

BOWLING AGAIN

After a run of seven straight years at a bowl game in the 1990s, the Tar Heels are back in postseason action for the first time since the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl. Carolina has won each of its last four bowl games. In its most recent Peach Bowl appearance, UNC topped Mississippi State, 21-17, in 1993. The Tar Heels are 11-12 all-time in bowl games and 1-3 in four trips to the Peach Bowl.

TURNING IT AROUND

By winning seven of its last nine games after an 0-3 start, Carolina has matched its greatest turnaround in school history. The last time the Tar Heels started 0-3 was in 1998, when they also rebounded to win seven of nine, including the Las Vegas Bowl, to finish 7-5. A win in this year's Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl would give UNC eight wins for the first time since an 11-1 campaign in 1997.

BUNTING MAKES HIS MARK

John Bunting, a 1972 graduate of UNC who returned to Chapel Hill to guide his alma mater prior to this season, is just the second first-year Carolina coach to post a winning season. He would become the only Tar Heel coach to post eight wins in his first season at Carolina with a win in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

JULIUS PEPPERED WITH AWARDS

Junior defensive end Julius Peppers had a busy few weeks after the completion of the regular season. In addition to being named Carolina's first unanimous first-team All-America since Lawrence Taylor in 1980 (AP, Football News, the Football Writers, AFCA, Sporting News and Walter Camp), Peppers won the Rotary Lombardi Award (nation's top lineman) and the Chuck Bednarik Award (nation's top defensive player). Peppers, the first Tar Heel in school history to win a major national football award, also finished 10th in the voting for the Heisman Trophy.

TWO-HEADED QUARTERBACK A CHARM

Carolina went 7-0 after senior Ronald Curry and freshman Darian Durant began a rotation system at quarterback. Following the Texas game on Sept. 8, head coach John Bunting devised a plan where the quarterbacks would alternate every two series, and both players have flourished in the system. Curry rebounded from a slow start to eclipse UNC career records in total offense (6,236), passing yards (4,987), rushing yards by a quarterback (1,249) and rushing touchdowns by a quarterback (13). Meanwhile, Durant put together a spectacular rookie season, setting UNC freshman records for touchdown passes (17), completions (142), passing yards (1,843) and total offense (1,971). Durant, who ranks 12th in the nation in pass efficiency (149.29), was named the ACC's Freshman of the Week on six occasions.

DID YOU KNOW THAT CAROLINA...

- has posted a winning season in 11 of the past 12 years.
- is the only ACC school to have at least one player selected in every NFL Draft since 1971.
- has had 23 players selected in the NFL Draft over the past four seasons.
- has had seven first-team All-Americans in the last seven years, including this year's unanimous pick Julius Peppers.
- has the only three-time first-team All-America in ACC football history – cornerback Dre' Bly (1996-97-98).

TAKE A NOTE

- Carolina won seven of its final nine games of the season. The two losses were by a combined total of eight points (1 vs. Wake Forest, 7 at Georgia Tech)
- UNChad coach John Bunting and assistant head coach James Webster played on the 1970 Carolina team that lost to Arizona State in the Peach Bowl. Bunting started at linebacker and had six tackles. Webster did not play because of a knee injury.
- 13 Tar Heels, including starters Kory Bailey, Merceda Perry, Billy-Dee Greenwood, David Thornton, Quincy Monk, Joey Evans and Jeff Reed graduated on Dec. 20, 2001.
- Since Sept. 22, only 13 teams had a better record than the 7-2 Tar Heels.
- Carolina is 7-0 since it began a rotation system with quarterbacks Ronald Curry and Darian Durant.
- Carolina had 43 pass plays longer than 20 yards this season, including six over 50 yards.
- Carolina played eight teams that earned postseason bowl bids this year. That equals the most of any school in the nation.
- Carolina has not won eight games in a season since going 11-1 in 1997.
- Over the last 10 years, Carolina has played in eight bowl games. Florida State is the only ACC team to have played in more bowl games.
- The Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl is the most competitive bowl game in college football history with an average margin of victory of 4.5 points over the last 15 years.

SETTING THE SCENE

Winners of seven of its last nine games, North Carolina enters the 2001 Chick-fil-A Peach looking to cap what has been one of the most entertaining seasons in recent memory. If the Tar Heels are to win eight games for the first time since an 11-1 season in 1997, they will have to do so against Southeastern Conference foe Auburn. The Tigers enter the Peach Bowl with a 7-4 record, including a 5-3 mark and a tie for first in the SEC West division. The SEC has won five consecutive Peach Bowls.

The game will be just the fifth meeting ever between the two schools and will be the first ever in a bowl game.

Carolina has matched its greatest turnaround in school history, coming back from an 0-3 start to win seven of its last nine, including a 19-10 victory over SMU on Dec. 1 that cemented the Tar Heels' bowl berth. The Tar Heels were extended an invitation to the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl in an on-field ceremony immediately following that game.

Carolina also started the 1998 season 0-3, but won seven of the last nine, including the Las Vegas Bowl, to finish 7-5. Carolina has assured itself of a winning record for the 11th time in the last 12 seasons. Only one other Tar Heel head coach – Carl Torbush in 1998 – posted a winning season in his first year at UNC. An eighth win would make Bunting the winningest first-year coach in UNC history. Torbush (1998) and Carl Snavelly (1934) each won seven games in their first seasons.

Carolina finished the season ranked first in the ACC and 15th nationally in total defense. The Tar Heels were first in the conference and eighth in the country in pass efficiency defense. Carolina also led the league in pass defense and was first in opponent's third-down conversions. Auburn is fourth in the SEC in total defense and 10th in total offense.

North Carolina head coach John Bunting accepted the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl bid in an on-field ceremony following a 19-10 win over SMU on Dec. 1.

