CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

A Tar Heel Legend ... On August 11, Anson Dorrance announced his retirement after 47 seasons as a head coach at Carolina, which included the last 45 with the women's team.

Associate head coach Damon Nahas, now in his ninth complete season at Carolina, will lead the team this season as interim head coach. UNC Director of Athletics Bubba Cunningham will direct a national search.

Dorrance's bio and all-time record can be found on the last page of these game notes.

Statement from Anson Dorrance:

"As many of you know I modeled our program after Dean Smith's basketball program, and retiring at this time is a credit to his thinking, as well. He would re-evaluate his tenure, not after the season, but after he had time to recharge his batteries prior to the next season. When he didn't, he retired. After last season I initially was excited about the chance to bolster our roster, which we most certainly have done, but as preseason training camp went on, I realized I didn't have the same energy it takes to give 100% to this year's team. The players and staff, the university, Carolina athletics and our great fans deserve more, and the respect I have for the amazing legacy the current and former players have built led me to make this decision at this time."

Statement from Bubba Cunningham:

"Anson is an all-time soccer, coaching and Tar Heel legend....His impact on the development and growth of women's sports across the country and around the world has been profound...Anyone who knows Anson recognizes how deeply competitive he is, so to step aside now underscores his belief it is the right decision for the success of this year's team. I have great respect for him and his decision. Everyone at Carolina thanks Anson, M'Liss, and their family for a 50-plus-year relationship with the university. He will forever be a Tar Heel."

University of National Champions ...

Across all sports, UNC has the eighth-most titles in NCAA history with 50 (13 men and 37 women). The women's soccer program owns 21 of them, plus an AIAW title in 1982 for 22 total national championships. No other Division I women's soccer team has more than four.

One of the preeminent programs across all of college sports, North Carolina's unrivaled women's soccer dominance saw nine straight NCAA titles between 1986-1994.

The team's 21 NCAA championships are tied for the fifth-most by any program in DI history.

Carolina is the only team in the country to appear in all 43 NCAA Women's Soccer Tournaments since the first one was held in 1982. The Tar Heels have appeared in 32 NCAA Women's College Cups, 18 more than the second closest team.

The Tar Heels have also won 291 ACC championship titles (150 men and 141 women), 137 more than any other current ACC school. The women's soccer program has won 22 conference titles (plus 25 regular season titles). No other ACC women's soccer team has more than 12 conference championships (no one else has more than six regular season titles, either).

Last Time Out ... North Carolina had a decisive 3-0 win over #1 Duke on Friday night in the College Cup Semifinals. UNC will now compete in the NCAA championship game for the 28th time in program history, in search of its 23rd national title (22nd NCAA title).

Kate Faasse opened scoring in the 10th minute after converting a PK. That was her 20th goal of the year as she officially became the nation's outright leading goal scorer.

Faasse's goal was the first goal Duke had allowed all NCAA Tournament. It was also Duke's first multi-goal loss since Oct. 22, 2023.

Maddie Dahlien drew the foul to award UNC the PK. She has now drawn the foul on six of Carolina's 10 penalty kicks. She was away at the World Cup for two of them.

Olivia Thomas (assist from Bella Gaetino) made it 2-0 in the 24th minute. Dahlien (assisted by Faasse) made it 3-0 in the 59th minute.

UNC's back line shut out Duke for the first time since their season opener on Aug. 15, and for the first time in the NCAA Tournament since May 9, 2021.

The Tar Heels now have an all-time record of 152-18-5 in the NCAA Tournament. No other school has more than 83 NCAA wins.

The win also propelled Carolina to a 21+ win season for the 25th time in school history. This is the first 21+ win season since 2018, and the third 21+ win season in 15 years.

Winner Winner ... The victory over #1 Duke on Dec. 6 in the College Cup Semifinals propelled Carolina to a 21+ win season for the 25th time in school history. This is the first 21+ win season since 2018, and the third 21+ win season in 15 years.

Carolina has had 30 20+ win seasons in school history. UNC's 20th win came on Nov. 29 vs. #22 Penn State in the NCAA Quarterfinals.

Now with 21 wins on the year, the Tar Heels officially have the most victories in the nation. Mississippi State ranks second in the country with 19. Duke ranks second in the ACC with 18.

North Carolina is one of eight schools without a draw this year, and the only one from the ACC. That comes just one year after recording a program-high eight ties in 2023.

Major Milestones ... Under the direction of interim head coach Damon Nahas, the Tar Heels have reached several major milestones this season:

- 250th regular season ACC win
Oct. 10, 1-0 win at Cal
» The next closest is Virginia with 187 regular season ACC wins.
- 950th all-time win
Nov. 7, 2-1 win over Duke in ACC Tournament semifinals
» The next closest is UConn with 629 all-time wins.
- Win over No. 1-ranked opponent
Nov. 7, 2-1 win over Duke in ACC Tournament semifinals
» First win over a No. 1 team since Nov. 10, 2019, vs. #1 Virginia.
» UNC then topped Duke again, 3-0, in the NCAA Tournament semifinals on Dec. 6
- Largest NCAA First Round win
Nov. 15, 8-0 win over USC Upstate in NCAA Tournament First Round » Matched the largest first-round NCAA Tournament victory in program history (also had an 8-0 win vs. High Point in 2003).
- 150th NCAA Tournament win
Nov. 24, 3-0 win over Minnesota in NCAA Third Round

» The next closest is Florida State with 83 NCAA Tournament wins.

She's the (Her)mann ... Kate Faasse was recently named one of the 15 semifinalists for the prestigious MAC Hermann Trophy, the most coveted individual honor in NCAA Division I soccer. She's one of three players named to the list who is playing in the College Cup.

Faasse is the first Tar Heel to be selected as a MAC Hermann Trophy semifinalist since Brianna Pinto during the 2020-21 season. Pinto went on to be a top-3 finalist that year.

Carolina has had six players win a combined eight MAC Hermann Trophies, the most by any school. The last recipient was Crystal Dunn in 2012.

All-America Heels ... Three Tar Heels were named United Soccer Coaches All-America:

- Kate Faasse, First Team
- Trinity Armstrong, Second Team
- Tessa Dellarose, Fourth Team

Faasse is the first Tar Heel to be named First Team All-America since Brianna Pinto in 2020, and the 103rd all-time in program history.

Armstrong is the first UNC rookie to earn All-America honors since Alessia Russo also landed on the second team in 2017.

The Tar Heels have had at least one All-America selection each season since the honor began in 1980.

All-Region Heels ... Three Tar Heels were named to the United Soccer Coaches All-Atlantic Region Team:

- Trinity Armstrong, First Team
- Kate Faasse, First Team
- Tessa Dellarose, Second Team

Armstrong is the first Tar Heel rookie on the First Team since Maycee Bell in 2019, and is one of two freshmen on the First Team.

This is the 10th year in a row Carolina has had at least three all-region honorees.

