AMSOIL ARENA

The night of Dec. 30, 2010, was truly a defining moment for the University of Minnesota Duluth men's hockey program. With one drop of the puck on that particular evening, the Bulldogs went from playing in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association's oldest facility to the newest rink in the nation -- not to mention one of the best!

Construction of the 6,756-seat AMSOIL Arena, which is just a few hundred yards away from the venerable Duluth Entertainment and Convention Center arena, UMD's former home since the 1966-67 season, began in April 2009. In all, the $80 million facility was a true collaborative effort, with the State of Minnesota funding half of the cost through general obligation bonds, the City of Duluth providing 27 percent of the cost through a voter-approved food and beverage tax, UMD funding 12 percent and the DECC funding the remaining 11 percent.

At first glance, AMSOIL Arena brings to mind a striking contrast with other top-notch National Collegiate Hockey Conference/Western Collegiate Hockey Association rinks and some familiar similarities to the old DECC. Set foot inside NCHC rinks like Ralph Engelstad Arena (the University of North Dakota), and one is immediately struck by their sheer vast size. By contrast, a step onto the ice surface at AMSOIL Arena causes many to notice that despite having more than 1,600 additional seats, it's as intimate as the "old" DECC, with the lower bowl of seats hugging the ice surface and the upper level seats hanging seemingly right over the ice. Truly, there's not a bad seat in the house.

While the DECC was known as a great place to watch a game, the level of fan comfort is taken to new heights inside AMSOIL Arena. From simple things like seat width and leg room to necessities like additional restroom facilities, fan comfort and convenience are the hallmarks of the Bulldogs' new digs. Designers took cues from other successful and popular sports facilities and incorporated fan-friendly touches like an open concourse around much of the lower seating bowl, meaning that a trip to one of the numerous concession stands will not mean missing any of the on-ice action. And, if they do, there is a $1 million, 8' x 14' matrix scoreboard hung above center ice, which provides in-game replays, videos, and graphics in 10-millimeter LED display.

AMSOIL Arena, which hosted the NCAA Women's Frozen Four in 2012, is also equipped with something the DECC never had -- private suites, some 15 in all. In addition, the Champions Lodge, located on the main level adjacent to one of the college hockey's finest and most spacious press boxes, serves as a gathering space for UMD athletic donors, alumni and supporters. At the other end of the hallway is the Hall of Fame Suite, which holds up to 34 people and contains plaques of the 30-plus Bulldog men and women hockey alums and coaches who are members of the UMD Athletic Hall of Fame. Outside, a new skywalk link connects the extended parking ramp to AMSOIL Arena, leading spectators into what is known as the “Ice Cube”. With soft mood lighting and an aquatic -themed terrazzo floor, the second-level commons area evokes images of Lake Superior. Traveling from one level to another you can see the downtown skyline in one direction and the Duluth harbor in the other. Although AMSOIL Arena will be used for conventions, concerts (with seating for nearly 9,000) and other sporting events, it’s first and foremost the home of UMD hockey. This is readily apparent by the generous splashes of maroon and gold and the frequent use of the Bulldog logo throughout the facility. A large student bench seat section on the south end of the rink (where UMD attacks twice) should give the Bulldogs that much more of a home-ice advantage.

On the lower level, out of sight for most visitors, but on full display for current and potential future Bulldogs, are some of the real “goodies”. Those include a state-of-the-art hockey offices and facilities, a weight room and athletic training center, player’s lounges, two large hydro therapy pools (one of which features a treadmill in its base) and other amenities that rival any other school in the nation. The hallways throughout the Bulldog locker room areas are covered with historical photos and artwork, conveying the storied history of both the men’s and women’s programs.

And, in a place where abundant natural wonders and respect for the environment have always been a hallmark of life for Minnesotans, AMSOIL Arena was built with an eye toward sustainability, and has received the top Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) accreditation available.

It didn’t take long for the Bulldogs’ new home to attract some big-time national attention. The Wall Street Journal named AMSOIL Arena as one of its 10

“Golden Zamboni” award winners for its uniqueness among the nation’s college hockey venues. AMSOIL Arena was cited by the WSJ because “ ... it oozes local flavor. Bar tops in the fire-placed warmed Bulldog Club Lounge are made from local taconite rock, flecked with red iron; walls are inlaid with Minnesota stone and the decorative panels are made of wood salvaged from old grain elevators. On the (concourse) walls are quotations from a handful of folks, including Duluth’s two biggest local celebrities: frozen-pizza impresario Jenö Paulucci and Bob Dylan.”

MEMORABLE BULLDOG MOMENTS

DECEMBER 10, 1930 Duluth State Teacher's College announces that intercollegiate ice hockey will be added to the institution's varsity sports program.

JANUARY 13, 1931 DSTC bows to Duluth Central High School 3-0 at the Duluth Amphitheater in the club's first varsity hockey game. Subsequently, the fledgling team drops all three of its contests in its inaugural campaign. Head Coach Frank Kovach, who also helped start both the Bulldog intercollegiate football and men's basketball programs that same year, awards 15 varsity letters.

FEBRUARY 27, 1932 DSTC wins its first intercollegiate hockey game with a 3-2 decision over Two Harbors High School at the Duluth Amphitheater.

JUNE 10, 1946 Following a 14-year absence, ice hockey is reinstated as a varsity sport by administrative officials at Duluth State Teacher's College.

FEBRUARY 24, 1949 Goaltender Norm Thompson and the Bulldogs shut out Carleton College 3-0 in Duluth to close out the year with a 7-0-0 overall record for their only unbeaten, untied season in history.

JUNE 27, 1949 After two seasons playing as an independent, UMD is accepted into the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

DECEMBER 13, 1957 UMD dumps visiting Michigan Tech University 5-3 for its first triumph over an NCAA Division I institution.

FEBRUARY 18, 1959 Junior center Orest Wojcichowsky nets 10 points (four goals and six assists) against Concordia College in what would stand as a UMD (pre-NCAA Division I) single-game record. The Bulldogs win the MIAC confrontation 16-0 at the Duluth Curling Club.

FEBRUARY 15, 1961 In its final game as members of the MIAC, UMD blanks Augsburg College 19-0 at the Duluth Curling Club. The victory was the Bulldogs' 56th straight in league play and assured UMD of its sixth consecutive MIAC title.

AUGUST 10, 1961 UMD abandons the MIAC in hopes of establishing itself as a legitimate big-time college hockey school. The University officially elects to compete as a Division I independent and releases a 1961-62 schedule which features engagements against Western Collegiate Hockey Association powers such as the University of Minnesota, Michigan Tech, Michigan State University, and the University of Denver.

DECEMBER 19, 1964 In what was then an NCAA Division I single-game record, senior goaltender Bill Halbrehder makes 77 saves in the Bulldogs' 6-5 overtime loss to the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

MARCH 20, 1965 The 1966 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Tournament and the accompanying American Hockey Coaches Association Convention is awarded to the city of Duluth and its new $6.1 million Arena-Auditorium Complex. But due to construction delays with the facility (it wouldn't officially open until July 1966), the national event is later switched to Williams Arena in Minneapolis. The Duluth Arena, however, would eventually host the NCAA Championships in both 1968 and 1981.

APRIL 3, 1965 UMD Provost Raymond

Darland announces that the Bulldogs will officially become the eighth team in the prestigious WCHA beginning with the 1965-66 season. The Bulldogs join Minnesota, North Dakota, Colorado College, Denver, Michigan Tech, Michigan State and Michigan in the newly-expanded circuit.

FEBRUARY 11, 1966 The Bulldogs end their 14-game winless WCHA streak by clipping North Dakota 3-2 in overtime in Grand Forks, ND, for the school's first league victory.

FEBRUARY 18, 1966 The Bulldogs take to the Duluth Curling Club ice sheet for a final time, falling 8-3 to the University of Michigan. A gathering of just over 2,000 spectators witness the finale.

MARCH 13, 1966 Senior defenseman Bob Hill is among six players selected to 1965-66 AHCA All-American first team -- the first Bulldog to ever earn such a distinction.

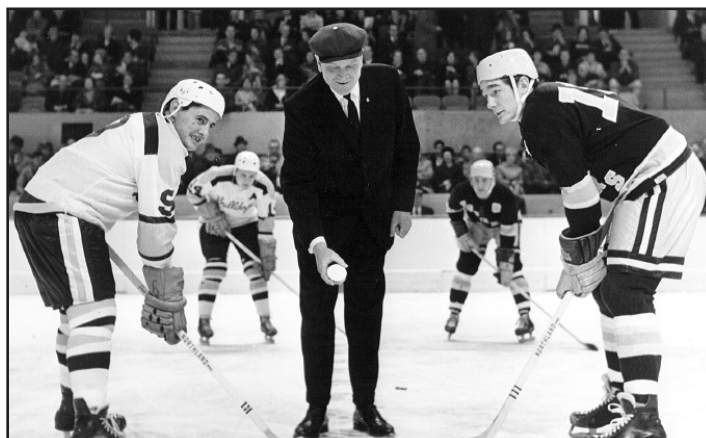

NOVEMBER 19, 1966 In the inaugural game at the newly-constructed Duluth Arena, All-American senior center Keith "Huffer" Christiansen, who later that year would be named the WCHA's Most Valuable Player, collects a school-record six assists to help propel the Bulldogs past Minnesota 8-1 before a sellout crowd of 5,700.