CAROLINA & THE PEACH BOWL

Carolina is making its fifth Peach Bowl appearance overall and first since defeating Mississippi State, 21-17, on January 2, 1993. Carolina is tied with Clemson for the second-most overall Peach Bowl appearances. Only NC State with seven has played in the game more often. The Tar Heels are just 1-3 in the Peach Bowl with losses to Arizona State in 1970 (42-26), Kentucky in 1976 (21-0) and Florida State in 1983 (28-3).

However, in Carolina's most recent Peach Bowl, the Tar Heels scored one of their most exciting victories. Defensive MVP Bracey Walker blocked consecutive third-quarter punts, returning one of them for the tying touchdown, and forced a fourth quarter interception which Cliff Baskerville returned 44 yards for a touchdown in Carolina's win over the Bulldogs.

Walker's heroics capped a fierce second-half comeback in which the Tar Heels came from 14 points behind to score three times, although just once on an offensive possession.

CAROLINA'S BOWL HISTORY

Carolina is playing in its 24th postseason bowl game and first since 1998. The Tar Heels are 11-12 in bowl games and have won their last four bowl games, including the 1995 Carquest Bowl, 1997 Gator Bowl, 1998 Gator Bowl and 1998 Las Vegas Bowl. The last time Carolina lost a bowl game was the 1994 Sun Bowl against Texas. Carolina has never won five consecutive bowl games. The Tar Heels have won 9 of their last 13 bowl games.

The last time Carolina appeared in a bowl was the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl. The Tar Heels, behind the running of freshman quarterback Ronald Curry, defeated San Diego State, 20-13. Curry, who had 93 yards rushing, including a 48-yard touchdown run, was named the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player.

Carolina has played in 10 different bowl games. UNC is 5-2 in the Gator Bowl, 2-2 in the Sun, 1-0 in the Bluebonnet, 1-0 in the Carquest, 1-3 in the Peach, 0-1 in the Cotton, 0-1 in the Liberty, 0-1 in the Aloha and 0-2 in the Sugar. A complete listing of Carolina's bowl game history can be found on page 261 of the 2001 regular-season media guide.

CAROLINA-AUBURN SERIES NOTES

The Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl will be the sixth all-time meeting between Carolina and Auburn, with the Tar Heels holding a 3-2 advantage in the series. The two schools have met only twice since the 1901 season and Auburn won both games. The Tigers scored a 20-10 victory in Chapel Hill in 1987 and then defeated UNC 47-21 at Auburn in 1988. The Peach Bowl will be the first neutral site game between the two schools since Carolina defeated Auburn, 64-0, in Atlanta in 1892. That game was just the 12th ever football contest for the Tar Heels and the third ever for Auburn.

MOST RECENT MEETINGS WITH AUBURN

Oct. 1, 1988: Auburn 20, Carolina 10: Jeff Burger tossed a 2-yard pass to fullback Vincent Harris to break a 10-10 tie in the third quarter and Win Lyle kicked a 20-yard field goal to give Auburn a 10-point victory. UNC quarterback Mark Maye was 19 of 41 for 232 yards, but threw four interceptions. Wide receiver Randy Marriott had five catches for 68 yards and Eric Starr led UNC with 15 carries for 67 yards.

Oct. 3, 1987: Auburn 47, Carolina 21: Auburn scored the first 30 points of the game and cruised to a 47-21 victory in Mack Brown's first-year as UNC's head coach. It was the fourth straight loss for the Tar Heels en route to a 1-10 season. Auburn tailback Henry Love rushed for two touchdowns and split end Freddy Weygand caught seven passes for 86 and scored on a 34-yard run. Quarterback Reggie Slack was 22 of 30 for 229 yards. Kennard Martin led UNC with 71 yards rushing and scored two touchdowns.

PEPPERS WINS LOMBARDI & BEDNARIK AWARDS

Defensive end Julius Peppers became the first Tar Heel to win a major college football award when he was named the 2001 Rotary Lombardi Award winner in Houston on Dec. 5. The Lombardi Award is given annually to the nation's best lineman. Peppers beat out fellow defensive ends Dwight Freeney of Syracuse and Alex Brown of Florida for the honor.

A day after winning the Lombardi Award, Peppers flew to Orlando where he was presented the Chuck Bednarik Award as the nation's top overall defensive player. The Bednarik Award, presented by the Maxwell Club, is one of several awards given out at the annual Home Depot College Football Awards shown live on ESPN.

Peppers was also one of five finalists for the Bronko Nagurski Trophy, which is given to the nation's top overall defensive player by the Charlotte Touchdown Club. Oklahoma defensive back Roy Williams won the Nagurski.

In 2001, Peppers had 63 tackles, including 19 tackles for loss and 9.5 sacks. He also led the team in interceptions and scored one touchdown on an interception return vs. Oklahoma. Peppers, who has said he will leave school early to enter the NFLDraft, finished his three-year Carolina career second on the school's all-time list in sacks (30.5) and tackles for loss (53). Only Greg Ellis (32.5) had more sacks and only William Fuller (57) had more tackles for losses. Both Ellis and Fuller played four years at UNC. Peppers and Ellis are the only Tar Heels to be finalists for the Lombardi Award.

PEPPERS NAMED CHEVROLET DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR

Peppers was named the 2001 Chevrolet National Defensive Player of the Year. He is the first Tar Heel to earn the honor. As part of the award, Chevrolet will make a $2,500 contribution to the UNC general scholarship fund in Peppers' name. Peppers finished the season with 63 tackles, including 19 tackles for loss and 9.5 sacks. Since bowl statistics do not count toward official statistics, Peppers finished his UNC career with 30.5 sacks in three years. He is second to Greg Ellis (32.5) in career sacks at UNC.

