The Texas State Sports Information staff is available to help make your coverage of Texas State football as effortless as possible. We have developed these policies and procedures that will require cooperation on the part of the media. Not complying with these policies can result in the refusal of credentials/access.

TXST, NOT "TSU"

In editorial references to Texas State Athletics, media outlets are asked to refrain from the use of the "TSU" acronym. Print and broadcast outlets are asked to use 'Texas State' and 'Bobcats'. For those using acronyms, please use "TXST."

WEEKLY INTERVIEW OPPORTUNITIES

INTERVIEW POLICY

Texas State head coach Everett Withers, the offensive and defensive coordinators and selected Bobcat student-athletes are available to the media during the season, but all interviews must be coordinated through Rick Poulter and the Texas State Sports Information Office. Please do not attempt to contact coaches, players or other team personnel directly by any means of communication, including personal phone numbers, E-Mail addresses and social networking accounts.

It is preferred that all interview requests be submitted Sunday afternoon or Monday morning by 9 a.m. each week. If approved, most interviews will take place at a weekly media briefing each Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. or following practices on Tuesday and Wednesday.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Head coach Everett Withers and selected player or players meet with the media at Texas State's weekly press conference each Monday to preview upcoming games in the J. Garland Warren Room on the second level of Bobcat Stadium's End Zone Complex. Interviews with coach Withers begin at 4 p.m. and are followed by interviews with a selected player.

OTHER INTERVIEW AVAILABILITY

In addition to Monday's media briefing, coach Withers and the offensive and defensive coordinators are available for interviews following practices on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

PRACTICE COVERAGE

The first 45 minutes of each practice on Tuesday and Wednesday during game weeks are generally open to the media with prior approval by Rick Poulter at either Bobcat Stadium or on the Texas State football practice fields.

PHOTOGRAPHERS/VIDEOGRAPHERS

Photographers and videographers are permitted to shoot interview sessions and during the first 45 minutes of each practice in designated areas with prior approval by the SID. Photographers and videographers are not allowed to shoot on the playing field during practice sessions.

PARKING FOR PRACTICE COVERAGE

Media members will need to secure an annual parking pass to park in the parking lot on the west side of Bobcat Stadium in front of the End Zone Complex. Parking passes can be requested by contacting Rick Poulter via E-Mail at rpoulter@txstate.edu. Please allow two (2) weeks from time of request to order the parking pass.

PRACTICE LOCATIONS

Practice locations will rotate between Jim Wacker Field at Bobcat Stadium and the Texas State football practice fields located west of the Football End Zone Complex behind the outfield fences of the baseball and softball complex.

HOME GAME COVERAGE INFORMATION

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Working media and photographer credentials for Texas State's home games are distributed through the Sports Information Office. Requests should be made by sports editors or sports directors of accredited media outlets. Requests should be made as early as possible and no later than at noon on Tuesday prior to each home game.

The Press Box includes a working press area and small booths for coaches, radio/TV announcers and the visiting athletic director. Media credentials are required for admittance to the press box.

GAME DAY SERVICES

Pregame notes and two-deep cards are provided in the press box before each home game. Team statistics, individual statistical leaders and a play-by-play are distributed after each quarter in the press box. After the game has ended, statistical books that include team statistics, individual statistics, a play-by-play and participation list will be distributed in the press box, E-Mailed to media members and posted on the www.txstatebobcats.com website. In addition, postgame quotes and team notes will be distributed.

To be included in the postgame E-Mail distribution, please contact Rick Poulter via E-Mail at rpoulter@txstate.edu in advance of the game.

THE VOICES OF BOBCAT ATHLETICS

Beginning their 16th season together, Brant Freeman and Bill Culhane return as the "Voices of the Bobcats" on the Texas State football radio broadcasts.

BRANT FREEMAN

Freeman has served as the radio and television play-by-play announcer for Texas State football, basketball and baseball games since 2003, covering several historic moments for the Bobcats. These include the football team advancing to the 2005 FCS semifinals in 2005, its second Southland Conference championship in 2008 and transition into FBS football.

He is the host for Texas State's weekly Football Coaches radio show and is beginning his 10th season as the host for "Inside Bobcat Football" television show. Freeman also provides online podcasts, video packages and blogs on www.textstatebobcats.com. In addition, he produces a daily "Bobcat Minute" update for the Texas State Sports Network and social media outlets.

A San Antonio native, Freeman graduated from Texas State in 2006, and serves as an emcee at various Texas State events. He also has worked with KBVO & KXAN sports to provide live local television coverage of Texas State Athletics.

In addition to his duties at Texas State, Freeman has covered local high school sports and reported on major sporting events in the Greater San Antonio area, including three NBA Finals, one NCAA Basketball Final Four and training camp with the Dallas Cowboys.

He and his wife Linda, who also is a Texas State graduate, have a daughter, Zoey.

BILL CULHANE

The longest tenured broadcaster in the history of Texas State Athletics, Culhane begins his 26th season at the school. Since his first broadcast in 1993, Culhane has helped describe the action for some of Texas State's historic moments, including the football team advancing to the 2005 FCS semifinals, its second Southland Conference championship in 2008 and transition into FBS football. He has served as a color analyst for Bobcat football games since 1994 and is scheduled to broadcast his 250th football game in 2018.

He also completed his 25th year as the play-by-play voice for Texas State men's basketball games in 2017-18, and called the action in Texas State's 1996-97 and 1998-99 conference championship seasons and the 2017 run in the CIT. He also has served as a radio play-by-play announcer for Texas State women's basketball, baseball, volleyball and softball games, and as a television color analyst for Bobcat football and men's basketball contests.

A proud U.S. Air Force veteran of nine years, Culhane is the vice president of marketing at BidPrime. He has been an announcer for local high school athletic broadcasts and was an announcer for the IFAF under-19 World Championship in 2012.

He and his wife, Tracy, have two sons, Cory and Miles, and a daughter Viktoria.

TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY

San Marcos, the county seat of Hays County, is located in Central Texas 30 miles southwest of Austin and 51 miles north-east of San Antonio. The main highway through San Marcos is Interstate 35 with access from exits 199 through 208. The city is situated on the Balcones Fault, which forms Spring Lake and is the source for the San Marcos River.

San Marcos is thought to be among the oldest continuously inhabited areas in the Americas. The San Marcos River served as a watering place for Native Americans.

Mastodon bones and Clovis points were uncovered in an underwater archeological dig by Dr. Joel Shiner of SMU. The dig produced evidence that the Clovis Man lived in and around the headwaters of the San Marcos River over 12,000 years ago.

The Spanish made several attempts for colonization of the site before it became the center of an Anglo-American settlement in the area. The first Spanish attempt was in 1755 when the short-lived establishment of the San Xavier missions and the presidio of San Francisco Xavier. These were relocated less than a year later, and the headwaters of the San Marcos River remained unsettled for another half century.

