► Tip-Off

The Towson University women's basketball team is hosting Columbia in its final game of the 2024-25 non-conference slate on Sunday at 1 p.m. for Golden Ager Day.

The game will stream live on FloCollege and be simulcast on Monumental Sports Network. Live stats and the radio broadcast will be available on TowsonTigers.com.

Last Time Out

The Tigers hosted American on Dec. 7 in the third of four non-conference home games at TU Arena this season. The Black & Gold held a 23-point lead at the half and topped the Eagles, 89-62. Freshman forward Khady Leye recorded her second double-double of the season, totaling 18 points with ten rebounds. Aminata Diakite registered her first career double-double with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

Scouting the Tigers

The Tigers began the 2024-25 season with a five-game road stand, including two matchups against Associated Press (AP) Top 25 teams. After dropping contests to No. 16 West Virginia and George Mason to begin the campaign, the Tigers faced Morgan State. Towson had a chance to take the lead in the closing minutes but couldn't connect on the necessary bucket to fall, 64-63. The Tigers concluded the road trip with visits to No. 11 Maryland and George Washington, two tight contests where they were outlasted in the second halves. In their home opener, the Tigers hosted Liberty. After trailing most of the game, Towson tied it up at 55 with less than two minutes to go. The Lady Flames got to the free throw line six times in the closing minutes to win, 64-57. In the Puerto Rico Clásico the Tigers faced UTSA and Youngstown State. After falling to the Roadrunners in the first game, the Tigers made a second half push against the Penguins to win, 68-57. Hosting UMBC in the team's annual STEM Day game, the Tigers cut an 11-point halftime deficit to one with 2:38 left in regulation, but were forced to foul late, ultimately falling 65-60.

Scouting the Lions

Columbia enters the matchup at 8-4 overall. The Lions have faced one common opponent of the Tigers, Stony Brook, who the Black & Gold will face in CAA play. The Lions topped the Seawolves 87-47 in their season opener. Columbia was picked to finish second in the Ivy League Preseason Poll with five first-place votes, behind only Princeton. Cecilia Collins and Kitty Henderson, 2023-24 Second Team All-Ivy honorees returned for the Lions this season.

League Honors

Khady Leye was named the Coastal Athletic Association (CAA) Rookie of the Week on Dec. 2 after averaging 12.5 points and 7.0 rebounds per game in the Tigers' two games of the Puerto Rico Clásico, adding one block. In Towson's win over Youngstown State, the freshman forward had a career-high 19 points off the bench on .692 (9-13) shooting.

Leye earned her second CAA Rookie of the Week honor in as many weeks after averaging 17.5 points and 7.5 rebounds in the Tigers' 1-1 week vs. UMBC and American. The freshman shot a combined 61.5% (16-26) from the field, recording her second double-double of the season vs. American.

Leading the Way

Junior guard India Johnston put up a season-high 22 points against #11 Maryland earlier this year, finishing two points shy of matching her career high of 24 from a season ago. She's averaging a team-leading 12.7 points and 2.4 assists per game, which both stand second. She recorded her first career double-double with 15 points and 11 rebounds against Youngstown State in the final game of the Puerto Rico Clásico.

Impact Freshmen

Two Tiger freshmen have become impactful rotation players quickly in the 2024-25 season. Forward Khady Leye ranks second on the team with 11.0 PPG, first with 7.6 rebounds per game, tied for fifth with 1.0 APG and fourth with 1.0 steals per game.

Guard Shariah Baynes leads the team with 2.8 APG and 1.2 SPG. The Philadelphia native stands fourth in scoring, averaging 6.7 PPG.

Setting Records

In the team's annual STEM Day game on Dec. 4, the Tigers set a program record with 3,590 fans in attendance at TU Arena. The second-highest attendance in Towson women's basketball history is 3,423 on Dec. 4, 2018 vs. Loyola.

Fresh Faces

The Tigers welcome five newcomers to the team this season, highlighted by CAA transfer Deja Bristol from Northeastern, who averaged 10.4 points and 5.8 rebounds/game for the Huskies last season. Other transfers include junior guard Masyn Marchbanks from Samford, who averaged 8.4 points and 2.6 assists in 22.5 minutes per game for the Bulldogs last season, and graduate guard Jordan Wakefield, who most recently played for George Mason in the 2021-22 season.

CAA Preseason Poll

In the 2024-25 Coastal Athletic Association (CAA) Women's Basketball Preseason Poll, Towson was selected to finish third with one first-place vote. N.C. A&T led the way with 11 first-place votes. Drexel finished second with two first-place votes. Charleston and William & Mary finished in a tie for fourth, while Delaware and Elon completed the top half of the table. Campbell, Stony Brook, Monmouth, UNCW, Hofstra, Northeastern and Hampton rounded out the group.

Protect this House

The Tigers hold a 92-64 (.590) home record since TU Arena was built, including a 37-20 (.649) record against non-conference opponents. Towson holds a 56-44 (.560) against CAA foes. The Tigers finished with a 9-4 record at home and had an 8-1 home record in conference play last year. Note: The total number of wins is one short of the combined home and road records due to last season's regular season finale that Northeastern forfeited. The game was declared a no contest at the NCAA level but the Tigers were awarded a CAA victory in the conference slate.

Welcoming Coaches

The Tigers welcome two new assistant coaches to the staff ahead of the 2024-25 season. Eric Atkins, who most recently served as an assistant coach for the Wisconsin Herd, the National Basketball Association (NBA) G-League affiliate for the Milwaukee Bucks, joined the staff in July. Atkins played college basketball for the Notre Dame Fighting Irish, where he graduated in 2014. He is the first three-year captain in the history of Notre Dame men's basketball. Also joining the staff is Lorie Khalil, who joins with 19 years of Division III coaching experience, including 10 seasons with Penn State Lehigh Valley most recently. She joins the staff with a 252-155 overall coaching record in 19 years across three D-III institutions.