Julius Peppers became the first Tar Heel to win a major college football award when he won the 2001 Lombardi Award in Houston on Dec. 5.

PEPPERS UNANIMOUS ALL-AMERICA; JERSEY WILL HANG IN KENAN STADIUM

Peppers was a unanimous selection for All-America honors this season and his #49 jersey will be added to the facade of Kenan Stadium next season. He is just the second unanimous first-team All-America in school history and the first since Lawrence Taylor in 1980. He was named first-team All-America by the Associated Press, The Sporting News, Football News, Walter Camp Football Foundation, American Football Coaches Association (AFCA), Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) and CNSI.com. Peppers is the first Tar Heel to be named consensus first-team All-America at UNC since defensive end Greg Ellis, linebacker Brian Simmons and cornerback Dre’Bly earned that honor in 1997. UNC has had at least one consensus first-team All-America in seven straight season. As a unanimous All-America, Peppers’ jersey will become the 19th to placed on the facade of Kenan Stadium’s upper deck.

PEPPERS, SIMS LEAD ALL-ACC TEAM

Defensive end Julius Peppers and defensive tackle Ryan Sims were both named first-team All-ACC in 2001. A two-time All-ACC selection, Peppers was the only unanimous selection on either side of the ball, garnering all 138 votes. He finished second behind Maryland’s E.J. Henderson for Defensive Player of the Year and Player of the Year honors.

Sims, rated by NFLDraft analyst Mel Kiper as a potential Top 10 selection, combined with Peppers to form one of the nation’s best defensive lines. In addition to his All-ACC honor, Sims was named third-team All-America by the Associated Press. Tough against the run, Sims had 51 tackles, including eight tackles for loss and five sacks. He also had nine pass deflections, eight quarterback hurries and forced one fumble.

A former walk-on, second-team All-ACC linebacker David Thornton led the Tar Heels with 131 tackles.

THORNTON, WADDELL, METTS, REED RECOGNIZED BY ACC

David Thornton, a former walk-on who led the Tar Heels with 131 tackles and was second with 10 tackles for loss, was named second-team All-ACC. In addition, Thornton was named UNC’s defensive MVP at the annual team banquet. Thornton entered the 2001 season with just 24 career tackles, but earned a scholarship prior to the start of the season and started all 12 games. In his first game at Oklahoma, Thornton was all over the field and had 15 tackles.

Cornerback Michael Waddell, who had 14 pass breakups – the fourth-highest single-season total in UNC history – also was named second-team All-ACC.

Senior center Adam Metts, the veteran of UNC’s youthful offensive line, was an honorable-mention All-ACC selection along with place-kicker Jeff Reed.

THORNTON ONE OF THE SEASON’S BEST STORIES

David Thornton, a former walk-on who was awarded a scholarship prior to the start of the 2001 season, blossomed into one of the Tar Heels’ top playmakers on defense in 2001. Thornton led the team with 131 total tackles, was second with 10 tackles for loss and third with three sacks. He had double digits in tackles in seven games this season, including a season-high 17 against Wake Forest. He entered the 2001 season with just 24 career tackles, including 16 tackles as a special teams player in 2000.

In his first career start at Oklahoma, Thornton had 12 solo stops, three assists, four tackles for loss and one sack for five yards. The following week at Maryland, he made 13 tackles (9 solo, 4 assists). At Texas, Thornton was credited with 14 tackles (10 solo, 4

In addition to his play on the football field, Thornton is one of the Tar Heels most active players off the gridiron. Among the community service projects he is involved with are: minority student recruitment volunteer at UNC, tutor and mentor for Upward Bound, volunteer reader for local elementary schools, volunteer coach for local intramural girls basketball team, motivational speaker for Hargrave Community Center. He is also a member of UNC's Student Recreational Center Board of Directors and a Senior Marshall. He is majoring in exercise and sports science.

AIKEN COMPLETES BREAKOUT SEASON

Junior wide receiver Sam Aiken had eight touchdown catches in 2001, just one shy of the school record of nine set by Marcus Wall in 1994. Aiken tied Mike Chatham (1979), Mark Smith (1983) and Earl Winfield (1985) for second place on the single-season school chart. Aiken had one touchdown catch against FSU, East Carolina, Virginia and Wake Forest and two touchdown receptions against both Georgia Tech and Duke. The Kenansville, N.C., native led the team with 46 catches for 789 yards, a team-leading 17.6 yards per catch. Aiken was fifth in the ACC in receiving yards per game.

In the final three games of the regular season, Aiken had 16 catches for 315 yards and three touchdowns. He posted back-to-back 100-yard games against Wake Forest (108) and Duke (156) for the first time in his career. He had a career-long 75-yard touchdown catch against Wake Forest and a 72-yard touchdown reception vs. the Blue Devils. Against Duke, Aiken had seven catches for a career-best 156 yards and two touchdowns.

TAR HEELS TIE TOUCHDOWN PASS RECORD

Carolina quarterbacks threw 25 touchdown passes this season, tying the school record established in 1996. Darian Durant had 17 touchdown passes and Ronald Curry had eight. Curry's 43-yard pass to Chesley Borders in the SMU game tied the record. In 1996, Chris Keldorf tossed a single-season school-record 23 touchdown passes and Oscar Davenport had two.

Carolina's 239.3 yards passing per game was the fourth-highest per game average in school history and the most since the 1997 Tar Heels set the school record with 261.8 yards a game.

