

STEVE ALFORD

HEAD COACH · 4th YEAR AT UCLA
26th YEAR OVERALL
ALMA MATER: INDIANA '87

Steve Alford has guided UCLA to a 65-40 overall record in three seasons as UCLA's head coach, helping lead the Bruins to consecutive Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 2014 and 2015. Alford will enter his fourth season leading the Bruins' program in 2016-17, his 26th season as a college basketball head coach.

During his first two seasons in Westwood, Alford led UCLA to back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in addition to helping the Bruins win the 2014 Pac-12 Tournament title. UCLA went 22-14 in 2015, his second season at the helm, before sending Kevon Looney and Norman Powell to the NBA.

Alford helped UCLA send seven players to the NBA through his first two seasons. Looney and Powell were drafted in 2015, while Jordan Adams, Kyle Anderson and Zach LaVine were selected in the first round of the 2014 NBA Draft. In addition, twin brothers Travis Wear and David Wear competed in the NBA in 2014-15 as non-drafted free agents.

During his first year as UCLA's head coach (2013-14), UCLA advanced to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 and won its first Pac-12 Tournament title since 2008. Additionally, the Bruins produced three first-round NBA draft selections for the second time in school history (also occurred in 1979). Alford helped UCLA to a second-place finish in the Pac-12 standings in 2014 and to a fourth-place finish in 2015.

Through 25 seasons as a college head coach, Alford has compiled a 528-275 (.658) overall record. Alford was named the 13th head coach in UCLA men's basketball history on March 30, 2013, after having excelled the previous six seasons at New Mexico.

Alford's 28 single-season wins in 2013-14 tied the school record for most victories by a coach in his first season at UCLA (Gene Bartow went 28-4 in 1975-76). The Bruins averaged 81.2 points per game, the program's highest scoring average since 1997-98 (83.1 ppg), and finished the season with the nation's 11th-highest scoring average.

With consecutive Sweet 16 berths in his first two seasons, Alford became the fourth coach in program history to have led his first two teams to NCAA regional semifinals (also in that group are Gene Bartow, Gary Cunningham and Steve Lavin). UCLA was one of six teams in the nation to have advanced to the Sweet 16 in 2013-14 and 2014-15 (along with Arizona, Louisville, Kentucky, Michigan State and Wisconsin).

A four-year standout at Indiana (1984-87) and member of the Hoosiers' 1987 NCAA Championship team, Alford competed in the NBA for four seasons before embarking on his career as a collegiate head coach. He has served as a Division I head coach the past 21 years. After a four-year stint at Manchester College (1992-95), Alford coached at Missouri State (1996-99), Iowa (2000-07) and New Mexico (2008-13).

In 25 seasons as a head coach, Alford's teams have qualified for the postseason 19 times, including nine NCAA Division I Tournament berths. Alford has led his teams to the postseason in 14 of the last 16 seasons and has reached the 20-win plateau in 13 of his 21 years at the NCAA Division I level. Alford has coached his teams to at least 28 wins in three of the last five seasons and to at least 22 victories in eight of the previous nine years.

Alford has recorded more NCAA victories (528) as a collegiate head coach, age 51 or younger, than any other head coach in the nation. Alford, who turned 51 on Nov. 23, 2015, began his collegiate coaching career at the age of 26 at Manchester College.

Alford guided New Mexico to postseason appearances all six years at New Mexico, including three trips to the NCAA Tournament (2010, 2012, 2013). His teams at New Mexico won at least 22 games in each of six seasons, securing more victories (155), a higher winning percentage (.749) and more regular-season conference titles (4) than any previous New Mexico head coach after six seasons.

Alford earned Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year honors in three of the final five seasons at New Mexico (2009, 2010, 2013). Three of his players at New Mexico secured Mountain West Player of the Year acclaim (J.R. Giddens in 2008, Darington Hobson in 2010, and Kendall Williams in 2013).

Under Alford's direction, New Mexico won four regular season titles in five years (2009, 2010, 2012, 2013), a streak matched only by Kansas and Gonzaga. New Mexico won the conference regular season and tournament titles in 2012 and 2013, becoming one of five schools in the country to make that claim. New Mexico achieved its two highest single-season win totals with Alford at the helm (30 wins in 2012, 29 wins in 2013). Both the 2010 and 2013 teams secured No. 3-seeds in the NCAA Tournament, tying UNM's record for the highest-seeded team.

Alford's teams at New Mexico had similar success in the classroom. He graduated 12 of his 13 seniors, including all three seniors from his final team in 2012-13. New Mexico had compiled a program record 11 consecutive semesters of a 2.7 grade-point average or better through his final season in Albuquerque.

Alford arrived at New Mexico after eight seasons as the head coach at the University of Iowa (2000-07), where he compiled a 152-106 record. He helped guide the Hawkeyes to a school-record seven consecutive winning seasons in addition to six postseason appearances (three NCAA Tournaments) and two Big Ten Conference Tournament titles (2001 and 2006).

