CREDENTIALS

Requests for working press credentials for Tulsa's home football games must be filled out on the online form. if you have questions email Travis Rae (TRR1036@utulsa.edu) with the Tulsa Communications Office.

Credential requests must be made 6 days prior to game day.

Members of the electronic media and those daily and Sunday papers covering Tulsa and its opponents on a regular basis will receive first priority for credentials.

Credentials will not be mailed. Credentials can be picked up at the TU Athletic Communications Office during the week of the game or on gameday three hours prior to kickoff at the press will call window at the corner of Gary and Florence Avenues.

All credentials are non-transferable and are limited to members of the working media only. Your cooperation in this matter will help ensure the best possible working conditions in the H.A. Chapman Stadium Press Box and on the sidelines.

PARKING

Media parking will be located in two locations: the Mabee Gym West Parking Lot (the corner of 8th Street and Florence Ave; enter on 8th Street from the west at Delaware Ave.) and the Blue Lot (the corner of 8th Street and Harvard Ave; enter 8th Street from the east at Harvard Ave.). The proper parking credential will be needed for entrance to these lots. These parking credentials are issued by the Athletic Communications Office. A limited number of parking spaces are available, therefore, members of the electronic media and those daily and Sunday papers covering Tulsa and its opponents on a regular basis will receive first priority.

TELEVISION TRUCK PARKING

Parking for larger TV vehicles is located on Florence Avenue at the corner of 8th Street and Florence Ave. The proper media parking credential for the Mabee West Parking Lot will be required. You can access this parking lot from the west only, off of Delaware Ave. and coming down 8th Street.

PRESS BOX

The press box is located on the west side of H.A. Chapman Stadium. The Working Press Level is located the fourth floor of the Press Box. In addition to print media, Radio and TV Broadcast Booths are also located on the fourth floor. There is a TV Photo Deck located on the fifth floor. This level accommodates team video and and television film crews.

INTERNET

IN MEMORIUM

STEVE KRAGTHORPE

Head Football Coach, 2003-06

Coach Kragthorpe, who engineered a remarkable football turnaround at The University of Tulsa, passed away August 4, 2024 at the age of 59 following a lengthy battle with Parkinson's Disease.

He took over a squad that had gone 2-21 the previous two seasons to a team that in his first year went 8-5, finished second in the Western Athletic Conference and made the school's first bowl appearance in 13 seasons.

A 2024 TU Athletic Hall of Fame Inductee, Kragthorpe completed his four-year career at Tulsa with a 29-22 record, three bowl game appearances and one conference title.

The University of Tulsa

The University of Tulsa is a student-centered research university that cultivates interconnected learning experiences to explore complex ideas and create new knowledge in a spirit of free inquiry. We prepare individuals to make meaningful contributions to our campus, our community and our world.

Deemed a top 100 "best value" university by U.S. News & World Report, a "best college" by Money Magazine and a "top college" by Forbes, UTulsa is in elite company nationwide for graduation rates, cost of attendance, financial aid, and alumni salaries.

The University of Tulsa attracts more National Merit scholars per capita than any university in the country. We have had more nationally competitive scholars (Rhodes, Fulbright, Goldwater, Truman, Gilman, etc.) than neighboring schools like SMU and TCU combined.

UTulsa the composed of Kendall College of Arts & Sciences, Collins College of Business, Oxley College of Health & Natural Sciences, College of Engineering & Computer Science, Honors College, College of Law and Graduate School. Popular majors include nursing, mechanical engineering, biology, psychology, computer science, exercise/sports science, finance, business management, cybersecurity, biochemistry, organizational studies, chemical engineering, accounting, political science and electrical engineering.

A leader in blending liberal arts, professional studies and career support, TU strives to produce the region's most well-rounded, life- and career-ready alumni. We also are home to internationally acclaimed poets and novelists, technology leaders, theologians and entrepreneurs. Across all academic programs, faculty and staff ensure that students receive the support and guidance they need to thrive in their studies and beyond.

Undergraduates receive free textbooks and are eligible to participate in the CaneCareers Job Placement Guarantee. Students who complete all program requirements are guaranteed to be offered an entry-level job in their field of study or to be accepted into a graduate or professional program within six months of graduation.

Clubs, intramurals, Greek life, study abroad and community engagement opportunities are plentiful. While TU welcomes students from 49 states and dozens of countries, we are profoundly invested in our hometown. We continually seek ways to partner with people and organizations across Tulsa in order to represent and unite this vibrant community while playing a pivotal role in propelling it forward socially, culturally and economically.

UTulsa also recognizes the tribal lands on which our beautiful main campus resides. We work closely with Native American nations and Indigenous peoples to build respectful relationships and fruitful collaborations.

Tulsa, Okla. is "Green Country"

Geographically, Tulsa sits at the crossroads of America. Metaphorically, it is the crossroads of America. It's where creative expression, sophistication and down-to-earth hospitality all converge in a lush natural setting to redefine what it means to be a modern American city.

Tulsa is nestled in the northeastern quadrant of Oklahoma, right in the heart of "Green Country." The rolling green hills and wooded terrain of the city lies at an elevation of 700 feet above sea level and offers a temperate climate. Tulsa's enjoy 227 days of sunshine a year and an average daily temperature of 61 degrees.

What began as Tulsee Town in 1836 under a sturdy oak tree, which still stands today at 18th and Cheyenne Streets, is today the second largest city in Oklahoma. Tulsa was forever changed by the discovery of oil in 1901.

Today, Tulsa offers enviable low cost of living combined with big city attractions and amenities. From world-class outdoor spaces to legendary music venues, Tulsa has an unexpected, dynamic quality of life without the sticker shock of other regions.

Lots of cities have notable parks, but very few have a crown jewel like Gathering Place. This 100-acre riverfront park is situated in the heart of Tulsa. On par with visionary public spaces as Manhattan's Central Park and Chicago's Millennium Park, Gathering Place blends nature in an urban setting, providing Tulsans and visitors more space to play, relax and gather together along the Arkansas River. The park's highlights include an adventure playground, seasonal gardens, walking and biking trails, a pond and boathouse, two restaurants, and much more.

Downtown Tulsa is a treasure trove for lovers of architecture, with a concentration of Art Deco rivaled only by New York City and Miami. The central public space in downtown, Guthrie Green, is a year-round destination for live music, cultural programming and festivals. Just a few blocks northeast is ONEOK Field, home of the Tulsa Drillers, a Class AA affiliate of the Los Angeles Dodgers. The ballpark sits within the historic Greenwood District, Tulsa's resurgent Black Wall Street known internationally as a hub of African American entrepreneurship and resilience.

Nearby you'll find the Blue Dome and Arts districts, which offer visitors a variety of restaurants, bars and galleries. Downtown's premier shopping and specialty stores – a confectionary, rare guitars, an indie bookstore and more – have something for every taste.

The BOK Center is downtown Tulsa's award winning and premier sports and entertainment venue, playing host to worldwide superstars and NCAA DI Basketball Championship tournaments. The venue was named the 2016 and 2018 Arena of Year.

"The Tulsa Sound" is as alive and well in 2019 as it was when Eric Clapton and George Harrison jammed with Tulsa's own Leon Russell and JJ Cale. Tulsa's historic live music venues, like the Cain's Ballroom and Brady Theater, are second to none. The multi-purpose BOK Center is a world-class entertainment venue, recently named the Arena of the Year for the second time in the last three years.

Take in a special afternoon of art, culture and history at one of the city's iconic museums, including the world's greatest collection of Western art at the Gilcrease Museum and the eclectic and thoroughly contemporary Philbrook Museum of Art. You'll also find the Woody Guthrie Center, which celebrates the acclaimed folk singer's life and legacy, and soon you'll be able to visit the permanent home of Bob Dylan's archives. Other family-friendly attractions include the Tulsa Children's Museum, the Tulsa Zoo and the Oklahoma Aquarium.

The crossroads of America wouldn't be complete without America's Main Street. Historic Route 66 runs the full east-to-west stretch of the city along 11th Street, offering nostalgic looks at the city's past and a bold vision of the community's future. From classic diners and burger joints to the new Mother Road Market food hall, Route 66 in Tulsa is one of city's newest culinary hotspots.

Further into the city, notable districts include Cherry Street, a seven-block hub of trendy shops, bistros, cafés and bars; Brookside, a nearly mile-long stretch of upscale shopping and dining; and the Pearl District, which has Tulsa's highest concentration of craft breweries. The Hard Rock Hotel and Casino, River Spirit Casino Resort and Osage Casino also feature restaurants, nightclubs and a constant stream of live entertainment.

Tulsa hosts a never-ending lineup of exciting games, tournaments and recreational events throughout the year. Sports spectators can look to The University of Tulsa, Tulsa Drillers baseball, Tulsa Oilers ice hockey and FC Tulsa soccer. Tulsa Tough is one of the most popular bicycle street races in the country, and the annual Tulsa Run the Route 66 Marathon appeal to runners from around the world.

For every local or visitor, Tulsa inspires something different! To learn more about all that Tulsa has to offer, check out VisitTulsa.com.

Skelly Field at H.A. Chapman Stadium

The 2025 season is the 95th for football being played on the turf of Skelly Field at H.A. Chapman Stadium, the home of Golden Hurricane Football since 1930. The stadium first opened as Skelly Field, later was named Skelly Stadium and in April 2007 received the name of H.A. Chapman Stadium. The stadium underwent a major facelift in the summer of 2008 and on September 20, 2008, Tulsa opened the renovated stadium with a 56-14 victory over New Mexico.

H.A. Chapman Stadium

On April 24, 2007, it was announced that the University of Tulsa had received the naming gift for renovation of the football stadium.

The H.A. and Mary K. Chapman Trust provided the financial gift for half of the estimated cost for renovation of the H.A. Chapman Stadium. Trustees of the H.A. and Mary K. Chapman Trust are Donne Pitman and Jerry Dickman.

Following the 2007 football season, a complete renovation of H.A. Chapman Stadium began.

The stadium renovation included new seating throughout the stadium, restrooms, concession areas, new press box with luxury suites and club level seating, and a new scoreboard on the south side of the stadium, among other amenities. A new FieldTurf was installed in April 2008, and again in 2013 and prior to the 2017 season.

The steel structure on the stadium's west side was removed, substantially improving the aesthetics of the facility. The structure on the west side has an exterior finish of pre-cast concrete panels trimmed with cast stone. This returns the façade to the original architecture of the stadium, keeping the traditional look and feel of other campus structures. The stadium now has a capacity of 30,000.

When the stadium was first constructed in 1930 it was originally named Skelly Field, but was changed to Skelly Stadium in 1947 when 5,000 seats were added to north end zone.

Skelly Field at H.A. Chapman Stadium celebrating its 90th anniversary in the 2020 season.

Opening Skelly Field was a dream come true for Coach Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson. Before Tulsa played its home games in Skelly Field the Golden Hurricane used McNulty Park, the minor league stadium that was the forerunner of Oiler Park. McNulty was located near the corner of 11th street and Elgin.

An unprecedented wave of prosperity swept over America in 1928 and wealthy Tulsa oil men began listening to Henderson's dream. The trustees were proceeding with plans for a stadium on faith that a donor would appear. In April, 1930, William Skelly, a long-time friend of the University, gave $125,000 to the stadium fund if another $175,000 could be raised. The remaining money was raised by Tulsa businessmen who organized the Stadium Corporation of Tulsa.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held on May 11, 1930 and the race was on to complete the stadium for the upcoming season.

Skelly Field opened on October 4, 1930 against Arkansas. Records show that 13,000 spectators were on hand for the game.

On the opening kickoff of that inaugural game, Arkansas fumbled and end Johnny Potts recovered for Tulsa. On Tulsa's first play from scrimmage, Billy Boehm scored the first touchdown in the north end zone of the stadium. Later, Chet Benefiel scored the first touchdown in the south end zone. Tulsa went on to win the contest by a score of 26-6.

Since that day, some of college football's greatest stars have graced Skelly Field. Opponents the likes of Sammy Baugh, Ollie Matson, Bob Fenimore, Walt Garrison, Gino Toretta, Keith Jackson and Ladainian Tomlinson are a few of the games' greatest to step on the Skelly Field turf.

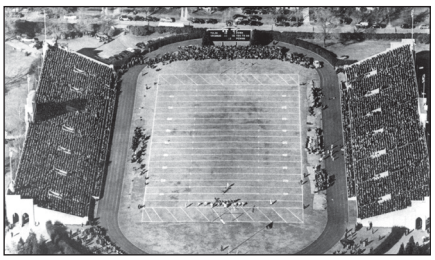

Tulsa's own Glenn Dobbs in the 1940s, the passing combination of Heisman Trophy runners-up Jerry Rhome and Howard Twilley in the 1960s, future NFL receiving greats Steve Largent and Drew Pearson in the 70s, the 1980s Palomino Express of Micheal Gunter and Ken Lacy and the stars from the 1991 Freedom Bowl Championship team thrilled Hurricane fans through the years.

In 2003, Tulsa's Humanitarian Bowl team excited fans by averaging over 37 points in six home games, while in the 75th anniversary year of Skelly Field the 2005 squad won the Conference USA Championship and advanced to a second bowl game in three years.

The 2016 season saw the Tulsa football team post an undefeated 6-0 home record and the school's 10th season of 10+ wins.

The highest attended game in stadium history was 47,350 on September 26, 1987 against No. 1 — ranked Oklahoma.

H.A. Chapman Stadium Through the Decades

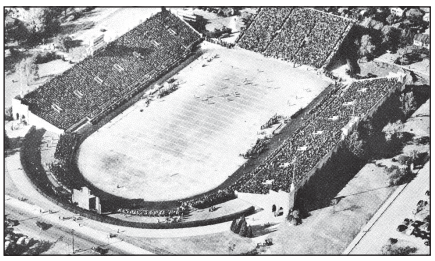

1930s

Oil man and longtime friend of The University of Tulsa, William Skelly, gave $125,000 to the Stadium Fund Drive in the spring of 1930. The remaining $175,000 was raised by Tulsa businessmen who organized the Stadium Corporation of Tulsa.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held on May 11 and the season kicked off on October 4, as Tulsa hosted Arkansas in front of a crowd of 13,000. On the opening kickoff, Arkansas fumbled and Johnny Potts recovered for Tulsa. Billy Boehm scored on the very next play for the first touchdown in the north end of the stadium.

Chet Benefiel scored the first TD in the south end zone and Tulsa went on for a 26-6 victory. The Golden Hurricane won its first six games at the new stadium that year.

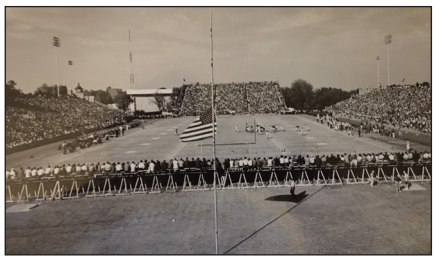

1940s

A couple years earlier, 1938, the University traded Skelly Field to the Tulsa Public Schools for the Philtower Building lot at 5th and Boston. TU then began to lease the stadium from the board of education.

In the 1940s, Skelly Field was home to some of the best teams in school history. The Hurricane became the first school to play in five straight New Year's Day Bowl Games and the 1942 team posted a 10-1 record and finished the season ranked fourth in the final Associated Press poll.

In 1947, William Skelly turned the first shovel full of dirt at ground-breaking ceremonies for a 5,000-seat north end zone expansion and the name changed to Skelly Stadium. The first home game that season saw Tulsa defeat West Texas State 26-13 on September 20.

1950s

The 1950s began with Tulsa going undefeated at Skelly Stadium in the decades first three seasons, posting an 18-0-2 record covering 1950 through 1952. In 1956, a Billy Graham rally brought a crowd of 28,000 on June 18, 1956.

1960s

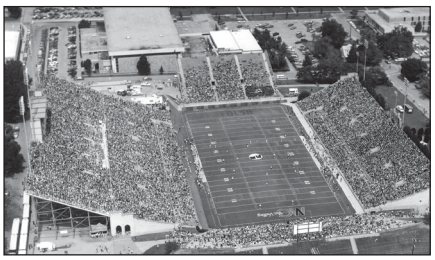

The Stadium Corporation was reorganized in 1964 and planned to build two high school stadiums (LaFortune and McLain) in exchange for Skelly Stadium. Skelly would be enlarged to 40,235 seats and the total program would cost $1,250,000. The track was removed, the field lowered and box seats added. The excavated dirt was used to support the new south end zone stands. Seating was added to the west stands plus a new two story press box, escalator and elevator. The third story photo deck was added the next year. Skelly Stadium was returned to become the property of TU in 1968.

1970s

The 1970s saw numerous players who went on to NFL careers grace the Skelly Stadium turf that decade, including NFL legends Steve Largent and Drew Pearson. The grass field was changed to Tartan Turf in the summer of 1972. Professional soccer made its debut at Skelly Stadium with a preseason game in 1977, and a year later the Tulsa Roughnecks made Skelly Stadium its home.

Tulsa won its 200th game at Skelly Stadium on September 15, 1979 with a 28-20 win over Southwestern Louisiana.

1980s

In the spring of 1980, a modern scoreboard and animated message center was installed above the south stands. John Cooper's 1980 team ushered in the new decade with an 8-3 record, including a 5-0 mark in home games. Tulsa's 10-1 record in 1982, including a 5-0 home record, was the fourth 10-win season in school history and just the second since Skelly Stadium was built.

1990s

Some of the biggest wins in Skelly Stadium history came in the 1990s. The Miracle on 11th Street was just the start on September 21, 1991, when the Hurricane came back from a 24-10 halftime deficit for a thrilling 35-34 victory over #15-ranked Texas A&M. In 1996, Tulsa opened its home season with a 27-20 win over #19 Iowa and two weeks later defeated Colorado State, 20-14, in its debut game of the Western Athletic Conference.

2000s

The 2000s began with the installation of a new FieldTurf, a synthetic artificial turf that looked and felt like natural grass. The north end zone stands were demolished in 2005 to make room for the new Case Athletic Complex that opened in 2007. It was also announced in 2007, that Skelly Stadium would have a new name – H.A. Chapman Stadium and in 2008 the stadium went through a complete renovation. The renovated stadium opened on September 20 with a 56-14 victory over New Mexico.

2010s

Three 10-win seasons came in this decade with the first coming in 2010 at 10-3. In 2012, Tulsa posted an 11-3 record and won the Conference USA Championship on its home turf with a 33-27 overtime win over UCF. Tulsa also claimed a 10-3 record in the 2016 season and was 3-0 at its home venue in the COVID-shortened 2020 season.

H.A. Chapman Stadium Highlights

1930 — Groundbreaking ceremony for the 14,500 seat Skelly Field occurred on May 11. The first football game was played on Oct. 4, 1930 in front of a crowd of 13,000. Tulsa defeated Arkansas 26-6.

1938 — TU traded Skelly Field to the Tulsa Public Schools for the Philtower Building lot at 5th and Boston. TU began to lease the stadium from the board of education.

1947 — Lease renewal for Skelly Field was signed. The 5,000 seat north end zone stands were added and the scoreboard moved to the south end zone. Skelly Field was the original name, but changed to Skelly Stadium when the north end zone seats were added.

1953 — In August, former TU star Jim Finks played for the Pittsburgh Steelers in an exhibition game against the Chicago Bears before a crowd of 10,000.

1956 — On June 18, Evangelist Reverend Billy Graham held a one-night rally and set what was to that date a stadium record crowd of 28,000.

1960 — Newly formed American Football League entries, Houston Oilers and Dallas Texans, met in an exhibition contest in August.

1964 — The stadium corporation was reorganized and it planned to build two high school stadiums (LaFortune and McLain) in exchange for Skelly Stadium.

1965 — Skelly Stadium was enlarged to 40,235 seats at a cost of $1,250,000. The track was removed, the field lowered and box seats added. The excavated dirt was used to support the new south end zone stands. Seating was added to the west stands plus a new two story press box, escalator and elevator. Work was completed in August.

1966 — The third story photo deck was added to the press box. Skelly Stadium turned into a baseball field for one game on May 5. The St. Louis Cardinals baseball club played their triple-A farm team, the Tulsa Oilers, in an exhibition game. The contest drew a crowd of 18,904, which saw the Cards beat Tulsa 5-4.

1968 — Skelly Stadium was returned to the University.

1972 — Tartan turf was installed in the summer months.

1977 — Professional soccer made its debut at Skelly Stadium with a preseason game.

1978 — The Tulsa Roughnecks, an NASL professional soccer team, moved into Skelly Stadium.

