SATURDAY STORYLINES

TECH, BYU MEET AGAIN FOR BIG 12 TITLE

No. 5 Texas Tech and No. 11 BYU will face each other for the second time this season Saturday when the Red Raiders and Cougars meet in the Edward Jones Big 12 Championship at AT&T Stadium in Arlington. This is the first appearance all-time in the Big 12 title game for the Red Raiders, who previously downed the Cougars, 29-7, less than a month ago. The Red Raiders will be looking for their 12th conference championship in program history and their first outright title since claiming the Border Conference crown in 1955.

ANOTHER BIG STAGE ON DECK FOR J-ROD

They say Heisman contenders play their best in November. If that's so, count Jacob Rodriguez in already meeting that criteria as he has been responsible for nine takeaways in Big 12 play alone, including five during Texas Tech's current five-game winning streak. Rodriguez, who is the only FBS player since 2005 to have five forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and four interceptions in the same season, is the driving force behind one of the nation's top defenses that ranks tied for second with 27 takeaways and third with only 11.3 points allowed.

THE NATION'S MOST DOMINANT TEAM

Texas Tech's path to the Big 12 Championship has seen the Red Raiders become one of the most dominant teams in recent memory, with 11 wins by at least 20 points this season. Texas Tech is only the sixth team in the past 100 years (since 1925) to win at least 11 regular-season games by at least 20 points, joining Nebraska (1971), Florida (2008), Florida State (2013), Alabama (2018) and Ohio State (2019). The Red Raiders currently lead the nation with an average margin of victory of 35.2 points, ahead of fellow top-five team Indiana (33.4).

SERIES NOTEBOOK

INSIDE THE SERIES

- Despite meeting for the second time this season, this will be only the fourth contest all-time between the Red Raiders and BYU. Texas Tech is now 2-1 against the Cougars, with a 21-20 victory all the way back in 1940 and then a 29-7 victory at home earlier this season with College Gameday on hand. BYU's lone win in the series came via a 27-14 victory in 2023 during the Cougars' debut season as Big 12 members.
- Texas Tech's victory over BYU in 1940 was part of a memorable 9-1-1 season for the Red Raiders in their final season under then head coach Pete Cawthon. It was the third of eight consecutive victories that season for the Red Raiders, who would not face the Cougars again for 80-plus years.
- Texas Tech had never played a football game in the state of Utah prior to their trip to Provo midway through the 2023 season. The Cougars jumped out to a 24-7 lead at halftime en route to dropping the Red Raiders to 3-5 on the season thanks to a 27-14 victory. Texas Tech responded by winning its next three games to finish the regular season at 6-6 overall before a victory over Cal in the Independence Bowl.
- The two teams have both started a true freshman at quarterback in the two meetings since BYU joined the Big 12 in 2023. Jake Strong became the seventh true freshman in school to start a game at quarterback and the fifth to do so against a conference opponent when he led the Red Raiders in the 2023 meeting. BYU has started a true freshman in Bear Bachmeier in all 12 games this season, including in the earlier matchup in Lubbock less than a month ago.

THERE'S ALWAYS A FIRST TIME

- In the now 101 seasons of Texas Tech Football, the Red Raiders have not faced an opponent twice in the same year. BYU will become the first school to do so when the Red Raiders and Cougars meet Saturday with a Big 12 title on the line.

TEXAS TECH-BYU CONNECTIONS

- Texas Tech outside linebackers coach C.J. Ah You has several family ties to BYU as his father, Charles Ah You, and his two brothers, Matt and Charles, all played for the Cougars. C.J. Ah You began his playing career at BYU before transferring to Oklahoma, where he was the Big 12 Newcomer of the Year in 2005. In addition to his two brothers and father, C.J. Ah You has also had numerous other cousins and other family members play for the Cougars, including a nephew, Chaz, who was part of the BYU program when the Red Raiders traveled to Provo in 2023.

- C.J. Ah You will have his brother, Jasen Ah You, on the opposite side of Saturday's game, as he is currently an Assistant Athletics Director of football academics for the Cougars. In his role, Jasen Ah You oversees the academic progress of each Cougar football student-athlete. He also plays a pivotal role in celebrating the BYU legacy as part of the BYU Varsity Club before each home game.
- Texas Tech running backs coach Garret McGuire also has one tie to the BYU staff in tight ends coach Kevin Gilbride, as the two were part of Matt Rhule's staff with the Carolina Panthers in 2022. Gilbride was the tight ends coach for the Panthers that season, while McGuire was in his second year with the organization as an offensive assistant.

BYU CAREER NOTABLE OUTINGS

- Prior to this season's earlier meeting, Texas Tech only had 10 players on its roster who saw action in the 2023 matchup in Provo, including three who made starts in wide receiver Coy Eakin and linebackers Bryce Ramirez and Ben Roberts.
- Eakin is now the only returning offensive player on the current roster to play in each of the last two games in the series. He was targeted four times in the 2023 loss, finishing with only two catches for four yards overall. Eakin followed with four catches for 52 in the earlier matchup this season, which included a 37-yard strike midway through the first quarter that set up a Behren Morton 9-yard touchdown pass to Caleb Douglas for a 10-0 lead.
- Texas Tech has had a current linebacker finish in double digits for tackles in each of the last two meetings with BYU. Ben Roberts led the Red Raiders with a team-high 10 tackles in the 2023 meeting, while Jacob Rodriguez had 14 earlier this year to go along with a key interception midway through the third quarter and a fumble recovery to help seal the victory in the fourth. For Roberts, the performance was one of six games with double-digits during an impressive 2023 debut that earned him Big 12 Defensive Freshman of the Year honors following the season.

THE LAST MATCHUP
#9 TEXAS TECH 29, #8 BYU 7

Date: Nov. 8, 2025
Location: Lubbock, Texas | Attendance: 60,229

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Stone Harrington kicked a school-record five field goals and standout Texas Tech linebacker Jacob Rodriguez had two takeaways as the No. 9 Red Raiders beat No. 8 BYU 29-7, holding the previously-undefeated Cougars to a season-low 255 total yards in a game with Big 12 and playoff implications.

Behren Morton passed for 216 yards and threw a 9-yard touchdown to Caleb Douglas while Cameron Dickey ran for 121 yards and a 1-yard score for Texas Tech (9-1, 6-1 Big 12, No. 8 CFP), which played in its first top-10 matchup since 2008. BYU (8-1, 5-1, No. 7 CFP) had never played in such a game, though the teams could meet again in the Big 12 championship game in four weeks in Arlington, Texas.

Harrington kicked field goals of 47, 39, 34, 29 and 27 yards. Rodriguez, the FBS leader with seven forced fumbles, had an interception midway through the third period leading to Harrington's fourth field goal. He recovered a backward pass late in the fourth quarter that set up Harrington's final kick.

Tech has gone from ranking 121st last season in the FBS allowing 34.8 points per game to fifth at 13.2 going into Saturday, and lowering that to 12.6.

BYU snapped a 10-game winning streak dating back to last season. The Cougars avoided their first shutout since 2017 when Bear Bachmeier threw a 6-yard touchdown pass to Chase Roberts midway through the fourth quarter. The Cougars went into the game third in the FBS in turnover margin at plus-1.25. They lost two fumbles, threw an interception and muffed a punt.

Bachmeier was 23 of 38 passing for 188 yards. The true freshman also had two turnovers, the interception and backward pass for a fumble.

THE FIRST MATCHUP

TEXAS TECH 21, BYU 20

Date: Oct. 18, 1940
Location: Lubbock, Texas | Attendance: 7,000

Recap: Brigham Young gave the local fans a scare when they brought a surprisingly clever team to give us battle. The final score was 21-20. Although the Raiders ran up a much higher statistical record, they were fortunate in winning the ball game.

Tech confined their football mostly to running plays. They completed only two passes, one of them from C.L. Storrs to E.J. McKnight for 48 yards and a touchdown. It came right after the Cougars had completed a scoring pass for the same distance.

Milton Hill accounted for another score with a 46-yard run, shaking himself loose after being escorted across the line of scrimmage by fine blocking. Big Dutch Dvoracek went over for another from the 10 after a touchdown by Amonett had been called back. The safety came in the second period when Dee Chapman, attempting to kick out, missed a snap back and was smothered by Allbright and Ledbetter.

TEXAS TECH 54, NC STATE 7

Date: Dec. 6, 1952

Location: Lubbock, Texas | Jones AT&T Stadium

Attendance: 11,000

The following recap appeared in the 1953 Texas Tech La Ventana yearbook following the 1952 season.

North Carolina State absorbed the full, pent-up fury of victory-hungry Tech in the season finale as the Raiders unleashed a savage attack that pulverized the favored Wolfpack, 54-7, before a shocked crowd of 11,000 fans in Jones Stadium.

The Raiders, finishing a meager year in a blaze of glory, gave an awesome display of things to come by ripping through NOS for two touchdowns in each quarter. Sandy Welton started the touchdown deluge with only 2:40 showing on the clock.

He broke over left tackle and, aided by a key block from Jerry Walker, raced 41 yards to paydirt. Skeeter Lewis, Vic Spooner, and R. D. Bradshaw tallied once each and Bobby Cavazos and Jerry Johnson scored twice each.

TEXAS TECH ALL-TIME ON DEC. 6

Year	Opponent	Result
1952	North Carolina State	W, 54-7

■ Cole Wisniewski added 10 stops of his own to help push a Red Raider defense that allowed only 255 yards of offense to BYU in the previous meeting, including only 67 rushing yards. It is the only time Wisniewski has finished in double digits during his lone season so far as a Red Raider and the fifth time in his career dating back to his time at North Dakota State.

■ Both defenses have created takeaways in their respective wins as Big 12 members, as BYU forced five turnovers by the Red Raiders in 2023, the most giveaways from Texas Tech in a game since falling to Baylor in 2022. Texas Tech returned the favor earlier this year with three takeaways, thanks to a muffed punt and then Rodriguez's interception and fumble recovery that was the result of a Lee Hunter sack.