As Iowa's head coach, Alford helped engineer three seasons with 20-plus victories, highlighted by a 25-win season in 2006. Iowa's 25 victories that year stand as the second-highest single-season win total in program history, five shy of the school-record 30 wins in 1987 under head coach Tom Davis. Alford is responsible for the Hawkeyes' two highest single-season win totals since 1987 (25 wins in 2006, 23 wins in 2001).

Prior to his service at Iowa, Alford helped engineer the most successful postseason run in school history at Missouri State University (then known to as Southwest Missouri State). His four-year tenure with the Bears was highlighted by the program's sixth NCAA Division I Tournament appearance in 1999, Missouri State's first-ever trip to the "Sweet 16" in Alford's final season at the helm.

Steve Alford led UCLA's program to consecutive Sweet 16 appearances in 2014 and 2015.

COACH PROFILES

Missouri State advanced to the NCAA Division I Tournament for just the sixth time in school history that year, entering the field as the East Regional's No. 13-seeded team. Alford's team defeated No. 5-seed Wisconsin (43-32) and No. 4-seed Tennessee (81-51) to advance to the Sweet 16 before losing to top-seeded Duke, 78-61, in the East Regional Semifinal.

Missouri State finished the season 22-11, as Alford had guided the Bears to their second 20-plus win season in three years. Prior to Alford's arrival in the fall of 1995, Missouri State had not advanced to the NCAA Tournament since 1992. Alford guided Missouri State to a 24-9 record in 1997, including a second-place finish in the Missouri Valley Conference, as the Bears ended their season in the National Invitation Tournament (NIT). Missouri State's 24 victories that season marked the program's highest single-season win total since finishing 28-6 in 1987.

In 1992, Alford joined the collegiate coaching ranks at Manchester College (NCAA Division III program in North Manchester, Ind., now known as Manchester University). He took over a team that had lost its first eight games and finished with four wins in 20 contests. One year later, he led the Spartans to a 20-8 mark in his first full year (1992-93).

Alford finished his tenure at Manchester by guiding the Spartans to a 23-4 record in 1994 and to a 31-1 mark in 1995. Each of Alford's final three teams at Manchester advanced to the NCAA Division III Tournament. The Spartans went 5-1 in the NCAA Tournament in 1995, losing in the national championship contest.

Prior to his coaching career, Alford enjoyed a four-year career in the NBA. He was selected No. 26 overall in the 1987 NBA Draft by the Dallas Mavericks after his senior season at Indiana. Alford played from 1987-91 with the Dallas Mavericks and the Golden State Warriors.

A native of New Castle, Ind., Alford was a prep standout for his father, Sam Alford, at New Castle Chrysler High School. He earned Indiana's Mr. Basketball Award in 1983 after averaging 37.7 points per game as a senior.

During his collegiate career at Indiana, Alford started 120 of 125 games, helping the Hoosiers compile a 92-35 record over four seasons. Playing under head coach Bob Knight, Alford served as team captain in 1987 when Indiana went 30-4 and won the NCAA Championship.

Alford concluded his college career as Indiana's all-time scoring leader with 2,438 points (that mark was eclipsed by Calbert Cheaney in 1992-93). He became the first player to win the Indiana MVP four times and led the Hoosiers in scoring all four years. He finished his career as Indiana's all-time leader in steals (178 steals, now ranks second) and three-point field goal percentage (53.0 percent). Alford was a consensus first-team All-America selection and the Big Ten Conference's MVP as a senior (1987).

Alford earned first-team All-Big Ten honors in each of his final three seasons and also captured All-America acclaim as a junior. He was named to the NIT All-Tournament Team as a sophomore when the Hoosiers finished second to UCLA. His career free throw percentage of .897 (535-596) ranks ninth-best in NCAA history (was fourth-best when he graduated). Alford led the nation in free throw percentage as a freshman (.913, 137-150).

In 1997, Alford was inducted into the Indiana University Athletics Hall of Fame, and in 2001 he was one of 15 players selected to Indiana's All-Century Team. He was one of five players named to ESPN's Big Ten Conference Silver Anniversary Team in 2004. In the Legends of College Basketball by The Sporting News, Alford was No. 35 on the list of the 100 greatest NCAA Division I college basketball players.

Following his freshman season at Indiana, Alford was selected to play for the United States basketball team at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. He shot 64.4 percent from the field and averaged 10.3 points per game, finishing second on the team in assists as the U.S. men's team won the gold medal. The 1984 USA Olympic Team marked the last U.S. amateur squad to win the gold medal. Alford's teammates included Michael Jordan, Patrick Ewing, Sam Perkins, Chris Mullin and Waymon Tisdale.

Alford earned a bachelor's degree in business from Indiana University. He is married to the former Tanya Frost, whom he has known since the two were schoolmates in grade school in New Castle, Ind. The Alford family has three children – Kory, Bryce and Kayla.

