UNC's New Soccer & Lacrosse Stadium

In the fall of 2019, the Tar Heels moved into their new home, built on the site of their old stadium, Fetzer Field. The Soccer & Lacrosse Stadium provides student-athletes and coaches with the facility needed to continue to pursue the championships for which they are known. Fans in the stadium enjoy a much-improved gameday experience with new seating, concession areas, restrooms and amenities.

Supporting Carolina Men's Soccer

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Nike, Inc. signed a 10-year contract for Nike to be the exclusive supplier of athletic footwear, apparel and accessory products to the Tar Heels effective July 1, 2008. Nike will provide the athletic department with shoes, uniforms, coaching gear, balls and other equipment. In addition to the apparel and equipment, which constitutes the majority of the value of the contract, Nike will give the University $2 million to the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund. Nike will also provide support for team tours, travel and hosting regular-season tournaments in several sports. The athletic department will also receive $1 million for signing the contract, with those funds being used to overhaul lighting and sound at the Dean E. Smith Center.

CARLOS SOMOANO
NINTH SEASON AS HEAD COACH
18TH SEASON AT CAROLINA

Carlos Somoano, the active leader in winning percentage among Division I head coaches, enters his ninth year in 2019 at the helm of the North Carolina men's soccer program.

Somoano reached the summit of collegiate soccer when he led the Tar Heels to the 2011 NCAA title, becoming just the second rookie head coach in NCAA history to win a national championship. He returned to the College Cup with his Tar Heel side in 2016 and 2017, marking the third appearance in the sports ultimate destination under his leadership.

Somoano, who has guided each of his eight previous clubs to NCAA postseason play, owns an impressive 121-30-22 career record, good for a program best .763 winning percentage. Not only has all eight clubs made the postseason, but five of those teams reached at least the NCAA Quarterfinals.

He was named the 2011 National Coach of the Year by Soccer America as the Tar Heels posted a 21-2-3 mark en route to the national title. The Tar Heels became only the second team in Atlantic Coast Conference history to claim the treble in a single year by winning the ACC regular season title, the ACC Championship crown and the national championship in 2011.

In addition to his national coach of the year honors, the ACC coaches also pegged Somoano the top head man in the ACC for 2011. Somoano joined former Carolina men's coach and current Carolina women's coach, Anson Dorrance, as the second coach to be named the ACC Coach of the Year in their first year on the job.

Several Tar Heels earned national recognition in 2011 under Somoano's watch with Matt Hedges, Enzo Martinez and Billy Schuler earning All-America honors. Another Tar Heel, Ben Speas, was also named the National Player of the Year by Soccer America.

Five Tar Heels earned All-ACC honors in 2011 with Scott Goodwin, Matt Hedges, Enzo Martinez and Billy Schuler being named first team and Kirk Urso joining the second team. Mikey Lopez, Jordan McCrary and Boyd Okwuonu were all named to the ACC All-Freshman Team, while Hedges and Lopez earned Defender of the Year and Freshman of the Year, respectively.

The Tar Heels also excelled in the classroom with Scott Goodwin, Rob Lovejoy and Kirk Urso earning ACC All-Academic Team honors in 2011.

It was going to be a tough act to follow in his second season, but the Heels did well in recording a 16-4-3 mark and came within one match of a fifth-straight College Cup in 2012. UNC ultimately fell 1-0 to eventual national champion Indiana in the quarterfinal round of the NCAA Championship.

Similar to previous seasons, UNC was honored with a handful of national awards in 2012 with Danny Garcia, Goodwin, Lopez and Okwuonu all earning All-America honors. Additionally, Jonathan Campbell and Garcia, the ACC Freshman of the Year, earned Freshman All-America plaudits.

Six Tar Heels earned All-ACC awards during the 2012 campaign. Garcia joined Lopez as the first Tar Heel duo to be named ACC Freshman of the Year in back-to-back seasons since 1993 and '94. Additionally, Lopez and Okwuonu were the only underclassmen to be recognized on the All-ACC first team.

Academically, Goodwin was the winner of the Capital One Academic All-America of the Year award for Division I men's soccer. He also headlined the All-ACC Academic Team, earning the Scholar-Athlete of the Year award.

The 2013 Tar Heels featured one of the top defensive sides in the nation, led by ACC Defender of the Year Okwuonu, who also earned All-America honors for the second-consecutive season. Carolina advanced to the second round of the NCAA Championship, finishing with a 9-6-5 record.

Okwuonu led a group of five players that earned All-ACC honors as he was tabbed first team All-ACC. Jonathan Campbell and Brendan Moore secured second team citations, while Jordan McCrary was a third team pick and Omar Holness landed on the All-Freshman squad. Holness also secured a slot on Soccer America's All-Freshman Team.

The Tar Heels turned 2014 into another stellar campaign by posting a 15-5-2 overall mark and again reached the NCAA Quarterfinals for the sixth time in seven seasons. UNC was a prolific scoring team, leading the country in goals (52) and total points (157) and was second with 53 assists. Andy Craven, a finalist for the MAC Hermann Trophy, led the scoring corp with an NCAA best 35 points and 15 goals.

Craven and Okwuonu both earned first team All-America honors in 2014, while Jonathan Campbell was an Academic All-America first team selection. Carolina also led the way in the ACC with eight players selected for all-league honors, including three first team honorees - Craven, Holness and Okwuonu.

- 3 College Cup appearances - 2011, 2016 & 2017
- 2011 ACC Champions

The Tar Heels opened the 2015 campaign unbeaten in its first 12 matches, and in the process set a program record with a 16-game unbeaten streak going back to the end of the 2014 season. Carolina finished first in the ACC Coastal Division, earned the No. 5 national seed in the NCAA Championship, reached the third round for the seventh time in the last eight years, and finished the season with a stellar 15-2-3 record.

Team captain Jonathan Campbell became the first player in program history to earn first team NSCAA All-America and first team Academic All-America honors. Additionally, Campbell was the ACC's Scholar-Athlete of the Year, and led a trio of Tar Heels on the ACC Academic Team.

After knocking on the door of the College Cup in recent years, UNC broke through for the programs seventh trip in 2016. Carolina won the ACC's Coastal Division, earned the top seed in the ACC Championship and received the No. 10 national seed in the NCAA Championship as well.