APRIL 4, 1970 Following his debut collegiate season, center Murray Keogan is named an NCAA I All-American (the only UMD newcomer to ever be so honored) and also lands All-WCHA first team and WCHA Rookie of the Year recognition.

MARCH 12, 1971 Center Pat Boutette rams in a rebound for his second goal of the game seven minutes into overtime to give the Bulldogs a 4-3 triumph over Michigan State in the opening round of the WCHA playoffs in Denver, CO. The victory is UMD's first-ever in WCHA post-season play.

DECEMBER 17, 1971 Over a dozen school-single game records fall by the wayside as the Bulldogs paste Minnesota 15-3 in Minneapolis. A pair of All-American centers -- Walt Ledingham and Pat Boutette -- each record hat tricks to lead the scoring onslaught for UMD which struck for nine goals in the second period (including eight in a six-minute span) in the WCHA contest.

NOVEMBER 17, 1972 Buoyed by the five-goal performance of senior Steve "Pokey" Trachsel, UMD opens play at the Christmas City of the North Tournament in Duluth with an 11-4 rout of Lake Superior State University. Trachsel, who had been deployed at defense during his first three collegiate seasons before moving up to wing in 1972-73, sets a club mark (one that still stands) with the five scores and equals another team record by adding one assist for a six-point evening. Despite the record-breaking outing, Trachsel was overlooked by the selection committee for a spot on the All-Tournament first team.

JANUARY 13, 1973 In what arguably ranks as the greatest UMD comeback of all time, the Bulldogs rally from a 6-2 deficit with just 5:21 remaining in regulation to edge Michigan Tech 7-6 in overtime at the Duluth Arena. Bulldog junior center Pat Boutette scores three straight goals (a natural hat trick) in a span of 2:37 during the comeback effort before rookie right winger Tom Milani notches the game-winner 3:02 (on an assist from Boutette) into the extra session.

FEBRUARY 23, 1974 UMD sets a single-game attendance record at the Duluth Arena as 6,158 spectators watch Michigan Tech shade the Bulldogs 5-3.

MARCH 16, 1974 The host Bulldogs upend the University of Vermont 7-4 to capture the short-lived (it lasted just one year) National Invitational Hockey Tournament, a four-team event patterned after college basketball's NIT, for clubs which didn't qualify for NCAA post-season play.

OCTOBER 24, 1975 In his first collegiate game with the Bulldogs, freshman right winger John "Bah" Harrington raps in a centering pass from Ernie Powell past goaltender Blane Comstock 4:04 into overtime to give host UMD a 4-3 win over the United States Olympic Team.

DECEMBER 16, 1977 Just 13 days after equalling a UMD record for points in one game (six), junior All-American defenseman Curt Giles ties a club single-game mark for assists when he sets up six goals to spark the Bulldogs to a 7-6 victory at Colorado College.

DECEMBER 29, 1977 Wearing Eveleth High School Golden Bear uniforms because their new home jerseys had yet to arrive, the Bulldogs upend Brown University 4-1. Four different UMD skaters score in the victory, including junior center and Eveleth native

Mark Pavelich.

NOVEMBER 3, 1978 Down 4-0 with just over 7:30 to play in regulation, the Bulldogs stage, what the Duluth News-Tribune describes as a "Miracle Rally" by defeating visiting North Dakota 5-4 in overtime. Junior center and future All-American Mark Pavelich scores two of the Bulldogs' four third period goals, including the equalizer with 0:02 on the clock and Dan Lempe's goal at the 5:43 mark of overtime caps the comeback win.

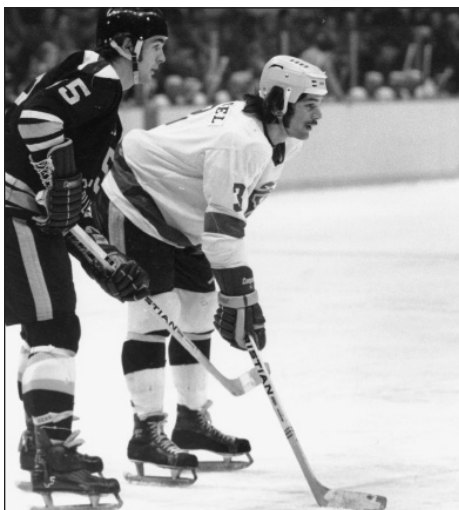

January 29, 1979. Two days following a 10-6 thumping of Wisconsin at the DECC and extending its unbeaten streak to 13 games (11-0-2), UMD emerges as the No. 1 team in the WMPL-Radio Coaches Poll. It marks the first time in team history that UMD is tabbed as nation's top dog in any poll.

MARCH 7, 1979 Despite losing 4-2 (in overtime) to Denver, the Bulldogs still managed to win their two-game, total-goal WCHA quarterfinal playoff series with the Pioneers 7-6 at the Duluth Arena to advance to the second round of the league's post-season tournament for the first time. UMD, which sported a pair of All-Americans in Curt Giles and Mark Pavelich, placed third in the final WCHA standings -- its inaugural finish in the league's upper division.

MARCH 8, 1980 In his 146th, and final, outing in a Bulldog sweater - a 7-6 WCHA playoff setback at Colorado College -- senior center Dan Lempe tallies once to finish as UMD's all-time scoring leader with 222 points on 79 goals and 143 assists.

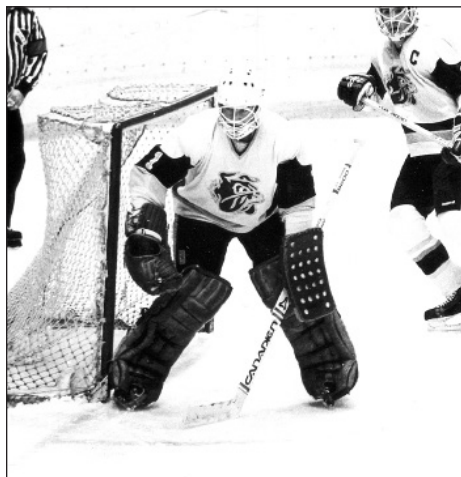

MARCH 19, 1983 After bowing to Providence College 7-3 the previous night, UMD succumbs 3-2 to the host Friars in its first showing in an NCAA playoff series. It turns out to be the final collegiate outing for sophomore puckstopping sensation Bob Mason, the WCHA Most Valuable Player Award recipient who would go on to tend goal for the U.S. at the 1984 Winter Olympics.

FEBRUARY 17, 1984 Sparked by senior left winger Bob Lakso's hat trick, UMD upends Wisconsin 4-2 at the Duluth Arena to secure its first WCHA title. The Bulldogs had dedicated the season to athletic director Ralph Romano, who died of a heart attack while watching a UMD-Denver game at the Duluth Arena three months earlier.

Dakota 8-1 before a near-capacity crowd of 7,297 in the first of a two-game WCHA playoff championship series. UMD goes on to defeat the Fighting Sioux, 12-6, in the total-goal set, becoming just the second team ever to claim league regular season and playoff titles in the same season.

MARCH 22, 1984 One week after derailing visiting Clarkson for their first NCAA playoff series win ever, the Bulldogs beat North Dakota in the semifinals of the NCAA Championships in Lake Placid, N.Y. The thrilling 2-1 overtime victory is sealed when sophomore All-American right winger Bill Watson scores off a Bob Lakso feed in front of the net at the 3:09 mark of the first extra session.

MARCH 23, 1984 Senior defenseman Tom Kurvers, who was chosen the WCHA's Most Valuable Player earlier in the month, becomes the first Bulldog to win the Hobey Baker Memorial Award, which recognizes the most outstanding player in college hockey.

MARCH 24, 1984 Making its inaugural appearance in the finals of the NCAA Championships, UMD falls 5-4 in four overtimes to Bowling Green in Lake Placid, NY. The 97-minute, 11-second game was, at the time, the longest in NCAA post-season history. Bulldog freshman goaltender Rick Kosti turns back a tournament-record 55 shots in the setback.

DECEMBER 22, 1984 UMD concludes its six-day tour of the Soviet Union, thus becoming the first American collegiate ice hockey team to ever visit that country. The Bulldogs split a two-game exhibition series with the Junior Red Army in Leningrad and in Moscow during their historic voyage.

FEBRUARY 16, 1985 The Bulldogs, behind a pair of goals from junior right winger Bill Watson, claim their second straight WCHA regular season crown by skating past Michigan Tech 4-3 at the Duluth Arena.

MARCH 25, 1985 Third-year Head Coach Mike Sertich is selected the WCHA's Coach of the Year for an unprecedented third season in a row.

MARCH 29, 1985 One day before he was to record his 109th point of the season (which, at the time, was an NCAA Division I record), junior right winger Bill Watson is bestowed with the Hobey Baker Memorial Award. Watson, who had earlier been named the WCHA's Most Valuable Player after leading that circuit in scoring for a second straight season, becomes the second Bulldog in as many years to receive the award.

MARCH 30, 1985 After losing a heartbreaking 5-4 triple-overtime decision the previous evening to eventual NCAA champion RPI., UMD rebounds with a 6-5 triumph in one overtime against Boston College to capture third place at the NCAA National Championships at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit.

Brett Hull

Brett Hull beats Northern Michigan netminder Dennis Jiannaris at the 15:38 mark of the third period in the Bulldogs' WCHA quarterfinal playoff series with the Wildcats at the Duluth Arena for his 50th goal of the year (and fourth of the night). That eclipsed the previous Bulldog single-season record of 49 set three years earlier by Bill Watson. The All-WCHA right wing would go on to finish the year with 52 goals.

