FABIAN ROGOSCH

FABIAN ROGOSCH: FROM GERMANY TO THE GRIDIRON

By: Adam Prendergast

Fabian Rogosch still remembers the first time he believed it was possible, not just playing American football for fun in Germany or watching highlights late at night, but actually building a path to the United States to compete at the college level.

That idea did not come easily. It had to grow.

Rogosch grew up just outside Hamburg, where soccer dominates, and American football is a curiosity. Like most kids, he played a range of sports including soccer, handball and tennis. Football only entered the picture later, despite his father's early involvement.

It took a mix of timing and curiosity to change that.

"I started watching highlights," Rogosch said. "I saw Adrian Peterson, Ray Lewis, guys like that. I just kept clicking videos and thought, I want to do that."

He picked up the sport as a teenager, later than most American players. At first, he played quarterback for the Hamburg Swans, learning on the fly and relying on raw athleticism. But even then, there were signs that his path might look different.

One teammate, familiar with U.S. recruiting, offered advice that stuck:

If anyone here could do it, you could.

That was the spark Rogosch needed.

From there, Rogosch entered the world of international recruiting showcases. He attended a camp in Germany run by a program that identifies global talent and connects players with American colleges. He quickly stood out, earning an invitation to a summer tour where prospects travel to the U.S. to perform in front of college coaches.

Then everything stopped.

COVID shut down travel, canceled tours and delayed his opportunity by nearly two years. While players in the U.S. continued to develop within structured systems, Rogosch was largely on his own.

"It was very restrictive," he said. "No gyms, no practices. I trained in my room or outside by myself."

During that time, he worked in IT and software development, trying to balance a normal career with an uncertain dream. It would have been easy to move on. Instead, he doubled down.

A former player who had made the jump from Germany to Division I football returned home during the pandemic and helped reshape Rogosch's future. The message was direct. If you want to play in the United States, it will not be as a quarterback.

Rogosch listened.

He transitioned to the defensive line, learning the position from scratch. The change fit his size and physical style, but more importantly, it showed a willingness to adapt. That trait would define his journey.

When travel finally reopened in 2022, he made his long-awaited trip to the United States for summer camps. It did not go as planned. At his first stop, he tore his hamstring.

For many, that injury would have ended the journey. Not for Rogosch.

"I waited two years for that," he said. "I was not going home."

He pushed through multiple camps, performing in pain and doing whatever he could to be evaluated. His final stop was at Troy. Coaches noticed more than just his size. They saw toughness, persistence and a player willing to endure discomfort for a chance.

Shortly after returning to Germany, he got the call. He had an offer.

That moment changed everything.

Leaving home meant more than just switching teams. Rogosch moved across the world, away from his family and into a completely different culture. The adjustment was immediate and, at times, overwhelming.

The heat in Alabama hit first. Fall camp practices were unlike anything he had experienced.

"I had never played in heat like that," he said. "The humidity was the biggest adjustment."

Then came the language barrier. Rogosch understood English well enough, but speaking it fluently in a fast-paced football environment was a different challenge. Learning playbooks, communicating with teammates and handling daily life required constant effort.

At the same time, he was stepping into a culture where football carries a level of importance that does not exist in Germany.

"In Germany, it's a niche sport," he said. "Here, it's everything. People love it. It's like a religion."

That part, at least, felt right.

Inside the program, older players helped ease the transition. Teammates brought him in, showed him the routine and treated him like one of their own. For someone arriving without family or a support system nearby, that mattered.

"It was a warm welcome," he said. "That made it a lot easier."

On the field, his path was anything but straightforward. Rogosch arrived as a defensive end but did not see immediate playing time. The roster was deep with experienced players, and he understood his role.

Instead of pushing back, he embraced it.

"You have to find a way to contribute," he said. "You're not going to come in and be the star right away."

That mindset led to another major transition. With injuries impacting the roster, coaches approached him about switching to tight end. Once again, he said yes.

He spent nights in the film room, learning an entirely new position and absorbing as much as possible in a short period of time. His first snaps came on special teams. Then came limited offensive reps. Slowly, his role grew.

"I never looked back," he said.

Off the field, Rogosch continued adjusting to life in the United States. Some changes were small but meaningful. He learned to appreciate American barbecue and wings. He introduced teammates to German cooking, making meals like schnitzel and hosting small gatherings.

Other adjustments were more personal.

He missed home, especially his family and the comfort of familiar routines. Late-night calls helped bridge the gap. His father watches games from Germany, often staying up into the early morning hours to follow his son's progress.

When his sister visited Troy, it gave Rogosch a chance to share his new life with someone from home.

"That was a dream come true," he said.

Now, with his college career nearing its final chapter, Rogosch has a clear perspective on how far he has come. From a late start in Germany to navigating a pandemic, position changes and a new country, his journey has required constant adjustment.

The next step is simple in theory, though difficult in practice.

Make the most of what is left.

He plans to finish his degree, begin graduate studies and focus fully on football. A professional opportunity would be the ultimate goal. If it does not happen, he has built a foundation that extends beyond the field.

Still, the dream that started with late-night highlight videos has not faded.

It has just become more real.

And for Fabian Rogosch, that is enough motivation to keep going.

TAKING TROJANS TO NEW HEIGHTS.

