History of the Green Wave

From 1893 to 1919, the athletic teams of Tulane were known as the Olive and Blue. In 1919, the Tulane Weekly, one of Tulane's many student newspapers at the time, began calling the football team the Greenbacks.

On Oct. 20, 1920, Earl Sparling, the editor of the Tulane Hullabaloo, wrote a football song which was printed in the newspaper. The song was titled "The Rolling Green Wave." Although the name was not immediately adopted, it began to receive acceptance. A month later, a report of the Tulane-Mississippi A&M game in the Hullabaloo referred to the team as the Green Wave.

By the end of the season, the Hullabaloo was using the term Green Wave to refer to all Tulane athletic teams, as were many daily papers, although as late as 1923, the name Greenbacks was still in use.

In its infancy, Tulane's mascot was depicted as a pelican riding on a surf board. The surfing pelican image lasted for more than 50 years.

The "Greenie" was adopted in 1955. It was created by John Chase, a local cartoonist who drew the covers of the Tulane football program and those of many teams throughout the South.

When Dr. Rix Yard became the athletic director in 1963, he felt Tulane needed a more virile symbol for its teams. Working with Eldon Endacott, the manager of the Tulane bookstore, he arranged for a new mascot to be created. Several sketches were submitted by Art Evans, art director for Angelus-Pacific, Co., in Fullerton, Calif.

The angry-looking wave was adopted in 1964, and the block "T" with waves became the Tulane athletics logo in 1986.

Tulane unveiled a new family of marks in August 1998. The new logos featured the return of the pelican to the Green Wave look, along with the use of a "T" with a modern "wave" as a primary logo mark. A new pelican mascot was introduced and given the name Riptide by a vote of Tulane students.

In the summer of 2015, Riptide received its first make-over since its inception and featured a more modern, sleeker look.

Tulane fans will see a familiar face this season as the "Angry Wave" returns to the Green Wave's list of official marks in 2016-17. The "Angry Wave" will serve as a secondary mark for the Green Wave with the "T-Wave" remaining as the primary mark of Tulane Athletics.

Athletic Communications

The Tulane Athletics Communications staff stands ready to assist in your coverage of all Green Wave Athletic teams in 2016-17. For information regarding credentials, Tulane teams and players, arranging interviews, broadcast coverage, obtaining statistics or photos and press opportunities, please call the Athletics Communications office at (504) 862-8240 or (504) 314-7271. The Athletic Communications offices are located on the second floor of the James W. Wilson Jr., Center. Metered parking is available in the Rosen Lot (accessible off Claiborne Ave.).

Please take a moment to read the important media information below.

MEDIA OPPORTUNITIES & SERVICES

Tulane head coach Willie Fritz and selected players will meet with the media each Tuesday at 12 p.m. (CST) during the season (with the exception of the bye week) in the Glazer Family Club in Yulman Stadium.

Requests for specific players should be made to the Athletics Communications Office on Monday afternoon prior to the press opportunity.

Interviews

All interview requests for Coach Fritz, any Tulane assistant coaches and players must be coordinated through the Athletics Communications office.

In order to arrange for player interviews, please provide 24 hours notice to the Athletics Communications Office. Player interviews may be conducted in the atrium of the Wilson Center, on the game fields or in the Athletics Communications Office.

The TU training room, football locker room, weight room and meeting rooms are off-limits to the media. Your cooperation is appreciated.

For telephone interviews, the student-athlete will be provided with the number and will make the call at a mutually-agreed upon time. Phone numbers of student-athletes will not be made available to the media.

For interviews with head coach Willie Fritz and/or Tulane assistant coaches, please contact Curtis Akey, Rachel Perreault or Josh Bates in the Athletics Communications Office. The best time for Coach Fritz to conduct interviews is weekday mornings following practice.

Practice Coverage

Tulane's regular season practices will be held in Yulman Stadium and are open to the local media. However, practices may be closed or moved without notice. Please contact the Tulane Athletics Communications Office if you plan on attending practice so that we may confirm the day's practice schedule.

Still photographs and video may be shot during selected segments of practice by approved agencies. After that time, photographers will be asked not to shoot. Media are asked to remain on the sidelines or stands and are asked not to speak to players or coaches during practice.

Website

Updated statistics, game recaps, weekly and daily releases, press conference transcripts, player and coaches' bios, historical information, broadcast and ticket information, can be found on the Tulane Official Athletics Website at www.TulaneGreenWave.com. Media are encouraged to check the website regularly for the latest Green Wave athletics news.

Video Services

Requests for video footage of Green Wave football should be made to Curtis Akey, Rachel Perreault or Josh Bates in the Athletics Communications Office. They will work with TU Director of Video Travis Detillier and his staff to fill specific requests. Please allow a minimum of three days lead time for video requests. Agencies will be asked to either supply a new Beta tape or to return the highlights to Tulane.

Accessing Information

In addition to the Tulane Athletics website (www.TulaneGreenWave.com), the latest news, weekly releases, updated depth charts, rosters and season and single game statistics can be sent on a daily or weekly basis via e-mail. Contact Roger Dunaway or Curtis Akey to request to be added to the football e-mail list.

GAME DAY COVERAGE

Credential Requests

Meals will be served on the Mintz Practice Field in the Media Tent beginning two hours before game time until kickoff. Sodas and water will be available throughout the game in the press box.

Game notes, programs, a flip card and statistics will be provided prior to the game. Play-by-play and quick statistics, final team, individual and defensive statistics, drive charts and coaches' quotes also will be provided. Complete sets of information will be available approximately 20 minutes after the game.

Telephones

Requests for telephone lines should be directed to Vince Granito (vgranit@tulane.edu) or by calling 504-314-7915.

Tulane will e-mail stats and other post-game information as requested.

Visiting Radio

Booth space in James W. Wilson, Jr. Press Center will be allocated by the Tulane Athletic Communications Office. Visiting SIDs will designate their official radio stations in writing and Tulane, through its broadcast partner, Tulane Sports Marketing, will supply phone lines on a reciprocal basis in that booth. Entities which wish to telecast home contests from Yulman Stadium should send their request, in writing, to Roger Dunaway.

Sidelines

Tulane follows guidelines set forth by the NCAA Public Relations Committee, the NCAA Football Rules Committee, the American Football Coaches Association and the National Press Photographers Association.

Photographers are not permitted between the 25-yard lines and must have credentials visible at all times. Photographers are required to go behind the team benches to pass from one end of the field to the other.

Uniformed security personnel will patrol the sidelines and anyone holding a media pass who is not actively involved in coverage of the game will be escorted from the sideline. Children under 12 will not be issued media or sideline credentials. Similar procedures will be in effect in the James W. Wilson, Jr. Press Center.

Post-Game Interviews

Tulane post-game interviews will take place in the squad room, located on the second floor of the James W. Wilson Jr. Center. Media can access the Wilson Center on the west side.
The visitor's locker room is located at the northwest end of the stadium.

Green Wave head coach Willie Fritz and requested players will be available in the post game interview approximately 10 minutes after the game. Tulane's locker room is closed.

The SID of the visiting school will establish admittance policies to the visiting locker room.

Yulman Stadium

Yulman Stadium

Yulman Stadium, the crown jewel of the university's athletics complex, opened its doors for the first time in front of a capacity crowd on September 6, 2014 against Georgia Tech. Yulman Stadium marked the beginning of a renaissance of Tulane Athletics, which saw Green Wave football return to campus for the first time in nearly 40 years.

Tulane's new home field advantage came from the generosity of three couples in particular - Richard Yulman and his late wife Janet, Gayle and Tom Benson and Jill and Avie Glazer.

Richard Yulman, the retired chairman and owner of mattress manufacturing giant Serta International, donated $15 million toward construction of this $73 million facility. Yulman Stadium is named in honor of Richard, Janet and the Yulman family.

New Orleans Saints owner Tom Benson and his wife Gayle, a member of the Board of Tulane, donated $7.5 million to Yulman Stadium. Benson Field, which will host the games of Yulman Stadium, is named in their honor.

Jill and Avie Glazer supported the stadium with a multi-million dollar gift. The Jill H. and Avram A. Glazer Family Club, the premium space in which to experience games at Yulman Stadium. is named in their honor.

Construction of Yulman Stadium began in January 2013. Gould Evans and Associates and Lee Ledbetter & Associates served as the project architects, while Woodward Design + Build LLC was the contractor.

Tulane football has been a part of the fabric of New Orleans since the Green Wave played its first season back in 1893. Generations experienced college football at the old Tulane Stadium from 1926-1974.

It is not hard to find a story about someone's experience at old Tulane Stadium. Boy Scouts selling programs, a record crowd of 86,598 watching the Green Wave defeat LSU in 1973, the annual Sugar Bowl and early Saints football, are all part of the story of Tulane Stadium.

Now in its third year, a new chapter continues to be written in a new home by a new (and old) generation of Green Wave fans.

Includes Sugar Bowl played at Tulane Stadium*

Tulane Stadium was the home to Tulane Football from 1926 until 1974. Built on an old plantation where sugar was first granulated, the original construction cost approximately $300,000 and was made mostly from brick and concrete. As the site of the annual Sugar Bowl, Tulane Stadium was often informally referred to as "Sugar Bowl Stadium." After its expansion in the 1940's, Tulane Stadium became the largest football stadium in the south.

Head Coach Willie Fritz

WILLIE FRITZ

Head Coach • First Season
Shawnee Mission, Kan.
Pittsburg State, 1983

Tulane University Director of Athletics Troy Dannen formally introduced Willie Fritz as the Green Wave' new head football coach on Dec. 15, 2015. Fritz becomes the 40th head football coach in the 121-year history of the Tulane football program.

"Willie was our number one target of this coaching search from the day it began," Dannen said. "We attracted significant interest from around the country but after meeting with the candidates it was clear Willie was the right fit for our institution and our football program. He has rebuilt three football programs and led each of those programs into national prominence at their respective level. In his 23 years as a head coach, Willie has an established track record of producing quality men, high academic achievements and great competitive success."

"I am very excited about the opportunity to lead the Tulane football program and be a part of such a prestigious academic institution," Fritz said. "New Orleans and the surrounding areas are a hotbed for high school football and I look forward to the challenge of building Tulane into a consistent winner.

"I was very impressed with Troy and Barbara during the interviews and I truly believe in their vision of what can be accomplished at Tulane. I would like to thank Troy, Barbara and President (Mike) Fitts for this tremendous opportunity. I would also like to thank the administration and fans at Georgia Southern for the opportunity to coach at that school as well."

With 193 career victories (193-74-1), Fritz is currently the fourth active winningest head coach among coaches in the Football Bowl Subdivision. He is currently tied with Kansas State's Bill Snyder.

Fritz brings 33 years of collegiate experience as a football student-athlete or coach to the Green Wave. He has led his teams to six combined conference championships (one at every level he has coached) and two bowl appearances. He was also twice named the national coach of the year, including the American Football Coaches Association Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) Coach of the Year in 2011 and the Liberty Mutual Coach of the Year in 2012.

Fritz, 55, comes to Tulane from Georgia Southern where he spent two seasons and led the Eagles to a combined record of 17-7, a 2014 Sun Belt Conference (SBC) title and the school's first-ever NCAA postseason bowl game with their berth in the 2015 GoDaddy.com Bowl. Georgia Southern concluded the 2015 regular season with an 8-4 overall record, including a mark of 6-2 in conference play.

Fritz led the Eagles to a 9-3 overall record and a perfect mark of 8-0 in conference play during his first season at Georgia Southern in 2014, and was named the SBC Coach of the Year. However, the school's waiver claim to allow Georgia Southern to play in a bowl despite being in the second year of the NCAA's transition period was denied.

Prior to Georgia Southern, Fritz served as head coach at Sam Houston State from 2010-13. A proven winner with more than 30 years of coaching experience, Fritz joined the Eagles from Sam Houston State, where he led the team to back-to-back Southland Conference titles, NCAA FCS championship appearances in 2011 and 2012, and a third-straight playoff berth in 2013.

The Liberty Mutual Coach of the Year at the FCS level in 2012, Fritz was recognized nationally in 2011 as the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) Coach of the Year. Honored as the AFCA Regional Coach of the Year in 2011 and 2012, Fritz was selected by the media and his peers in the Southland Conference as the league's Coach of the Year in 2011 after his team went a perfect 7-0 in conference play.

In 2011 and 2012, Sam Houston State posted the two highest single-season win totals in program history with marks of 14-1 (2011) and 11-4 (2012) and Bearkat players were showered with accolades. More than 50 earned All-Southland Conference honors under Fritz in the last four years, not including additional "Player of the Year," "Offensive Player of the Year," "Defensive Player of the Year," and "Newcomer of the Year" awards. All-America status from national coaching and media outlets were bestowed on 11 Sam Houston State players during his tenure.

After a highly successful tenure at Blinn College, averaging nearly 10 wins a season during his four years there, Fritz left to revitalize a Central Missouri program and guided it to 11 winning seasons. The NCAA Division II program's ledger included two 10-win seasons with the 2001 Mule squad earning its first postseason trip in more than 30 years.

In 2002, Central Missouri made its first-ever appearance in the NCAA Division II playoffs and was the Mid-America Athletic Association (MIAA) co-champion a year later. A 97-47 mark in 13 seasons ranks Fritz as the winningest coach in the program's 118-year history. He was the only coach to ever win seven or more games in eight consecutive seasons and his victory total ranked him 15th among active Division II coaches at the time. In addition to his impressive 67.4 winning percentage with the Mules, Fritz coached his student-athletes to achieve their potential both on the field and in the classroom. More than 150 Mules were recognized with All-MIAA honors with 41 first-team selections and 24 All-Americans.

Under Fritz, Central Missouri recorded a graduation rate of 84 percent with 144 MIAA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll recipients, 14 Academic All-Region and three Academic All-Americans.

Serving as a graduate assistant for the Bearkat program during the 1984 and 1985 seasons, Fritz earned a master's degree in kinesiology while Sam Houston State posted a 16-6 record and won the 1985 Gulf Star Conference championship. He returned to Huntsville in 1991 after spending two years at Coffeyville College in Kansas under legendary Coach Dick Foster, earning a promotion to defensive coordinator after one year. He stayed another two years to work for Coach Skip Foster and the Red Ravens.

Coach Ron Randleman brought Fritz back to the state of Texas and Sam Houston State as secondary and special teams coach in 1991, instilling an attitude of excellence on special teams that would last more than a decade. The Bearkats' "block party" racked up 80 blocked punts, field goals and extra points beginning with Fritz in 1991 and lasting through 2004.

In Fritz's first year as a full-time assistant coach at Sam Houston State in 1991, the Bearkats won the Southland Conference. That league title and eight-win season launched SHSU to the program's second-ever appearance in the NCAA playoffs.

Fritz would leave Huntsville again, this time for an opportunity to be the head coach at Blinn College, where he would turn around a program that had only five wins in its previous three seasons.

From 1993-96, Fritz and the Buccaneers would rack up 39 victories against only five losses with a tie and claim two national junior college championships. He was inducted into the NJCAA Football Hall of Fame for the environment of success he created at Blinn.

Willie Fritz talks to the media during his introductory press conference.

Head Coach Willie Fritz

One of seven children, Fritz is the son of the late Harry Fritz, who coached the Central Missouri football team in 1952 before continuing his career as the Executive Director at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) in Kansas City. The elder Fritz also served at several colleges and universities in administration as an athletics director.

Fritz played on two conference title teams and was a four-starter at defensive back for Coach Randleman at Pittsburg State and remained at his alma mater as a student assistant coach for his alma mater in 1982. Early coaching stops included a year at Shawnee Mission Northwest High School (Kansas) in 1983 and Willis High School (Texas) in 1986, with his return to Sam Houston State for graduate school in between those years.

Fritz and his wife Susan have three children, Wesley, Lainie and Brooke.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT WILLIE FRITZ

"I think Tulane has made a great hire. Willie has a very impressive background and I have enjoyed getting to know him over the past few years. Willie has great leadership skills and a really good philosophy so he will definitely be a great for Tulane. He is capable of coming in and building something strong at Tulane."
Archie Manning, NFL Quarterback, New Orleans Saints

"Tulane hit a home run hiring Willie Fritz. I have known Coach Fritz for over 20 years having played for him, coached with him, and scouted his players for the NFL. Willie is a special coach and person with a unique gift for developing and bringing out the best in young men both on and off the field. He has a track record of developing NFL-ready players at every level that he has coached. He is a 'winner' who has always done it the right way and has a proven track record of success at every level at which he has coached."
Dennis Hickey, Former General Manager, Miami Dolphins

"The big thing about Coach Fritz is he has a proven track record. At every level, whether it's junior college, Division II, FCS or FBS, his programs have always won. He is involved in all phases of the game. I just think he has done a great job as a head coach."
Greg McMahon, Special Teams Coordinator, New Orleans Saints

"Willie was like a coach on the field for me as a four-year starter at Pittsburg State," Coach Randleman said. "I just think the world of him and am proud that he was on my coaching staff not once, but twice. He has a tremendous work ethic, he played hard, and he coaches the same way. Willie has a great rapport with his players and they respect him."
Ron Randelman, Former Head Coach, Sam Houston State (Coached Fritz at Pittsburgh State)

"I knew immediately when I interviewed him that I wanted to hire Willie," said Coach Dick Foster, a charter member of the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) Football Hall of Fame. "He's a talented person and I've followed his career closely, from Central Missouri and to Blinn where he coached two national championships, to what he has done at Sam Houston State. He has all the qualities needed for the challenge in front of him – he's an excellent technician, an outstanding recruiter, very organized with his coaching and support staff and his student-athletes enjoy playing for him."
Dick Foster, Former Head Football Coach, Coffeeville Community College

"Willie is a great friend. He and I worked together as coaches back in the 1980s here at Sam Houston State, and then he replaced me as the defensive backs coach when I moved into administration. So I worked with him as a coach and as an assistant athletic director, and then I was fortunate enough to be able to hire him as our head coach. All three times he was a part of our program, we won championships. We had a great run with him as a head coach. He's a winner, and he's an even better person."
Bobby Williams, Director of Athletics, Sam Houston State University:

"I think Willie is the best, and he is exactly what Tulane needs. He's going to bring a winning attitude. He's won wherever he's been. The players, the community, the administrative staff and the university will love him. I think he is an exceptional hire, and he is a guy people will be proud of."
David Pierce, Former Head Baseball Coach, Tulane (worked with Coach Fritz at Sam Houston State):

DOUG RUSE

Offensive Coordinator/QBs • First Season
Independence, Mo.
Northwest Missouri State, 1988

Doug Ruse begins his first season as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for Tulane in 2016. Ruse followed Coach Willie Fritz from Georgia Southern to Tulane and enters his fifth season of working under Fritz as an offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He also spent two seasons with Fritz in the same capacity at Sam Houston State in 2012-13.

In two seasons at Georgia Southern, Ruse's offensive unit averaged 37.7 points per game, 456.0 yards per game, including 371.7 rushing yards per game, which led the nation in both 2014 and 2015, and helped guide the Eagles to 18 victories. In 2014, Ruse was named as a nominee for the Broyles Award, given annually to the nation's top assistant coach.

During his second and final season at Georgia Southern, Ruse's offense average 36.5 points per game (No. 25 nationally), 426.4 total yards per contest and 363 rushing yards per outings, which ranked first nationally. He played an instrumental role in leading the Eagles to a 9-4 overall record and to a convincing 58-27 victory over Bowling Green in their first-ever bowl game in the GoDaddy.com Bowl.

Individually, five Eagles earned All-Sun Belt Conference honors, including first team honorees Matt Breida (RB) and Darien Foreman (OL), Andy Kwon was a second team selection, while Wesley Fields (RB) was named to the conference newcomer squad and L.A. Ramsby was an honorable mention recipient.

In his debut season of 2014 with the Eagles, Georgia Southern ranked as the top rushing offense in the FBS with 384.0 yards per game while winning the Sun Belt Championship with an 8-0 record.

Ruse had three first team All-Sun Belt Conference honorees with Breida, Manrey Saint-Amour (OL), and Garrett Frye (OL) along with second team honoree Kevin Ellison (QB). Saint-Amour was recognized on the Rimington Trophy Watch List, while Breida was a semifinalist for the Doak Walker Award.

In Ruse's first of two seasons in Huntsville, the Bearkats ranked among the top 10 in the 2012 FCS national rankings in four major offensive statistics and was a finalist for FCS Coordinator of the Year Award. In 2013, the results were also impressive, with Sam Houston State again among the nation's leaders in rushing, scoring and total offense and boasting a top-20 ranking in passing efficiency.

Sam Houston State was the only NCAA FCS team to average more than 40 points a game in each of the last two years and became in 2012 only the third team in NCAA FCS history to score 600 points in a single season. The Bearkats were second in the nation in 2012 and fourth in 2013 in scoring, despite increasing its average to 41.1 points per game. In both years, Sam Houston topped the Southland Conference in scoring offense and rushing offense, with a league-best 5.7 yards per carry and 79 touchdowns.

Over his two seasons at SHSU, the Bearkats racked up 50 or more points in a game on 11 occasions, showcasing an offense that dominated opponents. Ruse's offense in 2012 also produced school records with 6,878 yards of total offense yards and an average of 268.3 rushing yards per game en route to a Southland Conference title, an 11-4 record and NCAA Division I Championship finals appearance.

Seven Bearkats on offense earned 2012 All-Southland honors, five selected to the first team and two to the second team. Sam Houston State was represented by five student-athletes, including four-time honoree Tim Flanders, on 2013 All-Southland Conference teams. The 2012 Southland Conference Offensive Player of the Year, Flanders earned national recognition as he his name was listed on several All-America teams with a first-team nod from the Associated Press, while Kaleb Hopson was a third-team selection by The Sports Network. Sam Houston State quarterback Brian Bell, a three-time all-league selection, added to his totals as the Bearkats' career leader in passing yards, yards of total offense and passing touchdowns.

Prior to joining the Bearkat staff, Ruse worked as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Western Illinois. He worked closely with quarterback Matt Barr, the runner-up for the Walter Payton Award in 2010 as he broke numerous single-season and single-game records. The Missouri Football Conference Offensive Player of the Year, Barr accounted for a WIU-record seven touchdowns in a game (6 pass, 1 rush), and set a single-game quarterback rushing record. His name stands at the top of the single-season chart for passing yards (3,410), passing touchdowns (27), and total offense (3,859) in addition to QB records for rushing yards (449), and rushing scores (7).

In 2010, the Leathernecks lead the Missouri Football Conference in scoring, passing and total offense as well as pass efficiency, and were ranked in the nation in total offense with 457.2 yards per game (5,944 yards in 13 games). Both those total offense figures, and the 3,465 passing yards in 2010, stand as WIU single-season records with the 32.5 points per game tied for the fourth-best scoring average all-time and the 423 points third-best in program history.

During that season, Western Illinois defeated ranked teams in North Dakota State and Northern Iowa and earned a playoff berth for the first time since 2003, advancing to the second round. The Leathernecks finished the season with a No. 17 ranking. The following year, the 2011 squad added an upset win to its accomplishments, topping 12th-ranked Southern Illinois.

Prior to his arrival at WIU, Ruse spent eight years at Arkansas State as offensive coordinator and mentor to the Red Wolves quarterbacks. Among his students was 2007 Davey O'Brien semifinalist Corey Leonard who tallied 252.9 yards per game of total offense and was responsible for 21 touchdowns that season. He ranked among the Sun Belt leaders in passing, total offense and passing efficiency. During his tenure, his student-athletes earned more than 20 first- or second-team all-Sun Belt Conference honors.

Several Arkansas State program records were rewritten when Ruse commanded the offense, including new single-game standards for passing yards, yards of total offense, yards per carry, and touchdowns, to name just a few. The 2008 season's 4,786 yards of total offense broke a 57-year old record with the marks for the 2002, 2005 and 2007 seasons all ranking in the top 10 in that statistical category. Countless individual additions were made to the top-10 lists across the offensive categories and four Red Wolves finished their careers among the ASU leaders for total offense under Ruse, including Leonard who reached the number one spot with his total of 8,887.

Ruse spent eight years at Northwestern State before moving to Arkansas State with Steve Roberts in 2002. Hired as the quarterbacks coach in 1994 by the program's winningest coach Sam Goodwin, he was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1997, helping the Demons to back-to-back Southland Conference titles and NCAA FCS playoff appearances. In addition to single-game, season and career passing and scoring records falling, the 1998 team tied the school record for most wins with 11 and finished with a number-three ranking after advancing to the NCAA semifinals.

A double alum of Northwest Missouri State, earning both his undergraduate (1986) and graduate (1988) degrees in Maryville, Mo., Ruse first served as a graduate assistant coach for the NWMS Bearcats. He joined the full-time staff with responsibilities for coaching the quarterbacks and in 1990 was named offensive coordinator.

Ruse and his wife, the former Sandy Gallagher, are the parents of three children, Adam, Megan and Whitney.

JACK CURTIS

Defensive Coordinator/Safeties • First Season
Birmingham, Ala.
Evangel University, 1990

Jack Curtis enters his first season as the defensive coordinator and safeties coach for the Green Wave in 2016.

Curtis comes to Tulane after spending the last five seasons at Georgia Southern, including his last two years under Coach Willie Fritz.

In five seasons at GSU, five Eagles, Darius Eubanks, Brent Russell, Laron Scott, Edwin Jackson, and J.J. Wilcox worked their way on to NFL rosters and All-America accolades poured in for Dion DuBose, Russell, Scott, Roderick Tinsley and Wilcox.

Wilcox, who converted to safety during preseason camp, became Georgia Southern's highest-ever draft pick, selected in the third round by the Dallas Cowboys in 2013.

Recognition and development of the Eagles' defensive talent was just one facet of Curtis' coaching ability. With more than 20 years of collegiate coaching experience backing him, Curtis helped the Eagles win a Southern Conference championship in 2011, his first year in Statesboro, another in 2012 and most recently the 2014 Sun Belt Crown in the Eagles' first season at the FBS level.

In Curtis' final season at Georgia Southern, his defense was one of the nation's best units. The Eagles led the Sun Belt in rushing defense (130.9), and ranked second and 24th nationally in total defense (338.1), second and 12th in the country in turnovers gained (27) and interceptions (17), fourth and 43rd in the nation in passing yards allowed (207.2).

Curtis' defense held their own and played a key role in leading the Eagles 9-4 overall record and to a convincing 58-27 victory over Bowling Green in their first-ever bowl game in the GoDaddy.com Bowl.

Individually, six Eagles earned All-Sun Belt Conference recognition, including first-team selection Antonio Glover (DB), second-team performers Bernard Dawson (DL) and Jay Ellison (DL), while Ironhead Gallon (LB), Antwione Williams (LB) and Caleb Williams (DB) were honorable mention all-league picks.

Georgia Southern's 2014 campaign featured Edwin Jackson completing his career with First Team All-Sun Belt honors after starting his career as a walk-on. Current senior Matt Dobson earned Second Team All-Sun Belt honors and was crucial to the Eagles' defensive stand on the final drive against ULM which clinched the Sun Belt Championship. Following the season, Jackson signed a free agent contract with the Arizona Cardinals.