■ Behren Morton has made only one start against the Cougars after missing Texas Tech's trip to Provo in 2023. Morton completed 23-of-38 passes for 219 yards and a touchdown earlier this year against BYU with the one scoring strike going to Caleb Douglas late in the first quarter.

■ Stone Harrington set the Texas Tech individual single-game record by finishing 5-of-5 on field goal attempts earlier this season versus the Cougars. Harrington found the uprights from 47 yards to give Texas Tech its first points in the win and then connected again from 27, 39, 29 and 34 yards the rest of the way for a 29-7 victory. His five field goals snapped the previous Texas Tech single-game record of four that was set 13 times previously.

RED RAIDER NOTEBOOK

THIS WEEK IN THE TOP-25 POLLS

■ Texas Tech remained at No. 5 in last week's College Football Playoff committee rankings for the second-straight week and could potentially move further into the top five this week after a loss to previously unbeaten Texas A&M.

■ The West Virginia trip marked the first time the Red Raiders had entered a game as a top-five team since Nov. 8, 2008, at Oklahoma. The Red Raiders, who were coming off back-to-back top 10 wins over No. 1 Texas and No. 7 Oklahoma State that season, were ranked No. 2 in both the Associated Press and USA Today Coaches polls that week, marking their highest ranking in program history. Texas Tech has ranked in the top five of the polls in only the 1976 season, when the Red Raiders were No. 5 before a late loss at home to No. 9 Houston.

■ Texas Tech moved to No. 5 in the Associated Press poll and No. 6 in the USA Today Coaches rankings this week following its West Virginia win. It is the highest the Red Raiders have appeared in either poll this season as Texas Tech is in the top 10 for the seventh time this season.

■ The Red Raiders have been ranked inside the top 25 of both major polls every week thus far this season. Texas Tech entered the 2025 season ranked inside the top 25 of both major polls for the first time since 2008 as the Red Raiders were No. 23 in the Associated Press poll and No. 24 in the AFCA coaches poll. Texas Tech was previously ranked No. 24 in the 2023 AFCA preseason poll before falling out after a season-opening loss at Wyoming.

RED RAIDERS SEEKING 12TH LEAGUE TITLE

■ Texas Tech will be searching for its 12th conference title in program history Saturday and its first outright league crown since the Red Raiders were champions of the Border Conference in 1955. Texas Tech won nine Border Conference titles before departing for the Southwest Conference beginning with the 1960 football season.

■ The Red Raiders shared two Southwest Conference championships during his 30-plus years in the league, splitting the league crown with Houston in 1976 and then with the likes of Texas, Baylor and TCU in 1994. Since joining the Big 12 Conference in 1996, the Red Raiders have only shared a South Division crown in 2008.

YEAR FOUR

■ Year Four already has a special meaning for Joey McGuire. He hopes to add to its significance this weekend with a victory over BYU. McGuire, a legend in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex, helped lead Cedar Hill High School to a Class 5A Division II state title in his fourth season leading the Longhorns, completing one of the most impressive turnaround stories in Texas high school football history.

■ Cedar Hill had not recorded a playoff win in its history until its bi-district win that season to start its state title run, which ultimately culminated with a 51-17 rout over Cy Falls at The Alamodome in San Antonio. Cedar Hill finished 16-0 that season for the first of three state titles under McGuire, who pushed the Longhorns to back-to-back state crowns in 2013 and 2014, this time at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, the site of this weekend's Big 12 Championship.

■ McGuire led Cedar Hill to the state title game in 2012, as well as part of a historic run where he was 141-42 over 14 seasons. McGuire, a member of both the Texas High School Coaches Association Hall of Honor and the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame, departed Cedar Hill following the 2016 season to accept an assistant coach position on Matt Rhule's staff at Baylor.

THE HOME OF THE COWBOYS

■ Texas Tech is no stranger to AT&T Stadium in Arlington, the home of the Dallas Cowboys. The Red Raiders previously played Baylor annually in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex from 2009-18 as part of a neutral-site agreement between the two schools and the Cowboys organization. The two schools met at AT&T Stadium in 2009 and then again from 2011-18 with the Red Raiders going only 3-6 against the Bears during that stretch.

■ AT&T Stadium has also been the site of numerous high school games, including the state championships, since its opening in 2009 as one of the best football venues in the world. In addition to Joey McGuire, multiple Red Raiders such as Coy Eakin (Stephenville), Trey Jackson (South Oak Cliff) and Adam Hill (Albany) have won state titles in AT&T Stadium.

BACK HOME IN THE METROPLEX

- The trip to Arlington will be a homecoming of sorts for multiple Red Raiders who will be able to play in front of friends and family as Texas Tech boasts 25 players from the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex to go along with numerous coaching staff members.
- The Texas Tech coaching staff features four members who were previously high school head coaches in the DFW area, none more notable than Joey McGuire, who led Cedar Hill to three state titles during a memorable 14 seasons. McGuire, a native of Crowley, roughly 30 miles from AT&T Stadium, coached his entire career in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex until accepting an assistant coaching position at Baylor ahead of the 2017 season.
- In addition, the Texas Tech staff also features two other one-time DFW head coaches in Kenny Perry and Zarnell Fitch. The latter began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Lincoln High School from 2011-12 before being promoted to head coach for the 2013 season, his final one before being hired by TCU. The DFW area is also home to Texas Tech offensive passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach Julius Johnson, a Richardson native.
- Perry remains one of the most popular coaches in the Dallas-Fort Worth area even after his move to the collegiate level. Perry, a past director of the North Texas High School Football Association and board member of the THSCA, was previously the head coach of Arlington Sam Houston from 2000-03, Haltom City from 2004-05 and then Arlington Bowie from 2006-12. He was a combined 67-22 during his seven seasons at Bowie alone and was recognized as the Dallas Morning News Coach of the Year in 2007.
- The Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex is home to Texas Tech's largest alumni base in the United States outside of Lubbock as approximately 40,000 graduates currently reside in the area. Texas Tech has enjoyed great fan support in the DFW area due to its large alumni base with another great crowd expected this weekend.

TECH MATCHES SCHOOL RECORD FOR WINS

- Texas Tech matched its school record for wins with its victory at West Virginia last weekend, which improved the Red Raiders to 11-1 overall heading into the Edward Jones Big 12 Championship. It is only the fourth 11-win season in program history as the Red Raiders were previously 11-1 in both 1953 and 1973 as well as 11-2 in 2008. Of those seasons, the Red Raiders won 11 regular-season games only in 2008.
- Texas Tech previously secured the seventh 10-win season in program history against UCF and its first since 2008. In addition to the 2008 campaign, Texas Tech previously finished with at least 10 wins during the 1932, 1938, 1953, 1973 and 1976 seasons
- With the win over the Knights, Joey McGuire became the sixth head coach in program history to lead the Red Raiders to a 10-win season, joining Pete Cawthon (1932, 1938), DeWitt Weaver (1953), Jim Carlen (1973), Steve Sloan (1976) and Mike Leach (2008).

FIRST GOAL ACCOMPLISHED

- Texas Tech began this season with the ultimate goal of finding its way to AT&T Stadium in Arlington, the site of this weekend's Big 12 Championship game. Texas Tech ultimately earned a trip to the league title game after finishing 8-1 in Big 12 play, marking the most conference wins in program history.
- This is only the third time Texas Tech has boasted seven or more conference wins as the Red Raiders finished with a 7-1 record in both 1976 and again in 2008. The Red Raiders had won six or more games only once - last season - since the Big 12 moved to a nine-game conference schedule in 2011.
- Prior to last season, Texas Tech had only two seasons with six or more Big 12 victories, which came during the 2005 (6-2) and 2008 (7-1) campaigns under Mike Leach when the conference maintained an eight-game league schedule.
- Texas Tech finished with six or more league wins in the Southwest Conference twice, which came off a 7-1 campaign under Steve Sloan in 1976 and a 6-1 mark under Jim Carlen in 1973. The Southwest Conference rotated between a seven and eight-game format throughout Texas Tech's tenure from 1960-95 as the Red Raiders won five or more games 10 times.
- With the win over Kansas State, Texas Tech secured its fourth-consecutive season with a winning conference record for the third time since joining the Southwest Conference in 1960. The Red Raiders previously enjoyed a seven-year span with an above-.500 league record under Spike Dykes from 1991-97, which covered Texas Tech's late tenure in the SWC and the beginning two years as a Big 12 member. Texas Tech also went four-straight seasons with a winning SWC record from 1967-70 under JT King and Jim Carlen.

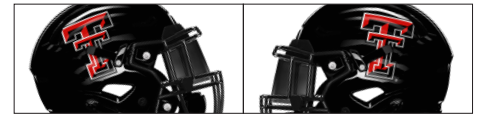

STRENGTH IN TEXAS TECH'S WINS

- Texas Tech enters the postseason with two wins on its resume over teams with 10 victories of their own this season in BYU and Utah. Texas Tech's two wins match the total for the likes of Ohio State (0), Indiana (1), Texas A&M (1) and Oregon (0) combined. Texas Tech averaged 23.0 points as its margin of victory in its two wins over BYU and Utah.
- When you include a road win at Houston, Texas Tech has three victories over three teams with nine or more wins this season, winning those games by an average of 23.3 points. Georgia also has three wins against nine-win teams but has won by an average of only 13.3 points. Texas A&M and Oregon have defeated only one nine-win team each this season, respectively. Oregon's lone nine-win team to defeat this season was a USC program that is 9-3 overall and ranked outside the top 15, unlike BYU and Utah.

