A Program of Remarkable Consistency

The University of North Carolina women's soccer program is one of the most successful sport programs in the history of college athletics. In its first 40 years, Carolina has won 22 national championships and played in 31 of 40 College Cups (final four teams in national tournament) sanctioned by the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) in 1980-81 and National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) from 1982-2018.

Under head coach Anson Dorrance, who assumed the coaching reins when the program was elevated to status in 1979, the Tar Heels have staked a claim as one of the greatest dynasties in intercollegiate athletics history. In fact it was judged the greatest dynasty in the history of college athletics in the opinion of Sports Illustrated On Campus magazine, which featured the Tar Heels on its cover in 2003 during the team's 27-0 season and NCAA championship run.

In 2014, Beckett Entertainment's Sports Dynasties tabbed the Tar Heel women's soccer program as the sixth greatest dynasty of the past 100 plus years in a magazine featuring the Top 30 sports dynasties of the era covering 115 years from 1900-2015 and including both collegiate and professional franchises.

Heading into the 2023 season, the Tar Heels have posted an 921-86-46 overall record in the history of the sport.

Carolina won its first official national championship, the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) title in 1981, and has since won a total of 21 of the 40 NCAA championships with titles coming in 1982, 1983, 1984, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1996, 1997, 1999, 2000, 2003, 2006, 2008, 2009 and 2012.

The Tar Heels advanced to the championship game an additional five times, finishing as runner-up in 1985, 1998, 2001, 2018, and 2019.

In 17 of the last 19 occasions when UNC has failed to advance in NCAA play, the games have either been decided by one goal, gone to overtime or resulted in a tie where the advancing team earned its way to the next round in a penalty kick shootout.

Carolina's women's soccer program has won 21 NCAA titles. When UNC won the 2009 NCAA title over Stanford, Carolina women's soccer became the first women's sports program to claim 20 NCAA crowns and head coach Anson Dorrance became the first coach in NCAA history to earn 20 titles coaching a single sport – men or women.

Currently UNC has 21 NCAA titles in women's soccer and the second most NCAA women's titles won in a single sport are the 20 captured by the Stanford women's tennis program.

The Tar Heels' 22 total national championships are more than any other sports program has won, men's or women's, in Atlantic Coast Conference history. In addition, UNC women's soccer teams have won 22 of the 32 official ACC championships decided since league play started in 1987.

An Amazing Array of Talent

Over the past 40 years UNC players have regularly earned the distinction of being named All-America as either first-, second-, third-team or honorable mention choices and most of those players have won All-America honors in multiple seasons during their Carolina careers.

In 44 campaigns, Carolina has had 78 selections to either the NSCAA (now United Soccer Coaches) coaches or Soccer America first-team All-America squads.

Nineteen players — April Heinrichs, Shannon Higgins, Kristine Lilly, Mia Hamm, Tisha Venturini, Debbie Keller, Staci Wilson, Cindy Parlow, Robin Confer, Lorrie Fair, Meredith Florance, Catherine Reddick, Lindsay Tarpley, Heather O'Reilly, Yael Averbuch, Casey Nogueira, Whitney Engen, Amber Brooks and Crystal Dunn — have been named the National Player of the Year in at least one season, some winning those honors in multiple seasons.

Lori Henry, Shannon Higgins, Kristine Lilly, Mia Hamm, Tisha Venturini, Cindy Parlow, Lorrie Fair, Lindsay Tarpley, Heather O'Reilly, Yael Averbuch, Casey Nogueira, Whitney Engen, Crystal Dunn and Alessia Russo have been saluted as the Atlantic Coast Conference's overall Player of the Year, offensive Player of the Year or defensive Player of the Year.

Carolina has had a total of 191 selections to the first, second or third-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference squads since the league began sponsorship of the sport in 1987, outflanking any other league school in that regard by 66 selections. UNC has also boasted the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament in 22 of the 35 tournaments held since the first event in 1988.

The numbers associated with the program's success boggle the mind. Nine Tar Heels have been named ACC Freshman of the Year, most recently Maycee Bell in 2019, and eight have been named National Freshman Player of the Year.

Anson Dorrance has been named national coach of the year on seven occasions and ACC coach of the year 11 times.

There are still more numbers that illustrate the dominance of the program. Thirteen Carolina women's soccer players have won the Patterson Medal as Carolina's outstanding senior athlete, the most recent honoree being Crystal Dunn in 2014.

The recipient of the Mary Garber Award as the Female Athlete of the Year in the ACC has been a Tar Heel women's soccer player eight times, including Crystal Dunn in 2013. UNC has had 155 selections for All-Tournament honors at the AIAW or NCAA national College Cups since 1981.

The Tar Heels have boasted choices for the offensive, defensive or overall Most Valuable Player at the NCAA Tournament 34 times.

On 122 occasions, Tar Heels have been tapped as All-ACC Tournament selections since that honor squad was started in 1991.

Relationship With The U.S. National Team

Many Carolina players have continued their playing careers as members of the U.S. Women's National Team. Since the founding of the National Team program by the U.S. Soccer Federation in 1985, a total of 59 different Carolina players have earned caps with the full U.S. National Team.

The most recent Tar Heel to be capped for the first time was Emily Fox in 2016. Several other former Tar Heels have gone on to play for the full national teams of other countries, including those of Canada, Denmark, The Netherlands, Iceland, Norway, New Zealand and England. Dorrance was the chief architect behind the initial success of the U.S. Women's National Team, having coached that squad from its second year of existence in 1986 until he stepped down in 1994 to concentrate solely on his head coaching duties at Carolina.

Under Dorrance's brilliant coaching guidance, the U.S. won the first-ever Women's World Cup championship in China in November 1991. Half of

607 games between multi goal losses

Notre Dame's 4-1 victory over North Carolina on November 20, 2010 broke a 25-year streak during which the Tar Heels never suffered a defeat by more than one goal. Prior to that loss to the Fighting Irish, the last time Carolina lost a game by a margin of more than one goal was on November 24, 1985 when George Mason beat UNC 2-0 in the NCAA championship game. Carolina had played 607 games since that loss and 55,440 minutes and 41 seconds had ticked off stadium clocks since the Tar Heels last fell by more than a single goal.

In between the losses on November 24, 1985 and November 20, 2010, UNC had lost only 26 games in 25 years and none by more than one goal. Carolina has played 284 games since that loss to Notre Dame and has lost just 42 games, 36 by a one-goal margin, four by a two-goal spread and one by three goals. Of UNC's last 72 losses, 66 have come by one goal, four by two goals and two by three goals.

the 18-woman 1991 U.S. roster played collegiately for the Tar Heels. Seven players who competed collegiately in Chapel Hill were on the 1995 U.S. Team that captured third place at the World Cup.

During the summer of 1996 at the Centennial Olympic Games, the U.S. roster was again filled with Tar Heel connections as the Americans captured the gold medal. Both of that team's assistant coaches and seven of the 16 players were Tar Heels, giving the gold medal the U.S. won a pronounced Carolina Blue tint. In the summer of 1999, eight more UNC players competed for the U.S. team that recaptured the World Cup title by outscoring China 5-4 on penalty kicks in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. Six more Tar Heels played for the 2000 U.S. Olympic Team that won the silver medal in Sydney, Australia under the leadership of head coach April Heinrichs, an '87 Tar Heel alumna.

The 2003 U.S. World Cup roster featured six Tar Heel players as the Americans claimed the bronze medal at that event. Six Tar Heels were also named by Heinrichs to the U.S. Team that played in the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece. That team won the second gold medal for the U.S. in Olympic competition. The 2007 World Cup was played in China with five former Tar Heel players on the U.S. squad and one UNC player on the Canadian team. The Americans won the bronze medal in that event.

In 2008, four Tar Heels were on the U.S. Olympic Team and one was on the Canadian side with the Americans winning gold for the third time in four Olympic soccer tournaments.

The Americans captured the silver medal at the 2011 World Cup in Germany. Former Tar Heels Heather O'Reilly and Tobin Heath were members of the U.S. Team while 2007 alumna Robyn Gayle played for the Canadian side.

All three of those former Tar Heels — O'Reilly, Heath and Gayle — were members of their respective teams at the 2012 Olympic Games. The Americans won their fourth gold medal in five tries in that competition while Canada took the bronze medal.

The world was again captivated by the women's game in the summer of 2015 when the U.S. recaptured the FIFA World Cup crown that had eluded it for 16 years. Altogether, nine current and former Tar Heels played in the tournament in Canada. Meghan Klingenberg started for the U.S. in the defense and Tobin Heath started in the midfield. Four Carolina players were key reserves for the U.S. side — Lori Chalupny, Heather O'Reilly, Ashlyn Harris and Whitney Engen. Lucy Bronze starred for the England team, leading it to the bronze medal and joining Klingenberg on the tournament's Best XI team. Robyn Gayle was a member of Team Canada and Katie Bowen started for New Zealand.

The United States went on to win the World Cup title again in 2019, the Americans' fourth title in eight World Cups. Former Tar Heels Tobin Heath and Crystal Dunn started for the U.S. in the event while Tar Heels Allie Long, Jessica McDonald and Ashlyn Harris were also members of the American team. Lucy Bronze started for England in the event and won the silver ball as the tournament's second most outstanding player. Katie Bowen played for New Zealand at the 2019 World Cup and Sarina Wiegman, a member of 1989 NCAA championship team at UNC, was the head coach of the Dutch team which reached the tournament final against the United States.

In 2022, Wiegman led England to the European Championship led by Bronze and national team newcomers Alessia Russo and Lotte Wubben-Moy.

It All Started Way Back When

Having players compete in the World Cup and the Olympics was a passing fancy when the program first began playing on a level in 1979. The Tar Heels played their first game, a 12-0 win over the Duke University club soccer team on September 20, 1979. That first season saw Carolina compile a 10-2 overall record. University of Illinois head coach Janet Rayfield, still the Tar Heels' third all-time leading scorer with 223 points, recorded 30 goals that season.

In 1980, the Tar Heels won 21 of 26 games and were again led in scoring by Rayfield, who had 25 goals. Midfielder Nancy Clary became the first Tar Heel player in history to earn first-team All-America honors. The five losses marked the most Carolina has ever suffered in one season, matched only by four other teams since that time. No Tar Heel team in 40 seasons has ever lost more than five games.

The 1981 season was an exciting year for the women's college game as the first-ever national champion was crowned during a 12-team, four-day tournament in Chapel Hill. The Tar Heels provided their fans with many exciting moments during the course of the season, scoring a school record 172 goals. Led by 36-goal scorer Stephanie Zeh and getting 30 more tallies from Janet Rayfield, UNC averaged an astounding 7.48 goals per game.

Following a 19-0 regular season and a win over Virginia in the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) regional tournament final, the Tar Heels swept the AIAW National Tournament by winning three games by shutout. After receiving a first-round bye as the tournament's top seed, Carolina defeated Massachusetts 6-0, Connecticut 5-0 and UCF 1-0 to take the championship. In the title game, the Tar Heels outshot the Golden Knights 30-8, scoring on a Diane Beatty goal off a Kathy Kelly corner kick with 19:36 left in the first half.

The NCAA Dynasty Kicks Off

The NCAA became the sport's governing body in 1982 and the Tar Heels celebrated by winning their second national championship in a row. Carolina opened the season with 10 consecutive victories to run its winning streak to 33 games over two seasons, but then it dropped back-to-back decisions to Missouri-St. Louis and Cortland State.

Following that second loss, the Tar Heels won their final nine games, culminating in an NCAA title with a 2-0 win over UCF in Orlando. Amy Machin's 22 goals and 59 points led the team in scoring and she notched one of the two goals in the championship game victory. Betsy Johnson came off the bench to score off a rebound late in the first half for the winning goal.

The 1983 campaign brought the arrival of April

The 1992 Tar Heels were undefeated and untied and simply dominant. They beat Duke 9-1 in the NCAA championship match after spotting the Blue Devils a 1-0 lead.

Heinrichs to the Carolina campus. The first dominant women's soccer player in the American game, who would later coach the U.S. National Team from 2000-04, Heinrichs was the most successful player of the 1980s in collegiate soccer and one of the early stars of the U.S. National Team.

In her freshman season, Heinrichs led the Tar Heels to their third straight national title as she scored 18 goals and totaled 47 points. Amy Machin was again amongst the team's leaders in scoring with 19 goals. Only a 3-1 loss at Connecticut in the opening game of the season prevented UNC from having another perfect season. Carolina claimed its third title in a row as Heinrichs scored two goals in a convincing 4-0 win over George Mason in the NCAA championship match at Orlando.

In 1984, the Tar Heels were the No. 1-ranked team in the nation from season's start to its finish and they capped their fourth straight national title campaign with a 2-0 win over Connecticut at Fetzer Field in the NCAA title game.

The 1984 season marked the first of seven times UNC would play host to the NCAA College Cup at Amazing Carolina Soccer Fun Fact...

Only 10 seasons with over three losses

UNC has played 43 years of soccer from 1979 through 2023. Only 10 UNC teams have lost more than three matches in a season. In fact, only 15 teams have lost more than two games in a season. The 1980 team finished 21-5, the 2000 team was 21-3, the 2007 team was 19-4-1, the 2009 team was 23-3-1, the 2010 team was 19-3-2, the 2011 team was 13-5-2, the 2012 team was 15-5-3, the 2013 team was 20-5, the 2014 team was 14-4-2, the 2015 team was 15-5-1, the 2016 team was 17-4-4, the 2017 squad was 17-3-2, the 2018 team was 21-4-1 and the 2021 squad was 12-3-3 and the 2022 squad was 20-5-1. Despite the three losses in 2000 and again in 2009 and the five losses in 2012, Carolina went on to win the NCAA championship each of those three years.

Carolina's 1997 championship team was one of the stingiest in school history, allowing only eight goals in a 27-0-1 season. The Tar Heels beat UConn 2-0 for the title.

historic and now razed Fetzer Field. Heinrichs, the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America (ISAA) National Player of the Year, led the team with 23 goals and 13 assists and Joan Dunlap was second on the squad with 21 goals and 10 assists. Carolina went 24-0-1 and won its first 17 games to run its winning streak to a then NCAA-record 36 games.

George Mason ended the 36-game winning streak by playing the Heels to a 1-1 tie on October 20, 1984. When College Cup weekend rolled around, the Tar Heels were taken to overtime in the national semifinals by California, but an Amy Machin goal with 9:05 left in the second extra period propelled the Tar Heels into the NCAA final against Connecticut.

The championship game was played in front of 3,500 fans with Heinrichs and Dunlap scoring second-half goals to provide the Tar Heels with a 2-0 victory and a fourth straight national title.

All Good Things Must Come to an End

The NCAA championship trophy took a one-year hiatus from Chapel Hill in 1985 as the Tar Heels lost the national championship game to host George Mason 2-0. Led by a 50-point season from April Heinrichs and a team-leading 19 goals from Carrie Serwetnyk, the Tar Heels finished the season 18-2-1.