JANUARY 30, 1988 In a special in pre-game ceremony at the DECC (Duluth Arena), the UMD Department of Intercollegiate Athletics officially retires Keith “Huffer” Christiansen's familiar No. 9 jersey, marking the first time the school has bestowed any of its athletes with that honor.

FEBRUARY 25, 1989 Junior Dale Jago scores one goal and assists on another in a 6-3 WCHA playoff loss to Northern Michigan in Marquette. In the process, Jago finishes first among his teammates in scoring and thus becomes the first full-time Bulldog defenseman to ever do so.

NOVEMBER 4, 1989 The Bulldogs equal their best start ever (8-0-0) by pounding Alaska Anchorage 7-1 at the DECC en route to receiving the No. 1 ranking in the WMPL-Radio national college hockey poll.

MARCH 3, 1991 All-American junior goaltender Chad Erickson establishes a then-team record when he makes his 64th consecutive start in the Bulldogs' WCHA playoff series finale at Wisconsin. The 5-2 UMD setback marks his final outing with the Bulldogs as he later that month signed on with the National Hockey League's New Jersey Devils.

FEBRUARY 27, 1993 The Bulldogs skate off with their third WCHA title by blanking visiting St. Cloud State 4-0 for their first shutout in 283 games. Junior left wing Chris Marinucci contributes two goals in the triumph while rookie netminder Taras Lendzyk turns aside all 18 Husky shots in recording his initial collegiate whitewash.

MARCH 13, 1993 With a 4-0 victory and another Taras Lendzyk shutout, UMD sweeps Alaska Anchorage in the first round of the WCHA playoffs at the DECC and concludes the year with a 17-1-0 home record for a .944 winning percentage -- the best single-season mark in school history.

MARCH 19, 1993 The Bulldogs steal the show at the annual WCHA Awards Banquet as senior center Derek Plante lands the league's Player of the Year honor and fellow All-WCHA first team pick Brett Hauer, a senior defenseman, is named the Student-Athlete of the Year (a Bulldog first). Mike Sertich also becomes only the second individual to ever be chosen the WCHA's Coach of the Year on four occasions.

APRIL 1, 1994 WCHA Player of the Year Chris Marinucci, who scored more points than any other collegian during the past two seasons, closes his UMD puck career by claiming the 1994 Hobey Baker Memorial Award.

FEBRUARY 23, 1996 In what is believed to be a college hockey first, rookie wing Forrest "Woody" Glines scores his only collegiate goal on a penalty shot in a 5-1 home victory over Northern Michigan.

MARCH 15, 1998 Basically left for dead and down 4-0 with less than 14 minutes remaining in regulation, the Bulldogs rally to defeat the University of Minnesota 5-4 in the third and deciding game of their best-of-three WCHA playoff series at the DECC. Five different Bulldogs score in the victory, including senior Mike Peluso whose goal 10:49 into the extra session caps the comeback and gives UMD its first-ever overtime win over the Gophers.

MARCH 19, 1998 After injuring his ankle in the previous day's practice, senior workhorse Brant Nicklin is scratched from the lineup for the WCHA Final Five opener with St. Cloud State and thus ends a string of 76 straight starts in goal (a streak unmatched until the 2008-09 season by any NCAA netminder).

APRIL 18, 2000 One month after receiving the WCHA's Student-Athlete of the Year Award, senior center Jeff Scissons is named a GTE Academic All-American (first team) -- the first UMD athlete to ever be so honored. Scissons, who never missed a game (153 outings, which at the time was an NCAA record and remains the top ironman mark in team history) during his four years at UMD, went on to graduate later that spring with a 3.91 cumulative grade point average while majoring in finance.

MARCH 22, 2003 UMD gets goals from six different players in a 6-4 victory over Minnesota State University-Mankato to capture third place at the WCHA Final Five tournament at St. Paul's Excel Energy Center. Although he's held pointless that afternoon, center Tim Stapleton still finishes first among Bulldogs in scoring, becoming only the third freshman (NCAA I era) ever, and first in 26 years, to do so. UMD concludes the year as one of college hockey's hottest clubs, going unbeaten in 12 of its last 16 outings.

FEBRUARY 21, 2004 Junior left winger Marco Peluso scores three times (all on the power play, matching a UMD single-game mark) for his first collegiate hat trick, and, in the process, sparks the Bulldogs to a 5-3 WCHA triumph over host Colorado College. The victory extends UMD's unbeaten streak to a school-record 14 games.

MARCH 18, 2004 UMD's prodigious regular season does not go unnoticed as two of the WCHA's major honors are bestowed on Bulldogs at the league's Awards Banquet. Senior wing Junior Lessard is chosen the WCHA's Player of the Year -- the seventh Bulldog to be so recognized -- after topping that circuit in both scoring and goals while Scott Sandelin lands the WCHA Coach of the Year Award after he directed UMD to its highest league finish (second place) in 11 years. Sandelin would go on to also lay claim to the Spencer Penrose Award as the NCAA I Coach of the Year, joining Mike Sertich (1983-84) as the only two Bulldog bosses to win that particular piece of hardware.

MARCH 28, 2004 In the first NCAA playoff meeting ever between the two archrivals, the Bulldogs ambush two-time defending national champion Minnesota 3-1 to seize the NCAA Midwest Regional title in Grand Rapids, Mich.

As far as the Bulldogs are concerned, victories over the University of Minnesota are always sweet, but none perhaps any sweeter than the one they hung on their long-time arch rivals (a 3-1 decision) in the 2004 Midwest Regional title game.

Forwards Evan Schwabe, Luke Stauffacher and Jesse Unklesbay each collect a goal in the victory -- UMD's fifth in six tries against the Gophers that winter -- and junior goaltender Isaac Reichmuth turns aside 22 of 23 shots en route to being tabbed the tournament's Most Outstanding Player.

APRIL 8, 2004 For the first time in over a year, UMD fails to hold on to a lead heading into the third period and drops a heartbreaking 5-3 decision to the University of Denver in the semifinal round of the Frozen Four in Boston, Mass. In his collegiate swan song, senior Junior Lessard scores twice for the Bulldogs, who possessed a 3-1 advantage at the second intermission before surrendering four answered goals in the final 18 minutes of play. UMD came into the tourney boasting a 25-0-1 record in games in which it led after two periods that winter.

APRIL 9, 2004 Junior Lessard puts the exclamation point on a marvelous senior season by being presented with the Hobey Baker Memorial Award -- the fourth Bulldog to win college hockey's most coveted individual prize. The first Quebec native to ever lace up a pair of skates at UMD, Lessard paced the country in scoring (63 points), goals (32) and power play tallies (14) from his right wing post and was selected to the NCAA All-American first team as well as the national Player of the Year by both insidecollegiatehockey.com and USCHO.com.

OCT. 25, 2004 UMD finds itself occupying the No. 1 spot in a national men's hockey poll -- a place it hadn't been since November 1989 -- as both the folks from uscho.com/CSTV and USA Today/USA Hockey Magazine tab the 5-0-1 Bulldogs as their top dog. Three weeks earlier, UMD was voted as the WCHA favorite by league coaches in the 34th annual Grand Forks Herald preseason poll -- a first for the Bulldog program.

FEBRUARY 3, 2006 Nearly two decades after he last dazzled college hockey fans with his goal-scoring wizardry, Brett Hull returns to his old hockey stomping grounds -- the DECC -- to have his jersey number (29) retired during the Bulldogs' WCHA clash with Wisconsin. Hull, who still owns a number of UMD scoring records, hung up his National Hockey League skates earlier that year as its third all-time leading goal producer behind icons Wayne Gretzky and Gordie Howe. He joins fellow puckster Keith "Huffer" Christiansen as the only two UMD male athletes to ever be so honored.

MARCH 21, 2009 UMD becomes the first play-in game participant to capture the WCHA Final Five title in the 17-year history of that event by blanking the University of Denver 4-0. The WCHA playoff crown is the Bulldogs' third ever, but first since 1984-85. Junior goaltender Alex Stalock is named the Final Five's Most Valuable Player after stopping 90 of 91 shots in the three games and posting back to back shut outs -- a UMD program first.

MARCH 27, 2009 In what became known as the "Miracle at Mariucci" the Bulldogs score twice in the final 40 second of regulation and go on to nip Princeton University 5-4 in overtime in the NCAA West Region semifinals. Trailing 4-2, goals by UMD rookie center Jack Connolly and sophomore defenseman Evan Oberg (with just .8 seconds to play) send the game into overtime before freshman left winger Mike Connolly puts an end to the evening by scoring on the power play at 13:39 of the extra session. A partisan UMD crowd of 7,187 at Minnesota's Mariucci Arena are on hand to witness perhaps the most astonishing comeback in Bulldog history.

MARCH 28, 2009 The longest post-season winning streak in UMD's 65-year history

UMD skated off with 2009 WCHA Final Five championship by rolling up three victories in as many days -- the first club to ever win the event that way.

comes to an end as the Bulldogs fall 2-1 to the Miami University in the NCAA West Region championship. The Bulldogs, who defeated five straight Top 15 clubs during that stretch in Colorado College (twice), the University of Minnesota, the University of North Dakota, the University of Denver and Princeton University, conclude the year ranked eighth in both major national polls. The loss is the collegiate finale for All-American junior goaltender Alex Stalock, who set UMD single-season marks for both goals against average (2.13) and saves percentage (.924) and became just the second Bulldog ever -- and first since Rick Kosti in 1984-85 -- to hold the title as the WCHA's goals against average leader.

