THE 2008-09 WARHAWKS

With high expectations entering its second season in the Sun Belt Conference, the ULM men's basketball team endured a season-long slump and came crashing down to earth. A season of highs and lows culminated with a 10-21 overall record and a first round loss in the league tournament at Middle Tennessee. The Warhawks regrouped and reloaded over the summer and look to be poised to rebound back to form in the league for the 2008-09 season.

"I really like our team," ULM head coach Orlando Early said before the season started. "We have proven in the past and I think it is quite obvious that it doesn't matter where you are picked to finish in the league in the preseason polls. As you build your program, you want to make it so that you are picked first every year. What we have to do is continue to get better every day and focus on the things that we can control."

The Warhawks of 2008-09 will rely heavily on the on-court play of senior guard Tony Hooper. Already one of the program's top all-time offensive threats and a leading returning point producer in the Sun Belt, Hooper headlines a cast of upperclassmen that features three seniors and six juniors. While only two full-time starters from a season ago return for the upcoming campaign, The Warhawks have a glut of Division I experience and a deep stable of talent at all five positions on the court.

With an influx of height and talent, a savvy and experienced group of returning stars, and a team hungry to prove that last season was a fluke, the 2008-09 Warhawks are poised to rebound and reclaim their position near the top of the Sun Belt Conference standings.

Guards

In a league traditionally dominated by talented guards, senior Tony Hooper headlines the class. ULM's leading scorer through his first three seasons in Monroe, the Houston, Texas native has established a reputation as one of the top threats from beyond the arc. A balanced player, Hooper is fearless in attacking the rim despite his 5-11 height and a ferocious on-ball defender.

Unlike in past seasons when he has been asked to play the point, Hooper looks to be free this season to operate without the ball. Early focused on bringing in point guards in the offseason and enters the campaign with four players capable of drawing primary minutes at the position.

"It has been really difficult for us," Early said of keeping point guards healthy. "When we have had steady play out of our point guard position we have been really good. We have four guys on our roster who are capable of playing the position. Because of all the injuries that we have had we wanted to have lots of depth at the position. Having that type of depth at point guard will make us better and allow Tony to be at his best."

The talk of ULM point guards starts with junior Brandon Roberts, but it doesn't end there. The Van, Texas, native is expected to return to the line-up in December and leaves a wide open race for starting minutes until then.

Junior Kenneth Averette, a walk-on turned starter a season ago, returns as the lone other point guard on the roster with Division I starting experience. As a sophomore, Averette picked up 11 starts against league foes and proved capable of effectively handling the pressures applied to a NCAA floor general.

Averette was joined in the offseason by junior transfer Reggie Lassiter and freshman Brandon Williams. Lassiter, a steady offensive player who knows his role in the offense, immediately impressed the ULM coaches with his maturity and leadership skills. Playing with Bakersfield College before transferring to ULM, he helped his team to a pair of successful campaigns including a pair of deep playoff runs. Williams enters the mix as a highly-touted freshman who ranked amongst the state of Texas' best athletes. Leading the state in assists per game, Williams joins the Warhawks after wrapping up his prep career at Aldine HS. Coming from the same school as Hooper, Williams helped re-write the record books that the Warhawk senior wrote.

Graduation hit the Warhawks hardest at the guard position where three starters are gone. In their place come junior transfers Dynile Forbes and Jarvis Hill, a duo of big-time athletes that blend an offensive scoring punch with the mentality of a defensive stopper.

Forbes joins the Warhawks after a successful two-year career at Cochise College in Arizona where, in a short time, he became a JUCO All-American and the Arizona Player of the Year. Averaging over 20 points for his career, the Freeport, Bahamas, native topped the 1,000-point plateau and blistered the nets to the tune of 47 percent shooting.

He is joined by Hill, a tough-nose athlete with Division I playing experience. Originally recruited by some of the south's top programs, Hill played one year at Southern Miss before transferring to East Mississippi Community College. While with the Golden Eagles, Hill spent time in the starting line-up before settling on the role of sixth man and flourishing. The 6-2 wing comes to ULM with 238 career points and a Division I scoring average of 7.8 per game.

Forwards

A young position a year ago, the Warhawks have a glut of talent on the blocks for the upcoming season. Headlined by sophomore Rudy Turner and senior Afam Nweke, the Warhawks have four letterwinners returning from last season's squad who played either forward or center.

After a slow start in his first collegiate campaign, Turner started to emerge down the stretch as one of the Sun Belt Conference's top centers. One of the league leaders in blocks per game and a load in the paint, Turner added muscle in the offseason to his 6-8, 275-pound frame, and worked on improving his offensive game. A leaner Turner enters the season poised to have a breakout year for the Warhawks.

Also back for ULM is a two-year starter in Nweke. A monster on the boards, the Houston, Texas, native has led the team in rebounding in each of the last two seasons and has proven he is capable of hitting the mid-range jumper when given the opportunity.

Sophomore Mitchell Hampton and senior David Garrison return as letterwinners giving the Warhawks depth at the position. Used primarily as a reserve for his career, Garrison gives the Warhawks an additional option off the bench and possess the capability of hitting all the shots when they are given to him.

Hampton, a lean and athletic forward, returns with the potential to make a statement in his second collegiate season. A strong defender and great offensive rebounder, the Monroe, La., product looks to figure into the mix early and often. If not in the starting line-up, he figures to be one of the first bodies off the deep Warhawk bench.

"We have really strengthened ourselves at the forward position," Early said. "We have so many options. We will be bigger and stronger around the basket, but honestly, we needed to be. We are going to be able to make a difference and help ourselves out with our size, but more importantly our athleticism."

Giving the team that depth inside are a trio players who did not play with the team last season who stand at 6-6 or taller. Sophomore Nathaniel Roché rejoins the team after redshirting last season, sophomore Lawrence Gilbert joins the team after sitting out last season per NCAA transfer rules, and junior Malcolm Thomas joins the team after a strong season at Tyler Junior College a year ago.

Roché, a New Orleans, La., native with a big body and ability to finish around the rim showed promise as a freshman before sitting out last season. Standing at 6-8, he blends size and strength with the scoring mentality needed to finish under heavy pressure.

Gilbert and Thomas give the Warhawks depth at multiple positions. Standing at 6-7 and 6-6, respectively, the tandem are capable of playing either guard or forward depending on the opponent. Lean and athletic, the two represent the complete package for basketball players - strong on defense and complete on offense.

"Having players like that is a good example that you are building your program in the right direction," Early said of the versatile Gilbert and Thomas. "We have a lot of different guys who can play a lot of different positions and be interchangeable. The guys we have allow us to play a similar style to what we have played in the past. The difference is having guys able to do it who are 6-6 or 6-7 instead of 6-2 or 6-3."

Gilbert joined the Warhawks prior to the 2007-08 season after lettering one season with Miami of the ACC. A four-star recruit out of New Orleans, La., he is expected to compete for playing time early and will be in the mix on both ends of the court.

Thomas, a highly-touted wing who led his junior college team to a 25-4 overall record, got on the Warhawks radar early and stayed their. The team's leading shooter in terms of percentage and makes beyond the arc, Thomas averaged over 14 points per game - one of four players on his previous team to top a double-digit average.

Defense

While best known for an up-tempo offense, it is the promise of his defense that has Early most excited about the upcoming season.

ULM has proven quantities in every aspect of the defensive game. Featuring size and shot blocking down low in Turner, the ability to control the glass on both ends in Nweke and Hampton, and a group of vicious on-ball defenders starting with Hooper, the 2008-09 squad looks to be Early's best defensive squad yet.

"I am very excited about where we could be with our defense," Early said. "We have a group of guys who are long, lean and athletic. They want to get out and pressure the ball. Championship teams are able to get stops on defense and I think this team has a chance to become a very good defensive team."

Coaches

ULM's successes from its first season in the Sun Belt forced Early to replace a pair of assistants in the off-season. His faces on the sidelines in the upcoming season will be more familiar to ULM fans. All three assistants from last season's squad return in Harold Juluke, Tom Coverdale and Gus Hauser.

"Just like you develop team chemistry from year to year, you have to develop staff chemistry," Early said. "You have to bond together and you have to spend time together. You can't just buy 'bond' at the store and hope it works. With us being together for a year, we have a very high comfort level with each other."

A group that has experienced the ups and downs of collegiate coaching, the 2008-09 Warhawk staff provides some stability for the team for the upcoming season.

Schedule

Gone from the upcoming schedule are 2007-08 national champion Kansas and Michigan State, but this season's slate features plenty of challenges for the Warhawks. After opening at home for the first time under Early, the Warhawks travel to Starkville, Miss., for an early season meeting with Mississippi State.

After two more games at home, the Warhawks are back on the road with trips to Auburn and I-20-foe Louisiana Tech headlining. ULM will play a late-December game at the Big 12's Colorado before finishing the non-conference slate at home. A total of five home non-league dates are on the schedule this season, the most since the 2005-06 campaign - Orlando Early's first in Monroe.

ULM will open the Sun Belt slate on the road against rival Louisiana-Lafayette before opening at home against in-state foe New Orleans on December 19. Alternating road trips with home stands, the Warhawks will look to claim their second West Division title in three years and earn the automatic berth to the Sun Belt championship site in Hot Springs, Ark. The road won't be easy as the Warhawks also make the trip to Middle Tennessee, host Western Kentucky, and face South Alabama twice.

"The Sun Belt is a great - if not one of the best - mid-major conferences in the country," Early said when asked about the league. "That being said, it will be up in the air again this season. There are a lot of great coaches and teams and a lot of players coming back. It is going to be exciting - a great race from start to finish. On any given night you have to come ready to play or there is no doubt you will get defeated."

With two teams in the NCAA Tournament a season ago, including one in the Sweet 16, Early's words ring particularly true. The influx of talent and the experience returning has Early and the Warhawks believing the team can compete for the conference crown and back to form in the 2008-09 season.

NCAA TOURNAMENTS

ULM has played some of the nation's elite programs, including a Laetner-led Duke team in the opening round of the 1991 NCAA Tournament.

2008-09 ULM WARHAWK BASKETBALL

The Warhawk men's basketball team has been one of the most successful programs at ULM. On six occasions, ULM has earned the lone bid of the Southland Conference to the NCAA Tournament, while in only four seasons in the Atlantic Sun Conference, the Warhawks earned both an automatic bid to the 64-team tournament and an invitation to the National Invitational Tournament.

In addition to seven NCAA Tournament appearances, ULM has also earned seven SLC regular-season conference championships, two A-Sun regular-season championships, a pair of Gulf States Conference championships, and most recently claimed the West Division Title in the Sun Belt Conference.

In its 55-plus year history, 78 ULM players have earned all-conference honors, 12 athletes have been named league Player of the Year, six first-timers to the program have been awarded conference Newcomer of the Year and on 17 occasions an athlete has garnered All-America honors.

During an eight-year period from the 1989-90 season to the 1996-97 season, ULM captured either the Southland Conference regular season championship or the SLC Tournament Championship seven times. On four of the seven occasions, ULM earned both the regular season and tournament championship. ULM has also participated in a pair of National Invitational Tournaments, once in 1979 and again in 1988.

Perhaps the most impressive statistic involving the Warhawk men's basketball program is the all-time winning percentage of .559. Entering the 2008-09 season, ULM has won 864 of 1,545 games played, including a staggering 75.9 percent of games played at Fant-Ewing Coliseum. The Warhawks have won 361 games in the 35 year history of their home arena.

Several individuals have made an impact on the Warhawk program. Former ULM great Wojciech Myrda is the NCAA's all-time career block leader with 535. Calvin Natt played four seasons in Monroe and left as the school's all-time leading scorer, posting 2,581 points, before moving on to an 11-year career in the NBA. ULM coaches have earned Coach of the Year honors on 12 occasions, five times each by legends Mike Vining and Lenny Fant and once by Arnold Kilpatrick and Orlando Early who was named Coach of the Year by four different publications following the 2006-07 season.

In the history of the program, 22 players have advanced on to play in the professional ranks, including six players to the NBA.

On Feb. 16, 2002, ULM center Wojciech Myrda [left] etched his name not only in the Warhawk record book, but also the NCAA's. In the contest against Nicholls State, the Rzeszow, Poland native, tallied 11 blocks en route to setting the NCAA's all-time block record of 492, formerly held by Adonal Foyle of Colgate. For his career, Myrda posted 535 blocks, becoming the only player in Division I history to record 500 or more blocks in a career. During his final season, Myrda finished with 172 blocks, the fifth-most single season total in the NCAA's history. He also established a NCAA record of 4.7 blocks per game for a four-year player.

FANT-EWING COLISEUM

Back in 1991, a cartoon by Ron Rogers appeared in the Monroe NewsStar which depicted Fant-Ewing Coliseum as the "Beast of Northeast."

Northeast Louisiana University has since become ULM so that part of the cartoon's title no longer applies, but the "Beast" part still fits.

For 35 years, ULM's home arena has been beastly to visiting teams and "Home Sweet Home" to Warhawk squads. Since the Coliseum doors opened in 1971, the ULM men have suffered only two losing seasons on their home court and have posted four perfect home seasons, including a 12-0 mark five years ago and a 14-0 two seasons ago. In four other seasons, the Warhawks lost only one home game.

Since 1989, the Warhawks have had five nationally ranked home court winning streaks. ULM had a 29-game streak from 1990-92, which ranked as the third longest in the country. There was a 17-game streak over the 1992-93 and 1993-94 seasons, that one the nation's fifth longest. A 14-game string that began in 1995-96 and extended into 1996-97 was the 10th longest in the country. More recently, a 16-game streak that began in 2000-01 and went through the 2001-02 season was also the nation's 10th longest. ULM's last streak, 15 consecutive wins, ranked as the 13th longest nationally entering the 2007-08 season before ending as the sixth-longest nationally.

ULM has won 75 percent of its games in Fant-Ewing over the years and this kind of success has resulted in excellent attendance. In 2001-02, for example, ULM led the Southland Conference in average attendance at 3,437 per game and ranked No. 2 in the nation in attendance increase (only Texas Tech with head coach Bobby Knight improved its attendance more). Often ULM has ranked No. 2 in the state in home attendance behind only LSU, including three times in the 1970's.

While ULM has dismantled teams in the Coliseum, the building itself has been upgraded.

Fant-Ewing Coliseum took on a different look to begin the new millennium. In late September 2000, the floor of Fant-Ewing Coliseum was repainted. Other features included painting of the handrails to the true ULM maroon color. New court side chairs were also added.

In 1997 the Coliseum's tartan floor was replaced with a permanent wood surface. Padding was placed on top of the tartan with two layers of plywood followed by the maple playing surface.

The lighting system was increased and improved prior to the 1992-93 season. All bulbs were replaced with new lights, including 36 sports lights on each side of the floor specifically for television. That system illuminates the court to as high as 135 candle power - more than enough for television cameras.

In 1998, the gold siding across the top of the building outside was replaced with maroon siding.

Fant-Ewing has hosted several major events, including eight men's conference tournaments - three in the Atlantic Sun and five in the Southland Conference - two NCAA women's regional tournaments and four first-round NCAA women's match ups. The facility also has been the site of the LHSAA Girl's Sweet 16 State Basketball Tournament.

Fant-Ewing was completed in 1971 at a cost of $2.7 million. There are 6,085 permanent seats and capacity can be increased to 7,000 with temporary seating. The facility is named for the late Lenny Fant, ULM's legendary basketball coach from 1958-1979, and Wilson Ewing, a former part owner of the Monroe NewsStar.

A HOME FOR STARS

A star by all measures, Anthony "Greyhound" Jones was a highlight reel and remained in the spotlight with his 103 dunks.

"The Mayor" Jamie Mayo played point guard for ULM before becoming a civil servant for the city of Monroe.