In 1808, the Spanish governor of Texas, Manuel Antonio Cordero y Bustamante, sponsored the civil settlement of San Marcos de Neve near the same site, but floods and Indian raids forced those plans to be abandoned in 1812.

In November 1846, Thomas G. McGehee became the first Anglo-American to settle in the vicinity of the San Marcos Springs, but William W. Moon has been identified as the original resident of the site that became San Marcos. Moon was joined by other a company of former members of Texas Rangers who led by John C. Hays and by Gen. Edward Burleson. Caton Erhard opened the first store and post office by 1847. Soon after that, the First Methodist Church began.

The Texas Legislature organized Hays County on March 1, 1848, and designated the young community as the county seat. San Marcos already had 387 residents. In 1851, General Burleson, William Lindsey, and Dr. Eli T. Merriman took possession of a 640-acre section of the Juan Veramendi grant and built the town center. Tarbox and Brown stagecoaches linked San Marcos with Austin and San Antonio in 1848, and the town began to develop as the commercial center for trade between area farmers and ranchers and coastal commission merchants. It also became a center for ginning and milling local agricultural products.

Following the Civil War, the population grew from 742 in 1870 to 2,335 in the decade following the arrival of the International-Great Northern Railroad in 1881. During that decade, the town supported two banks, an opera house, a variety of stores, saloons, and other businesses.

Cattle and cotton production provided the basis for the gradual growth of San Marcos as a center for commerce and transportation.

The chartering in 1899 and subsequent opening in 1903 of Texas State and the San Marcos Baptist Academy in 1907 established education as an important local industry.

In the 1960s, the emergence of Aquarena Springs and Wonder Cave provided important attractions for the tourist industry as another reliable and growing source of income.

In 2018, San Marcos has a population of 63,071, and has been coined "The fastest-growing city in the nation" during the past three years. The tourism industry continues to be a major employer and economic contributor with its Outlet Centers consistently rated among the top three attractions in Texas. Ecotourism is a hot topic at both Aquarena Center and Wonder World, and the San Marcos River continues to attract visitors, a continuous tradition for more than 12,000 years.

SERVING SAN MARCOS AND HAYS COUNTY

The Texas State football team is heavily involved in the community service efforts around San Marcos with the SERVE San Marcos organization. Since the 2016 spring semester, Texas State's football players logged nearly 1,000 hours of community service by helping in areas that include restoration projects, community gardening, supporting local businesses in downtown San Marcos, visiting local schools, helping with an area football camp, assisting at the Hays County Food Bank and a local animal shelter.

TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM

The Texas State University System has a long and illustrious history in Texas. In fact, it is the oldest and third largest higher education system in the Lone Star State.

Beginning as an administrative means to consolidate the support and management of state teacher colleges, the System has evolved into a network of higher education institutions stretching from the Texas–Louisiana border to the Big Bend region of far West Texas.

Today, seven System components offer a broad range of academic and career pathways. Throughout the System are professionals committed to preparing students for working and contributing to an increasingly global society.

The academic and professional programs offered help students learn to make sound decisions in life and to become contributors in their communities. Each university, college and institute within The Texas State University System is unique.

SYSTEM ADMINISTRATION

BRIAN MCCALL*CHANCELLOR*The Texas State University System

Brian McCall, Ph.D., is chancellor of the Texas State University System, the first university system established in Texas, comprising seven institutions with more than 84,000 students and 16,000 faculty and staff.

Dr. McCall previously served in the Texas House of Representatives, first elected in 1991 to represent the areas of North Dallas, Frisco, Allen, and Plano. As a representative, he served as chairman of the House Calendars Committee and as a member of the Higher Education Committee. 'Texas Monthly' named McCall one of the "10 Best" legislators of the 2009 session.

McCall wrote and passed one of the largest tax-cut bills in the history of Texas and during his last session secured $5 million in funding for The University of Texas at Dallas' Center for Values and Medicine. Other legislative accomplishments include authoring and passing key bills in the areas of health care, biotechnology, high technology, identity theft, and tax and budget policy.

He serves on the board of Legacy Texas Financial Group (NASDAQ: LTXB) and served as chairman of Texas' Council of Public University Presidents and Chancellors (CPUPC), a position to which he was elected by the state's 38 public university presidents and six chancellors.

McCall was president of Westminster Capital Corporation, an investment firm focused on acquisitions primarily in software and technology. He and his brother, David, operate Snow Hill Farm north of Dallas.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Baylor University, a master's degree from Southern Methodist University, spent a year as a visiting post-graduate student at Oxford University, and earned a doctor of philosophy degree from The University of Texas at Dallas.

McCall is the author of 'The Power of the Texas Governor: Connally to Bush,' published by University of Texas Press, which examines how various governors have overcome the institutional limitations of the office to achieve significant political power.

A long-time civic and community volunteer, McCall is founder and chairman of the board of The Empowerment Project, a non-profit organization which has sent more than $10 million worth of math and science books to disadvantaged schools in the Republic of South Africa, and helped construct a library in Vietnam through the Libraries of Love organization. The Empowerment Project also raised more than $350,000 to provide direct support for the medical needs of children in north Texas.

McCall is the recipient of the 2012 Distinguished Alumni Award from The University of Texas at Dallas. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Philosophical Society of Texas, is president of the Board of Trustees of ZACH Theater in Austin, and serves on the board of directors of the National Association of System Heads—the association of the 46 leaders of the nation's public university systems.

The member institutions are Texas State University, Sam Houston State University, Lamar University, Lamar Institute of Technology, Lamar State College-Orange, Lamar State College-Port Arthur and Sul Ross State University.

The Texas State University System is governed by a nine-member Board of Regents appointed by the Governor. In addition, a nonvoting student regent is appointed annually to the Board. The administration, which is headed by a board-appointed Chancellor, is based in Austin where it provides support to the System components and state government.

Members of the Board of Regents are: Rossanna Salazar (Chairman), William F. Scott (Vice Chairman), Charlie Amato, Garry Crain, Veronica Muzquiz Edwards, Dr. Jaime Garza, David Montagne, Vernon Reaser III, Alan L. Tinsley and Leanna Mouton (Student Regent).

TEXAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Texas State University is an Emerging Research University with a Carnegie Research classification of R-2: Doctoral - Higher Research Activity, located in San Marcos and Round Rock. Texas State's 38,666 students choose from 97 bachelor's, 93 master's and 13 doctoral degree programs offered by the following colleges: Applied Arts, McCoy College of Business Administration, Education, Fine Arts and Communication, Health Professions, Honors, Liberal Arts, Science and Engineering, University College, and The Graduate College. As an Emerging Research University, Texas State offers exciting opportunities for discovery and innovation to faculty and students.

Texas State's diverse student body includes students from 254 counties in Texas and from around the globe. Fifty-three percent of its students are ethnic minorities. Texas State has the 10th largest Hispanic undergraduate enrollment among U. S. universities.

