13th Season at Towson (96-83) • 30th Season Overall (260-156)

After nearly three decades of coaching at college lacrosse's highest level, Towson Coach Tony Seaman ...

- begins the 2011 season ranked 7th among active Division I coaches with 260 career wins.
- ranks 14th on the NCAA's all-time Division I wins list.
- ranks 12th on the active Division I coaches list with a .625 winning percentage.

Seaman begins his 30th season as a Division I coach in 2011, including his 13th year with the Tigers. In addition, Seaman was inducted into the Greater Baltimore Chapter of the US Lacrosse Hall of Fame, adding another accolade to an outstanding résumé.

Seaman has guided his teams into the NCAA Division I Tournament 19 times. He is one of only two coaches to have been honored as the National Coach of the Year at two different schools, earning the award in 1983 and 1984 while at the University of Pennsylvania and during the 2001 season when he led the Tigers to the NCAA Division I semi-finals.

The only coach in NCAA Division I men's lacrosse history to guide three different schools to the NCAA Tournament, he led the Quakers to the postseason six times before taking Johns Hopkins to eight straight postseason appearances. In 12 years at Towson, the Tigers have reached the NCAA Tournament five times.

During his stint with the Tigers, Seaman has compiled a 96-83 record, which includes four conference championships. He led the Tigers to the greatest single-season turnaround in college lacrosse history in 2001 when Towson posted a 14-4 record after winning just three games the previous year.

Tony Seaman

A graduate of the State University of New York at Cortland, Seaman began his coaching career as the junior varsity coach at Port Washington High School. He joined the Lynbrook School System in 1968, serving as a junior high lacrosse and soccer coach.

At Lynbrook High School from 1972 to 1981, Seaman compiled a 116-61 record and earned Division IV Nassau County Coach of the Year honors after a 16-5 season in 1977. He earned the award again two years later after leading the team to a 14-8 record. During the 1978 season, Seaman's Lynbrook team won the South Shore championship. In 1981, he served as the coach of the New York City Club of the USILA.

In 1982, Seaman graduated to the college coaching ranks by directing C.W. Post to a record in its first season as a Division I program. The Pioneers defeated opponents such as Yale, Villanova and Air Force. Honored as the Mid-East Conference Coach of the Year during that season, he was assisted by John Danowski, who is in his fifth season as head coach at Duke University after a long career at CAA rival Hofstra University. Danowski led the Blue Devils to their first NCAA championship in 2010.

While Seaman coached C.W. Post in a part-time capacity, he remained at Lynbrook as a history teacher until 1983 when he became the head coach at Penn. He instantly led the Quakers to the NCAA Tournament with a 10-3 record and a share of the Ivy League championship. Making their third-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament, the Quakers dropped an 11-8 decision to eventual national champion Syracuse in the quarter-finals. Seaman earned his first National Division I Coach of the Year award for his efforts, receiving the Morris Touchstone Memorial Award.

In his second season at Penn, the Quakers overcame a season-opening loss to Rutgers and won 12 straight games to earn the outright Ivy League title. Returning to the NCAA Tournament, the Quakers suffered a tough 8-7 loss to Army after the Black Knights made a strong fourth quarter comeback for the victory. Seaman was honored as the Division I Coach of the Year for the second straight season for leading Penn to one of the most successful seasons in the program's history.

The seventh-ranked Quakers finished with a 10-4 record in 1985 and earned a second place finish in the Ivy League. The season ended with a pair of losses to Syracuse, including a defeat in the NCAA quarter-finals.

However, Penn made school history the following season by winning its first NCAA Tournament game, an 11-10 victory over Massachusetts. The Quakers lost to Maryland by 12-8 in the quarter-finals, ending the season with a 10-5 record.

After a 1-2 start to the 1988 season, the Quakers rebounded to win eight straight games and qualified for the NCAA Tournament with a share of the Ivy League crown. After defeating Loyola, 12-8, in the quarter-finals, they lost to Syracuse by a goal in the semi-finals.

Making their sixth NCAA Tournament appearance in 1989, the Quakers finished with a 9-5 record. Of the five losses that season, two of them were against Navy. One of Seaman's assistant coaches during that season was current Rutgers Coach Jim Stagnitta, who is in his 22nd year as a head coach.

During his eight-year tenure at Penn, the Quakers were 74-37 and won at least a share of the Ivy League title four times while making the NCAA Tournament six times.

In 1991, Seaman moved to Baltimore and became the 20th head coach in Johns Hopkins lacrosse history, leading the Blue Jays to eight straight NCAA Division I Tournaments while becoming the third-winningest coach in the program's history. Of the eight NCAA Tournament appearances, the Blue Jays advanced to the semi-finals four times.

Seaman had his best season at Johns Hopkins in 1995, leading the Blue Jays to a perfect 12-0 regular season record. After beating Loyola by an 18-5 count in the NCAA quarter-finals, the Blue Jays lost to host Maryland in the semi-finals, ending the season with a 13-1 record.

During his tenure at Johns Hopkins, Seaman had several assistant coaches who went on to become a college head coach. John Haus, who served as a defensive coordinator at JHU, became the head coach at Washington College. He returned to Johns Hopkins in 1999 to serve as the head coach before going to the University of North Carolina. After an eight-year stint with the Tar Heels, Haus will be starting his second season as the head men's lacrosse coach at Lebanon Valley College in 2011, overseeing the revival of the lacrosse program.

Meanwhile, Dave Pietramala left Johns Hopkins to become the head coach at Cornell University. After three years with the Big Red, Pietramala returned to his alma mater and has led the Blue Jays to three NCAA Championship Game appearances in the last six years, winning a pair of NCAA titles.

During his time at Johns Hopkins, Seaman was selected to coach the United States National Team in the 1994 ILF World Championships in Manchester, England. He led the United States to a perfect record and the title after beating Australia by 21-7 in the championship game.

Prior to serving as the U.S. National Team coach, Seaman was on the selection committees for the squads, which won the title during the 1986 and 1990 World Games. He was also a member of the 1998 World Games planning committee.

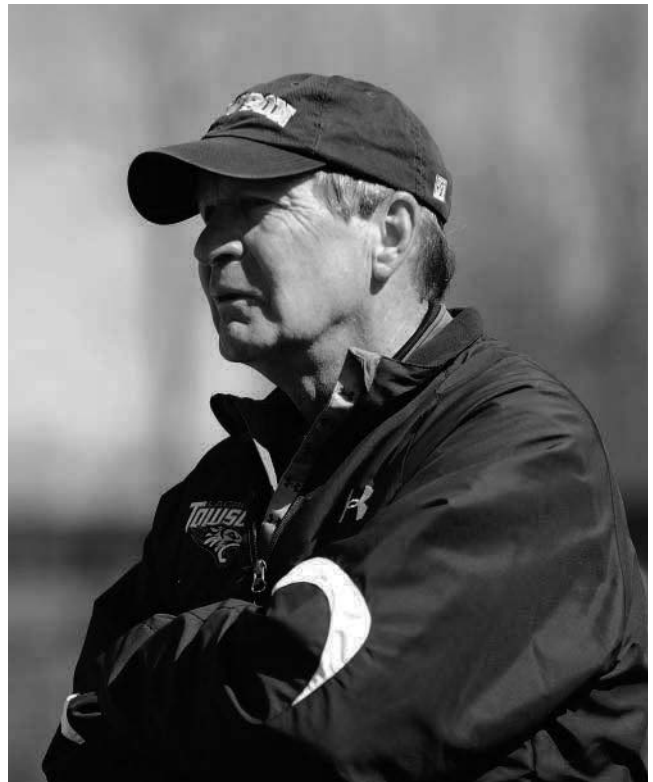

After a successful eight-year career, Seaman left Johns Hopkins in 1999 to become the head coach at Towson. After winning his first three games as the Tigers' leader, the team dropped eight of its ten remaining games and ended the season with a 5-8 record.