TEXAS TECH DOMINANT OVERALL

- The Red Raiders have been dominant in their 11 victories this season, winning all 11 games by at least 20 points while outscoring opponents, 518-135, overall. Texas Tech currently leads the nation with an average margin of victory of 35.2 points, which is ahead of fellow top-five team in Indiana (33.4).
- Oklahoma is the only other school in Big 12 history to have 11 or more wins by at least 20 points in a season as the Sooners also had 11 in 2008. When the margin of victory is increased to 22 points, Texas Tech is the only team in league history with at least 11 wins by that amount.
- Texas Tech is only the sixth team in the past 100 years (since 1925) to win at least 11 regular-season games by at least 20 points, joining Nebraska (1971), Florida (2008), Florida State (2013), Alabama (2018) and Ohio State (2019). Of that group, only Alabama and Ohio State failed to win a national title in years with 11 regular-season wins by 20 points.
- Texas Tech's eight Big 12 wins this season by at least 20 points are the most in league history. The Red Raiders are only

■ Texas Tech is the only team in the country with 11 or more wins by 20 or more points this season. In fact, only five other FBS teams - Indiana, Notre Dame, Ohio State, South Florida and Utah - have the same number of wins by 20 or more points for the entire season as Texas Tech does for wins by that margin during Big 12 play.

FROM A HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE...

■ Texas Tech set the school record with its 10th win by at least 20 points against UCF. The Red Raiders snapped the previous school record of nine that was set in 1953 when Texas Tech ultimately finished 11-1 overall. The dominance Texas Tech has shown this season is somewhat unprecedented, as the Red Raiders had only three other seasons with seven or more wins by at least 20 points prior to this season.

■ Texas Tech's current average points margin of 31.9 points is on pace to snap the single-season record that dates back to 1953 when the Red Raiders outscored opponents to the tune of 29.6 points per game. Since joining the Southwest Conference in 1960, Texas Tech's highest average point differential is a 20.6 margin from 2005.

ROAD TESTED

■ Texas Tech secured its fourth win away from home at West Virginia, improving the Red Raiders to 4-1 in road games this season. The 49-0 rout over the Mountaineers marked Texas Tech's first shutout in Big 12 play on the road since the Red Raiders blanked Baylor, 28-0, in 2005. It followed a 43-20 victory over Kansas State, a 34-10 win at previously-No. 16 Utah and then a 35-11 win at Houston with the lone loss coming at Arizona State.

■ With its win at West Virginia, the Red Raiders finished with their first four-win season on the road since 2008 when Texas Tech won away from home at Nevada, Kansas State, Texas A&M and Kansas. It marked Texas Tech's first-ever season with four Big 12 road wins since joining the conference in 1996.

NOVEMBER GOOD TO TECH UNDER MCGUIRE

■ The month of November has been good for the Red Raiders under Joey McGuire as Texas Tech is a combined 13-3 over his four seasons. That is a drastic improvement for a Texas Tech program that was a combined 10-31 (.244) during the month over the previous 11 seasons. Texas Tech finished 3-1 over the final month in each of McGuire's first three seasons.

■ The Red Raiders completed a perfect 4-0 final month with their win at West Virginia last weekend, which marked the first undefeated November since 1993 when Texas Tech closed out a five-game winning streak to end the regular season with victories over TCU, SMU and Houston.

■ Joey McGuire's 13-3 record during the month of November is the highest winning percentage for a Texas Tech head coach in regular-season games in November or December through his first four seasons. McGuire is now tied with DeWitt Weaver (13-4-1) for the most November wins through the first four seasons in program history.

■ Texas Tech's 13-3 record in November since the start of the 2022 season is easily among the best in the Big 12 with Arizona in second with an 11-8 record (.688) during that span.

HOME SWEET HOME

■ Texas Tech finished a perfect 7-0 this season inside the friendly confines of Jones AT&T Stadium where the Red Raiders are now 22-5 under Joey McGuire since his hiring prior to the 2022 campaign. Texas Tech is 14-4 at home against Big 12 opponents under McGuire and an impressive 8-1 during non-conference play.

■ The Red Raiders boast the highest home winning percentage among Big 12 schools during that span, which is 13th among power conference teams during that same time. BYU is second in the league with an 19-5 record at home.

■ This was the 14th time in program history and the third time in a four-year span that Tech has hosted seven games in a season, continuing its recent trend of prioritizing home games. The Red Raiders are slated to host seven home games in two of the next three seasons with 2027 being the lone exception.

■ With its victory over UCF, Texas Tech finished with a win in every home game for the first time since 2008 and the 12th

RED RAIDERS IN ONE-POSSESSION GAMES

- Texas Tech has ranked among the nation's most successful teams in one-possession games since hiring Joey McGuire in 2022. The Red Raiders are 13-5 in such games under McGuire — a drastic improvement for a program that went a combined 13-20 in the seven seasons prior to his arrival. Texas Tech was 4-0 in one-possession games during McGuire's debut season in 2022 followed by a 3-3 mark in 2023 and a 6-1 record last year.
- The Red Raiders, who have dominated opponents with 11 wins by at least 20 points this season, dropped their lone one-possession game of the year at Arizona State, a 26-22 loss that came after a final two-minute drive from the Sun Devils.
- Among teams nationally with at least eight one-possession games since 2022, Texas Tech leads the Big 12 for winning percentage, besting the likes of Houston (15-7, .682), BYU (12-6, .667) and West Virginia (11-7, .611). Texas Tech is eighth nationally for winning percentage in one-possession games during that same stretch.
- Texas Tech is an impressive 8-1 at home in one-possession games under McGuire with the lone loss coming early in the 2023 season to No. 13 Oregon. The Red Raiders are 5-4 on the road, including three wins this past season at Arizona, Iowa State and Oklahoma State. Texas Tech also won a one-possession game at Iowa State in 2022 and at Kansas in 2023.

THE HOTTEST TICKET IN TOWN

- Texas Tech snapped the single-season school record for average attendance this season after an average of 60,143 fans packed Jones AT&T Stadium over seven games. It easily broke the previous school record of 58,934 fans that were on hand over six games in 2014.
- Texas Tech sold out of season tickets for the third-consecutive season in early May as Red Raider fans purchased more than 33,000 season passes for the 2025 campaign. This total does not include seats reserved for Texas Tech's student body, either. Texas Tech also sold out its entire premium seating inventory in all areas of Jones AT&T Stadium, which includes more than 100 luxury suites and 1,600 club seats.
- Texas Tech has added more than 14,000 season tickets since Joey McGuire's hiring in November 2021. Texas Tech previously sold 28,000 season tickets for McGuire's debut season in 2022, which, like this year's total, ranks among the top-10 highest season ticket counts in program history.

- Texas Tech played in front of a sold-out crowd in six of its first seven home games this season as 60,229 fans were on hand for the Arkansas-Pine Bluff, Kent State, Oregon State, Kansas, BYU and UCF wins.
- Jones AT&T Stadium added to its lineup of events this spring, country music legend George Strait playing on back-to-back nights April 24-25. It is one of the limited shows Strait is performing in 2026, as he will be joined by Dylan Gossett and Zach Top on the first night and then Hudson Westbrook and Miranda Lambert on the final show.

THE BIG 12 LEADER IN BOWL APPEARANCES

- Texas Tech secured its 43rd bowl appearance in its history and fifth in as many years with the win over Kansas, which leads all active Big 12 Conference teams. Texas Tech ranks tied for 20th nationally in all-time bowl appearances as the Red Raiders have one more than fellow Big 12 member BYU and two more than West Virginia.
- Texas Tech is currently in the midst of its longest bowl streak since its 2000-10 stretch, primarily under Mike Leach. That 11-year run represents the only time in program history that Texas Tech has made the postseason in five consecutive seasons. This is the third time in program history the Red Raiders have reached a bowl game in four-straight years as Texas Tech also did so from 1993-96 under Spike Dykes.
- Joey McGuire joins Leach as the only head coaches in program history to lead the Red Raiders to a bowl appearance in each of his first four seasons. Texas Tech is 2-1 in bowl games under McGuire after topping Ole Miss in the 2022 TaxAct Texas Bowl and Cal in the 2023 Independence Bowl, while falling this past season to Arkansas in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl.

HOMETOWN PRIDE

- Texas Tech will continue to recognize the hometowns of every student-athlete on its roster this season with a special decal on the back of each gameday helmet. The decal will feature a throwback Masked Rider logo with the area code associated with each student-athlete's hometown as part of an initiative started in 2022 by head coach Joey McGuire.

THE BRAND NUMBER

Here at Texas Tech, there is only one available jersey number that is protected: No. 3. The jersey represents the player or players who best represent the core tenets of "The Brand," which represents Texas Tech's daily quest to be the "toughest, hard-working, most competitive team in the country."

The Red Raiders have two players wearing the jersey this season in returning linebacker Bryce Ramirez and wide receiver Coy Eakin. Ramirez was awarded the jersey prior to the 2023 season in recognition of his determination and leadership in response to a catastrophic leg injury suffered the year before at N.C. State.

Eakin, meanwhile, is coming off his best season as a Red Raider as he caught 49 passes for 652 yards and a team-leading seven touchdowns as only a sophomore this past season. He has 85 catches now for his Red Raider career, totaling 1,068 yards and nine touchdowns in 27 games. Eakin finished as Texas Tech's third-leading receiver this past season, trailing only departed senior Josh Kelly and returning senior Caleb Douglas. Eakin will move to Kelly's previous spot in Texas Tech's inside receiver position beginning this spring under new offensive coordinator Mack Leftwich.

In addition to representing the standards of "The Brand," the No. 3 jersey is designated to honor the life of the late Luke Siegel, who passed in August 2021 after inspiring countless others across the nation with his fighting spirit in the wake of a golf-cart accident. The No. 3 represented Siegel's favorite number.

HEAD COACH JOEY MCGUIRE

THE HALL OF FAMER

- There likely isn't a power conference football program in the state of Texas with better ties to its high school coaches than at Texas Tech as McGuire hired six members of his charter coaching staff who have ties to the Texas High School Coaches Association (THSCA). McGuire, himself, is already a legend at the prep level as a member of the THSCA Hall of Honor and the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame.
- McGuire, owner of three state titles as head coach of Cedar Hill High School in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex, was inducted into the THSCA Hall of Honor (THSCA) in 2020 and then the Texas High School Football Hall of Fame in 2022 in the months after accepting the Texas Tech position. McGuire is still an avid speaker at the annual THSCA Convention and regularly hosts clinics for high school coaches each year.

