STUDY ABROAD

GREECE STUDY ABROAD

The Green Wave visited three cities (Nafpilo, Athens and Heraklion) on a 14-day trip across Greece with 38 student-athletes in tow. Tulane professor Dr. Marcus Coleman taught the group in their curriculum for the sociology of sport class. Among the sites visited were the Ancient Olympia Archeological Site & Museum, the Acropolis Museum, the Parthenon and Panathenaic Stadium. The Green Wave also attended a Greek Soccer League match between OFI Crete and Volos. The Study Abroad program is generously supported by longtime Tulane Athletics' supporters Jill H. and Avram A. Glazer.

INNOVATION OF THE YEAR

The Tulane Athletics External and Equipment Operations teams received the Innovation of the Year award at PACnet's 20th Star Awards. This recognition highlights Tulane's commitment to innovation both on and off the field. Notably, their successful City Edition uniform campaign sold out 249 jerseys and helmets within a month, generating $261,000 for the Green Wave Talent Fund supporting NIL initiatives.

GREEN WAVE CLUB HIGHLIGHTS

- Raised over $1 million from more than 1,200 individual donors during Give Green, setting a new record for the school and unit in the campaign's nine-year history.
- Secured first place in Group A of the Big Green Grand Prize for the second consecutive year, earning an additional $8,000 for the Green Wave Club.
- The Olive & Blue Society welcomed 44 new members since July 2025 and set records with 82 total gift commitments, averaging approximately $93,000 each, supporting priorities like the Green Wave Talent Fund and facility improvements.
- Set a new record with 3,544 donors in FY2025 and is on track to surpass 4,000 members this year, demonstrating exceptional community support.

STRONG LEARFIELD CUP FINISH

Tulane capped the 2025-26 school year with a strong spring, finishing 97th (204 points) nationally in the final Learfield Directors' Cup standings—its best overall finish in 21 years and the highest among American Conference institutions. The Cup, awarded annually since 1993-94, recognizes overall athletic excellence based on NCAA Championship results across all sports.

FACILITY OPENINGS

FACILITIES PROJECTS FINISHED 2025-2026 ACADEMIC YEAR

Tulane continues to demonstrate its commitment to athletic excellence with the opening of two state-of-the-art facilities this past year. These advancements underscore Tulane's dedication to fostering athletic success and providing student-athletes with world-class resources to excel both on and off the field.

GOLDRING TENNIS CENTER

The new Goldring Tennis Center provides a cutting-edge environment for the men's and women's tennis teams, featuring modern courts and enhanced training spaces to support athlete development. The facility also boasts pickleball courts for the public to enjoy.

GREEN WAVE INDOOR PRACTICE FACILITY

The new Green Wave Indoor Practice Facility offers student-athletes a premier space to train year-round, regardless of weather conditions. This new facility greatly enhances the training of all 17 Tulane sports.
