HEAD COACH - 31ST SEASON

Johns Hopkins, '78

Frank Olszewski

A lot of changes have taken place at Towson University over the last three decades, but when it comes to the Tiger men's soccer program, one thing has remained constant - its head coach.

Frank Olszewski has been the Tigers' leader since the 1982 season, guiding the program to a phenomenal amount of success.

The winningest coach in Towson soccer history, he has a record of 279-217-49. With his 279 victories, Olszewski opens the 2012 season ranked 15th in NCAA Division I among active coaches and 44th in NCAA Division I men's soccer history. He is one of five Colonial Athletic Association coaches who have at least 200 career victories.

During his tenure as the coach, the Tigers have been strong contenders in four different conferences - the East Coast Conference (1983-91), the Big South Conference (1992-95), America East (1996-2001) and the Colonial Athletic Association (2002-present).

In 30 seasons, the Tigers have reached their conference championship game nine times and won four league championships. In 2001, Towson made its first NCAA Division I Tournament appearance after winning the America East championship. The team returned to the NCAA Tournament in 2006, reaching the round of 16 before losing to third-ranked Wake Forest, 2-1.

Coach Olszewski has been honored as conference Coach of the Year four times. In 2006, he earned the CAA Coach of the Year award after leading the Tigers to a league-record 10 conference wins.

Over the last 17 seasons, the Tigers have posted 14 winning records.

The 2011 team was a young squad that boasted talented players like Olakunle Banjo and Christian Höfer. Banjo missed four games during the season and still managed to be selected as a third team All-CAA pick, with four goals and 10 points. Towson finished with a 3-11-2 record, but had a 2-1-1 record in league play over the final two weeks of the season-the best record in the CAA over that time.

After posting a 7-10-0 record in 2009, the Tigers rebounded to post a 9-6-2 record in 2010, including a perfect 6-0-0 mark in non-conference action.

In 2008, the Tigers earned an 8-5-4 overall record and just missed a berth in the CAA Tournament by posting a 4-3-4 mark in league play.

In 2007, the Tigers finished third in the CAA with a 7-4 conference record and advanced to the CAA Championship Game before falling to Old Dominion in a penalty kick shootout. The Tigers posted a 12-7-2 overall record and with a victory over George Mason on November 8, they presented Coach Olszewski with the 250th win of his career.

In addition, goalkeeper Billy Chiles earned second team All-America honors and became the fifth player during Olszewski's tenure to earn All-America notice.

Six years ago, the Tigers had the best season in the program's history, compiling a 15-2-3 record and ending the year ranked 15th in NCAA Division I. With a 10-0-1 CAA record, Towson set a conference record for most league victories in a single season while winning the conference regular season title. The Tigers earned an at-large berth to the NCAA Tournament and were seeded 15th, receiving a first-round bye before beating Fairfield by a 2-0 margin.

In 2005, the Tigers earned a berth in the CAA Tournament for the second time. After an 8-1 start which earned them top 20 recognition, the Tigers finished fifth in the CAA with a 4-4-3 league record. With a final record of 10-6-3, the Tigers were ranked sixth in the final South Atlantic regional poll, the highest-ranked team in the region that didn't earn a berth to the NCAA Tournament.

In May, 2004, Olszewski earned one of the greatest honors of his career when he was inducted into the Maryland Soccer Hall of Fame by the Oldtimers' Association.

In 2004, the Tigers bounced back from their worst season under the coach's guidance to post an 8-7-2 record. Towson was the tenth-most improved team in the nation.

Prior to the 2003 season, the Tigers posted eight consecutive winning seasons, the longest stretch of winning seasons since the program was started in 1921.

In 2002, the Tigers finished the year with a 10-8-2 overall record. Towson ended its first Colonial Athletic Association season with a 4-4-1 league record. The Tigers made the CAA playoffs as the number four seed and beat fifth-seeded James Madison, 3-0. But, the Tigers lost to nationally-ranked Virginia Commonwealth in the CAA semi-finals.

On September 26, 2002, the Tiger coach joined exclusive company when the Tigers beat George Washington, 4-0. That victory gave him 200 career wins, making him one of 32 active NCAA Division I coaches with 200 victories.

In 2001, the Tiger coach enjoyed another great season as the Tigers won the America East championship in their final league season and made their first appearance in the NCAA Division I Tournament.