TJ THOMPSON

TJ THOMPSON: WAITING HIS TURN AND MAKING HIS MARK

By: Catherine Forbes

Waiting can be difficult for some, especially when you want to make an impact immediately. TJ Thompson is a prime example of how waiting patiently for your time to shine is just as important as actually shining.

The senior from Bolton, Mississippi, has experienced both the highs and lows that are part of the journey of a college football player, but through every up and down, he has remained patient and trusted that his time would come.

"Even when you are not playing, you still have value," Thompson said. "Everybody wants to come in and make plays immediately, but sometimes you have to wait your turn."

Thompson began his college football career at a junior college before transferring to Troy in 2023. During his first two years at Troy, he played a lot of snaps on special teams and sat behind upperclassmen. He redshirted his second season at Troy after playing in only four games, but he knew that his time would come if he remained patient. During his redshirt season, Thompson became a student of the game and took notes from the players in front of him.

"One of the guys I looked up to, J-Rock, became a mentor for me. He took me under his wing, and I was able to learn a lot from him," Thompson said. "He taught me a lot."

Thompson credits his former teammate, Jordan Stringer, with teaching him a lot during his first few years at Troy. Stringer, a former linebacker and team captain for the Trojans, helped Thompson better understand the game and the linebacker position. Stringer's experience and willingness to pass the torch is something that did not go unnoticed and will never be forgotten.

"Your time is going to come. You just have to have faith in the man above and know that things will not happen overnight," Thompson said. "It takes a lot of failing to win."

After two years of mainly playing on special teams, Thompson had a breakout season for the Trojans in 2025. Playing in all 14 games, Thompson recorded 44 tackles, a sack, a fumble recovery, an interception and a touchdown. Thompson knew that his time would come and that if he stayed diligent and put in the work, his efforts would not be denied.

"I love my family. They keep me grounded," Thompson said. "My sisters are my why. There is no better feeling than seeing them run up to me after a game."

Thompson, the son of Nikki and Timothy Thompson Sr., gives his family all the credit for supporting him throughout this journey. His mother, Nikki, made sure that he had good grades in the classroom, while his father, Timothy, stayed on him about football. His younger sisters, Tahiry, Taleah and Timbrel, look up to him and everything that he does. The love and support from his family have carried him through this journey, and he continues to strive to make them proud.

"It may seem like the journey was easy, but everything isn't always what it seems to be," Thompson said.

In his final season, Thompson has earned the starting linebacker spot and continues to shine for the Trojans. He has become one of the leaders of Troy's defense and continues to grow and learn along the way. The journey to where he is today may not have been easy, but it has been worth every high and low that led up to this point.

"I want to be remembered as a great person and a great teammate," Thompson said. "I also want people to respect what I've done on and off the field."

JABARI STRAIT

JABARI STRAIT: JOURNEY BUILT ON TOUGHNESS

By: Jaxon Leverette

For Jabari Strait, football has been part of his life for as long as he can remember. From starting the game at four years old to becoming a member of the Troy football program, Strait's journey has been shaped by hard work, family support and a commitment to the values he believes define a Trojan.

A native of Birmingham, Alabama, Strait attended McAdory High School, where his football journey continued to develop. Starting the sport at such a young age gave him years to grow as a player and develop the passion that eventually led him to the collegiate level.

When it came time to choose where he wanted to continue his football career, Troy stood out for a reason that aligned with the type of player he wanted to become.

Strait was drawn to the Trojans because of their reputation for defensive toughness and believed the program would be a good fit for him. The opportunity to join a team built around that identity made Troy the right place to continue developing his game.

For Strait, however, being a Trojan means more than what happens between the lines.

"To be a good person first and being disciplined and tough," Strait said.

Those qualities reflect the standard Strait wants to uphold as a member of the Troy football program. Toughness and discipline are important on the field, but he also believes being a Trojan means carrying himself the right way away from the game.

Behind that mindset is a support system that has been with him since the beginning. Strait credits his parents as the people who have had the greatest impact on his football journey. Their belief in him and the sacrifices they have made have helped him reach the position he is in today.

His parents have remained a constant source of encouragement, supporting his development and helping him pursue his goals. Their commitment has played an important role in his journey from a young boy first learning the game to a college football player representing Troy University.

Strait also maintains a simple routine on game days that keeps him connected to his family. He does not consider himself a particularly superstitious person, but one tradition has become part of his preparation before every game.

Before taking the field, Strait sends his mother a picture of his locker. The two then pray together, giving him a moment to connect with home before competing.

It is a small tradition, but one that reflects the importance of family in his life. Even as football takes him farther from where his journey began, that connection remains a constant.

As Strait looks ahead, his goals for the season are straightforward. He wants to help Troy win every game, perform to the best of his ability and allow the rest to take care of itself.

Rather than focusing on individual recognition or things outside his control, Strait is committed to giving his best effort and contributing to the team's success. His approach centers on preparation, discipline and trusting the work he puts in every day.

For Strait, the foundation was built long before he arrived at Troy. It began in Birmingham, where he first picked up a football at 4 years old, and continued through the support and sacrifices of the parents who helped him pursue his dream.

Now, wearing the Trojan uniform, Strait has the opportunity to put those lessons into action.

With a commitment to toughness, discipline and team success, he is focused on making the most of his opportunity at Troy — one game at a time.

TROY UNIVERSITY™

Troy University was founded in 1887 as a college to train educators for Alabama's schools under the founding motto "Educate the mind to think, the body to act and the heart to feel."