NOT THE ONLY COACH IN THE FAMILY

- Texas Tech has a second member of the McGuire family on its sidelines this season with Garret McGuire joining the staff as running backs coach. The younger McGuire previously played under his father at quarterback at Cedar Hill High School before enjoying four years as a backup quarterback at Baylor. He joined the coaching profession immediately after, serving as an offensive assistant with the NFL's Carolina Panthers (2021-22) and then as the wide receivers coach for Nebraska the past two seasons (2023-24).
- Garret isn't the only McGuire building an impressive career, either, as Raegan McGuire is a fashion designer for AMUR in New York City. Her designs have been worn by several high-profile figures, including Natalie Biden, the granddaughter of President Joe Biden, as well as Taylor Swift during her spring 2023 Eras Tour.

AN NFL FRONT OFFICE

- Under McGuire, Texas Tech's personnel department resembles an NFL front office, a first-in-its-kind approach in the world of college football. Texas Tech's personnel department is overseen by James Blanchard, who began the rise of the general manager role in college football soon after joining McGuire in Lubbock as his first hire after accepting the Texas Tech position.
- Few, if any, general managers across college football have the autonomy Blanchard enjoys under McGuire. Blanchard and his staff are responsible for identifying every prospect Texas Tech ultimately offers a scholarship opportunity, allowing McGuire and his coaching staff to prioritize player development and opponent scouting, especially during the season.
- The setup has helped Texas Tech land several of the nation's top recruits, especially in the lucrative footprint of the state of Texas. The Red Raiders began McGuire's tenure with a 2023 class that ranked as high as No. 23 by Rivals, its highest recruiting record in more than a decade. Texas Tech followed with another highly-rated class in 2024, which led the Big 12 and again ranked as high as No. 23 overall nationally.
- For McGuire, the Red Raiders have consistently prioritized recruiting the top high school talent in Texas, leaning into his staff's ties to the high school coaches throughout the state. Texas Tech has complemented that approach with several additions via the transfer portal where McGuire and his staff have delivered successful results via the likes of All-Big 12 selections like linebacker Jacob Rodriguez, wide receiver Josh Kelly, tight end Jalin Conyers and defensive back C.J. Baskerville, among others. Texas Tech landed On3's top transfer portal class this offseason as McGuire and his staff landed 21 newcomers to an already talented roster.

THE BRAND

The core tenant under McGuire revolves around The Brand, which stands for his desire that the Red Raiders be the "toughest, hardest-working, most-competitive team in the country." On his final interview for the Texas Tech position, McGuire described his vision for the Red Raider program using The Brand, which President Lawrence Schovanec said "describes West Texas."

WHAT'S NEXT!

Step into any Texas Tech practice and the phrase "What's Next" is one you'll hear early and often. No matter if something good or bad happens on the field, McGuire and his staff stress a "What's Next!" mentality, emphasizing that the focus should be on the next play or rep. And for reference, the phrase is always a statement, never a question, as evidenced by its exclamation point at its end.

TAKE THREE UNIVERSITY

McGuire, a defensive coach at heart, heavily utilizes the phrase "Take Three" as a program. The phrase has transformed into a rallying cry from the defense with in-house video production signaling "one," "two" or "three" each time the Red Raiders create a takeaway. McGuire, prior to each game, regularly wears a t-shirt designed for the defense that says "Take Three University."

THE UNOFFICIAL HOME OF THE THSCA

Since his hire as Texas Tech's head coach, Joey McGuire has made it a point to brand the Red Raiders the "unofficial home of the Texas High School Coaches Association." Already a Hall of Famer, himself, McGuire has hired a staff filled with experience at both the collegiate and high school levels, with five assistant coaches who have previous ties to the THSCA as well as a slew of support staff members.

That list includes associate head coach and special teams coordinator Kenny Perry (Bowie, Halton City and Sam Houston H.S.), offensive coordinator Mack Leftwich (Kirkland H.S.), offensive run game coordinator Josh Cochran (Lindale H.S.), offensive passing game coordinator Justin "Juice" Johnson (Plano West and Berkner H.S.) and defensive line coach Zarnell Fitch (Lincoln H.S.). Five support staff members also have THSCA experience in assistant defensive backs coach Jah'Shawn Johnson (Ennis H.S.), assistant linebackers coach Taylor Young (Richardson H.S.), Director of Player Personnel Brian Nance (Temple H.S.), Director of Player Development Dave Martin (Cedar Hill) and assistant strength coach Brandon Stevenson (Midland Christian and Lake County Christian H.S.).

Texas Tech defensive coordinator Shiel Wood and senior defensive analyst Jack Teachey, meanwhile, both have experience at the high school level on the East Coast.

SUCCESS IN BIG 12 PLAY

- Texas Tech has ranked among the most-consistent Big 12 programs during Joey McGuire's four seasons as head coach, winning 24 conference games already. Dating back to Texas Tech's acceptance into the Southwest Conference in 1960, McGuire has the highest conference winning percentage for a head coach in his first four seasons leading the Red Raiders. McGuire, who is now 24-12 against Big 12 foes, leads the likes of Steve Sloan, who was 15-8 in his three seasons in the Southwest Conference from 1975-77, as well as Jim Carlen, who was 17-11 in his first four seasons of his 1970-74 tenure.
- McGuire has returned the Red Raiders to being one of the Big 12's most competitive teams as Texas Tech was 5-4 in each of his first two seasons and then 6-3 in 2024. Prior to his debut 2022 season, Texas Tech had not recorded a winning conference record since 2009 as the Red Raiders were a combined 36-71 (.336) in the 12 years before McGuire's arrival with no seasons of at least a .500 record.
- In fact, the Red Raiders are joined by Kansas State as the only two Big 12 programs to boast an above-.500 conference record in each of the past four seasons, regardless of league affiliation.
- Prior to his arrival, Texas Tech had finished with at least five conference wins in three-straight years only once in its history from 1995-97 while transitioning from the Southwest Conference to the Big 12. That stretch coincided with a seven-year period with a winning conference record from 1991-97.

NEWS & NOTES ON MCGUIRE...

- McGuire is only the second head coach in program history to lead the Red Raiders to bowl games in each of his first four seasons, joining the late Mike Leach, who pushed Texas Tech to a bowl game in each of his 10 seasons.
- Texas Tech has hit the 40-point mark 20 times during McGuire's tenure as the Red Raiders are a perfect 20-0 in those games during his four seasons.
- There is defense in West Texas as Texas Tech is 25-1 overall under McGuire when holding opponents to 25 or fewer points. Texas Tech has limited its opponents to 25 or fewer points 18 times during Big 12 play under McGuire and has done so in each of its two bowl victories.
- Texas Tech has now six Big 12 wins for a second-consecutive season, marking the fourth time the Red Raiders have done so since joining the league in 1996. McGuire joins Mike Leach to lead the Red Raiders to multiple seasons of six or more conference wins after he did so twice during his tenure from 2000-09.

JACOB RODRIGUEZ, THE TAKEAWAY KING

Jacob Rodriguez has established himself as one of the nation's top players, not only for his tackling ability for his ability to create turnovers for the Red Raider defense. Rodriguez, the Big 12 Preseason Defensive Player of the Year and an All-American candidate, has had his hand in 19 takeaways over his career, including nine in Big 12 play this season. The Red Raiders are 13-1 in games that he creates a takeaway with the one loss coming at Wyoming in 2023 on a play where he forced and recovered a fumble. Rodriguez, who is now one of the FBS all-time leaders in forced fumbles, is now the only player dating back to 2005 to record at least five forced fumbles, four interceptions and two fumble recoveries all in the same season.

DEFENSIVE NOTEBOOK

RODRIGUEZ NOT ALONE IN TAKEAWAYS

- For as good as Jacob Rodriguez has been in creating takeaways during his career, he's not alone on the Red Raider roster. Between not only Rodriguez but also fellow linebacker Ben Roberts and outside linebacker David Bailey, Texas Tech has three of the nation's active leaders in career forced fumbles as the trio has combined for 29 entering this weekend. Texas Tech is the only school in the FBS boasting three players with seven or more career forced fumbles.
- Rodriguez ranks second in the FBS with 13 career forced fumbles, including seven from this season alone. He trails only Buffalo's Red Murdock, who has already snapped the NCAA FBS record with 17 forced fumbles of his own. Bailey is tied for third nationally with nine forced fumbles in his career followed by Roberts and six others in a tie for 10th overall with seven.
- Rodriguez is the FBS leader with seven forced fumbles already this season with six coming during Big 12 play. He scored off one of those, returning his own forced fumble 69 yards for a touchdown against Oklahoma State. He previously had another key forced fumble at Utah before adding an interception to help seal the victory late in the fourth quarter.
- His seven forced fumbles this season rank tied for seventh since the NCAA began tracking the category beginning with the 2000 season. He is already tied for fourth in Big 12 history for single-season forced fumbles, trailing only Derrick Johnson of Texas (9 in 2004), Texas Tech's own Dwayne Slay (8 in 2005) and Jayshon Sykes of Colorado (7 in 1999).

THE NATION'S HIGHEST-GRADED PLAYER

- Joey McGuire often refers to Jacob Rodriguez as the "quarterback of the defense." It's a fitting description for Rodriguez, who was a standout high school quarterback at Wichita Falls Rider High School and later signed with Virginia to play offense. Rodriguez has adapted that quarterback mentality into becoming the nation's top inside linebacker, both in his ability to stop the run and also assist in coverage.
- Rodriguez enters this week as the second-highest graded player, regardless of position, with at least 200 snaps by Pro Football Focus as he's grading out at 93.4 overall, trailing only Ohio State quarterback Julian Sayin (93.5). Rodriguez leads the country (all positions) with a 95.3 grade in rush defense, while his 92.8 grade in coverage ranks second among all positions behind only teammate Romello Height (93.4).

