Head Coach Sam Koch

Career Record: 262-192-51 (.417) - 25 Years

UMass Record: 204-139-36 (.590) - 19 Years

Alma Mater: Colby '79

Hometown: Concord, Mass.

Sam Koch enters his 20th season as the head coach of the UMass men's soccer team as the most successful coaches ever in program history. Under his guidance, the Minutemen have won four regular-season Atlantic 10 titles, two Atlantic 10 Tournament titles, made three NCAA Tournament appearances, and earned a spot in the 2007 NCAA National Semifinals. During his tenure in Amherst, the 25-year head coaching veteran has produced two All-Americans in Jeff Deren (2001-02) and Zack Simmons (2007), three Academic All-Americans, one Academic All-American of the Year, a two-time Atlantic 10 Offensive Player of the Year, an Atlantic 10 Defensive Player of the Year, an Atlantic 10 Midfielder of the Year, two Atlantic 10 Rookies of the year, two Atlantic 10 Tournament MVPs, 25 All-Region selections, 60 All-Atlantic 10 players, 28 Academic All-Atlantic 10 honorees, a two-time Atlantic 10 Scholar-Athlete of the Year, and 23 Atlantic 10 All-Tournament picks.

Not bad for the four-time Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year, who has crafted UMass into one of New England's top programs and has the Minutemen striving for national recognition. Koch has compiled a 204-139-36 (.590) overall record in Amherst, recording 13 winning seasons and four Atlantic 10 regular-season titles. Koch's squads produced five-straight winning seasons from 1999-2003, the most since UMass had six straight from 1969-74.

The highlight of the program under Koch's guidance has been the three NCAA Tournament appearances including the 2007 run that led to the NCAA College Cup. The Minutemen captured the nation's attention after winning the Atlantic 10 Tournament and then upsetting No. 1 seed Boston College in the NCAA Second Round. Koch first cemented himself as one of the great coaches in program history when he guided the Minutemen to the 2001 NCAA Tournament - the first NCAA tournament bid in UMass soccer history. In 2008, UMass again made history gaining the program's first-ever at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament. All-told, the Minutemen are 5-3 in NCAA Tournament games with Koch at the helm.

The true measure of a coach, however, is not always in the wins and losses and the X's and O's, but rather the impact they have on their players lives. Former three-time captain and one of just two Atlantic 10 Tournament MVP's in program history J.R. Pouncey echoed that sentiment.

"Playing for Coach Koch and the UMass men's soccer team was the greatest experience of my life. Coach Koch is a great person and a great coach and it was an honor and privilege to play for him. I thank him for shaping me into the individual I am today. Getting an education and playing soccer at UMass was the greatest time of my life and I am grateful for the four years I had."

Over the past 10 seasons, Koch's teams have posted a stellar 121-82-7 (.601) record, including a remarkable 65-35-10 (.651) conference mark. The Minutemen have been nearly unbeatable at home during that span, recording a 67-25-9 (.728) mark in Amherst.

The winningest men's soccer coach in UMass history with 204 total victories, Koch passed legendary coach Lawrence Briggs with his 124th win, a 3-2 victory over Towson in the opening game of the 2002 Navy Classic. He then picked up his 200th career win on Oct. 3, 2003, with a 3-0 victory over George Washington. The 2004 match at George Washington was also a historical moment for Koch as he notched his 150th win at UMass. George Washington gave Koch his 250th career win on Oct. 26, 2008 which earned him a congratulations card from former UMass basketball coach and current Kentucky bench boss John Calipari.

Koch's teams have recorded 13 10-win seasons under his guidance, while the program had only managed that feat three times in the school's history prior to his arrival.

In his 25 seasons as a head coach at UMass and Stanford, Koch sports a 262-192-51 (.570) mark, averaging more than 10 wins per season. Entering the 2008 season, he ranks 21st on the NCAA active coaches victory chart.

Koch surpassed the 200-win barrier with a 3-0 blanking of George Washington on Oct. 3, 2003, and picked up No. 225 on Sept. 10, 2006, with a 1-0 overtime win against St. Bonaventure.

For his success at UMass, Koch has four times been named the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year, claiming the honor first in 1992 when he also picked up New England Coach of the Year accolades. Koch again took the conference's top coaching honor in 1994 after leading the Minutemen to their first-ever Atlantic 10 regular-season title, and then again in 2002 and 2008. In 2007 and 2008, he was a finalist for the NSCAA/adidas National Coach of the Year after leading UMass to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances for the first time in program history.