It was a memorable trip. In the opening round of the NCAA College Cup, the Tigers beat CAA champion James Madison, 4-1. It was the largest margin of victory in the tournament's 16 first round games.

However, the season ended in the second round when North Carolina beat the Tigers, 3-0. The Tar Heels went on to win the NCAA title while Towson ended the season as the 25th-ranked team in the nation.

The Tigers' final 16-5-1 record was the best mark in school history.

In their final season as members of America East, the Tigers compiled an 8-2-1 league record and were seeded third in the six-team conference tournament.

After a 2-0 opening round win over New Hampshire, the Tigers stunned second-seeded Hartford on the road, 2-1. When fourth-seeded Northeastern beat top-seeded Boston University, the Tigers hosted Northeastern in the league championship game.

An incredible goal by Alfonso DeMares early in the second half gave the Tigers the only goal they needed as the defense shut out the Huskies, 1-0, to win the title and earn an NCAA Tournament bid.

In seven years of America East membership, the Tigers were one of the top teams on an annual basis. Over the years, they had a very impressive 42-20-3 league record. They qualified for the league playoffs five times in seven years and finished as America East runners-up in 1995, 1998 and 1999 before winning the title in 2001.

In 2000, the Tigers came on strong after a slow start. Towson opened the season by losing six of its first nine games. Towson went 6-1-1 in October to finish in a second place tie in the league standings with Vermont. But, Towson's season ended in the semi-finals of the tournament when they dropped a 3-2 overtime decision to Vermont.

In 1999, Olszewski guided a very young Towson team to an 11-4-4 record that included a second straight league championship game appearance and a number seven regional ranking. In the America East Tournament, the Tigers edged Northeastern by 1-0 in overtime in the semi-finals. In the finals, Towson dropped a 2-0 verdict at Hartford.

A two-time America East Coach of the Year, Olszewski became the winningest coach in Towson soccer history in 1998 while leading the Tigers to the America East regular season championship.

Olszewski etched his name into the Towson record books on October 23, 1998 when the Tigers beat New Hampshire by a 2-1 score. That win enabled Olszewski to earn his 157th career victory as he eclipsed the mark of 156 held by Doc Minnegan, who coached Towson for 29 years. Minnegan is a member of the National Soccer Hall of Fame.

In 1998, the Tigers won seven straight league games to finish the conference season with an 8-1 record and the regular season title. The Tigers advanced to the championship game with a 2-1 win over Hofstra before third-seeded Drexel upset them to win the title, 2-1.

In 1995, Towson made its debut in the America East and it was an impressive one. The Tigers opened the season with eight straight wins and spent most of the season ranked among the top 20 teams in NCAA Division I. They finished with a final national ranking of 20th and posted a 14-4 record. In their first season in the league, the Tigers were runners-up and Olszewski was honored as the conference's Coach of the Year.

Over the last 15 seasons, Towson has compiled a 164-119-30 record while competing in three different leagues.

From 1989 to 1991, the Tigers left their mark on the now-defunct ECC by winning the last three ECC titles. Towson beat Drexel by 2-1 to win the 1989 championship as Olszewski earned ECC Coach of the Year honors. Towson and Drexel tied for the 1990 title and the Tigers edged Rider by 2-1 in 1991 for the title.

A native of Baltimore, Olszewski became the Tigers' coach under difficult circumstances. After four years as an assistant coach to Rich Bartos, he was named as interim head coach in September, 1982, when Bartos lost a battle with leukemia. In his first season as the Tigers' coach, he led Towson to an 8-9-2 record. After the 1982 season, he was named as the Tigers' head coach on a full-time basis.

In 1984, the Tiger coach led his team to its first ECC playoff appearance. The Tigers posted an overall record of 11-6-2 and won the ECC East Section title. Towson advanced to the conference championship after winning a penalty kick shootout against Delaware. But, the Tigers lost to Lafayette in their first ECC title game appearance.

A 1978 graduate of Johns Hopkins University, Olszewski was a four-year starter for the Blue Jays and helped Hopkins reach the NCAA Division III Final Four in 1975. In 1977, he was an alternate for the U.S. Olympic Team. He was picked by New York in the professional indoor league draft. He earned his Psychology degree from Hopkins and his Master's degree in Counseling from the University of Maryland.