A member of perhaps the greatest teams in ULM history, Ryan Stuart topped the 1,000 point mark for his career. Leading the team to a pair of Southland Conference titles in his two seasons in Monroe, ULM won a total of 45 games during his two-year career.

2008-09 ULM WARHAWK BASKETBALL

No team dominated the Southland Conference like ULM. In 24 seasons in the league, ULM claimed the regular season title seven times and the league tournament title seven times.

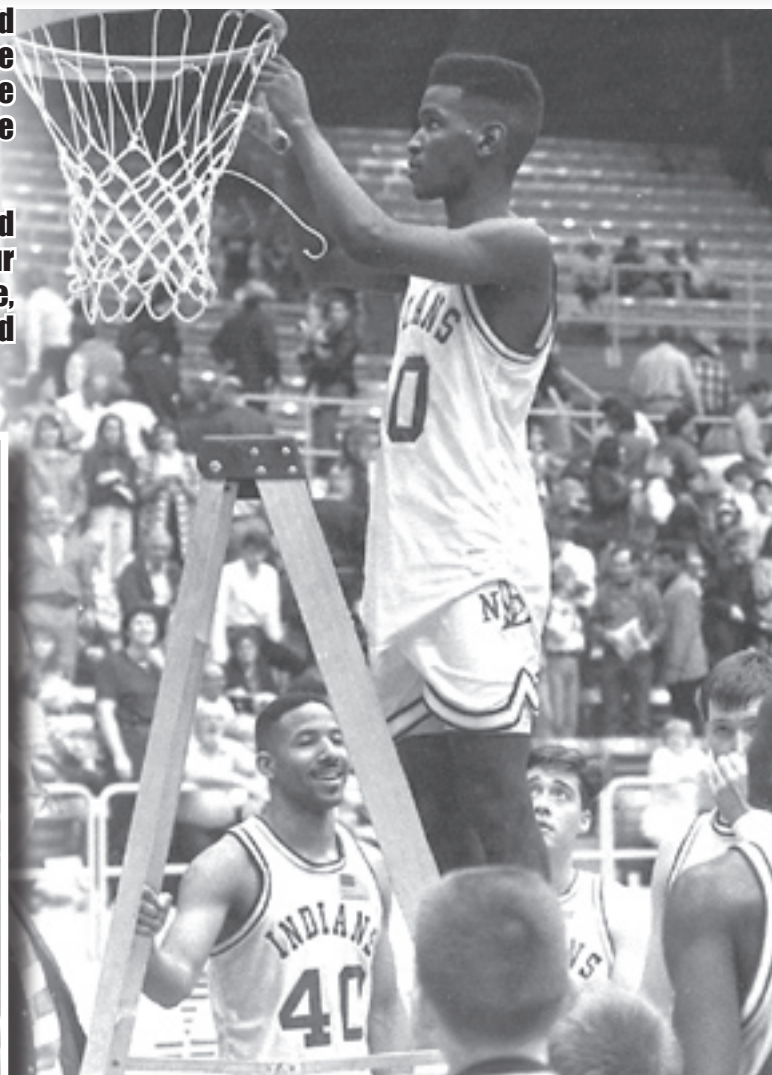

Over the years, the Warhawks have claimed overall or divisional conference titles in four conferences - the Gulf States Conference, Atlantic Sun Conference, Southland Conference, and Sun Belt Conference.

A HISTORY OF CHAMPIONSHIPS

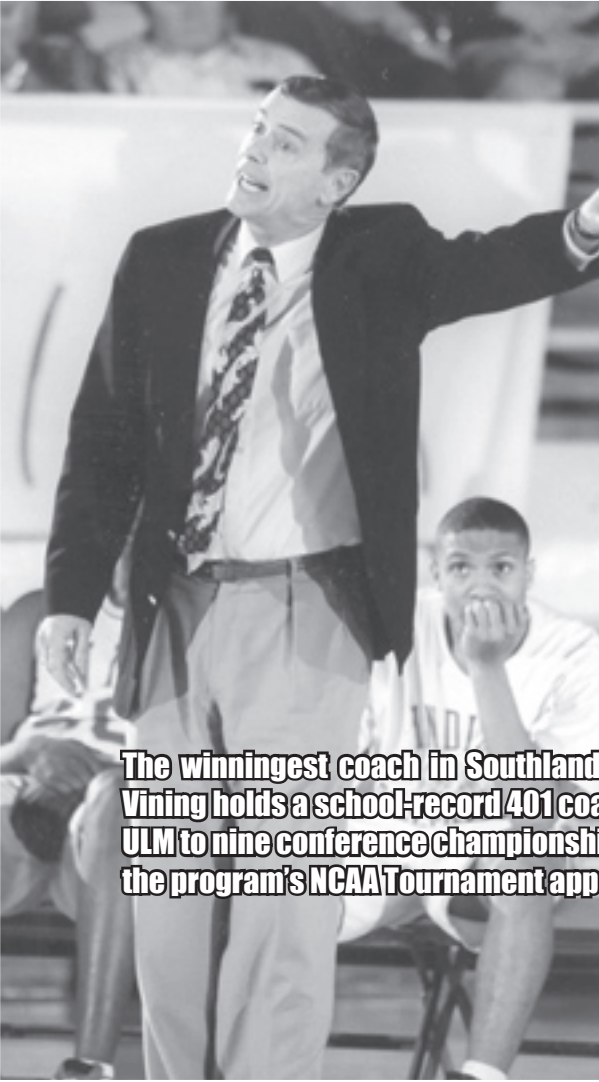

In Lenny Fant's final year on the sidelines, ULM claimed its first Atlantic Sun Championship and advanced to the NIT.

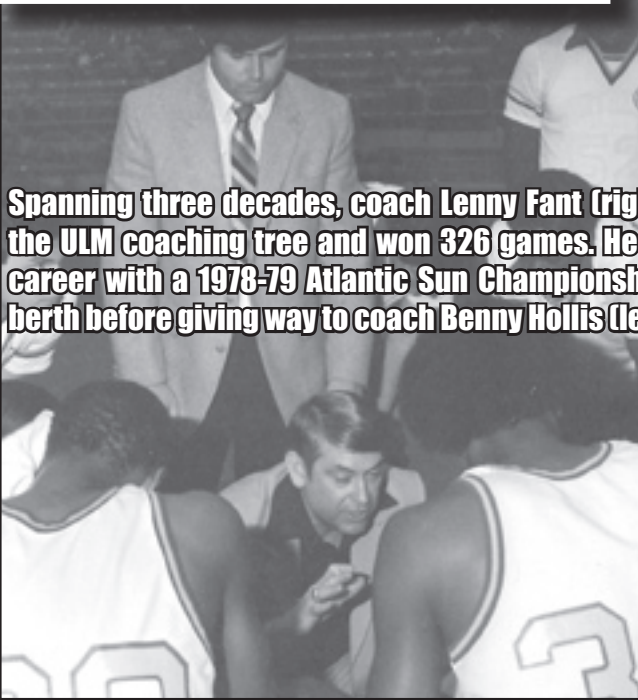

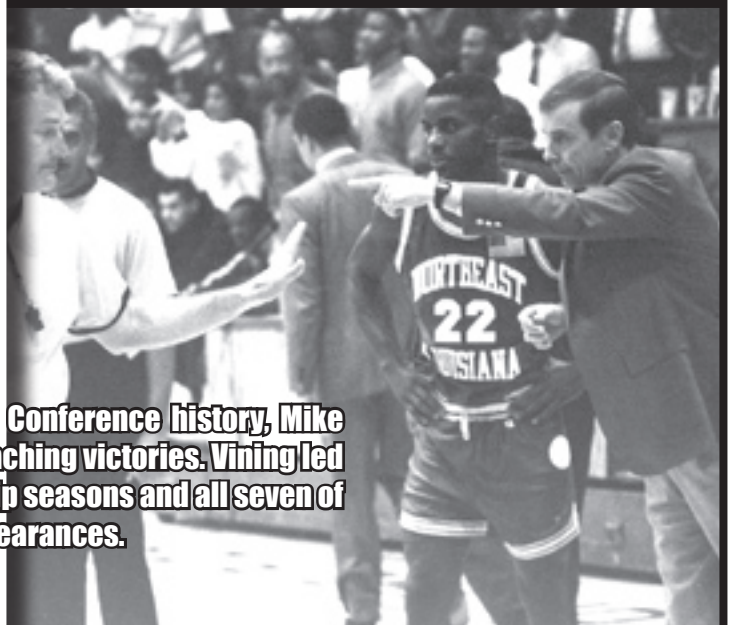

A LEGACY OF COACHES

The winningest coach in Southland Conference history, Mike Vining holds a school-record 401 coaching victories. Vining led ULM to nine conference championship seasons and all seven of the program's NCAA Tournament appearances.

Some of the biggest names in college basketball in the South have called the sidelines at ULM home. A total of six men have held the title of Head Coach for the Warhawks in the program's nearly 60-year history.

THE WARHAWK STAFF

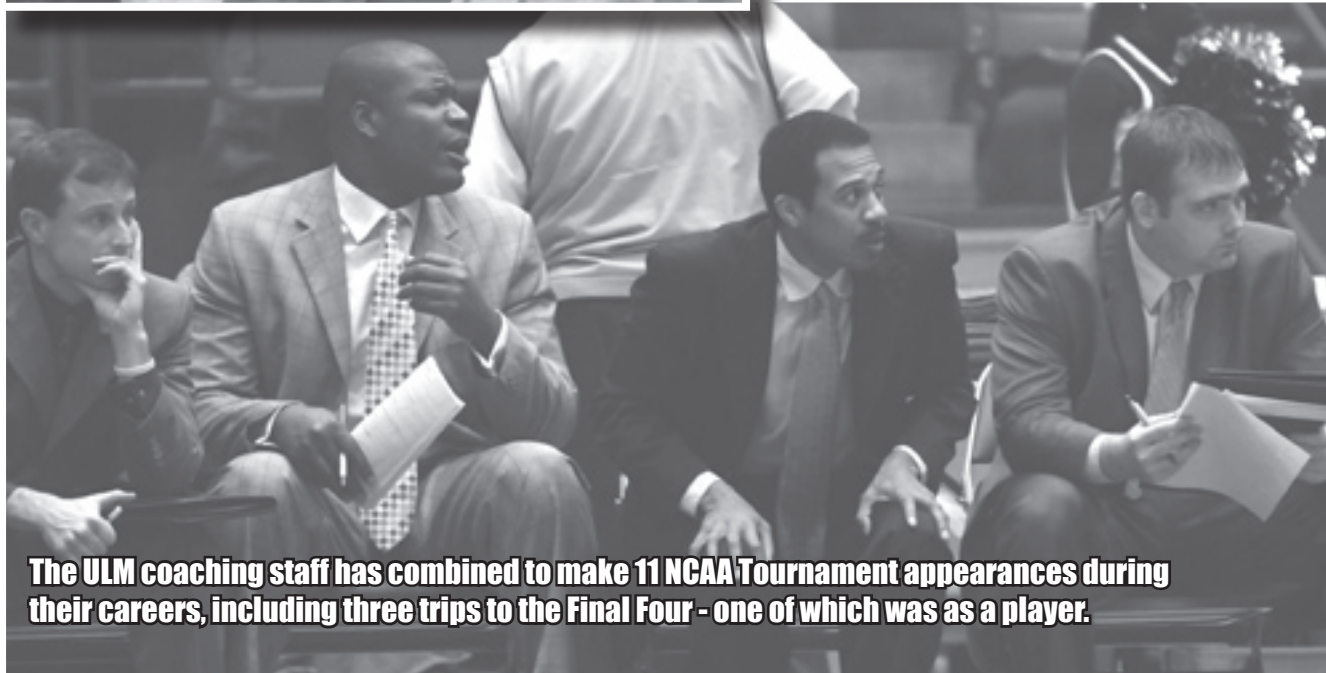

Orlando Early has earned three Coach of the Year honors since taking the reigns at ULM and was a finalist for the Hugh Durham Mid-Major Coach of the Year Award in 2006-07.

ULM head coach Orlando Early has assembled a coaching staff that features some of the top young minds in collegiate basketball. With postseason experience as both players and coaches, the Warhawks assistants along with Early have combined to coach at the Division-I level 25 years.

Serving under some of the top coaches in the nation and at some of the most prominent programs in the region, the four full-time ULM coaches have combined to sit on the sidelines of 436 total victories, including 38 at ULM.

Successes on the court caused two of Early's first assistants at ULM to be hired at other programs and opened the door for Tom Coverdale and Gus Hauser to assume their current roles. Harold Juluke remains as the lone holdover from Early's first staff.

Great recruiters, coaches and role models, the ULM staff combines experience and energy.

The ULM coaching staff has combined to make 11 NCAA Tournament appearances during their careers, including three trips to the Final Four - one of which was as a player.

ULM Head Coach
Gardner-Webb, '90
Fourth Season
38-53 Overall

On April 11, 2005, former Alabama assistant Orlando Early was named the sixth head coach of the ULM men's basketball program. An enthusiastic leader and proven winner, Early instantly became the face of one of the region's most historic programs, leading the Warhawks into the Sun Belt Conference and establishing him as one of the rising stars of the collegiate basketball coaching fraternity.

Now entering his fourth season at the helm, Early has proven himself in short time as the best man to return the program to the successes it experienced during its gloried past.

Under Early's guidance, the Warhawks have returned to their dominant ways inside Fant-Ewing Coliseum posting a 28-12 home record in his first three seasons. During one stretch, including the entire 2006-07 season, ULM rattled off 15-consecutive home victories – a streak that reached as high as sixth nationally before it ended on a buzzer beating shot to rival Louisiana-Lafayette.

Early - The Head Coach

With only three seasons under his belt at ULM, it hasn't taken long for Early to experience the highs and lows that come with being the head coach of a collegiate basketball program. He was hired with the daunting task of succeeding the program's only 400-game winner and the Southland Conference's all-time winningest coach in Mike Vining.

The off-court challenges came before Early's first ULM squad ever took to the floor. On August 23, 2005 – just over four months after the coach's appointment – the southern half of the Warhawks home state was ravaged by Hurricane Katrina. The squad featured two players and an assistant coach directly affected by the disaster. Already an uphill battle with a program that failed to tally double-digit wins for the first time in 46 seasons, Early guided the team to a 10-18 overall record.

One year later the Warhawks joined the Sun Belt Conference and, under Early's guidance, made their presence known immediately. Picked in the 2006-07 preseason league polls to finish last, the Early-led Warhawks raced out to a 4-0 league start and ended the season with an 11-7 conference mark. With an 18-14 overall record marking the program's first winning campaign since the 2001-02 season, ULM won a share of the SBC West Division title. The team advanced to the quarterfinal round of the Sun Belt Conference tournament before being knocked out – in overtime – by eventual champion North Texas.

ULM's postseason win and winning league record were also the first for the program since the 2001-02 campaign.

Having taken the league by storm during his sophomore campaign, Early garnered Coach of the Year honors from four different outlets, including the Sun Belt Conference, Louisiana Association of

ORLANDO EARLY

Basketball Coaches, Louisiana Sports Writers Association, and National Association of Basketball Coaches. Early also ended the 2006-07 season as a finalist for the Hugh Durham Mid-Major Coach of the Year award.

With high expectations for the 2007-08 season, ULM opened at eventual national champion Kansas and became the only program on the season to convert on better than 50 percent of their field goals against the Jayhawks. ULM challenged nationally-ranked Michigan State in the CBE Classic before breaking out with a win over the Big 10's Iowa in the opening round of the Hawkeye Challenge.

From hunter to hunted, ULM entered the conference slate with a .500 record and ready to defend its divisional title from the previous season. A buzzer-beating shot in the league opener, coupled with some unlucky bounces along the way culminated in a 10-21 season that ended with a first-round loss at Middle Tennessee in the Sun Belt Conference Tournament.