The 1985 campaign was one of just 12 seasons out of a total of 40 in which Carolina has failed to win 20 games in a season. In fact, since going 10-2 in that initial 1979 campaign, the Tar Heels have

23 years between season opening losses

Carolina lost its 1983 season opener at Connecticut 3-1. It would be 23 years before the Tar Heels would lose another season opener, falling 1-0 at Texas A&M in double overtime in 2006. In 41 years of play, the Tar Heels are 34-5-2 in season-opening games and 36-2-3 in home openers.

The only losses in a home opener for UNC came in 2007 against South Carolina and in 2014 against Stanford. In season-opening games, UNC has a winning percentage of .850. In home openers, Carolina has a winning percentage of .913. The Tar Heels' winning percentage in all games played since the beginning of the program in 1979 is .902.

won at least 17 games in 37 of the past 42 years.

After opening the 1985 season with a 3-3 draw against George Mason, Carolina ran off 12 straight wins and raised its collegiate record unbeaten streak to 57 games. Massachusetts eventually ended the streak with a 2-0 win over UNC in Amherst, Mass., on October 12, 1985.

Carolina went on to meet George Mason in Fairfax, Va., in the NCAA championship game. The Patriots scored a goal in each half and sent the Tar Heels home without the championship trophy for the first time. At that time no one suspected that Carolina would not lose another game for five years and a stretch of over 100 games.

In fact, the Tar Heels would never taste defeat again in the 1980s after that title game loss to GMU.

The 1986 campaign proved to be a season of redemption for the Tar Heels as seniors April Heinrichs and Marcia McDermott were determined to go out as winners. In 1986, Heinrichs was named National Player of the Year for a second time in her career, scoring a career-best 28 goals and totaling 69 points. McDermott set what was then the Carolina single-season record with 23 assists. The Tar Heels and George Mason met again, this time in the national semifinals, and Carolina came out on top 3-2 in overtime. Wendy Gebauer had two goals for Carolina and Heinrichs tallied the winner 5:50 into the first overtime period.

Gebauer and Tracey Bates scored goals in the title game the next day against Colorado College in a 2-0 win and the Tar Heels found themselves back in familiar territory — atop the victory stand after the NCAA championship game.

Shannon Higgins' Postseason Fireworks

The 1987 campaign was a year dominated by defense as a stifling Carolina unit allowed only two goals during the entire season and posted an NCAA record 22 shutouts, a mark equaled only once since—by the 1997 UNC team. The defensive unit leaders were ACC Player of the Year Lori Henry, sweeper Carla Werden and goalkeeper Anne Sherow. They anchored a defense which allowed only 52 shots and two goals in 24 games en route to posting a 23-0-1 record.

Only a tie with William & Mary marred the Tar Heels' perfect record. Midfielder Wendy Gebauer's 15 goals and 40 points led the Tar Heel offense in 1987, but it was a second-half goal by sophomore midfielder Shannon Higgins which proved to be the margin of victory in a 1-0 win over Massachusetts in the NCAA final. That game, along with the semifinal win over California, were played in near-Arctic weather conditions at Amherst, Mass., making it one of the most memorable NCAA College Cups ever.

In the championship game, the wind was so strong that it made attacking offensively going against the gusts a futile proposition. Fortunately for Carolina, the Tar Heels went against the wind in the first half of the championship game and they were able to play the Minutewomen to a standstill. UNC had the benefit of the wind in the second half and scored the game's only goal to capture another NCAA championship. Higgins' game-winning goal would be the first of three she would score in NCAA championship games in three successive seasons.

The 1988 season proved to be a challenging one for the Tar Heels as rival NC State threatened to steal the championship trophy and relocate it down recently opened I-40 to Raleigh. The teams battled to a pair of dramatic 1-1 ties, one in the regular season game at Raleigh and another in the ACC Tournament championship game on the Wolfpack's home field at Method Road Soccer Stadium, where NC State won the ACC title in a penalty kick shootout 4-3.

During the season, Carolina set an NCAA record for a collegiate soccer unbeaten streak. First, the Tar Heels topped their own women's record of 57 games without a loss and then it surged past the Penn State men's soccer team's 65-game record unbeaten streak for all of college soccer.

As the 1988 Soccer America National Player of the Year Shannon Higgins was an electrifying force on the squad, directing playmaking duties and setting up goals from her attacking center midfield position. In the national championship game versus NC State, Higgins scored three goals in a 4-1 Carolina victory. That match was played in front of 4,500 fans at Fetzer Field, the largest collegiate women's soccer crowd in history at the time.

In 1989, Higgins again was voted the top player in the nation and she led the Tar Heels to another unbeaten finish and national title. Higgins was named the National Player of the Year by Soccer America, won the Hermann Trophy and the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, was the ACC Player of the Year and became the first ever recipient of the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's Female Athlete of the Year. She led the team in scoring with 48 points and scored the game-winning goal in the NCAA championship game for the third consecutive year, opening the scoring against Colorado College in a 2-0 Tar Heel win.

Freshmen Mia Hamm and Kristine Lilly scored 21 and 20 goals, respectively, although at that time it was a mere glimpse of that duo's future greatness in the world of women's soccer. Seniors Shannon Higgins, Julie Guarnotta, Ava Hyatt and Carla Werden closed out their four-year careers with a staggering 89-0-6 record and a quartet of NCAA championship rings.

The Greatest Game in Women's Soccer Lore

In 1990, Carolina again won the national championship, but did so with a notch in the loss column for the first time since November 24, 1985. On September 22, 1990, Connecticut ended the Tar Heels' national record unbeaten streak at 103 games by defeating the Tar Heels 3-2 in overtime at Storrs, Conn.

Ironically, the Tar Heels would go on to avenge that defeat by routing the Huskies 6-0 in the NCAA championship game at Fetzer Field later in the season.

Following the loss at Connecticut, the Tar Heels fell out of the No. 1 spot in the ISAA poll for the first time since the second week of the 1986 season. Carolina regained the top spot by knocking off No.1 Virginia, 3-0, late in the regular season and

Amazing Carolina Soccer Fun Fact...

29 20-win seasons

Carolina has won 20 or more games in 29 of 44 seasons. That is a truly staggering figure given the fact most teams must make deep runs into the NCAA Tournament to play even 25 games in a season. Nevertheless, four of the UNC teams that did not win 20 games still won NCAA titles. They were the 1982, 1983, 1988 and 2012 teams.

then beat the Cavaliers again 2-0 in the ACC Tournament title game at Charlottesville, Va.

The 1990 national quarterfinals matched the Tar Heels against old nemesis NC State in what would be one of the most dramatic games ever played in the sport's history. The Wolfpack held one-goal leads late in regulation time and again in the first overtime period, but both times the Tar Heels came back to tie the game on goals by Kristine Lilly.

Finally, with just over two minutes remaining in the second overtime, Hamm sent a corner kick from the right side that Rita Tower headed in for the game-winning goal.

After that dramatic game, which Soccer America dubbed the "Greatest Game in Women's Soccer History," the NCAA College Cup was played in Chapel Hill. Tower and Lilly each scored in the 2-1 semifinal win over Colorado College and six different Tar Heels scored in the championship game shutout of Connecticut.

In 1991, the Tar Heels had to defend their national title minus a host of spectacular players as well as its head coach.

The top four leading scorers from the year before were not available to the team for much of the season. Lilly played the first 19 games of the season but departed prior to the start of the ACC and NCAA Tournaments to play in the 1991 World Cup in China. Hamm, also on the World Cup Team, sat out the year as a redshirt. Tower and Jill Jakowich were both rehabilitating knee injuries.

Led by freshman midfield sensation Tisha Venturini and senior forward Pam Kalinoski, who herself had battled back from a serious knee injury, UNC won 24 consecutive games to win the title, including the last 10 games with assistant coach Bill Palladino at the controls after Dorrance had left to coach the U.S. in the World Cup in China. Lilly was the consensus National Player of the Year as well as the ACC Player of the Year. Venturini was the National Freshman of the Year and the ACC Tournament MVP. Venturini and Kalinoski shared MVP honors in the NCAA College Cup. Kalinoski set a national record for assists in a season with 28 and Venturini led the nation in scoring with 21 goals and 58 points.

1992! Perhaps The Greatest Team Ever

The 1992 Tar Heels were what many observers called the best team in the history of collegiate women's soccer. It would be extremely difficult to argue to the contrary with the only possible competitor being Carolina's undefeated 2003 team which went 27-0 and did not allow a goal in the NCAA Tournament in six games. Carolina rolled to a 25-0 record, a seventh consecutive NCAA title and an NCAA record for consecutive wins with 58

The 2003 senior class ended its time in Chapel Hill by going 27-0 and winning the NCAA crown. UNC outscored the opposition 32-0 in six NCAA games.

in a row by season's end.

The Tar Heels outscored their opposition 132-11 and trailed on just two occasions, once in a regular season victory at NC State and again in the NCAA final versus Duke.

Both opponents' leads were short-lived.

In the NCAA championship game against Duke, the Tar Heels rattled off nine successive goals after the Blue Devils drew first blood. Hamm led the nation with a school record 97 points on 32 goals and 33 assists, the latter mark also being a University standard.

She was the unanimous choice as National Player of the Year and she was the ACC Player of the Year as well as the Most Valuable Player of both the ACC and NCAA Tournaments.

Lilly and Venturini added 65 and 46 points, respectively, and joined Hamm as first-team All-Americans. The Tar Heels won the NCAA championship during an almost surreal 9-1 victory over Duke at rain-soaked Fetzer Field as Hamm became only the second player to post a hat trick in an NCAA final game.

But the most remarkable feat of the season may have been a mid-season West Coast road trip in which Carolina won four games in four days by a combined margin of 22-2. Included were wins over three nationally-ranked opponents. The Tar Heels vanquished UC-Santa Barbara 5-1, Portland 6-1, Saint Mary's 6-0 and Stanford 5-0 in that four-day span.

Saying Goodbye to a Legend

In 1993, Hamm was again a unanimous selection as the National Player of the Year as she led the country in scoring with 68 points on 26 goals and 16 assists. She helped lead the Tar Heels to a 23-0 record as Carolina outscored the opposition, 92-15. Carolina hosted the NCAA College Cup at Fetzer Field for the fourth successive year and emerged with another national championship. Hamm finished her career with 103 goals, 72 assists and 278 points, each a school record. She also set NCAA Tournament scoring records for both career and single tournament points, goals and assists.

In 1994, she was named the recipient of the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's Top Female Athlete for the second consecutive year. Tisha Venturini missed several weeks at midseason with a broken bone in her foot but returned in time to reap Most Valuable Player honors at the ACC Tournament. The Tar Heels claimed their fifth straight league crown by virtue of a 4-1 win over Duke. Venturini was named first-team All-America for the third time.

Before an NCAA record crowd of 5,721, UNC dismantled George Mason 6-0 in the NCAA final after the Tar Heels had whipped Massachusetts 4-1 in the semifinals.

The 1994 season was another triumphant campaign as the Tar Heels went 25-1-1 and won the NCAA championship for a ninth straight year. Venturini was the season's most impressive performer.

She was unanimously selected the National Player of the Year and received first-team All-America honors for the fourth time in her career. Venturini, who led the Tar Heels with 21 goals and 13 assists for 55 points, was the ACC Player of the Year, MVP of the ACC Tournament and Most Outstanding Offensive Player of the NCAA Tournament. It was the third time in her career in which she was named the ACC Tournament MVP and the second time she earned MVP honors in the NCAA Tournament. Freshman Staci Wilson earned first-team All-America honors, was the National Freshman of the Year and the Most Outstanding Defensive Player in the NCAA Tournament.

The Tar Heels had two incredible streaks of excellence snapped in the regular season. An NCAA record winning streak reached 92 contests before Carolina and Notre Dame battled to a 0-0 tie in St. Louis on October 2, 1994.

On October 19, 1994, Duke handed the Tar Heels a 3-2 defeat at Fetzer Field. That loss snapped a 101-game unbeaten streak for the Tar Heels dating back to September 22, 1990. The setback was also Carolina's first home loss since October 25, 1980, a streak of 137 games.

The Tar Heels and Blue Devils met twice more during the 1994 campaign and Carolina came away with a 4-2 win in the ACC Tournament championship game and a 3-1 win in the NCAA Tournament quarterfinals.

Venturini had three goals in the ACC final, the first hat trick in the history of the Tournament. Angela Kelly netted a pair of goals against Duke in the NCAA quarterfinals.

The College Cup was held in Portland, Ore., where Venturini stole the show in the final two games of her college career. She capped her brilliant four years at Carolina by leading the Tar Heels to a 3-0 win over Connecticut in the semifinals and a 5-0 triumph over top-seeded Notre Dame in the final. Venturini scored twice in the championship game.

The 1995 season saw the Tar Heels' national championship streak end at nine seasons in a row. The previous year's senior class of 10 players was one of the most dominant in the history of the game. Carolina entered the 1995 campaign an inexperienced team with only three seniors and with a host of new starters on the field. Dorrance quickly molded the young players into a cohesive unit and the Tar Heels reeled off 25 successive wins while playing the nation's toughest schedule.

Carolina won its eighth ACC title in nine years by sweeping through the tournament field and outscoring its opponents 16-0 in the three games.

After receiving a by in the first round of the NCAA Championships as the tournament's top seed, UNC dispatched Vanderbilt 4-0 in the second round and then disposed of No. 7 Santa Clara, 2-0, in the quarterfinals at Fetzer Field. UNC Then fell victim to its own error in the semifinals and was beaten in the semifinals on an own goal by Cindy Parlow in a 1-0 loss to fourth-ranked Notre Dame.

What was then a women's soccer record crowd of 7,212 watched that Tar Heel loss, only the sixth loss at home in school history. Standout performances abounded during the 1995 campaign. Four Tar Heels earned first-team All-America honors—forward Debbie Keller, forward Cindy Parlow, defender Staci Wilson and goalkeeper Tracy Noonan. Keller and Wilson were named co-National Players of the Year by Soccer Digest.

Mining Olympic Gold

During the summer of 1996, Carolina's soccer fame grew as the Olympic Games held their first ever medal competition in women's soccer. The U.S. won the gold medal, beating China 2-1 in the final match with the help of a cast that had a pronounced Carolina Blue hue.

Both assistant coaches for the team, Lauren Gregg and April Heinrichs, were Carolina graduates. Seven of the 16 players on the roster were either Carolina alumnae or Tar Heel players returning for the 1996 season. This cadre included Mia Hamm, Tisha Venturini, Carla Overbeck, Kristine Lilly, Cindy Parlow, Staci Wilson and Tiffany Roberts.

Led by the play of co-National Players of the Year Debbie Keller and Cindy Parlow, UNC returned to the pinnacle of the collegiate women's soccer world during the 1996 campaign. After a sluggish start that saw the Tar Heels struggle through their first eight matches yet escape unscathed, Carolina fell to Notre Dame in the season's ninth game, 2-1 in overtime.