TWO QUARTERBACKS WORKING FOR TAR HEELS

Carolina has not lost a game (7-0) since it began a quarterback rotation system with Ronald Curry and Darian Durant. Following the Texas game, head coach John Bunting devised a plan in which the two quarterbacks would play two series apiece throughout the first half. That rotation would continue into the second half if necessary and for the most part it has in every game. Carolina first began the rotation plan in its 41-9 win over Florida State on Sept. 22. The Tar Heels then won four more games before Curry injured his hamstring and had to sit out the Georgia Tech game. Curry also missed the following game against Wake Forest because of a death in his family. Carolina lost both games of those games in which Curry did not play. Curry was back and so was the rotation system in the Tar Heels' 52-17 win over Duke and a 19-10 bowl-clinching victory over SMU.

Quarterback Darian Durant threw a UNC freshman record 17 touchdown passes. That is the third-highest single-season total in school history.

PRODUCTIVE OFFENSE IN SEVEN WINS

One of the most telling statistics this season has been Carolina's offensive production in its seven wins. The Tar Heels are averaging 415.9 total yards per game in their wins and just 298.2 yards per game in their losses.

After a season-low 211 yards of offense in a 44-14 loss at Texas, which dropped the Tar Heels to 0-3, Carolina's offense became much more productive during a midseason five-game win streak. The Tar Heels increased their offensive output in each of the four games following the Texas loss. UNC had 301 yards in a 41-9 win over Florida State, 347 yards in a 17-9 victory at NC State, 412 yards in a 24-21 win vs. ECU and a then-season-high 477 yards in a 30-24 win vs. Virginia. Carolina followed the UVA game with 425 yards in a 38-3 victory at Clemson. It was the first time Carolina gained at least 400 yards of offense in three straight games since 1997.

Carolina had one of its best offensive performances with 560 yards in a 52-17 win over Duke on Nov. 17. It was the highest offensive output since Carolina had 637 yards vs. Ohio on Sept. 30, 1995.

DURANT CONTINUES TO IMPRESS

Redshirt freshman quarterback Darian Durant had one of the best offensive seasons in UNC history despite starting just two games and splitting time with Ronald Curry in the other games.

In 2001, Durant established Carolina freshman records for touchdown passes (17), completions (142), passing yards (1,843) and total offense (1,971).

Durant's 17 touchdown passes were the third-highest single-season total in UNC history. Chris Keldorf set the school record with 23 TD passes in 1996 and Matt Kupec had 18 touchdown passes in 1979.

Durant was second in the ACC and 12th in the nation in pass efficiency (149.29). Florida State redshirt freshman Chris Rix was the only freshman in the country with a better efficiency rating (156.6). Durant was third in the ACC in completion percentage behind Georgia Tech's George Godsey and NC State's Philip Rivers. Durant completed 63.7 percent (142 of 223) of his attempts.

Durant was named the ACC's Rookie of the Week six times this season and finished second behind Chris Rix for ACC Rookie of the Year honors. A native of Florence, S.C., Durant was named ACC Rookie of the Week after games against Florida State, NC State, East Carolina, Clemson, Wake Forest and Duke.

DURANT AMONG ACC FRESHMAN LEADERS

Durant's 17 touchdown passes were the third-highest total by a freshman in ACC history. Philip Rivers of NC State had 25 TD passes as a freshman last season and Florida State redshirt freshman quarterback Chris Rix has 22 this season. Durant also ranks fourth in the ACC record books for freshman single-season passing yardage (1,843) and fourth for freshman single-season total offense (1,971).

DURANT HAS RECORD-SETTING DAY AGAINST WAKE FOREST

Durant had one of the finest days passing ever by a UNC quarterback in the Tar Heels' loss to Wake Forest. Despite participating in just one day of practice due to the death of his stepmother, Durant started and was sharp against the Deacons, completing 24 of 32 passes for 361 yards and four touchdowns. Durant set UNC freshman records for completions, passing yards and touchdowns in the loss. It was Carolina's fourth-best passing day ever and the first time a Tar Heel had thrown four touchdown passes since Chris Keldorf had four vs. Duke in 1997. Durant had 347 yards of total offense in the game, which is the eighth best single-game mark at UNC.

DURANT SHINES IN FIRST CAREER START

Durant made his first career start at Georgia Tech (Nov. 1) in place of Ronald Curry, who injured his left hamstring in UNC's win at Clemson. It was the first time a freshman had started at QB for the Tar Heels since Luke Huard made four starts in 1999. Against the Yellow Jackets, Durant was 22 of 37 for 286 yards and tossed three touchdowns in Carolina's 28-21 loss. He connected on a 30-yard TD pass to Kory Bailey in the second quarter, hit Sam Aiken on a 15-yard scoring strike and connected with Aiken in the fourth quarter on a 21-yard pass to pull the Tar Heels within seven points.

CURRY CLOSES OUT RECORD-BREAKING CAREER

Ronald Curry has had an outstanding career at UNC. Curry holds UNC career records for total offense, passing yards, rushing yards by a quarterback and rushing touchdowns by a quarterback. He also is second in career pass completion and fourth in touchdown passes. In 2000, he established a single-season school record with 2,676 total yards.

UNC Career Record	Curry's Rank	Record or Previous Record Holder
Total Offense	1st, 6,236 yards	Jason Stanicek, 5,497 yards
Passing Yards	1st, 4,987 yards	Jason Stanicek, 4,683 yards
Rush Yards by QB	1st, 1,249 yards	Jim Lalanne, 1160 yards
Rush TDs by QB	1st, 13 TDs	Ray Farris, Danny Talbott, 12 TDs
Pass Completions	2nd, 345 comp.	Jason Stanicek, 372 comp.
Touchdown Passes	4th, 28 TDs	Chris Keldorf, 35 TDs

Curry started 10 games this season at quarterback and was 62 of 134 passes for 1,005 yards and eight touchdowns. He also rushed for 253 yards and three touchdowns. He played one of his best games in UNC's 52-17 win at Duke (Nov. 17). Curry was 11 of 19 for 217 yards with three touchdown passes and rushed 11 times for 29 yards and one touchdown. He had a spectacular 11-yard touchdown run in the second quarter, running from one side of the field to the other before diving in for the score. Curry missed the previous two weeks because of a hamstring injury and a death in the family.

