MASSACHUSETTS-HOLY CROSS PREVIEW

The University of Massachusetts and Holy Cross renew a long-running series for its 55th all-time meeting with a Sun., Nov. 20 contest at the DCU Center in Worcester, Mass. The Minutemen and Crusaders first met during the 1907-08 season and Holy Cross owns the series advantage, 34-20. However, Massachusetts has won nine of the last 12 contests dating back to the 1985-86 season.

Holy Cross is coming off of an improbable run to the 2016 NCAA Tournament as the team finished the year 10-15 overall and just 5-13 in the Patriot League, but secured a national postseason berth with four consecutive road victories in the Patriot League Tournament. The Crusaders defeated Loyola (Md.), 72-67 in the opening round, followed up with a 77-72 double-overtime victory at Bucknell, thrashed Army West Point, 60-38 to reach the championship game and slipped by Lehigh, 59-56 for the Patriot League's automatic berth into the NCAA Tournament.

Holy Cross is currently 0-2 on the season with losses at South Carolina, 90-46 and Syracuse, 81-49. Robert Champion's 13 points per game leads the Crusaders while Malachi Alexander scores 11.5 with a team-best 6.5 rebounds on average.

Bill Carmody is in his second season at the helm of the program. A veteran of the NCAA Division I head coaching ranks, Carmody is in his 19th campaign as a program leader, including 13 years at Northwestern (2000-13) after four at Princeton (1996-99). He holds a 299-267 career record with three NCAA berths and six NIT appearances.

The last time these teams met, Massachusetts came away with an 83-76 victory after the Minutemen held off a late Crusader charge. The Maroon and White held a 24-point lead with just over eight minutes to play; however, Holy Cross put together a 26-6 run and closed the gap to four in the final two minutes. UMass mustered the strength needed to hold off the rally for the home victory that improved the Minutemen to 6-0 on the young season.

Donte Clark scored in double figures during each of the final five games of his true freshman season in 2014-15 and averaged 14.4 points per game in the span. Over his sophomore campaign, Clark averaged 16.1 points per game, which stands 13th overall in the A-10 as of the end of the regular season. CLARK POSTS 20-POINTERS

After he had three games with 20 or more points in 2014-15 over 30 appearances, Donte Clark tripled his freshman year's output with nine in 32 games as a sophomore. Clark provided 20 or more versus Clemson (25; Nov. 23), Ole Miss (24; Dec. 5), New Orleans (30; Dec. 16), LIU Brooklyn (21; Dec. 29), No. 25 Dayton (21; Jan. 6), St. Bonaventure (25; Jan. 9) and Richmond (23; Feb. 6), VCU (22; Feb. 11) and Saint Joseph's (20; Feb. 24).

UMASS IN THE MULLINS CENTER

Since the beginning of the 2011-12 season, the Minutemen are 56-19 overall (.747) and 27-15 in Atlantic 10 contests (.643) in the Mullins Center.

UMass completed its 23rd season playing at the Mullins Center in the Spring 2016 and holds an all-time record of 224-94 (.704) at the facility. The Minutemen also own a 122-63 (.659) historical mark in regular season Atlantic 10 Conference games at the Mullins Center, and a 4-2 ledger in Atlantic 10 Tournament contests. The first game was played on Feb. 4, 1993, when UMass bested West Virginia, 64-59 in overtime.

AIMING FOR 80-A-GAME

UMass was nearly perfect in 2015-16 when it scored at least 80 points in a game at 7-1. When the Maroon and White score fewer than 80 points the squad was 5-16 overall. The 80+ point games included Howard, (85-79), Central Arkansas (89-62), Clemson (82-65), Boston University (99-69), New Orleans (103-95 [OT]), LIU Brooklyn (83-79) and Duquesne (108-99 [OT]).

The wins when scoring fewer than 80 points came at Harvard, 69-63 on Nov. 17; at La Salle, 74-67 on Jan. 3, against Rhode Island in overtime, 61-56 on Feb. 2; over VCU, 69-63; vs. George Mason, 70-64 and in the Atlantic 10 Championship Second Round over Rhode Island, 67-62. The lone loss is the 85-83 defeat at St. Bonaventure on Feb. 27.

SHOOTING THEIR WAY TO VICTORIES

When the Minutemen outshot their opponents, UMass sported 12 wins in 16 chances during 2015-16. However, when the opposition holds a higher conversion rate, Massachusetts went 2-14 on the year.