A thrilling overtime winner over Providence in the NCAA Quarters set up a heavyweight bout between the Tar Heels and defending champion Stanford. The match was played to a scoreless draw, however, the Cardinal advanced, 10-9 in penalties, and ultimately won a second-straight national championship in Somoano's hometown of Houston, Texas.

Cam Lindley, regarded as the top newcomer in college men's soccer, was named TopDrawerSoccer National Freshman of the Year and ACC Freshman of the Year in 2016. He also earned first team All-ACC honors, leading a group of seven players named all-conference.

In the classroom, Alex Comsia earned the NCAA Elite 90 Award, an honor that goes to the College Cup participant with the highest GPA. Additionally, David October was a first team Academic All-American.

Somoano helped guide the Tar Heels back to the College Cup in 2017 after winning the ACC Coastal Division for the third consecutive year. Cam Lindley was named ACC Midfielder of the Year while also being named an All-American alongside Alan Winn.

Before his success as head coach, Somoano helped recruit six top-10 recruiting classes and watched over one of the most successful periods in school history as an assistant coach for nine seasons from 2002-2010. The Tar Heels advanced to three consecutive NCAA College Cups, including the 2008 National Championship game, and amassed a 118-52-27 record.

Somoano helped lead the Tar Heels to nine All-America honors and 41 All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors as an assistant, including the 2003 ACC Rookie of the Year, Jamie Watson. Twelve different Tar Heels were named to the All-ACC Academic Team for their work in the classroom and on the field, including 2010 ACC Men's Soccer Academic Athlete of the Year Kirk Urso.

Somoano also played a key part in developing the Tar Heels into professional soccer players. Since 2003, 33 former players have been selected in the MLS SuperDraft. Included in that group are 14 first-round draftees: David Stokes, Dax McCarty, Michael Harrington, Zach Loyd, Jalil Anibaba, Eddie Ababio, Matt Hedges, Enzo Martinez, Mikey Lopez, Jonathan Campbell, Omar Holness, Jordan McCrary, Colton Storm and most recently John Nelson in 2018.

Carolina was the only team nationally to have a first-round selection every season between 2010 and 2013, and its six first rounder's in that time frame was the second most in the country.

Four former Tar Heels who played under Somoano have represented the United States Men's National Team as Hedges, Loyd, McCarty and Logan Pause have all been called upon to represent their country.

College Soccer News named Somoano a Top 20 Assistant Coach six times in his career as well as the NSCAA South Region Assistant Coach of the Year in 2010. In addition to his work with the Tar Heels, Somoano has coached 16-to-18-year old boys with Raleigh's Capital Area Soccer League since 2002. He has guided three different teams within this age group to a total of five-straight state titles and three Disney Soccer Showcase championships. Somoano also served as the United States Youth Soccer Region III Staff Coach in 2004, 2006 and 2007 and was responsible for selecting and coaching ODP state team players. He also served in a similar position in Region I from 1999-2002.

Additionally, Somoano serves as a scout for the U.S. Soccer Development Academy. In 2009, Somoano was the head coach for the U-16 CASL Chelsea Academy, where he led his team to the National Championship week. He was named the 2009 US Soccer U-15/16 Development Academy Southern Conference and National Coach of the Year.

Somoano came to Carolina from VCU, where he was an assistant coach for six seasons from 1996-2001. Prior to his stint in Richmond, Va., he was an assistant coach at Eckerd College from 1992-95.

Somoano received a Bachelor of Science in biology (concentration in pre-medicine) from Eckerd College in 1992. He then earned a Master's of Sport Management degree from the University of Richmond in August of 2000. Somoano earned four letters in soccer at Eckerd College and was a two-year team captain.

Somoano is married to the former Martina Nedelkova, and the couple has two daughters and a son: Sofia Kathleen, born May 6, 2006, Gabriela Martina, born Dec. 24, 2007, and Alexander Luis, born April 24, 2011.

GRANT PORTER

ASSISTANT COACH
NINTH SEASON AT CAROLINA

Grant Porter begins his ninth season as an assistant coach for the North Carolina men's soccer program in 2019. A key figure in both national titles in school history, the 2004 UNC graduate helped lead the Tar Heels to their first national championship as a player in 2001 and again as an assistant coach in 2011.

Porter assists in all aspects of the program from handling travel plans to recruiting. Carolina has routinely brought in top-10 recruiting classes in recent years: No. 3 in 2012, No. 4 in 2013, No. 7 in 2015, No. 1 in 2016, No. 2 in 2017 and No. 1 in 2019. He played alongside 16 MLS draft picks as a player, and has helped guide 24 players into professional soccer since becoming a Tar Heel assistant coach in 2011.

Porter's 12 years with the Carolina program is likely unmatched by any other former player turned coach in Tar Heel history. His resume includes the aforementioned two national titles in 2001 and 2011, and a perfect 12 appearances in the NCAA Championship.

Porter has been a member of six Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship clubs, and two ACC Championship title teams.

COACHING STAFF

Additionally, his 12 seasons donning Carolina blue has seen his clubs notch an overall record of 189-48-27, a winning percentage of .767. That figure includes a 68-18-5 record as a player and a 121-30-22 mark as an assistant coach.

Porter rejoined Carolina in 2011 with eight years of coaching experience under his belt since graduating from UNC. Porter was the Director of Soccer for the Charlotte United Futbol Club in Charlotte, N.C., from 2006-2010. During that time he was also the head soccer coach at Charlotte Country Day School during the 2009 and 2010 seasons.

While at Charlotte Country Day, Porter helped groom an all-state selection, a pair of all-region honorees and six all-conference award winners.

Porter was an assistant coach at UC Santa Barbara in 2005 where he helped lead the Gauchos to an NCAA Championship appearance and a top-25 final national ranking. Eight players on that roster went on to Major League Soccer.

He began his coaching career at Georgia State University where he was the head assistant coach for two seasons. Porter helped lead the Panthers to a winning record and a trip to the Atlantic Sun Tournament semifinals. Porter earned a master's degree in sport administration from GSU.