Steve Alford led UCLA to the Pac-12 Tournament title in 2014, the Bruins' first conference tournament championship since 2008.

STEVE ALFORD'S TOP COACHING ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Has won at least 20 games in 10 of the last 12 seasons, including consecutive conference tournament titles in 2012, 2013 and 2014
- Guided UCLA to back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in 2014 and 2015, including one Pac-12 Tournament crown in 2014
- Has sent seven players to the NBA in his first two seasons at UCLA, including four first-round NBA Draft selections in 2014 and 2015.
- In six seasons at New Mexico, led the Lobos to four Mountain West Conference regular-season titles (2009, 2010, 2012, 2013) and two Mountain West Tournament titles (2012, 2013).
- Has recorded more NCAA victories (528) as a collegiate head coach, age 51 or younger, than any other head coach in the nation.
- Led New Mexico to a 155-52 record (.749) in six seasons, the program's most successful such six-year stretch.
- Overhauled the academic progress in six years at New Mexico, as 12 of his 13 seniors graduated during his tenure in Albuquerque.
- Produced New Mexico's top two single-season win totals with 30 victories in 2009-10 and 29 wins in 2012-13.
- Was a three-time Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year selection at New Mexico (2009, 2010, 2013).
- Led Iowa to two Big Ten Tournament titles (2001, 2006) and one runner-up finish and is the only head coach to have guided the Hawkeyes to the tournament's title game (tournament began in 1999).
- Coached Iowa to a school-record seven consecutive winning seasons and to six postseason appearances (including three NCAA Tournaments).
- Propelled Missouri State to its first-ever trip to the NCAA Tournament's "Sweet 16" during the 1998-99 season.
- At age 30, led Manchester College to a 31-1 record and the 1995 NCAA Division III title game against Wisconsin-Platteville.

STEVE ALFORD'S HIGHLIGHTS AS A PLAYER

- Helped Indiana capture the 1987 NCAA Championship during his senior season, the fifth national title in the program's history.
- Was a two-time All-America selection at Indiana (1986, 1987) and earned Big Ten Conference MVP accolades as a senior.
- Scored a game-high 23 points against Syracuse in the 1987 NCAA Championship contest, sinking 7-of-10 three-point attempts.
- Captured first-team All-Big Ten Conference honors each of his final three seasons at Indiana (1985, 1986, 1987).
- As a freshman (1983-84), led the nation in free throw percentage (91.3) and led Indiana with 15.5 points per game.
- Was a starter on the gold medal-winning 1984 U.S. Olympic Team, the final United States' amateur squad to capture Olympic gold.
- Finished his career at Indiana as the program's all-time leading scorer and currently ranks second on that list behind Calbert Cheaney.
- Selected No. 26 overall the 1987 NBA Draft by the Dallas Mavericks and enjoyed a four-year career in the NBA.
- Inducted to the Indiana University Athletics Hall of Fame in 1997 and in 2001 was one of 15 players selected to Indiana's All-Century Team.
- As Indiana Mr. Basketball during his senior season at New Castle High School (New Castle, Ind.), he averaged 37.7 points per game.
- Inducted to Athletic Hall of Fames at Indiana University and New Castle High School as well as the state of Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame.

A two-time All-America selection at Indiana, Steve Alford led the Hoosiers to the 1987 NCAA Championship during his senior season.

Duane Broussard will enter his fourth season as an assistant coach at UCLA in 2016-17.

Broussard has spent the last eight seasons working alongside head coach Steve Alford, helping those teams advance to the NCAA Tournament five times and secure three consecutive conference tournament crowns. Additionally, Broussard has played a role in helping UCLA secure two recruiting classes ranked in the top four, nationally, over the past three years.

In three seasons at UCLA, Broussard has helped the Bruins compile a 65-40 record, including back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 2014 and 2015. During his second year with the program (2014-15), UCLA went 22-14, defeating SMU and UAB to advance to the Sweet 16. In the summer of 2015, Kevon Looney and Norman Powell were selected in the NBA Draft.

During Broussard's first two seasons in Westwood, UCLA sent seven players to the NBA — Looney, Powell, Jordan Adams, Kyle Anderson, Zach LaVine, David Wear and Travis Wear. In fact, Adams, Anderson and LaVine were all selected in the first round of the 2013 NBA Draft.

In 2013-14, Broussard helped lead UCLA to a 28-9 mark, including the Pac-12 Tournament Championship and the program's first appearance in the Sweet 16 since 2008. The Bruins concluded their season ranking No. 11 in the nation in scoring (81.2 points per game), No. 3 in assist turnover ratio (1.7), No. 4 in steals (9.2 spg) and No. 5 in assists (17.2 apg).

Broussard arrived in Westwood in April 2013 after having spent the previous 10 seasons on the men's basketball staff at the University of New Mexico. He worked on head coach Steve Alford's staff the final five seasons — the last two years as an assistant coach after having served as Director of Operations for three seasons.

