Media Information

The staff of the Tulane University Athletic Communications Office will be available throughout the 2014-15 women's basketball season to accommodate any media requests. Following are some guidelines that should make it easier for media members to cover the Green Wave women's basketball team. Any additional questions should be directed to Josh Bates, Assistant Director of Athletic Communications.

Press Credentials

Credentials for all Tulane games are for working media only. Spouses, dates, children or other non-workers are not permitted in the working media areas. Requests for media credentials should be made via email or phone call to Josh Bates. Requests from the media covering visiting teams will be confirmed with that team's media relations director. Credentials can be picked up at the main ticket booth at Avron B. Fogelman Arena in Devlin Fieldhouse.

Photo Credentials

Only photographers on assignment and members of the television media will be given photo credentials. Accredited photographers are allowed on the court in designated areas.

Game Services

The Tulane Athletic Communications staff will be at your service throughout the game. All media will be provided with game programs, rosters, media guides, game notes and other pertinent information. Computer-generated statistics will be available at the conclusion of each game. Information provided includes play-by-play and individual and team statistics in standard NCAA box score format.

Radio Telephone Lines

ISDN, Pots and ethernet hookup for visiting radio is made available in our radio/TV booth at the top of the arena.

Post Game Interviews

Tulane head coach Lisa Stockton and requested players will be available to the media after each game following a customary 15-minute cooling down period. The Tulane locker room will not be open to the media. Each visiting team will set its own post-game policy.

Interview Policy

All Tulane players and coaches will be available throughout the 2015-16 season for interviews with members of the news media. It is important, however, that all requests for interviews be made through the Tulane Athletic Communications Office at (504) 865-5504. This policy allows us to arrange a time that will not interfere with a student-athlete's academic schedule, which has top priority. No student-athlete's home phone number will be released to ensure the player's privacy away from the court.

Calling Coach Stockton

The best way to reach head coach Lisa Stockton is through the Athletic Communications Office at (504) 865-5504.

Tulane Website

Notes, releases, statistics and other pertinent information are available at Tulane's official athletic website – www.TulaneGreenWave.com. Updated season statistics will be available following each game. The Green Wave web page also has profiles and features on Tulane coaches and student-athletes, online ticket sales and free Tulane sports updates delivered weekly to registered e-mail accounts.

American Athletic Conference

Updated statistics, results and information on the American Athletic Conference and its member institutions are available on the conference's website at www.american.org

Social Media

Be sure to follow the women's basketball team on Twitter @GreenWaveWBB and on Facebook.com/GreenWaveBB for all recaps, photos, behind the scenes imagery and in-game updates.

History of the Green Wave

From 1893 to 1919, the athletic teams of Tulane were known as the Olive and Blue. In 1919, the Tulane Weekly, one of Tulane's many student newspapers at the time, began calling the football team the Greenbacks.

On Oct. 20, 1920, Earl Sparling, the editor of the Tulane Hullabaloo, wrote a football song which was printed in the newspaper. The song was titled "The Rolling Green Wave." Although the name was not immediately adopted, it began to receive acceptance. A month later, a report of the Tulane-Mississippi A&M game in the Hullabaloo referred to the team as the Green Wave.

By the end of the season, the Hullabaloo was using the term Green Wave to refer to all Tulane athletic teams, as were many daily papers, although as late as 1923, the name Greenbacks was still in use.

In its infancy, Tulane's mascot was depicted as a pelican riding on a surf board. The surfing pelican image lasted for more than 50 years.

The "Greenie" was adopted in 1955. It was created by John Chase, a local cartoonist who drew the covers of the Tulane football program and those of many teams throughout the South.

When Dr. Rix Yard became the athletic director in 1963, he felt Tulane needed a more virile symbol for its teams. Working with Eldon Endacott, the manager of the Tulane bookstore, he arranged for a new mascot to be created. Several sketches were submitted by Art Evans, art director for Angelus-Pacific, Co., in Fullerton, Calif.

The angry-looking wave was adopted in 1964, and the block "T" with waves became the Tulane athletics logo in 1986.

Tulane unveiled a new family of marks in August 1998. The new logos featured the return of the pelican to the Green Wave look, along with the use of a "T" with a modern "wave" as a primary logo mark. A new pelican mascot was introduced and given the name Riptide by a vote of Tulane students.

Season Outlook

The 2015-16 Tulane Green Wave return after a successful first year in the American Athletic Conference. The Olive and Blue finished 22-11 overall, 11-7 in the conference, reached the semis of the American Conference Championships, received their first NCAA Tournament at-large bid since 2003, thus booking their 11th overall ticket to the Big Dance.

"For us, it was an exciting year in The American because we felt like it was a national conference that you could definitely get that recognition," head coach Lisa Stockton said. "It ended up being a perfect situation. We made a tough non-conference schedule, played in a tough conference and then got an at-large bid, which is certainly what you want. Having our team play a level like UConn has certainly opened their eyes to what's out there and what a great future we can have."

Coaching familiarity still reigns supreme at Tulane, as head coach Lisa Stockton returns for her 22nd season. Stockton achieved quite the milestone at the end of last year's season, crossing over the 500-career win plateau, currently sitting with a 501-242 record, which ranks 29th amongst all active NCAA Division-I coaches. Stockton also brings back all of her assistant coaches, as the unit has now been together for over four years.

The Wave lost a senior quartet of Jamie Kaplan, Danielle Blagg, Tiffany Dale and Adesewa Ebomwonyi, who contributed 89 wins over their four-year careers, compiling 46.1 percent of the team's scoring. To fill the void, the Tulane staff have brought in six newcomers, featuring five freshmen. It marks the first time the Green Wave have had five freshmen since the 2010 season, which also happened to be an NCAA Tournament year.

Debuting for the Green Wave this year will be freshmen Ksenija Madzarevic (Novi Sad, Serbia), Harlyn Wyatt (Atlanta, Ga.), Taylor Emery (Tampa, Fla.), Tene Thompson (Powder Springs, Ga.), Meredith Schulte (Braselton, Ga.) and junior college transfer Shakira Harding (Houma, La.).

"We have six new players, with five of them being freshmen, and it's always an adjustment when you have new players in the program," Stockton stated. "The nice thing about our new people is that they are very talented. Although the system is new and there's a lot of challenges for them to adjust, I think they've done a great job of being able to come in and contribute. Just in the first couple of weeks of practice, I've seen an increase in intensity and they understand the system more. You can also see more confidence developing. When you have this mixture with the new and the old, you expect them to get better and this is one we can build momentum as we go, especially once we get into conference play."

What's also unique about this year's roster dynamic is that the six newcomers equal the number of returners in two sophomores (Kolby Morgan & Caylah Cruickshank), two juniors (Courtne Latham & Leslie Vorpahl) and two seniors (Chinwe Duru and Tierra Jones). Said returners helped Tulane achieve its sixth straight 20+ win season, sixth straight trip to the postseason, its ninth straight winning season, and a defense that ranked in the top-25 for over three-fourths of the season, holding eight opponents to 50 points or less.

"I think that's what's so special in my years at Tulane is that we have senior classes that really contribute and then have classes beneath them that are ready to step into their footsteps," Stockton explained. That's what our group has done.

Our returners have done a tremendous job all summer, sticking around campus to work out and to take all the freshmen under their wing and trying to show them the way. Our returners are excited to take a new role and that baton and lead this team. You look at what we are returning and there's a lot of quality players there."