Through his first three seasons as a head coach, Early has led the Warhawks to a 38-53 overall record.

Early - The Assistant

Beginning his collegiate coaching career as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Gardner-Webb, in the 1993-94 season, Early began a meteoric rise over the next 10 years. His work in a supporting role became nationally recognized and culminated in an appearance in Athlon magazine's Fall 2004 basketball issue as the third best assistant coach in the nation.

With Early on the sideline, teams have posted a winning record nine times – including five seasons with 20 or more wins – and advanced to the NCAA Tournament on seven occasions.

After two seasons with his alma mater, Early joined the staff at Western Carolina for the 1995-96 season. In his first year as an assistant with the Catamounts, Early helped the team to the Southern Conference championship and his first NCAA Tournament appearance. One year later, he was promoted to associate head coach – a position he served in for two seasons.

Prior to the 1998-99 season, Early continued his coaching ascent by joining Bobby Lutz's staff as an assistant at UNC-Charlotte. In three seasons with the 49ers, Early helped the team to a pair of Conference USA titles, two NCAA Tournament appearances, an NIT appearance and 62-38 overall record.

Three years later Alabama's Mark Gottfried came calling for Early and added him to his staff as an assistant coach prior to the 2001-02 season. On December 23 of his first season in Tuscaloosa, Alabama reached a No. 1 national ranking on their way to an SEC regular season championship and an NCAA Elite Eight appearance.

In four seasons with the Crimson Tide, Early helped the team to four consecutive NCAA Tournaments. Alabama topped 20 wins three times with the ULM head coach on the sidelines and posted a combined 88-41 record.

Early – The Player

Before starting his collegiate coaching career Early served as the floor general of the Gardner-Webb Running Bulldogs in Boiling Springs, N.C. As the team's point guard, he helped the team to the 1988 NAIA District 26 title.

A four-year letter-winner as a point guard, he graduated with a degree in accounting in 1990.

Early – The Person

An avid teacher of the game, Early spends his summers teaching the game of basketball to youth in the Monroe, La., area. In the summer of 2008, Early returned to his hometown of Lebanon, Va., to conduct his first youth basketball camp in the area.

More than just a basketball teacher, Early has instilled in his players a responsibility to the community they live in. Following Hurricane Katrina, Early and his first team of Warhawks volunteered during the relief efforts - lending an ear, serving food, and organizing supplies for those displaced by the disaster. This past summer, the Warhawks were at it again, helping ease the pain of those families that were displaced to Monroe, La., due to Hurricane's Gustav and Ike.

Early is married to the former Jualeah Johnson. The couple has three children, Nakita, Storm and Erica.

A native of Lebanon, Va., he was born on November 27, 1967.

2008-09 ULM WARHAWK BASKETBALL

TOM COVERDALE

Assistant Coach Indiana, '03 Fourth Season

Former Indiana star Tom Coverdale returns for his fourth season with Orlando Early on the bayou and at ULM.

Now in his second season as an assistant coach, Coverdale spent his first two seasons with the Warhawks as Early's first basketball intern. Coverdale was one of the original members of Early's staff when the head coach came to ULM for the 2005-06 season.

In his first season with the program, Coverdale helped the Warhawks climb back to the 10 win plateau.

A year later, his impact was felt even greater. Entering the program's first season in the Sun Belt Conference, Coverdale helped guide the Warhawks to an 18-14 overall record - the program's highest win total since the 2001-02 season - and the West Division crown. ULM was picked in the league's preseason poll to finish last in the seven-team West Division before posting an 11-7 divisional mark thanks to a fast start in league play.

The 2006-07 season also saw the Warhawks post one of the most impressive home ledgers in school history. In dominant fashion, ULM posted a 14-0 Fant-Ewing Coliseum record with Coverdale on the sidelines.

The Warhawks successes that season made Coverdale a desired coach. Shortly after the season ended, he was hired by Chicago State as an assistant coach. His tenure with the Cougars wouldn't last long as an opening on the ULM staff caused Early to bring him back as a full-time assistant.

ULM entered the 2007-08 season projected to finish first in the Sun Belt Conference West Division. With Coverdale on the sidelines, the Warhawks hit on better than 50 percent of their shots against national champion Kansas. Venturing into familiar territory, the Warhawks went into Iowa City and claimed the Hawkeye Challenge title, becoming only the second team in the 26-year history of the event to upset host-Iowa.

Recruited by legendary head coach Bob Knight, Coverdale played one season for the NCAA coaching wins leader before finishing his Hoosier playing career under Mike Davis.

Considered the heart and soul of the 2001-02 Indiana squad that reached the NCAA National Championship Game, Coverdale earned NCAA South Regional MVP honors after battling through two sprained ankles during the tournament. A four-year letterwinner for the Hoosiers, he played in 115 games and scored 1,217 points, a mark which ranks 28th in school history.

The greatest accomplishment of his playing career comes in the distinction that Coverdale represents the only player in the storied history of Indiana basketball with more than 1,000 points, 200 three pointers made and 500 assists.

Prior to joining the Hoosiers, Coverdale played at Noblesville High School where he earned the state of Indiana's "Mr. Basketball" recognition in 1998. He also competed at New Hampton Prep in New Hampshire before joining the Hoosiers where he averaged 21 points, seven assists and four steals in his lone season at the school.

After graduation, Coverdale played one season with Rockford of the CBA and one season in Germany before joining the ULM staff.

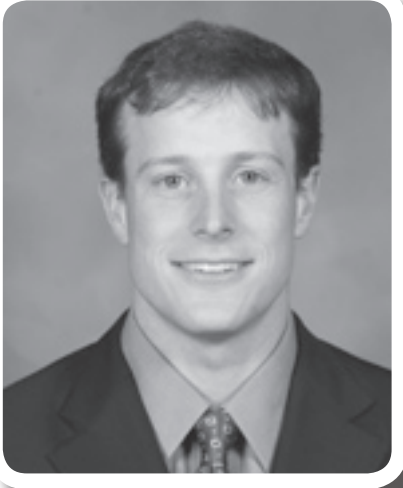

Coverdale is the son of Mark and Maryanne Coverdale. He earned a bachelor's of science degree in sports management from Indiana in 2003.

Early on Coverdale: "Coach Coverdale has a great basketball mind. Everyone knows how great of a player he was and what he brought there. Now he is doing that as a coach. This is just his second year and he is getting better and better every day. He understands what we are doing and, from an offensive standpoint, he and I get together and come up with the game plan. He has worked with our guards and it is a testament to him that Tony Hooper will finish on the career offensive lists that he will. Coach Coverdale has worked with him and helped make him into the shooter that he is today."

GUS HAUSER

Assistant Coach Furman, '00 Second Season

The most recent addition to the Warhawk assistant coaching staff, Gus Hauser came to ULM with a track record of success at every level of coaching. During his coaching career, Hauser was on the sidelines for teams that made three NCAA Tournament appearances in four years.

Joining the Warhawks prior to the 2007-08 season, Hauser's effect was felt both on and off the court. In addition to his on-court responsibilities, the Kentucky-native has assumed several responsibilities in regards to scheduling, recruiting at the high school and junior college level, and operational aspects of the team.

With Hauser on the sideline, the Warhawks were able to claim their first in-season tournament championship in 15 years after besting Iowa claiming the Hawkeye Challenge championship.

Hauser made the move to Monroe, La., after a successful two-year career on Reggie Theus' staff at New Mexico State. In his two years in Las Cruces, Hauser helped the Aggies to a Western Athletic Conference Championship, an NCAA Tournament berth and more than 40 wins. NMSU posted a 25-9 record in Hauser's final season with the team, claimed the Western Athletic Conference Tournament Championship and faced Texas in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament.

Hauser has experienced success on the sidelines in each of his coaching stops. In his first season at New Mexico State, Hauser helped the Aggies to a 16-14 record, the fifth-best turnaround record-wise in the nation. NMSU also saw drastic improvements in conference play, posting a 10-6 record, a nine victory improvement from the year prior to his arrival. The Aggies also advanced to the league tournament semifinals and led the WAC in free throw percentage (.747) and steals per game (7.25). Under Hauser's leadership the Aggies finished the season ranked third in league scoring (71.5 points per game) and field goal percentage (.455), finished fourth in turnover margin (+.19) and fifth in three-point field goal percentage (.350).

Hauser spent two seasons working for legendary head coach Rick Pitino as a graduate assistant at Louisville prior to his time at New Mexico State. While there, he helped the Cardinals advance to back-to-back NCAA Tournaments. His assistance in recruiting and opponent scouting helped the Cardinals claim the 2005 Conference USA regular season and tournament championships. Louisville's 2005 appearance in the Final Four marked its return to the National Semifinals for the first time since 1986, a span covering almost 20 years.

Before joining Pitino at UL, Hauser spent one season as a volunteer assistant coach at Transylvania University where he helped the Pioneers to an eight-game improvement in the win column and a 13-11 overall record.

Hauser was a point guard at Furman, lettering three-years and being named to the All-Southern Conference Academic Team and the Furman University Dean's List. An award winner in the classroom, Hauser earned his bachelor of arts degree in religious philosophy in 2000. Hauser also earned letters in football at Furman.

Hauser is married to the former Amy Presley of Nashville, Tenn. His father, Patrick Hauser, was a wide receiver at East Tennessee State before being drafted by the Miami Dolphins of the NFL in 1970. Both his mother and his brother are also athletes. Connie is an active golfer while Seth played tennis at both Furman and Eastern Kentucky.

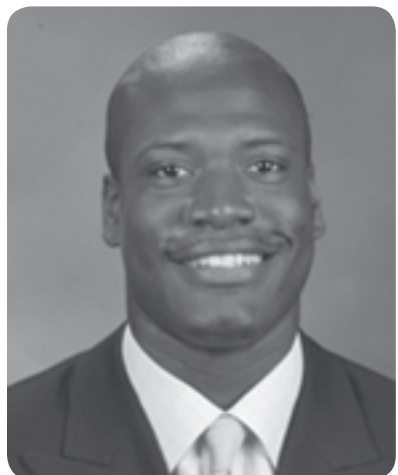

Early on Hauser: "We brought Coach Hauser in from New Mexico State and he has a great basketball mind. He brings an enthusiasm and energy to everything he does. He is going to be helping out with the defense and does a great job with the scouting and recruiting. I'm really excited about having him with us again this season."

2008-09 ULM WARHAWK BASKETBALL

HAROLD JULUKE

Assistant Coach Southeastern La., '02 Fourth Season

A mainstay on the sidelines since Orlando Early was named head coach at ULM, Harold Juluke returns to the Warhawks for his fourth season as an assistant coach. In his time in Monroe, the New Orleans, La., native has helped the Warhawks reestablish their dominant ways at Fant-Ewing Coliseum, claim a Sun Belt Conference divisional title, and knock off Big 10 power Iowa in its home building.

Drawing primary responsibilities in recruiting, particularly the state of Louisiana and the New Orleans area, Juluke has helped the Warhawks bring some of the state's top talent back to ULM. Entering the 2008-09 season, four of the Warhawks players called the greater New Orleans area home, including Miami transfer Lawrence Gilbert, a four-star recruit according to Rivals.

Juluke has also helped keep some of north Louisiana's top prep stars close to home. Working primarily with the centers and power forwards, Juluke helped the Warhawks land highly-touted center Raphelle Turner and forward Mitchell Hampton. Under Juluke's guidance, Turner finished his freshman campaign in 2007-08 as one of the Sun Belt's premier shot blockers (eighth overall) and has helped develop Afam Nweke into one of the league's top rebounding forwards (eighth in 2007-08).

Juluke helped guide ULM into its first season of Sun Belt play in the 2006-07 season. With him on the sidelines, the Warhawks finished with an overall record of 18-14. ULM was picked in the league's preseason poll to finish last in the seven-team West Division but posted an 11-7 divisional record and grabbed a share of the division title with Arkansas State.

The Warhawks recorded their best season since 2001-02 when ULM finished 20-12 overall, 15-5 in the Southland Conference. ULM also posted its fourth undefeated record at home with a 14-0 mark.

In his most recent season with the Warhawks, Juluke helped the team to its first in-season tournament title in 15 years. ULM upset the Big 10's Iowa in the opening round of the Hawkeye Challenge before besting Rice in the championship game. ULM also hit on better than 50 percent of its shots against national champion Kansas and went toe-to-toe with nationally ranked Michigan State in the CBE Classic. ULM's post players connected on 51 percent of their shots under Juluke's guidance.

Prior to joining ULM, Juluke served as the director of basketball operations at Hartford University where he helped the team compile 36 total victories. Juluke also worked as the administrative assistant for the men's basketball program at Hartford.

In addition to his basketball responsibilities, Juluke served as a resident director in the Office of Residential Life and as a graduate assistant to the director of athletics. In 2005, Juluke graduated from Hartford with his masters in business administration.

Juluke is a 2002 graduate of Southeastern Louisiana University where he was a two-year letterwinner for Billy Kennedy's Lions. Before transferring to SLU, Juluke was a two-year letterwinner at Hartford.

A graduate from St. Augustine High School in New Orleans, Juluke is single and resides in Monroe.

Early on Juluke: "Coach Juluke does a great job and is destined to be a head coach one day. He has been all over the court for us, works with our inside guys, and has primarily worked with the defense. We are moving him over to offense a little this year where he will work with the forwards. I'm anxious to see how our young players develop under his teaching and continue to get better."

Kedric Smith
Basketball Intern
Second Season
UNC-Charlotte, '02

Kedric Smith begins his second season as the men's basketball intern. His primary responsibilities with the Warhawks include organization of office activities, opponent scouting, coordination of team schedules, practices, video, and other tasks appointed by the coaching staff.

No stranger to Orlando Early, Smith was a three-year letterwinner at UNC-Charlotte when the Warhawk coach was an assistant for Bobby Lutz. While playing for the 49ers, Smith helped his team to three NCAA Tournament appearances, one NIT appearance, and a Conference USA Tournament championship.

Smith received his bachelor's degree in criminal justice with a minor in African American studies in 2002 from UNC-Charlotte. He served as the assistant coach for the AAU New Orleans Jazz and at Peabody Magnet High School in Alexandria, La., before joining the ULM staff.

J.D. Dunavant
Athletic Trainer
First Season
ULM, '98

J.D. Dunavant returns to his alma mater for his first season as the athletic trainer for the men's basketball team. An assistant in the department, he also works with the ULM football team and other programs on campus.

A 1998 ULM graduate, he earned his bachelor's of science degree in kinesiology education and served as the primary athletic trainer for the 1997 NCAA-participant Warhawk softball team. Dunavant earned his master's degree from the University of Arkansas while working with the nationally recognized football and track & field programs.

After his work with the Razorbacks, Dunavant accepted a position at Abilene Christian University in 2000 as an assistant trainer. In 2004 he was promoted to the position of director of athletic training, a post he held until moving to Texas Christian University in January of 2008.

Adam Johansen
Graduate Assistant
First Season
UC-Davis, '06

Adam Johansen begins his first season as the graduate assistant for the men's basketball program after spending the last season in the same capacity at Cumberland University.

Johansen began his coaching career as a student assistant at his alma mater, UC-Davis. In his two seasons on the staff, he helped with summer camps, coaching clinics, and video coordination. Johansen has also served as assistant coach at Geyserville High School, as an assistant for an Argentina select team, and at the Pete Newell Academy as an instructor.

Johansen received his bachelor's degree in sociology in 2006 from UC-Davis.

Jeff Hendrix
Media Relations
Second Season
Oklahoma State, '05

Jeff Hendrix begins his second season as the Media Relations contact for the ULM men's basketball team and third overall with the department. His primary responsibilities include publicity of the program, both locally and nationally. In addition to men's basketball, Hendrix works with the ULM soccer and tennis programs. In the past he has worked with the baseball, softball, women's basketball and track & field programs.

