UNLV LOOK TO BOUNCE BACK AGAINST FALCONS ...

♦ After a heartbreaking loss to UNR on Monday, where it lost to the Wolf Pack on a last second NBA range three-pointer, UNLV is looking to get back on the winning side with a pair of road games at Air Force on Friday and Sunday.

♦ UNLV is putting its perfect road record on the line with this two-game series. The Lady Rebels won their lone non-conference road game, at Cal State Fullerton for first-year head coach Lindy La Rocque's first career victory, and then added a sweep of Utah State in Logan last week.

♦ The Lady Rebels remains in fourth place in the league standings, one game ahead of fifth place Boise State (5-5). The two teams will met next week in Las Vegas on Feb. 10 and 11.

♦ UNLV has dominated the all-time series with the Falcons, as the Lady Rebels have more wins over Air Force then any other team in program history at 44-5. That includes a current 15-game win streak in the series for UNLV, as the last loss came on Jan. 12, 2013 in Colorado Springs.

♦ This will be just the third and fourth home games in league play for the Falcons. In their first home games, they upset Boise State by 24 points before falling by 22 points in the second game of the series.

♦ UNLV is one of the youngest and most inexperienced teams in the nation. The 11-player Lady Rebels roster is the sixth-youngest team in the nation with an average age of 19.5, while they are the only team in the nation with at least 90% of its roster that started the season with just one career total Division I start.

HEAD COACH
LINDY LA ROCQUE

• 8th head coach in UNLV history

• Second youngest coach in NCAA WBB Division I (30 years old)

• Assistant coach at Stanford (2017-20), Belmont (2015-17) and Oklahoma (2013-14).

• Played on four Final Four teams at Stanford including one national runner-up squad

• Las Vegas native, all-time leading scorer in Durango HS history (girls and boys)

Lindy La Rocque was named the new head women's basketball coach at UNLV, on March 18, 2020.

A key part of NCAA Tournament appearances in 10 out of 11 years, La Rocque returned to her native Las Vegas where she prepped at Durango High School before playing in four straight Final Fours as a student-athlete at Stanford University. She was an assistant coach with the Cardinal for the last three years under legendary head coach and Hall of Famer Tara VanDerveer.

"We are so enthused about bringing Coach La Rocque back to Las Vegas to lead our women's basketball program," Reed-Francois said. "Our pool of candidates was exceptional, but Lindy's character, intellect and energy really stood out. She has worked for and learned from some of the best leaders in sports history and is a rising star in coaching. She will be a great fit for our program, university and in the community."

On the coaching staff at Stanford since 2017, the program consistently ranked among the top 10 in the country. The Cardinal made NCAA Tournament appearances in each season, including two Sweet 16s, an Elite Eight and won the Pac-12 Conference Tournament Championship in 2019. From 2017-20, Stanford had an overall record of 82-22 and was 43-10 in conference play.

"I am so thrilled to be able to come back to my hometown of Las Vegas to lead the UNLV women's basketball program," La Rocque said. "It is truly special to return to a place and in a community that has essentially raised and has supported me throughout all of my life. I have been a Rebel fan since I was a young girl and to now be the head coach at UNLV is truly a dream come true. "

Prior to coaching at Stanford, La Rocque spent two seasons (2015-17) as an assistant coach at Belmont University in Nashville, Tennessee, helping the Bruins to a pair of NCAA Tournament berths, including the program's first in nine seasons. Belmont went 51-15 overall and 29-3 in Ohio Valley Conference play during La Rocque's time there, winning the league's regular-season championship during the 2016-17 season and the conference's tournament title both seasons.

La Rocque began her coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Oklahoma, working for Women's Basketball Hall of Famer Sherri Coale, while pursuing her master's degree in education. The team played in both the 2014 and 2015 NCAA Tournaments.

La Rocque played at Stanford from 2009-12, appearing in 138 career games which ranks eighth in program history. She was instrumental in helping the Cardinal compile a 137-12 overall record during her four years, including an amazing 71-1 mark in Pac-12 play. Her team won four regular season conference championships and four league tournament titles, appearing in the NCAA Tournament each season and advancing to the national title game in 2010.

The eighth full-time head coach in UNLV women's basketball history, La Rocque is the first originally from Las Vegas to be hired to lead the Lady Rebel program.

La Rocque earned a bachelor's degree in science, technology and society, with an emphasis in earth systems, civil and environmental engineering, and calculus from Stanford in 2012. She holds a master's degree in adult and higher education from Oklahoma, which she earned in 2015.

La Rocque was a decorated student-athlete at Durango High School in Las Vegas, where she became the school's (boys and girls) all-time leading scorer with 2,678 points and holds many other program records.

PLAYERS TO WATCH...

It was a given that returning starter and last year's MW Defensive Player of the Year Bailey Thomas would be one of the team's leading performers this year. But so far she's far surpassed the best expectations, as the senior from Las Vegas has more than doubled her previous best scoring average to 10.5 points per game, while also posting 4.7 rebounds and a team-high 4.60 assists per game, which ranks third-best in the league. She's posted a pair of 20+ point games as well this year, including a career-high 29 in an upset win over Colorado State, and ranks in the top 25 in the nation in total minutes per game at 37.7, highest in the league.

