DID YOU KNOW?

- Devonte Ross became the first player in Troy's DI history to record a pair of 60-plus yard catches in the same game
- Damien Taylor ranks second nationally (min. 35 carries) averaging 5.61 yards after contact per carry
- Six of Troy's first eight scoring drives were double-digit plays in length and consumed 4:53 or more off the clock ... Six of Troy's last seven scoring drives have been six plays or fewer, with four being four plays or fewer
- Devonte Ross had 229 receiving yards against Florida A&M, a new Troy single-game record
- Troy is 23-6 since losing on a Hail Mary at App State in 2022
- 60-yard receptions in the same game have not been easy to come by for the Trojans; in fact, Troy's two at Iowa (both by Devonte Ross) marked the first time Troy had two 60-yard catches in the same game since 2009 vs. UAB

ROBERT COLE

OUT OF THE SPOTLIGHT

By: Chad Mays

Their role is often a deciding factor in games, yet no one truly appreciates the limited action they get during the four quarters. For Robert Cole, he loves being the unsung hero during the crunch time of a big game under the bright lights of Veterans Memorial Stadium.

"It makes it easier," Cole, a senior from Coral Springs, Fla., said. "I prefer the pressure. In fact, I like the pressure."

Cole is still relatively new to the game. It's not something he's been training for his whole life. He didn't grow up playing youth football with aspirations to be the next great NFL quarterback. It was all about soccer and lacrosse. Those were the sports he loved. Football was never even on his radar. All that changed when he was preparing to enter his junior year of high school at North Broward Prep in Coconut Creek, Fla.

"Everything I had done and learned in soccer helped me jump start with football. I started a little later than most people, only playing during my junior and season year," Cole said.

North Broward Prep head coach Rex Nottage approached Cole with the idea of trying out for the team before his junior season. It wasn't something he was initially receptive to, and he turned to one of his most trusted advisors for guidance, his mom, Kristie.

"I actually didn't want to go out for football, but mom helped me and led me through the process," Cole said.

Life isn't always a cakewalk for Cole. He's a 23-year-old trying to balance the hecticness and stress of being an athlete and student while looking toward the future and what it might hold for him. There's no easy way to balance all those things. It's hard, and having a support system in place to help him in all the ways he needs it has allowed him to be his best on the field, in the classroom, and his everyday life.

That support system is comprised of his mom, his father, Randy, and his sister.

"They support me in every way and help give me the opportunity that most people don't have. It helps keep so much of the stress off and allows me to focus on the things that matter the most in life," Cole said.

One of the things that has his utmost focus right now is helping be a leader and impactful part of a Troy team looking to uphold the standard of excellence that has become so renowned in The Vet. He is one of 60 players who opted to remain in the cardinal after a staff overhaul at the end of last season. It was an easy decision for him to do so. Not only does he want a chance at defending the Sun Belt title, but he also wants to stay with the program that gave him his one and only DI shot to play the game he has come to cherish after transferring from the New Mexico Military Institute before last season.

"I thought about how I performed last season; it was a good fit. But also, Troy was the only DI school that gave me a chance out of JUCO. That was really the main reason. I wanted to give back for what they gave me," Cole said.

Not only is Cole a vital member of the special team's unit, but he has also taken over the punting crew's leadership role, which was held by long snapper and All-Sun Belt honorable mention Quentin Skinner last season. With that role comes the responsibility of ensuring that everyone is doing their job on the field every time the unit needs to make something happen.

"We have to be perfect all the time. There's no room for error, and I have trust in everyone that they are going to be perfect every time. After that, it's just relying on our form and all the work we put in," Cole said.

And when things go as planned, and the unit can help flip the field and put the defense in a position to succeed, Cole is okay with making sure other people get the love and praise.

"I enjoy being the underdog. I don't care for the spotlight, and I'd rather give it to my long snapper. Quinten was a big reason for my success last year, and [Colton Walls] and [Will Spain] are who will make me great this year," Cole said.

Now, with Sun Belt play here, the team's four-game record carries little weight, and the slate is wiped clean. Coming off the team's first win of the season last week, Cole and the rest of the Trojans feel good about where they are as a team as they welcome ULM to The Vet on Saturday night.

"I like where we're at," Cole said. "We found our identity after the Iowa game like Coach [Gerad] Parker said. There was something that was definitely different between the first two games and Iowa that finally clicked. That's what we were waiting for, and now I think we're going to be really good."

BRENDAN JACKSON

SHOW UP AND WORK

By: Jack Byers

Brendan Jackson is one of the many fresh new faces on the 2024 Troy Trojans, and the senior linebacker has already embraced the identity of Troy football.