APRIL 13, 2009 Groundbreaking begins on UMD's new $80 million, 6,764-seat hockey home, which is scheduled for completion in 20 months. The state-of-the-art facility, located just a few hundred feet from the DECC will employ over 300 workers during its construction.

DECEMBER 4, 2010 After 44 years and nearly 900 games, UMD (adorned in its classic 1966-era throwback jerseys) farewell to the DECC -- and do so in style -- by turning back the University of Denver 2-1. The introduction of the 20-member All-DECC Team is among the highlights of the historic night, which is capped off with an emotional post-game ceremony featuring some 100-plus past and present Bulldogs.

DECEMBER 30, 2010 A capacity crowd of 6,764 -- the largest gathering to ever to take in a UMD home game -- watches North Dakota blank the Bulldogs 5-0 and spoil AMSOIL Arena's long-anticipated grand opening party. The Sioux, who blew the game open by scoring three times in a span of 74 seconds late in the second period, become the first team to hold UMD scoreless in Duluth since March 21, 2008.

MARCH 26, 2011 In a battle of Bulldogs, UMD outlasts No. 1 ranked Yale University 5-3 in the NCAA East Regional final to punch its ticket to the program's fourth Frozen Four. UMD gets four goals from its specialty teams in the victory, which is played in Yale's backyard at Webster Bank Arena in Bridgeport, Conn. UMD junior goaltender Kenny Reiter, who posted his sixth career shutout in a 2-0 triumph over high-scoring Union College the previous evening, stops 62 of 65 shots during the weekend en route to being named the East Regional's Most Valuable Player.

APRIL 7, 2011 Four different Bulldogs score goals and rookie defenseman Justin Faulk and senior right winger Justin Fontaine each add three assists to propel UMD past the University of Notre Dame 4-3 in the NCAA Frozen Four semifinals. The Bulldogs, playing before a somewhat hometown crowd of 19,139 at Xcel Energy Center in St. Paul, go 3-for-6 on the power play and stymie the Fighting Irish on all five of their man advantage opportunities.

Jack Connolly and the 2010-11 Bulldogs celebrated their 50th year of Division I hockey in the best way possible -- by capturing the programs first national title.

APRIL 8, 2011 Junior center Jack Connolly, who earlier in the spring was chosen a Top 10 Finalist for the Hobey Baker Memorial Award, is named to the All-American first team while his linemate, junior right winger Mike Connolly, attains second team acclaim. Jack Connolly becomes just the sixth Bulldog ever -- and first in 25 years -- to receive All-American honors on more than one occasion.

APRIL 9, 2011 One day after being bestowed with the Derek Hines Unsung Hero Award, Kyle Schmidt is anything but unsung in the NCAA Frozen Four championship. The senior left winger scores 3:22 into overtime, propelling UMD to a 3-2 victory over the the University of Michigan, and, after a 67-year wait, give the Bulldogs their first national title. Junior defenseman Brady Lamb assists on three of the four UMD goals, including Schmidt's game-winner, and junior center Travis Oleksuk turns in a two-point night for the Bulldogs, who were appearing in their second title game ever (the other coming 27 years ago). Rookie right winger J.T. Brown is chosen the Frozen Four's Most Valuable Player and joins Schmidt and freshman defenseman Justin Faulk on the All-Tournament Team.

OCT. 21, 2011 The Bulldogs get a pair of goals from senior center Travis Oleksuk and turn back Providence College 5-2 at AMSOIL

Arena. It marks the start of a school-record 17-game unbeaten streak (14-0-3), which runs nearly three months until a 5-2 setback at the University of Nebraska Omaha on Jan. 14. From Dec. 5 to Jan. 30 -- a program best seven weeks, UMD also resides atop both the USCHO.com and USA Today/USA Hockey Magazine polls past seven weeks. a Bulldog club has ever have occupied the No. 1 spot in any national poll (they enjoyed three-week runs as the nation's top dog in 2010-11 and in 1985-86)

JAN. 20, 2012 For the seventh straight week, UMD finds itself residing atop both the USCHO.com and USA Today/USA Hockey Magazine polls. It's the longest stretch a Bulldog club has ever have occupied the No. 1 spot in any national rankings (they enjoyed three-week runs as the country's top dog in 2010-11 and in 1985-86).

APRIL 6, 2012 Jack Connolly is named the recipient of the 2011-12 Hobey Baker Memorial Award, capping off the most decorated career ever turned in by a UMD puckster. The three-time All-American center from Duluth, who never missed a game in his four years at UMD. Connolly's portfolio for 2011-12 also included selections as the Lowe Senior CLASS Award (a UMD first), the USA Hockey College Player of the Year Award, the Premier Player of College Hockey Award, the WCHA Player of the Year Award, and the uscho.com Player of the Year Award.

MARCH 9, 2013 In UMD's farewell regular WCHA regular season appearance, senior goaltender Aaron Crandall turns aside all 32 shots the University of Nebraska-Omaha sends his way and junior right winger Joe Basaraba scores twice in a 6-0 triumph over the Mavericks at AMSOIL Arena. After a 43-year run in the WCHA, the Bulldogs will join the upstart National Collegiate Hockey Conference beginning with the 2013-14 season.

OCTOBER 24, 2014 Bill Watson becomes the third Bulldog to have his jersey retired (No. 14), joining former teammate Brett Hull and Keith "Huffer" Christiansen in that exclusive club. Watson, who owns the distinction of being the only individual to play and coach in a NCAA Frozen Four championship game with the Bulldogs, won the Hobey Baker Memorial Award in his third, and final season at UMD in 1984-85.

OCT. 31, 2014 Rookie UMD goaltender Kasimir Kaskisuo makes a save for the ages -- a behind-the-back glove stop that robbed Miami's Cody Murphy of a goal at AMSOIL Arena. It is an instant hit on youtube, attracting over 650,000 hits

OCT. 17, 2015 The largest crowd in AMSOIL Arena history (7,569) watch the Bulldogs complete a home-and-home sweep of arch-rival Minnesota with a 3-0 victory as netminder Kasimir Kaskisuo turns aside all 21 shots the No. 15 Gophers send his way. With the triumph, UMD runs its winning streak over Minnesota to a program-best six games.

OCT. 30, 2015 The No. 1 jersey of Glenn "Chico" Resch, a charter member of the UMD Athletic Hall of Fame and 13-year NHL veteran, is retired in a pre-game ceremony at AMSOIL Arena. Resch was the first ex-Bulldog to appear in an NHL All-Star Game, doing so in 1976, 1977 and 1983 and patrolled the crease for 1979-80 Stanley Cup champion N.Y. Islanders.

JAN. 6, 2017 Team USA posts a 5-4 shootout-round victory over Canada in the title game of the International Ice Hockey Federation World Junior Championships at Montreal's Bell Centre. That makes freshman Joey Anderson the first Bulldog to claim a gold medal at that event (he is the 14th UMD product to compete in the IIHF world juniors).

FEB. 13, 2017 UMD checks in at No. 1 in the USCHO.com Poll for a final time in 2016-17. It's the program-best 11th No. 1 ranking the Bulldogs received during the season.

MARCH 18, 2017 Rookie right winger Joey Anderson's 5-on-3 power play goal with 51 seconds remaining in regulation lifts UMD to a wild 4-3 victory over North Dakota in the title game of the NCHC Frozen Faceoff at the Target Center in Minneapolis, Minn. In the process of capturing its first NCHC playoff championship, the Bulldogs place four players on the six-member All-Tournament Team, including Dominic Toninato, Neal Pionk, Hunter Miska and Alex Iafallo, who is named the event's Most Valuable Player.

MARCH 25, 2017 After falling in the regional title game in each of the past two seasons, UMD finally got over the proverbial hump by taking down Boston University 3-2 in overtime in the West Regional final in Fargo, N.D. Sophomore center Adam Johnson scored on the power play just 1:57 into the extra session to seal the deal as he and the Bulldogs qualified for the NCAA Frozen Four for the fifth time in program history -- and the first time since they won it all back in 2010-11. Freshmen goaltender Hunter Miska, who made a career-high 40 stops in one night earlier while backstopping the Bulldogs to a 3-2 overtime triumph over Ohio State in the semifinals, lands West Region Most Valuable Player honors. He is joined on the six-member All-Tournament Team by Joey Anderson as well as Willie Raskob, and Alex Iafallo.