Both of Texas State's campuses are located in the Austin Metropolitan area. The San Marcos Campus is located in the Texas Hill Country which provides a unique setting. The beauty of the crystal-clear San Marcos River and the stately cypress and oak trees on campus add to the charm of the university's picturesque setting. The river also provides recreational activities for students throughout the year.

Texas State's Round Rock Campus, located just north of Austin, offers students the opportunity to take courses leading to bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees, and other professional designations.

In May 2018, the departments of Communication Disorders, Physical Therapy, and Respiratory Care in the College of Health Professions relocated from San Marcos to Round Rock. The three departments joined the St. David's School of Nursing on the Round Rock Campus, which opened as a new program in 2010 to help address the state's chronic nursing shortage.

As the university's student population has grown from 303 in 1903 to 38,666 in 2017, the university's footprint has grown from 39,283 gross square feet of space in its first building, Old Main, to over eight million gross square feet today, and now includes a 495-acre San Marcos campus, a 101-acre campus in Round Rock, 80 acres housing the university's research and commercialization activities in the Science, Technology, and Advanced Research (STAR) Park, plus 4,522 additional acres of recreational, instructional, farm, and ranch land.

Authorized by the Texas Legislature in 1899 and originally called Southwest Texas State Normal School, Texas State opened its doors in 1903. Over the years, the State Legislature broadened the institution's scope and changed its name, in succession, to Southwest Texas State Normal College, Southwest Texas State Teachers College, Southwest Texas State College, and Southwest Texas State University. In 2003, the Legislature changed the name to Texas State University-San Marcos, and in 2011 to Texas State University. Each name reflects the university's growth from a small teacher preparation institution to a major multipurpose research university.

VICTORY STAR

Texas State students first saw the Victory Star on campus in December 1936 when it was placed as a Christmas decoration on top of a 50,000-gallon water tower near where the Chemistry Building sits today. After the holidays, the star was taken down and put away. Then, in 1942, a night watchman found it and placed it on the water tower again. He turned it on after the Bobcats won football games, creating a new tradition.

When the water tower was replaced, the "Victory Star" tradition was moved to the top of Jackson Hall, the tallest building on campus. A local sign maker built a new star with a radius of six feet from the center to the tip of each arm. It contained two sets of lights with an outside white outline and an inner set of maroon and gold-colored lights. The white set was to be controlled by a photoelectric cell which could turn the lights on at sunset and off at sunrise. The colored lights operated with a manual switch.

The new Star was built in time for a game against Texas Lutheran on September 16, 1967. In its new location atop Jackson Hall, the Victory Star actually sits about 50 feet higher than its predecessor sat on the former water tower.

The Star can be seen from miles away and is lit after all athletic victories and during graduation ceremonies. Taken from the university seal, the Star serves as Texas State's symbol and is the source of the name of the school's newspaper, The University Star (formerly named the Normal Star and the College Star.)

The Victory Star is now being refurbished and plans have been finalized to move the Victory Star to the University Events Center where this time-honored tradition will be expanded.

SPRING 2018 T-RING RECIPIENTS (ALL SPORTS)

TEXAS STATE "T" ASSOCIATION RING

The Ring symbolizes excellence on the playing field and in the classroom. To receive the Bobcat Club "T" ring, student-athletes must have:

1. Received the "T" Letter from the Texas State Department of Athletics
2. Completed NCAA eligibility with Texas State
3. Earned an undergraduate degree from Texas State within one year of completing NCAA eligibility

Along with their rings, all graduating student-athletes also receive the maroon and gold cords to wear during graduation commencements. A tradition introduced by the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee in December 2008, the cords serve to recognize student-athletes as a unique group on campus.

ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
 Texas State University

Beginning his 15th year as the director of athletics at Texas State, Larry Teis has overseen Texas State's transition to the NCAA Division I FBS Subdivision. During each of the last four years, the Bobcats have ranked as one of the top two athletic programs in the Sun Belt Conference contending for the Bubas Cup, which is awarded based on each's sports finish during the regular season and championship tournaments. Texas State enters its sixth season as a member of the Sun Belt after joining the NCAA Division I FBS ranks as a member of the WAC in 2012-13.

Sun Belt Championships, one SBC Championship Tournament, and an SBC divisional title in 2017-18.

New facilities and renovation projects have totaled more than $200 million since 2009, and fund-raising efforts have generated over $1 million each of the last five years.

In addition, 497 student-athletes have earned a bachelor's degree and more than 1,300 have attained a grade point average of 3.0 or higher during the last six years.

In 2017-18, three Bobcat teams (women's cross country, golf and tennis) were publicly recognized by the NCAA for the third straight year after ranking among the Top 10 percent of their sports with multi-year APR rates for the four-year period ending in 2014-15. It was the 10th consecutive year that women's tennis team, sixth straight year that the women's golf team and third straight year that the women's cross country team have received public recognition from the NCAA.

Facility projects include a redesigned court and new seating in Strahan Arena, new playing surface for Jim Wacker Field at Bobcat Stadium, new practice courts for the basketball and volleyball teams, and construction and grand opening of new Bobcat baseball and softball stadiums. In addition, the Jerry D. and Linda Gregg Fields West Side Complex, which includes 15 luxury suites and 450 club seats, was added in 2009. A $33 million North Side Complex was added to Bobcat Stadium in 2012, increasing the seating capacity to 30,000. The first home game in the new stadium against Texas Tech saw a then-record crowd of 33,006 thanks to temporary seating in the south end zone for the game. The Bobcats have played in front of six of their seven largest crowds at Bobcat Stadium since 2014.

A new track stadium was built for the 2012-13 season and Texas State's track and field teams have new coaching offices, locker rooms, weight room and training room in the North End Zone Complex. The Bobcat Tennis Complex features covered seating, a $1 million indoor facility, a locker room, and a playing surface. The soccer stadium includes a locker room, weight room and training room.

The Bobcats joined the FBS after claiming three Southland Conference Commissioner's Cups and six SLC women's all-sports trophies in eight years.

During his tenure, Texas State has won 34 conference championships and 14 conference tournament titles, including nine Sun Belt Conference championships and two Sun Belt Tournaments since 2013. The Bobcats won four

This fall, the University Events Center will open and increase seating to nearly 10,000 and add club seats for Strahan Arena, expanded athletic locker rooms, weight room, offices, academic areas and support spaces for men's and women's basketball, women's volleyball, baseball and softball. It also include offices and support spaces for men's and women's golf, soccer and tennis.

Texas State Athletics also has received its first four, million-dollar gifts since announcing its transition to the NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS). In 2018, El Paso businessman, philanthropist and Texas State Distinguished Alumnus Richard Castro has given a $1 million gift to the university to support scholarships for student-athletes. In 2016, Dan and Cindee Dipenhorst made a $1 million donation to match other philanthropic support for athletics scholarships.