The Fighting Irish thus became the first collegiate team in history to beat Carolina two times in a row. Shortly thereafter, Dorrance reconfigured his defensive scheme to a flat back three alignment (1-3-4-3) and Carolina has stuck with that defensive alignment ever since while also employing a 4-2-3-1 or 4-3-3 formations as alternate plans. Carolina rolled to victory over the final 17 games of the campaign to finish with a 25-1 record.

UNC had spirited opposition in the ACC Tournament as Carolina claimed its eighth league crown in a row with wins over Florida State 7-1, Virginia 5-2 and Clemson 4-1. Junior forward Robin Confer was named the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament.

The Tar Heels were the No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament despite the fact that Notre Dame had beaten Carolina during the regular season and both teams had only one loss heading into post-season play.

Carolina shut out its first three opponents in the NCAA Tournament and then received a stiff challenge from College Cup host Santa Clara in the semifinals.

Earlier in the season, the Tar Heels had escaped against the Broncos on a goal in the last minute of play by Debbie Keller. In the rematch, goals late in the second half by Cindy Parlow and Laurie Schwoy gave the Tar Heels a 2-1 victory. Two days later, Carolina avenged its last two defeats to Notre Dame by beating the second-seeded Fighting Irish 1-0 in overtime in the NCAA title match. Senior forward Debbie Keller ended her career on a splendid note by scoring the game-winning goal in the 111th minute of the match.

A Dominant 1997 Season

Carolina was again the best team in the country in 1997, led by co-national players of the year — forwards Cindy Parlow and Robin Confer. The Tar Heels ended the season at 27-0-1 with only a regular-season, lightning-shortened draw against Notre Dame as a blemish on the perfect mark. UNC allowed a paltry eight goals in 28 games and tied the NCAA record for shutouts in a season with 22, a mark that had originally been established by the 1987 NCAA championship team.

Carolina's toughest matches of the year came in the final three rounds of the NCAA Tournament as the Tar Heels outlasted Harvard 1-0 in the quarterfinals, came from behind to defeat Santa Clara 2-1 in the semifinals as Lorrie Fair and Robin Confer scored second-half goals and then blanked UConn 2-0 in the title game on goals by Cindy Parlow and Robin Confer.

The 1998 team was an outstanding one although it failed to win the national championship. Led by seniors Cindy Parlow, Siri Mullinix and Tiffany Roberts, the Tar Heels won the first 24 games of the season heading into the NCAA College Cup at Greensboro, N.C. Carolina defeated Portland 1-0 in the semifinals on Meredith Florance's goal in the 150th minute of play, just 22 seconds before the match was going into penalty kicks to decide which team would advance to the finals. In the championship game, Florida scored in the first 10 minutes of play and Carolina was never able to produce an equalizer, despite outshooting the Gators 21-6.

Reclaiming the Crown

The 1999 campaign started in unsettling fashion as Carolina lost two games in September and stood 6-2 just eight games into the season. It was the first time Carolina had lost two games in the same season since 1985.

But a strong senior class, led by National Player of the Year Lorrie Fair and which also included Rebekah McDowell, Lindsay Stoecker and Beth Sheppard, rallied the troops. Over the final 13 games of the season, Carolina allowed only one goal. The signature Tar Heel defense, keyed by Fair and Stoecker, and featuring first-team All-America Danielle Borgman and freshman goalkeeper Jenni Branam refused to let Carolina lose down the season's stretch run. Carolina won its 11th straight ACC championship and it capped the season with brilliant play in the NCAA College Cup, beating Penn State 2-0 in the semifinals to avenge a 3-2 regular-season loss to the Nittany Lions and Notre Dame 2-0 in the championship game. Junior Meredith Florance and senior midfielder Beth Sheppard scored the goals in the championship game for Carolina.

In 2000, the Tar Heels won their 12th successive ACC championship and its 17th national championship. UNC's three losses marked only the second time in history Carolina had lost more than two times in a single year, the other previous instance being 1980. All three losses came on the road against ACC teams and in each of the one-goal losses, the Tar Heels surrendered a goal on a penalty kick.

Prior to 2000, the Tar Heels had lost only one ACC game in their history. UNC rebounded to sweep three opponents easily in the ACC Tournament, avenging its regular-season loss to Florida State in the semifinals 3-0 and winning against Duke 4-0 in the finals on the Blue Devils' home field. Seeded fifth entering the NCAA Tournament, its lowest seed ever, UNC beat Wake Forest 5-0 in the second round, avenging another of its regular season losses.

In three of the last four games of the NCAA Tournament, the Tar Heels had to rally from 1-0 deficits with less than 25 minutes to play in regulation. Carolina beat Virginia 2-1 in the NCAA Tournament third round on late goals by Laurie Schwoy and Meredith Florance and then rolled past Connecticut 3-0 in the quarterfinals behind a pair of goals by National Player of the Year Meredith Florance. The Tar Heels rallied to beat top-seeded Notre Dame 2-1 in the NCAA semifinals on second-half goals by Kim Patrick and Jordan Walker and then overcame UCLA 2-1 in the national championship game.

Freshmen scored the winning goals in the final two games of the season, both in the final 10 minutes of regulation time. Jordan Walker scored to beat Notre Dame in the semifinals and Catherine Reddick had the game-winner in the title game after Florance had tied the match with less than 15 minutes to play.

2003 Team Excels With Aplomb

Despite brilliant regular seasons and a pair of

ACC championships, UNC went without NCAA titles in both 2001 and 2002, losing both times to Santa Clara. The Broncos beat the Heels in the championship game in 2001 and in the semifinals in 2002 by 1-0 and 2-1 scores, respectively.

The Tar Heels returned to the throne of college soccer in 2003 with one of the best teams, if not the best team, in the history of the game. For the first time since 1993, when the Tar Heels also accomplished the feat, a collegiate women's soccer team completed a season with an undefeated and untied record as the Tar Heels matched the NCAA record for wins in a season by finishing 27-0.

In three of the first six matches of the campaign, UNC had to go to overtime to win road games against Washington, Texas and Texas A&M. Lori Chalupny scored the game winner at UW and Maggie Tomecka and Libby Guess had game-winners in the Lone Star State matchups.

UNC was led by an impressive offensive array of talent which was spearheaded by co-National Player of the Year Lindsay Tarpley, who led the nation in total points with 73 and in assists with 27.

Tarpley became the first player since Mia Hamm in 1993 to be named ACC Player of the Year and ACC Tournament MVP while also leading the ACC in scoring. Tarpley's 19 points in the NCAA Tournament were a record, highlighted by 11 assists, a record in NCAA play in a single tournament.

Senior forward Alyssa Ramsey finished with 10 goals and 25 assists, the second-highest total of assists in the nation, and consensus National Freshman of the Year Heather O'Reilly shook off the effects of a broken leg suffered in June by scoring 13 goals in the final 12 games of the season, including eight tallies in UNC's six NCAA Tournament contests, the most goals ever scored by a Tar Heel in a single NCAA Tournament. O'Reilly won NCAA Tournament offensive MVP honors and Catherine Reddick won the defensive award.

Three Tar Heels earned All-America honors on defense including Honda Sports Award for Soccer and Hermann Trophy winner Catherine Reddick, a consensus first-team All-America choice. Senior Carmen Watley also copped All-America honors as did sophomore goalkeeper Aly Winget who finished second in the nation in goals against average and posted 16 solo shutouts, an ACC season record.

UNC outscored its opponents 113-11 on the season and was at its best in NCAA play when it scored 32 goals while not allowing a single tally in six games, a tournament record for defensive prowess.

Carolina's opposition in the tournament was not easy as the Tar Heels had to beat four conference champions en route to the title while beating No. 3 Santa Clara in the quarterfinals and No. 2 UCLA in the semifinals by identical 3-0 scores.

The 2004 and 2005 seasons produced another two ACC regular season titles for Carolina as well as an ACC Tournament title in the latter year. UNC's 10-member senior class in 2005, led by 2003 National Player of the Year Lindsay Tarpley and three-time consensus first-team All-America midfielder Lori Chalupny, finished its career with only four losses.

The class also included All-America midfielder Kacey White and All-America defender Kendall Fletcher and goalkeeper Aly Winget, who set an ACC record with 35 career solo shutouts.

The senior class of 2012 celebrated the return of the NCAA championship trophy to Chapel Hill after a three-year absence.

The 2006 Freshmen Begin Another Run

Carolina returned to the top rung of college soccer in 2006 with a team that started seven freshmen in the second half of the NCAA championship game against Notre Dame. UNC lost its season opener at Texas A&M 1-0 in double overtime, its first loss in a lifter since 1983.

A week later, standing at 2-1 on the season, the Heels trailed UConn 2-0 at halftime before rallying for a 3-2 win with three second-half goals. That second 45 minutes of soccer turned the Tar Heels' season around and sent them on their way to a 10-0 ACC mark and a thrilling overtime win over Florida State 2-1 in the ACC championship game on a goal by senior Libby Guess.

Altogether, the freshman-laden squad ran off wins in its final 27 matches of the campaign. In the NCAA Tournament, the Tar Heels rallied to beat Texas A&M in the quarterfinals on three second-half goals, scored two goals in the final seven minutes to beat UCLA in the semifinals 2-0 and beat No. 1 Notre Dame 2-1 in the championship contest.

Both Yael Averbuch and Heather O'Reilly earned national player of the year awards and O'Reilly was the offensive MVP of the College Cup for the second time.

After a 19-4-1 season in 2007, Carolina returned to the top of the college soccer ranks in 2008 as it won its 20th national championship. Consensus National Player of the Year Casey Nogueira led the nation with 25 goals and her two goals in the second half of the NCAA title game rallied the Tar Heels past No. 1-ranked Notre Dame 2-1.

Carolina, which finished the year 25-1-2, had to beat undefeated teams in both the NCAA semifinals and finals as UCLA and Notre Dame both headed into the College Cup without having lost in 2008. Carolina also won the ACC Tournament without allowing a goal in three games. UNC needed a goal in double overtime by Ali Hawkins to rally past Texas A&M 2-1 in the NCAA quarterfinals at Fetzer Field and then a week later it beat UCLA 1-0 in the semifinals on a penalty kick goal by Yael Averbuch.

Notre Dame scored in the opening seconds of the national championship match but Nogueira tied the score on a free kick early in the second half and then won the game with a spectacular, world-class goal from a near impossible angle with just over two minutes left on the clock.

UNC's NCAA title run in 2009 was fueled first and foremost by its steadfast defense. UNC posted 19 shutouts in 27 games and allowed only 12 goals all season. A preseason No. 1 team with 11 players returning with starting experience, Carolina beat eventual NCAA semifinalist UCLA 7-2 in the season opener. In the fourth game of the season, the Tar Heels defeated Notre Dame 6-0 in the debut of the Fighting Irish's new soccer stadium.

By midseason, the Tar Heels were not clicking on all cylinders, however. Nogueira was struggling with her scoring touch while Tobin Heath and Ashlyn Harris missed time with the U.S. National Team. A season-ending injury to Nikki Washington was a huge setback and Ali Hawkins and Courtney Jones also missed significant time with injuries.

Carolina lost three times in the regular season in ACC road games to Virginia Tech, Florida State and Miami but rebounded to win the ACC Tournament crown with a 3-0 win over Florida State in the final as Nogueira scored twice and was named tourney MVP.

In the end, the defense of National Player of the Year Whitney Engen, Kristi Eveland and Rachel Givan and goalkeeper Ashlyn Harris carried the Tar Heels to shutouts in 10 of the last 11 games of the season.

In the College Cup, UNC held Notre Dame and undefeated and untied Stanford to no goals in 180 minutes of play. Nogueira had the game-winner against the Fighting Irish in the semifinals off an assist by freshman Lucy Bronze in the game's waning minutes and then Jessica McDonald scored less than three minutes into the championship game to provide the scoring in the two 1-0 triumphs.

A Most Unlikely Title in 2012

Carolina won its 22nd national championship in 2012. Due to injuries to key players and U.S. National Team commitments by four starting players, the Tar Heels never found their chemistry in the regular season and finished 10-5-2 heading into NCAA play.

Fortunately UNC had played the nation's toughest schedule and earned a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament even after losing in the ACC Tournament quarterfinals to Virginia 1-0 in a game in which the Tar Heels did not have a shot on goal.

With 13 days off between the ACC Tournament loss and the start of the NCAA Tournament, UNC regrouped and eased past Radford and Illinois before facing No. 3 seed Baylor in the third round. The Bears led for most of the game before Crystal

Dunn tied the contest with less than nine minutes remaining. The game would go to penalty kicks where UNC prevailed 4-2, only its second win ever in a penalty kick shootout. UNC would then meet No. 1 seeds BYU, Stanford and Penn State in the next three rounds.

The Tar Heels won in Provo 2-1 in double overtime on a pair of goals by Crystal Dunn and a remarkable defensive save by Brooke Elby which denied what seemed a sure Cougar goal on a breakaway in the first overtime period.

In the College Cup in San Diego, UNC denied top-ranked Stanford a second straight title as Carolina won 1-0 in double overtime on a goal by Kealia Ohai, assisted by Crystal Dunn and Katie Bowen.

Two days later in the championship game, UNC dominated the second half against Big Ten champion Penn State, outscoring the Nittany Lions 3-0 after intermission in a 4-1 win. Ohai put the Tar Heels up less than two minutes into the game before Hanna Gardner and Satara Murray tallied off corner kicks and senior Ranee Premji added an insurance goal in the second half. Gardner's game-winning tally came less than a minute into the second half of play.

Both Crystal Dunn and senior midfielder Amber Brooks won national player of the year honors with Dunn becoming the first UNC recipient of the Hermann Trophy since Catherine Reddick in 2003. Dunn also won the Garber Award as ACC Female Athlete of the Year.

Ohai and Satara Murray were the NCAA Tournament MVPs on offense and defense and three Tar Heels played on the gold medal winning U20 World Cup Team (Dunn, Ohai and Bryane Heaberlin) while Heath and O'Reilly mined Olympic gold for the USA in 2012 in London.

After losing in the NCAA quarterfinals with a magnificent team in 2013, UNC exited early in the from post-season play the following two years.

The 2016 season proved special as Dorrance's team made an improbable run to the College Cup after a pronounced midseason slump. Senior Lindsey Harris set a school record for saves in a season with 89 and freshman forward Madison Schultz scored five game-winning goals in the last nine games of the season. UNC reached the ACC championship match and the NCAA semifinals.

In 2017, the Tar Heels returned to the top perch in the ACC Tournament for the first time since 2009, beating Duke in the championship game 1-0 on a Zoe Redei goal.

Carolina returned to the NCAA College Cup for the 28th time in history. The Tar Heels finished 21-4-2 and went undefeated in the ACC regular season for the first time since 2006. UNC also won the ACC regular season championship for the first time since 2010.

Carolina reached both the ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament championship games.