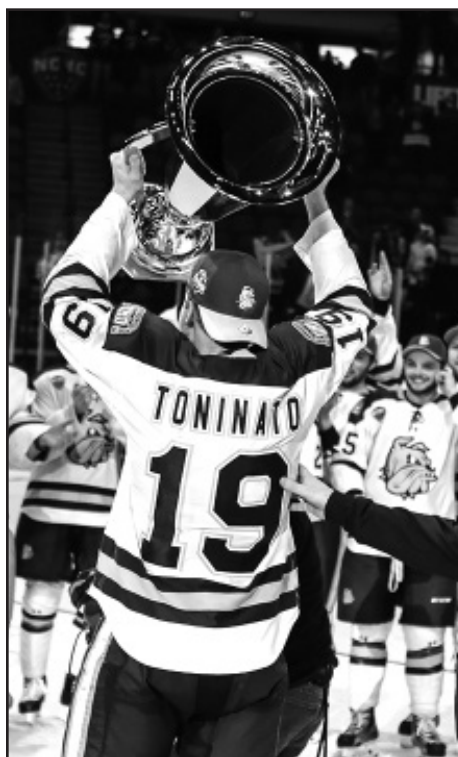

APRIL 8, 2017 UMD's bid for a second national title comes up just short at Chicago's United Center where Denver holds on for a 3-2 victory in the NCAA Frozen Four championship. The Bulldogs outshoot their NCHC rivals 17-3 in the final period of play after going into the second intermission down 3-1. The loss was just the Bulldogs' second in their last 21 games (16-2-3) and put the clamps on their eight-game winning streak. UMD also came into the night having won seven straight postseason contests, a program record. Alex Iafallo, one of seven UMD seniors who were playing in their final game, is selected to the Frozen Four All-Tournament Team with Neal Pionk. Earlier that week, Iafallo became the Bulldogs' 26th All-American.

NOV. 11, 2017 UMD officially retires Curt Giles' No. 4 jersey during a pre-game ceremony at AMSOIL Arena, making the UMD Athletic Hall of Fame charter member the fifth Bulldog male in any sport to be so recognized. A two-time NCAA I All-American and All-Western Collegiate Hockey Association first team honoree (1977-78 and 1978-79), Giles averaged 1.20 points per game during his collegiate playing days (the best mark ever turned in by a Bulldog defenseman). He went on to enjoy a 14-year National Hockey League career before launching a rewarding tenure as the head boys hockey coach at Edina (Minn.) High School.

MARCH 24, 2018 the Bulldogs punch their ticket to the 2018 Frozen Four by taking down the U.S. Air Force Academy 2-1 in the NCAA West Regional title game in Sioux Falls, S.D. That comes one night after the No. 3 seeded Bulldogs ousted No. 2 seed Minnesota State University-Mankato 3-2 in overtime.

APRIL 7, 2018 Getting into the NCAA Tournament as final at-large qualifier, the Bulldogs go on a 4-0 run and capture their second national championship by taking down Notre Dame 2-1 on April 7 at St. Paul's Xcel Energy Center (the same venue of UMD's first national title conquest seven years earlier). The NCAA Tournament berth is the Bulldogs' 12th ever and marked the first time UMD had ever qualified for that event four years in a row. All-American, defenseman Scott Perunovich generates a collegiate debut season for the ages as he is bestowed with College Hockey Commissioner's Tim Taylor Award as the most outstanding NCAA I rookie. The Hibbing, Minn., product also becomes just the second Bulldog rookie to ever attain All-National Collegiate Hockey Conference/Western Collegiate Hockey Association first team honors (center Murray Keogan was the other -- in 1969-70 when the Bulldogs were aligned with the WCHA) as well as the second defenseman to ever lead UMD in scoring with 36 points. Senior team captain Karson Kuhlman, who skated in all 166 games over the past four seasons (equalling a program ironman record) is named the NCAA Frozen Most Valuable Player after receiving that same honor two weeks earlier at the NCAA West Regional. Kuhlman joins Perunovich, senior Jared Thomas (who had both of UMD's game-winning goals) and sophomore goaltender Hunter Shepard on the NCAA Frozen Four All-Tournament Team.

SEPT. 24, 2018. For the first time in program history, UMD checks in at No. 1 in the USCHO.com Preseason Poll. The previous highs were a No. 2 ranking in 2015 and a No. 5 slotting 10 years earlier.

FEB. 16, 2019. Karson Kuhlman, who captained UMD to the 2018 NCAA championship, makes his National Hockey League debut with the Boston Bruins and becomes the program-record 12th ex-Bulldog to do time in the NHL during the 2018-19. Prior to that, the most UMD alums ever to skate in the NHL during one season was 11 back in 1994-95. One month later (March 22), Kuhlman's former teammate, Adam Johnson makes it 13 former Bulldogs when he struts his stuff for the first time in the NHL as a member of the Pittsburgh Penguins.

MARCH 23, 2019. UMD captures its second NCHC Frozen Faceoff crown in three years as sophomore left winger Nick Swaney backhands in a shot 4:51 into the second overtime in a 3-2 takedown of No. 1 St. Cloud State University at the Xcel Energy Center in St. Paul. Swaney's nation-leading third overtime score of the season along with a season-high 37-save performance from junior goaltender Hunter Shepard (the Frozen Faceoff's Most Valuable Player) help the Bulldogs put the skids on the Huskies' 13-game winning streak.

MARCH 31, 2019. One night after toppling Bowling Green 2-1 in overtime, the No 1 seeded Bulldogs reign as NCAA Midwest Regional champions thanks to a 3-1 triumph over first-time opponent Quinnipiac University in Allentown, Pa. Senior center Peter Krieiger's second-period goal and sophomore left winger Kobe Roth's tally in the third was all the offensive support junior netminder Hunter Shepard would need as UMD nails down its program-record third straight trip to the NCAA Frozen Four. Senior team captain Parker Mackay, who scored twice in the Midwest Regional semifinals, ices the win with an empty net goal with 57 seconds to go in regulation. He's voted the Midwest Regionals' Most Outstanding Player and is joined by Shepard, sophomore defenseman Scott Perunovich, freshman left winger Cole Koepke on the six-member All-Tournament Team.

APRIL 13, 2019. The Bulldogs, appearing in third consecutive national title game bout, deliver an encore performance and become the second team in 14 years to repeat as NCAA champions -- and they do so in convincing style by shutting down the University of Scott Sandelin hoists the hardware after leading his team to their second-straight NCAA National Championship in 2018-19, and the third overall for the Bulldogs' bench boss.

The 2017-18 Bulldogs returned to the site of their first NCAA Frozen Four Championship - Xcel Energy Center - and made good once again to win their first of two consecutive National Titles.

Massachusetts 3-0 in Buffalo, N.Y. Sophomore defenseman Mikey Anderson has a hand in all three goals and junior goaltender Hunter Shepard, making his 81st consecutive start, posts his seventh shutout of the season -- and school-record 15th as a Bulldog. Senior team captain Parker Mackay also scores once and assists on another goal for UMD and collars the NCAA Frozen Four Most Outstanding Player honor. Shepard, who two days earlier was named a first-team All-American, allows just three goals in four NCAA Tournament appearances and is part of a Frozen Four All-Tournament Team that includes Mackay, Mikey Anderson, senior right winger Billy Exell and sophomore Justin Richards. The Bulldogs finish the year with a 29-11-2 overall record (those 29 victories are the second-most in program history) and riding a eight-game winning streak. They also improve to 27-12 all-time in NCAA Tournament play for a .692 winning percentage -- the best mark of any school in the country. Scott Sandelin becomes just the ninth NCAA I head coach to claim three national titles and his career .778 winning percentage in the NCAA Tournament (off a 21-6 record) moves him to third all-time among NCAA I bench bosses.

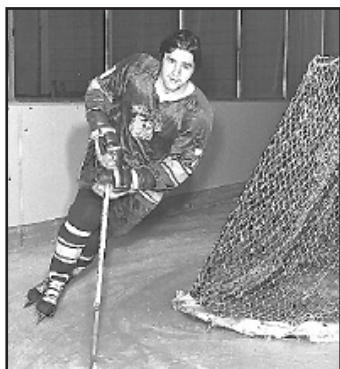

APRIL 11, 2020. Defenseman Scott Perunovich becomes the sixth Bulldog to be named as the Hobey Baker Memorial Award winner. UMD holds the most Hobey Baker winners in all of NCAA.

MARCH 27, 2021. The Bulldogs were taking on the North Dakota Fighting Hawks in the NCAA Fargo Regional Championship of the 2021 NCAA Tournament. UMD had moved into the championship after a covid-19 tracing issue within the University of Michigan program forced a no-contest. UMD struck twice in the third period to go up 2-0 before UND scored twice in the final two minutes with an extra attacker to force overtime. The game would go on for a total of five over times, marking the longest game not only in Bulldog history, but the NCAA Tournament's history (both men and women). Forward Luke Mylymok would net the game winner at the 142:13 minute mark to push UMD to it's fourth consecutive Frozen Four appearance.

HOBESY BAKER AWARD WINNERS

SCOTT PERUNOVICH
2019-20 | D | HIBBING, MINN.

One of the best players to come through UMD's storied program put the Bulldogs at the top of the Hobey Baker list, becoming the sixth UMD player to win the award in UMD's 40 years of existence, joining Connolly (2011-12), Lessard (2003-04), Marinucci (1993-94), Watson (1984-85) and Kurvers (1983-84). Scott Perunovich won the award on a fantastic final college hockey season.

Perunovich, a native of Hibbing, Minn., attained All-American status for a third time in 2019-20 (first team this winter and in 2017-18 and second team one year ago), something only two other Bulldogs -- Connolly (2009-12) and defenseman Norm Maciver (1983-86) had ever done before. Perunovich was chosen the 2019-20 National Collegiate Hockey Conference Player of the Year after pacing that circuit in scoring -- the first defenseman to ever do that. Perunovich concluded his junior year occupying the No. 2 spot on the NCAA defensemen scoring charts with a UMD-leading (and career-best) 40 points. His 22 power play points and 34 assists also ranked first and second, respectively, among all NCAA skaters. This past February, the Hibbing, Minn., product became the 58th member of the UMD Century Club -- the first Bulldog blueliner to reach that milestone since three-time All-American Norm Maciver back in 1984-85.