Jerry and Linda Fields donated more than $7 million to the program for Bobcat Stadium renovations to include the West Side Complex and Strutter Gallery in 2009 after providing a gift of $100,000 to help fund Texas State's football season tickets drive for the 2008 season. The first $1 million gift to the department came from Darren B. Casey in 2008. Those donations have combined with record-setting corporate sponsorships.

Teis also represents the Sun Belt Conference on the NCAA Division I Board of Directors Council, serves on the President's Council at Texas State and reports directly to President Denise M. Trauth.

President Trauth cited leadership skills, experience and values as elements that made him the right fit when she named Teis the Texas State's eighth director of athletics in March 2004.

Teis was honored as the 2005-06 General Sports TURF Systems AD of the Year Division I-AA West Region Winner, presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics. In 2007, he was honored by the All-American Football Foundation with the General Robert R. Neyland Outstanding Athletic Director Award.

He assumed his current position after serving as associate athletic director for external affairs, and oversaw game management, marketing, promotions, facilities and ticket sales. Teis was also the administrator for the men's and women's golf, baseball and volleyball teams, as well as the Strutters. In addition, he oversaw the Bobcat Athletic Foundation from 1998-02.

A native of Fort Worth, Teis came to Texas State after spending four years as the director of athletic marketing at TCU and three years as the assistant director of New Mexico's Lobo Club.

He holds a bachelor's degree in marketing from TCU, a master's in sports administration from St. Thomas University and a doctorate in HPER with an emphasis in sports administration from the University of New Mexico.

Teis and his wife, Jana, have two daughters, Taylor, who earned her bachelor's and master's degrees at Texas State, and Shelby, who is a current student at Texas State.

BOBCAT STADIUM- HOME OF THE BOBCATS

Bobcat Stadium, which serves as the home field for the Texas State Bobcats, originally opened in 1981 and was expanded to its current 30,000-seat capacity in 2012.

The stadium includes a Football End Zone Complex that was built in 2002 and houses newly renovated offices, locker room and meeting areas, a full-service training center, weight room, equipment room and offices for the football coaches and support staff. The J. Garland Warren Reception Room is located on the second floor and serves as a banquet room for Texas State Athletics and is the site for press conferences and weekly football media updates.

The playing surface is named Jim Wacker Field in honor of Texas State's former football coach (1979-82) and athletic director (1998-2001). Wacker's 42-8 record at Texas State is the best four-year mark in school history. He also led the Bobcats to a pair of back-to-back NCAA Division II national championships in 1981 and 1982. His 1982 team finished the season with a 14-0 record, and he was named the College Division Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association. He passed away on Aug. 26, 2003 after a lengthy battle with cancer.

In 2006, the Bill Miller Room was dedicated in honor of Bill Miller, who is a former football coach (1965-78 when he compiled a record of 86-53-3) and athletic director in 1975-92. His 86 career victories are the most wins by a Texas State head football coach. Originally used to host Athletic Alumni functions during home football games, the room now serves as an academic study area for the Bobcat football team.

The Jerry D. and Linda Gregg Fields West Side Complex added new premium seating consisting of 15 luxury suites and a club seat level containing 450 seats beginning in 2009.

The addition of a $33 million expansion enclosing the north end zone added 13,500 general admission seats for upper and lower levels and increased the seating capacity in the Bobcat Stadium to 30,000.

The North Side Complex also houses a Strutters Gallery, the Texas State Athletic Ticket Office, a visiting team locker room, a weight room, a training room, locker rooms and coaching offices for Texas State's men's and women's track and field teams. In addition, the north side expansion added concession stands, restrooms and a first aid center on the complex of the stadium.

In the southwest corner of Bobcat Stadium is the Pavilion which hosts pregame and halftime hospitality areas for the Bobcat Club and "T" Association on game days.

A new playing surface was added in 2016 when Texas State became the nation's first Division I football program to install the FieldTurf Revolution 360. The new turf is equipped with "CoolPlay", which is FieldTurf's exclusive and innovative Extruded Cork Composite (ECC) top dressing that will keep the playing surface 35 degrees cooler than traditional artificial turfs. The field now features alternating shades of green every five-yards and the state of Texas is in the design of the turf just outside of the south end zone behind the goalpost. The end zones are in Texas State maroon with Texas State lettered in gold with white outline.

The End Zone Complex features a new graphics package, back-lit signage and new leather seats in the team meeting room.

BOBCATS IN THE NFL

Throughout its history, Texas State has had 43 players listed on NFL rosters, including three active players in 2018. Since moving to the FBS in 2012, the Bobcats have had five players play in the NFL.

Darryl Morris signed as a free agent with the San Francisco 49ers in 2013. He played in 13 games as a rookie after being promoted from the practice squad. He played the next two years as a slot corner and on special teams with the Houston Texans in 2014 and 2015. He recorded 31 tackles and an interception in 2014 and 15 tackles in 12 games the following year. In 2016, Morris played in 12 games with the Indianapolis Colts, collecting 35 tackles and one interception. He began the 2017 on injured reserve with the Colts before signing to play the final five games of the season with the New York Giants. He had 11 tackles and broke up one pass with the Giants.

Joplo Bartu also signed as a free agent in 2013 when he joined the Atlanta Falcons. He started 13 games as a rookie and 14 contests the following year. He also played in seven games with the Falcons in 2015 before joining Jacksonville on Dec. 7, 2015 and playing in the final three games of the season.

He had 179 tackles and 4.5 sacks in his career.

Two years later, two Bobcats were NFL Draft selections. Craig Mager was the 83rd overall player taken in the 2015 NFL Draft when he was chosen in the third round by the San Diego Chargers, making him the first Bobcat to be selected in the first three rounds since 1982. He was a four-year starter at Texas State and ended his career with 211 tackles. He also defended 55 passes, had eight interceptions and set a school record with 47 breakups. He also returned 15 punts for 251 yards and touchdown during his career. He had nine tackles in 10 games as rookie.

David Mayo was 169th overall player taken in the 2015 NFL Draft when he was selected in the fifth round by the Carolina Panthers. He begins his fourth season with the Panthers after recording 19 tackles each of the last two years as reserve linebacker and on all four special team units. Mayo played in Super Bowl 50 for the Panthers.

Craig Mager

Ty Nsekhe begins his fourth season with the Washington Redskins after playing in 11 games and starting five contests in 2017. Nsekhe played in all 16 games and made four starts as an offensive tackle in 2016 after joining the Redskins in 2015 and playing in 13 contests. He made his first two NFL starts that season. Nsekhe originally played in two games with the St. Louis Rams in 2012 after signing as a free agent with the Indianapolis Colts in 2012. He also played in the Arena League in 2009-11 after playing at Texas State and Tarleton State in 2003-06.

BOBCATS IN THE SUPER BOWL

David Mayo became the fourth Texas State player to appear in a Super Bowl when he played in Super Bowl 50 against Denver. The other three Bobcats to play in a Super Bowl were Ken Coffey, Ricky Sanders and A. J. Johnson of the Washington Redskins.