The honors stacked up again for the defense in 2012 with DuBose, Eubanks, Patrick Flowe, Javon Mention and Russell all earning spots on one of the SoCon postseason teams and additional recognition for Valdon Cooper and John Stevenson. The season before, four defensive starters were named All-Southern Conference and three players (Russell, Laron Scott, Roderick Tinsley) were selected as All-Americans with Russell winning the SoCon's Defensive Player of the Year Award. Scott signed as an undrafted free agent with the New York Giants.

Curtis came to Georgia Southern after one season as the defensive coordinator at Central Missouri. Central Missouri posted a program-best 11 wins and finished the 2010 season with a No. 5 ranking, the highest in Mules' history. Curtis joined UCM after a year on the staff at Memphis, where he coached the safeties and had responsibilities for the kickoff, punt and field goal block aspects of the Tigers' special teams units.

After eight years on the defensive staff at Northwestern State University, including the last three as defensive coordinator, Curtis was offered the position of co-defensive coordinator and safeties coach at Arkansas State. Curtis took over a defense that had ranked 61st nationally in pass defense the year before and he helped the Red Wolves improve to 16th nationally in pass defense and 39th in total defense. In those eight seasons, the NSU defense produced 18 All-Sun Belt honorees and two Sun Belt Defensive Players of the Year in Tyrell Johnson (2007) and Alex Carrington (2008).

Johnson, a four-time All-Sun Belt selection, was the top tackler for ASU and broke the league's all-time tackles record. He was selected in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft. Carrington was a third-round pick of the Buffalo Bills in 2010. Joining Johnson in the Red Wolves secondary as a member of the All-Sun Belt first team was Khayyam Burns, who signed a rookie free agent contract with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Curtis coached six first-team All-Americans and nine players who were selected in the NFL draft. More than a dozen of his former players signed with NFL teams, including several who are on current rosters. The list includes 2005 Pro Bowl cornerback Terrence McGee and Michael Green. Fourth-round draft pick Kenny Wright, Keith Thibodeaux and David Pittman, a third-round draft pick, were also coached by Curtis. Several of Curtis' other former players continued their football careers in the Canadian, NFL Europe and other professional leagues.

During Curtis' tenure at Arkansas State, the Red Wolves ranked in the top 30 in the country in pass defense four times and in the top 50 in total defense five times. In 2007, ASU was the leading defensive unit in the Sun Belt Conference. The next year, ASU was ranked 30th nationally in rush defense and in the top 50 in both scoring and total defense in Curtis' final season with the program.

Curtis' 4-3 defensive play calling was instrumental in Arkansas State's 18-14 win over Texas A&M in 2008 as the Red Wolves shutout the Aggies in the final three quarters. His switch to a 4-3 defensive scheme was also key to the Red Wolves' 2005 Sun Belt championship season and their first-ever appearance in a bowl game.

Northwestern State's players thrived under Curtis' direction, most notably All-American defensive backs Jermaine Jones and Tony Joe Maranto. Jones, a cornerback, was named Southland Conference Player of the Year in 1998 and Maranto was selected as 1997 Southland Conference Defensive Player of the Year.

A first-team all-state defensive back at Silver City High School in New Mexico, Curtis played three years at Evangel University before injuries cut his collegiate football career short. He began his coaching career in what would have been his senior year as a student coach for the Crusaders.

After graduation Curtis accepted a position as a graduate assistant coach at Henderson State University and earned his master's degree in physical education in 1990. He moved to Starkville, Miss., where a graduate assistant coaching position at Mississippi State allowed him to begin his specialist's degree in educational leadership and work with the Bulldogs' coaching staff. Curtis remained as a volunteer coach from 1991 through August of 1992 and worked with the Bulldogs' defensive backs.

Western New Mexico hired Curtis as its secondary coach in 1993. He returned to Silver City, N.M., and helped lead the Mustangs to a 7-3 record, the NAIA playoffs and a No. 3 NAIA final national ranking. Curtis' defense led the nation with 29 interceptions and free safety Chris Edmond snatched 13 to lead the nation in that category.

Born in Birmingham, Ala., Curtis grew up in the South before his family moved to New Mexico where he attended high school. He is married to the former Michelle Weser of Dumas, Ark., and they have two daughters, Carolina and Georganna.

ALEX ATKINS

Assistant HC/OL • First Season
Chicago, Ill.
UT Martin, 2007

Alex Atkins begins his first season as the assistant head coach and offensive line coach for Tulane in 2016.

Atkins comes to Tulane after helping produce two very successful seasons at Georgia Southern under head coach Willie Fritz in 2014 and 2015. Atkins' offensive lines led the charge toward 18 victories, a win in the GoDaddy.com Bowl, a Sun Belt Conference Championship and the top rushing offense in the nation with 371.7 rushing yards per game in two seasons. Along the way, six offensive linemen earned all-conference honors.

In his final season at Georgia Southern in 2015, Atkins' group led the Eagles ground game to a nation's best 363 rushing yards per game and 54 touchdowns. A pair of offensive linemen earned all-league honors from the Sun Belt Conference, including first-team recipient Darien Foreman and second-team selection Andy Kwon. The Eagles won nine games and cruised past Bowling Green in the GoDaddy.com Bowl, 58-27, in the school's first-ever bowl Football Bowl Subdivision postseason appearance.

In 2014, Atkins' offensive line paved the way for the Eagles to haul the mail for 384.0 yards per game. Georgia Southern's offensive line featured a pair of First Team All-Sun Belt honorees with Manrey Saint-Amour and Garrett Frye claiming the honors. Saint-Amour was also on the Rimington Trophy Watch list while two other teammates were named All-Sun Belt Conference Honorable Mention.

Atkins came to Georgia Southern after two years as the offensive line coach for Chattanooga. The Mocs made improvements in 2012 in the major offensive categories from the previous year and had more success again in 2013. In that short span, UTC moved up numerous spots in the Southern Conference offensive team statistics.

In 2013, the Mocs' offensive line was one of the critical factors in Chattanooga quarterback Jacob Huesman winning the league's Offensive Player of the Year award. UTC posted eight wins during the 2013 campaign with six SoCon wins, most since joining the conference in 1977. Senior Kevin Revis, a 2013 first-team All-Southern Conference selection, became the second-straight Chattanooga offensive lineman honored after Adam Miller was a pick of the league's media association in 2012.

Atkins was a four-year starter at offensive guard at UT Martin, twice selected for All-Ohio Valley Conference honors. As a senior, he blocked for two 1,000-yard rushers and helped lead UT Martin to a No. 12 national ranking and 9-3 overall record. The Skyhawks won the OVC championship that season and took the program to its first-ever appearance in the NCAA FCS playoffs. Several game, season and career offensive records were broken or approached by UT Martin during Atkins' career, some for the first time in nearly four decades.

A 2007 UT Martin graduate with a degree in history, Atkins began his coaching career at his alma mater where he worked with offensive coordinator Marcus Satterfield, then later reuniting with him at Chattanooga. He was promoted to the position of tight ends coach in January of 2008 after serving for a year as the Skyhawks' offensive assistant.

He spent the 2009 season as a graduate assistant working with the offensive line and tight ends at Marshall prior to moving to Mississippi. Atkins accepted the position as the offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Itawamba (Miss.) Community College. For both the 2010 and 2011 seasons, the Indians ranked in the top 25 nationally in total offense. Several of his former student-athletes continued their careers at four-year institutions with two signing with FBS schools.

Atkins, a native of Chicago, Ill., was recruited to UT Martin from Hillcrest High School in Memphis by current Eagles' and then Skyhawks' assistant coach Johnny Jernigan.

Atkins recently married his wife, Brittany.

JEFF CONWAY

WR • First Season
Knoxville, Iowa
Northwest Missouri State, 1981

Jeff Conway begins his first season as the wide receivers coach for the Green Wave in 2016.

Conway and Tulane head coach Willie Fritz have a storied history together that dates back to 1984 when both were in their first stints at Sam Houston State. Since then, the two have worked together at Blinn Junior College, Central Missouri, a second time at Sam Houston State and will reunite at Tulane for the fifth time over the last 31 years.

Prior to Tulane, Conway, who has been a part of five bowl games and five conference champions during his career, spent the last four seasons as the co-offensive coordinator, running backs and tight ends coach at Texas State under head coach Dennis Franchione. Conway coached one of the top seven rushing leaders in the Sun Belt Conference (SBC) last season when Robert Lowe, who finished the season rushing for 915 yards and seven touchdowns on 175 carries despite missing the final game and sitting out most of the previous game with an injury. Lowe also caught 18 passes for 145 yards and three TDs out of the backfield.

The previous season, Conway produced two of the top 10 rushing leaders in the Sun Belt during each of the last two seasons. Last season, Phil Steele and College Sports Madness named Robert Lowe an All-SBC Third-Team selection after he became the first Bobcat since 2009 to rush over 1,000 yards when he ranked fifth among league leaders with 1,091 yards and 12 touchdowns on 185 carries. Terrence Franks also ranked 10th among SBC rushing leaders with 712 yards and eight TDs on 107 carries. In 2013, Lowe earned All-SBC Second-Team honors after ranking second among league leaders with 945 yards and nine touchdowns on 164 carries. Chris Nutall also gained 477 yards and scored six TD's on 83 carries to rank 10th among league leaders. In his first season, Conway tutored Second-Team All-Western Athletic Conference tight end Chase Harper, who finished the season second among Bobcat reception leaders with 28 catches for 315 catches and three touchdowns. In addition, running back Marcus Curry was an Honorable Mention All-WAC selection after leading the Bobcats in rushing with 685 yards and 10 touchdowns on 113 carries in 2012. He also coached kickoff returns on special teams and produced two of the top kick returners in the nation in 2012 and 2013. In 2013, record-setting Brandon Smith ranked fifth nationally after averaging 29.9 yards per return and tied a NCAA record when he returned two kickoffs for touchdowns in the same game at UL-Lafayette. In 2012, Jafus Gaines led the WAC in kickoff returns and ranked 10th nationally with 28.9 yards per return. Conway came to Texas State after serving as the assistant head coach and wide receivers coach at Sam Houston State during the two previous seasons when the Bearkats posted a combined record of 20-6. In 2011, Sam Houston State was a Division I Football Championship Subdivision Finalist and ended the season ranked No. 2 nationally with a 14-1 overall record. The Bearkats also won the Southland Conference with a 7-0 league record. One of his receivers at Sam Houston State was 2011 SLC Offensive Player of the Year Richard Sincere, who caught 25 passes for 449 yards and rushed 120 times for 965 yards and nine touchdowns when lining up behind center in the "Wild Bearkat" formation. Conway went to Sam Houston State after serving as the associate head coach and wide receivers coach at Central Missouri for six seasons. During that span, the Mules compiled a 41-24 record, including an 8-3 mark in 2009. Central Missouri also had four seven-win campaigns in 2004, 2005, 2007 and 2008.

He also worked six seasons as a special teams and recruiting coordinator at the University of New Mexico, where he began his tenure coaching tight ends in 1998-99, running backs in 2000-01 and wide receivers from 2002-03. During the 2001 season as running backs coach, New Mexico enjoyed its best season in four years as the Lobos averaged 191 yards per game and produced a NFL Draft selection, Jarrod Baxter. Conway went to New Mexico from Blinn College, where he was a first-year head coach in 1997 and led the Buccaneers to an 8-3 record and a No. 14 national ranking.

He was named head coach after serving as the offensive coordinator for four seasons when Blinn posted a 47-8-1 record, won 26 consecutive games and won back-to-back national championships in 1995 and 1996. Conway also served as the offensive coordinator at Missouri Western State in 1991 and 1992 after serving in the same capacity at Houston's North Shore High School in 1990. He began his coaching career as an assistant at his alma mater, Northwest Missouri State in the spring of 1984 before moving to Sam Houston State as a wide receivers coach in 1984-85. The Bearkats finished 8-3 both seasons and won a Gulf Star Conference championship. He also served as a quarterbacks and receivers coach at Lamar from 1986-89. Conway is a 1981 graduate of Northwest Missouri State where he earned his bachelor's degree in finance and played football as a free safety from 1978 to 1981. He was named an All-Conference selection as a senior.

A native of Knoxville, Iowa, Conway and his wife, Jolene, have three daughters - Callie, Patsy and Bobbi.

JAMAAL FOBBS

RB • First Season
New Orleans, La.
Oklahoma State, 2001

Jamaal Fobbs is in his first season as the running backs coach for the Green Wave in 2016.

A New Orleans native and graduate of St. Augustine High School, Fobbs comes to Tulane from Liberty University, where he served as the running backs coach and special teams coach for the last four seasons. He also has coaching stops at Tennessee, North Carolina A&T, Southeastern Louisiana, LSU and Chattanooga.

At Liberty, Fobbs worked under Turner Gill and helped lead the Flames to 29-19 overall record, a Big South Conference regular season title in 2012 and a pair of co-championship finishes in 2013 and 2014 and to the second round of the FCS playoffs.

During his first season at Liberty, Fobbs helped coach All-Big South running back Aldreakis Allen, who finished the year ranked No. 2 in the conference and No. 26 in the country in rushing.

Allen became the ninth player in program history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season, finishing the year with 1,019 rushing yards and 10 rushing touchdowns. Allen also was the seventh player in program history with 1,000 yards and 10 rushing touchdowns in the same year.

As a team, Liberty finished the year ranked No. 35 in the country in rushing offense (175.82 yards per game) and No. 40 in total offense (402 yards per game).

Fobbs' running backs helped play a part in Liberty winning six of its last seven games of the year en route to the program's fifth Big South title in the last seven seasons.

Fobbs came to Liberty after having two highly successful seasons as running backs coach at Chattanooga, where he helped the Mocs nearly double their rushing output prior to his arrival.

Chattanooga, which had rushed for 85 yards per game in 2009, averaged 148.6 rushing yards per game the past two years and rushed for 35 touchdowns.

In 2009, Fobbs was part of an offensive attack at Chattanooga that ranked No. 11 nationally in total offense (430.0 yards per game) and No. 17 in scoring offense (31.55 points per game).

Under his instruction, Mocs rookie running back Keon Williams earned Southern Conference All-Freshman honors in 2010.

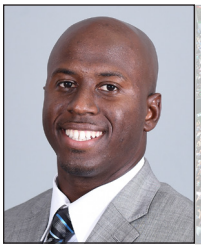

Prior to his days at Chattanooga, Fobbs spent one year at Tennessee as the Vols' offensive quality control staff member. Tennessee closed out the 2009 season by winning four of its last five games and a Chick-fil-A bowl matchup with Virginia Tech.

Fobbs was a standout running back at Oklahoma State, having earned All-Big 12 honors as an all-purpose player during his senior season in 2000.

He finished his four-year career by rushing for 1,861 yards and nine touchdowns, where he averaged 4.9 yards per rushing attempt. He also caught 73 passes for 705 yards, while scoring five receiving touchdowns.

As a return specialist, Fobbs twice finished seasons with a 20-plus yard kickoff return average, doing so as a sophomore (24.3 average in 1998) and as a junior (21.3 average in 1999). As a senior, he led the Big 12 with 22 kickoff returns, averaging 17.0 yards per return.

Fobbs graduated from Oklahoma State in 2001 with a degree in sports administration. His father, Lee, is a long-time college football coach and is currently the running backs coach at Grambling State, while his brother, Broderick, is the head coach at Grambling State.

CHRIS HAMPTON

Secondary • First Season
Memphis, Tenn.
South Carolina, 2007

Chris Hampton is in his first season as the defensive backs coach for the Green Wave in 2016.

Prior to Tulane, Hampton spent the previous four years as the defensive backs coach at McNeese State.

Following the 2015 season, a total of three Cowboy defensive backs earned All-Southland Conference honors, including Defensive Player of the Year and First Team selection Wallace Scott. In addition to conference honors, Scott was named to the AFCA's FCS All-America Team while earning Defensive Player of the Year and First Team All-Louisiana honors from the Louisiana Sports Writer's Association.

In 2014, Hampton helped coach free safety Aaron Sam to First Team All-Southland Conference and All-Louisiana honors as well as fellow safety Brent Spikes who led the team in both tackles and interceptions. Spikes set a new McNeese, Southland Conference and Louisiana single game record with 148 interception return yards on three picks at Incarnate Word on Oct. 25. Those three interceptions tied a school single-game record. In 2013, he coached Guy Morgan to First Team All-Southland Conference and All-Louisiana honors as well as Third Team All-America honors by The Sports Network.

Hampton began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Arkansas State in 2008 and followed that up with two seasons as a graduate assistant at Georgia Tech (2009-10). He then spent one season as the safeties coach at Central Arkansas (2011) before joining the McNeese State staff.

Hampton played collegiate football at South Carolina where he was a four-year letterwinner and a two-year starter as a safety for the Gamecocks. He also earned the team's Harold White award which is given to the player with the highest grade point average.

MICHAEL MUTZ

LB • First Season
San Antonio, Texas
Colorado Mesa University, 1997

Michael Mutz enters his first season as the linebackers coach for Tulane in 2016, and begins his fourth season of serving on Coach Willie Fritz's staff. Prior to Tulane, Mutz spent two seasons at Georgia Southern, where he helped the Eagles to a two-year overall record of 18-7, a combined Sun Belt Conference mark of 14-2, a GoDaddy.com championship and a Sun Belt Championship.

In 2015, his final season at Georgia Southern, Mutz helped guide Georgia Southern to a 9-4 overall record and the school's first win in its inaugural bowl game with a 58-27 win over Bowling Green in the 2015 GoDaddy.com Bowl.

In his first season with the Eagles, Georgia Southern won the 2014 Sun Belt Championship as the Eagles' made their debut in the FBS. He worked with linebacker Edwin Jackson who was a first team All-Sun Belt honoree, and signed a free agent NFL contract with the Arizona Cardinals. Jackson was also selected to the Medal of Honor Bowl All-Star Game roster.

Jackson led the Eagles with 100 total tackles while fellow linebacker made 65 stops and led the team with 8.0 tackles for loss and 3.0 sacks.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Mutz coached the 2013 season at Sam Houston State where he coached the Bearkat cornerbacks with Bookie Sneed earning first team All-Southland Conference and Sports Network All-America third-team honors. Sneed finished his career ranked in the Sam Houston State top-10 for interceptions with while De'Antrey Loche tied the single-season mark for interception returns for touchdowns with three.

From San Antonio, Texas, Mutz spent three years as a defensive coordinator, two at Missouri Southern State and one at Blinn College before returning to the Sam Houston State program under Fritz.

Mutz's MSSU Lions ranked at the top of the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association (MIAA) in total defense and rush defense in 2010, and held opponent defenses to the lowest first downs total in the league. The following season, MSSU posted solid numbers in the conference and ranked eighth nationally in both tackles for loss and sacks.

All-Americans on the Lions' defense included defensive tackle Brandon Williams, Missouri Southern State's career sacks leader, who was selected in the third round of the 2013 NFL draft by the Baltimore Ravens. Williams was among the 16 MIAA All-Conference team members coached by Mutz during his tenure there, along with two Lions who were honored as academic All-Americans.

Mutz was also responsible for Missouri Southern State's kickoff and kickoff return teams in 2008 and 2009. In his first year in that coaching role, the Lions led the MIAA in that statistical category with more than 1,000 kickoff return yards for an average of 23.59 yards per return, good for 17th nationally.

At Blinn, Mutz oversaw the 2012 Buccaneers' defense, coached the linebackers and was responsible for the punting unit for special teams. Seven of his student-athletes from the 2012 season went on to sign scholarships at Division I programs.

Hired to Sam Houston State by legendary coach Ron Randleman in 2004, Mutz coached the defensive line, helping the Bearkats tie for the Southland Conference lead with 16 fumble recoveries. Sam Houston State won the Southland Conference championship that season and advanced to its first-ever NCAA FCS semifinal game. Polls placed that 11-3 squad as the No. 4 team in the nation, with its highest-ever wins total and highest-ever ranking to that point.

Mutz worked his way up the coaching ranks, earning his graduate degree at Southern Illinois while serving for two years as an assistant football coach working with the defensive line and secondary. At Southern Illinois he coached

Bart Scott, 2006 Pro Bowler for the Baltimore Ravens. Scott is now a fixture on the CBS NFL Pregame show.

Mutz accepted a full-time position at Fort Scott Community College in Kansas in early 2001 and was part of the coaching staff that led the Greyhounds to three-straight playoff appearances.

In addition to his on-field coaching responsibilities, Mutz coordinated the video needs for Sam Houston State in 2013 as well as for both the Southern Illinois and Fort Scott programs. He coached the punt and kickoff coverage teams at Fort Scott and also handled duties as the assistant strength coach.

A 1997 graduate of Colorado Mesa University, Mutz graduated with a degree in psychology and a minor in coaching. He resides with his two Boston Terriers, Hank and Hudson.

SLADE NAGLE

TE • First Season
Lake Charles, La.
McNeese State, 2001

Slade Nagle is in his first season as the tight ends coach for the Green Wave in 2016.

Prior to Tulane, Nagle served as the running backs coach and special teams coordinator for the past four seasons at his alma mater, McNeese State, and helped the team to a combined record of 33-13, including a pair of 10-win seasons and two Football Championships Subdivision (FCS) playoff appearances.

During Nagle's final season at McNeese State, the Cowboys posted a 10-1 overall record, a perfect 9-0 mark en route to a Southland Conference titles and fell to Sam Houston State in the first round of the FCS playoffs. McNeese State's rushing attack averaged 233.3 yards per game (2,566 on the year) and accounted for 25 touchdowns. The Cowboys averaged 25.5 yards on kick returns and 10.29 yards on punt returns.

In 2014 under Nagle's tutelage, the Cowboys' running back corps rushed for 2,441 yards and scored 28 touchdowns while marking the second straight season the Cowboys have rushed for over 2,400 yards as a unit.

Nagle helped coach McNeese special teams to a record-breaking season in 2013 where the team set a new single-season record with 1,514 kickoff return yards and three KO returns for touchdowns.

Nagle joined the Cowboy staff in the spring of 2012 after serving as running backs coach and assistant head coach at Central Arkansas. Nagle has also had previous coaching experience at Texas State, LSU and Northwestern State.

A 2001 graduate of McNeese, Nagle played for the Cowboys for three years from 1999 to 2001, leading the team to two appearances in the NCAA playoffs and to a Southland Conference title. An all-conference selection during his playing time, he completed his career as the school's seventh ranked performer in total offense (4,977 yards), sixth in passing yardage (4,596), fifth in passes attempted and completed (378 of 653) and fifth in touchdown passes (35). Nagle's career completion percentage of .578 is one of the best in school history. In 2001 he quarterbacked the Cowboys to the SLC title, completing 113 of 198 passes for 1,279 yards and 14 touchdowns. During his career he had a 19-8 won-loss record as the Cowboy starting quarterback.

After graduating from McNeese, Nagle served as graduate assistant coach at Northwestern State (2002-03), as the quarterback coach at Dodge City (Kansas) Community College (2004-05), as the quarterback and wide receiver coach at Northwestern State (2006-09), as an administrative assistant working with the special teams at LSU (2009), as the co-offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Texas State (2010) and as the running backs/assistant head coach at Central Arkansas (2011).

A native of Lake Charles, Nagle earned all-state and all-district (three times) honors at Barbe High where he set school records for passing. He signed with Clemson out of high school and played as a freshman before transferring to McNeese. His father, John, is a veteran football coach in the state, both on the college and high school level.

KEVIN PEOPLES

DL • First Season
Butte, Montana
Carroll College (Mont.), 1992

Kevin Peoples begins his first season as the defensive line coach for Tulane in 2016.

Prior to joining Tulane, Peoples spent the last seasons on Coach Willie Fritz's staff at Georgia Southern. In two seasons, Peoples' helped the Eagles to 18 victories, a win in the GoDaddy.com Bowl and a Sun Belt Conference title.

In Peoples' final season at Georgia Southern in 2015, the defensive line ranked first in the league and 24th nationally in rushing defense (130.9 avg) and second and 24th nationally in total defense (338.1). A pair of players earned all-league accolades, including Jay Ellison and Bernard Dawson, who were each a second-team all-conference pick and led the team to nine wins and a decisive 58-27 victory over Bowling Green in the GoDaddy.com Bowl, the school's first-ever bowl appearance.

In 2014 the Eagles won the Sun Belt Championship in the team's first season with Jay Ellison earning All-Sun Belt Conference Honorable Mention honors.

Prior to joining the Eagles, Peoples worked the 2013 campaign at UAB, working with the Blazer defensive linemen.

Under Peoples' direction, the 2012 Arkansas defensive line earned a top-25 national ranking in sacks and the Razorbacks boasted a rushing defense that finished in the top 20. The Razorbacks posted consecutive 10-win seasons for just the third time in school history and made back-to-back BCS bowl appearances in 2010 (Sugar Bowl) and 2011 (Cotton Bowl). The 2011 squad capped its 11-2 season with a No. 5 national ranking following a 29-16 victory over Kansas State.

Peoples was part of the defensive staff at Arkansas State in 2002 that vaulted the Red Wolves 41 spots in the national rankings in total defense from 80th to 39th, one of only a handful of teams to make such a dramatic improvement. The Red Wolves' coaches built off that success, entrenching Arkansas State as one of the top two teams in in the Sun Belt in total defense for the next five years. Arkansas State won its first Sun Belt title in 2005 and appeared in the New Orleans Bowl.

In his eight years at Arkansas State, Peoples coached 11 all-Sun Belt Conference selections and mentored several student-athletes who earned All-Sun Belt Conference awards, including Corey Williams (2002, 2003), Jon Bradley (2002, 2003) Myron Anderson (2005), Jonathan Najm (2006), Jammarrow James (2006), Alex Carrington (2008, 2009) and Bryan Hall (2009).

Carrington, the league's Defensive Player of the year in 2008, was drafted in the third round of the 2010 NFL Draft by the Buffalo Bills while both Williams and Bradley spent multiple seasons in the NFL. Hall was a member of the Baltimore Ravens when they won Super Bowl XLVII.

Team accomplishments and student-athlete accolades at Arkansas State were products of Peoples' coaching, effort and caring. In 2003, he was selected from 500 coaches as one of the recipients of the AFLAC National Assistant Coach of the Year Award, recognizing those coaches who made a significant contribution to their teams.

Peoples' experiences at different programs and levels have exposed him to a number of philosophies that have helped mold his evolving approach to defensive line play. He first joined Fritz's staff at Blinn Community College, helping the Buccaneers to the national junior college championship in 1995. The following year, he coached the defensive ends and worked with the kickoff coverage team at Northwestern State.

Reuniting with Fritz at Central Missouri for the 1997 and 1998 seasons, Peoples served as defensive line coach, tutoring first-team All-MIAA and All-Midwest Region defensive lineman Kenneth Bouie. The Mules' record holder with 23 tackles for loss in a single season in 1998, Bouie still appears in the UCM top 10 list for most tackles in a game and season as well as career tackles for loss. He earned All-America honors as a member of the Blinn championship team before continuing his collegiate career with UCM.

Peoples left for Northern Arizona in 1999 to coach the defensive line and special teams for the Lumberjacks and moved to the professional ranks with the XFL's Las Vegas Outlaws for the 2000 season. In 2001, he accepted a position coaching defensive tackles back at Northwestern State for then-Demons and current Georgia Southern defensive coordinator Jack Curtis. When Steve Roberts took the reins of the Arkansas State program, Peoples became the Red Wolves' defensive line coach in January 2002.