GUARD TRIO WENT OFF FOR UNIVERSITY OF SPLASH-ACHUSETTS

Starting guards Donte Clark and Trey Davis and Jabarie Hinds all ranked among the 20 highest scoring players across the Atlantic 10 in 2015-16. Davis was first among Minutemen with 18.7 points per game (fourth in A-10), followed by Clark (16.1; 15th) and Hinds (14.5; 20th). Richmond and St. Bonaventure are the only other Atlantic 10 schools that have three shooters among the top-20 in scoring.

Each of the three eclipsed double-digits in scoring during the same game on 13 occasions. Davis led the way with 16 games of 20 or more points while Clark sported nine and Hinds owned seven. The last trio to average 14.0 or more points was Mike Pyatt (15.6), Mark Donoghue (15.5) and Jim Town (14.9) in 1975-76.

FIVE 30+ POINT GAMES MARKED MOST IN 20 YEARS

Three 30+ point performances by Trey Davis (40 vs. New Orleans; 30 at Davidson; 36 vs. Saint Louis) and one each from Donte Clark (30 vs. New Orleans) and Jabarie Hinds (37 at Duquesne) gives UMass men's basketball its most 30-point individual performances since the team had seven in 1995-96 (Marcus Camby 5; Donta Bright 1; Carmelo Travieso 1).

PLAYING CLEAN LED TO WINS

UMass only turned the ball over six times during the 69-63 win at Harvard on Nov. 17, 2015, its fewest giveaway since the squad had five in a 80-62 win over Saint Joseph's on Feb. 9, 2013. It was a span of 77 contests between the two outings. Over the previous five seasons, the Minutemen have committed less than 10 turnovers on 12 occasions and are 8-4 in those contests.

UMASS UNVEILS JOHN FRANCIS KENNEDY CHAMPIONS CENTER

The University of Massachusetts men's and women's basketball program moved into their first dedicated team facility during the Summer 2015 with the introduction of the John Francis Kennedy Champions Center for UMass Basketball. The 53,000-square foot building offers a state-of-the-art facility for the Minutemen and Minutewomen that will benefit generations of basketball student-athletes to come.

The structure is named in honor of longtime athletics support John Francis Kennedy, who donated the lead gift of $11 million toward the project. The 53,000-square foot facility houses the daily operations for the UMass men's and women's basketball programs. The $22-million facility features dedicated practice courts for each team, office space for the coaching staffs, locker rooms and areas for strength and conditioning along with athletic training services. It also contains Legacy Hall, which will display the rich history of UMass basketball along the building's Eastern corridor.

GAME 2: OLE MISS 90, UMASS 88

MON., NOV. 14, 2016 // THE PAVILION AT OLE MISS; OXFORD, MISS.

The Minutemen led by nine with less than four minutes to play but a furious Ole Miss rally - capped by Sebastian Siaz's tip-in with 3.3 seconds left - gave the Rebels a 90-88 home victory over Massachusetts. With the game knotted at 88-all, Burnett missed a driving layup but Siaz collected the loose ball at the cylinder and deposited it through the hoop with 3.3 seconds to play. It cemented a series for Ole Miss where the Rebels hit three of their final four field goals and made 5-of-6 at the foul line to complete the comeback. DeJon Jarreau's 25 points, eight rebounds and six assists led the Minutemen while Saiz finished with a double-double on 22 points and 19 boards.

GAME 3: UMASS 70, TEMPLE 67

THURS., NOV. 17, 2016 // MULLINS CENTER; AMHERST, MASS.

DeJon Jarreau scored five points over the final 34 seconds as Massachusetts squeaked out a 70-67 victory over former Atlantic 10 arch-rival Temple. Jarreau put UMass in front for good with 34 seconds to go when he drained a right side 3-pointer for a 68-67 margin. Following a defensive stop, Luwane Pipkins hit Jarreau in transition with a half-court heave pass and Jarreau converted at the rim for the eventual winning margin. The game featured 17 lead changes and nine tie scores as neither side grew an advantage larger than three points over the final 17 minutes of the contest. It marked the first meeting between the teams since Temple departed the A-10 following the 2012-13 season.