All-ACC Praise ... Six Tar Heels combined for seven All-ACC postseason honors:

- Trinity Armstrong, All-ACC First Team & ACC All-Freshman Team

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

- Kate Faasse, All-ACC First Team
- Maddie Dahlien, All-ACC Third Team
- Tessa Dellarose, All-ACC Third Team
- Bella Gaetino, ACC All-Freshman Team
- Linda Ullmark, ACC All-Freshman Team

Armstrong is the first Tar Heel to be named to the All-ACC First Team and All-Freshman Team since Alessia Russo in 2017. She is one of two freshmen on the All-ACC First Team, and the only rookie defender on the first, second or third team.

Carolina's seven total honors are second-most in the league, trailing Notre Dame (8) but ahead of Duke (6), Florida State (6) and Wake Forest (5). UNC also has the second-most rookies on the All-Freshman Team behind Notre Dame's four.

Fabulous Faasse ... Forward Kate Faasse is currently in the midst of a breakout junior season. She is the nation's outright leader with 20 goals. Her 44 points ranks first in the ACC and second in the NCAA.

Her 20 goals and 44 points are the most by a Tar Heel in a single season since Casey Nogueira had 25 and 58, respectively, in 2008. She is the fourth Tar Heel with 20+ goals in a single season since the turn of the century.

She has scored nine goals in the last 10 games, which includes three braces in the timespan. Additionally, she had seven goals in 10 ACC regular season matches.

Eight of Faasse's 20 goals this year have been game-winners. Her eight game-winning goals also rank first in both the ACC and NCAA.

Faasse had her first career brace at Colorado with goals in the 88th and 90th minutes to seal a 3-2 win. She then had another brace vs. Louisville with goals in the sixth and 63rd minutes. She became the first Tar Heel to have two braces in one season since Ally Sentnor and Avery Patterson both did so in 2022. Sentnor was the No. 1 overall pick in the 2024 NWSL Draft with Patterson going No. 19 overall.

She then recorded her third brace vs. #12 Virginia Tech on Nov. 3 in the first round of the ACC Tournament with goals in the 67th and 69th minutes.

A week later, she had yet another brace against #6 Florida State in the ACC title game on Nov. 10 with goals in the 31st and 43rd minutes. She was the first Tar Heel to have a brace in the ACC Tournament championship game since Casey Nogueira in 2009, also against FSU.

For the third time during postseason, Faasse registered a brace, her fifth of the year vs. USC Upstate in the NCAA Tournament First Round on Nov. 15. She scored in the 19th and 22nd minutes. It was the third time her brace came in a three-minute stretch.

Faasse is the first Tar Heel to have 3+ braces in one season since Alessia Russo also had five in 2019. Only three Tar Heels have had 3+ braces in a single season in the last decade: Faasse (5, 2024), Russo (5, 2019) and Bridgette Andrzejewski (4, 2016). A star for Arsenal and the Lionesses, Russo was recently named the England Women's Player of the Year for the 2023-24 season, and Andrzejewski was the No. 18 overall pick in the 2020 NWSL Draft.

Faasse is a semifinalist for the prestigious MAC Hermann Trophy, becoming the first Tar Heel to be tabbed a semifinalist since Brianna Pinto in 2020-21.

She was also named a United Soccer Coaches First Team All-America, the 103rd First Team selection in school history. She's the first first-team pick since Pinto in 2020.

Faasse was named to the United Soccer Coaches All-Atlantic Region First Team, All-ACC First Team and ACC All-Tournament Team.

She surpassed her point total from her freshman (6) and sophomore (7) season combined just 10 games into the 2024 season. She was ranked 10th on Top Drawer Soccer's Midseason Top 100 Players list, the fourth highest among all ACC players.

Interim head coach Damon Nahas has nothing but praise for Faasse, noting the maturity that has developed within her and her realization of the leadership role she can play on and off the field. Nahas also says that "her rewards are not by mistake because she puts the work in," also stating how the team celebrates her success because of the respect they have for her.

Nahas also says that Faasse has one of the biggest personalities on the team and is a "ball of energy and enthusiasm. The team follows her example, but she can also make the environment fun and light.” He goes on to say that her personality is one of her strengths.

As for Faasse’s fierce mindset, Nahas says: “I’ve not see someone that has a mentality like her. I just haven’t. She just wants to win. She makes her teammates better. She’s put the work in to be prepared.”

In 2023 as a sophomore, Faasse saw action off the bench in all 23 games and logged 716 minutes. She finished the year with two goals and three assists for seven points. During her freshman year in 2022, Faasse subbed in for 17 games for a total of 233 minutes, tallying two goals and two assists.

(Arm)strong Defender ... Seven-teen-year-old freshman Trinity Armstrong has proven why she’s not only one of the best center backs, but one of the best players, in the country.

She was the hero in UNC’s thrilling 2-1 win over No. 1 Duke in the ACC Tournament semifinals on Nov. 7. She had an incredible tackle in the 11th minute and a clutch goal line clearance in the 71st minute. She then scored the game-winner off a header in the 81st minute for her first collegiate goal. She earned a spot on the ACC All-Tournament Team.

Armstrong was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Week on Sept. 24, the only true freshman to win the defensive weekly award this year. She was also named Team of the Week Honorable Mention by Top Drawer Soccer that week, and she was ranked No. 4 on TDS’ Midseason Top 100 Freshmen list.

Additionally, Armstrong was named to both the All-ACC First Team and ACC All-Freshman Team. She is the first Tar Heel to be named to the First Team and Freshman Team since Alessia Russo in 2017. She is one of two freshmen on the All-ACC First Team, and the only rookie defender on the first, second or third team.

Armstrong was also tabbed a United Soccer Coaches Second Team All-American. She is the first UNC rookie to earn All-America honors since Russo also landed on the second team in 2017.

She was also named to the United Soccer Coaches All-Region First Team. She is one of two freshman on the First Team, and the first Tar Heel rookie on the First Team since Maycee Bell in 2019.

With Armstrong, UNC has a 18-2 record and had a 0.70 GAA. While she was away on USYNT duties, UNC compiled a 3-3 record and had a 1.33 GAA without her.

Armstrong earned bronze with the U.S. at the 2024 FIFA U-17 World Cup in the Dominican Republic. It was the USA’s first medal and best U17 Women’s World Cup finish since the inaugural event in 2008 when it garnered silver. She was one of four college players on the U.S. roster and she now has 10 USNT caps. She started all six matches of the U17 World Cup, playing every minute of every game.

She was named a finalist for the 2024 U.S. Soccer Young Female Player of the Year. She’s the youngest of the five nominees, and the only collegian on the Young Female ballot. It’s her first such nomination.

Lockdown Defense ... Carolina’s stalwart defense has been anchored by Aven Alvarez, Trinity Armstrong, Emerson Elgin and Bella Gaetino, with Clare Gagne between the posts.

UNC has 15 shutouts on the year (12 credited to Gagne, three credited to the team). That leads the ACC and ranks second in the nation. The Tar Heels have allowed just one goal throughout the NCAA Tournament.