Porter was a four-year starter during his time in Chapel Hill from 2000-03. He was credited with the game-winning assist in the 2001 national championship game, and was awarded the UNC Nicholas Douglass Potter Coaches' Award in 2001.

Porter would later go on to become the team captain in his senior year of 2003. The run from 2000-03 ranks as one of the best four-year spans in school history. The Tar Heels won 21 matches in back-to-back seasons, and were crowned both 2000 ACC Championship and 2001 NCAA national champs.

Porter, who works with US Soccer as a regional scout for youth national teams, holds a bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina in economics.

WILL CLAYTON
ASSISTANT COACH
SECOND SEASON AT CAROLINA

A native of Durham, N.C., Clayton enters his second season as an assistant coach at the University of North Carolina after spending four seasons as an assistant coach at the University of Central Florida. From 2014-2017 Clayton served as the Knights recruiting coordinator and had on-field responsibilities along with assisting in the day-to-day operations of the programs.

In his first full offseason in Chapel Hill, Clayton helped land the No. 1 recruiting class in the country according to TopDrawerSoccer.

As a former NCAA Division I National Champion in 2007 at Wake Forest, Clayton helped the Demon Deacons make three-consecutive appearances at the NCAA College Cup from 2006-08. After spending three seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Clayton aided UMass-Lowell in its transition to Division I (America East Conference) as the top assistant in 2013. He was involved in all aspects of the program with an emphasis on recruiting. Helped put together the Riverhawks' recruiting class that went on to help UMass Lowell finish No. 4 in the RPI two years ago.

As a player for the Demon Deacons, Clayton was a part of the 2006 and 2008 ACC Regular Season Championship squads. The 2007 National Champion graduated in 2009 with a Bachelor of Arts in history.

MICHAEL HARRINGTON
VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH
FIRST SEASON AT CAROLINA

A former Tar Heel and two-time All-ACC defender, Michael Harrington joins his alma mater on the sidelines for the 2019 season. The No. 3 overall pick in the 2007 MLS SuperDraft by Kansas City, he enjoyed 12-year professional career before retiring in 2018. A native of Greenville, N.C., Harrington was selected as an alternate for the 2008 Beijing Olympics and participated in the full National Team Training Camp in January 2014 as the United States prepared for the 2014 World Cup in Brazil.

During his playing career at North Carolina, Harrington was a four-year starter for the Heels as he started 81 of the 82 matches he played in. He helped lead the Tar Heels to the post season in all four years including a trip to the quarterfinals during his junior season in 2005.

As a senior in 2006, he was named first-team All-ACC as a defender while starting 19 games and recording one goal and four assists. His breakout campaign came one year prior when he switched from the midfielder to outside back and was an immediate impact in the lineup. He started all 24 games his junior season and was named second-team All-ACC and an NSCAA/adidas All-South region player. Prior to his junior season, he played defense for the U.S. Under-20 National Team at the FIFA World Youth Championship in Holland.

Harrington was also named to the ACC All-Freshman Team in 2003 where he started all 20 matches for the Heels in the midfield. and was named to the all-tournament team at the Nike Carolina Classic.

Prior to attending UNC, Harrington attended Edison Academy and was a member of the U.S. Under-17 National Team and represented the United States at the 2003 FIFA Under-17 World Championship in Finland. He was also a member of the U.S. U-14 and U-16 National Teams and was a Parade Magazine All-American in 2002, his senior year in high school.

Harrington earned his Bachelor's Degree in Exercise and Sports Science this May from UNC.

Bubba Cunningham Director of Athletics

Since Lawrence R. (Bubba) Cunningham officially began his duties as Carolina's director of athletics on November 14, 2011, UNC has graduated more than 800 student-athletes while consistently competing for championships in an array of different sports – exciting, motivating and influencing along the way.

Among the department's accomplishments:

- The Tar Heels have won 10 national titles and made an additional 10 runner-up finishes.
- More than 385 student-athletes have made the ACC Academic Honor roll -- which requires a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better for the year – each of the past six years – including a record 391 in 2017-18.
- Carolina's APR has steadily risen, and 15 teams scored a perfect 1000 in 2017-18.
- The Tar Heels have finished in the top eight of the Learfield Directors' Cup five times.
- And students-athletes have logged more than 30,000 hours of community service, helping at hospitals and local schools, and partnering with a variety of local and national groups.

Cunningham has led by supporting, challenging and innovating. Shortly after beginning his tenure as Carolina's athletics director, he led a strategic planning process that defined a new mission statement: "We educate and inspire through athletics."

And that's just what UNC has done during his eight years in Chapel Hill.

Among Carolina's many achievements during his tenure are a partnership with Disney to enhance customer service and organizational practices; the development of the Student-Athlete Academic Initiative Working Group; a compliance review by an outside firm; a student-athlete degree completion program called Complete Carolina; a master plan for UNC's athletic facilities; and the creation of The Rammys -- an innovative end-of-the-year awards show popular with Carolina's student-athletes and staff.

In January, the department implemented an updated strategic plan and vision for Carolina Athletics for the next five years called "Together We Win". And a transformative array of athletics facilities projects -- including a new football practice facility, lacrosse/ soccer stadium, field hockey stadium and track and field complex -- are underway and will be completed in 2018.

Cunningham has been busy outside of Chapel Hill, as well. He finished a term as the president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 2018; sits on the board of LEAD1, an association representing the ADs from the NCAA Division I Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) schools; is in his eighth year on the ACC Television Committee; and has served on many NCAA committees over the last two decades.

He has Carolina positioned to have a voice in the on-going conversation about the future, whether it is in the state university system, the Atlantic Coast Conference or at the NCAA level.

Cunningham is in his 17th year as a Division I director of athletics. He came to Chapel Hill after spending the previous six years as the director of athletics at the University of Tulsa, where he guided the Golden Hurricane through its initial move to Conference USA and spearheaded a $60 million athletics initiative. Tulsa won 34 league championships during his tenure, more than any other school in Conference USA, and the football program played in five bowl games in his final six years. He was honored as the 2008-09 FBS Central Region Athletics Director of the Year, an award presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

He also served as Ball State University's AD from 2002-2005. There, he led a program with 19 intercollegiate sports and a budget of $12.4 million. In his final year, Ball State completed a $12 million campaign to renovate the football stadium. In raising those funds, Cunningham secured the largest single gift in Ball State athletics history.