WIDE RECEIVERS COME UP BIG

After struggling earlier in 2001, Carolina's wide receivers made significant strides in the final two months of the season. After scoring no touchdowns in the first three games of the year, Carolina's top three receivers – Sam Aiken, Kory Bailey and Bosley Allen – scored 18 touchdowns in the next eight games.

In addition, a UNC receiver had at least 100 yards receiving in four of the last five games. Allen had back-to-back 100-yard games at Clemson and vs. Georgia Tech and Sam Aiken had back-to-back 100-yard games vs. Wake Forest and Duke.

Three Tar Heel receivers made at least 39 receptions this season, including 46 by Sam Aiken, 44 by Kory Bailey and 39

by Bosley Allen. The last time Carolina had three receivers with at least 30 catches was in 1997. This is just the second time Carolina has ever had two receivers with at least 40 receptions. The other was in 1995 when Leon Johnson, a tailback, had 54 catches and wide receiver Octavus Barnes had 53.

PEPPERS LEADS ALL DEFENSIVE LINEMEN WITH THREE INTERCEPTIONS

Defensive end Julius Peppers led all defensive lineman in the country with three interceptions in 2001. He also ranked first on the team. Peppers made a spectacular interception in Carolina's 38-3 win at Clemson when he shook off two blockers, batted Woody Dantzler's pass into the air and then made a diving lunge to catch the ball. He also had an interception return for a touchdown at Oklahoma and picked off a Chris Rix pass in the FSU game. The last time a defensive lineman led Carolina in interceptions was Ken Sheets with two in 1975.

BAILEY MOVES UP THE CHARTS

Senior wide receiver Kory Bailey had his best season as a Tar Heel in 2001. He had a career-high 44 catches and is fourth all-time at UNC with 139 receptions. Leon Johnson (1993-96) is third with 151 catches. Bailey had three catches at Maryland to become just the ninth player at UNC to reach the century mark. Bailey set a UNC freshman record with 38 receptions in 1998 and has made at least one catch in 44 of 45 regular-season games. He is only the third player in UNC history to record four seasons with at least 25 catches. The others are Corey Holliday and Leon Johnson.

Bailey ranks fifth at Carolina with 1,939 career receiving yards. L.C. Stevens (1995-98) is fourth with 2,002 yards. Corey Holliday (1989-93) is the school record-holder with 2,447 yards.

JEFF REED ESTABLISHES SCHOOL RECORD FOR CONSECUTIVE EXTRA POINTS

Since becoming the Tar Heels' place-kicker in 2000, senior Jeff Reed has made 28 of 36 field goals, including 12 of 16 this season. He was an honorable-mention All-ACC selection this year. Reed holds the school record for consecutive extra points without a miss at 66. He broke the record of 56 (held previously by Clint Gwaltney, 1988-91) against Wake Forest and did not miss until his final opportunity against SMU. However, that extra point try was from 35 yards after tailback Willie Parker was flagged for a 15-yard "altered stride" penalty.

Reed got off to a slow start this season after he sprained his ankle on the Wednesday prior to the season opener vs. Oklahoma. He did not play against the Sooners. He returned the following week versus Maryland, but was limited to extra point duty only. Carolina was held without a field goal attempt in its first three games against Oklahoma, Maryland and Texas.

In the next game against FSU, Reed made two of three attempts, including back-to-back field goals that gave Carolina a 20-9 lead in the third quarter. He connected on attempts from 32 and 39 yards. His only miss was a 53-yarder in the first quarter.

Reed was 1 of 2 in field goal attempts at NC State, including a 36-yard field goal to give Carolina a 10-6 lead. Earlier in the first half, he missed a 32-yard field goal that bounced off the upright. It was his first miss inside 47 yards in his career.

Reed made a career-long 49-yard field goal that proved to be the winning margin in Carolina's 24-21 win over East Carolina. He followed that performance with three field goals in the win vs. Virginia. It was the first time he had ever made three field goals in a game. He connected on field goals of 30, 22 and 38 yards.

Reed made all five extra points and kicked a 32-yard field goal in the win at Clemson.

In 2000, Reed led the ACC in field goals (16) and field goal percentage (.800), earned second-team All-ACC honors and was one of 20 semifinalists for the Groza Award. He also made 30 consecutive extra points that season and led the Tar Heels in scoring with 78 points.

Kory Bailey had his best season as a Tar Heel with 44 catches, including six for touchdowns.

CURRY ESTABLISHES UNC CAREER TOTAL OFFENSE RECORD VS. ECU

Quarterback Ronald Curry became the Tar Heels' career total offense leader in Carolina's 24-21 win over East Carolina. Curry threw for 127 yards and rushed for 40 yards against the Pirates. He finished the game with 5,521 career total offense yards, surpassing Jason Stanicek's 5,497 yards from 1991-94.

Curry finished his career with 6,236 total yards, which ranks 17th in ACC history.

PEPPERS HAS MOST SACKS IN TWO-YEAR PERIOD AT UNC

Defensive end Julius Peppers had more sacks in a two-year period than any other player in Carolina history. Peppers had 24.5 sacks in the last two seasons, including 15 in 2000 and 9.5 this year. Lawrence Taylor combined for 21 sacks in 1979 and 1980, Greg Ellis had 21.5 in 1996 and 1997, Marcus Jones had 16 in 1994 and 1995 and William Fuller had 15 in 1981 and 1982.