Additionally, UNC’s back line has kept its opponents to 8.0 shots per game and 3.8 shots on goal per game. All but two opponents have been limited to 15 shots or fewer, and all but two to six shots on goal or fewer.

During the NCAA Tournament thus far, the Tar Heels have held all opponents to 7.8 shots per game and just 3.8 shots on goal.

Back in August, Carolina kept North Dakota shotless during the entire game, the first time UNC had done that since Nov. 16, 2019. UNC has held its opponent shotless in the first half three times this season. Two opponents (North Dakota and #12 Virginia Tech) were held to zero shots on goal.

acrobatic and athletic saves – has 71 saves and an .763 save percentage. She leads the team with 2,299 minutes, having been between the posts for all but 49 minutes of UNC's 26 matches. She has been credited with 12 shutouts (UNC also has three team shutouts for 15 total).

Gagne had a career performance on Oct. 25 at Florida State, finishing with 13 saves on the night. She matched her previous career-best five saves in the first half alone. Her 13 saves was just one off the UNC program record of 14 from 1980. It was also the most by a Tar Heel keeper since Lindsey Harris had 11 on Sept. 2, 2016, at Duke. Gagne's 13-save performance now ranks second in the ACC for single-game saves.

Gagne came in clutch in the NCAA Second Round vs. #11 Santa Clara on Nov. 22, stopping a penalty kick in the 34th minute. UNC won, 1-0. She had five saves, all in the first half, vs. #1 Duke in the NCAA Semifinals on Dec. 6.

Interim head coach Damon Nahas describes Gagne as "very mature, smart, confident, intelligent and ambitious." He goes on to say that she brings leadership and experience to the young Tar Heel team, despite this only being her first year in Chapel Hill. Nahas states that Gagne has a dominant voice in training sessions and film, and that she works really hard and deserves all the success she has seen.

Gagne appeared in 29 games at Brown, earning 23 starts and logging 2,193 minutes between. She finished her undergrad career with 59 saves, a .74 goals-against average and a .766 save percentage. She helped the Bears win three straight Ivy League titles and earned All-Ivy Honorable Mention praise in 2023.

Gagne, who is pursuing her master's degree in public health at UNC, the No. 1 ranked public MPH program in the country (and No. 2 overall), is also an ordained minister.

Brace Yourself ... Seven current Tar Heels have at least one brace in their careers, four who have done so thus far in 2024:

- Olivia Migli, at Miami (11/1/20)*
- Olivia Migli, vs. Coastal Carolina (3/17/21)*
- Olivia Migli, vs. St. Johns (11/21/21) *
- Maddie Dahlien, vs. BYU (11/19/22)

- Evelyn Shores, vs. USC (8/27/23)
- Kate Faasse, at Colorado (8/18/24)
- Olivia Thomas, vs. Georgia (8/22/24)
- Linda Ullmark, vs. Virginia (9/27/24)
- Kate Faasse, vs. Louisville (10/3/24)
- Aria Nagai, at Florida State (10/25/24)
- Kate Faasse, vs. Virginia Tech (11/3/24)
- Kate Faasse, vs. Florida State (11/10/24)
- Kate Faasse, vs. USC Upstate (11/15/24)
- Linda Ullmark, vs. USC Upstate (11/15/24) while playing for Duke*

Faasse's first career brace was one to remember. At Colorado, she scored the equalizer in the 88th minute before finding the back of the net two minutes later with 41 seconds left on the clock for the game-winning goal.

Faasse then had her second career brace vs. Louisville with goals in the sixth and 63rd minutes. She became the first Tar Heel to have two braces in one season since Ally Sentnor and Avery Patterson both did so in 2022.

Faasse then picked up her third career brace vs. #12 Virginia Tech in the ACC Tournament Quarterfinals on Nov. 3 with goals in the 67th and 69th minutes. Two games later, she had another brace against #6 Florida State in the ACC Championship game on Nov. 10 with goals in the 31st and 43rd minutes.

On Nov. 15 against USC Upstate in the NCAA Tournament First Round, Faasse picked up her fifth brace of the year with goals in the 19th and 23rd minutes. It was her second-straight game with a first-half brace.

Faasse is the first Tar Heel to have 3+ braces in one season since Alessia Russo had five in 2019. Only three Tar Heels have had 3+ braces in a single season in the last decade: Faasse (5, 2024), Russo (5, 2019) and Bridgette Andrzejewski (4, 2016).

Thomas had her first career brace against #16 Georgia in the home opener. Like Faasse, Thomas' goals also came in quick succession: She scored in the 61st minute and again in the 65th.

Ullmark's brace against #19 Virginia came in noteworthy fashion. She scored her first career goal in the 30th minute to level the score at 1-1. She then netted her second goal, the game-winner, in the 74th minute.

That game saw Ullmark's first career goal, first career brace, and first career game-winning goal.

Ullmark then had another brace on Nov. 15 in the NCAA Tournament First Round vs. USC Upstate after scoring in the 76th and 78th minutes.

Nagai had her first career brace at #17 Florida State with goals in the 34th and 36th minutes, which leveled the score at 2-2. Her goals came in nearly identical scenarios off of Bella Sember's corner kicks.

The last time UNC had four different players with at least one brace in a single season was in 2020-21 (Talia Dellaperuta, Ruby Grant, Rachel Jones and Brianna Pinto).

Faasse and Ullmark both had braces vs. USC Upstate in the NCAA Tournament First Round on Nov. 15. They became the first Tar Heel duo to both have a brace in the same NCAA Tournament game since Lindsay Tarpley (3 goals) Elizabeth Guess (2 goals) on Nov. 13, 2004, against William & Mary in the second round.

Shores had the first brace of her career in what was just her second career appearance vs. #24 USC as a freshman in 2023. Her goals came in the 66th and 69th minutes.

Dahlien's first career brace came against BYU in the 2022 NCAA Third Round. She scored in the 58' and 65' minutes.

No current player has had a hat trick. The last UNC hat trick came on March 27, 2021, from both Ruby Grant and Brianna Pinto.

Twice as Nice ... Four Tar Heels (Kate Faasse, Aria Nagai, Olivia Thomas, Linda Ullmark) have combined for nine braces this season. Six of UNC's nine braces have come within a three-minute stretch:

Kate Faasse vs. Colorado, Aug. 18

- 87:15 and 89:19
- 2 minutes, 5 seconds apart

Olivia Thomas vs. #16 Georgia, Aug. 22

- 60:43 and 63:20
- 2 minutes, 37 seconds apart

Aria Nagai at #17 Florida State, Oct. 25

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

Kate Faasse vs. #12 Virginia Tech, Nov. 3

- 66:54 and 68:00

Kate Faasse vs. USC Upstate, Nov. 15

- 3 minutes, 3 seconds apart

Linda Ullmark vs. USC Upstate, Nov. 15

- 75:50 and 77:17

Linda's Breakthrough

... Freshman Linda Ullmark announced herself with a statement on Sept. 27 in a 3-2 win over No. 19 Virginia. She had her hand in all three goals, finishing with a brace and an assist, including the game-winning goal. She became the first Tar Heel to have 5+ points in a game this year, and the third to register a brace (and only freshman so far).