Today, nearly 140 years later, TROY has grown into a dynamic, international university with an emphasis on academic excellence, technological advancement, outreach and research. However, that motto remains at the core of TROY's student-center philosophy. With an average student to teacher ratio of 19 to 1, students benefit from a setting where they are known not by a number but by name. That personalized attention helps to ensure that students are prepared with the skills and tools necessary to be successful in the global marketplace.

TROY's educational excellence has been recognized by national publications such as Forbes magazine, U.S. News & World Report, Niche.com, and The Princeton Review, among others. In 2025, TROY was named among the best colleges and universities in the Southern U.S. by The Princeton Review for the 21st consecutive year. TROY's commitment to serving the military has also been consistently recognized by publications such as G.I. Jobs magazine, Military Times and Military Advanced Education.

Recent capital improvements, new academic programs and an increased focus on research and innovation has only further enhanced the University's standing on the international stage.

In 2023, the Alabama Commission on Higher education approved an instructional role change for TROY, designating the University as a doctoral institution and allowing for the addition of other doctoral degree options. In 2025, TROY advanced to the highest level of degree classification by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges and was also achieved Doctoral Classification in the modernized 2025 Carnegie Institutional Classifications.

"From our beginnings as a teacher's college to our recognition today as a doctoral institution at the highest level, Troy University's story is one of steady growth and success," said Dr. Jack Hawkins, Jr., Chancellor. "Achieving Level VI recognition affirms the hard work of our faculty and staff, the vision of our leadership team, and the dedication of our students and alumni. It is a milestone that not only reflects how far we have come but also paves the way for even greater achievements in the years ahead."

In 2025, TROY has added a Ph.D. in Criminology and a concentration in Global Healthcare Leadership in the Global Leadership Ph.D. program. Those new options join the University's portfolio of doctoral degree programs that include the Doctor of Nursing Practice and the Ph.D. in Sport Management.

Earlier this year, TROY became only the second public university in the nation to be approved to offer the Doctor of Chiropractic. The program, which will be housed at the University's Dothan Campus, is expected to welcome its first cohort of students in Fall 2027.

"This historic addition to our academic portfolio represents Troy University's continued commitment to expanding access to quality healthcare education," Hawkins said. "By becoming only the second public institution in the nation to offer this program, we are not only breaking new ground in higher education but also addressing a critical need for healthcare professionals in our region. This program exemplifies our mission to provide innovative, affordable education that serves our communities."

Academic excellence took center stage in 2025 as TROY launched its University Honors Global Scholars program. Consisting of students distinguished by exceptional academic achievement, leadership and community engagement, the inaugural class represented all academic colleges and brought together students from more than 23 majors. The class boasted a median unweighted GPA of 4.2 and a median ACT score of 32, and 10 percent of students ranked in the top 5 percent of their graduating high school class.

"This inaugural class of Global Scholars represents the future of Troy University," Hawkins said. "These students embody the values of excellence, leadership and service that have defined our institution from its founding, and we are proud to welcome them into the Trojan Family."

TROY's Sorrell College of Business also launched the Sorrell Society of International Fellows, an initiative aimed at identifying and nurturing the most academically gifted students to become global business leaders and global citizens. Fellows are selected through a competitive application process as an entering freshman and participate in a curriculum that seamlessly integrates with existing standards of AACSB-accredited programs across the various majors of the Sorrell College. A series of international experiences are designed to enrich the students' educational journey and global perspectives. In addition to celebrating academic achievement and excellence, the University also has focused on preparing students for careers in much needed career fields that are currently experiencing shortages of qualified workers.

The University's Trojans Teaching Trojans scholarship program more than doubled in size, placing students in area elementary and middle schools. Trojans Teaching Trojans continues as a promising strategy for confronting teacher shortages while cultivating dedicated future educators for local communities. Several new developments in the University's College of Health Sciences are aimed at helping provide highly prepared and qualified job candidates within the field of healthcare.

In 2025, TROY's Department of Kinesiology and Health Promotion transitioned to the School of Allied Health – a change that reflects both the department's remarkable growth and ambitious vision for the future.

Over the past three years, the department has experienced tremendous expansion. The university has successfully launched three new degree programs: the BS in Sport Coaching, BS in Nutrition, and BS in Interprofessional Health Science. These exciting additions join the established programs in exercise physiology, sport pedagogy (BS/MS Physical Education), Kinesiology (MS program), and sports medicine (MS Athletic Training).

The College of Health Sciences also launched academic programs and partnerships to help address the dire need for qualified candidates in the field of nursing.

The Accelerated Master of Science in Nursing, launched in December of 2025, provides an innovative pathway designed for individuals who hold a bachelor's degree in a non-nursing field and seek to transition into a professional nursing career.

TROY also partnered with Baptist Health to launch a new LPN-to-RN Bridge Program within its Associate of Science in Nursing program. The program creates a new pathway for licensed practical nurses to advance their education and help meet Alabama's growing demand for registered nurses.

With new partnerships and academic programs, its focus on academic excellence and research, and its continued growth as an institution, the University appropriately launched a new brand campaign in 2025 that celebrates the authentic, transformative experiences that make being a Trojan special. Titled "All Ways Real. Always TROY", the campaign highlights the values of discovery, exploration, persistence, leadership and mutual support that define the Trojan experience.

