Huskies on Television and Radio

The Huskies also can be seen on several television outlets in the New England area. UConn women's soccer is regularly covered on WFSB Channel 3, WTNH Channel 8, WVIT Channel 30 and WTIC Channel 61. UConn's 2000 BIG EAST Championship game against Notre Dame was televised live on MSG, Fox Sports New England, Sports Channel Florida and Empire Sports Network. The 2004 BIG EAST final was televised live on College Sports Television. The Huskies also have had features on PRIME/Sports, ESPN2, Worldwide Soccer, the Discovery Channel and in several news reports. In 1998, Fox Sports Net carried two Husky games, including a contest with an entire eastern seaboard television audience.

UConn women's games during the 2017 fall season will be broadcast live on WHUS-FM Radio (91.7 FM). The WHUS signal carries 60 miles from Storrs, and its broadcasts can be heard in Central Massachusetts, Vermont and Long Island or by logging on to www.whus.org to listen online.

Huskies in Print

Connecticut's home games attract several local newspapers, and television stations. In addition to the many state daily newspapers that cover the Huskies, UConn has received print in several regional and national publications such as The New York Times, New York Newsday, The Boston Globe, USA Today, SOCCER AMERICA Magazine, Sidekicks Magazine, Soccer Digest, Soccer Junior Magazine and The Soccer News.

National Dominance

Over the past 37 years, UConn women's soccer has earned . . .

- » 31 NCAA Tournament Berths (1982-2007, 2009, 2010, 2014, 2015, 2016), which is the second-most in Division I Women's Soccer History.
- » 4 NCAA Finals Appearances (1984, 1990, 1997, 2003)
- » 8 National Semifinals Appearances (1981-1984, 1990, 1994, 1997, 2003)
 - » 18 NCAA Quarterfinals Appearances (1982-1984, 1986, 1987, 1990, 1991, 1993-2000, 2002, 2003, 2007)
 - » 10 BIG EAST Championships (Regular Season: 1995, 1998-2003, 2005; Tournament: 2002, 2004)

1970's

1979: UConn women's soccer begins under head coach Maggie Dunlop, who will post a 24-10-2 overall record in two seasons.

1980's

1981: Len Tsantiris, an All-New England men's soccer standout at Connecticut from 1973-76, takes over as head coach of Connecticut women's soccer.

• In the same year, the soccer squad earns the program's first-ever trip to the national semifinal, placing third at the AIAW National Tournament.

1982-84: UConn earns three more "consecutive" trips to the women's soccer semifinal in 1982, 1983 and 1984 (the first three years of the tournament under the umbrella of the NCAA). The 1984 squad lost 2-0 to North Carolina in the national championship match.

1983: Tara Buckley becomes the first and only four-time All-American in UConn women's soccer history (1980-1983). Her sister, Moira Buckley, was a three-time All-American (1981-83) and set career records for points (166) and goals scored (63).

October 27, 1983: Huskies defeat Westfield State 10-0 to finish the regular season undefeated for the second consecutive year.

November 12, 1983: UConn defeats Boston College in the NCAA Tournament First Round to set a new school record with 19 wins.

1990's

1990: The Huskies charge into the College Cup Final, topping Virginia in the NCAA Tournament Quarterfinals and defeating Santa Clara in a semifinal shootout en route to the title contest.

• UConn women's soccer advanced to its fifth national semifinal and second NCAA National Championship game.

September 22, 1990: Perhaps the greatest win in the history of UConn women's soccer, comes via a 3-2 overtime win over then eight-time national champion North Carolina. UConn not only defeated the defending NCAA champs, but also ended the Tar Heels' 103-game unbeaten streak, which had been the longest unbeaten streak of any intercollegiate sport in the country.

1994: The Huskies post an impressive 19-4 overall record and advance to the program's sixth national semifinal.

November 13, 1994: The Huskies have a heroic 2-1 double-overtime win over Hartford in the NCAA Regional Championship match.

1995: Connecticut owns a record of 19-3-2 overall and a spotless 8-0 in BIG EAST play. The undefeated BIG EAST season is the first of an eventual eight regular season championships.

September 9, 1995: Huskies begin a school-record 16-game winning streak and a school-record nine-game shutout streak.

October 6, 1995: 5-4 overtime UConn win in South Bend snaps Notre Dame's 36-game regular-season unbeaten streak.

1996: The single-season record of 22 wins is set after posting an overall mark of 22-3 and advancing to the NCAA quarterfinals.

1997: The 1996 single-season win record is broken after the program wins 23-of-27 games played en route to advancing to the national semifinal for the seventh time. The Huskies finished the year ranked No. 2 in the country after playing in the national championship game thanks to a 2-1 national semifinal win over previously unbeaten Notre Dame and a 2-1 double-overtime victory over Hartford in the Second Round of the NCAA's.

- As a result of their success, Sara Whalen is named the Women's Soccer National Player of the Year by the Honda Awards Program and the Connecticut star was also named the 1997 National Soccer Coaches Association National Player of the Year. Also, she was honored as a First Team All-American for the third consecutive time in that same year.

- Connecticut head coach Len Tsantiris goes on to be named the National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Division I Women's National Coach of the Year.

1999: Whalen ('97) is a key member of the United States Women's Soccer Team that goes on to win the World Cup.

1998-2003: UConn women's soccer wins six consecutive BIG EAST Conference regular season titles.

2000's

2000: Whalen was a member of the silver-medal winning USA squad at the Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia.

November 17, 2000: UConn garners a 1-0 victory over No. 2 nationally-ranked Nebraska in the third round of the 2000 NCAA Tournament.

November 12, 2002: The program wins the BIG EAST Tournament title with a 1-0 win over West Virginia.

2003: UConn makes their eighth national semifinal appearance earning its fourth berth in the NCAA championship game and ending the season ranked No. 2 in the nation for the second time.

September 14, 2003: The Huskies take a hard-fought 3-2 double-overtime victory over then-defending National Champion Portland.

September 12, 2004: UConn head coach Len Tsantiris becomes only the second coach in college women's soccer history to win 400 games when his Huskies beat Hartford 3-0.

November 7, 2004: the Huskies hand eventual NCAA Champion Notre Dame their only loss of the season as they beat the Fighting Irish 2-1 to win the BIG EAST Tournament Championship in Storrs.

October 7, 2007: Head Coach Len Tsantiris wins his 450th game, defeating Seton Hall 2-1 in overtime.

November 12, 2007: In earning a berth to its 26th consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament, UConn becomes the only other school, besides North Carolina, to appear in every single tournament.

November 13, 2009: Defeated Boston University 1-0 in the NCAA tournament to record the program's 500th victory in 31 years

October 25, 2012: Head Coach Len Tsantiris becomes only second coach in college women's soccer to reach 500 career victories with the Huskies' 3-1 win over Rutgers.

November 9, 2014: UConn wins the American Athletic Conference Championship after defeating USF in penalty kicks.

2015: In Len Tsantiris' 35th season as UConn head coach, the Huskies make their 30th NCAA tournament appearance after winning the American Athletic Conference regular season title. The team advanced to the third round of the NCAA tournament for the first time since 2007. Two Huskies earn All-American honors.