Against the Cavaliers, her first career goal came in the 30th minute to level the score at 1-1. She then had an assist in the 38th minute to again even the score at 2-2. Ullmark found what proved to be the game-winner in the 74th minute for the first brace of her career. She became just the third UNC freshman to record 5+ points in a single contest since 2018, and the first since 20-2021. Brianna Pinto had five (one goal, three assists) vs. Syracuse in 2018 and Ruby Grant had seven (three goals, one assist) at Tennessee in 2020-21.

For her heroic efforts, Ullmark was named the ACC Offensive Player of the Week on Oct. 1. She was also named the National Player of the Week by Top Drawer Soccer that same week.

Ullmark also checked in at No. 1 on TDS' Midseason Top 100 Freshmen list, and she earned a spot on the ACC All-Freshman Team.

She then came in clutch once again in the ACC Tournament semifinals with #1 Duke on Nov. 7. Her beautiful strike from nearly 30 yards out tied the game at 1-1 in the 50th minute. UNC went on to win, 2-1, to book a trip to the ACC title game. She even earned a spot on the ACC All-Tournament Team.

Ullmark had another brace vs. USC Upstate in the NCAA Tournament First Round on Nov. 15 with goals in the 76th and 78th minutes.

She became the first UNC true freshman to have a brace in an NCAA Tournament game since Maddie Dahlien in the third round vs. BYU on Nov. 19, 2022. She also became the first UNC true freshman to have two braces in their rookie campaign since Emily Colton had two in 2021 (at Illinois, Aug. 26; at Florida, Sept. 9).

She then scored what was credited as the game-winning goal vs. Minnesota in the NCAA Third Round on Nov. 24, her sixth goal of the season in the 17th minute.

Ullmark currently ranks second on the team with five assists and third with 17 points. She's one of four players to log 2,000+ minutes so far.

She leads all freshmen with 2,004 minutes. She's the fourth true freshman to log over 2,000 minutes since 2012 (Savy King had 2,030 in 2023; Maycee Bell had 2,161 in 2019; Hanna Gardner had 2,015 in 2012).

Interim head coach Damon Nahas says that "Linda is special. I've been saying that since the beginning. For her whole entire career, she's done nothing but score goals. You just knew it was just that one moment she needed. Her team knows how special she is. She's been brilliant all year...I give a lot of credit to her, and I give a lot of credit to her teammates for keep encouraging her to take chances."

In high school, Ullmark was named the New York State Gatorade Player of the Year in 2022 and 2023.

Battle 'Til the End

... Thirty-eight of UNC's 63 goals this season have come in the second half. Nineteen of those 38 second-half goals have come in the 70th minute or later, with nine of them being scored in the final four minutes of the match (plus one in overtime):

- Kate Faasse, at Colorado – 88'
- Kate Faasse, at Colorado – 90'
- Bella Gaetano, vs. Georgia – 70'
- Tessa Dellarose, vs. Arizona – 76'
- Olivia Thomas, vs. Arizona – 88'
- Linda Ullmark vs. Virginia – 74'
- Kate Faasse vs. Louisville – 63'
- Aria Nagai vs. Louisville – 74'
- Asha Means vs. Louisville – 84'
- Bella Sember at Cal – 90'

- Emerson Elgin vs. Clemson – 70'
- Alexa Wojnovich vs. Clemson – 87'
- Kate Faasse vs. Duke – 88'
- Trinity Armstrong vs. Duke – 81'
- Bella Gaetano vs. USC-Upstate – 74'
- Linda Ullmark vs. USC-Upstate – 76'
- Linda Ullmark vs. USC-Upstate – 78'
- Tessa Dellarose, vs. Santa Clara – 90'
- Kate Faasse, vs. Penn State – 98'

UNC has scored the game-winning goal in the 90th minute three times this year, and all against schools out west. Kate Faasse's game-winner at Colorado was scored with 89:19 on the clock. Bella Sember's game-winner at Cal was scored with 89:49 on the clock.

In the NCAA Tournament, Dellarose's game-winner in the second round vs. Santa Clara was with 22 seconds left on the clock. Faasse then netted her seventh game-winning goal vs. Penn State in the quarterfinals in the 98th minute during overtime, with 2:48 remaining in the first OT period.

Thomas on a Tear

... Sophomore forward Olivia Thomas has been on a tear, with 18 points behind eight goals and two assists. She recorded her first career brace against No. 16 Georgia on Aug. 22 with goals in the 61st and 64th minutes. She then followed that up with a goal in the 88th minute against Arizona in the next game.

For her efforts against Georgia and Arizona, Thomas was named the ACC Co-Offensive Player of the Week on Aug. 27, the first such honor of her career.

Thomas also had two assist at Colorado on Aug. 18 for the first multi-point game of her career, which was also marked her first career assist.

A lower-body injury sustained in practice kept Thomas on the bench for eight matches. She returned to the pitch on Oct. 10.

She scored her first goal back vs. Clemson on Oct. 17, adding another goal vs. No. 1 Duke on Oct. 31 and vs. USC Upstate on Nov. 15 in the NCAA Tournament First Round. Her seventh goal of the year came in the NCAA Third Round vs. Minnesota on Nov. 24, and her eighth came in the NCAA Semifinals vs. #1 Duke on Dec. 6.

ACC Tournament Recap ... The Tar Heels earned the fourth seed in the 2024 ACC

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

Tournament after compiling a 7-3 league record during the regular season.

UNC hosted fifth-seed Virginia Tech in the quarterfinals on Chapel Hill on Nov. 3 and posted a 2-0 shutout win. Kate Faasse had a brace with goals in the 67th and 69th minutes and Carolina saw its 11th shutout, Carolina then rematched with top-seeded and top-ranked Duke for the third time in the semifinals on Nov. 7 in Cary. UNC avenged its two prior losses to win, 2-1. Linda Ullmark scored the equalizer in the 50th minute before Trinity Armstrong had the game-winner in the 81st minute.

The win over the Blue Devils was Carolina's 950th win in program history. It was also UNC's first win over a No. 1-ranked opponent since Nov. 10, 2019, in a 2-1 double overtime victory over Virginia to win the 2019 ACC Tournament.

The Tar Heels then met third-seeded Florida State in the championship game on Nov. 10, falling 3-2. Kate Faasse had her fourth brace of the year with goals in the 31st and 43rd minutes. She became the first Tar Heel to have a brace in the ACC championship game since Casey Nogueira did so in 2009, also against FSU.

Armstrong, Maddie Dahlien, Faasse and Ullmark were named to the ACC All-Tournament Team. The last time UNC had multiple freshmen on the All-ACC Tournament team was in 2010 (Crystal Dunn, Kealia Ohai, Meg Morris).

