Located in Grand Forks in the heart of the Red River Valley, the University of North Dakota is the largest and most diversified institution of higher learning in a three-state region. One of only 47 public institutions with both a law school and a medical school, UND consistently ranks by most measures as one of the top 150 universities in the United States. Its more than 14,000 students – including over 2,500 graduate students, 250 law students, and 240 medical students – come from every state in the union and more than 50 countries.

Stretching out from the banks of the scenic English Coulee, the 548-acre University of North Dakota campus has been nationally recognized for its landscaping and beauty. The 242 buildings demonstrate both classic university architecture blended with more futuristic facilities in the Aerospace complex. UND's newest additions are the remodeled and expanded energy-efficient and environmentally conscious Education Building, the $20 million Wellness Center, and University Place, an innovative apartment-style residence hall.

With 218 fields of study and nearly 3,000 courses, including internationally recognized programs in aviation, aerospace, and Unmanned Aerial Systems, UND has a vast array of educational choices. The most popular programs include engineering, health professions, business, aerospace, and education. The University is characterized by a solid foundation of the liberal arts surrounded by a constellation of professional programs, a manageable size, high-quality students and faculty, a varied curriculum, nine colleges and schools, a widely recognized program of graduate education and research, rich cultural resources, and an outstanding record of alumni support.

UND is consistently ranked highly in college guides, including U.S. News & World Report, Forbes, Princeton Review, and more. Its economic impact on the state of North Dakota and region is nearly $1 billion.

People:

- 14,697 total enrollment (Fall 2011)
- 11,139 undergraduate students
- 3,055 graduate and professional (law and medicine) students
- 52% men, 48% women
- 2.5% American Indian, 1.6% African-American, 1.6% Latino-American, and 1.4% Asian-American students
- 50 states and more than 50 countries are represented in the student body
- 2,979 live in UND's 14 residence halls
- 664 faculty and 2,149 staff
- 116,251 degrees granted since 1889
- 98,235 living alumni
- UND had more than 25,000 enrollments in its online academic courses and programs, non-credit courses, workshops, and other professional development activities

Quick Facts:

- Founded in 1883, six years before North Dakota became a state
- There are 14 residence halls, 850 student apartment units, and 19 fraternities and sororities
- UND has over 200 student organizations
- The Dakota Student, the official publication of UND, was first published in 1888

UND offers 52 master's and 26 doctoral programs, as well as professional programs in law (J.D.) and medicine (M.D.), and undergraduate degrees in 89 fields of study in nine degree-granting colleges:

- College of Arts & Sciences
- College of Business & Public Administration
- College of Education & Human Development
- Graduate School
- The John D. Odegard School of Aerospace Sciences
- College of Nursing
- School Engineering and Mines
- School of Law

Grand Forks, N.D., is a classic university town. Located in the heart of the Red River Valley on Interstate 29, the largely residential town offers a community environment with all the amenities of a large urban area and the safety and convenience of a small community, and is within driving distance of great amenities in the region.

Grand Forks has outdoor activities for every season:

- 900 acres of park land with trails, sports fields and courts, lakes, playground equipment.
- The Greenway - 2,200 acres along the Red River
- Twenty miles from Turtle River State Park.
- Five golf courses including King's Walk, the only PGA-rated golf course in North Dakota.
- One-of-a-kind Japanese Garden at Sertoma Park.

Greater Grand Forks is an impressively cosmopolitan city, boasting a regional population of roughly 75,000 residents and spanning two states. Because of its diversity, there's always live theatre, musical performances, art shows or a concert from rock to the Grand Forks Symphony somewhere in Grand Forks:

- Alerus Center
- Empire Arts Center
- Ralph Engelstad Arena complex
- Fire Hall Theatre
- The North Dakota Museum of Art
- Chester Fritz Auditorium
- Grand Cities Art Fest
- First Night Celebration

Wherever one lives in Grand Forks, great shops and restaurants are always within a short distance. Additional commercial growth has sprouted at the southwest end of the city, anchored by the Columbia Mall and Market Place. However, the heart of the Grand Cities is downtown, which spans the Red River. Downtown features a large variety of options and events, from a Farmer's Market at the Town Square to fine dining.

ALERUS CENTER

A frenzied crowd of 12,431 packed the 2009 home opener against South Dakota, the largest season-opening crowd in Alerus Center history.

BETTY ENGELSTAD SIOUX CENTER

The Betty Engelstad Sioux Center (left and below) opened in August 2004 and is home to the UND volleyball and basketball teams, while also housing the Fighting Sioux women's soccer locker room and offices.

One of the premiere arenas of its kind in the country, the Sioux Center has a capacity of approximately 3,300. There are 2,600 seats with molded chair backs, 700 telescopic bleacher seats and additional seating in the VIP area.

APOLLO SPORTS COMPLEX

HYSLOP SPORTS CENTER

Over the many years, the Hyslop Sports Center (above and right) has served a number of different functions. Today it houses the athletic administration offices, the athletic academic study center, the swimming and diving pool, weight room, coaching offices and locker room facilities.

RAY RICHARDS GOLF COURSE

Ray Richards Golf Course (left) is home to the cross country teams' annual home event, the Ron Pynn Invitational. The course is set up as a 5K for women and 8K for men, providing a challenging route well-known in the Upper Midwest.

BRONSON FIELD

Bronson Field (above) has been the home of North Dakota women's soccer since the team's inception in 1999. The natural grass field is located on campus, west of the UND bookstore and part of the Ralph Engelstad Arena sports complex. A second practice field is located just east of the Ralph Engelstad Arena.

CENTER COURT FITNESS CLUB

Center Court Fitness Club (above), which is owned and operated by the Grand Forks Park District, is the home of the UND women's tennis team. The facility has five indoor regulation tennis courts.

Construction has also begun on the future home of UND tennis, the $25 million Choice Health and Fitness Club. Once completed, the facility will feature six indoor courts and six outdoor illuminated courts. The projected completion date is Fall 2012.

KING'S WALK GOLF COURSE

King's Walk Golf Course (left) is the home to the University of North Dakota men's and women's golf teams. The Arnold Palmer-designed course recreates the atmosphere found on the great links courses of Scotland and Ireland.

RALPH ENGELSTAD ARENA

The most visited tourist destination in North Dakota, the new Ralph Engelstad Arena (above and right) has become widely regarded as the finest hockey facility in the world. The premiere home to college hockey, the Engelstad Arena has just about everything.

As soon as fans enter the doors, they know they are in the Fighting Sioux hockey arena. Seven NCAA and 14 WCHA championship banners hang proudly from the rafters.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

Memorial Stadium (left) is the most historic building among the University of North Dakota athletic facilities. It boasts a rich and colorful history that continues today, serving as the practice home and offices for North Dakota football.

KRAFT FIELD

The North Dakota baseball team plays its home games at Kraft Field, a facility owned and operated by the Grand Forks Park District that includes bleacher seating for 2,000 in a picturesque setting with evergreens lining the outfield fences. The facility recently received a new artificial infield prior to the 2011 season.

UND's Academic Awards Night in February honored 244 student-athletes who achieved either a 3.0 GPA during the fall semester or a cumulative 3.0 through the Fall 2010 semester. More than half of UND's student-athletes achieved this high honor, including 46 who owned a perfect 4.0 GPA.

NOTABLE ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS IN 2010-11

- UND placed 110 student-athletes on the Great West Conference (GWC) and Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) all-academic teams, including a team-record 16 men's hockey student-athletes.
- UND's student-athletes owned a collective 3.089 GPA in 2010-11.
- Sixty-four percent of UND's student-athletes boasted a 3.0 GPA during the spring semester alone.
- Former softball and hockey standout Casie Hanson was one of eight national recipients of the prestigious NCAA Top VIII Award.
- Junior goalie Brad Eidsness received the NCAA Elite 88 Award for men's hockey.
- UND's women's golf program received public recognition from the NCAA for its outstanding multiyear Academic Progress Rate (APR). UND's APR ranked in the top 10 percent of all Division I women's golf programs, which accounts for the 2006-07 through 2009-10 academic years.
- The women's swimming and diving program ranked fourth among the 89 NCAA Division I teams named to the 2010 College Swim Coaches Association of America (CSCAA) Scholar All America Team in February.

The George and Arlene Schubert Athletics Academic Center provides a comfortable and centrally-located site to aid in the promotion of academics for all student-athletes.

UND athletics prides itself on the academic excellence of its student-athletes, whose athletic achievements are matched by academic distinction on a yearly basis.

The George and Arlene Schubert Athletics Academic Center, which opened in April 2008, serves as a study center for student-athletes and is conveniently located in the Hyslop Sports Center.

Academic services director Amanda Hajdu oversees the study center, which features 12 state-of-the-art, desktop computers and provides an excellent location for student-athletes to utilize between classes for valuable daytime study. The academic center is also available on demand to student-athletes for evening study table.

UND's student-athletes also have access to a variety of laptop computers for use on road trips, further emphasizing a department-wide commitment to academics.

Director of Academic Services

ALL-TIME ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS

A longtime hallmark of Fighting Sioux athletics has been academic excellence.

During the first three years of Division I transition, UND's student-athletes have earned 10 academic All-America honors, four NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, and a pair of prestigious NCAA academic awards.

UND established its academic reputation with 65 all-time Academic All-Americans at the Division II level, fourth-most all-time among DII schools.

Rory Manke, pictured with UND President Dr. Robert Kelley (left) and athletics director Brian Faison, was a two-time Academic All-American and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipient.

The foundation of UND athletics is the unwavering passion of Fighting Sioux fans, the nation's best.

"Sometimes you feel so low, but when you are done you realize that the whole thing has been a highlight. This has been the greatest highlight of my life."

-- Kierah Kimbrough, former women's basketball player, after playing her final game at UND

Director of Strength and Conditioning

MISSION

It is our mission to physically and mentally prepare the student-athlete for the rigors of collegiate athletics, by implementing professionally designed, scientifically sound training programs, designed specifically to reduce the incidence of injury and help each team and student-athlete reach their full athletic potential.