A four-year starter at linebacker in college, Peoples launched his coaching career at his alma mater, Carroll College (Mont.) in 1993, spending two years under the tutelage of legendary coach Bob Petrino, Sr. A two-time all-conference pick and all-district selection as a senior, Peoples helped lead the Saints to the 1989 Frontier Conference crown and a berth in the NAIA playoffs.

Peoples is married to the former Rebecca Chilton of Buckeye, Ariz.

SHANE MEYER

Director of Operations • First Season
O'Fallon, Mo.
Central Missouri, 1999

Shane Meyer, a highly decorated placekicker for Coach Willie Fritz at Central Missouri, is in his first season at Tulane as the Green Wave's Director of Football Operations in 2016. Meyer spent the last two seasons in the same position under Fritz at Georgia Southern.

A 2009 inductee into the Mules' Hall of Fame, Meyer was a four-time All-conference selection from 1995- 98 and earned All-America honors in 1997.

Meyer handles a number of administrative duties for the program including travel, scheduling of practice times, and overall organization of the program.

During his All-America season, Meyer kicked 18 field goals to set UCM's single-season record and still holds the career mark with 49. When his career was complete, he ranked third in career PATs (107), consecutive field goals (eight) and career scoring with 254 career points, the most by a Mule kicker.

A native of O'Fallon, Missouri, Meyer served for the last four and a half years as the Head Girls' Basketball Coach while teaching at Jefferson City High School in Missouri before joining the Eagles.

He also coached at Villa Duchesne High School in St. Louis, Missouri, where he was the Youth Sports Coordinator, before reuniting with Coach Fritz at UCM in 2007.

Meyer spent the 2007-09 seasons as an assistant football coach and equipment manager at his alma mater, coaching the kickers, punters and long snappers while assisting the special teams coordinator.

After graduating from Central Missouri in 1999, Meyer joined the Mules' Football program as a graduate assistant coach. An opportunity to play professionally put Meyer back on the field intermittently over the next three seasons with the Roanoke Steam and Norfolk Nighthawks in the Arena Football League Two.

He returned to coaching, trading the football field for the hardwood, and accepted the position as Head Coach of the California (Missouri) Girls' High School Basketball team in 2002. His Pinto squad finished third in the 2004 Missouri state playoffs.

Meyers is married to another UCM alum, Christine, the Meyers have two children, Trey and Leah.

WALKER ASHBURN

Defensive GA • Second Season
Kenner, La.
Nebraska, 2014

Walker Ashburn begins his second season as a graduate assistant for the Tulane defense in 2015.

Prior to Tulane, Ashburn spent the last year (2014-15) working as a member of the New Orleans Saints equipment staff.

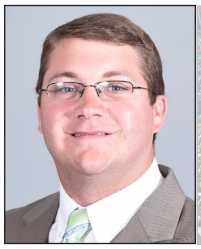

Before that, Ashburn was an athletic training intern at his alma mater, the University of Nebraska, in 2013-14.

Ashburn, 25, was a football student-athlete for the Cornhuskers from 2010-13 and was a part of Nebraska teams that combined for a 38-16 overall record and four bowl appearances. He was twice named a Nebraska Scholar-Athlete.

A native of nearby Kenner and 2010 graduate of John Curtis High School, Ashburn played for legendary Louisiana high school coach J.T. Curtis and was a four-year starter for the Patriots. He helped his school to two state titles as a sophomore and junior and a state runner-up finish as a senior. Ashburn was named the MVP of the state title game as a sophomore.

Ashburn earned his bachelor's degree in communication with a minor in child, youth and family Studies from Nebraska in 2014.

His father, Terry, is a member of the New Orleans Saints organization.

BRANDON BAILEY

Defensive GA • First Season
Perry, Ga.
Georgia Southern, 2016

Brandon Bailey begins his first season as a graduate assistant for the Tulane defense in 2016.

Bailey, 22, recently graduated Cum Laude from Georgia Southern University in May of 2016, where he received his bachelor's degree in health and physical education.

While serving as a student-assistant coach at Georgia Southern from January 2013 to March of 2016, Bailey was also a member of Phi Eta Sigma academic achievement organization and nominated for Outstanding Health and Kinesiology Major in 2016.

Previously, Bailey assisted with linebackers under Kevin Corless (2013) and defensive backs under Jack Curtis (2014-16), who is now the defensive coordinator at Tulane.

While at Georgia Southern, Bailey experienced some historic landmarks for the football program. In 2013, Georgia Southern transitioned over from the FCS to the FBS to join the Sun Belt Conference. That same year Georgia Southern won its first FBS game in program history at Florida.

In 2014 under current Tulane head coach Willie Fritz, the Eagles went undefeated (8-0) in conference play to earn their first Sun Belt Championship. A year later, Georgia Southern won its first bowl game in the GoDaddy.com Bowl against Bowling Green.

A native of Perry, Ga., Bailey will pursue his master's degree from Tulane in liberal arts.

JORDY JOSEPH

Offensive GA • First Season
New Iberia, La.
Tulane, 2016

Making the transition from playing to coaching, Jordy Joseph enters his first season as a graduate assistant coach for the Tulane offense. Previously, Joseph was a walk-on quarterback for the Green Wave from 2011-15.

A two-year letterman, Joseph completed 47-of-92 passes (51.1 pct.) for 620 yards and six touchdowns and three interceptions in 11 career games with two starts. He served as a backup during the final portion of his senior season before being thrust into duty in starts vs. Memphis and against Tulsa.

A native of New Iberia, La., Joseph was a four-year letterman at New Iberia High School where he helped the Yellow Jackets to a combined 25-17 record while earning three trips to the state playoffs.

Joseph earned his bachelor's degree in finance from the Tulane's A.B. Freeman School of Business while also earning his MBA as well in 2016.

Joseph is currently pursuing a master's degree in liberal arts.

University President • 3rd Year at Tulane • Philadelphia, Pa. • Harvard, 1975

Michael A. Fitts is the 15th President of Tulane University. President Fitts previously served as dean and Bernard G. Segal Professor of Law at the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

A native of Philadelphia, Fitts earned a bachelor of arts from Harvard University in 1975. Inspired by the film To Kill a Mockingbird and its heroic protagonist, attorney Atticus Finch, Fitts enrolled in law school at Yale University. He became an editor of the Yale Law Journal and earned his juris doctor in 1979. Fitts began teaching at Penn in 1985 after serving as a clerk for civil rights advocate Judge Leon Higginbotham and as an attorney in the U.S. Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel. He was named law dean at Penn in 2000.

Under Fitts' deanship, Penn Law has become a national leader in cross-disciplinary legal education, with 35 degree and certificate programs offered in partnership with other divisions of Penn, including its business and medical schools. He also increased the law school's endowment by more than 250 percent, grew the number of law faculty by 40 percent and doubled all forms of student financial aid. Further, he created partnerships with institutions from Bangalore to Beijing and expanded public service opportunities for students and graduates.

Fitts has also written extensively on administrative law, presidential power, the separation of powers, improving the structure of political parties and executive branch decision-making. In 2013, the University of Pennsylvania Law School's Board of Overseers announced a gift of $4.2 million to establish the Michael A. Fitts Distinguished Professor of Law, an endowed faculty chair named in his honor.

Michael A. Fitts and Renee J. Sobel, Esq.

I'm excited and honored to join the Tulane community. Located in one of the world's most dynamic cities, the university embodies a rich tradition of leadership and innovation in higher education. As a preeminent academic and research institution with a deep commitment to public service, Tulane is making a distinctive difference in the world. Our potential is unlimited.
- Michael Fitts

President Michael Fitts address the graduating class during his first Tulane commencement.

Michael Fitts, the 15th President of Tulane University, begins his second year at Tulane in 2015-16.

Troy Dannen

Director of Athletics • First Year at Tulane • Marshalltown, Iowa• Northern Iowa, 1989

Troy Dannen was formally introduced as Tulane's 33rd Director of Athletics on December 4, 2015.

"Troy has demonstrated outstanding leadership and success in every job, at every level," Tulane President Michael Fitts said. "His dedication to his student-athletes and his goal to win championships in every sport are testament to his enthusiasm and his dedication to his profession."

"On a personal note, I know that Troy's engaging personality, warmth and tremendous energy level will endear him to our student-athletes and fans," Fitts added.

Dannen comes to Tulane after serving eight seasons in the same capacity at his alma mater, the University of Northern Iowa (UNI) from 2008-15. He brings 27 years of athletic administration, including the last 13 years as a chief executive officer, to Tulane Athletics.

"The commitment and competitive support from everyone from the president to the board was one of the many reasons for my interest in this great opportunity at Tulane," Dannen said. "The people I met at Tulane are phenomenal and they have built a terrific infrastructure; now it is time to win."

During Dannen's tenure at UNI, the Panthers enjoyed an incredible run of success at both the conference and national level. The successes extend beyond the competitive and include unprecedented academic, fundraising, business operations and marketing achievement. As a result, Dannen was honored by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) as Under Armour AD-of- the-Year (ADOY) in 2014.

UNI successfully generated gift commitments totaling $27 million in the recently completed "Imagine the Impact" institutional fund-raising campaign – which exceeded the institutional target of $15 million by 80 percent. UNI also saw its commitments to athletic scholarship endowments increase by 300 percent since 2008.

He negotiated multi-year marketing deals with Learfield Sports (multimedia rights), Learfield-IMG Ticket Solutions (tickets) and Nike (apparel and equipment).

As a by-product of these areas off the field successes, UNI athletics thrived on the playing field. UNI recognized 39 All-Americans, 13 Coaches of the Year and nine Missouri Valley Conference (MVC) Players of the Year. Football, men's basketball, women's basketball, volleyball and softball combined to reach 14 NCAA Tournaments since 2008. Under head coach Doug Schwab, who Dannen hired in 2010, the Panther wrestling program rose to national prominence with the only perfect NCAA Division I record (13-0) in 2013-14.

Born and raised on a farm near Marshalltown, Iowa, Dannen, 49, received his bachelor's degree in communications from UNI in 1989.

He is married to his wife, Amy, who works for Astra-Zenica Pharmaceuticals, and has three daughters: Elle, Emily and Holly and a son: William.

(From l-r): Amy Dannen, Tulane President Michael A. Fitts, Tulane Director of Athletics Troy Dannen and Doug Hertz

A native of Marshalltown, Iowa, Troy Dannen has quickly accepted and learned many New Orleans traditions.

Game 1 • Tulane 7 vs. Duke 37

Yulman Stadium • New Orleans, La.
Sept. 3, 2015 • 25,470 Attendance

Despite forcing two turnovers, Tulane's football squad could not stop Duke from scoring, while the Green Wave offense struggled to put points on the board in a 37-7 loss to the Blue Devils during the 2015 season opener at Yulman Stadium on Thursday night.

Tulane managed 271 yards of offense on the night -- with 99 yards coming on one drive - but Duke nearly doubled that with 530.

The Green Wave never gave up, though, as they fought until the clock ran out. Trailing 23-0 in the fourth quarter, Tulane got on the board with the program's longest passing play since 2012 as redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee connected with redshirt-junior Devon Breaux on a 76-yard touchdown reception to complete a four-play, 99-yard drive in the fourth quarter.

On the ensuing kickoff, however, Duke's DeVon Edwards returned redshirt-senior Trevor Simms' kick 95 yards for a touchdown.

On the evening, Lee was 24-of-42 for 246 yards and one touchdown, while sophomore wide receiver Teddy Veal and redshirt-sophomore running back Dontrell Hillard paced the team with five receptions apiece. Breaux led the way with 92 yards receiving in his first-career multi-reception game, as he snagged four passes.

The Blue Devils struck first on an otherwise sloppy first quarter for both teams. Ross Martin kicked a 32-yard field goal with 5:41 remaining in the opening stanza after each team committed three penalties. Tulane's defense did manage to stop Duke on their opening drive, as redshirt-sophomore defensive end Ade Aruna forced a fumble on Duke's Johnell Barnes that was recovered by redshirt-sophomore defensive back Jarrod Franklin.

Duke reached the endzone shortly after the start of the second quarter, as Duke's Thomas Sirk connected with Shaquille Powell on a three-yard shovel pass to cap off a nine-play, 39-yard drive. Near the end of the first half, Duke retained the ball after an offsides penalty on Tulane during a punt before running out the clock and adding a field goal to take a 13-0 lead at the intermission. On the first drive of the second half, Duke tacked on their third field goal of the contest.

Tulane's defense forced their second turnover of the game with their backs against the wall in the middle of the third quarter when an errant backwards pitch by Sirk was scooped up by senior safety Darion Monroe in the red zone. The fumble recovery by Monroe was the seventh of his career, tying him for the Tulane career record with Jay Rink, who was honored with a moment of silence prior to the contest after succumbing to ALS earlier this year.

Junior linebacker Nico Marley was Tulane's leading tackler on the evening with a career-high 15 (13 solo, 2 assists). Franklin (8 solo, 2 assists) and junior Richard Allen (8 solo, 2 assists) were also in double-digit tackle totals during career outings.

Game 2 • Tulane 10 at Georgia Tech 65

Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, Ga.
Sept. 12, 2015 • 50,435 Attendance

It was a tough Saturday afternoon for the Tulane football squad, as the Green Wave fell to No. 15/16 Georgia Tech, 65-10, in front of 50,435 at Bobby Dodd Stadium.

Tulane (0-2) had trouble stopping the triple-option offense employed by the Yellow Jackets (2-0), who ran for 439 yards while adding 132 through the air. Tulane managed 248 yards of total offense, but could not convert those yards to points, as they scored just one touchdown and added a field goal late in the contest.

Georgia Tech came out of the gates hot, as they rolled off a six-play, 35-yard drive capped off by a 13-yard rush by Qua Searcy. During the Yellow Jackets' second drive on the afternoon, a bad pitch resulted in a fumble that was recovered by Tulane's junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart. However, the Green Wave could not capitalize on the miscue, though, as redshirt-senior kicker Trevor Simms missed his second-career field goal attempt.

On the ensuing drive, Georgia Tech scored again to go up 14-0. Backed up in their own territory, the Green Wave had a punt blocked for the first time since the two teams met last season that eventually led to another Yellow Jacket touchdown.

Things picked up midway through the second quarter, as redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee converted on a 20-yard strike to sophomore tight end Trey Scott on third down to extend a drive before finding junior receiver Devon Breaux for a 44-yard touchdown pass to cut the score to 21-7.

Georgia Tech answered quickly and reclaimed their 21-point lead after capitalizing on a short punt with a few minutes remaining in the second quarter when quarterback Justin Thomas found Searcy for a 17-yard touchdown pass before intermission.

Georgia Tech piled on the points in the third quarter, as they scored 16 on two touchdowns and a safety. In the fourth quarter, Lee and the offense orchestrated a 16-play drive for 65 yards that netted the Green Wave a 37-yard field goal by sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco. The Yellow Jackets scored 14 unanswered points to close out the contest.

Lee finished the game with 165 yards through the air on 14-of-30 passing. He threw one touchdown and was picked off once. On the ground, redshirt-junior Lazedrick Thompson paced the Green Wave with 74 yards on 13 attempts.

Breaux led the receiving corps for the second-straight week in receptions (4) and yards (87). His 44-yard scoring grab in the second quarter marked the second straight week he and Lee connected on a 40+ yard scoring strike. Last week at Yulman Stadium against Duke, the duo hooked up for a 76-yard touchdown.

On the defensive side of the ball, three players tied for the team lead with seven tackles apiece. Smart, who gobbled up the aforementioned fumble, notched a career-best seven stops (5 solo, 2 assists), while redshirt-freshman safety Donnie Lewis (7 solo) matched a career high. Redshirt-sophomore linebacker Jarrod Franklin (5 solo, 2 assists) also had seven tackles on the day, while leading the team in tackles for loss with two and one sack.

Game 3 • Tulane 38 vs. Maine 7

Yulman Stadium • New Orleans, La.
Sept. 19, 2015 • 21,114 Attendance

Tulane's offense came alive on Saturday night at Yulman Stadium against Maine, as the Green Wave racked up 497 yards -- including 292 on the ground -- on their way to a convincing 38-7 victory over the Black Bears.

Three Tulane (1-2) running backs totaled four touchdowns, as redshirt-junior Lazedrick Thompson and redshirt-sophomore Sherman Badie scored one each while sophomore Dontrell Hilliard scored twice on the evening against the Maine (0-2) defense.

The Black Bears kicked off the scoring with a touchdown on the game's opening drive, marching 75 yards on seven plays. Tulane got on the board on the ensuing possession when sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco nailed a 23-yard field goal.

While the Black Bears led after the first quarter by a score of 7-3, Tulane quickly turned things around at the beginning of the second stanza when the offense mastered an 80-yard drive that was capped off on a one-yard scoring plunge by Thompson for Tulane's first rushing touchdown of the season.

Badie got in on the action midway through the second quarter when he broke off a 56-yard touchdown run, marking his fourth-career run of 50 yards or more. The Green Wave weren't done scoring, though, as redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee found sophomore Teddy Veal in the end zone for a 39-yard touchdown throw to give Tulane a 24-7 lead at the break.

In the third quarter, Hilliard finished Tulane's second 90-plus yard drive on the night with a five-yard rushing touchdown, putting the Green Wave up 31-7. Later in the period, Hilliard topped his first score with a career-long 85-yard touchdown romp that tied for the ninth-longest rushing play in Tulane history.

Tulane forced two turnovers in the fourth quarter, as senior safety Darion Monroe and freshman cornerback Dedrick Shy each recorded an interception. Defensively, the Green Wave held Maine to 296 yards on the night, including just 93 yards on the ground.

Sophomore linebacker Zachery Harris led the way with seven tackles (5 solo, 2 assists). Junior linebacker Nico Marley notched two tackles for a loss, while senior defensive end Royce LaFrance, junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart, redshirt-sophomore defensive end Ade Aruna, redshirt-senior defensive tackle Corey Redwine and redshirt-sophomore defensive end Luke Jackson all recorded one tackle for loss apiece.

Lee finished the night with 277 yards on 16-of-27 passing. Badie totaled 118 yards on five receptions -- both career highs -- to pace the squad. Veal also nabbed five passes for 94 yards and a touchdown.

On the ground, Hilliard led the team with 117 yards rushing on eight carries, while Thompson's 13 carries were a team-high on the evening. Thompson notched 46 yards. Badie added 71 yards on the ground on six carries and also added 118 receiving yards on five receptions.

Game 4 • Tulane 45 vs. UCF 31

Yulman Stadium • New Orleans, La.
Oct. 3, 2015 • 20,024 Attendance

In a balanced attack on both sides of the ball for Tulane on Saturday, the Green Wave defense forced five turnovers, and the offense turned the miscues into 28 points and cruised to a 45-31 victory over UCF in the American Athletic Conference opener for both teams at Yulman Stadium.

Tulane's (2-2, 1-0 The American) defense made it tough for UCF (0-5, 0-1 The American) on the afternoon, as the Green Wave defenders forced 12.0 tackles for loss, including 7.0 sacks, and grabbed a pair of fumbles and snagged three interceptions.

Among the great moments of the day, perhaps the biggest milestone came in the fourth quarter when sophomore deep snapper Aaron Golub made his first career appearance, snapping on the PAT following the Green Wave's final touchdown of the day. Golub became the first legally blind player to play in a Football Bowl Subdivision game.

The Knights struck first midway through the opening stanza when quarterback Bo Schneider found Jordan Franks on an eight-yard touchdown connection shortly after a botched punt by the Green Wave.

The Green Wave bounced back with a long drive, extended by a fake punt that saw junior running back Marshall Wadleigh ramble 24-yards and picked up a key first down. Redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee capped off the 10-play, 90-yard drive with a two-yard toss to redshirt-freshman tight end Kendall Ardoin for his first-career touchdown reception to tie the contest at seven apiece.

Tulane took the lead with just under five minutes remaining before half when sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco connected on 23-yard field goal.

However, the Green Wave were not done. Tulane managed two quick touchdowns before the end of the half. UCF receiver Chris Johnson was on his way to the end zone after breaking through the secondary on a slant, but redshirt-sophomore cornerback Parry Nickerson caught up to him and forced a fumble that was recovered in mid-air by junior cornerback Richard Allen, who returned the carom 36 yards.

On the ensuing play, Lee found sophomore received Teddy Veal on a 49-yard touchdown strike, giving Tulane their first points off a turnover on the season. True freshman safety Roderic Teamer picked up his first-career interception on the next drive, and that allowed the Green Wave to put together a four-play, 30-yard drive that wrapped up in a four-yard touchdown run by redshirt-sophomore running back Sherman Badie, putting Tulane up 24-7.

UCF kicked a 34-yard field goal in the waning moments before the half to make the score 24-10 at intermission.

In the third quarter, senior defensive end Royce LaFrance recorded 3.0 sacks in a four-play stanza, while forcing a fumble on his final one of the day that was scooped up by senior defensive tackle Corey Redwine. Lee then found redshirt-junior wide receiver Devon Breaux for an eight-yard touchdown to give the Green Wave a 31-10 lead. Sophomore linebacker Rae Juan Marbley got in on the takeaway party, picking up an interception on UCF's ensuing drive off a tipped pass that led to a four-yard touchdown pass from Lee to redshirt-senior fullback Rob Kelley.

Tulane's final score came on a 17-yard touchdown reception by freshman wide receiver Rickey Preston from redshirt-junior quarterback Devin Powell in the fourth. The Knights tallied three touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

Game 5 • Tulane 10 at Temple 49

Lincoln Financial Field • Philadelphia, Penn.
Oct. 10, 2015 • 35,179 Attendance

Tulane's football team came out of the gates hot, taking a 10-7 lead early in the second quarter at Lincoln Financial Field against American Athletic Conference foe Temple, but the Green Wave did not reach pay dirt again, as they fell to the Owls, 49-10 on Saturday afternoon.

Tulane's offense only mustered 110 yards and eight first downs, while Temple corralled two Green Wave miscues in the second half on the way to their fifth-straight victory.

Tulane's defense picked up right where it left off from last week, as freshman safety Roderic Teamer forced a fumble on the Owls' opening drive that was recovered by senior safety Darion Monroe to break the school record. That play led to a 27-yard field goal by sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco for the first score of the contest.

Shortly before the end of the opening stanza, Temple put together a six-play, 80 yard drive that was aided by Tulane penalties before reaching the end zone on a 22-yard touchdown pass from P.J. Walker to Robby Anderson.

At the beginning of the second quarter, freshman punter Zachary Block sent a booming punt deep into Temple territory that was touched by an Owl, leading to a recovery by the Green Wave. Tulane marched the remaining 26 yards, capping off the drive with a seven-yard touchdown pass from redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee to sophomore receiver Teddy Veal.

Temple matched that score with one of their own to regain the lead on the next drive. The Owls compiled a 90-yard drive that saw Jahad Thomas score on a 10-yard rush. Thomas was not done in the quarter, though, as a dropped punt by the Green Wave allowed Temple to begin a drive at the Tulane 12-yard line. Thomas reached the end zone once again, this time on a 16-yard touchdown pass from Thomas, giving the Owls a 21-10 lead.

In the second half, the Green Wave turned the ball over twice, while Temple scored 28 unanswered points.

Lee finished the game 16-of-29 for 95 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. Veal paced the team in receptions with six for 43 yards and the lone touchdown on the afternoon. On the ground, redshirt-senior Rob Kelley led the way with 36 yards on eight carries.

Game 6 • Tulane 7 vs. Houston 42

Yulman Stadium • New Orleans, La.
Oct. 16, 2015 • 21,522 Attendance

Tulane's football squad could not stop No. 24 Houston's high-powered offense on Friday night, as the Green Wave fell to the Cougars, 42-7, at Yulman Stadium.

Tulane (2-4, 1-2 The American) allowed 461 yards of offense on the evening to the nationally-ranked Cougars (6-0, 3-0 The American). Offensively, the Green Wave posted 262 yards with redshirt-junior Devin Powell and redshirt-senior Jordy Joseph under center.

Houston didn't wait long to get on the board, as they scored on their first offensive play after a stalled Tulane drive. Cougars' quarterback Greg Ward Jr. found receiver Chance Allen on a 49-yard touchdown pass for a quick 7-0 lead. Houston tacked on another score on a drive that began in the final moments of the opening stanza before bleeding over into the second quarter. An eight-play, 43-yard drive was capped off by a Ward Jr. 12-yard rush.

Tulane sliced the lead in half with their second fake punt in three games. In a fourth-and-10 situation at the Houston 46-yard line, redshirt-senior running back Rob Kelley took a direct snap in punt formation before rumbling for a 43-yard gain. On the very next play, sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard punched the ball in on a three-yard carry.

The Cougars answered on the ensuing drive, marching 69 yards on seven plays before Ward Jr. recorded his second rushing touchdown on the evening. Tulane nearly stopped Houston from scoring again before the end of the half as junior linebacker Eric Thomas came up with a fumble recovery, but the play was negated on a defensive offsides call. On the next play, the Cougars' Demarcus Ayers scored on a 15-yard end-around to put the game at 28-7.

Shortly before the close of the opening half, Houston threatened once again, but junior linebacker Nico Marley picked off a Ward Jr. pass.

Houston scored twice in the third quarter, including on a 73-yard punt return by Ayers.

Powell, who got the start at quarterback, finished the game with 88 yards passing on 11-of-28 attempts. Joseph was 3-for-5 with 62 yards, all of which came in the fourth quarter. Sophomore wide receiver Teddy Veal paced the wideouts with four catches for 31 yards while redshirt-junior Devon Breaux went for a team-high 88 yards on three receptions.

On the ground, sophomore Dontrell Hilliard gained 53 yards on 11 carries, while Kelley posted 52 yards on eight carries.

Defensively, Thomas totaled 11 tackles (7 solo, 4 assists), including 1.5 for a loss, to lead the Green Wave. Senior safety Darion Monroe posted 10 stops (7 solo, 3 assists).

Game 7 • Tulane 14 at Navy 31

Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium • Annapolis, Md.
Oct. 24, 2015 • 32,033 Attendance

Playing the third-best rushing offenses in the nation, Tulane's football squad held tight for two-and-a-half quarters against Navy at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium on Saturday afternoon, but the Green Wave couldn't hold on as they fell to the Midshipmen, 31-14.

Facing the triple-option offense for the second time on the season, Tulane held the Midshipmen in check during the first half of action. Navy only managed to rush for 44 yards after the first two quarters, marking the first time since 2013 that they failed to reach the century mark in the opening quarter.

Tulane held Navy to 133 yards rushing, well short of their 335.4 rushing yards per game average they brought into the game. In the end, it did not matter, as Navy scored 24-straight points.

The Green Wave were pinned deep in their territory on the game's opening drive before punting to the Midshipmen. On the ensuing drive, Navy chipped away at the Tulane defense on their way to a five-yard rushing touchdown by quarterback Keenan Reynolds after a 13-play drive.

Tulane answered with a solid drive in the opening portion of the second quarter. Redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee connected with sophomore receiver Teddy Veal on passes of 26 and 15 yards before sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard punched it in from 19 yards out to tie the game at seven. The drive lasted seven plays and encompassed 60 yards.