Very active in NCAA soccer activities, he has served as the regional chairman for the NCAA championship tournament. He has also been a member of the regional selection committee for several years. In addition, he has been a member of the Maryland Olympic Developmental staff and the Eastern Regional Olympic staff. He has his USSF "A" License.

In the Spring of 2008, Coach Olszewski was selected to the U.S. Soccer National Teams Staff as a scout, working specifically with the Development Academy.

Coach Olszewski and his wife, Diane, reside in Lutherville. They are the parents of two children, Frank and Kaitlin. Frank Jr. is a Towson University graduate who played golf.

Billy Chiles

Assistant Coach
4th Season at Towson
Towson, '08

One of the top goalkeepers to ever play for the Tigers, Billy Chiles begins his fourth season as an assistant coach at his alma mater.

A second team NSCAA/adidas® All-America selection as a senior, Chiles is the Tigers' all-time leader with a 1.002 goals against average. Named as a first team All-Colonial Athletic Association pick as a senior, Chiles started 33 of 34 games in two seasons with the Tigers.

During his senior year, the Silver Spring, Md. native led the CAA with 110 saves in 21 matches while his nine shutouts ranked second in the CAA. He also had an .833 save percentage and earned CAA Co-Player of the Week honors after posting back-to-back shutouts against William & Mary and Old Dominion.

As a junior, Chiles ranked second in NCAA Division I with a 0.33 goals against average and a .935 save percentage, helping the No. 15 Tigers reach the third round of the NCAA Tournament. He allowed just four goals and posted six shutouts, which ranked third in the CAA. Chiles was named to the CAA All-Tournament Team after posting a shutout in the Tigers' 0-0 draw against Old Dominion in the CAA Championship Match.

Chiles, who also competed as a member of the United States U-23 National Team Pool during his senior year, played for Crystal Palace USA in 2009. He appeared in two matches and posted a 0.74 goals against average.

Billy Chiles holds the school record with a 1.002 career goals against average.

Darius Qualls

Assistant Coach
7th Season at Towson
UMBC, '84

Starting his seventh season with the Tiger men's soccer team, Darius Qualls has brought a large amount of coaching experience from the junior college, high school and club levels to the Tigers.

The head coach at Prince George's Community College for two years, he joined the Tiger coaching staff in the Spring of 2006. In his two seasons as the head coach at Prince George's, Qualls led the team to a combined record of 19-15. In 2003, he was the team's co-head coach as PGCC had a 12-7-1 record. Qualls was the team's assistant head coach in 2002 when Prince George's had a record of 12-6-1.

From 2000 to 2002, Qualls was the varsity head soccer coach at Bishop McNamara High School in Forestville, Md. In 1999, he was an assistant coach at Gwynn Park High School.

In addition, he coached a number of Select Club teams in Fort Washington, Md. for six years. He coached both the boys and girls teams in three different age groups.

He also spent two years as the head coach of the Maryland State District Development team as he coached the Boys Under-15 program.

From 1997 to 2000, he was the assistant coach for the Fort Washington Blue Devils in the National Capitol Soccer League.

He was also the head soccer coach of the Accokeek Sports and Recreation Association from 1991 to 1996.

Qualls is retired from the Prince George's County Police Department after over 20 years of service. He played college soccer at Prince George's Community College and UMBC. He was a member of the PGCC soccer team in 1980 and 1981. He played for the Retrievers in 1982 and 1983, earning All-America honors in 1983.

Darius Qualls has been an integral part of the Tiger coaching staff for six seasons.

Tigers Hope To Bounce Back In Big Way In 2012

Entering his 31st season on the sidelines, Frank Olszewski, the longtime Towson head coach, expects success. After posting a tough season last year, the Tigers possess a wealth of young talent that is aiming for a Colonial Athletic Association playoff spot in 2012.

Last season marked just the third time in the last 17 seasons that the Tigers had a losing record and the team is out to prove last season is behind them, according to Olszewski.

"This is a group with a lot to prove," he said. "Everyone needs to be accountable in every aspect of the team. We had a very young group and some very close games where things did not go our way last year. We've got to be a team that takes care of the little details."

The Tigers' offense will be sparked by the return of the team's top three scorers from a year ago, including junior Christian Höfer, senior Phil Martinelli and junior forward Olakunle "Kay" Banjo.