Cunningham, who earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration from Notre Dame in 1984 and 1988, respectively, worked in his alma mater's athletics department from 1988-2002. The former member of the Irish golf team (1982-83) served as Notre Dame's associate athletics director for finance and facilities from 1995-2000 and was the associate director of athletics for external affairs from 2000-02.

Cunningham also has served on the Gatorade National Advisory Board and has been a featured speaker at numerous NACDA and LEAD1 conferences.

Born in Flint, Mich., and raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four grown children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

Historic Fetzer Field

Fetzer Field, named for former Tar Heel athletic director and track and field head coach Bob Fetzer, was the only home the North Carolina men's soccer program knew from the team's first varsity game in 1947 through the entirety of the 1988 campaign. When Fetzer was being renovated, the Tar Heels played all their 1989 home games at Finley Field near the University golf course, as well as the first eight home matches of 1990.

Carolina then returned home to Fetzer on Oct. 21, 1990, and celebrated the homecoming with a stunning 2-0 upset of No. 10 NC State. On Nov. 10, 1990, Carolina played its first night game ever at Fetzer Field, beating Wake Forest 2-1 in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

A host of numerous ACC Championship, NCAA Championship and Final Four matches over its illustrious history, Fetzer Field was one of the nation's most storied soccer facilities. With the 1999 relocation of the UNC soccer offices to the McCaskill Soccer Center adjacent to Fetzer Field, Carolina enjoyed perhaps the finest overall facility in all of college soccer during that time.

Fetzer Field, which boasted a capacity of 5,025 fans, was the home to UNC's men's and women's soccer, men's and women's lacrosse and men's and women's outdoor track and field teams.

The dedication of the McCaskill Soccer Center on April 11, 1999, solidified Fetzer Field's elite status among soccer facilities. The Center was a two-story structure that housed locker rooms for the men's and women's soccer teams as well as a team meeting room, coaches' offices and a large conference room. Total costs on the project were $1.8 million.

Located in the heart of the Carolina campus, Fetzer Field was originally completed in 1935 as a Works Projects Administration program. Since 1947, the Tar Heel men won over 75 percent of their games played there, going 422-122-42 (.756) in 69 seasons.

The facility has been home not only to NCAA and ACC Soccer Championships, but also to several ACC Track and Field Championships, the N.C. High School Athletic Association Track and Field Championships, the National Junior Olympics and men's lacrosse NCAA and ACC Tournaments. In 1996, the facility was the home training site for the United States Track and Field Team as it prepared for the Summer Olympic Games in Atlanta. In 2001, it was home to the Carolina Courage of the WUSA.

A New Home

The University of North Carolina boasts one of the finest soccer and lacrosse facilities in the nation. Carolina opened its new, on-campus Lacrosse & Soccer Stadium on March 2, 2019, by hosting a men's and women's lacrosse doubleheader. The facility had been under construction since May 2017. It is built on the site of the old Fetzer Field, which housed six sports on campus from 1935 through 2017. The current name of the new facility is the UNC Lacrosse & Soccer Stadium. The facility is home to UNC's men's and women's soccer and lacrosse teams. The stadium provides the student-athletes and coaches of the of these programs with the facility needed to continue to pursue the championships for which they are known. Fans in the stadium can enjoy a much-improved gameday experience with new seating, concession areas, restrooms and amenities. The new soccer and lacrosse stadium provides a state-of-the-art home for the four programs, offering the operational space needed to compete at a championship level. The stadium will also bring fans closer to the field.

The new stadium features: A natural grass playing field, a full program facility (the building provides offices, team meeting areas and locker rooms for both soccer programs and women's lacrosse, while the men's lacrosse team's facilities will remain in the Loudermilk Center), Hall of Honor — the success of these programs will be celebrated in a new Hall of Honor in a fully renovated McCaskill Center, 4,200 individual chair back seats, new concessions and restrooms, new LED scoreboard/video board.

Heart of Campus

The Soccer & Lacrosse Stadium is located in the heart of central campus on the current footprint of Fetzer Field. The stadium connects on its south end with the Football Practice Complex, providing a needed and attractive connection between the southeast side of campus and central campus.

PIETERS GAME-WINNER TOPS DUKE

• Jelani Pieters scored the game-winner just 29 seconds after Duke tied the game in the 88th minute to send the Heels to their 8th ACC Tournament final.
• The goal was the first goal conceded since Oct. 12 against NC State, a span that lasted 4.5 games.
• This was Pieters first goal since the first game of the season on Aug. 24 against ETSU.

SIX TAR HEELS NAMED TO ALL-ACC TEAMS

• Led by Defender of the Year Alex Comsia, North Carolina had six players named to the 2018 All-Atlantic Coast Conference Men's Soccer Team, as voted on by the league's head coaches. North Carolina led all schools with four players named to the All-ACC First Team and tied a school record with the 2011 National Champion Tar Heels for most players selected to the first team in program history.
• Nils Bruening, James Pyle, Mauricio Pineda and Comsia were named to the 1st team.
• John Nelson was named to the 2nd team and Jack Skahan to the 3rd team.

CAROLINA CLAIMS 4TH STRAIGHT COASTAL TITLE

• With UNC's 1-0 win over rival Duke on Tuesday, Oct. 23, the Tar Heels claimed their 4th consecutive Coastal Division title.
• The Heels have won 4 of the 5 Coastal Division's since the ACC adopted divisions in 2014.

SKAHAN'S HOT STREAK

• During a 6 game streak, Jack Skahan has recorded six goals and two assists and contributed on eight of the 10 Tar Heel goals during that streak.
• He scored the game-winner against Winthrop, assisted on the game-winner against Boston College and scored the game-winner against Duke.
• Jack Skahan recorded his first multi-goal game and hat trick against Winthrop on Tuesday, Oct. 16. The junior scored the game-winner in the first half then added the insurance with the third and fourth goals of the game two minutes apart in the second half.
• The 4-0 win marks just the second time the Heels have scored three or more goals in a game this season. Last year, the Heels accomplished this feat eight times.