PHILOSOPHY

We believe that strength and conditioning is crucial to the complete development of the student-athlete. The philosophy of our strength and conditioning program is based on the belief that what occurs in the weight room and field transfers to the playing surface. We train sport specifically with the goal of enhancing athleticism. We also believe in the importance of work ethic, attitude, accountability and mental toughness and that these qualities can be developed and enhanced through our strength and conditioning program.

At the University of North Dakota, one program, functioning behind the scenes, but which should not be taken lightly, is the strength and conditioning program. The strength and conditioning program at UND is among the finest in Division I and vital to the success of all UND athletic teams. The strength and conditioning staff commits themselves to the development of size, strength, power, speed, agility, conditioning, and body composition of each student-athlete. The goal of the strength staff is to develop the athlete and team to reach their maximum potential throughout their career while staying injury free.

Nate Baukol, director of strength and conditioning, oversees the program and facilities. Baukol has three full-time assistant coaches and one graduate assistant coach to assist him.

Together they direct and monitor the training of over 400 student-athletes in 20 sports at UND. UND also boasts some of the finest strength training facilities around. The facilities include weight rooms at the Ralph Engelstad Arena, the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center, Memorial Stadium, and the Hyslop Sports Center.

Training has become a year-round activity, with a student athlete spending as much time on physical development as any other part of their sport throughout the year. Student-athletes follow either off-season or in-season programs, which are individualized specific to the athlete and sport. Off-season programs are five days a week, summer months included.

Each athlete receives a comprehensive summer training manual to follow, given that a member of the strength staff won't be supervising them. In-season programs are typically 45-minute sessions, two to three days per week, supervised by the strength and conditioning staff.

Steve Westereng
Director of Sports Medicine

One of the unfortunate aspects of athletics is that injuries do occur. However, every student-athlete from UND athletic teams are under excellent care thanks to the UND Division of Sports Medicine and its umbrella of staff, facilities and training.

With a staff of 11 faculty athletic trainers, three graduate assistant athletic trainers and 30 athletic training students headed by director of sports medicine Steve Westereng, UND student-athletes are in good hands, returning them quickly and safely to participation.

The UND Division of Sports Medicine was formed in 1990. Additionally, the bachelor of science in athletic training degree and the UND Center for Sports Medicine was founded. The athletic training education program was the first program in the nation to be placed directly in a school of medicine and is housed within the Department of Family Medicine, combining the efforts of the UND Athletic Training program and the UND School of Medicine and Health Sciences.

UND's progressive thinking makes the institution a leader in the field of athletic training. Moreover, the program's affiliation with the School of Medicine helps both the athletic training student and the student-athlete. Completion of the bachelor of science in athletic training allows the student to sit for the board of certification exam to become a certified athletic trainer (ATC).

The student-athletes also benefit from having a wealth of competent individuals getting them back into action.

In order to be accepted into the athletic training program, a student must complete 100 hours of observation, fill out a formal application, and have a minimum GPA of 2.75.

The Division of Sports Medicine also has an outpatient facility, the UND Center for Sports Medicine, which specializes in rehabilitation of orthopedic injuries. UND student-athletes, as well as the general public, utilize this facility to decrease pain, increase strength, and improve range of motion of injuries. Many of the injuries seen in the Center for Sports Medicine are significant, such as pre- and post-surgical issues. The center is staffed by Cathy Ziegler, PT/ATC, and Robin Tracy, PT/ATC, who have experience with high school, college, and professional athletes.

Whether it is reading to area school children or lending their time to countless charitable organizations or providing disaster relief, UND's student-athletes pride themselves on their community involvement and have long been looked upon as pillars within the UND and Grand Forks communities. In 2010-11 alone, UND student-athletes logged nearly 7,100 hours of community service.

IMPACT SCHOLARSHIPS

Increasing the support available immediately for scholarships is a critical during UND Athletics' Division I transition. Impact Scholarships are helping ensure UND Athletics has the resources necessary during its move to recruit the brightest, most talented athletes and continue offering scholarship packages comparable to those being offered by our D-I competitors. Donors who fund five-year full or partial scholarships are recognized on the Fighting Sioux Legacy Wall.

PRESIDENT

Dr. Robert Kelley

Dr. Robert Kelley began serving as UND's 11th president July 1, 2008.

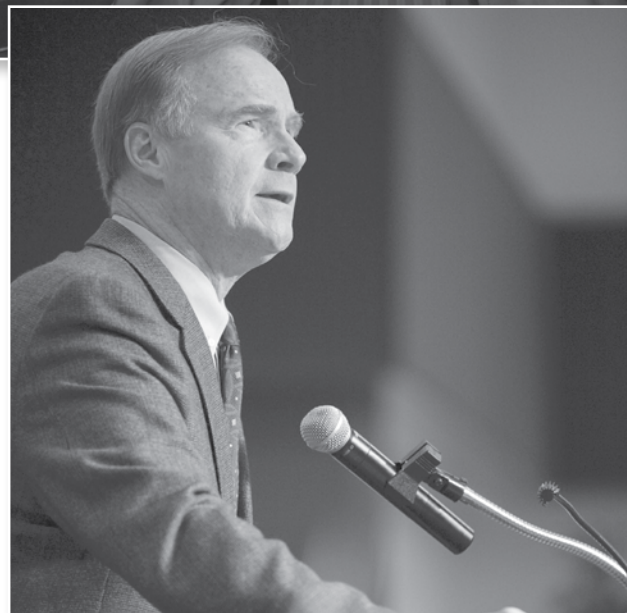

He had been dean of the College of Health Sciences and professor of medical education and public health at the University of Wyoming since 1999.

Before then, he was associate vice chancellor for research and executive associate dean of the graduate college at the University of Illinois at Chicago, and professor of biological sciences at the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and professor of anatomy and cell biology at the College of Medicine, both at the University of Illinois at Chicago. At the University of New Mexico, he served as chair of anatomy and senior executive associate dean, as well as other faculty capacities. He has also taught at the University of California, Berkeley.

Kelley earned his bachelor's degree in biology and chemistry from Abilene Christian University in Abilene, Texas, in 1965, and his master's degree in 1966 and doctorate in 1969, both in cell and developmental biology from the University of California, Berkeley.

Kelley has served as chair of the Assembly for the Association of American Medical Colleges, chaired the Council of Academic Societies for the AAMC, and was a member of the executive board of the National Board of Medical Examiners, which is responsible for the U.S. medical licensure examination. In addition, he has served the National Institutes of Health (NIH) on several study sections, served on the director's advisory board for NIH strategic planning, and chaired the Minority Biomedical Research Support Program advisory committee in the NIH Division of Research Resources. That program helped support research for historically black universities, tribal colleges, and "minority-majority" institutions. He also served as principal investigator for the University of Wyoming/Northern Rockies INBRE (IDeA Network of Biomedical Research Excellence), an NIH program which promotes biomedical research and connects the state's community colleges with the University of Wyoming.

He and his wife, Marcia, who was a lecturer in the University of Wyoming Department of Communication Disorders, have four children.

Sue Jenö, an associate professor of physical therapy, serves as the Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR) to the National Collegiate Athletics Association. She has held the position since November 2006.

Jenö has served as a member of the Intercollegiate Athletics Committee for six years and was the chair of the University Senate during the 2005-06 academic year.

Jenö is a former NCAA Division I student-athlete and coach. After competing for the University of Michigan synchronized swimming team, she graduated and served as a coach for the Wolverines for two seasons.

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Brian Faison

Brian Faison is in his fourth year as athletics director at the University of North Dakota. Faison assumed his duties at UND in May of 2008.

In leading UND Athletics through the Division I transition, alumni and fan support have continued to grow: Fighting Sioux Club and endowment giving have enjoyed another record year; volleyball had a second record-breaking season at the turnstile, while women's and men's hockey both finished second in the nation in attendance.

Competitively, UND teams again enjoyed outstanding seasons resulting in two conference regular season championships, three conference post-season tournaments championships, four conference student-athletes of the year, three All-Americans, two national players of the year, a fifth trip to the Frozen Four in the past seven years, and a second place finish in the all-sports standings of the Great West Conference.

In the classroom, student-athletes continued their tradition of academic excellence: a record number of student-athletes were named to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll for the fall and spring semesters; women's basketball, women's swimming and diving, men's track and field and men's golf were all recognized nationally for their academic performance, while UND student-athletes received the prestigious NCAA Top VIII and NCAA Elite 88 awards.

Faison helped secure membership in the Big Sky Conference for 14 of UND sports. Competition will begin with the 2012-13 school year. And, he played a leadership role in the formation of the National Collegiate Hockey Conference joining Colorado College, Denver, Miami, Minnesota Duluth and Nebraska Omaha. Conference play begins in 2013.

Prior to joining UND, Faison served as special assistant to the president for athletics development (2004-07) and director of athletics (1999-04) at New Mexico State University. Before that, he served as the director of development for the National Children's Cancer Society (1995-1999). Faison gained experience in Division I administration as the director of athletics at Indiana State University (1988-1995), assistant athletics director for development at the University of Louisville (1984-1988) and assistant athletics director for promotions and fund raising at Illinois State University (1979-1984). He also had stints as the assistant manager for athletic public relations at the University of Missouri (1978-1979) and assistant director for alumni activities at the University of Missouri (1974-1978).

Faison received his bachelor's degree in 1972 from the University of Missouri and is also a 1997 graduate of the National Planned Giving Institute.

Faison and his wife, Donna, have three sons: Jonathan, Matthew and Bradley.

Daniella Irle

Senior Assoc. Athletics Director, Internal Operations/
Senior Woman Administrator

Daniella Irle serves as UND's senior associate athletics director of internal operations and senior woman administrator.

Irle came from the Tulane University, where she served as the assistant athletics director of business and student services.

Prior to that appointment, Irle spent three seasons as the head coach of the Tulane women's swimming and diving team, restarting the program after a 13-year hiatus. She was named Conference USA Coach of the Year in 2004-05 and 2005-06.

Irle also spent 10 years as the Fresno State swimming and diving coach. The Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year in 1993 and 1995, 79 of her swimmers broke Fresno State school records.

