All losses and ties are indicated in italic letters.

Note On Overtime Games

From 1979-1997, overtime games were formatted to include 2 mandated 15-minute overtime periods played out in their entirety. So all games indicated as overtime games during those 19 years are indicated with a 2OT designation and were all decided in 2 mandatory 15-minute periods. Beginning in 1998, the overtime process was changed to a golden goal format with the exception of ACC and NCAA Tournament games. A goal scored in overtime ended the contest at that point in time. In 1999, the golden goal format went into effect for ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament games as well. In 1998-2001, overtime periods were 15 minutes in length. Beginning in 2002, the process remained golden goal but the overtime periods were reduced to 10 minutes in length. From 1999 to the present, games that went to overtime are listed as either OT or 2OT depending on when the golden goal was scored. The 1998 NCAA semifinal match versus Portland was a four overtime sudden death match. The game would have gone to penalty kicks after the fourth overtime period. Games with penalty kicks outcomes are only relevant for ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament play when the games have ended in ties after regulation and the mandatory overtime periods.

Note: One game in UNC history has not gone the regulation 90 minutes. In a contest at Notre Dame in 1997, UNC and the Fighting Irish played to a 2-2 tie in a match that was ended in the 72nd due to repeated lightning delays.

Note: Beginning the 2019 season, North Carolina has played 961 games in its history.

*The NCAA recognizes only solo shutouts for individual statistical purposes. A shared shutout goes down as a team shutout but is not credited to any individual. Despite extensive records research by UNC Athletic Communications, determining the goalkeepers who played in shutout games in 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1984, 1985, 1987 and 1988 did not yield complete and accurate results.

#ACC Tournament
*NCAA Tournament

Since the founding of the U.S. Women's National Team in 1985, Carolina players have played an integral role in the team's success. A total of 59 players with UNC ties have earned caps playing on the full USWNT since its creation in 1985 through the conclusion of the 2018 calendar year.

At the 2019 Women's World Cup in France, Tar Heel alumnae continued to add to their long legacy of success in international competition. Five Tar Heels competed for the victorious American side which went undefeated in seven games. This group included starters Tobin Heath and Crystal Dunn as well as Jessica McDonald, Allie Long and Ashlyn Harris. Lucy Bronze played for England and won the Silver Ball as the tournament's second most outstanding player. The New Zealand roster featured Katie Bowen. Sarina Wiegman, who played on Carolina's 1989 NCAA championship team, coached the Dutch team to tournament final against the U.S.

The summer of 2015 proved to be an especially exciting time for Carolina women's soccer players as nine former Tar Heels competed in the FIFA World Cup in Canada. Six former Tar Heels were members of the U.S. Team - Lori Chalupny, Whitney Engen, Ashlyn Harris, Tobin Heath, Meghan Klingenberg and Heather O'Reilly. Former Tar Heels Robyn Gayle (Canada) and Lucy Bronze (England) and then UNC senior Katie Bowen (New Zealand) also competed in the World Cup.

The six Tar Heels on the U.S. team were a key part of the American side which won the U.S.'s first World Cup crown since 1999 which had lingered for an achingly long time for the U.S. without a title. Meghan Klingenberg started on defense and played every minute of the tournament while Tobin Heath started in the midfield for the United States and scored a goal in the 5-2 championship game victory over Japan. Lucy Bronze started for the England team which won third place in the tournament, its first ever World Cup medal, while Bowen started for New Zealand in the midfield. Both Klingenberg and Bronze were named to the FIFA World Cup Best XI for 2015, the equivalent of the All-Tournament Team. The Americans ran through the tournament unbeaten with only a scoreless draw in group play against Sweden marring their perfect record. In that game Klingenberg made a near miraculous back save in the closing minutes to maintain the tie. In the knockout phase the U.S. beat Colombia, China, Germany and Japan to win the gold medal and become the first nation in history to win three World Cups on the women's side.

Three Tar Heels — Heather O'Reilly, Tobin Heath and Meghan Klingenberg — played for the U.S. in the 2012 Olympic Games in London and were rewarded with gold medals after astonishingly dramatic wins over Canada in the semifinals and Japan in the final. It was the third gold medal for O'Reilly and the second for Heath. The Americans have won the Olympic gold medal in four of the six competitions since the inaugural event in 1996, including three in a row in 2004, 2008 and 2012.

O'Reilly and Heath were also members of the 2011 U.S. World Cup Team which claimed the silver medal in the event in Germany. Lindsey Tarpley was also named to the roster for that team in May 2011 but shortly thereafter tore an ACL and had to miss the competition. 1987 UNC alumna Marcia McDermott was an assistant coach for the 2011 U.S. World Cup Team.

Chalupny, O'Reilly, Heath and Tarpley were all on the U.S. Team which played in the 2008 Olympics in China as the team won its second straight Olympic gold medal and its third overall.

The U.S. National Team was coached by 1987 UNC alumna April Heinrichs from 2000-05. Heinrichs retired as the team's coach after leading the Americans to the 2004 Olympic gold medal in Athens, Greece.

One of the top highlights of all the National Team's events over the past 34 years since its founding in 1985 was the play of the U.S. World Cup Team which recaptured the World Cup championship with a 5-4 penalty kick shootout victory over China in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., on July 10, 1999. Rarely has any athletic team captured the imagination of the American public as that team did. Forty percent of the U.S. roster was comprised of graduates of Carolina's program led by starting forwards Mia Hamm and Cindy Parlow, starting midfielder Kristine Lilly and starting defender Carla Overbeck, the team's captain. Reserve roles were played by midfielders Tisha Venturini and Tiffany Roberts, defender Lorrie Fair and goalkeeper Tracy Noonan.

Parlow tallied the game-winner as the U.S. ousted Brazil 2-0 in the semifinals. After battling China to a 0-0 tie through 120 minutes of play in the final, the U.S. triumphed 5-4 on penalty kicks with Tar Heels Overbeck, Lilly and Hamm providing three of the five successful chances from the 12-yard spot in the penalty shootout.

American teams have medaled in all eight World Cups ever played, taking gold in 1991, 1999, 2015 and 2019, silver in 2011 and bronze in 1995, 2003 and 2007.

In the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece, the U.S. reclaimed the gold medal it had relinquished to Norway in 2000 when the U.S. settled for silver after an overtime loss in the gold medal match. That squad was coached by Heinrichs and six Tar Heels played on the squad, including Hamm, who was competing in her final major international event before retiring from the sport. During the Olympic Tournament, Lilly and Parlow continued as veteran mainstays of the team and they were joined by three younger generation Tar Heels — Catherine Reddick, Heather O'Reilly and Lindsay Tarpley. O'Reilly scored the game-winning golden goal in overtime as the U.S. beat Germany 2-1 in the semifinals and then Tarpley scored the opening goal of the match as the Americans beat Brazil 2-1 in overtime for the gold medal. Tar Heel players accounted for seven of the 12 goals scored by the U.S. in the 2004 Olympics.

Tar Heel head coach Anson Dorrance was one of the chief architects of the national team's amazing success. He began coaching the team in 1986 and he served in that role for eight years before retiring in 1994 to concentrate on his work as the Tar Heels' head coach. During Dorrance's coaching tenure, he led the U.S. National Team to a record of 65-22-2.

In 1991, Dorrance took the U.S. Team to China to compete in the first-ever Women's World Cup. Nine of the 18 players on the team were Carolina graduates or active UNC players at that time, including team captain April Heinrichs. The Americans won that initial World Cup, beating Norway 2-1 in the championship match.

Although the U.S. would be dethroned by eventual champion Norway four years later in the 1995 Women's World Cup semifinals and had to settle for the bronze medal, the Americans came back to claim the 1996 Olympic gold medal in women's soccer. The U.S. defeated Norway in sudden death overtime in the semifinals and then downed China in the gold medal match 2-1 before a capacity crowd at the University of Georgia's Sanford Stadium. That U.S. Olympic team featured seven Carolina players.

The U.S. National Team took home the silver medal at the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia with six more Tar Heels on that team. The National Team won the bronze medal at the 2003 World Cup with six Carolina players on that squad and it captured bronze at the 2007 World Cup and silver at the 2011 World Cup.

There were six former Tar Heels who competed in the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Crystal Dunn, Whitney Engen, Tobin Heath, Meghan Klingenberg and Allie Long played for the U.S. and Katie Bowen for New Zealand.

APRIL HEINRICHS 1984 & 1986 National Player of the Year

April Heinrichs was the first of the truly great players in Carolina's storied women's soccer history. She was also the first true superstar in women's soccer worldwide and proved that by being the captain of the first team to ever win a World Cup championship in 1991.

Heinrichs was named a first-team All-America forward in 1984, 1985 and 1986 by the Intercollegiate Soccer Association, the sport's chief governing body at the time. She was also a third-team All-America in 1983 as a freshman. The Intercollegiate Soccer Association named her National Player of the Year in both 1984 and 1986 as Carolina won NCAA titles in both of those years.

Heinrichs particularly excelled in postseason play while she wore the Carolina Blue & White. She was named to the All-Tournament Team at the 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986 NCAA Tournaments as Carolina won NCAA crowns in three of those four seasons. In 1984, she was tapped as the overall Most Valuable Player of the NCAA Tournament. In 1985 and 1986, she was the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the tournament as well. Heinrichs' performances in those tournaments helped the Tar Heels win NCAA championships in 1983, 1984 and 1986. Heinrichs' No. 2 uniform number was the first to ever be retired by the UNC women's soccer program.

Heinrichs' greatness is evidenced by her place in the Carolina record books. She shares the school record for assists in a game with five against Warren Wilson on October 29, 1983. She is second in Carolina history in scoring with 225 points. Her 87 goals are the third most in school history and she is also tied for eighth in assists with 51.

Heinrichs led the Tar Heels in scoring four times during her career – in 1983 with 47 points, in 1984 with 59, in 1985 with 50 and in 1986 with 69 as she led the Tar Heel leaderboard every season she was a Tar Heel.

Soccer America recognized her as the Women's Player of the Decade for the 1980s.