Leslie Vorpahl

Kolby Morgan

A new offensive system is expected as well in the 2015-16 season. With eight guards on a roster of 12 players, Tulane will look to deploy four-guard sets more often, a scheme that was statistically validated from last year's squad.

"Definitely, but a lot of times there isn't much difference between a guard and a post. I mean, some of our freshmen guards are bigger than Tierra Jones, who started at the four last year. We're going to mix it in and have different kinds of lineups and a different system to integrate a lot of this guard play in. I will say that some of our guards are great rebounders. One of Kolby Morgan's greatest improvements was her rebounding. I look back in 2010, when we made the NCAA Tournament, we played with a four guard lineup and it was pretty exciting."

The Point Guards

When assessing the point guard position, look no further than junior Leslie Vorpahl, who has played in 61 total games with 19 starts. Last season, Vorpahl averaged 7.4 points, 2.4 assists, and 1.4 steals, which all finished in the top-3 on the team. Vorpahl surged in conference play, ranking in the top-15 amongst all American players in assists, steals, three-point percentage and three pointers per game. Vorpahl also shined in true road games, where she averaged 8.9 points and shot over 50 percent from both the field (51.7 percent) and beyond the arc (17-33).

Harding will also see time at the point, transferring in from Hutchinson Community College where her sophomore class was just the third group in school history to reach 70 wins in their first two seasons, compiling a 71-2 record, with both losses occurring in the NJCAA Division-I National Championship game. As a sophomore, Harding averaged 7.4 points, 2.5 rebounds and 2.6 assists while shooting 45.7 percent from the field.

Another option for the Wave is Caylah Cruickshank who played in 19 games in her debut season. The sophomore averaged 5.9 minutes setting a career high of six points, when she went on an individual 6-0 run vs Houston in the first round of the conference tournament.

"A lot of our positions are mixed but the point guard is not. Leslie Vorpahl has been in the starting lineup over her first two years in different positions. Last spring I handed her a green baton and said it's your time. Her game has improved and she's worked hard over the summer on her outside shooting. She's someone we're very confident at point. Shakira Harding has come in as a true point guard, transferring from junior college. We also have some other players that can go in and play that position when you look at both Caylah Cruickshank and Courtnie Latham, whose ball handling has really improved. There might be some changing with who plays that position, but I think we have some options."

The Shooting Guards

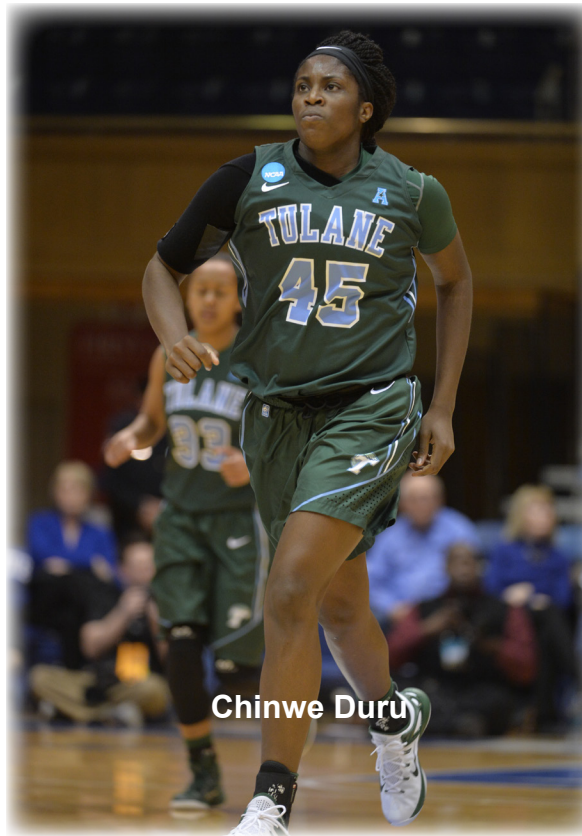

When looking at the rest of the guards, one must first start with sophomore standout Kolby Morgan, who started in all 33 games except the first two, averaging 28.5 minutes per game. Morgan ranked second amongst all freshmen in The American in scoring and 12th overall, with 12.2 points per game. Morgan was also the first Tulane freshman to be selected to an all-conference team, earning third team honors, in addition to becoming the ninth Green Wave ever to be selected for the All-Freshmen Team. Morgan led the team in scoring in 12 games and tallied a career high of 25 points vs. Western Kentucky. Lastly, the New Orleans native was very active off the ball, as she ranked second in the conference with 2.1 steals and ranked second on team with 4.5 rebounds.

Shooting guard Courtnie Latham, who could also see time at the point, played in all 33 games, starting in the final four of the year. Latham posted the strongest finish on the team, recording double-digit points in seven of the last 13 games. In fact, over the conference tournament, Latham averaged 13.3 points on 42.9 percent shooting, including a career best 15 points vs USF in the semis. Latham also led the team with a 77.8 shooting percentage from the free-throw line.

Up next is the freshmen trio of Taylor Emery, Meredith Schulte and Tene Thompson. Emery's 69.0 percent career shooting at Freedom High resulted in 2,689 career points. Emery emerged any further in her senior campaign, racking up 1,059 points, which was a new state record in Florida for high school girls' basketball. In addition, her 36.5 scoring average ranked second in the entire nation, earning her All-American status with Parade Magazine.

Schulte finished third in Mill Creek High School history with 1,172 career points, along with becoming the first player in school history to achieve a triple-double. Schulte was ranked the 16th best wing by ESPN and was named the 2015 Region 7A Player of the Year. Meanwhile, Tene Thompson lettered four years in basketball at Hillgrove High, where she led her squad to four straight playoff appearances, including a run to the 2012 6A state basketball championship game. Thompson was a 2015-All State honorable mention and a 2015 Naismith committee All-Metro honorable mention. Finally, Thompson also lettered four years in track where she was the 2015 High Jump State Champion.

Chinwe Duru

"This is one of those teams where we'll see that there's a point guard and a post and then everyone in between," Stockton said. "I think the exciting thing is that we have some players, who can score. One of Courtnie Latham's greatest improvements is that she's looking to score more. I can't say enough about Kolby Morgan. Last year she led us in scoring as a freshman. She has really improved her game and a lot is going to depend on her. You look at our Parade All-American, Taylor Emery, who has that scorer's mentality. You also have some versatility, whether it's a three or a two, with Meredith Schulte or Tene Thompson. Those players can come in and play different positions which is exciting."

The Posts

Chinwe Duru started in 14 games of 32 played, averaging 20.0 minutes. Duru recorded 10 games with double-digit points, averaging 6.6 over the season, and shot an impressive 51.0 percent from the field in conference play. Duru finished the season strong, making 15 of her last 30 shots for a combined 33 points in the last five games. The Texas native also ranked first on the team and seventh in the conference with 1.2 blocks per game.

Tierra Jones started in 22 of 30 total games played, where she averaged 4.1 points on a team best 53.3 percent shooting. Jones captured a career best 16 points at McNeese State, shooting a perfect 8-for-8 from the floor. Jones tied her career high of 10 rebounds at UALR and scored 12 points vs UNI, marking her fourth career game in double figures.