1979 — Getty Oil Company and Getty Refining and Marketing Company made a $350,000 grant for refurbishing and repairs to the Stadium.

1980 — A modern scoreboard and animated message center was installed above the south stands. The sign package was donated by Dr. Pepper, KJRH Television and Getty Refining and Marketing Company. The largest crowd for soccer occurred on April 26 when the Roughnecks met the New York Cosmos before 30,831 fans.

1987 — The largest crowd in Skelly Stadium history, 47,350, saw Tulsa lose to the nation's number one-ranked Oklahoma Sooners, 65-0.

1982 — A new artificial turf was installed and the lighting system was replaced.

1984 — A new scoreboard above the north end zone and 25-second clocks were added in each end zone.

1991 — Stadia Turf, a new artificial surface, was installed in the summer. The football season had the highest season attendance average in school history with an average of 31,236 fans for seven home games.

1993 — A new scoreboard was erected in the south end zone. It was completed just one day before the home opener on September 18.

2000 — New FieldTurf was installed in the summer. The synthetic artificial turf looks and feels like natural grass. The visiting team locker room was refurbished.

2003 — Installed new stadium lighting.

2005 — The north end zone stands were demolished in February, thus clearing way for the new Case Athletic Complex. The stadium seating was reduced from 40,385 to 35,542.

2007 — The Case Athletic Complex in the north end zone was completed in June; and on April 24, it was announced that the H.A. and Mary K. Chapman Trust has provided the financial gift for half of the estimated cost for renovation of the newly named H.A. Chapman Stadium.

2008 — H.A Chapman Stadium underwent major renovation and now has a new stadium capacity of 30,000.

2013 — A new playing surface, FieldTurf Revolution Cool Play featuring cork and rubber, was installed in the spring of 2013, as was an 80-foot LED electronic sign located on the south end zone field level wall.

2017 — A new FieldTurf surface was installed.

2018 — ONEOK Club had a complete renovation and an LED board was added to the north end zone.

2023 — The stadium videoboard was replaced.

2025 — A new FieldTurf surface was installed.

Case Athletic Complex

The Case Athletic Complex opened in June 2007, less than three years after the plans were unveiled for the facility that houses Golden Hurricane football.

On November 11, 2004, University of Tulsa President Steadman Upham unveiled plans for the Case Athletic Complex to be located in the north end zone of Skelly Stadium. Excavation began on January 13, 2006.

The 30,000 square foot complex was built at a cost of $10 million, and it began phase one of the renovation of Skelly Field. Phase Two began following the 2007 football campaign, when Skelly Field at H.A. Chapman Stadium underwent major renovations.

The Case Athletic Complex, named for Mike Case, a developer and philanthropist who made a significant financial gift for the project, houses football coaches offices, meeting rooms, game day suites, academic support center for all student-athletes, football locker room and equipment room, athletic training room, video production suite and Lettermen's Club suite.

A renovation of the locker room was completed in the summer of 2018.

The facility provides the Tulsa football program with an exceptional every-day use facility, as well as providing all TU student-athletes with an area dedicated to academic enhancement.

Head Coach Tre Lamb is in his first season

TRE LAMB

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

FIRST YEAR

Tre Lamb was announced as the University of Tulsa's 35th head football coach on Dec. 8, 2024, and was introduced in a press conference two days later.

He comes to Tulsa following a season as the head coach at East Tennessee State, where his offensive prowess helped lead the Buccaneers to their first winning season since 2021.

Before joining ETSU, Lamb spent four seasons as the head coach at Gardner-Webb, leading the Bulldogs to back-to-back Big South Conference titles and FCS playoff appearances.

In his 12 years of coaching experience, Lamb has also had a pair of stops at Tennessee Tech as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach and a three-year stint as quarterbacks coach at Mercer.

In his lone season at East Tennessee State, Lamb engineered a bounce-back season. The Buccaneers rushed for 2,330 yards, third best in program history, and the defense held opponents to just 110.5 yards per game on the ground, also the third best in school history.

The Bucs led the Southern Conference in multiple offensive categories under Lamb, including rushing offense, rushing touchdowns, sacks allowed and first downs gained rushing, while finishing second in total offense.

During his tenure at Gardner-Webb, Lamb led the Runnin' Bulldogs to a 10-1 conference record in his final two seasons, including a 5-0 league campaign in 2022. Gardner-Webb capped its dream season with its first conference title in 20 years and the school's first playoff appearance since 1992. The Runnin' Bulldogs then collected their first-ever FCS playoff win with a 52-41 defeat of Eastern Kentucky.

Lamb's offense led the Big South in total points scored (418), touchdowns (56), total offense (441.5), completion percentage (63.4) and completions (281) during the 2022 season. The Runnin' Bulldogs scored at least 30 points in four of the team's five conference games, including three games of 40 or more. Lamb was named the 2022 Big South Coach of the Year.

The 2023 team earned a share of the first-ever Big South/OVC Championship, marking the first time Gardner-Webb had won back-to-back conference titles since 2002-03. Lamb's squad started the year ranked No. 24 in the AFCA Preseason Coaches Poll and No. 25 in the STATS Perform Poll – the first time the Runnin' Bulldogs were ranked in the Coaches Poll since Oct. 5, 2013. Gardner-Webb won its last five regular season games, averaging more than 37 points per game during the streak to help secure a spot in the FCS Playoffs for a second straight year.

The first challenge when taking over as head coach was navigating the COVID-19 pandemic, winning his first game in a shortened 2020 spring season that started in 2021. He opened his account with a 42-20 upset of No. 24 Elon and finished the season 2-2, becoming one of only two coaches in school history to finish their first season .500. In 2021, he was featured as one of the AFCA's top young coaches in the country.

Prior to Gardner-Webb, Lamb served as an offensive coordinator at Tennessee Tech during the 2018 and 2019 seasons. He helped guide the Golden Eagles to one of the largest turnarounds in 2019. After Tennessee Tech combined for two wins in 2017 and 2018, the Golden Eagles won six games during the 2019 campaign. In the 2019 season-opening win over Samford, Tennessee Tech totaled 671 yards of total offense in the 59-58 victory. During the season, Tennessee Tech went on to score 30 or more points five times en route to finishing second in the Ohio Valley Conference in scoring offense and offensive plays.

Lamb started his coaching career at his alma mater, Tennessee Tech, where he was the quarterbacks coach in 2013. Following the 2013 season, Lamb went to Mercer where he served in the same role from 2014 to 2017. During his stint in Macon, Georgia, Lamb mentored John Russ to an outstanding career and helped freshman Kaelan Riley to a spot on the Jerry Rice Award Watch List and Southern Conference Freshman of the Year honors in 2017.

A native of Calhoun, Georgia, Lamb

played quarterback at Tennessee Tech from 2009 to 2012 and served as team captain for his final three seasons. He led the Golden Eagles to an OVC title in 2011 – the program's first since 1975 – and the school's first appearance in the FCS Playoffs. During that championship campaign, Lamb led an offense that set nine school records, including single-season marks for points scored (355), scoring average (32.3) and first downs in a season (238). He graduated with a degree in interdisciplinary studies, education and exercise science.

The program's Robert Hill Johnson Award winner, Lamb set three individual school records himself in 2011, establishing new marks for single-game attempts and completions and the single-season record for total offense with 2,555 yards. He finished his career with 5,301 passing yards, which ranks third in program history. He passed for a school-record 481 yards vs. Southeast Missouri State as a senior.

Football coaching runs in the Lamb family. His father, Hal, had a remarkable 21-year high school coaching career at Calhoun High, leading the Yellow Jackets to a 233-37 record, three state titles and 18 consecutive regional titles. Lamb's grandfather Ray also coached three state championship teams. He is the nephew of Anderson College head coach Bobby Lamb and is cousins with Taylor Lamb, a former Appalachian State quarterback and current quarterbacks coach at Virginia.

Lamb and his wife, Carter, have two daughters – Olivia James and Drew Nix.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Josh Reardon

Defensive Coordinator / Safeties Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Josh Reardon was hired as the defensive coordinator and safeties coach in January 2025 at Tulsa.

• Reardon spent the 2024 season at ETSU with coach Lamb and was the associate head coach and defensive coordinator.

• During the 2024 season at ETSU, the Bucs were the top team in the SoCon in total defense. They tallied 35.0 sacks and had the 12th-best rush defense in the nation.

• Before joining the ETSU coaching staff, Reardon spent four seasons at Gardner-Webb as their defensive coordinator.

• Reardon orchestrated a defense with five All-Conference players in his final season in Boiling Springs. William McRainey, Ty French, and Ja'Kai Young all earned First Team All-Conference honors, while Brendan Jackson and Jamari Brown landed spots with the second team.

• McRainey was named a finalist for the Doris Robinson Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award after capturing the Big South Scholar-Athlete of the Year award in back-to-back seasons.

• French, meanwhile, was named a finalist for the Buck Buchanan Award, which goes to the top defensive player in FCS football. As a team, the Runnin' Bulldogs led the nation in tackles for loss per game (8.1) and also finished second in the country with four defensive touchdowns.

• In 2022, Reardon's defense had the second-best rushing defense in the Big South, allowing just 133.3 yards per game on the ground. The Runnin' Bulldogs also led the conference in interceptions, with 16 picks, thanks to three each from Jamari Brown, A.J. Thomas, and Josiah Wright.

• Under Reardon's leadership, Raequan Ousley earned STATS FCS All-American honors for the first time in his career in 2022. The Runnin' Bulldogs defense shut out conference foe Robert Morris 48-0 in 2022, the first conference shutout for Gardner-Webb since 2004, when GWU defeated Charleston Southern 18-0.

• Reardon's scheme and approach paid off for Gardner-Webb, with the team leading the Big South in 2021 in third-down defense and ranking second in pass defense, interceptions, and total turnovers gained.

• Reardon's second season also produced the Big South's second-best red zone defense. Ty French, William McRainey, Malachi Buckner, and TJ Comstock each earned All-Big South honors, with French also named to the Hero Sports Sophomore All-America Team.

• The impact was immediate and impressive during the spring 2021 season, as Gardner-Webb jumped into the top 30 nationally in rushing defense (27th), third down defense (20th), first down defense (30th), and the top 50 in total defense (43rd).

• The most significant move was disrupting opposing backfields. Gardner-Webb ranked No. 6 nationally in sacks and No. 8 in the country in tackles for loss. The improvement came despite a handful of true freshmen moving into starting roles.

• Defensive end Ty French was named Big South Defensive Freshman of the Year, earned Freshman All-America honors, and was one of the most disruptive players in the country. Freshman Will McRainey started all four games as a linebacker, and safety A.J. Thomas earned second-team All-Big South honors.

• Reardon went to Gardner-Webb after two seasons at Eastern Kentucky in the Ohio Valley Conference, where he was the Colonels Assistant Head Coach and defensive backs coach in 2018 and 2019. During his two-year stint, Eastern Kentucky won 14 games combined and ranked among the league's best defensive units.

• The 2019 EKU defense ranked No. 2 in the league in total defense and points per game allowed. The Colonels allowed just 119.1 yards per game on the ground, which also ranked second in the OVC.

• Eastern Kentucky played even better on defense when the stakes were high, ranking third in the OVC in third-down defense and first-downs allowed.

• In conference games only, the Colonels allowed just 90.5 yards per game on the ground – which led the circuit.

• Reardon's 2018 success was notable. The Colonels ranked No. 5 nationally with 19 interceptions—a 14-pick improvement from the previous year. His defensive backs accounted for 17 of those 19 interceptions.

• Eastern Kentucky's defense ranked No. 2 in the OVC in points allowed per game and second in total defense as a unit.

• His work with the Colonels' special teams helped kicker Samuel Hayworth earn first-team All-OVC honors in 2018 and 2019. Hayworth finished ninth nationally in 2018 in field goals per game and ranked No. 12 nationally in field goal percentage.

• Quentin Pringle ranked No. 8 in the FCS with an average of more than 27 yards per kick return.

• Reardon coached defensive backs for one season under Coach Bobby Lamb at Mercer in 2017. In addition to working with the Bears' safeties, he also worked with the cornerbacks and was in charge of the punt return team.

• Reardon also has FBS coaching experience, serving as an assistant coach at UConn from 2014-2016 – where he was the cornerbacks coach and co-special teams coordinator. NFL first-round pick Byron Jones learned under Reardon's watch during his playing career at UConn.

• Reardon also served as a defensive graduate assistant at Notre Dame (2012-2013), coaching for the Fighting Irish in the 2012 BCS National Championship Game. His prior FCS experience came at Holy Cross (2011) and Sacred Heart (2008-2010). Reardon also worked as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Central Michigan (2006-07).

• Reardon was a four-year letterwinner with the Chippewas and earned a Bachelor's Degree in physical education in 2006.

Brad Robbins

Offensive Coordinator / Quarterback Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Brad Robbins was hired as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in December 2024 at TU.

• Robbins joined UConn as the team's quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator on offense for the 2024 season.

• At UConn, Robbins coached Joe Fagnano, who threw 20 touchdowns and 1,631 yards. Fagnano was named the offensive MVP at the Wasabi Fenway Bowl.

• Under Robbins' guidance, Fagnano finished 8th in the nation in pass yards per completion (14.23), 19th in the country with pass efficiency (152.9), and had the third-best single-season QB rating in school history (152.9).

• The Huskies went 9-4 on the season and won the Wasabi Fenway Bowl, the best record in 14 years at UConn.

• Robbins offense set or tied seven school records during the 2024 season and ranked 10th nationally in red zone scoring (92.5%).

• UConn scored 32.3 points per game in 2024, the highest-scoring offense in 21 years.

• Robbins spent the 2023 season on the Tennessee Tech staff as the pass game coordinator and wide receivers coach.

• He spent three seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at North Greenville University.

• His 2022 offense averaged 403 yards per game and 5.9 yards per play, averaging 27.0 points per game while facing the third toughest-ranked schedule in Division II.

• At North Greenville University, Quarterback Dylan Ramirez set school records for passing yards (2,570), total yards (2,800), and touchdowns accounted for (28) as a freshman. Running back Corey Watkins had over 1,000 yards rushing, becoming the first player at NGU to hit the century mark since 2016.

• During the 2018 season, Robbins spent time at Charleston Southern, where he coached the wide receivers and served as the director of community service.

• Robbins worked on the offensive staff at Virginia Military Institute from 2013 through 2017. While at VMI, he primarily worked with wide receivers and tight ends.

• At VMI, he helped develop and coach four All-Southern conference wideouts/tight ends during his time and helped coach an offense that ranked 21st nationally in passing yards in 2014. He added special teams coordinator duties to his responsibilities in 2017.

• He was a 2018 inductee into the school's Hall of Fame after a playing career in which he was a first-team All-Mid-South Conference selection at quarterback in 2009 and a 2009 Second-Team NAIA All-American at DH in baseball. He is the school record holder for career home runs, doubles, and batting average.

• Robbins began his coaching career at the University of Virginia, where he was an assistant recruiting coordinator in 2010 and then a graduate assistant working with the linebackers and safeties.

• He graduated from The University of Virginia at Wise with a degree in business administration in 2010 and his master's degree in student affairs in higher education.

Ty Darlington

Co-Offensive Coordinator / Tight Ends Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Ty Darlington was hired as the co-offensive coordinator and tight ends coach in December 2024 at TU.

• Prior to joining the TU coaching staff, Darlington spent two seasons at UIW. During the 2024 season, he was the offensive line coach, and during the 2023 season, he was the tight ends coach.

• Under his guidance, the UIW offensive line helped the Cardinals average 233.6 rushing yards per game.

• Before joining UIW, Darlington spent the 2022 season with the Florida Gators as a quality control coach.

• Darlington spent five seasons (2017-21) on staff at his alma mater, Oklahoma. He first served as an offensive analyst and later as an offensive graduate assistant for the final two seasons.

• In the Valero Alamo Bowl against Oregon, he served as the interim quarterbacks coach as true freshman Caleb Williams went 21-27 with 242 passing yards and three passing touchdowns.

• Darlington was a center for the Sooners from 2012 to 15 and played in 37 career games, with 26 starts.

• He had a highly decorated senior year, being named the Wuerffel and Campbell Trophy winner while earning honorable mention All-American by Sports Illustrated, All-Big 12 First Team by the league's coaches and Phil Steele, AP All-Big 12 Second Team, CoSIDA Academic All-American, and Big 12 Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

• Darlington signed with the Tennessee Titans in 2016 and later joined the Oklahoma athletics department as an administrative fellow for Sooner Sports TV.

• He graduated from Oklahoma in the arts and sciences planned program.

Mike Gray

Co-Deffensive Coordinator / Linebackers Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Mike Gray was hired as the co-defensive coordinator and linebackers coach in January 2025 at Tulsa.

• Prior to joining the Golden Hurricane, Gray was an assistant secondary coach and defensive analyst for the Jacksonville Jaguars.

• His NFL coaching started in 2023 with the Atlanta Falcons as their football analyst.

• Gray spent three years at Gardner-Webb as an assistant coach.

• Gray's last two seasons have been productive, with rising junior linebacker William McRainey emerging as one of the top tacklers in the Big South. McRainey led the league in total hits in 2021 and was a first-team All-Big South Conference selection, helping the Gardner-Webb defense lead the Big South in third-down defense as a unit.

• Gray's work with a young group during the spring of 2021 helped Gardner-Webb's defense make huge leaps in production. Despite a rash of injuries this past season, the linebacker corps remained a strong part of the Gardner-Webb attack.

• Prior to joining the GWU staff, Gray spent two seasons as a graduate assistant with Coach Dave Doeren's staff at NC State in the Atlantic Coast Conference. During his time with the Wolfpack, he was part of a staff that helped the 2018 team to a 9-4 record and a spot in the TaxSlayer Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla.

• Gray worked as a defensive intern in 2017 at Western Kentucky, primarily working with the Hilltoppers' safeties that season. WKU won six games in the regular season that year and earned a berth in the Cure Bowl.

• He started his coaching career during the spring semester following his final season, working with Coach Bobby Lamb's staff as an undergraduate defensive line coach—working with former Gardner-Webb lineman Kenny Baker.

• Gray played collegiately at Mercer University in Georgia, finishing his career with 180 total tackles, 10 tackles for loss, three sacks, and three interceptions. Gray played both linebacker and safety during his time with the Bears.

• Gray earned a BBA with a double major in sports business and marketing from Mercer in 2017. He graduated Cum Laude with a 3.6 grade point average.

2018	TaxSlayer Gator Bowl (NC State)
2022	FCS Playoffs - 2nd Round (Gardner-Webb)

Kam Martin

Associate Head Coach / Running Backs Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Kam Martin was hired as the associate head coach and running backs coach in December 2024 at TU.

• Martin spent two years (2023 and 2024) as the running backs coach at UCF.

• During the 2024 season, Martin coached RJ Harvey to the first record-breaking season and First Team All-Big 12 Conference honors. For the second consecutive year, Harvey was a semifinalist for the Doak Walker Award, presented annually to the nation's best collegiate running back. He is the first player in program history to garner the recognition twice or in consecutive years.

• Harvey led the Big 12 and finished the regular season ranked third nationally with 1,577 rushing yards. His 22 rushing touchdowns were the third most in the country and best among conference running backs. Harvey's 25 total touchdowns (22 rushing, 3 receiving) helped him set the program record for career touchdowns, scoring 48, two more than UCF Hall of Famer Kevin Smith, who previously held the record.

• Martin and his backs helped UCF rank fourth nationally in rushing at 228.2 yards per game, the third-best average in Knight history (behind 265.2 in 2018 and 234.8 in 2007). UCF also ranked eighth in total offense at 487.0 yards per game (fifth-highest average all-time at UCF), second in the Big 12 Conference in both categories.

• Leading the way for the Knights was running back RJ Harvey, who gained 1,416 rushing yards (fourth-highest season total at UCF and most since 2007) and scored 16 rushing touchdowns to rank sixth nationally, second in Big 12, and tied for second all-time at UCF. He ran for over 100 yards in seven of his last eight games in 2023, including a career-high 206 in a landmark win over 15th-ranked Oklahoma State. Harvey was a 2023 Doak Walker Award semi-finalist.

• Martin, a former Auburn running back who spent the 2021 season as a recruiting and offensive assistant at UCF, returned to Orlando in March 2023 as the Knights' running backs coach under his former collegiate head coach, Gus Malzahn.

• Martin joined the Knights from Texas State, where he was named the running backs coach in December 2022. He spent the spring season with Texas State.