2016: The Huskies win both the American Athletic Conference regular season and tournament championships and advance to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament. Rachel Hill and Stephanie Ribeiro earn All-American status.

ABOUT

JOSEPH J. MORRONE
STADIUM

Joseph J. Morrone Stadium, with its seating capacity of just under 4,500 and a natural grass playing surface, is one of the finest college soccer facilities in the nation. The natural grass playing surface measures 75 by 120 yards, the maximum dimensions for a collegiate soccer field.

The stadium has undergone major improvements over the past several years. This new-look Stadium has been funded by both state monies and by private contributions through the UConn Friends of Soccer support organization. The latest part of the new-look to Morrone Stadium are its visual enhancements which provide recognition of historical team and individual achievements. These enhancements are panels that have been placed in each end zone as well as on the front side of the press box.

Prior to the 2010 additions, Morrone Stadium's last feature added was a full field lighting system, installed right before the 2000 soccer season.

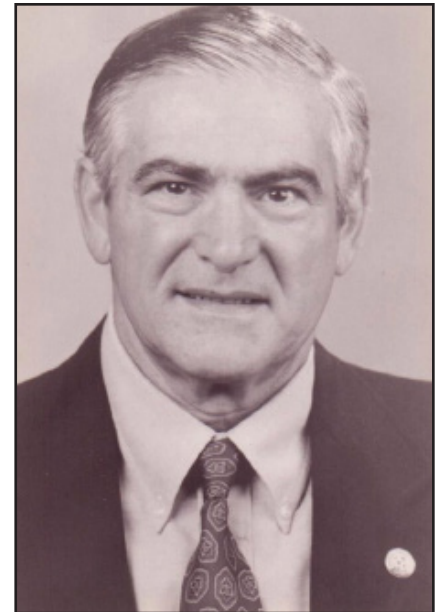

The addition of lights to Morrone Stadium was a tremendous boost to the soccer program. The facility is one of the top collegiate sites in the nation and the ability to play matches under the lights means the national-level soccer program has a national-level, state-of-the-art home surface, day and night. In addition, the matches played under the lights create an enjoyable atmosphere which can involve the entire soccer community and generate a positive effect on home game attendance.

The enhancements over the years at Morrone Stadium include: a state-of-the-art scoreboard and message center; aluminum bleachers; replacement of the natural grass surface, with new grass and an irrigation and automatic watering system installed; and one of the top press boxes in the country.

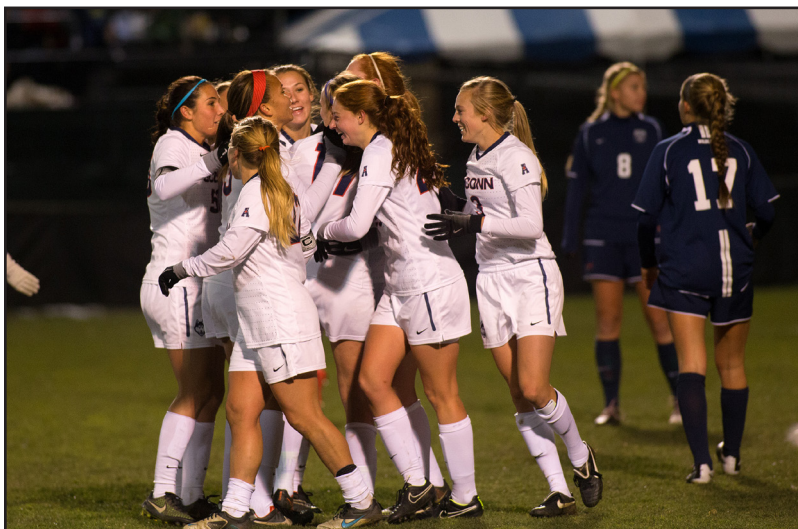

The fully enclosed and heated aluminum-sided press box measures 120 feet. It includes a 60-foot midsection for working media, rooms for television and home and visiting radio, an enclosed upper camera deck, and special hospitality areas for guests. Additionally, television monitors are positioned throughout the press box for viewing the game action below.

On April 11, 1997, the University of Connecticut Board of Trustees approved the naming of the Connecticut Soccer Stadium as the Joseph J. Morrone Stadium.

The naming of the stadium enables the Division of Athletics to recognize the significant contributions that Joe Morrone has made to the growth of soccer on all levels, but more specifically at the University of Connecticut.

Coach Morrone

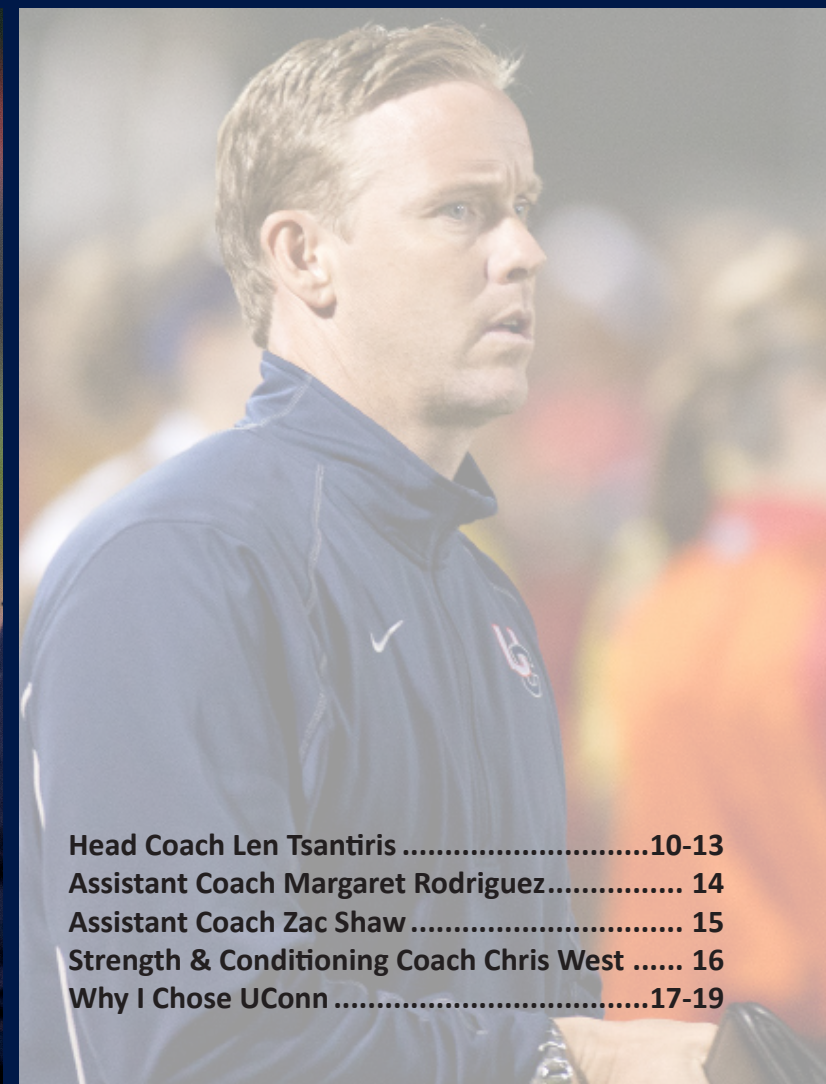

Coach Morrone retired as head coach of men's soccer at Connecticut following the 1996 season. In 28 years directing the UConn program, Morrone compiled an overall record of 358-178-53, and in 39 years as a collegiate head soccer coach he compiled a 422-199-64 record, ranking him as one of only four collegiate soccer coaches with more than 400 career victories. In 1981, he led Connecticut to the NCAA Division I National Championship.