GET THE ‘STACHE TO NEW YORK CITY

Jacob Rodriguez has the endorsements of Heisman winners in Robert Griffin III and Matt Leinert in his quest to become one of the few defensive players in history to reach New York City as a Heisman Trophy finalist. In its history, Heisman voters have only selected 12 defensive players as a finalist, which includes three two-way players in 2024 recipient Travis Hunter of Colorado, 1997 winner Charles Woodson of Michigan and 1987 finalist Gordie Lockbaum of Holy Cross. Of that group, only two true linebackers have received enough votes to be named a finalist in Notre Dame’s Mani Te’o (2011) and Oklahoma’s Brian Bosworth (1986). Rodriguez’ stats from this season more than compare to Te’o and Bosworth as well as the other defensive finalists in the award’s history. Below is a statistical comparison between Rodriguez and other Heisman defensive finalists.

THE “STACHE” PACKAGE

- Jacob Rodriguez went back to his quarterback roots the past two games to find the end zone out of the Wildcat formation, finding paydirt from 2 yards out against UCF and then 1-yard out at West Virginia. The Texas Tech staff has appropriately labeled his set of plays as the “stache package” each week.
- Rodriguez became the first Texas Tech defensive player to score an offensive touchdown since former defensive lineman Jaylon Hutchings found the end zone on a 1-yard touchdown run against Oklahoma in the 2022 regular-season finale. Rodriguez is the only player in college football this season to score both an offensive and defensive touchdown this season as he also returned his own forced fumble 69 yards to the end zone against Oklahoma State.
- Rodriguez also added his fourth interception of the season against the Knights, which is second on the team behind only Brice Pollock. Rodriguez was tabbed a Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week for a third-straight game following the performance.

“TAKE THREE DEFENSE” AMONG NATION’S BEST

- “Take three” has long been the mantra of Joey McGuire, dating back to his days leading Cedar Hill High School in the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex. The phrase describes Texas Tech’s continual goal to force at least three takeaways per game, which McGuire credits as greatly increasing his team’s chances to walk away with a victory.
- The Red Raiders reached the “take three” mark in four of nine games in Big 12 play to rank among the nation’s leaders in takeaways this season. Texas Tech is tied with SMU with 27 forced turnovers this year, which trails only fellow Big 12 member Arizona (28) following the regular season. The Red Raiders are also fourth nationally at plus-13 in the turnover margin, including a plus-8 margin the past three games alone.
- The Red Raiders, who forced a season-high five takeaways at Kansas State, are 11-1 under Joey McGuire when “taking three” and are 29-3 when leading or tied in the turnover margin.

CAN’T RUN ON US

- Texas Tech enters this weekend as the FBS leader for rushing defense as the Red Raiders are giving up only 68.9 yards per game on the ground this season, a full 10 yards better than the next-closest team in Indiana (79.3). That is a significant improvement from a year ago, when Texas Tech ranked 73rd nationally after surrendering 152.1 rushing yards per game.
- Texas Tech has only allowed 100 rushing yards in three games this season - at Utah (101), Houston (103) and Kansas State (126). Since that K-State game, the Red Raiders have given up only 156 combined rushing yards in wins over BYU (67), UCF (52) and West Virginia (37). BYU’s total featured only 35 from LJ Martin, the Big 12’s leading rusher this season at 102.4 rushing yards per game.
- Utah, which currently ranks second in the FBS with 269.8 rushing yards per game, was limited to only 101 yards against the Red Raiders to open Big 12 play. Of the total, 28 yards came on Utah’s final drive after the Red Raiders had already put the game away with a 34-10 lead.
- Texas Tech followed those two performances by only giving up 47 rushing yards versus Kansas, the fewest by a Big 12 opponent at the time since Baylor was limited to only 17 yards on the ground midway through the 2023 season. The Red Raiders previously only allowed eight rushing yards in their win over Oregon State, the fewest rushing yards since Texas Tech stuffed Kansas State to negative-12 yards in the first-ever Big 12 game to open the 1996 season.
- The Texas Tech record for rushing defense average was set in 1964 when the Red Raiders gave up 115.6 yards per game. Texas Tech’s best rush defense during the Big 12 era came in 1998 when the Red Raiders allowed only 118.9 yards per game.

NUMBERS TO KNOW

- 1 Texas Tech is the only team to rank in the top five in the FBS this season in scoring offense, scoring defense and takeaways per game. Florida was the last team to do so in 2008.
- 2 Texas Tech has two victories over 10-win teams this season in Utah and BYU, matching the total for Ohio State, Indiana, Oregon and Texas A&M combined.
- 4 Texas Tech has held three different conference opponents to single-digit point totals this season, which matches the most in school history.
- 8 Texas Tech is one of the most-experienced teams in the country with eight players now who have appeared in 50 or more games with Cole Wisniewski leading the team with 59.
- 9 Texas Tech is tied with Indiana and Tennessee as the only FBS programs to force multiple turnovers in at least nine games this season. The Red Raiders are 9-0 in those games.
- 11 Texas Tech’s 11 wins by 20 points are easily the most in the FBS. The only Big 12 team to have more such victories in a single season was Oklahoma in 2008 (11).
- 12 Texas Tech has won its last 12 games Behren Morton has started dating back to the 2024 regular season. The Red Raiders are a perfect 10-0 in games he’s started this year.
- 19 Jacob Rodriguez has contributed to 19 takeaways over his career, including nine during Big 12 play this season and five in the past four games alone.
- 24 Texas Tech has already set its single-season record with 24 field goals this season, which currently ranks third in the FBS. That includes 18 alone from Stone Harrington.
- 33 Teams with Shiel Wood as its defensive coordinator are a combined 33-1 when scoring at least 30 points since he was promoted at Army in 2021.
- 34 Joey McGuire secured his 34th career win at West Virginia, which marked the third time a Tech coach has reached the mark in 51 games and first since Jim Carlen (1970-74).
- 85 Texas Tech enters this weekend as the FBS leader with 85 offensive plays from scrimmage that have gone for 20 or more yards, including 57 through the air.
- 111 Texas Tech has scored 111 points off takeaways this season, the second-highest total in the FBS. The Red Raiders have scored points off turnovers in all but one game.
- 383 Texas Tech has outscored opponents by 383 points this season as the Red Raiders lead the FBS with an average win margin of 33.8 points per game

WOOD EXPERIENCED IN TURNING AROUND DEFENSES

- Shiel Wood is in his first season as Texas Tech's defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach, bringing a reputation of immediately improving defenses from stops at Army (2021), Troy (2022), Tulane (2023) and Houston (2024).
- Wood's defenses have ranked inside the top 35 for total defense in all four seasons since he was first named co-defensive coordinator at Army in 2021. In addition, opposing offenses have averaged less than 23.0 points per game against Wood's defenses since his promotion to play-caller at Army in 2021. Texas Tech, meanwhile, had not allowed less than 25.0 points per game since 2009 prior to this season.
- Wood has built a reputation for immediately improving defenses, particularly through turnovers. Both his defenses at Troy and Tulane ranked in the top 10 nationally for takeaways as his defenses are averaging 22.3 takeaways per season over the past four years. His defenses have increased their takeaway total from the previous year in each of his last three stops as a defensive coordinator. Texas Tech surpassed that average against BYU as the Red Raiders are tied for second nationally with 27 takeaways this season.
- Wood has certainly impressed early in his tenure after inheriting a Red Raider defense that surrendered 34.8 points per game a year ago. Texas Tech has seen immediate returns on his hiring as the Red Raiders enter this weekend ranked in the top-15 nationally for rushing defense (1st), takeaways (T-2nd), scoring (3rd), and total defense (6th).

A HISTORIC SEASON FOR THE DEFENSE

- Joey McGuire is not shy to remind people that "we play defense at Texas Tech." That's been evident this season as the Red Raiders are in the midst of a historic season not seen in Lubbock for some time. Texas Tech is on pace for its lowest defensive averages for both scoring and rushing yards allowed dating back to 1950.
- The Red Raiders are giving up only 11.25 points per game, which is on pace to be Texas Tech's lowest since 1950, breaking the previous mark of only 11.3 points a contest in 1964. Texas Tech's school record is 3.3 points allowed per game, which was set in 1933.
- Texas Tech has frustrated opponents to only 258.9 yards of total offense per game, its lowest average currently since the Red Raiders allowed only 254.6 yards a contest in 1971. Texas Tech is one of the most-improved defenses in the country this season after giving up 460.2 yards per game a year ago.
- The Red Raiders are currently surrendering 190.0 passing yards per game, a significant improvement from a year ago when Texas Tech allowed 308.1 yards a contest through the air. Texas Tech's current average is its lowest since giving up 188.4 passing yards per game in 2007.
- Texas Tech is one of the national leaders for turnover margin this season as the Red Raiders are plus-13 entering this weekend. The Texas Tech single-season record is plus-12, which was set three times previously in 1991, 1993 and 1997.

FINDING THE END ZONE

- Texas Tech has three defensive touchdowns this season and two in as many weeks after Jacob Rodriguez returned his own forced fumble 69 yards against Oklahoma State, followed by John Curry's 10-yard fumble return at Kansas State. Texas Tech shares the Big 12 lead alongside Kansas State and UCF with three defensive touchdowns this season and ranks tied for 10th nationally.
- Texas Tech has now scored three defensive touchdowns in consecutive seasons under Joey McGuire. Skyler Gill-Howard had Texas Tech's other defensive touchdown as he returned an interception 55 yards in the non-conference win over Kent State early in the season.