Five of the scorers on UNLV this year are newcomers as well, led by sophomore forward Delaynie Byrne, a transfer from Minnesota who is now eligible for the Lady Rebels after sitting out the 2019-20 season. She ranks 14th in the MW in scoring and seventh in rebounding with team highs of 12.7 ppg and 7.1 rpg, respectively. She is also the top three-point shooter in the league, hitting at a 40.0% rate and also has a team-high four double-doubles.

Desi-Rae Young is another surprise for UNLV this year, as the Las Vegas native is currently the top scoring (11.7 ppg) and rebounding (6.1 rpg) freshman in the conference, ranking 17th and 10th overall. She is also hitting at a 54.1% rate from the floor. Freshman Jade Thomas, Bailey's younger sister, is averaging 9.4 ppg while newcomer Nia Johnson, a junior college transfer, is adding 11.7 ppg as well.
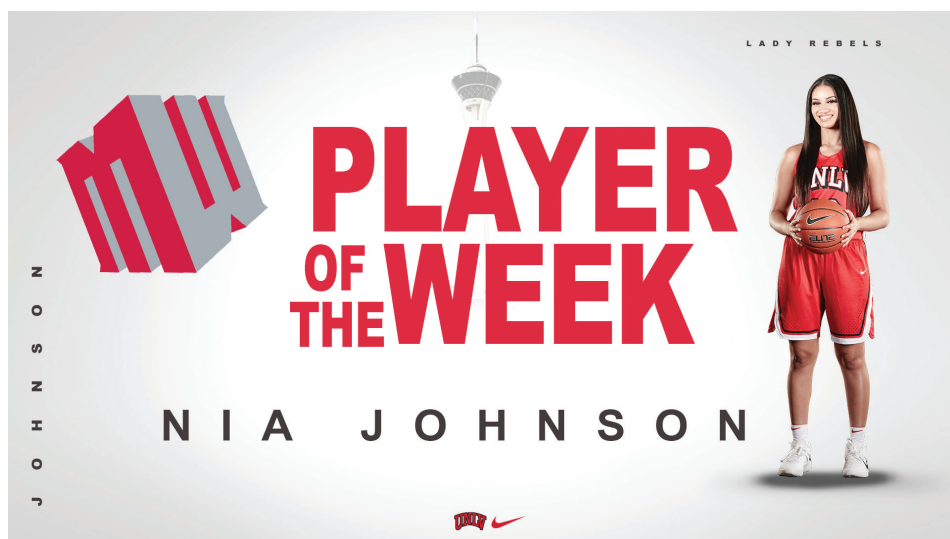

SCORCHING WEEK LEADS TO PLAYER OF THE WEEK...

Nia Johnson averaged just under 20 points per game over four games, including back-to-back career-high 28-point outings against UNR to earn her first career Mountain West Player of the Week honors on Feb. 2.

After posting double-figure games against Utah State on the road, Johnson shot a sizing 12-of-21 from three-point range over the two games against the Wolf Pack, with six in each game. She is the only player in the MW this season to score at least 28 points in back-to-back games.

THREE-POINT PARTY...

If there was any question there would be a different look to the UNLV offense this season, that was quickly answered after the first two games as the Lady Rebels have shown that under new head coach Lindy La Rocque, the three-ball will be one of its big weapons. That was first on display in the win over CSU Fullerton when the Lady Rebels tied the school record with 12 made three-pointers in the 81-67 win over CSU Fullerton. Bailey Thomas led the way with a perfect 6-of-6 performance from behind the arc, which was just one off the school record and is tied for the sixth most in a game this season in the nation.

UNLV would then shatter that record just over two weeks later, knocking down a new team record 15 three-pointers in the blowout victory over LMU on Dec. 21 in the Thomas & Mack Center. Bailey's younger sister Jade Thomas led the way with seven three-pointers, tying the school record while setting a new freshman mark for most treys in a game.

As a team UNLV is third in the Mountain West and 37th in the nation with 8.2 three-pointers per game, after ranking near the bottom of both the league and the NCAA in that category for most of its tenure in the Mountain West.

SEASON SWEEP...
UNLV picked up its first conference season sweep of the season after routing Utah State 89-59 in game one (Jan. 25) and then holding off a third quarter rally for a 73-62 victory in game two (Jan. 27). Prior to that series, the Lady Rebels had split the first three, winning the first game of two against Wyoming, Colorado State and New Mexico.

REBOUNDS 'R' US...
UNLV became the first team to lead the Mountain West in rebound margin for five consecutive seasons a year ago, and the Lady Rebels are well on their way to accomplishing that again this season as they are currently 44th in the nation with a +6.5 margin, well ahead of second place Colorado State (+3.94), and rank 26th in total rebounds per contest at 43.6 rpg.