University Chancellor
37th year
University of Montevallo, '67

Dr. Jack Hawkins, Jr., a native of Mobile, Alabama, was named Chancellor of Troy University Sept. 1, 1989. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Montevallo and his doctorate from the University of Alabama. Dr. Hawkins is the longest-serving chief executive officer of a public university in the United States.

Upon completion of his bachelor's degree in 1967, Hawkins was commissioned a lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps and served as a platoon leader during the Vietnam War. For his combat duty, he received the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart and a citation from the Korean Marine Corps.

Hawkins has overseen an era of change and growth at TROY, as he led the merger of the worldwide Troy State University System into the unified Troy University, an initiative called "One Great University." More than $375 million has been invested in capital improvements by the Hawkins Administration, including new academic buildings on each of TROY's Alabama campuses. Chancellor Hawkins served as the catalyst for the University's evolution to an international institution, as TROY has attracted record numbers of students from other nations and established teaching sites around the world. During his tenure, academic standards for admission have been increased, new degree programs were established in all academic colleges, and intercollegiate athletics joined the highest level of NCAA competition.

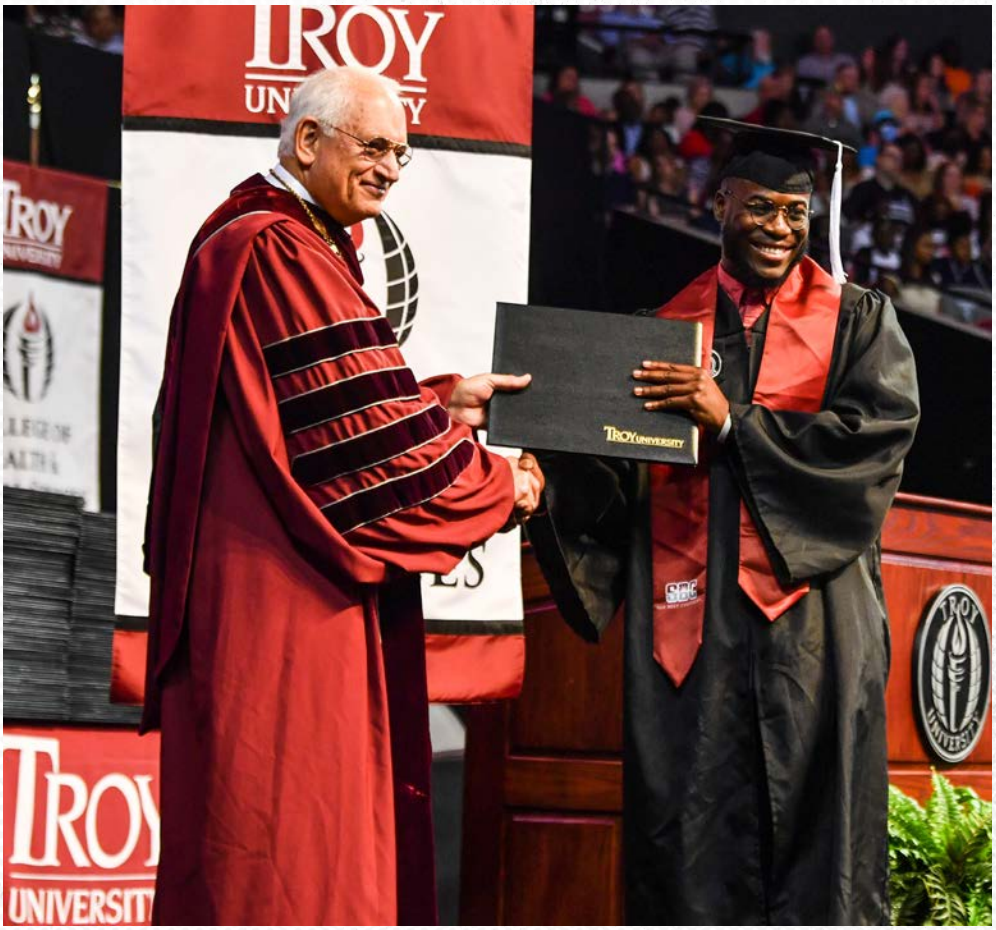

Hawkins' professional background includes his service as an assistant dean at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (1971-1979) and as president of the Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind in Talladega (1979-1989).

In 1985, he was honored by the University of Montevallo as Distinguished Alumnus of the Year, and was the recipient of the 2003 All-American Football Foundation's "Top College President" Award. In 2005 he was inducted into the Hall of Fame of Murphy High School in Mobile, Alabama. In 2007 he was recognized as the "Alabama Citizen of the Year" by the Alabama Broadcasters Association. In 2011, Dr. Hawkins was recognized with the Chief Executive Leadership Award presented by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) and as the March of Dimes River Region Citizen of the Year. In 2012 he received the Distinguished Public Service Award from the Secretary of the Air Force for his service on the Air University Board of Visitors from 2004-2012. In 2014 he was one of nine university presidents/chancellors worldwide—and the only one in North America—to receive the World Confucius Institute's Individual Performance Excellence Award. In October 2016 Dr. Hawkins was inducted into the Alabama Academy of Honor. In 2024, Dr. Hawkins was the recipient of the Armed Forces Merit Award, presented by the Football Writers Association of America.