According to Jackson, the Trojans' identity is leadership, discipline and working hard. That's the precedent he set as a stud linebacker at Gardner-Webb, racking up over 100 tackles across two seasons at the FCS level. It was a seamless transition when he joined the Trojan defense this spring.

"When I first got here around January, that's just what the identity was around Troy football," Jackson said. "The leadership, the discipline, and just showing up to work every day. They're ready to work and ready to grind, and that's what they instilled in me."

When Jackson entered the transfer portal last winter, the productive linebacker had countless teams blowing up his phone, and it's easy to see why. As a junior, the productive and versatile Jackson scored 71 tackles with 11.5 tackles for loss and four sacks.

The Statesboro, Ga., native was drawn to Troy because he wanted to go somewhere that would make him work hard. He's a player and a competitor who embraces the grind of the football season, which the Trojan coaches made clear to him during his visit.

"I like morals, and I like discipline," Jackson said. "Just working hard and getting back to the grind every single day. When I came here on my visit, the coaches and players said it was Troy's foundation. I knew that was something I wanted to sign up for."

Jackson has seen that firsthand in his first season with the Trojans. Head coach Gerad Parker and his staff believe that the results will come if you put in the work, and that's something that immediately resonated with the 6'2", 230-pound linebacker.

"Our creed is the truth and the work, and the results will handle itself," Jackson said. "We believe that the truth lies in work, so we just show up and work every single day. We don't worry about the results because we know our identity is in the work. The results will take care of itself.

Jackson has fit like a glove on the Troy defense, as he currently leads the team with four tackles for loss and ranks second with 27 total tackles through four games this season. It's not just the tackling that's made Jackson an asset to the Trojans, as he's been a critical leader in the locker room and the huddle.