Following a 3-10 record in 2000, Seaman and the Tigers quickly turned things around and reached the NCAA semi-finals in 2001 with a 14-4 record. They also won the AMERICA EAST title in their final year of membership with a roster that included 17 sophomores and 12 freshmen. For his efforts, Seaman was named as the National Division I Coach of the Year for the third time in his career.

After posting a 7-5 record in 2002, the Tigers won the first of three straight Colonial Athletic Association championships in 2003 with a 9-6 record, including a perfect 5-0 mark in conference play. The Tigers advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the second time in three years and defeated Penn State in the first round before losing to the Blue Jays in the quarter-finals.

In 2004, the Tigers finished with an 11-5 record and won their second consecutive CAA title after another perfect 5-0 league record. They reached the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year where they lost to Georgetown.

During the 2005 season, the Tigers were seeded seventh in the NCAA Tournament after winning a third straight CAA crown. The Tigers' season ended with an 11-5 record after a last-second loss against Cornell in the first round of the tournament at Johnny

Unitas® Stadium.

Despite an 8-6 record in 2006, the Tigers were unable to reach the NCAA Tournament due to an upset by the University of Delaware in the semi-finals. However, the Tigers made a return to the NCAA Tournament in 2007 with an at-large berth. They finished with a 9-7 record following a loss to undefeated Cornell in the first round.

Led by Seaman, the Tigers have reached the CAA Championship Game in each of the last two years, falling short of earning another NCAA Tournament berth. Seaman was named as the CAA Coach of the Year last season after leading the Tigers to the CAA regular season title.

During his career, Seaman has coached 73 All-Americans, including 13 first team selections. He has also coached a National Player of the Year, 42 All-Ivy League players, five All-America East picks and 39 All-CAA selections.

As a result of his success and the respect he has earned throughout his coaching career, Seaman was named to the NCAA Division I Men's Lacrosse Committee in 2009 for a four-year term on the five-person panel.

Seaman and his wife, Guri, are the parents of two former Division I lacrosse players. Their daughter, Barb, played for Penn from 2007 to 2010 and helped the Quakers reach the NCAA semi-finals three times. Meanwhile, their son, Greg, was a four-year letter winner for the Princeton University men's lacrosse team.

Shawn Nadelen

Associate Head Coach
Defensive Coordinator
7th Season at Towson
Johns Hopkins, '01

As the Tigers' associate head coach and defensive coordinator, Shawn Nadelen continues to practice what he preaches.

When not directing the Tigers' defense, Nadelen performs on the field himself. Since graduating from Johns Hopkins in 2001, he has played professionally in Major League Lacrosse and the National Lacrosse League and has helped Team USA to a World Championship.

After spending the first five years as the defensive coordinator, Nadelen was given the title of associate head coach prior to the start of the 2010 season.

During his first year at Towson, the Tigers ranked ninth in NCAA Division I in scoring defense, allowing just 7.88 goals per game. It was the Tigers' best goals against average since the 1974 season when the Tigers won the Division II national championship with a 7.3 goals against average.

In 2006, the Tigers ranked third in the CAA with an 8.42 goals against average while holding opponents to under ten goals nine times. In 2008, the Tigers were fourth in the CAA with an 8.48

Prior to joining the Towson staff, Nadelen spent three years as an assistant coach for Coach Bill Tierney at Princeton and was a member of three consecutive NCAA Tournament teams. Princeton advanced to the national semi-finals twice in Nadelen's three seasons.

A four-year starter for the Blue Jays, Nadelen moved from the midfield position to close defense as a junior. He led the Blue Jays to the NCAA semi-finals twice during his playing career.

In addition to coaching, Nadelen has continued his playing career at the indoor and outdoor professional level. A three-time Major League Lacrosse champion with the Chesapeake Bayhawks, Nadelen completed his 10th season with the franchise in 2010. He is the only player to have played in all 10 years of the team's existence.

Nadelen is also in his 10th season as a player in the National Lacrosse League. He has spent seven seasons with the Philadelphia Wings after stints with the New Jersey Storm and Minnesota Swarm.

One of his greatest highlights as a player came last summer when he recovered from a serious knee injury to help Team USA win the gold medal at the World Championships in England.

A native of Henrietta, N.Y., Nadelen is married to the former Mary Ciolek, who is a certified athletic trainer and a member of Towson's kinesiology faculty. The couple resides in the Baltimore area.

Michael Allan

Assistant Coach
Offensive Coordinator
3rd Season at Towson
Princeton, '98

The task of devising the strategy that puts goals up on Towson's side of the scoreboard falls on the capable shoulders of the Tigers' offensive coordinator, Michael Allan.

Allan, in his third season with the Tigers, joined the Tigers prior to the 2009 season after a successful five-year stint as the head coach of the University of California-Santa Barbara club lacrosse team.

During his tenure at UCSB, Allan led the Gauchos to an 83-22 record and two MCLA/US Lacrosse Intercollegiate Associates national titles. The Gauchos also won three Western Collegiate Lacrosse League championships in five years.

Prior to joining the UCSB staff, Allan spent four seasons as the head coach for the UCLA club team and led the Bruins to the WCLL quarter-finals three times. The Bruins also earned their only top 25 national ranking in the program's history in 2000 when they were ranked 16th.

Allan spent three seasons as an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Riptide of Major League Lacrosse. During his time on John Tucker's staff, Allan helped the Riptide to a 22-14 record and a pair of post-season appearances. The Riptide set a team record by compiling a 9-3 record in 2007 and reached the MLL championship game.

A 1998 graduate of Princeton University, Allan was an integral part of three consecutive NCAA titles from 1996 to 1998 while posting a 43-2 record during that span.

A native of Baltimore, Allan is a graduate of Gilman School. His father, Dave, is in his first season as a volunteer assistant coach at Towson after a six-year stint at Johns Hopkins.

Allan is married to the former Katie Wolfson. The couple were married in August, 2010 in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Dave Allan

Volunteer Assistant Coach
1st Season at Towson
Randolph Macon, '68

A long-time fixture on the Baltimore lacrosse scene, Dave Allan brings a wealth of experience with him to the Tigers' coaching staff.

After helping Johns Hopkins reach the NCAA Tournament six straight years, Dave Allan joined the Tiger coaching staff as a volunteer assistant coach for the 2011 season.

As a Blue Jay assistant, Allan helped the Blue Jays reach the NCAA Championship Game three times during his six-year tenure, including NCAA titles in 2005 and 2007.

Working with the Blue Jays' face-off specialists, Allan's players ranked among the national leaders during each of his first four seasons at Homewood. The Blue Jays finished fifth in the nation in 2005 and were fourth during the 2006 season.

Prior to joining the Blue Jays' staff, Allan was the head boy's lacrosse coach at Gilman School in Baltimore where he compiled a 132-36 (.786) record during two different stints from 1975-79 and 1999-2004. In addition, he led the Greyhounds to three MIAA 'A' Conference championships and was a three-time recipient of the USLCA High School Coach of the Year award (1976, 1978, 2000).

Allan also served as an assistant coach at Gilman from 1968-78 and 1994-98.

In addition to his success at the high school level, Allan was an assistant coach at nearby Loyola University Maryland for six years where he helped the Greyhounds reach the 1990 NCAA Championship Game. The Greyhounds posted a 58-19 (.753) record during Allan's stay and reached the NCAA Tournament in all six years.

2011 PREVIEW

Noting the 2011 Tigers ...

To Be the Best ...