Through 21 seasons serving on college basketball staffs, both as an assistant coach and as the director of operations, Broussard has helped his teams to a combined .639 winning percentage (447-253). In 10 seasons on staff at New Mexico, Broussard helped the Lobos register a .655 winning percentage.

During his final two seasons coaching at New Mexico, Broussard's work proved instrumental in helping the Lobos compile a 57-13 record and win back-to-back Mountain West Conference regular season and tournament titles. New Mexico advanced to the NCAA Tournament both years. In his five years on Alford's staff at New Mexico, the Lobos played in the postseason each year, advancing to the NCAA Tournament three times.

With Broussard on the coaching staff, New Mexico became the first school in Mountain West history to secure back-to-back regular season and tournament titles. Over the last six seasons, New Mexico produced six players who scored at least 1,000 points and won a school-record 155 games during that stretch. The Lobos became one of just three programs to win four regular-season titles in five years (along with Kansas and Gonzaga).

In 2012-13, New Mexico logged its second-highest win total in program history, posting a 29-6 overall record. Junior guard Kendall Williams secured Mountain West Conference Player of the Year honors. He finished in the top 10 in scoring in the Mountain West, in addition to ranking second in assists per game and assist turnover ratio. As a team, New Mexico ranked No. 26 nationally in field goal percentage defense and No. 38 in scoring defense.

During his tenure as assistant coach at New Mexico, Broussard was responsible for four NBA Draft selections, all chosen in the first round — Danny Granger (2005), J.R. Giddens (2008), Darrington Hobson (2010) and Tony Snell (2013).

Broussard's work with Granger was evident at Bradley and New Mexico. Granger, a 6-foot-8 forward, was selected No. 17 overall in the 2005 NBA Draft out of New Mexico. Broussard had worked with Granger during the 2001-02 season at Bradley and during Granger's junior and senior seasons at New Mexico. Granger became the first player in UNM basketball history to log at least 60 assists, 60 blocks and 60 steals in one season (2004-05) before securing Mountain West Conference Tournament MVP honors and leading the Lobos to the NCAA Tournament. Currently playing for the Indiana Pacers, Granger graduated from New Mexico with a degree in civil engineering.

Additionally, Broussard helped the New Mexico program stay in the top-25 rankings in 16 of 18 weeks. The Lobos secured five selections on the All-Mountain West Team and produced a school record-tying 14 wins away from home.

Serving as an assistant coach and as the program's Director of Operations at New Mexico, Broussard's responsibilities included travel arrangements, community relations, scheduling and helping oversee academic progress.

Currently in the process of completing his Ph. D. in sport administration at the University of New Mexico, Broussard spent five seasons (2003-07) on head coach Ritchie McKay's staff at UNM. He spent the 2007-08 season working as Director of Recruitment Initiatives in the Enrollment Services office on UNM's main campus. Broussard was working with an outreach program that taught the importance of going to college and the process of college admissions to middle school students in the Albuquerque area.

Broussard served on the men's basketball staff for nine seasons at Bradley University in Peoria, Ill., working as an assistant coach the final six years (1997-2002) under head coach Jim Molinari. As an assistant coach, Broussard's responsibilities for the Braves included recruiting, floor coaching and budget planning.

A four-year basketball letterwinner at Bradley (1990-93), Broussard served as the program's co-captain during his junior and senior seasons. Former UNM head coach Ritchie McKay served as an assistant coach during Broussard's final two seasons with the Braves. He capped his collegiate career in 1993 by earning the inaugural Downtown Peoria Kiwanis Club Leadership Award in recognition of his positive role-model approach to academics and community service.

In nine seasons on the men's basketball staff at Bradley (1994-2002), Broussard helped the Braves win 58 percent of their games, an average of nearly 18 contests per season. Bradley advanced to the postseason in six of nine years while Broussard served on the staff and the program graduated 19 of 22 seniors during that span.

A native of Sugar Land, Texas, Broussard graduated from Bradley in 1993, earning degrees in criminal justice and sociology, in addition to a minor in history. He continued his education by earning a master's degree in public service administration from Bradley in 1997.

Broussard, 44, is married to the former Holly Marshall. The couple has one daughter, McKenzie, and one son, McKel.

Ed Schilling enters his fourth season as an assistant coach at UCLA in 2016-17.

In three seasons on the coaching staff at UCLA, Schilling has helped the Bruins compile a 65-40 overall record, including consecutive Sweet 16 appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 2014 and 2015. Additionally, his work on the recruiting trail has helped UCLA secure two incoming classes that have been ranked in the top four, nationally, over the past three seasons.

Through his first two seasons at UCLA, Schilling helped the Bruins' program send seven players to the NBA. In the summer of 2015, Kevon Looney and Norman Powell were selected in the NBA Draft. Five players from UCLA's team in 2013-14 ended up competing in the NBA – Jordan Adams, Kyle Anderson, Zach LaVine, David Wear and Travis Wear.