• He spent the 2022 season at Incarnate Word (UIW), where he helped the Cardinals set the program's single-season rushing record and compile the nation's top-scoring offense among FCS schools.

• UIW rushed for 3,011 yards during the 2022 season to surpass the previous program record by more than 1,000 yards. Under Martin's direction, Marcus Cooper ran for the sixth-most yards among FCS players with 1,436 to claim All-Southland Conference honors.

• At UIW, Cooper set the program record with 254 rushing yards on 20 carries in a 66-7 win against Northwestern State on Nov. 21, 2022, highlighted by 78-yard and 68-yard touchdown runs.

• Incarnate Word rushed for 200 or more yards in eight games, amassing 300 yards rushing three different times. With the standout running game, UIW led the nation in scoring offense, averaging 51.5 points per game.

• The Cardinals also won the Southland Conference championship for the second consecutive year and reached the FCS Playoff semifinals for the first time in school history.

• In 2021 at UCF, Martin worked with a talented group of running backs that began 2021 with a bang, as veteran Isaiah Bowser ran for 172 yards and the game-winning TD in the season-opening comeback win over Boise State and then accounted for four first-half rushing TDs a week later versus Bethune-Cookman. Johnny Richardson led the Knights in rushing with 733 yards that season, ranking seventh in the AAC in all-purpose yardage at 96.92 per game. He earned fourth-team All-AAC honors from Phil Steele.

• Originally from Port Arthur, Texas, Martin was a standout tailback at Auburn under Malzahn. He finished with 1,564 career rushing yards, 29th all-time at Auburn.

• As a junior in 2018, Martin was one of the starters at tailback, recording 458 yards rushing on 103 carries. He had 116 rushing yards against Liberty and gained 58 yards versus Purdue in the Music City Bowl.

• As a true freshman, he had 176 yards rushing in the second half vs. Alabama A&M, with two TDs--in the second-best, second-half rushing total in Auburn history.

• A consensus national top 300 prospect out of high school, Martin was a versatile all-purpose athlete from Memorial High School in Port Arthur. He was a four-year starter and played for the USA Football U19 national team in the 2016 International Bowl in Arlington, Texas.

• Martin amassed over 3,500 combined rushing and receiving yards and 44 TDs in his prep career. As a prep senior, he had 962 rushing yards and six TDs on 143 carries and 10 receptions for 133 yards in 2015. Martin also added 903 rushing yards and 17 TDs in his junior season—plus 1,060 yards and 16 TDs as a sophomore.

• Martin ran anchor on the Memorial 4x200-meter relay team that set a national record at 1:23.84 at the district meet and later captured the 2015 Texas Class 6A state title in that event.

• His cousin Jamaal Charles, also from Port Arthur Memorial and a college standout at Texas, was a four-time Pro Bowl selection at running back with the Kansas City Chiefs.

• Martin received the 2019 Hard-Fighting Soldier Award from the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. In December 2019, he graduated from Auburn with a business degree.

Carter Barfield

Special Teams Coordinator

FIRST YEAR

• Carter Barfield was hired as the special teams coordinator in January 2025 at Tulsa.

• Prior to coming to Tulsa, Barfield spent four seasons at Florida State University as a special teams analyst.

• Barfield assisted special teams coordinator John Papuchis in multiple facets during his tenure with the Seminoles. He was an essential figure in the development of former punter Alex Mastromanno and former kicker Ryan Fitzgerald, who were both named AP All-Americans in 2024.

• Mastromanno led the country and set an ACC record with 49.3 yards per punt. He also led the FBS with 30 punts of at least 50 yards, becoming a Ray Guy Award finalist for the second straight year.

• Fitzgerald went 13/13 on field goals, including 5/5 from 50+ yards. His 59-yard field goal in the season opener against Georgia Tech is the second longest in program history. Fitzgerald was a finalist for the Lou Groza Award.

• Before Florida State, Barfield served as a special teams analyst at Georgia Southern for one season in 2020. He was the interim tight ends coach for the Eagles before leaving for FSU.

• Barfield spent seven seasons on staff at Mercer University. He served as the running backs coach and spent the last two seasons as co-recruiting coordinator.

• As the running backs coach, Barfield led a stable of running backs that included senior standout Tee Mitchell, who broke Mercer's all-time rushing record with 2,660 career yards and gained 100-plus yards in four games before a season-ending injury.

• He developed Tyray Devezin into one of SoCon's best backs, earning HERO Sports FCS sophomore All-American honors. Devezin finished the season with 926 rushing yards and averaged 24 carries and 117.0 yards over the last four weeks after Mitchell went down with an injury.

• As the co-recruiting coordinator, Barfield played a key role in landing a 22-man 2019 recruiting class that ranked among the nation's best at the FCS level.

• Barfield was at the University of Kentucky before Mercer. He served as an offensive quality control coach and graduate assistant for two seasons. He worked heavily with the quarterbacks and running backs.

• Before his time at Kentucky, Barfield spent three years at the University of Tennessee-Martin, working in several different capacities with the team. He started his coaching tenure at UT-Martin as a defensive graduate assistant before moving to the other side of the ball as an offensive graduate assistant coach, where he coached wide receivers for one year. Barfield spent his last year at UT-Martin as the quarterbacks coach, helping create and develop the team's passing game while also assisting in recruiting.

• Barfield played collegiate football for five years as a wide receiver under head coach Bobby Lamb at Furman University. During his playing years, the team drew top-12 national rankings in four of the five years, including a Southern Conference Championship in 2004.

• A graduate of Furman, he received a bachelor's degree in history in December 2006.

• He is married to the former Jenny Watson. The couple has two daughters, Hannah and Sarah James, and one son, Noah.

Dominique Franks

Passing Game Coordinator / Cornerbacks Coach

THIRD YEAR

• Dominique Franks enters his third season on the Tulsa coaching staff. He will serve as the cornerbacks coach during the 2025 season.

• Franks during the 2024 season, Franks was promoted to serve as the cornerbacks coach.

• As a defensive quality control analyst, he joined the Golden Hurricane in February 2023.

• Following his playing career, Franks coached for two years at nearby Owasso (Okla.) High School. In March 2022, he was hired as the defensive backs coach of the New Jersey Generals of the United States Football League (USFL).

• A fifth-round draft choice by the Atlanta Falcons in 2010, Franks spent five seasons in the NFL, including four (2010-13) with the Falcons and part of the 2014 campaign with the Baltimore Ravens. He tallied 48 tackles, 14 pass deflections, and three interceptions during his NFL career. Franks signed with the Hudson Valley Fort of the Fall Experimental Football League (FXFL) in 2015.

• Franks earned second-team all-Big 12 accolades in 2008 and entered the NFL draft following his junior season as one of the top cornerback prospects.

• He played a pivotal role in the Sooner's run to the national championship game in 2008 and completed his career with 95 tackles and six interceptions.

• Franks had an illustrious prep career in Tulsa, playing at Union High School before playing collegiately at the University of Oklahoma (2006-09).

Hakim Gray

Defensive Line Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Hakim Gray was hired as the defensive line coach at TU in December 2024.

• Gray spent the 2024 season as the assistant head coach and defensive line coach for ETSU.

• Gray guided Jaylen George to all-conference honors in 2024 at ETSU. The defensive lineman started every game for Gray.

• George totaled 33 tackles (six for loss) to go with 0.5 sacks, a forced fumble, and recovered another to go with seven quarterback hurries. His quarterback hurry total led the Bucs. George helped ETSU's defense hold opposing teams to 3.0 yards per carry in 2024, which was the team's lowest mark in a full season since 1984 (2.7).

• Gray was also on Head Coach Tre Lamb's coaching staff at Gardner-Webb in 2023.

• In his lone season with Gardner-Webb, Gray helped GWU's defense lead the FCS in tackles for loss per game (8.1) and 17th nationally in rushing defense. He also coached Ty French on his way to being named to the fourth All-Conference team of his career.

• French was also a Buck Buchanan Award Finalist, which goes to the top defensive player in the FCS, under Gray's guidance. French also broke Gardner-Webb's program record for career sacks (30.5) and set a new single-season tackles for loss-mark (17.5).

• Gray came to Gardner-Webb following a stint as a graduate assistant for the University of Buffalo.

• During his time with the Bulls, Gray assisted in coaching the defense, helping guide Buffalo to a 7-6 record and a Camellia Bowl victory over Georgia Southern.

• Buffalo's defensive line was stout during the 2022 season, recording 24 total sacks as the Bulls held opponents to a slim 35.26 percent success rate on third downs.

• Gray spent one season at Louisiana Tech as a player before closing his career at Division-II Arkansas-Monticello. In his three years with the Boll Weevils, Gray recorded 77 tackles, with 17 of those being tackles for loss. He also tallied five sacks and recovered one blocked extra point for a two-point conversion.

• Gray was a two-time All-GAC selection and was named to the 2017 Don Hansen All-Super Region Three Team as a Third Team pick.

Joe Scelfo

Run Game Coordinator / Offensive Line Coach

FIRST YEAR

• Joe Scelfo enters his first season with Tulsa Football in 2025. He joined the staff in December as the offensive line coach and run game coordinator.

• Scelfo spent the 2024 season as the offensive coordinator and offensive line coach with coach Lamb at ETSU.

• At ETSU, Scelfo coached Luke Smith (OL), AJ Johnson (WR), Bryson Irby (RB), and Derrell Bailey Jr (OL) to All-SoCon honors.

• The offensive line at ETSU paved the way to rush for 100 yards in 11 of 12 games during the 2024 season, including a season-high 308 yards in a win at The Citadel.

• The offensive line led the way to leading the SoCon in rushing yards (2,330) and rushing yards per game (193.2). It was the first time in school history that ETSU led the SoCon in rushing.

• The offensive line also protected the quarterback, allowing only 17 sacks, the fewest in the conference.

• He spent the 2023 season as the tight ends coach at the University of New Mexico.

• Scelfo spent the 2022 season at Gardner-Webb as run-game coordinator and offensive line coach for current Golden Hurricane coach Tre Lamb.

• He helped guide the Bulldogs into the FCS Playoffs in 2022, advancing to the second round. Gardner-Webb averaged 32.2 points per game and rushed for 2,323 yards on the year, including a 1,000-yard rusher, during the 2022 season. Gardner-Webb posted its top-scoring season since 2005. Center Gabriel Thompson and tackle Clayton Frady each earned All-Big South honors in 2022.

• Scelfo spent 2020 and 2021 coaching the guards and centers at nationally ranked Southeast Louisiana.

• During his time in Hammond, La., the Lions ranked among the national leaders in total offense, ranking second in 2019 (484.8 ypg) and seventh in 2020-21 (508.6 ypg).

• Southeastern Louisiana also boasted the nation's No. 2 passing offense in both seasons and was in the top 10 nationally in first-down offense and scoring offense in both seasons.

• In 2020-2021, Scelfo's interior line helped power an offense that converted 51.9 percent on third down (6th nationally) and ranked No. 9 in red zone offense (92.9%). The unit also protected the nation's top quarterback, Cole Kelley, who won the 2021 Walter Payton Award as the top offensive player in the Football Championship Subdivision.

• Two of his players earned All-Southland honors following the 2021 season. The Lions finished the spring sprint ranked No. 20 in the final STATS FCS national poll.

• In 2019, Scelfo mentored All-Southland selection Jarius Gooch.

• Scelfo's first coaching spot came at NC State, where he served as a graduate assistant in 2018.

• After his collegiate career, he signed as a free agent with the NFL Houston Texans.

• He started all 49 games during his career with the Jaguars and Wolfpack.

• He played for the Wolfpack as a graduate transfer center in 2016, starting all 13 games. Scelfo led the team with 51 knockdown blocks and was named the Wolfpack's Most Valuable Offensive Lineman.

• Scelfo transferred to NC State after playing at South Alabama, where he was named first-team All-Sun Belt in 2015.

• The Bogart, Ga., native was an All-State selection at North Oconee High and rated the nation's No. 12 center prospect.

• He is the son of former Tulane head coach Chris Scelfo – a veteran of the profession with more than 30 years in the college and pro ranks.

• Scelfo earned his undergraduate degree from N.C State in 2016.

• He and his wife, Mallory, have one son, Tripp.

Ryan Switzer

Pass Game Coordinator / Wide Receivers Coach

THIRD YEAR

• Ryan Switzer enters the 2025 season as the wide receivers coach and the pass game coordinator at the University of Tulsa. He is currently in his third season at TU.

• The former NFL receiver and return specialist joined The University of Tulsa football coaching staff in January 2023 as wide receiver coach and recruiting coordinator.

• Switzer was named Tulsa's interim head coach

on November 24 and served in that capacity through the remainder of the 2024 season.

• Switzer coached Joseph Williams and Kamdyn Benjamin to American Athletic Conference honors in 2024. Williams became the first player in TU history to be named The American Freshman of the Year.

• Under the guidance of Switzer, Benjamin completed the 2024 season with 70 catches for 822 yards and six touchdowns. He led The American in receptions and was third in yards. Benjamin also had a punt return for a touchdown during the season.

• After retiring from the NFL in July 2022, Switzer joined the coaching ranks.

• A native of Charleston, West Virginia, Switzer made his NFL debut with the Cowboys on Sept. 10, 2017. He was traded to Oakland in the spring of 2018 and then to Pittsburgh before the 2018 campaign. He spent two seasons with the Steelers and one year with Cleveland before announcing his retirement.

• He was the Dallas Cowboys' fourth-round draft choice in 2017 and has also played for the Oakland Raiders, Pittsburgh Steelers, and Cleveland Browns.

• Switzer played collegiately at North Carolina, where he caught 244 passes for 2,907 yards and 19 touchdowns in his four seasons (2013-16). He also returned 99 punts for 1,082 yards and seven TDs.

• In his senior year, Switzer set a school single-season record with 96 receptions for 1,112 yards and scored six touchdowns. He left North Carolina as the school's all-time leader for career receptions (244), career receiving yards (2,907), career punt return yards (1,082), career punt return touchdowns (7), and single-season receptions (96 in 2016). Switzer's seven career punt return TDs was also an ACC record.

• One of the most electrifying players in college football, Switzer received All-America honors as a return specialist during his freshman and junior seasons. He was also a three-time all-AAC selection.

• As a UNC freshman, Switzer led all FBS players in 2013 with an average of 20.9 yards per punt return. He accounted for five punt return touchdowns that year and had 32 receptions for 341 receiving yards and three TDs.

• Switzer earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science and sports administration from North Carolina in 2016.

• Switzer and his wife, Gabie, have two children: a son, Christian, and a daughter, Rowan.

RICK DICKSON
INTERIM PRESIDENT

Rick Dickson, a Tulsa native and University of Tulsa alumnus, began serving as UTulsa's interim president on June 18, 2025. Deeply committed to his alma mater, he twice served as the university's vice president and director of athletics: for four years in the early 1990s and again from 2020 to 2024.

Dickson previously served as athletic director at Washington State University (1994-2000) and at Tulane University (2000-15). At those institutions as well as at UTulsa, he's been a prolific fundraiser and community builder, earning the respect of colleagues, students and university supporters.

Following his retirement in 2016, Dickson formed R.P. Dickson Consulting LLC, which has assisted many universities with multiple projects including Title IX reviews, departmental organization, fundraising and marketing campaigns and facility development.

Dickson serves on the Greenwood Chamber of Commerce Advisory Board, Tulsa Regional Tourism Board of Directors, USTA Collegiate Tennis Committee and Team Gleason Board of Directors, an organization to improve life for people with ALS. Dickson and his wife, Brenda, have four children and eight grandchildren.

JUSTIN MOORE

VICE PRESIDENT & DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Justin Moore is entering his second year as the Vice President and Director of Athletics at The University of Tulsa, looking to build on a record-setting first year that began with his appointment in July 2024.

During his first year at TU, Tulsa Athletics set new standards in academics, athletics and fundraising. In competition, Tulsa teams excelled across the board, with Women's Cross Country and Women's Golf both capturing American Athletic Conference titles, and Men's and Women's Cross Country advancing to the NCAA Championships. Women's Tennis and Women's Golf each earned NCAA Regional berths, and a total of 53 student-athletes were recognized with All-Conference honors. Success extended into the classroom as well as TU student-athletes posted the highest GPA in school history, 11 sports programs earned a perfect APR score and 25 student-athletes were named Academic All-District.

Moore and the development team recorded the highest annual fundraising total in the history of Tulsa Athletics, driven by a record-breaking TU Giving Day, with $757,385 in pledges. In addition to fundraising success, Tulsa also set new records for both licensing royalties and sponsorship revenue.

Along with achieving success in the classroom and setting fundraising records, Moore made key leadership hires across the department. He brought in a new football coaching staff and a new head coach for women's golf. In their first year under Coach Roters, the women's golf team won the American Athletic Conference Championship, and Roters was named American Coach of the Year. Moore also added several new members to the executive staff and serves as a member of the President's Senior Cabinet.

In 2025, Tulsa also announced the reinstatement of the Men's Golf program after a nine-year hiatus, marking the 18th varsity sport at TU. This momentous return was made possible thanks to the generosity of our donors—many of whom are proud alumni who helped build the tradition of Tulsa Men's Golf.

Also in 2025, Tulsa Athletics released the Tulsa Athletics Strategic Plan to position TU Athletics for long-term success and to become the standard of excellence in the American conference. The plan is designed to DEVELOP student-athletes and staff, ENGAGE the community, and WIN championships.

A Houston, Texas, native, Moore arrived at Tulsa after spending much of his career in the Lonestar state. Moore served as the Executive Deputy Athletics Director and Chief Operating Officer at Texas A&M, where he worked alongside the Director of Athletics in directing the overall planning, implementation, administration and day-to-day operations of the athletics department.

Prior to moving into that role in 2022, Moore worked in various other administrative roles at his alma mater, including serving as Deputy Athletics Director for Administration (2019-21), Senior Associate Athletics Director (2016-19) and Associate Athletics Director for Football (2012-15). During his tenure in College Station, Moore had an impact in almost every area of the department, including student-athlete performance and wellness, facilities and event management, fundraising, facility planning and capital projects, academics, compliance, budgeting, team operations and more. He also spearheaded an extensive leadership development program for the athletics department that offered courses and continuing education opportunities for coaches, staff and student-athletes. In addition, he has served as the sport administrator for many of the Aggies' key sports including Football, Men's Basketball, Men's and Women's Track and Field/Cross Country, Men's Golf, and Women's tennis.

In his four seasons as the Aggies' Associate Director for Football, he oversaw every aspect of the football program during one of the most successful periods in its history. From 2012-15, Texas A&M won 36 games, earned a bowl berth every season and produced eight First Team All-Americans, as well as the first freshman Heisman Trophy winner in college football history and the school's first Outland Trophy recipient. In addition, the team's multi-year Academic Progress Rate (APR) and overall team grade point average were both the highest in program history and football student-athletes earned close to 100 SEC Academic Honor Roll citations.

As the Associate Director for Football, Moore oversaw personnel and staffing, the departmental budget, recruiting, team logistics, bowl game coordination, day-to-day operations and football-related facility projects, which included the design process for the Davis Player Development Center, the R.C. Slocum Nutrition Center and Bright Football Complex Renovation, and worked closely with the 12th Man Foundation on the $485 million Kyle Field Redevelopment project.

Moore returned to Texas A&M in 2012 after spending four years at the University of Houston as the Assistant Athletics Director for Football. In his time with the Cougars, the team won the most games in any four-year period in school history and earned a pair of Conference USA West Division titles.

FORMER WALK-ON KIRK FRANCIS LED ALL TULSA QUARTERBACKS FOR YARDS AND TOUCHDOWNS IN 2024

GAME 1: Tulsa 62, Northwestern State 28

Aug. 29, 2024 • H.A. Chapman Stadium
Attendance: 16,483

TULSA, Okla. — Another football season opener is in the books as the Golden Hurricane roared past Northwestern State 62-28 in front of 16,483 fans Thursday night at H.A. Chapman Stadium.

Redshirt freshman quarterback Kirk Francis earned the starting nod and did not disappoint, tossing 299 yards and four touchdowns to three receivers on 23-of-30 passing. He spread the wealth, finding 10 different receivers on the evening.

Kamdyn Benjamin was the favorite target, with five receptions on seven targets for 65 yards and the season's first touchdown midway through the first quarter. On Tulsa's next touch of the ball, he'd give the Hurricane its first lead with an electric 66-yard touchdown return. Zion Steptoe didn't find the endzone but pulled down five passes of his own for 88 yards in his TU debut.