UNC and UCLA played to a 2-2 tie in the NCAA quarterfinals before the Tar Heels prevailed 4-2 in a penalty kick shootout. The NCAA semifinal match against unbeaten Georgetown lasted until the 108th minute before defender Julia Ashley's goal ended it dramatically 1-0 in Carolina's favor.

The Tar Heels returned to the national championship game in 2019, but was denied its 23rd title by Stanford. Carolina played the Cardinal through 210 scoreless minutes before Stanford prevailed 5-4 on penalty kicks.

Along their journey to the national championship game, UNC collected its 22nd ACC championship when tournament Most Valuable Player Alessia Russo scored the game-winning goal 1:48 into the second overtime period to lift No. 3 UNC to a 2-1 victory over top-ranked Virginia.

Shortened due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the 2020 campaign spanned two semesters with the Tar Heels reaching their second straight College Cup only to fall to a west coast opponent, Santa Clara, for the second straight year.

Carolina went unbeaten during ACC play during the fall semester before losing to No. 1 Florida State in the ACC Tournament championship game, 3-2.

The Tar Heels posted a 4-0 record during the spring semester before opening the NCAA Tournament against three consecutive shutouts Denver, Washington and Texas A&M before losing in the semifinals to the Broncos.

The 2021 season was highlighted by the program's 900th victory in UNC's regular season home finale against Notre Dame. Sophomore Avery Patterson scored the golden goal in overtime to give Dorrance another milestone victory.

A year later the Tar Heels returned to the College Cup for the 31st time and fell to UCLA 3-2 in double overtime.

The 12-Year Drought Ends in 2024

Carolina's 23rd national title was perhaps the most improbable of them all.

Following the 2023 season and a heartbreaking loss to BYU in the NCAA Quarterfinals, several players left the program due to graduation, turning pro and the transfer portal. During spring practice in 2024, the team had anywhere from 6-12 available players on any given day. As the 2024 season was fast approaching, the Tar Heels returned just one starter. The team added new freshmen and a few transfers. With so many new faces, the team joked that they had to wear name tags on the first day of preseason.

Then, legendary coach Anson Dorrance announced his retirement on Aug. 11, 2024 – just four days before the start of the season. Dorrance, the only head coach UNC Women's Soccer had known, led the Tar Heels to 22 national championships in 45 years. He had been a head coach at Carolina for 47 years, having also served at the helm of the men's soccer team. Damon Nahas, who had been on staff for nine years and most recently as associate head coach, was named interim head coach, effective immediately.

Despite all the changes and uncertainty, UNC won its first six games of the season before suffering its first loss to rival Duke. The team then compiled an 8-1 record before dropping their last two matches of the regular season, including another one to the Blue Devils.

The Tar Heels secured the No. 4 seed in the 2024 ACC Tournament. They beat Virginia Tech in the quarterfinals to set up another date with the Blue Devils in the semifinals in Cary. UNC got the best of Duke this time around with a 2-1 win after Trinity Armstrong's game-winning goal. That marked UNC's 950th win in program history. It was also UNC's first win over a No. 1-ranked opponent since Nov. 10, 2019, and they snapped Duke's 15-game unbeaten streak. Carolina faced Florida State in the championship game, ultimately falling, 2-1. Trinity Armstrong, Maddie Dahlien, Kate Faasse and Linda Ullmark were named to the ACC All-Tournament Team.

Despite being No. 1 or No. 2 in the RPI for seven weeks, Carolina was a No. 2 seed in the 2024 NCAA Tournament. Carolina is the only team to have played in all 43 NCAA Tournaments. UNC drew USC Upstate in the first round, beating them 8-0 to match the program record for largest margin of victory in an opening NCAA game. The Tar Heels topped Santa Clara, 1-0, in the second round after Tessa Dellarose's late-game heroics. A 3-0 win over Minnesota came in the third round before a 2-1 overtime win over Penn State in the quarterfinals thanks to Kate Faasse's overtime game-winning goal in the 98th minute. The Tar Heels punched their ticket to their 32nd College Cup, and fifth in the last seven years. No other program has more than 14 College Cup appearances.

For the unprecedented fourth time, it was a Tobacco Road rivalry between North Carolina and Duke in the College Cup semifinals. The second-seeded Tar Heels got their second post-season win over the top-seeded Blue Devils with a dominant 3-0 win behind goals from Kate Faasse, Olivia Thomas and Maddie Dahlien. For the 28th time in program history – and fourth time in the last seven NCAA Division I Women's Soccer Tournaments – North Carolina would be playing in the national championship match.

UNC faced another in-state foe in the national championship game in fellow No. 2 seed Wake Forest. On Monday, Dec. 9, 2024, in front of a sold-out crowd at WakeMed Soccer Park in Cary, the queens of college soccer reclaimed their crown after a 1-0 win over the Demon Deacons. North Carolina won the 2024 NCAA Division I women's soccer championship, the program's 23rd national title and first since 2012. UNC has now won 22 of the 43 NCAA titles in history, plus the 1981 AIAW title for 23 total national championships. No other women's soccer team owns more than four.

Olivia Thomas scored what proved to be the game-winning goal in the 62nd minute of a stunning free kick. Thomas was named the Most Outstanding Offensive Player and goalkeeper Clare Gagne was tabbed the Most Outstanding Defensive Player. In addition to Gagne and Thomas, freshmen Trinity Armstrong and Linda Ullmark were selected to the NCAA All-Tournament Team.

Thomas was UNC's first Most Outstanding Offensive Player since Kealia Ohai in 2012, and the 18th player in program history to receive the honor. Gagne was the first UNC goalkeeper to win Most Outstanding Defensive Player since Siri Mullinix in 1997, and they are the only two Carolina netminders ever to win the accolade. Gagne becomes the 15th Tar Heel to win the defensive praise. She conceded just one goal during the NCAA Tournament.

Damon Nahas became the second coach in NCAA women's soccer history to win a national championship in their first year as a head coach, joining UCLA's Marguerite Aozasa from 2022. He was also the fourth Carolina head coach to win a national championship in their first season at the helm. Erin Matson (field hockey, 2023), Carlos Somoano (men's soccer, 2011) and Dave Klarmann (men's lacrosse, 1991) have also achieved the feat. UNC Director of Athletics Bubba Cunningham informed Nahas that he would be the next head coach a few hours prior to the national championship game, and Nahas was able to tell the team during the post-game celebration.

Throughout the 2024 season, the Tar Heels were led by junior Kate Faasse, who led the nation with 20 goals and eight game-winning goals while ranking second with 44 points. Faasse had the most goals (20) and points (44) by a Tar Heel since Casey Nogueira in 2008. She was also the fourth player this century to win a national championship while leading the country in goals, joining Catarina Macario (2019), Casey Nogueira (2008) and Christine Sinclair (2002, 2005). Faasse was named the MAC Hermann Trophy winner and the Honda Award winner. She was also a United Soccer Coaches First Team All-American, All-Atlantic Region First Team and All-ACC First Team honoree.

APRIL HEINRICHS 1984 & 1986 National Player of the Year

April Heinrichs was the first of the truly great players in Carolina's storied women's soccer history. She was also the first true superstar in women's soccer worldwide and proved that by being the captain of the first team to ever win a World Cup championship in 1991.

Heinrichs was named a first-team All-America forward in 1984, 1985 and 1986 by the Intercollegiate Soccer Association, the sport's chief governing body at the time. She was also a third-team All-America in 1983 as a freshman. The Intercollegiate Soccer Association named her National Player of the Year in both 1984 and 1986 as Carolina won NCAA titles in both of those years.

Heinrichs particularly excelled in postseason play while she wore the Carolina Blue & White. She was named to the All-Tournament Team at the 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986 NCAA Tournaments as Carolina won NCAA crowns in three of those four seasons. In 1984, she was tapped as the overall Most Valuable Player of the NCAA Tournament. In 1985 and 1986, she was the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the tournament as well. Heinrichs' performances in those tournaments helped the Tar Heels win NCAA championships in 1983, 1984 and 1986. Heinrichs' No. 2 uniform number was the first to ever be retired by the UNC women's soccer program.

Heinrichs' greatness is evidenced by her place in the Carolina record books. She shares the school record for assists in a game with five against Warren Wilson on October 29, 1983. She is second in Carolina history in scoring with 225 points. Her 87 goals are the third most in school history and she is also tied for eighth in assists with 51.

Heinrichs led the Tar Heels in scoring four times during her career – in 1983 with 47 points, in 1984 with 59, in 1985 with 50 and in 1986 with 69 as she led the Tar Heel leaderboard every season she was a Tar Heel.

Soccer America recognized her as the Women's Player of the Decade for the 1980s.

She was a member of the U.S. Women's National Team from 1986-91, earning 47 caps and scoring 37 goals. Heinrichs served as the captain of the 1991 U.S. team that won the championship at the first ever Women's World Cup in China. That team, coached by Anson Dorrance, beat Norway 2-1 in the gold medal match.

After Heinrichs' playing days, she made a transition to the coaching arena. In 1996, she served as an assistant coach for the United States Olympic Team, which won the gold medal in the Atlanta Games. She was the head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team from 2000-05, leading the team to an 87-17-20 record in five years. Heinrichs coached the team to an Olympic gold medal in 2004 in her last major competition as the squad's head coach. As head coach, she also led the U.S. to a silver medal at the 2000 Olympics and to a bronze medal at the 2003 World Cup.

Her first college coaching position was as head coach at Princeton University in 1990, where she compiled an 8-6-1 mark. She then became head coach at the University of Maryland for five years from 1991-95, compiling a mark of 56-40-7. In 1995, she was named ACC Coach of the Year after leading the Terrapins to their first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. She then served four years as the head coach at the University of Virginia. She went 52-27-7 there with four NCAA Tournament appearances. Heinrichs was named head coach of the U.S. National Team in 2000 and she retired at the conclusion of the 2004 season after leading the American side to Olympic gold. She then coached for one year at the University of California at Irvine in 2006 before accepting a post with the U.S. Olympic Committee in December 2006 as Performance Services Team Leader. In January 2011, Heinrichs was appointed Development Director for women's soccer by the United States Soccer Federation.

A native of Denver, Colo., she graduated from Carolina in 1986.

SHANNON HIGGINS 1988 & 1989 National Player of the Year

Shannon Higgins won two national player of the year honors during her four years at the University of North Carolina. Higgins was one of the stars in the early stages of the U.S. Women's National Team and one of the most clutch players in collegiate women's soccer history.

Soccer America honored her with its national player of the year award in 1988 and the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America gave her its award in 1989. She also won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer in 1989.

Higgins played for the U.S. Women's National Team from 1987-91 and earned a total of 51 caps. She was a member of the United States Team which won the 1991 Women's World Cup title in China.

Her career continued as a coach of the sport on the collegiate level. She was the head coach for seven years at George Washington University and six more at the University of Maryland before retiring from coaching following the 2004 season. Her seven Maryland teams combined to go 62-51-10. Her final Terrapins' squad advanced to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament, the furthest the Terps had advanced in the national tournament at that point.

Before her time with the Terps, Higgins served as the head women's soccer coach at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., where she posted a 69-59-11 record in seven years.

Higgins is married to Sasho Cirovski, the head men's soccer coach at the University of Maryland since 1993 and coach of three national championship teams with the Terrapins' men's program.

As a collegian, Higgins rather remarkably scored the game-winning goal in the 1987, 1988 and 1989 NCAA championship games as the Tar Heels beat UMass 1-0, NC State 4-1 and Colorado College 2-0, respectively. It is a feat unrivaled in soccer history on the NCAA level. In the Tar Heels' NCAA championship victory over the rival Wolfpack in 1988, she recorded a hat trick.

She was named a first-team All-America midfielder by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in both 1988 and 1989. Higgins was also named to the first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference squad in 1987, 1988 and 1989, winning the ACC Player of the Year award in her senior season of 1989.

The University of North Carolina honored her with the Patterson Medal in 1990 as the outstanding senior student-athlete at the school. Also in 1990, Higgins won the first-ever Mary Garber Award given by the Atlantic Coast Sports Media Association to the female athlete of the year in the conference. She was the first of eight UNC women's soccer players to win the award.

Higgins had a memorable career in postseason play for the Tar Heels. She was named to the All-Tournament Team at the NCAA Tournament in 1987, 1988 and 1989. Higgins was the Offensive Most Valuable Player of the 1988 NCAA Tournament after she scored three goals in Carolina's 4-1 victory over NC State in the championship game.

In each of her four years at Carolina (1986-89), the women's soccer team captured the NCAA championship. She also played on Tar Heel teams which captured ACC Tournament championships in 1987 and 1989.

Her jersey number (No. 3) is one of 19 numbers which have become eligible in Carolina women's soccer history for retirement.

In 1988, she led the ACC in scoring with 43 points. For three consecutive seasons, she led the conference in assists. She had 11 assists in 1987, 17 assists in 1988, and 18 assists in 1989.

KRISTINE LILLY 1990 & 1991 National Player of the Year

Kristine Lilly's tenure on the U.S. Women's National Team earned her the distinction of being one of the most celebrated players in soccer history. Before her retirement from international soccer on January 5, 2011, Lilly had 354 caps with the U.S. National Team. She has 43 more caps than any other player in USWNT history. Christie Rampone ranks second with 311.

Lilly was honored in 2015 with induction into the U.S. Soccer Hall of Fame. She was elected in the first year in which she was eligible for election to the Hall.

Lilly played in her fifth Women's World Cup in 2007, an amazing feat that dated to her first appearance in 1991. Rampone is the only other American to have played in five World Cups. When she retired, Lilly was the second-leading scorer in USWNT history with 130 goals and 106 assists for 366 points, ranking only behind Mia Hamm in those two statistics. She finished her career No. 1 in career starts and caps and No. 2 in goals, assists and points.

Lilly was twice named National Player of the Year at Carolina, winning the award in 1990 and again in 1991. Soccer America honored her during both campaigns, while the Missouri Athletic Club, the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the Hermann Trophy and the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America all gave her their awards in 1991. Lilly won the award in 1991 despite playing only in the regular season before departing for China to play in the Women's World Cup.

In 1993, she earned the Patterson Medal as the outstanding senior athlete at the University. She was the ACC Player of the Year in 1991 while winning the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player award in 1990. Soccer America named her the National Freshman of the Year in 1989.

In postseason play, Lilly was named the Most Outstanding Offensive Player in the 1989 and 1990 NCAA Tournaments. She scored 10 goals and had seven assists for 27 points in nine NCAA Tournament matches in her career. The Heels won NCAA championships in all four of her years at Carolina and UNC compiled a record of 93-1-2 during Lilly's tenure.

She is fifth in school history in scoring with 197 points, fourth in goals scored with 78 and tied for 17th in assists with 41. In 1990, Lilly ranked second in the nation in scoring with 52 points.

