honorable mention accolades.
- Merriweather follows teammate Riko Jeffers, who served as the right guard for majority of the 2020 season. Jordyn Brooks earned the designation in 2019 before eventually garnering second team All-America honors and being selected in the first round of the NFL Draft that next spring by the Seattle Seahawks. Wells utilized other future NFL linebackers such as Bobby Wagner and Nick Vigil at the right guard on punt team during his six seasons at Utah State.

WELLS BRINGS AGGRESSIVE STYLE TO SPECIAL TEAMS

- Matt Wells has stated on multiple occasions during his tenure that the Red Raiders will be more than aggressive on special teams in order to try to win the game. The Red Raiders have done that and more the last two-plus seasons with seven blocked kicks, a recovered onside kick and two touchdowns on special teams during that span.
- Texas Tech's seven blocked kicks under Wells lead the Big 12 and currently rank tied for third in the FBS as the Red Raiders trail only Army and Houston's nine during that span. Tech got its hands on three kicks during Wells' debut season in 2019 before finishing tied for fourth in the FBS a year ago after knocking down four attempts. Below is a listing of the top teams in the FBS in blocked kicks since 2019.
- Texas Tech's four blocked kicks from a year ago marked the most since 2000 when the Red Raiders also knocked down four kicks.
- Texas Tech's seven blocked kicks in Matt Wells' tenure marks the most for the Red Raiders over a two-year period dating back to 2000. Tech previously totaled five blocked kicks over the first two years under Mike Leach (2000-01).

FINDING THE UPRIGHTS

- Following a preseason competition for the starting job, Jonathan Garibay had connected on each of his three field goal attempts this season, finding the uprights from 34 yards against Houston and then 21 and 28 yards versus FIU. He is now 8-for-11 on field goal attempts over his career after making his Red Raider debut a year ago.

FIGHT LIKE LUKE

Texas Tech will wear a special helmet sticker throughout the 2021 football season in honor of the late Luke Siegel, who passed away Aug. 19 at only 15 years of age. The son of former Texas Tech men's tennis coach Tim Siegel and his wife Jenny, Luke Siegel suffered a traumatic brain injury following a golf cart accident in July 2015. Not guaranteed to survive the original accident, Siegel continued to fight in the six years since, beating the odds one time after another in his recovery. His passing generated tributes from across the sports landscape, ranging from NFL MVP quarterbacks in Texas Tech's own Patrick Mahomes II and Drew Brees to former professional tennis players Andre Agassi and Andy Roddick as well as sportscaster Dick Vitale. Texas Tech Athletics has established the Luke Siegel Fund to honor his memory.

TEXAS TECH BOWL HISTORY

Texas Tech is looking to make its 39th postseason bowl appearance this season, which ranks among the top-25 programs all-time in bowl games played. The Red Raiders rank tied for third among current Big 12 Conference programs in bowl appearances.

TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY

THE STATE OF TEXAS' TOP ATHLETICS DEPARTMENT

- With all the talk of conference realignment in the air, it's important to remember Texas Tech has led all schools in the state of Texas in the Capital One Cup men's standings in two of the last three complete athletic seasons after finishing third nationally in 2018-19 and then 14th for the 2017-18 athletic year. Below are several other facts regarding Texas Tech's success in competition.
- Since 2017, Texas Tech has had 15 of its 17 athletic programs compete in the NCAA postseason or a bowl game.
- Texas Tech has had six different programs finish among the top-10 teams nationally in their respective sport since 2014 alone.
- The Red Raiders have appeared in 38 bowl games in their history, which ranks tied for third among Big 12 programs and among the top-25 teams in college football history.
- Texas Tech claimed the 2019 Men's Outdoor Track and Field National Championship under head coach Wes Kittley.
- Texas Tech played in the 2019 NCAA Championship Game as well as in two-consecutive Elite Eights (2018-19). The Red Raiders are one of four men's basketball programs in the country with multiple Elite Eight appearances over the last three NCAA Tournaments.
- Texas Tech has advanced to the Men's College World Series four times in recent years (2014, 2016, 2018, 2019), which is tied for the most trips to the hallowed grounds in Omaha among teams nationally since 2014.
- Lady Raider Basketball remains one of the top programs in women's college basketball history as Texas Tech ranks 19th all-time among power-five programs with its 925 victories. Backed by the legendary Sheryl Swoopes, the Lady Raiders claimed the NCAA National Championship in 1993, the first team national championship in school history.
- Since joining the Big 12 as a charter member in 1996, Texas Tech has won 27 conference titles, with 11 of those coming in the past six years alone.
- In addition to its athletics success, Texas Tech has unveiled several new facilities in recent years with the opening of the $48 million Sports Performance Center in 2017, the Cash Family Sports Nutrition Center in 2020 and the $32.2 million Dustin R. Womble Basketball Center this past May.