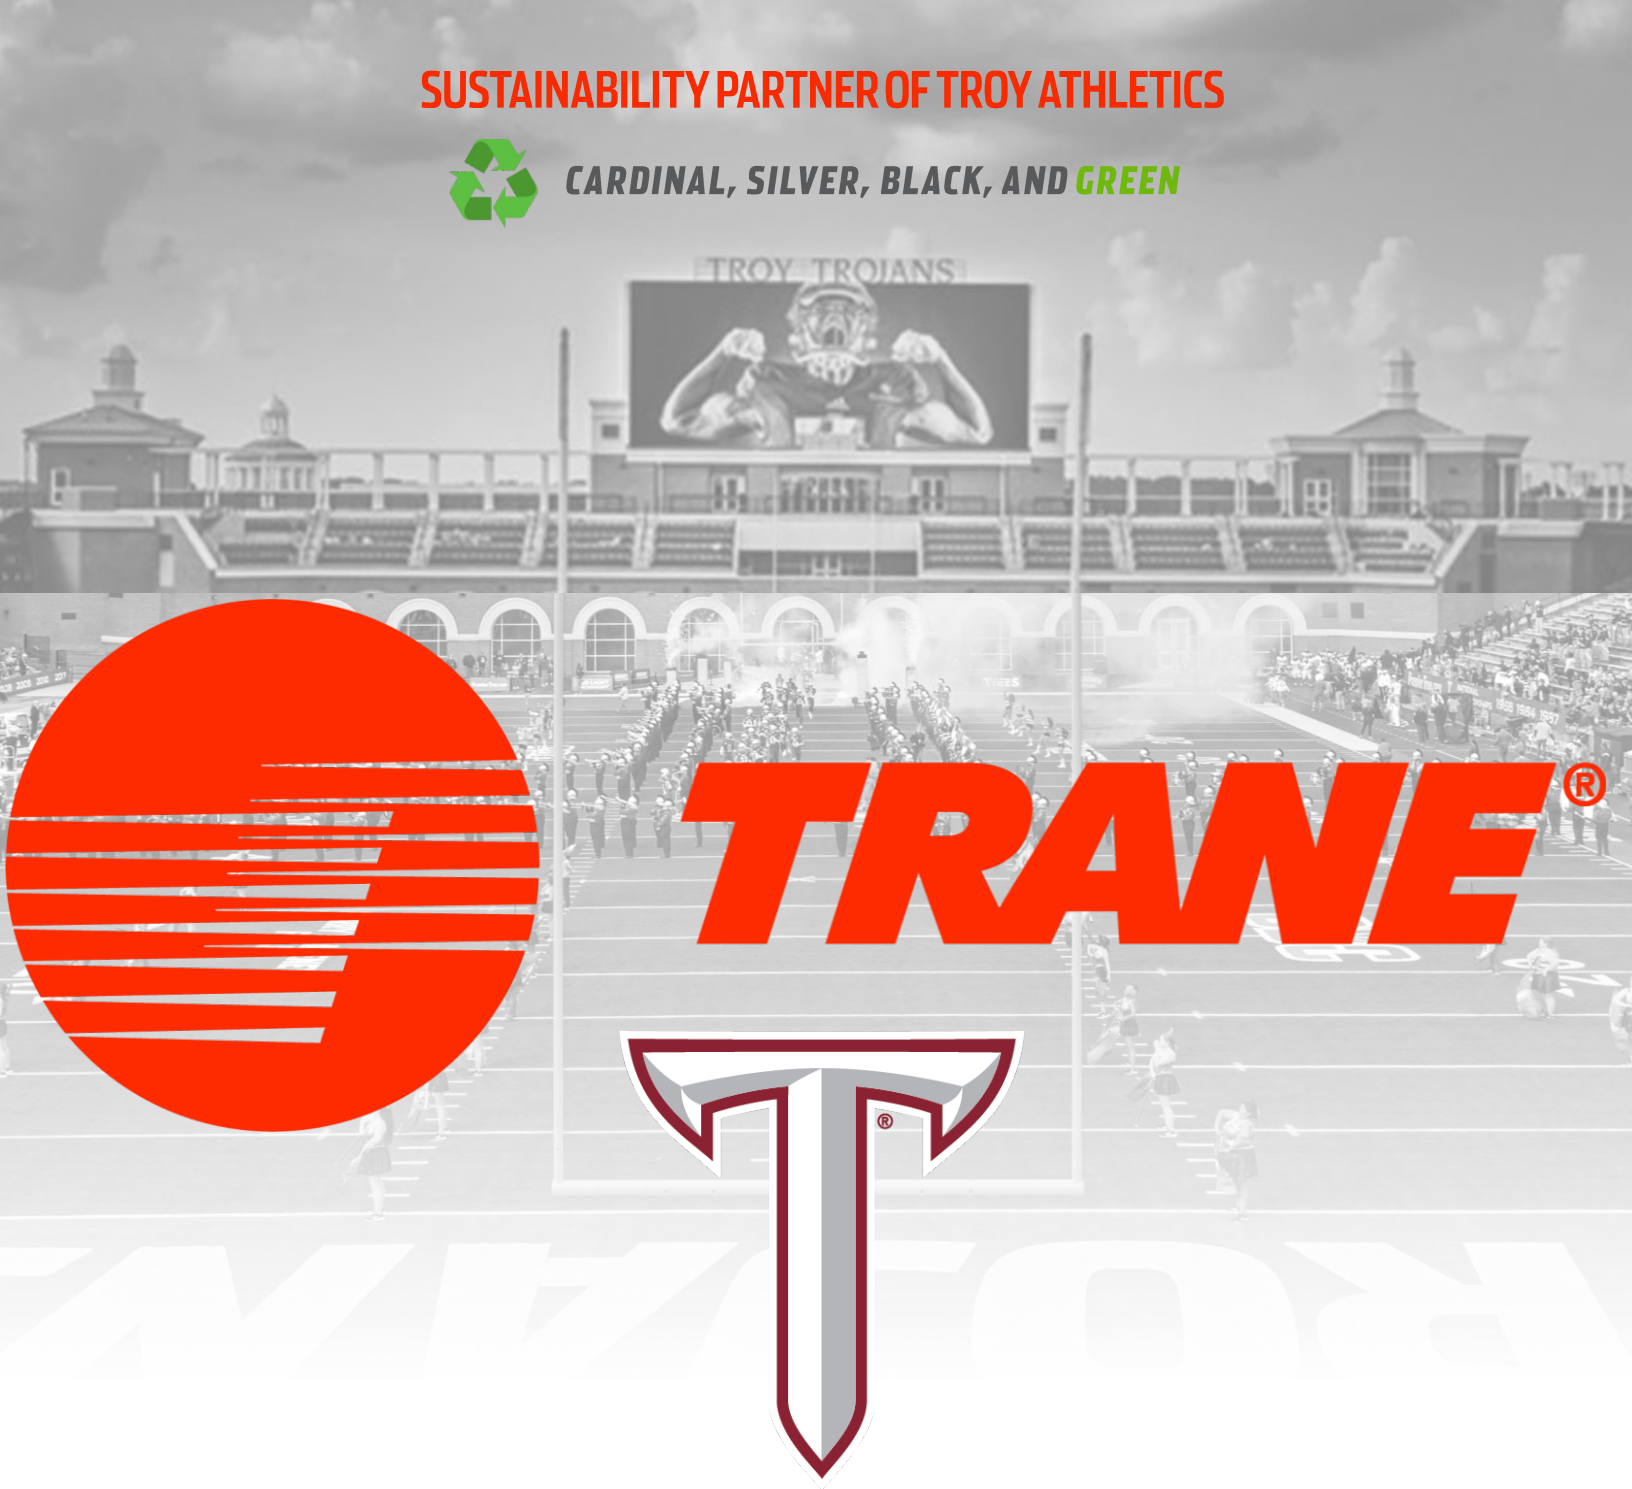

"My peers kind of put me into that position," Jackson said. "When I first got here, I really wanted to figure out the identity of Troy. They just let me know that it was planting and growing. It was tending to the foundation that they built over the last couple of years, which is winning and working hard. I just come to work every day and show up. I really like that they put me as a leader because I feel like you will get the same thing out of me every day. I'm going to work as hard as I can. I will give my all to my teammates, the coaches and the staff."

