LYDIA GUMM

Carolyn Macow Leatherwood Head Coach
Second Season at Houston
Fifth Season at Houston Overall Florida State '17

After serving as an assistant coach for three seasons, Lydia Gumm became the second leader in Houston Women's Golf history when she was named the Carolyn Macow Leatherwood Head Coach in June 2021.

In her time with the Cougars, Gumm led Houston to two NCAA Regional appearances, one NCAA Regional individual berth and helped guide All-American Karen Fredgaard to the 2021 NCAA Championships.

Gumm came to Houston after serving as a volunteer assistant coach at Louisville during the 2018 spring semester.

at HOUSTON

In her first season as head coach of the Cougars, Gumm guided the Cougars through a slow start to their best play of the year by season's end.

Houston finished second at the American Athletic Conference Championships on Pinehurst No. 6 at Pinehurst Resort in Pinehurst, N.C. Nicole Abelar, Maria Jose Martinez and Annie Kim earned All-American Athletic Conference honors while Kim joined Anna Economon and Ariana Saenz on the league's All-Academic Team.

In 2020-21, Gumm helped lead the Cougars through a challenging season that saw the Fall 2020 season canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Cougars earned three Top-Three team finishes during the season and qualified for NCAA Regional play for the seventh straight season.

Sophomore Karen Fredgaard captured the individual championship at the UCF Challenge for the first title of her collegiate career to open the spring season and went on to be named the American Athletic Conference Player of the Year and a First-Team All-American, a first in program history.

Away from collegiate competition, Fredgaard also tied for third at the prestigious Augusta National Women's Amateur.

Zoe Slaughter was named the league's Freshman of the Year and was joined on the All-American Athletic Conference Team by freshmen Anne Norman and Delaney Martin. It was the third straight season in which the Cougars had four All-Conference honorees.

The awards continued to come in from the classroom as well with nine student-athletes named to the American Athletic Conference All-Academic Team. It was the eighth straight season in which 4+ Cougars earned academic honors from the league.

In 2019-20, Gumm helped lead the Cougars to the Mason Rudolph Championship team title to open the fall season and saw Houston at No. 30 in the Golfstat national rankings before the COVID-19 (coronavirus) pandemic abruptly canceled the remainder of the season in mid-March 2020.

In her first season with the Cougars, Gumm helped lead Houston to a pair of team championships, including the 2019 American Athletic Conference Championships team title and the ICON Invitational crown.

at LOUISVILLE

Gumm came to Houston after serving as a volunteer assistant coach at Louisville during the 2018 spring semester.

Joining the Cardinals in January 2018 after UL Head Coach Courtney Trimble went on maternity leave, Gumm helped lead Louisville to the team championship at the Anuenue Spring Break Classic in Hawai'i.

Qualifying for the NCAA San Francisco Regional, Louisville finished fourth and earned a place at the NCAA Championships for the first time since 2016.

Competing at the nation's premier collegiate event, Gumm helped lead Louisville to the Final Round of stroke play, where the Cardinals finished 15th.

as a STUDENT-ATHLETE

Before entering the coaching ranks, Gumm was an award-winning star at Florida State from 2013 to 2017. She was a two-time All-ACC honoree (2017, 2015) and competed in the finals of two NCAA Championships during her collegiate career.

She was elected team captain by her teammates for her final three collegiate seasons.

2022-23 COUGARS

CAROLYN MACOW LEATHERWOOD HEAD COACH LYDIA GUMM

Gumm was honored as the “Golden Nole” following her junior season. She posted a 72.04 scoring average through 30 rounds as a senior, the fourth-lowest average in FSU single-season history.

She finished her career at No. 57 in the World Amateur Golf rankings while leading the Seminoles to a No. 3 ranking as a senior.

By the time her FSU playing days were finished, Gumm had posted 12 Top-10 finishes and a 73.89 stroke average, which ranked fifth in school history. She finished her career ranked No. 57 in the World Amateur Golf rankings.

Gumm also enjoyed a stellar playing career as an amateur. She captured the 2014 Kentucky Amateur Championship and secured the 2016 Kentucky Open Championship title in a one-hole playoff.

in HIGH SCHOOL

Prior to her collegiate career, Gumm was a seven-time All-State selection at North Hardin High School in her hometown of Radcliff, Ky.

