STORYLINES

NOTES ABOUT THE BEARS

UNC continues to produce solid numbers at the plate, hitting .276 as a team. Jaden Stone leads the way with a .344 average, while Logan Pruski (.320) and Sam Pease (.310) provide consistent support in the lineup. The Bears have demonstrated patience at the plate with 182 walks and the ability to generate scoring opportunities across the order. Defensively, Northern Colorado holds a .966 fielding percentage, showing reliability across the diamond. On the mound, Jake Storey, Reece Wagner, Ethan Louthan, and Trevor Landen continue to anchor the pitching staff, bringing experience and the ability to work deep into games.

LAST TIMEOUT

Northern Colorado is coming off a close series loss against Omaha, where the Bears battled but ultimately dropped the set. Despite the outcome, UNC continued to show flashes offensively, with multiple players contributing key hits throughout the series. The Bears remained competitive in each contest.

SERIES OUTLOOK

This weekend presents an important opportunity for Northern Colorado to respond after last week's setback. With conference standings beginning to take shape, the Bears will look to put together complete performances on both sides of the ball and come away with key road victories.