Höfer and Daniel Grundei, a sophomore defender and fellow native of Germany, are two players the Tigers will count on to provide leadership. Grundei started every game as a freshman last season and scored the only goal of the game in the Tigers' season finale, a 1-0 win over Georgia State.

If the balanced offense and team defense can meld together and create a consistent attack, the Tigers will embark on what they hope will be a memorable 2012 season.

FORWARDS

The forward attack will be led by Banjo, an explosive scoring threat his first two seasons. He was a third team All-Colonial Athletic Association in 2011. He scored four goals in just 12 games last season and has 29 points in his career. The headliner in a unique group of forwards, Banjo could be a prolific performer with a healthy 2012.

"I think Kay likes to be a team player moreso than your typical go-to scorer," Olszewski said. "He's capable of putting up some numbers but he understands his teammates have to contribute or he won't be successful. He's always looking to combine with his teammates and that's where he's most dangerous."

Junior Enrico Skrypzak also returns up front and had six points in 12 games last season. Providing strength, Skrypzak could be on the verge of a breakout.

Senior Anthony Okodua was fourth on the team last season with two goals and has the physical attributes necessary to dominate games. With great speed in the open field, Okodua could put all of his skills together.

"He's always at the top of our athleticism testing," Olszewski said. "He does have great speed and he can make defenders get wobbly knees in the some situations."

Senior Matteo Vertucci and junior Cameron Kidwell also return to the fold to provide a pair of solid veteran contributors.

DEFENSE

Along with Grundei, the backend of the Tigers will be strengthened with the addition of grad student Josh Danza, a transfer from Stevenson University and a member of the Puerto Rico national team. Paired with Danza's experience and Grundei's intangibles will be veterans Michael Greene and Justin Rothman, who combined to start 13 games last season, as well as newcomers Pierre Mensah, Albert Collins, Josh Toribio and Nero "Trey" Cooper on defense. The team also has high expectations for red-shirt freshman Steven Davies.

"Danny Grundei is very much the leader-type," Olszewski commented. "He doesn't shy away from responsibility and that's what you want in the middle of your defense. He communicates extremely well and he's going to be a big figure for us. Both he and Christian are very composed, understand the game and they give their teammates confidence."

Greene, Rothman and Davies will see time immediately as the freshman Mensah and senior Collins adapt to the program, while Toribio and Cooper offer versatility and can both play the midfield as well as defend.

"Greene's communication level has increased and he has an uncanny ability to pass and find forwards' feet," Olszewski said. "Davies took a hold of a starting spot. Some of the opportunity he had were due to injuries, but once he had it, he wouldn't let it go. He's very diligent and he doesn't give an inch. If he can translate it to the fall, he could have a bigger role than anyone anticipated."

MIDFIELD

Martinelli is a gritty player whom Olszewski said "wears opponents down" in the midfield, while Höfer led the team with five goals and 11 points last season. Höfer began 2011 as a defender but converted to the midfield where he capitalized on his increased scoring opportunities.

Three returners, sophomore C.J. Corey, junior Quinn Meehan and senior Trevar Ondiek add a dose of intensity and effort to the midfield and will help Höfer and Martinelli mentor a deep core of freshmen in Diego Ramos, Joey Yeboah and Chris White. Red-shirt freshman Ram Gilad has what Olszewski touts a "legendary work-ethic" that will only add to the workmanlike core the midfield has developed.

"Quinn has an energy level that is big-time," Olszewski said. "He knows no other way to play than all-out. C.J. got a great deal of experience and the midfield is his natural spot. And there is always a spot for a kid like Gilad. He never thinks he is a finished product."

GOALKEEPER

In goal, the competition for a starting spot is wide open since John Steele graduated. Senior Nathan Moran is the lone keeper on the roster with game experience as red-shirt freshman Michael Warns sat out last season. Moran saw action in two games and made six saves on 17 shots faced.

The team also brought in junior transfer Sammy Bangura, who will sit out the season, and freshman Felix Petermann. Though the position remains unsettled, Olszewski believes the competition for the spot will bring out the best in his players. Petermann could have the early edge, though he must adjust to the collegiate style and tempo of the game to truly fulfill his potential.

"Sometimes the battle lasts, and that's a good thing," he said. "It could be the man who just steps up and takes hold of the position. Petermann is very quick, very technical and we think he is going to be a good keeper."