Hendrix was promoted to his current position after serving as a graduate assistant during the 2006-07 school year. He received his bachelor's degree in journalism and broadcast with an emphasis in public relations from Oklahoma State in 2005.

A native of Stillwater, Okla., he is married to the former Tessa Mitchell of Ponca City, Okla. The couple has one dog and one cat.

Matt Braunscheidel
Director of Video
Second Season
St. Bonaventure, '06

Matt Braunscheidel begins his second season as the video coordinator for the ULM basketball team and third overall with the department. His primary responsibilities include filming and editing all basketball and football practices and games and management of a staff of graduate and student assistants.

Braunscheidel was promoted to his current position after serving as the video department's graduate assistant in 2006.

Braunscheidel received his bachelor's degree in journalism and mass communication in 2006 from St. Bonaventure University.

Chad Traver
Strength & Conditioning
First Season
Univ. of Sioux Falls, '08

Chad Traver begins his first season as the strength and conditioning coach of the ULM men's basketball team. A four-year letterwinner in football and a one-year letterwinner in wrestling at University of Sioux Falls, he is a native of Sioux Falls, S.D.

While at USF, Traver implemented and designed strength and speed programs for the football, wrestling and volleyball programs. In addition to his work within the athletic program, he assisted at the Sanford Hospital in the power program and interned at Augustana College, an NCAA Division II program.

An active member of the USF Fellowship of Christian Athletes, he served as a Sunday school teacher and volunteered at the local children's hospital.

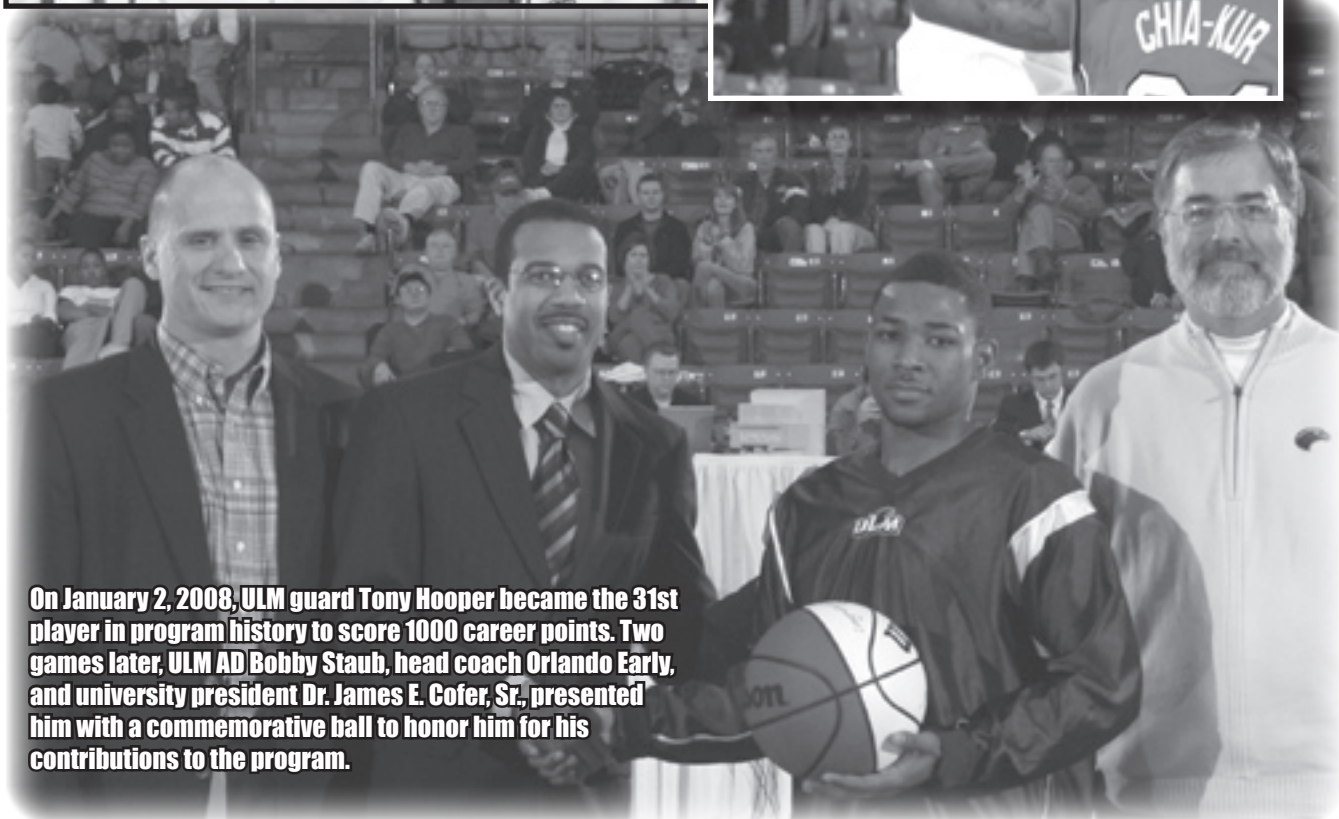

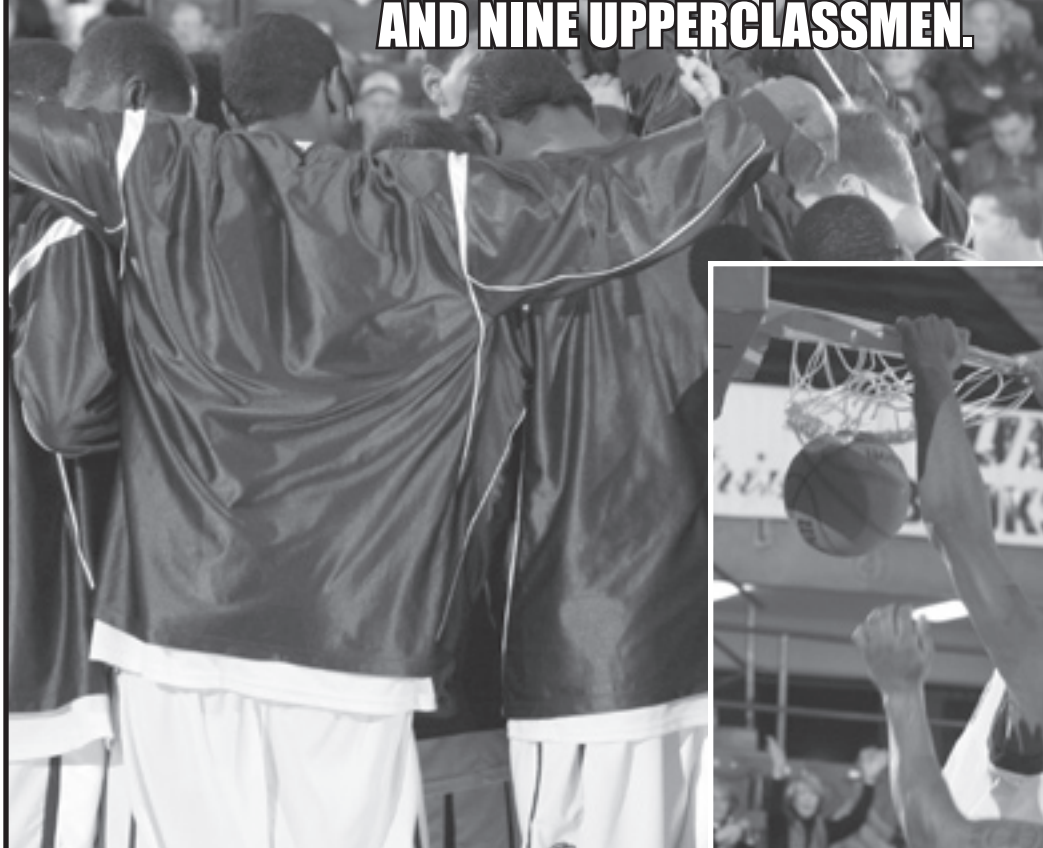

Traver received his bachelor's degree in exercise science with a minor in coaching from USF, a nationally recognized National Strength and Conditioning Association program, in 2008.

2008-09 ULM WARHAWK BASKETBALL

12 • KENNETH AVERETTE

JR • 1L • Guard • 5-8 • 145 New Orleans, La. (St. Catherine College) Major: Political Science

2008-09 Season Preview: Stepped in as a transfer who performed admirably as the starting point guard by the time conference season rolled around ... One of three guards with a positive assist-to-turnover margin for the Warhawks in 2007-08, including a 31-26 mark in league games ... A pesky on-ball defender who finished the Sun Belt slate with 19 steals, five fewer than team-leader Tony Hooper.

Coach Early on Averette: "Kenny is a kid out of New Orleans who joined our program as a walk-on and found himself starting last year. It was unexpected, but through injuries and other issues he found a way to start and contribute to the team. With a lot of point guards, he is in a fight for playing time, but is definitely holding his own."

2007-08 (Sophomore): After joining the Warhawks as a walk-on was thrust into a starter's role at point guard following a rash of injuries ... Appeared in 27 games for ULM, picking up the start in 11 of them – all against conference opponents ... Averaged 2.6 points and 1.7 assists per game against the Sun Belt ... Scored a career-high nine points at Louisiana-Lafayette (2/14) ... Tallied career-highs in rebounds (4) and assists (7) against Middle Tennessee (1/24) ... Scored 61 total points on the year for an average of 2.3 per game ...

year letterwinner in high school at L.W. Higgins High School and then at Ouachita High School ... As a senior, averaged 12 points, seven assists and six steals per game ... Helped lead his team to a championship game appearance as a senior ... Named All-Northeast Louisiana, second team all-district and team Co-Defensive Player of the Year while leading the district in assists and steals.

Personal: Full name is Kenneth DeJuan Averette ... Born on May 13, 1988 in Birmingham, Ala. ... Son of Kenneth and Sandra Averette ... Has two older sisters ... His father played for Oklahoma City College and his cousin, Tronn Moller, played at Louisiana Tech.

2008-09 Season

Preview: A run of bad luck has limited his playing time, but Roberts returns as one of the best pure point guards in the Sun Belt Conference ... Playing in only half the team's games as a freshman, averaged a team-high 4.7 assists ... An efficient player on offense and a solid defender.

Coach Early on Roberts: "Brandon has been a starter for our program, but has struggled with the injuries. The year we were co-champs of the West Division, he was a big part of that. He made plays for us from the point guard position and helped others make plays. Brandon is a smart and heady player and a proven leader. The key with Brandon is going to be keeping him on the floor healthy."

2007-08 (Sophomore): Saw his sophomore campaign cut short following an injury ... Appeared in 13 games for the Warhawks, picking up the start at point guard in six ... Averaged 24.1 minutes per game ... Averaged 3.6 points, 2.5 assists and 2.3 rebounds per game in limited action ... Scored a season-high nine points twice, at Kansas (11/9) and against Arkansas St. (1/12) ... Led the team in assists in five games.

2006-07 (Freshman): Made his ESPN debut on Dec. 17, being named No. 10 on ESPN's Plays of the Day after connecting on a baseline-to-basket jumper to give the Warhawks their first Sun Belt Conference victory against Middle Tennessee ... Appeared in 15 games, picking up the start at point guard in 14 ... Averaged 9.7 points and 4.6 assists per game ... Shot 5-of-5 from the floor in his first collegiate game ... Finished as the team leader in 3-point shooting percentage (18-of-42 for .429) and free throw percentage (20-of-25 for .800) while finishing second in field goal percentage (54-of-117 for .462) ... Had 71 assists and a team-best 1.39 assist-to-turnover ratio ... Had at least two assists in each game he played including a career-high 11 against Wesley College ... His 11 assists against WC were the ninth-most in a single game by a ULM player ... Scored in double figures in nine games ... Scored a career-high 24 points against UALR ... Also contributed 36 rebounds, 17 steals and a pair of blocked shots.

2005-06 (Redshirt): Did not participate ... Redshirt season.

High School: Was a two-sport athlete, lettering four years in basketball and track, at Van HS ... Averaged 21 points, seven assists and six rebounds per game as a senior ... SO • 1L • Forward • 6-8 • 250 New Orleans, La. (West Jefferson HS) Major: General Studies

2 • NATHANIEL ROCHE

2008-09 Season Preview: After redshirting in his previous season, Roché rejoins the team as a sophomore ready to provide depth to the ULM front court ... One of the biggest players on the team (at 6-8, 250 pounds) he showed the ability in limited minutes as a freshman to control the glass and finish around the rim.

Coach Early on Roché: "Nathaniel gives us another big body to throw inside. He sat out last season, but has been working really hard on the court, in the weight room, and in the classroom. He has looked pretty good this summer. He will contribute to us down low and we expect him to score the ball around the basket. He gives us another option in the post."

High School:

Played his first three prep seasons at L.B. Landry High School in New Orleans, La. ... After the impact of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita made on the area, Roché played his final season at West Jefferson High School in Harvey, La. ... As a junior, Roché averaged 17 points and 12 rebounds per contest for Landry ... Played for the New Orleans Jazz AAU team.

2007-08 (Redshirt): Did not participate...Redshirt season.

2006-07 (Freshman): Was a key reserve at forward for the Warhawks, averaging 1.9 points and 2.1 rebounds per game ... Appeared in 15 games for ULM, picking up the start in four ... Posted seven blocks, the third highest total on the team ... Finished the year with one double-figure scoring game after he poured in a career-high 13 points against Loyola (N.O.) off 4-of-5 shooting from the floor and 5-of-6 shooting from the free throw line ... Also pulled in six rebounds against Loyola, including five offensive boards ... Added 32 rebounds, two steals, and one assist.

Personal: Full name is Nathaniel Albert Roché ... Born on August 2, 1988, in New Orleans, La. ... Son of Don Singleton and Sharon Roché ... Has an older brother and an older sister.

2008-09 Season

Preview: An immensely athletic and talented player, Gilbert will be eligible to play as a sophomore after sitting out 2007-08 per NCAA transfer rules ... One of four

New Orleans, La., natives on the roster, Gilbert adds depth to an already talented core of players on the wing.

Coach Early on Gilbert: "Lawrence Gilbert is a transfer from Miami [Fla.] originally from New Orleans who sat out for us last year. What we noticed as he was practicing with the team last season was that he would be an immediate impact. He is a great team player who does everything well. He is the ideal three/four guy for us in the type of offense we like to play. The difference between last season and this season is that instead of having a guy who is 6-2 guarding a post player, we have guys like Lawrence Gilbert who are 6-7 and can defend multiple positions on the court. We are excited about having him this season and expect him to be an immediate impact."

2007-08 (Redshirt): Did not participate ... Sat out the season per NCAA transfer rules.

Prior to ULM: Lettered one year for the Hurricanes ... Appeared in 20 games as a freshman, picking up the start in two ... Averaged 1.5 points and 1.3 rebounds per game ... Played a career-high 22 minutes at Louisville where he scored a career-high 11 points off 4-of-5 shooting ... Earned starts against Nebraska and at North Carolina ... Played a total of 10 times against foes from the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC).

High School: A two-year letterwinner at L.W. Higgins High School in New Orleans, La. ... Averaged 15 points, seven rebounds, four assists, two steals and two blocks per game as a junior and was named all-district and team Most Valuable Player and team captain ... Moved to Houston Wheatley High School for his senior season because of Hurricane Katrina ... Averaged 19 points, 12 rebounds, and five assists per game as a senior ... Led the team to a 31-4 record and was named second-team all-state, District Co-Most Valuable Player, team MVP and team captain ... Also lettered in track & field ... Holds the L.W. Higgins HS high jump record at 6 feet 8 inches ... A Rivals.com four-star recruit as a senior, he was the 24th-rated small forward in the nation ... Also recruited by Tennessee, Auburn, Tulane, Providence, Southern California and Marquette.