ROBERTS CONTINUES TO BOOST DEFENSE

- Ben Roberts heads into this weekend with 259 tackles already in his career and is yet still a junior. Roberts has a long way to reach the Texas Tech career list, but the successful start has put the thought in reach over the next two seasons as he is more than halfway to reaching Ryan Aycock for 10th all-time in program history. Aycock, a member of this year's Texas Tech Hall of Fame class, compiled 338 tackles as a Red Raider safety from 2000-03.
- Roberts is currently second on the team with 69 tackles this season, marking the third time already in his career to have at least 60 stops in a season. With one more stop the remainder of the season, Roberts would become the eighth Red Raider since 2005 to post three seasons with 70 or more tackles, joining the likes of Jordyn Brooks (2016-19), Cody Davis (2009-12), Riko Jeffers (2018-21), Dakota Allen (2015-18), Jah'Shawn Johnson (2015-17), Marlon Williams (2007-09) and Darcel McBeth (2006-08). From that group, only Brooks and Davis had at least 80 times three times in a career.
- Roberts picked off the second pass of his career at Kansas State, one of five takeaways in Texas Tech's first road win in the series since 2008. He also stepped in front of a pass for an interception as a redshirt freshman in 2023 at West Virginia. Roberts also has two forced fumbles and a fumble recovery already this season.

STRENGTH IN THE MIDDLE

- The middle of Texas Tech's defensive line received a significant boost with the signing of Lee Hunter, Skyler Gill-Howard and A.J. Holmes Jr. this offseason. That trio alone has combined for 351 tackles, including 66.0 for a loss and 22.0 sacks, forming one of the top interior defensive line units, possibly in college football.
- Tech's front is as impressive as they have boasted in recent years, with PFF's Max Chadwick ranking the defensive line third nationally entering the 2025 season behind only Clemson and Alabama. Prior to his injury, Gill-Howard was among the highest-rated interior linemen in the FBS, ranking third with an 88.2 overall grade, followed by Holmes Jr., who is currently sixth at 84.4 overall, and Hunter in 18th at an 80.8 grade.

THE NATION'S SACKS LEADER - DAVID BAILEY

Texas Tech made splash after splash across college football this offseason with the signing of the top transfer portal class in the country. The loudest splash, however, came in early April with the signing of outside linebacker David Bailey, who committed to join the Red Raiders after three seasons at Stanford and is considered a potential NFL first-round selection next spring.

Bailey has lived up to his billing as he enters this week as the FBS leader with 12.5 sacks this season. Bailey has found the quarterback at least once in nine of 12 games this season, combining for 10.0 sacks during Big 12 play alone, which also leads the FBS. Bailey also ranks 10th in the FBS with 16.0 tackles for loss this season and sixth among power conference players, the third-highest total by a Red Raider since 2005, trailing only Jordyn Brooks (2019) Brandon Sharpe (2009).

BIG LEE IN MIDST OF ANOTHER BIG SEASON

■ Texas Tech's improvements defensively have started up front with Lee Hunter helping pave the way in what could be his third All-Big 12 caliber type season. Hunter, who was an honorable mention pick in 2023 and a second-team selection a year ago, doesn't have the same numbers he recorded while at UCF, but his impact has paved the way for Texas Tech to rank among the nation's top defenses. Hunter currently has 30 tackles this season, including 7.5 for a loss and 2.5 for a sack. He is a half-sack shy of matching his career high that was set with the Knights in 2023.

GETTING TO THE QUARTERBACK

■ One of Texas Tech's biggest weaknesses defensively a year ago was its ability to get to the quarterback. The Red Raiders have already proven to be much-improved in that area with the addition of outside linebackers David Bailey and Romello Height as well as defensive tackles Lee Hunter, A.J. Holmes Jr., and Skyler Gill-Howard. Texas Tech is currently ranked as the top-ranked defense by Pro Football Focus with a 96.5 overall grade and the nation's second-best pass rushing unit (91.7).

■ The edge-rushing duo of Bailey and Height has more than paid dividends for the Red Raiders thus far as they have combined for 21.5 sacks and 122 pressures alone. The duo ranks among the top players in college football with Height credited with a 92.6 overall grade followed by Bailey at 92.4, which ranks fourth and fifth nationally among all players with 200 defensive snaps.

■ Texas Tech set a school record with nine sacks in the win over Kansas, snapping the previous mark of eight that was set in a 1993 win at SMU. It remains tied for the most sacks by an FBS team this season, joining six others. In addition, it was the fifth time in Big 12 history that a conference team notched 9.0 or more sacks and was the first since Oklahoma had the same total in a 2020 victory over Kansas.

■ Texas Tech has already surpassed its sacks total from a year ago with 37.0 this season, which ranks tied for fifth in the FBS and leads the Big 12. The Red Raiders have recorded 28.0 of their sacks during Big 12 play, which is tied for the fourth-highest total in college football. This is currently the second-highest sack total for Texas Tech since 2005, trailing only the 40.0 from 2009.

MORE ON THE NATION'S SACKS LEADER

■ David Bailey moved into sole possession of fourth place on the Texas Tech single-season chart with his sack against UCF. He now trails only Brandon Williams (2008) by a half-sack for third all-time in program history and then Adell Duckett (2003) by 1.5 sacks for second and Brandon Sharpe (2009) by 2.5 sacks for the single-season school record.

■ Bailey currently leads the FBS with 70 total pressures, according to Pro Football Focus, with 13 of those coming against Houston, earning him the publication's National Defensive Player of the Week honors. Bailey has 10 more pressures than any other player as he's followed by New Mexico's Keyshawn James-Newby (63) and Miami of Ohio's Adam Trick (63). His teammate Romello Height is eighth nationally with 52 pressures of his own.

WINNING IS NAME OF THE GAME FOR MORTON

In the second episode of the Texas Tech documentary series "The Brand," Behren Morton details how he wants to be best remembered - a winner. Since the start of his sophomore season in 2023, Texas Tech is 22-4 in games Morton starts and does not depart due to injury, which includes a 16-3 mark during Big 12 play.

Overall, Morton has helped lead the Red Raiders to 25 wins over his 34 career starts, marking the most for a Texas Tech quarterback since Graham Harrell pushed the Red Raiders to a combined 28 victories in his three seasons as a starter from 2006-08. Below is a listing of Texas Tech's most-successful quarterbacks in terms of wins over the past 30 years.

OFFENSIVE NOTEBOOK

RED RAIDERS WITH MORTON UNDER CENTER

- Texas Tech is 10-0 this season when Behren Morton starts for the Red Raiders. Texas Tech did not trail in each of its first six games this season, opening with a 6-0 record before suffering its first loss at Arizona State with Morton sidelined to injury. Texas Tech has won its last 12 games that Morton has started dating back to wins over Oklahoma State and West Virginia to end the 2024 regular season.
- Morton also missed the Oklahoma State win due to injury before returning Nov. 1 for a 43-20 victory at Kansas State. He has started each of the last four games for the Red Raiders, combining for 927 yards and seven touchdowns to only one interception during that span. Morton has completed 66.9 percent of his passes since returning from injury, including an impressive 78.1 percent at West Virginia (25-of-32).
- Texas Tech is averaging 522.4 yards of total offense in the Morton's 10 starts this season, while the team totaled 276 and 370 yards, respectively, in the two games he did not start.
- Since the start of the 2023 season, Morton has departed four games due to injury, leaving losses to Kansas State in 2023 and TCU in 2024 at halftime with the Red Raiders locked in a one-possession game. He departed both the Big 12 opener at Utah this season, just after halftime, with the Red Raiders leading 10-3 at the time, and then again against Kansas with Texas Tech enjoying a 21-0 lead at the time.
- Since becoming Texas Tech's primary starting quarterback beginning with the Houston win in 2023 - the fifth game of that season, Morton has missed four starts during that span, sitting out the road trip to BYU in 2023, the AutoZone Liberty Bowl in 2024 and then against both Arizona State and Oklahoma State this season. The Red Raiders are only 1-3 in those games with the lone win coming against Oklahoma State earlier this year.

PROTECTING THE FOOTBALL

- The area Behren Morton has possibly grown the most over his career is in protecting the football. Since the start of his 2024 junior season, Morton has thrown for 47 touchdown passes to only 12 interceptions. He is one of only 11 quarterbacks nationally and one of seven from a power conference to throw for at least 40 passes during that span with 15 or fewer interceptions. He is the lone Big 12 quarterback to appear on that list.

- In addition, Morton's 12 interceptions are tied for the fourth-fewest among power conference quarterbacks with at least 40 touchdown passes during that span, trailing only Duke's Darian Mensah (10), Illinois' Luke Altmyer (11) and Indiana's Fernando Mendoza (11). Morton has thrown an interception in only three games this season with one versus Oregon State and Kansas State and two at Utah.

MORTON IN THE RECORD BOOK

- Morton became only the fifth player in Texas Tech history to reach 8,000 career passing yards against BYU, joining a list that includes Graham Harrell, Kliff Kingsbury, Patrick Mahomes II and Seth Doege. Morton now has 8,647 passing yards over 43 games as a Red Raider entering the Big 12 Championship.
- Morton could potentially move to fourth place on the Texas Tech all-time passing chart early in Saturday's title game as he trails Seth Doege by only nine yards. Doege, now the offensive coordinator at Arizona, threw for 8,646 yards while leading the Red Raider offense from 2009-12.
- Morton has found the end zone 69 times through the air over his career with 20 coming this year. He enters this weekend in a tie for fourth place all-time in program history alongside Doege. Morton previously passed Doege for fourth on the career passing attempts charge with 1,198 now as a Red Raider, including 755 completions, which ranks fifth overall.

PLENTY OF DEPTH AT QUARTERBACK

- Joey McGuire has raved about his depth at quarterback since the start of preseason camp with two talented backups in Will Hammond and Mitch Griffis, who have both led teams to wins during their respective careers. Texas Tech will need that depth the rest of the year with Griffis as the primary backup to Behren Morton after Hammond was ruled out for the season.
- Hammond was in the midst of his third career start and second of the season when he suffered an injury during the second quarter of Texas Tech's victory over Oklahoma State. He had thrown for 680 yards and seven touchdowns to that point on 69-of-109 passing (63.3 percent), while also ranking as Texas Tech's third-leading rusher with 43 carries for 299 yards and five touchdowns. He is only the fifth Texas Tech quarterback to rush for five or more touchdowns in a season during the Big 12 era, joining Zebbie Lethridge (1995-97), B.J. Symons (2003), Graham Harrell (2008), Patrick Mahomes II (2015-16) and Donovan Smith (2022).
- Hammond gave McGuire more reason to brag in the Big 12 opener at Utah as the redshirt freshman completed 13-of-16 passes for 169 yards and two touchdowns in the second half in place of an injured Morton. The performance earned Hammond not only Big 12 Freshman of the Week honors but also one of the league's top offensive accolades.
- Griffis is in his first season as a Red Raider after a year away from football. He previously was a captain and starter at Wake Forest where he threw for 1,957 yards and 15 touchdowns over 10 starts from 2020-23. Griffis relieved Hammond against the Cowboys, throwing for 172 yards and a touchdown on 9-of-13 attempts, while also rushing for another score.