He has guided UMass to 11 appearances in the A-10 post-season tournament, including six trips to the championship game (1992, 1994, 1995, 2001, 2007, 2008), and a pair of tournament titles in 2001 and 2007.

Koch's philosophy of teamwork and putting the good of the team over individual recognition has served his squads well over his career. In 24 seasons as a head coach, his teams have just once had consecutive losing seasons and have won 10 or more games on 14 occasions.

In his time at UMass, Koch has had several memorable seasons.

The most memorable has been one of the most recent. Not only was the 2007 edition one of the most memorable in program history, but arguably in the entire history of the UMass athletics program.

Celebrating their 75th anniversary, the Minutemen overcame a tough 2-4 start to the season to win the Atlantic 10 Tournament and march through the NCAA Tournament all the way to the National Semifinals. The team made national headlines for it's amazing run.

UMass set a school record with 17 wins after earning an NCAA Tournament bid for just the second time in school history. To the surprise of Koch and his squad UMass was chosen to host the first round of the NCAA Tournament at Rudd Field. After defeating Boston University in the first round, UMass dispatched No. 1 Seed Boston College in Newton setting the stage for magic. Thousands packed Rudd Field to see UMass get wins over Central Connecticut and Illinois-Chicago en route to a first-ever College Cup berth.

For his efforts Koch was named an NSCAA Coach of the Year Finalist, while goalkeeper Zack Simmons was named a Third-Team All-American and UMBRO/Soccer News Net National Player of the Year. In the final poll of the season, UMass was ranked No. 4 in the nation - its highest ever ranking.

No longer a team to be overlooked, 2008 started similarly to 2007 with the Minutemen going 2-6-1 in non-conference play. Koch rallied the team after a loss to Rhode Island to start A-10 play and the Minutemen responded going 7-0-1 to win the league's regular-season title. Included in that stretch was a win over No. 10 Saint Louis and a defensive stand which allowed just four goals in eight games. In the A-10 Tournament, UMass defeated No. 17 Saint Louis again before falling in a tightly contested championship game to Dayton. For the first-time ever, UMass received an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament and was picked to host a first-round game. Nationally-ranked Harvard and UMass stood toe-to-toe, but it was the Crimson who advanced on a golden-goal in double overtime.

The Minutemen had a tremendous start to the 2006 season going 6-0-1 - the second-best start in school history - to earn a No. 22 national ranking. UMass hit a tough mid-season slump and were not able to recover, but did make a bit of history by pitching a school-record 10 shutouts and allowing just 19 goals.

In 2003, UMass stormed out of the gates with a remarkable 7-2-1 mark after 10 contests and the highest ranking in school history at No. 13.

The 2002 season started slowly, but the Minutemen hit their stride, winning their second A-10 regular-season title in three years, and sporting a school-record 12-game unbeaten streak in the process. UMass' 8-1-2 conference record was its best in school history. The Minutemen finished 12-6-2, their fourth straight season of 12-plus wins under Koch, which earned him A-10 Coach of the Year for the third time in his 12 years at the helm. That squad set a new single-season mark for goals scored with 55.

In 2001, Koch led the Minutemen to their first-ever NCAA Tournament berth after claiming the school's first Atlantic 10 Tournament title. For his accomplishments, Koch was honored by his peers as the 2001 NSCAA New England Coach of the Year.

The 2000 year brought Koch his second A-10 regular-season title with a 12-6 mark.

In 1999, Koch brought his program back from a 4-12-2 year in 1998 to an impressive 13-7 season and a spot in the A-10 Tournament for the fifth time in only his ninth season.

In 1996, the Minutemen collected eight shutout victories and allowed the fewest goals (17) since 1979.

The 1995 Minutemen, coming off the 1994 A-10 regular-season championship, tied a school record with 15 wins thanks to an explosive offensive attack that set a then-school record with 54 goals scored. All this despite losing one of the school's all-time leading scorers and not having a proven replacement to fill his shoes in what some had previously dubbed a "rebuilding year."

Before coming to UMass, Koch was the head coach at Stanford University from 1984-89. While in Palo Alto, he compiled a record of 58-53-16 (.520). In 1987, he was named Pacific Soccer Conference Coach of the Year by his peers.

