WARHAWK FIELD

The 2020 season marks the 38th year that the ULM baseball team will call Warhawk Field home.

Warhawk Field has been friendly to the home team as the Warhawks have posted a 592-377-1 (.611) mark in the facility since its inception in 1983.

ULM has won at least 15 home games 24 times in the 36 years playing at Warhawk Field and have given the home fans 20 victories nine times.

In fact, in its 30-year history, Warhawk Field has witnessed just six seasons of losing records and just four since 1994.

The in-state rivalry between ULM and UL-Lafayette brought 5,956 fans to Warhawk Field for in 2012 to set a new three-game series attendance record. It broke the previous mark of 5,738 set in 2007 when ULM hosted UL-Lafayette.

More than 119,000 fans passed through the gates at Warhawk Field as ULM set back-to-back-to-back attendances records in the 2011, 2012 and 2013 seasons.

Warhawk Field is one of the most unique baseball facilities in the country making games at ULM fun for the entire family.

To enhance the baseball atmosphere, the field is surrounded by a three-foot high brick wall, allowing fans a clear view of the game from field level.

The field is illuminated by eight lighting banks, allowing for night baseball in the cool Louisiana evenings.

With picnic and tailgate areas for fans, as well as a children's playground built prior to the 2008 season, gamedays at Warhawk Field provide a family friendly baseball atmosphere.

The complex hosts the offices of the ULM baseball staff. The 1,800-seat structure also features indoor and outdoor batting cages, an indoor pitching mound and its own training facilities.

The stadium went through renovations prior to the 2011 season. The Warhawks locker room was remodeled with new lockers, flooring, expanded floor space and audio/visual improvements. In addition, the Warhawk Field Press Box also received a face lift.

Warhawk Field also saw a pair of new additions for 2014 as there are now covered areas for fans along the third base line and a new hitting facility along the first base line. In 2015, the squad added a team room for meetings and film study and the following offseason, the locker room received a new paint job and new carpet.

The stadium has exceeded capacity on seven different occasions, highlighted by a matchup against LSU on April 26, 2001, when 4,635 fans squeezed into the stands. In 2009, 3,673 fans watched ULM beat Mississippi State 7-1.

The combination of facilities, atmosphere and fan activity make Warhawk Field one of the nation's best venues to watch a collegiate baseball game.

BRIEF HISTORY

Northeastern Louisiana has long been rich with baseball talent, a fact of which professional clubs have taken notice. Since the MLB First-Year Player Draft started in 1965, the ULM baseball team has had players selected 58 times. Aside from the 58 draft picks, 20 other players have gone on to sign professional contracts with various MLB clubs.

Over half of the Warhawks that have signed professional contracts have been pitchers, including some of the team's most famous alumni. Terry Mathews, Chuck Finley and Ben Sheets all established themselves while playing at Warhawk Field.

Finley retired from professional baseball following the 2002 season after spending 17 big-league seasons with the Angels, Indians and Cardinals. The five-time All-Star won 200 games during his professional career.

Sheets made a name for himself at ULM, posting one of the best seasons in Warhawk history. A year after posting a 14-1 record for the Warhawks, Sheets was pitching the United States to an Olympic gold medal win against Cuba.

ULM LEGEND BEN SHEETS

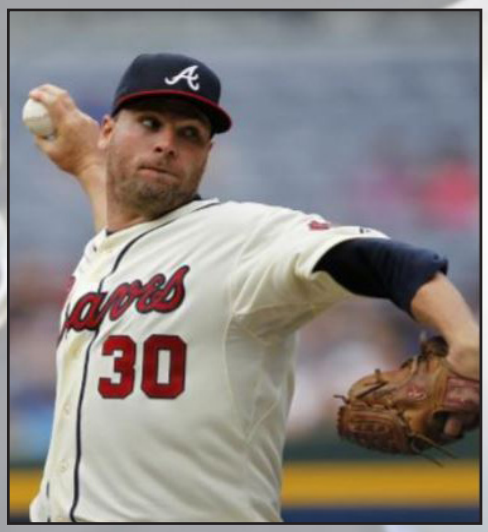

MLB All-Star

Ben Sheets made his fourth MLB All-Star Game appearance in 2008. He started the game on the mound for the National League in the final All-Star Game at historic Yankee Stadium.