Coach Morrone passed away on September 16, 2015.

Len Tsantiris

Head Coach
37th Season
UConn '77

Head coach Len Tsantiris embarks on his 37th year as the head coach of the women's soccer program at Connecticut in the 2017 season. In 2012, Tsantiris became only the second coach in collegiate women's soccer to reach the illustrious milestone of 500 career victories. Under his leadership, UConn has advanced to 29 NCAA National Tournaments, including 26 straight from 1982-2007. Four of those postseason appearances included visits to the NCAA Championship Game in 1984, 1990, 1997 and 2003. During his tenure, Tsantiris has created a women's soccer program that has received national attention for the team's successes on and off the field.

In his 36 seasons in charge of the UConn women's soccer program, Tsantiris, an inductee of the Class of 2012 for AHEPA Hellenic Athletic Hall of Fame, has compiled an outstanding 563-192-56 record.

The Huskies captured both The American Athletic Conference regular season and tournament titles in 2016. Tsantiris took home the AAC Coach of the Year honor for the second consecutive season with an unbeaten 8-0-1 American Conference record. For the third consecutive season, the Huskies advanced to the NCAA Tournament and won at least one contest, defeating Albany 4-2 in the First Round. Tsantiris coached two NSCAA All-Americans, Rachel Hill and Stephanie Ribeiro, for the second-straight year.

With the completion of the 2015 season, Tsantiris celebrated 35 years as head coach of the Huskies and was awarded the 2015 AAC Coach of the Year Award. He led UConn to a 19-4-0 season and had a perfect home record, 10-0-0. UConn finished with an 8-1 conference record, which earned the team the American Athletic Conference regular season title. The Huskies earned an at-large bid and made their 30th NCAA appearance in 2015, hosting Siena in the first round. UConn advanced to the third round of the NCAA Championship for the first time since 2007, where the Huskies were knocked out by Rutgers.

After an uncharacteristic three-year hiatus, Tsantiris returned UConn to the NCAA Tournament in 2014 thanks to a 14-5-5 record. The Huskies received an auto-bid for the tournament after winning their first American Conference Championship. Entering the 2014 Tournament as the No. 4 seed, UConn knocked off Tulsa at home by a score of 1-0 and then defeated top-seed and nationally ranked UCF by the same score in the semifinals. Facing tournament host USF in the title game, UConn played the Bulls to a scoreless draw before advancing and winning the crown in penalty kicks. UConn went on to reach the second round of the NCAA Tournament, falling at No. 8 Penn State after taking down New Hampshire at home.

Tsantiris guided UConn to an 11-9-0 record in the school's first year as a member of the American Athletic Conference in the fall of 2013. UConn finished fourth in the regular season league standings and hosted a home quarterfinal game in The American Tournament. The squad finished with a 5-4 record in league play.

In 2012, Tsantiris led the Huskies to a 9-8-2 record and guided the squad to their eighth appearance in the BIG EAST Quarterfinal in the past 10 years. UConn went 4-5-1 in conference action in the team's final year in the BIG EAST, including a 3-1 win over Rutgers that clinched a trip to the quarters and earned Tsantiris his 500th win.

The Huskies struggled in the 2011 campaign posting a 7-8-2 record as it was the first time the squad failed to reach the BIG EAST Tournament with a 4-5-2 conference mark. Under Tsantiris' direction, Connecticut finished the season 4-2-2 at home at Morrone Stadium, including a thrilling 3-0 victory over No. 20 Boston University.

2010 saw Connecticut reach the NCAA Tournament for the 28th time. The Huskies recorded one of the most momentous victories in BIG EAST history on October 31 when UConn ousted eventual National Champion Notre Dame from the BIG EAST Tournament with a 2-0 victory in South Bend. UConn became the first BIG EAST team to defeat the Irish in 77 games. The 77-game conference-winning streak was the longest of its kind in any sport. UConn continued the long history of academic success as well. The Huskies finished the year with the highest GPA of any team at Connecticut. 22 players earned BIG EAST All-Academic Honors while graduate student Annie Yi was named the BIG EAST Scholar Athlete of the Year.

In 2009, the Huskies made their return to the NCAA Tournament. UConn finished their regular season with a 10-7-1 record going 9-1-1 at home in Morrone Stadium. Under Tsantiris' direction, in the first game of the NCAA Tournament, a double-overtime game winner by Brittany Taylor handed the Huskies the 500th program win and Tsantiris his 474th career victory.

Under Tsantiris' direction in 2008, a young squad returned to the BIG EAST Championship match for the first time since 2005. After starting the season slowly, the team rallied back earning some key road victories, which helped the Huskies into the BIG EAST tournament for the 15th time in program history. During the BIG EAST Championship game, the Huskies forced overtime with the nationally ranked No. 1 Notre Dame shutting the Fighting Irish out in regulation, the only team to do so during the 2008 season. The Huskies fell during the overtime period ending their season prior to the NCAA tournament for the first time in the school's history.

The 2007 Huskies advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals for the first time since 2003. It was their 26th consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament. The team finished with a 14-6-2 overall record, 8-2-1 in the BIG EAST. UConn advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament on penalty kicks after playing to a 0-0 tie with Boston College. They then defeated Wake Forest 1-0 two days later in the second round. The following weekend they went across the country to defeat top seeded Stanford 2-0 in the third round. Traveling again in the quarterfinals, the Huskies led Florida State 2-1 with eight minutes to go before the Seminoles were able to score the tying goal. Florida State then won the game with a goal in the second overtime. During the course of the regular season, UConn shutout their opponents 11 times and allowed only 14 goals, the fewest they've allowed since giving up 12 in 1998.

The 2006 Huskies earned a berth in their 25th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance after finishing the season with an 11-7-4 overall record, 7-3-1 in the BIG EAST. UConn reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament, posting a 1-1 tie against top-seeded Texas. The Longhorns, however, advanced to the next round after winning in penalty kicks. In an early season tournament, the Huskies nearly defeated eventual national champion North Carolina. In that game, UConn took a 2-0 lead into halftime, handing the Tar Heels their first two-goal halftime deficit since October 18, 1999. Later in the year, UConn played to a 0-0 draw with national runner-up Notre Dame at Joseph J. Morrone Stadium. The scoreless draw marked the first time an opponent had held Notre Dame without a goal since October 22, 2004. The tie would be the only blemish on the Notre Dame record until falling to North Carolina in the national championship game.