- The Tigers traditionally have a tough schedule and the 2011 season is no exception. The 13-game schedule will include seven home games at Johnny Unitas® Stadium.
- The schedule features seven teams that qualified for the NCAA Tournament last year, including Stony Brook and Maryland, which reached the NCAA quarter-finals last year.
- The schedule also features seven teams which were ranked in the final USILA Coaches Poll last year, including three teams which were ranked in the top 11 in the country.

CAA Success

- Since the Colonial Athletic Association initiated men's lacrosse for the 2002 season, the Tigers have annually been one of the top teams in the league. They have reached the CAA Tournament six times and have won three league championships.
- As they begin their 10th CAA season, the Tigers have posted a 39-11 (.780) conference regular season record, which is the best mark in the CAA. They also have posted a pair of undefeated CAA seasons, winning 10 straight games in 2003 and 2004.
- The Tigers won the CAA championship and earned a berth to the NCAA Tournament three straight years from 2003 to 2005. They have also won four regular season championships, including last year when they posted a 4-1 CAA record.
- The Tigers have a 74-61 (.548) overall record since joining the CAA in 2002, which ranks second in the conference. Hofstra has posted an 85-51 (.625) record during that span.

Out With the Old, In With the New

- The CAA will welcome Saint Joseph's University to the league as an associate member for the 2011 season, making the CAA a seven-team conference. The University of Massachusetts and Penn State University joined the CAA prior to last season.
- The 2011 game will mark the first-ever meeting between the Tigers and the Hawks in men's lacrosse. Towson will host Saint Joseph's in the regular season finale on April 30 at 7:30 p.m.
- Meanwhile, the Tigers will not play against Virginia for the first time since 2000. Mount St. Mary's will take the Cavaliers' place in the schedule, marking the first meeting between the two in-state rivals since 2004.

Lights, Camera, Action

- The Tigers will play four of their 13 regular season games on television during the 2011 season. All four of their television appearances will come from Johnny Unitas® Stadium.
- Each of the Tigers' first three home games will air on WMAR-TV in Baltimore along with ESPN3.com. Towson will host Johns Hopkins on February 19 in the season opener for both teams before the Tigers entertain Loyola on February 26.
- On March 12, the Tigers will host the University of Maryland at Unitas Stadium in a game that will air on WMAR and ESPN3.com. The Tigers will also play against Hofstra on April 2 in a televised affair at 12 noon.
- Since the beginning of the 1999 season, the Tigers have appeared on television 41 times, including 14 games over the last three years.
- The Tigers appeared on ESPNU five times last year. In addition, four of those games were aired on WMAR-TV.

Tigers Tab Four to Serve as Captains

- Seniors Marc Ingerman, Travis Love, Peter Mezzanotte and Tim Stratton have been selected to serve as team captains for the 2011 season.
- A first team All-Colonial Athletic Association selection as a junior, Ingerman started all 15 games on defense for the Tigers last season with 13 ground balls and five caused turnovers. He posted a season-high three ground balls against Drexel in the Tigers' 8-7 victory on April 17 and also had two ground balls in three other games. A two-time All-CAA pick, Ingerman has started all 32 games for the Tigers over the last two seasons after missing his freshman season with a knee injury.
- Named as the second team All-CAA goalkeeper last year, Love was second in the CAA with a .556 save percentage while his 9.24 goals against average ranked third in the CAA. After being named as the Tigers' starter against Navy, he led Towson to a 7-5 record with a .555 save percentage. Honored as the CAA Co-Player of the Week on April 12, he led the Tigers to wins over UMBC and Massachusetts by stopping 56.7 per cent of the shots he faced while allowing 8.00 goals per game. He had a career-high 16 saves in the Tigers' loss against top-ranked Virginia on March 21 and posted 15 saves against Penn State on April 24.
- Mezzanotte, a defensive midfielder, led the team with 30 caused turnovers and was second with 47 ground balls. In addition, he scored one goal with two assists. He had a season-high five caused turnovers in the Tigers' win over Penn State and had six ground balls in two games. A three-year letter winner for the Tigers, Mezzanotte has played in 46 career games and has scored five goals with three assists. He has also recorded 91 ground balls with 71 caused turnovers.
- A three-year starter on attack for the Tigers, Stratton was the Tigers' third-leading scorer last year with 33 points. He ranked second on the team with 18 assists while scoring 15 goals, third on the team. He recorded a pair of "hat tricks" as a junior, including a three-goal, one-assist performance against UMBC on April 7. Stratton, who was named to the CAA All-Rookie Team in 2008, has played in 44 career games and has scored 49 career goals with 36 assists.

Ingerman Honored by Face-Off Yearbook

- Senior defenseman Marc Ingerman was named as an honorable mention All-American by Inside Lacrosse's Face-Off Yearbook. He was one of six players from the CAA to be named to the Preseason All-American teams.
- One of the Tigers' co-captains, Ingerman was a first team All-CAA selection last year while started all 15 games on defense. He had 13 ground balls with five caused turnovers.
- Ingerman has started all 32 games over the last two years.

Closing In on the Century Mark

- Towson Coach Tony Seaman enters the 2011 season needing just four victories to become the second coach in school history with 100 wins. He has posted a 96-83 record in 12 years as the Tigers' coach, including a 7-8 mark last year.
- Seaman, who was named as the 2010 CAA Coach of the Year, is second in school history behind long-time Coach Carl Runk, who led Towson to a 262-161 record from 1968-98.

Q&A with Coach Tony Seaman

On reaching the CAA Championship in each of the last two years ...

"It makes you work harder and it has certainly made our staff work harder. It's so frustrating to get there the last two years and come up short. We rebounded from a poor start last year and played great in our league games. Then, we had a great semi-final game against UMass and really dominated them. It was very similar to 2009 when we played a great game against Drexel and then, lost a close game to Villanova. The players have to make plays and we had some chances in the title game against Delaware. We let it slip away and we didn't win the CAA championship or make the NCAA Tournament. It drives you to work harder, but now that the season is here, we are going to have to make plays."

On replacing seniors Will Harrington and Christian Pastirik ...

"They were two good players who were tremendous for us last year. We are going to miss them, but now, other players have the opportunity to step up and fill those spots. We are going to see the offense spread out more this year with different players and not just two guys as it was last year."

On the depth of the Tigers' midfield ...

"Depth is important for a lot of reasons. It allows us to keep guys fresh and it makes other teams prepare for more than just a couple of guys. We're excited about having a lot of depth in the midfield. It also allows for more competition among the players. You have to be successful on the field during practice in order to get playing time in games and having depth allows for those guys to compete harder to get on the field."

On the experience of the attack unit ...

"It's the same as the midfield; it gives us more guys to work with and look at. While Tim Stratton may not have the big numbers, he is also going against the opponent's top defenseman in every game. It means a lot to be going up against the other team's top guy every single week. He handles that load in a great way and it will make him better going into this year. He has the attitude of not worrying about who is defending him. We expect even more things from him this year. Matt Lamon and Matt Hughes played a great deal for us last year. Matt Hughes is a terrific athlete and had a strong year for us last year. With him and Matt Lamon, it gives us experience and depth up front. But, there are other players like Sean Maguire, Stephen Norris and Dan Kramer who are pushing those guys, which provides competition and gives us different looks on the field."

On goalkeeper Travis Love returning for his senior season ...

"Travis is a leader and the players respect him, which is why he was voted as a captain. He played very well during the Fall and is playing well in the Spring. But, he is being driven by Andrew Wascavage, who wants that starting role. So, we have two guys who are playing at the peak of their ability. It's going to take us looking at them on a day-by-day basis to see who goes out there for us."

On the Tigers' face-off specialists ...