Prior to his six seasons at Stanford, Koch was an assistant coach at Brown University and Boston College, as well as a staff instructor at the U.S. Soccer School. Since 1985, he has been a member of the Western Region Olympic Development coaching staff. Koch holds the United States Soccer Federation "A" License and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America Advanced National Diploma.

Koch was a four-year soccer letterwinner at Colby College where he earned a B.S. in History and Environmental Science in 1979.

Coaching Staff

ROY FINK

Assistant Coach • 3rd Season

University of Tampa '03

Roy Fink enters his third season as assistant coach after joining the Minutemen in August 2008. His primary duties include all aspects of player development, recruiting, coordinating the Massachusetts Soccer Academy, and day-to-day operations.

This is Fink's second collegiate coaching position after serving as assistant coach for his alma mater from 2003-04. He has a wealth of coaching experience outside the collegiate realm most notably as the Assistant Coach/Goalkeeper Trainer for the Colorado Rapids U-23 team, as the Director of Coaching and Club Trainer for the Strictly Soccer Futbol Club (Tampa), and as the Club Coach for the Tampa Knights (RSL Florida).

The Israeli native had an outstanding collegiate career at the University of Tampa where he was the 2001 NSCAA Division II National Player of the Year after leading the Spartans to the National Championship Title. A two-time NSCAA All-America selection (2000, 2001), Fink still ranks third overall in career goal scoring at Tampa and ranks seventh all-time for career goals by a player in the Sunshine State Conference.

In conference play, Fink was a four-time all-league selection earning Player of the Year honors in 2001 and Rookie of the Year honors in 2000. He was also a four-time NSCAA All-South Region honoree and was named to the 2003 Verizon Academic All-District Second Team. From his sophomore to his senior seasons, he served as team captain.

Along with his collegiate playing experience, Fink also spent three seasons in the PDL for the Cape Cod Crusaders (2001) and the Boulder Rapids (2002, 2003).

Fink currently has his USSF "A" National Coaching License (2009); the NSCAA National, Advanced National Coaching Diploma (2007, 2008), and a NSCAA State Goalkeeping Diploma (Level I) (2007). He also holds Level I (2008) certificates from the English Football Association for Fitness in Football and Psychology for Football. In 2006, Fink completed his MBA from the University of Tampa.

Prior to coming to America, Fink served three years in the Israel Armed Forces where he was a Sergeant. He also was a starter for the Israel Under-16/18 National Team and played 150 games in the Israeli Premiership and Division One leagues.

WALKER BOYD

Assistant Coach • 3rd Season

Frostburg State '00

Walker Boyd enters his third year as an assistant coach for UMass working primarily with the goalkeepers. In addition to his duties coaching the keepers, Boyd assists with recruiting, scouting, and organization of fundraising events and the Massachusetts Soccer Academy.

A 2000 graduate of Frostburg State, Boyd was a First Team All-AMCC keeper with a 48-12-2 record and a 0.89 goals against average. He helped Frostburg State to three ECAC Championship appearances during his career.

At the collegiate level, Boyd has also coached at Dartmouth (2006-08) and Lynchburg College (2004-06) where he was also an assistant coach working with the goalkeepers for the women's soccer teams. While working on his masters in education from 2002-04, Boyd was heavily involved with both the men's and women's soccer programs at Elmira College. There he served as the interim men's soccer coach from 2003-04 after working as the goalkeeper coach for both programs the previous year. Additionally, he was the head coach of the JV team for both years and served as the Intramural Director for the athletic department.

Boyd also has experience coaching at the Club and Olympic Development Program (ODP) levels. He worked with the Virginia ODP for four years serving as the Western District 90 Boys Head Coach from 2005-06.

Boyd holds his NSCAA Advanced National Diploma and the NSCAA Advanced Regional Goalkeeper Diploma.

TONY BASSETT

Vol. Assistant Coach • 2nd Season

Massachusetts '09

Tony Bassett enters his second year as an assistant coach for UMass working primarily with scouting, recruiting, match analysis, as well as day-to-day operations of the program.

As a player, Bassett played 4 years at UMass for Coach Koch, from 2005-2008. A very technically gifted attacking central midfielder for his first three seasons with the Minutemen, Bassett was switched to a left back position for his senior year.