As Jackson's college football career ends this season, he's ready to put on a show for his new family at 'The Vet' this fall.

"With this being my last year, I'm just so excited," Jackson said. " I chose Troy because their environment is fun. I can't even explain it. The way the community shows up for games, it's a family out here."

ROBERT BRUCE

WALK-ON MENTALITY

By: Rylee Bamberger

After spending most of his life on the hardwood, Robert Bruce was approached by Angelo Wheeler, Park Crossing High School's head football coach and athletic director, to try out for the football team. After he stepped onto the gridiron, Bruce fell in love.

"Before my senior year, I was a basketball player," Bruce said. "I didn't want to get hit, and I didn't like getting tackled. In my eleventh-grade year, Coach Wheeler told me to come play football. He was telling me every day to play football. One day, he pulled me aside and asked why I wouldn't give it a chance. When I first started, I was a safety, but I switched to receiver, and my friend Grant Dubose took me under his wing and helped me a lot."

The honeymoon phase for this newfound attraction did not last long. Bruce broke his foot in the first game of his senior year, and his high school career was taken away from him as quickly as it began.

A lot of people would have given up after this happened. However, Bruce was determined to find a way to continue playing the sport he loved. He moved to West Point, New York, to live with his aunt and uncle and started taking online classes with AUM. Bruce began looking for a change after a few months of working out and babysitting his two cousins.

"I was depressed because all of my friends from back home were playing ball, so I started reaching out to coaches and got in contact with Coach Jones at Hudson Valley," Bruce said. "Hudson Valley was about an hour and a half away from where I was staying, so it was tough to drive back and forth to practice every day and for games. Coach Jones gave me an opportunity even though I didn't have any film, so I make sure to stay in touch to show him my gratitude."

In his first full year, Bruce made an immediate impact. As a true freshman, the 5-foot-11 wideout caught 15 passes for 167 yards and a touchdown in just eight games. After two years away from home, he wanted to move back closer to Montgomery, Alabama.

Bruce created a plan to attend Troy as a regular student in 2022 and wait for walk-on tryouts in the following spring. However, his aunt Telma O'Neal sent his film and contact information to Miss Judy Morgan, the football team's head secretary.

Miss Judy forwarded that message to wide receiver coach Gary Banks, and Coach Banks contacted Bruce the day before he moved back home. Bruce joined Troy's football team in 2022 as a walk-on receiver and has helped the Trojans' defense prepare for gamedays as a scout team wide receiver ever since.

"The journey has been wild since I got to Troy," Bruce said. "Being a walk-on is hard mentally. The mental aspect could eat you up, so I try to encourage the younger walk-ons to keep going and stay mentally strong. Sometimes, it feels like you are being overlooked, and you get lost in the shadows of the scholarship players. It makes you think, 'What am I doing wrong?' In times like that, you must remain confident in yourself and faithful to God to keep you going. The journey here has been beautiful, and I have learned so much."

Bruce has been a part of Troy's football team that has won back-to-back conference championships and over 10 games in both seasons. Bruce is among the few returning members of last season's roster and says he hasn't even considered entering the transfer portal since coming here.

"I have always felt that there is something special about Troy," Bruce said. "I feel like we can do some big things, and I think that Troy has built something big in the past two years. Right now, I will keep grinding and waiting for my time to shine. I don't know what's coming for me after I graduate, but I hope to get involved in criminal justice."

TROY UNIVERSITY™

Founded in 1887 as a teachers' college, Troy University continues to live up to its founding motto: "Educate the mind to think, the heart to feel and the body to act."

This student-centered philosophy has enabled Troy University to grow from a small teachers' college to Alabama's International University.

TROY's educational value has been recognized by national publications such as Forbes magazine, U.S. News and World Report and the Princeton Review. In 2023, TROY was named among the best colleges and universities in the Southern United States by the Princeton Review for the 19th straight year.