"It will depend on who our guys go up against. Matt Thomas can dominate at times and there are other times where he doesn't look like he has faced off at any point in his life just because of the match-up. And last year, we didn't have another guy that we could really throw in there to help us. We have five guys right now who are working everyday with Dave Allan, our new volunteer assistant, and who can go out there for us. But, winning face-offs is a major area for us."

Matt Thomas

On the Tigers' defense ...

"We think we have some people who we can put out there who are competent and can play a lot of lacrosse for us. Our defensive group is led by two outstanding guys in Marc Ingerman and Peter Mezzanotte, who have played against the top teams in the country and they've been out there competing. Their leadership is outstanding, but they are two different guys. Peter is a tremendous athlete and our guys respect him for that. Marc gets respect because of the no-nonsense attitude he brings no matter what the situation is. He is a very competent defenseman who is very difficult to beat. He has memories of the Delaware game from last year that are driving him this season. But, we also have some depth defensively. Kevin Lalley is back for his third year to help as a defensive midfielder and he is a big, strong athlete. I like where we are with the defensive midfielders. One kid who had a great Fall and we are expecting big things from is Alec Jernstedt, who could play at the short stick or pole positions. We also have a couple of guys in John Fennessy and Michael Landy who have looked good this year and could help on the defense along with guys like Sean Sheehe and John Kenyon."

On the 2011 schedule ...

"It's as tough as ever. We dropped Virginia from the schedule, but we picked up Mount St. Mary's, which won its league last year and went to the NCAA Tournament. It's also a Maryland state championship of sorts in that we play every Division I team in the state. It certainly says a lot about where we are and what we are trying to get done. Stony Brook is ranked third in the country by Inside Lacrosse and they are coming down here for a game in March. There are no weak links in the schedule and we are going to have to compete at our best every time we step on the field."

On the CAA ...

"Our league is loaded this year. Hofstra is very good and Delaware is excellent with a lot of seniors returning. UMass is always good and Penn State has a new coach and I thought they were as good as any team we played last year. Drexel has their goalkeeper back who has been an All-CAA player the last two years for them. Every CAA game is going to be a challenge for us."

On getting off to a good start ...

"We need to have a good start. There was a reason we stumbled last year and that's because we played the best teams in the country to start the year, including four of the top teams in the nation. If we can win one or two of those games, it sets us up for a good chance of making the NCAA Tournament. We have to get off to a solid start because we face some great teams right away in Hopkins, Loyola, Mount St. Mary's and Maryland along with Navy and Stony Brook."

Kevin Lalley

On how lacrosse has changed over the last 30 years ...

"There are a lot more very good lacrosse players coming out of high school and there are more kids playing the game now. The high school coaches are better and the leagues are better. That is where the parity has come from in the game. There is still the cream of the crop in terms of players and they are still going to the same top schools, which is why you keep seeing the same teams in the Final Four and the same teams winning the NCAA title every year. But after that, anyone can beat anyone. It's because there are more players going to more schools, which spreads things around. The game has just picked up in technology, skill level and equipment. The sticks are better, the pads are better, the gloves are better. It just makes the players better. The kids are also better prepared now than before. We still don't have the best athletes playing lacrosse, but we are getting better athletes."

On keys for a successful 2011 season ...

"Our players and coaches are going to have to do a better job and work as a team and not work as individuals, especially with the schedule we have. We aren't going to necessarily beat Hopkins with better players, but we can beat them as a team and get breaks and play to our highest level. Our league is going to be extremely competitive; you have to win at home and split on the road. We have to win two or three of those road games and win all three games at home. Nothing is more important than the CAA Tournament at the end of the year. That gets you a ticket to the NCAA Tournament. We need great play from our goalkeepers and an improvement at the face-off 'X'. We also need the depth at the midfield and attack positions to come through for us."

UNITAS STADIUM

Minnegan Field at Johnny Unitas® Stadium is home to Towson's football, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse, field hockey and track and field programs.

The sports complex, which underwent a $32 million renovation over a three-year span, seats 11,198 spectators. It ranks as the third largest outdoor venue in the metropolitan area after M&T Bank Stadium where the NFL Ravens play, and Oriole Park at Camden Yards, home to Baltimore's Major League Baseball franchise.

Stadium renovations included an addition of 6,000 seats, an artificial turf, entry level plaza, concession stands, new restrooms, ticket booths, a four-tier press box, an elaborate field house and a promenade that conveniently connects the northside and southside seating areas. In 2007, the stadium's AstroTurf surface was replaced with FieldTurf.

The four-story, 48,000 square-foot field house provides Towson's student-athletes with an excellent collegiate facility. It includes spacious, modern lockerooms for each of its sports, an impressive athletic training facility, classrooms, conference rooms, an upscale equipment room, an academic resource center, a video-editing room and coaches offices. Designed to maximize exterior scenic looks, the field house includes windows that provide a stunning view of the adjacent playing area. A rooftop patio treats guests to a bird's-eye view of the athletic contests. The stadium is lighted for night play.

The Minnegan Room can accommodate up to 200 guests at social functions ranging from pre-game and post-game parties and sports banquets to fund-raising events.

A four-level press box rises high above the stadium on its south side. A separate VIP level is just below the main media floor, which can accommodate 35 working members of the press, two radio stations and coaches booths. Each booth can comfortably seat six persons. The top floor, or camera deck, is the primary location for television broadcasts and game filming.

The complex is named in honor of two legends - one a coach and educator who served Towson University for over 40 years, and the other a former professional football player who is widely considered as the greatest NFL quarterback of all time.

Donald "Doc" Minnegan was a teacher, coach, physical education department chairman and Director of Athletics at Towson for more than four decades. He arrived at Towson in 1927.

He coached its soccer team until 1966.

Doc's soccer teams were highly successful, winning a total of 156 games, and 66 of 77 between 1930 and 1936, including a school record 34 straight. His coaching led to Towson championships in baseball, basketball, track and swimming, as well as soccer.

Doc is the only American to publish an article in the British Football Annual on soccer theory. He was inducted into the National Soccer Coaches Association of America's Hall of Fame in 1992.

During his tenure as Director of Athletics, Doc established football as an intercollegiate sport at Towson in 1969.

He died in 2002, just two weeks shy of his 100th birthday.

The stadium carried his name from its opening in 1978 until the renovation. In accordance with that tribute, the field remains Minnegan Field in his memory.

Johnny Unitas, too, had a deep connection with the University. The former Baltimore Colts great was the parent of three Towson students.

Several weeks prior to his untimely passing, Johnny began serving as community liaison for Tiger Athletics. His role was to assist the university in obtaining a naming rights partner for the University's new stadium. The legendary Golden Arm died suddenly, less than a week after tossing his last pass to commemorate the opening of Towson's new stadium at ceremonies on September 5, 2002.

High spirits returned when Sandy Unitas chose to assume her husband's role with Towson. With Johnny's two youngest children as Towson students, Sandy sought to memorialize her husband's legacy on campus by having the stadium named Johnny Unitas® Stadium.

I'm Honored – Coach Tony Seaman was named as the Colonial Athletic Association Men's Lacrosse Coach of the Year for the second time in his career. He also earned the award in 2004.

The Three Amigos – Senior midfielder Will Harrington, graduate student midfielder Christian Pastirik and junior defenseman Marc Ingerman were named as first team selections on the All-Colonial Athletic Association men's lacrosse team.

Love is All You Need – Junior goalkeeper Travis Love earned second team All-CAA honors after leading the Tigers to a 7-5 record as the starting goalkeeper. He ranked second in the CAA with a .556 save percentage and was third in the league with a 9.24 goals against average.

Not Bad, Rookie – Freshman midfielder Ryan DeSmit was named to the CAA All-Rookie Team, marking the eighth Towson player to be named to the All-Rookie squad since joining the league in 2002.