Midseason Form ... Five Tar Heels found themselves on the annual Top Drawer Soccer Midseason Top 100 list:

- Linda Ullmark, No. 1 (Top Freshmen)
- Trinity Armstrong, No. 5 (Top Freshmen)
- Bella Gaetano, No. 43 (Top Freshmen)
- Kate Faasse, No. 10 (Top Players)
- Aria Nagai, No. 42 (Top Players)

Carolina is the only school with two players in the top 5 on the Top 100 Freshmen list.

ACC Weekly Awards ... The Tar Heels have earned three ACC weekly awards this year:

- Olivia Thomas, ACC Co-Offensive POW on Aug. 27
- Trinity Armstrong, ACC Defensive

POW on Sept. 24

- Linda Ullmark, ACC Offensive POW on Oct. 1

It was the first such honor for all of them. Armstrong was the only true freshman to win the weekly defensive honor this year.

Ullmark was one of three true freshmen to win the offensive weekly honor. She was also named the Top Drawer Soccer National Player of the Week on Oct. 1.

Major Minutes ... Goalkeeper Clare Gagne leads the team with 2,299 minutes, having been between the posts for a full 90+ in 23 of 26 matches.

For field players, Kate Faasse (2,210), Tessa Dellarose (2,191), Aria Nagai (2,088), Linda Ullmark (2,076) and Emerson Elgin (2,054) all have over 2,000 minutes.

Ullmark leads all freshmen with 2,076 minutes. She's the fourth true freshman to log over 2,000 minutes since 2012 (Savy King had 2,030 in 2023; Maycee Bell had 2,161 in 2019; Hanna Gardner had 2,015 in 2012).

Freshman Impact ... UNC's freshman class has already had a major impact. Offensively, Aven Alvarez (1g, 1a), Trinity Armstrong (1g), Bella Gaetano (5g, 2a), Ashley Pennie (1a) and Linda Ullmark (6g, 5a) have combined for 34 points. Alvarez, Gaetano, Ullmark and Trinity Armstrong have all logged over 1,500 minutes.

On the defensive end, Gaetano, Trinity Armstrong and Alvarez have helped hold opponents to just 8.0 shots per game, and only 3.8 shots on goal per game.

Four rookies in Alvarez, Armstrong, Gaetano and Ullmark have earned at least 12 starts with Ullmark starting every game so far. Ashley Pennie has subbed in for substantial minutes in all but two matches while Caitlin Mara made her debut against Arizona. Logan Tongberg entered vs. North Dakota for the first time.

O Captain! My Captain! ... This year's team captains, as voted on by the team, are junior Tessa Dellarose, senior Asha Means and senior Bella Sember. All are first-time team captains who will provide great leadership to this young Tar Heel squad.

Says Dellarose on being named captain: "It means a lot, especially being a junior. It definitely is a big honor. We vote on captains so your teammates vote you in. Just knowing they respect me enough to put my name down as someone to lead the team ... I'm grateful for that."

Teammates Once Again ... Bella Gaetano, a freshman from Dexter, and Olivia Thomas, a sophomore from Grosse Pointe, both hail from Michigan, about an hour apart from each other. They played together for Michigan Hawks, one of the top club teams in the country. The duo also played together for Flint City AFC in the USL W League.

Unsurprisingly, the two longtime friends and teammates have meshed together quite well in Carolina blue. At Colorado on Aug. 18, Thomas assisted Gaetano's first collegiate goal (it was also Thomas' first career assist). Against Georgia on Aug. 22, Thomas had her first career brace while Gaetano scored her second career goal.

During the NCAA Tournament, both Thomas and Gaetano scored vs. USC Upstate on Nov. 15. Gaetano then assisted Thomas' goal vs. #1 Duke in the NCAA Semifinals.

Six Degrees Better ... Six players on UNC's 27-person roster already have their bachelor's degrees and are currently working towards their master's.

- Clare Gagne – Health and Human Biology (Brown '24)
- Avery Look – Sport Administration (UNC '24)
- Olivia Migli – Psychology (Duke '24)
- Aria Nagai – Computer Science (Princeton '24)
- Marisa Shorrock – Economics (Yale '24)
- Alexa Wojnovich – Nursing (Villanova '23)

Wojnovich is also a licensed nurse.

Carolina Family ... Plenty of Tar Heels have family connections to UNC:

- Aven Alvarez – Father, Daniel, attended grad school at UNC
- Avery Look – Older brother, Dylan, ran track at UNC in 2023
- Caitlin Mara – Mother, Liz, swam at UNC from 1995-99
- Asha Means – Father, Natrone, played football at UNC from 1990-92 and is

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

- an offensive analyst for the Tar Heels
- Ashley Pennie – Older brother, Luke, is a sophomore at UNC
- Ella Smith – Mother, Nancy, played soccer at UNC under Anson Dorrance and older brother, Ryan, attends UNC
- Evelyn Shores – Mother, Debbie, attended UNC
- Logan Tongberg – Both parents, Kristen and Chris, attended UNC, as did both paternal grandparents

Story of Resilience ... On June 7, 2024, Olivia Migli entered the Greenwich Hospital Emergency Department in Connecticut with what she thought was nausea, in hopes to get fluids and anti-nausea medicine. However, once she started displaying other symptoms – like slurred speech, stumbling and facial drooping on her left side – her nurse's prior experience and acute instincts saved her life: "If she didn't come in, she could have had permanent damage."

The nurse's stroke suspicions were quickly verified and the decision to call a stroke alert was made. A CT scan revealed that Migli suffered a blockage in her middle cerebral artery, which supplies blood to a significantly large part of the brain. According to the medical staff who treated her, "It was clear she was having a fairly large stroke, from a deficit standpoint, but also from an imaging standpoint." She was then given a clot-busting drug used to treat ischemic strokes and her symptoms eventually subsided.

Migli is on the younger side of patients the hospital has seen for stroke, with the exception of those who may have underlying health conditions. Healthline Magazine states that the most common age for stroke is 71.4 years in men and 76.9 years in women. Common risk factors include age, lifestyle and family history – and when those elements are brought into consideration, Migli's case becomes even more unique, and she also has no family history of stroke.

Says Migli on her experience: "My stroke gave me a different perspective on life. When you're young, you think you're invincible. You think nothing bad could ever happen, and you don't think about your mortality. This whole experience has made me aware that not every day is granted. I now take what I can from each day and be thankful for what I have. You can plan for life as much as you'd like, but when things take a turn or don't play out how you want, it's okay to ask for help and rely on the people around you. This team is such an incredible group of girls who want to be there for you as a person. I've been able to look to my team and friends for support, and the staff here has been amazing. I've really felt cared for as a person beyond just an athlete."

Thanks to the early recognition and quick response from the medical staff, Migli was back on the pitch soon after, making her UNC debut in the season opener at Denver on Aug. 15 – 69 days after her stroke.

A lower-body injury, unrelated to her stroke, has kept Migli off the pitch and she has medically retired. She appeared in the first 12 games of the season, making 10 starts and logging 659 minutes.

Homecoming Surprise ... Freshman Aven Alvarez received the sweetest surprise on Sept. 17 before practice. Her father, Daniel, had been deployed overseas with the U.S. Army for the past six months. Equipped with a sign reading "I've waited six months to hug my Tar Heel," Daniel appeared during the team's film session for an emotional reunion.