- The junior also recorded the game-winning assist and insurance goal against Boston College giving him four goals and an assist in the last two games.
- The forward was named to College Soccer News & TopDrawerSoccer Team of the Week for his performance.
- To keep his streak alive he scored the lone, game-winning goal against No. 14 Duke.
- In the ACC Tournament quarterfinal, he recorded a goal and an assist to make it four games with at least one point.

OFFENSE FINDING ITS FORM

- The Heels only scored 2 or more goals five times in their first 12 games. But over the last 7 games, they scored 2 or more goals 5 times.
- Over the last 5 games heading in to NCAA Championship play, UNC outscored its opponents 12-2. Four of those games the Heels scored 2 or more goals, while they have scored 3 or more in two of the last five.
- The Heels only scored three or more goals three times this season, two of them coming in the last six games.

TAR HEELS DEFENSE BEST IN THE COUNTRY

- The Tar Heels have one of the best defenses in the country this season. Nationally, UNC is tied for 1st in goals against average (GAA) at 0.430 goals allowed per game only conceding 8 times all year.
- In ACC play, the Tar Heels lead the ACC in goals against average (0.41) having only conceded three goals during ACC play. They are also first in overall goals allowed in conference play with 3.
- The Heels are tied for the 7th best shutout percentage in the country at 0.625.
- The Tar Heels have kept clean sheets for 10 of 18 games. At one point the Tar Heels held a four and a half game scoreless streak that lasted 517 minutes.
- The Tar Heels have only allowed three first half goals this season.
- UNC has not given up more than 1 goal in a single game this year.

James Pyle

- In nine games this year, the Tar Heel defense has not allowed their opponents to register more than four total shots or more than three shots on goal.
- Against No. 2 Indiana, the Tar Heels held the Hoosiers to 3 total shots, the least amount in any game for Indiana in 2004, with only two being on goal.
- Carolina followed up that performance by only allowing three shots with one on goal against William & Mary in the third game of the season.
- Against Jacksonville, Carolina held the Dolphins to 2 total shots and no shots on goal.
- The Tar Heels held Davidson to only 4 total shots with 3 of them being on goal.
- The most impressive performance might be against No. 8 Notre Dame when the Heels only allowed 3 total shots, with no shots on goal in 105 minutes.
- UNC held Clemson to 4 total shots and only one on goal for its third consecutive shutout.
- In the 1-0 loss against NC State the Heels outshot the Wolfpack 18-2 and only allowed one shot on goal.
- In the 4-0 win against Winthrop, the Heels held the Eagles to two total shots with only one on goal.
- Against No. 14 Duke, the Tar Heels only conceded 4 total shots with only two on goal to record their ninth shutout of the season.

TOPS OF THE ACC

SCORING SHOES TO FILL

- Carolina brings back eight starters, but lost three of its top four scoring options as Cam Lindley, Alan Winn and Zach Wright all went pro. Only Jelani Pieters returns from last years team who finished in the top four in total points.
- Carolina lost 60% of its goal scoring and 52% of its assists from last season.

- Carolina had the 4th highest scoring offense last season with 2.41 goals per game.

DEFENSE WINS CHAMPIONSHIPS

- The Tar Heels return all three starters on defense and veteran goalkeeper James Pyle, a group that only gave up 19 goals last season.
- The Tar Heels also return 3 of 4 midfielders in Pineda, Skahan and Kelly, all who started and made major contributions last season.

TAR HEELS SHUTOUT FIGHTING IRISH

- No. 3 North Carolina came away with a big ACC road win at No. 8 Notre Dame on Friday, Sept. 21. The 1-0 win in 2OT pushed the Heels to 2-0 in the conference.
- Gio Montesdeoca's goal in the 105th minute was his third of the season, tying him for first with Mauricio Pineda and Nils Bruening.
- Although Carolina needed double overtime to take the win, they dominated across the board. They outshot the Fighting Irish 15-3 and didn't allow one shot on goal from Notre Dame. They also led in corner kicks 7-2.
- With the OT win, the Heels are now unbeaten in their last 11 matches that have gone in to extra time.

SOMOANO TOP ACTIVE WIN PERCENTAGE

- Somoano is also the UNC program leader in winning percentage.
- He has guided all eight of his teams to the NCAA Championship, winning the 2011 title.

In Memoriam

Kirk Urso

March 6, 1990-

August 5, 2012

North Carolina,

2008-11

Kirk Urso was a member of the Class of 2012, a four-year letterman of the men's soccer team, which advanced to four successive College Cups. He wore the captain's band for the 2011 Tar Heels who won the National Championship, Carolina's second in the sport.

In the 2011 NCAA Tournament, Urso scored the tying goal to rally the Tar Heels past Coastal Carolina in the first round, assisted on the game winning goal against Saint Mary's in the quarterfinals and converted the opening penalty kick to lift the Tar Heels past UCLA in the semifinals.

But well beyond these accomplishments Urso manifested a true love for his alma mater, exemplified by his role as a leader of distinction in the Carolina Leadership Academy, as a fixture on the student athlete advisory council and as a gifted student who was the ACC's Men's Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

During his four years on campus, Kirk never met a stranger and his infectious smile in viewed his life with the sense of purpose and resolve that was the envy of all he met.

A member of the Columbus Crew in Major League Soccer, we lost Kirk at the tragically young age of 22.

Carolina's 2001 NCAA Title

By Brian Jackson
UNC Athletic Communications
Student Assistant

The 2001 North Carolina Tar Heels notched the men's first national title in their first-ever appearance in a national championship contest. After a thrilling, late-game comeback win over Stanford to reach the finals, the Tar Heels faced and defeated five-time champion Indiana, who entered the tournament having given up just six goals all season. In addition, the Hoosiers had knocked UNC out in the quarterfinals the year before in Chapel Hill.

The Tar Heels used an early goal 12 minutes in off a header by junior Ryan Kneipper to establish a 1-0 lead and set the tone for the game. Kneipper beat an Indiana defender and goalkeeper Colin Rogers to a long cross from Matt Crawford and headed a shot from six yards out just inside the right post.