Harlyn Wyatt led Benjamin E. Mays High to a 27-3 record and first championship game since 2003. Wyatt, a 5A First Team All-State honoree, was a two-time All-Region 5A selection and a 2015 Naismith Award winner. Ranked the No. 2 post in Georgia, Wyatt averaged 16 points and eight rebounds as a senior. Finally, Ksenija Madzarevic attended Rabun Gap Nacoochee in Georgia where she averaged 6.1 points, 3.7 rebound, 1.7 assists and 2.8 blocks per game. The freshman was ranked the 49th best post in the country by ESPN after leading her squad to a 2015 State championship runner-up finish.

"Chinwe Duru had a great season last year, starting for us a majority of the year. Duru has worked really hard all summer on her game," Stockton said. "She's really enjoying being a senior and being that leader out there. Harlyn Wyatt has pleasantly been one of the biggest surprises of the year. She is mentally tough and that's probably the best way to describe her. She's going to be a player that really plays for us. She's physical, she can rebound, she picks up plays very easily, and you're going to see her on the floor quite a bit. Ksenija has been injured in the preseason, but we have never had a player with her size and her length. It's going to be fun when we get her fulltime on the floor to really see how she can change our defense and the things we can do with her size. She's also a player I think will continue to get better through her years here. Tierra Jones is one that has improved her ball handling and her ability to face the basket and drive. Anyone that has seen her over the past couple of years knows she is so vital to our defense, but she's also this year looking to take the ball to the basket and get to the free-throw line. We're looking to take advantage of the new rules. You're going to have two free throws every time you go to the line. Our players are trying to get more aggressive because of that."

The Schedule

Green Wave fans will receive 15 chances this season to catch Tulane at home at Avron B. Fogelman Arena in Devlin Fieldhouse, starting with the season opener vs. Arkansas-Little Rock on Nov. 13 at 5:30 p.m. UALR starts a very tough stretch in which Tulane plays five NCAA Tournament teams from last year in a six-game span.

"We talked about it in our first meeting and over the summer," Stockton added. "When dealing with a young team you plan on them playing better later in the season, so I really hung it on our veterans that the early portion of the season has to be theirs. If the freshmen come in and contribute, that's great, but right now in this first part of the season, our upperclassmen really have to show them the way. There's no way that this many young people can know the level they have to play, especially when you look at a Florida State or a LSU. It is a challenging schedule but we learned last year that if we want to go the Dance, we have to play it and hopefully we'll be ready to go right away."

The non-conference portion of the schedule will also feature two tournaments, with Tulane heading to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands for the Paradise Jam, where they'll play Rutgers, Green Bay and Virginia. Furthermore, the Wave will also host its 20-year holiday tradition in the Tulane Classic presented by Embassy Suites, Dec. 20-21.

Year two in the American Athletic Conference will kick-off at home as well, when the Wave welcome Houston on Dec. 30 at 7 p.m. This season's conference schedule is very similar to last year, where the squad will compete in 18 games, with only playing Memphis and Cincinnati once, but in opposite venues from last year. In addition, the American Athletic Conference Championships return to the Mohegan Sun Arena in Uncasville, Conn., scheduled for March 4-7.

Some highlights from the home slate includes a rematch of the conference tournament semifinal vs. USF on Jan. 13, and the three-time defending national champion UConn on Feb. 3.

"I think it's nice to know our opponents," Stockton explained. "Last year going into The American we obviously knew some of them but didn't know them all. It's nice to really know that you've played against Temple, you've played against UConn or South Florida, and to have that little knowledge going into the conference season and know what you have to do to be successful. Our players, after being in the league with UConn one year, know that they have a tremendous intensity with how they play. There's no reason we can't play like that and play with that intensity. I do think we have elevated our game by playing in the league and I think it will show as we go into this year."

With the 2015-16 team ready to roll, Coach Stockton had one last thing to say about her Green Wave:

"This year's team is very fun loving and I enjoy that because as you go into this really tough part of the year, they're embracing it. There's a great chemistry considering you have so many new and old players. I think we are going to be very versatile with different players stepping up. The players that have played more roles in the past are going to step up and show what they have, especially in this early part of the season. It's going to be fun. I've really enjoyed the summer and fall with them. They've probably worked harder than any team I've had in the last five years so I'm hoping that will really show when we step onto the court."

The Coaches

LISA STOCKTON

HEAD COACH • 22ND SEASON

GREENSBORO, N.C. • WAKE FOREST, 1986

RECORD AT TULANE: 438-215 OVERALL (.671) • 199-123 IN CONFERENCE PLAY (.618)

CAREER RECORD: 501-242 OVERALL (.674) • 226-132 IN CONFERENCE PLAY (.631)

As with most coaches in the realm of college basketball, hoops have been a big part of Lisa Stockton's life. Unlike most, however, Stockton's life can be traced to its origin through interaction on the hardwood.

Stockton's parents, Richard and Betty, met while playing for the Chatham Textile League in Elkin, N.C. A native of Greensboro, N.C., Stockton grew up with the legend of basketball along Tobacco Road. She lived in the heart of ACC country where several conference tournaments were held and was actually on hand the night North Carolina State defeated UCLA in the NCAA Final Four on March 23, 1974.

With a background as ingrained in basketball as the hardwood she strolls several times during the season, Stockton enters her 22nd season at the helm of the Tulane women's basketball program, where she is fresh off of achieving her 500th career win. In fact, Stockton became the 32nd active Division-I women's basketball coach to reach the prestigious 500-win club and now ranks 29th. Furthermore, Stockton and the Green Wave are coming off of a successful debut year in the American Athletic Conference, which culminated in the program's 11th trip to the NCAA Tournament.

"Ever since I can remember, I've always wanted to be a basketball coach," Stockton said. "Growing up in North Carolina with its rich tradition of college basketball, I remember going to games and really enjoying being a part of the whole experience. I was fortunate enough to earn an athletic scholarship and that just solidified my decision on the direction I wanted my professional career to go.

"It took a few steps before I got to Tulane, but since I've been here, I've truly found a home. Tulane has everything you look for in a college experience - great academics, a successful tradition of women's basketball and a city with a unique culture and history. Each season that I've been at Tulane has truly been special."

Stockton's career record of 501-242 as a collegiate head coach is good for a 67.4 winning percentage and she is 438-215 during her time at Tulane, including a 199-123 mark in conference play. With 438 wins at Tulane, Stockton has more than twice as many wins as each of the previous Green Wave coaches earned in 19 combined years.

Along the way, Stockton has led the Green Wave to the postseason 16 times (11 NAAs, 5 WNITs) and claimed conference Coach of the Year honors three times (Metro in 1995, C-USA in 2007 and 2010). In addition, Tulane has won four C-USA regular-season championships (1996-97, 1998-99, 2006-07, 2009-10) and the tournament title on five occasions (1997, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2010).

Stockton is one of four active coaches to take a Top 60 academic institution as listed in U.S. and World Report to at least 11 NCAA Tournaments - joining Tara Vanderveer of Stanford, Muffet McGraw of Notre Dame and Sylvia Hatchell of North Carolina. In addition, 18 of her players have become members of Tulane's 1,000-Point Club.

Taking the reins of a program that had never been to the NCAA Tournament and whose only postseason appearance came via the WNIT the year prior to her arrival, Stockton made her presence at Tulane felt right away. Her 1994-95 club went 19-10 overall and 9-3 in the now-defunct Metro Conference. The Green Wave's league record was good for second-place in the final Metro standings - a high-water mark for the program

- and Stockton's team earned an at-large bid to the NAAs.