TAILBACK TRIO LEADS CAROLINA RUSHING ATTACK

Carolina's rushing game this season was led by a trio of tailbacks, including sophomore Andre' Williams, sophomore Willie Parker and freshman Jacque Lewis. Williams handled the bulk of the carries and started eight games. He did not start the final game of the regular season because of a back sprain. He led the team with 520 yards on 170 carries (3.1 avg.) and four touchdowns. Parker, who started the first three games of the year, had 400 yards on 83 carries (4.8 avg.) and three touchdowns. Lewis, who saw his first action of the season against Florida State, has 241 yards on 56 carries (4.3 avg.) and one touchdown. Combined, the trio rushed 309 times for 1,161 yards (3.8 avg.) and nine touchdowns.

Each back had his bright spots during the season. Williams came on strong during the Tar Heels' five-game win streak and had a career-best 147 yards rushing in a win over Virginia. He also had 91 yards in Carolina's 38-3 win at Clemson. Parker had a 77-yard TD run at Maryland – equaling the 17th-longest TD run in school history – and finished with 102 yards on 13 carries. In the final two games of the season, Parker totaled 148 yards on 23 carries and scored twice. Lewis had his best game in Carolina's 52-17 win over Duke, gaining 94 yards on 11 carries, including back-to-back 40- and 28-yard runs in the third quarter. The latter was Lewis's first career touchdown carry.

OFFENSIVE LINE ESPECIALLY YOUTHFUL

Carolina is especially young on the offensive line with just one senior starter among the five positions. Senior Adam Metts has started at center in every game along with sophomore right guard Jeb Terry. They are the only two offensive players to start every game this year. Sophomore left tackle Greg Woofter has started all but one game and sophomore left guard Jupiter Wilson has started all but two games. At right tackle, redshirt freshman Willie McNeill has started nine games and true freshman Jason Brown has started three. Brown, along with true freshman guard Chase Page, saw their first action of the season against Florida State. Redshirt freshman Skip Seagraves also has played at tackle, making his first career start at Clemson.

This year's bowl participants played an average of five bowl bound teams.

Carolina's young offensive line features one freshman, three sophomores and just one senior starter.

Woofter (OT), Wilson (OG), Terry (OG) and McNeill (OT) all made their first career start at Oklahoma. McNeill is the first freshman to start on the offensive line at UNC since center Jeff Saturday in 1994. That year, Saturday started the fourth game of the season at SMU and later started two other games. McNeill was the first freshman to start the first game of the season on the offensive line at UNC since at least 1990.

PERKINS MAKES REMARKABLE COMEBACK

Senior defensive tackle Anthony Perkins, who was thought to be lost for the season after tearing his MCL and PCL in his right knee this spring, came back to action in the seventh game of the year against Virginia. He played 17 snaps in the Tar Heels' 30-24 victory. Perkins, who is approximately two months ahead of schedule, started the final four games of the season in place of Will Chapman, who was lost for the year when he tore his ACL and MCL in the Clemson game. Perkins started all 11 games in 2000 and had 46 tackles, including four tackles for loss and two sacks. This year, he had 17 tackles, one sack and forced a fumble.

TAR HEEL DEFENSE IN THE ACC RANKINGS

Carolina ranked first in the ACC and 15th in the nation in total defense this season, allowing just 305.3 yards per contest. The Tar Heels were also first in the conference and eighth in the nation in pass efficiency defense. In other ACC defensive categories, Carolina was first in pass defense (yards per game), second in opponents' third-down conversions, third in rushing defense, and third in scoring defense. Carolina has finished first in the ACC in total defense 12 times. The last time Carolina was No. 1 in total defense was 1997.

Carolina held both Florida State and NC State to just nine points in wins earlier this season. It was just the fifth time since 1982 that the Seminoles had been held to less than 10 points. In the win at Clemson, Carolina held Heisman Trophy candidate Woody Dantzler to just 116 yards and limited the Tigers to just 209 total yards.

CAROLINA IN THE RED ZONE

Carolina was 32 of 37 (.865) in red zone opportunities this year and are 16 of 17 (.941) in its last five games. The only miss came against Wake Forest on an interception.

TAR HEELS WIN FIVE STRAIGHT OVER BOWL TEAMS

After starting the season with consecutive losses to defending national champion Oklahoma, Maryland and Texas, Carolina put together a midseason five-game win streak with victories vs. Florida State, at NC State, vs. ECU, vs. Virginia and at Clemson. All five teams Carolina defeated during the streak appeared in bowl games last season. This is the first season Carolina has ever won five consecutive games over schools that appeared in bowl games the previous year. Four of those five are bowl bound in 2001.

CAROLINA'S SCHEDULE CONSISTENTLY RANKED AS ONE OF NATION'S MOST DIFFICULT

T

Through the first 10 games of the season, North Carolina's schedule was consistently ranked among the nation's top five most difficult. The schedule, which featured eight bowl teams from a year ago, was ranked as the nation's 19th most difficult in the most recent Sagarin ratings (Dec. 9), which is one of the several computer polls in the BCS formula. Carolina's schedule ranking dropped from first to eighth after defeating Duke 52-17. The Sagarin schedule ratings represent the average schedule difficulty faced by each team in the games that it has played so far. The Tar Heels' first three opponents this season – Oklahoma, Maryland and Texas – are a combined 31-5 and are all ranked in the AP Top 25.

BACK IN TAR HEEL HANDS

For the first time since 1956, Carolina is being coached by a former letter-winner. John Bunting, a 1972 North Carolina graduate, was named the Tar Heels' 32nd head coach on December 11, 2000. He brings nearly 20 years of NFL experience both as a player and an assistant coach to the Tar Heel sideline. In addition to his NFL background, Bunting was the head coach at Rowan University in Glassboro, N.J., for five years before moving on to the professional ranks. The last Tar Heel letterwinner to be head football coach was Jim Tatum in 1956.