The Tar Heels then turned to their defense, led by senior captains Danny Jackson and Chris Leitch, senior goalkeeper Michael Ueltschey and sophomore David Stokes, who was assigned to Indiana all-everything player Pat Noonan for most of the game. The Hoosiers put pressure on the Heels, but could not find a way to even the score against the stalwart Carolina defense.

At the 75 minute mark freshman Marcus Storey was fouled in the box, leading to a penalty kick by Jackson into the top left of the net, giving Carolina a 2-0 lead. The score would hold up as Carolina claimed its first-ever national title.

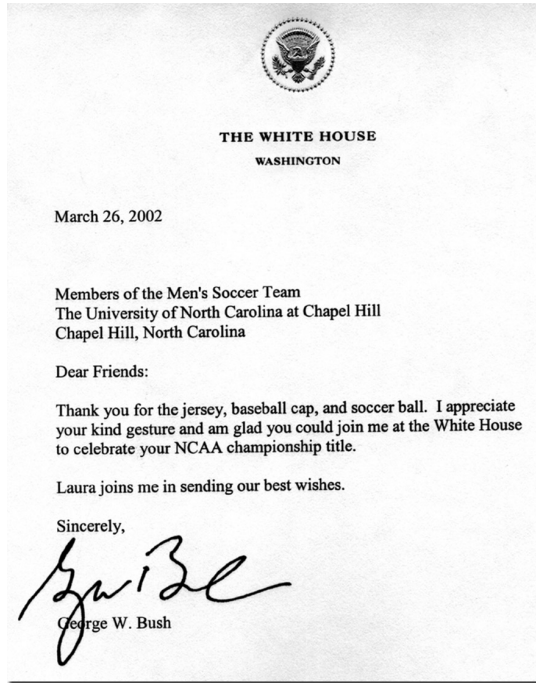

Carolina's chances of even reaching the finals looked bleak with less than 10 minutes on the clock in its NCAA semifinal versus Stanford. Carolina trailed 2-0 at the time, when forward David Testo bent a left-footed shot from 25 yards out just inside the far post to breathe life back into the Tar Heel attack. Less than two minutes later the Tar Heels found the back of the net again, as Crawford knocked in a rebound to tie the score at two with around eight minutes remaining.

The two teams would go at it for the final eight minutes of regulation and through four overtime periods until Carolina finally broke the deadlock when Mike Gell took a long pass from UNC keeper Michael Ueltschey and chipped a shot over onrushing goalkeeper Andrew Terris in the 136th minute. The goal gave Carolina the 3-2 victory and a place in the title game.

Drama was no stranger to the Heels in the 2001 NCAA Tournament. Carolina needed and received overtime goals to defeat both American and Farleigh Dickinson along its march to the championship. For the season Carolina finished with a school-record 21 wins against only four defeats.

Captain Kirk Urso and the Tar Heels claimed their second title in school history in 2011.

Carolina's 2011 NCAA Title

HOOVER, Ala. - Junior Ben Speas turned in the goal of the tournament to provide Carolina with a 1-0 edge in the 65th minute and the Tar Heel defense stepped up in the final minutes to give UNC its second national title in school history with a 1-0 win over Charlotte at Regions Parks in Hoover, Ala. The title came 10 years after UNC won the championship in 2001.

Speas gathered a free ball in the middle of the field and attacked a retreating 49er defense. After making a run at the right corner of the box, Speas reversed course and dribbled the ball to his left before unleashing a left-footed shot over Charlotte goalkeeper Klay Davis. The ball dipped over Davis and below the cross bar to give the Tar Heels a 1-0 advantage it would not relinquish.

The goal was Speas' third of the tournament and earned the junior forward Most Valuable Offensive Player honors.

Speas nearly put the Tar Heels ahead just minutes before his goal as he worked his way down the left flank before moving to the middle of the field and floating a ball to the far post. Sophomore Rob Lovejoy was making a run down the right and connected on a diving header as the cross got over the Charlotte defender but Lovejoy's header sailed wide of the target.

The Tar Heels struggled to control possession early on as Charlotte controlled the tempo. The 49ers had four shots in the opening 17 minutes of play but the Tar Heel backline made sure that nothing reached goalkeeper Scott Goodwin. Center backs Boyd Okwuonu and Matt Hedges combined to block three of the early opportunities.

Neither team was able to register a shot on goal in the opening 45 minutes.

The Tar Heels finally broke through in the 65th minute when Speas turned in a golazo with his shot from 25 yards out that changed the momentum of the match.

Carolina held possession after the initial tally and were looking to add to their total before Charlotte mounted a late charge.

The 49ers earned a corner kick in the 84th minute and nearly found the equalizer when Thomas Allen ripped a shot from eight yards out. The ball was destined for the back of the net but defender Jordan Gafa was the last man on the line and headed the ball clear.

The line clearance started a flurry of shots from the 49ers that the Tar Heels continued to turn away. The 87th minute saw Charlotte rip a shot that was saved by Goodwin, the rebound was crossed to T.J. Beaulieu who headed the ball off the crossbar. Jordan McCrary forced his way in front of the next shot opportunity before a shot went wide of the goal for a goal kick.

The Tar Heels became the first ACC team since Virginia in 1995 to claim the treble as UNC won the ACC regular season and tournament titles in addition to the NCAA title. Carolina finishes with a 21-2-3 mark which equals the school record for wins with the 2001 team.

Head coach Carlos Somoano became just the second coach in NCAA history to claim a national title in his first year.

NCAA Championships: Two (2001, 2011)

Carolina is in the midst of one of the most successful runs in collegiate men's soccer history. Over the last 20 seasons, UNC has participated in the NCAA Championship 19 times, reached the quarterfinals on 11 occasions, made eight appearances in the College Cup and won national championships in both 2001 and 2011. Overall, the Tar Heel men's soccer team has competed in 26 NCAA tournaments, compiling a 40-21-8 record.

They have been even more dominant over the last 11 seasons (2008-2018) as the Tar Heels lead all Division I NCAA programs in NCAA Championships wins (23), Sweet 16 appearances (9), Elite Eight appearances (8) and Men's College Cup appearances (6).