Olympic Champion

End of a Career

Sheets made his final career appearance Oct. 3, 2012 as he started against the Pittsburgh Pirates. Sheets tossed a perfect first inning with two strikeouts; he then walked off the field for the final time.

ULM TRADITION

The ULM baseball team first began playing in 1952 and has since established itself as one of the most tradition-rich and successful Warhawk athletic programs. Going into the 2019 season, only the men's and women's basketball teams have qualified for postseason play more times than the baseball squad.

ULM boasts 14 conference championships, with the most recent in 2012. The Warhawks defeated Arkansas State, 4-2, in the Sun Belt Tournament championship game to advance to their first regional in 12 years. In the Baton Rouge Regional, ULM went toe-to-toe with LSU before falling 4-1. The squad defeated Belmont, 6-3, before having its season come to a close with a loss to Oregon State.

In 2008, the Warhawks posted a 20-10 league record en route to the Sun Belt Conference regular season title in just their second season in the league.

Before joining the Sun Belt, ULM spent 23 years as a member of the Southland Conference. The Warhawks claimed five regular season championships and four tournament titles.

During that stretch, ULM advanced to the NCAA Regionals on four different occasions, squaring off against some of collegiate baseball's brightest stars. ULM batters have stepped to the plate against Roger Clemens while Warhawk pitchers have stared down the likes of Jason Giambi and Mark Kotsay.

ULM picked up its first Division I postseason wins in the 2000 NCAA Regional in Baton Rouge. The Warhawks downed New Orleans twice thanks to strong pitching by Kenny Holubec and Kevin Orga.

The Warhawks are accustomed to winning. ULM has accumulated 1,398 victories in its 68 years of playing. More impressive perhaps is how strong ULM has been at Warhawk Field posting a 592-377-1 (.611) record.

ULM came within one game, a 1-0 loss to Eastern Michigan, of winning the 1970 NAIA National Championship.

ULM's legendary baseball team has produced some of the university's most recognizable athletic alumni.

A year after his final season with the Warhawks, Ben Sheets pitched the United States to a remarkable upset of Cuba in the gold medal game of the 2000 Olympics.

Sheets is one of two ULM players with his jersey retired. Former Angel great Chuck Finley also played for the Warhawks before notching 200 big league wins and over 2,000 strikeouts.

All told, ULM has had players selected 58 times in the MLB Draft, highlighted by 33 pitchers. A total of 20 other players have signed with MLB clubs following their playing days in Monroe.

In addition to its team successes, Warhawk baseball has become synonymous with outstanding individual performances. ULM has had 180 athletes earn all-conference honors. Of those, eight have been named Player of the Year, five Pitcher of the Year, two Hitter of the Year and two Freshman of the Year.

In 2010, rookie infielder Judd Edwards was named to the Ping!Baseball Freshman All-America team. Edwards selection marked the 18th time ULM had a player earn All-America honors. Five years earlier freshman infielder Ben Soignier was named an All-American by Collegiate Baseball.

Soignier went on to lead the NCAA in runs per game in 2008 as a junior and earn All-America honors for the second time. 2009 marked a historic year as he became the first ULM player to earn All-America honors in three different seasons.

Throughout the storied history of the ULM baseball program, Warhawk players have earned 31 All-America honors. Marvin Brossett, Sheets, Willie Core and Soignier have all earned multiple All-America distinctions.

ULM has had some of the game's brightest coaching stars in the dugout. Perhaps ULM's brightest coaching star, Lou St. Amant finished his 18 season coaching career as the all-time winningest Warhawk baseball coach. St. Amant propelled ULM to the national spotlight, leading the Warhawks to their first NCAA Regional in 1983. He captured two league titles and has since had his uniform number retired.

Following in St. Amant's footsteps, Smoke Laval led the Warhawks to three conference championships in seven years before becoming the head coach at LSU. Laval was followed by Brad Holland who, in 2002, led ULM to its last Southland Conference Championship.

During the 2006 season, former Warhawk great Jeff Schexnaider took over the reigns of the baseball program, becoming the team's 10th head coach.

In just his second full season at the helm of the program, "Shake" led the Warhawks to a Sun Belt title and was named league Coach of the Year after ULM was picked to finish eighth in the preseason poll. He led the club to their first NCAA regional in 12 seasons as the Warhawks claimed the 2012 Sun Belt tournament championship.

With a return to the program's roots, the tradition rich baseball program looks to continue along the successful path laid out over the team's first 68 years.