She earned the Miss Kentucky Golf Award a state-record five times, including becoming the youngest honoree at 12 years old in 2006. In 2012, she was named the Kentucky Golf Coaches Association Player of the Year.

As a sophomore, she fired an 11-under 61 at the Kentucky Invitational and was featured in Sports Illustrated following that accomplishment.

Gumm continues to hold the state’s high school record for most rounds counted in the 60s and earned national attention for qualifying for the Kansas High School Athletics Association State Championships as a third-grader.

At the end of her high school career, she had earned a school-record 10 letters.

PERSONAL

A three-time All-ACC Academic Team selection, Gumm graduated from Florida State with a bachelor’s degree in sport management in May 2017.

She is the daughter of Laura and Greg Gumm. Her father has been a high school baseball coach for 25 years, is inducted in the Kentucky Coaches’ Hall of Fame and was a National Coach of the Year finalist in 2011.

DANIEL PARK

Assistant Coach
Second Season at Houston
Fifth Season Overall
Alabama State '15

Daniel Park joined the University of Houston Women's Golf program as assistant coach in June 2021.

In his time with the Cougars, Park has led Houston to one NCAA Regional individual qualifier appearances and a second-place finish at the 2022 American Athletic Conference Championships.

Park came to Houston after serving for the previous three seasons as an assistant coach at UTSA. During that time, Park helped lead the Roadrunners to five tournament championships, including the 2019 Conference USA title, and two NCAA Regional berths.

The Roadrunners also performed in the classroom well under his watch, earning 16 C-USA Commissioner's Honor Roll honorees, four C-USA Commissioner's Academic Medals and a WGCA All-American Scholar with the team receiving a pair of NCAA Public Recognition Awards for academic progress rate (APR) perfect scores of 1,000 in 2019 and 2020.

at HOUSTON

In his first season with the Cougars, Park helped lead the Cougars to their best play of the year by season's end.

Houston finished second at the American Athletic Conference Championships on Pinehurst No. 6 at Pinehurst Resort in Pinehurst, N.C. Nicole Abelar, Maria Jose Martinez and Annie Kim earned All-American Athletic Conference honors while Kim joined Anna Economon and Ariana Saenz on the league's All-Academic Team.

at UTSA

In 2020-21, UTSA earned three Top-5 team finishes with second-place showings at the Texas State Invitational and the Maryb S. Kauth Invitational. The Roadrunners also advanced to the NCAA Louisville Regional, the program's second straight postseason berth.

In 2019-20, UTSA captured a pair of tournament titles and one individual crown. The Roadrunners captured their second straight Texas State Invitational championship and followed that with the team title at the Maryb S. Kauth Invitational. That event was the last of the campaign, as all spring sport competition and championships were canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

That season, he also became certified as a TPI Golf II instructor.

Park helped lead UTSA to three team titles, including its second straight Conference USA crown, and four additional top-five finishes in his first season with the program in 2018-19.

UTSA won the season-opening Lady Maxwell Invitational and also finished atop the leaderboard at the Texas State Invitational. The Roadrunners successfully defended their Conference USA Championships title with a school-record 10-under 854 to finish 12 strokes ahead of runner-up Charlotte. The Roadrunners then advanced to the NCAA Norman Regional.

at AUBURN

Park came to San Antonio from Auburn, Ala., where he held dual roles marketing and tournament director for the Southeastern Junior Golf Tour and as a golf coach at Auburn High School.

Park also served as a tournament services intern with Global Golf Management in Opelika, Ala., where he helped promote event opportunities and assisted with general operations during PGA Tour's Barbasol Championship in 2017

Park worked as a public speaking instructor with Auburn University's Communications Department from 2015 to 2017 while he completed his master's degree in communication

as a STUDENT-ATHLETE

A former standout collegiate golfer for Alabama State, Park helped lead the Hornets to three consecutive Southwestern Athletic Conference championships in 2013-15. He collected All-SWAC First-Team honors and was a Cleveland/Srixon All-American Scholar as a senior in 2015.

Park was a President's Award recipient and a member of the Dean's Honor Roll each year of college. He graduated summa cum laude with a 3.94 GPA and in communications with a minor in finance in 2015 from Alabama State.