Ten Tulsa rushers combined for 323 yards on the night with two surpassing 50 yards. True freshman running back Lloyd Avant led the way with 64 yards on 11 carries. Avant added a brilliant 100-yard kickoff return early in the fourth quarter and finished the night with 191 yards of total offense. Redshirt junior Bill Jackson followed in rushing with 53 yards. Running back Anthony Watkins, quarterback Cardell Williams and wide receiver Braylin Presley each found the endzone on the ground.

Tulsa amassed a staggering 622 yards of offense on Thursday night, picking up an average of 8.8 yards per play. The defense did its part on the other side of the ball, holding NSU to 226 yards of total offense. Heading into the fourth, the Hurricane defense had allowed just 129 yards, 55 through the air and 74 on the ground.

GAME 2: Arkansas State 28, Tulsa 24

Sept. 7, 2024 • Centennial Bank Stadium
Attendance: 19,316

JONESBORO, Ark. — The Arkansas State Red Wolves held off the Tulsa offense in the fourth quarter to beat the Golden Hurricane 28-24 in front of more than 19,000 fans at Centennial Bank Stadium on Saturday evening.

Tulsa falls to 1-1 on the season, while Arkansas State improves to 2-0 following back-to-back games to the wire.

Kirk Francis got the majority of snaps in week two, throwing 16-of-28 for 199 yards, a touchdown and one interception. Cardell Williams threw one pass, but also found success on the ground, taking it in from five yards out on his lone carry. Cooper Legas entered the game, but did not rush or throw a pass.

Kamdyn Benjamin was the main target, recording 131 of the 199 yards through the air Tulsa totaled. Zion Steptoe had three receptions for 18 yards and Luke McGary caught a pass for 18 yards. Eight different receivers caught a pass on Saturday.

For the second consecutive week, freshman Lloyd Avant led the Hurricane in rushing, gaining 61 yards on 14 carries. Anthony Watkins 46 yards and a touchdown on 12 carries. Bill Jackson had a 37-yard run en route to 42 yards on the evening.

Keuan Parker and Dayne Hodge led the Hurricane in tackling with nine stops each. Hodge added an interception in the contest. Gavin Potter had eight tackles and 1.5 TFL in his return to Jonesboro. Tai Newhouse also had eight. Tyree Carlisle picked up Tulsa's lone sack.

GAME 3: #13 Oklahoma State 45, Tulsa 10

Sept. 14, 2023 • H.A. Chapman Stadium
Attendance: 30,915

TULSA, Okla. — The nation's 13th-ranked Oklahoma State Cowboys cruised to a 45-10 victory over Tulsa in the Gateway Turnpike Classic Saturday afternoon in front of sellout crowd of 30,915 fans at H.A. Chapman Stadium.

The Cowboys amassed 560 yards of total offense while five of its six touchdowns came through the air as Alex Bowman completed 24-of-31 passes for 396 yards and five scores. The OSU run game only gained 129 yards on the ground.

Tulsa managed 352 total yards with 236 coming through the air and 116 on the ground. Kirk Francis threw for 153 yards, while Kamdyn Benjamin led Tulsa receivers with 94 yards and Anthony Watkins had a team-high 40 rushing yards. Dayne Hodge led the Tulsa defense with 11 tackles as the unit held last year's NCAA leading rusher Ollie Gordon to just 41 yards on 17 carries.

OSU scored 28 unanswered first-half points, all coming on pass plays, while holding a 326 to 187-yard advantage in total yards. The Cowboys added 17 second-half points, while the OSU defense limited the Hurricane to just 10 fourth-quarter points.

GAME 4: Tulsa 23, La. Tech 20 (OT)

Sept. 21, 2024 • Joe Aillet Stadium
Attendance: 18,152

RUSTON, La. — Myles Jackson and Owen Ostroski made the big play on defense, and Seth Morgan drilled the game-winning field goal as the Golden Hurricane outlasted Louisiana Tech 23-20 in overtime of Tulsa's nonconference finale on Saturday night.

In front of 18,152 fans at Joe Aillet Stadium, the Tulsa defense came up with a key turnover on the second play of overtime. Jackson broke through the right side of the line and put a big hit on the unaware quarterback, knocking the ball lose. Ostroski scooped the ball in stride and took off for the endzone. He shed a tackle attempt and dived for the pylon, seemingly getting in, but after review was judged short and the Golden Hurricane offense would need to score to win.

Bill Jackson took the first carry 17 yards down to the eight. After a second play lost six yards, the Hurricane centered the ball and took a knee, putting the game on the foot of Morgan, who had just knocked a 45-yard field goal through to send the game to overtime. Again, the graduate transfer came through, connecting from 34 yards and sending the Hurricane home with a win.

Tulsa amassed 333 yards of offense on the day. Kirk Francis threw for 228 yards on 24 completions with a touchdown and no interceptions. On the ground, the Hurricane picked up 105, with Anthony Watkins grinding out a team-best 63 yards on 10 carries, which included a 30-yard touchdown run. Jackson had 36 yards on the ground, while three others had carries.

GAME 5: North Texas 52, Tulsa 20

Sept. 28, 2024 • DATCU Stadium
Attendance: 18,529

DENTON, Texas — North Texas pulled away to beat the University of Tulsa 52-20 in The American opener for both teams inside DATCU Stadium on Saturday night.

Tulsa (2-3, 0-1 The American) held the Mean Green (4-1, 1-0 The American) scoreless for the first 20 minutes of the ballgame, before the hosts rattled off 24 points in the final five minutes of the first half. North Texas scored three touchdowns in the third quarter to extend its streak to 45 straight points, taking a commanding lead.

Tulsa's two touchdowns came in the fourth quarter. Cooper Legas found Jack Wright from 18 yards out with 7:29 remaining. Freshman quarterback Tim Carpenter tossed his first career touchdown, finding Connor Vaughn with six seconds remaining in the ballgame.

Seth Morgan was good on both field goal attempts, a 22-yard field goal early in the second quarter, and a 45-yarder with 12:47 to play, to round out Tulsa's scoring.

The Hurricane amassed 415 yards of offense on Saturday, 186 through the air and 229 on the ground.

GAME 6: Army 49, Tulsa 7

Oct. 5, 2024 • H.A. Chapman Stadium
Attendance: 24,409

TULSA, Okla. — The Army Black Knights made a big impression in its first-ever visit to H.A. Chapman Stadium with a 49-7 victory over Tulsa in front of 24,409 fans on a hot Saturday afternoon.

Army improved to 5-0 overall and 4-0 in its first season in the American Athletic Conference, while Tulsa fell to 2-4 and 0-2 in league play.

The nation's leading rushing team used its passing game early to establish a 21-7 halftime lead, while its ground game got going in the second half. Army passed for 140 first-half yards and got back to its normal offensive-style with 249 rushing yards in the second half.

After Tulsa knotted the score at 7-7 in the first quarter and held Army on their next possession, the Black Knights scored on their next six possessions, two in the second period, three in the third and one in the fourth quarter for what would be the eventual final score of 49-7.

The Black Knights ended the contest with 481 total yards including 321 on the ground and 160 through the air, while Tulsa was held to a season-low 268 yards. The Hurricane did control possession time by nearly 10 minutes, 34:29 to 25:31.

GAME 7: Temple 20, Tulsa 10

Oct. 19, 2024 • Lincoln Financial Field
Attendance: 18,721

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The Golden Hurricane was unable to dig itself out of an early hole in a 20-10 loss to the Temple Owls in front of 18,721 fans at Lincoln Financial Field on Saturday afternoon.

On its homecoming day the Owls jumped ahead to establish a 17-0 halftime lead as the Tulsa offense struggled to get going. The Hurricane accumulated just 88 yards of total offense in the first two quarters, while Temple amassed 242.

The Hurricane came out with a renewed energy in the third quarter, shutting down the Owls and scoring a touchdown and kicking a field goal on its two possessions to cut the deficit to 17-10 entering the fourth. Temple connected on another field goal to extend the lead to two scores at 20-10 early in the fourth, which would serve as the final score as Tulsa failed to respond.

The Owls finished with 397 yards of total offense, including 316 through the air and 81 on the ground, the lowest rushing total by a TU opponent this season. The Golden Hurricane amassed 245 yards, collecting 175 through the air and a season-low 75 on the ground.

Quarterback Kirk Francis was the second QB in the game for Tulsa on Saturday but led the Hurricane with 153 yards and a season-long 63-yard touchdown while connecting on 11-of-23 passes with an interception. Cooper Legas earned the start and had 17 yards through the air and 21 on the ground. Temple's Evan Simon was the game's leading passer, completing 30-of-46 attempts for 297 yards and a touchdown with one pick.

GAME 8: Tulsa 46, UTSA 45

Oct. 26, 2024 • H.A. Chapman Stadium
Attendance: 17,439

TULSA, Okla. — Tulsa overcame an 18-point fourth quarter deficit for a 46-45 win over the UTSA Roadrunners Saturday afternoon in front of a Homecoming crowd of 17,439 fans at H.A. Chapman Stadium.

The win snapped a three-game losing streak and improved the Hurricane record to 3-5 overall and 1-3 in American Athletic Conference play.

Tulsa trailed 35-7 at halftime and was behind 42-24 heading into the fourth period. The Hurricane outscored the visiting Roadrunners 39-10 in the second half for its second biggest comeback in school history and the largest fourth quarter come-from-behind victory since the 1995 season. Tulsa trailed Fresno State 31-0 in the second quarter of a 2016 game and came back from a 23-3 deficit with just over six minutes remaining in a 1995 home matchup over Oklahoma State.

Cooper Legas, who entered the game at quarterback in the second quarter, completed 16-of-31 passes for 333 yards and a career-best five touchdowns. Kamdyn Benjamin ended the game with seven receptions for 125 yards and three TDs, covering 74, 20 yards and the game-winning four-yard reception.

Tulsa came alive in the second half as the Hurricane outscored the Roadrunners 39-10 in the final 30 minutes. Tulsa gained 333 total yards in the second half with 264 coming through the air and 57 yards on the ground, while the Hurricane defense held UTSA to negative one-yard rushing and 183 passing yards after halftime.

GAME 9: UAB 59, Tulsa 21

Nov. 2, 2024 • Protective Field
Attendance: 17,944

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The host UAB Blazers had a dominating first half in a 59-21 victory over the Golden Hurricane Saturday afternoon at Protective Stadium.

UAB scored on its first two possessions for a 14-0 lead and ended the first 15 minutes with a 21-0 lead enroute to a 45-7 halftime lead. The Blazers put up 537 yards, while passing for 424 yards and a TU opponent record seven touchdowns.

The win snapped a six-game losing streak for the Blazers and improved their record to 2-6 overall and 1-4 in American Athletic Conference play.

Despite the early deficit, the young Tulsa team (3-6, 1-4 AAC) with 24 true freshmen on the trip, showed no quit. After being outgained by 119 yards in the first half, the Hurricane put up 231 second-half yards to UAB's 226. Cooper Legas completed 21-of-31 passes for 230 yards and two touchdowns, while true freshman Joseph Williams pulled in six of those passes for 112 yards and one TD

Fellow true freshman Viron Ellison Jr. led the ground game with a season-best 73 yards on 12 carries.

For the home team, quarterback Jalen Kitna threw for 404 yards and six touchdowns, while receiver/return specialist Kam Shanks totaled 311 all-purpose yards and four TDs with 153 receiving yards, 139 return yards and 19 rushing yards on the day.

GAME 11: South Florida 63, Tulsa 30

Nov. 23, 2024 • Raymond James Stadium
Attendance: 27,623

TAMPA, Fla. — The USF Bulls (6-5, 4-3 AAC) jumped out to a strong start and clinched bowl eligibility with a 63-30 win over Tulsa (3-8, 1-6 AAC) Saturday afternoon in front of 27,623 fans at Raymond James Stadium.

It was a game that saw the offenses combine for 93 points and 1,193 total yards. Tulsa had two plays from scrimmage over 70 yards, including a 77-yard Anthony Watkins run and a 72-yard Kirk Francis pass to Joseph Williams, while Hurricane also had two 60+ yard kickoff returns with Braylin Presley taking one 84 yards and Lloyd Avant 63.

USF gained 715 yards of total offense with 308 rushing and 407 passing yards. Tulsa tallied 478 yards with 223 on the ground and 255 passing. Tulsa's Watkins had 101 rushing yards and Joseph Williams led the way with 126 receiving yards.

USF finished the first half with 454 total yards, including 265 passing and 189 yards on the ground. Tulsa's offense managed 218 yards with 147 rushing yards.

In the second half, the Bulls scored the only points in the third period before the teams combined for 37 points in the final quarter with Tulsa scoring three touchdowns and converting two two-point conversions for 23 points.

Tulsa took the second-half kickoff to the USF 11-yard line after a 63-yard kickoff return by Avant, but the Bulls ended Tulsa's hopes for a score with an interception in the end zone. Tulsa's Elijah Green intercepted a USF pass, but Tulsa gave it right back to the Bulls with a pickoff on the first play.

AMERICAN CONFERENCE

NAVY MAKES FIRST TRIP TO TULSA AFTER JOINING THE AMERICAN IN 2024

THE AMERICAN CONFERENCE

The American Conference, which has established itself as a preeminent NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision conference, is poised to continue its remarkable ascension to national prominence under the leadership of Commissioner Tim Pernetti, who began his tenure in May of 2024.

The American consists of 15 prestigious institutions: the University of Alabama at Birmingham, the United States Military Academy (in football only), the University of North Carolina Charlotte, East Carolina University, Florida Atlantic University, the University of Memphis, the United States Naval Academy (in football only), the University of North Texas, Rice University, the University of South Florida, Temple University, the University of Texas at San Antonio, Tulane University, the University of Tulsa, and Wichita State University (in basketball and Olympic sports).

The American has fashioned an impressive list of accomplishments in the competitive arena, in the classroom and in support of student-athlete welfare. The American stands as one of the elite Division I conference thanks to its collection of national team and individual championships, its football and basketball postseason victories, its expansive media rights contract with ESPN, and its commitment to providing the highest levels of support for student-athletes.

Built on a foundation of innovation, grit and service, the American has taken a number of steps to position the conference favorably ahead of transformational change in intercollegiate athletics. The American became the first conference to establish league-wide minimum investment and revenue sharing protocols to provide financial benefits to student-athletes. Iin 2025, the conference launched American RISE Ventures, a first-of-its-kind business division to lead all aspects of revenue generation, sponsorship strategy, brand partnerships and commercial innovation.

With the addition of Army to the conference ranks in 2024, the American has an institutional presence in five of the top 10, eight of the top 25 and 13 of the top 51 Nielsen media markets.

The league has produced four NCAA championship teams in addition to a College Football Playoff semifinalist, four New Year's Six bowl champions, two NCAA Men's Final Four participants, six Women's Final Four teams, an NIT champion, 16 NCAA individual championships, and a Rhodes Scholar. Additionally, American teams have advanced to the College World Series, qualified for the match play round of the NCAA Men's Golf Championship and registered multiple top-10 finishes at the NCAA Cross Country and Outdoor Track and Field championships.

The American has seen a member school claim a spot in a New Year's Six bowl eight times in the league's first 12 football seasons, including the 2022 campaign, when Tulane capped the biggest one-year turnaround in major college football history with a thrilling win against USC in the Goodyear Cotton Bowl Classic.

Individual teams in the American have enjoyed some of their best football seasons in program history as members of the conference. Tulane went 12-2 and earned a top-10 final ranking in 2022. Navy won a program-record 11 games in 2015, its first season in the conference, matched that mark with its 2019 campaign and finished with 10 wins in 2025. Memphis, which had not won 10 games in a season since 1938, has registered four 10-win seasons in the last 10 years (2015, 2017, 2019, 2024), including a school-record 12 wins in 2019. Army set a program record with 12 wins in its first season in 2024, its first season in the American. Temple enjoyed its first 10-win season in school history in 2015. South Florida finished in the top 25 for the first two times in program history (2016, 2017). Tulsa returned to the top 25 for the first time in 11 years in 2020. East Carolina earned a top-20 ranking in 2014.

Since the conference's reconstitution in 2013-14, teams from the American have registered top-10 national rankings in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer, women's soccer, women's lacrosse, men's golf, women's rowing, men's tennis, women's tennis, men's cross country, men's track and field, and women's track and field.

American student-athletes have distinguished themselves in all facets of intercollegiate athletics. Memphis quarterback Brady White was the 2020 winner of the National Football Foundation's James V. Campbell Trophy as the top scholar-athlete in college football. Temple linebacker Tyler Matakevich won the Bednarik Award and the Nagurski Trophy as the nation's top defensive player in 2015, while Tulsa linebacker Zaven Collins repeated that feat in 2020. The American has had six top-10 Heisman Trophy finishes including Navy quarterback Keenan Reynolds, who was fifth in 2015, and Army's Bryson Daily, who was sixth in 2024. Reynolds was also selected as the winner of the 2016 AAU James E. Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete.

Additionally, South Florida star Georgina Corrick was the Division I softball Academic All-America of the Year in 2022, while Tulsa cross country standout Kirk Smith was chosen as a Rhodes Scholar in the fall of 2016.

American alumni have made their mark in professional and international sports as well. A number of our athletes have been selected in the first round of the professional entry drafts in football, basketball, baseball and soccer, including former Memphis center James Wiseman, who was the No. 2 pick in the 2020 NBA Draft, and former Wichita State third-baseman Alec Bohm, the No. 3 selection in the 2018 Major League Baseball Draft. Former Memphis tennis player Joe Salisbury, a 2014 all-conference selection, has gone on to win six Grand Slam championships in men's doubles and mixed doubles.

The American announced a lucrative and comprehensive media rights extension with ESPN in May of 2019, providing the conference with a stronger and more extensive presence on ESPN's primary television networks (ABC, ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU). Since the extension took effect in the 2020-21 academic year, a minimum of 40 regular-season football telecasts and 60 regular-season men's basketball games per season will appear on those primary networks. Nearly every conference-controlled game in all sports will appear either on an ESPN network or on ESPN+.

The first 10 American Football Championships were televised by ABC as part of Championship Weekend. Subsequent championship games will appear on either ABC or ESPN through the duration of the current contract, including the 2025 game, which will air in Friday prime time on ABC.

Away from the competitive arena, the American has established itself as a leader in the area of student-athlete wellness, both through the adoption of NCAA autonomous legislation on matters including full cost of attendance and nutrition. The American's Academic Symposium annually features scholars and students engaged in collaborative research related to student-athlete well-being. The conference, in conjunction with its Student-Athlete Advisory Committee has also launched the Powerful Minds campaign to improve awareness and education on mental health issues and recognize the scholarly achievements of the conference's student-athletes.

HISTORY

TULSA HAS FOUR PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAMERS — JIM FINKS, STEVE LARGENT, DREW PEARSON AND BOB ST. CLAIR

1895: THE LEGACY BEGINS

The legacy of Tulsa football began when the Bacone School for Indians and Henry Kendall College, which later became The University of Tulsa, did battle in 1895. It was one of the first football games in the Indian Territory and the game caused a lot of excitement within the student bodies of each school as well as the citizens of the Territory.

People in Indian Territory were excited by the prospects of having football in the area, but no one really understood how the game was played. The Kendall team didn't even actually have a coach in that first season. A young transfer student from Springfield, Missouri, named Norman Leard stepped up to the task.

Although there was no score recorded, Kendall College won the only game the team played that year.

Football struggled to gain its prominence at the college. The college played only 55 games between 1900 and 1910. No teams were fielded in 1907 and 1911.

Kendall College's reappearance on the collegiate football scene in 1912 came at a time when the game itself was becoming modernized. New rules altered the game. Offenses were allowed four downs to make 10 yards. The length of the playing field was reduced from 110 to 100 yards, and most importantly, the 20-yard limit on forward passes was removed.

By 1914, the resurrection of Kendall College football was in full swing and two men helped spur that along. Sam McBirney, a Tulsa banker, and Francis Schmidt came on the scene. In 1914, McBirney led the team to a 7-2 record with five shutout victories, and followed that season with a 6-1-1 record in 1915.

It wasn't just McBirney who jump-started the football program. Ivan Grove, who was one player instrumental in building the the Kendall football program, was the key to undefeated seasons of 1916 and 1919. He quarterbacked the Presbyterians from 1914 through 1916, and again in 1919.

During the 1916 season, Grove and receivers Virgil Jones and Madison "Puny" Blevins developed the controversial "tower play". The play called for Jones and Blevins to sprint down field, Blevins would stop, lift Jones onto his shoulders, and Grove would toss the ball to Jones. At that time, there were no rules against such a play But it only worked once for the Kendallites in a 117-0 thrashing of Missouri School of Mines.