COACHING AND SUPPORT STAFF

HEAD COACH MICHAEL FEDERICO

MICHAEL FEDERICO

Head Coach • Third season at ULM
Third season overall (50-62)

Michael Federico enters his third season as the head baseball coach at ULM after leading the Warhawks to increased win totals in each of his first two seasons in Monroe.

Team captain, head coach, pitching guru, recruiting ace and winner are just some of the terms used to define Federico. He is a Louisiana native, raised in Slidell, and has more than 20 years of experience in the college baseball coaching profession.

In 2019, Federico led the Warhawks to a four-win improvement over 2018, and a return to the Sun Belt Conference tournament. ULM won three games in the tournament and reached the semifinals. Third baseman Chad Bell slugged a school-record 21 home runs and was selected first team All-Sun Belt Conference, while utility player Andrew Beesley earned second team All-SBC honors. Bell was also named to the American Baseball Coaches Association All-Region team. Bell (19th round), outfielder Trent Tingelstad (22nd round) and pitcher Trey Jeans (33rd round) were each selected in the 2019 MLB Draft. Pitcher Cole Gray was signed as a free agent by the Oakland Athletics.

In his first season with the Warhawks, ULM nearly doubled its win total from 2017, posting 23 victories while the team earned run average dropped by over half a run. Federico also coached relief pitcher Keegan Curtis, who was selected in the 22nd round of the 2018 MLB Draft by the New York Yankees, after Curtis posted a 2.88 ERA with seven saves.

Prior to arriving at ULM, Federico spent nine seasons at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg, where he served as assistant coach, responsible for pitchers and catchers. During those nine seasons Southern Miss won five Conference USA Championships and participated in four NCAA Regional Tournaments.

The 2017 season culminated in a school record of 50 wins. His time at Southern Miss was also highlighted by 24 players being drafted including 15 pitchers. Federico coached four Conference USA Pitchers of the Year, one Conference USA Player of the Year and a Conference USA Freshman of the Year. In 2012, Southern Miss was recognized for a recruiting class that ranked third nationally and in 2015 Federico was named Assistant Coach of the Year by Conference USA. In the 2015 season Southern Miss posted a conference low ERA of 3.14 while setting a school record with 10 shutouts.

Prior to joining Southern Miss in 2009, Federico was an assistant baseball coach at the University of Memphis, Tennessee, again responsible for pitchers and catchers. He helped lead the Tigers to a NCAA Regional appearance in 2007, its first berth since 1994. Memphis enjoyed back-to-back 30-plus win seasons in 2006 and 2007. During his five years at Memphis, the Tigers had 13 players drafted including seven pitchers.

Federico enjoyed tremendous success as a head coach at Meridian Community College in Mississippi, leading his squad to two World Series appearances in his three seasons as head coach. He was honored as Region XXIII and Southeastern District Coach of the Year in 2003 and 2004. In 2004, he led the Eagles to 46 wins and finished in ninth place in the World Series tournament. His time at MCC also included 15 players and 9 pitchers being drafted.

Prior to becoming the head coach, he served two seasons as an assistant at Meridian, helping guide the Eagles to a fifth place finish at the 2000 NJCAA World Series. In all, MCC visited the NJCAA World Series three times over Federico's five total seasons.

He started his coaching career as graduate assistant and volunteer coach at Southern Miss in 1997. The Golden Eagles participated in the 1999 NCAA Regional during his last season there.

Federico began his collegiate career at Hinds Community College in Raymond, Miss., where he was the starting catcher. Hinds participated in back-to-back Junior College World Series appearances. He continued his playing career at Southern Miss where Federico served as team captain his senior year.

Federico attended Pope John Paul II High School in Slidell, where he was named All-State, All District, All Metro as a catcher and team captain.

He is married to the former Hannah Sosa of Bush and has two sons, Hayden and Brycen and a daughter, Isabella.

Matt Collins, a two-year letterman as a first baseman at ULM from 2008-09, enters his third season as an assistant coach under Michael Federico. Collins returned to his alma mater after spending the previous three seasons at Stephen F. Austin.