She was a member of the U.S. Women's National Team from 1986-91, earning 47 caps and scoring 37 goals. Heinrichs served as the captain of the 1991 U.S. team that won the championship at the first ever Women's World Cup in China. That team, coached by Anson Dorrance, beat Norway 2-1 in the gold medal match.

After Heinrichs' playing days, she made a transition to the coaching arena. In 1996, she served as an assistant coach for the United States Olympic Team, which won the gold medal in the Atlanta Games. She was the head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team from 2000-05, leading the team to an 87-17-20 record in five years. Heinrichs coached the team to an Olympic gold medal in 2004 in her last major competition as the squad's head coach. As head coach, she also led the U.S. to a silver medal at the 2000 Olympics and to a bronze medal at the 2003 World Cup.

Her first college coaching position was as head coach at Princeton University in 1990, where she compiled an 8-6-1 mark. She then became head coach at the University of Maryland for five years from 1991-95, compiling a mark of 56-40-7. In 1995, she was named ACC Coach of the Year after leading the Terrapins to their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. She then served four years as the head coach at the University of Virginia. She went 52-27-7 there with four NCAA Tournament appearances. Heinrichs was named head coach of the U.S. National Team in 2000 and she retired at the conclusion of the 2004 season after leading the American side to Olympic gold. She then coached for one year at the University of California at Irvine in 2006 before accepting a post with the U.S. Olympic Committee in December 2006 as Performance Services Team Leader. In January 2011, Heinrichs was appointed Development Director for women's soccer by the United States Soccer Federation.

A native of Denver, Colo., she graduated from Carolina in 1986.

SHANNON HIGGINS 1988 & 1989 National Player of the Year

Shannon Higgins won two national player of the year honors during her four years at the University of North Carolina. Higgins was one of the stars in the early stages of the U.S. Women's National Team and one of the most clutch players in collegiate women's soccer history.

Soccer America honored her with its national player of the year award in 1988 and the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America gave her its award in 1989. She also won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer in 1989.

Higgins played for the U.S. Women's National Team from 1987-91 and earned a total of 51 caps. She was a member of the United States Team which won the 1991 Women's World Cup title in China.

Her career continued as a coach of the sport on the collegiate level. She was the head coach for seven years at George Washington University and six more at the University of Maryland before retiring from coaching following the 2004 season. Her seven Maryland teams combined to go 62-51-10. Her final Terrapins' squad advanced to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament, the furthest the Terps had advanced in the national tournament at that point.

Before her time with the Terps, Higgins served as the head women's soccer coach at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., where she posted a 69-59-11 record in seven years.

Higgins is married to Sasho Cirovski, the head men's soccer coach at the University of Maryland since 1993 and coach of three national championship teams with the Terrapins' men's program.

As a collegian, Higgins rather remarkably scored the game-winning goal in the 1987, 1988 and 1989 NCAA championship games as the Tar Heels beat UMass 1-0, NC State 4-1 and Colorado College 2-0, respectively. It is a feat unrivaled in soccer history on the NCAA level. In the Tar Heels' NCAA championship victory over the rival Wolfpack in 1988, she recorded a hat trick.

She was named a first-team All-America midfielder by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in both 1988 and 1989. Higgins was also named to the first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference squad in 1987, 1988 and 1989, winning the ACC Player of the Year award in her senior season of 1989.

The University of North Carolina honored her with the Patterson Medal in 1990 as the outstanding senior student-athlete at the school. Also in 1990, Higgins won the first-ever Mary Garber Award given by the Atlantic Coast Sports Media Association to the female athlete of the year in the conference. She was the first of eight UNC women's soccer players to win the award.

Higgins had a memorable career in postseason play for the Tar Heels. She was named to the All-Tournament Team at the NCAA Tournament in 1987, 1988 and 1989. Higgins was the Offensive Most Valuable Player of the 1988 NCAA Tournament after she scored three goals in Carolina's 4-1 victory over NC State in the championship game.

In each of her four years at Carolina (1986-89), the women's soccer team captured the NCAA championship. She also played on Tar Heel teams which captured ACC Tournament championships in 1987 and 1989.

Her jersey number (No. 3) is one of 19 numbers which have become eligible in Carolina women's soccer history for retirement.

Higgins is ranked 16th in career scoring at Carolina with 129 points and she is 20th in goals scored at Carolina with 39. She is tied for eighth in Carolina history with 51 assists. In 1988, she led the ACC in scoring with 43 points. For three consecutive seasons, she led the conference in assists. She had 11 assists in 1987, 17 assists in 1988, and 18 assists in 1989.

KRISTINE LILLY 1990 & 1991 National Player of the Year

Kristine Lilly's tenure on the U.S. Women's National Team earned her the distinction of being one of the most celebrated players in soccer history. Before her retirement from international soccer on January 5, 2011, Lilly had 354 caps with the U.S. National Team. She has 43 more caps than any other player in USWNT history. Christie Rampone ranks second with 311.

Lilly was honored in 2015 with induction into the U.S. Soccer Hall of Fame. She was elected in the first year in which she was eligible for election to the Hall.

Lilly played in her fifth Women's World Cup in 2007, an amazing feat that dated to her first appearance in 1991. Rampone is the only other American to have played in five World Cups. When she retired, Lilly was the second-leading scorer in USWNT history with 130 goals and 106 assists for 366 points, ranking only behind Mia Hamm in those two statistics. She finished her career No. 1 in career starts and caps and No. 2 in goals, assists and points.

Lilly was twice named National Player of the Year at Carolina, winning the award in 1990 and again in 1991. Soccer America honored her during both campaigns, while the Missouri Athletic Club, the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the Hermann Trophy and the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America all gave her their awards in 1991. Lilly won the award in 1991 despite playing only in the regular season before departing for China to play in the Women's World Cup.

In 1993, she earned the Patterson Medal as the outstanding senior athlete at the University. She was the ACC Player of the Year in 1991 while winning the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player award in 1990. Soccer America named her the National Freshman of the Year in 1989.

In postseason play, Lilly was named the Most Outstanding Offensive Player in the 1989 and 1990 NCAA Tournaments. She scored 10 goals and had seven assists for 27 points in nine NCAA Tournament matches in her career. The Heels won NCAA championships in all four of her years at Carolina and UNC compiled a record of 93-1-2 during Lilly's tenure.

She is fifth in school history in scoring with 197 points, fourth in goals scored with 78 and tied for 17th in assists with 41. In 1990, Lilly ranked second in the nation in scoring with 52 points.

When it comes to experience internationally, Lilly simply had no equal. She participated in more than 80 percent of the matches the U.S. women's team had ever played at the time she retired. That gave her more international match appearances than any other player – man or woman – in the history of U.S. Soccer. The U.S. Soccer Federation named Lilly its Player of the Year in 1993.

Lilly was a member of the U.S. National Team, which won the gold medals at the 1996 Olympics and 2004 Olympics. She also helped the U.S. win the 1999 World Cup just as she had been a key cog in the win in 1991. Lilly scored two goals and had one assist during the 1999 competition. She converted a key penalty kick in the shootout in the final against China as well as clearing what would have been a sure Chinese goal off the goal line in overtime before the match went to penalty kicks.

Her jersey number 15 was retired by the University of North Carolina. She received her degree from Carolina in Radio, Television & Motion Pictures in 1993. Lilly played for the Boston Breakers in the WUSA for three seasons. She returned to professional soccer in 2009 as a member of the new Boston Breakers franchise in Women's Professional Soccer. In 2011, she had her number retired by the Breakers' franchise and the mayor of Boston, Thomas Menino, honored her with Kristine Lilly Day in the city. In 2014, Lilly was elected to the U.S. National Soccer Hall of Fame. She has served as an assistant coach both at the University of Texas and with the Boston Breakers.

MIA HAMM 1992 & 1993 National Player of the Year

Mia Hamm attained the status of being recognized as one of the world's most talented and well-known female athletes in any sport and she accomplished that status very early in her career. Fifteen years after her retirement from soccer she is still one of the most respected and admired women's athletes in American history.

FIFA named her the Women's World Player of the Year in both 2001 and 2002, the first two years in which the world's governing body had bestowed the award.

Her fame expanded off the pitch. People Magazine named her one of the 50 Most Beautiful People in the World in 1997. Corporations contracted with her for major endorsements, including Gatorade, Pepsi and Pert Shampoo. Nike named the largest building at its world headquarters in Beaverton, Ore., after her in 1999. She has devoted her life after soccer to multiple philanthropic causes. She remains, 15 years after her retirement, a recognizable icon in American sports history. A modest and humble player, she is nevertheless one of the most charismatic and well-liked athletes in history.

Hamm was one of the stars of the U.S. team which won the title at the 1999 World Cup, an event which propelled the popularity of women's soccer in the U.S. to unheard of heights. Hamm converted a key penalty kick in the victory over China in the championship game.

Hamm was the 1994 recipient of the Honda Broderick Cup given to the Outstanding Female Athlete in all of college sports. She is the only UNC athlete to ever win the award. She received the 1994 Patterson Medal as the outstanding senior athlete at Carolina.

The ACC honored Hamm with the 1993 and 1994 Mary Garber Awards as the ACC's Female Athlete of the Year. She also won the ACC Player of the Year award in women's soccer three times and was a three-time unanimous first-team All-America selection. In 2002, she was named the outstanding female athlete in the first half century of the ACC's history dating back to the league's founding in 1954.

Hamm helped lead UNC to NCAA championships in 1989, 1990, 1992 and 1993. She was the unanimous choice as college soccer's National Player of the Year in 1992 and 1993. Hamm won the NCAA Tournament MVP awards for offense in 1992 and 1993. In 1989 and 1992, she was the MVP of the ACC Tournament.

Hamm led the nation in scoring in 1990, 1992 and 1993, setting the NCAA single-season record for scoring with 97 points in 1992. Hamm also holds the UNC record for assists in a season with 33 in 1992. She scored 32 goals in 1992, the second-highest total in UNC history.

Before retiring from soccer at the conclusion of the 2004 season, Hamm had been a member of the U.S. National Team since 1987 when she was still in high school. She was 15 years old when she first played for the team, making her the youngest woman ever to play for the National Team.