Tulane's trip to "The Big Dance" was the first of nine consecutive NCAA bids for Stockton-coached teams and the first of nine straight winning seasons. A year later, a 21-10 record in 1995-96 was the first of what has now become 14 20-plus win seasons with the Green Wave - including a school-record 27 wins in 1996-97 and again in 1999-2000.

While the postseason streak was snapped in 2004, Stockton reloaded her team for success with the addition of four freshmen to an already young-but-talented squad that did not feature a senior on the active roster for the 2005-06 season. As the Tulane student-body began the move-in process for the school year, however, the Tulane community, the New Orleans area and the Gulf Coast region was rocked to its core as Hurricane Katrina made landfall on Aug. 29, 2005, and the subsequent floodwaters consumed the area.

Relocated to Lubbock, Texas, and the campus of Texas Tech University for the semester, Stockton's leadership and ability to keep her student-athletes focused on the task at hand, the Green Wave finished what has become known as the "Katrina Season" 15-12 and sparked a run of nine-straight winning seasons that remains alive entering the upcoming 2015-16 campaign.

The following year, Stockton's troops went 26-7, won the C-USA regular-season title with a 13-3 league mark and returned to the postseason for the first time since 2003 as Tulane advanced to the second round of the 2007 WNIT. Three years later, the Green Wave won another C-USA regular-season crown with a 12-4 conference record, finished the year 26-7 overall and returned to the NCAA Tournament. In each of the next two seasons, Stockton guided the Green Wave to a 23-11 overall record, advanced to the C-USA Championship games and a trip to the second round of the 2011 and 2012 WNIT. In 2013, the Green Wave finished 24-9 and accomplished a program first when they advanced to the round of 16 in the WNIT.

In 2014, Stockton's 397 total victories while in the league was a C-USA best. At the conclusion of the season, Director of Athletics Rick Dickson signed Stockton to a contract extension through the 2018-19 campaign.

The 2014-15 season issued in a new era for Stockton and the Green Wave, competing in the American Athletic Conference for the first time. Tulane responded with its sixth straight 20+ win season with a 22-11 overall record, a run to the semifinals in the conference tournament, and ended the program's five year NCAA Tournament drought, traveling to Durham for a first round match-up vs. Mississippi State.

While team success has been the ultimate goal of Stockton and the Green Wave since the 1994-95 season, individual recognition has been a mainstay at Tulane during that time as well. In 21 years under its current head coach, Tulane has seen 23 student-athletes earn all-conference honors 35 times (nine first-team, 14 second-team and 12 third-team), 10 receive All-Freshman recognition, and four claim a spot on the All-Defensive Team.

In addition, Stockton's players have earned conference Defensive Player of the Year (Janell Burse/C-USA/1999,2000,2001), Sixth Player of the

The Coaches

Year (Burse/C-USA/1999, Grace Daley/C-USA/1997, Teana McKiver/C-USA/2001) and Freshman of the Year (Barbara Farris/Metro/1995, Daley/C-USA/1997, Danielle Blagg/C-USA/2012) on three occasions each, as well as Player of the Year (Burses/C-USA/2000) and Newcomer of the Year (Indira Kaljo/C-USA/2009) once apiece. At the 10th anniversary of Conference USA in 2005, Burse and Daley were named to C-USA Team of the Decade, making Tulane one of two schools to have multiple players on the prestigious list.

Tulane student-athletes have also garnered national honors under Stockton's watch as well as Farris (1987), Daley (1998-2000), Burse (2000-01), McKiver (2002-03) and Jamie Kaplan (2013-14) all earned All-America recognition. Ashley Langford was a Freshman All-American in 2006 and Chassity Brown was named to the WBCA All-Region IV Team in 2010. In addition, four of Stockton's former student-athletes - Burse, Daley, Farris, and McKiver - have been elected into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame.

For some of Stockton's prized pupils, success on the court did not end once their collegiate eligibility expired. Five former Green Wave standouts have gone on to play in the WNBA - including Farris and Burse who won WNBA Championships with the Detroit Shock in 2003 and Seattle Storm in 2004, respectively - and many more have enjoyed pro playing careers overseas.

But what Stockton may be most proud of is her student-athletes' collective accomplishments in the classroom as every four-year player has completed their degrees under her watch.

Forty-three women's basketball players have earned C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll recognition 93 times for holding GPAs of 3.2 or higher since the 1995-96 season. Six student-athletes - Brooke Blankenship (10-11, 11-12, 13-14), Kiki Cizmar (96-97), Jamie Kaplan (12-13, 13-14), Courtne Latham (2013-14), Gwen Slaughter (02-03), Britt Themann (99-00, 00-01, 01-02, 02-03), Christy Thomaskutty (95-96) and Leslie Vorpahl (2013-14) - claimed C-USA Commissioner's Academic Medal honors for maintaining at least a 3.75 GPA. Ashley Langford (08-09) and Jami Montagnino (06-07) were named C-USA Scholar Athletes, and Themann earned a C-USA Postgraduate Scholarship in 2003. Furthermore, in her

The Word On Lisa Stockton

"The Coaching Staff at Tulane did an exceptional job of not only making sure I was a phenomenal athlete, but a great student as well! Leaving there with my degree and a wonderful opportunity to make a career out of my sport was pretty amazing."

--WNBA Veteran and Tulane Hall of Famer Janell Burse
(Tulane, 1996-2000)

"Over the years I developed a tremendous amount of respect for Lisa as a person and as a coach. She is so knowledgeable and she really individualizes her coaching style to each player to find a way to reach every one. She takes the time to develop a relationship with each of her players. I consider her a great friend. I became the player that I am because of my years at Tulane."

--Nine-Year WNBA Veteran and Tulane Hall of Famer
Barbara Farris (Tulane, 1995-98)

"Coach Stockton and the entire staff put me in positions to develop personally and professionally. Her dedication to me as a person is one of the reasons I believe she is a great coach."

--Assistant Women's Basketball at Denver University Coach
Ashley Langford (Tulane, 2005-09)

"Playing for Coach Stockton taught me a lot about myself. I found that I had a lot of untapped resources within myself. Dreaming big means working harder, but it all pays off in the end."

--WNBA Veteran and Tulane Hall of Famer Teana McKiver
(Tulane, 2000-03)

"I just think that Lisa Stockton is the epitome of class and consistency. It shows in her overall record at Tulane, it shows in her number of NCAA invites and the number of conference titles. But it also shows in her relationship with her current and former players – who still feel such a part of the program – as well as in her relationship with her current and former staff members who still carry a bit of Lisa with them in everything that we do."

--Miami Head Women's Basketball Coach Katie Meier
(Tulane assistant coach, 1994-2001)

senior season, Kaplan was named American Athletic Conference Scholar Athlete of the Year and a Senior CLASS First Team All-American for her body of work both on and off the court.

Stockton's impact has not been limited to her players, however, as four former assistant coaches at Tulane went on to become collegiate head coaches: Katie Meier (Charlotte and Miami [Fla.]), Kellie Kennedy (Loyola-New Orleans), Michele Savage (Davidson) and Jenny Yopp (Portland State and Illinois State).

While Stockton's teams and student-athletes have achieved success both on the court and in the classroom, these accomplishments are nothing that the head coach herself did not earn while she was a collegiate player.