In 2019, Collins helped the Warhawks to a four-win improvement over 2018 and an appearance in the Sun Belt Conference tournament semifinals. He worked with third baseman Chad Bell, who hit a school-record 21 home runs. Bell led the Sun Belt in homers and slugging percentage, while finishing second in school history with 159 total bases and tied for fourth in program history with 61 RBIs. Bell was named first team All-Sun Belt Conference and ABCA/Rawlings All-Region. Collins also coached Andrew Beesley to a second team All-Sun Belt selection as a utility player. He also coached a pair of MLB Draft picks in Bell (19th round) and outfielder Trent Tingelstad (22nd round). As a team, ULM increased its batting average by 25 points in 2019 and scored 62 more runs than 2018.

In his first year on Federico's coaching staff, the Warhawks produced a 23-31 record overall, nearly doubling the program's win total from the 2017 season. Collins worked with outfielder Johnny DeLaCruz, who finished fifth in the Sun Belt in batting with a career-best .332 average. The Warhawks also ranked fourth in the league in runs scored (308), RBI (272) and stolen bases (73).

During his third and final season at Stephen F. Austin, Collins helped develop four all-conference players, including 2017 Southland Newcomer of the Year Josh Evans, who ranked No. 19 in NCAA Division I with a .383 batting average. The first baseman also was named to the ABCA/Rawlings South Central All-Region First Team. The Lumberjacks finished the 2017 season with a 29-28 record and qualified for the SLC Tournament.

As the hitting coach, Collins was one of the driving forces behind SFA's dramatic turnaround in 2016 as the Lumberjacks won 13 more games than the previous season, finishing with a record of 30-30. It marked SFA's fifth 30-win season in program history and its first since 2011. As a team, the Jacks' finished second in the Southland and No. 34 in NCAA Division I with a .298 batting average.

Collins tutored six players who earned All-Southland recognition, including first-team selections Conner Fikes (outfield), Garrett McMullen (outfield) and Kyle Thornell (third base). Under his instruction, Fikes emerged as one of the nation's top hitters, finished third in the conference with his .362 batting average while ranking among the NCAA leaders in triples (No. 22 with six) and sacrifice flies (No. 8 with eight). Outfielder Zac Michener was named third-team All-SLC as well as Newcomer of the Year. In addition, second baseman Nick Ramos and shortstop Tyler Kendrick received All-SLC honorable mention.

In his first year in Nacogdoches, he worked with Thornell, who earned second-team All-SLC honors as the designated hitter after batting .301 with team highs in home runs (five) and RBI (30). Thornell also ranked third in the NCAA Division I with eight triples.

Prior to joining the SFA staff, Collins spent three years as an assistant coach at McNeese State, serving as the team's hitting coach and recruiting coordinator from 2012-14. During his tenure, he helped produce six first-team All-Southland performers, including three selections in 2014. Collins helped recruit and develop power hitters, like two-time All-Southland selection Jackson Gooch (2014: first team; 2013: second team), who led the Cowboys in batting average (.301), home runs (five) and RBI (34) in 2013 along with Seth Granger, who paced the ballclub in hitting (.327) and homers (four) in 2012.

Collins, a 2010 ULM graduate, served as a volunteer assistant for the Warhawks during the 2011 season.

As a junior, he started 53 of 54 games for ULM's 2008 Sun Belt Championship team. Collins hit .413 over the last 21 games of the 2008 campaign, including a 14-game hitting streak. In 2009, he collected 79 hits as a senior – the 10th-highest single-season total in school history – and completed his two-year ULM career with a .334 batting average.

Collins began his collegiate career at LSU-Eunice where he helped the Bengals to a combined record of 96-13 in two seasons, including the program's first NJCAA National Championship in 2006. As a sophomore, he batted .350 with five home runs and 48 RBI. He accounted for all three of LSU-E's in the 2006 World Series Championship Game, driving in two runs and scoring another. Collins was named to the World Series all-tournament team.

HISTORICAL OVERVIEW OF ULM

The University of Louisiana at Monroe has followed a course of vigorous growth in its transition from a junior college to an institution offering a comprehensive range of undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

In September 1931, the University opened for its first session in Brown Hall as Ouachita Parish Junior College, which was operated as part of the Ouachita Parish School System. In 1934, Louisiana State University received authority from the State Legislature to operate the facilities of the University as Northeast Center of Louisiana State University.

The name of the institution was changed to Northeast Junior College of Louisiana State University in 1939. The following year, the State Legislature authorized the transfer of all lands connected with Northeast Junior College to Louisiana State University.