In his second season in Westwood, Schilling helped UCLA post a 22-14 overall record and the program's second straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16. During his first season with UCLA, Schilling guided the Bruins to a 28-9 mark, including the Pac-12 Tournament Championship and the program's first appearance in the Sweet 16 since 2008. The Bruins concluded that season ranking No. 11 in the country in scoring (81.2 points per game), No. 3 in assist turnover ratio (1.7), No. 4 in steals (9.2 spg) and No. 5 in assists (17.2 apg).

Schilling arrived at UCLA in April 2013 after having spent the previous four seasons as head coach at Park Tudor High School in Indianapolis. He guided the Panthers to an 87-18 record in four years, securing two IHSAA Class 2A state titles and a runner-up finish.

In 2012-13, Park Tudor won the Marion Court championship and broke the regular-season win record. In 2010-11 and 2011-12, Park Tudor made historic runs to win back-to-back IHSAA Class 2A state championship after having finished as runner-up in 2009-10.

In addition, Schilling spent time from May through September preparing athletes each year for professional basketball with St. Vincent's Sports Performance and its NBA readiness program. His pre-draft preparation included working with over 60 high-profile young players, including No. 1 NBA Draft selection Greg Oden, Mike Conley, Mario Chalmers, Gordon Hayward, Carl Landry, Jeff Teague, Marquis Teague, Cody Zeller and many others.

From 2007 to 2013, Schilling has served as a head coach for Adidas Nations, coaching and training the Adidas High School All-American Team in national and international competition. In addition, he has served as executive director and trainer at Champions Academy, a not-for-profit basketball organization for youth and college-aged athletes in Indianapolis.

Prior to his work with Adidas Nations and Champions Academy, Schilling had served as an assistant coach at Memphis for two seasons (2003-04, 2004-05) after having been the head coach at Wright State for six years (1998-2003). In his two seasons on staff at Memphis, the Tigers compiled a 44-24 record.

In his first season (2003-04) as an assistant coach at Memphis working alongside head coach John Calipari, Schilling helped the Tigers post a 22-8 overall record and a 12-4 mark in Conference USA, winning a share of the league regular-season title, the program's first conference championship since 1995-96. Memphis also made a return trip to the NCAA Tournament and recorded a first-round victory over South Carolina before finishing the season ranked No. 24 in the Associated Press poll.

Schilling arrived at Memphis after a six-year run as the head coach at Wright State, helping the Raiders produce a 75-93 overall record. Among the biggest wins in program history occurred Dec. 30, 1999 (during Schilling's third season), when Wright State defeated then-No. 6 Michigan State, 53-49, in front of a near-capacity crowd at WSU's Nutter Center. Many basketball analysts referred to that win as the most significant upset of the decade. Michigan State captured the NCAA Championship later that season.

In his fourth season at Wright State (2000-01), the Raiders opened the season with a 9-1 record, the best Division I start in school history. Wright State closed the season with an 18-11 overall record and an 8-6 mark in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference. The Raiders advanced to the semifinals of the MCC Tournament. That season, Schilling was named 2001 MCC Coach of the Year by CollegeInsider.com.

During the 2001-02 season, Schilling's fifth at Wright State, the Raiders defeated No. 20-ranked Butler in double overtime on the road in Hinkle Fieldhouse, 90-87. Schilling helped Wright State record a 17-11 mark that season. The Raiders went 10-18 in 2002-03, Schilling's final season at the helm.

Schilling was a member of Calipari's coaching staff at the University of Massachusetts (Amherst, Mass.) during the 1995-96 season. That year, the Minutemen advanced to the Final Four and posted a 35-2 overall record.

When Calipari was named the vice president of basketball operations and basketball coach with the New Jersey Nets, Schilling joined him as an assistant coach (1996-97). His rise in the coaching profession was chronicled in Sports Illustrated, as he became the only coach to advance from the high school coaching ranks to the Final Four and then to the bench of an NBA team in a period of 310 days. At that time, Schilling was the youngest assistant coach on the bench in the NBA.

Following his time with the New Jersey Nets, Schilling was named Wright State's head coach.

After graduating from Miami University in Ohio in the spring of 1988, Schilling served as a high school head coach for the next seven years – three years (1989-91) at Western Boone High School in Thorntown, Ind., and four years (1992-95) as head coach at Logansport High School in Logansport, Ind.

In his third and final season at Western Boone (1990-91), Schilling led the program to a school record for single-season wins. Playing in arguably the most competitive prep conference in the country, Logansport's basketball program improved each of Schilling's four seasons. In his final two years, his teams won consecutive sectional championships while compiling the most wins at Logansport in more than 20 years.

Schilling was a four-year starting point guard at Miami University in Ohio from 1985-88. He was a two-time captain and, playing alongside Ron Harper, Schilling helped lead the school to a pair of NCAA Tournament berths. He was a three-time academic all-conference selection and is still the single-game assist record holder in the Mid-American Conference. He also established single-game, season and career assist records at Miami University, records all of which are still standing.