Sean Johnson

Senior Associate Athletics Director,
External Operations

Sean Johnson serves as the senior associate athletics director for external operations for UND athletics.

Prior to arriving at UND, Johnson most recently served as the associate athletics director of external operations and sports information director at the University of Texas A&M-Kingsville.

Johnson also spent five years at New Mexico State University, serving as sports information director, and in the final year and half, the associate athletic director.

Johnson is a 1983 graduate of the University of Missouri. His other stops have included Lincoln University, the University of Missouri-St. Louis, the University of Arkansas-Little Rock, Angelo State, the University of Idaho and the University of North Texas.

Scott Herring

Associate Athletics Director,
Chief Financial Officer

Scott Herring is UND's associate athletics director and chief financial officer.

Prior to coming to UND, Herring served as vice-president of basketball administration with the NBA's Orlando Magic, for which he was responsible for all day-to-day business and financial matters within basketball operations, as well as the team's salary cap and player contract issues.

Herring joined the Magic as a controller in 1988, one year before the team began play in the NBA as an expansion franchise. He was elevated to director of finance in 1994, senior director of finance, IT and administration in 1997 and became vice-president of basketball administration in 1999.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Space on the UND basketball press row is limited.

PLEASE REQUEST CREDENTIALS AND PHONE LINES AT LEAST ONE WEEK PRIOR TO THE GAME YOU PLAN ON COVERING!

Unless other arrangements have been made, you may pick up credentials inside the main Betty Engelstad Sioux Center entrance. Credentials will be issued only to working media, media relations personnel, league officials or staff members of the competing institutions with a legitimate need for access to the press box.

Please make your advance requests via e-mail to Christy Kramer (christina.kramer@athletics.UND.edu). Every effort will be made to fulfill each request. Credentials are for adult use only and are non-transferable.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Photographers must have a media credential issued by the UND athletics department and are reminded that no flash photography is allowed in the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center.

INTERVIEWS

Requests for interviews with UND student-athletes or coaches may be made by contacting Christy Kramer in the media relations office (701.777.4210).

- Players will return phone calls from media if asked to do so by media relations office personnel.
- Players and coaches are available for interviews before and after practice. Please contact Christy Kramer to make arrangements.
- Media may attend practice but it would be appreciated if you would call ahead to the media relations office to let us know you will be in attendance.

RADIO/TELEVISION

Space is available on the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center press row for on-air talent to broadcast games, along with limited space in the upper press box.

Space is reserved for North Dakota's home radio station, for the visiting team's radio station and for TV, if necessary.

Stations wishing to broadcast games are asked to contact the UND media relations office at least three weeks in advance of the game you intend to cover.

PRESS BOX OPERATIONS

Game programs, game notes, and statistics will be available in the press box prior to all North Dakota home games.

- Live stat monitors
- Quarter flash stats, final stats and play-by-play description will be available postgame.
- Media have access to wireless internet and electrical outlets.
- The press box will be equipped with a copy machine.
- Cheering or betting in the press box will not be tolerated and violators will be asked to leave.

The Betty Engelstad Sioux Center, located on the UND campus, is the home of Fighting Sioux basketball. Affectionately dubbed "The Betty," the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center opened its doors prior to the 2004-05 season, replacing the historic Hyslop Sports Center.

The multi-million dollar facility is adjacent to the renowned Ralph Engelstad Arena and also serves as the home of Fighting Sioux volleyball.

Named in honor of longtime UND benefactor Betty Engelstad, the widow of Ralph Engelstad, the arena seats approximately 3,000 fans and provides the Fighting Sioux basketball teams with a home-court advantage that is second to none.

The building was officially dedicated with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on August 24, 2004, attended by the Engelstad family and distinguished guests.

About Betty Engelstad

Elizabeth "Betty" Stocker was born January 1, 1933 in East Grand Forks, Minn., the daughter of Fred and Mary Stocker. Betty married Ralph Engelstad in 1954 and together they had one daughter, Kris Engelstad McGarry. Keeping with her late husband's generous financial contributions, Betty has emerged as a philanthropist in her own right, gifting to various charitable organizations.

As the newest addition to the Ralph Engelstad Arena complex, the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center is a lasting tribute to Betty Engelstad and the ongoing support and shared vision of the University of North Dakota and the Engelstad family.

Betty continues to reside in Las Vegas, Nev., near her daughter, son-in-law and two grandchildren.

The Fighting Sioux played their final games in the Hyslop Sports Center in 2003-04. The building, home to the Sioux since the beginning of the women's program, was host to 317 Sioux victories.

The Sioux opened the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center as the primary home to Fighting Sioux basketball in the 2004-05 season and have since gone 93-15 on their new home court.

Former women's basketball director of operations Ashley Langen was the first to tip off for the Fighting Sioux at the Betty. (bottom right)

With a free throw, former assistant coach Kristi Boese scored UND's first points in the new arena. (bottom left)

HEAD COACH

Year at UND: 25th year
Collegiate Experience: 28th year
Hometown: Velva, N.D.
Alma Mater: Mayville State, 1969

10-Time NCC Coach of the Year
2009-10 Great West Coach of the Year

Gene Roebuck was hired as the University of North Dakota's women's basketball coach in June 1987 and he soon transformed the program into a Division II powerhouse. Since Roebuck arrived at the helm, UND has gone 607-134 and has won 12 conference championships (11 NCC, one GWC) and in 1997, 1998, and 1999 captured back-to-back-to-back NCAA DII national championships. He has produced the WBCA Player of the Year four times and has guided eight NCC MVPs and one Great West Player of the Year. In addition, 19 players have been named All-America, 52 players were named All-NCC, and four have been named All-GWC.

Roebuck's athletic success began at Velva (N.D.) High School, where he earned 12 letters in football, basketball and baseball. He went on to play both baseball and basketball at Mayville State (N.D.) and earned a degree in physical education and business education in 1969. While at MSU, Roebuck was a four-year letterwinner and three-year starter in basketball. He also excelled in baseball, twice earning all-conference honors and being named to the NAIA District 12 team once. In the fall of 2000, he was inducted into the Mayville State Hall of Fame.

In 1984, Roebuck was hired as the women's basketball and baseball coach at UND-Lake Region College. In addition to leading the women's basketball team to a three-year mark of 87-14, he also guided the Royal baseball team to 1985, 1986 and 1987 North Dakota state baseball championships.

In June of 1987, he left Lake Region to take over as the head women's basketball coach at UND.

Had Roebuck come into a program that was already producing similar results, continuing such success would have been remarkable in itself, but prior to Roebuck's arrival, UND had had 13 seasons of basketball in which the Sioux went 177-161. Seven seasons were finished above .500 and six below. The 1987 team that he inherited had gone 7-20. The seven wins were five fewer than the 12 UND won in 1986, which was down from 23 wins in 1985.

The program had played in a grand total of two NCAA tournament games, losing both, and seemed to be spiraling downward. But Roebuck, who had gone 87-14 in three seasons at UND-Lake Region, got to work establishing the program he thought UND could be. The results were immediate and they were impressive.

The 1988 team opened up winning its first 15 games, including a 61-59 win at Division I Arizona. The Sioux took that perfect record into Fargo for Roebuck's first matchup with North Dakota State, a program that had already achieved the level of success Roebuck thought UND could achieve and even surpass. Though the Sioux lost, 77-70, it was clear to Roebuck and to followers of UND women's basketball that the program was on its way to bigger and better things.

The 1988 team went on to win 22 games and advance to the NCAA regionals for just the third time in the program's history. Roebuck and the Sioux were off and running.

In 1989 the team posted a 19-9 record. Though the 19 wins would be Roebuck's only time not reaching at least 20 wins over the next 20 years behind the bench, it was still a mark that had only been reached by the 1980 (19-8), 1984 (22-7) and 1985 (23-6) UND teams.

The first of two watershed breakthroughs for the program occurred during the 1990 season. The Sioux finished 27-4, Durene Heisler became UND's first NCC MVP and its first All-American, Roebuck won the first of his seven NCC Coach of the Year awards and UND returned to the NCAA tournament. A 93-78 victory over Augustana in the first round was the program's first postseason victory, which was followed by a 90-58 defeat of North Dakota State. Though the Sioux lost to Cal Poly Pomona in the national quarterfinals, UND had reached a new level of expectation.

That same year, Roebuck was also hired as UND's head baseball coach. In his first year at the helm, he led the Sioux to a 99-61-1 record over four seasons and in 1993 he took UND to the Division II College World Series for the first time in school history. Roebuck resigned as baseball coach in July 1993 to concentrate solely on women's basketball.

The UND women's basketball program went 150-27 over the next six years, winning three NCC titles and averaging a remarkable 25 wins per year. The first two steps (compete against the best teams in the North Central Conference and win the NCC championship) of Roebuck's plan were clearly accomplished and the groundwork was now in place for the program's second watershed breakthrough.

It came on March 9, 1997, at North Dakota State in the championship game of the NCAA Division II North Central Regional. The Sioux were in the NCAA tournament for the eighth consecutive year, and if a national championship was to be won, what better place than the Bison Sports Arena? If the Sioux wanted to be the best, they would have to beat the best. NDSU was the four-time defending national champions and had won 58 straight games on its home court.

Down 64-54 with six minutes to play, UND went on a nearly inconceivable 19-2 run to close out the game. The win advanced the Sioux onto the Elite Eight and moved the team up to Roebuck's final step, a national championship. That final step was breached the following weekend at the Elite Eight as the Fighting Sioux captured their first NCAA DII national championship.

Roebuck's teams became accustomed to bringing home hardware. After national championships in 1997, 1998 and 1999, Roebuck guided the 2001 team to within a basket of the Sioux's fourth national title in five seasons. That year, UND took home its first NCC Wells Fargo Finals championship, a crown it held until the conference was extinguished six years later.

The 2005-06 Sioux rolled to a 34-1 record that included a perfect 12-0 mark in North Central Conference play. Roebuck capped the season by being named the 2006 Russell Athletic/WBCA Division II Region Coach of the Year.

