2020-21 SEASON IN REVIEW

The 2020-21 UAB men's golf team qualified for NCAA Regionals for the 13th time in program history, and re-wrote the record book along the way.

UAB won all three of its Fall tournaments, becoming just the third Blazer team in school history to win three tournaments in the same season. With a perfect record of 29-0-0 through three tournaments, the Blazers earned their highest national ranking in school history at No. 5 according to the golfstat.com national poll that was released on Nov. 17, 2020.

Redshirt junior Nick Robillard led the way all season en route to being named the Conference USA Player of the Year. Robillard redshirted in 2019-20, and came back with a vengeance by winning the Jim Rivers Intercollegiate and leading UAB to the team title in their first tournament of the season. He finished top five in all three of UAB's Fall tournaments. Robillard currently carries a 71.7 stroke average into NAAs, which is the sixth lowest single season stroke average in school history.

Freshman Khavish Varadan also played an instrumental role in UAB's success this season. After winning Conference USA Freshman of the Year honors in 2019-20, he utilized his COVID season to classify as a freshman again. Varadan was the C-USA runner up and led the team with 16 rounds at or under par this season.

A pair of redshirt seniors in Drew Mathers and William Walker III were also fixtures in UAB's lineup. Mathers did a grad transfer from Division III Huntingdon College and earned Second Team All-Conference USA honors. Walker, who is in his sixth year, will go down as one of the best golfers in program history. He earned First Team All-C-USA honors in 2018-19 and 2019-20, and will be participating in his first NCAA Tournament.

This is UAB's first NCAA Regional selection since the 2015-16 season.