In 2005, the Huskies advanced to their 24th consecutive NCAA tournament appearance and earned a BIG EAST divisional regular season championship. The team held a 10-game unbeaten streak from Sept. 9 through Oct. 9 and posted a 15-5-2 overall record. In BIG EAST play, the Huskies finished 10-1.

The 2004 Huskies had a remarkable run through the season and finished with an 18-7-1 overall record. UConn maintained a nine-game winning streak, a seven-game shutout streak in the middle of the season and captured their second BIG EAST Tournament Championship by beating Notre Dame. The Huskies advanced to the third round of the NCAA tournament before being knocked out by Notre Dame, who went on to win the 2004 National Championship.

In 2003, UConn finished the season with an impressive 15-6-3 overall record. They won the Northern Division BIG EAST title and advanced to the NCAA tournament, fighting their way into the finals of the College Cup tournament. In the first two rounds, the Huskies faced local rivals Boston University and Central Connecticut. In the third round, the Huskies dominated Michigan with a 5-0 victory to advance to the quarterfinals against BYU. After beating the Cougars, 3-1, the Huskies went on to defeat Florida State 2-0 in the semifinals to advance to their fourth NCAA title game against North Carolina.

The Huskies won their first-ever BIG EAST Tournament Championship in 2002, as they also claimed the regular season Northeast Division title. UConn made their 21st consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament, being tabbed the fourth seed in the 64-team bracket. The team bowed out in the NCAA quarterfinals, ending the season at the hands of Penn State in a 2-1 loss. The Huskies compiled a 21-3-1 record for the year.

The 2001 season added another winning effort to Tsantiris' resume, as the Huskies finished 18-6-0 overall and captured their third straight BIG EAST Northeast Division title. In addition to leading the team to its 20th straight NCAA Tournament appearance, Tsantiris became only the second women's soccer head coach to win 350 games in his career.

In 2000, the team was nationally ranked for the majority of the season, compiling an overall record of 17-7-2, and 5-0 in the BIG EAST. The Huskies were crowned the BIG EAST Northeast Division Champions and earned a berth to the NCAA Tournament. After upsetting No. 2 Nebraska in the Sweet 16 of the tournament, Connecticut advanced to the Elite Eight for the eighth straight season, the 15th time under Tsantiris.

The 1999 season was another in a long line of highly successful campaigns for Tsantiris and the UConn women's soccer program. The Huskies won the BIG EAST Northeast Division title and advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals for the seventh consecutive season.

The Huskies won the BIG EAST Conference regular season championship in 1998 with a 10-0-1 record and Tsantiris was honored as the BIG EAST Coach of the Year. He also posted his 300th career win during the season and UConn concluded the overall year 21-2-2, advancing to the NCAA quarterfinals.

In 1997, Tsantiris fielded one of his best teams ever as the Huskies posted a single-season school record 23 wins en route to an overall record of 23-4-0. Connecticut won four NCAA contests and advanced to the NCAA Division I National Championship game for the third time. For his efforts, Tsantiris was named the 1997 National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) Division I Women's National Coach of the Year.

As the architect of the Connecticut women's soccer program, Tsantiris has also been honored as the NCAA Division I Northeast Coach of the Year four times (1983, 1987, 1995 and 1996) and BIG EAST Coach of the Year in 1995 and 1998.

In 1981, Tsantiris, a highly successful scholastic soccer coach, took over the reins of the women's soccer program at Connecticut, his alma mater. Going into the 2008 season, the Tsantiris-led Huskies have averaged 16.9 wins per season.

The 26 consecutive NCAA appearances under Tsantiris resulted in an impressive three consecutive national championship semifinal appearances in 1982, 1983 and 1984 and four more semifinal appearances in 1990, 1994, 1997 and 2003. The Huskies were NCAA Tournament runners-up in 1984, 1990, 1997 and again in 2003. In addition to its seven NCAA national semifinal appearances, UConn advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals in 1986, 1987, 1991, 1993, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2002, 2003 and 2007.

Both Tsantiris' 1982 and 1983 Connecticut squads completed the regular season with undefeated records and the No. 1 ranking in the final NCAA National Top 20 poll, earning the top seed in their respective NCAA national tournaments.

In 1982, the Huskies went 14-0-1 in regular season play while the 1983 squad fashioned an 18-0-1 record at the end of the regular season and finished the season with a then school-record 19 wins (19-2-1).

In 1983, Tsantiris was awarded the Jorgensen Award, which is given by the UConn Alumni Association to an alumnus who has made outstanding contributions to the improvement of intercollegiate athletics at UConn.

Tsantiris holds an "A" coaching license from the United States Soccer Federation and serves on numerous soccer boards and organizations.

Tsantiris is also a member of the Connecticut Soccer Ambassadors, a statewide organization created to promote soccer at all levels. In October of 1989, Tsantiris received an award from the Connecticut Soccer Ambassadors in recognition of outstanding contributions to the development of women's soccer in the state of Connecticut.

Success followed Tsantiris to Connecticut in 1981 after a four-year stint as girls' head soccer coach at E.O. Smith High School in Storrs, Conn. While at E.O. Smith, his Panthers captured three straight state championships. The Panthers also set a Connecticut state record for most consecutive games without a loss (56) while out-scoring their opposition by an incredible 254-18 margin over a three-season span.

A 1977 UConn graduate with a B.S. in physical education, Tsantiris was a varsity soccer forward under former men's soccer mentor Joe Morrone. A four-year letter winner, Tsantiris received All-New England and All-Yankee Conference honors. During those four seasons, the Husky squad qualified for the NCAA national tournament three times, advancing to the Final Eight in 1971 and 1974 and to the Final 16 in 1975.

Upon graduation from UConn, Tsantiris played professional soccer with the Connecticut Yankees in the former American Soccer League.

During the summer months, Tsantiris serves as the director of the Pioneer Girls' Soccer School at the University of Connecticut. He and his wife, Susan, reside in West Hartford, with their son Chris, 27; and daughters: Tina, 25, and Kathy, 22.

Margaret RODRIGUEZ

Associate Head Coach 10th Season UConn '99

The 2017 season will mark the 10th season for Margaret (Tietjen) Rodriguez as a full-time assistant coach at her alma mater. This will be her third year as associate head coach of the Huskies.

Rodriguez has been a major part of the Huskies resurgence the past few seasons that have led to three-straight NCAA Tournament appearances and seen themselves ranked in the Top 25 for much of the past two seasons. Rodriguez has coached and developed three All-Americans during her time at UConn, Rachel Hill, Stephanie Ribeiro and Brittany Taylor.