Their dominance on the boards was on display Jan. 25 at Utah State, as UNLV grabbed its most rebounds against a Division I opponent in 29 years with 61 in the 89-59 victory over the Aggies. That also ranked in a tie for ninth most in Lady Rebel history.

INEXPERIENCED LADY REBEL LINEUP...
For the second straight season the Lady Rebels will be featuring a very inexperienced lineup. UNLV entered the 2019-20 campaign with just 37 total career starts from its roster. This year, the Lady Rebel roster has a total of 54 starts in Division I play. However, 53 of the 54 starts came from senior Bailey Thomas, the other 10 players had just one combined start in Division I (Anna Blount). No other team in the nation had 90% or more of its roster combine for just one total career start entering the season besides UNLV.

YOUTH MOVEMENT...
UNLV will have just two upperclassmen on this year's squad, senior Bailey Thomas and junior transfer Nia Johnson. The Lady Rebels have nine underclassmen on this year's squad, with four freshmen and five sophomores. As Johnson has just one year of Division I play, that leaves the Lady Rebels as the only school in the nation with over 90% of its roster having just one year of Division I experience coming into the 2020-21 season (not counting Merrimack College, who is starting just its second year in Division I play this season).

The youth of the Lady Rebels also shows up in the average age of the lineup. UNLV's 11 active players combine for average age of 19.5, the sixth youngest roster in the nation.

School	Average Age
Oral Roberts	19.3
LaSalle	19.3
Incarnate Word	19.3
Montana State	19.3
Western Kentucky	19.4
UNLV	19.5

WHERE WILL THE POINTS COME FROM?...
UNLV will have to replace a significant amount of its offensive production from a year ago, as the Lady Rebels have lost 83.9% of its total scoring, 84.1% of its total rebounding and 80.6% of its total assists from 2019-20. Only one other school in the nation lost a greater production from the previous year then the Lady Rebels, as Norfolk State lost 85% of its scoring, 86% of its rebounding, and 89% of its assists.

BYRNE = PLAYER OF THE WEEK...

Delaynie Byrne picked up the first conference weekly honor of her career on Dec. 28, as the sophomore forward was named Mountain West Player of the Week after helping UNLV cruise past Loyola Marymount 94-59 Dec. 21 in Las Vegas. In that game, Byrne posted a new career-high with 24 points and added a career-high tying 11 rebounds for her third double-double of the season. When the game was still in doubt in the first quarter with the Lady Rebels tied at 8-8 with the Lions, Byrne took over as she scored the next 11 points of the game. She started the run with a pair of free throws, and followed that with a three-pointer, a three-point play and then another three-pointer to put UNLV ahead 19-8. The Lady Rebels would lead by double-digits the rest of the way.

Byrne finished the afternoon hitting a career-high five three-pointers out of seven attempts. Overall she was 7-of-12 from the floor for 58.3%, also a new career-high. She was a perfect 5-of-5 at the free throw line and added two assists as well.

THOMAS DUO...

The Lady Rebels will have a pair of sisters on this year's team, as Jade Thomas will be a freshman and Bailey Thomas a senior. This will make the first-time the Thomas sisters have ever played on a team together through ever level of basketball. They join a long line of sister duos to play for the Lady Rebels, following in the footsteps of the Gonzales twins (Dakota and Dylan) as well as twins Pauline (1988-90) and Geannine Jordan (1987-90) and Dishawn (2000-03) and Sherry McCracklin (2002-06).

2020-21 SIGNING CLASS ANNOUNCED...

UNLV head coach Lindy La Rocque's first recruiting class was one of the best in decades for the Lady Rebels, as the five-member class included a pair of players there were ranked in the ESPN Top 70 (Alyssa Durazo-Frescas - #64, Alyssa Brown - #66). Also signing were Kenadee Winfrey (Canyon, Texas), Kiara Jackson (Grand Prairie, Texas) and Taylin Smith (Beaverton, Oregon).

WATCHING THE LADY REBELS...

UNLV is scheduled to have all 13 home games live streamed this season. Eleven of the games will be on the Mountain West Network, available at UNLVRebels.com. Ben Wilson returns as play-by-play for the home video stream in his second year with the broadcasts, while Jacob Roach and Ashly Dickinson will serve as color analysts.

FloSports will carry all four games of December's Duel In The Desert event, hosted by UNLV from Dec. 19-21. That includes UNLV's game against Pacific (Dec. 20) and the Dec. 21 contest against Loyola Marymount.

UNLV ON THE RADIO...

All Lady Rebel home games and all but two road games will have a live radio broadcast this season, featuring the radio call of Wyatt Tomchek (play-by-play). Kevaney Martin and Ashly Dickinson will serve as color analyst on home broadcasts, while Mark Wasik will fill the role on road games. This year's games can be heard through a link on UNLVRebels.com.

A select number of games this season will also be carried live on local stations to be determined at a later date.

UNLV PICKED TO FINISH NINTH IN THE MW...