In 2006-07, Roebuck surpassed 500 victories at UND and led the Fighting Sioux to a fifth NCAA Division II Women's Basketball Elite Eight appearance in 10 years. Along the way the Sioux also captured a third consecutive NCC title (11th overall), a seventh straight NCC playoff tournament championship and an NCAA North Central Region crown, the latter two coming on UND's home court. It was UND's 19th NCAA appearance under Roebuck, who collected his 10th NCC Coach of the Year award.

That year, the Sioux were recognized by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) for having the Best Fans and Best Facility.

In 2007-08, the Sioux, who went 27-4 and earned a 22nd appearance (19th consecutive) in the NCAA postseason tournament, left the ranks of DII in style. UND was lauded by the WBCA for having the Best Tradition, Best Community Support and Best Pep Band in Division II and was also recognized as the Most Fun to Watch (coach or school). Additionally, Roebuck was cited as the Most Competitive Coach in Division II women's basketball.

Senior center Ashley Langen and junior forward Kierah Kimbrough each earned All-America honors, and Langen was named the Daktronics All-North Central Region Player of the Year. Langen also earned her fourth straight All-North Central Conference selection and shared conference most valuable player honors.

Kimbrough and sophomore guard Alys Seay earned Academic All-NCC honors and were joined by four teammates on the NCC Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll.

Roebuck completed UND's tour of the DII landscape as the winningest coach in DII women's basketball history with a .857 winning percentage.

In 2008, Roebuck's 22nd year at the helm, the Sioux were faced with new challenges as they began the transition from DII to the DI level. The transition meant a change in conference affiliation, new opponents on the schedule, and a quickened pace on the court.

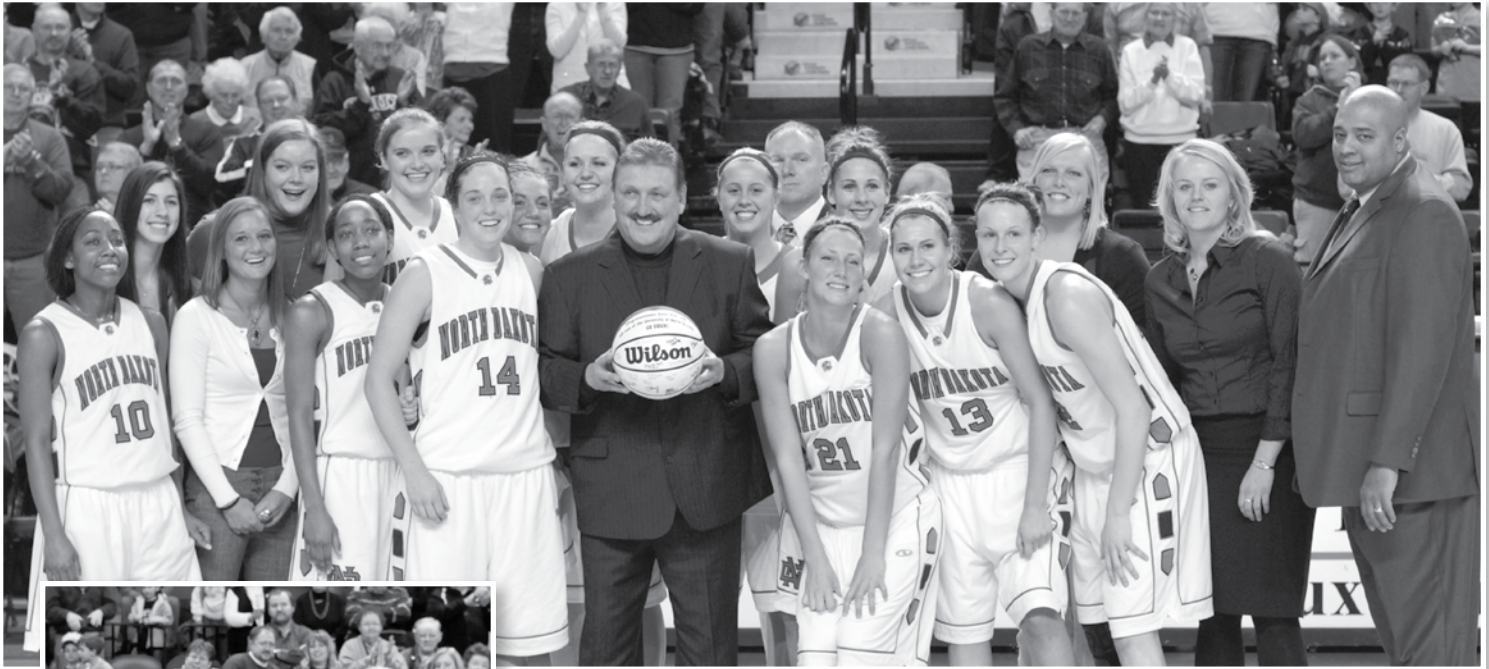

The Fighting Sioux gladly accepted and stepped into their new role with the same hard-work, determination, and winning attitudes that brought them much success in the North Central Conference.

The Fighting Sioux made their NCAA Division I debut with an 18-11 record overall, a 10-11 mark against DI opponents and an undefeated run at the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center (BESC) for the first time since it opened in 2004.

The first victory over a DI opponent came on Nov. 14 as UND opened the season with an 80-71 victory over Eastern Michigan in front of nearly 2,000 loyal Sioux fans at the BESC.

In front of the over 2,080 fans in attendance at the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center on Jan. 29, 2011, UND head coach Gene Roebuck was surprised by a special postgame presentation at half court to commemorate his 600th career win at the helm of the Fighting Sioux. He currently ranks in the top 20 among the NCAA's winningest active women's basketball coaches and sits among such coaching greats as Pat Summitt (Tennessee), C. Vivian Stringer (Rutgers), Geno Auriemma (UConn), and Tara VanDerveer (Stanford).

Despite traveling nearly 25,000 miles in their first season as a DI program, the team finished No. 2 on the 2008-09 NCAA Division I Academic Top 25 Team Honor Roll with an overall grade point average of 3.580.

In the second year of transition, the Fighting Sioux finished 17-14 (11-1 GWC) en route to the inaugural GWC regular season title and finished runner-up at the Great West Conference Tournament. Roebuck was named the GWC Coach of the Year, senior forward Kayla Bagaason was selected as the GWC Player of the Year, and three players — junior forward Mallory Youngblut, senior forward Whitney Ledger, and senior guard Jossy Bergan — were named all-conference. In addition, Seay, now a senior, was honored with the first annual GWC Sixth Woman Award and Youngblut was named to the all-tournament team.

Bagaason, UND's 2010 Grace Rhonemus Female Athlete of the Year, ended her career at North Dakota as the 28th member of UND's elite 1,000 point club and with a total of 1,107 points, she graduated as the 21st-highest scorer in UND history.

In year three of the transition, the Sioux finished 15-16 overall and posted an 8-4 conference mark. To highlight the season and Roebuck's career, UND defeated Houston Baptist 104-54 on its home court to tally the 600th victory for the legendary coach. To cap the season, UND once again finished runner-up at the GWC

Tournament and Youngblut, now a senior co-captain, was named to the GWC All-Tournament team for the second straight year.

The 2011 UND Female Scholar-Athlete of the year, Youngblut surpassed former teammates Bagaason and Guinn to graduate as UND's 15th all-time leading scorer and the 29th member of the 1,000 point club. She received both GWC Preseason All-Conference and regular season all-conference first team honors and was a two-time GWC Player of the Week.

In the final year of transition, Roebuck and his young squad will play host to 12 different opponents (seven non-conference, five Great West) and for the first time in program history will welcome Creighton, Duquesne, and Northern Iowa to the BESC. In addition, future Big Sky Conference opponent Montana State and Bemidji State will travel to Grand Forks for the first time since the 2007-08 season.

The Fighting Sioux (along with Southern Utah) will officially join the Big Sky starting the 2012-13 season. The Big Sky currently consists of Portland State, Northern Colorado, Montana, Montana State, Idaho State, Eastern Washington, Northern Arizona, Weber State, and Sacramento State.

Roebuck resides in Grand Forks with his wife, Karolyn. They have a daughter, Cierra, and two grandchildren.

Kimbrough, now a senior, finished her highly-decorated career as North Dakota's third-highest scorer all-time, was named the Spring Thaw Tournament Most Outstanding Player, and was selected to the 2009 NCAA Division I All-Independent Team.

Fellow senior Danye Guinn ended her career as UND's 21st-highest scorer. She was also one of two players (Jamie Pudenz) to tally 100 assists in each her freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior seasons and was one of just six players (Kristi Boese, Tiffany Pudenz, Jamie Pudenz, Durene Heiser, and Carissa Jahner) to record over 1,000 points, 400 assists, and 400 rebounds at UND.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Year at UND: 9th year
Collegiate Experience: 10th year
Hometown: Cedar Rapids, Iowa
Alma Mater: Charleston Southern, 2004

On June 15, 2009, Travis Brewster was elevated to associate head coach after returning to North Dakota in 2007 for his second stint with the program.

Brewster has been fortunate to work with numerous players earning postseason accolades at UND, including: Becky Moen, Marisa Leighton, Jenny Boll, Cara Demaine, Kristi Boese, Ashley Langen, Kierah Kimbrough, and most recently, Allyssa Wall.

As a true freshman, Wall quickly emerged as UND's go-to player under the basket, and grew into a confident and forceful player. She finished the season with a team-high 51.9 field goal percentage and ranked second in the league averaging 2.3 blocks per game. With 354 points, she ended her freshman campaign tied with Mandy Arndtson (1997-98) for the No. 5 spot on UND's all-time freshman scoring list.

To finish the 2009-10 season, Brewster helped coach the Fighting Sioux to a Great West Conference title — the first NCAA Division I conference title in the history of the program.

Forward Whitney Ledger finished the season as the top offensive rebounder in the Great West Conference with 93 rebounds (3.2/game) and ranked third in both total rebounds (201; 6.9/game) and field goal percentage (.507).

Ledger and forward Corey Lof combined for 33 percent of UND's rebounds and a quarter of UND's total scoring.