Troy University's recognition as a "best value" university has been enhanced in recent years with major capital improvements and new academic programs, including:

• The launching in 2015 of the Ph.D. program in Sport Management.
• The state's first bachelor's degree program aimed at increasing the number of interpreters for the deaf and hearing impaired.
• A renovated Barnes & Noble bookstore, including a Trojan Cafe, on the Montgomery campus
• New construction for a center for research building in the area of polymers and polymer recycling
•New construction for a health and science buidling
• A newly updated admissions office to greet prospective students and their families in the Adams Administration building, complete with an entrance way along University Avenue and interactive video displays and entry screens.
• A renovated food court area in the Trojan Student Center, including new dining options such as Einstein Bros. Bagels, Boar's Head, Mein Bowl, Steak and Shake, Chick-fil-a, Marble Slab Creamery, Great American Cookie and Marketplace.
• Finished construction of new 78,000-square foot Trojan Fitness Center.

But TROY hasn't just made its mark in the U.S. With more than 20,000 students enrolled from across the globe, the University has become a truly international institution. TROY serves four campuses in Alabama—in Troy, Dothan, Montgomery, and Phenix City.

Outside Alabama, the University maintains a presence globally and has eliminated the barriers of time and place through Troy Online. At the heart of that philosophy is an international focus that provides exposure to other cultures both here and abroad. TROY enrolls more than 1,000 international students from more than 76 countries, while at the same time providing opportunities for students to study abroad in Africa, Asia, Cuba, Europe and Central, South America and the Middle East.

"What we've attempted to do at Troy University is to create an environment, a culture of caring, where our students can actually experience, get to know and live, work and learn with students from around the world," Dr. Jack Hawkins, Jr., Chancellor, said. "That's essential as they prepare to make a living and a life in today's global marketplace."

Troy University is also home to the Center for International Business and Economic Development and the Manuel H. Johnson Center for Political Economy.

TROY also led the way in the United States with its dual degree 1-2-1 program, a partnership with certain Chinese universities that allows Chinese students to start their degree program at home, transfer to TROY for two years and return to their home institutions to finish their degree. Students receive diplomas from both TROY and their home institutions at the completion of the program.

TROY offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs across five colleges: Arts and Sciences, Business, Communication and Fine Arts, Health and Human Services and Education. In addition, Troy University offers a Doctorate of Nursing Practice degree, which prepares its graduates for the most advanced level of nursing care, and the Ph.D. in Sport Management.

Troy University offers a vast exposure to the historical and cultural arts. On the Montgomery Campus, students, faculty and the general public can visit the Rosa Parks Museum, which celebrates the legacy of the late Civil Rights leader whose refusal to give up her seat on a city bus to a white male led to the Montgomery Bus Boycott.

The Davis Theater for Performing Arts, also on the Montgomery Campus, provides a venue for a variety of local and regional musical and cultural entertainment.

On the Troy Campus, the Janice Hawkins Cultural Arts Park, named for the University's First Lady, is home to an amphitheater, walking trails and a collection of outdoor sculpture, including 200 terracotta warriors by renowned sculptor Huo Bao Zhu. The park is also home to the International Arts Center, which includes the Huo Bao Zhu Gallery, the Fred Nall Museum, and Warriors Unearthed designed by Frank Marquette, an interpretive center explaining the significance and design of the terracotta warrior exhibit. The center is also home to studio and classroom space for the University's Graphic Design program.

TROY's College of Communication and Fine Arts provides more than 200 public performances and artistic presentations each year, to an audience of more than 250,000 people. More than 20 percent of the students on the Troy Campus are involved in music study through the Sound of the South Marching Band, choral ensembles and private lessons. The Concert Chorale ensemble has performed at the historic Carnegie Hall and a group of music. This year, the theatre and dance students performed at the Danza in Arte a Pietrasanta Festival in Italy.

Students on the Troy Campus looking to get involved in University life can choose from nearly 200 different campus service, religious and social organizations. Co-curricular organizations include the "South of the South" marching and concert bands, Collegiate Singers and Trojan Dance Repertory Ensemble. In addition, TROY offers a variety of activities to enhance the quality of student life on campus.

Troy University has an active Greek Life, with 13 fraternities, 10 sororities and five music fraternities on its Troy Campus. A fraternity village consisting of seven two-story houses was opened in 2010.

The Troy Campus has two active student-led publications, The Tropolitan and the Palladium. Also, the award-winning TROY TrojanVision broadcasts three live student produced newscasts daily.

DR. JACK HAWKINS, JR.

University Chancellor
35th year
University of Montevallo, '67

Dr. Jack Hawkins, Jr., a native of Mobile, Alabama, was named Chancellor of Troy University Sept. 1, 1989. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Montevallo and his doctorate from the University of Alabama. Dr. Hawkins is the longest-serving chief executive officer of a public university in the United States.

Upon completion of his bachelor's degree in 1967, Hawkins was commissioned a lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps and served as a platoon leader during the Vietnam War. For his combat duty, he received the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart and a citation from the Korean Marine Corps.