Three buildings are named in his honor: the "Jack and Janice Hawkins Chapel" at the Alabama Institute for Deaf and Blind, the "Hawkins-Adams-Long Hall of Honor" and "Jack Hawkins, Jr. Hall" which serves the College of Education of Troy University. Hawkins was profiled as part of two books published in 2004: "Above and Beyond: Former Marines Conquer the Civilian World" by Rudy Socha and Carolyn Darrow and "The Entrepreneurial College President" by James L. Fisher and James V. Koch.

Hawkins serves on the board of directors of the Daniel Foundation, the Bennie Adkins Foundation, Business Council of Alabama, the American Village Trust, College Football Playoff Board of Managers, and Troy Bank and Trust Company. He has served as chairman of the Governor's Committee on Employment of the Disabled, Board of Visitors of Marine Corps University, Better Business Bureau of Central Alabama, and past President of the Sun Belt Conference. He has also served on the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU), as Chairman of the Council of University Presidents in Alabama, as President of the Southland Football League, as chairman of the Air University Board of Visitors, as a trustee of Talladega College, the Helen Keller Eye Research Foundation, and the American Foundation for the Blind. He is a member of the Troy Rotary Club.

Dr. Hawkins is married to Janice Hawkins, and they have two daughters, Katie, a former officer in the USAF who is married to Air Force Col. Dan Beall; and Kelly, an attorney and member of the Troy University faculty who is married to Adam Godwin, a former professional baseball player and a member of the Troy University baseball staff. Dr. and Mrs. Hawkins are the proud grandparents of Noah and Ellyotte, who live in Maryland, and Micah Mae and Griffey Jack, who live in Troy.

KYLE GEORGE

Director of Athletics
2nd Year
Samford University, '11

Kyle George was named Troy University's Director of Athletics on Nov. 5, 2025, after a three-month tenure as Interim Director of Athletics. Prior to his time as Interim Director of Athletics, George served as Deputy Director of Athletics for External Operations and has been a member of the Troy Athletics Department for nearly nine years.

In his short term as Athletics Director, Troy Athletics has reached new levels of athletic success.

Troy Baseball finished the 2026 season ranked No. 6 nationally by Baseball America and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association of America after winning the Gainesville Regional, Troy Super Regional and advancing to the Men's College World Series in Omaha, where the Trojans eliminated Ole Miss from the tournament.

Troy Athletics hosted the Troy Super Regional on three days notice as Riddle-Pace Field welcomed almost 14,000 fans for the two games; capacity for Riddle-Pace Field is just 2,000.

Additionally, Troy men's basketball returned to March Madness for a second straight season after rolling through the Sun Belt, winning both the regular season and tournament championships.

Troy Football won the Sun Belt West Division for a third time in the last four years, one again advancing to the Sun Belt Championship Game and then the IS4S Salute to Veterans Bowl in Montgomery.

Back on the hardwood, Troy women's basketball made history, earning an at-large berth in the WBIT, where the Trojans played Kansas in historic Allen Fieldhouse.

Off the field, Troy student-athletes posted a 3.20 grade-point-average, with 13-of-15 programs finishing the spring semester with a team GPA of 3.0 of higher.

Nearly 75 percent of Troy's student-athletes finished the spring with a 3.0 GPA or higher, while 57 student-athletes posted a perfect 4.0 GPA in the spring.

George helped secure a 7-year deal with Troy Regional Medical Center for logo placement on the apron at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

One of George's first announcements as Troy's Athletics Director was the addition of a football game at Auburn to open the 2031 season; it will be the first-ever meeting against either Auburn or Alabama.

George also made three key hires during his first year as Athletics Director. He hired Adam Howard to lead the men's basketball program, Jake Wyman to take over soccer and J.D. Lamm for women's golf.

In his role as Deputy Director of Athletics, George had oversight of marketing, communications, development, revenue share, NIL activations, advertising, ticket sales, Troy Sports Properties, broadcasting, promotions, fan engagement, fan experience, branding, licensing and trademarks. He also served as the sport administrator for the baseball program and was responsible for football scheduling.

Troy has continued to set numerous benchmarks during his tenure, including record-breaking attendance numbers for Troy football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball and softball. The Troy brand has continued to grow under his watch, with licensing revenues increasing by nearly 140 percent during his time overseeing the licensing program.

Football scheduling has been one of the key portions of his responsibilities with the Trojans. In total, George has negotiated more than $8M in game guarantees for the Troy football program. He has also secured home-and-home future football series against Army, BYU, UAB, Middle Tennessee, Buffalo, Nevada and Sam Houston State.

George has negotiated long-term business partnerships for the athletics department that will continue to drive revenue for years to come. Within the last year, he has negotiated fruitful extensions with Playfly Sports Properties, Affinity Licensing and Learfield AMPLIFY that will continue to pave the way for revenue growth for the department.

As Deputy Director of Athletics, George played a key role in the hiring process for three of the most recent successful coaches to join the athletics department. The selection of Gerad Parker (football), Skylar Meade (baseball) and Clay Bounds (men's golf) took place with George assisting heavily in the identification and interview process.

In his role overseeing the external units for the athletics department, the Trojans have experienced record revenues over the last five years. Each of the previous five years has resulted in new records established in terms of ticket revenue, sponsorship revenue, licensing revenue and philanthropic donations.

Prior to arriving at Troy, George served in various roles within the athletics department at Southern Mississippi. He began his career with the Golden Eagles in August of 2011 as a graduate assistant. Over the course of six and a half years, George was promoted several times before being elevated to his final role as Associate Athletics Director of Marketing and Communications at Southern Miss. Along the way, he primarily oversaw the marketing efforts for the Golden Eagles and helped establish numerous attendance and revenue records.