Unable to have traveled to Pitt and Syracuse, Daniel saw his daughter play college soccer for the first time in person against Virginia on Sept. 27. Daniel was a successful soccer player himself, having played collegiately at Furman before playing professionally for the Virginia Mariners and Cincinnati. He earned his master's from UNC.

A native of nearby New Hill, North Carolina, Aven reclassified to the Class of 2024, forgoing her senior year to join the Tar Heels this season. She played club soccer with North Carolina Courage. She has seen action in every match so far, earning eight starts and logging 1,040 minutes. She scored her first career goal vs. Louisville.

World Cup Tar Heels ... Junior Maddie Dahlien played with the United States Under-20 Youth National Team which earned bronze at the 2024 FIFA U-20 World Cup in Colombia. Dahlien was one of 12 college players on the 21-person roster.

Dahlien scored in the 96' against Morocco on Sept. 4, six minutes after subbing in, to seal a 2-0 win for the U.S. She then scored in the 83' in a 7-0 win over Paraguay on Sept. 7. She also had the game-tying assist in the 90+9' over Germany in the quarterfinals. In the bronze-medal game, she forced the game-winning own goal in the 120'.

She now has six international goals and one assist in 15 USYNT caps.

A creative finisher, Dahlien impressed at the Concacaf U-20 Championship in June 2023; Team USA finished second to secure its World Cup berth. After not playing in the USA's opening game of the tournament, she made her inaugural start for the USA against Jamaica and scored a hat trick in her first-ever cap. Dahlien (along with former UNC teammate Ally Sentnor) finished the Concacaf event with a team-leading four goals.

Former Tar Heel standouts Sentnor and Savy King – the respective No. 1 and No. 2 NWSL Draft picks – were two of eight professionals on the 2024 U20 World Cup roster. It was Sentnor's second U20 World Cup while King played in the U17 World Cup, both in 2022.

Sentnor is the USA's most-capped player and top scorer with 23 caps and 13 international goals while King has 19 caps as a defender. Sentnor, who was named team captain of the 2024 U20 World Cup squad, earned the Bronze Ball award in Colombia.

Freshman defender Trinity Armstrong earned bronze with the U.S. U-17 National Team at the 2024 FIFA U-17 World Cup in the Dominican Republic from Oct. 16-Nov. 3. It was the USA's first medal and best U17 Women's World Cup finish since the inaugural event in 2008 when it garnered silver.

Armstrong was one of four college players on the U.S. roster and she now has 10 USNT caps. She started all six matches of the U17 World Cup, playing every minute of every game. She left for National Team duties after the Oct. 3 match against Louisville and played the first 13 games of the season.

With the U17 (bronze at World Cup), U20 (bronze at World Cup) and USWNT (gold at Olympics) all earning medals, the USA is the only country to reach the podium in each of FIFA's three world championship events for women in 2024. It is just the third time a country had accomplished that feat in a calendar year and the second by the USA (both Germany and the USA earned three podium finishes in 2008).

Preseason Praise ... North Carolina was picked to finish fourth in the ACC Preseason Coaches poll after receiving 187 points. Florida State, the defending national champion, garnered 255 points and 15 first-place votes to be chosen first, followed by NCAA runner-up Stanford with 235 points and a pair of first-place nods. In third was Notre Dame with 211 points.

The Tar Heels were also slotted at No. 8 in the United Soccer Coaches Preseason Poll, trailing Florida State (No. 1), Stanford (No. 2), BYU (No. 3), Penn State (No. 4), Clemson (No. 5), Nebraska (No. 6) and Pitt (No. 7).

New Kids on the Block ... Carolina's freshman class, which signed back in November 2023, was the second-ranked cohort in the country according to Top Drawer Soccer. Led by interim head coach and lead recruiter Damon Nahas, the Tar Heels have signed a top-four recruiting class for seven consecutive years and have had a top-five class in nine of the last 10 seasons.

The eight-person freshman class includes Aven Alvarez, Trinity Armstrong, Bella Gaetano, Hannah Johann, Caitlin Mara, Ashley Pennie, Logan Tongberg and Linda Ullmark. Defenders Alvarez and Armstrong reclassified to the Class of 2024, accelerating their studies to join UNC this season.

Carolina welcomed 15 newcomers to its 2024 roster: the eight aforementioned freshmen, five transfers and two players brought up for UNC Club Soccer. They join 12 returners for a 27-person roster.

Ivy League Flair ... The Tar Heels have welcomed three Ivy League graduate transfers this year: goalkeeper Clare Gagne from Brown, midfielder Aria Nagai from Princeton and goalkeeper Marisa Shorrock from Yale.

Gagne appeared in 29 games at Brown, earning 23 starts and logging 2,193 minutes between. She finished her undergrad career with 59 saves, a .74 goals-against average and a .766 save percentage. She helped the Bears win back-to-back Ivy League titles in 2022 and 2023 and earned All-Ivy Honorable Mention praise in 2023.

Nagai played in 55 matches at Princeton, starting 42 of them and logging 3,829 minutes. She ended her Tiger career with two goals, six assists and 10 points. Her Princeton accolades include 2023 First Team

All-Ivy, 2022 Honorable Mention All-Ivy and 2021 Second Team All-Ivy.

Interim head coach Damon Nahas first saw Nagai while UNC was playing in Texas in the 2023 NCAA Tournament, where Princeton was also playing. Nahas was impressed watching Nagai play Texas Tech and was surprised to see her name pop up in the transfer portal. Nagai already had a job lined up but was in between pursuing her career and continuing to play soccer. Nahas says that alongside her incredible talent on the pitch, "she is an amazing addition as human being."

Shorrock, who was a mid-season walk-on at Yale in 2021, appeared in 22 games during her three years, starting 20 and logging 1,781 minutes. She finished her Bulldog career with a .810 save percentage, 1.11 goals-against average, 94 saves and seven shutouts. She was named to the 2022 Second Team All-Ivy Team. She transferred to Yale from Bowdoin College (2020-21) where she walked onto the varsity soccer, basketball and lacrosse teams before seasons were canceled due to COVID-19.

Gone Portaling ... In addition to UNC's three transfers from the Ivy League, two other players have joined the Tar Heels this season: junior midfielder Eden Bretzer from Florida Gulf Coast and graduate defender Olivia Migli from Duke.

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

Bretzer played two years at FGCU, totaling 37 games with seven starts and logging 1,148 minutes. She dished out six assists, all which came during her sophomore season to rank second in the ASUN Conference. She helped the Eagles win back-to-back ASUN titles in 2022 and 2023.

Migli appeared in 71 matches for Duke from 2020-23, making 52 starts and logging 3,809 minutes. She totaled 11 goals and five assists for 27 points, including three game-winning goals and three multi-goal games. She was named to three TopDrawerSoccer.com National Teams of the Week during her time in Durham.

Interim head coach Damon Nahas credits Migli for the "incredible grit" she displays.