Hawkins has overseen an era of change and growth at TROY, as he led the merger of the worldwide Troy State University System into the unified Troy University, an initiative called "One Great University." More than $375 million has been invested in capital improvements by the Hawkins Administration, including new academic buildings on all four of TROY's Alabama campuses. Chancellor Hawkins served as the catalyst for the University's evolution to an international institution, as TROY has attracted record numbers of students from other nations and established teaching sites around the world. During his tenure, academic standards for admission have been increased, new degree programs were established in all academic colleges, and intercollegiate athletics joined the highest level of NCAA competition.

Hawkins' professional background includes his service as an assistant dean at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (1971-1979) and as president of the Alabama Institute for the Deaf and Blind in Talladega (1979-1989).

One of the nation's top offensive coordinators, Gerad Parker begins his first season as Troy's head coach in 2024. Parker takes over the Troy program following two years at Notre Dame, including this past season as the Fighting Irish's offensive coordinator.

Parker led a Notre Dame offense in 2023 that ranked eighth nationally, averaging 39.1 points per game, in addition to ranking 12th in passing efficiency and 29th in total offense. Audric Estime was one of the nation's elite running backs, ranking third in rushing touchdowns (18), eighth in rushing yards per game (111.8) and ninth in rushing yards (1,341).

Behind Parker's offense, the Fighting Irish posted a 9-3 record against one of the nation's most challenging schedules, including four straight games against ranked opponents. Offensive tackle Joe Alt was a consensus All-America selection, while Estime was named to the Associated Press All-America Team.

Notre Dame's offense increased production across the board in Parker's lone season calling the plays in South Bend. The Irish improved their scoring by more than a touchdown per game, in addition to seeing increases in yards per game, passing yards per game, yards per play and red zone scoring.

In his first season at Notre Dame, Parker coached the Irish tight ends and helped guide Michael Mayer to a consensus All-America season, as Mayer finished his career as the most prolific pass catching end in school history. Mayer led the Irish with 67 catches for 809 yards and nine touchdowns in 2022, finishing his time at Notre Dame first on the program charts for tight end catches (180), receiving yards (2,099) and touchdowns (18).

Parker joined the Notre Dame staff following two seasons with former Troy head coach Neal Brown at West Virginia, where he was the offensive coordinator and receivers coach.

In his final season with the Mountaineers, WVU knocked off Texas and No. 15 Virginia Tech en route to an appearance in the Guaranteed Rate Bowl. In 2020, despite having to deal with the COVID-19 pandemic, West Virginia had one of the most improved offenses in the nation in terms of total yards, showing gains of more than 60 yards rushing per game, almost 30 yards passing a game, more than 90 yards of total offense and almost seven more points a game.

The offensive line had a productive year, with Leddie Brown rushing for 1,010 yards and nine touchdowns and Jarret Doege throwing for more than 2,500 yards and 14 touchdowns.

As Penn State's receivers coach and passing game coordinator in 2019, the Nittany Lions' offense averaged 35.8 points per game, ranking 15th nationally. Additionally, Penn State ranked 21st in red zone offense (90.4)

Parker spent two years on the football staff at Duke (2017-18). During the 2018 season, his wide receivers accounted for 2,252 receiving yards of the Blue Devils' 3,199 total offensive yards (70.4%).

He served his first year as the football operations assistant working with the offense in 2017. The Blue Devils offense had three All-ACC selections and, for the first time in program history, had three players with 500 or more rushing yards and a quarterback throw for more than 2,500 yards. Parker spent the spring as the running backs coach at Cincinnati before heading to Duke.

Prior to that, Parker spent four seasons at Purdue, where he coached the tight ends (2013-14) and wide receivers (2015-16). He was the recruiting coordinator and served as the interim head coach for the final six weeks of the 2016 season.

Parker spent two years as the wide receivers coach at Marshall (2011-12). The Thundering Herd led the nation in passing offense, averaging 365.1 yards per game. Receiver Tommy Shuler led the country and set the school record for receptions (110), ranking 18th nationally in yards per game (94.8).

Parker spent three seasons at UT-Martin as the running backs coach (2008), wide receivers coach (2009-10) and the passing game coordinator and recruiting coordinator (2010). He started his coaching career at Raceland High School in Raceland, Kentucky, and spent the 2007 season as a graduate assistant coach at Kentucky.

Parker earned two degrees from Kentucky, his bachelor's degree in business management in 2003 and his master's in education in 2005. He was a four-year letterwinner for the Wildcats, where he was a Southeastern Conference Scholar Athlete Honor Roll selection (2002-03) and CoSIDA Academic All-District IV Second Team honoree (2004). Additionally, he was a college teammate of former Troy head coach Jon Sumrall.