Schilling, 50, has also co-authored two books – Guard Play, co-authored by Steve Alford, and Five Star Basketball, which was written with Howard Garfinkel. A native of Lebanon, Ind., Schilling has four daughters, Christiana, Natalie, Ava and Callie, and one son, Edmund Cross (Eddie). Schilling and his wife, April, have two daughters – Ava (3) and Callie (1).

Through three seasons in Westwood, Grace has helped the Bruins compile a 65-40 record. UCLA earned consecutive Sweet 16 appearances in 2014 and 2015 during Grace's first two seasons with the program.

In addition, Grace has played a major role in helping UCLA land two recruiting classes ranked in the top four, nationally, during the past three seasons. The Bruins' incoming group for the 2014-15 school year was ranked as high as No. 3, nationally, while the recruiting class set to arrive for the 2016-17 season has been rated as high as No. 4.

In 2014-15, Grace helped the Bruins post a 22-14 overall record as UCLA defeated SMU and UAB en route to playing in the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 for the second consecutive season. In the summer of 2015, Kevon Looney and Norman Powell were selected in the NBA Draft. Through Grace's first two seasons in Westwood, UCLA sent seven players to the NBA — Looney, Powell, Jordan Adams, Kyle Anderson, Zach LaVine, David Wear and Travis Wear.

In 2013-14, Grace coached the Bruins to a 28-9 overall mark, including the Pac-12 Tournament Championship and the program's first appearance in the Sweet 16 since 2008. UCLA finished that season ranking No. 11 in the country in scoring (81.2 points per game), No. 3 in assist turnover ratio (1.7), No. 4 in steals (9.2 spg) and No. 5 in assists (17.2 apg).

Grace has served as an assistant coach in the Pac-12 Conference the last eight seasons, including a five-year stint at Oregon State from 2009-13. Early in his tenure with the Beavers, Grace became one of the leading recruiters in the Pac-12 Conference. In five years in Corvallis, Ore., he helped OSU to its highest five-year win total (78) since 1988-92. In addition, Oregon State made three trips to the postseason College Basketball Invitational (CBI), including a 5-1 run in the 2008-09 tournament, giving the Beavers the national tournament championship.

Grace's work at Oregon State helped the Beavers both on the recruiting trail and with player development. In his first season at Oregon State, he recruited Roberto Nelson and Joe Burton from southern California. Nelson and Burton were the first two nationally-ranked recruits at Oregon State under head coach Craig Robinson. Nelson led the Pac-12 in scoring as a senior (2013-14), securing honorable mention All-Pac-12 acclaim during his junior and senior campaigns. Burton served as team captain during his senior year (2012-13), having produced over 1,000 points, 700 rebounds and 300 assists in four seasons.

Grace also was instrumental in the recruitment and development of talented big men Eric Moreland and Angus Brandt. Moreland, a 6-foot-10 center from Houston, emerged as one of the conference's top defensive players, leading the Pac-12 in blocked shots in 2011-12. He shattered the school's single-season record for blocks and broke the school's record for rebounds by a freshman. Brandt, a 6-foot-10 center from Sydney, Australia, played in 125 games at Oregon State, twice securing Pac-12 All-Academic Team honors.

During Grace's second season in Corvallis, he helped recruit Jared Cunningham to Oregon State. A first-round NBA Draft selection in 2012 by the Dallas Mavericks, Cunningham established himself as a first-team All-Pac-12 selection in 2011-12 and was twice named a Pac-12 All-Tournament Team selection. Grace had also recruited Cunningham while serving as an assistant coach at the University of San Francisco.

Led by Cunningham, Nelson, Burton and Moreland in 2011-12, the Beavers won 21 games, reaching the 20-win plateau for the first time in more than two decades. The Beavers averaged a school record 78.9 points per game, leading the Pac-12 in scoring for the first time in school history.

In addition to recruiting, Grace assisted in all aspects of the game for Oregon State's program. He was selected to attend the prestigious Villa 7 Center for Sports Leadership Conference at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) in Richmond, Va., in the summer of 2011 with an elite group of Division I assistant basketball coaches, 54 athletic directors and 12 conference commissioners. He has also worked for several years with the Nike N7 program to honor Native Americans.

A decorated military veteran who served in Operation Desert Storm, Grace quickly rose through the high school and college coaching ranks prior to his arrival at Oregon State. Known for his tireless work ethic and inspirational leadership, he developed an intimate knowledge of the game forged over 30 years of working in all aspects of the sport. He has played, coached and refereed basketball games across America and on three continents.

Grace served as the top assistant coach at the University of San Francisco with responsibilities as head recruiting coordinator. He also served as head of scouting, working as an academic coordinator, and assisted with fundraising efforts.

Grace broke into the NCAA Division I college coaching ranks as an assistant coach at Sacramento State University, where he assisted in all aspects of the program. While at Sacramento State, he recruited 2006-07 Big Sky Freshman of the Year selection Vinnie McGhee from Oakland's McClymonds High School.