Following a standout prep career at Western Guilford High School, Stockton packed her bags for Wake Forest University. During her four-year career with the Demon Deacons from 1983-86, she set the school's career records in scoring (1,347), scoring average (12.1 ppg), field goals made (592), field goals attempted (1,262), field goal percentage (.462), assists (330), steals (206) and minutes played (3,385).

Stockton still holds the Wake Forest record for consecutive games started with 97 and ranks in the top 10 in nearly every statistical category previously mentioned. As a senior during the 1985-86 season, Stockton was named honorable-mention Fast Break All-American after scoring 473 points and hitting 204-of-415 shots (.491), pulling down 94 rebounds, dishing out 97 assists and tallying 58 steals.

She was named ACC Player of the Week and claimed MVP honors of the Dartmouth Tournament as a junior, and was named MVP of the James Madison Invitational and of the Demon Deacon team as a senior.

Stockton earned a spot on the ACC Academic Honor Roll following each of her final two seasons at Wake Forest and graduated cum laude with a bachelor's degree in health and sports science in 1986.

She was drafted by the National Women's Basketball Association following her senior season, but chose instead to begin her coaching career as a volunteer assistant at the University of North Carolina for the 1986-87 season where she helped the Tar Heels go 19-10 overall, finish third in the ACC with a 9-5 league record and advance to the second-round of the NCAA Tournament. Stockton also enveloped herself in post-graduate studies and completed her master's degree in 1987.

From there, Stockton accepted her first collegiate head coaching position at Division III Greensboro College. In three seasons there, she helped guide the Pride to a combined 63-27 record. Along the way, six players earned all-conference honors, including first-team selections Lorraine Orr and Susan Gasperson in 1987-88, Gasperson in 1988-89, and Tara Thompson in 1989-90.

Inheriting a team that had never enjoyed a winning record, Stockton's 1987-88 Greensboro team went 20-7 and finished tied for second in the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference with a 10-4 league record. The performance earned her the first of two DIAC Coach of the Year honors as Stockton earned the title again following the 1989-90 season after the Pride went 18-8 overall and finished tied for the league title at 9-3.

She returned to the Division I level the following year when she accepted the top assistant position at Georgia Tech where she was responsible for coordinating recruiting efforts, monitoring academic progress, supervise scheduling and coaching the offense. In four years with Stockton on the staff in Atlanta, the Ramblin' Wreck combined to go 63-52, including a 20-13 mark in 1991-92 when North Carolina won the WNIT. The following season, Georgia Tech went 16-11, finished tied for fourth in the ACC with an 8-8 league record and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in school history.

Two years later, Stockton accepted her current position at Tulane.

Along with her Coach of the Year accolades, Stockton was named one of CitiBusiness' Women of the Year in 2007. She is a member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Issues Committee and also serves on the Academic Subcommittee for the issues committee. Stockton has also served two terms on the Kodak All-American Committee, twice chaired the C-USA Women's Basketball Coaches and served two terms as the WBCA Conference Captain.

From the beginning, Stockton and Tulane have been a perfect fit; in part, the coach believes, because her educational experience at Wake Forest was similar to the ones her current players face at Tulane. Stockton appreciates the value of putting academic priorities first, and at Tulane the coach doesn't just say it, she has lived it.

"A school like Tulane is absolutely the best environment for student-athletes, and for a coach," Stockton said. "We attract people who are goal-oriented and who are achievers. Student-athletes don't come here unless they're serious about basketball and academics. That's the kind of school I chose, and I'm so glad I did."

In her 21 seasons, Stockton has built Tulane into a winning program with victories over ranked programs, tournament championships and a succession of All-Americans and future professional players piling wins on top of wins. "I'm proud of our run of NCAA tournaments and conference championships," Stockton said.

"I'm proud of the tradition we've built and look forward to expanding the level of expectation and achievement here at Tulane University."

BETH DUNKENBERGER

ASSISTANT COACH • 4TH SEASON

SHAWSVILLE, VA. • RANDOLPH-MACON, 1988

Beth Dunkenberger begins her fifth season with the Green Wave and fourth as assistant basketball coach. After serving as the program's director of operations during the 2011-12 season, Dunkenberger will once again assist in all facets of the team's game planning, recruiting and student-athletes' academic progress.

Under Dunkenberger's tutelage, Tulane has posted 66 wins in just three years, averaging 66.2 points per game. The Green Wave have made the postseason all three years, including the program's first NCAA Tournament at-large bid since 2003. In fact, the 2014-15 Wave featured a 1,000-career point scorer and three-time all-conference honoree in Danielle Blagg, the program's first freshman all-conference selection and Louisiana Freshman of the Year Kolby Morgan, and American Scholar Athlete of the Year and Senior CLASS First Team All-American Jamie Kaplan.

Dunkenberger brought a wealth of coaching experience to the Green Wave squad, including head-coaching stints at Western Carolina from 2000-04 and Virginia Tech from 2004-11 where she posted 175 combined victories. In addition, she also served as a graduate assistant and assistant coach with the Hokies from 1988-97 and as an assistant coach at Florida from 1997-2000. All told, Dunkenberger-coached teams have advanced to the postseason on nine occasions, including a pair of NCAA Tournaments and one WNIT bid during her time leading the Virginia Tech program.

As head coach of the Hokies, Dunkenberger guided her team to .500-or-better records five times, including a 21-10 mark in 2005-06 when Virginia Tech advanced to the second round of the NAAs. She also led her team to the NCAA Tournament in 2005 and to the third round of the WNIT in 2007. Dunkenberger helped four student-athletes claim All-ACC honors - Kerri Gardin in 2005 (honorable mention) and 2006 (third team), Kirby Copeland in 2007 (honorable mention), Brittany Cook in 2008 (second team) and Utahya Drye in 2009 (honorable mention) - while Andrea Barbour claimed a spot on the ACC All-Freshman Team in 2008.

Several of her players also went on to play basketball professionally, including Gardin - who became the first former Hokie to play in the WNBA when she suited up for the Connecticut Sun from 2008-10 and the Washington Mystics in 2011. Copeland, Nara Diawara and Dawn Chriss all played in Europe, and Diawara was selected to the 2008 Beijing Olympic Games for her native country of Mali.

Dunkenberger originally moved to Blacksburg, Va., in 1988 and spent the next two years as a graduate assistant before serving as a full-time assistant from 1990-97. As an assistant, she helped the Hokies win the Metro Conference Tournament crown in 1994 and the Metro regular-season title in 1995 as Virginia Tech advanced to the NCAA Tournament both years.

From there, Dunkenberger accepted an assistant coaching position at Florida. From 1997-2000, she helped the Gators go a combined 73-36 record, including a 23-9 mark and a trip to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1997-98. With Dunkenberger on staff, Florida also made the NCAA Tournament in 1999 and advanced to the 2000 WNIT title game.

Dunkenberger earned her first head coaching spot Western Carolina in 2000, and over the next four seasons, helped the Catamounts post 65 victories. She was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year following the 2002-03 season when Western Carolina tallied 21 wins - the most by the team since moving to the Division I level in 1981 - and advanced to the finals of the SoCon Championship.

Under Dunkenberger, WCU's Tiffany Hamm claimed All-Southern Conference honors from 2002-04, earned Player of the Year by the SoCon Sports Media Association in 2003 and was tabbed the league's Freshman of the Year in 2001. In addition, Ki-Ki Glass earned a spot on the 2002 SoCon All-Freshman Team.