"He is a difference maker, that's for sure," said UMD Head Coach Scott Sandelin of his third Hobey Baker Memorial Award winner. "He's the type of impact player who can take control of a game. He's had a tremendous season -- and a tremendous three-year career here -- and is certainly deserving of this award."

Since UMD joined the NCAA I ranks in 1961-62, a defenseman has reigned as the team's scoring leader on just three occasions with Perunovich doing it twice (2019-20 and 2017-18).

JACK CONNOLLY
2011-12 | C | DULUTH, MINN.

On April 6, 2012, Jack Connolly put an exclamation point -- a huge exclamation point -- on the most decorated playing career in UMD hockey history when he was bestowed with the 2011-12 Hobey Baker Memorial Award.

All-American. NCAA champion. Hometown hero. And now this.

"I think Jack epitomizes what the award is about," said UMD head coach Scott Sandelin after his prized pupil became the program's fifth Hobey Baker winner. "Obviously, he was tremendous leader and an offensive catalyst for our team since his arrival here. He had a remarkable career and an even more remarkable seniors season. But most of all, Jack has always represented our program in a first-class way -- on the rink, in the classroom and in the community."

The first Bulldog to ever be named a Hobey Baker Memorial Award Top 10 Finalist twice and the first to earn All-WCHA first team status on three occasions, Connolly ranked second in the nation in both scoring (a career-high 60 points -- the most by any Bulldog in eight years) and assists (40) during his farewell collegiate go-around. For his efforts, he attained All-American recognition for a third time, something only one other Bulldog -- defenseman Norm Maciver (1983-86) had ever done before. The 2011-12 WCHA Player of the Year and this year's recipient of the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award that same season, Connolly missed nary a shift during his four years with the Bulldogs, skating in a school-record 166 consecutive games. In 2011-12, he captained UMD to a 25-10-6 overall record, a second-place WCHA finish and its third NCAA tournament berth in the past four years. He served as an assistant team captain with the Bulldogs in 2010-11 when they skated away with the program's first national championship.

2003-04 | RW | ST. JOSEPH
DEBEUCE, QUEBEC

Twenty years after Tom Kurvers walked off with the University of Minnesota Duluth's initial Hobey Baker Memorial Award, another remarkably gifted athlete who also sported the familiar No. 22 Bulldog sweater followed suit.

Indeed, on April 9, 2004, Junior Lessard, who was born and raised in the French-speaking quarters of Quebec, capped off a memorable senior season by being bestowed with college hockey's highest honor. Lessard's list of accomplishments during his final collegiate go-around would certainly do any of the previous 23 Hobey Baker Memorial winners proud. The fiery redhead topped the NCAA in scoring (63), goals (32), and power play tallies while helping lead the Bulldogs to their first NCAA Frozen Four appearance in nearly a generation and a 28-13-4 overall record. Besides being selected as both the uscho.com and insidecollegiatehockey.com national Player of the Year, Lessard also was an American Hockey Coaches Association All-American first team honoree and a member of the all-tournament team at the NCAA Frozen Four as well as at the NCAA Midwest Regional. A little less than two weeks after his college play days were over, Lessard signed a free agent contract with the National Hockey League's Dallas Stars.

But despite all of his on-ice successes, the one achievement that Lessard, UMD's Outstanding Male Senior Athlete for 2003-04, takes perhaps the most pride in was realized on May 15, 2004 when he officially received his Bachelor of Arts degree from UMD in, of all areas of study, English.

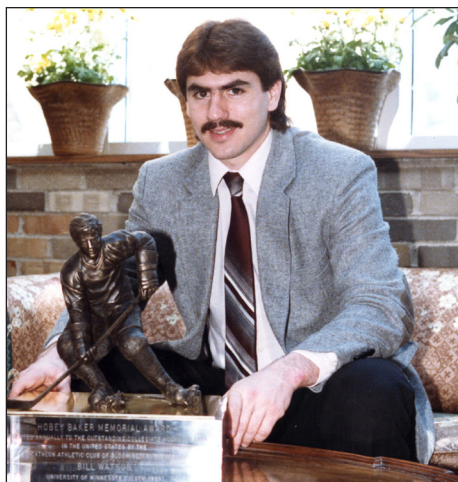

CHRIS MARINUCCI

1993-94 | LW/C | GRAND RAPIDS, MN

He was certainly no flash in the pan, but then again, he'll be the first to admit that he was no flash, either. "I've never considered myself to be a particularly electrifying type of player," said Chris Marinucci upon receiving the 1994 Hobey Baker Memorial Award. "When people look back at my career at UMD, I guess I would just like to be remembered as a guy who went out everyday and just worked hard. That's the kind of hockey player I always strived to be."

Marinucci, the first -- and only -- Hobey Baker Memorial Award recipient to skate on a sub-.500 team (the Bulldogs were 14-21-3 overall that winter and placed seventh in the 10-team WCHA), was showered with a host of other prominent honors as a senior in 1993-94. He was named the College Player of the Year by USA Hockey and the WCHA Player of the Year in addition to earning NCAA I All-American first team acclaim. Over his final two years of competition, Marinucci scored more points (138) than any other skater in the country while becoming just the fourth Bulldog to post back-to-back 30-goal seasons. In 1993-94 as a UMD team captain, he finished first in the WCHA scoring race and racked up a team-leading 61 points overall.

That spring, Marinucci earned UMD's Outstanding Male Senior Athlete award and soon after began a lengthy professional playing career which included National Hockey League stints with the New York Islanders and Los Angeles Kings.

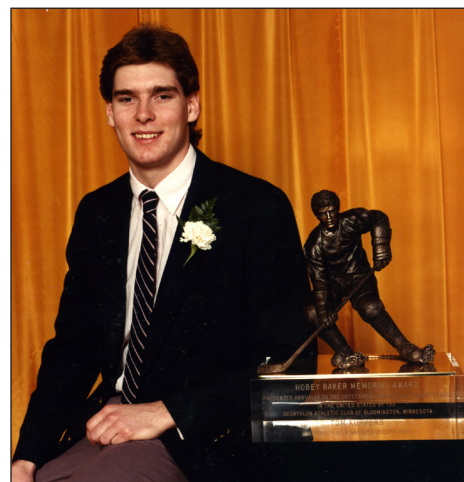

BILL WATSON

1984-85 | RW | POWERVUE, MB

It's anybody's guess what kind of further damage Bill Watson would have done to the Bulldog record books, not to mention the collective psyche of opposing goaltenders had he stayed for his fourth, and final, year of eligibility at the University of Minnesota Duluth.

Watson bid a premature farewell to the collegiate ranks at the conclusion of 1984-85 season after he had become the first -- and only to date -- Bulldog to crack the 100-point plateau. Watson, who racked up a then-NCAA record 109 points, was selected the WCHA's Most Valuable Player as a junior after pacing that circuit in scoring for a second straight season. Watson also established club single-season marks for assists (60), multiple-point games (36) while also piecing together an unprecedented 33-game scoring streak (after he was held scoreless by Northeastern University on Dec. 15 of that year he proceeded to pick up at least one point in each of the next 19 contests). For his career, he finished with 210 points in just 108 outings for a school-record 1.94 points per game average.

Watson, a two-time All-American, skated four seasons with the National Hockey League's Chicago Blackhawks and, in 1986-87, received the Emery Edge Award for having the best plus-minus rating of any Chicago skater. After putting the wraps on his playing days the late 1980s, Watson served as the head hockey coach at the College of St. Scholastica and as an assistant with the Western Michigan University program. He is currently a volunteer on the Bulldog hockey staff.

TOM KURVERS

1983-84 | D | BLOOMINGTON, MN

No matter how many Hobey Baker Memorial Award winners the University of Minnesota Duluth goes on to produce, Bulldog fans will always hold a special place in their heart for Tom Kurvers for one distinct reason: He was the first.

As a senior in 1983-84, Kurvers captained the Bulldogs to their first-ever Western Collegiate Hockey Association regular season and playoff titles. That magical season came to end in March, just one day after Kurvers was officially named the fourth Hobey Baker Award recipient, when the Bulldogs fell 5-4 in four overtimes to Bowling Green State University in the NCAA championship game. Kurvers, who attained All-American first team status that winter, paced all WCHA defensemen in scoring en route to being chosen the WCHA's Player of the Year. He scored more goals (43) and more points (192) than any other blueliner in team history and closed out his playing days ranking six on UMD's career scoring charts.

Selected UMD's Outstanding Male Senior Athlete in 1983-84, Kurvers went on to enjoy an 11-year National Hockey League career while skating with seven different clubs -- Montreal, Buffalo, New Jersey, Toronto, the New York Islanders, Vancouver, and Anaheim. He later spent 10 years in the Phoenix Coyotes front office (and served as an assistant coach with that NHL club during the 2003-04 season) and is now the assistant general manager for the Tampa Bay Lightning.