Coffey played in 41 games and recorded seven interceptions during his career from 1983-86 after being selected in the ninth round of the 1982 NFL Draft. He was a starting safety for the Redskins in Super Bowl XVIII team.

Sanders was a wide receiver who played eight seasons with the Redskins from 1986-93 and Atlanta Falcons in 1994-95. He was named the standout performer in Super Bowl XII after catching nine passes for 193 yards and two touchdowns. He also returned three kickoffs for 46 yards in Washington's 42-10 victory over Denver. He set Super Bowl records for most receiving yards, most total yards (235), most touchdowns in a quarter (2), most receiving yards in a quarter (168) and tied another record for longest touchdown reception (80 yards).

Sanders and cornerback A. J. Johnson also were teammates for Washington in Super Bowl XVIII. Sanders caught a 41-yard pass in the game, while Johnson was a reserve cornerback.

SUN BELT CONFERENCE

Entering the second decade of the new millennium, the Sun Belt Conference continues to challenge itself, and its competitors, in all aspects of intercollegiate athletics. Not content with being simply the youngest football conference in the Football Bowl Subdivision, the conference has shown that it can rise each and every season that comes along. And since the birth of the league as a FBS member in 2001, the evidence is clear that the conference is indeed rising above competitors and peer conferences.

At no time has league athletic success been more obvious than during the course of the last several football seasons. In recent years, Sun Belt members have participated in as many as six bowl games, a 50 percent increase in the league's former high-water mark and only a decade removed from a "one-bowl league" moniker in its formative years. More importantly, Sun Belt teams didn't just get to bowl games ... they won them, again in record numbers.

During the last two seasons the Sun Belt tied its record for wins in the postseason with four wins in both 2016 and 2017. The Sun Belt finished second in bowl winning percentage among all 10 FBS conferences in each of those years while also finishing fourth in 2015.

Reaching back to the 2014 season, no conference has a better total bowl winning percentage (.611) than the Sun Belt Conference. Further, the Sun Belt has won more games during that period (11) than its peers the American Athletic Conference (10) and the Mid-American Conference (6). That fact is staggering when considering the Sun Belt has reached its win mark despite those conferences having more opportunities to win games (AAC – 27, MAC – 23, Sun Belt – 17).

All that success comes as the league begins a new tradition this year. The 2018 season will see the conference split into divisions (East/West) for the first time and will stage its first-ever championship game at the end of the regular season on December 1, 2018. The game will be played at the home site of the team with the highest overall winning percentage and will be nationally broadcast on ABC or an ESPN network.

Sun Belt Commissioner Karl Benson expressed his enthusiasm by saying, "We are very excited going forward in football. Having our championship game this year only increases what we already have going. The footprint of this league was done to ensure long-term success and sustainability, and with the membership structure we now have in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas, that footprint is set up for even more success."

The Sun Belt gained much notoriety and notice during the last several football seasons, but that has by no means been the league's only hallmark. Men's basketball – the league's symbol of success in its formative years – recently finished with its highest conference RPI in more than a decade with a No. 13 national finish, and conference members found success in several NCAA postseason events.

Those league successes have been more public in recent years, in part because the Sun Belt itself has been progressive and in the forefront of the digital media world. The league continues to adapt to the ever-changing world of collegiate athletics and continues the process of evolving to better serve its membership, keeping the pledge it made at its founding to be a league of opportunity. Athletic and academic programs who have shown progressive thinking and the desire to improve have always found a home in the Sun Belt.

This past March, the Sun Belt was given a major opportunity boost in presenting itself to the viewing public as the league announced a continuation of its relationship with ESPN. The partnership with ESPN is the most significant and extensive multimedia rights agreement in conference history. Highlights of the contract includes that a minimum of 500 events a year will appear on an ESPN platform beginning in 2020 and that every Sun Belt football, men's basketball and women's basketball game will be viewable on an ESPN platform. It was also announced that linear network football games at Sun Belt home venues will expand to a minimum of 10 games a year on a combination of ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPNU, that Sun Belt Championship events will be on an ESPN platform each academic year that will give exposure to all conference sports, and that digital productions will expand to include regular season competition in Sun Belt sports that have received only limited coverage previously.

Opportunity for Sun Belt growth and success extends beyond television deals. During the recent 2017-18 academic year, Sun Belt member institutions awarded more than $50 million in scholarships to more than 3,100 student-athletes, while also providing life experiences such as team building, domestic and foreign travel, community service, mentoring and recognition through honors and awards. Sun Belt institutions are also leaders in providing career services and the tools to assist in the pursuit of personal goals. Each member employs full-time academic advisors and on average nearly two dozen tutors for academic support. This past spring the Sun Belt hosted a mental health summit aimed at putting mental health awareness out front and reaching to erase the stigma associated with mental health and the need to seek help.

Individual opportunities also extend beyond the league. The Sun Belt had 40 players on active NFL rosters during the past season, with representation on 23 of 32 NFL clubs. The league recently became one of seven conferences nationwide to have back-to-back first-round selections in the NBA Draft when Louisiana's Elfrid Payton went No. 10 overall to the Orlando Magic and Georgia State's R. J. Hunter was the No. 28 pick of the Boston Celtics the following year.

The Sun Belt has nationally-respected programs in nearly every NCAA sport offering and remains a fixture on the national scene while remaining heavily involved in the conduct and competition of college athletics. But it also provides opportunities for success on many unique and different levels. In athletic parlance, the Sun Belt has "upside," and its newest mantra of "Rise Above" is just as applicable now as when it was founded as a home to some of the nation's premier mid-major basketball programs.

In its very first year, one of those programs reached the pinnacle of NCAA men's basketball competition when UNC Charlotte earned a berth in the Final Four. That type of success set the bar very high, but the league's four-decade history is sprinkled with landmark success in all seasons.

In the spring, baseball and softball continue to put the league in the national spotlight with deep runs in postseason play and high visibility in national polls. Coastal Carolina reigned supreme at the pinnacle of college baseball, winning the College World Series for the 2016 season. Louisiana's baseball team ranked No. 1 nationally recently and reached the NCAA Super Regional round in 2014 and 2015. The Cajun softball team has advanced to Super Regional play five times in the last seven seasons including a trip to the Women's College World Series.

Just as important as on-field success, the Sun Belt's commitment to academic excellence remains a league symbol. The league's record book for grade point averages and academic honors is a constantly-changing document, seemingly with each year's success outdoing the previous year. This past spring, a record 23 league programs were recognized for outstanding performance in the classroom, with those teams earning NCAA Public Recognition Awards for APR scores in the top 10 percent nationally. It was the fourth consecutive year the Sun Belt has broken or tied its record for teams honored.