A native of Hoover, Ala., George graduated from Samford University with his bachelor's degree and earned his master's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi.

His wife, Lynne, serves as the Director of the IDEA Bank at Troy University. They have two young boys, Grayson and Graham.

Gerad Parker, who led Troy to its third Sun Belt Championship Game appearance in the last four seasons, returns as Troy's head coach in 2026. Parker led the Trojans to a four-win improvement in 2025, including a five-win streak and a victory over South Alabama in the "Battle for the Belt".

Parker's second season was another in which he had to navigate serious injuries on the offensive side of the ball. Quarterback Goose Crowder suffered an injury on the fourth snap in Week 3 that cost him the following six games, while Troy's offensive line had multiple season-ending injuries, and the unit ended the year with just one of the original starting five still in the lineup.

Defensive and special teams led the way for the Trojans as Evan Crenshaw earned a trio of First Team All-America honors (FWAA, Sporting News, Phil Steele), Troy's first First Team All-American since 2007, while Donnie Smith led the Sun Belt in sacks – both players returned for the 2026 season.

Troy finished third nationally with five defensive touchdowns and 22nd with 2.64 sacks per game. Crenshaw was the first-ever Sun Belt Special Teams Player of the Year, and Smith became the second Trojan in the last three years to lead the league in sacks.

Parker's squad led No. 8 Clemson, 16-3, at halftime in Week 2, won big road games at Buffalo, Texas State and Southern Miss – the win over the Golden Eagles came on the final Saturday of the season and was a winner-take-all battle to represent the Sun Belt West in the SBC Championship Game.

Troy's momentum carried over to the offseason, where Parker and company signed the top recruiting class in the Sun Belt, second-ranked in the G5 (Boise State) and best in program history per On3. Additionally, the class ranked ahead of Penn State, Wisconsin, Colorado and others.

In his first season at Troy, the Trojans produced the first 1,000-yard rushing and receiving duo in more than a decade and just the third in program history as Damien Taylor rushed for 1,010 yards and Devonte Ross recorded 1,043 receiving yards; Troy's first since 2012.

Parker guided Troy to one of the best months of November in the country, as the Trojans won three of their final four games of the season and ranked as the nation's 19th-best offense and 25th-best defense that month.

His first season saw him inherit one of the most inexperienced teams in the country and then the loss of his starting quarterback after just 11 quarters of play. Troy's 12 players in their final year of eligibility were the fewest in the country, while Troy's 46 scholarship newcomers ranked as the third most nationally.

Ross finished the regular season fifth nationally with 11 touchdown catches and 15th in receiving yards. Additionally, Troy was one of the most efficient teams in the country, ranking second in the red zone and fifth on third downs.

Ten Trojans landed on All-Sun Belt Teams, highlighted by Ross' inclusion thrice, as a first team receiver and all-purpose selection and as the return specialist on the second team. Eight of Troy's 10 All-SBC picks had remaining eligibility.

The Trojans landed the Sun Belt's top recruiting class in Dec. 2024, signing 15 players with an 83.54 average per industry leader On3.

Parker led a Notre Dame offense in 2023 that ranked eighth nationally, averaging 39.1 points per game, in addition to ranking 12th in passing efficiency and 29th in total offense. Audric Estime was one of the nation's elite running backs, ranking third in rushing touchdowns (18), eighth in rushing yards per game (111.8) and ninth in rushing yards (1,341).

Behind Parker's offense, the Fighting Irish posted a 9-3 record against one of the nation's most challenging schedules, including four straight games against ranked opponents. Offensive tackle Joe Alt was a consensus All-America selection, while Estime was named to the Associated Press All-America Team.

Notre Dame's offense increased production across the board in Parker's lone season calling the plays in South Bend. The Irish improved their scoring by more than a touchdown per game, in addition to seeing increases in yards per game, passing yards per game, yards per play and red zone scoring.

In his first season at Notre Dame, Parker coached the Irish tight ends and helped guide Michael Mayer to a consensus All-America season, as Mayer finished his career as the most prolific pass catching end in school history. Mayer led the Irish with 67 catches for 809 yards and nine touchdowns in 2022, finishing his time at Notre Dame first on the program charts for tight end catches (180), receiving yards (2,099) and touchdowns (18).

Parker joined the Notre Dame staff following two seasons with former Troy head coach Neal Brown at West Virginia, where he was the offensive coordinator and receivers coach.

In his final season with the Mountaineers, WVU knocked off Texas and No. 15 Virginia Tech en route to an appearance in the Guaranteed Rate Bowl. In 2020, despite having to deal with the COVID-19 pandemic, West Virginia had one of the most improved offenses in the nation in terms of total yards, showing gains of more than 60 yards rushing per game, almost 30 yards passing a game, more than 90 yards of total offense and almost seven more points a game.

The offensive line had a productive year, with Leddie Brown rushing for 1,010 yards and nine touchdowns and Jarret Doege throwing for more than 2,500 yards and 14 touchdowns.

As Penn State's receivers coach and passing game coordinator in 2019, the Nittany Lions' offense averaged 35.8 points per game, ranking 15th nationally. Additionally, Penn State ranked 21st in red zone offense (90.4) and averaged 13.3 yards per completion, ranking No. 33 nationally.

