

Scholar-Athlete Recognition Awards Ceremony

Tonight, we celebrate the 31st annual Scholar-Athlete Recognition Awards Ceremony. Since 1989, Scholar-Athlete Awards have been given to student-athletes who have earned a 3.0 or better grade-point average in the previous spring and fall semesters, and/or have maintained a 3.0 or better accumulative grade-point average.

The award is a medallion, the color of which symbolizes the number of years a student-athlete has received the award. This year's bronze (first year), silver (second year) and gold (third and fourth year) medallions will be awarded for academic excellence during the 2019 spring and fall semesters.

We also present the 2019 Rising Stars. These 84 student-athletes have earned a 3.0 or better grade-point average in their first semester at the University of Maine.

This year's 205 Scholar-Athletes and 84 Rising Stars total 289 student-athletes. For the 16th consecutive year, we are honoring more than half of the student-athletes at UMaine.

Since the inception of the Scholar-Athlete Awards in 1989, the University of Maine has awarded 4,378 medallions to student-athletes.

The 2020 Scholar-Athlete Recognition Awards Ceremony is proudly sponsored by:
