2010-11 OUTLOOK

TOP TWO SCORING LEADERS RETURN

After enduring a very frustrating year with her injury-ridden and inexperienced team, head coach Suzanne Fox enters her 14th season at Texas State eager to return to the style of basketball that helped her record a school record 165 wins—"The Texas State Way."

Texas State entered the 2009-10 season with a roster of young players expected to grow up fast on the basketball court. To complicate matters, the team was hampered by nagging injuries throughout the season. This season, the Bobcats should benefit from those misfortunes as several young players gained valuable experience and learned what it takes to play collegiate basketball. Even though this year's roster includes seven sophomores, four of them saw action in 20 or more games last season.

In addition, the Bobcats have three seniors and a pair of juniors returning from last season. Plus, there is another junior who sat out as a redshirt last year.

Texas State also added a pair of junior college transfers, three freshman and a trio of transfers from other schools. Two of the transfers will sit out this season as per NCAA regulations, but they could have a strong impact while working against this year's current players in practice.

"The thing that makes you excited about this team is that it is capable of playing up-tempo, stresses defense, teamwork and togetherness," said Fox. "A huge key to our development will be how quickly we understand the difference between having talent and being a team."

Kelly Krupa led Texas State in minutes played and averaged over 10 points per game last season.

Krupa is Texas State's most experienced returning player from last season after she played 695 minutes in 27 games and made 20 starts. Krupa joined Ford as the only players to score in double figures last season with an average of 10.4 points per game.

"Kelsey is someone who plays with a tremendous amount of energy and passion," said Fox. "She's shown that she can be a proven scorer but also has added the consistency that you want for a player entering her junior season. The other players have taken notice because they voted her to be a team captain. It's the first time in several years we've had a junior voted as one of our captains."

In addition to the scoring ability of Ford and Krupa, the Bobcats also return seniors Chika Ofoegbu, Anna Brzozowski and Mallory Williams, junior Verinus Kalu, sophomores Dawn Kiel, Stephanie Douthit and Ashley Shoemaker. In addition, junior guard Bree Dawson returns after sitting out last season with an injury.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP

Ofoegbu averaged 6.5 points and was the second-best rebounding leader on the team with 5.5 rebounds per game. She also recorded three double-double performances while playing in 27 games and making eight starts.

"Chika's an outstanding athlete who has added a new aspect to her game each year," said Fox. "We know that we can count on her to bring effort, defense and rebounding but this year, she's really stepped up in the leadership department as both a senior and captain. She's one of the two four-year players in our program and has a great understanding what it takes to be successful at this level."

Brzozowski played in 26 games and started seven contests while averaging four points and four rebounds. Williams saw action in 22 contests as a reserve guard.

"We're really excited about Anna's development this year because we think she's Diamond Ford averaged 11.0 points per game last season.

going to be one of the real cornerstones on this year's team because of her ball-handling skills and outstanding athletic ability," said Fox. "Mallory had a solid off-season and committed herself to getting better every day."

"Being a fourth-year player in our program, she has really seen it all and has that invaluable championship experience after being a part of that team that won the league three years ago."

OTHER RETURNING PLAYERS

Kalu averaged 4.0 points and 3.0 rebounds in 20 games for Texas State in 2009-10. Kiel played in 27 games and made five starts for the Bobcats while averaging two points, one rebound and 0.75 assists per game during her freshman season.

"Verinus had an injury-marred season last year, so what she was able to do was extremely limited," said Fox. "When healthy, she is a solid contributor, especially on the defensive end. We are eager to get her athleticism back on the floor."

Kiel averaged two points and collected nine steals while starting five games and playing in 27 games for the Bobcats during her freshman season.

"Dawn gained valuable experience last year as a point guard and wing and should be able to build off of that and contribute to the team even more this year," said Fox. "She's worked on improving her strength and offensive game this summer. We're counting on her to continue that growth and still do all the little things on the defensive end that help make our team go."

Douthit also played in 20 games and averaged nearly two points and a rebound, while Shoemaker averaged 1.4 points and 1.2 rebounds in nine contests.

"Steph (Douthit) and Ashley (Shoemaker) have done a good job of improving themselves in the weight room and on the court during the off-season," said Fox. "Steph is a perimeter player who's turning herself into a real playmaker at the college level, and Ashley continues to improve her skills around the basket."

WELCOME BACK

In addition to the returning players from last season, Bree Dawson also returns after sitting out last season as a redshirt and playing in 20 games as a reserve guard two seasons ago.

EIGHT NEW PLAYERS

This season, Fox and her staff add six players to the roster. They include guards Jasmine Baugus, India Johnson; guard-forward Demi Clinch; and forwards Ashley Ezeh and Monica McGill.

Baugus played four positions ranging from point guard to the post and was one of the top defenders in Central Texas.

Johnson is a junior college transfer from Santa Fe Community College. There, she was an All-Mid Florida Conference Second-Team selection. She also earned All-Academic Florida Community College Activities Association and the Mid-Florida Conference selections as a sophomore. In high school, she was a two-time Academic All-Conference selection and Fernandina Beach High School.

Clinch is a two-time All-District and All-Region performer after leading Cinco Ranch to the semifinals of the Texas High School Playoffs.

In addition, the Bobcats have added a pair of 6' 1" forwards in Ashley Ezeh and Monica McGill to their roster. Ezeh was ranked among the top 10 players in the Greater Houston area. A native of Temple, Texas, McGill was a Honorable Mention All-Conference selection at Weatherford College.

ATRIO OF TRANSFERS

Texas State also has three transfers sitting out this season and practicing with the team. They are guards Kaylan Martin from Evansville, who is originally from Pflugerville, Taylor McGilbra, a transfer from Boise State, who played at Bellaire High School in Houston and Shelby Calabrese, a transfer from Hardin Simmons who led Hays High School to the state semifinals as a senior.

"We feel like we have some emerging talent, but it takes sacrifice by not really caring who gets the credit, minutes or shots to be a real team," said Fox. "What we'll care about with this group is being as good as we can be at the intangibles and getting back to the 'Texas State Way' by defending, working hard, playing together and competing hard. Our team goal is to do all of these at a championship level every time we step onto the floor."

CHALLENGES AWAIT

The Bobcats play their first game of the season on November 12 when they play host to East Texas Baptist. Texas State plays 17 home games this season.

"We are extremely excited about this year's schedule, both home and away, and what it has to offer," said Fox. "We felt like we put together a schedule that features competition from six different NCAA Division I conferences (Big Sky, Conference USA, Great West, Mountain West, Southwestern Athletic and Big 12). We also were able to maintain some long-standing in-state rivalries."

The rest of the non-conference home games include UT-Tyler, Idaho State, Jackson State, Southwestern Assemblies, UT Pan American, Texas Southern, Rice and Huston-Tillotson.

UT-Tyler returns a First-Team All-Conference and Conference Freshman of the Year, while Idaho State won six of its last seven games to finish third in the Big Sky Conference last year. Southwest Assemblies has won 24 games during each of the last two years and returns an All-America forward in Chelsea Jones. This is the third straight year Texas State has played in El Paso. In addition to playing at UTEP, the Bobcats play another Conference USA team in Rice.

Texas State also plays at Colorado on Dec. 1, in the Air Force Classic on Dec. 3-4 and at UTEP on Dec. 17.

"We're really fortunate to have been able to work in the extended trip to Colorado," said Fox. "Playing in Boulder gives our team the opportunity to play in a large arena on the road and helps us learn to deal with a hostile environment."

"The tournament gives us the added advantage of experiencing the short turnaround of tournament play, as we travel to Air Force Academy just two days later."

The Bobcats play against Weber State in the first round of the tournament and face Air Force on the second day.

"We felt like we put together a schedule that is going to offer challenges whether it be in different styles of play, different types of personnel or difficult venues to play to get us prepared for Southland Conference play," added Fox.

Texas State opens its Southland Conference schedule on January 8 at Northwestern State. The Bobcats also play home games against McNeese State on Jan. 15, UTSA on Jan. 22, UT Arlington on Jan. 29, Stephen F. Austin on Feb. 2, Central Arkansas on Feb. 9, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi on Feb. 16, Lamar on Mar. 2 and Sam Houston State on Mar. 5.

After the Northwestern State game, the Bobcats play SLC road games at Sam Houston State on Jan. 19, Texas A&M-Corpus Christi on Jan. 26, Nicholls on Feb. 5, UT Arlington on Feb. 12, Stephen F. Austin on Feb. 19 and at UTSA on Feb. 26.

"This should be one of the best years for the Southland Conference," said Fox. "There is such a wealth of quality of coaching and players in the league this year. Every game is going to be a battle."

The Bobcats and the other Southland Conference teams will compete to play in the SLC Tournament at Katy on Mar. 8-11.

SLC Coach of the Year	2000, 2008

In her 19th season as a head coach, Suzanne Fox begins her 14th season at the helm of the Texas State women's basketball team. Under her direction, Texas State has earned a NCAA Tournament appearance, won one of its two games in the WNIT and had the highest win total as a NCAA Division I school. She also enters the 2010-11 season with the school record for most career victories by a Bobcat women's basketball head coach with 165.

Last season, Fox said goodbye to four-year seniors Victoria Davis and Aimee Hilburn. The two players were members of Texas State's 2007-08 squad that made history when the Bobcats won the Southland Conference championship and recorded the school's first victory in a national postseason tournament. That year, Texas State defeated Prairie View A&M 84-83 in the first round of the WNIT.

In 2008-09, Fox led Texas State to a 12-16 overall season, taking wins from top programs like Navy and Long Island. In the season finale, the Bobcats took a 73-60 victory over Stephen F. Austin, marking Fox's 275th career coaching victory.

Off the court, Marie Moser earned the F.L. McDonald Scholarship from the Southland Conference. The scholarship is the league's ultimate academic honor.

Three years ago, the Bobcats enjoyed their historic campaign under Fox's direction when Texas State ended the 2007-08 season with a 21-11 overall record. It was the most wins recorded by a Texas State women's basketball team in the NCAA Division I ranks. The Bobcats also won the Southland Conference championship with a 14-2 mark. Texas State's one-point victory over Prairie View A&M in the first round, of the WNIT marked the first-ever postseason tournament win by a Texas State basketball team since the school joined the NCAA Division I ranks.

The 2007-08 season also marked the third straight year that Texas State had a .600 or higher winning percentage, a feat that had not been accomplished since the 1991-94 seasons when WBCA Hall of Fame member Linda Sharp served as Texas State's head coach.

Those accomplishments culminated with Fox being named the Southland Conference Coach-of-the-Year for the second time in her career. In addition, Joyce Ekworomadu was named 2007-08 SLC Player of the Year and Student-Athlete-of-the-Year.

From 2004-2007, Fox won a combined 49 games and established career milestones by winning her 200th career victory and her 125th win at Texas State. In 2005, Fox coached two-time Southland Conference Player-of-the-Year Tori Talbert and SLC Newcomer of the Year Tamara Thompson.

In the 2002-03 season, Talbert earned her first Player-of-the-Year honor. That year, Fox guided the Bobcats to an 18-14 record and a berth to the NCAA Tournament after winning the Southland Conference Tournament with a 68-56 victory over top-seeded UTSA in San Antonio. Talbert also was named the SLC Tournament MVP and was joined on the All-Tournament team by Julie Brooks and Heather Burrow. The NCAA Tournament berth marked just the second NCAA postseason appearance in women's basketball history at Texas State and the school's first postseason tournament appearance for Fox as a NCAA Division I coach.

Fox was named the SLC Coach-of-the-Year for the first time in 1999-00 after she led the Bobcats to an 18-11 record and a third-place finish in the SLC standings with a 12-6 league record.

During her 13-year stint at Texas State, Fox has coached six All-SLC First-Team members and 14 to the second and third teams. The Bobcats have claimed one Freshman of the Year, Newcomer of the Year and one two-time Player of the Year in Talbert under Fox.

Additionally, several former student-athletes have gone on to compete professionally overseas and many are sustaining very successful careers in the public service industry as health professionals, firefighters and coaches.

Fox was named Texas State's sixth women's basketball coach in 1997 after coaching five seasons at her alma mater, Abilene Christian. In her final four years at ACU, she also served as the senior woman administrator.