The Hobey Baker Memorial Award has been presented annually since 1981 to the most outstanding college hockey player in the United States. No other school in the nation has produced as many winners of this prestigious honor than UMD. On top of the five recipients, four Bulldogs have been named Hobey Baker Memorial Award finalists:

Brett Hull

Shjon Podein

BULLDOG BIT Seven former Bulldogs have had their names engraved as players on the Stanley Cup:

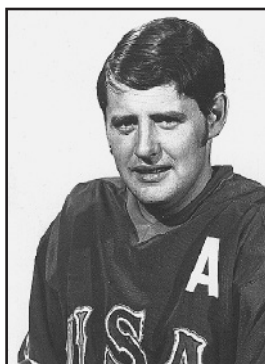

- Brett Hull (Dallas, 1999 and Detroit, 2002)
- Tom Kurvers (Montreal, 1986),
- Dave Langevin (NY Islanders, 1980-83)
- Matt Niskanen (Washington, 2018)
- Derek Plante (Dallas, 1999)
- Shjon Podein (Colorado, 2001)
- Glenn "Chico" Resch (NY Islanders, 1980)

In addition, three other UMD alumni -- Norm Maciver (Assistant General Manager-Chicago, 2010, 2013) and 2015, Tony Gasparini (Amateur Scout-Los Angeles, 2014), Wayne Smith (Director of Scouting-Boston, 2011) were also members of Stanley Cup-winning organizations.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

Sons following in their father's hockey footsteps is not exactly a novelty act at UMD. In fact, there have been 12 such father-son combinations to skate for the Bulldog. Those include (son and father):

- Blake and Joe Biondi
- Steve and Larry Cronkhite
- Gary and Robert DeGrio
- Jon and Rick Francisco
- Adam and Davey Johnson
- Derik and Jim Johnson
- Brett and Robert Larson
- Bill and Bob Lund
- Eric and Chuck Ness
- Ryan and Doug Nosan
- Travis and Bill Oleksuk
- Dominic and Jim Toninato

Andy Reiersen

In 2000-01, junior defenseman Andy Reiersen became the first non-senior in 23 years to take on UMD's team captaincy duties.

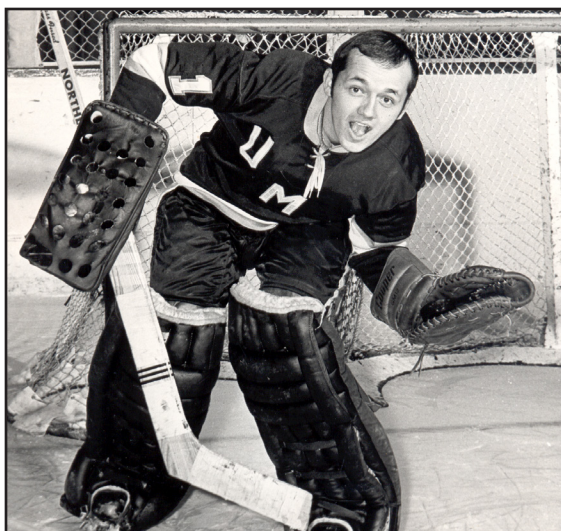

Rick Heinz

Senior Rick Heinz served as the Bulldogs' team captain during the 1976-77 season -- the last goaltender to hold that role.

TOP DOGS AT LAST!

ST. PAUL, Minn. (April 9, 2011)--Kyle Schmidt's last collegiate shift is one he won't ever forget – and neither will anyone who follows University of Minnesota Duluth hockey. Saturday night, the senior left winger scored 3:22 into overtime to lift the Bulldogs to a 3-2 victory over the the University of Michigan in the Frozen Four final, and, after a 67-year wait, give UMD its first national championship. The game was played before a sellout and partisan Bulldog crowd of 19,222 at the Xcel Energy Center in St. Paul.

"I didn't do a whole lot," said Schmidt, who equaled a career high with his 11th goal of the year. "My line mates really worked their butts off in the corner to get me the puck. It was amazing."

As was the case in Thursday's 4-3 semifinal triumph over Notre Dame, the Bulldogs had to fight off an early deficit. UMD struggled with defensive zone faceoffs in the first period, a trend that ultimately resulted in Michigan striking first at the 14:42 mark of the first period. A clean faceoff win by the Wolverines led to a clear shot by Ben Winnett from the top of the circle, which beat junior goaltender Kenny Reiter on the stick side to give Michigan a 1-0 lead.

That advantage held through the first intermission, but UMD responded 99 seconds into the second period on junior center Travis Oleksuk's 14th goal of the year and then went up 2-1 nine minutes later when rookie left winger Max Tardy scored for the first time as collegian, whacking in is own rebound on the power play near the right side of the Wolverine goal mouth.

"I know my teammates and my coaches had a lot of confidence in me, by putting me out there on the power play," said Tardy. "I was just trying to stay calm, act like I was trying to play some shinny hockey and it worked out."

Jeff Rihorkemper's goal with less than three minutes remaining in the second period deadlocked the score, eventually setting the stage for the Bulldogs school-record 15th overtime game of 2010-11. Familiar territory, indeed.

"We've played a lot of overtime games, especially in the beginning of the season" said freshman right winger J.T. Brown, who was named the Frozen Four's Most Valuable Player and joined Schmidt and rookie defenseman Justin Faulk on the All-Tournament Team. "It's not a situation you always want to be in, but we found a knack for getting it done in overtime (going 7-2-6) this year and we used that as a motivation tonight."

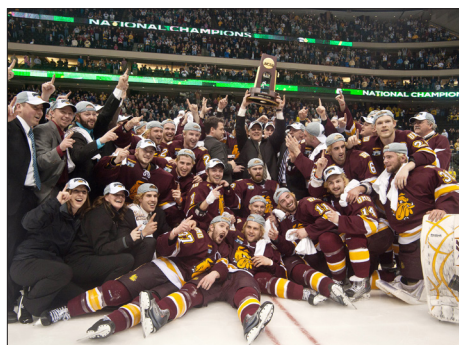

Reiter, making his 10th straight start, was credited with 15 saves while Shawn Hunwick had 35 stops for Michigan (29-11-4 overall). Although the Bulldogs (26-10-6) managed to go just 1-of-9 on the power play, they held Michigan scoreless on all four of its man advantage opportunities.

The overtime triumph was the seventh of the season for the Bulldogs -- an NCAA record.

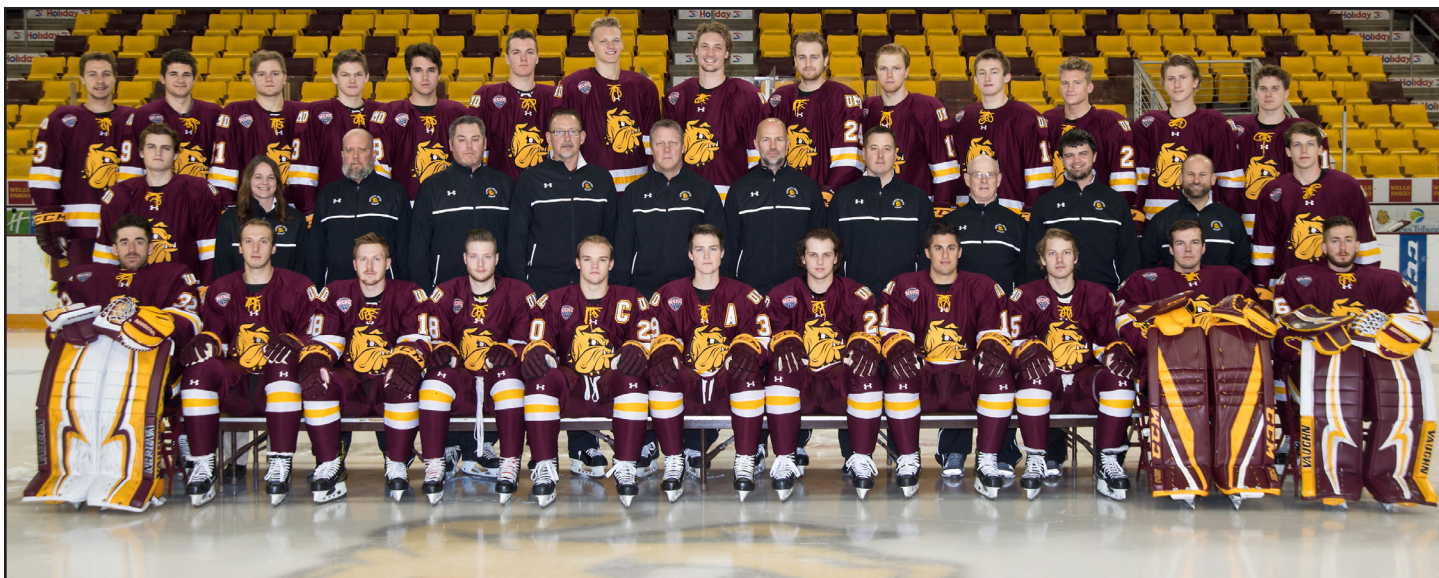

Junior defenseman Brady Lamb assisted on three of the four UMD goals, including Schmidt's game-winner and Oleksuk turned in a two-point night for the Bulldogs, who were appearing in their second title game ever (the other coming 27 years ago).

"It's a tremendous feeling to be a part of the first UMD team to ever bring a national championship back home," said Tardy. "It's something that we're going to be able to look back on a long time from now and know we did it."

TOP 'DOGS... AGAIN

St. Paul, Minn. (April 7, 2018)--Karson Kuhlman's final game ever as a University of Minnesota Duluth Bulldog came Saturday night on college hockey's biggest stage -- the NCAA Frozen Four championship -- and he certainly went out in style. The senior team captain scored once and assisted on UMD's other goal as he and the Bulldogs toppled the University of Notre Dame 2-1 at St. Paul's Xcel Energy Center.