HEAD COACH DEREK KELLOGG

MASSACHUSETTS '95 // NINTH SEASON AS HEAD COACH OVERALL AND AT MASSACHUSETTS

Entering his ninth season at the helm of his alma mater, UMass men's basketball head coach Derek Kellogg has guided the Minutemen back to prominence with national postseason appearances in the NCAA Tournament and NIT, culminating in 140 head coach victories for the 1995 UMass graduate entering 2016-17.

Kellogg, already the third-winningest coach in the 100-plus year history of UMass basketball, moved the Minutemen down the block to the program's new home, the John Francis Kennedy

Champions Center for UMass Basketball ahead of the 2015-16 season. The 53,000-square foot basketball-centric facility offers one of the top homes in college basketball with dedicated practice courts, full athletic training and strength and conditioning suites, a cinema-style film room and additional space for team meetings and meals, coach and administrative offices and a connecting tunnel to the Mullins Center.

With the help of assistant coaches Andy Allison, Shyrone Chatman and Adam Ginsburg, Kellogg guided Massachusetts averaged 20 wins per season over the last five campaigns. The successful stretch includes the 24-win season in 2013-14 when Kellogg led the Minutemen back to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 15 years and an NIT Final Four berth during 2011-12.

Kellogg's noted success as a recruiter, combined with the state-of-the-art, dedicated home for basketball at UMass, helped the eighth-year leader land a top-25 class ahead of the 2016-17 school year. The group, comprised of Chris Baldwin, Tyrn Flowers, Brison Gresham, DeJon Jarreau and Unique McLean, ranked among the top 25 nationally and provide the Minutemen the most vaunted incoming class in the Atlantic 10 Conference.

In addition to infusing energy on the sidelines and court, Kellogg-led UMass teams have re-dedicated themselves to the local and regional community that cheers on the Minutemen. Kellogg serves as the Honorary Co-Chairman of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation for the Northern Connecticut/Western Massachusetts chapter, while participating with the entire team in the JDRF Walk to Cure Diabetes. He has also lent his time to the Clarke Schools for Hearing and Speech and Baystate Children's Hospital of Springfield/Children's Miracle Network.

The 2015-16 season marked a year of transition for the Minutemen as the squad adjusted to its new home in the Champions Center. The guard trio of Donte Clark, Trey Davis and Jabarie Hinds buoyed Massachusetts as it reached the Atlantic 10 Championship Quarterfinals via the combined strength of nearly 50 points per game from the three. Davis collected USBWA All-Region following the season while Hinds earned Atlantic 10 Co-Sixth Man of the Year.

Massachusetts picked up its fourth consecutive winning season in 2014-15, spearheaded by Kellogg and a pair of then-seniors and current professional basketball players, Maxie Esho and Cady Lalanne. Esho, who recently signed an NBA D-League contract, and Lalanne, the 55th pick of the 2015 NBA Draft (San Antonio Spurs), assisted Kellogg in winning 17 games and finishing tied for sixth in the talent-rich Atlantic 10.

In 2013-14, Kellogg's dedication to his alma mater brought the program back to the national spotlight. UMass opened the year with 10-consecutive victories and collected the Charleston Classic Championship as it rose to a top-20 ranking - its first time in the polls since early in the 1998-99 campaign. The squad eventually was slotted as high as No. 12 in the coaches poll and No. 13 in the Associated Press ledger and spent 10 weeks and played 15 games as a ranked team.

The year secured UMass a No. 6 seed in the NCAA Tournament after the program had not achieved that benchmark since 1998. Senior Chaz Williams capped his Minuteman career with his third consecutive appearance on first team all-district and all-conference listings.

UMass also continued its rise at the gate as the team averaged 6,600 fans, putting season attendance numbers at a 100 percent increase over the previous three years. The Minutemen sold-out six games at the Mullins Center and, by year's end, UMass' home attendance had increased by 1,345 fans from 2012-13 to 2013-14, ranking 10th nationally.

The 2013-14 campaign marked the second-consecutive year the Minutemen appeared in the top-30 for the largest increase from the previous year. The 6,600 home attendance average was the highest since the 1998-99 campaign, while the single-season increase was the largest since moving into the Mullins Center midway through the 1992-93 year. It was also the eighth-highest average in school history.

The Minutemen posted 21 victories during 2012-13, including their second NIT appearance in as many seasons. Williams picked up his second consecutive first team all-conference and NABC all-district laurels and became the first player to go back-to-back in both categories since Rashaun Freeman (2005-07).