The 1950 Legislature approved the expansion of Northeast Junior College to a senior college granting academic degrees. The name of the institution was changed to Northeast Louisiana State College, and its control was transferred from the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors to the State Board of Education. The School of Pharmacy was established in 1956.

The 1969-70 academic year was a milestone for ULM; in addition to awarding the first doctoral degrees, the name was changed to Northeast Louisiana University by the 1970 Legislature. The constitution, adopted by the people of Louisiana in 1974, provided that the administration of state colleges and universities be changed from the Louisiana State Board of Education to the Board of Trustees for State Colleges and Universities effective May, 1975.

This Board's name was again changed on June 8, 1995 to the University of Louisiana Board of Trustees and in 1998 to the University of Louisiana System Board of Supervisors.

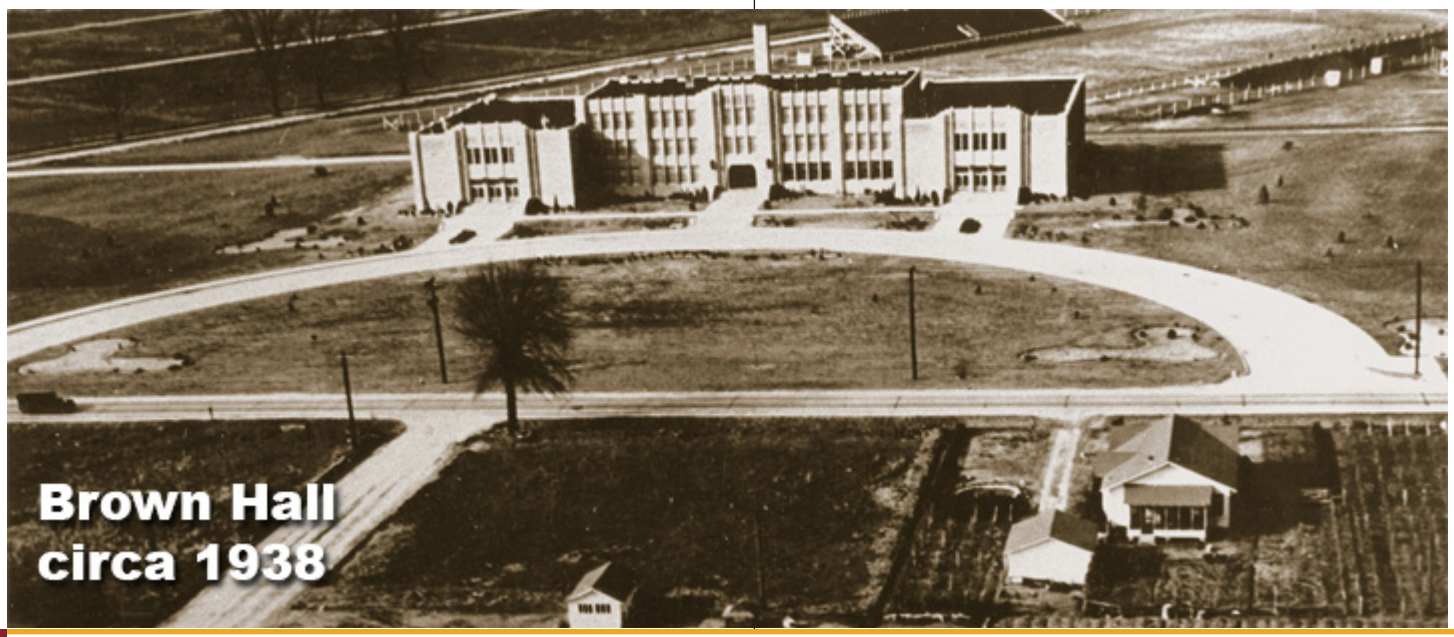

The Graduate School was established in 1961 to offer master's degrees. In the Fall of 1967 the Education Specialist degree was first offered and in 1983 the Specialist in School Psychology degree was added. The Graduate School established the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Pharmacy December of 1967.

In 1993 the Office of Research and Projects and the Graduate School were merged forming the Office of Graduate Studies and Research. This reorganization was implemented to more effectively support scholarly activities of faculty and students.

In 1994, Northeast Louisiana University, in cooperation with Louisiana Tech University and Grambling State University, formed the Louisiana Education Consortium, a uniquely and timely effort to offer the Doctor of Education degree at each campus.

In the Fall of 1996, the Doctor of Philosophy in Marriage and Family Therapy admitted the first class of students.