That was the type of domination Kendall experienced in 1916. The season ended with Kendall producing an undefeated 10-0 record, and laying claim to the unofficial title of "state champions."

While the team turned in their uniforms that season, a few Tulsa businessmen wanted one more game for the Kendall team, against the fabulous Irish of Notre Dame. How close Kendall came to playing Notre Dame in the finale of the 1916 season probably will never be known, but a definite move was underway with some of the town's wealthiest oilmen reportedly backing the promotion.

Prior to the 1917 season, McBirney went back to his bank, and Schmidt, an assistant coach under McBirney, went to fight in World War I, as did a number of players. As a result, the 1917 season was a rough one for Kendall College.

Hal Medford took the coaching reins, but enrollment dropped drastically as did the male population. With only two varsity players available, Medford took the initiative to recruit players from Kendall Academy to fill the roster. The team had many weak areas and Medford had a hard time finding players to strengthen those areas. The team went without a win, thus it was called "the season that fell victim to the Kaiser's war."

Tulsa versus Arkansas, 1920.

By 1919, the Presbyterians were back in full force and primed for a comeback. Schmidt came back from the war ready to coach, and McBirney joined him as an assistant coach this time. All the players from previous years were back now, including Grove, and optimism was high.

The team played nine games, but only three were seen as serious threats — Oklahoma, Oklahoma A&M and Arkansas. The powerful Kendall team with Grove, John Young, Benton Springer, Harry Miller and Vergil Jones back in 1919, pummeled its first opponent, Oklahoma Baptist. Kendall scored 22 touchdowns and 20 conversions to amass a 152-0 victory.

Tulsa went on to defeated two of its main rivals, including 27-0 against Oklahoma and a 63-7 victory over Arkansas. Tulsa and Oklahoma A&M tied 7-7.

By the turn of the century, Henry Kendall College was on the map as a team to reckon with on the field.

THE GLORIOUS TWENTIES

Schmidt took Henry Kendall College into the new decade with another undefeated season in 1920, the third such season in the brief history of the school. Kendall outscored its opponents in 1920, 621 to 21 points.

As the decade progressed, changes ranging from coaching to the name of the university itself altered the face of Kendall football.

The first thing to change was the actual name of the university. On February 8, 1921, The University of Tulsa was born. The administration of Kendall College believed that by taking on the name of the city, more support from its citizens would follow. This change was met with immediate increases in donations, thus proving its effectiveness.

Schmidt, who led the 1921 team to a 6-3 record, was preparing for the 1922 season when he was named the head coach at the University of Arkansas.

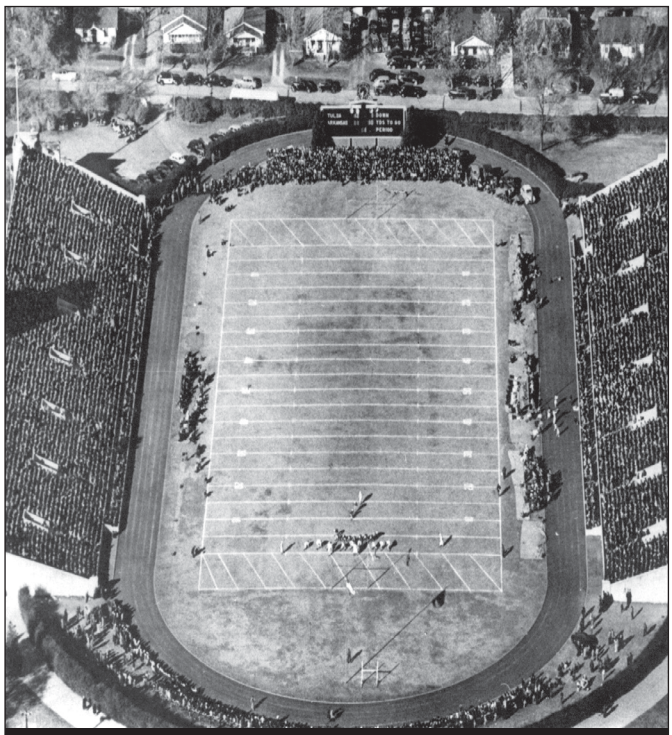

Enter the name Howard Acher. When he took over the position, Acher saw great potential in his team and wanted to publicize it by creating a new identity with a new nickname. Sports writers and others had called the school by any number of names from the Presbyterians to the Orange and Black, to the Kendallites.

After an opening day win against a strong Texas Christian University team in 1922, Acher put his mind to work. The press had claimed that the Kendall football team blew through its opponents like a tornado. So, it figured that Tornadoes, would be the nickname with "golden" added to identify the color of the uniforms. However, it was later found that Georgia Tech had claimed that name, so from tornado it was evolved meteorologically to a hurricane. Thus the squad voted, and the name "Golden Hurricane" became the new team moniker with the gold added because of the jersey color.

TU lived up to its nickname as the Golden Hurricane blew through the Texas A&M defense in the next game with pass after pass from quarterback Rex Thomas. TU won its first game as the Golden Hurricane by a score of 13-10.

A perfect 9-0 record in was followed with two straight losing seasons, and after the 1924 season Acher resigned his position as head coach. His replacement was quite a shock to everyone as Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson was chosen to take over the coaching reins. The selection of Henderson wasn't as much of a surprise as was his acceptance of the offer. He was coming from a program at the University of Southern California where, "one All American was in the game, and his substitute on the bench was an All American." No one could understand why he would leave such a program. But the reason was simple, his lucrative contract at Tulsa.

Known as "Gloomy Gus" because of his pessimism when speaking for publication, he found success easy at Tulsa. He taught his team five new formations, and put the team back on its feet after only three wins over the previous two seasons. His first few seasons resulted in 13 wins and four losses, and by 1927, Golden Hurricane football was well on its way to recovery.

In 1928, prosperity in America and the success of Tulsa football, inspired Henderson to dream of a new stadium. He took his dream to the rich oilmen of Tulsa, and they supported it. A short time later, Henderson saw his dream come true. The University of Tulsa football team had a new home to go along with the new philosophy and nickname.

TULSA FOOTBALL GETS A NEW HOME

The 1930 season saw Coach Henderson's dream of a new home for Tulsa football became a reality. Though the Depression had hit hard, the need for a new stadium was growing by the day.

McNulty Park, the original home of the Golden Hurricane, had become archaic by modern collegiate standards. In actuality, it was a baseball field that only measured 90 yards. This meant teams had to cross the goal line once, place the ball back on the 10 yard line, and cross the goal line again in order to score.

By 1930, the new stadium had been approved and funding for the $300,000 project had been acquired, so there could be no stopping. The stadium was built to hold 15,000 spectators, and the north and south ends were left open for future growth. Capacity now stands at 40,235. The stadium was named after William G. Skelly, a local oilman, who donated $125,000 to the project. The balance was raised by Tulsa businessmen by organizing the Stadium Corporation of Tulsa.

The stadium was dedicated at the 1930 season opener against Arkansas. The Golden Hurricane christened their new home with a 26-6 victory.

One of the mainstays for the Golden Hurricane during this transition was Chet Benefiel who played from 1928 to 1931. The halfback's exploits on the field was said to have spurred the support for TU football that resulted in the building of Skelly Field. Benefiel earned honorable mention All-America honors in 1930, and captained two teams. He was Oklahoma Back of the Year in 1929, and was selected to the All-Oklahoma team in 1929 and 1930.

As the Hurricane adapted to its new surroundings, the team's prosperity grew. Henderson's 1933 team was the highlight of the decade.

The Golden Hurricane played seven games that season, posting victories over rivals Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas. The Hurricane also soundly beat Oklahoma Central, Washburn and George Washington. The lone setback TU suffered was at the hands of Texas A&M. Wins over such strong competition caused the team of 1933 to be called one of the best in Tulsa football history.

When Henderson decided to leave his coaching post in 1935, TU went in search of a successor. What they found was yet another Rose Bowl champion coach from Southern Methodist University named Vic Hurt. At first, Hurt didn't accept the position, but with some persuasive recruiting talk and a visit to campus, he accepted.

Hurt's tenure lasted three seasons and after the 1938 season, he stepped down to take the head coaching post at Kansas.

Former TU player Chet Benefiel moved up from his freshman coaching position to be Hurt's successor, In 1940, Benefiel led the Hurricane to share the Missouri Valley Conference Championship in 1940. However, his contract was not renewed for the next season. As a result, Tulsa hired Henry Frnka who would lead the Hurricane through one of the most successful decades in Tulsa football history.

TULSA GOES TO FIVE STRAIGHT NEW YEARS DAY BOWL GAMES — THE FIRST SCHOOL TO ACCOMPLISH THAT FEAT

The 1940s saw great development in the strength and notoriety of the University of Tulsa Golden Hurricane. Players like Glenn Dobbs, Sax Judd, Bobby Jack Stuart and N.A. Keithley, combined with the coaching of Frnka meant five straight bowl berths. Tulsa became the first school to go to five straight New Years Day Bowl Games, starting with the Sun Bowl on January 1, 1942. Two Sugar Bowls, the Orange Bowl and Oil Bowl followed.

Frnka brought a fervent love of the game and a strong desire to learn as much as he could about the game to Tulsa. He built a national football powerhouse en route to a career record of 40-9-2 in his five years.

The bowl appearances began in 1941 as the Hurricane posted a 7-2 regular season record. By early December, there had been no talk of a bowl bid for the Hurricane. A 13-6 loss to Arkansas seemed to have dashed any bowl dreams the team may have had. However, on December 4, word came that TU had in fact been invited to the Sun Bowl to play Texas Tech in El Paso, Texas on January 1, 1942.

Tech was favored in the game, but that fact did not intimidate the Hurricane. As the waning minutes of the game approached and the game still scoreless, Dobbs connected with Judd who fell over the goal line for the games only points. Tulsa emerged victorious from its first bowl game.

Tulsa's bowl dynasty gained strength in 1942. At the end of the regular season, the Hurricane had the only perfect record in college football going at 10-0.

It had been rumored that the Hurricane was in line for the Rose Bowl, but when the invitation came, it was from New Orleans and the Sugar Bowl. Tulsa's opponent would be Tennessee.

Tulsa struck first in that January 1, 1943 game. On TU's second possession, Dobbs went to work picking apart the Vols' defense to put the Hurricane on top 6-0. As the game went on, TU saw its lead dissipate. The Volunteers pulled to within one point just before halftime.

A safety and another Tennessee touchdown in the second half gave the Vols a 14-7 victory, and ending Tulsa's hope of going 11-0 on the season and being able to claim the nation's number one ranking. Tulsa ended the season 10-1 and ranked fourth in the nation.

The 1943 season saw Tulsa receive a second straight invitation to the Sugar Bowl. This time the opponent would be Georgia Tech.

After the Tulsa offense failed to gain a first down, Clyde LeForce faked a field goal and threw the ball to Ed Shedlosky for a 6-0 Tulsa lead on the first Hurricane possession. At the start of the second quarter, TU struck again on a Jimmy Ford 76-yard touchdown run putting TU in command 12-0. Then, the Yellow Jackets got on the scoreboard making it a 12-7 game. By halftime the score stood at 18-7.

Ellis Jones, a one armed guard, was named as a Football All American in 1948.

As the second half began, the Yellow Jackets began a comeback that broke the backs of the Hurricane. Tech quickly scored a touchdown to bring the score to 18-13. A 78-yard drive hammered the final nail in the Hurricane's coffin as the game ended in a 20-18 heartbreaking defeat.

As the next season took shape, TU was looking good for a fourth straight bowl game. Tulsa's wish came true when the Hurricane received word that they'd have a chance to avenge the previous year's bowl loss to Georgia Tech. This time Tulsa would face Tech in the Orange Bowl on January 1, 1945.

Tulsa scored two first quarter touchdowns and added a third TD in the third quarter before Tech was able to get on the scoreboard. Tech had a third period score and each team scored once more in the final quarter, as Tulsa held on for a 26-14 win.

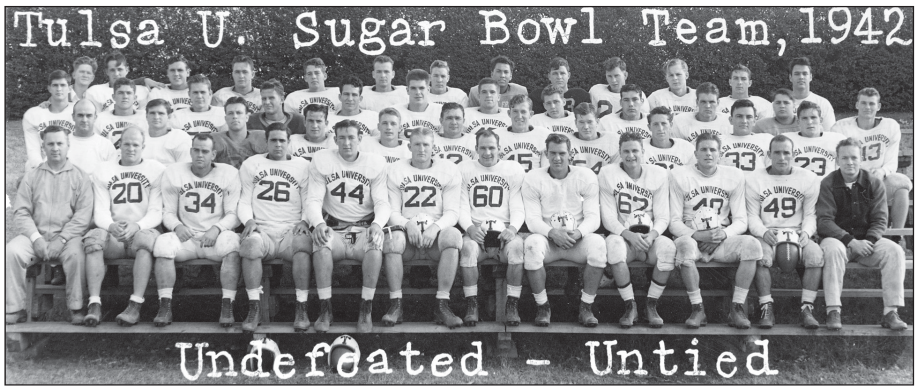

Coming off that bowl victory, TU was hungry for another, and that hunger grew as the 1945 season began. Hopes of another big bowl appearance were strong, but setbacks near the end of the season deflated those hopes somewhat. However, Tulsa impressed the Oil Bowl selection committee enough with a 20-18 win over Hondo Air Base in the regular season finale to earn a bowl bid. Thus, the Golden Hurricane found itself in its fifth straight bowl game playing Georgia.

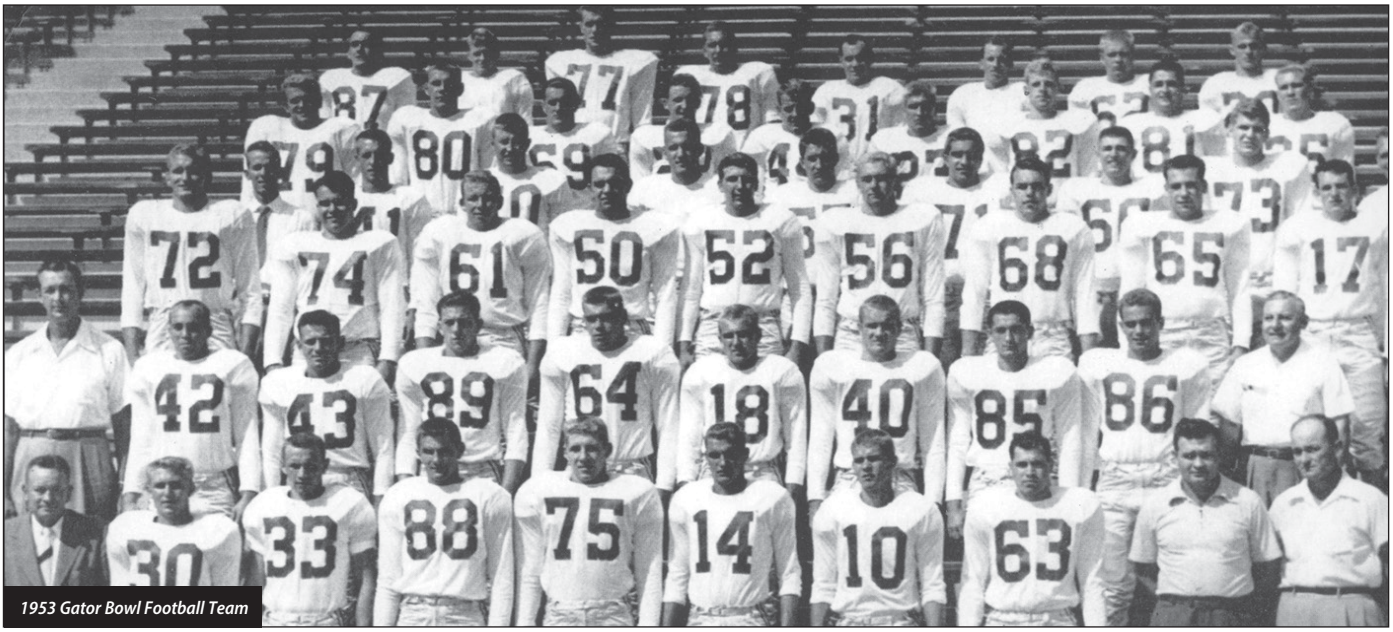

The Oil Bowl game was close throughout, as each team capitalized on turnovers and the score stayed 7-6 until the fourth quarter, when the Bulldogs scored 13 of their 20 points in that quarter. Tulsa came out on the short end of a 20-6 battle.

Although that loss ended Tulsa's bowl appearances for a time, the accomplishment of having gone to five straight bowl games put The University of Tulsa on the college football map. The Frnka era also ended with the Oil Bowl game. But, his contributions to Tulsa kept alive a tradition of quality football that ranks with some of the best in the country that carried into the 1950s.

THE BOWL LEGACY CONTINUES

J.O. "Buddy" Brothers moved into the head coaching position in 1946 and took the Hurricane program into the 1950s, but not before posting a 9-1 record in 1946. Tulsa hit a low point in 1948 with an 0-9-1 record, but two years later Tulsa bounced back with a 9-1-1 mark in 1950.

The highlight of the 1950s was Tulsa's visit to the Gator Bowl following the 1952 season where they met a strong Florida team. That season, the Hurricane posted an 8-2-1 record as TU renewed their bowl tradition.

Several players played key roles in the success of that 1952 team. Of course, it all started with inspiration from Coach Brothers, who was born with no left hand. He inspired his players with his courage and determination not to allow his handicap to get in the way. Tom Ham, a player for Brothers on that 1952 team, once said "coach Brothers showed his toughness every day at practice." His toughness spurred the Hurricane to success in 1952.

Coach Brothers was voted Missouri Valley Coach of the Year in 1949 and 1951. His Hurricane teams had a career record of 26-5-1, winning two Missouri Valley Conference championships.

Tulsa was also blessed with exceptional talent in 1952. Tommy Hudspeth, Marvin Matuszak and Howard Waugh were tri-captains. Hudsepth was a strong defensive back for the Hurricane and was selected to the All-Oklahoma decade football team of the 1950s.

Matuszak, hailed as one of the best linemen in Tulsa history, was the first Hurricane player to twice be named first team All-America. Waugh was a record-setting running back. He led the nation in rushing with 1,372 yards and averaging 6.8 yards per rush.

These three men led a strong Hurricane team into the Florida game. From the time the Hurricane took the field against Florida in the Gator Bowl, they knew they were in for a battle. Florida scored the first time they had the ball, and again on a 37-yard pass play in the second quarter.

When TU took the field for the second half, the Hurricane constructed a drive of 73 yards for their first score pulling the Hurricane within a touchdown at 14-7. Tulsa's second scoring drive covered 46 yards, capped by Waugh leaping into the end zone after the Hurricane recovered a fumble at the Gators' 46-yard line. However, Tom Miner's PAT went wide left leaving Florida with a one-point lead, 14-13.

TU had one final scoring opportunity after another Florida fumble with six minutes remaining in the game. The Hurricane traveled to the Gators' 4-yard line, but had to settle for a field goal attempt that missed, allowing Florida to hold on for a 14-13 victory. Although Tulsa lost that bowl game, the 1952 team and those previous to it had some of the best players in Tulsa history.

PASSING WAS THE NAME OF THE GAME IN THE 1960s

As the 1960s took shape, Glenn Dobbs became the head football coach at his alma mater in 1961. Dobbs revitalized Tulsa's passing attack making the Hurricane offense a threat whenever it took the field. Tulsa led the nation in passing for five straight seasons — 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965 and 1966.

Although the 1963 season produced only a 5-5 record, Tulsa's offense, spearheaded by quarterback Jerry Rhome, averaged 199.3 yards passing per contest.

Until 1964, college football was dominated by running attacks. The nation saw Tulsa's vaunted offensive attack in 1964 as the best passing team the nation had ever seen.

For 30 years teams avoided passing the ball because they thought running the ball was a better way to play the game.