In the summer of 2010, Brewster was one of just a handful of coaches selected nationally to attend the Black Coaches Association Achieving Coaching Excellence program, where he underwent training in on- and off-camera interviews, on-court teaching, conducting home visits, budgets, leadership, networking, contract negotiations, and maintaining a quality of life.

During the 2008-09, Brewster coached Kierah Kimbrough to a career-high 591 points (20.4ppg) and a place as UND's third-highest scorer all-time.

Kimbrough was also selected to the NCAA Division I All-Independent team and was voted the 2009 UND Spring Thaw Tournament's Most Outstanding Player. She was also named to both the Iowa State Cyclone Challenge and the Northern Arizona Fairfield/Holiday Inn Express Thanksgiving Classic all-tournament teams.

In the lane, the Fighting Sioux post players combined for an average of 12.7 rebounds per game and accounted for 831 (37.3 percent) of UND's total 2,224 points.

Brewster also mentored Danye Guinn who became the 27th member of UND's 1,000-Point Club and finished as the second player in UND history (Jamie Pudenz) to record 100 assists in each her freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior years.

To add to the accolades, Guinn was one of six players to record 1,000 points, 400 assists, and 400 rebounds during their career at UND.

Brewster previously served as recruiting coordinator and assistant coach at UND from 2002-03 to 2005-06, helping lead the Sioux to a 112-19 (.855) record. Brewster was a part of four NCC Tournament titles, and consecutive North Central Conference titles in 2005 and 2006. In 2006, the team finished 34-1 .

Brewster also spent the 2001-02 season as a graduate assistant with UND's men's program before joining the women's staff.

Prior to returning to the Sioux, Brewster spent the 2007-08 season as an assistant coach, team travel coordinator, at South Dakota State and helped guide the Jackrabbits to a 23-7 record, a Summit League regular season championship and an appearance in the Women's NIT postseason tournament. Brewster spent the 2006-07 season as an assistant coach, strength and conditioning liaison at Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

As a player at the collegiate level, Brewster played two seasons at Iowa Lakes Community College ('90, '91), before moving on to Division I Charleston Southern ('92, '93).

At ILCC, Brewster played on teams that went 49-12; at CSU, he was a two-time defensive MVP and team captain in 1993.

After graduating Charleston Southern in 1994, Brewster played three years of professional basketball in Europe. In 1994-95, he played for Grand Saconnex in Geneva, Switzerland. In 1995-96, he moved up to Olympia Basketball Regensdorf in Zurich, Switzerland. In his third and final year, 1996-97, Brewster played for Dungannon in Ireland and Villar in Switzerland. He was a two-time member of the Swiss all-star team.

After his professional career, Brewster returned to Iowa Lakes in 1998 as an assistant coach. In three seasons he helped guide the Lakes to an aggregate record of 68-27.

Brewster is a member of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA), the Black Coaches Association (BCA) and the CARE Men's Group.

Brewster's family includes his wife, Becky, daughter, Reganne and sons, Drake and Kaid.

ANNIE ISLER

ASSISTANT COACH

Annie Isler

Year at UND: 1st year
Collegiate Experience: 1st year
Hometown: Hopkins, Minn.
Alma Mater: Carlton College, 2009

Annie Isler was hired as an assistant coach for the women's basketball team on June 16, 2011.

"Annie is a real go-getter and we are happy to add her to our coaching staff," UND head coach Gene Roebuck said at the time of her hiring. "I know she will do a great job coaching on the court and her connections to the Twin Cities area will allow her to help with recruiting in that area."

Isler came to UND from Hopkins High School in Minneapolis, Minn., her high school alma mater. Under the tutelage of Brian Cosgriff, she was a varsity assistant girls basketball coach for the 2011 4A Minnesota State Champion Royals.

A 2004 graduate from Hopkins, Isler earned two letters playing for the 2004 state champion Royals women's basketball team and earned all-state and all-conference accolades her senior season.

In 2009, she earned a bachelor's degree in history from Carleton College where she was a four-year letterwinner for the Knights and a 2007-08 team captain. In 2008, Isler received all-conference honorable mention honors after leading her team to an NCAA Division III tournament appearance.

While at Carleton College, she served as a prospective student host and was a Women of Color retreat leader. In 2009, she received the Ellen Rogers Steif Memorial Award, an award given each year by the Department of History to a history major who best reflects Steif's personal qualities and academic achievements.

From 2006-09, Isler served as the Hopkins Girls Basketball Summer Camp Director and the varsity and junior varsity summer league team coach. She was also a senior staff member for Pam Borton's Minnesota Basketball Camp (2006-09), Pam Borton's Minnesota Elite Basketball Camp (2009) and the Camp Green Lake, St. Cloud State Women's Basketball Camp (2006).

Isler is currently working towards a master's degree in applied kinesiology from the University of Minnesota.

VAL SANNES

ASSISTANT COACH

Val Sannes

Year at UND: 1st year
Collegiate Experience: 1st year
Hometown: Wahpeton, N.D.
Alma Mater: North Dakota, 2008

A four-year letterwinner for the Fighting Sioux, Val Sannes was added to the women's basketball staff as an assistant coach on Sept. 15, 2011.

"We are very happy to have Val join our staff," head coach Gene Roebuck said at the time of her hiring. "She brings with her not only experience as a player, but as a coach as well. She'll be a great asset. Having been a Fighting Sioux for four years, she already understands the goals of the program and what it means to represent UND on the court."

A native of Wahpeton, N.D., Sannes played for North Dakota from 2004-08 and was the recipient of the 2008 UND Female Unsung Hero of the Year Award. She was team captain during the 2007-08 season and helped lead UND to an Elite Eight appearance in 2007.

After graduating from UND in 2008 with a degree in elementary education and a minor in coaching, Sannes served as an assistant women's basketball coach at Minnesota, Crookston.

ALEX PULVERMACHER

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Year at UND: 2nd year
Hometown: Princeton, Wis.
Alma Mater: Wisconsin-Oshkosh, 2010

Alex Pulvermacher joined the North Dakota women's basketball athletic training staff in the summer of 2010.

Prior to UND, she spent four years (2006-10) as a student athletic trainer at Wisconsin-Oshkosh working with football, wrestling, track and field, and baseball. Pulvermacher also gained experience working with boys and girls basketball, wrestling, track and field, baseball, soccer, and softball at the high school level.

In the summer of 2009, she interned at the UW-Whitewater sports camp, where she worked with a variety of sports including wheelchair basketball, volleyball, gymnastics, lacrosse, and tennis.

A native of Princeton, Wis., Pulvermacher received a bachelor's degree in athletic training with a minor in strength and conditioning from Wisconsin-Oshkosh in 2010. She is an active member of the NATA and is a BOC certified athletic trainer and is licensed in CPR/AED.

NATE BAUKOL

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Year at UND: 9th year
Hometown: Moorhead, Minn.
Alma Mater: MSU Moorhead, 2000

Nate Baukol is in his sixth season as North Dakota's director of strength and conditioning, and ninth season overall at UND.

Baukol served as assistant strength and conditioning coach at UND from 2002 to 2005 before taking a similar position at the University of Wyoming in May 2006.

A native of Moorhead, Minn., Baukol graduated from Minnesota State Moorhead in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in exercise science. He received his master's degree in kinesiology from UND in 2004.

Baukol is a certified strength coach through the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association and the National Strength and Conditioning Association. He is also a certified Level I Olympic lifting club coach and is certified in Functional Movement Screen (FMS).

Baukol's family includes his wife (Jennifer), daughter (Emma), and son (Gunnar).

TRAVIS KAHLBAUGH

EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Year at UND: 7th year
Hometown: Grand Forks, N.D.
Alma Mater: North Dakota, 2000

Travis Kahlbaugh, in his seventh season at UND, serves as the head equipment manager for the Fighting Sioux men's and women's basketball, volleyball and soccer programs.

Kahlbaugh is a 2000 graduate of the University of North Dakota with a bachelor's degree in physical education and teaching and learning. Before coming to UND, he spent the previous four years teaching in Grand Forks and Rugby, N.D.

Kahlbaugh's hockey background includes a stint as a player in the AFHL, as well as coaching experience in Grand Forks and Rugby (N.D.).

A native of Grand Forks, Kahlbaugh is a 1996 high school graduate of Grand Forks Central High School.

CHRISTY KRAMER

MEDIA RELATIONS

Year at UND: 4th year
Hometown: Ft. Pierre, S.D.
Alma Mater: St. Cloud State, 2003

Christy Kramer is in her fourth year as assistant director of media relations at North Dakota. She is the primary contact for Fighting Sioux women's basketball, volleyball and women's and men's swimming and diving.

A Ft. Pierre, S.D., native, Kramer graduated from St. Cloud State in 2003 with a bachelor's degree in public relations/advertising and a minor in graphic design. In 2005, she received a master's degree in the same field from SCSU.

While at St. Cloud, Kramer served as a media relations graduate assistant for swimming and diving, baseball and men's and women's track and field/cross country.

Prior to UND, Kramer was a sports information intern at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. With the Spartans, she served as the primary contact for women's soccer, wrestling and baseball.

Kramer is an active member of College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) and serves on the publications committee. She is also active in the Football Writer's Association of America and the United States Basketball Writers Association.

Kramer resides in Grand Forks and coaches part-time at Red River Valley Gymnastics. Her brother, Ben, is the head high school football coach in Hot Spring, S.D., and her uncle, Joe Kramer, is the head high school football coach in Pierre, S.D.

This year it will be all about youth vs. quality competition as the University of North Dakota women's basketball team steps into its final year of NCAA Division I transition. While the Fighting Sioux return eight players, including three starters from last year's Great West Conference Tournament runner-up team, the lineup only brings with it a combined 10 years of DI experience.

CENTERS

UND's top returner is sophomore center Allyssa Wall. As a true freshman, the North Sioux City, S.D., native led the team in field goal percentage and ranked second in the conference in blocked shots. A 2011 GWC All-Newcomer Team selection, Wall was named to the 2011 College Sports Madness Preseason Great West All-Conference first team.

Allyssa Wall

Wall will be joined inside the lane by junior Katie Houdek and redshirt freshman Emily Evers. After being sidelined due to injury early in the 2009-10 season, Houdek returned as a key reserve for the Sioux last season. With the ability to shoot from outside the lane, the coaches will use her as a forward as well, adding more depth to the lineup and more height on the court.