Navy marched towards Tulane's end zone on the next drive, getting as close as three yards out. But three-straight tackles for loss by redshirt-sophomore cornerback Parry Nickerson, redshirt-senior defensive tackle Corey Redwine and junior linebacker Nico Marley, respectively, forced the Midshipmen to settle for a 25-yard field goal.

After both teams battled for field position throughout the first half of the third quarter, Navy extended their lead to 17-7 after putting together a seven-play, 66-yard drive that was capped off by a nine-yard rushing touchdown by the Midshipmen's Quentin Ezell.

Tulane nearly answered with a 13-play, 72-yard drive that bled into the beginning of the fourth quarter. But on the Navy two-yard line, the Midshipmen stripped Lee who was attempting to score on a quarterback keeper, killing Tulane's drive. Tulane's defense stopped Navy once again on the next drive, but the Green Wave threw an interception on the first play after regaining possession.

Reynolds added a second rushing touchdown with under four minutes left in the contest. After another Tulane fumble, Navy's backup quarterback Tago Smith found Calvin Cass, Jr., on a 24-yard touchdown strike for Navy's final points of the contest.

Redshirt-senior QB Jordy Joseph entered the game for Tulane's final drive, and he orchestrated a 10-play, 81-yard drive that culminated in his first-career touchdown pass, as he found sophomore tight end Charles Jones on a 13-yard toss.

Lee finished the game with 205 yards on 22-of-31 passing. Joseph went 5-of-7 for 58 yards. Hilliard paced the squad on the ground with 51 yards on nine carries. Veal led the receiving corps with six receptions for 59 yards. Defensively, the Green Wave posted 11.0 tackles for loss, marking the third time this season they've reached that plateau. Junior linebacker Eric Thomas totaled eight stops (5 solo, 3 assists) while Redwine added seven (6 solo, 1 assist). Junior linebacker Nico Marley, senior safety Darion Monroe and redshirt-junior defensive end Calvin Thomas led the way with 2.0 tackles for loss each.

Game 8 • Tulane 13 at Memphis 41

Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium • Memphis, Tenn.
Oct. 31, 2015 • 30,381 Attendance

Tulane's football squad appeared to have No. 16 Memphis on the ropes early on at Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium, as the Green Wave jumped out to a 13-0 lead, but the Tigers roared back to defeat the Green Wave 41-13 on Saturday night.

On a cold and rainy Halloween night, Tulane could not stop the Tigers high-powered offense. Memphis rumbled to 581 total yards while scoring 41 unanswered points to close out the contest.

Tulane jumped out to an early lead on the nationally-ranked Tigers, as redshirt-senior quarterback Jordy Joseph - making his first-career start - managed the Green Wave's longest drive on the season to date. Joseph and the offense chewed up 11:13 off the clock on 17 plays before sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard scored on a three-yard run. The Green Wave's extra point was blocked, giving Tulane a 6-0 lead to open the contest.

The Green Wave defense matched the offense's intensity on the opening drive, as they successfully stopped one of the nation's top scoring outfits on their opening drive. The Tigers had to settle for a 53-yard field goal try that went wide left.

Tulane's offense was not done, as Joseph completed a 35-yard pass to sophomore wide receiver Teddy Veal along Tulane's sideline. On the ensuing play, Hilliard ran wild again, as he scored on a rush from 43 yards out to give the Green Wave a 13-0 lead.

The Tigers finally got on the board with a little under 11 minutes left in the second quarter when Tigers running back Doroland Dorceus capped off a 13-play, 76-yard drive with a two-yard rushing score to cut Tulane's lead to just six points. On their next drive, the Tigers tacked on a 24-yard field goal off the foot of Jake Elliott, cutting Tulane's lead to just 13-10.

Memphis picked up two points shortly thereafter when Tulane snapped the ball over the head of senior punter Peter Picerelli, and he was forced to fall on ball in the end zone for a safety. Elliott knocked in a 40-yard field goal after receiving the ball after Tulane's safety to give the Tigers a 15-13 lead heading into halftime.

Both teams held each other in check for the majority of the third quarter. However, late in the quarter Elliott posted his third field goal of the game to give Memphis an 18-13 lead. After stopping Tulane on their following drive, Memphis went the distance when quarterback Paxton Lynch found Jamarius Henderson on a short pass before the receiver scampered 43 yards for a touchdown.

Memphis recorded another safety on Tulane towards the end of the third quarter and on the ensuing possession UM's Anthony Miller posted a 15-yard run at the beginning of the fourth. Jarvis Cooper notched a one-yard rush with 8:16 remaining in the fourth, as well.

Joseph finished the game 10-of-24 for 131 yards. He completed his first five passes of the contest. Veal paced the squad with 53 receiving yards on two receptions, while Hilliard also collected two receptions and also led the rushing attack with 97 yards and a pair of scores on 19 carries.

Defensively, senior safety Darion Monroe posted a team-high 12 tackles (9 solo, 3 assists) with one pass break-up.

Game 9 • Tulane 3 vs. UConn 7

Yulman Stadium • New Orleans, La.
Nov. 7, 2015 • 26,775 Attendance

Inclement weather hampered the offenses of both the Tulane football squad and the UConn Huskies on Saturday evening at Yulman Stadium, as rain fell from kickoff to the final whistle in what would be a 7-3 Green Wave loss to the Huskies on Homecoming weekend.

Both teams punted 11 times, while neither offense eclipsed the 230-yard mark on offense. Heavy rains and wind kept both teams from executing their plan, and one errant throw by the Green Wave was all it took for UConn to leave New Orleans with a victory.

"Early on I thought we had a real good chance but we had a miscommunication on the route and they got a pick six, which was the extent of their score," Tulane head coach Curtis Johnson said. "I thought our defense played outstanding. Every time they just came up big. Our defense gave us our best chance of winning the game. You know this one was wet and both teams played really good defense. My hat goes off to them [UConn]. I thought they played really good defensively and offensively. Our offense never could get going.

The Huskies (5-5, 3-3 The American) struck first early in the contest, giving them what ended up being all the points they would need on the day. After punts by both teams on their first two drives, Tulane (2-7, 1-5 The American) received the ball in decent field position. However, a throw by redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee fell into the hands of UConn's Jamar Summers, who returned the interception 67 yards for a touchdown.

In the second quarter, the rain began coming down heavy. However, that did not stop the Green Wave from getting on the board, as Lee and the offense strung together an 11-play drive that encompassed 41 yards. Sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco notched his fifth field goal of the season on a 37-yard attempt.

At the close of the second half, UConn attempted to heave one in the end zone from 44 yards out, but senior safety Darion Monroe prevented a score by picking off his second interception of the year and fifth of his career.

Midway through the third quarter, UConn put together a 10-play drive that was extended after picking up a fourth down conversion halfway through the action. The Huskies marched all the way down to Tulane 16 before Bobby Puyol attempted a 34-yard field goal. The drive ended there, though, as redshirt-sophomore Parry Nickerson blocked the attempt to keep the score at 7-3. It marked Tulane's first blocked field goal in nearly two years.

The two teams traded field position from that point on, as the rain and wind continued to come down in full force during the fourth quarter. Lee and offense had the ball at the conclusion of the game, and connected with sophomore tight end Trey Scott on a 22-yard pass with a few seconds left, but the final three passes of the game fell incomplete as the Huskies scampered away with a victory.

Lee finished the game 13-of-40 for 106 yards and an interception, while sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard paced the running attack with 35 yards on eight carries.

On defense, Monroe totaled 11 tackles (8 solo, 3 assists), while junior linebacker Nico Marley notched 10 (7 solo, 3 assists). As a team, the Green Wave totaled 9.0 tackles for loss, including two each from Marley and junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart.

Game 10 • Tulane 34 at Army 31

Michie Stadium • West Point, N.Y.
Nov. 14, 2015 • 31,217 Attendance

Tulane football jumped out to a big lead against Army at Michie Stadium on Saturday during the final non-conference test of the season for the Green Wave, but the Black Knights made a game out of it before Tulane's Andrew DiRocco knocked down a 35-yard field goal as time expired to give the Green Wave a 34-31 victory.

With Tulane (3-7, 1-5 The American) leading 31-24 and with just 1:59 remaining on the clock, Army (2-8) scored a touchdown and looked to go ahead on a two-point conversion before offsetting penalties negated the play. Army then played it safe and tied the game at 31 on an extra point.

Tulane's offense wasn't finished, though, as they marched 59 yards in nine plays with just 1:53 left on the clock before DiRocco sealed the victory with a 35-yard field goal.

Tulane scored 21 points in the second quarter, tying for the most points in a quarter by the Green Wave on the season, but Army made things interesting with a quick 14 points before halftime

Tulane found themselves in a hole early on as the Black Knights opened the contest with a three-yard touchdown rush by Ahmad Bradshaw to close out a 13-play, 75-yard drive. On Army's second drive, the Black Knights attempted a fake field goal from Tulane's 10-yard line, but redshirt-sophomore linebacker Jarrod Franklin kept Army from scoring when he pushed the receiver out of bounds in the end zone.

After stopping Army on their trick-play attempt, Tulane tied things up when redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee found sophomore wide receiver Teddy Veal on a 90-yard touchdown pass, marking the second-longest passing play in Tulane school history.

Tulane took the lead early in the second quarter when sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard set the Green Wave up on a 23-yard rush that eventually allowed Lee to find redshirt-freshman Kendall Ardoin on a 15-yard touchdown throw for a 14-7 lead. On Army's ensuing drive, junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart forced a fumble that was scooped up by redshirt-sophomore cornerback Parry Nickerson and returned 48 yards for a touchdown to give the Green Wave a 21-7 lead midway through the second stanza.

Redshirt-junior running back Josh Rounds added to the scoring frenzy with a 25-yard rushing touchdown with 3:35 remaining in the second to put Tulane up 28-7.

Army scored a quick 14 points to cut things close before the end of the half. The Black Knights got back on the board shortly before halftime on a four-play, 72-yard drive that was capped off by a 19-yard pass from John Trainor to Bradshaw. On Tulane's next drive, Army's Kenneth Brinson blocked a punt and returned it 21 yards for a touchdown to make it a 28-21 ballgame at the intermission.

Daniel Grochowski tacked on a 38-yard field goal to make it a 28-24 game with 14:50 left to play. Tulane matched that scoring drive with a nine-play, 56-yard drive of their own that culminated in a 31-yard field goal off the foot of DiRocco.

Lee finished the game 14-of-29 with 252 yards and two scores, while sophomore Teddy Veal set a team season high in receiving yards with 123 on four catches. Hilliard paced the ground attack with 91 yards on 14 carries.

Defensively, junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart led the way with a career-best nine stops (7 solo, 2 assists) including a forced fumble and 2.0 tackles for loss.

Game 11 • Tulane 21 at SMU 49

Gerald J. Ford Stadium • Dallas, Texas
Nov. 21, 2015 • 14,954 Attendance

In its final road tilt of 2015, Tulane's football squad struggled to stop SMU's offense, as the Mustangs racked up 35 first-half points before sending the Green Wave to a 49-21 loss at Gerald J. Ford Stadium on Saturday night.

Tulane (3-8 overall, 1-6 The American) allowed 518 yards of offense to SMU (2-9, 1-6 The American) while only gaining 328 of their own. The chilly temperatures in Dallas did not cool off the Mustang's offense, as the Green Wave allowed three drives of 90-yards or more to SMU.

Neither team could get their offense going early in the contest, so field position played a big part in the action. The Green Wave managed to pin the Mustangs up against their own goal line on a pooch punt after Tulane's opening drive. After a short punt back to the Green Wave, Tulane attempted a field goal from 40 yards out, but it was blocked by SMU's Horace Richardson and scooped up by RC Cox, who returned it 72 yards for a touchdown.

Before the first quarter was over, SMU put together a 95-yard drive that was capped off by a Matt Davis 13-yard rush to give the Mustangs a 14-0 lead.

Tulane cut the lead in half when the Green Wave strung together nine plays for 71 yards on a drive that bled into the early portion of the second quarter. Redshirt-sophomore quarterback Tanner Lee found redshirt-junior Larry Dace III on a 27-yard touchdown pass in the back of the end zone, giving Dace III the first touchdown of his career.

The Mustangs answered Tulane's scoring drive with one of their own during their next possession. A 91-yard drive that saw two 30-plus yard plays gave SMU a 14-point lead when Xavier Jones closed things out on a one-yard rushing score with 10:01 left in the half.

Jones added his second and third rushing touchdowns before the end of the half, putting the Mustangs up 35-7 at the break.

Midway through the third quarter, redshirt-senior quarterback Jordy Joseph entered the game halfway through a drive in place of an injured Lee and helped the Green Wave wrap up an 85-yard drive that saw redshirt-senior running back Rob Kelley punch it in from a yard out.

SMU added another score that began in the third quarter and ended with 14:46 left in the contest when Prescott Line scored on a one-yard rush to cap off a 99-yard drive.

Joseph and the offense marched 63 yards late in the fourth quarter before the signal caller found sophomore tight end Charles Jones for a touchdown on a two-yard pass.

Lee finished the game 9-of-22 for 103 yards and a touchdown, while Joseph was 4-of-11 for 25 yards and one touchdown. Dace III led the team in receiving yards with 39, while sophomore receiver Teddy Veal paced the squad in receptions with three for 27 yards.

On the ground, redshirt-sophomore running back Sherman Badie and sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard both had solid games, as they notched 73 yards and 84 yards, respectively.

Defensively, junior linebacker Nico Marley and junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart tied for the team lead in total tackles with seven each.

Game 12 • Tulane 34 vs. Tulsa 45

Yulman Stadium • New Orleans, La.
Nov. 27, 2015 • 22,672 Attendance

Despite season-highs in first downs and total yardage thanks in large part to a solid performance by redshirt-senior quarterback Jordy Joseph in his final collegiate appearance, Tulane football fell to Tulsa in a back-and-forth contest, 45-34, at Yulman Stadium on Friday night in the Green Wave's season-finale.

Tulane (3-9 overall, 1-7 The American) posted 25 first downs, as well as 530 yards of offense, but two late interceptions by Joseph that were returned for touchdowns sealed the victory for Tulsa (6-6 overall, 3-5 The American).

While the two interceptions proved to be the deciding factor in the game, Joseph had a masterful performance, going 23-of-41 for 343 yards and four touchdowns in addition to leading the team in rushing with 67 yards on 10 carries, all career highs.

Joseph's lone miscues came at crucial junctures in the game. The first interception came with 6:31 left, as Tulsa's Craig Suits returned one on a 28-yard return to give the Golden Hurricane a 38-34 lead.

Joseph and the offense looked like they would retake the lead after a nice drive. However, another errant throw by Joseph was picked off by Kolton Shindelar, who returned the interception 89 yards for the clinching score.

Tulsa did not take long to get the scoring started, putting together an eight-play, 75-yard drive on the game's opening drive that was capped off by a 20-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Dane Evans to Justin Hobbs. Midway through the first, Joseph found sophomore tight end Charles Jones on a 28-yard touchdown pass to tie the contest.

Joseph made the most of his final collegiate game, as he put together a 14-play, 86-yard drive that was wrapped up when he found sophomore wide receiver Teddy Veal on a three-yard strike to give the Green Wave a 14-7 lead.

On Tulsa's ensuing drive, things got knotted up again, as the Golden Hurricane punched one in from 35 yards out. Evans hit receiver Josh Atkinson on the run, and he scampered into the end zone unscathed to tie things at 14. Tulane answered with points of their own, as Joseph mastered another drive that got Tulane in field goal range. Sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco nailed one from 31 yards out to give the Green Wave a 17-14 lead.

Senior safety Darion Monroe picked off a pass in triple coverage on Tulsa's next drive, and Joseph dished a shovel pass to sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard, who turned the play into a 66-yard touchdown scamper to give the Green Wave a 24-14 lead at intermission.

The Golden Hurricane was the first to get on the board in the second half, scoring a touchdown with 7:05 left in the third quarter. After a school-record breaking punt by Tulane senior punter Peter Piceralli that pinned Tulsa up to their own one-yard line, Evans and his offense rattled off a 13-play, 99-yard drive that ended on a 30-yard touchdown reception by Keyarris Garrett. The score cut Tulane's lead to just three.

On their next drive, Tulsa tied the game at 24, as Redford Jones knocked in a 40-yard field goal after a nine-play drive. Tulane looked to regain the lead after having not scored on its last three possessions, and things looked bleak on a third-and-2 pass that fell incomplete. However, a pass interference on Tulsa's secondary kept Tulane's hopes alive, and the Green Wave's DiRocco was able to notch his second field goal of the night from 39 yards out.

Midway through the final stanza, Joseph posted his fourth touchdown throw of the night when he found freshman wide receiver Andrew Hicks for a 34-yard scoring strike to give Tulane a 34-24 lead.

Tulsa only needed four plays to answer, as Evans found Garrett for 37-yards up the sideline before hitting Atkinson at the Tulane one-yard line on a 39-yard strike. Zack Langer punched it in from one-yard out.

Veal led the team in receptions with six for 63 yards, while Hilliard's 83 yards receiving were a team-high. Sophomore tight end Trey Scott notched four receptions for 57 yards.

Defensively, Tulane notched 6.0 tackles for loss, including 3.0 sacks. Senior defensive end Royce LaFrance led the way with 1.5 sacks. Franklin and sophomore defensive end Daren Williams each had eight total tackles apiece.

THE AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

#AmericanRising

The American Athletic Conference consists of 12 prestigious institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the U.S. Naval Academy (in football only), the University of South Florida Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa.

Under the leadership of commissioner Mike Aresco, the American Athletic Conference has written an impressive list of accomplishments, both in the competitive arena and the classroom.

In the course of its first three seasons, the American Athletic Conference has taken its place at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics, with a collection of national team and individual championships and football and men's and women's basketball postseason victories that place The American among the elite Division I FBS conferences.

The league has produced four NCAA championship teams – UConn men's basketball in 2014 and UConn women's basketball in 2014, 2015 and 2016 – two New Year's Six bowl champions, and two individuals who have won NCAA titles, most recently SMU's Bryson Dechambeau, who was the 2015 national champion in men's golf. Additionally, American Athletic Conference teams have advanced to the College World Series, reached the semifinal and final rounds of the NIT, qualified for the match play round of the NCAA Men's Golf Championship and registered a top-10 finish at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championship.

In football, three American Athletic Conference teams were in the final College Football Playoff rankings of 2015, while two teams from The American were ranked in the top 20 of the final national polls in both 2013 and 2015. Eight of The American's 12 football teams played in bowl games to cap the 2015 season as Houston defeated Florida State in the Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl and Navy beat Pittsburgh in the Military Bowl. Houston's finish at No. 8 nationally gave The American a top-10 team in the final national polls for the second time in the league's three seasons. UCF finished No. 10 in the 2013 rankings after the Knights' Fiesta Bowl win against Baylor.

In 2014, The American had the best men's basketball postseason record of any league, when conference teams were a combined 13-4, and sent four teams to the 2016 NCAA Championship. Teams from The American have registered top-10 national rankings in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer, men's golf, and men's track and field.

Individual teams in The American have enjoyed unprecedented success since the conference's formation. Houston went 13-1 in the 2015 football season, setting a school record for wins, while Navy won a program-record 11 games in its first season in the conference. The 2014 season saw Memphis finish with 10 wins in football for the first time since 1938, while Temple enjoyed its first 10-win season in 2015.

That kind of success has led to an across-the-board increase in football attendance. The American Athletic Conference had four of the top six teams in average attendance gain from 2015 to 2016, while the conference as a whole realized a 9.1-percent increase at the turnstiles. Cincinnati, Houston and Temple all set single-game attendance records at their respective facilities

Under The American's banner, SMU advanced to the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship for the first time since 1993. UCF and Houston have both achieved top-10 rankings in baseball in the past two years. USF finished the 2014-15 season at No. 8 in the final men's golf national ranking. The UConn women's basketball team won its NCAA-record ninth, 10th and 11th national championships.

American Athletic Conference student-athletes have distinguished themselves in all facets of intercollegiate athletics. Temple linebacker Tyler Matakevich won the Bednarik Award and the Nagurski Trophy as the nation's top defensive player in 2015, while Navy quarterback Keenan Reynolds finished fifth in the Heisman Trophy voting. UConn basketball standout Breanna Stewart finished her career as the most decorated player in college basketball history as she was chosen as the consensus national player of the year for the third time and became the first player be named four times as the Most Outstanding Player at the Final Four.

Reynolds and Stewart were selected as the winners of the 2016 AAU James E. Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athletes, marking only the second time in the 86-year history of the award that multiple winners were chosen.

Additionally, SMU's Avery Acker was chosen as the Division I women's volleyball Academic All-America of the Year in 2015, while Navy offensive guard E.K. Binns was one of 12 finalists nationally for the Campbell Trophy, which is presented by the National Football Foundation to the top scholar-athlete in college football. Tulsa soccer standout Katy Riojas was the winner of the 2016 NCAA Walter Byers Postgraduate Scholarship, while Golden Hurricane rower Emalia Seto won the 2016 NCAA Jim McKay Scholarship. Two student-athletes from The American have earned NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships in the conference's first three years.

American Athletic Conference alumni have made their mark in professional sports as well. UCF quarterback Blake Bortles was selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars with the No. 3 pick in the 2014 NFL Draft. More recently, a number of American Athletic Conference athletes have been selected in the first round of the professional entry drafts in football, basketball, baseball and soccer. The American has had two first-round picks in football in each of the last three seasons, while the conference produced four first-round picks, including the top three selections, in the 2016 WNBA Draft.

The American Athletic Conference holds media rights partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports which provide the conference with outstanding national exposure on the two industry leaders in sports television. The football portion of the contract calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first American Athletic Conference Football Championship, which was played in 2015, was carried ABC as part of Championship Saturday.

In men's basketball, the television deal calls for all conference-controlled games to be televised, with more than 63 percent slotted for national broadcast or national cable – a minimum of 107 games. The entire postseason tournament is televised, including the championship game, which is on ABC or ESPN. Sixty percent of the American's women's basketball games are carried on national cable, regional sports networks or ESPN3, while the conference has a multi-year agreement with CBS Sports Network for coverage of select baseball games.

American Athletic Conference teams have access to the pinnacle of college football's postseason structure. An American representative would be chosen for the College Football Playoff semifinals if it is among the top four teams in the CFP selection committee's final ranking. Otherwise, the league would place its champion in a New Year's Bowl if it is ranked higher than the champions of Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference and the Sun Belt Conference.

Additionally, The American holds primary or secondary partnerships with 12 bowls for the current six-year cycle, ensuring multiple annual matchups against the nation's top conferences and providing desirable postseason destinations to member institutions and their fans.

A standout punter from 1987-90, Deron Smith started under center his final two seasons with the Green Wave. As a junior, he set a then-Tulane record with 2,613 yards (which currently ranks sixth) through the air.

Patrick Ramsey, a No. 1 draft pick by the NFL's Washington Redskins in 2002, left the Tulane program with nearly all of the school's passing records, including yardage, touchdowns, completions and attempts.

Bobby Duhon holds the Tulane record for rushing yards in a season by a quarterback, galloping for 748 yards on 151 carries in 1966. His rushing total from that season ranks 14th on the Green Wave's single-season list.

As a senior in 2007, Matt Forté rewrote the Tulane rushing record book, including holding marks for yards and carries in a game and season, and both single-season and career touchdown marks.

Tulane's first football team took the field in 1893 and earned its first win with a 34-0 shutout of LSU.

1893 (1-2)
Head Coach: T.L. Bayne

Tulane played its first varsity football game on Nov. 18, 1893, dropping a 12-0 decision to the Southern Athletic Club. Things were a bit less formal in those days, as witnessed by the fact that Tulane Coach T.L. Bayne also played in the game – for the opponent!

In his spare time, T.L. Bayne hustled over to Baton Rouge to help coach LSU. This made for an interesting afternoon of Nov. 25, 1893, when Tulane and LSU played for the first time. Hugh Bayne, brother of the coach and a Tulane law student, scored the first touchdown ever for Tulane to open a 34-0 rout. T.L. Bayne did not play that day, but he was on the field as umpire (LSU's coach was the referee).

Tulane lost to Ole Miss 12-4 the next weekend to end its inaugural season with a 1-2 record.

1894 (0-4)
Head Coach: Fred Sweet

Fred Sweet replaced T.L. Bayne as head coach and it was a struggle. Just before school opened, Sweet learned that captain C.R. Romeyne had left town with his parents and would not be a member of the 1894 squad. The team struggled to an 0-4 finish, scoring zero, six, six and two points in those four games while losing to Texas, Alabama, Sewanee and Ole Miss.

1895 (3-2)
Head Coach: T.L. Bayne

T.L. Bayne returned as head coach and Tulane posted its first winning season with a 3-2 record. After losing to LSU in the season opener, Tulane rallied to shut out teams from the Southern Athletic Club and Alabama. A road loss to Texas followed before the season ended with a 28-4 walloping of Ole Miss, representing the most points by Tulane since its 34-0 win over LSU in 1893.

1896 (3-2)
Head Coach: Harry Baum

Harry Baum replaced T.L. Bayne as coach and matched the 1895 record of 3-2, although one of those losses was a forfeit to LSU. Tulane was ahead 2-0 when an argument broke out over whether Tulane could use a player who was "about" to become a Tulane student. When LSU refused to allow the player to see action, Tulane captain Louis Genella took his team off the field and the game was declared a forfeit. Win No. 3 was a 10-0 shutout of Ole Miss to ensure a winning season.

Head Coach: None

For the only time since the inception of the sport in 1893, Tulane did not field a football team.

1898 (1-1)
Head Coach: John Lombard

John Lombard, captain of Tulane's first team in 1893, became the program's fifth coach in five seasons. The team played two games and finished 1-1, beating Ole Miss and then losing to LSU.

Charles Eshleman served as captain, and in 1979 he became the first 19th-century athlete to be named to Tulane's Athletics Hall of Fame.

1900 (5-0)
Head Coach: H.T. Summersgill

What a turnaround! Tulane went from winless and scoreless in 1899 to unbeaten and unscored upon in 1900.

H.T. Summersgill was Tulane's seventh coach in seven seasons and he led his team to a 5-0 record. The Southern Athletic Club, Alabama, Millsaps, LSU and Ole Miss all failed to cross the Tulane goal line as they lost by a combined 105-0.

One disputed loss was the only thing stopping the 1901 Olive and Blue, as they were known at the time, from posting a second-straight perfect season.

1901 (5-1)
Head Coach: H.T. Summersgill

H.T. Summersgill became the first man to coach Tulane football for consecutive seasons and his success continued.

A disputed 2-0 loss to the Mobile YMCA was the only blemish on a 5-1 season. The Tulane coach argued heatedly that there were still several minutes left in the game but was overruled and suffered his only loss in two seasons.

However, you can still get an argument about that in Baton Rouge to this day. Although Tulane beat LSU on the field by a score of 22-0, the Tigers protested the game to the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, alleging Tulane had used a professional player during the contest. Months later, the SIAA ruled the game an 11-0 forfeit in favor of LSU. The Tiger record book still claims that 11-0 "victory," while the Tulane ledger shows the contest as a 22-0 win.

In two seasons, Summersgill produced a 10-1 record on the field and outscored the opposition 214-19. Hugh Krumbhaar captained both squads.