Prior to moving to the Division I college coaching level, Grace became a high school head coach after taking an early retirement from the military. He had served 20 years of active duty service in the U.S. Air Force and chose to dedicate his career to coaching basketball and teaching.

During the 2004-05 season, Grace was hired as a business teacher and head coach at South Mountain High School in Phoenix, Ariz., where he guided the Jaguars to a 5A Division II state championship in his second year, compiling a 29-4 overall record.

Grace was honored as the 2005-06 ArizonaVarsity.com and Arizona Informant 5A Coach of the Year after turning around a struggling program that had won four games the season before he arrived. Several players from his program moved on to play college basketball. Several coaches he mentored during that time became high school head basketball coaches, including two who advanced their teams to high school state titles.

Prior to becoming a head coach, Grace volunteered for several years as a high school and club coach while stationed at Luke Air Force Base in Phoenix. He began working in the high school ranks at Phoenix Trevor Browne as an assistant coach. That team advanced to the state semifinals in 2003 and was ranked among the top 40 schools, nationally, by The Sporting News before the 2003-04 season.

Grace began coaching basketball with Boo Williams' AAU program in Hampton, Virginia. He also co-founded the Compton Magic AAU program. His top team finished eighth out of 337 programs in the Reebok Big Time Classic in Las Vegas, Nev., which was the best finish in the history of any AAU team from Arizona.

Grace grew up in Aberdeen, Md., and earned a bachelor's of science degree in management and human resources from Park University and degrees in logistics and social services from the Air Force. He and his wife, Crystal, have six children — Troy, Terrell, Tierra, David II, Aubrey and Andre. His father, Gerald, was a high school basketball referee in Maryland for 35 years.

TYUS EDNEY

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS · 7th YEAR
ALMA MATER: UCLA '97

Tyus Edney will enter his seventh season serving as Director of Operations for the UCLA basketball program in 2016-17, having assumed this role in August 2010. In his current capacity, Edney is responsible for all day-to-day operations of the program and serve as a liaison to the athletic administration and other school officials.

With Edney assisting as the program's Director of Operations the previous six seasons, UCLA has made four trips to the NCAA Tournament, including back-to-back Sweet 16 appearances in 2014 and 2015. The Bruins won the Pac-12 Conference regular-season title in 2013 and secured the Pac-12 Tournament crown in 2014. Likewise, during that span, UCLA has produced eight NBA Draft selections (five first-round picks).

Edney was a four-year basketball letterwinner at UCLA, serving as a three-year starter on the Bruins' 1992-93, 1993-94 and 1994-95 teams. He helped lead UCLA to its 11th NCAA basketball national championship in 1995. The former standout at Long Beach Poly High School was named the Most Outstanding Player in the West Regional (1995), earning a spot in NCAA Tournament lore after his full-court dash with 4.8 seconds left to score the game-winning layup against Missouri. Edney's basket propelled the No. 1-seeded Bruins to a 75-74 victory and into the Sweet 16.

Edney is still ranked on six career leader charts at UCLA. The former point guard ranks second in assists (652, 5.2 assists per game), third in steals (224, 1.8 steals per game), third in free throws made (450), seventh in free throws attempted (559) and 20th in scoring with 1,515 points (12.1 ppg).

A three-time first team All-Pac-10 selection (1993-95), Edney still owns the UCLA single-game record for steals with 11 against George Mason on Dec. 22, 1994. Edney secured the 1995 Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award, bestowed annual upon the nation's premier player at 6-feet and under.

Edney was selected by the Sacramento Kings in the second round of the 1995 NBA Draft (No. 47 overall selection). He played two seasons with the Kings (1995-97) and spent two more seasons in the NBA with the Boston Celtics (1997-98) and Indiana Pacers (2000-01). Between those seasons, Edney played for Euroleague winner BC Zalgiris, earning the Euroleague Final Four MVP title. He also played in Italy for Benetton Treviso in 1999-2000, losing in the Italian League finals and winning the Italian Cup.

Following his departure from the NBA in 2001, Edney played for several more European teams, including another stint with Benetton Treviso from 2001-04. His team won the Italian League in 2002 and 2003, the Italian Cup in 2003 and 2004, and the Italian Supercup in 2002 and 2003. Benetton Treviso played in the Euroleague final in 2003. In addition, Edney played for Lottomatica Virtus Roma in Italy in 2004-05 and then moved to Greece to play for Olympiacos in 2005-06.

During the 2006-07 season, Edney returned to Italy and compete for Fortitudo Bologna. He started the 2008-09 season with Cajasol Sevilla in Spain before moving to moved to Turów Zgorzelec (Jan. 2009), where he ended his playing career.

Edney, 43, helped lead Long Beach Poly to the 1990 CIF Southern Section Championship during his junior season in high school. He was raised in Long Beach, Calif., and was a three-year varsity letterwinner at Long Beach Poly under former Long Beach State head coach Ron Palmer.