While all of her teams have performed admirably on the court, Dunkenberger's squads have also stood out in the classroom as well. Her Virginia Tech teams featured a trio of Academic All-Americans, 11 Academic All-District honorees, a pair of ACC postgraduate scholarship recipients. Among those honorees was Laura Haskins who was the first-ever recipient of the Kay Yow ACC Women's Basketball Scholar-Athlete of the Year award in 2009.

At Western Carolina, her student-athletes claimed Arthur Ashe Jr. Sports Scholar recognition three times - including two-time winner Yoneko Allen - and her 2000-01 team finished sixth in the national academically with an overall grade point average of 3.313.

A standout student-athlete in her own right, Dunkenberger played collegiately at Randolph-Macon College from 1984-88 where she claimed all-conference and Academic All-District recognition, and was tabbed the school's Top Student-Athlete in 1988. A native of Shawsville, Va., Dunkenberger, was the valedictorian at Shawsville High in 1984, graduated cum laude from Randolph-Macon with a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1988 and completed her master's degree in education from Virginia Tech in 1990.

The Coaches

Alan Frey begins his 10th season with the Tulane women's basketball team where he will once again work with the Green Wave's post players.

The 2015-16 season marks Frey's ninth year handling the Green Wave student-athletes on the blocks, as he handled Tulane's guards during the 2009-10 campaign. In addition, Frey's areas of focus are recruiting, opponent scouting and individual player development.

During his time at Tulane, Frey has helped the Green Wave post winning records each season, tally a combined 198-95 overall record, win a pair of Conference USA regular-season titles and claim seven postseason appearances, including six straight (NCAA in 2010 and 2015 // WNIT in 2007, 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014).

Frey was instrumental in helping Brett Benzio - who is currently playing professionally overseas - become just the second player in Tulane women's basketball history and the third Green Wave student-athlete overall (men's or women's) to score at least 1,000 points and pull down at least 1,000 rebounds during their career.

2015 Graduating forward Tiffany Dale finished her career ranked fifth all-time in blocks (155) and sixth in career rebounds (782), all while accumulating 974 career points. Also this past season, Frey guided center Chinwe Duru in a starting role, as she shot 51.0 percent from the floor in conference play and averaged 1.2 blocks, ranking sixth and seventh in the American, respectively.

Frey's recruiting efforts have been instrumental to the program's overall success in recent years as evidenced by the following: Benzio in 2009, Olivia Grayson in 2010, Danielle Blagg in 2012, Leslie Vorpahl in 2014, and Kolby Morgan in 2015 - each All-Freshmen Team honorees. Blagg also claimed C-USA Freshman of the Year honors in 2012, while Morgan took home the 2015 Louisiana Freshman of the Year Award. In addition, junior college transfer Indira Kaljo was tabbed C-USA Newcomer of the Year in 2009.

A native of New Orleans, Frey joined the Tulane family for the 2006-07 season after spending the previous two years as an assistant coach for the Loyola (New Orleans) University's men's team. His duties with the Wolfpack included recruiting, on-court instruction and practice implementations.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Frey spent 15 years coaching the AAU Kenner Angels to 13 Finals Fours and five national championships from 1992-2006. He compiled an overall record of 425-67 during his time with the Angels, including a 138-25 mark at the national tournament.

The 1997 AAU National Coach of the Year, Frey guided the team to the Gold Medal in at the 1996 Junior Olympics and a second-place finish in 2005. Frey's teams amassed 15 Louisiana AAU titles in as many years with a 79-1 record at the state tournament.

Frey also served as an assistant coach for Team Louisiana at the U.S. Junior Nationals from 1987-92, and the 1990 squad won the USJN championship. He also served as an assistant coach (1984-91) and head coach (1992-2004) for the Jefferson Parish Recreation Department All-Stars where he helped the club win a combined 13 International Championships.

During his time with the AAU, Frey helped more than 50 of his players earn Division I scholarships, including Tulane alumni Olivia Grayson, Tiffany Aidoo, Sarah Goree, Rodnelle Hadley, Salome Hector, Mignon Frey, Mary Ann Marino, Lacey Vicknair and Kristi Pertuit. In addition, five of his former players have gone on to play in the WNBA - Vickie, Niesa and Temeka Johnson, Yolanda Moore and Detrina White.

Prior to joining the collegiate coaching ranks, Frey has spent the bulk of his professional career managing not-for-profit organizations throughout the New Orleans area.

A leader in New Orleans philanthropic circles for nearly 20 years, Frey served as the President of the New Orleans' Chapter of the Association of Fund Raising Professionals in 2005 as well as the President of the Louisiana Chapter of Community Health Charities in 2005-06. He was the executive director of the Louisiana Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation from 2000-06 and remains actively involved in the foundation's fund-raising efforts.

A 1983 graduate of nearby Jesuit High School, Frey received his bachelor's degree in history from the University of New Orleans in 1988. He is married to the former Karen Halley of Metairie, the couple resides in Metairie, and they have three children: Halley, 19, Garrett, 17, and Hayden, 11.

DOSHIA WOODS

ASSISTANT COACH/RECRUITING COORDINATOR • 6TH SEASON

TOPEKA, KANSAS • WESTERN ILLINOIS, 2001

Doshia Woods begins her sixth season as a member of the Tulane women's basketball coaching staff in 2015-16. Woods is primarily responsible for the development of the Green Wave's perimeter players, serves as the recruiting coordinator, and oversees student-athletes' academic progress.

During her time at Tulane, Woods has helped the Green Wave post five consecutive 20-plus win seasons with five straight postseason berths, including a 2015 NCAA Tournament appearance. Her impact on the team's guards has been evident in Kolby Morgan (2014-15), Danielle Blagg (2012-13, 2013-14, 2014-15), Jamie Kaplan (2013-14), Olivia Grayson (2011-12), Tiffany Aidoo (2010-11) claiming all-conference honors. In fact, Blagg became just the fourth Tulane women's player ever to earn three straight all-conference honors, while Morgan was the program's first freshman to earn all-conference recognition. Furthermore, Blagg was named C-USA Freshman of the Year in 2011-12, while Leslie Vorpahl and Morgan earned all-freshmen team accolades.

A noted recruiter, Woods' has been instrumental in landing talented student-athletes everywhere she has been and develop that talent she has helped sign. Her first recruiting class at Tulane proved to be a solid group as the four freshmen - Blagg, Tiffany Dale, Adesuwa Ebomwonyi and Jamie Kaplan - combined to earn C-USA Freshman of the Week honors on seven occasions. Prior to last season, no C-USA school had more than two players earn the honor in a single season. Ultimately, all four players cemented their names forever in the Tulane record books, all finishing on the top-10 list for most games played while accounting for 46.1 percent of the team's shooting over the last four years. Blagg became the program's 26th 1000-career point club member, Kaplan finished second all-time in assists (582), while both Dale and Ebomwonyi checked in on the top-10 lists for rebounding.

Woods joined the Tulane staff for the 2010-11 campaign following two seasons in the Big 12 at the University of Missouri from 2008 to 2010. Woods recruited and coached three all-conference players at Missouri.

Woods arrived at Missouri after spending three seasons as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Oregon State University from 2005 to 2008. In 2005-06, the Beavers posted a 10 game improvement over the previous season and earned a berth to the WNIT Tournament, advancing to the second round.