1902 (1-4-2)
Head Coach: Virginius Dabney

Coach Summersgill left and Tulane's gridiron fortunes took a dive. Virginius Dabney took over the helm and things looked good at first as he coached a 26-0 win over an alumni team. Two ties and four losses followed, however, and the final record fell to 1-4-2. After the disputed forfeit in 1901, LSU disappeared from the schedule for a while.

Head Coach: Charles Eshleman

Charles Eshleman, captain of the 1898 and 1899 teams, took over the head coaching job and improved the situation as he guided the squad to a 2-2-1 finish. It was a feast-or-famine type of season as the two wins were by a cumulative score of 64-5, while the team failed to score in the other three outings.

1904 (5-2)
Head Coach: Thomas Berry

Thomas Berry took over the coaching reins from Charles Eshleman and led Tulane to a 5-2 record. The team shut out the opponent in all five victories, and failed to score in its two losses.

LSU returned to the schedule for the first time since the 1901 controversy and Tulane beat the Tigers again...and again LSU complained about player eligibility.

Ralph Wood captained the Green Wave for the second season in a row.

1905 (0-1)
Head Coach: John Tobin

John Tobin replaced Thomas Berry as head coach and the season consisted of only one game. Tulane lost that contest to LSU, 5-0, and controversy marred the series once again. This time, Tulane complained about LSU's use of ineligible players. Things got heated and the series did not resume until 1911.

1906 (0-4-1)
Head Coach: John Russ

For the sixth season in a row, Tulane had a new head coach as John Russ replaced John Tobin. The 1906 squad showed the effects of the lack of continuity and struggled to an 0-4-1 record without scoring a point. A scoreless tie with Howard in the season opener was the campaign's best outing.

Joe Curtis was Tulane's seventh coach in seven years and things started looking up as the record improved to 3-2. In defeating Howard 13-0 in the season opener, Tulane registered its first victory - and first points - since the 1904 season. The squad won its first three and lost its last two, playing three games in one week in November.

Joe Curtis returned for his second year as coach and things were definitely looking up for Tulane football as a 7-1 season ensued. It was a new record for victories in a season and five were by shutout.

The Wave's biggest wins were a 23-0 verdict over Mississippi State and a 28-15 road decision over Texas four days later. With Temple Brown serving as captain, Tulane outscored the opposition by a cumulative 103-23.

Coach Mason's program began to take off in year two as the record improved dramatically to 5-3-1. The first four opponents fell by a combined score of 92-0. The Tulane-LSU football rivalry resumed, with the Tigers taking a 6-0 win in Baton Rouge. Semmes Walmsley, a future mayor of New Orleans, captained the team.

Coach Mason established a new longevity record with his third season at the helm and produced another strong team. The squad finished with a 5-3 record and outscored the opposition 216-99. The high point of the season was a 95-0 win over Southwestern Louisiana. The 15 rushing touchdowns and 95 points scored in that game are Tulane's oldest football records.

Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

As the storm clouds of war thickened in Europe, Tulane changed coaches again, but this move led to stability. A 23-year-old Minnesotan named Clark Shaughnessy took over the program and went on to become the school's winningest head coach. In his first year he produced Tulane's second consecutive break-even season with a 4-4 record. The first of his Tulane-record 59 wins was a 24-0 verdict over St. Paul in the 1915 season opener.

Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

Shaughnessy continued to lay his foundation, leading Tulane to a 4-3-1 record. For the third year in a row, Tulane opened with three straight wins, only to struggle toward the end of the season. The season's only tie was with LSU, the second deadlock with the Tigers in three years. Earning his second of three football letters for Tulane that fall was a youngster named Felix Blanchard, whose son, "Doc" Blanchard, won the Heisman Trophy at Army during World War II. The trophy is named for John Heisman, whose Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets walloped Tulane 45-0 in 1916.

1917 (5-3)
Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

The United States had joined World War I by the time the 1917 football season rolled around and some schools had suspended play. The game went on at Tulane, however, and the team had a new stadium, located on the site of the A.B. Freeman School of Business. Tulane played its first game in the new concrete facility against Washington Artillery, winning 19-0.

The 1917 team won its first four games by a combined score of 131-0 and finished with a 5-3 record. The season ended with a 28-6 win over LSU, as a Tulane line led by Eva Talbot held the Tigers to only one first down.

1918 (4-1-1)
Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

As the World War escalated, Tulane faced mostly military opponents in 1918. The only loss in a 4-1-1 record was to Camp Pike. The Tulane defense shut out four of its six opponents and allowed only 16 points all season. In a 74-0 battering of UL-Lafayette, Harold Gentling broke off a 95-yard run, the longest in Tulane history.

1919 (6-2-1)
Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

World War I ended and the Shaughnessy program picked up speed as the team finished 6-2-1. The win over USL that ended the 1918 season and six wins to open the 1919 campaign were a school record seven wins in a row. A 7-7 tie with Georgia ended the winning streak. After a one-year break due to the war, the Tulane-LSU gridiron series resumed and it would stretch uninterrupted into the 1990s. A 73-0 win over Louisiana-Lafayette and a 49-0 win over Mississippi College highlighted the season.

Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

Another strong start and another 6-2-1 record tell the story of Tulane's 1920 season. The first four opponents were outscored by a combined 140-0 that fall.

Tulane then fell to Michigan after a long train ride to Ann Arbor that marked the program's first-ever intersectional contest. The team went on to shut out its next three opponents, the last of which was LSU, which fell 21-0 in Baton Rouge. The nickname "Green Wave" was affixed to the program that season and it endured. Coach Shaughnessy resigned after the season, but returned in 1922.

1921 (4-6)
Head Coach: Myron Fuller

Myron Fuller replaced Clark Shaughnessy as head coach and things did not work well. The Green Wave's record slid to 4-6, the first losing season for the program since 1913.

The 10-game schedule was the most ever for Tulane up to that point. The team won three of the first four before a collapse that saw only one win in the last six contests.

The only win during the skid was a 21-0 verdict over LSU. The last TD in the win over LSU came on a 65-yard punt return by a freshman named Alfred "Brother" Brown, who would go on to become one of Tulane's all-time great football players.

Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

Clark Shaughnessy returned to Tulane in 1922 and began laying the foundation for one of the greatest eras in the program's history by bringing in football players who would help to make Tulane a national power on the gridiron.

The season got off to a strong start as Tulane outscored the opposition 104-10 in racing to a 4-0 record. The final four games of the season were losses, however, and the final record was 4-4.

Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

One of the highlights of 1923 for Tulane football was the hiring of assistant coach Bernie Bierman, who would eventually replace Clark Shaughnessy as Tulane head coach and go on to a Hall of Fame career himself.

The 1923 team compiled a 3-3-1 mark before finishing with a flourish by winning its last three games by a combined score of 58-8. Those three wins at the end of the 1923 season kicked off a school record eight-game winning streak and was the beginning of a four-season stretch where Tulane compiled a 21-1-1 record.

Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

Tulane football exploded into national prominence in 1924, setting a new school record for wins with the only loss a 14-6 defeat to Mississippi State. The team won its first five, lost to MSU, then won its last three as captain Brother Brown led the offensive charge with several 100-yard rushing efforts.

Guard Milton Levy and backs Brown and Charles "Peggy" Flournoy were named All-Southern for their play in 1924 as the Green Wave outscored the opposition 201-59 over the course of the season.

1925 (9-0-1)
Head Coach: Clark Shaughnessy

For the second year in a row, Tulane set a school record for wins in a season as Clark Shaughnessy's finest Tulane team finished 9-0-1. The tie came against Missouri in game two and nobody else came within 10 points of this juggernaut.

All-American Charles "Peggy" Flournoy, one of the game's best punters, was also a threat toting the football and established TU records for touchdowns and points in a season and in a game that endure to this day.

The 1925 team exploded to a 77-0 win over Louisiana College in the season opener as captain Lester Lautenschlaeger returned two punts for touchdowns. The Wave did not give up two TDs in any game and scored in double figures against everyone but Missouri.

Guard Milton Levy and Flournoy were named All-Southern for the second season in a row on a team full of stars that outscored the opposition by a combined 246-32. Tulane's administration turned down a Rose Bowl bid because the trip would keep the team away from its studies.

Tulane moved into its brand-new home on Willow Street on Oct. 23, even as Clark Shaughnessy was coaching his last season at Tulane and suffering his only losing campaign.

A 40-0 romp over Louisiana Tech got the season off to a promising start, but the team scored more than 10 points only once the rest of the season and finished 3-5-1.

1927 (2-5-1)
Head Coach: Bernie Bierman

Former assistant coach Bernie Bierman, who had been head coach at Mississippi State for two years, returned to Tulane as head coach. Although Bierman was ultimately to lead Tulane football to its greatest heights, his first season ended with a 2-5-1 record. It marked the first time the Green Wave suffered back-to-back losing seasons since 1905-06 and it did not happen again until 1945-46.

The Green Wave defeated Ole Miss in the season opener and LSU in the season finale for its only two wins that fall. It was a dark period for a program used to better times, but the seed of future success was present in halfback Bill Banker, who helped Tulane back to prosperity quickly.

1928 (6-3-1)
Head Coach: Bernie Bierman

Bernie Bierman showed he had things pointed in the right direction when the Green Wave slaughtered its first two 1928 opponents by a combined score of 116-6 as Lake Charles native Bill Banker, the "Blond Blizzard," scored eight TDs.

Captain Charles Rucker led a strong offensive line that helped the Green Wave outscore the opposition 264-76 that fall.

A narrow loss to Georgia Tech started a three-game losing streak, but when that streak was over, Tulane did not lose again for nearly two years. From Nov. 3, 1928, until Bierman left the program after the 1932 Rose Bowl, Tulane compiled a football record of 32-2-1.

1929 (9-0)
Head Coach: Bernie Bierman

Coach Bernie Bierman led a team of Tulane future legends to a 9-0 finish that featured five shutouts and plenty of offensive fireworks. Captain Bill Banker ended his magnificent Tulane career with All-America recognition. His name remains a fixture in the Tulane record book.

Running behind a ferocious line anchored by All-Southern center Lloyd "Preacher" Roberts, Banker and fellow halfback Ike Armstrong shredded opposing defenses as the Wave outscored the other side 297-45.

Making his first appearance for the Green Wave that fall was a young Arkansan named Jerry Dalrymple, whose end play during his three-year career led many to consider him the finest player in Tulane history.

1930 (8-1)
Head Coach: Bernie Bierman

When the 1930 team lost the second game of the season to Northwestern on a chilly October afternoon in Chicago, it snapped a school-record 10-game winning streak. When the team roared back to beat Texas A&M the next weekend, a new streak was started and it stretched to the current school record of 18 wins in a row.

In fashioning an 8-1 record, Tulane outscored the opposition 263-30 in 1930, shutting out six of its nine opponents behind the end play of All-American Jerry Dalrymple. Sophomore Don Zimmerman replaced Bill Banker as Tulane's top offensive threat and would go on to All-America recognition himself.

While Tulane's 1931 team (above) was arguably the best in school history, it was not the first Green Wave squad to earn a bid to the Rose Bowl. The 1925 Greenies also were selected but turned down the offer due to the amount of time the student-athletes would be away from their studies.

1931 (11-1)
Head Coach: Bernie Bierman

Arguably the best team in Tulane history, the 1931 team shut out eight of its regular season opponents, set a school record for wins, finished the regular season unbeaten at 11-0 and earned a Rose Bowl bid. Outscoring the opposition by an awesome 338-35, the team allowed only one regular season opponent within 14 points. Future Tulane Hall of Famers Lefty Haynes, John Scafide, Jerry Dalrymple, Red Dawson, Wop Glover, Don Zimmerman and Nollie Felts all started on offense in the Rose Bowl.

The unquestioned leader of this great team was Dalrymple, Tulane's first consensus All-American. Dalrymple's aggressive end play helped Tulane shut out eight of its first nine opponents in 1931, and 13 of 15 over a stretch dating back to the middle of the 1930 season. Offensively, Zimmerman's rushing and passing established an individual total offense record (1,459 yards) that endured 48 years.

The Rose Bowl encounter saw USC grab a 21-0 third quarter lead, only to have Tulane roar back on a Zimmerman-to-Haynes TD pass and a TD run by Glover that closed it to 21-12 before the Green Wave rally fell short.

1932 (6-2-1)
Head Coach: Ted Cox

Ted Cox, an assistant to Bernie Bierman since 1927, took over the head coaching reins and the winning tradition continued. All-American Don Zimmerman was a leader on both sides of the ball as he ended his career as Tulane's all-time leader in total offense and passes intercepted, setting records that lasted until the 1970s.

The Green Wave beat some big-time football teams in spite of being hard hit by graduation, but finishing 6-2-1 was considered a definite "rebuilding" effort for the Tulane program of that day. The Green Wave lost to LSU for the first time since 1926.

As Tulane began its charter membership in the Southeastern Conference, Coach Ted Cox rallied his team to a 6-3-1 finish. The 1933 team lost its first two games, the first time Tulane was beaten in consecutive games since 1928, but the team lost only once more the rest of the year.

On Oct. 21, Howard "Bucky" Bryan returned a kickoff 100 yards on a muddy field to beat Georgia Tech 7-0.

The legendary Claude Simons led the 1934 Greenies to a 10-1 season, an SEC Championship, and a victory in the inaugural Sugar Bowl.

1934 (10-1, 8-0 SEC)
Head Coach: Ted Cox

All-American Claude "Little Monk" Simons, son of legendary Green Wave trainer Claude "Big Monk" Simons, did everything but cut the grass as he led the way to a 10-1 record that included a 20-14 win over Temple in the first Sugar Bowl game. Simons led the team in rushing, passing and scoring, played great defense, punted well and returned kicks for TDs.

Coach Ted Cox's finest Tulane team's only loss was to Colgate before 50,000 fans in Yankee Stadium. Tulane and Alabama tied for the SEC Championship that fall with 7-0 conference records.

Simons took a lateral from Bucky Bryan on a punt and returned it 45 yards for a fourth quarter TD to beat LSU, 13-12, to earn the bowl bid.

In the Sugar Bowl game, Simons took a lateral from John McDaniel on a kickoff and brought it 85 yards for Tulane's first score to cut the Temple lead to 14-7. End Red Hardy caught second half TD passes from Bryan and Barney Mintz to give the Green Wave a 20-14 win and its first bowl victory.

The Green Wave posted its eighth consecutive winning season, but a 6-4 record was not enough to save Coach Ted Cox's job. Tulane got revenge on the Colgate team that dealt the Wave its only loss of 1934 when Barney Mintz's 90-yard interception return sparked a 14-6 win.

A 41-0 loss to LSU in the season finale was the final straw, however, and Cox became the only Tulane coach with a winning record ever to be fired. He stands as the only Tulane football coach of more than two seasons who never failed to field a winning team. Cox was replaced as head coach by Lowell "Red" Dawson, quarterback of the 1931 Rose Bowl team.

Six of the 1936 opponents were held to less than 10 points, including Auburn, who Tulane tied 0-0. A four-game winning streak at mid-year was the season highlight, but the team took another thumping (33-0) from LSU at the end.

Dawson went national in his recruiting and began to bring in players that would lead Tulane football back to national prominence.

1938 (7-2-1, 4-1-1 SEC)
Head Coach: Red Dawson

Coach Red Dawson's program began to take hold in 1938 as Tulane won seven of its last eight games to finish 7-2-1. The only losses were by three points each to Clemson and Alabama. All-America end Ralph Wenzel and All-SEC running back Warren Brunner led the charge, but good football players walked the Tulane campus in numbers. Five opponents failed to cross the Tulane goal line that fall.

The Green Wave beat LSU for the first time since 1934, but the game was marred by a massive brawl that spilled over into the cane fields that surrounded Tiger Stadium in those days. The battle would stop momentarily when the band played the national anthem, only to resume when the last note sounded.

Head Coach: Red Dawson

The 1939 team was one of Tulane's finest, finishing the regular season unbeaten and dropping a hotly-contested 14-13 decision to Texas A&M in the Sugar Bowl. Captain Paul Krueger led a blue-collar team through a tough schedule and won with defense and a punishing running game.

Coach Red Dawson assembled this team from 13 states and the Panama Canal Zone. Five of nine regular season opponents were shut out and two others scored only once. At one point, the Dawson juggernaut shut out three consecutive opponents by a combined score of 90-0.

End Ralph Wenzel and tackle Harley McCollum earned All-America recognition and guard Tommy O'Boyle and back Bobby "Jitterbug" Kellogg were named All-SEC.

Paul Krueger captained a blue-collar Tulane team which earned a bid to the 1939 Sugar Bowl.

When the regular season ended 8-0-1, Tulane was matched with unbeaten Texas A&M in the Sugar Bowl, and the game was a great one. A&M led 7-0 at the half, but Kellogg returned a punt 75 yards to tie it in the third period. Tough running by Fred Cassibry set up a TD rush by Monette Butler that staked Tulane to a 13-7 lead after the conversion was blocked. The Aggies struck back through the air, scoring the winning TD on a pass and lateral that Tulane hotly-contested was an illegal "pick" play. The TD stood, and one of Tulane's great football teams had suffered its only loss.

Head Coach: Red Dawson

Hit hard by graduation, Tulane's 1940 team posted a 5-5 record, marking the first time since 1927 that the Green Wave did not field a winning football team. Coach Red Dawson rallied the troops after the season started 0-3, but a loss to LSU in the season finale prevented a winning campaign. Guard Tommy O'Boyle earned All-America recognition as he led the charge for Dawson's ground-oriented attack. The 1940 team still holds the season record for rushing attempts with 649.

1941 (5-4, 2-3 SEC)
Head Coach: Red Dawson

The nation drifted toward World War II as Red Dawson delivered a winning record in his last season as Tulane head coach. The 1941 team finished 5-4 and displayed a bit more offense than Dawson's previous squads, scoring better than 30 points in four of their five wins.

Ernie Blandin led the way from his tackle spot and was named a consensus All-American after the season. Bobby Glass, who would be killed in action in World War II, led the rushing attack with 683 yards and eight TDs. Lou Thomas established a season record with an average of 6.8 yards total offense per play, and also returned a kickoff 100 yards in a 52-6 win over North Carolina.

Head Coach: Claude Simons, Jr.

Claude "Little Monk" Simons, an All-American for the Green Wave in 1934, took over the head coaching reins from Red Dawson and was faced with putting together a football team during the chaos of World War II. Players were leaving for military service, while others were coming to campus from other universities to participate in military training programs.

Simons led the Wave against a nine-game schedule and wound up with a 4-5 record, Tulane's first losing season since 1927. The season started off well as Tulane journeyed west to defeat the USC Trojans, 27-13. A three-game losing skid to conclude the season ended hopes of a winning campaign.

Lou Thomas led the team in rushing and passing.

The six games Tulane played in 1943 were the fewest since the wartime year of 1918, and Monk Simons led his second Green Wave squad to a 3-3 record. End Ray Olsen, guard Gaston Bourgeois, center Lester Gatewood and back Joe Renfroe all earned All-SEC recognition that fall. Bourgeois, a 16-year-old freshman, started for Tulane for four years and earned All-SEC recognition each season. The 1943 victories came over Rice, SMU and LSU.

1944 (4-3, 1-2 SEC)
Head Coach: Claude Simons, Jr.

Monk Simons fielded his only winning team in 1944 as the squad finished another war-abbreviated schedule 4-3.

This team enjoyed considerable success on the ground as it rushed for more than 300 yards four times, the only Tulane team since 1940 to do so. The biggest victims of the Tulane running game were Clemson (504 yards) and SMU (417 yards). Dub Jones led Wave rushers with 700 yards and earned All-America recognition.

Head Coach: Claude Simons, Jr.

The wartime shuffling of players on and off campus finally caught up with Tulane, and the 2-6-1 record in 1945 was the school's worst since 1910. Coach Monk Simons had his team off to a 2-2-1 start in his final season, but then saw his team suffer through a four-game losing streak at the end.

Ernest Crouch produced one of the highlights of the season by returning two interceptions for touchdowns in a 19-7 win over SMU, a single-game record that still stands.

1946 (3-7, 2-4 SEC)
Head Coach: Henry Frnka

Coach Henry Frnka moved to Tulane to take over the football program after leading Tulsa to four bowl games, including two Sugar Bowls. The initial results were disappointing, but Frnka was laying a foundation that would produce significant success for the Green Wave in the late 1940s.

One of the keys to that foundation was New Orleanian Eddie Price, just out of the Navy and about to become one of the most feared rushers in college football. Price played sparingly early in his freshman year, but still led Tulane in rushing with 309 yards.

The 1946 team ended with a 3-7 record as military veterans like Bennie Ellender, O.J. Key, Ken Tarzetti, Vic Klein and Don Fortier returned to campus to help Frnka rebuild Tulane football fortunes.

1947 (2-5-2, 2-3-2 SEC)
Head Coach: Henry Frnka

Henry Frnka's second Green Wave team finished 2-5-2, but some of the pieces of the squad that exploded to success in 1948 were beginning to fall into place.

Sophomore Eddie Price led Tulane in rushing again. Against Auburn, Price rambled for 103 yards and Johnny Campora added 104 as Tulane rolled up 431 yards on the ground in a 40-0 win.

Against Alabama in the season opener, Price returned a kickoff 100 yards and Bennie Ellender came right back with a TD pass to Ray Prats as Tulane exploded for two quick TDs that keyed a 21-20 win.

Head Coach: Henry Frnka

Junior Eddie Price led the Green Wave to a 9-1 record with 1,178 yards rushing, as he gained at least 100 yards in seven of the team's 10 games.

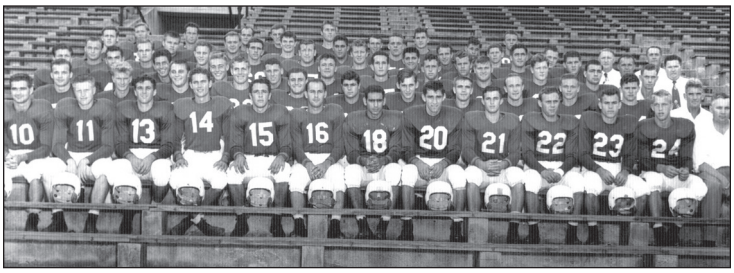

Coach Henry Frnka also crafted a strong passing attack that fall, as sophomore Joe Ernst threw for 809 yards and Dick Sheffield set a season record that lasted 22 years by averaging 18.6 yards per catch.

Operating behind a forward wall that included All-SEC tackle Paul Lea and center Stan Kottemann, Price and Ernst helped the Wave end the season on an eight-game winning streak as the only loss came to Georgia Tech in game two.

Defensively, linebacker Bill Svoboda and defensive back Bobby Jones led a unit that shut out four opponents and did not allow anyone to score more than twice. The season ended on a pleasant note as Tulane swamped LSU 46-0 in Baton Rouge. The team was richly deserving of a bowl invite but got none.

1949 (7-2-1, 5-1 SEC)
Head Coach: Henry Frnka

All-American Eddie Price ran wild again, rushing for 1,137 yards in only nine games as Tulane finished 7-2-1. Price ended his fabulous career as the NCAA's all-time leading rusher with 3,095 career yards. He rushed for 238 yards against Navy that season in his finest career performance, and had five games over 100 yards in the nine he played.

The team won its first three games to stretch the school's winning streak to 11. The only losses were to Notre Dame and LSU. A big upset by LSU in the season finale probably cost Tulane a bowl berth.

Tackle Paul Lea was named All-SEC for the second season in a row, and Jimmy Glisson set school records in the secondary with four interceptions in one game and nine in a season.

Quarterback Joe Ernst set a new Tulane record with 990 passing yards. In a 27-0 win over Navy, he connected with Joe Shinn 10 times for 152 yards. Ernst's yardage record lasted 19 years, while Shinn's single-game receiving marks stood for 32 seasons. A lanky Texan named Max McGee, who went on to earn fame in the NFL as a wide receiver, led Tulane rushers as a sophomore with 537 yards. W.C. McElhannon led the team with 33 receptions and Lester Kennedy just missed the school record with eight interceptions.

Long-time Tulane assistant and former Notre Dame All-American Andy Pilney assumed the coaching reins of a football program that needed a boost, and he made an immediate impact. The 1954 squad showed significant improvement on defense, and that kept them in more football games.

Although the team won only once, they played to a school record three ties and lost a tough 14-13 decision to LSU in the season finale. Pilney began to turn it around in 1954, and the results got a lot better the next two seasons. The only win in a 1-6-3 season was a 6-0 triumph over Vanderbilt.

Co-captains Tony Sardisco and Bryan Burnthorne led a resurgence in Tulane football as the program enjoyed its first winning season since 1950. Coach Andy Pilney's second Green Wave squad won three consecutive games late in the year to ensure a winning campaign.

Fullback Ronny Quillian finished second in the SEC in rushing and punting and had a big game in a Tulane win over Alabama, scoring two touchdowns, rushing for 107 yards and launching a 72-yard punt.

Quarterback Gene Newton also had some big games, running for both TDs in a 14-0 win over Georgia in Athens, passing for two TDs in a win over Auburn and scoring a TD in the 13-13 tie with LSU.

In the season opener, the Green Wave beat VMI 20-7 in the first night game ever in Tulane Stadium.

1956 (6-4, 3-3 SEC)
Head Coach: Andy Pilney

Andy Pilney did one of the great coaching jobs in Tulane history, crafting a 6-4 record that included one point losses to Texas and LSU. Coaching a team of true student-athletes during a period of financial austerity, he led the program to its second consecutive winning season against a tough schedule.

Ronny Quillian, running behind the tough blocking of fellow captains Donald Miller and Dalton Truax, led the team in rushing for the second straight season. Against Mississippi State, Quillian rushed for 141 yards and scored the game-winning TD in the final two minutes.

Quarterback Gene Newton had some big moments, breaking off an 86-yard TD run to help defeat Ole Miss in Jackson, catching a 71-yard pass against Alabama and tossing five TD passes in wins over Virginia Tech and Navy. Sophomore Claude "Boo" Mason showed promise of things to come by rushing for 128 yards against LSU.

1957 (2-8, 1-5 SEC)
Head Coach: Andy Pilney

The Green Wave slumped to 2-8 in 1957, the first of a school-record nine consecutive losing seasons. The wins came against Marquette and Alabama.

Defense against the pass was a highlight, as the Green Wave held the opposition to only 33 completions, a modern school record.

Junior Boo Mason led the team in rushing and he enjoyed big games against Army, rushing for 130 yards, and Marquette, against whom he scored two touchdowns in a 20-6 Tulane win.

1958 (3-7, 1-5 SEC)
Head Coach: Andy Pilney

Coach Andy Pilney improved the Green Wave's record slightly, beating Navy, Texas Tech and Alabama to finish 3-7. Quarterback Richie Petitbon, who went on to an All-Pro career as a defensive back with the Chicago Bears, earned All-SEC recognition as he completed 66 of 125 passes for 728 yards.

In the win over Texas Tech, Boo Mason gained 104 yards receiving to become the first player in Tulane history to gain 100 yards in a game rushing and receiving in his career.

The season ended on a sour note as national champion LSU poured it on 62-0.