A 1999 Connecticut graduate, Rodriguez played for the Huskies from 1995-98. She is tied for fourth on the all-time Husky scoring list with 128 points. Her 43 goals and 42 assists make her one of only four UConn alumni to be a part of the elite NCAA "40-40" Club. She played in 99 games, making 91 starts, and her teams had an overall record of 85-12-4. Rodriguez led her team to three NCAA quarterfinals and one NCAA final appearance in 1997. She earned All-BIG EAST second team honors in 1998 and was named Connecticut's Outstanding Senior Athlete that year. In 1997, she helped lead the Huskies to the National Championship game. After graduating with a Kinesiology/Fitness Management Degree from Connecticut, she went on to play professional soccer for three years in the WUSA. Rodriguez was drafted in the eighth round (64th pick overall) by the San Diego Spirit. She played two seasons (2001-02) with San Diego, and then finished out her professional career with the New York Power from 2003-04.

Prior to returning to Connecticut, Rodriguez spent four seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Hartford. While at Hartford, she helped lead the team to the 2006 America East regular season and tournament championships, as well as a berth in the 2006 NCAA Tournament. For her efforts, she was named part of the 2006 America East Coaching Staff of the Year.

Rodriguez began her coaching career in 1999 as a graduate assistant at Connecticut. After playing in the WUSA, she then moved onto the head coaching position at Santana High School in Santee, Calif. from 2003-04. While at Hartford, she also served as an assistant coach for the U-14 Girls premier team at the Farmington Sports Arena, and in 2005 she was a staff member for the Girls U-14 Olympic Development program. This past year, Rodriguez coached the Girls U-15 Connecticut ODP team. Rodriguez currently holds a NSCAA National Soccer Coaches License.

A native of Huntington, N.Y., she was named an All-American, All-East Region and New York State Co-Player of the Year (with her twin sister Jennifer Tietjen) while at Huntington High School. She currently resides in Glastonbury, Conn. with her husband Casey and their daughters Lucy and Maya.

"Margaret understands what it takes to play at this level since she comes from our program and has also played at the highest level. She does a great job teaching in the field and in recruiting. She is a very strong and valuable addition to our program."

Zac SHAW

Associate Head Coach Seventh Season Ithaca '92

Shaw enters his seventh season as an assistant coach at UConn in the fall of 2017. He previously served as the head coach at Rhode Island from 2005-10, earning Atlantic-10 Coach of the Year honors in 2005. During his tenure at URI, Shaw led the Rams to a 48-46-6 record while recruiting Women's National Team members from Iceland, Canada, Finland and Guyana along with 2007 Atlantic-10 Rookie of the Year Jessica Babice. Shaw was a finalist for the 2007 NSCAA Northeast Regional Coach of the Year award.

During his UConn stint, Shaw has helped lead the Huskies to three-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and a mainstay in the Top 25 the past two seasons. Working closely with the goalies, Emily Armstrong had tremendous success under Shaw. Armstrong was a two-time American Athletic Conference Goalkeeper of the Year and was the Most Outstanding Defensive Player en route to a 2014 American Athletic Conference tournament title.

Prior to his time at Rhode Island, Shaw spent one season at Florida and one season at Wisconsin as an assistant coach. While at Florida in 2004-05, Shaw helped led the Gators to the SEC Regular Season and Tournament Championship. Florida ended the 2004-05 season with a No. 9 national ranking. At Wisconsin from 2003-04, Shaw recruited a class that finished the 2004 season at 16-5-1 after going 10-9-2 in 2003.

Shaw began his Division I coaching career at Penn State from 1998-2000. Shaw returned to Penn State in 2002. During his time at Penn State, Shaw led the Nittany Lions to the Big Ten Conference Championship all four years while advancing to the NCAA Tournament College Cup in 2000 and 2002. During his tenure at Penn State, Shaw was the top recruiter for notable players Christie Welsh (2001 Hermann Trophy Award Winner, U.S. National Team selection and three-time First-Team All-American) and Joanna Lohman (U.S. U-21 National Team captain and First-Team All-American). Shaw left Penn State in 2000 as a founding assistant coach in the Women's United Soccer Association (WUSA) with the Carolina Courage. He then spent a year with the New York Power before returning to Penn State in 2002. He also spent 10 years as a member of the Region I Olympic Development coaching staff from 1998-2008. Shaw founded and serves as the Director of Coaching for the Rhode Island Lambs Girls Soccer Academy from 2006 while also serving in the same capacity at the Jamestown-Fortuna R.I. Soccer Club from 2006. He began his coaching career at Division III Nazareth College in Rochester, N.Y., in 1992 before coaching his alma mater, Ithaca College, in 1994.

A First-Team All-American goalkeeper at Ithaca in 1991, Shaw was inducted into the Ithaca College Hall of Fame in 1998. Shaw was named a First-Team NSCAA Regional All-American in 1990 and 1991 while being named Empire Athletic Association Athlete of the year in 1991-92. Shaw earned a bachelor's degree in psychology/neuroscience from Ithaca in 1992 and a master's degree from Penn State in college counseling/college student personnel in 2001. He resides in Rhode Island, with his wife Emily (nee Oleksiuk) a former All-American and member of the U.S. Women's National Soccer Team. They have one son, Oscar, and a daughter, Astrid, born in April 2012.

"Zac has a lot of experience playing and coaching at all levels. He comes from some very good programs and has proven himself to be a great recruiter. He is a very good goalkeeper coach and he understands the game well from a tactical point of view. Zac is a valuable addition to our staff and program."

Maureen BUTLER

Head Strength and Conditioning Coach
Director of Olympic Sports

Coach Butler joined the UConn staff in 2004. She is responsible for all aspects of training for the Men's Ice Hockey, Women's Soccer and Softball programs. Prior to her current team assignments, Moe worked with Baseball, Men's & Women's Track & Field/Cross Country, Women's Ice Hockey, and Women's Volleyball. In her time with her teams she has been a part 17 conference championships and 11 ECAC/IC4A championships. In addition to team accomplishments Moe has worked with 68 All-Americans and several MLB and NHL draft picks.

Moe oversees the Olympic Sports side of the Sports Performance department and instated the first Husky Fuel station to serve all UConn student-athletes.

From June 2007 to December 2009 Moe had the opportunity to work with the U-18 Women's Ice Hockey national team where they won the first gold medal at the IIHF World Women's U-18 Championship in 2008, as well as in 2009.

Prior to her full time appointment at UConn, Moe served as a Graduate Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach at UConn and was an assistant program director at Be Athletic training and mentoring young athletes in their off season.

Moe has spoke on topics including developing hockey players, developing baseball players, performance nutrition, creating a competitive training environment and working with the injured athlete.

Alumni on UConn...

"For me, the decision to attend UConn was an easy one. After visiting many different schools and meeting several coaches, it became clear to me that the coaches at UConn were special. As Coach Tsantiris sat in my living room and talked with my family and me, there was something about him that let me know he really cared about me and wanted what was best for me. After making my decision to attend UConn, I saw nothing less than that. Growing up, I played in the National Pool with many talented players who also went to great programs, many of whom did not play right away. Coach Tsantiris gave me a chance and constantly showed his confidence in me. That is why I was able to be successful and enjoy playing in college. Playing at UConn was the best experience I have had and it would not have been possible without the coaches. I am truly grateful for the opportunity and the relationships I have gained, which will last a lifetime."