THE NATION'S MOST DEDICATED FANS

- Texas Tech boasts one of the most rabid fan bases in all of college athletics as Red Raider fans have traditionally traveled in droves for bowl trips as well as to basketball games in locations like New York City, Anaheim (CA) and Minneapolis for the Final Four as well as to Omaha for the Men's College World Series.
- To date, Texas Tech has played in the highest-attended games for three bowl games, including two prominent ones in the state of Texas: the Goodyear Cotton Bowl (Dallas), the Academy Sports + Outdoors Texas Bowl (Houston) and the Holiday Bowl (San Diego).

JONES AT&T STADIUM | HOME OF THE RED RAIDERS

STADIUM HISTORY

- Jones AT&T Stadium, home of Red Raider Football since Nov. 29, 1947, is arguably one of the most electric gameday atmospheres in all of college football. Armed with 60,000-plus rabid fans, Dave Curtis of The Sporting News proclaimed in May of 2010 that Jones AT&T Stadium was the “best home field advantage in all of college football.”
- Since 2003, Texas Tech has invested $150 million into the facility with four major renovations, making Jones AT&T Stadium one of the best on-campus football facilities in the country. The renovations have included a $52 million West Stadium Building, the $34 million East Stadium Building and the $16 million north end zone renovation.
- The stadium was officially renamed from Jones Stadium to Jones SBC Stadium in 2000 following major corporate gifts (in excess of $25 million) from SBC Communications (now AT&T). The stadium was renamed again in 2006 to Jones AT&T Stadium after SBC Communications formally changed its name to AT&T. The “Jones” in Jones Stadium comes from former Texas Tech president Clifford B. Jones and his wife Aubrey. The stadium was named in their honor upon its opening in 1947.
- In addition to consistent renovations to Jones AT&T Stadium, Texas Tech unveiled the $48 million Sports Performance Center in 2017. The facility includes the Petersen Family Indoor Football Practice Facility, an indoor track and field competition complex with seating for 1,500 fans, a strength and conditioning area, the Becky and Kelly Joy Nutrition Center and the PlainsCapital Bank Sports Medicine Center. The

PROTECTING JONES AT&T STADIUM

- Since his arrival at Texas Tech, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in playing well inside Jones AT&T Stadium. In his words, teams that defend their home field elevate their season from “good” to “great,” a key message early in his tenure for a Red Raider program that is 7-5 at home in two seasons thus far under Wells.
- The Red Raiders finished 3-3 overall at home in their first season under Matt Wells, who scored his first top-25 victory as Texas Tech’s head coach with a win over Oklahoma State. Tech followed with a 4-2 record in the COVID-19 shortened 2020 season, marking the first time the Red Raiders had finished over .500 at home since 2015.
- During his six seasons at Utah State, Wells compiled a 27-7 record at home, an impressive .794 winning percentage. Wells led the Aggies to a .500 or better record at home in each of his six seasons and twice finished with a perfect 6-0 mark.
- Texas Tech is looking to get back to its winning ways as the Red Raiders were 69-18 at home over the course of the first 14 years (1996-2009) in the Big 12 Conference (a .793 winning percentage). Tech boasted a .500 or better record at home in each of those seasons en route to playing in 12 bowl games with the two lone exceptions being a result of a self-imposed postseason ban in 1997 and the retirement of Spike Dykes in 1999. Tech was 29-4 during the final five years of that stretch, including a pair of perfect 7-0 years (2005, 2008).
- Outside of the 2020 season where attendance was restricted to only 25 percent, Texas Tech has averaged more than 55,000 in every season with a record mark of 58,934 fans during the 2014 campaign.

HEAD COACH MATT WELLS

Matt Wells, a two-time conference Coach of the Year recipient, enters his third season at Texas Tech as he was named the 16th head football coach in school history on Nov. 29, 2018. The 2021 season will be Wells' ninth season as a collegiate head coach as he has compiled a 55-48 overall record following six seasons at his alma mater, Utah State, and two years leading the Red Raiders. He led the Aggies to five bowl appearances during his tenure, a feat he will look to accomplish frequently as he continues to build the Texas Tech program.

Through his first two seasons in Lubbock, Wells has set the groundwork for future success at Texas Tech behind a commitment to creating a true developmental program with the Red Raiders. That effort has already paid off as Tech has landed seven All-Big 12 first team selections during that time, its most in a two-year span since the 2004-05 seasons.

