Brock Fraser

VOICE OF THE REBEL SWIMMING AND DIVING PROGRAM

Entering his 27th season with the Rebel swimming and diving program, Brock Fraser has been the Voice of Rebel Swimming and Diving for over two decades and is one of the foremost swimming and diving announcers on the west coast.

Fraser, a Masters swimmer in the breast, fly and IM, serves as public address announcer for the Pac-10 and Western Athletic Conference in addition to his work with the Rebels and the Mountain West Conference.

For the last 10 years, Fraser has also served as a starter for the annual PGA Las Vegas Invitational golf tournament and is the owner of a printing business in Las Vegas.

Fraser and his wife, Barbara, are the parents of three grown sons, all of whom grew up swimming and lifeguarding in Las Vegas.

“JUST GO OFF”

On Jan. 21, 1993, Brian Fischer, a distance freestyler on the men's team from 1991-93, died in a fire and explosion in his apartment. A tenacious competitor with a great work ethic, Fischer had a saying that became the rallying cry of the team for the remainder of that season.

His big phrase prior to a race was “just go off.” The 1992-93 team did as Fischer would have wished by moving forward and remembering how he lived life to the fullest. The rallying cry will never be forgotten as it has been inscribed on a banner which hangs in the natatorium.