When it comes to experience internationally, Lilly simply had no equal. She participated in more than 80 percent of the matches the U.S. women's team had ever played at the time she retired. That gave her more international match appearances than any other player – man or woman – in the history of U.S. Soccer. The U.S. Soccer Federation named Lilly its Player of the Year in 1993.

Lilly was a member of the U.S. National Team, which won the gold medals at the 1996 Olympics and 2004 Olympics. She also helped the U.S. win the 1999 World Cup just as she had been a key cog in the win in 1991. Lilly scored two goals and had one assist during the 1999 competition. She converted a key penalty kick in the shootout in the final against China as well as clearing what would have been a sure Chinese goal off the goal line in overtime before the match went to penalty kicks.

Her jersey number 15 was retired by the University of North Carolina. She received her degree from Carolina in Radio, Television & Motion Pictures in 1993. Lilly played for the Boston Breakers in the WUSA for three seasons. She returned to professional soccer in 2009 as a member of the new Boston Breakers franchise in Women's Professional Soccer. In 2011, she had her number retired by the Breakers' franchise and the mayor of Boston, Thomas Menino, honored her with Kristine Lilly Day in the city. In 2014, Lilly was elected to the U.S. National Soccer Hall of Fame.

MIA HAMM 1992 & 1993 National Player of the Year

Mia Hamm attained the status of being recognized as one of the world's most talented and well-known female athletes in any sport and she accomplished that status very early in her career. Fifteen years after her retirement from soccer she is still one of the most respected and admired women's athletes in American history.

FIFA named her the Women's World Player of the Year in both 2001 and 2002, the first two years in which the world's governing body had bestowed the award.

Her fame expanded off the pitch. People Magazine named her one of the 50 Most Beautiful People in the World in 1997. Corporations contracted with her for major endorsements, including Gatorade, Pepsi and Pert Shampoo. Nike named the largest building at its world headquarters in Beaverton, Ore., after her in 1999. She has devoted her life after soccer to multiple philanthropic causes. She remains, 15 years after her retirement, a recognizable icon in American sports history. A modest and humble player, she is nevertheless one of the most charismatic and well-liked athletes in history.

Hamm was one of the stars of the U.S. team which won the title at the 1999 World Cup, an event which propelled the popularity of women's soccer in the U.S. to unheard of heights. Hamm converted a key penalty kick in the victory over China in the championship game.

Hamm was the 1994 recipient of the Honda Broderick Cup given to the Outstanding Female Athlete in all of college sports. She is the only UNC athlete to ever win the award. She received the 1994 Patterson Medal as the outstanding senior athlete at Carolina.

The ACC honored Hamm with the 1993 and 1994 Mary Garber Awards as the ACC's Female Athlete of the Year. She also won the ACC Player of the Year award in women's soccer three times and was a three-time unanimous first-team All-America selection. In 2002, she was named the outstanding female athlete in the first half century of the ACC's history dating back to the league's founding in 1954.

Hamm helped lead UNC to NCAA championships in 1989, 1990, 1992 and 1993. She was the unanimous choice as college soccer's National Player of the Year in 1992 and 1993. Hamm won the NCAA Tournament MVP awards for offense in 1992 and 1993. In 1989 and 1992, she was the MVP of the ACC Tournament.

Hamm led the nation in scoring in 1990, 1992 and 1993, setting the NCAA single-season record for scoring with 97 points in 1992. Hamm also holds the UNC record for assists in a season with 33 in 1992. She scored 32 goals in 1992, the second-highest total in UNC history.

Before retiring from soccer at the conclusion of the 2004 season, Hamm had been a member of the U.S. National Team since 1987 when she was still in high school. She was 15 years old when she first played for the team, making her the youngest woman ever to play for the National Team.

She ended 2004 as the world's all-time leading scorer with 158 goals and 145 assists for 461 points. Her 158 international goals were the most of all-time in FIFA history, male or female, until that mark was broken by Abby Wambach in 2013. Hamm concluded her career on a high note by winning her second Olympic gold medal in 2004.

In 1999, she established the Mia Hamm Foundation to raise funds and awareness for bone marrow transplant patients and families and also to provide more opportunities for young girls in athletics. In January 2019, she received the NCAA's prestigious Silver Anniversary Award, 25 years after her collegiate career ended.

TISHA VENTURINI 1994 National Player of the Year

Tisha Venturini won championships at every level in her playing career – high school, college, international play and as a professional.

She is one of only three women in history to win an NCAA title, an Olympic gold medal, a Women's World Cup championship and the WUSA's Founders Cup championship. The others were also Tar Heels — Mia Hamm and Carla Werden Overbeck.

Her career at Carolina got off to a fast start as she won Soccer America's National Freshman of the Year accolade in 1991 to complement her ACC Freshman of the Year award. That season, she led the NCAA in scoring with 21 goals and 16 assists for 58 points. She carried the Carolina team in the NCAA Tournament as Kristine Lilly and Mia Hamm were playing in the World Cup in China where they led the U.S. to the first of its three World Cup championships.

Venturini would go on to be the unanimous selection as the 1994 National Player of the Year after leading Carolina to a fourth straight national championship, capping an utterly brilliant playing career on the college level. She was the recipient of the Hermann Trophy and was also named Player of the Year by the Missouri Athletic Club, the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America, Soccer America, Soccer News and College Sports.

She was the recipient of the 1995 Patterson Medal given annually to the outstanding senior athlete at the University of North Carolina. She is one of a long line of Tar Heel women's soccer recipients of the Patterson Medal.

In 1995, she also won the Mary Garber Award as the Outstanding Female Athlete in the ACC. She was the ACC Player of the Year in 1994 and was also named first-team All-ACC and first-team NSCAA All-Southeast Region four times.

Venturini was at her best in the postseason in leading Carolina to multiple ACC and NCAA championships. She was named the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player in 1991, 1993 and 1994, and, in each of her four seasons at North Carolina, she made the NCAA College Cup All-Tournament Team. Remarkably versatile, she won the Most Outstanding Defensive Player of the 1991 NCAA Tournament accolade and the Most Outstanding Offensive Player of the 1994 NCAA Tournament award. In 14 NCAA Tournament games, she had seven goals and added nine assists for 23 points.

Venturini established a reputation as a clutch player, scoring three goals against Duke in the 1994 ACC Tournament championship game and two goals against Notre Dame in the 1994 NCAA title game as she finished her post-season career in impressive fashion. She led the Tar Heels to a 5-0 win over Notre Dame in the championship game after the two teams played to a scoreless tie in the regular season.

She is sixth all-time in UNC history with 69 goals and tied for eighth all-time in assists with 51. She is tied for seventh in points with 189.

Venturini also went on to great success in international play for the U.S. National Team.

She started at center midfield for the U.S. National Team in the 1995 Women's World Cup, and tied for the U.S. team lead in scoring with three goals.

In the 1996 Olympics, she helped the U.S. capture the gold medal. She was also a member of the 1999 U.S. World Cup championship team for the USA. Venturini scored two goals versus North Korea in the last round of pool play in that event.

DEBBIE KELLER 1995 & 1996 National Player of the Year

University of North Carolina head coach Anson Dorrance once called Debbie Keller potentially the finest leader he had seen in his 40 years of coaching women's soccer at Carolina.

In 1995, she was named Co-National Player of the Year by Soccer Digest, and, in 1996, Keller was named National Player of the Year by both Soccer America and Soccer

Buzz. Keller won the latter two awards after leading the Tar Heels on a relentless run to regain the national championship it had relinquished to Notre Dame the previous year. Keller's overtime goal in the national championship game in 1996 in Santa Clara, Calif., was the difference in the game.

Keller received the Patterson Medal, given to the most outstanding senior athlete at the University of North Carolina, in 1997. She is one of 13 UNC women's soccer players to have won the prestigious award.

UNC won NCAA championships with Keller as a leading component of the team in 1993, 1994 and 1996. She co-captained the 1996 team and played all 210 minutes of the NCAA semifinals and championship game that year against Santa Clara and Notre Dame in the College Cup. The Tar Heels prevailed against the Broncos 2-1 in the semifinals and then in the championship game, she scored the game-winning goal at the 110:56 mark. After the tournament, she was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup.

In 1996, she was named a first-team All-America selection by Soccer America, Soccer News and Soccer Buzz. In 1995, she was named a first-team All-America honoree by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America and Soccer News. In 1994 and 1996, she was named a second-team All-America selection by the NSCAA.

Keller was a finalist for the prestigious Honda Sports Award for soccer in 1996.

With 102 games played, she was the NCAA career record holder in that category until it was broken a year later by fellow Tar Heel forward Robin Confer who played in 107 matches. Keller ranks sixth in UNC history in career points with 191, eighth in career goals with 67 and fifth in career assists with 57. Over the course of her career, she scored a remarkable 16 game-winning goals, averaging four a year.

The Atlantic Coast Conference tabbed her as a first-team all-league selection in 1994 and 1995. She was also the Most Valuable Player of the 1995 ACC Tournament. Ironically, she did not earn first-team All-ACC honors in 1996 despite winning two national player of the year awards, a slight that was rectified by her post-season play.

The Tar Heels won four ACC Tournament championships while Keller played at UNC to go with the three NCAA crowns she also won.

In 1996, she was a finalist for both the Hermann Trophy and the Missouri Athletic Club Sports Foundation's Player of the Year Award. Sports Illustrated featured her in its Faces in the Crowd section of a December issue in 1996 after she scored the game-winning goal in the 1996 NCAA championship game against Notre Dame. Her overtime goal lifted the Tar Heels past the Fighting Irish 1-0.

She scored all three goals for the East Team in the 1997 Umbro Select Senior All-Star Game in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The East team defeated the West Team 3-0.

Soccer Buzz gave her its inaugural National Sportsmanship Award in 1996.

STACI WILSON 1995 National Player of the Year

Small in stature, but big in heart, defender Staci Wilson was impossible to intimidate on the pitch. Literally impossible. She was tenacious in her desire to win. She was indefatigable. Her commitment to doing what was necessary to win stood as a shining example to her teammates at Carolina.

She is remembered as one of the toughest defenders in the history of both the University of North Carolina women's soccer program and NCAA women's soccer overall. Wilson always made the difficult tackle and pursued every loose ball with ferocious intensity. She played on four of the strongest defensive teams in Tar Heel history.

Wilson was also respected as a top offensive threat from her backfield position and she was always successful at jumpstarting the Tar Heel attack with a well-timed run from the back. She had a knack for both assisting and finishing.

Standing barely five feet tall, she helped the Tar Heels win four Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships from 1994 through 1997 and three NCAA championships as the Tar Heels claimed the crowns in 1994, 1996 and 1997.

In 1995, she was the Co-National Player of the Year as named by Soccer Digest and is one of 19 Tar Heel players to have her jersey number retired by the University.

In her first season at UNC, she was named the National Freshman Player of the Year by Soccer America magazine in 1994 on a team which was senior-laden and won the national title for the ninth straight year.

As a senior in 1997, she was named a first-team All-America by Soccer America, Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times and a second-team All-America by Soccer News and the National Soccer Coaches Association of America/Umbro. That 1997 Tar Heel team was as good as any defensively in UNC lore, allowing only eight goals in 28 games as UNC finished 27-0-1. The Tar Heels allowed only eight goals in 28 matches while playing against the toughest schedule in the nation. The Tar Heel defense was that good despite the fact UNC played a system with only three players in the back in front of goalkeeper Siri Mullinix.

In her junior season in 1996, she was a coaches' association first team All-America and was named a second-team All-America by Soccer Buzz and a third-team All-America by Soccer News. That team lost only one game en route to a national title, a midseason loss to Notre Dame that was avenged in the national championship game as Carolina posted a double overtime shutout to triumph over the Fighting Irish. Her 1995 campaign earned her a first-team All-America selection by the National Soccer Coaches Association, Soccer America and Soccer News. As a freshman in 1994, she was a first-team Soccer News All-America.

Wilson was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference defender from 1994-1996 and made only the second-team All-ACC squad in 1997 despite being a consensus first-team All-America that season. She was named to the All-ACC Tournament Team in 1994, 1995 and 1997 as Carolina won league championships each of those seasons.

She also earned honors as a member of the NCAA's All-Tournament Team at the 1994, 1995 and 1997 tournaments.

The U.S. Olympic Team tapped her as a reserve for the 1996 gold medal team in Atlanta, Ga. She played for the U.S. National Team in 1995 and 1996 and earned 15 caps, while starting five games.

ROBIN CONFER 1997 National Player of the Year

One of the most gifted women's soccer players in NCAA history, Robin Confer had an uncanny ability to find the back of the net throughout her UNC career at the most fortuitous times. She was the stereotype of a pure finisher and that was reflected in her career scoring statistics and the number of game-winning goals she tallied while leading the Tar Heels to three national championships.

The Florida native and 1998 UNC alumna is ranked fourth in Carolina history in total points with 209 and is the fifth highest goal-scorer in school history with 77 tallies. Her 55 assists are good enough for the sixth most in Tar Heel women's soccer lore. Playing on teams with bigger name stars who populated the U.S. Women's National Team roster, it was Confer who was the quiet catalyst behind multiple national championship winning teams.

In 1997, she had 62 points – a total tying her for the 10th most points in a single season in Carolina history. That same season, she had 22 assists, eighth most in a single campaign. The 18 assists she recorded in 1995 are tied for the 12th most in a single year in Carolina women's soccer statistical rankings.

As a senior, she was named the National Player of the Year by Soccer Buzz magazine and Soccer News magazine. Confer was also a finalist for the 1997 Hermann Trophy and a semifinalist for the 1997 Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year award.

Confer established an NCAA record for games played in a career with 107 appearances from 1994-97, breaking Debbie Keller's existing NCAA record of 102 set the year before. Confer never missed a game in her career at Carolina. She shares the Carolina record for most games played in a season and most games started in a season with 28 in 1997.

An inspired performance in the 1997 NCAA Tournament led to her being named the Most Valuable Offensive Player of that competition. She scored a goal on a nifty free kick late in the second half to lift UNC to a come-from-behind 2-1 NCAA semifinal win over Santa Clara. Two days later, she scored the insurance goal in the waning minutes in the Tar Heels' 2-0 victory over Connecticut in the NCAA championship game in Greensboro, N.C.

In 1997, Soccer America, Soccer News, Soccer Buzz and Soccer Times all named her a first-team All-America selection. She was named a second-team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America in 1997. In 1996, she was named second-team All-America by Soccer Buzz and Soccer News. In 1995, she was a Soccer News second-team All-America. As a freshman in 1994, she was named a third-team All-America by Soccer News.

Confer was named first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference in 1995 and 1997 and second-team All-ACC in 1994 and 1996. She was the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player in 1996. The Tar Heels won four ACC Tournament championships and three NCAA championships (1994, 1996 and 1997) during her stint in Chapel Hill. She has more career points in ACC Tournament games than any other player in history with 31 and the most goals with 13.

Her 27 game-winning goals are the most in UNC history. Confer netted 11 game-winners in 1995, the most in a single season in North Carolina history.