She ended 2004 as the world's all-time leading scorer with 158 goals and 145 assists for 461 points. Her 158 international goals were the most of all-time in FIFA history, male or female, until that mark was broken by Abby Wambach in 2013. Hamm concluded her career on a high note by winning her second Olympic gold medal in 2004.

In 1999, she established the Mia Hamm Foundation to raise funds and awareness for bone marrow transplant patients and families and also to provide more opportunities for young girls in athletics. In January 2019, she received the NCAA's prestigious Silver Anniversary Award, 25 years after her collegiate career ended.

She received her degree in political science from Carolina in 1994. In 2003, she was married to Nomar Garciaparra, a former Major League Baseball All-Star and current ESPN commentator. They have twin daughters, Ava Caroline and Grace Isabella, born in 2007, and a son, Garrett, born in 2012.

TISHA VENTURINI 1994 National Player of the Year

Tisha Venturini won championships at every level in her playing career – high school, college, international play and as a professional.

She is one of only three women in history to win an NCAA title, an Olympic gold medal, a Women's World Cup championship and the WUSA's Founders Cup championship. The others were also Tar Heels — Mia Hamm and Carla Werden Overbeck.

Her career at Carolina got off to a fast start as she won Soccer America's National Freshman of the Year accolade in 1991 to complement her ACC Freshman of the Year award. That season, she led the NCAA in scoring with 21 goals and 16 assists for 58 points. She carried the Carolina team in the NCAA Tournament as Kristine Lilly and Mia Hamm were playing in the World Cup in China where they led the U.S. to the first of its three World Cup championships.

Venturini would go on to be the unanimous selection as the 1994 National Player of the Year after leading Carolina to a fourth straight national championship, capping an utterly brilliant playing career on the college level. She was the recipient of the Hermann Trophy and was also named Player of the Year by the Missouri Athletic Club, the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America, Soccer America, Soccer News and College Sports.

She was the recipient of the 1995 Patterson Medal given annually to the outstanding senior athlete at the University of North Carolina. She is one of a long line of Tar Heel women's soccer recipients of the Patterson Medal.

In 1995, she also won the Mary Garber Award as the Outstanding Female Athlete in the ACC. She was the ACC Player of the Year in 1994 and was also named first-team All-ACC and first-team NSCAA All-Southeast Region four times.

Venturini was at her best in the postseason in leading Carolina to multiple ACC and NCAA championships. She was named the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player in 1991, 1993 and 1994, and, in each of her four seasons at North Carolina, she made the NCAA College Cup All-Tournament Team. Remarkably versatile, she won the Most Outstanding Defensive Player of the 1991 NCAA Tournament accolade and the Most Outstanding Offensive Player of the 1994 NCAA Tournament award. In 14 NCAA Tournament games, she had seven goals and added nine assists for 23 points.

Venturini established a reputation as a clutch player, scoring three goals against Duke in the 1994 ACC Tournament championship game and two goals against Notre Dame in the 1994 NCAA title game as she finished her post-season career in impressive fashion. She led the Tar Heels to a 5-0 win over Notre Dame in the championship game after the two teams played to a scoreless tie in the regular season.

She is sixth all-time in UNC history with 69 goals and tied for eighth all-time in assists with 51. She is tied for seventh in points with 189.

Venturini also went on to great success in international play for the U.S. National Team.

She started at center midfield for the U.S. National Team in the 1995 Women's World Cup, and tied for the U.S. team lead in scoring with three goals.

In the 1996 Olympics, she helped the U.S. capture the gold medal. She was also a member of the 1999 U.S. World Cup championship team for the USA. Venturini scored two goals versus North Korea in the last round of pool play in that event.

Overall, she had 134 caps for the National Team, scoring 47 goals.

She played for the San Jose Cyber Rays in the WUSA for three years, capturing a title in 2001.

DEBBIE KELLER 1995 & 1996 National Player of the Year

University of North Carolina head coach Anson Dorrance once called Debbie Keller potentially the finest leader he had seen in his 40 years of coaching women's soccer at Carolina.

In 1995, she was named Co-National Player of the Year by Soccer Digest, and, in 1996, Keller was named National Player of the Year by both Soccer America and Soccer Buzz. Keller won the latter two awards after leading the Tar Heels on a relentless run to regain the national championship it had relinquished to Notre Dame the previous year. Keller's overtime goal in the national championship game in 1996 in Santa Clara, Calif., was the difference in the game.

Keller received the Patterson Medal, given to the most outstanding senior athlete at the University of North Carolina, in 1997. She is one of 13 UNC women's soccer players to have won the prestigious award.

UNC won NCAA championships with Keller as a leading component of the team in 1993, 1994 and 1996. She co-captained the 1996 team and played all 210 minutes of the NCAA semifinals and championship game that year against Santa Clara and Notre Dame in the College Cup. The Tar Heels prevailed against the Broncos 2-1 in the semifinals and then in the championship game, she scored the game-winning goal at the 110:56 mark. After the tournament, she was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup.

In 1996, she was named a first-team All-America selection by Soccer America, Soccer News and Soccer Buzz. In 1995, she was named a first-team All-America honoree by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America and Soccer News. In 1994 and 1996, she was named a second-team All-America selection by the NSCAA.

Keller was a finalist for the prestigious Honda Sports Award for soccer in 1996.

With 102 games played, she was the NCAA career record holder in that category until it was broken a year later by fellow Tar Heel forward Robin Confer who played in 107 matches. Keller ranks sixth in UNC history in career points with 191, eighth in career goals with 67 and fifth in career assists with 57. Over the course of her career, she scored a remarkable 16 game-winning goals, averaging four a year.

The Atlantic Coast Conference tabbed her as a first-team all-league selection in 1994 and 1995. She was also the Most Valuable Player of the 1995 ACC Tournament. Ironically, she did not earn first-team All-ACC honors in 1996 despite winning two national player of the year awards, a slight that was rectified by her post-season play.

The Tar Heels won four ACC Tournament championships while Keller played at UNC to go with the three NCAA crowns she also won.

In 1996, she was a finalist for both the Hermann Trophy and the Missouri Athletic Club Sports Foundation's Player of the Year Award. Sports Illustrated featured her in its Faces in the Crowd section of a December issue in 1996 after she scored the game-winning goal in the 1996 NCAA championship game against Notre Dame. Her overtime goal lifted the Tar Heels past the Fighting Irish 1-0.

She scored all three goals for the East Team in the 1997 Umbro Select Senior All-Star Game in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The East team defeated the West Team 3-0.

Soccer Buzz gave her its inaugural National Sportsmanship Award in 1996.

From 1995-98, Keller earned 46 caps with the U.S. Women's National Team. She started 14 games in that time and had 18 goals and six assists for 42 points. Keller played on the National Team during an era when it had some of its greatest success in history.

ROBIN CONFER 1997 National Player of the Year

One of the most gifted women's soccer players in NCAA history, Robin Confer had an uncanny ability to find the back of the net throughout her UNC career at the most fortuitous times. She was the stereotype of a pure finisher and that was reflected in her career scoring statistics and the number of game-winning goals she tallied while leading the Tar Heels to three national championships.

The Florida native and 1998 UNC alumna is ranked fourth in Carolina history in total points with 209 and is the fifth highest goal-scorer in school history with 77 tallies. Her 55 assists are good enough for the sixth most in Tar Heel women's soccer lore. Playing on teams with bigger name stars who populated the U.S. Women's National Team roster, it was Confer who was the quiet catalyst behind multiple national championship winning teams.

In 1997, she had 62 points – a total tying her for the 10th most points in a single season in Carolina history. That same season, she had 22 assists, eighth most in a single campaign. The 18 assists she recorded in 1995 are tied for the 12th most in a single year in Carolina women's soccer statistical rankings.

As a senior, she was named the National Player of the Year by Soccer Buzz magazine and Soccer News magazine. Confer was also a finalist for the 1997 Hermann Trophy and a semifinalist for the 1997 Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year award.

Confer established an NCAA record for games played in a career with 107 appearances from 1994-97, breaking Debbie Keller's existing NCAA record of 102 set the year before. Confer never missed a game in her career at Carolina. She shares the Carolina record for most games played in a season and most games started in a season with 28 in 1997.

An inspired performance in the 1997 NCAA Tournament led to her being named the Most Valuable Offensive Player of that competition. She scored a goal on a nifty free kick late in the second half to lift UNC to a come-from-behind 2-1 NCAA semifinal win over Santa Clara. Two days later, she scored the insurance goal in the waning minutes in the Tar Heels' 2-0 victory over Connecticut in the NCAA championship game in Greensboro, N.C.

In 1997, Soccer America, Soccer News, Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times all named her a first-team All-America selection. She was named a second-team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in 1997. In 1996, she was named second-team All-America by Soccer Buzz and Soccer News. In 1995, she was a Soccer News second-team All-America. As a freshman in 1994, she was named a third-team All-America by Soccer News.

Confer was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference in 1995 and 1997 and second-team All-ACC in 1994 and 1996. She was the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player in 1996. The Tar Heels won four ACC Tournament championships and three NCAA championships (1994, 1996 and 1997) during her stint in Chapel Hill. She has more career points in ACC Tournament games than any other player in history with 31 and the most goals with 13.

Her 27 game-winning goals are the most in UNC history. Confer netted 11 game-winners in 1995, the most in a single season in North Carolina history.

Soccer Buzz named her the 1997 Southeast Region Offensive Player of the Year and Soccer News named her the 1997 Southeast Region Player of the Year.

Confer coached five years as the head women's soccer coach at the University of North Florida. She previously served as an assistant coach at North Carolina, Mississippi State, Texas A&M, Florida State and Georgia.

STACI WILSON 1995 National Player of the Year

Small in stature, but big in heart, defender Staci Wilson was impossible to intimidate on the pitch. Literally impossible. She was tenacious in her desire to win. She was indefatigable. Her commitment to doing what was necessary to win stood as a shining example to her teammates at Carolina.

She is remembered as one of the toughest defenders in the history of both the University of North Carolina women's soccer program and NCAA women's soccer overall. Wilson always made the difficult tackle and pursued every loose ball with ferocious intensity. She played on four of the strongest defensive teams in Tar Heel history.

Wilson was also respected as a top offensive threat from her backfield position and she was always successful at jumpstarting the Tar Heel attack with a well-timed run from the back. She had a knack for both assisting and finishing.

Standing barely five feet tall, she helped the Tar Heels win four Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships from 1994 through 1997 and three NCAA championships as the Tar Heels claimed the crowns in 1994, 1996 and 1997.

In 1995, she was the Co-National Player of the Year as named by Soccer Digest and is one of 19 Tar Heel players to have her jersey number retired by the University.

In her first season at UNC, she was named the National Freshman Player of the Year by Soccer America magazine in 1994 on a team which was senior-laden and won the national title for the ninth straight year.

As a senior in 1997, she was named a first-team All-America by Soccer America, Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times and a second-team All-America by Soccer News and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America/Umbró. That 1997 Tar Heel team was as good as any defensively in UNC lore, allowing only eight goals in 28 games as UNC finished 27-0-1. The Tar Heels allowed only eight goals in 28 matches while playing against the toughest schedule in the nation. The Tar Heel defense was that good despite the fact UNC played a system with only three players in the back in front of goalkeeper Siri Mullinix.

In her junior season in 1996, she was a coaches' association first team All-America and was named a second-team All-America by Soccer Buzz and a third-team All-America by Soccer News. That team lost only one game en route to a national title, a midseason loss to Notre Dame that was avenged in the national championship game as Carolina posted a double overtime shutout to triumph over the Fighting Irish. Her 1995 campaign earned her a first-team All-America selection by the National Soccer Coaches Association, Soccer America and Soccer News. As a freshman in 1994, she was a first-team Soccer News All-America.

Wilson was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference defender from 1994-1996 and made only the second-team All-ACC squad in 1997 despite being a consensus first-team All-America that season. She was named to the All-ACC Tournament Team in 1994, 1995 and 1997 as Carolina won league championships each of those seasons.

She also earned honors as a member of the NCAA's All-Tournament Team at the 1994, 1995 and 1997 tournaments.

The U.S. Olympic Team tapped her as a reserve for the 1996 gold medal team in Atlanta, Ga. She played for the U.S. National Team in 1995 and 1996 and earned 15 caps, while starting five games.

In the Women's United Soccer Association, she was a starting defender for the Carolina Courage, winning a Founder's Cup title in 2002. Altogether she was a champion at the ACC, NCAA, Olympic and WUSA level, a remarkable quartet of accolades.

Playing high school and club soccer in Northern Virginia, she was one of the top-ranked players in the United States' high school ranks when she was recruited by the Tar Heels for her freshman campaign in 1993-94.

CINDY PARLOW

1996, 1997, & 1998 National Player of the Year

Dynamic forward Cindy Parlow was the youngest player to ever win both a women's World Cup title and an Olympic gold medal. She is also the youngest player to ever be named to a U.S. Olympic Team. She is the seventh-leading goal scorer in the history of the U.S. Women's National Team despite having played on the team for only nine years (1996-2004). She totaled 185 points in her career and also ranks eighth all-time in goals in U.S. Women's National Team history with 75. In 2018 she was elected to the U.S. Soccer Hall of Fame and was elected a vice president of U.S. Soccer.

As a standout player at the University of North Carolina, Parlow was named National Player of the Year in three different seasons, earning top player honors in 1996, 1997 and 1998. She went on to serve as a volunteer assistant coach with the Tar Heels for seven years (2006-12). UNC won four national championships in her seven years on the staff, triumphing in 2006, 2008, 2009 and 2012.

After arriving in Chapel Hill from Memphis, Tenn., Parlow had an immediate impact for the Tar Heels as a freshman in 1995. She had graduated from high school a year early to join the Tar Heels but immediately showed maturity beyond her years. Soccer News and Soccer America both named her the National Freshman Player of the Year and, along with the NSCAA, they also picked her as a first-team All-America. Parlow also garnered first-team All-ACC and ACC Freshman of the Year honors. She scored 19 goals and had 13 assists for 51 points that season.

As a sophomore, Soccer News magazine named her National Player of the Year. She was chosen as a first-team All-America by Soccer News, Soccer America, the NSCAA and Soccer Buzz as well as being named first-team All-ACC. She had 41 points on 15 goals and 11 assists while leading the Tar Heels to the national championship.

As a junior, Parlow won the Hermann Trophy as well as National Player of the Year honors from the Missouri Athletic Club Sports Foundation and Soccer Times magazine. She was Carolina's leading scorer with 44 points, netting 13 goals and notching 18 assists. In the 1997 NCAA Tournament championship game, Parlow scored the game-winning goal in a 2-0 victory over Connecticut. Soccer News, Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times and the NSCAA all selected her as a first-team All-America. She was also selected as first-team All-ACC and the MVP of the ACC Tournament in 1997.

In her senior campaign, Parlow was honored with the Mary Garber Award as Female Athlete-of-the-Year in the ACC. She tallied 21 goals and had 11 assists for a total of 53 points. She won the Hermann Trophy and was named Player of the Year by the Missouri Athletic Club Foundation, Soccer News and College Soccer Weekly Online. She was named a first-team All-America by the NSCAA, Soccer America, Soccer News, ESPN.com/Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and College Soccer Weekly Online. The ACC named Parlow as its Player of the Year and also selected her as a first-team all-conference player.

She scored 189 points in her UNC career. That equals the seventh highest total in history. She scored 68 goals, which ranks as the seventh highest total. Her 53 assists are also the seventh highest total. In her four seasons at UNC, the Tar Heels went 102-3-1.

Parlow was a starter for the 1999 U.S. World Cup Team which won the world championship. She played with the U.S. National Team from 1996-2004 and captured two Olympic gold medals and one World Cup title. She claimed Olympic gold in both 1996 and 2004, her final major tournament in a WSWNT uniform. Parlow had 158 caps with the U.S. National team from 1996-2004. Parlow played for the Atlanta Beat in the WUSA for three seasons from 2001-03.

In 2013, Parlow was the head coach of Portland Thorns FC, leaving the club to the initial championship in the National Women's Soccer League.

LORRIE FAIR

1999 National Player of the Year

While at Carolina, Lorrie Fair was one of the nation's top defenders, winning National Player of the Year honors following the Tar Heels' 1999 NCAA championship season. Fair was one of the most valuable and versatile players in Carolina history, playing in the midfield, on defense and at striker.

After a solid freshman year in leading UNC to a national championship, Fair was one of the nation's most improved players in the country in 1997 and she followed that year of growth with brilliant junior and senior seasons.

After graduating from Carolina, Fair was one of the founding members of the WUSA as an all-star player for the Philadelphia Charge.

Fair's freshman season at Carolina was an impressive one. Soccer News named her a second-team All-America and a freshman All-America, while Soccer America named her to its freshman All-America Team. Soccer Buzz named her a first-team Freshman All-America. In the post-season, she earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament and All-NCAA Tournament honors. After starting the season in the midfield, she moved to defense in the midseason and led a stretch run that led Carolina to a national title.

Her sophomore season saw her start all 28 games for the Tar Heels, scoring eight goals and notching seven assists for a total of 23 points. Against California and Duke, she recorded game-winning goals. In the national semifinal victory against Santa Clara, she tied the game with an early second-half goal en route to the Tar Heels claiming a 2-1 victory. Two days later, UNC beat UConn for the national championship. She was a semifinalist for the Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year Award and was named first-team All-America by Soccer News, second-team All-America by Soccer Times and third-team All-America by Soccer Buzz. In the 1997 NCAA Tournament, she was an all-tournament selection and she was also a 1997 first-team All-ACC selection.

As a junior in 1998, Fair was a semifinalist for the Missouri Athletic Club's Player of the Year Award while ESPN.com/Soccer Times named her the National Defender of the Year. The NSCAA, Soccer America, Soccer News, ESPN.com/Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and College Soccer Weekly Online all selected Fair as a first-team All-America. Soccer Buzz honored Fair as the Southeast Region Defensive Player of the Year. She was also a first-team All-ACC selection. Against Wake Forest, she scored two of her five goals on the season and against San Francisco she had three assists. In the ACC Tournament final, she scored a goal versus Clemson as the Tar Heels again claimed a league crown.

Despite an injury-plagued season her senior year, Fair still captured the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, given to the top player in college soccer. She also garnered the 1999 ACC Player of the Year award. For the third consecutive year she earned a spot on the first-team All-ACC squad. She was a consensus first-team All-America selection, earning honors from the NSCAA, College Soccer Online, Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and Soccer America. Fair played on her third NCAA championship team at Carolina and was named defensive MVP in the NCAA College Cup. Fair spent time on the injury list but still played in 22 matches, playing at forward during her recovery and moving back to the defense for the stretch run of the season. She keyed a tremendous defensive run by the Tar Heels who allowed only one goal in NCAA Tournament play that season.

Fair already had extensive experience with the U.S. National Team before she excelled as a member of the U.S.'s 1999 World Cup championship team. Fair ended her career with the National Team in 2005. She logged 120 caps with the National Team. Her twin sister Ronnie was a standout at Stanford University and also played on the U.S. National Team.

MEREDITH FLORANCE 2000 National Player of the Year

Meredith Florance was a three-year starter at Carolina and in her senior year she copped National Player of the Year honors. Florance had a monster senior year as she scored 26 goals to lead the Tar Heels to their third NCAA championship in her four years at Carolina. She scored clutch goals throughout the season and was at her best in NCAA play. She finished her career in 2000 ranked in a tie for 10th place in career goals at the University with 59 tallies. Florance was one of the top high school players coming out of the prep ranks in 1997 from her hometown of Dallas, Texas.

As a freshman, she played in all 28 games for the Tar Heels. She scored 10 goals and had four assists for 24 points, notching a hat trick in her first-ever home game at Fetzer Field against Tennessee. She also had two goals against St. Mary's and two assists versus NC State. Soccer Buzz named her a third-team Freshman All-America and to the All-Southeast Region Freshman Team.