A native of Louisa, Kentucky, Parker played at Lawrence County High School and set state receiving records with 238 catches, 4,814 yards and 52 touchdowns.

He and his wife, Kandi, have three daughters, Kolbi, Gwyneth and Rosalyn, and a son, Oliver.

BRYANT VINCENT

HEAD COACH

Bryant Vincent, known for his strong leadership and expertise in creating powerful offensive schemes in college football, was named the 17th head football coach in University of Louisiana Monroe history on Wednesday, December 6, 2023.

Most recently, Vincent served as the Offensive Coordinator at the University of New Mexico during the 2023 season. Under Vincent's offensive schemes, the Lobos earned national top-20 rankings in red zone offense (14th) and rushing offense (19th). Additionally, Vincent coached running back Jacory Croskey-Merritt to a record-breaking season. The New Mexico running back was the first Lobo to ever have back-to-back 200-yard rushing games and finished with 17 rushing touchdowns, which is third all-time in New Mexico football history.

Vincent is a native of Glasgow, Kentucky. He and his wife Holli have two sons, Brady, a member of the ULM football coaching staff and Bret, a wide receiver.

WOMEN'S GOLF

EXCITEMENT AT AN ALL-TIME HIGH

By: Adam Prendergast

Loaded with a veteran lineup and backed by three strong newcomers, the Troy women's golf team is poised to take a big step forward for head coach Randy Keck in the 2024-25 season.

Keck's squad is headlined by a quartet of upperclassmen led by seniors Alyssa Mercado and Brinson Hall and juniors Laura Fangmeyer and Katelynn Altese.

"We are very excited about this year's team and the tremendous depth we have at the top of the lineup with Alyssa, Brinson, Laura and Katelynn providing valuable leadership," Keck said. "Additionally, we've added three new players to the roster, including a pair of freshmen and a transfer, which has lengthened our lineup."

The Trojans are already two tournaments deep into the fall season. Troy's lineup depth has been on full display, with seven players seeing action at the Tiger Invitational hosted by Clemson and the Green Wave Invitational hosted by Tulane.

Mercado and North Carolina A&T transfer Victoria Stutts made their season debuts at the Green Wave Invitational and made an immediate impact, finishing tied for eighth and 10th, respectively. Troy finished third as a team in New Orleans, with four of the five Trojans claiming top-25 finishes.

"I'm excited about the strong schedule we've laid out this season, which should help us with the new rankings system," Keck said. "We've gotten off to a fairly good start and hope to continue that success throughout the fall, especially to close out the semester against a really strong field at Mississippi State's event."

The remainder of the fall slate has the Trojans traveling to East Carolina and Arkansas State before they compete in The Ally, Mississippi State's tournament, at The Old Waverly Golf Club on Oct. 21-22.

History is undoubtedly on Troy's side heading into the season, as the Trojans are coming off five straight winning seasons under Keck. Mercado is coming off a season where she posted the eighth-best scoring average (74.48) in program history. Additionally, Mercado, Fangmeyer and Altese all rank in the top nine in career stroke average in program history, and eight of the top 11 rounds in program history have come under Keck's watch.

"We made a lot of progress over the summer and so far this fall," Keck said. "I'm excited for us to surprise some people this year."

SOUND OF THE SOUTH

The Troy University Band Program enjoys nationwide recognition as one of the finest and most comprehensive musical organizations of its kind. Troy instrumentalists not only have the opportunity to participate in the renowned "Sound of the South" Marching Band, but also have the opportunity to perform in the Symphony Band, four concert bands, jazz Ensembles, the Basketball Pep Band and various small ensembles.

The 2015 – 2016 year marked the 50th Anniversary of The "Sound of the South" Marching Band. Dr. John M. Long created the band in it's current form in the fall of 1965. Dr. Long developed The "Sound of the South" into a collegiate ensemble that has developed a national reputation for its quality musicianship and exciting, innovative arrangements and drill design. The "Sound of the South" Marching Band entertains audiences regularly at all Troy home games and several away games. Recent away appearances include Troy University's bowl appearances at the Silicon Valley Classic in San Jose, Calif., the GMAC Bowl in Mobile, Ala., and three appearances at the New Orleans Bowl in the Louisiana Superdome. In fact, over the past few years, the "South of the South" Marching Band has traveled tens of thousands of miles entertaining audiences literally from coast to coast.

Additionally, the "Sound" has been featured on all major broadcast and sports networks including ESPN, Fox Sports South and USA television networks. Other honors which the "Sound of the South" has received is the representation of the State of Alabama at the Inaugural Parades of President Richard Nixon (1969 and 1973), President Ronald Reagan (1985), and President George Bush (1989). The "Sound" has also performed halftime shows with Grammy Award-winning artists Brian McKnight, Lee Greenwood, The Temptations and Rock and Roll Hall of Fame member, Chubby Checker.