In only their first season, Wells and his staff helped Jordyn Brooks and Douglas Coleman III produce their best seasons as Red Raiders, ultimately leading to All-Big 12 first team accolades. Both were strong candidates for national awards as well with Coleman a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and Brooks a finalist for the Butkus Award. They were joined on the All-Big 12 first team by punter Austin McNamara, who led all FBS freshmen after averaging 45.0 yards per punt during the 2019 season.

Brooks is one of four Red Raiders to hear his name called during the NFL Draft under Wells as Broderick Washington Jr. was picked in the fifth round by the Baltimore Ravens in 2020, while McPhearson was selected in the third round of the 2021 draft by the Philadelphia Eagles followed by Anderson in the seventh round to the Buffalo Bills. For Wells, he became the first head coach to deliver multiple NFL Draft picks in each of his first two seasons since Jerry Moore during the 1982-83 drafts. It also marked the first time since the 2004-05 seasons where Tech boasted multiple NFL Draft selections in back-to-back years.

Wells was tabbed the head coach for his alma mater on Dec. 20, 2012, following two seasons as an assistant coach on staff. Utah State experienced its best stretch in history during Wells' tenure as the Aggies won 44 games and played in five bowl games under his guidance, quite the feat for a program that had only eight postseason trips to its record prior to his promotion.

Wells, the fourth-longest tenured coach in program history, departed Utah State as the only coach to lead the Aggies to at least three bowl games as well as multiple bowl victories. In fact, Wells was a player (1993), a coordinator (2012) or the head coach (2013-14) for four of Utah State's five bowl wins in its history with the lone exception coming at the 2018 Gildan New Mexico Bowl after he had already accepting the job at Texas Tech. Wells, a quarterback for the Aggies from 1994-96, was a member of two conference championship teams as a student-athlete, which came as a redshirt freshman in 1993 and as a senior in 1996 when Utah State was a member of the Big West.

In only their short time at Texas Tech, the Wells family has contributed significantly to the Lubbock community through local non-profit organizations such as Voice for Hope, Women's Protective Services and CASA of the South Plains through his Women's Football Clinic as well as the South Plains COVID-19 Relief Fund.

A DEVELOPMENTAL PROGRAM

Since taking the reigns as Texas Tech's head coach, Matt Wells has stressed the importance in turning the Red Raiders into a "developmental program." Over his career, Wells and his staff have done just that with eight former players moving on to the NFL, including a pair of first-round draft picks last year in Jordyn Brooks and Jordan Love. Below is a look at several notable players under Wells who have moved on to the next level.

JORDYN BROOKS | LB

Brooks put together his best season of his career under Wells en route to being selected 27th overall by the Seattle Seahawks in 2020 NFL Draft. He became the first Red Raider defensive player to be chosen in the first round since Ring of Honor member Gabe Rivera in 1983.

ZECH MCPHEARSON | DB

McPhearson developed into a top NFL prospect after transferring to Texas Tech prior to Wells' first season in 2019. He earned All-Big 12 first team honors as a senior before being selected in the fourth round of the 2021 NFL Draft by the Philadelphia Eagles.

JORDAN LOVE | QB

Love set numerous school records on his way to establishing himself among the nation's top quarterback prospects under Wells and David Yost at Utah State in 2018. He was later selected 26th overall by the Green Bay Packers in the 2020 NFL Draft.

NICK VIGIL | LB

Vigil, a two-time first team All-Mountain West selection under Wells, heard his name called one pick before Fackrell in the third round of the 2016 NFL Draft. He played his first four NFL season with the Cincinnati Bengals before signing with the LA Chargers this offseason.

SPORTS LARGEST CONTRACT

- There isn't a bigger star in the NFL currently than Texas Tech's own Patrick Mahomes II. The one-time Red Raider gunslinger has transformed the NFL in only four professional seasons, claiming NFL MVP honors in 2018 before leading the Kansas City Chiefs to back-to-back Super Bowl appearances, including a win in 2020.
- With his Super Bowl win over the San Francisco 49ers, Mahomes became the youngest player in history to be named NFL MVP and also win a Super Bowl. Mahomes, who at only 24 years of age, was tabbed Super Bowl MVP after leading the Chiefs to only their second Super Bowl title in history and their first since 1970.
- In July 2020, Mahomes signed the richest contract in NFL history as he and the Chiefs agreed on a 10-year extension worth up to $503 million. It marked the second time in school history where a Red Raider has signed the richest NFL contract as Ring of Honor member Donny Anderson previously did so with the Green Bay Packers upon being drafted in 1965.
- Dating back to his time as a Red Raider, the 2016 Sammy Baugh Trophy winner is the only quarterback in history to throw for 5,000 yards at both the collegiate and NFL levels.