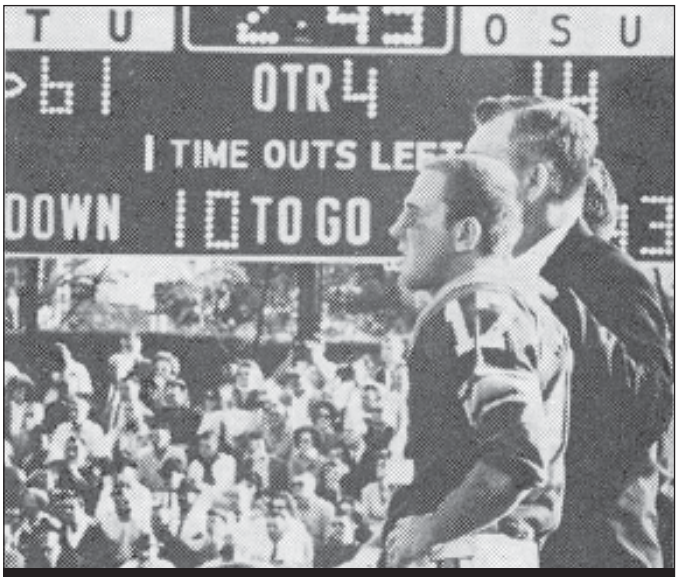

What took years for college football to develop, Rhome and company obliterated in two years. In 1964, the Rhome-Twilley connection broke 20 NCAA records for total offense, passing, receiving and scoring. The notoriety those impressive statistical numbers gave the two Hurricane standouts helped lead them to back-to-back Heisman Trophy runner-up finishes, Rhome in 1964 and Twilley in 1965.

Lineman Marvin Matuszak (1951) was Tulsa's first two-time All-American.

Billy Guy Anderson passes for a school record 502 yards in a 48-20 win over Colorado State.

Heavy underdogs heading into the 1964 rivalry game with Oklahoma State, Jerry Rhome led Tulsa to a 61-14 victory.

Dobbs obviously didn't believe in the ground attack philosophy. He was one of the Hurricane's most prolific passers himself, so it's no wonder he brought his aerial philosophy back to Tulsa. Under Dobbs' guidance, the Hurricane offense passed 52 percent of the time, well above the 29 percent Tulsa's opponents were averaging.

Behind that strong offense, the 1964 team won all but two regular season games leaving the Hurricane with an 8-2 record and an invitation to the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, Texas to face Mississippi.

In that game, Tulsa dominated with its passing game as the Hurricane came from behind to re-establish themselves as a strong bowl team by winning 14-7, and finishing the season with a 9-2 mark.

The 1965 season saw a quarterback named Billy Guy Anderson rise up to lead the Hurricane. It wasn't long before Anderson started breaking the records Rhome had set the year before. Anderson was the nation's leading passer as he took Tulsa to yet another Bluebonnet Bowl.

Twilley was more of a threat than ever as he put his team and NCAA records of the previous year to shame. He caught 134 passes for 1,779 yards and 16 touchdowns in 1965, and came up just short in the Heisman Trophy balloting, as did Rhome the year before, finishing second to USC's Mike Garrett.

The Golden Hurricane went into the Bluebonnet Bowl against Tennessee with an 8-2 record hoping to repeat the success of its previous Bluebonnet Bowl appearance. However, things were rough for the Hurricane this time, as Tulsa could cross the Volunteers' 20-yard line only twice.

Tennessee jumped out to a 14-0 lead as they capitalized on two Tulsa fumbles. They also returned a punt for a third score, and turned an interception into their fourth score. The volunteers put the game out of reach on their last touchdown in the third quarter. Tennessee won the game 27-6.

In the 1960s, Tulsa took the collegiate passing game to a level never seen before. The Hurricane averaged nearly 318 yards in 1964, and increased that average to 346 yards a year later. Under the tutelage of Dobbs, it was Rhome, Anderson and Twilley who helped revolutionize the way college football was played.

NFL TALENT FLOURISHES

The 1970s continued the wealth of talent going through the Hurricane program and entering the professional ranks. Some of the players Tulsa turned out that decade went into the NFL and became legends of the game. Names like Steve Largent and Drew Pearson went on to successful careers in the NFL.

When F.A. Dry took over as head coach at mid-season 1972, replacing Claude Gibson after six games, he was faced with the immediate challenge of creating an understanding of his philosophy. That philosophy. He believed that strong organization was key the to a successful team.

From the moment Dry took the helm, things began to improve for the Hurricane. His first game came the night after he accepted the head coaching position. Before that game, TU had gone 1-5, but upset Louisville and won its final two games to post a 3-2 record under Dry, and 4-7 on the year. It would be the only year during Dry's four-and-a-half year tenure, that the Hurricane would suffer a losing season. A year later, Dry led Tulsa to a 6-5 record and first place in the Missouri Valley Conference.

The 1976 season was the highlight of the Dry Era as he coached the team to a 7-4 record, a Missouri Valley Conference championship, and a berth in the first Independence Bowl where the Hurricane faced McNeese State University.

Things looked promising for the Hurricane at first as they constructed a 65-yard drive capped by a Thomas Bailey one-yard jaunt into the end zone for the first TU score, but at halftime, Tulsa clung to a slight 7-6 lead.

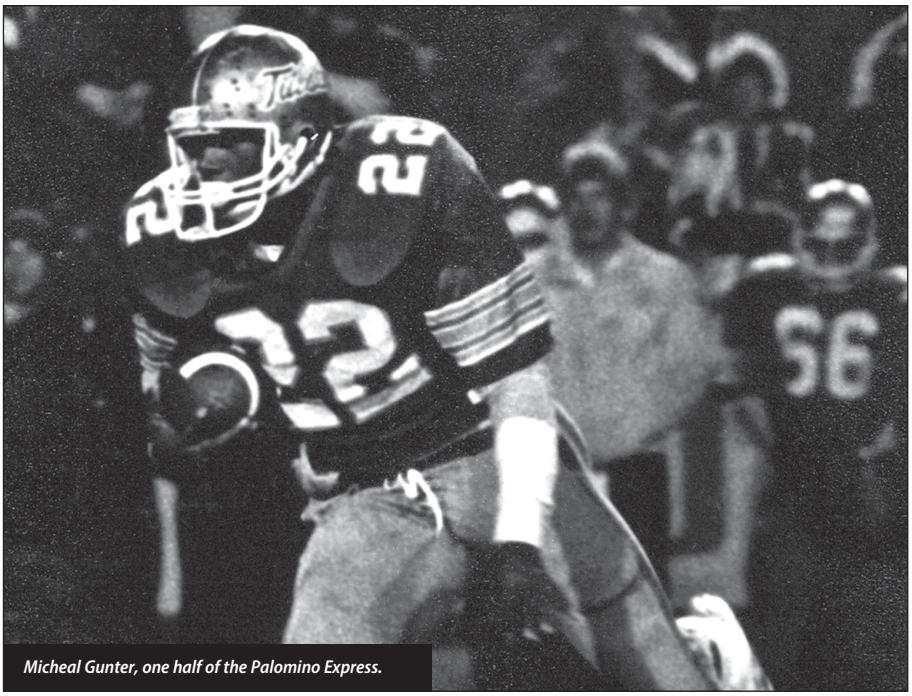

As the second half started, McNeese State produced a 65-yard scoring drive of their own, topped with a two-point conversion giving them the lead 14-7. The Hurricane scored on a blocked field goal attempt, but the PAT was no good, so the Hurricane stayed a point shy of the lead at 14-13.

After Tulsa made a fourth quarter 38-yard field goal to go ahead 16-14, TU seemed to have the game in the palm of their hands, but McNeese State answered by putting together an 80-yard scoring drive during the final two minutes that put the Hurricane down to defeat 20-16.

Dry made great strides in revitalizing Hurricane football. During his tenure, he posted a 31-18-1 record, and coached many standout players. Twenty-seven of them went into the pro ranks most of which were drafted.

One player who wasn't drafted, turned out to be one of the best NFL receivers of all-time. Drew Pearson signed a free agent contract in 1972 with the Dallas Cowboys where he established himself as one of the best receivers in National Football League history.

After two years as Tulsa's quarterback, he went to the receiving end of the ball and led TU to the Missouri Valley Conference championship in 1971. As a receiver for the Hurricane, Pearson caught 55 passes for 1,119 yards placing him tenth in receiving in TU history. His senior season, Pearson averaged 20.9 yards per catch scoring five touchdowns.

Micheal Gunter, one half of the Palomino Express.

Pearson was signed with the Dallas Cowboys as a free agent in 1972.

Steve Largent, who would become an NFL Hall of Fame inductee, was favorably compared to Howard Twilley while at Tulsa. In 1974 and again in 1975, Largent led the nation in touchdown receptions with 14 touchdowns each year. He was a two-time selection for the all-MVC team and was named to the Associated Press second team All-American squad in 1975. Largent averaged 17.5 yards per catch for his career, and caught 51 passes for 1,000 yards his senior season.

In 1977, offensive lineman Steve August was a first round draft selection of the Seattle Seahawks.

These players and others, along with the man who coached them made a mark on Tulsa football history. Some made a mark on the NFL as well. The teams of the 1970s helped Tulsa build a reputation for developing quality players who can make a difference on a team.

NO JUSTICE

John Cooper took over the Tulsa football program in 1977, and suffered through a 3-8 campaign, but in 1978 he rebounded the troops for an impressive 9-2 record.

Perhaps one of the best football teams was assembled in 1982. The only blemish on the season was a loss to nationally-ranked Arkansas. However, Tulsa's 10-1 season and top-20 national ranking was not good enough to impress Bowl scouts.

In that same season, college football fans new about a tandem of running backs at SMU, nicknamed the Pony Express ññ Eric Dickerson and Craig James. But what college football fans may not have known was that Tulsa has the only other pair of running backs in the country to rush for over for over 1,000 yards each — Micheal Gunter and Ken Lacy. In a takeoff of the Pony Express, Tulsa's tandem was dubbed the "Palomino Express".

That season, Tulsa was not the only 10-1 team snubbed from the Bowl picture, as New Mexico was in the same situation as the Hurricane. Tulsa and New Mexico fans cried out for justice, and Justice is just what they received.

Tulsa and New Mexico would square off in the Justice Bowl on December 19, 1982. At 1:15 p.m. that afternoon, radio stations in the two cities carried the play-by-play of a fictitious matchup between the two schools. In Tulsa, the Hurricane would win the game, and in New Mexico the Lobos triumphed.

BOWL GAMES CLOSE OUT 1980S, USHER IN THE '90S

Coach Cooper enjoyed a successful tenure taking Tulsa football into the 1980s, while a former Tulsa quarterback would take Hurricane football out of the '80s and into the 1990s. When Dave Rader became head coach in 1988, he became an expansion of Tulsa football's past.

Between Cooper and Rader, Tulsa had two coaches for a total of three seasons. Don Morton was the head coach in 1985 and 1986, while George Henshaw coached the Hurricane for the 1987 season.

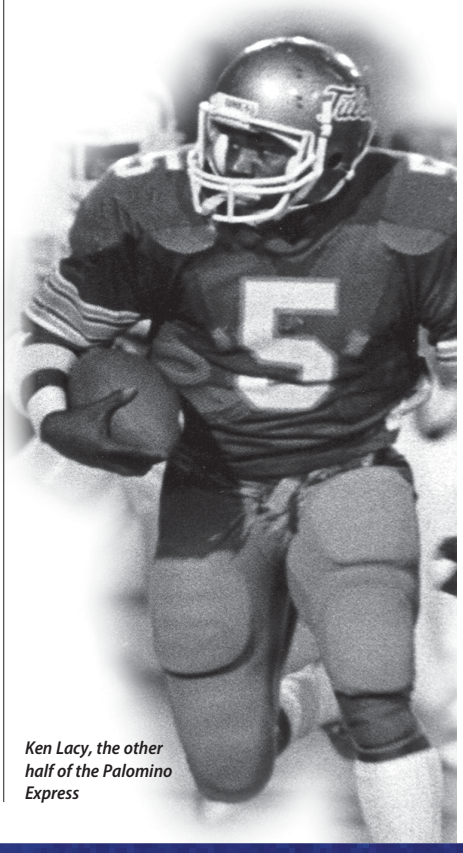

Under Rader, Tulsa football experienced a roller coaster ride. The highest points were two bowl games — 1989 Independence Bowl and 1991 Freedom Bowl.

In 1989, the Hurricane posted a 6-5 regular season mark, and represented the Independent Football Alliance at the Independence Bowl, where the Hurricane faced a strong Oregon team from the PAC-10. The Ducks had a second-place conference finish, and was a 16-point favorite, but TU obviously didn't gamble. TU gave the Ducks all the fight they could handle.

Tulsa struck first on a one-yard TD run from Brett Adams, but Oregon bounced back as they put together scoring drives of 54 and 79 yards of their own to take the lead 10-7. The Hurricane took a 17-10 lead into halftime on a field goal and a blocked punt return for a touchdown.

Tulsa scored once more in the third quarter to build their lead to 24-10, but Oregon came back scoring two quick touchdowns to knot the game at 24. As time wound down in the fourth period, the officials ruled against TU on a fumble recovery allowing the Ducks to continue a drive that ended with a final field goal and a victory. Though the Hurricane suffered a heartbreaking loss, that bowl game allowed TU to get back into the college football spotlight.

That spotlight continued to shine in the 1991 season as Tulsa produced a 10-2 season and a number 21 ranking in the final Associated Press football poll. A season that saw the Hurricane upset 15th-ranked Texas A&M 35-34 at Skelly Stadium, and post a come-from-behind 13-10 victory over Southern Mississippi in the "snow bowl" was capped by an invitation to the Freedom Bowl in Anaheim,

Ken Lacy, the other half of the Palomino Express

California, where Tulsa met San Diego State and star running back Marshall Faulk.

At halftime, the two teams went into the locker room deadlocked at 10-10. In the second half, the Tulsa defense became a wall that the Aztecs offense couldn't penetrate, holding them to just 83 yards of total offense.

Late in the game with the Hurricane up by three points, San Diego State muffed a punt at their own eight-yard line resulting in a Tulsa recovery. Two plays later, the Hurricane scored to make the final score 28-17. That Hurricane team went down in Tulsa football history as one of only five teams to have a 10-win season.

Eight Tulsa players from that team went into the NFL, including the likes of quarterbacks T.J. Rubley and Gus Frerotte, lineman Jerry Ostroski, receiver Chris Penn, and defensive stalwarts Barry Minter and Tracy Scroggins.

Since 1991, Tulsa football has been in a transition period, moving from a football independent to the Western Athletic Conference. Tulsa became a member of the WAC in 1996, and had its best season of league play in 2001, winning four games.

Tulsa football did not enjoy much success in the 1990s but as history has proven, success was not far away.

TULSA GOES TO EIGHT BOWL GAMES IN 12 YEARS

The Golden Hurricane won the 2005 Conference USA Championship in its first season as a league member.

The Steve Kragthorpe Era began with a bang in 2003, as the Golden Hurricane had its first winning season and first bowl appearance in 12 years. Tulsa posted an 8-5 overall record, and placed second in the WAC with a 6-2 mark.

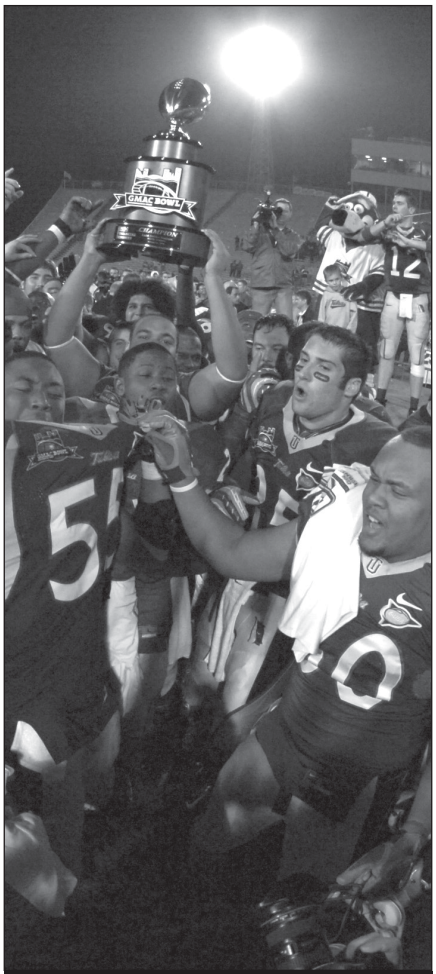

In his first year as head coach, Kragthorpe led Tulsa to the biggest turn-around in college football with a seven-win improvement from the previous season. Tulsa made the school's 12th bowl appearance as the Hurricane played Georgia Tech in the Humanitarian Bowl on January 3, 2004. Tulsa football returned to its roots in 2003 as the Golden Hurricane became an offensive juggernaut, scoring over 30 points in seven games and averaging 30.8 points per game.

With an 8-5 record in 2003, Tulsa's seven-win improvement from the previous year was the biggest turn-around in college football for that season.

Although Tulsa only posted four wins in 2004, including two overtime losses, junior Ashlan Davis, a junior college transfer, made NCAA history becoming the first player to run-back five kickoff returns for touchdowns in a single season. He broke the previous NCAA mark of three.

The 2005 season began another new era for the Hurricane as Tulsa officially became a member of Conference USA on July 1, 2005. It would be a year to remember in the first as a C-USA member.

In conference action, Tulsa defeated the preseason favorite to win the C-USA East, Southern Miss, as well as the preseason #3 team in the East Division, Memphis, in the regular season en route to posting a 6-2 league record, winning the C-USA West Division title and playing in the inaugural Conference USA Football Championship Game presented by Xbox 360.

Tulsa captured a 44-27 win in the league championship game over UCF in Orlando, Florida, on Dec. 3, 2005, and received an invitation following the game to play in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl in Memphis, Tennessee.

Tulsa was matched up against former Western Athletic Conference rival Fresno State in the Liberty Bowl game. Tulsa amassed 430 yards in the game and scored 14 points in the final 10:35 of the game to capture a 31-24 victory over the Bulldogs in front of 54,894 fans.

The Hurricane finished the season with an overall 9-4 record as senior All-American Garrett Mills became the single-season receiving leader in NCAA history for tight ends.

In 2006, Tulsa made its second straight bowl appearance, a feat not accomplished since back-to-back Bluebonnet Bowl appearances in 1964 and '65. The Hurricane played in the Bell Helicopter Armed Forces Bowl and finished the season with an 8-5 record.

The 2007 campaign, the first for former Hurricane defensive coordinator Todd Graham as head coach, proved to be a record-setting season for the Golden Hurricane. Tulsa set 29 school records, 15 C-USA marks and four NCAA records, en route to leading the nation in total offense with 543.9 yards behind Wuerffel Trophy Award winner Paul Smith at quarterback. Tulsa met up with Bowling Green of the Mid-American Conference in the GMAC Bowl and came away with the largest margin of victory in NCAA Bowl history with a 63-7 win over the Falcons. With a 10-4 record, this Tulsa team became one of only six in school history to reach 10 wins.

A year later, the Hurricane won a school record 11 games by posting an 11-3 mark in 2008, established more school records, won the C-USA West Division title and made its' second straight appearance in the GMAC Bowl, defeating No. 22-ranked Ball State by a score of 45-13.

For the second consecutive season, Tulsa again led the nation in total offense with 569.9 yards per game. The Hurricane scored a school record 661

The 2010 season was highlighted with one of the most prestigious wins in school history, a 28-27 road win over Notre Dame. John Flanders interception in the end zone, as time ran out, sealed the victory for Tulsa.

points, while finishing second nationally in scoring with a 47.2 average. Senior running back Tarrion Adams became the school's single-game, single-season and career record-holder for rushing, while senior placekicker Jarod Tracy set the all-time scoring record.

Only 10 times in NCAA history has a school led the nation in total offense in back-to-back years. Tulsa has done it three of those 10 times (1951-52, 1964-65, and 2007-08).

Tulsa captured its third 10-win season in four years with a 10-3 record in 2010. The season was highlighted with one of the most prestigious wins in school history, a 28-27 road win over Notre Dame, as well as a 62-35 victory against 24th-ranked Hawaii in the Sheraton Hawaii Bowl.

Receiver and kick return specialist Damaris Johnson became the NCAA's all-time record-holder for career all-purpose yards (7,796) and kickoff return yards (3,417). He went on to earn second-team Associated Press All-America honors, while Tulsa finished the season ranked 24th in the final AP poll.

ANOTHER 11-WIN SEASON FOR THE HURRICANE

Tulsa almunus Bill Blankenship took over as head coach in January 2011 and encountered a schedule that featured three top-10 teams in the first four weeks of the season, including #1 Oklahoma, #7 Oklahoma State and #4 Boise State in three of the first four weeks. Tulsa faced its fourth top-10 opponent in the final regular season game of the year as No. 7 Houston handed the Hurricane a home loss.