Katie Houdek

A native of Grand Forks, N.D., and a two-time All-Eastern Dakota Conference honoree in high school, Evers will have her first chance at the collegiate stage after using her initial year to gain experience.

"Allyssa will be the starter, but we'll also be able to use both Katie and Emily," head coach Gene Roebuck said. "Emily has been looking good for us in practices already, and Katie did a great job stepping in last season. We have a young group in the middle, but they are very talented. Working the ball inside will be a big part of our game this season."

FORWARDS

With the loss of both Corey Lof and Mallory Youngblut, UND's four returning forwards will have to put inexperience aside and quickly step into leadership roles both on and off the court.

Along with Houdek, junior Carly Rothfusz (Eden Prairie, Minn.) and sophomores Madi Buck (Bismarck, N.D.) and Megan Lauck return for the Sioux.

Last season, Buck and Rothfusz both saw significant time as reserves. Originally set to sit out her first season, Buck's redshirt was pulled five games into the season and she quickly emerged as a key player. In her collegiate debut at Green Bay (Dec. 1), Buck led the Sioux in both scoring and rebounds, finishing with 11 points and seven boards.

Rothfusz may have started the season off a bit quiet, but she sure didn't end it that way. As the conference season got underway, she'd seemed to find her rhythm behind the arc and hit a number crucial three-pointers for the Sioux. With the loss of Youngblut, Rothfusz's ability to drain the three will greatly factor into UND's success.

Lauck, a native of Shoreview, Minn., started 19 games last season as a true freshman and was key both in scoring and on the rebound. In her collegiate debut, she scored a career-high 21 points and hit double-digits in the next three games.

"We have more flexibility at forward this year than we have in the past," Roebuck said. "With more depth, we'll be able to put different players at different positions. Each of these players has the ability to step onto the court and make things happen. That will make for some tough competition during practice."

Redshirting this season will be Fargo, N.D., native Meghan Roehrich.

GUARDS

Returning at guard are seniors Charnay Mothershed (Phoenix, Ariz.) and Charnise Mothershed (Phoenix, Ariz.), and junior Nicole Smart (Ada, Minn.). Also battling for time on the court will be redshirt freshman Siri Burck and freshmen Cy'erra Mills (Maple Grove, Minn.) and Brianna Williams (Minneapolis, Minn.)

Charnay Mothershed, Burck and Williams will battle for the point guard position while Charnise Mothershed, Mills and Smart will compete for the start at off-guard.

As the only two seniors, the Mothershed twins will be looked to as leaders both on and off the court. With a year of experience at North Dakota under their belt and an understanding of what it means to play as Fighting Sioux, both are primed to lead this team with confidence, determination and winning on their minds.

The returner with the most experience playing under Roebuck, Smart is ready for a breakout season. An aggressive player who isn't afraid to drive the lane, she will need to remain consistent and confident as she controls the tempo of the game.

A native of Fargo, N.D., Burck had a full year to train both mentally and physically, and after a year on the sidelines, she's more than ready to have her chance in the starting lineup.

Megan Lauck

Madi Burck

Charnay Mothershed

Nicole Smart

Highly successful players at the high school level, Mills and Williams will need to grow quickly if they plan to get the starting nod as the staff has chosen to forgo redshirting the Minnesota natives this year.

Taking a redshirt this season will be freshmen Chelsey Frydenlund (East Grand Forks, Minn.) and Thief River Falls, Minn., native Liza Hoglo.

SCHEDULE

Looking back at the last few years, UND has shied away from the easy route as it made the transition to DI status. The Sioux have faced a number of teams that have played in the NCAA Tournament, the Postseason Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT), and the Women's Basketball Invitational (WBI). The team has also traveled to nearly every corner of the United States and has endured several extensive road trips, all in an effort to find quality competition.

"It's nice to have a good record, but we need to focus on preparing ourselves for the future," Roebuck said. "There are a lot of great basketball teams out there and we want to be up there with the best."

The 2011-12 North Dakota women's basketball schedule includes 13 home games, six games against teams who saw postseason action, a pair of non-conference holiday tournaments, and UND's final Great West Conference Tournament before making the transition to the Big Sky Conference.

"With such a small conference, it's tough to pick and choose which non-conference teams you want to play," Roebuck said. "We have to seek out a number of non-conference opponents, and we try to schedule home and home games as much as we can, but that can be tough. The majority of teams are already in conference play come the middle of the season, and that makes it difficult to get them to commit to a road game in Grand Forks."

"We're going to take the majority of this year's roster with us next year when we move into the Big Sky Conference and it's important this year that we provide them with quality games and quality competition."

Great West

The Great West Conference is made up of 10 intercollegiate institutions that range geographically from New Jersey to Texas to California. The 10 member schools are spread out over seven states and four time zones, giving each school added exposure - both in terms of media and recruiting - in new destinations. The conference affiliation also generates much interest within the 10 institutions' substantial alumni base.

The conference, which began as a football-only league, took a giant leap in the collegiate athletic world when the conference expanded to include several additional sports and several new members.

Joining the league in 2008 were Chicago State University, Houston Baptist University, New Jersey Institute of Technology, University of North Dakota, University of South Dakota, Texas-Pan American and Utah Valley University. These seven schools joined football only members Cal Poly, UC Davis and Southern Utah University to make up the 10-member league. South Dakota participated as a full member since joining the league but will compete only in football in the GWC for the 2011 season.

In addition to football, championships conducted during the 2008-09 academic year were men's and women's cross country, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field, and men's and women's golf. Team sports in baseball, basketball, soccer, softball, tennis and volleyball began league play in 2009-10.

As the conference began planning for multi-team sport competition in 2009-10, several teams were added in the sports of women's soccer and baseball to help provide a more diverse and competitive field. Delaware State,

Howard and South Carolina State joined as associate members in women's soccer, while Northern Colorado and New York Institute of Technology joined as associate members in baseball. In addition, Seattle University was added as an associate member in cross country and track and field in 2009 and a women's tennis member in 2010. Nebraska-Omaha is the most recent addition to the Great West family and will compete in softball for the 2012 season.

Officially announced Feb. 25, 2004, charter members of the Great West Football Conference were California Polytechnic State University; University of California, Davis; North Dakota State University; University of Northern Colorado; South Dakota State University; and Southern Utah University.

Conference competition began on Sept. 4, 2004 with UC Davis scoring a 52-0 win over South Dakota State and Northern Colorado notching a 15-13 win over North Dakota State.

The Great West continues its proud tradition in football and has been rated as one of the best in Football Championship Subdivision. The league boasted wins over FBS teams the last five years, with victories over Ball State, San Diego State, Central Michigan, San Jose State and Minnesota. UC Davis put the Great West on the map early in the 2005 season with a win over Stanford in what media observers believed to be the biggest upset of the 2005 college football season.

The Great West Conference recognizes student-athletes on both a weekly and full-season basis. Individual awards include Players of the Week; All-Conference teams; an Academic All-Conference team; and Player, Newcomer and Coach of the Year awards. The league also crowns team champions for both regular season and postseason competition.

The governance of the Great West Conference remains primarily with the member institutions. Each member institution is represented on the President's Council by its respective CEO. The general operations and management of the Conference will be conducted by the Directors of Athletics and Senior Woman Administrators (Joint Council). Scheduling of contests, assignment of officials and certain media relations functions remain with member institutions.

BATTLING A TOUGH SCHEDULE

North Dakota opened the season with a tough non-conference schedule.

After falling just short to New Mexico State (82-81), UND notched its first win of the season with a 76-49 victory over Vermont. UND's stay in the win column didn't last as long as it had hoped as Colorado State rolled into the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center and took a close 68-61 win. Shortly after, the Sioux fell to Gonzaga 83-45. The Zags finished the season ranked No. 8 in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Top 25 Poll after making their third-straight trip to the NCAA Tournament.

As if the competition at home wasn't tough enough, North Dakota then opened its road season with an 83-40 loss at Green Bay. The Phoenix, who ranked ninth on the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, won the Horizon League championship and advanced all the way to the Sweet 16.

After a tough 76-51 loss to Drake at home, UND's travel woes seemed to continue. The Sioux were defeated by Kansas State 76-49, and then fell to both 2011 Missouri Valley Conference Tournament champion Northern Iowa (78-54) and Creighton (96-57).

K-State and UNI both advanced to the NCAA Tournament while Creighton was selected to play in the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT).

In the first game of the Montana Lady Griz Holiday Classic, the Fighting Sioux found their way back to the win column with a 77-66 victory over Texas A&M-Corpus Christi. The Sioux finished the tournament 1-1 after dropping a 69-59 decision to tournament host and 2011 Big Sky Conference Tournament champion Montana.

UND opened the 2011 portion of the season 0-2 following losses to Mid-American Conference regular season champion Toledo and Colorado on the road. Both the Rockets and the Buffaloes were WNIT selections.

Back at home for the first time in seven games, the Sioux set out on a six-game winning streak. The streak was set up by a 90-72 win over Western Kentucky and was followed by a 76-60 victory over Minot State.

The Sioux then opened the Great West Conference schedule with big wins over South Dakota (63-53), Utah Valley (69-52), and Texas-Pan American (76-63).

In the final game of the homestand, North Dakota routed Houston Baptist with a huge 104-54 conference victory.

Back on the road, UND found wins hard to come by once again. After falling to USD on its home floor, the Sioux claimed a 67-51 victory over NJIT. However, a stop at Chicago State left UND with a bitter taste in its mouth once again.

Back on their home court, the Sioux rebounded with an 88-54 win over Mayville State, and then took the momentum with them on the road. They defeated Utah Valley 74-71 and claimed their third straight win with a 58-37 victory over NJIT to sweep the Highlanders. However, CSU put the streak to end as the Cougars defeated the Sioux 71-57 during UND's home finale.

To close the regular season, the Fighting Sioux netted a 73-61 win over Houston Baptist to sweep the Huskies, but fell in the regular season finale 69-62 at UTPA.