The "Sound of the South" Pep Band performs at all men's and women's basketball home games. Comprised of 30 musicians from all academic disciplines, the pep band entertains the home crowd with great music and irreverent, energetic cheering. This group travels with men's and women's basketball to the Sun Belt Conference Tournament, as well as the NCAA Tournaments. Membership in the basketball pep band is by audition, and it performs from Mid-October to April each academic year.

The "Sound of the South" is the largest student organization on campus and its members have produced leaders in academics, student government, and athletics, as well as other areas of campus life. Students have the opportunity to participate in several professional organizations including Kappa Kappa Psi, Tau Beta Sigma, Phi Mu Alpha, Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Boota Roota.

For more information about participating in the Troy University Band Program, please contact the Band Office at 334.670.3281 or troyband@troy.edu. You may also log on to the internet at www.troysoundofthesouth.org for information about scholarship auditions, special events, upcoming "Sound" schedules and general information about the "Sound of the South." MEN'S TENNIS

GET READY

By: Chad Mays

As the fall season approaches, which will quickly lead into the spring year, the Troy men's tennis team will look to build on the success of the 2024 season, where it won 19 matches and spent time as a nationally ranked program.

The team will look slightly different on the court this year, returning five key players from last year's squad and welcoming two new additions to lower Alabama.

"I'm looking forward to working with this new team," head coach Rolando Vargas said. "I'm excited about the two new additions. I feel like we needed to bring something new in here with new energy, and I feel like we got what we wanted."

Following the departure of some key players, including Carles Anton – the program leader in wins with 89, Vargas went into the offseason wanting to build a deep lineup, and that's precisely what he did.

"We have strength in our entire lineup. Anybody could really play anywhere between the two and six spots, so we're going to be deep, and anybody can really step up. It will be important to see who steps up and takes chances," Vargas said.

One of the players expected to take a prominent role this season and emerge as one of the team's leaders is returning senior Noah Martens. He put together an impressive 22-8 record last season, including 17-6 in the spring season. He played primarily in the number three spot last year, with an 11-6 record. In the number two spot, he was undefeated at 4-0.

"I am looking forward to watching Noah be one of our leaders. He's a strong player, and every year he's improved. He has been winning a lot of matches when it matters," Vargas said.

Another key returner is Yeray Andres Pastor, who posted a 17-4 spring record last season and played primarily out of the number five spot in the lineup, where he was 12-2. Pastor was second on the team in total singles wins last year with 23.

As a team last season, the Trojans excelled in singles, especially during the spring, in which they posted a 94-42 (.691) record. The Trojans' strong play was also evident in their doubles play, as they went 50-17 (.746) during the spring.

The Troy squad opens its fall season next weekend as they head to the Mercer Bear Invitational in Macon, Ga., from Friday, Oct. 4 through Sunday, Oct. 6.

TROY SPORTS MEDIA NETWORK

Barry McKnight is celebrating his 23rd season as the play-by-play "Voice of the Trojans" in 2024. A veteran of the broadcast industry, McKnight served as the co-host of a sports talk radio show on WMSP-740 AM in Montgomery for 26 years. McKnight was selected as the 2011 recipient of the Sun Belt Conference Broadcaster of the Year award. He also works in television broadcasting, where he served as the primary play-by-play announcer for College Sports Southeast's football, basketball and baseball coverage from 1997 until 2001.

Jerry Miller is entering his 32nd year with the Troy Sports Network and his 20th as the network's color analyst. Miller spent his first 12 years providing interviews, insight and analysis from the sideline. A Troy alum and longtime supporter of the athletic program, he also serves as the color analyst for Trojan men's basketball and baseball games. Miller is also a 2013 inductee into the Troy Baseball Hall of Fame.

Junior Louissaint begins his sixth season as Troy's sideline reporter. Louissaint played on Troy's 2003 and 2004 squads under head coach Larry Blakeney and was named to the All-Sun Belt First Team following his senior season. It was in that season that Louissaint, an offensive lineman, made national headlines when he returned a fumble 63 yards for a touchdown in Troy's victory over No. 19 Missouri – the play would go on to be a finalist for the Pontiac Game-Changing Performance of the Year. Following his career at Troy, Louissaint went on to play professionally in the Canadian Football League and in the Arena Football League.

Chris Blackshear is in his 17th season with the Troy Sports Network, working the sidelines for Trojan games and providing postgame interviews. Blackshear is a native of Phenix City, Alabama. He served as Vice President of Account Management in the North American Issuing Division at TSYS, a payments processing company in Columbus, Georgia, until his retirement in May 2021. Blackshear is also in his second term as an Alabama State Representative for District 80 which include portions of Lee and Russell Counties.