The Tar Heels made their first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1968 in a game played on a wet and muddy Fetzer Field. Unfortunately, the defending national co-champions from Michigan State spoiled the debut. The Spartans outshot the Tar Heels, 37-6, and won 5-0 on three goals by Tony Keyes and two from Tom Krefl.

The next time Carolina returned to the tournament was 1987. It wound up the most successful run prior to capturing the 2001 national title. Coached by Anson Dorrance, the Tar Heels entered the NCAA Tournament as the eighth-ranked team in the nation after winning the ACC Tournament. In the first round, Carolina defeated archrival and defending national-champion Duke, 2-0. The Tar Heels then battled South Carolina through two overtimes and a shootout before winning, 2-1, on a penalty kick by Derek Missimo.

In the quarterfinal against Loyola (Md.), Missimo scored on a header to give the Tar Heels a 1-0 victory, making Carolina only the fourth team in ACC history to achieve 20 wins in a season. Carolina then went to the Final Four but fell 4-1 to eventual champion Clemson on the Tigers' home field. The Tar Heels were ranked sixth in the final Soccer America rankings and placed sweeper David Smyth on the All-America team.

In 1988, Anson Dorrance's final year as the men's coach, the Tar Heels defeated Wake Forest, 2-0, in the first round of the tournament. Both Tar Heel goals came in the first half as Adam Tinkham scored on a breakaway and Marc Buffin kicked one in from 25 yards out. For Carolina, it was the 10th win in 11 games, the only loss coming to Virginia in the ACC Tournament championship game. The Tar Heels then advanced to the South Region championship, where they lost 3-1 to South Carolina.

Under coach Elmar Bolowich, Carolina again defeated Wake Forest in the first round of the 1990 tournament. Freshmen Chris Lyn and Brent Walker scored to give Carolina a 2-1 win and improve the series record against the Demon Deacons to 9-1-2. In the second round, the Tar Heels were defeated, 3-1, by Virginia at Charlottesville.

In the first round of the 1991 tournament, the Tar Heels defeated UNC Charlotte, 1-0, at Fetzer Field. Todd Haskins scored the winning goal on an assist by David Moore in the first overtime period. The Tar Heels then travelled to St. Louis, falling 4-0 to the hometown Billikens.

In 1993, the Tar Heels were once again victorious in the first round, holding on for a 3-2 victory over Duke. Gregg Berhalter scored a pair of goals off free kicks, and then Chapel Hill native Greg Caiola came off the bench to score the game-winner in the 69th minute. In the second round, the Tar Heels were upset, 2-1, by Air Force after ACC Rookie of the Year Temoc Suarez suffered a broken ankle midway through the first half.

Carolina returned to NCAA Tournament action in 1994 for the sixth time in eight seasons. Despite possessing the home-field advantage, Carolina was beaten by James Madison, 3-0, in the first round.

The Tar Heels made an NCAA Tournament appearance in 1999 after a four-year absence. UNC played at No. 3 Furman and gave the Paladins, who eventually reached the NCAA Quarterfinals, all they could handle before losing, 2-1, in overtime.

In 2000, Carolina was the top overall seed in the tournament after winning the ACC championship. UNC hosted three games at Fetzer Field, coming back from a 2-0 deficit in the first round to defeat William & Mary, 3-2, in an overtime game played in a driving snowstorm. The Heels downed Rhode Island, 3-1, in the second round before losing to two-time defending NCAA champion Indiana in the quarterfinals.

The 2001 Tar Heels notched the men's first national title in their first-ever appearance in a national title game. After a rousing, late-game comeback win over Stanford to reach the finals, the Tar Heels faced and defeated five-time champion Indiana, who entered the tournament having given up just six goals all season.

The Tar Heels used an early goal 12 minutes in off a header by junior Ryan Kneipper to grab an early 1-0 lead. Kneipper beat an Indiana defender and goalkeeper Colin Rogers to a long cross from Matt Crawford and headed a shot from six yards out just inside the right post.

The Tar Heels then turned to their defense, led by senior captains Danny Jackson and Chris Leitch, senior goalkeeper Michael Ueltschey and sophomore David Stokes, who was assigned to Indiana all-everything player Pat Noonan for most of the game. Indiana put pressure on the Heels, but could not find a way to even the score against the stalwart Carolina defense.

At the 75 minute mark freshman Marcus Storey was fouled in the box, leading to a penalty kick by Jackson into the top left of the net, giving Carolina a 2-0 lead and its first-ever national title.

The Tar Heels made their fourth-consecutive tourney appearance in 2002. Carolina opened its title defense with a 6-0 win over Winthrop in Chapel Hill, paced by Kneipper's school-record tying five goals. In the second round, UNC fell on the road to Penn State, 1-0, in double overtime.

In 2003, UNC earned the No. 4 national seed and a first-round bye but lost to the nation's highest-scoring team, Coastal Carolina, 3-0, at Fetzer Field in the second round of the tourney.

The Tar Heels hosted a postseason match for the fifth straight year in 2004, but fell to George Washington, 1-0, in the first round.

Carolina was the tournament's No. 4 overall seed once again in 2005 and advanced to the quarterfinals for the fourth time in school history and third time over the last six seasons. The Tar Heels opened with wins over Providence (2-0) and Virginia (2-1) behind four goals from Ben Hunter. UNC was eliminated in the round of eight by SMU, 3-2 in double overtime.

TAR HEELS

UNC hosted once again - as the No. 14 seed - in 2006 but suffered a 1-0 loss to Old Dominion in its first match.

After missing the 2007 tourney, the Tar Heels returned as the No. 13 seed in the 2008 and made a run to the national title game with four straight one-goal victories and a stout defense. After opening the tourney with a second round win over Jacksonville, Carolina posted a 3-2 rain-soaked, overtime win over UIC to reach the quarterfinal round. All-America Michael Callahan tied the match with a 12-yard rocket in the 87th minute. In overtime, Brian Shriver sent a cross from the left flank to Garry Lewis at the far post for the game-winning header in the 95th minute.

The Tar Heels punched their ticket to the College Cup with a 1-0 win over Northwestern at Fetzer Field on freshman Kirk Urso's game-winner in the 61st minute.