Appalachian State, Arkansas State, Coastal Carolina, Georgia Southern, Georgia State, Louisiana, ULM, South Alabama, Texas State and Troy give the league 10 football members. Little Rock and UTA compete as Sun Belt members in all sports other than football, helping give the conference a mix of the "old" and the "new." Long-time league members, including charter member South Alabama's distinction in being a Sun Belt member since its founding in 1976, continue to have success, and a solid corps of conference newcomers continue to make their marks on league and national levels.

The mix of members also gives the league vitality and diversity across the South. The mix of regions and regional cultures provides a rare opportunity for student-athletes and staffers to experience many environments, and the chance to experience that diversity without leaving their own campuses. The Sun Belt is also noteworthy for its attempts to make each of its championship events in every sport a special moment in the lives of its student-athletes and its many fans and followers.

Many individuals from Sun Belt institutions have brought distinction to their alma maters, and not just in athletics. For every All-Pro linebacker DeMarcus Ware (Troy) and NFL Man of the Year Charles Tillman (Louisiana), world ranked golfer and US Open winner Dustin Johnson (Coastal Carolina) and for every World Series MVP David Freese (South Alabama) hailing from Sun Belt schools, there are also U.S. presidents (Lyndon Johnson, Texas State), business icons (Chick-fil-A president Daniel Cathy, Georgia Southern), and nationally known entertainers (Ludacris, Georgia State, Tim McGraw, ULM and George Strait, Texas State).

These proud alumni, as well as those who represent the dozen league institutions, are proof that the Sun Belt Conference is a league of excitement, a league of opportunity, and one that continues to provide the promise of success with each new day.

East Division

Appalachian State

Texas State

Sun Belt Commissioner Karl Benson expressed his enthusiasm by saying, "We are very excited going forward in football. Having our championship game this year only increases what we already have going. The footprint of this league was done to ensure long-term success and sustainability, and with the membership structure we now have in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas, that footprint is set up for even more success."

TIEBREAKING PROCEDURE FOR DETERMINATION OF HOST SITE

The Championship Game shall be played at the home venue of the Division Champion with highest winning percentage in Conference games only.

The following tie-breaker procedure is used to determine the host location for the Sun Belt Conference Football Championship game if necessary:

1. Head to head result between tied teams;
2. If still tied, if one team was ranked in the latest available CFP Selection Committee rankings and wins in the final weekend of the conference regular season, it will be declared the division champion. If in that same scenario, the team that was the highest-ranked team in the latest available CFP Selection Committee rankings loses in the final weekend of the conference regular season, a composite average of selected computer rankings will be used to determine the host.
3. If there are multiple teams ranked in the latest available CFP Selection Committee rankings, the highest-ranked team that wins in the final weekend of the conference regular season will be declared the host.
4. If none of the ranked teams win on the final weekend of the conference regular season, a composite average of selected computer rankings that include all games on the final weekend of the conference regular season, will be used to determine the host;
5. If no teams are ranked in the latest available CFP Selection Committee rankings going into the final weekend of the conference regular season, a composite average of selected computer rankings that include all games on the final weekend of the conference regular season, will be used to determine the host;
6. If still tied, the team with the highest winning percentage against all common conference opponents shall be the host;
7. If still tied, the team with the highest overall (conference and non-conference) winning percentage against FBS teams shall be the host;
8. If still tied, coin toss will be conducted by the commissioner.

BOWL OPPORTUNITIES FOR SUN BELT CONFERENCE TEAMS

The College Football Playoff features four of the nation's top teams competing for a national championship. The playoff in 2018-19 marks the fifth straight year in which the playoff format will determine a national champion.

The Sun Belt Conference is among the 10 premier college football conferences that are part of the College Football Playoff system that guarantees universal access based on performance – there are no automatic qualifiers for the playoff system. Additionally, the CFP means that a spot among the premier bowl games of college football will be guaranteed to the highest-ranked champion from the other "Group of Five" conferences: the Sun Belt Conference, American Athletic Conference, Mountain West Conference, Mid-American Conference and Conference USA.

In addition to The Football Playoff, the Sun Belt Conference will play three-opening day bowl games, another bowl game on the weekend before Christmas and another on New Year's Eve weekend. The postseason begins with the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl, AutoNation Cure Bowl and the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl on December 15, and includes the Dollar General Bowl on December 22 and in the Nova Home Loans Arizona Bowl on December 28.

The Sun Belt has gone 8-3 in bowl games during the past two years – a 4-2 record in 2016 and a 4-1 mark last year. The league also had the most bowl wins and best winning percentage among its "Group of Five" peer conferences, including victories over teams in the two top-rated leagues in final computer rankings over those two years.

HEAD COACH

Third Season at Texas State
31st Season Overall
Appalachian State, 1985

In his sixth year as a head football coach, Everett Withers is in his third year at helm of the Texas State program. Withers was named Texas State's 19th head coach on January 6, 2016 after guiding James Madison to a pair of NCAA Division I FCS Playoff appearances and leading North Carolina to the 2011 Independence Bowl.

Withers utilized his first two seasons with the Bobcats to implement a total cultural transformation. Featured were renovations and visual upgrades in the team's End Zone Complex, new uniforms and helmets, and new lockers in the locker room. Texas State's football players improved on the field, succeeded in the classroom at a record-setting pass and performed community service in the city of San Marcos and Hays County.

In 2017, the Bobcats ranked among the nation's top 40 teams in rushing defense after allowing 141.7 yards per game and was 43rd in third down defense after allowing a 36.1 conversion percentage. Offensively, Texas State improved during the final five games last season when the Bobcats averaged over 389 yards of total offense and nearly 23 points after netting 304 yards and 13.4 points per contest in the first seven games.

In his first season at the school, Withers won his coaching debut at Texas State with a triple overtime victory at Ohio when the Bobcats set a school record for most completions in a game with 40 and tied another record with 418 yards passing. Later in 2016, Texas State set school records for most passing yards and touchdown passes in a game when the Bobcats threw for 475 yards and five TDs against Incarnate Word. In addition, Texas State's special teams led the nation with eight blocked kicks and Anthony D. Taylor was the national leader with three blocked punts. Ishmael Davis also blocked two kicks to rank fourth nationally.

In 2017, Withers and his staff produced seven All-Sun Belt Conference players, including Second-Team tight end Gabe Schrade, Third-Team offensive lineman Aaron Brewer and Third-Team linebacker Frankie Griffin. The Bobcats also had four All-SBC Honorable Mention players in each of the last two years and one SBC All-Newcomer team member in 2016.

In the 2017 fall semester, Marcus Ripley was named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District Team, senior linebacker Gabe Loyd was a semifinalist for the Campbell Trophy and the football team recorded a combined 106 3.0 GPAs in the 2017-18 fall and spring semesters. Texas State had 71 3.0 GPAs and 25 players were named to the Dean's List during the 2016-17 fall and spring semesters.