Starting all 26 games for UNC as a sophomore, Florance scored 10 goals and had 11 assists for 31 points. Versus San Francisco, Maryland and Portland, she netted game-winning goals. The dramatic goal against Portland came in the 150th minute of a quadruple overtime NCAA Tournament semifinal game. It came just 22 seconds before the match would have headed to a penalty kick shootout and came on a brilliant shot from distance that curled into the upper right corner of the goal. Soccer Buzz named her to its third-team All-Southeast Region squad. She also made the All-Tournament Team at the 1998 NCAA College Cup.

Her junior season was tremendous, both for the Tar Heels as a team, and for Florance individually. College Soccer Online named her an honorable mention All-America and Soccer Buzz named her second-team All-Southeast Region. She was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team after scoring the game-winning goal against Notre Dame in the title game, a thrilling 2-0 triumph over the Fighting Irish. She was also named second-team All-ACC. She started all 24 games for the Tar Heels that season, scoring 13 goals and serving up nine assists for 35 points. Two of those goals were game-winners, and, ironically, both came against Notre Dame, including an overtime winner in a regular-season matchup.

As a senior, Florance firmly established herself as one of the best players in the country. She finished fourth in the nation and first in the Atlantic Coast Conference in goals scored with 26, matching the sixth-highest total in a season for a Tar Heel in history. She also led the conference in scoring with 60 points. Soccer Times named her the National Player of the Year and she also received the Honda Sports Award for Soccer as the top player in the nation. Florance scored five game-winning goals, and, in the NCAA championship game, she netted a goal that tied the game against UCLA at 1-1 with 14:49 to play. Just minutes later Catherine Reddick scored for the Tar Heels and UNC eventually went on to win 2-1, claiming its 17th national championship. In the third round of the NCAA Tournament, she scored the game-winner against Virginia in the waning minutes of the match and in the quarterfinal match against Connecticut, she scored the first two goals of the game in a 3-0 win. Florance was a key leader in UNC's post-season run after the Tar Heels had dropped three ACC games in the regular season.

Florance was a consensus first-team All-America, a first-team All-ACC selection, the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup, the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament and the Southeast Region Offensive Player of the Year. Over the course of the season, she was named the MVP of four different tournaments.

Florance is married to former UNC men's lacrosse player Robin Beard who played for the Tar Heels from 1996-99.

CATHERINE REDDICK 2003 National Player of the Year

Catherine Reddick did not earn her first starting assignment in a Carolina uniform until the final game of her freshman year, which also happened to be the NCAA championship contest against UCLA in 2000. Not only did Reddick score the game-winning goal with 7:41 to play in that game, she was also named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the 2000 NCAA College Cup. Her late season heroics were a precursor of the success to come for Reddick in a UNC and USWNT uniform.

A few months later, April Heinrichs, then the head coach of the U.S. National Team, tapped Reddick for her first National Team cap. From the beginning, Reddick found herself in the starting lineup on defense. From 2000-2010, she earned 134 caps and 111 starts while scoring 11 goals and passing for 10 assists. Reddick is tied for the 21st most caps in USWNT history and has the 18th most starts in a U.S. uniform.

Reddick also carved a niche as a television analyst for international and collegiate soccer for the ESPN family of networks, Fox Soccer Channel and NBC. In the summers of 2015 and 2019, she was one of the lead analysts during Fox Sports' coverage of the Women's World Cup.

Reddick earned starting spots for the U.S. in the 2003 World Cup as well as on the 2004 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Team squad in Athens, Greece. She was a member of the 2007 World Cup Team which earned a bronze medal but she missed the 2008 Olympics because of an injury. Injuries limited her to only 11 caps in her last three years on the National Team (2008-10).

Despite missing much of her junior and senior years because of National Team commitments, Reddick developed into one of the top collegiate defenders in history. She culminated her career by being named the National Player of the Year following the 2003 season as she won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer as well as the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy. No Tar Heel would win the Hermann Trophy again for nine years until Crystal Dunn won the award in 2012.

After being named a freshman All-America in 2000, Reddick went on to become one of Carolina's most decorated players in history during her final three years. She was a consensus first-team All-America in 2001, 2002 and 2003. In each of those years, she was also named All-ACC.

As a senior, Reddick was limited to playing in only 13 matches because of her commitments to the National team while competing in the World Cup. She still scored six goals and had five assists for 17 points. She scored the game-winning goal in the 2003 ACC Tournament championship game on a penalty kick as the Tar Heels rallied past Florida State 3-2. For the second time in her career Reddick was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the College Cup as she helped the Tar Heels outscore their six NCAA opponents by a 32-0 margin.

Reddick received first-team All-America accolades following her senior season from Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times, Soccer Post Magazine, College Sports Television, Soccer America and the NSCAA. As a junior, she was named first-team All-America by Soccer Buzz, Soccer America and the NSCAA. As a sophomore she earned first-team All-America honors from Soccer Buzz and Soccer America.

She led the Tar Heels to ACC Tournament championships in each of her four years at Carolina from 2000 through 2003. She played on NCAA championship teams at Carolina in 2000 and 2003.

A native of Birmingham, Ala., Reddick was named a 1999 and 2000 Parade high school All-America in soccer coming out of Briarwood Christian School. She was married to Robert Whitehill on New Year's Eve 2005. She played for the Washington Freedom in Women's Professional Soccer for two years before moving to the Atlanta Beat in 2011. In 2013, she joined the Boston franchise in the new National Women's Soccer League.

LINDSAY TARPLEY 2003 National Player of the Year

The 2003 collegiate National Player of the Year, Lindsay Tarpley, had her No. 25 jersey number retired by the University in 2006 after a star-studded career at Carolina and as a member of the U.S. National Team. Despite being injured for half of her junior year and for the start of her senior year, she finished with some of the most impressive career statistics in UNC history.

Tarpley finished her career with 59 goals, 59 assists and 177 points. She ranks 10th in career points in Tar Heel history, is tied for 10th in career goals and is third in career assists. Had she not been plagued by injuries her scoring totals would certainly rank in the Top 5 in Carolina annals in every category. In 2003, Tarpley led the NCAA in scoring with 73 points, the fourth most in a season in UNC history. She had 23 goals that season, equaling the 11th most in a season in Tar Heel lore, and her 27 assists that year are the third most in a single campaign.

Tarpley ended her career with several school records and two NCAA records to her credit based in large measure on her brilliant play in NCAA Tournament games. She holds UNC career records in NCAA games for goals with 16, assists with 19 and points with 51. The 19 assists are also the NCAA record in that category. In 2003, she set UNC school records for assists in a single NCAA Tournament with 11 and in points with 19. The 11 assists in the 2003 Tournament are also an NCAA mark.

Tarpley's banner year was 2003 when she led Carolina to a 27-0 record and was a unanimous choice for first-team All-America honors. That season she also earned a quintet of national player of the year accolades, winning honors from Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times, Soccer Post and Sports Illustrated on Campus. In 2003, she became the first player since Mia Hamm in 1993 to be named the ACC Player of the Year and the MVP of the ACC Tournament while also leading the ACC in scoring.

Tarpley was brilliant as a freshman in 2002, being named national freshman of the year by both Soccer Buzz and Soccer America. That year she was named the ACC Freshman of the Year and earned first-team All-ACC accolades. Most impressively, Tarpley won the prestigious award as the U.S. Soccer Chevrolet Young Female Athlete of the Year.

Tarpley became a member of the U.S. National Team in 2003. In 125 caps, she scored 32 goals. She won gold medals in the 2004 and 2008 Olympics and a bronze medal in the 2007 World Cup. She earned a spot on the 2011 World Cup Team but had to miss the competition after suffering a torn ACL in late May 2011.

FIFA sponsored the first-ever U19 (now U20) youth world championship for women in 2002 with Tarpley earning the captain's armband for the U.S. squad. In sudden death overtime in the championship match, Tarpley pounced on her own rebound to give the U.S. the championship in an exciting 1-0 victory over the host Canadian side.

A native of Kalamazoo, Mich., Tarpley graduated from Portage Central High School in 2002 ranked as the No. 4 recruit in the nation that year by Soccer America. A two-time Parade high school All-America, she was named the national high school player of the year by Parade Magazine in 2002.

Tarpley graduated from UNC in 2006 with a degree in communications. As a senior, she was an ESPN The Magazine third-team Academic All-America as named by the College Sports Information Directors of America. Tarpley is married to B.J. Snow, the former head women's soccer coach at UCLA and now head of U.S. Women's National Team Talent Identification unit. They have a son, born in 2012, and a daughter, born in 2015.

Tarpley played for four different teams in Women's Professional Soccer from 2009-11. She joined the Chicago Red Stars in the National Women's Soccer League from 2013-15 as her last stop in the pro ranks.

HEATHER O'REILLY 2006 National Player of the Year

Heather O'Reilly was the top-ranked recruit in the high school class of 2003. She was already playing with the U.S. National Team as a high school senior in 2002 while attending East Brunswick (N.J.) High School. The college career of the dynamic forward would lead the Tar Heels to two NCAA championships and three ACC championships.

While in the midst of her time at Carolina she scored one of the most important goals in Olympic women's soccer history, sparking the U.S. to the Olympic gold medal in 2004. She would go on and win a second gold medal in 2008 and a third Olympic gold medal in 2012. Before retiring from the USWNT in September 2016, she played in three World Cups for the United States, winning a bronze medal in 2007, a silver medal in 2011 and reigning as a FIFA World Cup champion in 2015.

O'Reilly finished her college career tied for 10th in goals at UNC with 59 and she was 11th in points with 167 and 12th in assists with 49. Her career was capped in 2006 when she was named the national player of the year by Soccer America magazine while also claiming the prestigious Honda Sports Award for Soccer. She was also named ESPN The Magazine's National Academic All-America of the Year for women's soccer as presented by the College Sports Information Directors of America and she won the Patterson Medal as UNC's outstanding senior female athlete. In 2017, she became the second UNC student-athlete ever inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

O'Reilly was at her best in leading Carolina to NCAA Championships in 2003 and 2006, both years being named the offensive MVP of the College Cup. She was the unanimous choice as national freshman player of the year in 2003 and then was a first-team All-America selection in her final three seasons. O'Reilly led the Tar Heels in scoring three straight years from 2004-06 and she was the third-leading scorer on the 2003 team that went 27-0. She had 15 goals, 14 assists and 44 points in NCAA Tournament games in her career. As she was rehabbing from the broken leg in 2003, she had three goals in the ACC Tournament and then exploded in the NCAA Tournament with an 18-point performance on eight goals and two assists. Those eight goals are the most in UNC history in a single NCAA Tournament.