First Strike – The Tigers scored first in six of their seven wins; they had a 6-2 record when scoring first.

Singled Out – The Tigers had a 7-1 record when allowing fewer than 10 goals. The Tigers dropped a 7-6 decision at Loyola on March 27.

Polling Place – The Tigers faced a nationally-ranked opponent nine times during the 2010 season and posted a 3-6 record in those games; the Tigers defeated #7 Drexel and 7th-ranked Massachusetts before defeating the 20th-ranked Minutemen in the CAA semi-finals.

Pulling Rank – When the Tigers were ranked 11th in the USILA Division I poll in April, it marked their highest national ranking since they were 11th on March 5, 2007.

Blue Hen Goose Eggs – The Tiger defense held Delaware scoreless for nearly 29 minutes in the second half of their 9-7 victory on April 3.

7-7-7 Jackpot – The Tigers allowed seven goals in three consecutive games; they defeated Delaware by a 9-7 margin and earned a 10-7 win over UMBC but dropped a 7-6 verdict at Loyola.

7th Heaven – When the Tigers defeated 7th-ranked Massachusetts on April 10, it snapped a 14-game losing streak against nationally-ranked opponents. It was also the Tigers' first win over a top 10 opponent since the 2003 season.

That Pesky 10-9 Score – Of the 680 games played in the Tigers' 52-year men's lacrosse history, 24 of them have ended with a 10-9 score. The Tigers improved to 7-17 all-time in those games after edging Massachusetts and Penn State by those scores.

HISTORY

Lacrosse Hall of Fame Inductees

Towson University has three former players in the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame – Jim Darcangelo, Dick Edell and Bob Griebel. Darcangelo and Griebel were teammates on the Tigers' 1974 College Division National Championship team. Both were also named as National Players of the Year at their respective position. After a spectacular career as a coach, Edell was selected to the Hall of Fame.

JIM DARCANGELO

One of the best midfielders ever to play the game, James M. "Darky" Darcangelo was a major factor when the Tigers earned their only national championship in school history when they won the College Division title in 1974. He was inducted into the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame in 1990.

Darcangelo began his lacrosse career at Corning East High School in New York for Coach Joe Corcoran, who is also a Hall of Fame inductee. He was selected as a High School All-American in 1971.

A three-time All-America selection for the Tigers, Darcangelo was selected as the College Division II/III Midfielder of the Year in 1973. Named as the Division II/III Player of the Year as a junior and senior, Darcangelo was the recipient of Towson's Scholar-Athlete Award in 1975. He also was selected to the 1975 North-South All-Star Game.

Darcangelo played for the United States National Team in the 1978, 1982 and 1986 World Championships and was an alternate on the team in 1990.

The first recipient of the Krongard Award in 1989, Darcangelo has played for the Maryland Lacrosse Club since 1976 and was honored as the Club Player of the Year in 1979.

A 1986 inductee into the Towson University Athletics Hall of Fame, Darcangelo is President and Co-Owner of Lax World, Inc.

Inducted into the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility, Darcangelo has continued his involvement with lacrosse through teaching at numerous camps in the United States and Japan. He has also been active with the Maryland Special Olympics.

DICK EDELL

A 1967 Towson graduate, Dick Edell is one of the most respected coaches in lacrosse history.

At the time of his induction, Edell ranked fifth among NCAA Division I coaches with 282 career victories and ranked second all-time with 17 NCAA Division I Tournament appearances.

After playing at Towson for Coach Carl Runk, Edell served as head coach at the University of Baltimore (1973-76), Army (1977-83) and the University of Maryland (1984-2001).

A two-time USILA National Coach of the Year, Edell led the Terrapins to the NCAA Championship Game in 1995, 1997 and 1998.

Inducted into the Towson University Athletics Hall of Fame in 1980, Edell has also been inducted into the US Lacrosse Potomac Chapter and University of Maryland Halls of Fame.

BOB GRIEBE

The all-time leading point scorer in Towson men's lacrosse history, Bob Griebel was inducted into the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame in 1990, his first year of eligibility.

An attackman on the Tigers' 1974 College Division National Championship team, Griebel played for the United States Team in the World Championships in 1978 and served as a co-captain for the team in the 1982 World Championships. He was also selected as an alternate for the 1986 World Championships.

Griebel played his scholastic lacrosse at Deer Park High School in New York, earning first team Scholastic All-America and All-County honors in 1971.

A two-time All-America pick at Towson, Griebel was the Tigers' leading scorer in 1974 and 1975. He finished his college career with 221 points, scoring 96 goals with 125 assists.

Honored as Towson's Most Valuable Player and Senior Athlete of the Year in 1975, Griebel was the Division II/III Attackman of the Year in 1975 and represented Towson in that year's North-South Collegiate All-Star Game.

A 1988 inductee of the Towson University Athletics Hall of Fame, he was named to the Long Island Metropolitan Lacrosse Hall of Fame in 1991.

Griebel is the national sales manager for STX, Inc. in Baltimore. His son, Bobby, played for the Tigers from 2004 to 2007 and ranks among the school's all-time leaders with 89 goals and 133 points. His daughter, Kelly, played on the Tiger women's lacrosse team from 2002 to 2004.

Towson University Nickname

Towson University is one of 28 NCAA member institutions using the Tiger as the most popular mascot among American colleges and universities.

However, its obvious popularity was not the real reason the Tiger was selected to represent Towson.

When Towson was a two-year normal school the Baltimore media referred to its teams as the "Teachers." As the school expanded to three and four year programs, the newspapers granted Towson student athletes tenure, calling them the "Professors" and even shortening it to "Profs." Later, it was changed again to the "Schoolmasters."

The "Indians" and "Golden Knights" were other nicknames used over the years. But as the tale goes, the moniker was finally decided after a soccer match.

One autumn afternoon a sportswriter was covering the Towson soccer team in an uphill struggle. The next day the writer wrote that although the team had lost the game, "...they played like tigers."