During her five-year tenure at Abilene Christian, Fox coached two National Players-of-the-Year and two First-Team All-Americans. Her teams had four 20-win seasons, and one 30-win season in 1995-96 when Abilene Christian ended year with a 31-2 record and advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Division II Tournament. That season, Fox was named the WBCA National Coach of the Year. In addition, Fox led the Wildcats to two Lone Star Conference championships.

Before she was named head coach at Abilene Christian, Fox served as an assistant coach to long-time head coach Burl McCoy.

Fox was named an assistant coach after playing four seasons at Abilene Christian. During her playing career, Fox was named GTE Second-Team Academic All-America, First-Team All-LSC, Conference MVP, All-Academic LSC and LSC Defensive Player of the Year.

Fox remains one of the Top seven career scoring leaders with 1,502 points. She also ranks among the Top 10 single season leaders with a scoring average of 18 points as a senior.

She earned her bachelor's degree in physical education and math education in 1990. She earned a NCAA post-graduate scholarship and also received a master's degree in school administration. Fox was awarded the ACU Trustee's Student Award in 1990 and was selected to speak at a GTE Academic All-America seminar in 1991.

Presently, Fox serves as the chair for the Carol Eckman Award committee. The award is given to an active WBCA coach who best demonstrates the character of the late Carol Eckman, the mother of the collegiate women's basketball national championship.

She also has served as a clinician for the NCAA's Youth Education Sports Program (YES) at the WBCA National Convention, and as the WBCA Conference Captain for the Southland Conference.

THE TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM

The Texas State University System has a long and illustrious history in Texas. In fact, it is the oldest and third largest higher education system in the Lone Star State.

Beginning as an administrative means to consolidate the support and management of state teacher colleges, the System has evolved into a network of higher education institutions stretching from the Texas-Louisiana border to the Big Bend region of far West Texas.

Today, eight System components offer a broad range of academic and career pathways. Throughout the System are professionals committed to preparing students for working and contributing to an increasingly global society. The academic and professional programs offered help students learn to make sound decisions in life and to become contributors in their communities.

Each university, college and institute within the Texas State University System is unique.

Three of the member institutions are members of the Southland Conference. They are Texas State University-San Marcos, Sam Houston State University and Lamar University.

The other five member institutions of the System are: Lamar Institute of Technology, Lamar State College-Orange, Lamar State College-Port Arthur, Sul Ross State University and Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College.

The Texas State University System is governed by a nine member Board of Regents appointed by the Governor. In addition, a nonvoting student regent is appointed annually to the Board. The administration, which is headed by a board-appointed Chancellor, is based in Austin where it provides support to the System components and state government.

The Board of Regents are: Ron Blatchley (Chairman), Charles Amato (Vice-Chairman), Kevin J. Lilly, Ron Mitchell, David Montagne, Trisha S. Pollard, Michael Truncale and Donna N. Williams. Christopher Covo, a student at Texas State, serves as the Student Regent.

DR. BRIAN MCCALL
Chancellor

Brian McCall, Ph.D., is Chancellor of The Texas State University System, the oldest and third-largest university system in Texas, comprising eight universities and colleges with more than 72,000 students and 15,000 faculty and staff.

McCall previously served in the Texas House of Representatives, first elected in 1991 to represent the areas of North Dallas, Frisco, Allen and Plano. As a Representative, he served as Chairman of the House Calendars Committee and as a member of the Higher Education and Culture, Recreation and Tourism committees. Texas Monthly magazine named McCall one of the "10 Best" legislators for the 2009 legislative session.

McCall wrote and passed one of the largest tax-cut bills in the history of Texas and during his last session secured $5 million in funding for The University of Texas at Dallas' Center for Values and Medicine. Other legislative accomplishments include authoring and passing key bills in the areas of health care, biotechnology, high technology, identity theft and tax, and tax and budget policy.

McCall is President of Westminster Capital Corporation, an investment firm focused on acquisitions primarily in software and technology. He also serves as an advisor to Quest Network Business Solutions and, along with his brother, David, operates Snow Hill Farm north of Dallas.

McCall holds a bachelor's degree from Baylor University, a master's degree from Southern Methodist University, spent a year as a visiting post-graduate student at Oxford University, and earned a doctor of philosophy degree from University of Texas at Dallas.