Personal: Full name is Lawrence J. Gilbert ... Born on December 26, 1986, in Westwego, La. ... Son of Lawrence Gilbert and Sylvia Moore ... has one older sister, one younger sister, and one younger brother.

2008-09 ULM WARHAWK BASKETBALL

32 • MITCHELL HAMPTON

SO • 1L • Forward • 6-7 • 210 Monroe, La. (Ouachita Parish HS) Major: General Studies

2008-09 Season Preview: An athletic and physically talented forward, Hampton looks to be in the mix for major minutes as a reserve forward again as a sophomore ... Has long arms and the ability to jump that make him a natural at rebounding and blocking shots ... Efficient on offense.

Coach Early on Hampton: "Mitchell Hampton is a high-flying athlete from right here in Monroe. He is a the type of guy who will make spectacular plays, get a big rebound or block a shot, and get his share of dunks. He has been playing well and has done everything we asked him to. He is great in the weight room and should be much more productive around the basket this year."

2007-08 (Freshman): Emerged as one of ULM's key reserves in the post, making 28 appearances and averaging 11.9 minutes per game ... Played a season-high 21 minutes at Arkansas (12/29) and scored six points and added eight rebounds ... Averaged 3.2 points and 2.8 rebounds per game ... Finished second on the team in blocked shots with 13 and sixth on the team in total rebounds with 79 ... Scored a season-high 14 points against Alcorn St. (11/27) ... Lone other double-digit point game was at UALR (1/17) when he scored 12 and added seven rebounds.

High School:

Lettered two years at Ouachita Parish High School in Monroe, La. ... Named to the all-district, all-state, and All-Northeast Louisiana teams as a senior and was a High School All-American nominee ... Led the Lions to back-to-back district championships ... Averaged 23 points, 13 rebounds, and six blocks per game ... Also recruited by Louisiana Tech, Mississippi State, Ole Miss, Auburn, Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

5 • Dynile Forbes
JR • TR • Guard • 6-2 • 170
Freeport, Bahamas
-Cochise College
Major: General Studies

2008-09 Season Preview: A talented offensive transfer who adds depth to the wing ... Becomes only the seventh JUCO All-American to sign with ULM since 1970.

Coach Early on Forbes: "Dynile is that instant-offensive type of guy. He will remind our fans a lot of Jordan Payne because he can come in and score 20 points. I've been most impressed with how good an athlete and defender he is."

Prior to ULM: Two-year letterwinner at Cochise College in Douglas, Ariz. ... Arizona Community College Player of the Year following a sophomore campaign that saw him average 22.1 points, 5.3 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 1.4 steals per game ... Also earned ACCAC first team, NJCAA first team all-region, NJCAA first team all-conference, and second team All-American honors ... Connected on 47 percent of his shots from the floor and 41 percent from beyond the arc.

High School: Lettered three years at Tabernacle Baptist Academy in Freeport, Bahamas ... Averaged 25.2 points, 6.5 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 2.1 steals per game as a senior.

Personal: Full name is Dynile Lemar Forbes ... Born on August 19, 1987, in Freeport, Bahamas ... Son of Lyncoln Forbes and Ismay Pedican ... Is an only child.

10 • Brandon Williams
FR • HS • Guard • 6-1 • 160
Houston, Texas
-Aldine HS
Major: Kinesiology

2008-09 Season Preview: One of only two freshmen on the roster for the upcoming season, Williams was the first newcomer to sign with the Warhawks ... With the depth at point guard a constant concern, Williams should compete for playing time early and add quality depth at both guard positions.

Coach Early on Williams: "Brandon Williams can play several positions because he is a long, lean athlete who can play several positions. We like his ability to defend and play point guard if he is needed there."

High School: A Top 40-recruit from the state of Texas, Williams lettered three years for Aldine High School in Houston, Texas ...

Went to the same prep program that produced ULM senior Tony Hooper ... As a junior, posted averages of 16 points and nine assists to lead the Mustangs to a 33-2 overall record ... His nine assists per game average was the highest in the state that year ... As a senior, picked up the scoring touch and averaged 20 points per game to compliment his five assists ... Named all-district as a senior.

Personal: Full name is Brandon Charles Williams ... Born on April 22, 1990, in Houston, Texas ... Son of Leonard and Melva Williams ... Has one older sister.

11 • Reggie Lassiter
JR • TR • Guard • 6-0 • 175
Washington, D.C.
-Bakersfield College
Major: General Studies

2008-09 Season Preview: The last of four junior college transfers to join the team during the signing period ... A solid point guard who operates within the offense ... Was brought in to provide depth at the point guard position.

Coach Early on Lassiter: "Reggie is a point guard who we brought in for insurance purposes at the position. He has been a pleasant surprise with his leadership ability. He is picking up our system quickly and helps us to solidify the position. He should make an impact for us early."

Prior to ULM: Lettered two years at Bakersfield College in Bakersfield, Calif., where he helped the team to a 52-18 overall record ... As a freshman, averaged better than five assists per contest to lead the Renegads to a 30-3 overall record, a Western States Conference Championship, and No. 1 overall ranking ... As a sophomore, averaged eight points and 5.8 assists per game in being named to the All-Western States Conference team ... Connected on 54 percent of his shots, including 39 percent from beyond the arc ... Led his team to the Final Four as a sophomore, including an upset of top-seeded San Francisco in the quarterfinal round.

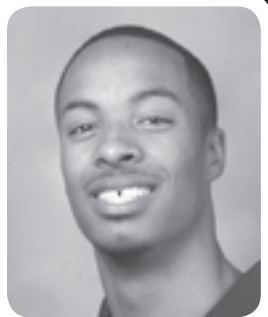

High School: Was an all-league selection and Team Most Valuable Player for Eastern High School in Washington, D.C., as a senior.

Personal: Full name is Reginald Tyrone Lassiter ... Born on March 22, 1986, in Washington, D.C. ... Son of Reggie Witherspoon and Twanna Allen ... Has two brothers and two sisters.

NEWCOMERS

23 • Malcolm Thomas
JR • TR • Forward • 6-6 • 185
Karnack, Texas
-Tyler JC
Major: General Studies

2008-09 Season Preview: An athletic wing who can play either guard or forward positions ... Established a name for himself with his highlight reel dunks at Tyler JC while leading the team in 3-point field goals and steals ... Looks to be in the mix immediately on the wing.

Coach Early on Thomas: "Malcolm is a high-flying athlete who can play a lot of different positions. He is a great defender and a great kid who understands the team concept. He knows what it takes to win and he brings that attitude to our team."

Prior to ULM: Lettered two years at Tyler Junior College in Tyler, Texas ... Averaged 14.1 points per game in helping the Apaches to a 25-4 record and quarterfinal appearance as a sophomore ... Was one of four players to top a double-digit scoring average ... Also added 5.1 rebounds, three assists, and 2.1 steals per game ... Received additional recruiting interest from Iowa State, Georgia Tech, and Baylor.

High School: Led Karnack High School in Karnack, Texas, to back-to-back-to-back District Championships ... Garnered all-state and District 19-1A Most Valuable Player honors after averaging 27.9 points, 9.1 rebounds, 5.2 assists and 3.4 steals per game as a senior ... Received initial recruiting interest from Texas-El Paso and New Mexico State.

Personal: Full name is Prentice Malcolm Thomas ... Born on January 22, 1988, in Atlanta, Texas ... Son of Charles Mitchell and Helen Byrd ... Stepfather is Victor Byrd ... Has one younger sister ... Cousin Ayome "Paco" May lettered four years at Kansas State (1996-99) and scored 990 points.

24 • Jarvis Hill
JR • TR • Guard • 6-2 • 190
Starkville, Miss.
-East Mississippi CC
-Southern Miss.
Major: General Studies

2008-09 Season Preview: A talented and balanced player who has shown the ability to compete at the NCAA Division I level during his career ... Strong defender and good offensive option around the basket and in traffic.

Coach Early on Hill: "Jarvis Hill brings a mental toughness. He is a great on-ball defender. He automatically makes us a better defensive team, but he can also shoot the ball and put it on the floor. He played a year of Division I basketball and knows what it takes to be competitive at this level. We are excited to have him."

Prior to ULM: Lettered one season at East Mississippi Community College in Scooba, Miss., after transferring from Southern Miss ... Averaged 18 points, six rebounds, and three assists per game in his only season at EMCC to garner all-region and all-conference honors ... Also recruited by Mississippi State, Chattanooga, Richmond, and Southeast Missouri ... At USM, he averaged 7.8 points and 2.2 rebounds per game while playing the role of sixth man ... Started in nine of 31 games played and averaged better than 24 minutes per appearance ... Topped double-digit scoring nine times, including a career-high 22 points against UAB.

High School: Completed his prep career with one season at Bridgton Academy in Bridgton, Maine, after starting at Starkville HS ... While at Bridgton, earned all-state and all-conference accolades while averaging 21 points, six rebounds and four assists per game ... Led the Eagles to a conference championship ... Initially recruited by Tennessee, Auburn and Mississippi State before signing with Southern Miss.

Personal: Full name is Jarvis James Hill ... Born on July 26, 1986, in Starkville, Miss. ... Son of Marion and Mildred Hill ... Has two older brothers.

THE WARHAWK OPPONENTS

Hot Springs, the number one tourist destination for the entire state of Arkansas, was selected by the Sun Belt Conference Executive Committee as the host for the league's annual men's and women's basketball tournaments from 2009-2011. The tournament will be played in the city's Summit Arena, which was constructed in 2003 with a seating capacity of 6,000 and adjoins the Hot Springs Convention Center.

Located 50 miles from Little Rock, Hot Springs is visited by 3 million tourists annually and offers more than 4,000 hotel rooms with 15 restaurants within walking distance of the Summit Arena.

Hot Springs' historic downtown, national park, and world famous natural hot springs and spas highlight the resort town also known for its pristine lakes for fishing and boating. The Magic Springs Theme Park and Crystal Falls Water Park, Garvan Woodland Botanical Gardens, and Oaklawn Park thoroughbred horse racing help round out the entertainment landscape. The Summit Arena also hosts the Arkansas men's and women's state high school basketball tournament, attended annually by 56,000 people

2007-08 SEASON IN REVIEW

The gritty Lance Brasher finished his ULM career with more than 700 points, one of three transfers in 2007-08 to accomplish the feat.

Jordan Payne provided instant offense for the Warhawks and ended his two-year ULM career with more than 800 points.

Tony Hooper finished as the team's leading scorer for the third straight year

The Warhawks played in a pair of in-season tournaments and posted a 3-1 combined record. At the Hawkeye Challenge, ULM upset host Iowa to become only the third team in the 26-year history of the event to take home the title. Hooper was named most valuable player and was joined on the all-tournament team by Jonas Brown.

END OF SEASON NOTES

HOOPER HITS 1,000: Junior Tony Hooper added to his impressive season at Denver on January 2, passing the 1,000-point mark for his career despite scoring a season-low five points. The Warhawks leading scorer on the season, Hooper became the 35th player in program history to achieve the milestone. With 1,242 points, Hooper ended the season in sole possession of 17th-place on the ULM career list and within striking distance of the all-time Top 10.

LIVING BY THE THREE: The ULM offense lived behind the three point arc in 2007-08 and no where was that more apparent then by looking at the Warhawks top four scoring options. Lance Brasher, Jonas Brown, Jordan Payne, and Tony Hooper each attempted around 50 percent of their shots from beyond the arc, making the Warhawks the lone team to boast such an offensive claim in the Sun Belt. ULM's second leading rebounder, Brasher finished with the highest percentage of his shots from beyond the arc at 66.1 (127-of-192). Payne (56.6), Brown (48.5) and Hooper (53.2) also averaged better than 50 percent of their shots from beyond the arc on the season. Payne, Hooper and Brown all connected on more than 50 attempts from beyond the three-point line, making the trio the lone threesome in the league to all rank in the top 15 overall in made treys.

THE 700 CLUB: Tony Hooper might have garnered more of the attention for his scoring exploits, but the Warhawks displayed a balanced offense all season long. ULM's next three options, senior's Jordan Payne (13.7 ppg), Jonas Brown (13.1 ppg) and Lance Brasher (7.4 ppg) all passed the 700 career points mark in the season. Brasher and Payne surpassed 700 points for their careers against South Alabama, while Brown topped the mark after scoring 12 against Florida Atlantic. Payne topped the 800 point mark for his career in the regular season finale while Brown finished two points shy of achieving the benchmark. A trio of transfers, Payne, Brown and Brasher provided the complimentary offense to keep opposing defenses honest.

AVERETTE WALKS INTO STARTING ROLE: Most walk-ons understand their role - filling the roster, helping the team by running the scout offense and picking up game minutes when the decision is out of reach. Sophomore point guard Kenny Averette went beyond that and started to see increased minutes before moving into a starting role for the Warhawks following an injury to point guard Brandon Roberts. In 11 career starts, all against league opponents, the 5-8 Averette did not find the scoring touch (he averaged 3.4 points per start), but he did run the offense effectively with a 1.4 assist-to-turnover ratio. In his 11 starts, Averette dished out 27 assists while committing 19 turnovers. The transfer from St. Catherine College set a career-high with seven assists while committing only one turnover in a win against Middle Tennessee. The Warhawks walk-on finished with 42 assists on the season and 35 turnovers. Averette is not the only 'Diamond in the Rough' type player who stepped up for the Warhawks after coming to the team as a walk-on. Senior starter Lance Brasher began his ULM career as a walk-on and became one of the Warhawks most dependable starters - and a match-up nightmare for opponents with his ability to play both inside and out. The duo combined to form one of only two current/former walk-on tandem's starting in the NCAA last season, joining Drake's former walk-on-turned-starters pair of Jonathan Cox and Adam Emmenecker.

A POTENT TRIO: Tony Hooper, Jordan Payne and Jonas Brown combined to form the top scoring trio in the Sun Belt Conference. With their accolades, ULM finished the season as the only team in the league with three players ranked in the top 15 in points per game.

A PAYNE IN THE STARTING LINE-UP: After establishing himself as the best "sixth-man" in the conference to start the season, senior Jordan Payne moved into the starting line-up and flourished towards the end of 2007-08. In 10 starts, Payne is averaged 13.7 points, 3.2 rebounds and 2.3 assists per game. One of ULM's better shooters, Payne became more aggressive at going to the basket in his second season with the Warhawks. He made an appearance at the charity-stripe a team-high 126 times and ranks amongst the school's all-time greatest shooters in attempts from the free throw line.

CLAIMING A TOURNAMENT TITLE: On November 30, the Warhawks accomplished something that had not been done in over 20 years - they defeated Iowa in the Hawkeye Challenge. Going into their opening round game against the Warhawks, the Hawkeyes boasted a 49-1 record in their tournament with the lone loss coming during the 1985-86 season at the hands of Arkansas State. Since that time, Iowa had claimed every tournament title and had never lost in their new building, Carver-Hawkeye Arena. ULM rallied from a 16-point second half deficit to become the first non-Iowa team to claim the title since UAB accomplished the feat in 1985-86. For their efforts, Jonas Brown and Tony Hooper were named to the all-tournament team with Hooper being named Most Valuable Player.

WHAT A WEEK FOR HOOPER: Following his Most Valuable Player performance at the Hawkeye Challenge, ULM junior Tony Hooper was named Sun Belt Conference Player of the Week. In addition to being Hooper's first honor, the POW award marked the first time a ULM basketball player picked up the league's weekly honor since the program joined the league before the 2006-07 season. Hooper followed up his league POW award with an All-Louisiana Player of the Week honor two days later.