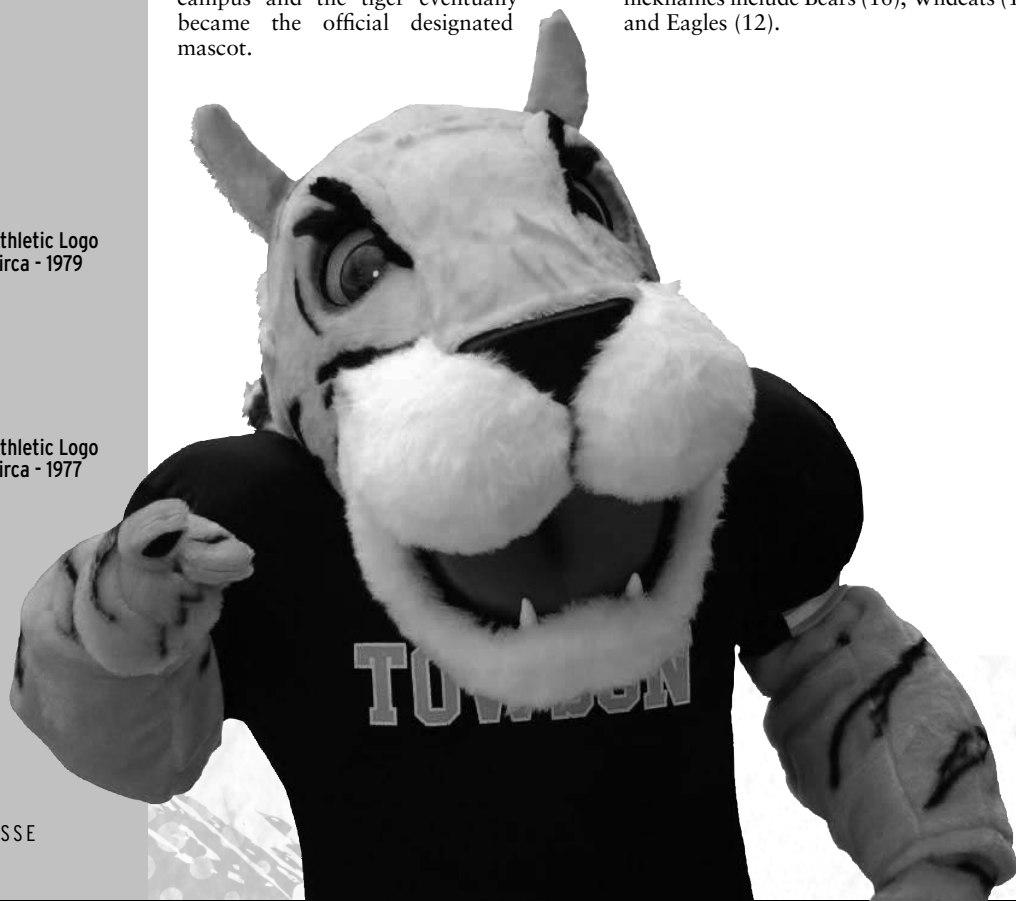

The soccer team appreciated the comment and adopted "Tigers" as its nickname. Enthusiasm for it spread throughout the campus and the tiger eventually became the official designated mascot.

The Towson Tiger logo has also experienced change. Several years ago, the new "stylistic" tiger was unveiled, replacing the upright caricature that had been used since the mid-80's. That took the place of the old block tiger which served as the logo from 1979. The present logo was altered slightly this past July, deleting the word "State" in keeping with the University's renaming of Towson University from Towson State University.

The Towson logo is registered. Approval for its use commercially is required. For color reproduction purposes, please contact the Towson Sports Information Office for separation instructions.