During 2011-12, Kellogg's tutelage led Massachusetts to a 25-11 overall record and advanced to the semifinals of the Atlantic 10 Championship and the NIT. Kellogg's energy as a coach, mimicked by the squad on the court, earned UMass a tied for fifth in the A-10 after the squad was picked 12th in the preseason poll. Kellogg also installed his up-tempo offense to go along with a pressure defense that resulted in a the team breaking the school record for steals, while ranking in the top five nationally in possessions per game.

Leading the way during 2011-12 was Williams, who tallied first team all-Atlantic 10 and NABC all-district after averaging 16.9 points, 6.2 assists and 4.4 rebounds per game. Williams set UMass sophomore records for assists (231) and steals (81). The friendly confines of the Mullins Center and its home crowd helped the team earn a 15-1 mark during games played in Amherst. The Minutemen played before four crowds of more than 6,200 in the final six games, including a season-high 8,399 in the victory over Saint Louis.

In 2010-11, Kellogg guided UMass to its best start since the 1995-96 Final Four campaign as the Minutemen opened the year with a 7-0 mark. UMass also posted its first seven-game win streak since 1998 and have since eclipsed that figure when it won 10 straight at the start of 2013-14.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS MEN'S BASKETBALL COACHING STAFF

Kellogg capped his second season with an Atlantic 10 Tournament appearance and first round victory, the first in eight years, as UMass knocked off No. 6 seed Charlotte, 59-56.

In his first year as the head coach at UMass, Kellogg led the Minutemen to one of their most thrilling wins in recent memory, an epic win over defending NCAA Champion Kansas before a nationally-televised audience on ESPN.

Kellogg's first full recruiting class at UMass was named one of the nation's top groups and the consensus best class in the A-10. Kellogg guided Putney, Riley and Vinson to 1,000-point careers at UMass while members of the quintet helped Kellogg win 97 games from 2009-14 and secure three national postseason appearances.

Kellogg was named the 21st head coach in University of Massachusetts men's basketball history on April 23, 2008. He returned to his alma mater for his first head coaching opportunity after he served as an assistant coach for 12 years, the last eight at the University of Memphis under former UMass head coach and Naismith Hall of Fame inductee John Calipari. The energetic and hard-working Kellogg is largely credited for recruiting many of the student-athletes who helped Memphis reach the 2008 NCAA Championship Game and record eight consecutive 20-win seasons with as many consecutive postseason berths, and Kellogg has continued his strong recruiting efforts at UMass.

Kellogg spent eight years on the Memphis staff alongside Calipari where he brought his "coach on the floor" mentality at UMass to the sidelines, and it produced results for the Tigers. In Kellogg's eight seasons in Memphis, he helped the Tigers to eight-straight 20-win seasons and eight consecutive postseason berths (NCAA: 2003, '04, '06, '07, '08; NIT: 2001, '02, '05). It marked the first time the Memphis basketball program reached eight consecutive national postseasons, breaking the previous mark of six-in-a-row from 1988-93.

In 2007-08, Kellogg was an integral part of another magical Tiger campaign, which continued through to the 2008 NCAA Tournament Championship Game. The NCAA Final Four appearance was the Tigers' first since 1985 and the NCAA title contest was the program's first since 1973. Memphis set an NCAA single-season record for victories with 38 wins (38-2 mark) and held down the No. 1 spot in both national polls for five-straight weeks during the season. The Tigers finished 2007-08 ranked No. 2 in the nation, the highest final ranking in school history. Memphis also won a school-record 26-straight games and swept the Conference USA regular season and tournament titles for a third-consecutive season.

The Tigers won 30 games for a third-straight year in 2007-08, becoming the second school in NCAA Division I history to accomplish the feat. Kentucky was the first to do so from 1947-49 and 1996-98. UCLA joined the elite group later in 2007-08. From 2005-06 to 2007-08, Memphis won 104 games (104-10 record) and tied the 1996-98 Kentucky squads for the most victories in a three-year period in NCAA Division I history.

In 2006-07, Kellogg helped lead Memphis to another record-setting campaign. The Tigers won 33 games for a second-straight season (33-4 record) and captured their second-consecutive Conference USA regular season and tournament titles. The back-to-back outright regular season crowns were a first for the Memphis program, and the consecutive tournament championships were the Tigers first since they won two-straight Metro Conference Tournaments in 1984 and 1985. Memphis advanced to the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight for a second-straight year (2006, 2007), marking the first time in school history that happened.