- Kristen Graczyk (2001-2004)

"I chose UConn because I wanted to win a national championship. For me it was about finding the right fit of coaching with the right group of players, and UConn has proven to have both. You can pull all the stats and the records and the accomplishments of other top teams, but when the decision needed to be made it wasn't about numbers at all. The decision for me was about the atmosphere, the players and the support which gave me a sense of home for the next four years. I wanted to have a team that I felt would be there battling next to me on the field, and when it was all said and done, still be at my side as we move on from this journey. UConn has given me that and more."

- Meghan Schnur, 2007 Senior & BIG EAST Midfielder of the Year

WENDY LOGAN

MEGHAN SCHNUR

"There are several different reasons why I chose UConn. I love the school itself, the size of it, how the campus is set up and, of course, the academic and soccer aspects - the coaches, the players, the facilities, everything! When I made my recruiting trip, I stayed with four older players in the apartments, saw the team play two games and practice and saw the men's team play. I loved watching them play and loved how they played. But most importantly, I felt so comfortable that I already felt a part of everything. I had a feeling that this was going to be the right place for me. After the recruiting trip was over and I left for home, as soon as we got in the car, I told my parents that this is where I was going. I canceled my other recruiting trips and I chose UConn."

- Brittany Taylor, (2005-2009)

"My desire to play at the highest level of collegiate competition is what attracted me to UConn. Their soccer program's high national ranking was appealing, but even more impressive was the strong tradition and the high level of expectation. I was positive that my talents would be maximized through the competition from my teammates, the strength of the opponents, and the guidance of Coach Tsantiris. Playing for a national championship was a thrill of a lifetime."

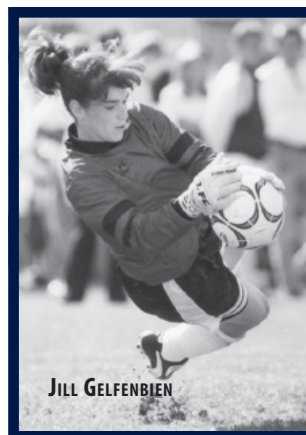

- Wendy Logan (1988-1991)

JESS DULSKI

"I chose UConn because of the strength and intensity of the girls on the soccer team. My teammates and coaches have never allowed me to stop becoming the best version of myself; as a person, athlete, or player. And I don't think they'll ever stop pushing me to set a higher bar for myself in soccer or life. I am extremely grateful for what my teammates and coaches have taught me the past few years at UConn."

- Jessica Dulski, 2008-2011

JILL GELFENBIEN

"Playing soccer at UConn was one of the best decisions that I ever made in my life. I knew going in how competitive it would be and what an honor it would be. What I didn't know back then was that I was making life long friends."

- Jill Laufer (Gelfenbien) (1991-1994)

Celebrating 30 Years of UConn Women's Soccer

During the weekend of September 12-14, 2008, the University of Connecticut women's soccer team celebrated its 30th anniversary as a varsity program. The celebration took place during the weekend of the 17th annual UConn Classic featuring three top-25 programs in the country as No. 1 UCLA, No. 11 Penn State, No. 25 and Brown all competed.

The weekend kicked off at the UConn vs. Virginia football game at Rentschler Field on Saturday, September 13. Prior to the game, over 80 alumnae and their families gathered at a pre-game tailgate to reunite with past teammates and to meet the 2008 team and current UConn staff and administrators.

During halftime of the football game, all former UConn women soccer players in attendance were honored in front of a crowd of 40,000. Head Coach Len Tsantiris, a 1977 UConn graduate and coach of the Huskies for the past 28 years, was recognized with a 30th Anniversary poster that included pictures of every team in the history of the program. Also during the halftime ceremony, four standout former players were honored for their significant contributions to the program. Sara Whalen, Felice Duffy and Moira and Tara Buckley each received a commemorative bowl to honor their excellence in a Husky uniform.

The weekend celebration continued on Sunday, September 14 as UConn hosted a brunch at the Nathan Hale Inn. The brunch included memorable speeches from former Director of Athletics Jeffrey Hathaway, Head Coach Len Tsantiris and three former Huskies. Melissa Morrone Taintor, Jill Gelfenbien Laufer and Meghan Schnur each recounted stories from their days as a Husky.

The weekend culminated at the UConn vs. Penn State soccer game, with recognition of all alumni in attendance during halftime of the game. Overall, the weekend celebration was an amazing tribute to the women's soccer program and was enjoyed by all.

UConn Retires Two Numbers

In the 30-year history of the Connecticut women's soccer program, Tara Buckley (right) was the first women's soccer player to have her number retired. Tara Buckley's number 5 jersey was retired after her stellar four-year career at UConn ended in 1983. Buckley, who played with sister Moira, has the distinction of being the only UConn women's soccer four-time All-America selection. Sara Whalen (left) is the only other Husky to have her jersey retired.

Sara Whalen

- 1997 HONDA AWARD WINNER
- 1997 NSCAA NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR

In 1997, University of Connecticut three-time women's soccer All-American Sara Whalen was named the Women's Soccer National Player of the Year by the Honda Awards Program and was selected as the 1997 National Soccer Coaches Association National Player of the Year. Whalen was one of 11 finalists for the Honda Cup Broderick Trophy awarded to the female collegiate Athlete of the Year.

Whalen led the 1997 UConn women's soccer team to a single-season school record 23 wins and a spot in the NCAA Division I National Championship game. Connecticut concluded the 1997 season with an overall record of 23-4. The National Player of the Year honor for Whalen, as awarded by Honda, marked the first time a UConn women's soccer star had received the award.

Whalen, who hails from Greenlawn, N.Y., led Connecticut with 64 points (21 goals, 22 assists) on the year, second best in the nation. Her 22 assists also ranked second in the country for that category. Early in the 1997 season, Whalen made the transition from her more traditional post in the UConn defense (where she was selected a two-time First-Team All-American at back) to a new post in the UConn offense as a forward. The move paid dividends for Connecticut as Whalen had both goals in UConn's 2-1 National Semifinal upset win over previously unbeaten Notre Dame, advancing UConn to the National Championship game. Connecticut fell to North Carolina 2-0 in the NCAA Championship game.

In 1997, Whalen was tabbed First Team All-American as a forward, marking the third consecutive season she was a First-Team All-America selection. Among her accomplishments in 1997, Whalen was named Soccer America Magazine's National Player of the Year, the Connecticut Sportswriters' Alliance Female Athlete of the Year, a First-Team All-BIG EAST Selection, a First Team All-New England selection, Missouri Athletic Club National Player of the Year finalist, Hermann Award National Player of the Year finalist, Soccer Digest Magazine's "Best collegiate soccer player in America" and USA Today's "Most Versatile Player".

THE 100 POINT CLUB

In the 38-year history of the Connecticut women's soccer program, only 11 players have eclipsed the 100-point plateau for their careers. The five-year stretch from 1996-2000 produced six of the nine members. Most recently, Stephanie Ribeiro joined the prestigious club after finishing her senior season in 2016 with 103 points. Rachel Hill became the first new member in over a decade to join the club in 2015. Kristen Graczyk completed her outstanding career in 2004 with 146 points to rank third all-time in school history. In the 2000 season, Jen Carlson moved up to second on the all-time list with 153 points. One of UConn's original stars, Moira Buckley, set the bar high during her career, collecting 166 points from 1980 to 1983. She has held the record for nearly 30 years.

UConn and the NCAA Tournament

Year after year, the Huskies have appeared in the NCAA Tournament. From 1982-2007, Connecticut was one of only two schools to have played in every single NCAA Tournament. The Huskies made their 26th-consecutive appearance in 2007, halting their streak in 2008 and returning to the postseason in 2009.

The Huskies and the U.S. National Team

Throughout the years, the University of Connecticut women's soccer program has established itself as one of the premier programs in the country. In addition to the postseason appearances and perennial player accolades, several Huskies throughout the years have participated on the highest level of women's soccer competition with the U.S. National Teams. These players have traveled internationally and across the United States where they have exhibited their skills and talents. Sara Whalen, a 1997 UConn graduate, helped the U.S. Women's National Team to take home the 1999 World Cup Championship title and the Silver Medal in the 2000 Summer Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia. Former Husky three-time All-American forward Mary-Frances Monroe has also made several national team appearances. Most recently, midfielder Meghan Schnur played with the U-19 US Team that competed in the FIFA World Championship in 2004. Additionally, Kristen Graczyk was called in three times in 2005 to participate in the Under-21 National Team camp. During the summer of 2009, Brittany Taylor was called up to play for the National Team, while Elizabeth Eng participated on the youth National Squad. In 2014, current Husky Rachel Hill was selected to compete with the Yanks in the 2014 U-20 FIFA Women's World Cup.

Foreign Tours

In August of 1992, Len Tsantiris added a new dimension to Connecticut women's soccer by bringing the team on an international tour of Denmark. Since 1992, the program has had the privilege of traveling to different parts of the world three additional times. The NCAA rule limits a foreign tour to once every four years, which allows Coach Tsantiris to bring each class once. He believes that it is an integral part of the education that his players receive during their four years at UConn: "Not only can we prepare for the regular season and play against some of the best women's teams in the world, but our players have the opportunity to learn about different cultures, see how the game is appreciated in other countries, and experience parts of the world that they may never see again."

The foreign tour typically commences two days into preseason and lasts between 10 and 14 days. Players report to UConn in early August, complete compliance certification and fitness testing before the trip and then return to campus several days before classes begin. The following is a summary of the past four trips that Coach Tsantiris and his teams have taken.

1992: DENMARK

In 1992, Coach Tsantiris made history and ventured into his first international tour. The team played a challenging six-game schedule against top Division I and II clubs which included national team players from Denmark, Australia and Finland. The team finished the trip 3-1-2. Coach Tsantiris was very pleased with the outcome of the trip, "I was excited to expose the team to international soccer," said Tsantiris. "We chose Denmark because the women's club leagues there play some of the best women's soccer in the world. They play a thinking kind of game."

1996: DENMARK AND NORWAY

The success and benefits of the program's first trip to Denmark encouraged Coach Tsantiris and his team to return to the Scandinavian countries four years later. Accompanied by many friends and family of the women's soccer team, the Huskies began their Scandinavian tour in Copenhagen, Denmark. Highlights of the trip included attendance at a professional game, a scenic ferry ride from Denmark to Norway that included sights of the Oslo Fjord, and sightseeing in Copenhagen and Oslo. On the field, the Huskies improved on their international record from 1992 and came away from the trip with a 4-1 record. The Huskies beat Vejle (4-1), the No. 2 ranked women's soccer professional club team in Denmark's first division, along with Mejrup (2-1) and FFI (3-1). The team's only loss came to a very experienced and talented Fortuna squad, the #1 ranked club team in Europe at the time. Though the Huskies lost this game, they quickly identified areas that needed improvement for the regular season by gaining tremendous experience. Consequently, UConn challenged for a national championship the following year. In addition, a relationship between UConn and Fortuna extended into a return trip from Fortuna to Morrone Stadium on the UConn campus for an exhibition game on September 10, 1998.

2000: GREECE AND ITALY

In 2000, Coach Tsantiris decided that it was time to take the team to his homeland. He is originally from a small island in Greece, but the team did not visit his island. They spent time in Athens, Leptokaria Pieria and Thessaloniki. During a two week tour of Greece and Italy, the Huskies played eight games, winning all eight and were crowned champions of the 3rd AEGEAN Olympus Cup. Coach Tsantiris valued the opportunity to go overseas and reflected on the importance of the trip shortly before leaving, "We are going to Greece and Italy to play games. We will play four in each country in order to gain competitive game experience that you can't get from practicing. It will be very valuable. This experience will help us next year and the year after and will benefit all of our classes."

Sightseeing on this trip included Mt. Olympus, the ancient site of Dion, the ancient castle of Platamon, the Acropolis, and the Parthenon. After 7 days in Greece, the team traveled to Italy and spent time in Udine, Venice and Rome. With excellent food and amazing sites, the trip proved to be an invaluable experience for the team as they developed a more possession style of play and advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinal, losing to the eventual National Champions. As coach Tsantiris foresaw, three years later the team played in the national championship game.

The men's Brazilian national team has seen dominance with the likes of Pele, Ronaldo and Ronaldinho, and the women's national team has emerged over the past seven years as a World Cup and Olympic contender. On the field, the Brazilians display technical superiority, creativity and a confidence in their abilities to which most players aspire. Believing that his players would learn from and pick up some of Brazil's savvy play, Coach Tsantiris decided that a trip to South America would be a new and exciting opportunity for the program. A 12-day tour of Rio de Janeiro, Buzios and Teresopolis proved to be an amazing experience for the group. "Everyday we were doing something. A lot of good things came out of it and it was a very educational experience for everyone. The kids were able to experience a different culture and create camaraderie with one another. And at the same time, we were in the richest soccer country in the world. It gave us an opportunity to play against a totally different level of competition" said Tsantiris.

The highlights of the trip included attendance at two professional games at Maracana Stadium, including a game in which former World Cup Champion Romario played. The team visited the Brazilian Soccer Hall of Fame within the Maracana, played beach soccer games against local players, visited the Corcovado and Christ the Redeemer tourist spots and practiced and played at the Brazilian National Training Center in Teresopolis.

THE LONG ISLAND CONNECTION

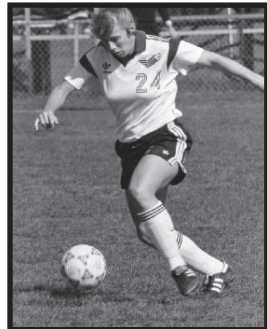

In his 35 -year history with Connecticut women's soccer, Len Tsantiris has had 16 natives of New York's Long Island play for the Huskies. Not only have these 17 competed as members of the team, they have each had a major impact on the program. Twelve have earned postseason honors and six of the Long Island products have been named All-Americans. All-Americans hailing from Long Island include three-time All-American Sara Whalen and Mary-Frances Monroe, former assistant coach and 1991, 1992, and 1993 All-American Karen Ferguson, 1991 All-American Cathy Cambria, 1988 and 1990 All-American Beth Grecco, and 1987, 1988, and 1989 All-American Kim Prutting. The Huskies had their seventh different Long Island athlete named All-American in 2007 when Brittany Taylor earned the honor. The Long Island tradition continued in 2008 with the addition of Michelle Reynolds and Heather Kasper and again in 2010 and 2011 when Devin Prendergast and Gabrielle Charno joined the Huskies.