Starting all 19 games his sophomore year, he helped lead his team to a #22 National Ranking. In his junior year, Bassett helped the Minutemen finish with a #4 overall National Ranking and captured the Atlantic 10 Title, followed by a miracle NCAA tournament run all the way to the College Cup in Cary, NC. During his senior year in 2008, he helped the UMass Men's Soccer program receive their first ever at large bid to the NCAA tournament where they hosted Harvard in the First Round.

Bassett also has experience with Coaching at the Club and Olympic Development Program (ODP) levels. In August of 2009, he served as an assistant coach to Trevor Singer (Graduate Assistant Coach at the University of Temple) for the 92 Maine Boys ODP State Team. That team finished first in its group at Regionals in New Jersey and advanced to the semi-finals in Delaware for the first time in state history. In 2004-2005, Bassett helped as an Assistant Coach for Josh Kalkstein's '90 Marin Futbol Club (Marin FC) Boys team in Northern California. He will work with Western United's U-10 Developmental Academy this upcoming year with former UMass graduate and Amherst H.S Soccer Coach, Derek Shea.

In June of 2009, he received his National Diploma from NSCAA. In June of 2010, he received his "C" Coaching License from USSF.

A native of San Francisco, CA, he hopes to one day pursue a coaching career out west.

THOMAS COBURN

Coburn was a soccer star at UMass from 1971-74. He was named an honorable mention NSCAA All-American in 1974. Coburn was a three-time All-Yankee Conference selection (1972-74) and a two-time All-New England pick (1973-74). He left Amherst in 1974 as the program's all-time leading scorer, goal-scorer and assist-maker. Coburn led the Yankee Conference in scoring in 1973 and scored nine more goals as a senior in 1974, earning his All-American accolades. He scored nine points against Boston University in 1973 with four goals and an assist, the second-best one-game performance in program history.

CHARLES LEVERONE

The only athlete in UMass history to earn letters in five different sports: gymnastics, indoor track & field, outdoor track & field, soccer, swimming & diving, competing between 1956 and 1960. Also competed in, but did not letter in cross country, lacrosse and tennis. Joins Hall of Famer Fritz Ellert as the only UMass athletes to earn letters in as many as four sports. Leverone had his career at UMass interrupted to serve in the US Army in the Korean Conflict. At UMass, he won the Lojko Award his senior year (best three-sport athlete at UMass) in 1960. He was a two-time captain of the track & field team. He also captured the NEAAU Trampoline Championship in gymnastics. Since graduation, he has coached Cross Country and Track & Field at the high school and college level for 46 years and been named the Massachusetts State Coach of the Year several times and the Boston Globe Track Coach of the Year in 1995. He is also a member of the Massachusetts Track Coaches Association Hall of Fame. He is a native of Arlington, Mass., and currently lives in Hanson, Mass.

ED McGRATH

McGrath was a three-sport athlete at UMass during the 1940s, playing soccer, basketball and baseball. He was All-American soccer goalkeeper in 1947 and 1948. His career was interrupted by World War II, as he played basketball in 1943, and then again from 1947-49. McGrath also suited up in baseball in 1947 and 1948. He was a three-year starter in basketball, at forward in 1943 and 1947 and then at center in 1948. On the diamond, he was a starting shortstop in 1947. Following his college career, McGrath was invited to the Pam-Am Games in 1950 as a soccer goalkeeper. While in school, he served as vice president of the senior class in 1949, was president of his fraternity and a member of the UMass Senate.

GRANVILLE PRUYNE

The first UMass men's soccer player to be inducted into the Hall of Fame, Pruyne was Massachusetts' first All-American selection in the sport, having earned recognition for his play as a forward for Coach Lawrence Briggs' team in 1932. A member of Massachusetts' first three soccer teams in 1930, 1931 and 1932, Pruyne helped the Aggies to an 11-5-1 record. He was also a two-year letterwinner in track (1932 and 1933), captaining the UMass team in 1933. Pruyne was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 2003.

RAYMOND YANDO

Inducted into the UMass Hall of Fame in 2006, Yando was a two-time All-America in soccer, receiving the honors in 1964 and 1965. As a defender Yando was part of a stingy defensive unit to tally seven shutouts. A two-time captain, Yando was named All-New England and All-Yankee Conference twice. As a junior, he was a second-team All-America and he followed that up by earning a spot on the first-team as a senior, helping lead UMass to the Yankee Conference championship. UMass allowed just 16 goals in 10 games in 1964 and 13 goals in 10 games in 1965. Those two goals allowed totals are ninth and fourth best in school history.