1959 (3-6-1, 0-5-1 SEC)
Head Coach: Andy Pilney

The Green Wave suffered its third consecutive losing season, but there was reason for hope in the presence of young running backs Tommy Mason and Terry Terrebonne. While Mason was a year away from one of the great seasons in Tulane history, there was nothing wrong with Terrebonne. The sophomore from New Orleans had big games in consecutive wins over Wake Forest and Detroit. Against Wake Forest, Terrebonne rushed for 112 yards in a 6-0 victory, while his 49-yard TD run keyed a 25-0 romp over Detroit.

A fog-shrouded win over Texas Tech the night before Halloween was the third victory in the 1959 season.

1960 (3-6-1, 1-4-1 SEC)
Head Coach: Andy Pilney

All-American Tommy Mason had one of the great seasons in Tulane football history as he led the SEC in rushing and scored 13 touchdowns. A versatile performer, Mason set a single-season record for all-purpose yardage (1,452 yards) that endured 28 years.

Tulane finished 3-6-1 in 1960, but the losing season did not dim Mason's luster as far as pro scouts were concerned. He was the first player selected in the NFL draft that year, going to the Minnesota Vikings.

Quarterback Phil Nugent also had a fine season, as his 880 passing yards were the most by a Tulane player in 10 years.

1961 (2-8, 1-5 SEC)
Head Coach: Andy Pilney

Andy Pilney's eight-year term as head coach, the second-longest in Tulane history, ended in a 2-8 season. Only Clark Shaughnessy lasted longer at the Green Wave helm, a testament to Pilney's coaching acumen in the face of restricted budgets and stiff academic standards.

Unable to effectively replace the graduated Tommy Mason, Tulane was shut out five times in 10 games, the final loss a 62-0 verdict to LSU. The two victories that season were over Virginia Tech and Vanderbilt. The season-ending loss to LSU began a school-record 17-game losing streak.

Former Tulane All-American Tommy O'Boyle (1938-40), an assistant to Andy Pilney in 1961, was promoted to head football coach for the 1962 season. The 1962 team posted an 0-10 record, the first Green Wave squad to go winless since the 1910 team finished 0-7. End Clem Dellenger caught 39 passes to set a new season record that would last 17 years.

Head Coach: Tommy O'Boyle

The 1963 team dropped its first six decisions before beating South Carolina 20-7 on the road to snap a school-record 17-game losing streak. A 10-10 tie with Vanderbilt later in the year resulted in a 1-8-1 record.

The team struggled offensively and was shut out six times as Coach Tommy O'Boyle fought to rebuild Green Wave football fortunes. The 43 points scored by the 1963 team were the fewest by a Tulane squad since the winless 1910 team scored only six points.

Ron Chapoton led the team in receptions, the last running back to do so before Mewelde Moore accomplished the feat in 2001.

1964 (3-7, 1-5 SEC)
Head Coach: Tommy O'Boyle

Coach Tommy O'Boyle's third Tulane team showed definite improvement, playing much better than its 3-7 record would indicate. After five losses to open the season, the team rallied to a 3-2 finish that included a 17-0 win in the season finale with Duke highlighted by a then-Tulane record 53-yard field goal by Don Bright.

The Duke game was postponed to season's end by Hurricane Hilda, and it marked the first time the Green Wave did not play LSU in its final game since the 1946 season.

George Smith, who led the team in rushing for the second consecutive season, had a big game against VMI, rushing for 112 yards in a 25-6 win. Quarterback Dave East set a season record with 85 completions.

1965 (2-8, 1-5 SEC)
Head Coach: Tommy O'Boyle

Tulane's 1965 team competed well in the early going, then fell into a tailspin that cost Coach Tommy O'Boyle his job. Preseason practice was disrupted when Hurricane Betsy hit New Orleans about a week before the season opener with Texas, which was hurriedly moved from Tulane Stadium to Austin.

A game Tulane team hung tough before losing road encounters to Texas and Alabama, then rode the passing and running of sophomore phenom Bobby Duhon to a 24-16 upset of Miami. Duhon's 71-yard TD pass to Lanis O'Steen in his first collegiate start highlighted the win.

After tough losses to nationally-ranked Georgia Tech and Ole Miss, the Green Wave upset Mississippi State at home. Captain Bill Goss, an All-SEC linebacker, led a defensive unit, dubbed the "Posse," that was keeping Tulane in football games.

A run of injuries decimated squad depth as the season went on, however, and narrow losses to Vanderbilt and Stanford were followed by devastating defeats to Top Ten teams Florida and LSU, the latter by another 62-0 margin. The 2-8 finish led Tulane to seek its third head coach of the decade.

1966 (5-4-1)
Head Coach: Jim Pittman

Coach Jim Pittman took over the coaching reins in 1966, the year the Green Wave left the Southeastern Conference, went intersectional with its schedule and turned in Tulane's only winning team of the decade. Tulane's wing-T offense was a showcase for the athletic ability of junior quarterback Bobby Duhon, whose 748 yards rushing that season are the most ever by a Green Wave signal caller.

The Green Wave defense pitched a shutout in the 1966 opener as Virginia Tech fell 13-0. The next weekend, Duhon scored twice and defensive guard Vic Eumont recovered a fumble in the Texas A&M end zone as Tulane beat the Aggies 21-13 to give Tulane its first 2-0 start since 1949.

The record became a heady 4-1 when, after a loss to Stanford, the Green Wave whipped Virginia and Cincinnati. Tailback/defensive back Pete Johns and tight end/defensive end Jerry Colquette were two-way performers, among the last of a dying breed as college football went to unlimited substitution.

The Green Wave got its fifth win with a fourth-quarter goal-line stand against Vanderbilt, then fought heavily-favored Miami to a 10-10 tie to ensure a winning season (the last tie in Tulane history). In the season finale, 82,567 fans packed Tulane Stadium to watch LSU win a hotly-contested game in the fourth quarter as both teams finished 5-4-1.

1967 (3-7)
Head Coach: Jim Pittman

Reality returned to Tulane football, as the previous season's resurgence was followed by a slide to 3-7. Coach Jim Pittman's second Tulane squad was again competitive, but the football began bouncing the wrong way and a lack of depth spelled defeat in several close contests.

Midway through the season, junior Warren Bankston moved from backup quarterback to running back and led all Wave rushers. Quarterback Bobby Duhon, who went on to a fine NFL career as a running back with the New York Giants, became the first Tulane player to amass more than 1,000 yards of total offense in three straight seasons.

The defense was staggered midway through the season when co-captain Jim Jancik, a stellar defensive back, went down with a knee injury.

1968 (2-8)
Head Coach: Jim Pittman

The record slipped again to 2-8, but Coach Jim Pittman was bringing in folks like Rick Kingrea and Ray Hester who would one day be the keys to a Tulane football turnaround. Running back Warren Bankston, who went on to a long NFL career as a tight end with the Oakland Raiders, led the team in rushing despite missing several early-season games with a leg injury. Quarterback Wayne Francingues' 1,376 yards of total offense were the second-highest in Green Wave history to that point.

Head Coach: Jim Pittman

The record improved only slightly to 3-7, but Jim Pittman's recruiting efforts began to pay off as a strong sophomore class headed by three-year starters like Steve Barrios, Joe Bullard, Paul Ellis, David Hebert and Bob Waldron moved up to varsity. After an 0-4 start, the team broke even the rest of the way, beating Pitt, Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt.

Bullard established himself as Tulane's all-time best punt returner that fall, setting season records for yards and average per return that have not been approached. His 92-yard return against Vanderbilt is the longest in Green Wave history.

With Barrios as his favorite target, sophomore Rusty Lachaussee became Tulane's first 1,000-yard passer. The defensive unit that would dominate opponents and catapult Tulane to its first bowl bid in over 30 years was beginning to come together, as junior linebackers Rick Kingrea and Ray Hester got better and better. Tulane got better and better right along with them.

1970 (8-4)
Head Coach: Jim Pittman

Billboards and bumper stickers plastered all over New Orleans proclaimed 1970 as the "Year of the Green." Tulane's football team backed up the claim, earning a bid to the Liberty Bowl where they defeated Colorado. Coach Jim Pittman's final Tulane team compiled an 8-4 mark, the most wins for the Green Wave since 1948 and only the second winning season for the program in 14 years.

Seniors Rick Kingrea, Mike Walker and David Abercrombie captained the 1970 team. The defense returned 10 starters from 1969 and Paul Ellis, Joe Bullard and David Hebert formed a secondary that picked off a school-record 28 passes on what was to be one of the Green Wave's all-time great defensive units.

Offensively, Abercrombie set a school record with 246 yards rushing against North Carolina State on his way to 993 yards rushing. Through the air, quarterback Mike Walker and receiver Steve Barrios connected on some big plays, as Walker set a season record for yards per completion and Barrios set a season record for yards per catch.

After a 7-4 regular season, the Green Wave received its first bowl invite since the 1939 Sugar Bowl. Tulane was given little chance in the Liberty Bowl against a Colorado team averaging over 400 yards of total offense per game, but the Green Wave defense limited the Buffaloes to 175 yards. The final score of 17-3 sounded closer than it really was. The week after the game, Jim Pittman accepted an offer to coach TCU.

1971 (3-8)
Head Coach: Bennie Ellender

Former Tulane quarterback Bennie Ellender returned to his alma mater as head coach after leading Arkansas State to a college division national championship in 1970. Excitement ran high entering 1971, but the results, unfortunately, did not match those expectations as Tulane lost its last five games to finish 3-8. Texas Tech was TU's first victim as sophomore defensive end Mike Truax blocked a fourth-quarter punt to spark a come-from-behind victory. The Green Wave dropped its next three games, then rallied to beat North Carolina and Pittsburgh to even the season record before going into a five-game slide.

Senior wide receiver Steve Barrios missed the first four games, but his return against North Carolina gave the Wave a boost as he caught touchdown passes of 56 and 42 yards. The next weekend, Barrios became the first Tulane receiver to gain 1,000 career yards as he caught three passes for 76 yards in a 33-8 win over Pitt.

Running back Ricky Hebert rushed for 819 yards, highlighted by a 124-yard performance against LSU. Tulane had two 100-yard returns that fall on an interception by David Hebert against Rice and a kickoff by Coleman Dupre against North Carolina.

1972 (6-5)
Head Coach: Bennie Ellender

Relentless defense and the emergence of sophomore quarterback Steve Foley put Coach Bennie Ellender's second Tulane team back in the win column in 1972, and the 6-5 record could have been a lot better.

One of those "losses" came when Miami was inadvertently awarded a fifth down with barely over a minute left in the game, which they used to score the winning touchdown. Another loss came in the season finale when the Tulane fullback was stopped a foot short of the winning TD as time expired.

Defensive back George Ewing accomplished more in 1972 than most players do in a whole career. In spite of losing two games to injury, Ewing scored five return TDs, scoring on three punts and two interceptions.

The Green Wave's 1972 defense was one of the best in school history as six opponents scored fewer than 10 points. Glenn Harder, Mike Mullen, Harold Asher and Rusty Chambers gave Tulane one of its deepest linebacking corps ever, while sensational sophomore Charles Hall provided a dominating presence up front. Defensive end Randy Lee and safety David Lee provided Tulane with one of the most effective brother combinations in its history.

1973 (9-3)
Head Coach: Bennie Ellender

Coach Bennie Ellender fielded his most successful football team in 1973, as quarterback Steve Foley and All-America defensive tackle Charles Hall led the way to a 9-2 regular season and an invitation to the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston.

The Green Wave won its first six games for the school's best start since 1934, but the highlight of the year was the season finale with LSU. In that game, the Green Wave beat the Tigers for the first time since 1948, taking a 14-0 win before a beyond-capacity crowd of 86,598 in Tulane Stadium.

Foley led the 1973 team in both passing and rushing and was named MVP at season's end. He ran for two TDs in the season opener with Boston College, broke a 72-yard TD run to start off a rout over VMI, threw the winning TD pass with nine seconds left against Duke and scampered for 181 yards (the most ever by a Tulane QB) against Vanderbilt to clinch the bowl bid.

Hall and sophomore middle guard Mark Olivari created havoc in the middle of the defensive line and junior linebacker Rusty Chambers made 153 tackles as five opponents were held to six points or less. The defense shut out VMI, North Carolina and LSU. It was a year to remember, as only the 1931 and 1934 teams had won more games in one season. In the bowl game against Houston, an explosive Cougar squad romped 47-7 in the Astrodome.

1974 (5-6)
Head Coach: Bennie Ellender

With senior quarterback Steve Foley continuing his inspired play from the season before, Coach Bennie Ellender's fourth Tulane team roared to a 5-0 start. The fifth win was by 30-3 over The Citadel, as Foley ran for 142 of the team's 340 rushing yards. At this point, Ellender had coached Tulane to 17 wins in its last 20 regular season games.

Game six was a regionally-televised game against Georgia Tech in Atlanta, and Foley appeared to be driving Tulane toward a go-ahead score early in the second half when he broke his foot on a goal-line scramble. Tulane did not win another game that season and ended up 5-6, a dramatic indication of the value a healthy Steve Foley brought to the Green Wave football program.

On a cold, damp Nov. 30 afternoon the Green Wave played its last game ever in Tulane Stadium, dropping a 26-10 decision to Ole Miss.

1975 (4-7)
Head Coach: Bennie Ellender

Coach Bennie Ellender's last Tulane team got off to another strong start, but this time a late season losing streak cost him his job. Despite losing starting quarterback Terry Looney to a season-ending knee injury the week before the opener, Tulane defeated Ole Miss 14-3 in the first college game played in the Louisiana Superdome. Senior Buddy Gilbert took over the quarterback job and delivered, establishing season records for passes completed and passing yards. His favorite target was senior Jaime Garza, who led Tulane in receiving for the third straight season.

After a 4-2 start, the Green Wave lost five in a row to finish 4-7. The squad remained competitive during that streak, losing a one-point decision to Air Force and a two-point decision to North Carolina on a last-second field goal. The season ended unpleasantly, however, as LSU topped the Green Wave 42-6.

1976 (2-9)
Head Coach: Larry Smith

Coach Larry Smith took over the Tulane helm for the 1976 season, and things got worse before they got better. The unquestioned bright spot in a 2-9 season was the presence of freshman quarterback Roch Hontas. Hontas completed 61-of-114 pass attempts for 697 yards as a part-time starter that fall, the first of four seasons that he would lead Tulane in passing. His favorite target was junior Zack Mitchell, the first tight end to ever lead Tulane in receiving.

In addition to Hontas, Smith brought another all-time great to the Tulane campus in 1976 in the person of Canadian Ed Murray, who went on to break just about every Green Wave place-kicking record.

The Green Wave wins were over Vanderbilt and Army, the latter victory featuring a 96-yard interception return by Arthur Green.

1977 (3-8)
Head Coach: Larry Smith

Sophomore Roch Hontas was the bright spot in a 3-8 season as he completed a school record 63.4 percent of his pass attempts, including 33-of-42 passes for 373 yards versus SMU in one of the top passing performances in Green Wave history up to that time. Coach Larry Smith added a key building block when he brought in running back Marvin Christian, who would lead Tulane in rushing the next three seasons. Christian showed promise of things to come with a 142-yard rushing performance against Stanford.

The Green Wave was a bit more competitive than the season before as it lost four games by four points or less. Hontas and Christian owed much of their offensive success to an improved offensive line, led by senior offensive tackle Eric Laakso, who went on to a fine NFL career with the Miami Dolphins.

1978 (4-7)
Head Coach: Larry Smith

Coach Larry Smith's third Tulane team came on strong at the end of the season to augur the bright future to come. After dropping its first four games, the 1978 squad finished 4-3 to gain momentum toward what would be an outstanding 1979 campaign.

Junior quarterback Roch Hontas had another fine season as he became the first Tulane passer to complete more than 100 passes in a season twice. Against Memphis, Hontas delivered an 80-yard TD bomb to Darrell Griffin, then the longest pass in Tulane history. Marvin Christian had an outstanding season, gaining 879 yards, one of the top marks in school history at the time. Junior Ed Murray kicked a 54-yard field goal against Memphis, tying the school record. On defense, Frank Robinson and Marty Wetzel each had more than 100 tackles.

Head Coach: Larry Smith

The 1979 squad won as many games as Coach Larry Smith's first three teams combined and finished the regular season 9-2 to earn an invitation to play Penn State in the Liberty Bowl.

The offensive leader was senior quarterback Roch Hontas, who completed 215-of-367 pass attempts for 2,345 yards and 21 TDs to set single-season records.

His favorite targets were wide receiver Alton Alexis and tight end Rodney Holman, who set a season receiving record with 47 catches each. Marvin Christian led Tulane in rushing for the third consecutive season. Kicker Ed Murray was perfect on 35 extra point attempts and set a season record for kicking points, as he was named to the All-South Independent team for the fourth straight season.

Late in the year, the team went on one of the greatest tears in modern Tulane history, outscoring Boston College, Ole Miss and LSU by a combined score of 116-36. In the Liberty Bowl against Penn State, the Nittany Lions won a battle of field goals, 9-6. Following the season, Smith accepted the head coaching position at the University of Arizona.

1980 (7-5)
Head Coach: Vince Gibson

New head coach Vince Gibson led Tulane to a 7-4 regular season record and an invitation to the Hall of Fame Bowl, marking the first time the Green Wave participated in postseason play in consecutive seasons.

Senior quarterback Nickie Hall, who had spent three seasons in the shadow of the great Roch Hontas, finally got his chance and delivered, tying Hontas' single-season TD pass mark of 21 while passing and running for a school-record 174 points. Against SMU, Hall set a total offense record with 384 yards, including an 84-yard pass to Marcus Anderson, then the longest in school history. Against Rice, Hall threw five TD passes and Robert Griffin caught four of them.

Defensively, linebackers Frank Robinson, Marty Wetzel and middle guard Wilfred Simon all had more than 100 tackles for the second consecutive season. Cornerback Lionel Washington, who went on to a fine NFL career with the Raiders, led the team with five interceptions.

The 1980 season was not short on exciting finishes, as kicker Vince Manalla kicked field goals to beat Ole Miss and Kentucky with no time remaining. After a 2-3 start, Tulane won five in a row to clinch the bowl bid. Win No. 5 was a special one, as Hall ran for two TDs and passed for another to lead Tulane to its first win over Georgia Tech in Atlanta since 1933.

1981 (6-5)
Head Coach: Vince Gibson

With the graduation of Nickie Hall, it took a while to fill in the hole. When coach Vince Gibson finally found his man, junior college transfer Mike McKay, the team went from mediocre to excellent in a hurry. The Green Wave sputtered to an 0-4 start, but McKay came on late in game four and flashed the form that helped turn things around.

With McKay under center, the Wave won six of its last seven games. In eight games, McKay completed 78-of-124 passes for 927 yards with three interceptions and 10 TDs. Running back Marvin Lewis had a big year, rushing for 860 yards and nine TDs. Tight end Rodney Holman ended his career as the Green Wave's all-time leader with 135 catches.

The strength of the 1981 team was on defense, as the Green Wave allowed fewer points (144) than any Tulane team since college football went to an 11-game schedule in 1970. Defensive lineman Brian Douglas had 23 tackles behind the line of scrimmage, and linebackers Darryl Tipton, Ricky Goff, Jeff Roberts and Sly McGrew all had at least 100 tackles.

Four of the five losses were by nine points or less, including a 13-5 decision to '81 national champion Clemson. In the finale, Tulane crushed LSU, 48-7, to record its second win over the Tigers in three years.

1982 (4-7)
Head Coach: Vince Gibson

Vince Gibson's last Tulane squad was the only one to finish with a losing record, but the 1982 team ended its season in style with a win over Orange Bowl-bound LSU in Tiger Stadium. With the rain pouring down and time running out, Mike McKay tossed a fourth-down, 31-yard TD pass to fullback Reggie Reginelli for the game-winner in a come-from-behind 31-28 victory. It was the third and final lead change of the day and marked Tulane's third win over LSU in four seasons.

McKay threw for 1,903 yards and finished as Tulane's career leader in completion percentage. His prime target was Robert Griffin, who had a then-record 56 catches. Tony Wood had a strong season kicking, booting 52- and 53-yard field goals and going perfect on 22 extra points.

Head Coach: Wally English

Wally English began a controversial two-year reign as Tulane's head coach in 1983. The day before the season opener with Mississippi State, Jon English, Wally's son, filed suit against the NCAA and Tulane, alleging that he was unjustly being deprived of a final season of eligibility. He received a temporary restraining order that allowed him to play while the case worked its way through the courts, and played in six games before his attorneys ran out of legal maneuvers and he was declared ineligible. The two games that Tulane won during that time were forfeited to Ole Miss and Florida State, and the Green Wave wound up 2-9.

Future NFL performers like Bubby Brister, Don Maggs, Ron Tilton and Burnell Dent dotted the roster. Brister left the team after being replaced by Jon English midway through the first two games. Dent set a TU record for tackles in a season with 172.

1984 (3-8)
Head Coach: Wally English

Coach Wally English led the Green Wave to a 3-8 record in his final season as head coach. Notre Dame transfer Ken Karcher took over the starting quarterback spot. His favorite target was sophomore tight end Larry Route, who led the squad with 46 catches. Mike Jones led the team in rushing with 573 yards, including 129 in the season finale with LSU. Linebacker Burnell Dent led the team in tackles again (139).

The Tulane-LSU game was called with less than a minute remaining when a bench-clearing brawl broke out between the teams on an extra point attempt. English's two-year tenure ended the following week when Tulane announced it would seek a new head coach.

1985 (1-10)
Head Coach: Mack Brown

Mack Brown, barely 34 at the start of the 1985 season, took over the head coaching and athletic director responsibilities and set about to rebuild the football program. The Green Wave went just 1-10 in 1985, but Brown stayed the course and slowly righted the ship.

The major positive development of Brown's first year was the signing of quarterback Terrence Jones, who went on to be one of Tulane's all-time greats. With Ken Karcher returning as the No. 1 quarterback, Jones volunteered to play tailback and led the team in rushing.

The season opened with eight straight losses before Tulane beat UL-Lafayette for its only win. Marc Zeno set a Tulane season records with 73 catches for 1,137 yards in 1985 and set a then-single-game mark with 208 yards against LSU. Linebacker Burnell Dent led Tulane in tackles for the third straight season with 120.

1986 (4-7)
Head Coach: Mack Brown

Coach Mack Brown's second team took some lumps, but the record improved to 4-7 as it became obvious that better days were ahead. One reason for that was the emergence of sophomore QB Terrence Jones. In the opener vs. TCU, Jones set a school record with 388 passing yards and 484 yards of total offense, and when the season was over he had thrown for 2,124 yards with just seven interceptions while completing 159-of-284 pass attempts.

Receiver Marc Zeno had a dynamite junior season, catching 68 passes for 1,033 yards while setting Tulane career marks for receptions and yards. Fullback Rodney Hunter led the squad in rushing with 657 yards, the most by a Tulane back since 1981. Defensively, linebacker Richard Harvey and defensive back Thurston Harrison each had over 100 tackles.

Head Coach: Mack Brown

Coach Mack Brown's last Tulane team was an exciting one, scoring and giving up more points than any other squad in the first 100 years of Green Wave football. It was a competitive club that finished the regular season with a 6-5 record, with three of the losses by seven points or less. After the regular season, Tulane played in its eighth bowl game, facing Washington in the Independence Bowl in Shreveport.

Tulane's Marc Zeno set the NCAA career receiving yardage record as he ended his college career with 3,725 yards. Zeno's 77 receptions and 1,206 yards surpassed his own school marks and he earned All-America honors.

Junior quarterback Terrence Jones was on the throwing end of nearly all of Zeno's receptions that fall as he set new Green Wave records for passing yards and total offense. With a full season left, Jones was already Tulane's career total offense leader. Tailback Marvin Allen scored 11 TDs, including four against Virginia Tech on three short runs and a 76-yard bomb from Jones. Tulane triumphed 57-38 to record the most points by the Green Wave since 1950. On the season, Tulane amassed a school-record 370 points.

The Green Wave and LSU played one of the great games in the series in 1987, as the Tigers scored in the final minute to win 41-36. Just prior to the Independence Bowl, Brown announced he was leaving to become head coach at North Carolina. He coached the bowl game, which the Green Wave lost, 24-12, to Washington.

Greg Davis, Tulane's assistant head coach under Mack Brown, was promoted to the top spot in 1988 and led the team to a 5-6 record. The Green Wave started 3-1, but a four-game losing skid dampened chances for a winning season. Tulane bounced back with wins over Ole Miss and Mississippi State, but dropped the finale at LSU to finish a game below .500.

The 1988 season marked the end of the fabulous college career of Terrence Jones, who accumulated 9,445 yards of total offense to rank among the top 10 in NCAA history. Jones shattered nearly every career passing record during his four years on campus and led Tulane in rushing and passing in 1988.

He had a new target in converted quarterback Jerome McIntosh, who caught 52 passes for 908 yards and seven TDs. Michael Pierce also emerged as an offensive threat as he brokeTommy Mason's 28-year-old record for all-purpose yardage with 1,644. Defensively, Mitchell Price intercepted five passes, while linebacker Richard Harvey led the team in tackles for the third straight season.

1989 (4-8)

In 1989, Coach Greg Davis and his team took on the first 12-game regular season schedule in the school's history.

Deron Smith took over at quarterback and set season records for pass attempts, completions and yards. Jerome McIntosh was the team's leading receiver for the second straight season, catching 55 passes for 899 yards. Smith and McIntosh put on a clinic in a 37-13 win at Vanderbilt, connecting 11 times for 271 yards, including a 77-yard TD pass. Smith threw for 370 yards that afternoon and McIntosh's 271 yards are the most ever by a Tulane receiver.

Fullback Chance Miller gained 99 yards in the opener at Hawaii before injuring his knee. He missed the next six games after undergoing surgery, but ran for 106 yards against Memphis in his second game back.

Coach Greg Davis entered the 1990 campaign with aspirations for his first winning season, but instead finished 4-7. Southwestern Louisiana rolled to a 48-6 win in the opener, but Davis rallied his troops to wins over Rice and SMU. A five-game losing streak ensued, but the team responded, bashing Cincinnati 49-7 and upsetting Syracuse on the road, 26-24. The season ended with a 16-13 loss to LSU in Tiger Stadium.

Running back Chance Miller had a big year for the Wave as his 805 yards rushing were the most by a Tulane runner since 1981. Against LSU, Miller's 158 yards were the most by a Tulane back since 1978. Quarterback Deron Smith closed his Tulane career with another 2,000-yard passing season. Wide receiver Melvin Ferdinand led TU with 57 catches.

The 1991 season was one of the most trying in Tulane football annals, as the Green Wave struggled to a 1-10 record. The season opened with nine consecutive losses before Tulane whipped Navy. In game three against Mississippi State, Tulane was shut out for the first time since 1977 (152 games), and it happened twice more before the season was over.

While the team struggled, there were some individual accomplishments of note. Sophomore Wil Ursin caught 70 passes for 969 yards and nine TDs to post one of the top single-season performances in Tulane history. Against East Carolina, Ursin caught a TU-record 15 passes, including three TD receptions in the second half. The next week, he caught three more TDs against Navy to spark Tulane to its only win of the season.

Jerome Woods and Billy Duncan shared the quarterback spot, and for the first time in school history two players passed for more than 1,000 yards each. Defensively, freshman safety Mike Staid led the team with 108 tackles and three interceptions.