A long-time civic and community volunteer, McCall is founder and Chairman of the Board of The Empowerment Project, a non-profit organization which has sent more than $10 million worth of math and science books to disadvantaged schools in the Republic of South Africa, and helped construct a library in Vietnam through the Libraries of Love organization. The Empowerment Project also raised more than $350,000 to provide direct support for the medical needs of children in North Texas.

Texas State University-San Marcos is a doctoral-granting university located in the burgeoning Austin-San Antonio corridor. It is the largest campus in the Texas State University System and the sixth largest in the state.

Texas State's 32,586 students choose from 97 bachelor's, 89 master's and nine doctoral degree programs offered by the following colleges: Applied Arts, McCoy College of Business Administration, Education, Fine Arts and Communication, Health Professions, Liberal Arts, Science, University College and the Graduate College.

Texas State students come from around the globe, and the student body is diverse. Thirty-five percent of Texas State students are ethnic minorities. In fact, Texas State is ranked 20th in the nation for the number of degrees we grant to Hispanic undergraduates.

LOCATION

Texas State's main campus is in San Marcos, a growing community of 50,000 people about halfway between Austin and San Antonio. Located on the edge of the Texas Hill Country, where black land prairies roll into beautiful hills, Texas State enjoys a setting that is unique among Texas universities.

The beauty of the crystal-clear San Marcos River and the stately cypress and pecan trees on the campus add to the charm of the university's picturesque setting. The school's location on the banks of the San Marcos River provides recreational activities for students throughout the year.

Since 2005, Texas State has also offered bachelor's and graduate-level courses in Round Rock, Texas, at the Round Rock Higher Education Center (RRHEC), located north of Austin. More than 1,700 students are enrolled at the RRHEC.

SAN MARCOS CAMPUS

As the university's student population has grown — from 303 in 1903 to 32,586 in 2010 — the San Marcos campus, too, has expanded. Today it consists of a 457-acre main campus and 4,777 additional acres in recreational, instructional, farm and ranch land.

The Texas State campus is as diverse as the students who live and learn here. Our hilly campus is home to 225 buildings. Some, like Old Main, are as old as the university itself. Others, such as the brand-new McCoy Hall, with flat screen monitors rather than bulletin boards, and the Mitte Complex, which contains a high-tech clean room and microchip fabrication lab, are cutting-edge facilities.

At the Aquarena Center on the Texas State campus, you can see the second-largest springs in Texas through the floor of a glass-bottom boat. These springs feed the San Marcos River and are home to eight endangered species, including the Texas Blind Salamander. In fact, as the site of the Aquarena Center, River Systems Institute and Edwards Aquifer Research and Data Center, the campus is one of the best places in the world to study aquatic ecosystems and species.

HISTORY

Authorized by the Texas Legislature in 1899, Southwest Texas State Normal School opened its doors in 1903. Over the years, the Legislature broadened the institution's scope and changed its name, in succession, to Normal College, Teachers College, College, University, and in 2003 to Texas State University-San Marcos. Each name reflects the university's growth from a small teacher preparation institution to a major, multipurpose university. Texas State's original mission was to prepare Texas public school teachers. It became renowned for carrying out this mission, but today it does far more.

THE TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM

Texas State became part of The Texas State University System in 1911. That System is governed by a nine-member Board of Regents. Other components in the System include Lamar University-Beaumont, Lamar University Institute of Technology, Lamar College-Orange, Lamar College-Port Arthur, Sam Houston State University, Sul Ross State University and Sul Ross State University Rio Grand College.

The first president of Texas State was Mr. T.G. Harris, who served from 1903 to 1911. He was followed by Dr. C.E. Evans, 1911-1942; Dr. J.G. Flowers, 1942-1964; Dr. James H. McCrocklin, 1964-1969; Dr. Leland E. Derrick, 1969; Dr. Billy Mac Jones, 1969-1973; Mr. Jerome C. Cates, 1973-1974; Dr. Lee H. Smith, 1974-1981; Mr. Robert L. Hardesty, 1981-1988; Dr. Michael L. Abbott, 1988-1989; Dr. Jerome Supple, 1989-2002, and Dr. Denise M. Trauth, 2002- present.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Following is a selection of successes within each of Texas State University's academic colleges as well as some of the many "Points of Pride" for Texas State.