On August 27, 1999, the university officially changed its name to The University of Louisiana at Monroe, and on June 26, 2006, ULM officially changed its athletic mascot from "Indians" to "Warhawks."

Your investment in ULM reflects your commitment to our community, made more vibrant and strong through quality faculty, staff, and students - our future leaders.

THE RISE OF THE WARHAWKS

Moving into the Sun Belt Conference in the 2006-07 season, ULM's athletic department completed a transformation of sorts. Unique to the program, ULM's Warhawk moniker is the only one at the highest level of NCAA competition and one of only two Warhawks at any collegiate level in the entire nation.

ULM's Warhawks provide fans with multiple points of pride to rally behind. The mascot holds local historical connection to the P-40 'Warhawk' airplane flown by northeast Louisiana's General Claire Chennault and the Flying Tigers of WWII. The Warhawk is also symbolic of the red-shouldered hawk, a local predatory bird commonly found nesting along Bayou DeSiard and soaring above ULM's athletic facilities year round.

On August 30, 2006, ULM mascot 'ACE THE WARHAWK' landed. Wearing bomber jacket, flight helmet and goggles, Ace has provided a perfect representation of the dual meaning of ULM's mascot. Less than two months later, WARHAWK I, a live red-shouldered hawk permanently housed at the Louisiana Purchase Gardens and Zoo in Monroe, La., was added to the ULM family of mascots. Warhawk II now resides at the zoo.

Since their arrival, ACE and Warhawk II have become vital parts of the ULM community. Including appearances at home athletic events and other activities around campus, the duo rally fans to help the Warhawks achieve victory. The pair also make appearances across the Monroe and West Monroe community, providing educational opportunities for ULM's youngest fans.

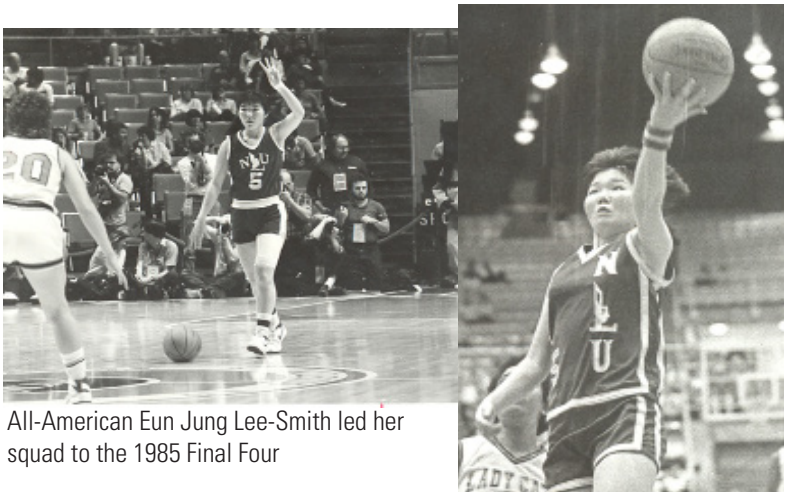

The Ace's Kids Club is a special membership group for Warhawk fans age 12 and younger. One-year memberships are available and members receive season tickets to all home Warhawk athletic events, an Ace's Kids Club t-shirt, membership card and invitations to exclusive events.

The rafters at Fant-Ewing Coliseum are full and the trophy cases across campus are overflowing with the fruits of ULM's athletic successes. Beginning with a men's cross country and track and field conference championship in 1958-59, the Warhawks have a storied run at the top of the standings in each sport over the athletic program's history.

From national championships to basketball Final Fours and collegiate baseball World Series appearances, fans at ULM have become accustomed to watching their teams compete - and win - at the highest level. The Warhawks have advanced to the national semifinals of major tournaments in six different sports and ULM has claimed more than 90 conference championships.

The ULM men's squads have claimed all-sports titles 14 times, including four in the Gulf States Conference (1963, '64, '65, '69), the Atlantic Sun (1980, '81, '82), and the Southland Conference (1984, '88, '90, '91, '92, '93, '94). The ULM women have grabbed all-sports titles six times in the Southland Conference (1984, '85, '87, '88, '90, '94). During the 1984 SLC season, ULM became the first program in conference history to win all sports titles on both the men's and women's side. The Warhawks would accomplish the feat three more times.