WE, US, OUR: RED RAIDERS IN COMMUNITY

TEXAS TECH AMONG NATION'S MOST ACTIVE TEAMS IN COMMUNITY

- Since his hire at Texas Tech, Matt Wells has stressed the Red Raiders will be heavily involved in the community. That initiative was so important, in fact, that one of his first hires was a former teammate of his in Troy Kema as the football program's Associate Athletics Director for player development and student-athlete services to work closely on integrating the Red Raiders with the Lubbock community.
- Texas Tech continues to be recognized at the national level as the Red Raider football programs recently learned it ranked second this past year in community-service hours among FBS schools that utilize the Helper Helper app. The Red Raiders completed more than 1,200 hours of community service this past year, which ranked only behind Boston College among FBS football programs. Texas Tech was No. 10 in community service hours served a year ago, a steady increase of 350 hours that saw the Red Raiders volunteer for 39 different opportunities with 19 organizations.
- Even with the COVID-19 pandemic, the Red Raiders took precautions to make sure their community was served as Texas Tech continued its tradition of volunteering for a service project on the Friday before every home game. The Special Spectator program, meanwhile, moved to a virtual format, which allowed the Red Raiders to still reward a local student who has experienced a tragic life event, normally of a physical nature.
- The Special Spectator program is a cornerstone of Texas Tech's community outreach as it provides a two-day experience, in normal years, at a football practice, a tour of the Football Training Facility and Sports Performance Center as well as on-field recognition prior to the start of a selected home football game.

TEXAS TECH FOOTBALL HELPS ESTABLISH LOCAL SCHOLARSHIP

- The Texas Tech football program, in conjunction with 100 Black Men of West Texas, established a community scholarship this summer that will benefit a local student each year that plans to attend Texas Tech University. The scholarship will cover all tuition and fees for one full year, providing a life-changing opportunity for a local student to attend the university. The scholarship recipient will be selected each year by a committee comprised of representatives from the 100 Black Men of West Texas organization as well as Red Raider football student-athletes. The inaugural winner of the scholarship will be announced later this summer.
- Texas Tech has partnered with the 100 Black Men of West Texas for several community projects as the organization has also hosted student-athletes for peace walks through East Lubbock as well as on campus this past summer. That partnership will only continue to grow as part of the scholarship endowment.

POLICE CHIEF, TONY BRADFORD JR.

- In the midst of a national conversation regarding social injustice in this country, Texas Tech has found a voice with a unique perspective - junior defensive lineman Tony Bradford Jr., who desires to join law enforcement once his playing career is over. Bradford's goal is to one day rise to the role of police chief in a major city where he says he "can make real change."
- Bradford has received a crash course in his future profession over the last year as he has served as a security guard with the Texas Tech Police Department. Bradford chose to spend his 2020 Spring Break with TTPD in what was expected to be a one-week internship but was extended through June due to the COVID-19 pandemic that ultimately canceled spring practice. Bradford returned to TTPD this past spring and summer, occasionally even working other Texas Tech athletics events.
- In only two years on campus, Bradford has become a leader in the Red Raider locker room as he has helped organize peaceful walks on the Texas Tech campus and in East Lubbock. Based on his career ambitions, Bradford has also been a key voice for student-athletes over the past year when it pertains to conflicts with law enforcement. Texas Tech has hosted multiple visits from police administration from around the Lubbock area with Bradford playing a key voice in those discussions.
- Bradford's efforts have translated to his work in the community as well as he is the leader of the Red Raider football program in service hours. Bradford, who is typically the leader in organizing community events, has helped the Red Raiders commit to multiple projects such as building a home for Habitat for Humanity, organizing a voter-registration drive and park cleanup as well as numerous visits to local schools. Bradford, himself, has volunteered at the South Plains Food Bank, the local Boys and Girls Club and several children's homes during his two-plus seasons on campus. For his efforts, Bradford is a nominee for the AFCA Good Works Team and the Wuerffel Trophy, two of the top community service awards in college football.

IN THEIR WORDS

- Over the past 18 months, Texas Tech has published a series of first-person narratives from various Red Raiders that are appropriately named "In My Words." The range of stories ranged from DaMarcus Fields describing the feeling of being a first-generation college graduate to Jaylon Hutchings journey to recover from a knee injury that ended his senior year of high school before it even started.
- Tony Bradford Jr., in the weeks that followed the killing of George Floyd, detailed how he wanted to join law enforcement once his football career was over. Bradford also described the weeks that followed the start of the COVID-19 pandemic as he remained in Lubbock to continue what was supposed to be a one-week internship with the Texas Tech Police Department.