Director of
Sports Medicine/
Head Team Physician

The Department of Sports Medicine in the University of Connecticut Division of Athletics works as an integrated multidisciplinary team whose purpose is to provide the optimal, safe environment for the student-athletes to train and participate in their sport. Handling the day-to-day responsibilities for the women's soccer program will be assistant athletic trainer, Catie Dann, MS, A.T.C.

The staff takes great pride in the individual attention paid to each student-athlete. They are devoted to preventing injury, rapidly diagnosing and treating injury and maximizing athletic performance. The disciplines of athletic training, strength and conditioning, sports medicine, orthopedic sports medicine, optometry, nutrition, exercise physiology and psychology work in concert to provide comprehensive care.

The team is spearheaded by Robert Howard, MA, ATC, the head athletic trainer. Howard is assisted by Brian Gallagher, MA, ATC and graduate assistants Anne Lasinsky, ATC, and Jonathan Andrews, ATC.

Physician coverage is led by Dr. Deena Casiero, the Director of Sports Medicine, and Team Physician. The Orthopedic Sports Medicine Specialists for the team include: Dr. Michael Joyce of the Orthopedic Sports Specialists in Glastonbury; Dr. Barry Messinger, and Dr. Robert Arciero and Dr. Augustus Mazzocca of the University of Connecticut Health Center Department of Orthopedics in Farmington.

The Department of Sports Medicine works closely with the Departments of Kinesiology and Nutritional Sciences on the University of Connecticut campus. This affords the student-athletes with the input of several nationally recognized exercise scientists. This cooperation also keeps the sports medicine staff at the cutting edge of developments in the fields of human performance and sports nutrition. Members of the sports medicine staff are actively engaged in research that directly benefits the care of the student-athletes.

In addition to providing the finest in medical care for the UConn women's soccer program, the Department of Sports Medicine at the University of Connecticut administers to the daily needs of 650 male and female intercollegiate student-athletes, who are in 24 different varsity programs.

The Department of Sports Medicine at the University of Connecticut plays a critical role in assuring that all UConn student-athletes have access to the best medical support and health care possible. Through patient care and ongoing research and education, the department continues to provide Husky teams a competitive edge from the medical perspective.

Assistant
Athletic Trainer

Catie Dann is in her 11th year working with women's soccer. She also works with the swimming and diving teams. Dann oversees all practices/games and deals with the prevention, care, and rehabilitation of all the team's injuries.

She earned her bachelor's degree at UConn in athletic training, and got her master's degree in exercise nutrition and eating behavior at The George Washington University in D.C. where she served as a graduate assistant trainer with the women's soccer team.

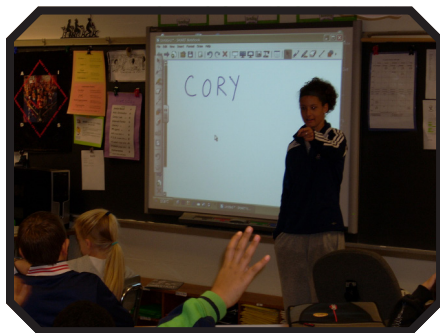

Meredith Reid
Director of
Women's Soccer
Operations

Meredith joined the UConn Athletics staff in June of 2016 as the director of women's soccer operations. Danielle is responsible for the management and operation of home athletic contests including American Conference, Big East, and NCAA postseason games and tournaments.

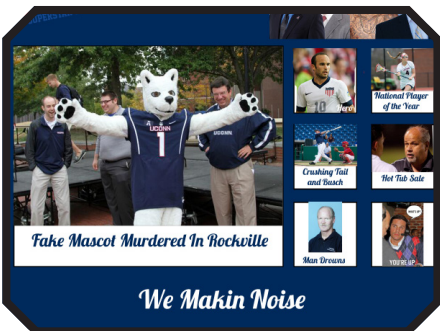

Meredith primarily coordinates the operation of women's soccer, men's ice hockey, softball and rowing. Meredith completed her undergraduate degree at the University of Southern Maine in business management with a concentration in sport management. Completed graduate degree at Springfield College in physical education with a concentration in athletic administration.

Huskies in the Community

Balancing athletics with academics is undoubtedly one of the most time consuming and challenging experiences a student-athlete will ever encounter. Despite the rigorous demands associated with learning in the classroom and competing at the Division I level, the UConn women's soccer team always finds time to give back to the community.

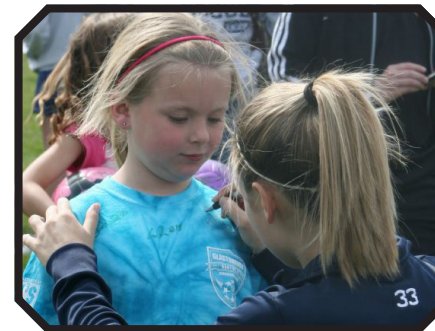

In the past, many members of the team have traveled to Mansfield Middle School to spend time in classrooms teaching children life lessons that are necessary to be successful both on and off the field. The student-athletes stressed the importance of teamwork and cooperation in the classroom, on the soccer field and in everyday life.

HUSKYSPORT

HuskySport is a program that connects UConn students and student-athletes with North End Hartford youths through school-based, after school, and summer activities. HuskySport's goal is to expose these youths to a variety of sports and physical activity in general. While involved in sport and physical activity, participants are also assisted in developing healthier lifestyles and forming positive relationships with current UConn graduate and undergraduate students, current UConn student-athletes, and former student-athletes, now graduate students, who serve as mentors.

Quinn is interviewed by Huskies All-Access on her adoption day. To see the video of her adoption ceremony, log on to the UConn Huskies YouTube Channel.

In 2014, UConn women's soccer partnered with the Friends of Jaclyn Foundation. The organization pairs children battling pediatric brain tumors with high school and college sports teams as a means of providing love, friendship and support throughout treatment.

The squad held an official adoption ceremony in February, welcoming four-year-old Quinn Ostergren from nearby Tolland. Quinn received her very own UConn women's soccer jersey and began lasting relationships with all of the players. She has been present at several of UConn's spring training sessions and exhibition matches and will continue to be in attendance throughout the season. As Connecticut embarks on its 2014 campaign, Quinn will continue her quest to beat the disease with the Huskies' support as she proceeds with chemotherapy sessions.

Friends of Jaclyn Foundation®

"She's just like any other kid. She's so full of life. Having her around makes you appreciate the little things that slip your mind everyday. Watching someone as little as her be so strong is amazing. She has so much love and support - we couldn't be any happier to have her as a part of the team."