TBT to TST ... Two players on this year's roster, Tessa Dellarose and Bella Sember, played in The Soccer Tournament (TST 2024) in June at WakeMed Soccer Park in Cary. The pair played on the 'U.S. Women' team which featured 15 Tar Heels and was led by UNC and USWNT legend Heather O'Reilly.

Dellarose – a rising junior playing alongside her idols – was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player and was named to the Best 7 team. Recent graduate Talia Dellaperuta, who went on to sign a first-division professional contract abroad, scored the game-winning goal to secure the $1 million prize.

After the success of the inaugural men's-only TST in 2023, the event expanded this year to include the first-ever women's tournament which had an equal $1 million prize. Using a 7-on-7 format, teams played in a World Cup style tournament consisting of group play and single-elimination knockout rounds.

Right On Track ... Anyone watching North Carolina women's soccer can see the serious speed the Tar Heel players possess.

Maddie Dahlien, a junior forward, brings true speed up top for UNC with a graceful and powerful stride. She was voted Miss Soccer and Miss Track for the state of Minnesota during her senior year at Edina High School (Edina, Minn.) in 2021. She was the state champion in the 100m, 200m and 400m as a junior, also winning the 200m and long jump as a senior. Dahlien also owns her high school's records in the 100m (11.81), 200m (23.80), 400m (54.76), long jump (18' 8.5) as well as several relays. She was hotly recruited in both sports.

Olivia Thomas, a sophomore forward, has also broken school track and field records at University Liggett School (Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.). She owns her high school's marks in the 100m (12.41), 200m (25.58) and 400m (58.88). She finished in the top-8 in all three events at the Michigan Lower Peninsula DIII State Championships as a junior. Thomas holds the UNC program record for fastest speed at 7.54 m/s (about 4.8 seconds in the 40-yard dash).

Bella Gaetino, a freshman defender/midfielder, ran track and field for one year at Dexter High School (Dexter, Mich.). She broke the school record in the 100m with a time of 12.60 as a sophomore.

Fit(ness) Check ... Tessa Dellarose owns the UNC program record with a score of 63 on the beep test, done in 2023 as a sophomore. The now-junior scored a team-leading 60 this year. She first broke the school record as a freshman in 2022 with a score of 57.

As a freshman in 2023, Olivia Thomas set a new team standard for fastest speed after clocking in at 7.54 m/s. That equates to approximately 4.8 seconds in the 40-yard dash. Thomas also had the quickest acceleration on the team at 6.17 m/s.

Maddie Dahlien, now a junior, owns the program record for agility at 13.87 set in 2022 as a rookie.

The Gold Standard ... Former Tar Heel standouts Crystal Dunn and Emily Fox won gold with the USWNT at the Olympic Games in Paris. It was the United States' fifth Olympic gold medal. On all five of the gold-medal winning U.S. Olympic teams, at least two Tar Heels were on the roster. Fourteen Tar Heels have won a combined 21 Olympic gold medals.

Dunn, who was one of just three three-time Olympians on the U.S. squad, received her second career medal after earning bronze in 2020. She had the game-winning assist in the quarterfinals against Japan. Dunn was one of nine first-time Olympians.

Sixty Tar Heels have earned USWNT caps; 34 have earned a spot on an Olympic roster with 55 making a World Cup team.

Twenty-eight players have at least one World Cup and Olympic gold medal. Four Tar Heels have gone on to win World Cup and Olympic gold as a USWNT coach.

Red, White & Carolina Blue ... Plenty of current Tar Heels have experience representing Team USA through international experience and training camps:

- Aven Alvarez – 2023 U-19 Pan-Am Games, U-17/U-19/U-20 training camps
- Trinity Armstrong – 2024 FIFA U-17 World Cup, 2024 Concacaf U-17 Championship, U-16/U-17 training camps
- Maddie Dahlien – 2024 U-20 World Cup, 2023 Concacaf U-20 Championship
- Tessa Dellarose – 2023 Concacaf U-20 Championship, U-20 training camps, U-16 National Team

Makenna Dominguez played at the 2024 Concacaf Gold Cup for the Salvadoran National Team. Eden Bretzer also played for the Canadian U-17 National Team.

NWSL Draft Recap ... The 2024 NWSL Draft was one to remember for North Carolina. UNC had six players drafted: Ally Sentnor (No. 1, first round), Savy King (No. 2, first round), Maycee Bell (No. 14, first round), Sam Meza (No. 17, second round), Avery Patterson (No. 19, second round) and Julia Dorsey (No. 40, third round).

UNC's three first-round draftees in Sentnor, King and Bell set a new NWSL record for most players selected by a single school in the Draft's 12-year history. The six players chosen in the draft class tied the NWSL record for most players selected in a Draft from a single school.

Sentnor joined current USWNT stars Crystal

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

Dunn (2014) and Emily Fox (2021) as No. 1 overall selections in program history. Sentnor and King become the second Tar Heel duo to receive the first and second overall Draft picks in UNC history, joining Dunn (No. 1) and Kealia Ohai (No. 2) in 2014.

Starting XI of Pro Contracts ... Eleven Tar Heels – yep, an entire starting lineup – from the 2023 UNC squad signed first-division professional contracts at the end of last season:

- Emmie Allen – Bay FC, NWSL
- Maycee Bell – NJ/NY Gotham FC, NWSL
- Isabel Cox – Wellington Phoenix FC, Australian A-League
- Julia Dorsey – NC Courage, NWSL
- Talia Dellaperuta – UC Sampdoria, Italian Serie A
- Tori Dellaperuta – UC Sampdoria, Italian Serie A
- Savy King – Bay FC, NWSL
- Sam Meza – Seattle Reign FC, NWSL
- Emily Moxley – Carolina Ascent, USL Super League
- Avery Patterson – Houston Dash, NWSL
- Ally Sentnor – Utah Royals, NWSL

Former head coach Anson Dorrance calls this “nothing short of an amazing achievement. I consider this a remarkable achievement. Even though we didn’t get to the Final Four in 2023 – which is our standard – the fact that we produced so many elite players is very comforting, telling us that we’re doing something right.”

2024 At A Glance ... Interim head coach Damon Nahas knows his players are ready and eager for this season. Fans will see plenty of new faces, some familiar faces and some players coming back from injury. As to what fans can expect from this Tar Heel team, Nahas says they “can expect a team that wants to get better. They want to entertain in a manner that people will come out to watch them, and I have no doubt they will do that. They’ll see the same mentality of a group that’s hungry and has a desire to prove to themselves – before anyone else – that there’s something special going on here.”

Nahas goes on to say how, despite so many new players, the team has blended together well: “They’re just a really close group. It has been unique to watch. A culture can fluctuate depending on the group, but it’s always defined by the players. This group has been so professional and fun to be around. This group is uniquely close, and I think that will serve them well, especially in the circumstance we’re in.”