1992 (2-9)
Head Coach: Buddy Teevens

The Buddy Teevens era began on a bright note as the Green Wave won its season opener over SMU by a score of 13-12. Three weeks later, Tulane beat Nevada, 34-17, to improve to 2-2. However, the Green Wave did not win again and finished 2-9.

Starting quarterback Billy Duncan broke his right ankle in game three, and the Green Wave felt his absence. After the 2-2 start, Tulane battled eventual national champion Alabama fiercely in game five, holding the Crimson Tide without a touchdown for nearly three quarters before losing 37-0. Narrow losses the next two weeks, followed by a blowout loss to Memphis, ended Tulane's slim hopes for a winning season.

Slowed by injuries, fullback Chance Miller rushed for 306 yards and ended a fine career as the fifth-leading rusher in Tulane history with 2,023 yards. Wil Ursin led the team 55 receptions for 755 yards. Defensively, Mike Staid led Tulane in tackles (133) and interceptions (3) for the second consecutive year.

Head Coach: Buddy Teevens

Year two of the Teevens era – the 100th year of Tulane football- produced an improved product. In the opener against Alabama, Jerald Sowell broke off the longest play from scrimmage in school history with a 98-yard run. In the home opener against William & Mary, the Wave pitched a 10-0 shutout, Tulane's first blanking since 1973. Two weeks later, the Green Wave defeated Navy 27-25 on Bart Baldwin's 43-yard field goal as time expired. Tulane also won at Southern Mississippi, 17-15.

Newcomer Craig Randall started 10 games at quarterback and passed for 1,565 yards. Sowell was the leading rusher with 403 yards and Wil Ursin had his third consecutive 50-reception season. Mike Staid led Tulane in tackles for the third straight year with 133.

Head Coach: Buddy Teevens

Buddy Teevens' third season produced only one victory, but had its share of exciting moments. The one win came at Rice, 15-13, on a 47-yard field goal by Bart Baldwin as time expired, his school-record fifth field goal of the day. Kick returner Jeff Liggon had a huge season, setting an NCAA record for kickoff return yards and tying another for number of kickoffs returned. Safety Mike Staid, who started all 45 games in which he played at Tulane, ended his career as the No. 2 tackler in school history with 481. Fellow safety, Cedric Thomas, ended his career in a big way against LSU with two touchdowns – one on a fumble return, the other on a blocked punt recovery in the end zone. Running back Jerald Sowell became the first player in school history to have 600 yards rushing and 30 receptions in the same season.

Head Coach: Buddy Teevens

The fourth season under Buddy Teevens marked the end of an era – Tulane's last season as an independent. The Green Wave defeated Wake Forest and Rice on consecutive weekends to jump out to a 2-1 start, but starting quarterback Aley Demarest was injured in the next game and freshman Shaun King was pressed into action.

King became the first rookie in school history to pass for more than 1,000 yards, and Jamaican Dartez made his mark as the most prolific freshman rusher in school history with 544 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Four of Tulane's nine losses were by less than a touchdown, including a wild 45-40 shootout against Rutgers in which King passed for 372 yards. Linebacker Derrick Singleton led Tulane with 126 tackles.

1996 (2-9, 1-4 C-USA)
Head Coach: Buddy Teevens

Tulane's fifth and final season under Buddy Teevens resulted in a 2-9 record. The year got off to a rousing start when the Wave traveled to Cincinnati and won the first game in Conference USA history, 34-14. Tulane would lead at halftime in each of its final four conference games, but each by a total of 16 points, including two on last-second field goals.

Shaun King started all 11 games at quarterback and passed for 1,574 yards and eight touchdowns. Jerald Sowell (595 yards) and Jamaican Dartez (583) formed one of the best back tandems in school history. Brian Williams led the defense with 100 tackles, while Derrick Singleton had 77 tackles and three interceptions in only eight games. On special teams, Jeff Liggon set two NCAA career records for kickoff returns and was named the conference's special teams player of the year.

1997 (7-4, 5-1 C-USA)
Head Coach: Tommy Bowden

First-year head coach Tommy Bowden guided the Green Wave to its most wins since 1980, completing the campaign with a 7-4 record. Tulane finished second in Conference USA with a 5-1 mark, its best conference record and finish since 1949. The team set 25 school and conference records, including the mark for points in a season with 375.

After opening the season with a 31-17 win over Cincinnati and tough losses to Rice and Syracuse, Tulane won three consecutive games, outscoring the opposition by a combined 138-49. Defensively, Tulane allowed 20.5 points per game, the fewest since 1981, and the Green Wave posted two shutouts in a season for the first time since 1973.

The Green Wave had a pair of 50-point games in one season for the first time since 1930, and scored at least 40 points on four occasions for the first time since 1928. Besides setting a C-USA record, the 64 points scored against Louisville were the most by a Tulane team since 1950.

Individually, King earned C-USA Offensive Player of the Year honors after throwing for nearly 2,600 yards and a school-record 25 touchdowns. Kicker Brad Palazzo led the nation in field goals per game and earned third-team All-America honors, the first Tulane player to do so since 1987.

1998 (12-0, 6-0 C-USA)
Head Coach: Tommy Bowden

The most successful season in the first 107 years of Tulane football was put together one game at a time. Some games were no contest from beginning to end, some saw Tulane romp early and coast home, some were hotly-contested until Tulane pulled away at the end, and one came down to the last play of the game.

When it was over, Tulane was 12-0. The 1998 team was the first Tulane squad to win 12 games in a season and the third unbeaten, untied squad in school history. Only one opponent, Louisville, was within a touchdown at game's end.

The 1998 team scored 499 points, 124 more than any previous Green Wave team had scored. The Wave scored at least 40 points in nine of 12 games, including the final seven contests of the year.

Shaun King broke almost every Tulane season and career passing record, becaming the first NCAA I-A player to amass 3,000 yards passing and 500 yards rushing in a season, and he established an NCAA I-A passing efficiency record of 183.3.

Statistics do not begin to describe the game-by-game impact that King's 38 TD passes and 11 rushing touchdowns had on Tulane's unbeaten run to the Conference USA championship, a decisive win over Brigham Young in the Liberty Bowl and a season-ending No. 7 national ranking.

The 1998 season began with road wins over Cincinnati and SMU as the Green Wave jumped out to big leads and never looked back. The home opener against Navy followed the same script, as King tossed a pair of TDs each to P.J. Franklin and JaJuan Dawson.

Next, Tulane prepared for a battle with C-USA power Southern Miss. To heighten the drama, King had broken his left wrist during the Navy game and was forced to play the remainder of the season in a soft cast. The Green Wave needed its defense to play its best game to have a chance against the defending C-USA champs, and it got just that as six USM turnovers fed a 21-7 Tulane win.

Two weeks later, Louisville gave the Green Wave its closest call of the season. With Tulane leading 28-22, the Cardinals drove to the TU three. On the last play of the game, sophomore defensive back Tim Carter broke up a pass in the end zone to seal the win.

The Green Wave exploded for 165 points the next three weeks to bury Rutgers, UL-Lafayette and Memphis and lift the season mark to 8-0.

The Tulane-Army game at West Point was probably the most exciting of the season. With King running for three TDs and passing for three more, Tulane and Army lit up the scoreboard. A 21-21 halftime deadlock turned into a 28-28 tie late in the third quarter. Then, Toney Converse ran for a TD and King cashed in an Army turnover with a TD pass to Dawson to put the Green Wave ahead 42-28. Army, however, responded and it was up to the Tulane offense to preserve a 42-35 lead. King capped a long drive with a 20-yard TD scramble to clinch win number nine. King became the first Tulane player to run for 100 yards and throw for 300 yards in the same game.

Houston and Louisiana Tech did their best to derail Tulane's drive to a perfect season, but there was no stopping the Wave, especially at home.

Sporting an 11-0 record, C-USA champion Tulane met the nation's No. 5 defensive team, BYU, in the Liberty Bowl on New Year's Eve. Before a national television audience, King passed and ran the Green Wave to a 34-6 lead after three quarters on the way to a 41-27 win.

Shortly after the regular season ended, Coach Tommy Bowden announced that he had taken the head coaching job at Clemson, and the Liberty Bowl win was coached by new head coach Chris Scelfo and Bowden's assistants.

Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

A devastating rash of injuries combined with an inexperienced team spelled a tough season for Tulane in 1999. After an opening loss to Southern Miss, Coach Chris Scelfo rallied his young troops to impressive wins over SMU and Army and things were looking up. However, numerous injuries forced young players into critical roles.

The task of replacing Shaun King at quarterback fell on the shoulders of sophomore Patrick Ramsey. In the Green Wave's three wins, Ramsey completed 103-of-150 pass attempts for 12 touchdowns, and in narrow losses to Ole Miss, Houston and UAB, he completed 88-of-159 attempts for another eight scores.

Offensively, the Green Wave had a record-setting season behind the passing of Ramsey and the receiving duo of Adrian Burnette and JaJuan Dawson, who smashed several single-game, season and career receiving records. Freshman defensive back Quentin Brown had 50 tackles and broke up a half-dozen passes in only eight games.

The kicking game was a strong point, as Casey Roussel averaged 44.2 yards per punt and Seth Marler kicked nine consecutive field goals. The season finale against UAB, which the Green Wave lost 20-17, was the first overtime game in Tulane history.

2000 (6-5, 3-4 C-USA)
Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

With victories in its last three games, Tulane ended its 2000 campaign by posting the program's third winning season in the last four years.

Following a 49-20 loss to Ole Miss that turned on a controversial interception, the Green Wave dropped a 37-17 decision at C-USA foe East Carolina while playing without quarterback Patrick Ramsey. In a critical contest vs. SMU, Tulane posted a 29-17 victory behind the passing of Ramsey (34-50, 347 yards), the running of freshman Mewelde Moore (104 yards) and the kicking of Seth Marler (three FGs).

The next week, Tulane held off Cincinnati to even its record at 2-2 as Moore passed the 100-yard mark for the third straight game. The Green Wave went to UL-Lafayette and prevailed by a single point as Roxie Shelvin blocked the potential game-tying PAT with under four minutes remaining.

A pair of losses dropped the Wave's record below .500 just in time for a visit to C-USA leader Louisville. Tulane battled the Cardinals to the final play before succumbing 35-32.

Tulane returned home for its final three contests. First, the Wave demolished Houston 41-23 as Ramsey hit four different receivers with touchdown passes and senior Adrian Burnette tallied 112 receiving yards. In the next game, Ramsey tied the school record with five touchdown passes and threw for 380 yards as Tulane topped Navy 50-38.

With a winning season riding on the season finale with Memphis, Tulane put together its best all-around performance of the year, dominating offensively and defensively to finish 6-5.

Ramsey finished the season with four straight 300-yard passing games. Offensive tackle Bernard Robertson and punter Casey Roussel picked up third team All-America honors and Moore's 890 rushing yards were the most by a Tulane back since 1970 and the highest total ever for a freshman. He was named Conference USA Freshman of the Year.

2001 (3-9, 1-6 C-USA)
Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

Running back Mewelde Moore, quarterback Patrick Ramsey and kicker Seth Marler rewrote large sections of the Green Wave football record book as Tulane fielded one of its most explosive offensive units in 2001. The fireworks on the Tulane side of the scoreboard could not produce a winning season as Chris Scelfo's third Tulane team finished 3-9.

Moore, Tulane's first 1,000-yard rusher in over 50 years, broke Eddie Price's single-season record by rushing for 1,421 yards. He also became the first player in the history of NCAA Division I-A to rush for more than 1,250 yards and catch more than 60 passes in a season. Against Cincinnati, he set the Tulane and Conference USA single game records for rushing yards with 249, and against Navy, he became the first Tulane player to tally 100 rushing (131) and receiving (130) yards in the same game.

Ramsey set career marks for TD passes, completions, attempts and passing yards. After the season, he was named a National Scholar Athlete by the National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame.

Marler received the Lou Groza Award as the nation's outstanding kicker as he connected on 15 of 16 field goal attempts and was named to several All-America teams, including Tulane's first first-teamer since 1987.

Defensively, the Green Wave was led by safety Adrian Mitchell's 138 tackles and Lynaris Elpheage's three interceptions.

2002 (8-5, 4-4 C-USA)
Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

An aggressive and opportunistic defense, superior special teams play and a young offense that came together behind new quarterback J.P. Losman and star running back Mewelde Moore, propelled Tulane to just its second eight-plus win season since 1979.

The season culminated with a pair of upset victories as the Green Wave dominated Southern Miss, 31-10, in the regular season finale, earning a trip to the Hawai'i Bowl to meet Hawai'i on ESPN.

The heavily favored Warriors jumped out to a 14-0 lead and enjoyed a 14-6 halftime advantage before MVP Lynaris Elpheage returned two third-quarter punts – the first for a 60-yard touchdown and the second for 56 yards to set up another score – that turned the game around. Tulane took a 20-14 lead that it would not relinquish. The Wave defense collected eight sacks and forced three turnovers while Losman scored a pair of rushing touchdowns and Moore ran for 116 yards in a 38-26 win.

To get to Hawai'i, the Green Wave overcame a brutal opening stretch that included three straight Conference USA road games. TU went 2-3 over the first month of the season with victories over Southern and Houston before falling to East Carolina and Memphis on the road, and to No. 3 Texas in the Superdome.

Tulane rebounded in October, ripping off four straight victories beginning with a 52-9 win at Louisiana-Monroe as the Green Wave defense did not allow a touchdown for the first time since 1997. A pair of victories over C-USA foes Cincinnati and UAB followed before Navy came to New Orleans for the homecoming game at Tad Gormley Stadium in City Park. In Tulane's first outdoor home game since 1974, Losman tied the school record with five TD passes and Moore broke the Green Wave career rushing record before a sellout crowd of 28,123.

Moore finished his junior season as just the second player in school history to post back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons. The Green Wave defense led the nation in turnovers gained while surrendering just 21.7 points per game.

Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

Behind quarterback J.P. Losman and running back Mewelde Moore, Chris Scelfo's fifth team sprinted out to a 3-1 record before injuries decimated the Green Wave defense. A five-game losing streak in the middle of the season derailed Tulane's chances at a winning season, although the Wave came back to win two of its last three games.

Tulane opened the season versus defending league champ TCU on ESPN. After falling behind 31-7, the Green Wave staged a thrilling comeback that fell just short in a 38-35 loss.

The Wave then won its next three contests. First, Losman hit Moore with a 23-yard TD to give Tulane an overtime victory over Northwestern State in the first night game at Tad Gormley Stadium. A week later versus Mississippi State, Barrett Pepper kicked a 32-yard field goal with six seconds left to cap a 17-point fourth-quarter comeback to give Tulane its first win over an SEC team in 25 games. Finally, Tulane defeated Army at West Point, 50-33, as Losman posted his fourth-straight 300-yard passing game.

Moore broke the Conference USA rushing record in the Texas game a week later, but the No. 14 Longhorns dominated the Green Wave, 63-18. Tulane then suffered a 45-42 defeat to Houston in the Homecoming game at Tad Gormley.

The losing streak continued at Louisville, where the Wave fell 47-28 in an ESPN contest, and at home versus Memphis. Each week new players were moved to the defensive line, where the Wave lost nearly two full sets of players to injury. A game at Navy brought Tulane's fifth consecutive loss, and the loss of Moore for the season with a broken hand.

Tulane broke the streak with a 38-24 win at UAB. The defense came up with four turnovers, Losman threw three touchdown passes, while Jovon Jackson gained 183 yards and scored two touchdowns, including one on an 85-yard run to seal the win.

The next week, Tulane gave up 17 first-quarter points to Southern Miss before fighting back. A Losman-Bush hook-up made the score 20-14, but USM put the game away on a 34-yard touchdown pass on a fake field goal attempt. Tulane ended the season on a bright note with a 28-18 win over East Carolina.

In the end, Moore left Tulane with 25 school and league rushing and all-purpose records while receiver Roydell Williams posted a 1,000-yard receiving season. Four defenders finished with more than 100 tackles, led by safety Tra Boger, as the Wave started 11 different lineups on defense during the year.

2004 (5-6, 3-5 C-USA)
Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

A three-game November winning streak and four victories in its last six contests lifted Tulane to its second straight five-win season in 2004. Along the way, the Green Wave upset a pair of bowl-bound teams and went on the road to defeat the defending Conference USA champions.

With a new starting quarterback in Lester Ricard, a defensive line made up of underclassmen, and faced with the task of replacing all-time rushing and all-purpose yardage leader Mewelde Moore, the Green Wave started slowly. In September, a home win over Florida A&M, highlighted by a three-touchdown, 134-yard rushing day by Jovon Jackson, was sandwiched between losses to Mississippi State and Southern Miss.

After falling at East Carolina on a last-second field goal, Tulane dropped a 49-24 decision at Memphis to fall to 1-4 on the season. However, on Homecoming at Tad Gormley Stadium, the Green Wave offense put on a show and the defense came up with critical stops as Tulane outscored UAB, 59-55. Ricard completed 36-of-49 passes for 417 yards and a school-record six touchdowns, three of which went to Roydell Williams, who caught 11 passes for 138 yards on the day. Chris Bush caught a pair of touchdown passes, including the game-winner with 27 seconds left.

Tulane lost at Houston, but returned home for its most impressive performance of the season, a 42-10 domination of bowl-bound Navy. Ricard was uncanny, completing 18-of-19 passes for 323 yards and four scores.

A week later versus Army, the Green Wave got 216 rushing yards and three TDs from freshman Matt Forté, and held on for a 45-31 win despite losing Ricard to a broken wrist.

With Ricard sidelined, freshman Richard Irvin provided the heroics the next week as Tulane upset defending C-USA champ TCU in Fort Worth, 35-31. Irvin completed 22-of-37 passes for 282 yards and five TDs, while Bush caught six passes for 136 yards and two scores, including a 12-yarder with 43 seconds left that gave Tulane the win. Williams broke the school and league records for career touchdown catches in the game.

Although the Wave was unable to slow No. 7 Louisville a week later in a game rescheduled from earlier in the season due to Hurricane Ivan, the 2004 season provided a promising glimpse of things to come.

Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

Spirits were high when the 2005 team met in August to begin preseason practice. After all, the squad returned 44 letterwinners and 17 starters from the team of a year ago.

But before the Green Wave took a single snap against outside competition, life chenged for the team, the University and the Greater New Orleans Area as Hurricane Katrina forced the cancellation of the fall semester.

After an evacuation to Jackson, Miss., a pitstop in Dallas and a relocation to Ruston, La., the Green Wave lived the life of nomads as Tulane played 11 games in 11 weeks in 11 different stadiums while going 2-9.

The Green Wave played hard in the opener against Mississippi State, but with the score knotted at 14-all, a fourth-quarter fumble led to a Bulldog score with 7:44 left to play.

The squad bounced back well the following week at SMU, as Lester Ricard completed 22 of 34 passes for 213 yards and two touchdowns as the Green Wave dumped SMU in the C-USA opener for both teams. A week later, Tulane defeated Southeastern Louisiana, but that would be the final victory of the year for the boys in olive and blue.

The Green Wave never gave in to its opponents or its circumstances, but in the end, injuries to key personnel and the effects of being dislocated by the storm finally caught up with the team.

Ricard led the team with 1,932 yards through the air, Matt Forté paced the club with 655 yards rushing, and Preston Brown enjoyed a breakthrough season at wideout where he snared 47 passes for 720 yards and six touchdowns.

On defense, Anthony Cannon posted his fourth straight 100-yard tackle season (114), while Tra Boger led the way with three interceptions.

2006 (4-8, 2-6 C-USA)
Head Coach: Chris Scelfo

Chris Scelfo's final year at Tulane was an up-and-down season. After spending the entire 2005 campaign away from its uptown campus because of damage from Hurricane Katrina, the Green Wave returned home for the 2006 season. However, Tulane was once again forced to play 12 games during a 12-week stretch.

The Wave opened the season with a dismal showing at Houston, but rebounded with a convincing, 32-29, victory at Mississippi State the following week. Tulane and LSU renewed their rivalry, and in the first game between the two schools in five years, the Tigers topped the Wave, 49-7.

Tulane played its first home game in the Superdome since 2004 when it hosted SMU in the opener. The Greenies battled back and took a late lead, but the Mustangs returned the ensuing kick-off for a touchdown to seize control of the game and Tulane dropped to 1-3.

The following weeks, Tulane cruised past eventual New Orleans Bowl participant Rice, 38-24, but fell at UTEP. Tulane's offense moved the ball at will at No. 8 Auburn, but, suffered three turnovers inside the red zone and could not recover in a 38-13 loss.

Tulane returned home and dispatched Army, 42-28, on homecoming behind quarterback Lester Ricard, who passed for 409 yards and three scores.

The Wave gave Marshall a tough fight on the road and the game was tied, 21-21, heading into the fourth quarter. However, Tulane lost the services of leading rusher Matt Forté for the season when he suffered a season-ending injury while making a tackle following a TU interception. Without Forte in the lineup, Marshall scored 21 unanswered points and prevailed, 42-21.

Tulane managed a 1-2 record to finish the season, including a victory over UCF. Scelfo became the school's career leader for most games coached, but he was relieved of his coaching duties shortly after the final game at Tulsa.

2007 (4-8, 3-5 C-USA)
Head Coach: Bob Toledo

A new era in Tulane football began in 2007 with first-year head coach Bob Toledo taking over the reins of the Green Wave program. Toledo brought with him a proven West Coast offense and a resume full of success, but the season belonged to one player— Matt Forté. Forté mesmerized defenses with his running ability and gave the Tulane faithful a once-in-a-lifetime experience throughout the season.

Forté galloped for a Tulane single-season records with 2,127 yards and 23 touchdowns on 361 carries while ranking second on the team with 32 receptions for another 282 yards through the air. His rushing total and 177.2 rushing yards per game average ranked second in the NCAA in 2007, and he also ranked second nationally in scoring with 11.7 points per game. Forté's 2,127 rushing yards marked the seventh-best single-season rushing total in NCAA history and he became the 11th all-time player in to surpass 2,000 rushing yards in one season. He registered eight games with 100-plus yards, including three 200-plus yard games and two 300-plus yards contests.

Despite Forté's heroic efforts, Tulane opened the season with a 1-5 record before Forte ran for a school and Conference USA single game record 342 yards and scored four touchdowns, including the game winner in overtime, to down SMU in Dallas, 41-34.

Tulane won two of its final three games of the year, including convincing wins over UTEP and Rice in back-to-back games, but dropped heartbreakers to Army (in overtime), UAB and Memphis by a combined nine points.

2008 (2-10, 1-7 C-USA)
Head Coach: Bob Toledo

A season with a promising 2-2 start ended in disappointment as injuries decimated the Green Wave in 2008 and the team finished with a mark of 2-10. Tulane stayed toe-to-toe with 13th-ranked Alabama before falling late and dropped a heartbreaking contest to No. 14 East Carolina in the final minutes to begin the season 0-2.

Tulane rebounded with consecutive wins over in-state school UL-Monroe and Conference USA rival SMU to improve to 2-2. However, devastating injuries began to mount beginning with the fifth game of the year with a loss to Army, and TU did not crack the win column again. By the time the clock hit 0:00 in the season finale at Memphis, Tulane had lost 17 players to season-ending injuries and many other players were sidelined with nagging injuries as well.

Among the casualties was leading rusher, André Anderson, who was named a Doak Walker Award candidate, and top receiver Jeremy Williams. The team's much-needed depth was gradually depleted over the course of the season and by the end of the year Tulane was relying on back-ups and true freshmen to fill in the holes alongside the remaining starters.

Despite the adverse season, Tulane placed a combined three players on the All-Conference USA First and Second Teams and offensive lineman Troy Kropog, who played in the Under Armour Senior Bowl and was drafted in the fourth round by the Tennessee Titans, while center Michael Parenton signed a free agent contract with the New York Jets.

2009 (3-9, 1-7 C-USA)
Head Coach: Bob Toledo

Despite an overall record of 3-9, the 2009 Green Wave football team will go down as the first squad to feature a 1,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receiver in the same season and the year was highlighted with the most prolific freshman quarterback in school history.

The Tulane senior duo of running back André Anderson and receiver Jeremy Williams etched their names in the TU annals after Anderson, a Doak Walker candidate, ran for 1,016 yards, becoming the fourth back in school history to eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing plateau in a single season, and Williams, a Fred Biletnikoff candidate, caught 84 passes for 1,113 yards, the fourth best effort in school history. Together, Anderson and Williams accounted for 17 touchdowns and 3,009 all-purpose yards.

Tulane changed quarterbacks at the midway point of the season and redshirt-freshman quarterback Ryan Griffin took over for Joe Kemp and finished 141-of-222 for 1,382 yards and nine touchdowns. Griffin's completions, attempts, passing yardage and touchdown totals were the most by a Tulane freshman quarterback in school history.

The Green Wave struggled to a 0-2 start with losses at home to Conference USA rival Tulsa and to No. 9 BYU, but the team rebounded with a victory over McNeese State and the following week at Army with a field goal in the final minutes for a thrilling come-from-behind victory.

Tulane returned home with a chance to get past the .500 mark, but a 31-10 loss to Marshall on homecoming was the start of a four-game skid. Tulane recorded its last win of the season in the home finale with a 45-38 decision over UTEP.

The Green Wave played its final three games of the season on the road and failed to crack the win column again.

2010 (4-8, 2-6 C-USA)
Head Coach: Bob Toledo

The 2010 season started on a promising note at 2-2, including a 17-14 win at Rutgers in early October. Losses in the next two games made it an uphill climb, but a 34-24 win at UTEP kept spirits up with three wins over the first seven games. Tulane held leads into the third quarter against both SMU and Southern Miss only to fall short on both occasions, and a 54-49 win over Rice kept bowl possibilities alive. A loss to UCF, however, ended those dreams and the Wave wrapped up the season with back-to-back losses.

The year, however, was not without its highlights as Orleans Darkwa set a Tulane freshman record with 925 rushing yards and 11 touchdowns while linebacker Trent Mackey hit the 100-tackle plateau with 124 stops.

2011 (2-11, 1-7 C-USA)
Head Coach: Bob Toledo/Mark Hutson

The Green Wave opened the season with its best start since 2005 with a home win and a road C-USA victory, but things declined after week three and Tulane was unable to crack the win column again.

Bob Toledo's fifth season as head coach was cut short after the seventh game and Mark Hutson assumed coaching duties for the final six games.

The season was highlighted by the individual performances of quarterback Ryan Griffin, running back Orleans Darkwa, linebacker Trent Mackey and defensive end Dezman Moses. Griffin led the squad in total offense with 2,492 yards, including 2,502 passing yards and 13 touchdowns. He threw for over 300 yards against both Syracuse and Memphis. Darkwa scampered for 924 rushing yards, scored 13 touchdowns on the ground and led the team with 37 catches for 305 yards. Mackey was named first team All-Conference USA after posting 145 stops, including 14.0 tackles for a loss. Moses collected 9.5 sacks and 12.0 tackles for loss in his senior season.

2012 (2-10, 2-6 C-USA)
Head Coach: Curtis Johnson

Curtis Johnson's era as Tulane's head coach began with Hurricane Isaac making landfall the week before the season, forcing the team to relocate to Birmingham, Ala., to prepare for Rutgers. Adversity struck the very next week in Tulsa when senior Devon Walker suffered a devastating spinal injury on the final play of the first half. The team and the country rallied behind Walker as the season progressed.