Texas State's Mathworks program has been ranked among the top six mathematics programs in the nation eight times by the American Math Society Epsilon Fund.

Through this program, students enjoy small, stimulating classes taught by master teacher-scholars who employ innovative teaching methods. Students pursue independent projects or cutting edge research working closely with faculty and produce an honors thesis on the subject of their choosing.

Texas State has the fifth-highest retention and graduation rate of public universities in the state.

In 2009-10, Texas State had a record 52 student-athletes earn their bachelor's degrees. In addition, more than 100 student-athletes, Strutters, cheerleaders and student trainers maintained a grade point average of 3.5 and above in the 2009 spring and fall semesters, while another 166 student-athletes were to the Southland Conference Commissioner's Honor Rolls, maintaining a 3.0 GPA.

The McCoy College of Business Administration is among the small number of U.S. business schools accredited by AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

Texas State's College of Health Professions is one of a few in the United States that has achieved national accreditation for degree programs ranging from undergraduate to doctoral.

The School of Music's sound recording technology program, housed in the historic Fire Station Studios, is the only degree program of its kind in the Southwestern United States.

Texas State's athletics training program was the first one in Texas certified by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Educators.

SUPERIOR GRADUATE PROGRAMS

The master of applied geography degree program was the first in the nation.

The American Historical Association ranks the master of arts in history program among those in the top 15 percent of American universities for the number and quality of students it prepares for doctoral programs at prestigious schools.

The Endowed Chair in Creative Writing brings first-rank novelists and poets to the department for a year at a time. Chair holders have included novelists Tim O'Brien, Denis Johnson, Leslie Marmon Silko, and Barry Hannah and poets Ai and Li Young Lee.

The Communication Disorders master's program offers a bilingual speech-language pathology specialty. It was the 14th program of its kind established in the United States.

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board praised Texas State for developing doctoral programs built on already successful undergraduate and graduate programs.

As Director of Athletics since 2004, Dr. Larry Teis has led Texas State to unprecedented growth and success. Under his leadership, Texas State has won three Southland Conference Commissioner's Cups, five of the last six SLC Women's All-Sports Trophies, along with several Southland Conference championships and SLC Tournament titles.

In addition, more than 125 student-athletes have graduated and 264 attained a grade point average of 3.0 or higher during the last two years. Texas State's fund-raising efforts have also generated record-setting donations in the past three years and new facilities and renovation projects have totaled over $56 million.

Facility improvements in 2008-09 included the complete renovation and grand opening of the new Bobcat baseball and softball stadiums. Last year, the Jerry D. and Linda Gregg Fields West Side Complex at Bobcat football stadium added 15 new suites and 450 club seats above the press box for the 2009 season. In the summer of 2010, a new FieldTurf Duraspine Pro system was installed as a new playing surface on Jim Wacker Field.

A ground breaking ceremony was held on September 11, 2010 for a new track and field facility and Texas State is moving into a new $750,000 Athletic Academic Center during the 2010 fall semester.

In addition, the school has begun the planning and design of a North End Zone Complex that will expand the seating capacity of Bobcat Stadium to nearly 30,000. Construction for the new complex is scheduled to begin in 2011.

These improvements come after new locker rooms were built at the Bobcat Tennis Complex and soccer field. In addition, new video boards were installed in each of the football, volleyball, men's and women's basketball, and baseball/softball facilities in 2007-08.

In 2009-10, Texas State Athletics received a million-dollar gift for the second time in school history when Jerry and Linda Fields donated $6 million to the program. This came after their gift of $100,000 help fund Texas State's football season tickets drive for the 2008 season. The first $1 million gift to the department came from Darren B. Casey in 2008. Furthermore, in 2007-08 corporate sponsorships reached an all-time high in addition to the student government passing an athletic fee, dramatically increasing departmental support for the next five years.

Citing his leadership skills, experience, and values as elements that made him the right fit for the position, Texas State President Denise M. Trauth named Teis the Bobcats' eighth Director of Athletics in March 2004. A member of Texas State's athletic administration since January, 1999, he resides on the President's Council and reports directly to President Trauth.