After conquering the Southland Conference, ULM made the move to the Sun Belt Conference and has continued its winning ways. Before the Warhawks had even become full members of their new league, the team had won a football conference championship in 2005. One year later, ULM won a divisional title in men's basketball and followed that up one season later with a 2008 regular season championship in baseball. Baseball again won a conference title, this time a tournament crown in 2012, and the club reached the postseason (NCAA Baton Rouge Regional).

With each passing season, the Sun Belt Conference continues to challenge itself, and its competitors, in all aspects of intercollegiate athletics. Not content with being simply the youngest football conference in the NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision, the conference has shown that it can rise each and every season that comes along. Since the birth of the league as a FBS member league in 2001, the evidence is clear that the conference is indeed rising above competitors and peer conferences.

At no time has league athletic success been more obvious than during the course of the last several football seasons. In recent years, Sun Belt members have participated in as many as six bowl games, a 50 percent increase in the league's former high-water mark and only a decade removed from a "one-bowl league" moniker in its formative years.

The Sun Belt has earned due respect in the FBS over the last several years by consistently beating teams from peer conferences, winning bowl games and upsetting Power Five teams. In fact, the 2018 football season was direct evidence of the Sun Belt's success as the conference broke its record for non-conference wins in a single season. The 24 total wins eclipsed the previous mark of 22 set in 2016. Additionally, the Sun Belt's 21 regular season non-conference wins broke the record of 19 that was set in 2013. The Sun Belt also had the best non-conference winning percentage of any Group of Five Conference this past season.

The Sun Belt gained much notoriety and notice during the last several football seasons, but that has by no means been the league's only hallmark. Men's basketball – the league's symbol of success in its formative years – had another successful season in 2018-19 as a number of significant achievements took place. There was a three-spot improvement in the Sun Belt's conference RPI ranking and four Sun Belt teams qualified for the postseason, tying the conference record.

Women's basketball saw a nine-spot improvement in conference RPI ranking this past season and had a record number of teams in the postseason with seven participants. Appalachian State capped off a stellar season with a 76-59 WBI championship victory over North Texas.

Those league successes stories have been more public in recent years, in part because the Sun Belt itself has been progressive and in the forefront of the digital media world. The league continues to adapt to the ever-changing world of collegiate athletics and continues the process of evolving to better serve its membership, keeping the pledge it made at its founding to be a league of opportunity. Athletic and academic programs who have shown progressive thinking and the desire to improve have always found a home in the Sun Belt.

The Sun Belt's partnership with ESPN was revamped in 2018 and is the most significant and extensive multimedia rights agreement in conference history. Highlights of the contract include that: a minimum of 500 events a year will appear on an ESPN platform beginning in 2020-21 and that, every Sun Belt football, men's basketball and women's basketball game will be viewable on an ESPN platform. It was also announced that, linear network football games at Sun Belt home venues will expand to a minimum of 10 games a year on a combination of ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPNU, that all Sun Belt Championship events will be viewable on an ESPN platform each academic year that will give exposure to all 18 conference sports and that digital productions will expand to include regular-season competition in Sun Belt sports that have received only limited coverage previously.

Opportunity for Sun Belt growth and success extends beyond television deals. The Sun Belt annually awards nearly $70 million in student-athlete financial aid, an increase of 130% from five years ago, to more than 3,100 student-athletes, while also providing life experiences such as team building, domestic and foreign travel, community service, mentoring and recognition through honors and awards. Sun Belt institutions are also leaders in providing career services and the tools to assist in the pursuit of personal goals. Each member employs full-time academic advisors and on average nearly two dozen tutors for academic support.

Sun Belt leaders also understand many of the challenges that are being faced on their campuses. This past spring the Sun Belt hosted a Diversity and Inclusion Summit with the goal of educating the membership on current data and finding opportunities to create policies that will help increase diversity. The year prior, the Sun Belt hosted a mental health summit aimed at putting mental health awareness out front and reaching to erase the stigma associated with mental health and the need to seek help.

The Sun Belt has nationally-respected programs in nearly every NCAA sport offering and remains a fixture on the national scene while remaining heavily involved in the conduct and competition of college athletics. But it also provides opportunities for success on many unique and different levels. In athletic parlance, the Sun Belt has upside and its newest mantra of "Rise Above" is just as applicable now as when it was founded as a home to some of the nation's premier basketball programs.