Carolina was one of 25 Division I-Schools to make a coaching change in the offseason. Four ACC schools, including Wake Forest, Virginia and Maryland hired a new head coach for 2001.

Five coaches in the ACC are coaching at their alma mater, including Bunting (UNC '72), Virginia's Al Groh, Duke's Carl Franks, NCState's Chuck Amato and Maryland's Ralph Friedgen.

UNC & FIRST-YEAR HEAD COACHES

John Bunting is only the fifth North Carolina head football coach since 1967. Bill Dooley, Bunting's coach at Carolina, led the Tar Heels from 1967-77; Dick Crum guided the team from 1978-87; Mack Brown held the top position from 1988-97; and Carl Torbush was head coach from 1998-2000.

The best first-year record for any coach at North Carolina was Carl Snavely's 7-1-1 campaign in 1934. Since Carolina has been a member of the ACC (since 1953), no Carolina coach has won more than seven games in his first year and only one (Carl Torbush) had a winning record. The three winningest coaches in UNC history (Crum, Dooley and Brown) all started with losing seasons. Dooley was 2-8 in 1967, Crum was 5-6 in 1978 and Brown was 1-10 in 1988. A win over Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl would give Bunting a school-record eight wins as a first-year coach.

TAR HEELS SCORE BIG WIN AT CLEMSON

• Carolina defeated No. 13 Clemson 38-3 on Oct. 20. It was the Tar Heels' second win over a team ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 poll this season. Earlier this year, Carolina defeated No. 6 Florida State, 41-9. The last time Carolina defeated two teams ranked in the AP Top 25 in the same season was 1995 (No. 9 Virginia and No. 24 Arkansas in the Gator Bowl). The last time Carolina defeated two AP Top 25 teams in the regular season was 1992 (No. 17 Virginia and No. 19 Georgia Tech).

Quincy Monk started every game at middle linebacker and was second on the team with 125 tackles.

• Carolina's 35-point margin of victory equaled UNC's largest margin of victory ever against Clemson. The Tar Heels also won by 35 points (42-7) in 1970 in John Bunting's only trip to Death Valley as a player.

• It was the Tar Heels' biggest margin of victory over a team ranked by The Associated Press, eclipsing the previous best of 32 points in a 41-9 win over No. 6 FSU earlier this year.

• It was Clemson's worst loss in an ACC home game since 1975.

• Carolina's 38 points were the most by a Tar Heel team at Clemson since the 1970 team scored 42 points in a 42-7 victory.

• Carolina held Clemson to its fewest points (three) and yards (209) in the Tommy Bowden Era.

• The win was just

Carolina's second in Clemson since 1980 but second in the last three trips.

• Carolina had 425 yards of offense, completing its third consecutive game with at least 400 yards of offense – a feat that had not occurred since 1997. The Tar Heels had 412 yards vs. ECU, 477 yards vs. Virginia and 425 at Clemson.

• Carolina had three 80-yard drives and two more drives of 54 yards each.

• Carolina was 7 of 14 on third down conversions. That was the third consecutive game the Tar Heels had converted at least 50 percent of their third down opportunities. Carolina was 12 of 19 vs. ECU, 9 of 16 vs. Virginia and 7 of 14 vs. the Tigers.

• Carolina did not commit a turnover for the first time since the 1999 Duke game.

• Carolina's defense held Clemson without a touchdown. It was the first time Clemson had not scored a touchdown at home since a 37-0 loss to Virginia Tech in 1998 - a span of 21 games.

FSU WIN IS A FIRST ON MANY COUNTS

• Carolina's 41-9 victory over Florida State was UNC's first over the Seminoles in 13 games. Carolina is now 1-11-1 against FSU.

• It was the first victory at UNC for head coach John Bunting.

• The win equaled the highest ranked team Carolina had ever defeated according to Associated Poll records. Florida State was No. 6 in the AP Poll entering the game. Carolina also defeated No. 6 Duke in 1960 and No. 6 Navy in 1957.

• The win was the first over a ranked opponent since beating No. 17 Stanford at Kenan Stadium in 1997. It was the first victory over a Top

Free safety Dexter Reid was Carolina's third-leading tackler with 99 stops.

10 team since winning at No. 9 Syracuse in 1996.

- Carolina's 41 points were the most scored against Florida State by an ACC opponent. The previous high was 35 by Georgia Tech in a 41-35 FSU victory on Sept. 11, 1999. Carolina's previous scoring high against the Seminoles came in a 31-18 loss in 1994.

- The 81-point swing between last year's 63-14 loss at FSU and this year's 41-9 UNC victory is the largest two-season turnaround in ACC history. The previous largest swing was 70 points between Maryland's 52-0 victory over Wake Forest in 1996, and the Deacons' 35-17 win the next year.
- The 32-points loss was FSU's worst regular-season loss since losing by 32 points to Auburn, 59-27, on Oct. 12, 1985. The Seminoles also lost by 32 against Florida in the 1997 Sugar Bowl. The loss was FSU's worst to an unranked opponent since Bobby Bowden's first season in 1976.

- Carolina forced five turnovers and was +3 in turnover margin against FSU, marking the first time this season that the Tar Heels forced more turnovers than the opposition. Carolina was 112th in turnover margin entering the game. The last time Carolina forced five turnovers in a game was when it caused six against Duke in 1999. The last time FSU had five turnovers was in a loss to NC State in 1997.

- Carolina gained 301 yards against the Seminoles. It was just the second time Carolina gained over 300 yards against FSU. Last year, UNC had 323 yards in a 63-14 loss in Tallahassee. It was the first time Carolina gained 300 total yards of offense this year.