As for the team’s leadership this season, Nahas emphasizes the collaboration among players and how leadership responsibilities aren’t falling on one individual: “We have an extraordinary group of potential leaders who understand their position and their leadership role that will really serve the team well.” He also notes how all the returning players have stepped up naturally as veterans who are committed to helping the team grow, as have some of the experienced grad transfers who have come in. Tessa Dellarose, Asha Means and Bella Sember are serving as team captains.

Despite 2024 serving as somewhat of a rebuilding year with so many new faces, junior Kate Faasse has been surprised by the team dynamic: “Everyone is open to new ideas and learning from each other... Everyone has been so on top on top of it and receptive and giving 100% in everything. Also, everyone’s attitude has been amazing...everyone believes in each other.”

Competitive Schedule ... UNC has no shortage of top-tier teams to face throughout the 2024 regular season, highlighted by matchups with defending NCAA champion Florida State and national runner-up Stanford. In addition, UNC’s opponents include four quarterfinal and three semifinal teams from the 2023 NCAA Tournament.

According to the coaching staff, “We want to schedule great teams early. We want to play the best schedule in the country. We want our young women to get better every single season. So for us, playing the best schedule in the country every year is not just an ambition for us, it’s a requirement.”

Home Sweet Home ... UNC didn’t have to pack its bags often this season, as 10 of its 18 regular season matches were played at Dorrance Field (both of their preseason exhibition contests were played at home, too). Including its game at Duke on Sept. 5, 11 of its 18 regular season games were in the state of North Carolina. For postseason competition, the ACC Tournament semifinals and final – as well as the College Cup – are held in nearby Cary at the WakeMed Soccer Park.

Of the 45 completed seasons in program history, 25 of them have seen the Tar Heels go undefeated at home. UNC has never lost more than three games in Chapel Hill in a single season.

Only six losses have happened at Dorrance Field since its opening in 2019, with two undefeated seasons. The team saw its 50th win at Dorrance Field on Sept. 28, 2024, against #19 Virginia (3-2 victory).

2023 Season Review ... The Tar Heels finished the 2023 regular season with a 10-0-8 record – the first regular season without a loss since 2004. However, it was the most ties in program history: Previously, the most ties in program history (regular season + post season combined) was four in 2002 and 2016.

UNC finished with a 5-0-5 mark in ACC action. Previously, the Tar Heels had never had more than three draws in league play, which happened in 2021. Carolina capped off the regular season ranked fourth in the ACC standings. It was the third time in program history UNC had finished lower than third (T-4th in 2016, T-6th in 2021).

The Tar Heels were 7-0-3 at home and 3-0-5 on the road. The team was also 4-0-5 against ranked opponents, including 2-0-2 against the top 10. UNC produced 32 goals, 38 assists and 108 points during the 18-game regular season slate.

Fourth-seed Carolina hosted fifth-seed Pitt in the first round of the 2023 ACC Tournament, dropping a 2-1 decision in double overtime. It was UNC’s first quarterfinal loss since a 1-0 defeat to Virginia in 2012, also as the No. 4 seed.

In the 2023 NCAA Tournament, UNC advanced to the Elite Eight after defeating Towson (3-1, first round), Alabama (1-0, second round) and Texas Tech (1-0, third round). UNC lost to BYU, 4-3, in the quarterfinals in what was the largest comeback in NCAA Championship history since 2003 from the Cougars.

The 2023 season marked Anson Dorrance’s 45th and final year as head coach of UNC women’s soccer, finishing his remarkable career with a 934-88-53 record.

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

2024 COACHING STAFF

DAMON NAHAS INTERIM HEAD COACH

Damon Nahas is beginning his ninth complete season with UNC women's soccer. He officially joined the Tar Heel staff in November 2015. He was named interim head coach on Aug. 11 after Anson Dorrance announced his retirement.

Nahas brought with him an extensive background from 15 years in player development, club coaching and national team coaching. In 2000, he developed a U7-U11 technical academy, Next Level Academy (NLA), which not only played a major role in his development as a coach but, along with the NLA staff, continues to be a leader in player development in the Triangle area. He served as the technical director of one of the most successful youth clubs in the country, Capital Area Soccer League (CASL), in Raleigh since 2000.

He also served as head coach of the U.S. U15 Girls National Team from 2011-14 and began a stint as an assistant coach for the U.S. U17 Women's National Team in 2014.

She was named the 1989 NCAA College Cup Defensive MVP and was twice tabbed to the All-NCAA College Cup Team. Leone graduated as a three-time All-America selection, All-ACC honoree and served as team captain during her senior year.

In 2002, she was selected to the Atlantic Coast Conference 50th Anniversary Team as one of the best players in league history.

CAROLINA WOMEN'S SOCCER

Thank You, Anson Dorrance

... Anson Dorrance, one of the most successful coaches in college athletics history, announced his retirement after 45 seasons directing the women's soccer program at North Carolina. He informed UNC Director of Athletics Bubba Cunningham of his intention to retire on Aug. 9, and told the team on Aug. 11.

Dorrance, a 1974 Carolina graduate, is one of the most successful coaches in college athletics history. His 21 NCAA championships are the most by a head coach in any Division I sport in college athletics history.

The Tar Heels' first and only women's soccer head coach to date, Dorrance led UNC to a 934-88-53 record in 45 seasons (1979-2023). He also was head coach of the men's soccer team from 1977-88, when he won 172 games and guided UNC to an ACC title and NCAA Final Four berth in 1987. Combined, Dorrance's teams went 1,106-152-74 over 47 years.

UNC women's soccer has won 22 national championships (AIAW in 1981 and 21 NCAA titles), played in six other NCAA title games, finished first or tied for first in the ACC regular season 25 times and captured 22 of 32 ACC Tournaments.

The Tar Heels have played in 31 of the 42 College Cups ever played, 17 more than any other program, and are the only team to have competed in every NCAA Tournament. The 934 wins, 21 NCAA titles, 147 NCAA Tournament wins and 31 College Cups are the most in women's soccer history.

A seven-time national coach of the year, Dorrance is a member of the National Soccer Hall of Fame and United Soccer Coaches Hall of Fame. He coached 19 players who won National Player-of-the-Year honors, including three-time recipients Cindy Parlow Cone and Mia Hamm. He has also produced 29 first-round draft picks.

Dorrance led the Tar Heels to five perfect seasons (unbeaten and untied) and six other seasons with no losses and three or fewer ties. UNC set the NCAA record winning 92 consecutive matches from 1990-94. From 1986-1990, the Tar Heels played 103 consecutive games without a loss (97-0-6); following an overtime loss, the program then played 101 consecutive games from 1990-94 without suffering another defeat (99-0-2).

One of Dorrance's favorite achievements is playing more than 600 consecutive games over a 25-year period (1986-2010) when UNC either won, tied or lost by only one goal.

Dorrance was the head coach of the USWNT from 1986-94, leading Team USA to the title in the first-ever Women's World Cup in China in 1991. Fifty-nine Tar Heels have played for the USWNT. At least two Tar Heels have been on the U.S. Olympic Team each of the five times it has won gold. Fourteen Tar Heels have won a combined 21 Olympic gold medals.