Parker spent two years on the football staff at Duke (2017-18). During the 2018 season, his wide receivers accounted for 2,252 passing yards of the Blue Devils' 3,199 total offensive yards (70.4%).

He served his first year as the football operations assistant working with the offense in 2017. The Blue Devils offense had three All-ACC selections and, for the first time in program history, had three players with 500 or more rushing yards and a quarterback throw for more than 2,500 yards. Parker spent the spring as the running backs coach at Cincinnati before heading to Duke.

Prior to that, Parker spent four seasons at Purdue, where he coached the tight ends (2013-14) and wide receivers (2015-16). He was the recruiting coordinator and served as the interim head coach for the final six weeks of the 2016 season.

Parker spent two years as the wide receivers coach at Marshall (2011-12). The Thundering Herd led the nation in passing offense, averaging 365.1 yards per game. Receiver Tommy Shuler led the country and set the school record for receptions (110), ranking 18th nationally in yards per game (94.8).

Parker spent three seasons at UT-Martin as the running backs coach (2008), wide receivers coach (2009-10) and the passing game coordinator and recruiting coordinator (2010). He started his coaching career at Raceland High School in Raceland, Kentucky, and spent the 2007 season as a graduate assistant coach at Kentucky.

Parker earned two degrees from Kentucky, his bachelor's degree in business management in 2003 and his master's in education in 2005. He was a four-year letterwinner for the Wildcats, where he was a Southeastern Conference Scholar Athlete Honor Roll selection (2002-03) and CoSIDA Academic All-District IV Second Team honoree (2004).

A native of Louisa, Kentucky, Parker played at Lawrence County High School and set state receiving records with 238 catches, 4,814 yards and 52 touchdowns.

He and his wife, Kandi, have three daughters, Kolbi, Gwyneth and Rosalyn, and a son, Oliver.

- Third Season at Troy
- 15th Season Overall
- Duke, '09

Re'quan Boyette returns for his third season as Troy's running backs coach in 2026 following two seasons at East Carolina and a 10-year career at Duke, where he was a two-time team captain as a player for the Blue Devils.

Boyette navigated injuries in his room throughout the 2025 season, including the loss of starter Trey Cooley three days before the start of the season. Tae Meadows and Jordan Lovett combined to rush for more than 1,000 yards and eight touchdowns; Meadows' 186 yards in the opener against Nicholls was the third-most in a season opener in program history.

The Trojans won the Sun Belt West Division title and played in the IS4S Salute to Veterans Bowl.

In his first season, Damien Taylor burst on to the scene as one of the nation's top running backs as he became the 11th player in program history (13th overall time) to reach the 1,000-yard mark. After rushing for 376 yards and two touchdowns in his career, Taylor finished as the Sun Belt's second-leading rusher with 1,010 yards and seven touchdowns in 2023.

Taylor ranked 12th in the country (min. 170 carries), averaging 3.99 yards after contact (third among G5 backs). Additionally, Gerald Green rushed for 545 yards and three touchdowns, as the pair combined to top the 100-yard mark seven times on the season.

Boyette coached the Pirates' outside receivers in 2022 and mentored a group that tallied 134 receptions for 1,689 yards (12.6 ypc) with 10 touchdowns before coaching ECU's running backs in 2023.

He worked his way up the ranks at Duke, beginning as a graduate assistant in 2012 before moving into a full time role in 2013 and eventually the co-offensive coordinator in 2021.

Nathan Burton returns Troy in 2026 for his third season as the Trojans' co-defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach.

Troy linebackers have earned All-Sun Belt honors in both his seasons, including Jordan Stringer's first team selection in 2025 after he finished the year as one of just six players in the country to record at least 120 tackles and 11 tackles for loss. Stringer recorded 123 tackles, 11.5 tackles for loss, 2.5 sacks and four pass break ups.

Troy ranked third nationally with five defensive touchdowns, 26th in red zone defense (77.8 percent), 22nd in sacks (2.64) and 33rd in tackles for loss (6.2) as the Trojans won the Sun Belt West Division title and played in the IS4S Salute to Veterans Bowl.

In his inaugural campaign, Brendan Jackson led all Sun Belt linebackers with 16 tackles for loss, ranking third overall in the league, while Stringer added 7.5 from his weakside linebacker position.

The pair finished with identical tackle totals to finish tied for 15th in the league and both earned All-Sun Belt honors. Jackson recorded 4.5 tackles for loss at South Alabama, 0.5 off the single-game record, and added four in the finale victory over Southern Miss.

Burton came to Troy with more than 16 years of coaching experience after spending a season at Kennesaw State, plus stops at Georgia Tech, Temple, NC State and Oklahoma State. Additionally, he has experience in the state coaching at West Alabama and began his career under head coach Chan Gailey, who won a National Championship at Troy, as a graduate assistant at Georgia Tech.

CALEB CARBINE

OFFENSIVE LINE

- Sixth Season at Troy
- 11th Season Overall
- Troy, '15

Former Troy offensive lineman Caleb Carbine returns to his alma mater for his third season coaching the Trojan offensive line in 2026.

Carbine had one of the most challenging coaching jobs in the country in his first two seasons, as the Trojans deployed six different starting OL units both seasons due to injuries.