Tulane earned the first victory of the season at home against SMU, 27-26, and returned two weeks later to upend UAB, 55-45, in the Dome for the second win of the year.

Senior quarterback Ryan Griffin and kicker Cairo Santos provided the highlights for the season. Santos was named consensus first team All-America and received the Lou Groza Award as the nation's top place kicker. The junior hit all 21 field goal attempts during the year, including hitting a school record 57-yarder against Rice.

Griffin, despite missing three and a half games, posted career highs across the board after completing 245-of-394 yards for 2,771 yards and 20 touchdowns. For his career, Griffin holds top honors in pass attempts (1,396) and completions (836) while sitting second all-time in passing yards (9,026), completion percentage (.599) and 300-yard games (10), fourth in touchdown passes, and sixth in passing efficiency (122.4).

2013 (7-6, 5-3 C-USA)
Head Coach: Curtis Johnson

Tulane, in the final season as a member of C-USA, enjoyed a turnaround under Curtis Johnson that culminated in a 7-6 overall record, a 5-3 C-USA record and the school's first bowl appearance in 11 years with a berth in the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl.

The Green Wave opened its 38th and final season in the Superdome (Tulane did not play in the Superdome in 2005 due to damage from Hurricane Katrina) against Jackson State on Aug. 29 and played its 220th and final game in one of the world's most iconic sports venues against UL-Lafayette in front of a New Orleans Bowl record crowd of 54,728 on Dec. 21, 2013.

Tulane began the season with a 2-2 record but came alive in late September with a win at ULM that sparked a four-game win streak. Along the way, Tulane got past North Texas, 24-12, on homecoming thanks to a field goal by Cairo Santos as time expired. The next week, quarterback Devin Powell threw two touchdowns in overtime and Santos kicked a school record five field goals, including the game winner, in a 36-33 win over East Carolina in a three-overtime affair. Powell continued to spark the Green Wave as he led Tulane to a 14-7 win at home over Tulsa for the sixth win of the year. Tulane suffered losses in four of its final five games but did top UTEP, 45-3, in its final C-USA game.

Tulane's defense ranked second in the nation in turnovers (35: 19 int/16 fumbles recovered) and 22nd in overall defense.

Sophomore Lorenzo Doss was named a second-team All-American by several publications, three players received national player of the week honors and six Green Wave earned C-USA Player of the Week honors on eight occasions. Off the field, Tulane was one of four schools to receive the prestigious AFCA Academic Achievement Award and junior safety Sam Scofield was named to the Capital One Academic All-America Second Team and was also named to the C-USA All-Academic Football Team.

2014 (3-9, 2-6 American)
Head Coach: Curtis Johnson

The Tulane football program began a renaissance period in 2014. The Green Wave played its inaugural season in the American Athletic Conference and, for the first time in 40 years, football returned to the Tulane campus with the opening of Yulman Stadium.

The Green Wave hosted Georgia Tech in its first-ever game at Yulman Stadium in front of a capacity crowd of 30,000. Although the Wave came up short, Tulane christened its new home with its first win the following week against Southeastern Louisiana.

Tulane notched its first conference win as a member of The American with a 12-3 victory over UConn.

The Wave posted its last win of the year on the road at Houston, snapping a 10-game skid against the Cougars.

The Tulane offense was composed of many first-year starters, while the Green Wave defense was a seasoned group of veterans.

Redshirt-freshman running back Sherman Badie became the first player in school history to reel off three runs of 65+ yards from scrimmage, including a 90- and 73-yard carries at Tulsa and an 86-yard gallop at Rutgers. Redshirt-freshman quarterback Tanner Lee set six of Tulane's freshman records, while freshman tight end Charles Jones hauled in three touchdowns. Both Badie and Jones earned honorable mention Freshman All-America honors.

On defense, redshirt-freshman cornerback Parry Nickerson led the team and the nation's freshmen group with six interceptions, and was named a First-Team Freshman All-American.

Junior Lorenzo Doss declared for the NFL Draft a year early and was drafted by Denver Broncos, while teammate Taurean Nixon was also drafted by the Broncos.

2015 (3-9, 1-7 American)
Head Coach: Curtis Johnson

The Curtis Johnson era came to a close with a 3-9 overall record and 1-7 finish in the American. Tulane faced a fierce schedule full of nationally-ranked teams and did not fare well. The Green Wave played six opponents that were either undefeated, ranked or receiving votes at the time of the game and went 0-6.

Tulane opened the season with a pair of losses to ACC squads Duke and Georgia Tech, but rebounded with a wins at home over Maine and UCF to pull to 2-2.

But four straight games against teams either nationally-ranked or receiving votes saw the Green Wave drop all four contests and fell to 2-6 on the year.

Tulane then came up short to UConn in a homecoming game played in monsoon-like conditions, 7-3. The Green Wave notched its third and final win of the season at Army when sophomore kicker Andrew DiRocco drilled the game-winning field goal as time expired.

Tulane lost its last two games of the season and Johnson was fired the following day after the final game.

Individually, quarterback Tanner Lee and receiver Teddy Veal hooked up for a 90-yard touchdown, the second-longest passing play in school history, while sophomore running back Dontrell Hilliard ripped off an 85-yard touchdown romp vs. Maine for the ninth-longest run from scrimmage in school history.

Junior linebacker Nico Marley led the team in tackles with 82, while junior defensive tackle Tanzel Smart recorded a team-best 15.0 stops for lost yardage and both players were named to the American Athletic Conference first team.

Charles "Peggy" Flournoy • 1925 • Back

"Peggy" Flournoy, Tulane's first All-American in football, led Coach Clark Shaughnessy's team to a 9-0-1 record in 1925. Flournoy established Tulane records for touchdowns, points in a season and points in a game that stand today. He set two of his long-standing records with four rushing touchdowns and 31 points in a 37-9 victory over Louisiana Tech. Flournoy, one of the first inductees into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame in 1968, also is a member of the Tulane and Greater New Orleans sports halls of fame. He died in 1972.

Willis "Bill" Banker • 1929 • Back

Bill Banker, known as the "Blond Blizzard" because of the thick mane of light hair that was so visible to spectators as he raced helmetless through opposing defenses, was the first in a long line of Tulane greats from Lake Charles, La. He remains the all-time leading scorer in Tulane football history with 263 points and is third in career rushing with 2,516 yards. Banker helped Tulane to an undefeated 9-0 season in 1929 as the Green Wave outscored its opposition, 297-45. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1977 and also is a member of the Tulane, Greater New Orleans and Louisiana sports halls of fame. Banker died in 1985.

Jerry Dalrymple • 1930-31 • End

Considered by many as the finest player in Tulane football history, Jerry Dalrymple earned first-unit All-America status in 1930 and became the only unanimous All-American in school history the next year. He led Tulane to its most successful three-season stretch ever in football, as the Green Wave posted a 28-1 regular-season mark in that span and earned its first bowl berth ever – in the 1932 Rose Bowl. Dalrymple became Tulane's first inductee into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1954. Dalrymple also was a charter member of the Louisiana, Greater New Orleans and Tulane sports halls of fame. He died in 1962.

Don Zimmerman • 1931-32 • Halfback

Don Zimmerman, playing one season behind fellow All-American Jerry Dalrymple, earned first-team honors in 1931 and became one of four consensus All-Americans in Tulane history one season later. He ended his Tulane career as the Green Wave's all-time leader in total offense and pass interceptions, setting records that lasted for 40 years. He also ranks fourth in career rushing yards with 2,369. Zimmerman also was Tulane's first-ever Southeastern Conference track champion, winning the 1933 pole vault title. Zimmerman is a member of the Louisiana, Greater New Orleans and Tulane sports halls of fame. He died in 1974.

Claude "Monk" Simons, Jr. • 1934 • Halfback

The first All-American to return to Tulane as a coach, "Monk" Simons Jr. led Tulane to a 10-1 record and a share of the Southeastern Conference title as a player in 1934, including a 20-14 victory over Temple in the first Sugar Bowl. Simons led Tulane in rushing, passing and scoring, but may have best made his mark as a kick returner. In the season finale against LSU, he returned a punt 45 yards for a touchdown, and in the Sugar Bowl, he had an 85-yard kickoff return for a TD. Simons would return to Tulane as head coach from 1942-45. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1975 and is also a member of the Louisiana, Greater New Orleans and Tulane sports halls of fame. Simons died in 1975.

Harley McCollum • 1939 • Tackle
Harley McCollum began a stretch of All-American linemen at Tulane when he earned the honors in 1939. McCollum was a member of Tulane's Sugar Bowl team that season, and his dominating play at tackle earned him consensus All-America honors, one of only four players in school history to reach that status. McCollum was inducted into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame in 1981 and into the Greater New Orleans Sports Hall of Fame in 1984. McCollum died in 1984.

Ralph Wenzel • 1939 • End
Ralph Wenzel, a right end at Tulane for three years, earned All-America status as a senior in 1939. Wenzel led a Green Wave team that went 8-0-1 in the regular season and met Texas A&M in the Sugar Bowl. Wenzel went on to play one season with the Pittsburgh Steelers. After football, he began a career in the U.S. Marine Corps, from which he retired in 1978 as a lieutenant colonel with 32 years of service. He was inducted into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame in 1988. Wenzel died in 2001.

Tommy O'Boyle • 1940 • Guard
Guard Tommy O'Boyle became an All-American in 1940, but his playing days at Tulane would be just the start of his career on Willow Street. After graduating in December 1940, O'Boyle elected to return to Tulane as an assistant coach for the 1941 season instead of pursuing a pro career (he was drafted by the Chicago Bears). O'Boyle returned to the Tulane staff in 1946 and 1961 and was named head coach prior to the 1962 season, a position he held for four years. He was inducted into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame in 1979 and resides in Kansas City, Mo. O'Boyle died in 2000.

Ernie Blandin • 1941 • Tackle
Another in the line of great Tulane linemen of his era, Ernie Blandin played for Green Wave teams from 1939-41 and earned All-America accolades as a senior. He is the most recent Tulane player to achieve consensus All-America status. Blandin was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles in 1942 and went on to an eight-year pro career after the war, including six seasons with the Baltimore Colts. He is a member of the Tulane and Greater New Orleans sports halls of fame. Blandind died in 1968.

"Dub" Jones • 1944 • Halfback
Halfback Williams "Dub" Jones made his mark on the football field at Tulane after transferring from LSU. Jones earned All-America recognition in 1944 as he rushed for 700 yards and four touchdowns. A first-round selection of the Chicago Cardinals in 1946, Jones went on to a 10-year professional career, spending eight of those seasons with the Cleveland Browns. Jones, a native of Ruston, is a member of the Louisiana, Greater New Orleans and Tulane sports halls of fame.

Paul Lea • 1948 • Tackle
Paul Lea established himself as one of the top tackles in the country in 1948, earning first team All-America honors after using his 6-2, 220-pound body to pave the way for Eddie Price's 1,178 yards rushing. Lea is Tulane's only three-time selection to an all-league first team as he was honored by the SEC in 1948, 1949 and 1950. During his four-year career, the New London, Texas, native and the Green Wave rolled to 24 victories. A seventh-round draft pick of the Chicago Bears, Lea played in both the Senior Bowl and the Blue-Gray All-Star Classic following his Green Wave career. He is a 1990 inductee into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame. Lea died in 2009.

Eddie Price • 1949 • Back
All-American Eddie Price was a man of firsts during his days as a Tulane running back. He became the first Green Wave player to rush for more than 200 yards in a game, the first Tulanian to rush for 1,000 yards in a season and the first player in NCAA history to surpass 3,000 yards for his career. Price finished his career with 3,095 yards, a Tulane record broken in 2003 by Mewelde Moore. His 1,178 yards in 1948 was also the Green Wave standard until Moore broke the mark in 2001. Price went on to play six seasons for the New York Giants. He was inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame in 1982 and is also a member of the Louisiana and Greater New Orleans sports halls of fame. He was a charter inductee into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame in 1977. He died in 1979.

Jerome Helluin • 1950 • Tackle
Jerome Helluin, one of the biggest linemen in college football at the time at 285 pounds, earned All-America honors as a senior in 1951. Helluin played both guard and tackle for the Green Wave. He began his Tulane career blocking for Eddie Price and finished it blocking for future NFL star Max McGee. Helluin was drafted by the Cleveland Browns in 1952, where he began a seven-year pro career as a defensive tackle. Helluin was a 1984 inductee into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame. He resides in Houma.

Tony Sardisco • 1955 • Guard
Tony Sardisco earned All-America honors at Tulane as a guard, but was athletically-talented enough to play both guard and linebacker during his professional career in the NFL and AFL. He was an All-AFL selection with the Boston Patriots in 1961, also as a guard. As a senior, Sardisco helped Tulane post a 5-4-1 record, its best in five seasons. Sardisco is a member of the Tulane, Louisiana and Greater New Orleans sports halls of fame. He died in 2006.

Tommy Mason • 1960 • Back

With one of the greatest seasons in Tulane football history, Tommy Mason earned All-America honors as a senior in 1960. Mason led the Southeastern Conference in rushing with 663 yards and scored 13 touchdowns. He set a school record for all-purpose yards (1,475) that lasted 28 years. Mason was the first player overall selected in the 1961 NFL Draft by the Minnesota Vikings and played professionally for 11 years with the Vikings, Los Angeles Rams and Washington Redskins. He is a member of the Louisiana, Greater New Orleans and Tulane sports halls of fame. Mason died in 2015.

Charles Hall • 1973 • Tackle

Charlie Hall led a fierce Tulane defense in one of the most memorable seasons in Green Wave football history, 1973. The Tulane defense had three shutouts that season, including a 14-0 whitewashing of LSU in the regular-season finale, and held two other teams to six points or less. He had 71 tackles, seven sacks and two interceptions in 1973 despite missing three full games and parts of two others with a knee injury. Hall was a fourth-round draft pick of the New Orleans Saints in 1975 and had a brief career in the World Football League before becoming a coach. He was an assistant at Tulane from 1977-82. Hall was a 1981 inductee into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame.

Marc Zeno • 1987 • Wide Receiver

Marc Zeno concluded a spectacular career in 1987 by earning first-team All-America honors from the Associated Press. As a senior, Zeno surpassed his own Tulane records with 77 receptions for 1,206 yards and, in the process, became the NCAA's career leader in receiving yards with 3,725. The native of Lutcher, La., who finished his career as the owner of every Tulane receiving record, helped a high-powered offense set a school record for points scored in 1987. Zeno was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1988 and played several years at all levels of pro ball. He was inducted into the Tulane Athletics Hall of Fame in 1997.

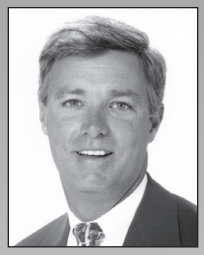

Seth Marler • 2001 • Kicker

Seth Marler became the Green Wave's first first team All-American in 14 years following an amazing year as the Tulane kicker, in which he made 15-of-16 field goals and 54 straight kicks (PAT and FG). The Lilburn, Ga., native hit all seven of his field goal tries from 40 yards and longer while setting the school record for field-goal percentage in his junior season. In addition to FWAA All-America recognition, Marler captured the 2001 Lou Groza Award as the top collegiate placekicker in the nation. He closed his career as the Tulane and Conference USA all-time leader in field goals. He is also the Wave's all-time scoring leader and was inducted into the Tulane Hall of Fame in 2009.

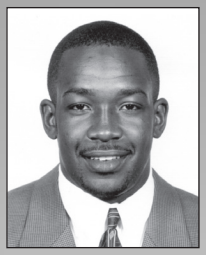

Cairo Santos • 2012 • Kicker

Cairo Santos secured a permanent spot in the school's history books as one of the Green Wave's most decorated players, as the junior became just the fifth Tulane football player receive consensus All-America honors. Santos was a first team All-American selection by both the FWAA and the AP, along with Sports Illustrated and Phil Steele. The 2012 Lou Groza Award winner completed one of the best seasons by a kicker in NCAA history by finishing a perfect 21-of-21 on field goal attempts. He also connected 27-of-28 PAT attempts and led the nation with 12, 40+ yard field goals, including a pair of 50-yarders, and set the school record with a 57-yarder vs. Rice, which tied for the fourth longest in the nation in 2012.

2005 Team Honored Nationally

The 2005 Tulane team received a pair of national honors for their perseverance through adversity following the wake of Hurricane Katrina making landfall near New Orleans in late August. In a pair of events held in Orlando, Fla., the Green Wave received the 2005 Disney's Wide World of Sports Spirit Award at the ESPN/ Home Depot College Football Awards Show (pictured from left to right: Brandon Spincer, Pro Football Hall of Famer Kellen Winslow, head coach Chris Scelfo, Matt Traina) and the Football Writers of America Association's Annual Courage Award at the Cingular ABC Sports All-America Team Celebration.

1932 Rose Bowl

SOUTHERN CAL 21
TULANE 12

Jan. 1, 1932 • 75,562
Rose Bowl • Pasadena, Calif.

Coach Bernie Bierman's fabulous 1931 team took an 11-0 record and an 18-game winning streak to Pasadena for the battle between the nation's two top-ranked teams.

USC scored first, as Ray Sparling went in on a six-yard reverse. Johnny Baker converted, and the Trojans led 7-0 at halftime.

Ernie Pinckert broke the Green Wave's heart in the third quarter when he raced 28 yards to paydirt on the reverse and less than a minute later, after a Tulane fumble, Pinckert again went 28 yards on the reverse to make it 21-0, Southern Cal.

Tulane came right back with a 75-yard drive capped by a pass from Don Zimmerman to Vernon Haynes to make it 21-6. The Wave missed two more scoring opportunities until Jerry Dalrymple recovered a fumble on the USC 35. Five plays later, bare-headed Wop Glover, who gained 139 yards that day, plunged three yards for the TD. The count stood at 21-12 with the Trojans hanging on for dear life, but time ran out on Tulane.

1935 Sugar Bowl

TULANE 20
TEMPLE 14

Jan. 1, 1935 • 22,026
Tulane Stadium • New Orleans, La.

The first Sugar Bowl game in history matched Coach Ted Cox's SEC co-champions with Pop Warner's Temple team. Warner's club came out roaring with two first-half touchdowns to throw a scare into the hometown folks. In the first quarter, fullback Dave Smukler passed to Daniel Testa, and in the second stanza, Smuckler ran it in himself as the Owls went on top, 14-0.

But after the second Temple TD, lightning struck. The ensuing kickoff floated down to Johnny McDaniel at the 10. McDaniel, moving laterally, crossed paths with Monk Simons at the 15, and "Little Monk" took off 85 yards down the sidelines to ignite Tulane's comeback. Barney Mintz kicked the point to make it 14-7 at halftime.

Dick Hardy made a great catch of Bucky Bryan's TD pass in the third quarter to tie the score, and in the final quarter, Hardy gathered in a deflected pass from Mintz and went 25 yards to sew it up. Tulane had won the inaugural Sugar Bowl Classic to send 22,026 fans home happy.

1940 Sugar Bowl

TEXAS A&M 14
TULANE 13

Jan. 1, 1940 • 73,000
Tulane Stadium • New Orleans

Coach Red Dawson's 1939 team came within a point of upending Texas A&M's national champions.

A&M drove to the Tulane one-yard line early in the game, but the Wave held. After Tulane punted out, the Aggies drove again, and this time John Kimbrough plunged one yard for the score.

Tulane bounced back in the third quarter when Bobby Kellogg grabbed a quick kick and raced 75 yards to tie it, 7-7. In the fourth period, Tulane's Pete Mandich recovered an Aggie fumble on the A&M 32. Monette Butler, Fred Cassibry, and Harry Hays worked it into the two. Butler went in from there and Tulane was on top 13-7, but Herbie Smith blocked the extra point.

Late in the game, A&M drove 69 yards to cut short Tulane's hopes for an upset. Walemon Price passed to Smith, who lateraled to Kimbrough. The big fullback went in for an 18-yard scoring play. Price then kicked the decisive extra point.

1970 Liberty Bowl

COLORADO 3

Dec. 12, 1970 • 44,640
Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium • Memphis, Tenn.

A two-touchdown underdog to mighty Colorado, Tulane celebrated its first bowl trip in 31 years by pulling off the biggest upset of the 1970 bowl season.

Coach Jim Pittman's fired-up Green Wave drew first blood when linebacker Rick Kingrea's 44-yard interception return set up a 19-yard field goal by Lee Gibson. Colorado countered with a 32-yard field goal in the second period to tie it 3-3 at halftime.

David Abercrombie raced the second half kickoff back 66 yards to the Colorado 30 as some 8,000 Tulane fans who made the trip went wild. Runs of 16 and 13 yards by fullback Bob Marshall brought the football to the one, and Abercrombie took it over on a short plunge.

Quarterback Mike Walker guided a 57-yard drive on Tulane's first possession of the fourth quarter, and a tough defense made that 17-3 advantage stand up. The Colorado offense that averaged 422.9 yards and 30.6 points in the regular season was held to 175 yards and three points.

1973 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl

HOUSTON 47
TULANE 7

Dec. 29, 1973 • 44,358
Houston Astrodome • Houston, Texas

On the heels of a 9-2 season, Tulane headed for Houston to lock horns with a highly-touted 10-1 Cougar team.

When the Green Wave failed to score after recovering a fumble on the opening kickoff at the Houston 25, the Cougar veer offense went to work. A 75-yard run by Marshall Johnson and short plunges by Leonard Parker gave Houston a 21-0 lead late in the first half. Martin Mitchell then raced back 66 yards with a kickoff for Tulane, and Buddy Gilbert hit Tom Forner with a 32-yard pass to put the Wave back in the game, 21-7.

But Houston erupted in the second half, as Donnie McGraw ran for two TDs, quarterback D.C. Nobles ran for one, and David Husmann added one more to make the final count 47-7.

1979 Liberty Bowl

PENN STATE 9
TULANE 6

Dec. 22, 1979 • 50,021
Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium • Memphis, Tenn.

A driving rainstorm throughout the contest quickly turned the game into a defensive struggle.

Penn State took the lead 3-0 in the second quarter on a 33-yard field goal by Herb Menhardt. Menhardt added a 27-yard field goal late in the second quarter to push the margin to 6-0 at halftime.

That score held throughout the third quarter, but late in the period Tulane quarterback Roch Hontas began to find the passing touch he had displayed all season. He drove the Wave to the PSU eight-yard line where Ed Murray kicked a 26-yard field goal.

With time running down Hontas cranked another drive from the TU 27 to the Lion 8, from where Murray tied the score with another 26-yard field goal with 2:40 remaining.

The Nittany Lions faced a third-and-two from midfield with less than a minute to play, but converted with a halfback pass to the Tulane 11, and Menhardt kicked a 20-yard field goal for the victory.

1980 Hall Of Fame Bowl

ARKANSAS 34
TULANE 15

Dec. 27, 1980 • 30,000
Legion Field • Birmingham, Ala.

Tulane carried a 7-4 record into the Hall of Fame Bowl against an Arkansas team that had been decimated by injuries during the year. However, the walking wounded returned by game time and the Razorbacks were as good as everyone thought they would be before the season.

Arkansas jumped to a 28-0 halftime lead. The Wave defense stood tall in the second half and held the Razorbacks to two field goals, and the offense finally got untracked in the final period.

The first score by the Wave came on a 62-yard pass from Nickie Hall to Marcus Anderson. It marked the first time in school history that the football team went to bowl games in consecutive years.

1987 Independence Bowl

WASHINGTON 24
TULANE 12

Dec. 19, 1987 • 41,683
Independence Stadium • Shreveport, La.

Tulane carried a 6-5 record into its first bowl appearance in seven years against a 6-4-1 Washington squad.

Washington jumped to an early 7-0 lead, but Mitchell Price raced 44 yards on a punt return to tie the score. After the Huskies scored again, Todd Wiggins connected on a 21-yard field goal to make the score 14-10. Washington went on to lead 21-10 at the half, and the only scoring in the second half came on a Husky field goal and a Tulane safety.

The game saw Terrence Jones throw for 248 yards and rush for 91. All-America receiver Marc Zeno caught seven passes for 116 yards.

1998 Liberty Bowl

TULANE 41
BYU 27

Dec. 31, 1998 • 52,197
Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium • Memphis, Tenn.

Tulane capped its first 12-win season in school history with a surprisingly easy 41-27 win over WAC foe BYU in the 40th Anniversary Liberty Bowl.

In winning its first bowl game since the 1970 Liberty Bowl, the Green Wave built a 34-6 lead after three quarters against a BYU defense that was fifth nationally during the regular season.

QB Shaun King rushed for a game-high 109 yards, mostly on draw plays. King also passed for 276 yards and two touchdowns, including a 60-yard scoring strike to Kerwin Cook early in the second half to stake Tulane to a 27-6 lead.

BYU took an early 6-0 lead when Kevin Feterik found Ben Horton in the corner of the endzone for an 11-yard scoring toss. Tulane cut that lead to 6-3 on Brad Palazzo's 31-yard field goal.

On BYU's next possession, cornerback Michael Jordan stepped in front of a Feterik pass and raced 79 yards untouched down the sideline to give the Green Wave a 10-6 lead it wouldn't relinquish.

2002 Hawai'i Bowl

TULANE 36
HAWAI'I 28

Dec. 25, 2002 • 35,513
Aloha Stadium • Honolulu, Hawai'i

Tulane stunned the homestanding Hawai'i Warriors by scoring 26 straight points in the second and third quarters to win the inaugural Hawai'i Bowl, 36-28.

Trailing 14-6 at the half, the Green Wave put 20 points on the board to take a 26-14 lead.

Return specialist Lynaris Elpheage quickly turned things around for the Wave, taking a punt back 60 yards for Tulane's first touchdown of the day.

After Hawai'i's next drive stalled, the Warriors again punted to Elpheage. This time, he brought the ball back 56 yards to the 17-yard line. From there, J.P. Losman scored on a one-yard run and added the two-pointer, this time on a rush, to give the Wave a 20-14 lead.

The Tulane defense posted eight sacks while holding UH to 66 rushing yards and forcing three turnovers. Losman scored a pair of rushing TDs in addition to his 240 passing yards while Mewelde Moore netted 116 rushing yards.

Elpheage was named the game's MVP after totaling four punt returns for 143 yards and a pair of kickoff returns for 57 yards in addition to six tackles and a pass break-up.

2013 R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl

LOUISIANA-LAFAYETTE 24 TULANE 21

Dec. 21, 2013 • 54,728
Mercedes-Benz Superdome • New Orleans, La.

Tulane senior running back Orleans Darkwa scored three touchdowns and was named game MVP, but the Green Wave came up short in its comeback bid and fell 24-21 to the University of Louisiana-Lafayette before a record crowd of 54,728 in the 2013 R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome.

Darkwa finished the game with 83 yards on 16 carries and became the first player on a losing team to receive the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl MVP award.

Ryan Grant grabbed seven receptions for 113 yards, while Powell was 10-of-21 for 223 yards and one interception. Junior safety Sam Scofield finished with 10 tackles to lead the Wave, while senior defensive tackle Julius Warmsley and sophomore defensive back Jordan Batiste each recorded a pair of quarterback sacks.