In the summer of 2004, O'Reilly played with the U.S. National Team in Greece in the hopes of winning an Olympic gold medal. With the U.S. and Germany tied 1-1 in overtime of the semifinal game, O'Reilly blistered the back of the net off a Mia Hamm assist to catapult the Americans into the gold medal match. A few days later, the college sophomore possessed an Olympic gold medal after the U.S. beat Brazil in the final match.

In 2006, she led the Tar Heels to 27 straight wins and the national title after UNC lost its season opener at Texas A&M. She was the offensive MVP of the College Cup after scoring four goals and adding six assists in NCAA play. She scored the insurance goal in the 2-0 NCAA semifinal win over UCLA, scored the first goal of the NCAA final against Notre Dame and assisted on the eventual game-winning tally against the Fighting Irish.

Following her senior year she won the NCAA's prestigious Today's Top VIII Award. No Tar Heel student-athlete had won the award since 1984 and it was the crowning jewel of her college career. The award is the highest annually bestowed by the NCAA for athletic prowess, academic achievement and community service. O'Reilly played for Sky Blue FC of WPS for three years and led the team to the championship of the league in 2009. She joined the Boston Breakers of the National Women's Soccer League in 2013 and then played for Kansas City where she won an NWSL title in 2015. In 2016-17, she played for Arsenal in the FA WSL 1 in England. She ranks eighth in USWNT history in caps, 11th in goals and sixth in assists. She currently plays for North Carolina Courage of NWSL, winning a league crown in 2018. She was a studio analyst for FOX Sports at the 2019 Women's World Cup in France.

O'Reilly was married to David Werry on October 1, 2011. A native of Canada, Werry is a 2006 UNC alumnus and four-year letterman on the men's lacrosse team. They are owners of the Carolina Coffee Shop.

Yael Averbuch 2006 National Player of the Year

At the conclusion of the 2008 women's soccer season, senior midfielder Yael Averbuch became the 15th Tar Heel in history to earn the right to have her uniform number retired as a National Player of the Year honoree. Averbuch was a key player on UNC teams which won four straight Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships and claimed national crowns in 2006 and 2008.

Averbuch was a national player of the year honoree when UNC won the national championship in 2006 and she co-captained the Tar Heel squad in 2008 when it again won the NCAA title beating Notre Dame 2-1 in a thrilling championship game in Cary, N.C. In the semifinals of the 2008 NCAA Tournament she scored the lone goal as Carolina defeated UCLA 1-0.

In four years as a member of the Carolina soccer team, Averbuch helped lead the Tar Heels to two NCAA Championships and four ACC Tournament titles. At the same time, she excelled academically, maintaining a 3.7 grade point average while majoring in psychology.

Averbuch started an NCAA and school-record 104 games during her career, never missing a game in her four years and starting all but one game. She finished her career scoring 32 goals and passing for 29 assists for a total of 93 career points.

Averbuch holds the NCAA record for scoring the fastest goal in collegiate women's soccer history. In a game on September 3, 2006 at Yale, Averbuch scored in only four seconds, sending the direct kick at the start of the game 55 yards from midfield directly into the Bulldogs' goal.

A three-time first-team All-America honoree and a three-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, she was named national player of the year as a sophomore by Soccer Buzz magazine. That same year she was the third highest vote getter for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy presented by the NSCAA. She and teammate Heather O'Reilly were two of the three finalists for the prestigious award. She was also the 2006 ACC Offensive Player of the Year.

In December 2008, she was named a recipient of the NCAA's Today's Top VIII Award, an NCAA honor that each year recognizes eight student-athletes who excel in athletics, academics, leadership and community service. She was only the third Tar Heel athlete to win the award since 1984 and the second UNC women's soccer player to win the honor, joining Heather O'Reilly who won in 2006.

Averbuch was named the 2008 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America of the Year for women's soccer as presented by the College Sports Information Directors of America, recognizing her as the top student-athlete in her sport. She was a first-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America in 2008 after being named to the second team in 2007 and the third team in 2006. In 2008, she was also named the National Soccer Coaches Association of America Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Averbuch was regularly named to the UNC Dean's List, was a three-time selection for the ACC Academic Honor Roll and she was the ACC Scholar-Athlete of the Year for women's soccer in 2007 and again in 2008. She was named to the All-ACC Academic Team each of her four years in a Tar Heel uniform. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa while also being inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece.

Averbuch also represented the U.S. as a member of the National Team, earning 26 caps from 2007-13. Beginning in the spring of 2009, she began playing for Sky Blue FC of New Jersey in the inaugural season of WPS, winning the championship in the league's first year. In 2011 she played for the Western New York Flash of WPS and won a second league title as a member of that squad. She played professionally for two years in Sweden for Lkopparbergs/Goteborg FC before joining the Washington Spirit of the NWSL in 2014 and moving on to FC Kansas City in 2015 where she won a second NWSL crown. She played three years in Kansas City and played in NWSL for the Seattle Reign in 2018.

Casey Nogueira 2008 National Player of the Year

The consensus National Player of the Year selection in 2008, Casey Nogueira became the 16th Tar Heel in history to earn player of the year accolades. Nogueira was one of the most prolific goal scorers in ACC history and she scored clutch goals throughout her career in the Carolina Blue & White kit. When the ACC and NCAA Tournaments rolled around, UNC fans saw Nogueira at her best.

As both a junior and a senior, Nogueira pulled off the incredible double of being named the ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player and the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup. She played on Carolina teams which won ACC Tournament championships all four years and captured NCAA titles in 2006, 2008 and 2009.

Nogueira finished her Tar Heel career with 55 goals and 29 assists for 139 points. She was Carolina's leading scorer her final three years in a Tar Heel uniform. Her standout season scoring wise was 2008 when she scored a national best 25 goals and had eight assists for a 58-point total, the most points by a Tar Heel in a season in five years. She scored two goals in the national championship game that season to lift the Tar Heels past Notre Dame 2-1 in a classic final in Cary, N.C.

Following her junior season, she won National Player of the Year accolades from multiple sources including the Honda Sports Award for Soccer and player of the season accolades from Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Top Drawer Soccer and Soccer News Network. She was the runner-up for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy.

In July 2009, she won the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's top female athlete during the 2008-09 school year. She was the first Tar Heel to win the award since Cindy Parlow had captured it 10 years earlier. Nogueira was recognized for virtually willing Carolina to ACC and NCAA crowns in 2008.

Nogueira won first-team All-America honors in 2007 & 2008 and was a second-team All-America as a senior in 2009.

Nogueira, who played her high school soccer at Raleigh's Broughton High School and graduated a year early to join UNC, will go down in history as scoring some of the most important goals in UNC lore. As a freshman, she came off the bench to score the game-winning goal with 6:29 to play in UNC's 2-0 NCAA semifinal victory over UCLA. Two days later, against Notre Dame in the NCAA final, she earned her first career start and she assisted on Heather O'Reilly's goal at 17:57 and then scored the game-winner on a header at 46:28 in the eventual 2-1 Tar Heel win.

En route to winning the 2008 NCAA title, Nogueira was named ACC Offensive Player of the Year and ACC Tournament MVP. In the national championship game against undefeated Notre Dame, the Tar Heels fell behind in the opening minute of play. Nogueira tied the game on a free kick at 51:08 and then she won the game for Carolina with a spectacular goal from the far left side of the box with just 2:06 left on the clock.

In her senior year, Nogueira had only six regular-season goals but she exploded in the post season for seven additional tallies. She scored twice in the ACC Tournament championship game against Florida State while being named tournament MVP. In NCAA play, she recorded game-winning assists in the first round against High Point and in the championship game against Stanford. She scored the game-winner versus Maryland in the third round, had three goals in the quarterfinal win over Wake Forest and again had the game-winner against Notre Dame in the semifinals in the closing minutes.

Nogueira is married to former UNC All-America Zach Loyd, a seven-year member of Major League soccer teams from 2010-17. She earned five caps with the U.S. National Team, played two years in WPS and was a member of FC Kansas City in the NWSL in 2013. She and her husband currently coach youth soccer teams in Dallas, Texas.

WHITNEY ENGEN 2009 National Player of the Year

Whitney Engen's career is the personification of the fact that persistence pays off. The California native was never named to the first-team All-ACC squad until her senior year but that same year she emerged as Carolina's 17th selection as a National Player of the Year when she won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer. Rarely is a defender honored with such an award, particularly when the competition includes the two best forwards in the nation and the country's top midfielder, her own teammate, Tobin Heath.

But such was the fate for Engen who in 2009 was the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year as well as the ACC's Women's Soccer Scholar-Athlete of the Year. She also earned second-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors in her senior season as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Engen played with the U.S. National Team from 2011-16 and was rewarded by being named as one of the 23 members of the U.S. team which captured the championship at the 2015 FIFA World Cup. In 2016, she was one of 18 players on the U.S. Olympic Team.

Engen, who played primarily midfield in high school in Rolling Hills Estates, Calif., came to UNC in 2006 as one of the top recruits in the nation but she was somewhat overshadowed at the start by the likes of fellow freshmen Heath, Casey Nogueira and Nikki Washington. It would not stay that way for long. When she arrived at Carolina, UNC had a need at striker and Engen stepped in and played center forward her first two seasons. She had 12 goals and 13 assists for 37 points as a freshman on UNC's 2006 national championship team. No assist was bigger than the one on Casey Nogueira's second half goal, which proved to be the game-winner in Carolina's 2-1 win over Notre Dame. Engen again started as a sophomore in the forward line and had six goals and eight assists on an ACC Tournament championship team.

With the loss of Jessica Maxwell, Robyn Gayle and Ariel Harris off the starting defensive line of the 2007 team, Coach Anson Dorrance looked to Engen to make the switch to center back as a junior and the results were amazing. In her junior and senior years, Carolina won back-to-back ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament championships, posted 36 shutouts and limited teams to less than half a goal a game over two national championship campaigns.