The 2025 unit was led by a pair of All-Sun Belt selections as Eli Russ took home second team honors and Matt Henry earned third team honors. The Trojans won the Sun Belt West Division title and played in the IS4S Salute to Veterans Bowl.

His first season saw the six different lineups come in the first eight weeks of the season. Once able to field a stable unit, Carbine's offensive line gelled into one of the tops in the Group of Five.

The Trojans allowed just four sacks in November, the fewest in the Sun Belt, and the offensive line paved the way for Damien Taylor to rush for 1,010 yards, the 13th 1,000-yard season in program history.

Carbine's unit blocked for three different starting quarterbacks throughout the 2024 season and allowed for just the third 1,000-yard rushing/receiving combo in program history, as Devonte Ross joined Taylor in the 1,000-yard club.

Daniel King earned All-Sun Belt honors after moving from guard to tackle, where he finished as the Sun Belt's second-best run blocker in addition to allowing just two sacks.

Carbine joined the Troy staff following one season as a senior offensive analyst at Notre Dame under Troy head coach Gerad Parker.

Jaquez White earned All-Sun Belt second team honors, while Kaleno Levine played 876 snaps, the third-most by a cornerback in the Sun Belt and held opponents to a 61.2 percent completion percentage (30-of-49), the 11th best in the SBC by a corner with 500 or more snaps. White ranked seventh in the country with 14 passes defended and 15th with 11 pass break ups.

Troy ranked third nationally with five defensive touchdowns, 26th in red zone defense (77.8 percent), 22nd in sacks (2.64) and 33rd in tackles for loss (6.2) as the Trojans won the Sun Belt West Division title and played in the IS4S Salute to Veterans Bowl.

TEAM NOTES

• When playing as four-year institutions, ULM and Troy have competed 23 previous times, Troy holding the edge with a 13-9-1 record in a series dating back to 1970. The last win the Warhawks had over the Trojans was 2024, a 13-9 victory on the road. Last season, Troy came to Monroe and defeated ULM, 37-14. When playing at Troy, the Trojans hold a 9-3 advantage.

• In 2024, the Warhawks defeated Troy on the road for the first time since 2013, in a Sun Belt-opening victory. It was head coach Bryant Vincent's first Sun Belt victory at the helm of the Warhawks, in a 13-9 score. In the defensive battle, both teams traded field goals, while ULM running back Ahmad Hardy set the team up for success with a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

• For the third time this season, ULM is headed to compete in Alabama. Earlier in the season, the Warhawks faced UAB (L, 20-26), then faced South Alabama (L, 35-52). The last time the Warhawks faced three opponents on the road in the same state–outside of Louisiana–was 2024, when the teams traveled to Troy and South Alabama, along with Auburn.

• On the 2026 roster, ULM welcomes back 49 returners and brings in 56 newcomers, providing an 48% retention rate from 2025. Out of the newcomers, the Warhawks welcome 10 first-years, 23 NCAA transfers and 23 JUCO transfers to the bayou. Out of those returning to Monroe, 20 have played with ULM for one year, 21 for two years, three for three years and four for four years.

SOUND OF THE SOUTH

The Troy University Band Program enjoys nationwide recognition as one of the finest and most comprehensive musical organizations of its kind. Troy instrumentalists not only have the opportunity to participate in the renowned "Sound of the South" Marching Band, but also have the opportunity to perform in the Symphony Band, four concert bands, jazz Ensembles, the Basketball Pep Band and various small ensembles.

The 2025 - 2026 year marked the 60th Anniversary of The "Sound of the South" Marching Band. Dr. John M. Long created the band in its current form in the fall of 1965. The "Sound of the South" Marching Band entertains audiences regularly at all Troy home games and several away games. Recent away appearances include Troy University's bowl appearances at the Silicon Valley Classic in San Jose, Calif., the GMAC Bowl in Mobile, Ala., and appearances at the New Orleans Bowl in the Louisiana Superdome and the Cure Bowl in Orlando, Florida. In fact, over the past few years, the "South of the South" Marching Band has traveled tens of thousands of miles entertaining audiences literally from coast to coast.

Additionally, the "Sound" has been featured on all major broadcast and sports networks including ESPN, Fox Sports South and USA television networks. Other honors which the "Sound of the South" has received is the representation of the State of Alabama at the Inaugural Parades of President Richard Nixon (1969 and 1973), President Ronald Reagan (1985), and President George Bush (1989). The "Sound" has also performed halftime shows with Grammy Award-winning artists Brian McKnight, Lee Greenwood, The Temptations and Rock and Roll Hall of Fame member, Chubby Checker.

The "Sound of the South" Pep Band performs at all men's and women's basketball home games. Comprised of 30 musicians from all academic disciplines, the pep band entertains the home crowd with great music and irreverent, energetic cheering. This group travels with men's and women's basketball to the Sun Belt Conference Tournament, as well as the NCAA Tournaments. Membership in the basketball pep band is by audition, and it performs from Mid-October to April each academic year.
The "Sound of the South" is the largest student organization on campus and its members have produced leaders in academics, student government, and athletics, as well as other areas of campus life.

For information regarding band scholarships auditions, please contact Dr. Mark Walker, Director of Bands at Troy University, Troy, AL 36082. Dr. Walker may be reached by phone at (334) 670-3281, or by email at troyband@troy.edu. You may also log on to the internet at www.troysoundofthesouth.org for information about scholarship auditions, special events, upcoming "Sound" schedules and general information about the "Sound of the South."