UNC met No. 1 Wake Forest in the semifinals and jumped in front with a Brian Shriver header in the fourth minute. Zach Loyd made a run up the right side and found Shriver in the box for what proved to be the game-winner.

The Demon Deacons pressured the Tar Heels for the rest of the match, but goalkeeper Brooks Haggerty, who made a career-best seven saves, and the back four withstood the pressure and advanced to their second national title match with their third shutout of the 2008 NCAA Tournament.

In the final, Carolina suffered a 1-0 loss to Maryland, ending their memorable run through the postseason.

Carolina made a return trip to the College Cup in 2009 where the Tar Heels squared off against undefeated and untied No. 1 Akron in the semifinals. The Tar Heels held the Zips scoreless for the first time on the season before falling, 5-4, in penalties.

The Tar Heels opened the NCAA Tournament with a first round bye before dispatching No. 25 Brown by a 2-0 margin. Indiana came to Chapel Hill next and left in similar fashion as Alex Dixon tallied the lone goal in UNC's 1-0 win. Next on the docket was No. 24 Drake who was the lone team to tally against Carolina during the 2009 NCAA Tournament en route to falling 2-1. Kirk Urso and Dixon scored in the win, as Dixon became the first player in school history to score in three consecutive NCAA Tournament games.

North Carolina advanced to its third consecutive NCAA College Cup in 2010 in remarkable fashion as the Tar Heels became the first team in NCAA history to advance in three consecutive rounds via penalty shootout.

The Tar Heels opened with a 0-0 draw against Georgetown before advancing 5-4 on penalties. In the second round, sophomore All-America Enzo Martinez delivered the goal of the tournament by scoring with nine seconds remaining in regulation to tie Michigan State before UNC advanced 5-4 on penalties once again. Another 1-1 draw in the quarterfinal round against SMU resulted in a 4-2 penalty win to send Carolina to Santa Barbara, Calif.

In the semifinal Carolina went up against undefeated and No. 1 overall seed Louisville. The Cardinals took a 1-0 lead early in the second half before Stephen McCarthy headed home a cross from Alex Dixon four minutes later to knot the score at 1-1. In another match looking to head to penalties, the Cardinals scored a last-minute goal to drop the Heels in heartbreaking fashion.

The 2011 season saw the Tar Heels reach the College Cup for a fourth-straight year and finally knock down the door to claim the second national championship in school history. Carolina claimed a 3-2 win over Coastal Carolina in the second round before Billy Schuler sent the Tar Heels through with an overtime winner against Indiana.

The Tar Heels downed Saint Mary's 2-0 in the quarterfinals to earn a trip to Hoover, Ala., where Carolina locked up with UCLA. The Tar Heels fell in an early 1-0 hole but netted a pair of goals in the second half to force overtime and an eventual penalty shootout that the Tar Heels claimed, 3-1. Ben Speas was the only person to tally in the championship as Carolina downed Charlotte to claim the 2011 National Championship.

Carolina reached the quarterfinal round for the fifth-straight season after picking up wins over UMBC (3-2 in penalty kicks) and Fairleigh Dickinson (1-0 in overtime) in Chapel Hill, before falling 1-0 at home to eventual national champion Indiana.

After a rare second round exit in 2013, UNC quickly regained its footing on the national scene with its sixth quarterfinal appearance in the last seven seasons in 2014. A 6-0 home win over James Madison was followed by a pair of 2-1 road wins over national seeds Charlotte and Clemson.

A cross-country trek ensued in the quarters at No. 2 UCLA in what turned out to be a match for the ages. Despite playing more than 90 minutes with 10 men, Carolina rallied from a 3-1 deficit on goals by Tyler Engel and Andy Craven to force penalties, but the Bruins ultimately advanced to the College Cup with a 7-6 shootout victory over the Tar Heels.

Carolina earned the No. 5 national seed in 2015, and promptly took down Coastal Carolina, 2-1, in the second round, setting up a matchup with former Tar Heel head coach Elmar Bolowich and the Creighton Blue Jays. UNC ultimately lost in the third round with a 1-0 setback.

The 2016 campaign featured the Tar Heels returning to the College Cup for a seventh time in program history. Drew Murphy's 102nd minute goal sent 9th-seeded UNC past Providence in the quarterfinals to earn a spot in Houston. Carolina won the ACC Coastal Division, held the top seed in the ACC Championship and finished the season ranked No. 4 in the final NSCAA poll, its best showing since winning the title in 2011.

The Tar Heels made it back-to-back College Cup appearances with a return trip in 2017, the sixth trip in the last 10 seasons. During its run to the College Cup, North Carolina were kings of the second half, scoring all six of its postseason goals during the second 45 minutes, and outscoring its opponents 6-2. Second half goals from Jelani Pieters and Mauricio Pineda against UNCW and Jack Skahan and Pieters against SMU set up a quarterfinal matchup with a red hot Fordham team. After Zach Wright put the Tar Heels on the board in the 61st minute, Fordham answered back to tie things two minutes later. Alan Winn scored the game-winner in the 80th minute to send the Tar Heels back to the College Cup where they finished the season ranked No. 4 in the final coaches poll.

Berhalter, Pope Play For U.S. In 2002 And 2006 World Cup

Former University of North Carolina men's soccer stars and long-time U.S. National Team members Gregg Berhalter and Eddie Pope were members of the 23-man 2006 United States World Cup team after also earning spots on the U.S. squad in 2002.

The two defenders both started games for the U.S. team during its 2002 qualifying campaign and World Cup run, and Pope started two matches in the 2006 World Cup.

Pope, who lettered at Carolina from 1992-95, made his third World Cup appearance, having started three World Cup games in 1998. Pope was a regular with the U.S. team throughout the last decade before retiring from international play following the 2006 World Cup.

Berhalter lettered at Carolina from 1991-93 and played professionally in Europe since leaving Chapel Hill until joining the MLS' LA Galaxy this season. He entered the 2006 World Cup with 44 career caps and was an injury replacement for Cory Gibbs. Berhalter started three games as a central defender during the USA's 2002 qualifying season and that year's World Cup was the first of his career.

Below: Eric Lichaj scored his first international goal for the U.S. National Team against El Salvador at the 2017 Gold Cup.