Soccer Buzz named her the 1997 Southeast Region Offensive Player of the Year and Soccer News named her the 1997 Southeast Region Player of the Year.

CINDY PARLOW 1996, 1997, & 1998 National Player of the Year

Dynamic forward Cindy Parlow was the youngest player to ever win both a women's World Cup title and an Olympic gold medal. She is also the youngest player to ever be named to a U.S. Olympic Team. She is the seventh-leading goal scorer in the history of the U.S. Women's National Team despite having played on the team for only nine years (1996-2004). She totaled 185 points in her career and also ranks eighth all-time in goals in U.S. Women's National Team history with 75. In 2018 she was elected to the U.S. Soccer Hall of Fame and was elected a vice president of U.S. Soccer.

As a standout player at the University of North Carolina, Parlow was named National Player of the Year in three different seasons, earning top player honors in 1996, 1997 and 1998. She went on to serve as a volunteer assistant coach with the Tar Heels for seven years (2006-12). UNC won four national championships in her seven years on the staff, triumphing in 2006, 2008, 2009 and 2012.

After arriving in Chapel Hill from Memphis, Tenn., Parlow had an immediate impact for the Tar Heels as a freshman in 1995. She had graduated from high school a year early to join the Tar Heels but immediately showed maturity beyond her years. Soccer News and Soccer America both named her the National Freshman Player of the Year and, along with the NSCAA, they also picked her as a first-team All-America. Parlow also garnered first-team All-ACC and ACC Freshman of the Year honors. She scored 19 goals and had 13 assists for 51 points that season.

As a sophomore, Soccer News magazine named her National Player of the Year. She was chosen as a first-team All-America by Soccer News, Soccer America, the NSCAA and Soccer Buzz as well as being named first-team All-ACC. She had 41 points on 15 goals and 11 assists while leading the Tar Heels to the national championship.

As a junior, Parlow won the Hermann Trophy as well as National Player of the Year honors from the Missouri Athletic Club Sports Foundation and Soccer Times magazine. She was Carolina's leading scorer with 44 points, netting 13 goals and notching 18 assists. In the 1997 NCAA Tournament championship game, Parlow scored the game-winning goal in a 2-0 victory over Connecticut. Soccer News, Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times and the NSCAA all selected her as a first-team All-America. She was also selected as first-team All-ACC and the MVP of the ACC Tournament in 1997.

In her senior campaign, Parlow was honored with the Mary Garber Award as Female Athlete-of-the-Year in the ACC. She tallied 21 goals and had 11 assists for a total of 53 points. She won the Hermann Trophy and was named Player of the Year by the Missouri Athletic Club Foundation, Soccer News and College Soccer Weekly Online. She was named a first-team All-America by the NSCAA, Soccer America, Soccer News, ESPN.com/Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and College Soccer Weekly Online. The ACC named Parlow as its Player of the Year and also selected her as a first-team all-conference player.

She scored 189 points in her UNC career. That equals the seventh highest total in history. She scored 68 goals, which ranks as the seventh highest total. Her 53 assists are also the seventh highest total. In her four seasons at UNC, the Tar Heels went 102-3-1.

Parlow was a starter for the 1999 U.S. World Cup Team which won the world championship. She played with the U.S. National Team from 1996-2004 and captured two Olympic gold medals and one World Cup title. She claimed Olympic gold in both 1996 and 2004, her final major tournament in a WSWNT uniform.

LORRIE FAIR 1999 National Player of the Year

While at Carolina, Lorrie Fair was one of the nation's top defenders, winning National Player of the Year honors following the Tar Heels' 1999 NCAA championship season. Fair was one of the most valuable and versatile players in Carolina history, playing in the midfield, on defense and at striker.

After a solid freshman year in leading UNC to a national championship, Fair was one of the nation's most improved players in the country in 1997 and she followed that year of growth with brilliant junior and senior seasons.

After graduating from Carolina, Fair was one of the founding members of the WUSA as an all-star player for the Philadelphia Charge.

Fair's freshman season at Carolina was an impressive one. Soccer News named her a second-team All-America and a freshman All-America, while Soccer America named her to its freshman All-America Team. Soccer Buzz named her a first-team Freshman All-America. In the postseason, she earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament and All-NCAA Tournament honors. After starting the season in the midfield, she moved to defense in the midseason and led a stretch run that led Carolina to a national title.

Her sophomore season saw her start all 28 games for the Tar Heels, scoring eight goals and notching seven assists for a total of 23 points. Against California and Duke, she recorded game-winning goals. In the national semifinal victory against Santa Clara, she tied the game with an early second-half goal en route to the Tar Heels claiming a 2-1 victory. Two days later, UNC beat UConn for the national championship. She was a semifinalist for the Missouri Athletic Club Player of the Year Award and was named first-team All-America by Soccer News, second-team All-America by Soccer Times and third-team All-America by Soccer Buzz. In the 1997 NCAA Tournament, she was an all-tournament selection and she was also a 1997 first-team All-ACC selection.

As a junior in 1998, Fair was a semifinalist for the Missouri Athletic Club's Player of the Year Award while ESPN.com/Soccer Times named her the National Defender of the Year. The NSCAA, Soccer America, Soccer News, ESPN.com/Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and College Soccer Weekly Online all selected Fair as a first-team All-America. Soccer Buzz honored Fair as the Southeast Region Defensive Player of the Year. She was also a first-team All-ACC selection. Against Wake Forest, she scored two of her five goals on the season and against San Francisco she had three assists. In the ACC Tournament final, she scored a goal versus Clemson as the Tar Heels again claimed a league crown.

Despite an injury-plagued season her senior year, Fair still captured the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, given to the top player in college soccer. She also garnered the 1999 ACC Player of the Year award. For the third consecutive year she earned a spot on the first-team All-ACC squad. She was a consensus first-team All-America selection, earning honors from the NSCAA, College Soccer Online, Soccer Times, Soccer Buzz and Soccer America. Fair played on her third NCAA championship team at Carolina and was named defensive MVP in the NCAA College Cup. Fair spent time on the injury list but still played in 22 matches, playing at forward during her recovery and moving back to the defense for the stretch run of the season. She keyed a tremendous defensive run by the Tar Heels who allowed only one goal in NCAA Tournament play that season.

Fair already had extensive experience with the U.S. National Team before she excelled as a member of the U.S.'s 1999 World Cup championship team.

MEREDITH FLORANCE 2000 National Player of the Year

Meredith Florance was a three-year starter at Carolina and in her senior year she copped National Player of the Year honors. Florance had a monster senior year as she scored 26 goals to lead the Tar Heels to their third NCAA championship in her four years at Carolina. She scored clutch goals throughout the season and was at her best in NCAA play. She finished her career in 2000 ranked in a tie for 10th place in career goals at the University with 59 tallies. Florance was one of the top high school players coming out of the prep ranks in 1997 from her hometown of Dallas, Texas.

As a freshman, she played in all 28 games for the Tar Heels. She scored 10 goals and had four assists for 24 points, notching a hat trick in her first-ever home game at Fetzer Field against Tennessee. She also had two goals against St. Mary's and two assists versus NC State. Soccer Buzz named her a third-team Freshman All-America and to the All-Southeast Region Freshman Team.

Starting all 26 games for UNC as a sophomore, Florance scored 10 goals and had 11 assists for 31 points. Versus San Francisco, Maryland and Portland, she netted game-winning goals. The dramatic goal against Portland came in the 150th minute of a quadruple overtime NCAA Tournament semifinal game. It came just 22 seconds before the match would have headed to a penalty kick shootout and came on a brilliant shot from distance that curled into the upper right corner of the goal. Soccer Buzz named her to its third-team All-Southeast Region squad. She also made the All-Tournament Team at the 1998 NCAA College Cup.

Her junior season was tremendous, both for the Tar Heels as a team, and for Florance individually. College Soccer Online named her an honorable mention All-America and Soccer Buzz named her second-team All-Southeast Region. She was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team after scoring the game-winning goal against Notre Dame in the title game, a thrilling 2-0 triumph over the Fighting Irish. She was also named second-team All-ACC. She started all 24 games for the Tar Heels that season, scoring 13 goals and serving up nine assists for 35 points. Two of those goals were game-winners, and, ironically, both came against Notre Dame, including an overtime winner in a regular-season matchup.

As a senior, Florance firmly established herself as one of the best players in the country. She finished fourth in the nation and first in the Atlantic Coast Conference in goals scored with 26, matching the sixth-highest total in a season for a Tar Heel in history. She also led the conference in scoring with 60 points. Soccer Times named her the National Player of the Year and she also received the Honda Sports Award for Soccer as the top player in the nation. Florance scored five game-winning goals, and, in the NCAA championship game, she netted a goal that tied the game against UCLA at 1-1 with 14:49 to play. Just minutes later Catherine Reddick scored for the Tar Heels and UNC eventually went on to win 2-1, claiming its 17th national championship. In the third round of the NCAA Tournament, she scored the game-winner against Virginia in the waning minutes of the match and in the quarterfinal match against Connecticut, she scored the first two goals of the game in a 3-0 win. Florance was a key leader in UNC's post-season run after the Tar Heels had dropped three ACC games in the regular season.

Florance was a consensus first-team All-America, a first-team All-ACC selection, the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup, the Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament and the Southeast Region Offensive Player of the Year. Over the course of the season, she was named the MVP of four different tournaments.

CATHERINE REDDICK 2003 National Player of the Year

Catherine Reddick did not earn her first starting assignment in a Carolina uniform until the final game of her freshman year, which also happened to be the NCAA championship contest against UCLA in 2000. Not only did Reddick score the game-winning goal with 7:41 to play in that game, she was also named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the 2000 NCAA College Cup. Her late season heroics were a precursor of the success to come for Reddick in a UNC and USWNT uniform.

A few months later, April Heinrichs, then the head coach of the U.S. National Team, tapped Reddick for her first National Team cap. From the beginning, Reddick found herself in the starting lineup on defense. From 2000-2010, she earned 134 caps and 111 starts while scoring 11 goals and passing for 10 assists. Reddick is tied for the 21st most caps in USWNT history and has the 18th most starts in a U.S. uniform.

Reddick also carved a niche as a television analyst for international and collegiate soccer for the ESPN family of networks, Fox Soccer Channel and NBC. In the summers of 2015 and 2019, she was one of the lead analysts during Fox Sports' coverage of the Women's World Cup.

Reddick earned starting spots for the U.S. in the 2003 World Cup as well as on the 2004 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Team squad in Athens, Greece. She was a member of the 2007 World Cup Team which earned a bronze medal but she missed the 2008 Olympics because of an injury. Injuries limited her to only 11 caps in her last three years on the National Team (2008-10).

Despite missing much of her junior and senior years because of National Team commitments, Reddick developed into one of the top collegiate defenders in history. She culminated her career by being named the National Player of the Year following the 2003 season as she won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer as well as the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy. No Tar Heel would win the Hermann Trophy again for nine years until Crystal Dunn won the award in 2012.

After being named a freshman All-America in 2000, Reddick went on to become one of Carolina's most decorated players in history during her final three years. She was a consensus first-team All-America in 2001, 2002 and 2003. In each of those years, she was also named All-ACC.

As a senior, Reddick was limited to playing in only 13 matches because of her commitments to the National team while competing in the World Cup. She still scored six goals and had five assists for 17 points. She scored the game-winning goal in the 2003 ACC Tournament championship game on a penalty kick as the Tar Heels rallied past Florida State 3-2. For the second time in her career Reddick was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the College Cup as she helped the Tar Heels outscore their six NCAA opponents by a 32-0 margin.

Reddick received first-team All-America accolades following her senior season from Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times, Soccer Post Magazine, College Sports Television, Soccer America and the NSCAA. As a junior, she was named first-team All-America by Soccer Buzz, Soccer America and the NSCAA. As a sophomore she earned first-team All-America honors from Soccer Buzz and Soccer America.

She led the Tar Heels to ACC Tournament championships in each of her four years at Carolina from 2000 through 2003. She played on NCAA championship teams at Carolina in 2000 and 2003.

LINDSAY TARPLEY 2003 National Player of the Year

The 2003 collegiate National Player of the Year, Lindsay Tarpley, had her No. 25 jersey number retired by the University in 2006 after a star-studded career at Carolina and as a member of the U.S. National Team. Despite being injured for half of her junior year and for the start of her senior year, she finished with some of the most impressive career statistics in UNC history.

Tarpley finished her career with 59 goals, 59 assists and 177 points. She ranks 10th in career points in Tar Heel history, is tied for 10th in career goals and is third in career assists. Had she not been plagued by injuries her scoring totals would certainly rank in the Top 5 in Carolina annals in every category. In 2003, Tarpley led the NCAA in scoring with 73 points, the fourth most in a season in UNC history. She had 23 goals that season, equaling the 11th most in a season in Tar Heel lore, and her 27 assists that year are the third most in a single campaign.

Tarpley ended her career with several school records and two NCAA records to her credit based in large measure on her brilliant play in NCAA Tournament games. She holds UNC career records in NCAA games for goals with 16, assists with 19 and points with 51. The 19 assists are also the NCAA record in that category. In 2003, she set UNC school records for assists in a single NCAA Tournament with 11 and in points with 19. The 11 assists in the 2003 Tournament are also an NCAA mark.

Tarpley's banner year was 2003 when she led Carolina to a 27-0 record and was a unanimous choice for first-team All-America honors. That season she also earned a quintet of national player of the year accolades, winning honors from Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Soccer Times, Soccer Post and Sports Illustrated on Campus. In 2003, she became the first player since Mia Hamm in 1993 to be named the ACC Player of the Year and the MVP of the ACC Tournament while also leading the ACC in scoring.

Tarpley was brilliant as a freshman in 2002, being named national freshman of the year by both Soccer Buzz and Soccer America. That year she was named the ACC Freshman of the Year and earned first-team All-ACC accolades. Most impressively, Tarpley won the prestigious award as the U.S. Soccer Chevrolet Young Female Athlete of the Year.

Tarpley became a member of the U.S. National Team in 2003. In 125 caps, she scored 32 goals. She won gold medals in the 2004 and 2008 Olympics and a bronze medal in the 2007 World Cup. She earned a spot on the 2011 World Cup Team but had to miss the competition after suffering a torn ACL in late May 2011.

FIFA sponsored the first-ever U19 (now U20) youth world championship for women in 2002 with Tarpley earning the captain's armband for the U.S. squad. In sudden death overtime in the championship match, Tarpley pounced on her own rebound to give the U.S. the championship in an exciting 1-0 victory over the host Canadian side.

A native of Kalamazoo, Mich., Tarpley graduated from Portage Central High School in 2002 ranked as the No. 4 recruit in the nation that year by Soccer America. A two-time Parade high school All-America, she was named the national high school player of the year by Parade Magazine in 2002.