Blankenship led the Hurricane to an 8-5 overall record in year one, making the school's seventh bowl appearance in nine years. Tulsa faced BYU at the Bell Helicopter Armed Forces Bowl, falling in the last minute by a score of 24-21.

In 2012, Blankenship's group posted seven straight victories following an opening road loss at Iowa State. Tulsa won the Conference USA Championship with an overtime win over UCF in the title game, thus setting up a second match-up against Iowa State in the 2012 AutoZone Liberty Bowl.

This time, Tulsa got the best of the Cyclones with a 31-17 victory at Liberty Bowl Stadium in Memphis,

D'Angelo Brewer became the school's career rushing leader in 2017, while also breaking the American Conference all-time rushing record that year. He finished his career with 3,917 rushing yards.

Tenn. With the win, Tulsa finished the season with an 11-3 record, tying the school mark for most wins in a season.

TULSA GOES TO FOUR MORE BOWL GAMES

Following two losing seasons, Tulsa named Baylor Offensive Coordinator Philip Montgomery as the school's new head coach. The Hurricane offense was among the nation's top units, ranking 11th for passing (333.2 ypg) and 13th for total yards (507.4 ypg) in Montgomery's first at the helm of the program

Tulsa began the 2015 season with wins over FAU and at New Mexico, before dropping a 14-point decision at #16 Oklahoma. The Hurricane needed a final quarter comeback for a 45-34 victory in the regular season finale at Tulane to become bowl eligible wiith a 6-6 record. In addition to Oklahoma, two more of the six losses came to nationally-ranked opponents #17 Memphis and #16 Navy, as well as one that would end the season in the final rankings, Houston.

The Hurricane returned to the postseason with a trip to Shreveport, Louisiana to face Virginia Tech in Frank Beamer's final game as the Hokies head coach. Trailing 45-21 in the second quarter, Tulsa out-scored VT 31-10 over the final 33 minutes and fell just shy in a 55-52 loss.

Despite a final 6-7 record an bowl game loss, the momentum was established to put Tulsa football back into the conversation of conference championships and consistent bowl game appearances.

A year later, Montgomery led the Hurricane to a 10-3 season and 6-2 mark for a second-place finish in the American Athletic Conference's West Division. The 2016 campaign was a record-setting season as the Hurricane became the first team in NCAA FBS/DI history with a 3,000-yard passer (Dane Evans), two 1,000-yard rushers (D'Angelo Brewer and James Flanders) and two 1,000-yard receivers (Josh Atkinson and Keevan Lucas) in the same year.

Tulsa's offense also had a school-record eight 300+ rushing games, while the Hurriance defense had 15 takeaways that led to 101 points and had improvements from a year earlier of allowing the opposition 10 less points and 110 less yards.

Tulsa put an exclamation point on the 2016 season with a 55-10 victory over Central Michigan in the Miami Beach Bowl.

In 2017, two players put themselves atop the school's career performance lists – D'Angelo Brewer became the all-time rushing leader with 3,917 yards and Redford Jones became Tulsa's career scoring leader with 319 points.

The 2020 season was one that college football will never forget as the season was altered by COVID-19. The Hurricane team had eight games affected by the pandemic, but was able to play seven regular season contests and two in the postseason.

Tulsa tied Cincinnati for the league title with a 6-0 AAC mark and went down to the final seconds in the championship game as the Bearcats knocked through a last second field goal for a 27-24 victory. The Hurricane made its third appearance in the Armed Forces Bowl to close out the season.

The campaign was highlighted by the play of the nation's Defensive Player of the year, linebacker Zaven Collins. Collins won the Bronko Nagurski, Chuck Bednarik and Lombardi Awards, while earning consensus All-America honors.

In 2021, Tulsa won its final three regular season games to get bowl eligible and claimed a 30-17 win against Old Dominion in the Myrtle Beach Bowl to finish with a 7-6 record. It was the fourth bowl game under Montgomery. Four of Tulsa's six losses came against four top-25 ranked teams.

The 2020 and '21 seasons brought Tulsa a first in school history when the Hurricane had two back-to-back NFL first round draft picks – linebacker Zaven Collins to the Phoenix Cardinals in 2021 and offensive tackle Tyler Smith to the Dallas Cowboys with the 26th overall selection.

Tulsa celebrates an AutoZone Liberty Bowl victory over Fresno State in 2012.

Zaven Collins' interception return for a TD gave Tulsa a 30-24 overtime win over Tulane and propelled him into being named the National Defensive Player of the Year in 2020.

Tulsa's Bowl Games

1942 SUN BOWL

Tulsa 6, Texas Tech 0
El Paso, Texas

January 1, 1942 • Attendance: 12,000

Tulsa earned its first bowl bid with a 7-2 regular season record. Tulsa's only losses were against Texas Christian, 6-0, and Arkansas, 13-6, in Henry Frnka's first season as head coach.

The game with the Red Raiders, which was played before a partisan Texas crowd, proved to be a defensive struggle. Tulsa's defense held Tech to four first downs and 104 yards of total offense. In the first half, the Raiders pushed the ball to the Tulsa 15-yard line, but the Hurricane defense forced Tech to try a field goal, which missed and resulted in a scoreless first half.

After intermission, Tulsa's Glenn Dobbs punted the ball from the Hurricane 14-yard line out of Tech's end zone, giving Tulsa the momentum. Late in the game, Tulsa mounted a 71-yard touchdown drive behind the passing of Dobbs, who finished the day with 239 passing yards.

With only a few minutes remaining, Dobbs passed to Sax Judd for a 32-yard score, but Dobbs' PAT attempt was blocked. Tulsa intercepted a Tech pass to preserve the 6-0 victory.

1943 SUGAR BOWL

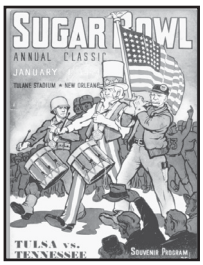

Tennessee 14, Tulsa 7
New Orleans, Louisiana

January 1, 1943 • Attendance: 70,000

Tennessee nosed out Tulsa, 14-7, in the ninth Sugar Bowl football game before 70,000 fans on a beautiful sunny afternoon.

Tulsa scored first on an aerial march of 60 yards headed by All-American Glenn Dobbs early in the second period. Dobbs threw to end Cal Purdin for the score, while Clyde LeForce kicked the extra point. Later in the same period Tennessee countered with six points of their own and at halftime Tulsa held a slim 7-6 advantage.

The Volunteer's power told the story in the second half, as Tennessee scored a safety by blocking one of Dobbs' punts to take the lead in the third period, 8-7. The Volunteers added another touchdown by its powerful running game in the fourth quarter.

With Tennessee leading 14-7 in the waning minutes of the game, the Hurricane drove to the UT 11-yard line and was within one play of a tie, before Tennessee's Bill Nowling intercepted an N.A. Keithley pass to end any hopes of a Tulsa victory.

1944 SUGAR BOWL

Georgia Tech 20, Tulsa 18
New Orleans, Louisiana

January 1, 1944 • Attendance: 69,000

Tulsa made its second straight trip to the Sugar Bowl but failed in its bid for a victory over Georgia Tech in front of 69,000 fans.

For the first three periods and past the middle of the fourth, Tulsa clinged to the lead. But in the end, Tulsa could not withstand an offensive attack led by Tech All-American Eddie Prokop who led the 72-yard drive that gave the Yellow Jackets a 20-18 decision.

Tulsa stopped a Tech drive following the opening kickoff, and from their own 14-yard line marched 86 yards to score in the first five minutes. A fake field goal by Clyde LeForce ended up in a TD pass to Ed Shedlosky. TU tailback Jimmy Ford ran around left end for a 79-yard touchdown on the first play of the second quarter for a 12-0 Hurricane lead.

Prior to halftime, Tech scored on a 71-yard drive, followed by a six-yard TD run by TU's LeForce to give the Hurricane an 18-7 halftime lead. Tech made it 18-13 in the third period, and put together a 79-yard drive for a two-point lead in the final quarter. Tulsa could get only as close as the Tech 34-yard line before the final horn sounded.

Prokop gained 199 yards on 29 carries for Georgia Tech, while Tulsa's Ford had 119 yards on 14 carries.

1945 ORANGE BOWL

Tulsa 26, Georgia Tech 12
Miami, Florida

January 1, 1945 • Attendance: 29,426

Tulsa sought revenge against the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets for the come-from-behind victory in the previous year's Sugar Bowl. This time Tulsa handed the Jackets a 26-12 loss in front of 29,426 fans at the Orange Bowl.

The Hurricane jumped out to a 14-0 first quarter lead and held that same advantage at halftime. On Tulsa's first play of the third quarter, the Hurricane used some razzle-dazzle as Perry Moss threw to Nip Goodnight at the 35-yard line, who then lateraled to Barney White, who sped straight down the north side line for six points, making the score 20-0.

Tech came back with six points of their own in the third period. Tulsa's Camp Wilson quickly quieted the crowd taking the Tech kickoff on the 10-yard line and racing 90 yards for a 26-6 Tulsa lead. Georgia Tech added six points in the final quarter to pull within 14 points of the victorious Hurricane.

1946 OIL BOWL

Georgia 20, Tulsa 6
Houston, Texas

January 1, 1946 • Attendance: 27,000

The game was closer than the score would indicate, as 13 of Georgia's points in its 20-6 victory came in the fourth quarter at the Oil Bowl in Houston, Texas. The Bulldogs scored on their second possession of the first quarter, driving 31 yards after a Tulsa punt traveled only 16 yards. Rabbit Smith scored from three yards out for the Bulldogs.

Just as Georgia had capitalized on a poor punt, Tulsa capitalized on a fumble that was recovered at the Georgia 13-yard line. Five plays later Camp Wilson went over for the touchdown from one yard out giving Tulsa what would be their only score of the game.

The score remained 7-6 through three quarters, but Georgia threw a 47-yard touchdown pass on its second fourth quarter possession, and added a 68-yard punt return for a touchdown by Charlie Trippi. Tulsa had two more opportunites to score but failed.

1953 GATOR BOWL

Florida 14, Tulsa 13
Jacksonville, Florida

January 1, 1953 • Attendance: 30,015

Tulsa battled back from a 14-0 halftime deficit, but saw its brilliant rally fall one point shy as Florida escaped with a 14-13 victory in front of a Gator Bowl crowd of 30,015.

The Gators scored the first time they had the ball, driving 78 yards in 11 plays. Florida scored again in the second period on a 37-yard pass play, capping an 80-yard, 13-play drive. But in the second half, Tulsa's offense threw the Florida defense off balance with the running of Jake Roberts.

The Hurricane put together drives of 73 and 46 yards in the second half. Roberts ran for a three-yard touchdown in the third quarter, followed by a Tom Miner extra point. Tulsa's next touchdown drive began following a Florida fumble at their own 46-yard line. Howard Waugh went over from three yards out for the touchdown. Miner's extra point attempt went wide to the left.

With six minutes left to play, the Hurricane recovered another Florida fumble. Tulsa drove to the Gators' four-yard line, but had to settle for a field goal that again went wide left. Florida was left with just under three minutes to hold onto the ball and the victory.

1964 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Tulsa 14, Mississippi 7
Houston, Texas

December 19, 1964 • Attendance: 50,000

Tulsa quarterback Jerry Rhome offset Mississippi's quick, blitzing defense with a mixture of running and passing as the Hurricane came from behind to upset the Rebels, 14-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Rhome completed 22 of 36 passes for 252 yards and gained 29 yards on the ground. He was the unanimous selection for the most outstanding back. Tulsa defensive lineman Willie Townes, who harassed Rebel quarterback Jim Weatherley, was named the game's outstanding lineman.

Ole Miss opened the scoring with a one-yard Weatherley run in the second quarter. Rhome answered on a fourth down situation with a one-yard run of his own with 6:15 remaining in the first half. The Tulsa drive covered 72 yards.

In the third quarter, Rhome threw 35 yards to flanker Eddie Fletcher for the go-ahead touchdown that proved to be the game-winner.

1965 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Tennessee 27, Tulsa 6
Houston, Texas

December 18, 1965 • Attendance: 40,000

Tennessee combined its error-forcing defense, opportunistic offense, and superior kicking with the rain and mud to hand Tulsa a 27-6 loss in the Bluebonnet Bowl. The Volunteers set the tempo by recovering three fumbles and intercepting four passes to frustrate Tulsa's national passing champions.

Other than a 44-yard, 11-play touchdown drive in the closing minutes of the first quarter that saw Gary McDermott run in from one yard out, Tulsa did not cross the Tennessee 20-yard line until the last minute of the game.

Tennessee, who jumped out to a 6-0 lead, scored its first and second touchdowns on drives of 48 and 33 yards following Tulsa fumbles. Tennessee's third touchdown came on a seven-yard drive after a 45-yard punt return.

The Volunteers led 20-6 at halftime and put the game out of reach with their final touchdown early in the third quarter, coming after another Tulsa turnover. Statistically, Tulsa outgained the Volunteers by 105 yards, including a 250 to 37-yard advantage in the passing department.

1976 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

McNeese St. 20, Tulsa 16
Shreveport, La.

December 13, 1976 • Attendance: 19,164

The inaugural Independence Bowl wasn't decided until McNeese State fullback Oliver Hadnot scored the winning touchdown with 37 seconds remaining on the game clock, giving McNeese a 20-16 win.

The excitement began almost immediately as Tulsa completed a 65-yard drive for an opening drive score. Fullback Thomas Bailey's one-yard run capped Tulsa's scoring drive.

At halftime, Tulsa held onto a 7-6 lead. However, in the third quarter the Cowboys took a 14-7 lead with a 63-yard drive and two-point conversion.

On their next possession, McNeese attempted a 51-yard field goal that was blocked, recovered and returned by Tulsa's Mel McGowen 65 yards for a score. The extra-point-attempt was blocked and the Southland Conference champions led 14-13 with 4:07 remaining in the third period.

With 4:22 remaining, Tulsa appeared to have won the game when Steve Cox kicked a three-pointer from 38 yards out to put his team ahead, 16-14. However, McNeese drove 80 yards from their own 20-yard line in the last two minutes and Hadnot raced the final 25 yards for the winning score.

1989 INDEPENDENCE BOWL

Oregon 27, Tulsa 24
Shreveport, La.

December 16, 1989 • Attendance: 44,621

The PAC-10 Conference's second-place team, the Oregon Ducks, entered the Independence Bowl against Tulsa as 16-point favorites, only to hang on for a controversial 27-24 win. The Hurricane went into the game without the services of All-America receiver Dan Bitson, who suffered numerous injuries in an automobile accident two weeks earlier.

The Hurricane scored first on a Brett Adams one-yard run. Oregon put together drives of 54 and 79 yards to take a 10-7 lead, until a Tulsa field goal of 26 yards by David Fuess knotted the score at 10-10 with just over two minutes to play in the first half.

Tulsa took the halftime lead, 17-10, on a blocked punt by Herbert Harvey. Derrick Williams picked up the ball and raced 21 yards for the score with 22 seconds left on the first half clock.

Adams added another one-yard touchdown run in the third period as Tulsa took a 24-10 lead. However, Oregon scored two touchdowns in a six-minute span late in the third quarter and early in the fourth.

With just over three minutes to play, an apparent Tulsa recovery of an Oregon fumble was overruled by the officials. Thus, the Ducks converted on a 20-yard field goal to capture a 27-24 victory.

1991 FREEDOM BOWL

Tulsa 28, San Diego State 17
Anaheim, Calif.

December 30, 1991 • Attendance: 34,217

Tulsa, making its second bowl appearance in three years and its first at-large showing since 1976, notched its first bowl victory since 1964 with a 28-17 win over San Diego State in the eighth Freedom Bowl.

Tulsa's veteran offensive line opened huge holes for tailback Ron Jackson, who grabbed Most Valuable Player honors as he rushed by 211 yards and a Freedom Bowl record four touchdowns on 46 carries. The junior scored once in each of the four quarters, accounting for touchdown runs of 10, 6, 4 and 4 yards, respectively.

The teams were deadlocked at the end of the first and second quarters. Tulsa's defense came alive after intermission holding the potent Aztec offense to just three points and 83 total yards.

Tulsa led 21-17 late in the game when Gus Frerotte's booming 54-yard punt was mishandled by Aztec return specialist T.C. Wright at his own 8-yard line. Billy Cole recovered for Tulsa and the Hurricane scored two plays later to seal the win. The victory earned Tulsa a ranking of 21st in the final Associated Press and CNN/USA Today polls.

2003 HUMANITARIAN BOWL

Georgia Tech 52, Tulsa 10
Boise, Idaho

January 3, 2004 • Attendance: 23,118

Tulsa won five straight games to end the regular season and claimed second-place in the Western Athletic Conference. The prize was a trip to play Georgia Tech of the Atlantic Coast Conference in the Humanitarian Bowl. It would be the third meeting between the two school's, and all three times in bowl games.

The game marked Tulsa's first bowl appearance in 12 years and the eight wins was more than the previous three seasons put together. Although the Hurricane enjoyed its trip to Boise, Idaho, the game was another story. Despite trailing just 10-3 at halftime, Georgia Tech had controlled the first half out-gaining the Hurricane 129-20.

The second half was more of the P.J. Daniels show for Tech. The running back had 104 yards at halftime, and ended the game with 307 rushing yards and four touchdowns. While the Tulsa defense couldn't stop Daniels, the Hurricane offense was giving the Yellow Jackets a short field with six lost fumbles. Six of Tech's eight touchdown drives began inside the Tulsa 40-yard line, and four of those TDs coming after a Tulsa fumble.

Tech put up 42 second-half points and went on for a 52-10 victory, the most lopsided Bowl loss for the Hurricane in 12 postseason appearances.

2005 LIBERTY BOWL

Tulsa 31, Fresno State 24
Memphis, Tennessee

December 31, 2005 • Attendance: 54,894

Tulsa amassed 430 yards for the game and scored 14 points in the final 10:35 of the game to capture a 31-24 victory over the Fresno State Bulldogs in the 47th Annual AutoZone Liberty Bowl in front of 54,894 fans at Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium.

The win for Tulsa was its' fifth bowl win in 13 games, and snapped Fresno State's bowl winning streak in consecutive years at three.

Hurricane sophomore Paul Smith, who completed 18-of-27 passes for 234 yards and one touchdown and scored the winning TD on a four-yard run, was named the Most Valuable Player. Senior Ashlan Davis had his first career 100+ receiving game with 128 yards on eight catches, while being named Tulsa's Offensive Player of the Game and sophomore defensive back Anthony Germany was selected as Tulsa's Defensive Player of the Game after intercepting one pass and breaking up two passes.

Trailing 24-17, the Hurricane early in the fourth quarter, Tulsa gained 162 yards while holding the Bulldogs to 77 yards in the final stanza. The Hurricane tied the score at 24 with 10:35 remaining and after Germany's interception Tulsa went ahead on Smith's TD run with 2:55 left. Fresno State's final drive to try to tie the game ended with a Nelson Coleman interception.

2006 ARMED FORCES BOWL

Utah 25, Tulsa 13
Fort Worth, Texas

December 23, 2006 • Attendance: 32,412

Utah scored the final six points of the first half and the first 10 points of the second half en route to a 25-13 victory in the Bell Helicopter Armed Forces Bowl at Amon G. Carter Stadium on the TCU campus.

Utah scored 10 points in a 3:11 span including three points with 0:02 left in the first half, and seven points in the first 3:09 of the second half to take a 16-7 lead with 11:51 on the clock.

Bobby Blackshire's team-leading fourth interception of the year led to a 39-yard, eight-play scoring drive that saw Paul Smith score on his second one-yard TD run of the game at the 10:54 mark of the fourth quarter. The Tulsa score cut the Utah lead to six points, 19-13, as the point-after-attempt failed.

Utah put the game out of reach when Eric Weddle took the snap and ran four yards over the left side for the final score of the game with 1:05 left in the game.

Tulsa's first score came at the 13:01 mark of the second quarter as the Hurricane traveled 80 yards in 10 plays. Smith went over from one yard out for six points in the second quarter to take a 7-3 lead.

Smith finished the game 20-for-27 for 158 yards with one interception. Utah's Ratliff finished 23-for-34 for 240 yards, a touchdown and an interception

2008 GMAC BOWL

Tulsa 63, Bowling Green 7
Mobile, Alabama

January 6, 2008 • Attendance: 36,932

Tulsa won its second Bowl game in the last three years with a 63-7 victory over Bowling Green in the GMAC Bowl at Ladd-Peebles Stadium. Tulsa improved to 10-4 giving the Hurricane the school's sixth 10-win season in the 108-year history of football.