In its very first season as a conference in 1976-77, one of those Sun Belt programs reached the pinnacle of NCAA men's basketball competition when UNC Charlotte earned a berth in the NCAA Men's Final Four. That type of success set the bar very high, but the league's four-decade history is sprinkled with landmark success in all seasons.

This past fall, the Sun Belt had its most volleyball teams in the postseason in conference history with Texas State in the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship and Appalachian State, Little Rock and Arkansas State in the National Invitational Volleyball Championship. The Bobcats earned their first-ever NCAA Tournament victory with a 3-1 triumph over Rice in the first round before suffering a second-round loss to fifth-seeded Texas.

In the spring, baseball and softball continue to put the league in the national spotlight with deep runs in postseason play and high visibility in national polls. Coastal Carolina reigned supreme at the pinnacle of college baseball, winning the College World Series for the 2016 season. Louisiana's baseball team ranked No. 1 nationally recently and reached the NCAA Super Regional round in 2014 and 2015. In softball last season, the Sun Belt sent multiple teams to the postseason for the eighth straight year with UTA capturing the 2019 National Invitatonal Softball Championship title. A perennial national power, Louisiana advanced to the NCAA Division I Softball Championship for the 21st consecutive season. The Ragin' Cajuns have been to the NCAA Super Regionals seven times and NCAA Women's College World Series three times.

Georgia Southern represented the Sun Belt in the NCAA Division I Men's Golf Championship this past season. The Eagles took fourth place at the NCAA Stanford Golf Regional to qualify. On the individual side, Steven Fisk finished second in the finals for the Eagles.

In men's tennis, South Alabama defeated nationally ranked Tulane, 4-1, in the first round of the NCAA Division I Men's Tennis Championship.

Just as important as on-field success, the Sun Belt's commitment to academic excellence remains a league symbol. The league's record book for grade point averages and academic honors is a constantly-changing document, seemingly with each year's success outdoing the previous year. This past spring, 21 league programs were recognized for outstanding performance in the classroom, with those teams earning NCAA Public Recognition Awards for APR scores in the top 10 percent nationally.

Philanthropically, the Sun Belt Conference and the American Cancer Society maintain a close relationship. Some of the awareness campaigns the two have partnered on includes Suits and Sneakers, a nationwide event during basketball season that unites coaches and Cover Your Bases, a sun safety initiative during baseball and softball season.

The Sun Belt Conference and the AutoNation Cure Bowl also partnered in benefiting the Breast Cancer Research Foundation (BCRF). Sun Belt schools participated in Pink Saturday games and displayed specially designed pink Sun Belt Kicks Cancer kicking nets on their home sideline during games throughout the month of October.

The Sun Belt Conference and the College Football Playoff Foundation annually partner to recognize teachers through the CFP Foundation's Extra Yard for Teachers platform. Each Sun Belt football-playing institution received a $10,000 grant from the CFP Foundation to use in their respective local communities to recognize teachers for their hard work and dedication and to provide classroom supplies and professional development resources.

The conference is currently comprised of 12 institutions – Appalachian State, Little Rock, Arkansas State, Coastal Carolina, Georgia Southern, Georgia State, Louisiana, ULM, South Alabama, UTA, Texas State and Troy – and competes in the FBS as a 10-team league. Little Rock and UTA are full Sun Belt members in all sports other than football. The league also have two associate members in men's soccer, Central Arkansas and Howard.

The mix of members also gives the league vitality and diversity across the South. The mix of regions and cultures provides a rare opportunity for student-athletes and staffers to experience many environments and the chance to experience that diversity without leaving their own campuses.

Many individuals from Sun Belt institutions have brought distinction to their alma maters, and not just in athletics. For every All-Pro linebacker DeMarcus Ware (Troy) and NFL Man of the Year Charles Tillman (Louisiana), world ranked golfer and US Open winner Dustin Johnson (Coastal Carolina) and for every World Series MVP David Freese (South Alabama) hailing from Sun Belt schools, there are also U.S. presidents (Lyndon Johnson, Texas State), business icons (Chick-fil-A president Daniel Cathy, Georgia Southern) and nationally known entertainers (Ludacris, Georgia State; Tim McGraw, ULM and George Strait, Texas State).

These proud alumni, as well as those who represent the dozen league institutions, are proof that the Sun Belt Conference is a league of excitement, a league of opportunity and one that continues to provide the promise of success with each new day.