DIR. OF ADMINISTRATION · 25th YEAR
ALMA MATER: SAN JOSE STATE '90

Doug Erickson enters his 25th year with the UCLA basketball program.

As the Director of Basketball Administration, Erickson is responsible for all internal operations of the basketball program and serves as a liaison between the coaches and department administrators. He is involved in the day-to-day operations of the team, including finance, travel, meals, ticketing, housing, financial aid and parking.

Erickson organizes and serves as co-director of the UCLA basketball camps each summer. He helps coordinate every aspect of the camp including housing, meals and camp speakers.

During Erickson's tenure at UCLA, the Bruins have made 17 appearances in the NCAA Tournament, including four trips to the NCAA Final Four. He was a member of the staff when UCLA won the 1995 NCAA Championship. In addition, UCLA has captured seven Pac-12 regular-season titles and two Pac-12 Tournament championships.

Erickson joined the Bruins' staff in 1992 after serving as an accountant for two years at Cadence Design Systems, a leading semiconductor company in San Jose, Calif.

A native of Eureka, Calif., Erickson played four years of basketball and graduated from Eureka High School. In 2013, he was inducted into the high school's athletic Hall of Fame.

Erickson earned a bachelor's degree in economics at San Jose State in 1990. His career was shaped by his family, where all six members played basketball at one time or another.

WES LONG

ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE · 8th YEAR
ALMA MATER: TEXAS '03

Wes Long begins his eighth season as the men's basketball program's athletic performance coach in 2016-17. He returned to UCLA in May 2013 after having spent the previous two seasons as Director of Player Development/Strength and Conditioning at the University of Wyoming.

Prior to his stint at Wyoming, Long served as the athletic performance coach for the UCLA men's and women's basketball teams for four seasons (2007-11). In his current capacity, he solely works with the men's basketball team.

In his previous seven seasons working with UCLA, the Bruins have advanced to the NCAA Tournament five times, including three trips to the Sweet 16 (2008, 2014, 2015) and one trip to the NCAA Final Four (2008). In his first season at UCLA (2007-08), the Bruins earned their third straight trip to the Final Four after winning the Pac-10 regular-season and tournament titles. During the previous two seasons, Long played instrumental roles in helping UCLA advance to consecutive NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearances.

Prior to his first stint at UCLA, Long spent four seasons at his alma mater, the University of Texas in Austin. During his time from 2004-07, he served as a men's basketball graduate manager assisting with the strength and conditioning program and also with the video coordinator.

A Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist from the National Strength and Conditioning Association, Long earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Texas. He received his bachelor's degree in advertising in 2003 and his master's degree in kinesiology in 2005.

KORY BARNETT

DIR. OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT · 4th YEAR
ALMA MATER: INDIANA '12

Kory Barnett enters his fourth year on the UCLA men's basketball staff, currently serving as the program's Director of Player Development/Scouting. Barnett arrived in Westwood in May 2013 as the program's video coordinator.

In his first two seasons at UCLA, Barnett helped the Bruins advance to consecutive NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 appearances. In 2013-14, UCLA won the program's first Pac-12 Tournament since 2008, concluding the season with a 28-9 overall record and second-place finish in the Pac-12 standings.

In his current position, Barnett is primarily responsible for formulating game plans and scouting reports, in addition to overseeing film breakdown and creating player development edits. He spent the 2012-13 basketball season on the men's basketball staff at his alma mater, Indiana University, serving as a graduate assistant. Barnett earned his degree in sports communication from Indiana in 2012 after playing on the men's basketball team for four seasons (2009-12).

A native of Rochester, Ind., Barnett helped lead the Hoosiers to the Sweet 16 as a senior, the first postseason appearance for Indiana since 2008. Barnett played in 48 games over four seasons and was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten Conference honoree. He received the team's Big Ten Sportsmanship nomination following his junior year.

KORY ALFORD

VIDEO COORDINATOR · 2nd YEAR
ALMA MATER: UCLA '15

Kory Alford begins his second season serving on the UCLA men's basketball staff as the program's video coordinator.

Alford assists with film breakdown, shooting footage at all team practices and compiling player development edits, in conjunction with Kory Barnett, the program's Director of Player Development/Scouting. Alford also organizes in-depth statistical data and various analytic measures for the coaching staff.

Prior to joining the men's basketball staff, Alford played four years of college basketball, including the previous two seasons at UCLA. Over the course of four seasons, he helped his teams advance to four NCAA Tournaments and consecutive Sweet 16's in 2014 and 2015. He spent his first two seasons at the University of New Mexico.

Between his time at UCLA and New Mexico, Alford's teams won three conference tournament titles and two conference regular-season crowns. He played in 34 games during three seasons, including 24 games during his two-year career at UCLA.

Alford graduated from UCLA in June 2015 with a degree in sociology. He and his wife, Haley, reside in Los Angeles, Calif.