A four-time All-ACC Academic selection and regular on the UNC Dean's List, Engen finally began to earn the athletic recognition she deserved in 2008 when she was a third-team NSCAA All-America and second-team All-ACC choice.

As a senior everything came together for Engen and she was not only the winner of the Honda Award but also was a first-team All-America choice by the NSCAA and Soccer America. She was named first-team All-ACC, the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and the defensive MVP of the NCAA College Cup. Carolina finished 23-3-1 overall and won its 21st national championship. The Tar Heels pitched 19 shutouts and had separate strings of seven and eight clean sheets during the year. The Tar Heels were third in the nation in goals against average at 0.43 and most impressively they shut out 10 of their last 11 opponents including clean sheets against No. 5 Notre Dame and No. 1 Stanford in the NCAA College Cup.

Engen was selected in the first round of the 2010 WPS draft by the Chicago franchise. In 2011, she played for the Western New York Flash, leading the team to the WPS championship. In 2011, she earned her first cap with the U.S. National Team although she had been invited to training camps as early as 2009. She had 40 caps with the National team through the 2016 calendar year at the time of her retirement. She played her final professional season for Boston in the NWSL in 2016.

AMBER BROOKS 2012 National Player of the Year

One of the toughest, grittiest and most cerebral players to ever don the Carolina Blue & White, midfielder Amber Brooks capped her brilliant career in 2012 by being named the National Player of the Year by Top Drawer Soccer, making her the 18th Tar Heel in history to earn some form of player of the year accolades. That she earned this accolade while playing the holding center midfield spot in UNC's 3-4-3 system is an even greater testament to the respect in which she was regarded by her peers, the media and coaches. She was never going to be recognized for her scoring prowess but her overall field play and leadership was well recognized by those who love the sport.

Brooks bookended her career with NCAA championships as she started in the final against Stanford in 2009 when the Tar Heels won 1-0 and against Penn State in 2012 when Carolina pulled off a 4-1 victory.

Brooks was a four-year starter who played on a 2009 ACC Tournament champion winner and a 2010 ACC regular season championship team. The New Hope, Pa., native was ranked as the No. 2 recruit in the high school class of 2009. She lived up to the hype, not only in a Carolina uniform but also on the international stage as a member of youth teams, including the U20 and U23 National Teams while still competing at UNC. She was the captain of the U23 Team for the USA in 2012. She trained with the full U.S. National Team on a regular basis and she earned her first USWNT cap in November 2013. After graduating from UNC in just three and one half years she played professionally overseas for FC Bayern Munchen on her initial sojourn into the professional ranks.

Brooks served as UNC's team captain in both 2011 and 2012. She was a finalist for the Senior CLASS Award in her final season and earned the highest honors possible from the Carolina Leadership Academy. She was a four-time ACC Academic Honor Roll selection and made the Dean's List all seven of her semesters at Carolina. Three times she was named to the All-ACC Academic Women's Soccer Team. Brooks was the embodiment of the phrase student-athlete at Carolina.

Brooks had a stellar academic career, being named the ACC Women's Soccer Scholar Athlete of the Year for 2012-13. She was a Capital One first-team Academic All-America in 2012 as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America after being named to the second team Academic All-America squad in 2011.

She was named first-team All-ACC in both 2011 and 2012 after being named a second team choice as a sophomore. She made the league's All-Freshman team in 2009 after earning the starting role at playmaking center midfield at midseason. She started every game for the Tar Heels in her sophomore, junior and senior seasons after starting the final 10 matches of her freshman campaign, nine of which were post-season victories.

During her senior year she was named first-team All-America by Top Drawer Soccer and was a third-team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. She also earned first-team NSCAA All-Southeast Region honors in her final campaign. She made the All-Tournament Team at the 2012 NCAA College Cup as well. In 2009, Brooks was named a first-team freshman All-America by Soccer America.

In 93 career games, including 81 starts, she had 17 goals and 19 assists for 53 points.

In November 2013, she was one of 10 NCAA student-athletes to be presented with Today's Top X award for athletes, academics, and community service. She was the third UNC women's soccer player to receive the prestigious award, joining Heather O'Reilly (2006) and Yael Averbuch (2008). Brooks currently plays for the Houston Dash in the NWSL where she is in her fourth season. She played for Portland in 2014 and Seattle in 2015.

CRYSTAL DUNN 2012 National Player of the Year

Crystal Dunn finished her Tar Heel career as one of the most decorated players in UNC history. Her four-year career was highlighted by enormous success both on the collegiate level and in international play. In 2012, Dunn became the first Tar Heel underclassman to win national player of the year accolades since Casey Nogueira in 2008.

As a junior, Dunn won the Hermann Trophy, the first Tar Heel to capture that prestigious award since Catherine Reddick in 2003. She also won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the first Tar Heel since Whitney Engen in 2009, and she was also named national player of the year by Soccer America and by Soccer News Net.

She followed all those awards up by being a finalist for the 2013 ESPY for Female College Athlete of the Year and then garnering the fabled Mary Garber Award as the Female Athlete of the Year in the Atlantic Coast Conference. She was the first Tar Heel to win that award since Engen in 2010. Overall, Tar Heels have won the Garber Award eight times, all by women's soccer players.

At the conclusion of her senior year, the multi-talented Dunn won the Patterson Medal as Carolina's outstanding senior female student-athlete.

Dunn, a first-team All-ACC choice each of her first four years at Carolina, was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Year in both 2010 and 2012. As a senior in 2013, she was named the ACC Offensive Player of the Year after scoring 14 goals and passing for six assists and leading the Tar Heels in scoring with 34 points. She was the first player in ACC history to have won both the offensive and defensive awards in her career.

As a junior and a senior, she was named a first-team All-America selection by the NSCAA, by Soccer America and by Top Drawer Soccer. She also won first-team All-America honors from the NSCAA as a freshman.

Dunn's 2012 collegiate season was a special one as she started the last 17 games of the campaign after returning from the women's U20 World Cup in Japan. She started the first 11 of those games on defense before being switched to attacking center midfielder where she thrived in six NCAA Tournament games. She scored all five of her goals in the NCAA post-season including the game-tying goal against Baylor in the third round (UNC went on to win in penalty kicks 4-2) and both goals in the quarterfinals versus BYU, including the winner in double overtime in a 2-1 road win at Provo. She then assisted on Kealia Ohai's game-winning goal in the second overtime in the NCAA semifinal win over No. 1 Stanford.

Dunn helped lead the USA Team to the gold medal at the U20 World Cup in Japan in September 2012. She started every game on defense for the U.S., playing every minute of the tournament in pool play and the medal round. She assisted on a goal by Kealia Ohai that lifted the Americans to the gold medal with a 1-0 win the championship game over the German side.

In spring 2013, she received her first call up to the U.S. Women's National Team and became the 51st Tar Heel in history to earn a cap (eight more Tar Heels have been capped since then for a total of 59). Her first cap came against Scotland on February 13, 2013 and her first start against Iceland on March 6, 2013. In 2016, she was one of 18 players chosen to the U.S. Olympic Team that competed in Brazil. She started on defense for the U.S. as it won the 2019 World Cup title.

Dunn finished her UNC career with 31 goals and 25 assists for 87 points. She played in 80 games, starting 77 matches.

She was the No. 1 pick in the 2014 National Women's Soccer League Draft, being chosen by the Washington Spirit. In 2015, she was chosen the NWSL's Most Valuable Player and winner of the Golden Boot as the league's leading scorer. She played in the EPL for Chelsea in 2016-17 before joining North Carolina Courage of NWSL in 2018, leading the squad to the regular season championship as well as the post-season title.

CARLA OVERBECK 1995-2000 U.S. National Team Captain

Carla Werden Overbeck is a proven winner. She is one of only three women in history to win an NCAA title, an Olympic gold medal, a World Cup championship and the Women's United Soccer Association Founders Cup championship, joining Tar Heels Tisha Venturini and Mia Hamm in that category.

While she had an outstanding career at Carolina as one of the nation's standout defenders, her level of success playing for the U.S. National Team in international competition became the hallmark of her playing career. As a member of the U.S. Women's National Team from 1988-2000, she was the sixth-most capped player in the team's history at the time of her retirement, appearing in 170 games. She still ranks 16th all-time in National Team caps 19 years after retiring from the international game.

Winning has never been foreign to Werden, who played on four Carolina women's teams from 1986-89 that won NCAA championships. The Tar Heels did not lose a single game during her four-year tenure, compiling a record of 89-0-6 from 1986-89. The NSCAA named her a first-team All-America in both 1987 and 1988 and a second-team All-America in 1989.

As the catalyst of the defense, Werden led UNC to four NCAA championships. UNC conceded only one goal in the four NCAA championship games in which she played as a Tar Heel.

She earned first-team All-ACC accolades as a junior and senior.

She was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the 1988 NCAA Tournament as the Tar Heels defeated archrival NC State 4-1 in the championship game. Her defensive prowess was evidenced by her four appearances on the NCAA All-Tournament team as a Tar Heel defender.

Werden began competing internationally while she was still a Tar Heel. She competed on the 1988 United States Team that won the gold medal at the Goodwill Games in New York. Overbeck was also a member of the 1991 U.S. National Team that won the World Cup in China under the aegis of her college coach, Anson Dorrance. She was captain of the 1995 U.S. World Cup squad, which finished third. In 1996, she was captain of the U.S. National Team that won the gold medal at the Olympic Games, the first gold medal ever awarded in the sport in Olympic history. Overbeck led the American squad to dramatic victories in both the semifinals and finals of that event.

In 1999, she started 22 games for the U.S. National Team, playing 1,764 minutes as she co-captained the United States Team that won the World Cup championship. She converted on the first penalty kick in the U.S.'s victory over China in the World Cup championship match. The U.S. won the penalty kick shootout 5-4 after battling the Chinese to a scoreless tie after 120 minutes of regulation time and overtime. The U.S. defense did not allow a goal that World Cup in either the semifinal or championship round of play.

Overbeck is now in her 29th year as an assistant coach at Duke University. She also played for the Carolina Courage in the WUSA, leading the team to the Founder's Cup crown in 2002. She was a charter member in the founding of the pro league.

She graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1990 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology. Werden is a native of Dallas, Texas, where she attended Richardson High School. She was born May 9, 1968 in Pasadena, Calif. Her husband, Greg Overbeck, co-owns several restaurants in the Triangle, including Squid's, 411 West and Lula's in Chapel Hill. They have a 22-year-old son, Jackson, and a 16-year-old daughter, Carson.

Overbeck was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame in 2006

The University of North Carolina women's soccer program was fortunate to call Fetzer Field its home stadium from its infancy in 1979. In its ninth decade of use as a multi-sport facility, Fetzer Field was one of the premier soccer domains in the nation and has been a site where many signature events in UNC athletic history have taken place over the years.

Fetzer Field was officially razed in May 2017 and the new Carolina Soccer & Lacrosse Stadium for men's and women's soccer and men's and women's lacrosse is being built on the same spot in the heart of the Carolina campus. The new stadium was finished in time to host men's and women's lacrosse games in March 2019, including the 2019 ACC Men's Lacrosse Tournament. Renderings of the new soccer and lacrosse facility are shown on the next two pages of this media guide.

The UNC Soccer & Lacrosse Stadium has continued to receive upgrades all summer and will be ready to host men's and women's soccer matches at the highest level beginning in August 2019. The first women's soccer matches to be played there will be a double-header on August 22, 2019 with UNC playing Indiana that night.

The official capacity for the new facility will be 4,200 fans for soccer and 4,000 fans for lacrosse.

Fetzer was originally built in 1935 with extensive upgrades taking place from 1988-90. The facility was host to the NCAA Women's College Cup semifinal and final games seven times in the history of the tournament.

A Fetzer Field record crowd of 7,212, at the time the most to ever see a women's collegiate soccer game, watched the No. 1 Tar Heels fall to No. 4 Notre Dame 1-0 in the 1995 NCAA semifinals.

The largest regular-season crowd in Fetzer Field lore witnessed the top-ranked Tar Heels' 5-1 victory over second-ranked Notre Dame on September 13, 1998 as 6,024 fans streamed through the Fetzer Field gates.

Large crowds are a regular part of UNC women's soccer history. Carolina led the NCAA in average home attendance five straight years from 1998-2002. Since the NCAA initially compiled attendance figures in 1998, Carolina has ranked in the Top 25 in average home attendance in every single season. Carolina ranked second in average home attendance in 2003 and 2004, stood third in the standings in 2005, 2007 and 2009, ranked fourth in 2008, and was fifth in 2006 and 2010. The Tar Heels were sixth in average home attendance in 2015.

There is no college team in the country that can compare to UNC when packing a stadium. The Tar Heels played Notre Dame in the NCAA championship game on December 5, 1999 before a crowd of 14,410 in San Jose, Calif. That is the largest crowd in NCAA women's soccer history. On August 25, 2006, the Tar Heels played Texas A&M before a crowd of 8,204 in College Station, Texas. That is the fourth largest regular-season crowd to ever watch a game in NCAA women's soccer history. Of the top 32 crowds in NCAA history (regular-season and post-season), 20 of those games (62.5 percent of them) have featured UNC squads in the matchups.

Given the success of the program it comes as no surprise that the Tar Heels have amassed one of the best home records in collegiate sports history. Carolina enters the 2020 season with a record of 380-28-15 in home games in its history. In those 410 home games, Carolina has outscored its foes by 1,426 goals. In those games, UNC has scored 1,635 times and its opponents have tallied 209 goals.

As dominant as Carolina has been on its home field since 1979, it is a mark of the excellence of the UNC program that its all-time winning percentage (regardless of game site) is .902 and its winning percentage at home is .912, virtually identical figures.

Named for former Tar Heel athletic director and track coach Robert Allison Fetzer, the stadium was the home of Carolina soccer since 1947, the first year that UNC sponsored a varsity men's team. The women's program was started in 1979 as one of the first varsity women's programs in the nation. Anson Dorrance has been the only head coach of the women's program in that time and only five men have served as the head coach of men's teams in games played at Fetzer Field since 1947. Dorrance himself served as the men's team head coach for 12 seasons (1977-88).

Located in the heart of the Carolina campus directly adjacent to historic Carmichael Arena on South Road, also referred to as Raleigh Road, the playing field, track and grandstand was completed in 1935 as a Works Project Administration program during the administration of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. In the heart of the Great Depression, the building of Fetzer Field provided a plethora of much needed jobs to Tar Heel natives who were then suffering through economic depravation.

The facility's renovations over the years made it one of the most beautiful all-around collegiate venues in the nation. Fetzer Field sat in a natural valley in the center of campus surrounded by Carmichael Arena (the home of Carolina basketball from 1965-86), the Michael Hooker intramural fields, the Institute of Government, the Eddie Smith Field House, Henry Stadium, the Navy Field football and lacrosse practice fields, Teague and Carmichael dormitories and Kessing Outdoor Pool.

From early 1989 to the fall of 1990, the playing field itself was reworked and leveled, the grandstand was refitted with new aluminum bleachers, a new track was installed, lights were added, two ticket booths were added to the front gate, a permanent concession stand was erected and a computer scoreboard/message center was installed.

Large crowds have been the rule at Fetzer Field since the inception of the women's soccer program in 1979. The two largest crowds attended Tar Heel matchups against Notre Dame. The third largest crowd was in attendance for the legendary Mia Hamm's collegiate finale when a total of 5,721 fans were on hand at Fetzer Field as Carolina routed George Mason 6-0 in the NCAA title game on November 21, 1993.

Fetzer Field was the home facility for six of Carolina's 28 varsity teams—men's soccer, women's soccer, men's outdoor track and field, women's outdoor track and field, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse. Fetzer Field was at the heart of the UNC athletic program. It was the home facility for four different sports which have won NCAA championships in their histories (men's soccer, women's soccer, men's lacrosse, women's lacrosse).

The facility was home not only to women's soccer NCAA championship rounds and ACC Tournaments, but also to ACC Track and Field Championships, the N.C. High School Athletic Association Track and Field Championships, the National Junior Olympics in track and field, men's soccer, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse ACC Tournaments, men's soccer NCAA first and second round and quarterfinal action, NCAA men's lacrosse tournament action in first round, quarterfinal and semifinal games and women's lacrosse matches in first rounds and quarterfinals.

In the summer of 1996, the facility was the home training site for the U.S. Track and Field Team as it prepared for the Summer Olympic Games in Atlanta.

The last women's soccer game to be played at Fetzer Field was on November 20, 2016 when UNC beat Clemson 1-0 in the NCAA Tournament third round. The first game to be played at the new UNC Soccer & Lacrosse Stadium will be against Indiana on August 22, 2019.

McCaskill Soccer Center

The McCaskill Soccer Center on the University of North Carolina campus was dedicated in a gala ceremony on April 11, 1999. Attending the event were members of the Educational Foundation as well as other University of North Carolina soccer enthusiasts and donors to the building project. Construction on the 6,600-square-foot soccer facility was completed shortly before its dedication.

McCaskill Soccer Center will remain as part of the new Fetzer Field complex, providing meeting space as well as museum space for the four programs that play at the facility.

The McCaskill Soccer Center is located on the same site as the former soccer offices adjacent to Fetzer Field. The old soccer offices were located in a building called the UNC Soccer Hut that dated back to the original construction in 1935. The new structure honored the McCaskill family, long-time supporters of Tar Heel athletics.

The two-story structure accommodates varsity men's and women's soccer locker rooms on the first floor as well as a common team meeting room between the dressing areas. The second floor houses coaches' offices for both sports as well as a conference room. It will remain as a memorabilia room and conference center for the sports playing at the new stadium. A complete new field-house was constructed on the East end of the new stadium and will open in fall 2019 after inclusion of final renovations.

Carolina has one of the richest traditions in collegiate soccer, both men and women. The men's team attained varsity status in 1947 under legendary coach Marvin Allen. The Tar Heel men have suffered only one losing season since 1957. Carolina has appeared in the NCAA Tournament 25 times in the last 32 years. One of the high water marks for the Tar Heel men's team came in 1987 when UNC claimed the ACC championship and advanced to the NCAA semifinals under the direction of coach Anson Dorrance.

Under the auspices of head coach Elmar Bolowich, the Tar Heel men's team made great strides during the 1999 season, earning its first NCAA bid in five years. The 2000 season was an amazing one for UNC men's soccer as Carolina claimed the ACC championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament quarterfinals. Carolina went one better in 2001, earning the first NCAA men's

The All-Time Home Record

Heading into the 2020 season, the University of North Carolina has played 423 games at home sites since the program began in 1979. In those 423 games, Carolina has posted a record of 380-28-15, a winning percentage of .913. In those 423 games, UNC has outscored its opponents by a 1,635-209 margin.

record of 871-76-41. The women have an incredible record of 380-28-15 in home games in their history. In 21 of the past 35 years, Carolina has had at least one player chosen National Player of the Year by a soccer organization. Eight Tar Heels were members of the U.S. National Team that won the title at the 1999 Women's World Cup championship and four played on the 2008 Olympic Team which claimed a gold medal. Six Tar Heels played on the U.S. team which won the World Cup in 2015. Five more played on the U.S. champion 2019 World Cup franchise.

The destruction of the Old UNC Soccer Hut was carried out in 1997. Construction of the new building commenced following the conclusion of the 1997 season. In the meantime, the soccer offices were housed in temporary facilities at Finley Field, the Tar Heels' practice facility near the University golf course. While the new center has over five times more space than the old facility, the expansion occurred without any loss of parking on campus, always a major concern.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Board of Trustees approved the selection of NBBJ Architects of the Research Triangle Park to design the project. Estimated cost of construction was approximately $1.7 million. The project was funded through Athletic Department funds and Educational Foundation gifts. The building was named in honor of Bud and Mildred McCaskill, long-time benefactors of the University.

Together, the new and improved Carolina Soccer/Lacrosse Stadium coming in 2018/2019 and the McCaskill Soccer Center give Carolina two of the best facilities in collegiate soccer.

Carolina's 2018 home games were played at the practice fields on Old Mason Farm Road and at WakeMed Stadium in Cary, N.C. before moving back on campus in 2019.