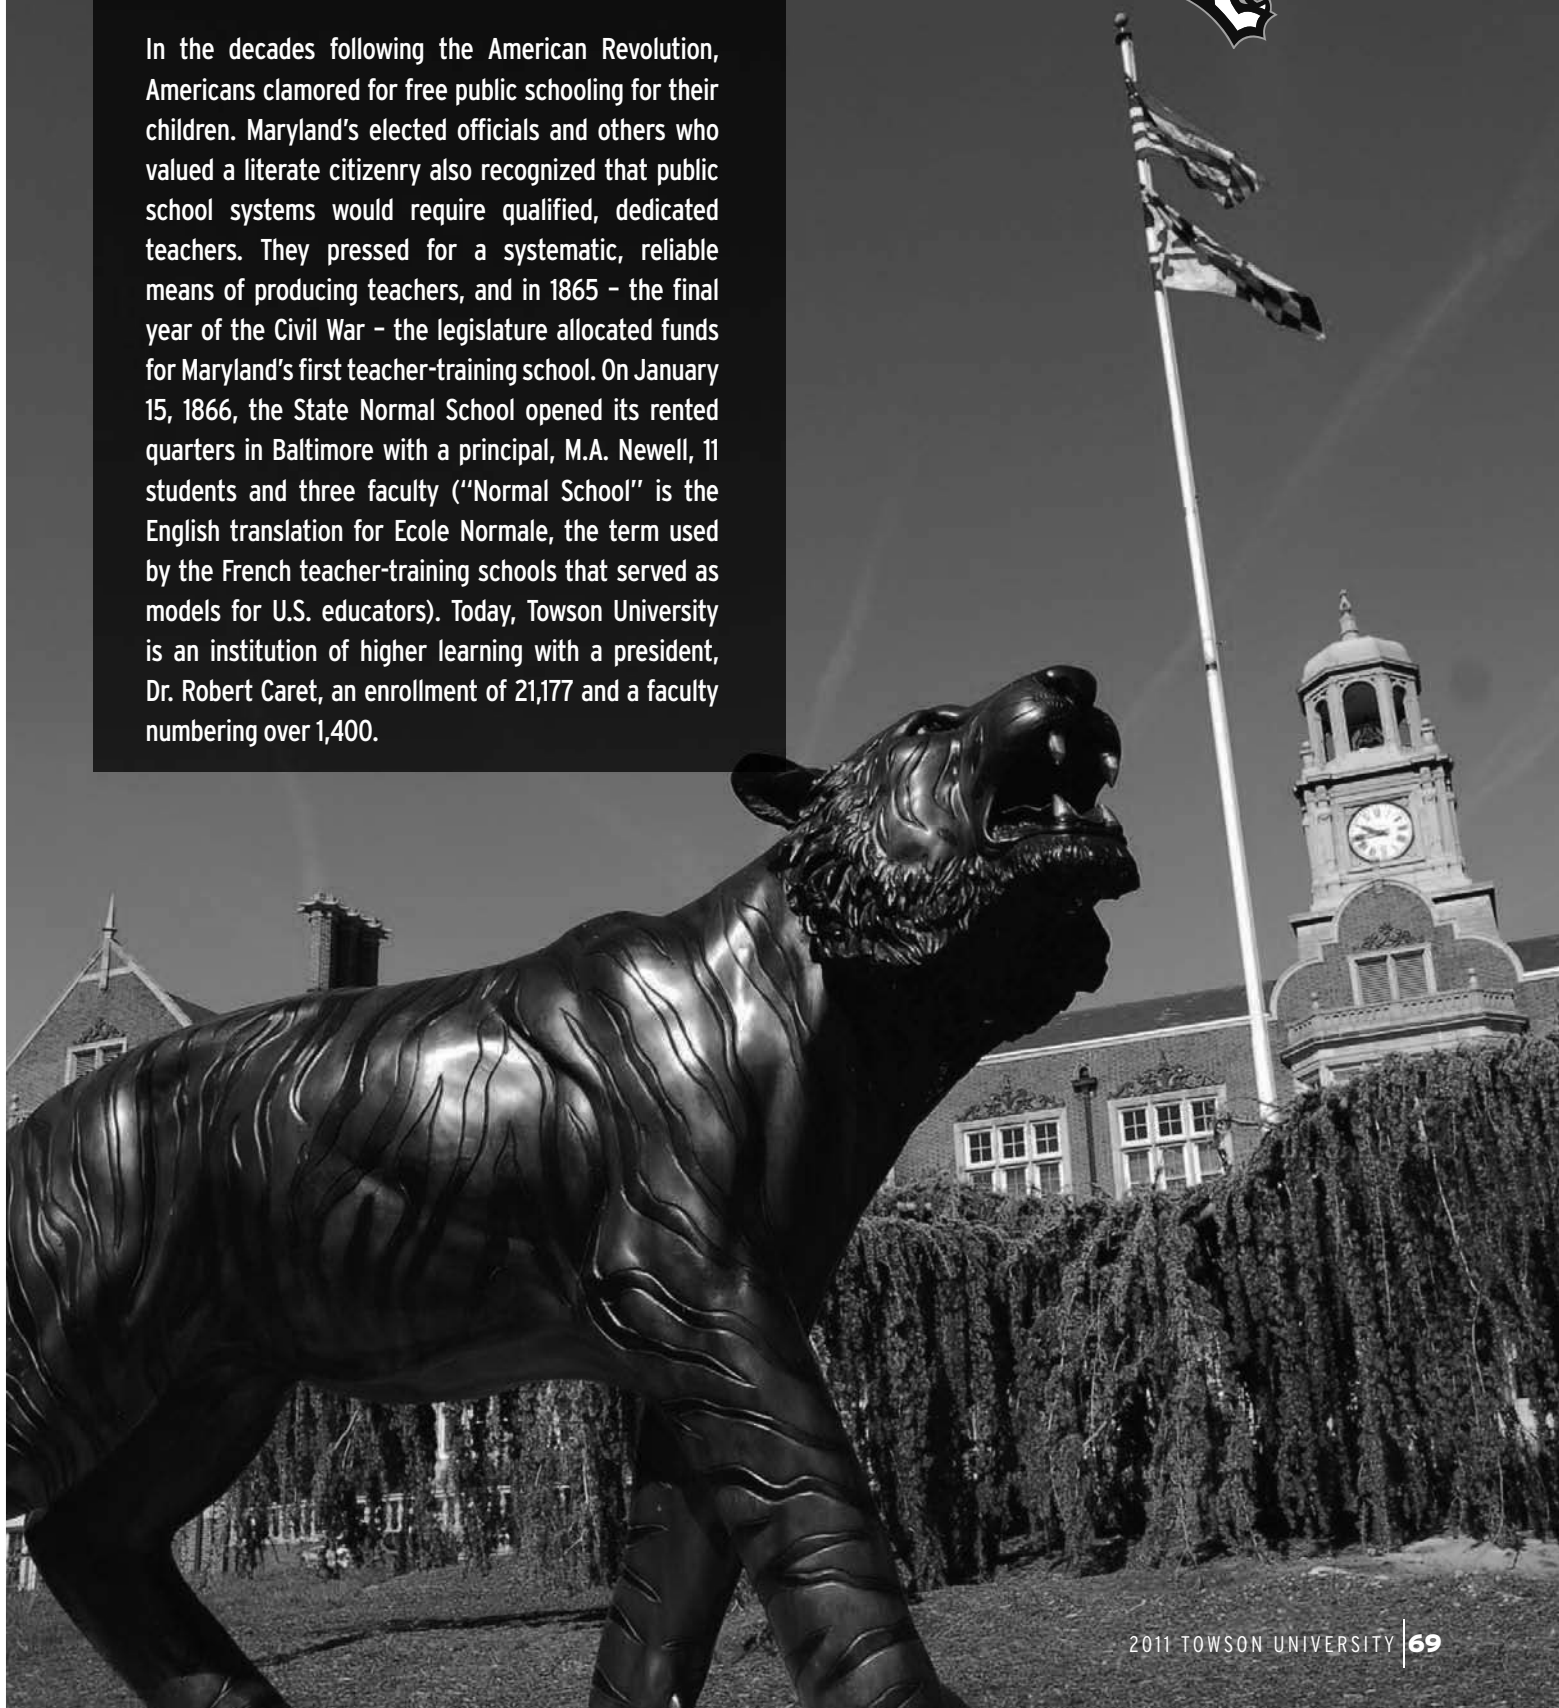

Other schools across the country who are also members of the "Tiger" fraternity include Auburn, Bishop, Clemson, Colorado College, DePauw, Doane, Grambling, Hampden-Sydney, Jackson State, Lincoln (Mo.), Livingston, LSU, Memphis, Missouri, Morehouse, Occidental, Pacific, Princeton, Rochester Tech, St. Paul's, Savannah State, Sewanee, Tennessee State, Texas Southern, Trinity (Tex.), Tuskegee and Wittenberg.

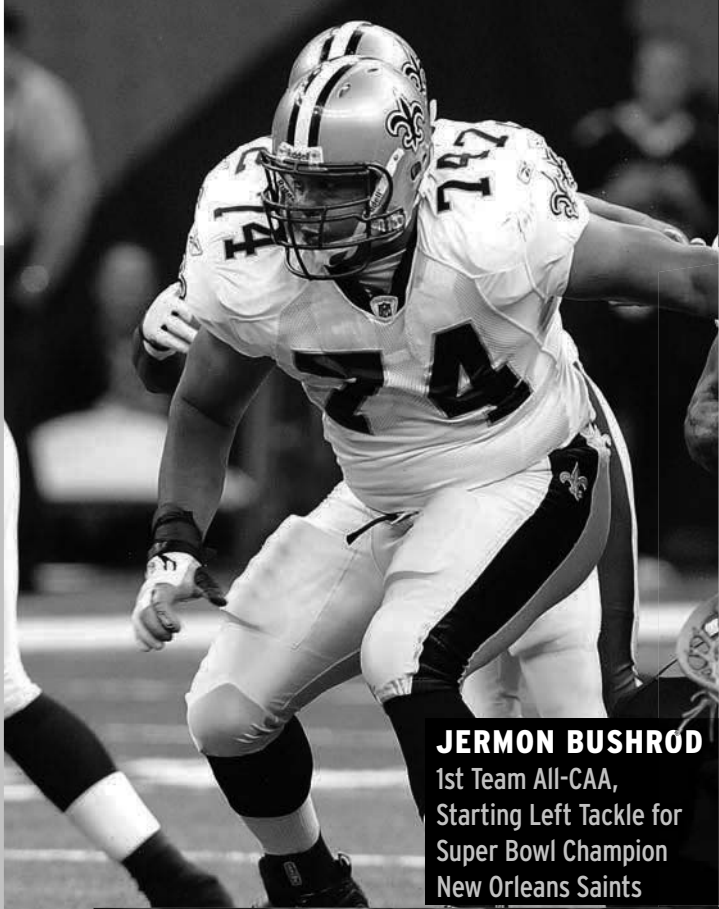

According to the NCAA, other popular nicknames include Bears (16), Wildcats (12) and Eagles (12).

In the decades following the American Revolution, Americans clamored for free public schooling for their children. Maryland's elected officials and others who valued a literate citizenry also recognized that public school systems would require qualified, dedicated teachers. They pressed for a systematic, reliable means of producing teachers, and in 1865 – the final year of the Civil War – the legislature allocated funds for Maryland's first teacher-training school. On January 15, 1866, the State Normal School opened its rented quarters in Baltimore with a principal, M.A. Newell, 11 students and three faculty ("Normal School" is the English translation for Ecole Normale, the term used by the French teacher-training schools that served as models for U.S. educators). Today, Towson University is an institution of higher learning with a president, Dr. Robert Caret, an enrollment of 21,177 and a faculty numbering over 1,400.

Towson University, located in the heart of Towson, Md., welcomes more than 800,000 to campus each year to participate in the university's many educational, scholarly, cultural, recreational and athletic activities.

Founded in 1866, Towson University is recognized today as one of the finest regional public universities in the North, offering more than 90 undergraduate and graduate degree programs in the liberal arts and sciences, and applied professional fields.

CAMPUS LIFE

Campus life includes activities and organizations to meet every interest — athletic, cultural, political, community service, Greek life, recreational sports, religious and more. TU sponsors hundreds of concerts, theater and dance productions, films, workshops, demonstrations, art exhibits and lectures each year.

THE ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Students seeking freshman admission to Towson University for the fall should apply during the first semester of their senior year in high school. Admission is competitive, based on the applicant pool and available space in the freshman class. Priority admission is based on high school performance in grades 9–11 as demonstrated by a student's grade point average. Strength and rigor of the curricula are considered. Performance on the SAT I or ACT is also evaluated, including the writing portion. Students seeking admission may apply as early as October 1. Applications for the spring semester for freshmen are due by December 1 and for the fall by February 15. The deadline for priority consideration for fall admission and academic scholarships is December 1. Applications for Honors College are due February 15. Deadline for spring transfers is November 15.

MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME

At Towson, there are 4,500 students (78% of the freshman class) who choose to live near the academic, social, athletic and cultural events that take place on campus everyday. TU has many traditions that are geared toward student involvement, including Homecoming, Family Weekend, concerts, football games, the HRL Carnival and Tigerfest. Living options at Towson include high-rise towers, apartment complexes and two and three-story traditional buildings. Rooms feature carpeted floors, window treatments, cable TV, Internet access, local telephone service, and a combination microwave and refrigerator, along with appropriate furniture for each resident.