REPLACING TECH'S ALL-TIME RUSHER

- Texas Tech has filled its void at running back this season following the graduation of Tahj Brooks, who departed as the school's all-time leading rusher after back-to-back 1,500-yard rushing seasons. He snapped the Texas Tech career rushing record previously set by Byron Hanspard, while finishing fourth all-time on the Big 12 rushing chart with 4,557 yards.
- The Red Raiders have not slowed down with the sophomore tandem of J'Koby Williams and Cameron Dickey, who have combined to outpace Texas Tech's rushing output from a year ago. Texas Tech has combined for 2,323 rushing yards and 29 touchdowns on the ground thus far, a steady improvement from a year ago when the Red Raiders had 2,158 yards and 26 touchdowns for the entire season.
- The duo has combined for 1,730 rushing yards and 19 touchdowns this season alone with Dickey carrying 180 times for 1,023 yards and 13 scores, while Williams has added 707 yards and six touchdowns on 127 carries of his own. This is only the second time since 1956 that Texas Tech has boasted two 700-yard rushers in the same season. The Red Raiders previously did so in 2008 with the tandem of Baron Batch (758 yards) and Shannon Woods (716 yards).
- One of the two has hit the 100-yard rushing mark in two of Texas Tech's last four games as Williams put together his second 100-yard performance this season after going for a career-high 135 yards at Kansas State. Dickey followed by rushing for 121 yards and a touchdown in the win over BYU, his second 100-yard outing this year. He also ran for a career-high 263 yards earlier this season at Kansas State.

DICKEY HITS THE 1,000-YARD MARK

- Cameron Dickey became the ninth Red Raider in program history to break the 1,000-yard mark at West Virginia, as he's now third in the Big 12 with 1,023 rushing yards this season. It is the 14th different 1,000-yard season by a Red Raider in school history and the third already during Joey McGuire's tenure. This is the first time in program history that Texas Tech has boasted a 1,000-yard rusher in three consecutive seasons.
- Dickey enters this weekend as the Big 12 leader for both rushing touchdowns (13) and total touchdowns (15), ranking in the top-25 nationally in both categories. He is tied for ninth in the country with his 15 total touchdowns, while his 13 rushing touchdowns are tied for 22nd overall. His 13 rushing touchdowns are currently tied for 10th on the Texas Tech single-season chart.
- Dickey placed his name in the Texas Tech record book against Kansas after rushing for 263 yards and two touchdowns in the win. It marked the fifth-highest single-game rushing total by a Red Raider in school history and the most since Byron Hanspard set the Texas Tech record with 287 yards against Baylor in 1996.
- Dickey's performance is the fifth-highest rushing total in the FBS this season and the second-highest by a Big 12 rusher, trailing only Kansas State's Joe Jackson, who went for 293 yards at Utah. As a team, the Red Raiders rushed for 372 yards against Kansas, their most since racking up 453 yards on the ground against Louisiana early in the 1997 season.

LIGHTING UP THE SCOREBOARD

- Texas Tech enters this weekend ranked third in the FBS for scoring offense as the Red Raiders are averaging an impressive 43.2 points per game this season. The Red Raiders, who are on pace for their highest scoring average since 2016, currently trail only North Texas (46.8) and Indiana (44.3) nationally.
- Since moving to a spread offense in 2000, the Red Raiders are averaging 36.0 points per game, the fourth-highest clip during that span behind only Oklahoma (38.0), Boise State (37.7) and Oregon (37.4). Texas Tech, which set a school record with 45.1 points per game in 2015, has averaged at least 30.0 points per game in all but three of those seasons.

McGUIRE ERA DRAFT PICKS

■ Five Red Raiders have heard their names called during the NFL Draft during Joey McGuire’s tenure (2022-pres.). Most recently, the Las Vegas Raiders drafted offensive lineman Caleb Rogers in the third round (98th overall) in the 2025 Draft, and in the sixth round, the Cincinnati Bengals selected the Red Raiders’ all-time leading rusher, Tahj Brooks. Defensive back Dadrion Taylor-Demerson went in the fourth round in 2024, followed by rush end Myles Cole going in the seventh round to Jacksonville. During Tech’s first spring offseason under McGuire, the Red Raiders had only one draft pick, but it came quickly, as the Raiders made Tyree Wilson the highest-drafted defensive player in school history at No. 7 overall.

THREE-TIME SUPER BOWL CHAMPION

■ Patrick Mahomes II became the first Red Raider in school history to win three career Super Bowls after he helped lead the Kansas City Chiefs to a 25-22 overtime victory over the San Francisco 49ers in Super Bowl LVIII in 2024. It was the second-straight Super Bowl title for the Chiefs and their third in five years. Mahomes guided Kansas City to its third consecutive Super Bowl appearance last season but was denied a threepeat by the Philadelphia Eagles.

■ With his first Super Bowl win (2020) over the San Francisco 49ers, Mahomes was named Super Bowl MVP at only 24 years of age, making him the youngest player in NFL history to earn Super Bowl MVP honors.

FIRST ROUND DRAFT PICKS

■ Texas Tech currently has three first-round NFL Draft picks active heading into the 2025 NFL season. In addition to Patrick Mahomes II being the 10th overall pick by the Kansas City Chiefs in 2017, and while maybe not known for its defense in recent years, the two others include linebacker Jordyn Brooks and defensive end Tyree Wilson.

■ The Miami Dolphins selected Jordyn Brooks 27th overall in the 2020 draft and has since moved on to the Miami Dolphins. Meanwhile, Tyree Wilson was the seventh overall selection in the 2023 draft, making him the highest-drafted defensive player in program history.

IT STARTS UP FRONT

■ Texas Tech entered the 2025 season with one of the most experienced offensive line units in the country with a combined 165 career starts between its list of newcomers and returners. In fact, Texas Tech entered the season with the fourth-most combined career starts in the FBS. The added experience has paid off as Texas Tech is the second-highest graded pass blocking team in the Big 12, according to Pro Football Focus.

■ The Red Raiders have used the same starting five up front in Howard Sampson, Will Jados, Sheridan Wilson, Davion Carter and Jacob Ponton in all 12 games this season. Texas Tech enters the postseason as one of only eight FBS programs that have started the same offensive line in every game this year.

■ Sheridan Wilson currently ranks as the highest-graded center in the FBS for pass blocking, according to Pro Football Focus. The publication credits the junior with a 90.4 pass blocking grade, the highest in the FBS with the next-closest being Logan Jones from Iowa (90.1). The publication credits Wilson with no sacks allowed and only four pressures over 430 pass-blocking opportunities.

PLENTY OF OPTIONS AT RECEIVER

■ The Red Raiders have proven to be among the deepest teams at wide receiver this season as Texas Tech shares the FBS lead with four players with at least 500 receiving yards in Caleb Douglas (823), Reggie Virgil (590), Coy Eakin (560) and tight end Terrance Carter Jr. (530). Texas Tech had not had four or more players with 500 receiving yards in a season previously since the 2016 campaign.

■ Texas Tech is also one of only 10 schools nationally with four players with at least four touchdown catches this season, as Douglas leads the team with seven, followed by Virgil with six, Carter with five, and Eakin with four.

■ Texas Tech had three different players eclipse 100 yards receiving versus Oregon State in Eakin (123), Williams (116) and Carter Jr. (102). It marked the first time Texas Tech boasted three 100-yard receivers in the same game since Jakeem Grant, Bradley Marquez and DeAndre Washington did so versus Baylor in 2014.

■ Texas Tech’s balance was also on display against Houston, marking the first time since last year’s regular-season finale against West Virginia, where the Red Raiders featured a 300-yard passer in Behren Morton, a 100-yard rusher in J’Koby Williams, and a 100-yard receiver in Caleb Douglas.

■ Texas Tech is coming off one of its best passing performances at West Virginia, with Carter setting a career high with 10 catches for 98 yards, while Douglas added five

LEFTWICH TAKES OVER OC DUTIES

■ Texas Tech has a new offensive coordinator for the first time in Joey McGuire’s tenure following the departure of Zach Kittley to accept the head coaching position at Florida Atlantic. In his place, McGuire landed Mack Leftwich, who had quickly developed into one of the fastest-rising offensive playcallers in college football following successful stints at both Incarnate Word and Texas State.

■ Leftwich arrived at Texas Tech following two seasons at Texas State where he developed one of the nation’s top offenses as the Bobcats led the Sun Belt Conference and ranked in the top 15 nationally for total offense and scoring during the 2023-24 campaigns. Texas State’s success offensively pushed the Bobcats to their first two bowl appearances in school history and 16 combined victories.

■ Leftwich inherited a Texas State offense that ranked 110th in the country for scoring at only 21.1 points per game prior to his arrival in 2022. He quickly changed that narrative, however, as Texas State used a balanced attack to average 36.7 points per game for 127 yards and two touchdowns. It was the sixth 100-yard game of Douglas’ career, all of which have come on the road or at a neutral site (bowl game).

BIG PLAY THREATS ALL AROUND

■ When Mack Leftwich took over as Texas Tech’s offensive coordinator, he stated he wanted his version of the Air Raid offense to be more 50-50 in terms of play calls, focusing heavily on running the football and capitalizing on big plays in the passing game. The Red Raiders have done just that as Texas Tech enters this week as one of only five teams in the country to throw for at least 3,500 yards this season, while also rushing for 2,000 or more yards. Texas Tech is joined by Ole Miss, North Texas, USC and Tennessee in that select group.