The 56-point victory was the largest in NCAA Bowl history.

Tulsa quarterback Paul Smith completed 27-of-45 passes for 312 yards and five touchdowns, while becoming only the seventh player in NCAA history to surpass 5,000 passing yards in a season.

Tulsa capitalized on three first quarter turnovers by Bowling Green and took a 21-0 lead at the end of one quarter. The Hurricane increased its lead to 35-0 at halftime, capitalizing on another Falcon turnover.

The Hurricane opened the second-half with an eight-play, 78-yard drive in just 2:11 that saw Smith throw the final 14 yards to Trae Johnson, to give the Hurricane a 42-0 lead at the12:49 mark. BGSU scored its first points of the game on the subsequent kick-off with a 78-yard return.

Tulsa scored one more time in the third quarter on a Paul Smith two-yard run. While the senior threw fourth quarter TD passes of three yards to Charles Clay and six yards to A.J. Whitmore.

2009 GMAC BOWL

Tulsa 45, Ball State 13
Mobile, Alabama

January 6, 2009 • Attendance: 32,816

MVP Tarrion Adams set the school's career and single-season rushing records as he totaled 207 yards and three touchdowns in Tulsa's 45-13 victory over No. 22-ranked Ball State in the 10th Annual GMAC Bowl in front of 32,816 fans at Ladd-Peebles Stadium. The victory gave the Hurricane its first-ever 11-win season, while Ball State ended its' campaign at 12-2.

Tulsa scored the first seven points of the game and took a 24-13 lead at halftime. The Hurricane went on to score 21 unanswered points in a rain-soaked second half, while the Hurricane defense held the nation's 17th-ranked offense to just 17 second-half yards, and allowing zero first downs and zero pass completions.

The Hurricane set school bowl records for total yards (632) and rushing yards (439). Tulsa improved its Bowl record to 7-9 overall, and have won three of its' last four Bowl games.

Adams was joined on the medal stand by Offensive MVP David Johnson, Defensive MVP Roy Roberts and Special Teams MVP Jarod Tracy. Adams was not the only Hurricane player to set a career record, as Tracy established the school's career scoring mark. Adams finished his career with 3,651 yards, while Tracy ended his career with 286 career points.

The victory was the second straight in the GMAC Bowl for the Hurricane. In the last two GMAC Bowls, Tulsa out-scored the two Mid-American Conference foes, Bowling Green and Ball State, by a combined 108-20 score.

2010 SHERATON HAWAI'I BOWL

Tulsa 62, Hawai'i 35
Honolulu, Hawaii

December 24, 2010 • Attendance: 43,673

Tulsa ended the season with a victory over the No. 24-ranked Hawai'i Warriors in the Sheraton Hawai'i Bowl in front of 43,673 fans on the island of Oahu.

The Golden Hurricane defense grounded the Nation's No. 1 passing offense for most of the night and kept Tulsa ahead in the first 30 minutes with five first-half interceptions. Tulsa's offense picked it up in the second half by scoring 35 points, including a 21-point third quarter. Among the five first-half pickoffs, two were returned for touchdowns as juniors John Flanders and Curnelius Arnick each recorded 54-yard interception returns in a span of five plays in the second quarter.

The Hurricane led at intermission 27-14, and outscored the Warriors 35-21 in the second half. For the game, Tulsa's defense picked up six sacks as the Hurricane also won the turnover battle 7-1.

Junior Damaris Johnson set the NCAA career record for all-purpose yards in the contest as he compiled 326 yards, giving him an NCAA record 7,796 all-purpose yards for his illustrious three-year career. The game's MVP recorded 109 kick return yards, 101 receiving yards, 98 rushing yards and 18 punt return yards. Johnson also scored touchdowns on both a 67-yard rush and a nine-yard reception.

2011 BELL HELICOPTER ARMED FORCES BOWL

BYU 24, Tulsa 21
Dallas, Texas

December 30, 2011 • Attendance 30,258

Tulsa ended the 2011 campaign with a narrow 24-21 loss at the hands of the BYU Cougars in the Bell Helicopter Armed Forces Bowl in front of 30,358 fans at SMU's Ford Stadium. The Golden Hurricane ended Head Coach Bill Blankenship's first season with an 8-5 record and a 7-1 mark in Conference USA action.

Tulsa was led by senior quarterback G.J. Kinne, who completed 17-of-31 passes for 214 yards and three touchdowns, while 113 of those yards and one touchdown went to junior wide receiver Bryan Burnham, who caught four passes in the contest. Senior tight end Clay Sears and junior receiver Ricky Johnson also scored for the Hurricane Tulsa jumped on top 14-3, but after a fumbled punt with 0:25 remaining in the first half the Cougars scored on one play to cut the Hurricane lead to four points. Tulsa held a 14-10 lead at halftime. Following a third quarter strike for the Cougars, the Golden Hurricane took a 21-17 lead with 10:42 to play. On BYU's final possession, quarterback Riley Nelson connected with Cody Hoffman for the duo's third TD hook-up of the game to seal the victory with 11 seconds remaining on the clock.

Junior safety Dexter McCoil recorded two interceptions and tied the school record for career pick-offs with 13. He also had 10 tackles. Senior linebacker Curnelius Arnick tied the school's bowl record with 17 tackles, and he also picked up a sack and two tackles for loss in his final collegiate game.

Tulsa scored 24 consecutive points and the Hurricane defense shut down Iowa State 31-17 to win the AutoZone Liberty Bowl in front of a crowd of 53,687 Monday at Liberty Bowl Memorial Stadium.

Trailing 17-7 in the first quarter, Tulsa scored 24 points over the final three quarters giving the Hurricane its seventh comeback victory of the season. While the offense amassed 410 total yards, the Tulsa defense limited Iowa State to 268 yards, including just 64 yards on 20 plays in the second half. Tulsa totaled 208 second-half yards, while dominating the time of possession 21:44 to 8:16.

Trey Watts earned AutoZone Liberty Bowl Most Valuable Player and Offensive Player of the Game honors as the junior tallied 249 all-purpose yards. Watts, who was also named the Most Valuable Player of the Conference USA Championship Game, rushed 25 times for 149 yards, including a 48-yard scamper that set up Tulsa's fourth touchdown of the day. Alex Singleton with gained 35 yards and three touchdowns, while quarterback Cody Green also rushed 10 times for a season-high 58 yards, while completing 11-of-23 passes for 93 yards.

Linebacker Shawn Jackson was named the Defensive MVP, while tallying nine tackles and two sacks for -8 yards.

2015 CAMPING WORLD INDEPENDENCE BOWL

Virginia Tech 55, Tulsa 52
Shreveport, La.

December 26, 2015 • Attendance 31,289

Trailing by as many as 24 points, Tulsa scored 21 points in the second-half but it wasn't enough as the Golden Hurricane dropped a 55-52 decision to Virginia Tech in Frank Beamer's final game as the Hokies head coach. It was an exciting game from start to finish as the two teams combined to score 107 points and gain 1,161 total yards in front of 31,289 fans Saturday at Independence Stadium.

After combining for 76 first-half points, the two teams scored just 13 between them in the third quarter, while Tulsa out-scored the Hokies 15-3 in the final period and 31-10 over the final 33 minutes of the game. Tulsa's defense which gave up scores on Tech's first six possessions, held the Hokies to just 10 second-half points, while intercepting a pass, recovering a fumble and forcing three punts.

The Hurricane had one last crack at grabbing the victory, starting their final drive at the 20-yard line with 2:00 remaining on the game clock. Tulsa reached the 40-line, but failed to convert on a 4th-and-16 from its own 40-yard line.

Tulsa amassed 563 yards with 374 coming through the air and 189 yards on the ground, while Tech had 598 total yards, including 344 passing and 254 rushing.

2016 MIAMI BEACH BOWL

Tulsa 55, Central Michigan 10
Miami, Fla.

December 19, 2016 • Attendance: 15,262

Tulsa's offense was unstoppable and the defense was dominant as the Golden Hurricane posted an impressive 55-10 victory over Central Michigan in the 2016 Miami Beach Bowl on a Monday afternoon in front of 15,262 fans at Marlins Park. Tulsa finished the season with a 10-3 record, the 10th 10-win season in school history, while also capturing the school's 10th bowl game victory.

Tulsa's offense put the Hurricane into NCAA lore, becoming the first team in DI/FBS history to have a 3,000-yard passer (Dane Evans), two 1,000-yard rushers (D'Angelo Brewer and James Flanders) and two 1,000-yard receivers (Josh Atkinson and Keevan Lucas). It didn't take the Hurricane offense long to accomplish that feat as Evans' 30-yard pass to Atkinson in the middle of the second quarter put the Hurricane quintet into the NCAA record books.

With a 27-3 halftime lead, the Hurricane came out in the second half and scored three more touchdowns to take a 48-3 lead after three quarters. Flanders began the second-half scoring barrage with a 17-yard TD run after an earlier 31-yard run in that same series, capping a 56-yard, five-play drive.

While the Hurricane offense gained 581 yards, the defense held Central Michigan to 355 total yards and only 10 points, tying for the fewest points Tulsa had allowed this year. Tulsa's defense had three interceptions, including a bowl record 66-yard return for a

2020 LOCKHEED-MARTIN ARMED FORCES BOWL

Mississippi State 28, #24 Tulsa 26
Fort Worth, Texas

December 31, 2020 • Attendance: 9,000

Tulsa dominated the game statistically, but the Hurricane comeback bid against the SEC's Mississippi State Bulldogs fell short, 28-26, in the Lockheed Martin Armed Forces Bowl at Amon G. Carter Stadium.

Trailing 28-19 with 8:01 remaining in the game, Tulsa went on a 6-play, 55-yard scoring drive that saw Zach Smith throw the final 15 yards to Keylon Stokes. The ensuing onside kick, after being bobbled, was corralled by an MSU player, thus securing the Bulldogs two-point win.

Tulsa out-gained MSU 484 to 271 in total offense, as the Hurricane gained 347 yards via the air and 137 rushing yards. The Hurricane defense, playing without College Football's Defensive Player of the Year Zaven Collins, held the Bulldogs to 123 yards on the ground and 148 passing yards, 109 yards below MSU's season average for total yards.

The Hurricane pulled to within two points early in the 4th quarter when Corey Taylor II ran in from five yards out to cap a 32-yard, 9-play drive making the score 21-19. Tulsa's pass on a two-point conversion attempt skipped off of Keylon Stokes' hands, thus keeping it a two-point MSU advantage.

Tulsa nickel safety Cristian Williams was named Tulsa's Game MVP with seven tackles and one pass breakup.

2021 MYRTLE BEACH BOWL

Tulsa 30, OLD DOMINION 17
Myrtle Beach, Fla.

December 20, 2021 • Attendance: 6,557

The Tulsa offense gained 529 yards and the defense limited Old Dominion to 247 yards en route to a 30-17 victory over the Monarchs on a Monday afternoon in the Second Annual Myrtle Beach Bowl at Brooks Stadium.

Davis Brin won the MVP Award after completing 22-of-34 passes for 285 yards and two touchdowns. Shamari Brooks moved into second place on the school's career rushing chart while toting the ball 26 times for 107 yards and one TD. Josh Johnson surpassed 1,000 receiving yards on the season and 2,000 career yards by totaling 129 yards and one TD on eight receptions.

Defensively, Tulsa had two takeaways that led to 10 Tulsa points with a fumble that resulted in a touchback and an interception.

ODU jumped out to a 7-0 lead by taking the opening kickoff 100 yards, but the Hurricane scored on its first two possessions to take a 14-7 lead into the second quarter. After leading 14-10 at halftime, Tulsa scored the first 16 points of the second half to take a 30-10 lead with just over nine minutes left to play.

The Hurricane controlled the game in the second half by holding a 25:11 to 4:49 advantage in possession time and ended the game with a 39:43 to 20:17 edge. Tulsa's defense held the Monarchs to just 110 yards in the second half as the Tulsa offense gained 255 yards.

Former Tulsa Players Became NFL Head Coaches

TOMMY HUDSPETH, 1950-52 (Detroit Lions) took over the reins of the Detroit Lions when Rick Forzano resigned following a 1-3 start in 1976. Hudspeth continued as head coach for the 1977 and finished with an 11-13 two-year record. He later was head coach of the CFL's Toronto Argonauts. Earlier, Hudspeth was the head coach at BYU and UTEP. Hudspeth was an outstanding defensive back who started every game in his three-year career (1950-52) at Tulsa, leading the Golden Hurricane to a 26-5-2 record with two Missouri Valley Conference Championships. Hudspeth was selected to the 1950's All-Oklahoma All-Decade team.

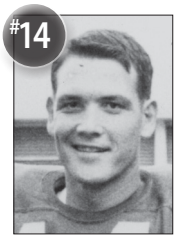

SAM RUTIGLIANO, 1954-55 (Cleveland Browns) spent the 1954 and '55 season at Tulsa after transferring from Tennessee. He was head coach of the Cleveland Browns from 1978-84, winning 47 games and leading the Browns to AFC Central Division title in 1980.

RAY RHODES, 1972-73 (Philadelphia Eagles, Green Bay Packers) spent the 1972-73 seasons as an outstanding tailback and receiver for Tulsa after transferring from TCU. In two seasons, he totaled 729 yards rushing, 558 receiving yards and 501 kickoff return yards. After a seven-year pro career, Rhodes began his coaching career in 1981 with the San Francisco 49ers where he spent 11 seasons and won five Super Bowl rings. He later served four years as the head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, where he was named the Associated Press Coach of the Year in 1995, and spent the 1999 season as the Green Bay Packers head coach.

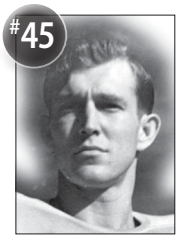

LOVIE SMITH, 1976-79 (Chicago Bears, Tampa Bay Bucs, Houston Texans) was a two-time All-America defensive back at Tulsa, where he played four seasons (1976-79). After serving as a collegiate assistant coach, Smith entered the pro ranks as linebackers coach at Tampa Bay in 1996 and was defensive coordinator for the St.Louis Rams for three years. He was the Chicago Bears head coach for nine seasons (2004-12) and led his 2006 team tot eh Super Bowl. Smith also served as head coach at Tampa Bay (2014-15) and Houston (2022).

JERRY OSTROSKI

FELTO PREWITT

JERRY RHOME

HOWARD TWILLEY

#14 • BILLY GUY ANDERSON • He followed in the footsteps of an All-American, and he played only one year, but Billy Guy Anderson became Tulsa's most prolific passer. He established 10 school passing records. In his first game at quarterback for Tulsa, he completed 25 of 47 passes for two touchdowns and 230 yards. In his final collegiate regular season game, he threw successive scoring bombs of 60, 63 and 51 yards in the fourth quarter to defeat Colorado State. On that same day, he set an NCAA record as he passed for 502 yards. As a senior, he completed 58 percent of his passes for 3,464 yards and 30 touchdowns. His jersey was retired on September 23, 1995.

#45 • GLENN DOBBS • A star tailback for the Golden Hurricane teams of 1940, '41, and '42, Glenn Dobbs was an All-America selection in 1942. One of the best passers and punters in college history, Dobbs led Tulsa to a 25-6 record with two post-season bowl games in his three seasons. He returned to TU as athletics director in 1955 after playing professional football and in 1961 was named Tulsa's head football coach. He was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in 1980 and to the TU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1982.

#31 • ELLIS JONES • A courageous performer, Ellis Jones was the one-armed player who helped lead the University to three bowl appearances in 1942, '43, '44. He was the defensive standout in the 1945 College All-Star game against the Chicago Bears, collecting three tackles behind the line of scrimmage in the same series. A 1983 inductee into the TU Athletic Hall of Fame.

#83 • STEVE LARGENT • An All-America receiver at Tulsa, Steve Largent went on to a Hall of Fame career with the Seattle Seahawks. He was a two-time all-Missouri Valley Conference selection. As a senior in 1975, Largent caught 51 passes for 1,000 yards, 19.5 yards per reception and 14 touchdowns. As a junior, Largent caught 52 passes for 884 yards and 14 TDs. He had career totals of 136 receptions for 2,385 yards and 32 touchdowns. His jersey was retired on October 26, 2008.

#64 • MARVIN MATUSZAK • Possibly the top lineman in The University of Tulsa's history, Marvin Matuszak was a two-time first-team All-America choice in 1951 and '52. He was an all-Missouri Valley Conference pick as well and led the Golden Hurricane into the 1953 Gator Bowl against Florida. Matuszak was a longtime standout in both the National and American Football Leagues. He was inducted into the TU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1983.

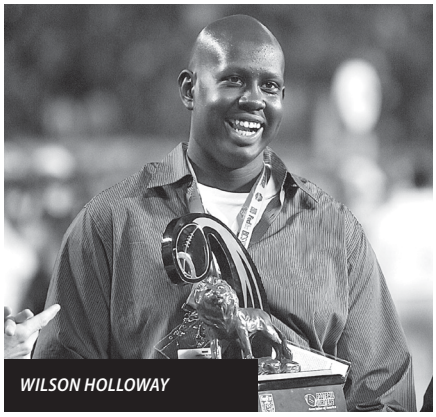

#55 • JERRY OSTROSKI • A first-team Associated Press All-America selection in 1991, Jerry Ostroski helped lead the Golden Hurricane to a 10-2 record and victory in the Freedom Bowl. As a true freshman in 1988, Ostroski was the only rookie to letter as a part-time starter on the offensive line. He was a full-time starter for his final three seasons and as a senior graded 91-percent for blocking consistency with 49 knockdowns. He also earned All-America honors by the FWAA, The Sporting News, UPI and College and Pro Football Weekly his senior season. Ostroski was inducted into the TU Athletic Hall of Fame in 2008. His jersey was retired on October 27, 2018.

#36 • FELTO PREWITT • Considered to be one of the top centers in Golden Hurricane history, Felto Prewitt starred on the bowl teams of 1943, '44, and '45. He gained first team All-America honors in 1945 and went on to play with the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League.

#17 • JERRY RHOME • Possibly the most polished passer in college football history, Jerry Rhome made a shambles of NCAA passing and total offense records in 1963 and 1964. He threw for a career 4,779 yards and 42 touchdowns. In 1964, when he passed for 2,870 yards and 32 TD's, Rhome was the runner-up to Notre Dame quarterback John Huarte in the Heisman Trophy voting. He was selected as the Collegiate Player-of-the-Year in several polls and made nearly every All-America team. Elected to the TU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1984. He was a College Football Hall of Fame inductee in 1998.

#81 • HOWARD TWILLEY • A consensus All-America choice in 1965, Howard Twilley set nearly every Golden Hurricane receiving record and set most national marks. He followed Jerry Rhome as the runner-up in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1965, placing second to Southern California halfback Mike Garrett. He caught a career 261 passes for 3,343 yards and 32 touchdowns. Twilley was the captain of the Academic All-American team in 1965. He went on to star for the Miami Dolphins of the NFL. He was selected to the TU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1984 and was a College Football Hall of Fame inductee in 1992.

Conference History

In the early years, Tulsa competed in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference for 11 seasons. Tulsa posted a 46-7-4 record and won five league titles. The Hurricane spent four seasons as members of the Big Four Conference, winning three conference championships while registering a 12-1-1 mark.

From 1935 to 1985, The University of Tulsa competed for the Missouri Valley Conference football championship. After becoming a member of the conference in 1934, Tulsa proceeded to win the league championship its first four years and eight of its first nine years in the conference.

In 50 years of competition in the Missouri Valley Conference, Tulsa won more conference championships than any other team in the history of the league. TU has to its credit 25 Missouri Valley Conference titles, including 19 outright titles and six co-championships.

Following the 1985 season, Tulsa withdrew its football membership from the Missouri Valley Conference. The league then closed down its operation of football as a conference sport. Before leaving the MVC, Tulsa won the final six league championships (1980-1985).

Tulsa played as an independent for 10 seasons before becoming a member of the Western Athletic Conference (WAC) beginning with the 1996 season, while the 2004 campaign was the last in the WAC for the Hurricane. Tulsa's best finish in nine years in the WAC was second place with a 6-2 league record in 2003.

The 2005 season was the first for Tulsa in Conference USA, and the Golden Hurricane responded that season by winning the school's first conference title since 1985. Tulsa's affiliation with C-USA ended after the 2013 season, and in nine years, Tulsa posted an overall 49-23-1 mark, four West Division titles and two C-USA Championships.

Tulsa began its membership in the American Athletic Conference in the 2014 season.