As the No. 3 seed, North Dakota made quick work of No. 6 NJIT in the quarterfinal round of the 2011 Great West Conference Tournament, winning 83-56 to advance to the semifinal round.

In the semis, the Fighting Sioux faced up against seventh-seeded Houston Baptist. With a convincing 82-41 win, the Sioux extended their winning streak over the Huskies to eight games.

UND's season came to an abrupt end in the tournament's title game as veteran-stacked Chicago State ran away with a 74-66 championship victory.

ROEBUCK REGISTERS CAREER WIN 600

In front of the over 2,080 fans in attendance at the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center on Jan. 29, UND head coach Gene Roebuck was surprised by a special postgame presentation at half court to commemorate his 600th career win at the helm of the Fighting Sioux.

He finished his 24th season with the Sioux ranked in the top 20 among the NCAA's winningest active women's basketball coaches and sits among such coaching greats as Pat Summitt (Tennessee), C. Vivian Stringer (Rutgers), Geno Auriemma (UConn), and Tara VanDerveer (Stanford).

BETTY CELEBRATES 100 WITH HER LADIES

During the Monday, Jan. 10 game against Western Kentucky, the University of North Dakota women's basketball team celebrated a milestone in the relationship between it and the Betty Engelstad Sioux Center (BESC).

When the Fighting Sioux and the LadyToppers tipped off, it marked the 100th UND women's basketball game played inside the friendly confines of "The Betty." And the Sioux did her proud, defeating WKU 90-72 to pick up its first ever win over the LadyToppers and the first over a Sun Belt Conference opponent since beginning the transition towards NCAA Division I status.

Since the BESC opened in 2004, the UND women's basketball team has recorded an overall record of 93-15 (.861).

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE FRESHMEN

From the get-go, last season's freshman class stepped in, stepped up, and had a major impact on the Fighting Sioux basketball season.

The trio of Allyssa Wall (North Sioux City, S.D.), Megan Lauck (Arden Hills, Minn.), and Madi Buck (Bismarck, N.D.) finished the season ranked 2-3-4 on the team in scoring average, respectively, and combined for 36.6 percent (754-for-2,059) of UND's total points.

They shot a combined 44.5 percent (264-for-593) from the field and 72.5 percent (182-for-251) at the free throw line.

Led by Wall's 162 boards (110 defensive), the trio brought down 33.5 percent of UND's rebounds.

A black and white photograph showing a woman, Dee Watson, on the left, wearing a light-colored jacket over a dark turtleneck. She is gesturing with her hands as if speaking or coaching. On the right, a player is seen from the back, wearing a white jersey with "SIUU" and the number "15" visible. The background shows other people, including one in a dark and light striped uniform.

"YES WE DID"

With an NCAA title on the line, Sioux show they have the stuff of champions

By Wayne Nelson
Herald Staff Writer
(Reprinted by permission of the Grand Forks Herald)

PINE BLUFF, Ark. — UND knew it had to stand tall against Southern Indiana's full-court, in-your-face style of play. There would be no time for a breather.

UND withstood Southern Indiana's pressure. And they withstood the Lady Screaming Eagles' quick-paced platoon system, designed to keep fresh legs on the floor.

At the end, UND indeed was standing tall — against the press, by scoring inside and as national champions.

UND won its first national Division II women's basketball championship — and first Division II title of any kind — Saturday afternoon, beating Southern Indiana 94-78 before 4,524 roaring fans at Hyslop Sports Center. The win also snapped USI's 29-game win streak.

For the Sioux, the win ends a decade of frustration. Despite being one of the nation's dominant teams, UND never qualified for the national tournament. But once they did, the Sioux made the best of their first appearance in the Elite Eight.

Sioux players took turns leading the way. The last six minutes of the game, however, all UND players were contributing. The Sioux outscored USI 20-6 in the final 6:10 as a sophomore and a freshman came up the biggost.

Sophomore center Jenny Crouse, saddled with foul trouble much of the game, broke open a 74-72 game with her dominating inside play. And freshman Jaime Pudenz, who never showed signs of tiring against the constant pressure, hit five of six insurance free throws to keep the Division II title in the North Central Conference for the fifth straight year.

Eileen Weber's basket on the drive cut UND's onetime 13-point lead to two, at 74-72 with 6:23 left. The Sioux responded with a Katie Richards offensive rebound and basket to regain a four-point edge. From that point, Crouse dominated. Working the boards hard and posting up equally hard, she scored three straight baskets for the Sioux. Another, with 3:36 to play, gave UND an 87-75 lead.

The double-digit lead was too much for USI to overcome as the Screaming Eagles had trouble with a switch in Sioux defenses.

UND rarely plays zone, but coach Gene Roebuck called for the defense with four minutes left and a 10-point lead to protect Crouse and to throw off USI's three-time All-

American LeAnn Freeland, an athletic 6-foot senior whose spinning post moves netted her 27 points.

Crouse scored 20 points, making 8 of 10 shots. "Jenny played at another level," Roebuck said. "Down the stretch, she did not want to lose."

Crouse played only 15 minutes because of foul trouble, but she made the most of her minutes. "If the ref was going to call the fifth foul, there wasn't much I could do about it," Crouse said. "I was a little frustrated, but I just had to go out there and play. But once I got in my rhythm, things went pretty well."

Things, however, did not go well for the Sioux during a six-minute stretch of the second half. The Screaming Eagles cut a 13-point deficit to two. It appeared UND was beginning to succumb to USI's pressure, just like its previous two opponents had done late.

"There was no letdown," UND senior Kelli Britz said. "We knew they'd be making a run. We just had to keep at them. We had to keep playing good defense and get the rebounds and loose balls. We weren't going to give up."

UND's play down the stretch was similar to the 19-2 game-finishing run it had to defeat North Dakota State in the North Central Region final.

As expected, the game began at laser-beam speed. And USI's press nearly turned the game in the Screaming Eagles' favor during a frantic 29-second stretch midway through the first half.

A Jaime Pudenz 3-pointer gave the Sioux a 24-20 lead, and wiped out USI's early momentum. But that momentum was reclaimed quickly. After Freeland's basket cut the lead to 24-22, the Sioux threw the ball away three straight times. The Eagles scored seven points off the turnovers.

However, Kami Winger and Tiffany Pudenz, who led the Sioux with 23 points, combined for an 8-2 run to recharge the Sioux.

"I knew we'd get in situations where we'd give up the ball a few times," Roebuck said. "This was a game of runs."

One UND run came to start the second half, when they expanded a four-point lead to 13 with 12:36 remaining. The Sioux perhaps played their best offensive half of the season after intermission, shooting 57 percent from the field and scoring 50 points against a defense that had surrendered only 55 and 62 points in its first two tournament games.

Balance was the reason. Besides Tiffany Pudenz' 23 and Crouse's 20, Winger (15), Britz (14), Jaime Pudenz (12) and Richards (10) ended in double figures.

"We played hard; North Dakota played great and that's about all I can say," said USI coach Chance Dugan, whose team was the first from the Great Lakes Valley Conference to reach the Division II title game.

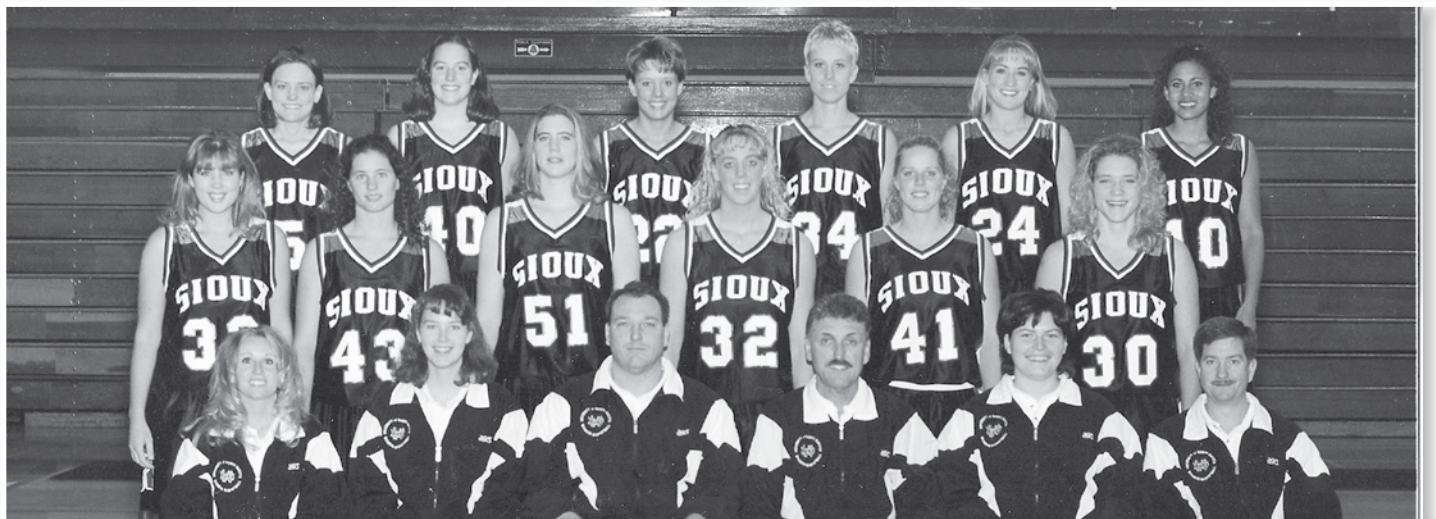

But she added: "They did a nice job of getting the ball inside (to Crouse) down the stretch. They spread us out a bit."

USI finished 30-2 while the Sioux ended 28-4, which ties the school record for most wins in a season.

However, the one number that mattered most was No. 1.

"As time wore down, we kicked it up a level," said Allison Derck, one of two Sioux seniors. "We just wanted it. We were on a mission."

Mission accomplished.

NO DOUBT — AGAIN

Arndtson. Crouse lead UND to second straight Division II national title

By Wayne Nelson
Herald Staff Writer
(Reprinted by permission of the Grand Forks Herald)

PINE BLUFF, Ark. — UND had its doubters. There were those who believed the quickness of Emporia (Kan.) State would be too much for the Sioux.