Teis was honored as the 2005-06 General Sports TURF Systems AD of the Year Division I-AA West Region Winner, presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. In 2007, he was honored by the All-American Football Foundation with the General Robert R. Neyland Outstanding Athletic Director Award.

After capturing back-to-back Commissioner's Cups during his first two years as the Director of Athletics, Texas State won its third Commissioner's Cup under his direction in 2008-09. Awarded annually to the league institution with the highest combined total of men's and women's all-sports points, the Bobcats won their third Commissioner's Cup trophy after winning five Southland Conference championships, becoming the first SLC School ever to win a football, women's soccer and volleyball championship in the same year. The Bobcats also became the first SLC institution since 1991 to win both the baseball and softball championships in the same season. Additionally, Texas State won a pair of SLC Tournament Championships and had four teams and two individuals participate in the 2008-09 NCAA Tournaments.

In 2009-10, Texas State won Southland Conference championships in soccer, baseball, softball and women's golf. The women's volleyball team won the SLC Tournament and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the sixth time and the women's golf team also played in the NCAA Tournament for the second time in the last three years.

Three years ago, the women's basketball team won its first-ever regular season championship and recorded the school's first postseason win with a first-round victory in the Women's National Invitational Tournament, and Joyce Ekworomadu represented the women's basketball team in the national three-point shooting contest at the NCAA Final Four in San Antonio.

In addition to Texas State's overall success on the field, a record number of 74 Bobcat student-athletes earned their bachelor's degrees in 2008-09. The 2008-09 graduation success rate was 78%, the highest in school history. Also, more than 100 student-athletes, Strutters, cheerleaders and student trainers maintained a grade point average of 3.5 and above in the 2008 spring and fall semesters, while an additional 104 student-athletes were named to the Capital One SLC Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll after having maintained a 3.0 GPA.

Last year, 52 more Bobcat student-athletes earned their bachelor's degree. In addition, over 100 student-athletes, Strutters, cheerleaders, student trainers and managers maintained a grade point average of 3.5 and above, and 166 were named to the Capital One SLC Commissioner's Academic Fall and Spring Honor Rolls. Individually, Nick Clark was the first Bobcat football player to be named a finalist for the William Campbell Award (formerly the Draddy Award) in 2007, and Travis Houston was named a semifinalist in 2009 for their outstanding football/academic performance.

The future looks bright for Bobcat Athletics as the NCAA Division I Committee on Athletics Certification announced that Texas State Athletics was certified as operating its athletics program in "substantial conformity with operating principles adopted by the Division I membership" in 2009.

During his first six years, Teis restructured the department's administration with the hiring of key senior administrative staff and five head coaches.

Texas State also restructured its Athletics Academic Center and created a new website for Athletics. Teis has completed and implemented a five-year strategic plan for the department.

In his previous role as associate athletic director for external affairs, he had oversight of several key areas, including game management, marketing, promotions, facilities and ticket sales. Teis was also responsible for the administration of men's and women's golf, baseball and volleyball as well as the Strutters. From 1998-2002, he oversaw the Bobcat Athletic Foundation.

A native of Fort Worth, Teis came to Texas State after spending four years as the director of athletic marketing at TCU. In that position, he developed the marketing plan for all sports at TCU, including facility signage, season ticket campaigns, game day operations, and corporate sponsorships.

Prior to his tenure at TCU, Teis was the assistant director of New Mexico's Lobo Club for three years, working in all aspects of the athletic department's annual fund drive.

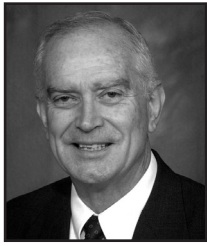

Teis has served on several key Southland Conference committees, and is an active member of the local community, including serving on the board of directors of the San Marcos Convention and Visitors Bureau.

He holds a bachelor's degree in marketing from TCU, a master's in sports administration from St. Thomas University of Miami, Fla., and a doctorate in health, physical education and recreation with an emphasis in sports administration from the University of New Mexico.

Teis resides in San Marcos with his wife, Jana, and two daughters, Taylor (17) and Shelby (13).