ULM AT THE CBE CLASSIC: For the second time in three seasons, the ULM men's basketball team picked up an early-season invite to play in the CBE Classic. During the 2005-06 season, Orlando Early's first in Monroe, ULM opened in the former Guardian's Classic at West Virginia where it dropped both games. Determined to make some noise in their second attempt, the veteran-Warhawks were victorious in their opener against Northern Michigan and led as late as the 13-minute mark against regional host No. 12 Michigan State before falling in the East Lansing final.

IN GOOD COMPANY: ULM proved it could play with anyone despite the final score in the Warhawks 107-78 loss at No. 4 Kansas on November 9. After the Warhawks finished the game shooting over 50 percent at Phog Allen Fieldhouse, they became only the third team in a 75-game span to finish above the mark. The previous team to shoot over 50 percent, and the only one to accomplish the feat in 2006-07, was UCLA in the Elite Eight. ULM's 78 points against the Jayhawks were the most scored by a KU opponent in the team's home opener in 17 years, dating back to November 15, 1989 when UAB scored 83. KU went on to win the National Championship in 2007-08, but the Warhawks remained the lone team to top 50 percent shooting against them on the season.

HOOPER SELECTED TO PRESEASON ALL-SUN BELT TEAM: ULM's leading scorer in his first two seasons, Tony Hooper was selected to the Preseason All-Sun Belt Conference second team as voted on by the leagues coaches prior to his junior year. Hooper finished his first season in the league with a team-best 15.4 points per game and added 3.8 rebounds per game. His 86 total assists were the second most on the team. For the second time in his career, Hooper registered over 50 steals in a season. He ended the year with 53, most on the team and amongst the top five in the Sun Belt Conference.

WARHAWKS FLY SOUTH OF THE BORDER: The ULM men's basketball team got the 2007-08 season off to an early start, playing a preseason exhibition tour in Costa Rica over the Labor Day weekend. The Warhawks were granted 10 days of invaluable practice to prepare for the three games in San Jose and were able to make the most of it. Although the team was only able to play two games, the Warhawks scored over 100 once and averaged victories of over 50 points. ULM used the opportunity to help the newcomers get acquainted with the Warhawks system and dust some of the cobwebs off from the summer.

THE ULM CAMPUS

VISUAL & PERFORMING ARTS

There is something to the old saying that science makes life possible and art makes it worthwhile. ULM's School of Visual and Performing Arts (VAPA) develops the talents of its students while adding greatly to the lives of everyone on campus. Among the attractions: free music concerts, an art gallery, and weekly "Fine Arts Fridays" at which you'll find faculty and students eating lunch and enjoying a music performance, choral group, painting, or sculpture.

CAREER SERVICES

The university also helps each student build a bright future. The Career Services Office gives students the edge they need to land the job they want. Whether you're writing a resume, searching for an internship, or just polishing up for an interview, Career Services is the place to go. On career days, companies from throughout Louisiana and the world descend on our campus to recruit students to join their companies. Companies who recruit on campus include Abercrombie & Fitch, Bank One, CenturyTel, Ochsner, Coca-Cola, Pepsi, and Wells Fargo.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES BOARD

Learn to be a leader while you plan big events like concerts and major speaker appearances – and have a great time doing it. Those opportunities await students on the Campus Activities Board (CAB). Recent CAB-sponsored attractions include Staind, Lonestar, Andy Griggs, Better Than Ezra, and the Yin-Yang Twins. Spring Fever and a fall festival are also hosted by CAB.

THE BAYOU

Bayou DeSiard runs right through the middle of ULM's campus, shaping its geography and its attitude. Students canoeing, fishing, playing volleyball, or having a barbecue are common sights at ULM. Our water ski team, under the Department of Student Life and Leadership, has won 20 national championships. You can watch them practice or compete right on our bayou.

CAMPUS RENAISSANCE

Over the past six years, ULM has had over $70 million in construction and renovation take place on campus with more to come. Recent campus improvements included:

- New student apartments and suites
- New multimedia smart classrooms
- Renovation of the Student Union Building
- New shops, including Starbucks
- New student health center
- New parking areas along DeSiard Street
- New parking garage along University Drive

The summer of 2008 marked the end of the transformation of the WigWam into the Clarke M. Williams Student Success Center. ULM academic services and compliance are housed inside the new building next to the library.

THIS IS MONROE, LA.

A GREAT PLACE TO VISIT

Welcome to the Twin Cities of Monroe and West Monroe, Louisiana. Hopefully, during your time here you can experience some of the local history and flavor and see why we consider our Twin Cities a special place. Monroe is located along the Ouachita River, which was named one of the most beautiful rivers in the world by National Geographic. Although the area is growing and developing at a great pace, Monroe is still a small town at heart.

There are many points of interest that draw visitors to the area. Monroe is the birthplace of Delta Airlines and the first place west of the Mississippi to bottle Coca-Cola. The oldest human dwelling site in North America, Poverty Point, is located near Monroe.

For arts and theater enthusiasts the Twin Cities offers the Masur Museum of Art; Twin City Ballet Company; Monroe Symphony Orchestra; Madrigal Dinners; Brown Bag Concerts and University of Louisiana at meant “silver water”, “clear water” or “good hunting”.

In 1780, a primitive French settlement called Prairie de Canots (Prairie of the Canoes) marked the real beginnings of Monroe. It’s political beginnings may be traced to the year 1783 when Jean Baptiste Filhoil, also known as Don Juan Filhoil, was appointed by the Spanish crown to oversee the sparsely populated “Poste de Washitas” region of what is now northeast Louisiana. By 1790, Filhoil had established a fort (Fuerte Miro) on or near the present day site of Monroe. A land grant of 1,680 acres from the King of Spain, settled in the territory. Soon after, a prohibition ordinance was enacted, and Fort Miro was constructed to protect his village.

The Monroe-West Monroe area is a medical hub for a 16-parish radius serving 442,000 people. Over 200 physicians and 71 dentists work with many people and other paramedical health professionals and health care organizations. There are eight hospitals and specialty centers in the area.

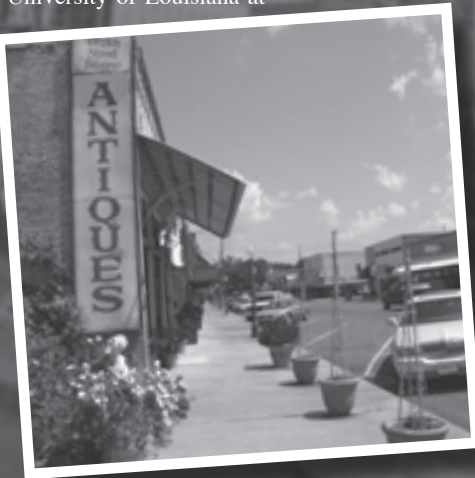

The Twin Cities’ two school systems, Monroe City and Ouachita Parish, operate elementary schools, junior and high schools. More than 28,000 students attend the two systems.

There are 16 private and denominational schools in the Monroe-West Monroe area, offering classes from kindergarten through twelfth grade.

Ouachita’s college community had its advent in 1931 with the founding in Monroe of Northeast Louisiana University. Today the University of Louisiana at Monroe, one of the state’s leading institutions of higher learning, is a four-year university with an enrollment of more than 8,000 students. ULM offers 85 degree programs at the undergraduate and graduate levels through its college of Business Administration, Health Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Education and Human Development and Graduate School.

The “Twin Cities” of Monroe and West Monroe continue as the urban center for a parish which is itself the focus of commerce in northeast Louisiana. With a diversified economic base and air rail, water and highway connections to the major metropolitan areas of the central United States, Ouachita Parish continues as one of the increasingly important locations in the development of Louisiana and of the South.

The climate consists of an average yearly temperature of 65 degrees with a mild winter and Monroe thrives as a business and industrial establishment, as well as a university town. Monroe is the heartland for festivals, special events, tours and conventions. Take a look at our bustling city, our hometown, Monroe.

Monroe Concert Series. The Strauss Playhouse offers regular performances throughout the year and Impresario’s Choice offers a Broadway Series at the Monroe Civic Center. The Monroe Civic Center has a variety of performances and concerts each year.

A BIT OF HISTORY

Ouachita Parish is located in northeastern Louisiana approximately halfway between New Orleans, Louisiana and Memphis, Tennessee. The Ouachita River runs through the Twin Cities. On its east bank is Monroe, with approximately 56,000 residents and encompassing 31.2 square miles. The parish is 643 square miles in size and has a population of 150,000.

Years before the Louisiana Purchase unified American colonization efforts, the present site of Monroe was an established trade center on the banks of the Ouachita River. The word “Ouachita” has been variously translated to have

HOW TO GET TO ULM

The Twin Cities are easily accessible by car or by plane. By car, Monroe-West Monroe is accessible from the east or west by Interstate 20, U.S. Highway 80 and Louisiana Highways 2, 15, and 34. Major north-south routes to the Twin Cities include U.S. Highway 165 and Louisiana Highway 139.

By plane, four major airlines (American Eagle Delta Air Lines, Continental Express, and Northwest Airlinck) provide service to the Monroe Regional Airport with 15 flights daily. Monroe is the birthplace of Delta Airlines. Non-stop flights are available to Atlanta, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Houston, and Memphis. Ground transportation is available through car rental agencies, taxi and limousine services.

ACCOMMODATIONS

Monroe-West Monroe has more than 1,500 quality hotel rooms which are convenient to numerous meeting facilities and two convention centers.

Among the major hotels in the area are: Holiday Inn, Courtyard by Marriott, Hampton Inn, LaQuinta Inn, Days Inn, the Atrium Hotel and Suites, and Best Western. The Holiday Inn Holidome is centrally located in Monroe and features 261 rooms. It has a meeting facility with a capacity of 375 and can hold 350 people for a private meal/banquet.

ATTRACTIONS

Monroe is not only the birthplace of Delta Airlines, but it is also the place where the first Coca-Cola bottling plant began operations.

Overall, the Twin Cities are a place where visitors will meet warm and friendly people, sample superb cuisine, and find delightful shopping opportunities.

Major restaurants in Monroe and West Monroe include: Applebee's, Outback Steakhouse, Lone Star Steakhouse, Chili's, Bennigan's, Cracker Barrel, Olive Garden, Copeland's, O'Charley's and Red Lobster.

Among the attractions are the Louisiana Purchase Gardens and Zoo, which features over 750 rare animals, landscaped gardens, waterways, boat and train rides, and picnic areas, and Pecanland Mall, the largest of its kind between Jackson, Miss. and Dallas, Texas.

"Ace" - The ULM Warhawk!

Hundreds of screaming ULM fans welcomed their new champion, Ace the Warhawk, during a special pep rally in Fant-Ewing Coliseum on August 30, 2006.

While the Sound of Today played the Warhawk's fight song, Ace, wearing a black bomber jacket and flight goggles, emerged from a human tunnel of ULM spirit groups and football players.

"Ace" was selected by ULM students after two days of online voting. The other contenders were "Curtiss", "Flash", "The General" and "Gunner".

The Warhawk holds local historical connections to the P-40 Warhawk airplane, flown by northeast Louisiana's General Claire Chennault and the Flying Tigers during WWII.

ULM's new red-shouldered hawk, named Warhawk I, arrived by plane on Friday, Oct. 13, 2006 at the Monroe Air Center.

ULM officials are looking forward to this unique partnership with the Louisiana Purchase Gardens and Zoo. Trainers will accompany the hawk to all of ULM's home games, in addition to caring for it at the zoo.

ULM officials will work with zoo trainers to provide educational opportunities in the community, beginning with appearances by the hawk at local schools.

ULM PRESIDENT

ULM PRESIDENT DR. JAMES E. COFER, SR.

Known as the leader of an extraordinary renaissance at the University of Louisiana at Monroe, President James E. Cofer, Sr. is in his seventh year as the university's president.

When he and his wife Deborah arrived in 2002, they immediately began the "Reclaiming Our Campus" campaign, which involved over 2,000 students, faculty, staff, community leaders, and area citizens who cleaned, planted flowers and repainted the campus. Shortly thereafter, President Cofer developed an ambitious visionary plan that included more than $80 million in new construction and renovations on campus. Students, whose academic achievements continue to proliferate every year, now enjoy the newest, up-to-date residence halls, state-of-the-art "smart classrooms," a completely-renovated Student Union Building, and multiple campus security improvements. In 2007, students rated ULM higher than ever before - breaking a record for student satisfaction at the institution and surpassing student satisfaction at the national level.

Shortly after arriving on campus, President Cofer saw the potential for a school that would combine art, music, theatre and dance. The School of Visual and Performing Arts was created in 2003, and in 2007, VAPA announced the Louisiana Lyric Opera, the state's only professional music theatre and the cultural magnet of Northeast Louisiana. LLO employs renowned talent, including Broadway performers. President Cofer has also focused on the importance of intellectual exchange at ULM and in the community. In 2003, the Presidential Lyceum Series began. This popular lecture series has featured national speakers such as Bill Cosby, Doris Kearns Goodwin, Ben Stein, Robert F. Kennedy, Jr., Steve Forbes and, during the election year of 2008, Mary Matalin and James Carville.

Another of President Cofer's initiatives expanded the College of Pharmacy, Louisiana's only state-supported pharmacy program. ULM administration secured more than $5.5 million for the COP between 2002 and 2006, purchasing the three-story, 132,000-square-foot Bienville Building—now the College's home—from State Farm Insurance in 2005. After an onsite visit in 2006 by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education, ACPE officials noted that the accredited COP, which now has satellite campuses in Baton Rouge and Shreveport, has "experienced a major transformation and the College enjoys a new vitality and sense of purpose." During an onsite visit in 2008, ACPE representatives were so impressed with ULM's top-notch Pharmacy Care Lab that they deemed it a paradigm for any other institution intending to remodel or rebuild their care labs.

While it is easy to recognize the remarkable physical transformation of ULM's campus, there's another less tangible, but equally vital, change: the renewed spirit and confidence of the students, faculty and staff who live and work at ULM. After visiting ULM's campus in 2006 and noting the university's transformation, University of Louisiana System Board of Supervisors chair Jimmy D. Long said: "Every door we entered, a delightful group of students was meeting us there, answering questions and welcoming each of us to the campus. That is something we all appreciated. It is evident that there's a great spirit of optimism today at ULM, and it's no wonder given the tremendous, wonderful changes we've seen." ULM's constituents have also taken notice of the improvements; between 2002 and 2007, financial gifts to the university increased by 69.7 percent and the number of donors increased by 38.7 percent.

The university continues to build upon its renaissance. With the help of engaged faculty, ULM also patterned its mathematics and English course redesigns after the National Center for Academic Transformation's Roadmap to Redesign philosophy, utilizing sound methodology, student-centered learning, clear assessment criteria and effective technology incorporation in 2007. To further encourage student success, ULM has implemented living-learning communities, peer and faculty mentoring programs, extensive undergraduate research initiatives and advanced technology modalities. Cognizant of adult learners and today's busy student, President Cofer advocates "anytime, anywhere, anyplace instruction," resulting in additional online courses and degree programs.

Under President Cofer's leadership, ULM continues to meet stringent accreditation standards. The College of Business Administration successfully maintained accreditation of its bachelor's and master's degree programs in business administration and its accounting program by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business Board of Directors. The university is now one of only 13 universities in the United States to offer both an accredited M.A. and an accredited Ph.D. in Marriage and Family Therapy, and ULM's long-term care concentration in the gerontology graduate program is the first in the U.S. to be nationally accredited.