The 2006-07 Tigers also pulled a first in Conference USA history. Memphis posted a perfect 16-0 regular season mark and captured the league's postseason tournament. The Tigers were the second squad in C-USA history to go 16-0 in the regular season as Cincinnati did so in 1999-2000. That Bearcat team, though, did not win the Conference USA Tournament title. The Tigers received a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament and finished in the top 10 in both national polls (No. 5/AP; No. 7/ESPN-USA Today).

Kellogg also played an integral role in the Tigers' 2005-06 remarkable season. Memphis posted a 33-4 record and won the Conference USA regular season and tournament titles. The conference regular season crown was the Tigers' second in three years. The 2005-06 Memphis squad earned the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament No. 1 seed and advanced to the Elite Eight for the first time since 1992. The Tigers finished the season ranked in the top 10 of both national polls (No. 4/AP; No. 6/ESPN-USA Today). Those final rankings were the highest in Memphis basketball history at the time.

From when Kellogg joined the Memphis staff in 2000-01, the Tigers won the 2002 National Invitation Tournament Championship, claimed a share of the 2004 Conference USA regular season crown and took home the 2002 and 2003 C-USA National Division titles. The Tigers posted 219 overall victories (27.3 wins per year) and 101 conference wins (12.6 league victories per year) in his eight seasons. The eight years prior to that span, the Tigers only had 140 total wins and 66 conference victories.

In addition to the 2006-08 final national rankings, the Tigers also finished the 2003 (No. 19) and 2004 (No. 24) seasons ranked in the final Associated Press poll. Prior to the 2002-03 and 2003-04 seasons, the last time Memphis was ranked in the final polls in consecutive years was the 1984-85 and 1985-86 campaigns.

Kellogg was an off-campus recruiter for the Tigers and also assisted in scouting opponents. His hard work -- especially on the recruiting trail -- gained him national recognition. In the summer of 2007, Rivals.com listed Kellogg (No. 7 spot) as one of the nation's 10 assistants "ready to move up." A year earlier in 2006, the same web site named Kellogg as one of the nation's top 25 recruiters, and HoopScoop magazine tabbed him as one of the nation's top assistant coaches.

Prior to joining Calipari's staff, Kellogg spent one season at Youngstown State. In his lone year at Youngstown State, Kellogg was a member of a coaching staff led by former UMass assistant John Robic that rallied a community around Penguin basketball. Youngstown State finished fourth in the Mid-Continent Conference regular season standings, despite the absence of leading scorer Elmer Brown for the final seven games of the regular season. Youngstown State signed a freshman class that included three top-100 recruits during Kellogg's tenure.

Kellogg joined the Youngstown State staff after two seasons at George Mason University in Fairfax, Va., where he worked for Jim Larranaga. The Patriots posted a 19-11 record during the 1998-99 season, captured the Colonial Athletic Association regular season and tournament championships and earned an automatic bid to the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

As a four-year letterwinner at Massachusetts from 1992-95, Kellogg played on four Atlantic 10 Conference regular season and tournament championship teams. The Minutemen were just the second team in NCAA history to win four-straight outright season and tournament championships.

During his four-year career at UMass under Calipari, the Minutemen were 111-24, including 51-11 in the Atlantic 10, and advanced to the NCAA Tournament each year, including the Elite Eight in 1995. Kellogg was named the team's captain as a junior and senior, earned Atlantic 10 All-Conference in 1995 and picked up three Atlantic 10 All-Academic honors. Kellogg ranks fifth in assists (453) and seventh in three-pointers (138) as well as seventh in three-point percentage (38.1) all-time at UMass.

Kellogg played his high school basketball at Springfield Cathedral where he was a two-time Massachusetts All-State player and McDonald's All-America Honorable Mention.

Following graduation from UMass, Kellogg pursued professional basketball before he began his coaching career at his alma mater. He was a graduate assistant and part-time radio broadcaster at UMass for the 1996-97 season after he played a season with the Connecticut Skyhawks in the United States Basketball League in 1995.

Kellogg, 42, is a 1995 graduate of the University of Massachusetts with a degree in real estate and finance. In May 2005, he married Nicole Flory, who graduated from UMass in 1997. The couple has one son, Max, while Kellogg's parents, George and Ruth, still reside locally in Belchertown, Mass.