With the Beavers, Woods recruited and coached four all-conference and two all-freshman team players. Woods' recruiting efforts helped the Beavers land the Alaska and Gatorade Player of the Year in Talisa Rhea, as well as Judie Lomax. Rhea became the 15th OSU player to score 1,000 career points. Lomax, who transferred to Columbia after Woods and the rest of the coaching staff left the University following the 2007-08 season, went on to lead the NCAA in rebounding twice during her time with the Lions and was named Ivy League Player of the Year in 2010.

Prior to serving as an assistant coach at New Mexico State University in 2004-05, Woods was an assistant coach at her Alma Mater Western Illinois University from 2001 to 2004. The program posted a combined 57-30 record in her three seasons, as well as earning Mid-Continent (now Summit League) regular season championships and WNIT berths in 2002-03 and 2003-04. In her three seasons, Woods recruited and coached seven all-conference and two all-freshman team players.

Under Woods' tutelage, Tiffany Cornelius (2002-03) and Zane Teilane (2004-05) claimed Mid-Continent Conference Player of the Year honors. While Woods had moved on to Oregon State by the time Teilane completed her career, Teilane went on to be drafted by the Detroit Shock in the third round of the 2006 WNBA Draft and played in the 2008 Olympics as a member of Team Latvia.

Teilane is one of three future Olympians Woods helped develop as Kimberly Butler of Oregon State and Tugba Palazoglu of Western Illinois earned spots on the 2012 Great Britain and Turkey National Teams.

A native of Topeka, KS and a 1997 graduate of Topeka High School, Woods began her collegiate playing career at Barton Community College where as a sophomore, she led BCC in 3-point shooting, earned second-team All-Jayhawk West Conference honors and helped lead the team to a conference championship. The Cougars' 29-2 overall record was the highest winning percentage in school history at that time and Barton finished the year ranked sixth nationally. Woods' accepted a scholarship to Western Illinois and played in 57 games from 1999 to 2001 for the Westerwinds. During her Division I career, she averaged 8.8 points per game and was named second-team All-Mid Continent Conference as a senior after making a then-school-record 62 3-pointers. Despite playing only two seasons at WIU, Woods' 102 career 3-pointers currently ranks fifth in school history.

She earned an associate's degree from Barton in 1999 and completed her bachelor's degree in English with a minor in psychology from Western Illinois in 2001. Woods is a member of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association and has served as a roundtable presenter for the WBCA national convention. Woods was also a presenter at Dan Tudor's "2014 National Collegiate Recruiting Conference," held in Boston, Mass. In her time away from the court, she volunteers for "Girls First," a non-profit organization dedicated to providing sport and movement opportunities to underserved girls in the metropolitan New Orleans area.

Lindsay Wertz is in her fourth season as the Green Wave's director of women's basketball operations where she is responsible for coordinating the team's camps, overseeing Tulane's student manager staff, serving as the liaison to the equipment operations staff, as well as working with Tulane's game operations staff and managing the Green Wave's travel on road trips. She will also help coordinate the team's special projects with the Tulane campus and New Orleans community.

Wertz came to Tulane following two seasons as the top assistant at Loyola University of New Orleans where she helped lead the Wolfpack to a combined 43-18 overall record and a 20-10 mark in Southern States Athletic Conference action. Last year, Wertz helped Loyola post a 23-6 record and a 14-4 league mark while advancing to the NAIA National Championship Tournament. The Wolfpack's .793 winning percentage in 2011-12 stands as the second-best in the history of the program.

While at Loyola, Wertz was responsible for game-day preparation, scouting and recruiting while also designing and implementing the strength and conditioning program and oversaw the team's academic progress. She helped Keiva Council and Jasmine Brewer earn All-America, All-Louisiana, all-conference and National All-Jesuit Team honors.

In addition, Wertz was head coach at Hill College for the 2007-08 season and also served as assistant coach at Nevada from 2006-07, Midland college from 2004-06 and Florida Gulf Coast from 2002-03. She helped Nevada earn a spot in the WNIT in 2007, helped guide Midland to a spot in the Region V Championship and was instrumental in FGCU going 30-1 and posting the nation's top defense during her lone year in the Sunshine State.

Wertz played college basketball at Arkansas State during the 1996-97 season before spending two seasons at Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne. She completed her bachelor's degree in general studies from IPFW in 2002, and earned a master's degree in health and physical education from Marshall two years later.

GAME 6: NORTHERN IOWA 48, TULANE 71

NOV. 29, 2014 // MACK SPORTS COMPLEX // HEMPSTEAD, N.Y.

Kolby Morgan records the team's first double-double of the year with an 11-point, 10-rebound performance as Tierra Jones led the way with 12 points, primarily thanks to a 6-for-6 day at the free-throw line. In all nine different Tulane players scored in the game, as the Green Wave held its third opponent of the season to 50 points or less. Lastly, Morgan was later named to the All-Hofstra Thanksgiving Tournament Team.

GAME 14: USF 53, TULANE 40

JAN. 4, 2015 // NEW ORLEANS

A rare cold shooting night made Tulane drop their first loss in The American in a 53-40 effort vs South Florida. Tulane shot a season low 24.6 percent (16-of-65) from the field, including a 2-for-21 day from three-point range. Tulane's defense held USF to its second lowest points total on the year and forced them to commit their second most turnovers (24). 21 of Tulane's 43 rebounds were offensive boards. Jamie Kaplan led with nine points.

GAME 19: TULANE 45, USF 64

JAN. 25, 2015 // SUN DOME // TAMPA, FLA.

In a battle between two second place teams, South Florida's defense once again frustrated the Green Wave holding them to their second lowest points total and field goal percentages of the season. Tulane got within nine points on multiple occasions in the second half but Courtney Williams' 24 points propelled the Bulls to victory. Leslie Vorpahl tallied her third straight game with double-digits with a 12-point performance.

GAME 21: EAST CAROLINA 67, TULANE 63

JAN. 31, 2015 // NEW ORLEANS

Up 57-47 in the second half, East Carolina rallies with four straight threes to reclaim the lead. Down two with under 30 seconds left, Tulane missed the front end of a one-and-one and later a layup down low to tie as they fell 67-63. Courtnie Latham scored a season high 13 points as Chinwe Duru followed with her second straight game in double figures with 12 points. It marked Tulane's first loss in which they shot higher than 40 percent.

GAME 29: TULANE 52, TULSA 55

FEB. 28, 2015 // REYNOLDS CENTER // TULSA, OKLA.

A second half that featured three ties and nine lead changes, Tulane ultimately fell 55-52 to close out the regular season. The Green Wave had a one point lead with under 1:30 left in the game, but Tulsa's Kelsee Grovey connected on two consecutive deep three's. Tulane eventually had a chance to tie, down two, with 14 seconds left, but Kolby Morgan's shot hit off the back of the rim.

All-Americans

STACEY GAUDET

Women's Sports Federation • First Team • 1987

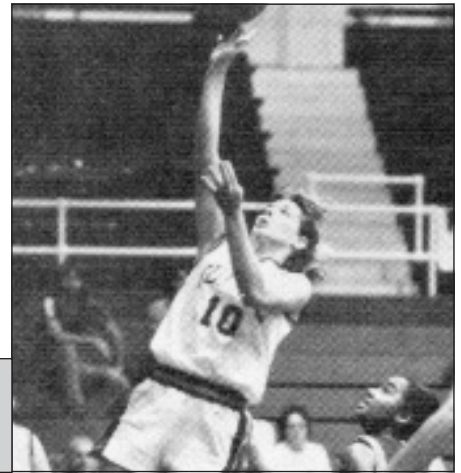

Stacey Gaudet became Tulane's first All-American in 1987, named by the Women's Sports Federation. As a senior, Gaudet averaged a school-record 21.8 points, 8.0 rebounds and 3.8 assists per game. She held or tied for the team lead in scoring in 25 of 28 games during the 1986-87 season, and was named New Orleans MVP by the Sugar Bowl Committee.

Her 609 points as a senior came without the luxury of a 3-point basket (the 3-pointer did not come into play until the 1987-88 season), and she was named Women's Sports Federation National Player of the Week on Jan. 18 after scoring 81 points in three games.

Gaudet finished her career as just the sixth female player from the state of Louisiana to score 2,000 or more points, and ranked in the Top 20 nationally in free throw percentage all four years of her career.

She was the first female student-athlete in Tulane history to have her number retired, and was inducted into the Tulane Hall of Fame and the Louisiana American Italian Sports Hall of

BARBARA FARRIS

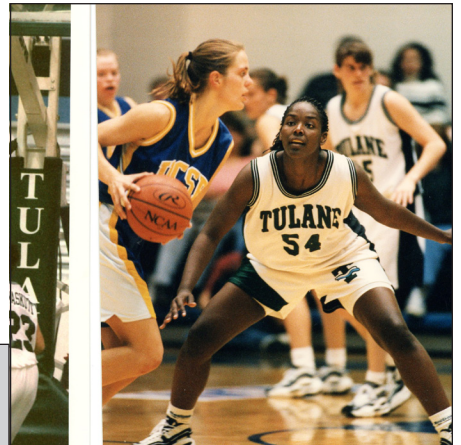

WBCA/Kodak • Honorable Mention • 1997

Ten years after Stacey Gaudet became the first All-American in Tulane history, Barbara Farris earned honorable mention recognition on the WBCA/Kodak squad after leading the Green Wave to a 27-5 record, the C-USA regular-season and tournament titles, and a third consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament.

A first-team All C-USA selection, Farris finished second in the conference and ranked eighth in the NCAA with a .623 field goal percentage, and paced the squad with 13.7 points and 7.7 rebounds per game.

Farris finished with double-digit scoring totals in 21 games as a junior, and tallied five double-doubles. She was named Conference USA Player of the Week on Jan. 13, earned MVP honors of the Tulane/Doubletree Classic and claimed a spot on the Conference USA All-Tournament Team after helping the Green Wave claim the tournament championship.

Associated Press • Honorable Mention • 1999

WB News Service • Honorable Mention • 2000

WBCA/Kodak • Honorable Mention • 1998-2000

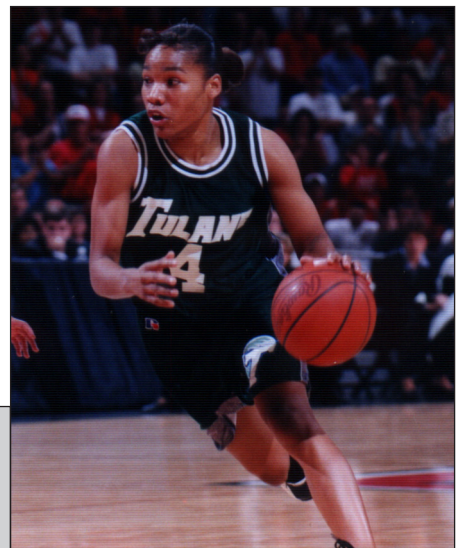

The most decorated student-athlete in the history of Tulane women's basketball, Grace Daley was a three-time All-American during her Green Wave career. She earned honorable mention recognition on the WBCA/Kodak squad in each of her final three years, was named to the Associated Press honorable mention team as a junior, and claimed third-team AP All-American honors as a senior.

During her three All-American campaigns, Daley never scored fewer than 550 points, pulled down at least 100 rebounds and dished out at least 70 assists each year. In the three-year span, she averaged 20.8 points, 5.3 rebounds and 3.3 assists per game, and shot an astonishing .503 from the field (604-of-1200).

A three-time first-team All-Conference-USA selection, Daley helped lead the Green Wave to a combined 72-18 record from 1997-98 to 1999-2000, as Tulane advanced to play in the NCAA Tournament each year and won the C-USA Tournament her junior and senior campaigns.

Daley graduated as the school's career leader in points and free throws made. Following her senior season, Daley was drafted fifth overall in the 2000 WNBA Draft by the Minnesota Lynx, and was just the second college player select-

A transfer from East Carolina, Teana McKiver made her presence felt during her three seasons with the Green Wave as she earned All-America honors as a junior and senior.

McKiver earned outright All-America recognition from Basketball Times in 2002 and from the WBCA in 2003, and was named to the WomensCollegeHoops.com Underrated All-America squad both seasons.

During her All-America campaigns, McKiver was anything but "underrated" as she led the Green Wave in scoring and blocked shots both seasons while ranking second in rebounding. In those two years, she averaged 14.8 points, 7.3 rebounds and 2.5 blocked shots per game.

McKiver's 80 blocks in 2003 are tied for the Tulane single-season record, and despite playing just three years for the Green Wave, she ranks third in career blocks with 217.

ASHLEY LANGFORD

Women's Basketball News Service • Freshman All-America • 2006

With D'Aundra Henry taking a medical red-shirt, freshman Ashley Langford was forced to be the starting -- and sometimes the only active -- point guard. The native of Harrisburg, Pa., responded by shattering two Tulane assist marks en route to freshman All-America honors.

Langford, who was named to the C-USA All-Freshman team, averaged 6.58 assists per game, which led all freshmen nationally, was fifth among all players, and led C-USA. She dished out 171 assists (topping the then Tulane single-season record of 139) and broke Tulane's and tied C-USA's single game mark with 14.

She recorded five double-digit assist games and led Tulane in steals (48) and minutes (38.4). She averaged 9.0 points and 3.5 rebounds per game.

JAMIE KAPLAN

Associated Press • Honorable Mention • 2013

Kaplan heads into her final year at Tulane as the single season assists leader after breaking Ashley Langford's mark (206 assists) with 209 assists. Her assist total ranked second in Conference-USA and seventh in the NCAA, while her assist-to-turnover ratio was 57th in the country.

The lone player on the team to start all 31 games in 2013-14, Kaplan also led the team with 361 points scored, 100 free throws made, 1,017 minutes played and 32.8 minutes per game while ranking second on the squad with 120 field goals made and 37 steals. She also finished third on the team in points per game (11.6) and 3-point baskets (21) while ranking fifth in both field goal percentage (.392) and three-point field goal percentage (.263).

In her career, Kaplan currently ranks second in school history in assists per game (4.4), third in assists (432), 16th in minutes per game (25.5), 17th in 3-point baskets (60) and 3-point attempts (222), 19th in free throw percentage (.719), 21st in 3-point percentage (.270) and 23rd in minutes played (2499).

Kaplan's next career milestone will see the senior trying to join the 25-member Tulane 1,000-point club as the Sebastian, Florida, native possesses 729 total points.