For his efforts, which included captaining UMD to its second national title, Kuhlman was chosen the tournament's Most Outstanding Player.

"This is really special," said Kuhlman, who skated in his school record-tying 166th consecutive game. "I couldn't be more proud of that group of guys in there (the locker room). I think barely making it in to the NCAA Tournament was kind of a wake-up call for our group. From there, we just took it one game at a time. It's four wins to win a national title, and that's what we did."

Just as it had done two nights earlier in a 2-1 semifinal round triumph over Ohio State, the Bulldogs (25-16-3 overall) jumped out to a 2-0 first-period lead. Kuhlman struck first, snapping a wrist shot from top of the right faceoff circle over the glove hand of Notre Dame netminder Cale Morris. The goal, which came at the 9:06 mark, was his 13th of the season. A little over nine minutes later, senior center Jared Thomas, who like Kuhlman collected a goal on Thursday night against the Buckeyes, beat Morris with an odd-angle shot from the extended goal line.

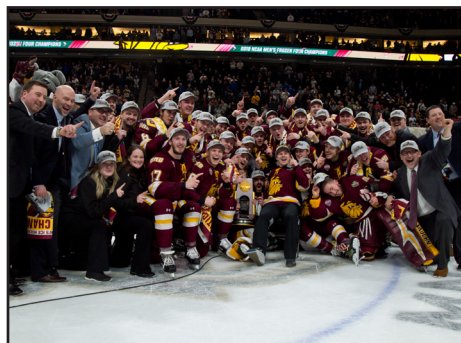

Notre Dame (28-10-2 overall), which was seeking its first NCAA championship, cut the Bulldog lead in half 7:40 into the second half with a power play goal. But that was it for the Fighting Irish as Bulldog sophomore Hunter Shepard slammed the door the rest of the way in what turned out to be 11th straight one-goal NCAA Tournament game for UMD. Shepard closed out the year owning program single-season records for both goals against average (1.91) and saves percentage (.924).

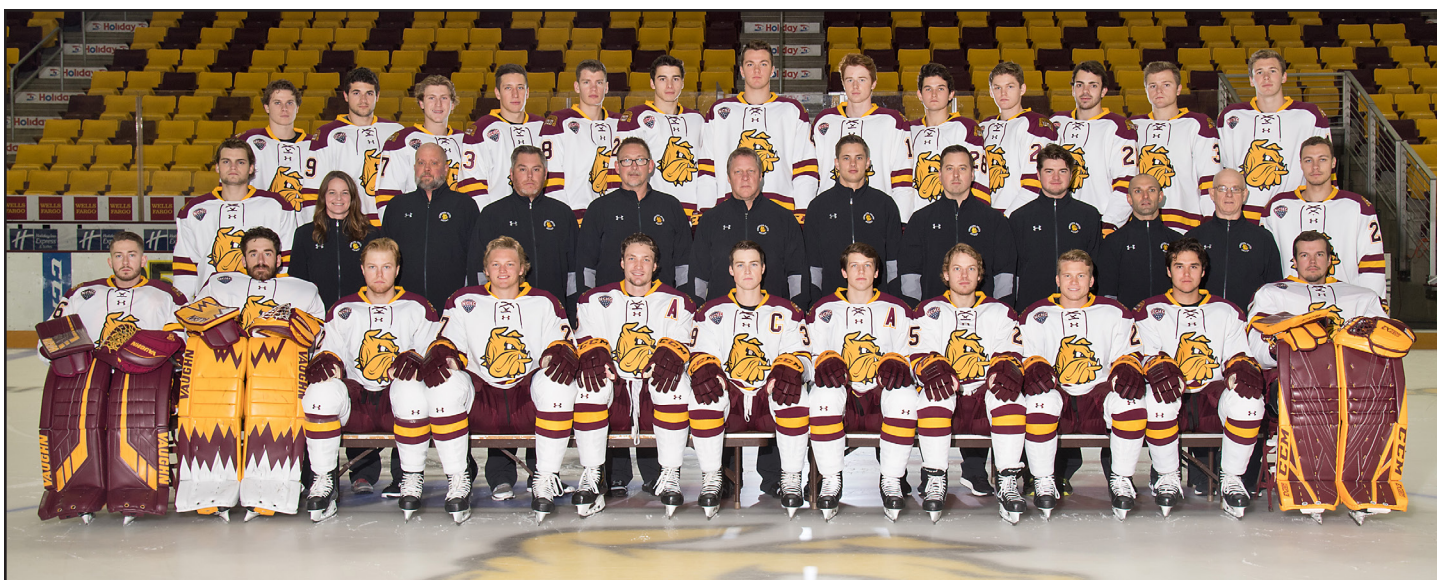

"I don't know what it is, we couldn't find that third goal the last three games, but our team did a great job," said Thomas, who joined Kuhlman, Shepard and freshman defenseman Scott Perunovich on the six-member All-Tournament Team. "There was never a panic or doubt in our locker room. If we needed to win the game 2-1, we would win the game 2-1. You saw it in our third period play there. We kind of really shut them down towards the end of the third period. That's just how we like winning games, I guess -- get the lead early and hold on. Anytime you're in a game like this against a team like Notre Dame, you knew they're going to push. And, we just needed to weather the storm a bit and stick to our game plan, which we did, and fortunate it was enough to come away with a win."

UMD outshot the Fighting Irish 35-20 on the night en route to improving its all-time NCAA Frozen Four record to 7-4-0, including a perfect 4-0 mark at the Xcel Energy Center, the site of UMD's other NCAA title conquest in 2011.

"I couldn't be more proud of our team, the way they battled all year and tonight," said UMD head coach Scott Sandelin, who is now 17-6-0 in NCAA postseason play. "Obviously it's a special championship for the program. I was fortunate to be part of the first one but this one is just as special. This never gets old."

BULLDOGS PUT THE FREEZE ON UMASS FOR SECOND-STRAIGHT NCAA TITLE

BUFFALO, N.Y. (April 13, 2019)--Talk about an encore.

One year after claiming the NCAA championship, the University of Minnesota Duluth duplicated that feat on Saturday night -- and in convincing style.

Sophomore defenseman Mikey Anderson had a hand in all three goals and junior goaltender Hunter Shepard deftly handled matters at the other end of the rink as the Bulldogs took down the University of Massachusetts 3-0 in the NCAA Frozen Four title game at KeyBank Center in Buffalo, N.Y. Senior team captain Parker Mackay also scored once and assisted on another goal for UMD, which has now won three national championships -- all in this decade (2011, 2018 and 2019).

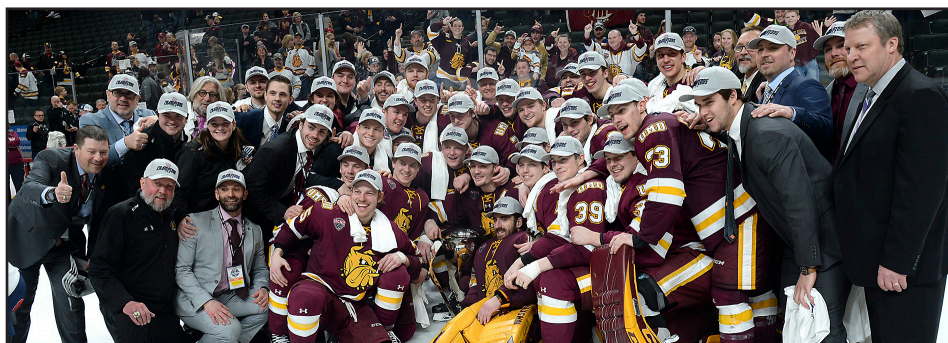

Mackay gave the Bulldogs all the scoring they would need 3:51 into the first period when he backhanded in a shot from in close on the power play for his team-leading 16th goal of the season. UMD took that 1-0 lead into the first intermission (despite outshooting the Minutemen 14-5) but doubled that advantage with 4:12 remaining in the second period after Anderson took a nifty feed from Mackay and unloaded a wrister from between the face off circles that beat UMass goaltender Filip Lindberg high to the glove side. Freshman center Jackson Cates then sealed the deal at 17:18 of the third period and made the Bulldogs the nation's first back-to-back NCAA champions in 14 years.

Hunter Shepard, making his school-record 81st consecutive start, stopped all 18 shots the Minutemen sent his way en route to registering his seventh shut out of the year (and program-best 15th as a Bulldog). Shepard, who allowed just three goals in four NCAA Tournament appearances this season, was joined on the Frozen Four All-Tournament by Mackay, Anderson, senior right winger Billy Exell and sophomore center Justin Richards.

"We knew we had to play our best hockey game to beat a very good team tonight," said Scott Sandelin, who became just the ninth head coach in NCAA history to win three national titles. "I thought our guys from start to finish were on it. It still was hard at times, but then we got the first goal and then got better. I thought our penalty kill was outstanding and Hunter Shepard was great when he needed to be. It was a real team effort and again, I couldn't be more proud of these guys. They went through some different challenges this year and grew together as a team. I just couldn't be happier for them to be national champions again."

The Bulldogs finished the year with a 29-11-2 overall record (those 29 victories are the second-most in program history) and riding a eight-game winning streak. They also improved to 27-12 all-time in NCAA Tournament play for a .692 winning percentage -- the best mark of any school in the country.