■ This is only the fourth time in Texas Tech history that the Red Raiders have totaled at least 3,500 passing yards and 2,000 rushing yards. In fact, the Red Raiders have done so three times now under Joey McGuire, hitting both marks in 2022 and 2024 as well as in 2015 under Kliff Kingsbury.

■ Texas Tech is the FBS leader with 85 offensive plays already this season that have gone for at least 20 yards. The Red Raiders have capitalized on 57 passing plays of that distance this year, which ranks fourth in the FBS, while their 28 explosive rushing attempts are tied for the eighth-highest total in the country.

■ Texas Tech has two of the most-explosive players in the country in Cameron Dickey and J’Koby Williams, who have combined for 29 plays of at least 20 yards this season. Williams leads the team with 15 explosive plays (8 rushing, 7 receiving), while Dickey has 14 of his own (12 rushing, 2 receiving) to rank second on the team with Caleb Douglas.

■ Leftwich coached the quarterback position in each of his five seasons at Incarnate Word, helping identify three of the best in program history in Jon Copeland (2018-19), Cameron Ward (2020-21) and Lindsey Scott Jr. (2022). Ward, the No. 1 pick in the 2025 NFL Draft after finishing his career at Miami, combined for 6,908 passing yards and 71 touchdowns during his two seasons, which remain the most in school history.

SPECIAL TEAMS NOTEBOOK

KP KNOWS KICKERS

- Texas Tech has ranked among the most-accurate teams in the country for field goals under special teams coordinator Kenny Perry, the past four seasons, despite often splitting duties between multiple kickers. This year is no different, with Stone Harrington and Upton Bellenfant combining to find the uprights on 24-of-27 attempts.
- Texas Tech ranks tied for third in the FBS with 24 successful field goals this season, trailing only the 25 from both Hawaii and Georgia Tech. The Red Raiders are now seventh nationally with 27 total attempts this season after sending Harrington out for only extra points at West Virginia.
- Texas Tech snapped the single-season team record for field goals against UCF, breaking the previous mark of 23 that was set in 2013. The Red Raiders are only one attempt from matching the school record for tries that was set in 1998.
- Bellenfant is a perfect 6-for-6 on field goal attempts this season, while Harrington, a Lou Groza Award semifinalist, is 18-for-21 overall. Harrington's three misses are from 40-plus yards as he is also 7-for-10 overall from 40 yards or longer this year. Harrington, who has made each of his last 10 attempts over the past four games, moved into fifth place in single-season history against UCF with his 18 field goals.
- Harrington recorded a memorable performance at Utah, where he was 2-for-2 on field goal attempts, which included a 58-yarder just before halftime. It marked the second-longest field goal in program history, trailing only the 62-yard attempt Jonathan Garibay connected on as time expired in Texas Tech's victory over Iowa State in 2021.
- Harrington is now a two-time Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week honoree after earning the accolade following Texas Tech's wins at Houston and Kansas State. He connected on a successful 55-yarder to send the Red Raiders to halftime versus the Wildcats, making him the first player in Texas Tech history and one of six FBS players this season to find the uprights on multiple successful field goals from 55 yards or longer. He previously connected on three of Texas Tech's five field goals at Houston, a new single-game team record.
- Harrington set a Texas Tech individual single-game record with five successful field goals versus BYU. Harrington found the uprights from 47 yards to give Texas Tech its first points in the win and then connected again from 27, 39, 29 and 34 yards the rest of the way. His five field goals snapped the previous Texas Tech single-game record of four that was set 13 times previously. Harrington is one of only six FBS kickers this season to make five or more field goals in a game and one of two to do so from the Big 12, joining Houston's Ethan Sanchez, who was 5-of-6 early this season against Colorado.
- Needless to say, Perry knows the right buttons to push at the kicker position. In fact, his kickers have made 81.8 percent of their field goal attempts since he became a quality control analyst at SMU in 2020. He has already developed two of the top kickers in program history in Garcia and Trey Wolff since joining Joey McGuire's charter staff at Texas Tech in 2022.

EXPLOSIVENESS IN RETURN GAME

- Texas Tech has been boosted by J'Koby Williams on both kick and punt returns in recent weeks as he has four kick returns for 207 yards (51.8 average), which included a 99-yard return for a touchdown to kick off the Oklahoma State win. It was the first opening kickoff returned for a touchdown by a Red Raider since Keke Coutee went 92 yards versus Baylor in 2017. Williams was named the Big 12 Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts. As a team, Texas Tech is fifth in the FBS with a 27.8 kick return average this season. Williams has returned only two punts for 21 yards thus far.
- Coy Eakin has found another role this season as an occasional punt returner. Eakin has made eight returns since moving into the role at Houston, totaling 121 yards at a 15.1 average. He had a 36-yard return at Arizona State, marking the third consecutive week he's brought back a punt of at least 30 yards. He also had a 30-yard return against Houston and another 36-yard return versus Kansas.
- Eakin currently does not meet the minimum number of punt returns to enter the NCAA stat rankings. If he did, however, his 15.1 yards per return average would rank eighth nationally and lead the Big 12.

BURGESS AMONG NATION'S TOP PUNTERS

- Jack Burgess was singled out by Joey McGuire during a preseason press conference, praising him for his offseason work and a notable 5-yard distance improvement he had observed. He's been called on to punt only 38 times this season as he's averaging 43.6 yards per attempt with 19 that have been downed inside the 20.

THE HOME OF TEXAS TECH FOOTBALL

SOUTH END ZONE & WOMBLE FOOTBALL CENTER

■ Texas Tech moved into the South End Zone and Dustin R. Womble Football Center in 2024, which features more than 340,000 combined square feet of space with a blend of world-class modern design and technology elements with Spanish Renaissance architecture well known on the Texas Tech campus. The $242 million project marks the largest contiguous football facility in the country, connecting the south end zone building to the Womble Football Center and the Sports Performance Center, which opened in 2017 as Texas Tech's indoor football practice facility and indoor track and field venue.

■ Joey McGuire and his staff's offices are on the second floor of the south end zone building, giving them a stunning view overlooking Cody Campbell Field at Jones AT&T Stadium. The office location places McGuire and his staff steps from each position room and the skybridge connected to the Womble Football Center where offensive and defensive breakout rooms are located as well as a team meeting space and a state-of-the-art walkthrough area on the second level.

■ The Womble Football Center is a two-story building that maintains its football strength and conditioning, sports medicine and equipment areas on the main level as part of the new layout. The Red Raiders' main locker room is located in the Womble Football Center, which includes space for 120-plus athletes and modern primary designs from Hollman that are fully ventilated and contain USB charging ports and DreamSeat technology for every player.

■ The second floor of the Womble Football Center features a revolutionary 4,500-plus square foot multi-purpose walkthrough area designed for large-scale indoor team strategy implementation, instruction and technique evaluation only a few steps from the team meeting space and position rooms. The space boasts a 25-by-20 yard turf surface in front of a 70-foot wide by 10.5-foot high LED screen that will be the largest in both college football and the NFL for walkthrough areas. The LED screen will allow Texas Tech's coaches to simulate an opponent's formation and scheme, giving the Red Raiders real-time feedback through the advanced technology during game preparations.

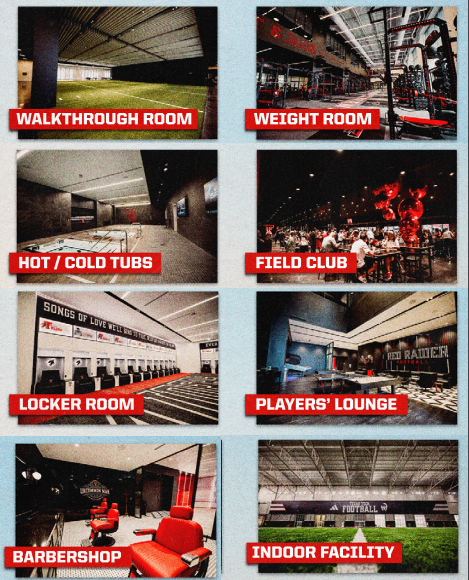

■ Texas Tech now boasts a 15,000-square-foot, two-level weight room, one of the largest in college football. The weight room area is located in the southwest corner of the Womble Football Center, giving the Red Raiders direct access into the Sports Performance Center and the outdoor practice fields.

■ The entire facility significantly upgraded the amenities provided to the Red Raiders on a daily basis, notably with a two-story players' lounge, the "Uncommon Man" barber shop, a state-of-the-art hydrotherapy recovery suite and a primary 12,000-square-foot locker room located in the Womble Football Center.

■ The Red Raiders enter Jones AT&T Stadium each gameday through the Gary Petersen Field Club, a 12,000-square-foot premium space that is among the first of its kind in college football. It is one of several new premium areas as Texas Tech has added 17 new luxury suites to go along with 500 club and loge box seats and two spacious party decks.

■ The opening of the South End Zone Building to Jones AT&T Stadium officially closed The Campaign for Fearless Champions, one of the most-successful fundraising initiatives in university history that raised more than $500 million to transform Texas Tech's athletic facilities across every sport, while also pouring resources into the student-athlete experience through scholarship endowments and the creation of the J.T. and Margaret Talkington Office of Student-Athlete Development.

■ In addition to the large-scale construction, Texas Tech also enhanced its gameday experience as part of the project, adding nine LED displays through Daktronics as well as a state-of-the-art sound system by Clair Audio, a national leader in large venue audio production. The added LED displays include the main videoboard on the north end of the stadium, expanding it to 37-feet high by 136-feet wide in size with 10-millimeter pixel spacing for excellent image clarity and contrast. Texas Tech also constructed two new video displays atop its south end zone measuring 28-feet high by 48-feet wide, featuring content zoning abilities that are already a staple of the north end zone videoboard. All three new videoboards feature 10mm pixel pitch, providing every fan in the 60,000-plus seat stadium with the highest resolution display in college football.
