GAME NOTES/HEADLINES

- The Panthers (23-21, 8-10) face off against conference foe Illinois State (18-28, 9-10) in Cedar Falls. The Panthers have played their last nine games of their last ten games at home.
- The Panthers are (5-8) so far in April games this season. Last year, UNI was (14-5) in April matchups.
- The Redbirds enter the weekend on a five-game conference losing streak, after being swept by Drake, and dropping two of three to Bradley.
- Northern Iowa has a 25-74-1 all-time record against Illinois State. The Panthers' last victory against the Redbirds came in 2017, in an 8-2 road win.
- Under head coach Ryan Jacobs, the Panthers are 12-19 against the Redbirds.
- The Panthers swept the season series against the Redbirds in 2017, with all three games being played at Illinois State.
- After struggling to find the long ball for a majority of the season, the Panthers drove three balls over the fence in their series last weekend against Indiana State. 3 of 15 home runs this season for UNI came against the Sycamores.
- Following this weekend's series against Illinois State, the Panthers close out the regular season on the road at Southern Illinois.
- Olivia Brooks has been making the most out of her recent starting appearances. The sophomore outfielder has 11 hits in her last 17 at-bats and has also scored four runs and tacked on an RBI in her last six games.
- Brittney Roby continues to be the energizer for the UNI offense out of the leadoff spot. Roby leads the Panthers' primary starters in batting avg. (.404), runs (26), hits (63) and stolen bases (11). Roby was named Second-Team all-MVC as a first-year transfer in 2017. The senior outfielder has also been named MVC Player of the Week once this season.
- Sammey Bunch, the reigning MVC Freshman of the Year, has overcome the sophomore slump in 2018. The UNI shortstop leads the team in extra-base hits (14), home runs (5), RBI (28) and slugging percentage (.516). Bunch is one of two Panthers this season to be named MVC Player of the Week.
- Brooke Craig has already set career-highs across the board in her third season of pitching at UNI. Craig leads the Panthers in wins (12), innings (125.2) and strikeouts (72). The righty's wins, strikeouts, and inning totals are higher than her first two seasons combined. The junior out of Waterloo also has four shutouts on the year.

2018 WEEKLY NOTES

BROOKS BREAKS OUT

Olivia Brooks enjoyed a breakout week at the plate against MVC opponents. The left-handed swinger broke out with 10 base hits in 14 at-bats, while also scoring four runs and tacking on an RBI. Brooks finished with more hits this week than she had her entire freshman season. The sophomore outfielder raised her batting average more than 100 points during the week.

PANTHERS TURN IT AROUND

After suffering a five-game conference losing streak, the Panthers were able to bounce back against Indiana State, with two consecutive wins over the Sycamores, including a comeback win on Saturday. The Cats will look to hand the Drake Bulldogs their first conference loss of the season on Tuesday evening, in Des Moines.

TOUGH AS NAILS

Brittney Roby ranks as the seventh hardest player to strikeout in the nation, and the hardest so strikeout in the MVC. This season, Roby has struck out only three times in 153 at-bats. This week, Roby went to the plate 19 times, and struck out only once while compiling eight hits. The senior outfielder also has the second-highest batting average in the Missouri Valley.