Tarpley graduated from UNC in 2006 with a degree in communications. As a senior, she was an ESPN The Magazine third-team Academic All-America as named by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

HEATHER O'REILLY 2006 National Player of the Year

Heather O'Reilly was the top-ranked recruit in the high school class of 2003. She was already playing with the U.S. National Team as a high school senior in 2002 while attending East Brunswick (N.J.) High School. The college career of the dynamic forward would lead the Tar Heels to two NCAA championships and three ACC championships. While in the midst of her time at Carolina she scored one of the most important goals in Olympic women's soccer history, sparking the U.S. to the Olympic gold medal in 2004. She would go on and win a second gold medal in 2008 and a third Olympic gold medal in 2012. Before retiring from the USWNT in September 2016, she played in three World Cups for the United States, winning a bronze medal in 2007, a silver medal in 2011 and reigning as a FIFA World Cup champion in 2015.

O'Reilly finished her college career tied for 10th in goals at UNC with 59 and she was 11th in points with 167 and 12th in assists with 49. Her career was capped in 2006 when she was named the national player of the year by Soccer America magazine while also claiming the prestigious Honda Sports Award for Soccer. She was also named ESPN The Magazine's National Academic All-America of the Year for women's soccer as presented by the College Sports Information Directors of America and she won the Patterson Medal as UNC's outstanding senior female athlete. In 2017, she became the second UNC student-athlete ever inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

O'Reilly was at her best in leading Carolina to NCAA Championships in 2003 and 2006, both years being named the offensive MVP of the College Cup. She was the unanimous choice as national freshman player of the year in 2003 and then was a first-team All-America selection in her final three seasons. O'Reilly led the Tar Heels in scoring three straight years from 2004-06 and she was the third-leading scorer on the 2003 team that went 27-0. She had 15 goals, 14 assists and 44 points in NCAA Tournament games in her career. As she was rehabbing from the broken leg in 2003, she had three goals in the ACC Tournament and then exploded in the NCAA Tournament with an 18-point performance on eight goals and two assists. Those eight goals are the most in UNC history in a single NCAA Tournament.

In the summer of 2004, O'Reilly played with the U.S. National Team in Greece in the hopes of winning an Olympic gold medal. With the U.S. and Germany tied 1-1 in overtime of the semifinal game, O'Reilly blistered the back of the net off a Mia Hamm assist to catapult the Americans into the gold medal match. A few days later, the college sophomore possessed an Olympic gold medal after the U.S. beat Brazil in the final match.

In 2006, she led the Tar Heels to 27 straight wins and the national title after UNC lost its season opener at Texas A&M. She was the offensive MVP of the College Cup after scoring four goals and adding six assists in NCAA play. She scored the insurance goal in the 2-0 NCAA semifinal win over UCLA, scored the first goal of the NCAA final against Notre Dame and assisted on the eventual game-winning tally against the Fighting Irish.

Following her senior year she won the NCAA's prestigious Today's Top VIII Award. No Tar Heel student-athlete had won the award since 1984 and it was the crowning jewel of her college career. The award is the highest annually bestowed by the NCAA for athletic prowess, academic achievement and community service.

Yael Averbuch 2006 National Player of the Year

At the conclusion of the 2008 women's soccer season, senior midfielder Yael Averbuch became the 15th Tar Heel in history to earn the right to have her uniform number retired as a National Player of the Year honoree. Averbuch was a key player on UNC teams which won four straight Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championships and claimed national crowns in 2006 and 2008.

Averbuch was a national player of the year honoree when UNC won the national championship in 2006 and she co-captained the Tar Heel squad in 2008 when it again won the NCAA title beating Notre Dame 2-1 in a thrilling championship game in Cary, N.C. In the semifinals of the 2008 NCAA Tournament she scored the lone goal as Carolina defeated UCLA 1-0.

In four years as a member of the Carolina soccer team, Averbuch helped lead the Tar Heels to two NCAA Championships and four ACC Tournament titles. At the same time, she excelled academically, maintaining a 3.7 grade point average while majoring in psychology.

Averbuch started an NCAA and school-record 104 games during her career, never missing a game in her four years and starting all but one game. She finished her career scoring 32 goals and passing for 29 assists for a total of 93 career points.

Averbuch holds the NCAA record for scoring the fastest goal in collegiate women's soccer history. In a game on September 3, 2006 at Yale, Averbuch scored in only four seconds, sending the direct kick at the start of the game 55 yards from midfield directly into the Bulldogs' goal.

A three-time first-team All-America honoree and a three-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, she was named national player of the year as a sophomore by Soccer Buzz magazine. That same year she was the third highest vote getter for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy presented by the NSCAA. She and teammate Heather O'Reilly were two of the three finalists for the prestigious award. She was also the 2006 ACC Offensive Player of the Year.

In December 2008, she was named a recipient of the NCAA's Today's Top VIII Award, an NCAA honor that each year recognizes eight student-athletes who excel in athletics, academics, leadership and community service. She was only the third Tar Heel athlete to win the award since 1984 and the second UNC women's soccer player to win the honor, joining Heather O'Reilly who won in 2006.

Averbuch was named the 2008 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America of the Year for women's soccer as presented by the College Sports Information Directors of America, recognizing her as the top student-athlete in her sport. She was a first-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America in 2008 after being named to the second team in 2007 and the third team in 2006. In 2008, she was also named the National Soccer Coaches Association of America Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Averbuch was regularly named to the UNC Dean's List, was a three-time selection for the ACC Academic Honor Roll and she was the ACC Scholar-Athlete of the Year for women's soccer in 2007 and again in 2008. She was named to the All-ACC Academic Team each of her four years in a Tar Heel uniform. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa while also being inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece.

Averbuch also represented the U.S. as a member of the National Team, earning 26 caps from 2007-13.

Casey Nogueira 2008 National Player of the Year

The consensus National Player of the Year selection in 2008, Casey Nogueira became the 16th Tar Heel in history to earn player of the year accolades. Nogueira was one of the most prolific goal scorers in ACC history and she scored clutch goals throughout her career in the Carolina Blue & White kit. When the ACC and NCAA Tournaments rolled around, UNC fans saw Nogueira at her best.

As both a junior and a senior, Nogueira pulled off the incredible double of being named the ACC Tournament Most Valuable Player and the Most Valuable Offensive Player of the NCAA College Cup. She played on Carolina teams which won ACC Tournament championships all four years and captured NCAA titles in 2006, 2008 and 2009.

Nogueira finished her Tar Heel career with 55 goals and 29 assists for 139 points. She was Carolina's leading scorer her final three years in a Tar Heel uniform. Her standout season scoring wise was 2008 when she scored a national best 25 goals and had eight assists for a 58-point total, the most points by a Tar Heel in a season in five years. She scored two goals in the national championship game that season to lift the Tar Heels past Notre Dame 2-1 in a classic final in Cary, N.C.

Following her junior season, she won National Player of the Year accolades from multiple sources including the Honda Sports Award for Soccer and player of the season accolades from Soccer America, Soccer Buzz, Top Drawer Soccer and Soccer News Network. She was the runner-up for the Missouri Athletic Club's Hermann Trophy.

In July 2009, she won the Mary Garber Award as the ACC's top female athlete during the 2008-09 school year. She was the first Tar Heel to win the award since Cindy Parlow had captured it 10 years earlier. Nogueira was recognized for virtually willing Carolina to ACC and NCAA crowns in 2008.

Nogueira won first-team All-America honors in 2007 & 2008 and was a second-team All-America as a senior in 2009.

Nogueira, who played her high school soccer at Raleigh's Broughton High School and graduated a year early to join UNC, will go down in history as scoring some of the most important goals in UNC lore. As a freshman, she came off the bench to score the game-winning goal with 6:29 to play in UNC's 2-0 NCAA semifinal victory over UCLA. Two days later, against Notre Dame in the NCAA final, she earned her first career start and she assisted on Heather O'Reilly's goal at 17:57 and then scored the game-winner on a header at 46:28 in the eventual 2-1 Tar Heel win.

En route to winning the 2008 NCAA title, Nogueira was named ACC Offensive Player of the Year and ACC Tournament MVP. In the national championship game against undefeated Notre Dame, the Tar Heels fell behind in the opening minute of play. Nogueira tied the game on a free kick at 51:08 and then she won the game for Carolina with a spectacular goal from the far left side of the box with just 2:06 left on the clock.

In her senior year, Nogueira had only six regular-season goals but she exploded in the post season for seven additional tallies. She scored twice in the ACC Tournament championship game against Florida State while being named tournament MVP. In NCAA play, she recorded game-winning assists in the first round against High Point and in the championship game against Stanford. She scored the game-winner versus Maryland in the third round, had three goals in the quarterfinal win over Wake Forest and again had the game-winner against Notre Dame in the semifinals in the closing minutes.

WHITNEY ENGEN 2009 National Player of the Year

Whitney Engen's career is the personification of the fact that persistence pays off. The California native was never named to the first-team All-ACC squad until her senior year but that same year she emerged as Carolina's 17th selection as a National Player of the Year when she won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer. Rarely is a defender honored with such an award, particularly when the competition includes the two best forwards in the nation and the country's top midfielder, her own teammate, Tobin Heath.

But such was the fate for Engen who in 2009 was the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year as well as the ACC's Women's Soccer Scholar-Athlete of the Year. She also earned second-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors in her senior season as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Engen played with the U.S. National Team from 2011-16 and was rewarded by being named as one of the 23 members of the U.S. team which captured the championship at the 2015 FIFA World Cup. In 2016, she was one of 18 players on the U.S. Olympic Team.

Engen, who played primarily midfield in high school in Rolling Hills Estates, Calif., came to UNC in 2006 as one of the top recruits in the nation but she was somewhat overshadowed at the start by the likes of fellow freshmen Heath, Casey Nogueira and Nikki Washington. It would not stay that way for long. When she arrived at Carolina, UNC had a need at striker and Engen stepped in and played center forward her first two seasons. She had 12 goals and 13 assists for 37 points as a freshman on UNC's 2006 national championship team. No assist was bigger than the one on Casey Nogueira's second half goal, which proved to be the game-winner in Carolina's 2-1 win over Notre Dame. Engen again started as a sophomore in the forward line and had six goals and eight assists on an ACC Tournament championship team.

With the loss of Jessica Maxwell, Robyn Gayle and Ariel Harris off the starting defensive line of the 2007 team, Coach Anson Dorrance looked to Engen to make the switch to center back as a junior and the results were amazing. In her junior and senior years, Carolina won back-to-back ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament championships, posted 36 shutouts and limited teams to less than half a goal a game over two national championship campaigns.

A four-time All-ACC Academic selection and regular on the UNC Dean's List, Engen finally began to earn the athletic recognition she deserved in 2008 when she was a third-team NSCAA All-America and second-team All-ACC choice.

As a senior everything came together for Engen and she was not only the winner of the Honda Award but also was a first-team All-America choice by the NSCAA and Soccer America. She was named first-team All-ACC, the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and the defensive MVP of the NCAA College Cup. Carolina finished 23-3-1 overall and won its 21st national championship. The Tar Heels pitched 19 shutouts and had separate strings of seven and eight clean sheets during the year. The Tar Heels were third in the nation in goals against average at 0.43 and most impressively they shut out 10 of their last 11 opponents including clean sheets against No. 5 Notre Dame and No. 1 Stanford in the NCAA College Cup.

Engen was selected in the first round of the 2010 WPS draft by the Chicago franchise.

AMBER BROOKS 2012 National Player of the Year

One of the toughest, grittiest and most cerebral players to ever don the Carolina Blue & White, midfielder Amber Brooks capped her brilliant career in 2012 by being named the National Player of the Year by Top Drawer Soccer, making her the 18th Tar Heel in history to earn some form of player of the year accolades. That she earned this accolade while playing the holding center midfield spot in UNC's 3-4-3 system is an even greater testament to the respect in which she was regarded by her peers, the media and coaches. She was never going to be recognized for her scoring prowess but her overall field play and leadership was well recognized by those who love the sport.

Brooks bookended her career with NCAA championships as she started in the final against Stanford in 2009 when the Tar Heels won 1-0 and against Penn State in 2012 when Carolina pulled off a 4-1 victory.

Brooks was a four-year starter who played on a 2009 ACC Tournament champion winner and a 2010 ACC regular season championship team. The New Hope, Pa., native was ranked as the No. 2 recruit in the high school class of 2009. She lived up to the hype, not only in a Carolina uniform but also on the international stage as a member of youth teams, including the U20 and U23 National Teams while still competing at UNC. She was the captain of the U23 Team for the USA in 2012. She trained with the full U.S. National Team on a regular basis and she earned her first USWNT cap in November 2013. After graduating from UNC in just three and one half years she played professionally overseas for FC Bayern Munchen on her initial sojourn into the professional ranks.

Brooks served as UNC's team captain in both 2011 and 2012. She was a finalist for the Senior CLASS Award in her final season and earned the highest honors possible from the Carolina Leadership Academy. She was a four-time ACC Academic Honor Roll selection and made the Dean's List all seven of her semesters at Carolina. Three times she was named to the All-ACC Academic Women's Soccer Team. Brooks was the embodiment of the phrase student-athlete at Carolina.

Brooks had a stellar academic career, being named the ACC Women's Soccer Scholar Athlete of the Year for 2012-13. She was a Capital One first-team Academic All-America in 2012 as selected by the College Sports Information Directors of America after being named to the second team Academic All-America squad in 2011.

She was named first-team All-ACC in both 2011 and 2012 after being named a second team choice as a sophomore. She made the league's All-Freshman team in 2009 after earning the starting role at playmaking center midfield at midseason. She started every game for the Tar Heels in her sophomore, junior and senior seasons after starting the final 10 matches of her freshman campaign, nine of which were post-season victories.

During her senior year she was named first-team All-America by Top Drawer Soccer and was a third-team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. She also earned first-team NSCAA All-Southeast Region honors in her final campaign. She made the All-Tournament Team at the 2012 NCAA College Cup as well. In 2009, Brooks was named a first-team freshman All-America by Soccer America.

In 93 career games, including 81 starts, she had 17 goals and 19 assists for 53 points.

In November 2013, she was one of 10 NCAA student-athletes to be presented with Today's Top X award for athletes, academics, and community service. She was the third UNC women's soccer player to receive the prestigious award, joining Heather O'Reilly (2006) and Yael Averbuch (2008).

CRYSTAL DUNN 2012 National Player of the Year

Crystal Dunn finished her Tar Heel career as one of the most decorated players in UNC history. Her four-year career was highlighted by enormous success both on the collegiate level and in international play. In 2012, Dunn became the first Tar Heel underclassman to win national player of the year accolades since Casey Nogueira in 2008.

As a junior, Dunn won the Hermann Trophy, the first Tar Heel to capture that prestigious award since Catherine Reddick in 2003. She also won the Honda Sports Award for Soccer, the first Tar Heel since Whitney Engen in 2009, and she was also named national player of the year by Soccer America and by Soccer News Net.