UND had doubters a year ago, too. Southern Indiana's race-horse style of basketball would be too much for UND to handle in the title game, some experts said.

The Sioux, however, left no doubt last year or this year. UND used its quickness — and defense — to again prove it is the best team in Division II women's basketball.

UND won its second straight NCAA Division II national title with a 92-76 win over Emporia on Saturday before 2,624 fans at the Pine Bluff Convention Center, the overwhelming majority hoping to see the Kansas school complete its season unbeaten.

"For 40 minutes, considering both offense and defense, that was our best basketball game of the season," UND coach Gene Roebuck said. "We needed it. That's what champions are supposed to do."

The Sioux, who finished 31-1, again are the national champions because they used their quickness for a decisive 14-2 run in the second half; they handled the Hornets' intense pressure defense; they contained 27-year-old twins Jurgita and Aneta Kausaite; and they also made 22 of 31 second-half free throws to keep Emporia at bay.

Oh, yes, the Sioux also repeated, in part, because of the incredible play of a freshman, Mandy Arndtson, who led UND with 23 points. The 5-foot-11 freshman, playing fearlessly, made 7 of 8 shots from the field and grabbed 10 rebounds.

"Mandy is a player who is only a freshman, but doesn't play like a freshman," Roebuck said. "She loves the game of basketball. Everyone can say they love the game, but Mandy plays it with a passion. When you need her the most, that's when she steps up."

And Arndtson and the Sioux were at their best for a 3 1/2-minute stretch in the second half. UND led 44-37 as the Sioux were able to capitalize on Jenny Crouse's inside scoring and timely 3-pointers by Tiffany Pudenz and Jaime Pudenz. That lead, however, was tenuous, given the explosive nature of Emporia's offense.

Emporia's quickness, however, didn't deliver.

The Sioux outquicked Emporia for a 14-2 run that gave UND a 58-39 lead with 14 minutes left. Arndtson, Jaime Pudenz and Tonia Jones all had fast-break baskets in the spurt. And Arndtson accounted for half of the 14 points.

"We lost our composure for a little while," Emporia coach Cindy Stein said of the 14-2 UND run. "A lot of it had to do with a lack of NCAA tournament experience. We had never been down before this season and we tried to get it back too quick."

UND stretched the lead to 74-52 on a three-point play by Tiffany Pudenz with 7:39 left. The Hornets, who Stein said were "shellshocked" by UND's play during the 14-2 run, intensified its defense and made a run at the Sioux. The Hornets' only hope was to foul and hope the Sioux missed their free throws.

They didn't.

Emporia closed to within 10 (84-74) with 2:43 left, but could get no closer as the Sioux consistently hit their free throws, making 22 of 31 in the second half. Arndtson was 7 of 9 from the line; Tiffany Pudenz was 6 of 8 on the way to 18 points while Jaime Pudenz was 7 of 11 in adding 16 points.

Crouse, the MVP of the Elite Eight, scored 17 points, but it was her defense that stood out. The 6-foot-3 junior grabbed 10 rebounds and blocked nine shots. In three Elite Eight games, Crouse blocked 22 shots.

"It just happens," Crouse said of her shot-blocking ability.

Emporia apparently thought it could score inside against Crouse, even after watching the Sioux center dominate play in the paint in UND's two previous tournament games.

"Crouse affected our inside game," Stein said. "But we weren't going to back down. We won 33 games by going inside."

A big key for the Sioux was their ability to protect the basketball. UND committed a combined 51 turnovers in its two previous national tournament wins. The Sioux turned the ball over 17 times against Emporia, but only seven came in the second half when the Hornets' pressure was intense.

Jaime Pudenz used her quickness and ballhandling ability to keep UND in control against the press.

"They pressed us well," said Jaime Pudenz. "It wasn't frustrating, but their press made it difficult. But I had a lot of players help me out."

That's the way it was. All of the Sioux players helped out as UND again left no doubt that it's the best team in the nation.

TRIPLE CROWN

Sioux withstand Arkansas Tech's spirited challenge, pull away in second half to win their third straight title

By Wayne Nelson
Herald Staff Writer
(Reprinted by permission of the Grand Forks Herald)

PINE BLUFF, Ark. — Arkansas Tech coach Joe Foley couldn't have asked for much more. His undersized, depth-depleted Golden Suns went tooth-and-nail with No. 1-ranked UND for 30 minutes.

"It took that ballclub that's still out on the floor to beat us," Foley said, referring to UND, which was in the midst of its annual postgame celebration. "I don't think there is any other team in the country that could have beaten us today."

Foley had a point. The Golden Suns, a team with nothing to prove, pushed UND to the limit.

But UND had a point to prove, too. The Sioux wanted to become one of the all-time powers of NCAA Division II women's basketball. And when push came to shove, UND was the last team standing once again.

The Sioux, behind a smothering second-half defense, beat Tech 80-63 on Saturday in the championship game of the NCAA Elite Eight women's basketball tournament before 3,135 fans at the Pine Bluff Convention Center.

The national title was the third straight for UND and perhaps its most difficult to achieve, considering key injuries limited the team's traditional depth.

"We had to work very, very hard," UND coach Gene Roebuck said of a win that many expected to be a blowout. "It was a great game. This was the first chance to coach against Joe Foley, and it's easy to see why his team always is in the national scene. His team came to play.

"I knew this game wouldn't be easy. I give them a lot of credit for making us work. But I give credit to our players, too."

Tech gave UND all it could handle in the first half. The Suns, who made eight of their first 12 shots, ran their complex half-court offense to near perfection. Despite giving up size at nearly every position, the Suns' complex screening gave the Sioux fits inside.

Khelli Mullen's basket at the 6:02 mark gave the Suns their biggest lead at 34-28. But the Sioux went on a 7-0 run before Mullen scored again inside for a 36-35 lead.

But Jenny Crouse, who has rescued the Sioux time and time again throughout her career, scored at 2:45 to give UND a 37-36 lead. The Sioux led by four (41-37) at halftime but could not put the Suns away until the final 10 minutes.

"We weren't surprised by the way they hit their shots early," UND's Katie Richards said. "But we were surprised at the number of screens they set. They probably set four (screens) for every shot they took.

"They came out and played with no fear, and you have to respect that. We just needed to calm down and play our kind of defense."

The Sioux did just that in the second half, making it difficult for the Suns, led by A.J. Thomas' 16 points, to get decent shots. "They last 10 minutes, they really picked it up defensively, and that was the difference," Foley said.

And UND's offense did its job, too.

Laura Buss' put-back at 11:22 pulled Tech to within 58-52, but it was all UND after that.

Crouse, named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player for the second straight year, scored back-to-back baskets followed by a Tonia Jones' fast-break basket for a 64-52 lead with 7:58 left. Crouse led the Sioux with 24 points.

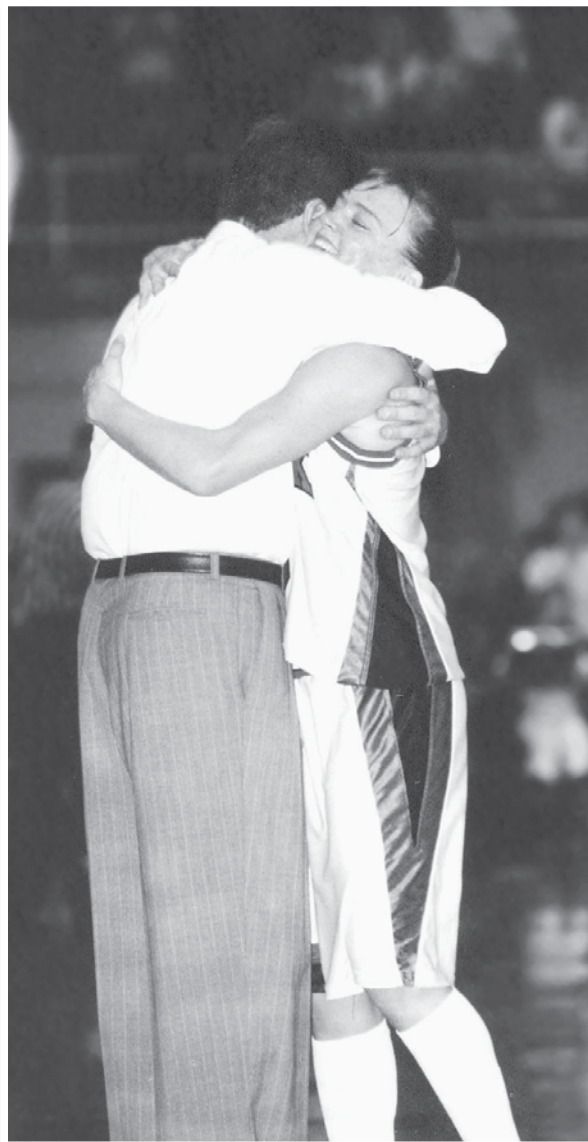

The clinching baskets, both 3-pointers, came from Richards — after she grabbed an offensive rebound — and from Jenny Hoffner. The baskets came in a span of 1:29. Hoffner's trey put UND up 70-57 with 6:54 left.

"To win championships, you have to have someone step up who you don't expect to step up," Roebuck said. "Hoffner hit key 3-pointers and (Jones) did a good job of taking the ball to the glass."

And, then there was Kami Winger, whose 17 rebounds led the Sioux to a whopping 49-27 advantage on the boards.

After the Sioux went up by 13, they continued to play hard defensively. The Suns managed only two points in the last 4:30.

"Defense won this game," Roebuck said. "I thought we played about as well defensively as we could."

Four UND players were in double figures, led by Crouse. Jaime Pudenz (14 points), Richards (13) and Jones (12) also were in double figures. But the points from Pudenz were a major bonus, considering the junior guard played most of the Elite Eight on a sprained right ankle.

She gutted it out, as did the Sioux against a team that wasn't expected to make it past the South Region Tournament.

The Sioux (31-1) were expected to win their third straight national title. And it perhaps was the best of the three for seniors Crouse, Winger and Casey Carroll.

"It was a good way to go out," Crouse said.