President Cofer clearly understands the needs of institutions of higher education due to his extensive experience in university and statewide higher education systems. Immediately prior to accepting the presidency at ULM, President Cofer served as Vice President for Finance and Administration for the University of Missouri System, where he worked in policy development, strategic planning, budget planning, institutional research, and investment management for the System's retirement plan. President Cofer was also responsible for the University of Missouri's hospital operation. In Missouri, President Cofer had primary responsibility for legislative and economic development operations for the University, including serving as the primary liaison between the Missouri legislative and congressional delegation and the Governor and the governor's staff. President Cofer also supervised the University of Missouri Research Park in Chesterfield, Missouri.

President Cofer is a Senior Fellow with the Eisenhower Foundation having served as a Fellow in Budapest Hungary working with the Hungarian Ministry of Education as they moved to a market-driven system of higher education.

President Cofer served as Vice President for Finance and Administration University of Arkansas System, as well as Vice Chancellor for Fiscal Affairs and Treasurer of the Board of Regents for the University System of Georgia, where he supervised the negotiation, financing, and coordination of the Olympic Village and several sporting venues while serving as the Chief Fiscal Officer of the System. President Cofer was also Chief Fiscal Officer under two governors for the State of Mississippi.

During his academic career, President Cofer has taught at the University of Missouri-Columbia, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Mississippi College, Jackson State University, and Mississippi State University. President Cofer has published and continues to publish articles and book chapters on the effect of student loan debt on student decisions, and has made numerous national and international presentations.

During his administrative and professional tenures, he has been active in state, civic, and professional organizations, including the National Association of College and University Business Officers, Eisenhower Foundation International Advisory Council, and the Missouri Commission on College Affordability. Awards for his distinguished leadership and public service include the Public Administrator of the Year Award by the American Society for Public Administration.

President Cofer received his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and his Master of Business Administration from Mississippi State University, and received his Doctorate of Education in Higher Education Administration from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. His dissertation about student financial aid and student retention was awarded the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators Melvane Hardee Dissertation of the Year Award.

ULM ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

ULM ATHLETIC DIRECTOR, BOBBY STAUB

In just over four years, ULM director of athletics Bobby Staub has reshaped and redefined the athletic department in multiple positive aspects with an eye toward the long-term future and success of the program. A new conference affiliation, a new mascot, a sweeping overhaul of athletic facilities, increases in athletic program support – these are just some of the changes that have occurred under his watch.

Staub was named ULM's 12th director of athletics on June 30, 2004, and since then he has led the transition of all sports – aside from football (which joined in 2001) – in a move from the Southland Conference to the Sun Belt Conference. With the move of the remaining programs, ULM now has the same conference home for all sports and has built program-wide rivalries with nearby schools such as Louisiana-Lafayette, the University of New Orleans, Arkansas State, and North Texas. The Warhawks have already achieved on-the-field success in their new league, winning titles in men's basketball and baseball in the last two years. He also led efforts to bring Sun Belt Conference championship events to Monroe. ULM hosted the 2008 tennis championships and will host the 2009 cross country and 2011 baseball championships.

Staub has built an athletic department with new faces in key roles. He hired former ULM student-athlete Jeff Schexnaider to take the reins of the storied baseball program. In Schexnaider's second season, he led the Warhawks to the Sun Belt regular-season championship and earned Sun Belt Coach of the Year honors.

Earlier that same year, Staub hired one of the hottest young assistant coaches in the country – University of Alabama's Orlando Early – to lead the men's basketball program back to prominence. In his second season, Early led the Warhawks to a Sun Belt Conference Western Division co-championship and earned Coach of the Year honors in the conference and state of Louisiana.

Staub's influence has been noted in areas away from the playing field as well. Under his watch, ULM athletics has twice received recognition for achievements in diversity. Honored in 2005-06 and 2006-07, ULM was the only school in the state of Louisiana or the Sun Belt Conference to be named to the list either year.

The success of the football program has steadily improved with Staub at the helm of the department. The Warhawks have won 20 games in the four years he has been at ULM compared to seven wins in the prior four seasons. Last year, the Warhawks posted their most victories (six) since moving to Division I-A, which included a thrilling 21-14 victory at Alabama.

He has also worked to rejuvenate all of the ULM athletic facilities making them some of the best in the Sun Belt. Malone Stadium has a fresher look with a new state-of-the-art playing surface, renovated locker rooms and meeting rooms, an exterior face lift with new paint all around the stadium and the new mascot name painted on the signature elevator shaft. Fant-Ewing Coliseum's basketball playing floor was repainted with a bold new look prior to the 2006-07 season with the new Warhawk and Sun Belt logos. Groseclose Track was resurfaced and a hammer cage was added. The ULM Softball Complex added a new two-story building that houses the Warhawks' locker room, coaches' offices and game-day operations area. The visitors' locker room and public restrooms are located in yet another new building. The soccer team moved into a new home at the brand-new ULM Soccer Complex, located to the east of Malone Stadium along Bon Aire Drive. Heard Stadium – home to the tennis team – received a makeover in 2008 as the courts were stripped down and resurfaced.

Before coming to ULM, Staub literally worked his way through the ranks to become an NCAA Division I-A athletic director. He spent 20 years at UAB, working his way up from assistant ticket manager to marketing and promotions manager to senior associate athletics director. He also founded UAB's chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and was the organization's advisor.

A native of Birmingham, Ala., he received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Auburn in 1982. He is married to the former Laura Vaughan of Gainesville, Ga., and the couple resides in Monroe. Staub serves on the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

ULM ACADEMIC CENTER

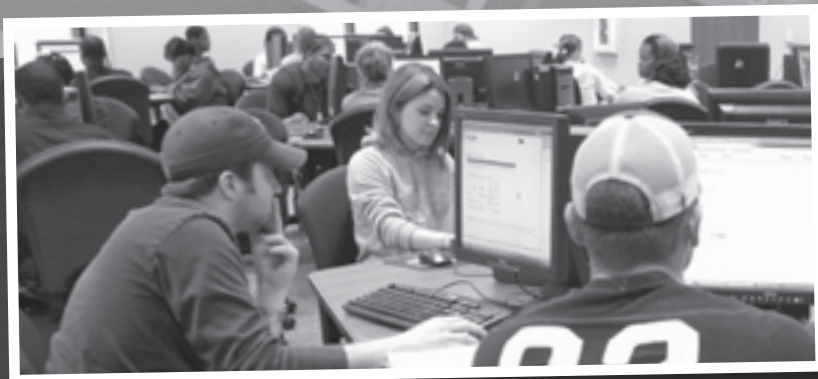

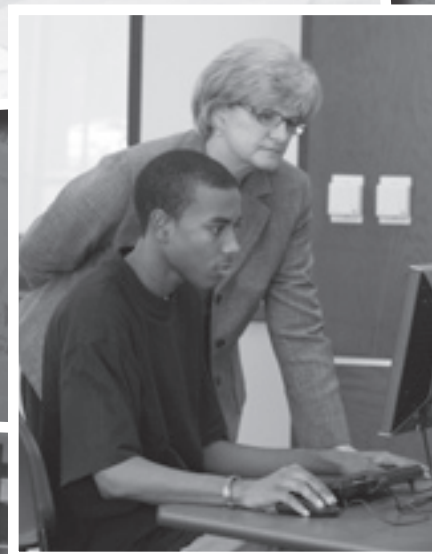

As part of the ULM Athletics academic improvement plan, the department was able to add new staff, increase tutoring opportunities, improve the administrative technology, and expand the supervised study program. The Summer of 2008 saw ULM open the Clarke M. Williams Student Success Center in what was the former WigWam near the library.

The Student-Athlete Academic Services department saw an increase in participation by student-athletes with the increase in resources. Future plans include academic services personnel traveling on select extended trips during the academic year and the purchase of laptops for teams to check out for academic work during road trips.

In 2007-08 ULM honored 164 individual student-athletes, 122 in the Fall and 127 in the Spring, on the Athletic Directors Honor Roll. Those recognized earned a minimum 3.00 grade point average during the Fall 2007 semester.

With our improved resources, we are able to better accommodate our student-athletes' full schedules. We are also doing more to honor our student-athletes for their academic success with the establishment of the Athletic Directors Honor Roll and have plans in place for other recognition programs.

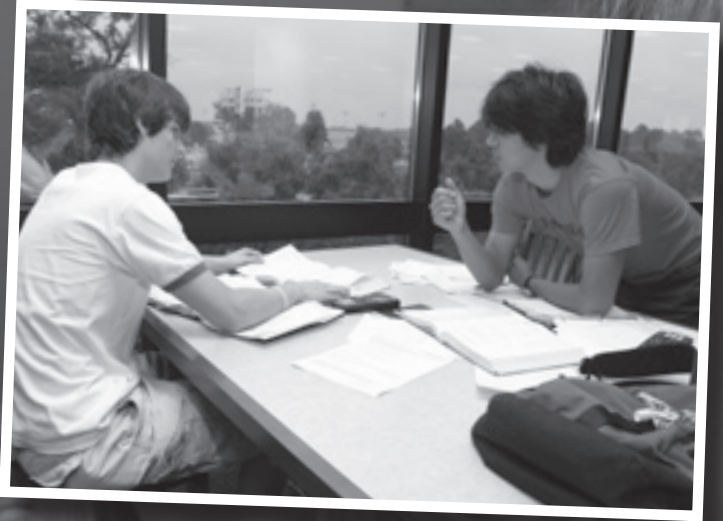

-- ULM athletic Director Bobby Staub.

STUDENT ATHLETE SERVICES

Success as an NCAA Division I student-athlete in this day and age takes more than great athletic talent. It also requires outstanding time-management skills and the understanding of what is required to meet academic as well as athletic expectations.

ULM participates in the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The program is designed to address the total development of the student-athlete. It provides a well-rounded program to help student-athletes develop the individual skills necessary to lead a productive life and become leaders of our communities and nation.

The ULM Student Athlete Services program, under the direction of Assistant Athletic Director Tasha Fisher, focuses on five areas of commitment:

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Academic Counseling, Academic Assessment, Time Management, Study Skills, Tutorial Assistance, Study Halls, Scholarship Applications, Communication Skills, Mentor Programs, Awards, Honors, and Recognition.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Broad Sports Programs, Quality Facilities and Equipment, Coaching and Support Staff, Competitive Scheduling, Media Relations and Media Exposure, Athletic Training and Health Care, Spirit Groups, and Administrative Support.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Career Counseling, Applying and Interviewing for Jobs, Networking, Placement, Summer and Vacation Employment, Graduate School, and Internships.

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Social Development, Personal Health, Alcohol and Drug Education, Fundamental Values, Ethics Awareness, Values Clarification, Emotional Health, Support Groups, Stress Management, Spiritual Needs, Peer Counseling, and Fiscal Responsibility.

SERVICE

Active Community Outreach Participation, Volunteer Work in Schools, Volunteer Work in the Community, Leadership Training, and Citizenship.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

FREE WEIGHT EQUIPMENT

Ten weight lifting platforms and squat racks are available where each student-athlete is taught Olympic and power weight training exercises. These multiple joint movements will develop in each student-athlete the performance specific strength and power needed to be successful at the highest level.

MACHINES/DUMBBELLS/PULLEYS

This area is highlighted by 20 upper and lower body machines. With this equipment, the student-athlete can isolate specific joints and muscle groups. These machines will help each student-athlete prevent the number and severity of injuries by developing sport and specific joint stability.

SPEED/POWER/REACTIVITY

This area is used to develop each student-athlete's explosive power, reactive capabilities, foot speed and coordination flexibility. By implementing a progressive plyometric program, each student-athlete will begin to maximize his competitive strength.

The strength and conditioning program at ULM annually produces prepared and conditioned student-athletes for the highest level of collegiate competition. Under the direction of head strength and conditioning coach Kim Sword, the ULM Athletics Fitness Center has undergone major renovations and improvements over the past two years and provides ULM student-athletes with one of the best-equipped and most modern strength and conditioning facilities anywhere.

The addition of 10 new lifting platforms and new Tuflex lifting surfaces, along with a new paint job, help make the ULM Athletics Fitness Center a total fitness center. The facility has 8,000 square feet of free weight and machines, plus 2,000 square feet of artificial turf for sport specific speed and plyometric exercises.

KIM SWORD ULM Head Strength Coach

We work with the athletic training staff to provide each student-athlete with the tools to reach his or her personal and team goals. Our student-athletes take pride in knowing that they out work their opponents and we feel they have the equipment and highly trained personnel to make that work pay off.

SPORTS MEDICINE

Athletic healthcare is a key component in a student-athletes success on the field. The ULM Sports Medicine Department strives to provide our student-athletes with the best care possible to keep them safe and playing at a high level of performance.

The sports medicine facilities in Malone Stadium and Fant-Ewing Coliseum have areas for taping, treatment, and rehabilitation.

The athletic training room is staffed by three full-time certified athletic trainers, four graduate assistant athletic trainers, and several student athletic trainers. The ULM Sports Medicine staff, under the direction of head trainer Phillip Shaw, sees to it that each student-athlete is taken care of by maintaining liberal hours of operation. The athletic training room opens up at 6:30 a.m. and remains open until all student-athletes have received the necessary care.

In addition to an excellent sports medicine team at ULM, the staff works with a team of physicians to provide a high level of care. The ULM Sports Medicine Department has a partnership with The Orthopaedic Clinic of North Louisiana to care for the Warhawks. ULM works with orthopaedists Dr. David Trettin and Dr. Sol Graves. Dr. Keith Calhoun is the team primary care physician.

David Trettin is in his 13th season as a ULM team physician. He currently serves as the Medical Director of Glenwood Sports Care, a position he has held since 1996 and is a member of the Orthopaedic Clinic of North Louisiana. The Milwaukee, Wis., native graduated Magna Cum Laude from Tulane University in 1984 with a degree in Biology. He earned his medical degree from the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, Texas from 1984-88. Trettin interned at Tulane Affiliated Hospitals in New Orleans in general surgery from 1988-89 and completed his residency at Tulane in 1993. He also served a fellowship at the University of Missouri-Kansas City Orthopaedic & Sports Medicine Clinic in 1993-94. The fellowship included serving as a team physician for the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs. Trettin also is an assistant clinical professor at the LSU Medical Center Shreveport.

Dr. Sol Graves

Team Orthopaedist

Graves is in his sixth season as a ULM team physician. He is a member of the North Louisiana Orthopaedic and Sports Medicine Clinic. The Monroe, LA native graduated from Ouachita Christian School in Monroe in 1986. He went on to earn a bachelor's degree at LSU in 1990. At LSU he was the Tigers' starting quarterback during the 1990 season and earned post-graduate scholarships from the National Football Foundation, the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference. He was a member of several honor societies, including Alpha Epsilon Delta, Omicron Delta Kappa, Mu Sigma Rho, and Mortar Board. Graves earned his M.D. from the LSU School of Medicine in 1995. He completed his surgical internship in 1996 and residency in 2000 at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson, Miss. He also served a sports medicine fellowship at the Knoxville Orthopedic Clinic in Tenn. from 2000-01. He and his wife, Jana, have three children - Quin (11), Anna Catherine (9) and James (4).

Dr. Keith Calhoun

Team Primary Care Physician

Dr. Keith Calhoun is in his third season as the ULM team primary care physician. He is presently in private practice. The West Monroe native graduated from West Monroe High School in 1990. He graduated from ULM in 1994 with a pre-medicine degree. Calhoun earned his M.D. from the LSU Health Sciences Center Shreveport in 1998. He stayed at LSUHSC Shreveport to complete his internship in 1999 and his residency in family practice in 2001. Calhoun assists at several emergency rooms around Northeast Louisiana and spent a month on a medical mission trip to Kashmir, India. He has twin boys, Aaron and Jacob (6).

ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

The main support group for the University of Louisiana at Monroe Athletics Department is the ULM Athletic Foundation. The Athletic Foundation, organized in 1956, is the main fund-raising organization for the athletics department.

What is the Athletic Foundation?