She followed all those awards up by being a finalist for the 2013 ESPY for Female College Athlete of the Year and then garnering the fabled Mary Garber Award as the Female Athlete of the Year in the Atlantic Coast Conference. She was the first Tar Heel to win that award since Engen in 2010. Overall, Tar Heels have won the Garber Award eight times, all by women's soccer players.

At the conclusion of her senior year, the multi-talented Dunn won the Patterson Medal as Carolina's outstanding senior female student-athlete.

Dunn, a first-team All-ACC choice each of her first four years at Carolina, was named the ACC Defensive Player of the Year in both 2010 and 2012. As a senior in 2013, she was named the ACC Offensive Player of the Year after scoring 14 goals and passing for six assists and leading the Tar Heels in scoring with 34 points. She was the first player in ACC history to have won both the offensive and defensive awards in her career.

As a junior and a senior, she was named a first-team All-America selection by the NSCAA, by Soccer America and by Top Drawer Soccer. She also won first-team All-America honors from the NSCAA as a freshman.

Dunn's 2012 collegiate season was a special one as she started the last 17 games of the campaign after returning from the women's U20 World Cup in Japan. She started the first 11 of those games on defense before being switched to attacking center midfielder where she thrived in six NCAA Tournament games. She scored all five of her goals in the NCAA post-season including the game-tying goal against Baylor in the third round (UNC went on to win in penalty kicks 4-2) and both goals in the quarterfinals versus BYU, including the winner in double overtime in a 2-1 road win at Provo. She then assisted on Kealia Ohai's game-winning goal in the second overtime in the NCAA semifinal win over No. 1 Stanford.

Dunn helped lead the USA Team to the gold medal at the U20 World Cup in Japan in September 2012. She started every game on defense for the U.S., playing every minute of the tournament in pool play and the medal round. She assisted on a goal by Kealia Ohai that lifted the Americans to the gold medal with a 1-0 win the championship game over the German side.

In spring 2013, she received her first call up to the U.S. Women's National Team and became the 51st Tar Heel in history to earn a cap (eight more Tar Heels have been capped since then for a total of 59). Her first cap came against Scotland on February 13, 2013 and her first start against Iceland on March 6, 2013. In 2016, she was one of 18 players chosen to the U.S. Olympic Team that competed in Brazil. She started on defense for the U.S. as it won the 2019 World Cup title.

Dunn finished her UNC career with 31 goals and 25 assists for 87 points. She played in 80 games, starting 77 matches.

She was the No. 1 pick in the 2014 National Women's Soccer League Draft, being chosen by the Washington Spirit.

KATE FAASSE 2024 National Player of the Year

To say Kate Faasse had a breakout junior season in 2024 is an understatement. After scoring four goals in her freshman and sophomore year combined, she exploded onto the scene as a junior. The forward's 20 goals and eight game-winners led the nation while her 44 points ranked first in the ACC and second in the NCAA.

Faasse guided the Tar Heels to the 2024 national championship, the program's 23rd and first since 2012. The nation's outright scoring leader with 20 goals, Faasse was the fourth player this century to win an NCAA championship while leading the country in goals, joining soccer greats Catarina Macario (2019), Casey Nogueira (2008) and Christine Sinclair (2002, 2005).

The Phoenix, Arizona native was no stranger to awards. She won the coveted MAC Hermann Trophy, presented annually to the United Soccer Coaches National Player of the Year. She became the eighth Tar Heel to win the Hermann Trophy in program history. She also won the prestigious Honda Sport Award for Soccer presented by the CWSA, becoming the 11th Tar Heel to win the Honda Award in program history.

Faasse became the first Tar Heel to be a MAC Hermann finalist and First Team All-American since Brianna Pinto in 2020. She was the first Tar Heel to be a Honda Award finalist since Emily Fox in 2020.

Other honors Faasse garnered in 2024 included TopDrawerSoccer Player of the Year, United Soccer Coaches All-America First Team, United Soccer Coaches All-Atlantic Region First Team, All-ACC First Team, TopDrawerSoccer Best XI First Team, ACC All-Tournament Team and TopDrawerSoccer Team of the Week (Dec. 4).

Her eight game-winning goals led the ACC and was tied for first in the NCAA. She finished the year with 44 points which led the conference and ranked second in the nation. She had the most goals (20) and points (44) by a Tar Heel since Casey Nogueira in 2008. In fact, she was the fourth Tar Heel with 20+ goals in a single season since the turn of the century.

Faasse tallied seven goals in 10 regular season ACC matches as well as eight goals throughout the ACC and NCAA Tournament. She had five braces in 2024, three of which were during the postseason. She became the first Tar Heel to have a brace in the ACC Tournament championship game since Casey Nogueira in 2009. She was the first Tar Heel to have 3+ braces in one season since Alessia Russo also had five in 2019. Only three Tar Heels have had 3+ braces in a single season in the last decade: Faasse (5, 2024), Alessia Russo (5, 2019) and Bridgette Andrzejewski (4, 2016).

Faasse netted the game-winning golden goal vs. #22 Penn State in the NCAA Quarterfinals. She also had the game-winner vs. #1 Duke in the NCAA Semifinals as well as against Colorado, Columbia, Wake Forest, Pitt, Louisville and Virginia Tech.

In 2024, Faasse ranked second on the team, and first among field players, with 2,300 minutes. She logged a full 90+ minutes in 16 matches. She fired off 67 shots with 33 landing on target. Faasse was No. 10 on TopDrawerSoccer's Midseason Top 100 Player rankings and ended the year as TopDrawerSoccer's No. 1-ranked player.

After the 2024 season, Faasse was called up to the U.S. Women's National Team 2025 Futures Camp.

She will return to Chapel Hill for her senior season in 2025.

CARLA OVERBECK

1995-2000 U.S. National Team Captain

Carla Werden Overbeck is a proven winner. She is one of only three women in history to win an NCAA title, an Olympic gold medal, a World Cup championship and the Women's United Soccer Association Founders Cup championship, joining Tar Heels Tisha Venturini and Mia Hamm in that category.

While she had an outstanding career at Carolina as one of the nation's standout defenders, her level of success playing for the U.S. National Team in international competition became the hallmark of her playing career. As a member of the U.S. Women's National Team from 1988-2000, she was the sixth-most capped player in the team's history at the time of her retirement, appearing in 170 games. She still ranks 16th all-time in National Team caps 19 years after retiring from the international game.

Winning has never been foreign to Werden, who played on four Carolina women's teams from 1986-89 that won NCAA championships. The Tar Heels did not lose a single game during her four-year tenure, compiling a record of 89-0-6 from 1986-89. The NSCAA named her a first-team All-America in both 1987 and 1988 and a second-team All-America in 1989.

As the catalyst of the defense, Werden led UNC to four NCAA championships. UNC conceded only one goal in the four NCAA championship games in which she played as a Tar Heel.

She earned first-team All-ACC accolades as a junior and senior.

She was named the Most Valuable Defensive Player of the 1988 NCAA Tournament as the Tar Heels defeated archrival NC State 4-1 in the championship game. Her defensive prowess was evidenced by her four appearances on the NCAA All-Tournament team as a Tar Heel defender.

Werden began competing internationally while she was still a Tar Heel. She competed on the 1988 United States Team that won the gold medal at the Goodwill Games in New York. Overbeck was also a member of the 1991 U.S. National Team that won the World Cup in China under the aegis of her college coach, Anson Dorrance. She was captain of the 1995 U.S. World Cup squad, which finished third. In 1996, she was captain of the U.S. National Team that won the gold medal at the Olympic Games, the first gold medal ever awarded in the sport in Olympic history. Overbeck led the American squad to dramatic victories in both the semifinals and finals of that event.

In 1999, she started 22 games for the U.S. National Team, playing 1,764 minutes as she co-captained the United States Team that won the World Cup championship. She converted on the first penalty kick in the U.S.'s victory over China in the World Cup championship match. The U.S. won the penalty kick shootout 5-4 after battling the Chinese to a scoreless tie after 120 minutes of regulation time and overtime. The U.S. defense did not allow a goal that World Cup in either the semifinal or championship round of play.

Overbeck is now in her 29th year as an assistant coach at Duke University. She also played for the Carolina Courage in the WUSA, leading the team to the Founder's Cup crown in 2002. She was a charter member in the founding of the pro league.

She graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1990 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology. Werden is a native of Dallas, Texas, where she attended Richardson High School. She was born May 9, 1968 in Pasadena, Calif. Her husband, Greg Overbeck, co-owns several restaurants in the Triangle, including Squid's, 411 West and Lula's in Chapel Hill. They have a 22-year-old son, Jackson, and a 16-year-old daughter, Carson.

Overbeck was inducted into the National Soccer Hall of Fame in 2006 and to the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 2010.

All losses and ties are indicated in italic letters.

Notes On Overtime Games:

• From 1979-1997, overtime games were formatted to include two mandated 15-minute overtime periods played out in their entirety. So all games indicated as overtime games during those 19 years are indicated with a 2OT designation and were all decided in two mandatory 15-minute periods. • Beginning in 1998, the overtime process was changed to a golden goal format with the exception of ACC and NCAA Tournament games. A goal scored in overtime ended the contest at that point in time. In 1999, the golden goal format went into effect for ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament games as well. In 1998-2001, overtime periods were 15 minutes in length. • Beginning in 2002, the process remained golden goal but the overtime periods were reduced to 10 minutes in length. From 1999 to the present, games that went to overtime are listed as either OT or 2OT depending on when the golden goal was scored. The 1998 NCAA semifinal match versus Portland was a four overtime sudden death match. The game would have gone to penalty kicks after the fourth overtime period. Games with penalty kicks outcomes are only relevant for ACC Tournament and NCAA Tournament play when the games have ended in ties after regulation and the mandatory overtime periods. •Overtime was eliminated from regular season matches in 2022.

Note: One game in UNC history has not gone the regulation 90 minutes. In a contest at Notre Dame in 1997, UNC and the Fighting Irish played to a 2-2 tie in a match that was ended in the 72nd due to repeated lightning delays.

Note: Beginning the 2023 season, North Carolina has played 1,052 games in its history.

*The NCAA recognizes only solo shutouts for individual statistical purposes. A shared shutout goes down as a team shutout but is not credited to any individual. Despite extensive records research by UNC Athletic Communications, determining the goalkeepers who played in shutout games in 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1984, 1985, 1987 and 1988 did not yield complete and accurate results.

ACC Tournament
* NCAA Tournament

The University of North Carolina boasts one of the finest soccer and lacrosse facilities in the nation. Carolina opened its new, on-campus Lacrosse & Soccer Stadium on March 2, 2019, by hosting a men's and women's lacrosse doubleheader. The stadium was dedicated as Dorrance Field in honor of longtime women's soccer coach Anson Dorrance in September 2019.

Construction on the facility began in May 2017. It is built on the site of the old Fetzer Field, which housed six sports on campus from 1935 through 2017. The facility is home to UNC's men's and women's soccer and lacrosse teams.

The stadium provides the student-athletes and coaches of the of these programs with the facility needed to continue to pursue the championships for which they are known. Fans in the stadium can enjoy a much-improved gameday experience with new seating, concession areas, restrooms and amenities.

Dorrance Field provides a state-of-the-art home for the four programs, offering the operational space needed to compete at a championship level. The stadium will also bring fans closer to the field.

The new stadium features:

- A natural grass playing field
- Offices and team meeting rooms
- Locker rooms
- 4,200 individual chair back seats
- New concessions and restrooms
- New LED scoreboard/video board

Dorrance Field is located in the heart of central campus and connects on its south end with the Football Practice Complex, providing a needed and attractive connection between the southeast side of campus and central campus.

The new stadium was finished in time to host men's and women's lacrosse games in March 2019, including the 2019 ACC Men's Lacrosse Tournament.

The first women's soccer match at Dorrance Field was a 3-0 win over Indiana on August 22, 2019.

Fetzer Field

Prior to its renovation, the UNC women's soccer program called Fetzer Field its home stadium from its infancy in 1979. In its ninth decade of use as a multi-sport facility, Fetzer Field was one of the premier soccer domains in the nation and has been a site where many signature events in UNC athletic history have taken place over the years.

Fetzer was originally built in 1935 with extensive upgrades taking place from 1988-90. The facility was host to the NCAA Women's College Cup semifinal and final games seven times in the history of the tournament.

A Fetzer Field record crowd of 7,212, at the time the most to ever see a women's collegiate soccer game, watched the No. 1 Tar Heels fall to No. 4 Notre Dame 1-0 in the 1995 NCAA semifinals.

The largest regular-season crowd in Fetzer Field lore witnessed the top-ranked Tar Heels' 5-1 victory over second-ranked Notre Dame on September 13, 1998 as 6,024 fans streamed through the Fetzer Field gates.

Large crowds are a regular part of UNC women's soccer history. Carolina led the NCAA in average home attendance five straight years from 1998-2002. Since the NCAA initially compiled attendance figures in 1998, Carolina has ranked in the Top 25 in average home attendance in every single season. Carolina ranked second in average home attendance in 2003 and 2004, stood third in the standings in 2005, 2007 and 2009, ranked fourth in 2008, and was fifth in 2006 and 2010. The Tar Heels were sixth in average home attendance in 2015.

Named for former Tar Heel athletic director and track coach Robert Allison Fetzer, the stadium was the home of Carolina soccer since 1947, the first year that UNC sponsored a men's team. The women's program was started in 1979 as one of the first women's programs in the nation. Anson Dorrance has been the only head coach of the women's program in that time and only five men have served as the head coach of men's teams in games played at Fetzer Field since 1947. Dorrance himself served as the men's team head coach for 12 seasons (1977-88).

All-Time Home Record

Heading into the 2025 season, Carolina has played 482 games at home sites since the program began in 1979. In those 482 games, UNC has posted a record of 427-34-21, a winning percentage of .908. In those 482 games, UNC has out-scored its opponents by a 1,749-239 margin.

campus directly adjacent to historic Carmichael Arena on South Road, also referred to as Raleigh Road, the playing field, track and grandstand was completed in 1935 as a Works Project Administration program during the administration of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt. In the heart of the Great Depression, the building of Fetzer Field provided a plethora of much needed jobs to Tar Heel natives who were then suffering through economic depravation.

The facility's renovations over the years made it one of the most beautiful all-around collegiate venues in the nation. Fetzer Field sat in a natural valley in the center of campus surrounded by Carmichael Arena (the home of Carolina basketball from 1965-86), the Michael Hooker intramural fields, the Institute of Government, the Eddie Smith Field House, Henry Stadium, the Navy Field football and lacrosse practice fields, Teague and Carmichael dormitories and Kessing Outdoor Pool.

Fetzer Field was the home facility for six of Carolina's 28 teams—men's soccer, women's soccer, men's outdoor track and field, women's outdoor track and field, men's lacrosse and women's lacrosse. Fetzer Field was at the heart of the UNC athletic program. It was the home facility for four different sports which have won NCAA championships in their histories (men's soccer, women's soccer, men's lacrosse, women's lacrosse).