Texas State's football team was heavily involved in community service when the Bobcats performed nearly 1,000 combined hours for different projects in each of the last two years. These projects included helping with youth football camps, reading programs in elementary schools, restoration projects along the San Marcos River, serving local food banks, preparing an orchard for a community garden, assisting with Keep San Marcos Beautiful and downtown beautification projects.

Withers came to Texas State after leading James Madison to a combined 18-7 overall record, including a combined 12-4 record in the Colonial Athletic Association in 2014 and 2015. Under Withers, the Dukes won a share of a CAA championship in 2015, the school's first conference title since 2008, and finished third in the CAA in 2014 after being a predicted to finish eighth.

James Madison also set a school record with a 14-game, regular-season winning streak after the Dukes won the final seven games of the 2014 season and began the 2015 campaign with a 7-0 record. JMU also tied a school record by winning 10 straight CAA games.

In his two seasons at James Madison, Withers laid a foundation that helped the program win a Division I FCS national title in 2016. His offense produced record-setting quarterback Vad Lee, who tied a school record with 51 touchdown passes in just 21 career games and ranks second among JMU's career leaders in total offense with 7,292 yards, and third in 5,662 passing yards, 446 completions and 705 attempts.

Lee also became the only player in NCAA Division I history (FCS and FBS) to pass and run for 275 yards in the same game when he threw for 289 yards and rushed for 275 yards in James Madison's 48-45 victory over SMU on Sept. 26. He also was the first player to win the "Bill Dudley Awards" in back-to-back years, 2014 and 2015. The award is given to the top NCAA football player in Virginia.

Withers led James Madison to a 9-3 record and had a 6-2 league mark to earn a No. 5 seed in the 2015 NCAA Division I FCS Playoffs and hosted the school's first home playoff game in seven years when the Dukes played Colgate in the second round.

JMU had one of the top offenses in the nation in 2015 and ranked second among FCS teams in scoring and total offense with 44.3 points and 528.8 yards per game. The team led the FCS in third-down conversions with 54 percent, while ranking fourth in pass completion percentage

James Madison also played in the FCS Playoffs for the first time since 2011. That year, James Madison set school records in total offense, passing offense, completions and touchdown passes and ranked 10th nationally in total offense with 484.6 yards per game. The Dukes also were the 17th-best scoring team and ranked 21st in both passing offense and rushing offense.

Defensively, the Dukes ranked second in the country in turnover margin (+1.08), 12th in total fumble recoveries (14) and 13th in sacks per game (2.85). They also had one of their best seasons on record in terms of blocks, ranking sixth in total blocks (7), including a No. 3 ranking in blocked punts (4).

James Madison had seven players earn All-CAA honors and senior safety Dean Marlowe was selected to play in the East-West Shrine Game. Four players from his inaugural team signed free-agent contracts with National Football League teams: Marlowe (Carolina Panthers), Daniel Brown (Baltimore Ravens), Sage Harold (Kansas City Chiefs) and Brandon Lee (Seattle Seahawks).

31 Seasons in Coaching in the NCAA Division I Ranks and NFL

Beginning his 31st season in coaching, Withers has split time between the collegiate and NFL ranks. He is in his 24th year in the collegiate ranks and coached seven seasons in the NFL.

In addition to coaching at Texas State and James Madison, Withers served coaching stints at Ohio State, North Carolina, Minnesota, Texas, Louisville, Southern Miss, Tulane and Austin Peay. He also was an NFL assistant coach for six seasons with the Tennessee Titans and spent one year on the New Orleans Saints coaching staff. During his coaching career, Withers spent 11 years as a defensive coordinator and 17 seasons as a defensive secondary coach.

Rising Through The Ranks

Withers went to James Madison in January 2014 from The Ohio State University, where he served as assistant head coach, co-defensive coordinator and safeties coach in 2012 and 2013 under Urban Meyer. The Buckeyes set a school record with a 24-game winning streak and had a 24-2 record during his tenure. Ohio State had a 12-0 record and finished No. 3 in the national rankings in 2012. It was the sixth unbeaten and untied season in school history.

The Buckeyes also ranked second in the Big Ten with 14 interceptions, and all four starting defensive backs earned All-Big Ten Conference recognition in 2012. Withers also coached another safety who earned Honorable Mention All-Big Ten Conference recognition in 2013.

Prior to accepting his position with Ohio State, Withers spent four years at North Carolina. He was promoted to interim head coach in July 2011 and led the Tar Heels to a 7-6 overall record and a berth in the Independence Bowl against Missouri.

His first defensive unit (in 2008) ranked eighth nationally with 20 interceptions, which was just one shy of setting a UNC single-season record in 2008. His 2009 defense ranked sixth in total defense, 10th in rushing, 13th in scoring and 14th in passing defense. His 2010 unit was fourth in the ACC and 30th nationally.

Five players off that team were taken in the NFL draft, including first-round pick Robert Quinn. In his final season, the Tar Heels ranked 14th nationally against the run in 2011. Additionally, his defenses picked off 71 passes in four seasons.

Withers spent one year as defensive coordinator at Minnesota and was a defensive backs coach at Texas under his former collegiate coach, Mack Brown, from 1998-2000 after serving as a defensive coordinator, assistant head coach and defensive backs coach at Louisville from 1995-97.

The Withers Family (from top): Everett, Kara, Pierce and Tia

He was also a defensive backs and assistant special teams coach at Southern Mississippi in 1992-93, outside linebackers coach at Tulane in 1991 and defensive coordinator/defensive backs in 1988-89 and tight ends and special teams coach in 1990 at Austin Peay.

Coaching in the NFL

While he was with the Tennessee Titans of the NFL in 2001-06, Withers served as a defensive backs coach under Jeff Fisher. Tennessee won an AFC South championship in 2002 and earned playoff berths in 2002 and 2003. He coached All-AFC players in Lance Schulters in 2002 and Adam "Pacman" Jones in 2005. The Titans also ranked among the NFL's top five teams in rushing defense three times. While he was the defensive backs coach of the Titans, the squad ranked among the top 10 defenses overall in 2002. Tennessee also had 57 interceptions from 2002-04, the best three-year total for the franchise, fourth-best in the AFC and eighth-best in the NFL. The Titans recorded 21 interceptions in 2004, with 16 coming from the Withers-coached secondary. Withers also spent the 1994 season with the New Orleans Saints as a defensive quality control coach.

A native of Charlotte, N.C., Withers was a four-year letterman as a defensive back at Appalachian State. He served as team captain under Mack Brown in 1984. He and his wife, Kara, have a daughter, Tia, and a son, Pierce, who is a freshman defensive back for the Bobcats.

Third Season at Texas State
22nd Season Overall
Colorado State, 1997

Ron Antoine is in his third season as an assistant coach and second season as the wide receivers coach at Texas State after serving as the running backs and tight ends coach for the Bobcats in 2016.