The ULM Athletic Foundation is the pillar of support for ULM Athletics. It is composed of individuals and businesses with a common mission . . . to raise awareness and financial support for the Warhawk athletic programs, positively promote all athletic events, grow our fan and donor base, and enhance the lives of over 300 student-athletes.

Why join the Athletic Foundation?

There are many reasons why you should give, but can you think of a single reason why you shouldn't? These student athletes need your help. They are here, first and foremost, to get an education. While they are here, they get the privilege of playing a sport which helps them achieve their goal. This is the only way some of our student athletes would be able to attend college. Some simply want to earn their degree while others have aspirations of playing in the pros. These kids have a dream . . . you can help them realize that dream. The question remains, "will you"?

There are many ways you can help:

Join a Friend

Help us make a difference in our successes. If you recruit one new member into the ULM Athletic Foundation, regardless of level, you will receive an exclusive gift. The only way to get these gifts is by participating. Make a difference and "Join a Friend".

Matching Gifts

Over 1,000 companies participate in matching gift programs which allow you to double or triple your Athletic Foundation contributions. Please check with your Human Resources Department for information on participations.

Warhawk Wheels

The ULM Athletic Department relies heavily on regional automobile dealerships to provide transportation for coaches and staff, team travel and special guests. Dealers wishing to participate will be credited with a $3,400 Athletic Foundation membership. Be a part of what keeps the Warhawks moving!

Major Gifts

If you would like to discuss a once-in-a-lifetime gift to the ULM Athletic Foundation, we will work with you to make sure that your wishes for such an important gift are satisfied. When you make such a gift, we will continue to partner with you in shepherding the contribution as you wish.

Naming Opportunities

There are many athletic facilities which have not been named. This year we are rolling out a major gift campaign focusing on naming rights to various athletic facilities, including fields of play. For more information, please call the Athletic Foundation office at 318-342-5428.

Tax Information

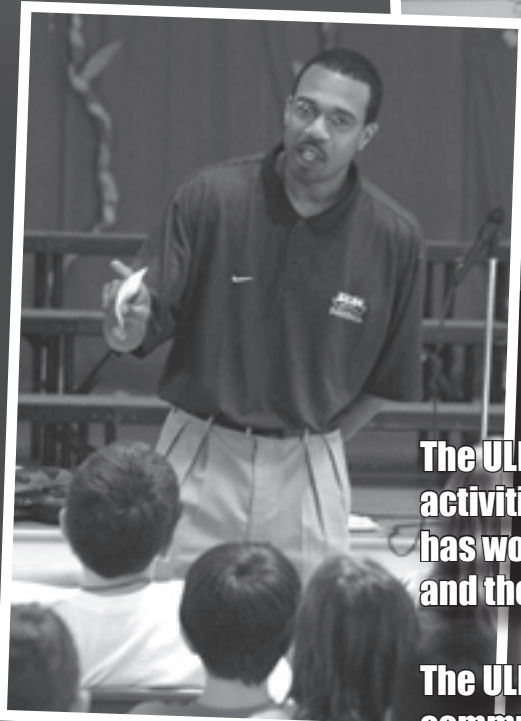

The ULM Athletic Foundation is a qualified tax-exempt corporation under Section 501c (3) of the Internal Revenue Service. Consult your tax advisor to see how laws apply to your particular gift. Tax Deduction ID# 23-7399232.

ULM & THE COMMUNITY

The ULM Athletic Department is involved in numerous community activities in the Monroe area. The Warhawk athletic department has worked to achieve a strong relationship between the athletes and the community surrounding the ULM campus.

The ULM athletic department has strived to give back to a community that constantly shows up to support the Warhawks on the field and each team wants to give back to those individuals off the field.

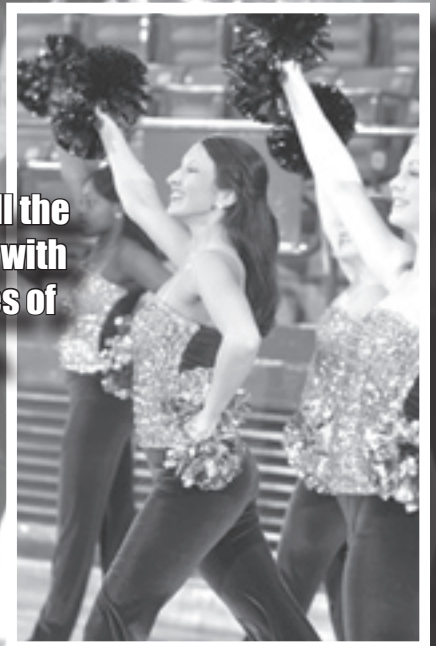

GAMEDAY AT ULM

Nothing compares to the pagentry of southern college athletics and the atmosphere in Monroe, La. is no different.

Gameday at ULM contains all the excitement and fanfare but with the comfort only the natives of Louisiana can conjure.

HISTORY OF SUCCESS

ULM'S CHAMPIONS & NATIONAL FINALISTS

From national championships to the Final Four, and from the World Series to over 90 conference titles and 20 all-sports trophies, ULM has had incredible athletic success over the years.

SUN BELT CONFERENCE

SUN BELT CONFERENCE HISTORY

While there are 31 NCAA conferences that sponsor multiple sports, the Sun Belt is one of only eleven to participate in the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) and Football Bowl Subdivision. The Sun Belt was formed in 1976 with six members competing in four men's sports, and today comprises 13 institutions of higher learning while sponsoring 19 championship sports for men and women.

The Sun Belt Conference enters its 33rd season in 2008-2009 with a proud history of athletic and academic success. The conference sponsors 10 women's sports - basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball; and nine men's sports - baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, swimming and diving, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field.

Each of the 19 sports has seen numerous team and individual accomplishments, and 12 Sun Belt Conference schools are currently graduating its student athletes at a rate higher than their school's student body. All Sun Belt schools are committed to excellence in the 21st century, and facility upgrades and expansion are occurring on virtually every campus.

During the 2007-08 academic year alone the Sun Belt Conference accomplished numerous feats. In the fall of 2007 Middle Tennessee and Western Kentucky University both represented the league in the NCAA Volleyball Tournament - the first time the Sun Belt has sent multiple teams to the NCAA Tournament in volleyball. Middle Tennessee did not disappoint, as the Blue Raiders advanced to the "Sweet 16" - marking the first time a Sun Belt school has made the round of 16 in volleyball.

The Sun Belt momentum continued in the sport of football as Florida Atlantic defeated Memphis in the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl. The win marked the second consecutive season that a Sun Belt team has defeated its Conference USA opponent as Troy defeated Rice in 2006.

In men's basketball, Western Kentucky University and South Alabama both received bids to the 2008 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament - the first the league has sent two teams to the "Big Dance" since 1994. WKU's 101-99 win over 14th ranked Drake followed by a 72-63 win over San Diego made the Hilltoppers the first Sun Belt team to reach the tournament's "Sweet 16" since 1993.

Despite losing more than half of the league's All-Conference members from 2006-07, Sun Belt women's basketball ranked in the top half (14th of 31) of the final league RPI rankings for the 10th consecutive year. In six of those 10 years, Sun Belt women's basketball has placed in the national top 10 for RPI.

There was no shortage of success in the Sun Belt's spring sports in 2008 as well. In tennis, Florida International and Denver represented the Sun Belt in the NCAA Women's Tennis Tournament - with the Pioneers advancing to the second round. In men's tennis, South Alabama and Denver represented the league in the NCAA Tournament with USA advancing to the second round.

Sun Belt golf was also well represented in postseason play as Middle Tennessee's men's team and Denver's women's team both reached the NCAA National Championship. Both the Blue Raiders and Pioneers finished in the top ten of their regionals to advance to the final stage of the NCAAAs.

The 2008 Sun Belt softball season saw Louisiana-Lafayette reach the Women's College World Series after defeating Houston in three games in the Super Regionals and winning the NCAA Baton Rouge Regional by defeating East Carolina and in-state rival LSU twice.

In baseball, the Sun Belt Conference has sent multiple teams to the NCAA Tournament each year since 1988. The 20-year streak of having two or more teams reach NCAA play is matched by only four other conferences (ACC, Big West, SEC, Pac-10).

Because of its status as a member of the Division I-A football coalition, the Sun Belt Conference has a permanent seat on the NCAA's 17-member Board of Directors. As a result, the conference has a crucial voice on some of the most pressing issues in college athletics and will always have a role in the implementation of any future NCAA legislation and guidelines.

The conference continues to utilize television to grow and promote the league. Adding volleyball, baseball and softball to the conference's television package has resulted in more national and regional television exposure for the league than at any time in its history. The conference's regional television package enables live telecasts of Sun Belt events to reach over 20 million households. Additionally, ESPN televised the conference's men's basketball championship game for the 28th straight season in 2008, marking its longest affiliation with any conference in the country.

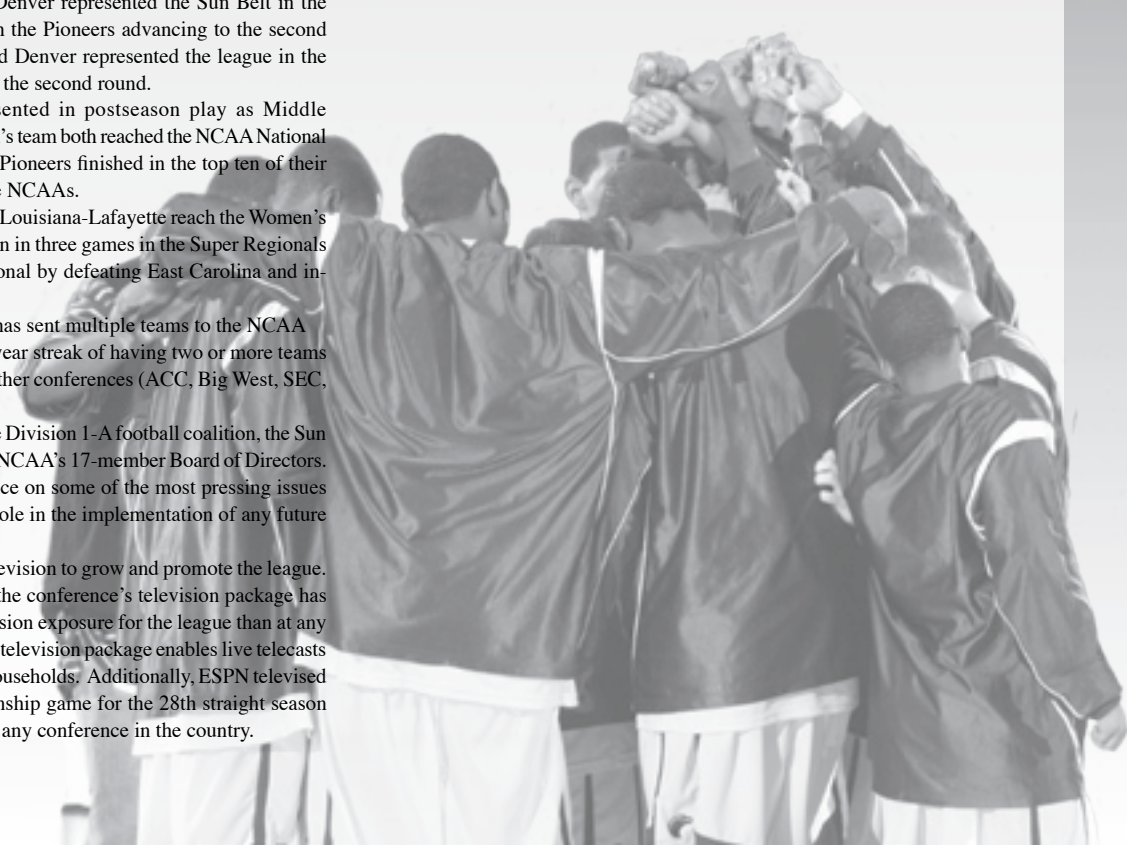

The Sun Belt Conference has partnered with JumpTV Sports, Inc. to deliver a full-service, customized, public and premium web site to provide fans with a broad range of real-time information and content about the conference's athletic teams. The Sun Belt is one of the few conferences in the nation to provide video highlights and features on its web site from each of the league's respective championships. This technology serves as a great recruiting tool for schools by enabling anyone in the world with internet access to view the conference's championship events, and fans in five different countries viewed the conference's most recent soccer championship.

Prominent Sun Belt alumni include United States Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice (Denver), NFL Hall of Fame football player "Mean" Joe Greene (North Texas), Arizona Diamondbacks All-Star baseball player Luis Gonzalez (South Alabama), former member of the United States Senate and House of Representatives John Breaux (Louisiana-Lafayette), country music superstar Tim McGraw (Louisiana-Monroe), and actor Andy Garcia (Florida International).

The conference's first 32 years have also produced numerous individual national champions along with Olympic track medalists including Earl Bell, Tom Hill and Al Joyner (Arkansas State), Hollis Conway (Louisiana-Lafayette), and Tayna Lawrence (Florida International). Old Dominion's Anne Donovan received the Naismith Trophy recognizing the nation's top women's basketball player in 1983, helped the United States win the Olympic gold medal in 1984, and helped the Lady Monarchs capture the national championship in 1985 (one of eight women's Final 4 appearances by Sun Belt schools: Old Dominion - 1983, 1985; WKU - 1985, 1986, 1992; Louisiana Tech - 1994, 1998, 1999). Sun Belt teams have also participated in the men's NCAA Final 4 (UNC-Charlotte in 1977), the College World Series (Louisiana-Lafayette in 2000), the women's College World Series (Louisiana-Lafayette in 1993, 1995, 1996, 2003), and had 10 players selected in the first round of the NBA Draft.

The Sun Belt Conference is led by Commissioner Wright Waters, who is in his ninth full year as commissioner. He was named the conference's fourth commissioner in February of 1999 following the tenures of Vic Bubas (1976-1990), Jim Lessig (1990-1991), and Craig Thompson (1991-1998). The league's annual all sports champion is awarded the Vic Bubas Cup, named after the conference's first commissioner.

The conference office has been headquartered in downtown New Orleans since 2000 after moving from suburban Metairie, La., where it had been based since 1991. Prior to moving to the "Big Easy," the league was based in Tampa, Fla., from 1977-1991. The original conference office was located in Charlotte, N.C., from 1976-77.

MEDIA RELATIONS

-- Credentials are granted to authorized working press, NBA scouts, ULM approved officials and game management personnel only.

-- With the exception of Warhawk beat reporters covering the team on a daily basis for daily reports, all credentials are approved and issued on a game-by-game basis.

-- Media organization identification and the name of the media members covering the game for that outlet are required for every credential.

-- Credentials are non-transferable. Media members altering their original request should provide written notification to the sports information office of any changes at least 24 hours in advance of the particular game.

-- ULM and the NCAA prohibits the issuance of press credentials to representatives of any organization that regularly publishes or otherwise promotes the advertising of "tout sheets" or "tip sheets," or other advertising designed to encourage gambling on collegiate sporting events.

--Space pressrow and base space for photographers and video is limited. Credentials are allotted based on the following priority guidelines:

1. Originating television and radio personnel involved in a live broadcast.

2. Daily newspapers covering for next-day publication, wire services and national publications, ULM Web site partners and visiting University Web site partners.

3. Non-originating radio and television personnel reporting on the game.

NOTE: Only local radio stations with a fulltime sports director conducting a sports show on a daily basis receive consideration for credentials.

4. National Web site reporters writing for post-game postings on network or historically printed publication Web sites.

NOTE: Web reporters writing for regional and independent Web sites with live updates do not qualify.

5. Officially recognized ULM student newspapers, publications and news outlets.

6. ULM-approved publications covering ULM on an exclusive basis.

7. Non-daily newspapers or publications reporting on the game.