TRUE FRESHMEN SEE ACTION

Carolina played seven true freshmen this season, including six scholarship freshmen. Free safety Chris Curry and defensive end Jocques Dumas are the only two true freshmen to play in every game. Four more true freshmen played their first career snaps against FSU, including offensive guard Chase Page, offensive tackle Jason Brown and tailback Jacque Lewis. Walk-on James Gibson also played on special teams against the Seminoles. Lewis rushed five times for 29 yards. At the time, his 27-yard run in the second quarter was the second-longest rushing play of the year for UNC. Defensive back Chris Hawkins played on special teams against Virginia in his first action of the season.

In the last five years, Carolina has played an average of four true freshmen per season. This is the first time Carolina has played more than five true scholarship freshmen in a season since seven saw action in 1990. Here is a year-by-year breakdown of scholarship true freshmen who played in at least one game since 1988

KENAN STADIUM NOW IN ITS 75TH SEASON

Carolina was 5-1 at Kenan Stadium this season – its best record since a 5-1 mark in 1997. The 60,000-seat stadium, which opened in 1927, is in its 75th season as the home of the Tar Heels. Carolina's all-time record at Kenan Stadium is 240-142-16. From 1990-1997, Kenan Stadium was one of the top home field advantages in the ACC as the Tar Heels compiled a 40-9-1 record at Kenan. Carolina's home wins this year were over Florida State, East Carolina, Virginia, Duke and SMU. The only loss was a 32-31 loss to Wake Forest.

AGAINST IN-ST ATE OPPONENTS

Carolina has been the dominant program in the state, winning 37 of the last 42 games against in-state rivals Wake Forest, Duke, NC State and ECU. The Tar Heels have a 12-game winning streak over the Blue Devils, have won 10 of the last 12 matchups against the Deacons, have won eight of nine against the Wolfpack and have won seven of nine against East Carolina. Carolina is 227-95-17 all-time against in-state opponents.

SCHEDULE TESTED TAR HEELS

Carolina opened the 2001 season with three consecutive road games for the first time since 1893 and opened the year against the consensus defending national champion for the first time ever. In 1893, the Tar Heels opened with a 44-0 rout of Washington & Lee, followed by consecutive losses at VMI and Trinity. Carolina played all of its games away from Chapel Hill in 1905, including a neutral site game against Davidson in Charlotte.

In addition to those first three road games, the Tar Heels also made trips to Clemson and Georgia Tech, both ranked in the Top 25 polls at the time. Carolina's road slate also included a trip to Raleigh to face arch-rival NC State.

The Tar Heels' home schedule included games against Florida State, East Carolina, Virginia, Wake Forest, Duke and SMU. It was the first time since 1981 and just the ninth time overall that Carolina had played East Carolina.

Eight teams on this year's schedule are playing in postseason bowl games, including Oklahoma (Cotton), Maryland (Orange), Texas (Holiday), FSU (Gator), NC State (Tangerine), East Carolina (GMAC), Clemson (Humanitarian) and Georgia Tech (Seattle).

ASSISTANT COACHES WITH TAR HEEL TIES

Three members of the Tar Heel staff are graduates of the University of North Carolina. In addition to head coach John Bunting (UNC '72), assistant head coach James Webster (UNC '72) and assistant coach Rod Broadway (UNC '77) also graduated from Carolina. The last time at least three members of the coaching staff were Carolina graduates was in 1966. That year, Emmett Cheek (UNC '48), Fred Mueller (UNC '52), George Barclay (UNC '34), George Boutselis (UNC '65) and Chris Carpenter (UNC '52) were all a part of Jim Hickey's staff.

30-YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF 1971 ACC TITLE TEAM

Thirty years ago, John Bunting helped lead North Carolina to an ACC title, compiling a 9-3 record and advancing to face Georgia in the 1971 Gator Bowl. Thirty years later, Bunting is finishing his first season as Carolina's head coach. Assistant head coach James Webster was also a member of that 1971 squad.

Bunting and Webster were featured on the 1971 North Carolina media guide along with Lewis Jolley, Paul Miller and head coach Bill Dooley.

MCCAULEY INDUCTED INTO COLLEGE HALL OF FAME

Don McCauley, the sensational tailback around whom Bill Dooley rebuilt the Tar Heel program after becoming head coach here in 1967, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame on Dec. 11, 2001.

McCauley, a letterwinner for the Tar Heels from 1968-70, shattered the Carolina and Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns. His 1,720 yards were an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. That record stood in the ACC for 19 years until 1999 when Thomas Jones rushed for 1,798 yards. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season.

McCauley is the seventh person with North Carolina ties elected to the Hall of Fame. The others are Carl Snavey, Jim Tatum, Hunter Carpenter, Charlie Justice, Bernie Poole and Art Weiner.

TAR HEELS HAVE OVER 600 ALL-TIME WINS

Carolina is one of just 21 schools with 600 all-time victories. Last year, Carolina won its 600th game with a 59-21 victory over Duke. Carolina's all-time record is 607-428-54.

CAROLINA'S DECEMBER GRADUATES

Thirteen Carolina football players graduated prior to the Peach Bowl on Dec. 20, 2001. Those players are: wide receiver Kory Bailey, place-kicker Chris Bender, punter Brent White, linebacker Merceda Perry, safety Billy-Dee Greenwood, linebacker David Thornton, linebacker Quincy Monk, defensive end Joey Evans, place-kicker Jeff Reed, tight end Doug Brown and wide receiver Danny Davis. Rufus Brown and Anthony Saunders, running backs whose careers were cut short prior to this season because of injury, also graduated in December.

Carolina completed its best season at Kenan Stadium in five years with a 5-1 record.