In Antoine's first season as wide receivers coach, Elijah King earned Honorable Mention All-Sun Belt Conference honors after he recorded the most receiving yards by a Bobcat since 2010 and became just the second Texas State player to catch 50 passes since 2010. King finished 2017 with 52 receptions for 750 yards and three TDs to tie for the team lead. In addition, Tyler Watts also caught 40 passes for 332 yards and two TDs.

In 2016, Antoine produced Texas State's top two rushers in Stedman Mayberry and Tyler Siudzinski, who combined for 816 yards and seven touchdowns rushing and caught 52 passes for 398 yards out of the backfield in their first year as starting running backs.

Antoine joined Texas State's staff after working four years as an assistant coach at Fresno State, where he was the running backs coach for the Bulldogs in 2015 and coached the outside receivers the three previous years. He also was the recruiting coordinator at Fresno State during his last two seasons there.

Antoine coached Martez Waller in 2015 when he was named the team's offensive MVP after rushing for 920 yards and five touchdowns on 228 carries. Waller also caught 20 passes for 151 yards and two TDs.

Antoine also produced a pair of the most productive wide receivers in school history in current Green Bay Packers' wide receiver Davante Adams during his first three seasons. Adams was named to eight All-America teams in 2013 after shattering Fresno State and Mountain West Conference records with 24 touchdown receptions. He led the nation with 24 TDs in 2013 which also marked the fourth highest total in FBS history. He also led the nation with 131 receptions and was second nationally with 1,718 receiving yards, another school record. Adams also set school records with 233 receptions and 38 TD catches, another MWC record, in his two-year career. He was selected in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft by Green Bay.

Antoine went to Fresno State after coaching wide receivers at South Alabama in 2010 and 2011. There, he coached Courtney Smith who set multiple Jaguar single-season receiving records and became the first player in school history to be invited to the Senior Bowl.

He also coached running backs, fullbacks and tight ends at Arkansas in 2008 and 2009. During his first season, the Razorbacks posted wins over a pair of nationally-ranked teams, Auburn and Tulsa. In his second season, Arkansas finished with an 8-5 record after defeating East Carolina in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl. That season, the Razorbacks set school single-season records for most points, passing yards, touchdown passes and total offense.

Antoine also coached running backs and assisted with special teams at Wofford in 2006 and 2007. The Terriers won the 2007 Southern Conference championship and advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division I FCS playoffs en route to a 9-4 finish.

Prior to Wofford, Antoine spent a season at Elon in 2005 where he worked with wide receivers and slot backs while also assisting with special teams and monitoring the team's academic progress.

Antoine also served two different stints on the staff at Ohio where he was a graduate assistant during the 1998 and 1999 seasons before earning his master's degree in higher education in 2000. He also was the receivers coach and passing game coordinator from 2001-04.

Some of the Ohio's accomplishments after Antoine returned included defeating Kentucky (2004). While Antoine worked with wide receivers and coordinated the passing attack, several Bobcats recorded Ohio's top 10 performances for catches and yards receiving in a game, and receiving and all-purpose yards in a career. Scott Mayle ended his career second in OU history in receiving yards and fifth in all-purpose yards, while Chris Jackson's had the second-highest single game total with 12 receptions against Miami (Ohio) in 2004. Jackson's 39 catches that fall were most by an Ohio receiver since the 1991 campaign. During Antoine's two years as a graduate assistant, OU posted a 5-3 mark in MAC action each fall.

In between stints at Ohio, Antoine was an assistant coach at Fayetteville (N.C.) State in 2000 and Andregus Holmes earn All-Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association honors.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater, Colorado State, where he was a four-year letterman as a wide receiver for the Rams in 1993-96. He played on two WAC championship teams in 1994 and 1995 culminating in back-to-back Holiday Bowl appearances. The Rams had a 10-2 record during his sophomore season in 1994. That season, Colorado State beat a pair of nationally-ranked teams in BYU and Arizona. Colorado State also won the WAC championship in 1997 when Antoine served as a student assistant coach when the Rams ended the season ranked 17 nationally after defeating 19-ranked Missouri in the Holiday Bowl.

Antoine is a native of Beaumont, Texas where he graduated from Westbrook High School. He went on to earn his degree in exercise and sport science at Colorado State in 1997. His wife, Zenarae, is in her eighth season as the head coach of Texas State's women's basketball team. They have three sons, Zachary, Xavier and Zayden.

for more than 275 yards in the same game when he threw for 289 yards and set a school record by rushing for 276 yards in James Madison's 48-45 victory over SMU on Sept. 26, 2015. He set another school record with 565 yards of total offense against the Mustangs. He also earned the "Bill Dudley Award" for the second straight year as the top player in Virginia.

Elliott went to James Madison after serving on the offensive staff for three seasons at Mississippi State. He was a graduate assistant coach in 2012 and served as the offensive quality control specialist in 2013 and 2014. Led by First Team All-Southeastern Conference quarterback Dak Prescott, the Bulldogs broke 29 individual and team single-season records with the top offense in school history in 2014.

Elliott began his coaching career after playing professionally in NFL Europe and the Arena League after signing as a free agent with the San Diego Chargers. He played with the Rhein Fire in NFL Europe and was under contract with the San Jose SaberCats when the league halted operations in 2008. He was a starting quarterback for the Arena League's Utah Blaze in 2010 and Georgia Force in 2011. He signed with the Chargers after leading Linfield College to an NCAA Division III national championship.

A native of Lake Oswego, Ore., Elliott went to Linfield in 2005, and won the Gagliardi Trophy and Melberger Award, given to the top player in Division III. Elliott was named an All-American twice and led Linfield to the 2004 NCAA Division III national championship. J.C. KELLAM AWARD

Lyndon B. Johnson, the 36th President of the United States, returned to his alma mater in November of 1972 to present the first J.C. Kellam Award to Texas State's outstanding senior football player.

The first award was given to defensive back Jim Stienke who went to high school in Johnson City, only a few miles from Johnson's ranch. Stienke went on to play professionally with the Cleveland Browns, New York Giants and Atlanta Falcons.

The J.C. Kellam award was an outgrowth of a Bobcat Club banquet in 1971, at which LBJ presented a $25,000 check to the club to begin a Kellam Scholarship Fund for student-athletes. Kellam, general manager of KLB Radio in Austin and a longtime friend and business associate of the Johnson family, played football for the Bobcats in the early 1920s and graduated from the university in 1923.

A large portrait of Kellam, donated by the Johnson family, also was presented to the school. In addition to the J.C. Kellam Award, the Bobcat Club also initiated an awards system for the outstanding offensive player, defensive player and freshman of the year in 1972.

Between 1992 and 2012, Texas State added five additional awards. The John O'Hara Memorial Offensive Lineman of the Year Award was first given in 1992, while the Jim Wacker "Unbelievable" Award began in 2003 and the Special Teams Player of the Year was established in 2004. The final two awards, the Jim Bob Helduser Award and the Fred Bleil Award were added in 2012.