ATTRACTIONS

Towson is a college town, conveniently located near the cultural, recreational and entertainment attractions of Baltimore and Washington, D.C. Fells Point, a popular night spot for Towson students, is listed in the National Register and contains 18th and 19th century residential, commercial and light industrial buildings on Baltimore's harbor. Oriole Park at Camden Yards, home of the Orioles since 1992, is located in the heart of the Inner Harbor and is easily accessible from the light rail, mass transit buses and Amtrak trains. In addition, the Babe Ruth Museum is a haven for every baseball enthusiast. The Baltimore Ravens, Super Bowl XXXV champions, play at M&T Bank Stadium, one of the most modern facilities in the NFL. Adjacent to Oriole Park, the two facilities are among the premier athletic stadiums in the country.

THE CHESAPEAKE BAY- A NATIONAL TREASURE

The largest estuary in North America, the Chesapeake Bay is truly a boaters' paradise and provides a way of life for thousands of Maryland watermen. The word Chesapeake means "great shellfish bay" and is derived from the language of Algonquin Indians, who settled here long before the British. Home of the world-famous blue crab and Chesapeake Bay oysters, it has provided a source of livelihood for the people who have inhabited the region for centuries. The area contains a multitude of restaurants along the water that specialize in preparing steamed crabs and raw oysters in season. Marylanders, especially those who live on and frequent its shores, have developed an international reputation for crab cakes, the basic staple of the seafood cuisine featured on many Maryland menus. The culture of the people who have fished the bay's waters and the design of their vessels over the years is unique to the bay and very much a part of its overall charm.

TOWSON UNIVERSITY

Sports Medicine

Providing quality health care for the men and women participating in intercollegiate athletics at Towson is the Sports Medicine area's highest priority. An exceptionally qualified staff consisting of six full-time, nationally certified athletic trainers possessing post-graduate degrees, more than 40 athletic training students, a primary care physician/physician director and a team orthopedist who work together to provide a broad range of sports medicine services to every student-athlete.

Towson's Athletic Training Education Program was the first accredited program in the state, is one of only two universities in Maryland to offer this program and is the only one working with Division I student-athletes.

Towson athletes are serviced from two venues: the Field House and the Towson Center Arena. Opened in 2003, the Field House's Ford-Vetter Sports Medicine Facility, located on the first floor, is equipped with diverse types of therapeutic modalities that provide significant flexibility in the care, treatment and rehabilitation of the Tigers.

The Towson Center Sports Medicine facility is located on the 100 level of the Towson Center. This athletic training room offers standard whirlpools, numerous treatment and evaluation tables and ample rehabilitation tools.

Strength and Conditioning

The Tiger Training Hall is located on the first floor of the Towson Center and fully equipped to meet the demands of each athlete, no matter what the sport.

Over 20,000 pounds of weight, two full sets of dumbbells ranging from 5 to 150 pounds, 10 lifting platforms and 10 power racks provide each group of athletes with the opportunity to develop a foundation of strength with compound, multi-joint exercises. A full complement of Hammer Strength machines, along with reverse hyper, glutei/ham benches, polymeric boxes, and two sets of medicine balls round out the room.

Jesse Judy is the Director of Towson's Strength and Conditioning. He is assisted by Jeremy Pick. The coaches collaborate in training each of the 20 Tiger athletic programs.

Towson's Athletic Hall of Fame

The Towson University Athletic Hall of Fame was conceived in 1963 and developed by Dr. Donald "Doc" Minnegan and alumnus George Henderson to provide recognition for outstanding alumni athletes who excelled in sports while at Towson and are successful in their life. It was also their purpose to cite those members of the athletic and sports staff at Towson who had materially and significantly contributed to the total development of successful alumni athletes. In 1974, the Athletic Hall of Fame was incorporated into the Alumni Association Awards program.

To be nominated, an individual must be a Towson alumna/us or an athletics staff member for at least 10 years. For selection, an alumna/us must have made a significant contribution to the college community through excellence in athletics, achieved marked success in life after leaving Towson, and be an active supporting member of the community. An athletics staff member must have clearly demonstrated athletic proficiency, and a high personal regard and respect for alumni and students.

OBTAINING CREDENTIALS

Media credentials are issued to accredited members of the media only. Requests for credentials should be made via phone, mail, e-mail or fax to Eric Rhew in the Towson University Office of Athletics Media Relations. Please be sure to follow up your request with a phone call to ensure it has been received.

Space in the press box of Johnny Unitas® Stadium is limited, so requests should be made no later than 48 hours prior to game time. Should space become a problem, preference will be given to the primary media outlets of each school and then, to media who their requests earlier in the week.

Photographers must show their credentials in order to gain access to the playing field area. All photographers are limited to the areas along the sidelines of the lacrosse field but may not enter the team bench areas at any time. In addition, photographers are not permitted to shoot from behind the end lines, including behind the screens behind the goals.

Local television stations shooting the game for highlight footage may do so from the sideline (except in team areas) or from the stands on the south (press box) side of the stadium.

Credentials may be picked up in the press box lobby beginning two hours prior to game time. In addition, they may be picked up from the Office of Athletics Media Relations from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the day prior to the game.

RADIO BROADCAST INFORMATION

Broadcast positions for up to two visiting radio stations are available in the Unitas Stadium press box. Phone lines (POTS and ISDN) may be rented from the Office of Athletics Media Relations for a cost of $75 per game or whatever the visiting station's institution charges. Stations wishing to broadcast a game from Unitas Stadium should contact Eric Rhew at least two weeks prior to game day.

Credential and parking requests for radio staff should be submitted along with the request for phone lines.

MEDIA PARKING

Parking around Unitas Stadium is limited on gameday. Requests for media parking passes should be made at the same time as credential requests. If you do not make arrangements in advance for parking, you will not be able to receive a parking pass for the game.

IN-GAME MEDIA SERVICES

Pre-game notes, flip cards and game programs will be distributed in the press box before each game. Box scores and scoring summaries will be provided at half-time and at the end of the game. There are a limited number of phone lines available in the press box, but wireless internet is available for media to use. Food and beverages will be provided in the press box approximately 90 minutes before game time.

POSTGAME PRESS CONFERENCE

Approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of the game, a post-game press conference will be held in a designated area of the Field House at Unitas Stadium. Members of the Athletics Media Relations staff will help guide members of the media to the interview area and an announcement will be made during the fourth quarter as to the location of the press conference. The head coach and selected players of the visiting team will be available for questions first, followed by Towson Coach Tony Seaman and selected players. This will be the order of the interviews regardless of the outcome of the game.

Interviews after evening games may take place on the field due to deadlines. In this case, a member of the Towson Athletics Media Relations staff will assist in gathering selected individuals.

Requests for specific Towson players should be made to Eric Rhew during the fourth quarter. Interviews with opposing players should be coordinated through the visiting team's media relations contact.

The locker rooms for both teams are closed at all times.

IN-SEASON INTERVIEW POLICY

All requests for in-season interviews with Towson players and coaches must be made through Eric Rhew of the Office of Athletics Media Relations. Media members should not contact players directly. Interview times will be arranged by the Athletics Media Relations staff based on availability of both the player and the media member. Players will not miss class or practice time to conduct an interview.

Media representatives are welcome to speak with players and coaches after practice sessions, but should call in advance to confirm practice times and to arrange for parking on campus.

ROAD GAME REQUESTS

Local members of the media who wish to cover a Towson road men's lacrosse game should contact the host school's media relations staff to obtain credentials. Contact information for the men's lacrosse media relations contacts of all 2011 Towson opponents can be found in the opponents section of this guide.