Returning Percentages

Towson returns eight players from last year's 20-11 team, including 2023-24 All-CAA Second Team selection Patricia Anumgba. Other returners include junior guard India Johnston and forwards Kayla Morris and Anasia Staton. The Tigers return 48.5% of their scoring alongside 46.1% of their rebounding from a season ago.

Last Season's Recap

Towson finished the regular season 20-11 last season with an 11-7 mark in conference play, earning the sixth seed to the CAA Tournament in Washington, D.C. The Tigers defeated the 11-seed Northeastern Huskies before securing a spot in the CAA Tournament Semifinals with a win over 3-seed Charleston. In the semis vs. Drexel, the Black & Gold fell 68-69, finishing two points shy of securing a spot in the CAA Championship game for the second year in a row.

Next Up

The Tigers will begin CAA play with a visit to Charleston to face the Cougars on Friday, Jan. 3.

Laura Harper, who helped the University of Maryland win a national championship as a player, was named Towson University's Women's Basketball head coach on April 20, 2022.

"Laura Harper embodies all that Towson Athletics is looking for in the next leader of our women's basketball program," Director of Athletics Steve Eigenbrot said. "Her background and understanding of this area uniquely positioned her to build on the amazing foundation we have in place. We have found an excellent, high-energy leader in Laura that represents a thrilling next chapter for this program."

"I am ecstatic to accept this position as the Towson women's basketball head coach," said Harper, who replaces Diane Richardson. "I think the championship caliber culture that was instilled by Coach Rich is admirable and coming from the leadership that Brenda Frese taught me at the University of Maryland, I know what it takes to win. I am so excited that this group of young student-athletes are ready and prepared to continue their journey of success. I am eager, I am excited and I am ready to be the leader that believes and trusts in them."

"This is a home run hire for Towson," Frese said. "Laura is a rising star in our profession. All she does is win wherever she has been. Laura is a passionate, relational, competitive person who will continue to uphold the standard for the Towson Tigers. What a great day for Towson Women's Basketball."

Harper comes to Towson after a two-year stint as head coach at Coppin State University. In 2021-22, Harper guided the Eagles to one of the largest turnarounds in the nation and earned Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) Coach of the Year honors in her second season at the helm. The Eagles won a school-record six games against Division I non-conference opponents, had a six-game win streak midway through the year and had their first winning campaign (15-13) since the 2013-14 season. In the four seasons before her arrival, Coppin went a combined 22-95. Jaia Alexander was named the 2021-22 MEAC Player of the Year while Aliyah Lawson also earned First-

HEAD COACH LAURA HARPER

Team All-MEAC honors.

Prior to taking over at Coppin, Harper worked as an assistant coach at five NCAA Division I institutions and was head coach at one of the top collegiate preparatory schools in Florida.

Harper won 18 games as the head coach at Montverde Academy in 2019-20 with a team where five seniors earned NCAA Division I scholarships.

From 2017-19, Harper assisted the women's basketball team at the University of Florida for two seasons. Under her tutelage, Paulina Hersler and Haley Lorenzen had career years as seniors.

Harper spent the 2016-17 season at George Washington University under Women's Basketball Hall of Fame player Jennifer Rizzotti. That season, the Colonials won an Atlantic 10 regular season championship and advanced to the WNIT. Post players Lexi Martins and Caira Washington received all-conference honors.

From 2014-16, she worked as an assistant coach at High Point University. The Panthers won 20 games during the 2014-15 season and advanced to the Big South championship game. Stacia Robertson was named the Big South Player of the Year and an Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American before going on to play overseas.

Harper spent the 2013-14 season as an assistant at Loyola University Maryland. She was responsible for post player development, scouting and served as an academic liaison for the Greyhounds.

Immediately before going to Loyola, Harper spent the summer of 2013 coaching at American University after finishing her five-year professional career.

As a sophomore at Maryland, Harper led the Terrapins to the 2006 National Championship. She received the NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player award after scoring a then career-best 24 points in the semifinal victory over North Carolina. Two days later, Harper recorded 16 points in the title win against Duke. While in College Park, Harper scored 1,407 points, grabbed 873 rebounds, and broke the school record with 198 blocks. In her senior year, she was an Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American and Third Team All-Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) selection after averaging 14.1 points and 8.5 rebounds per game. She was a Naismith Award finalist during her junior season. On February 5, 2009, Harper's No. 15 jersey was raised to the rafters at Xfinity Center.

Following her collegiate career, Harper was the 10th overall selection of the Sacramento Monarchs in the 2008 WNBA Draft. In two seasons, she averaged 5.0 points and 3.7 rebounds per game in 67 appearances. In her rookie campaign, she ranked in the top 10 among first-year players in field goal percentage (5th - .474), rebounds (6th - 4.0) and blocks (6th - 0.6) plus was 13th in points (5.5).

Harper spent the next three seasons overseas playing in Italy, Turkey and Russia before beginning her coaching career.

In addition to her collegiate success, Harper was a member of the U21 national team, where she helped the United States to a gold medal at the 2007 FIBA U21 World Championship in Russia. She was a starter for the 2004 USA U18 team which won the gold medal at the FIBA Americas Championship. During that tournament she averaged 12.8 points, while shooting 63 percent from the floor.

Originally from Elkins Park, Pa., Harper earned a communications degree from Maryland. Her father, Haviland Harper, played basketball at George Washington from 1973-76.
