TIPOFF

>> The New Orleans women's basketball program will look to turn the page after a week off from competition (no games scheduled/not COVID related). The Privateers fell 72-55 to Jacksonville State in their last game back on Dec. 5, 2020 at the Pete Mathews Coliseum in Jacksonville, Ala. DIONJHAE THMOAS led the team in scoring (15 points) for the second straight contest. Three student-athletes reached double-digit scoring in total.

>> The New Orleans and Missouri programs have not met very often throughout each school's history as this will be just the fourth meeting between the two schools. The Privateers took the first ever meeting between the two sides by a 91-86 margin back on Jan. 1, 1988. The squads have gone on to play just two more times in the last 32 years, both Missouri victories (53-52 win on Dec. 14, 1988 and 81-45 victory back on Dec. 2, 2017). It is the first time in three years that the two sides are linking up once again.

>> New Orleans is coming off one of the best seasons in program history. The Privateers advanced to the Southland Postseason Tournament for the fourth straight year and posted the program's highest win total since 1992-93. Included in that mark were 12 Southland victories, the most conference wins for the program in a single-season in school history.

>> The Privateers return just five of their 13 letterwinners from a year ago, but each returner (DIONJHAE THOMAS, JADA DUNCANTELL, MIA DECK, MARY DELGADO and TRAYA BRUCE) has handled starter minutes during their career. The team also reloaded with one of the most talented and deepest recruiting classes in program history with the addition of 11 newcomers that included three transfers (TIANA GIPSON, ERIN RANDLE and ABIGAIL JOHNSON) and eight freshmen (CALEIGH-ROSE WEST, ERICCA RICHARDSON, KYLA DAVIS, ZOE COOPER, BRIANNA ELLIS, AALIA CARLSON, ZANAA CORDIS and JACQUELINE DIANIS).

>> The New Orleans women's basketball program was selected to finish seventh overall in the 2020-21 Southland Preseason Poll. Last year the Privateers were picked eighth and went on to have one of the best seasons in program history.

NEW ORLEANS WOMEN'S BASKETBALL NEWS & NOTES

A DECADE FOR DAVENPORT; COULD IT TURN TO TWO?

>> Head coach KEESHAWN DAVENPORT is entering her 10th year as the head of the Privateers program (after spending time as a student-athlete, graduate assistant and assistant coach with UNO). She is well on her way to another decade as the University of New Orleans and Davenport agreed to terms on a four-year contract extension that will keep the 2020 Eddie Robinson Award Winner on the Lakefront through the 2024-25 season. The extension, which was announced in early July, added four years to Davenport's current deal that still had one year remaining (it was set to expire after the 2020-21 season).

VETERAN LEADERSHIP

>> While a young team overall, every letterwinner returning from last season has started at least seven games during their Privateer career.

- Dionjhae Thomas	46
- Traya Bruce	44
- Jada Duncantell	28
- Mary Delgado	9
- Mia Deck	7

GETTING TO THE LINE

>> New Orleans was highly effective at getting to the charity stripe in 2019-20, as the team ranked 37th in the nation in free throw attempts. The Privateers hit 404-of-606 (66.7%), good for the 71st-most free throws made in the country. This season Dionjhae Thomas has paced the group with 24 free throw attempted through three games, the seventh-most attempts in the Southland Conference.

WE'LL TAKE THAT

>> The Privateers are known throughout the Southland Conference for their defense, a fact the nation took notice of as well in 2019-20. New Orleans recorded 10.3 steals per contest, a mark that ranked 29th in all of NCAA DI. Its 299 overall steals slotted in at 41st in the country.

DECK FROM DOWNTOWN

>> The green light is always on for sophomore guard MIA DECK after she shot 35.9 percent from the field and 38.6 from behind the arc during her freshman campaign. The three-point percentage was the fifth-best mark in the conference and tops among Southland freshman. She had five games in which she knocked down three or more treys in 2019-20, with a career-high of seven in a win over UIW back on Jan. 1, 2020. Deck has reached double-digit scoring twice so far on the young year (with 12 points against both Texas State and Jacksonville State).

DUNCANTELL IS A DOG

>> Senior point guard JADA DUNCANTELL in fourth overall in the Southland with an average of 31.7 minutes per game. She will be a big piece of the Privateers success in 2020-21 after the program lost All-Southland/All-Louisiana PG Rehema Franklin to graduation. Duncantell went off for 28 points in the Privateers season-opening dub vs. Texas State and has reached double-digit scoring figures in two of three games so far this year. She is third in the conference with her average of 16.7 points per game.

DAVENPORT: YOUR 2020 EDDIE ROBINSON AWARD WINNER

>> New Orleans head women's basketball coach Keeshawn Davenport was selected as the 2020 winner of the Eddie Robinson Award, made official by the Greater New Orleans Sports Awards Committee and the AllState Sugar Bowl. The Eddie Robinson Award, named after the Grambling football coaching legend, is presented annually by the Greater New Orleans Sports Committee to an individual in the state of Louisiana who has demonstrated the qualities most associated with Coach Robinson: outstanding achievement in athletics, academics, sportsmanship, and citizenship by maximizing the use of limited resources. Davenport was awarded the honor after her team's success both on and off the court in 2019-20.

GIVING BACK

>> The program ranked third in the nation and tops in the Southland in the 2020 NCAA Team Workers Helper Community Service Competition out of all NCAA Division I Women's Basketball programs. The Privateers recorded 532 hours of community service in total.

NEW ORLEANS WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

LAST TIME AGAINST MISSOURI (2017)

WOMEN'S HOOPS OUTREBOUND No. 19/16 TIGERS IN LOSS

COLUMBIA, Mo. – The University of New Orleans (1-6) held a strong edge on the offensive glass but could not convert on second chance opportunities early in an 81-45 loss to No. 19/16 University of Missouri (7-1) Saturday at Mizzou Arena.

The Privateers opened the scoring on a basket by Shania Woods but Missouri answered on the next possession with a three from Lauren Aldridge. That sparked a 13-0 run by the Tigers. After a quarter, Missouri held a 24-6 lead.

Mariah Wright knocked down a pair of triples at the outset of the second quarter and had four in the contest. The Tigers held a 43-19 lead into the halftime break. Missouri shot 51.6% from the field in the first half and 52.7% for the afternoon. It was their fourth time eclipsing the 50% mark in a game this season.

The Privateers dominated the glass with a 25-7 advantage in offensive rebounds and a 45-36 total edge for the game. Whitley Larry led the way in rebounds for New Orleans with seven. Randi Brown and Kayla Mundy added five each.

“It’s a plus,” said head coach Keeshawn Davenport about the rebounding advantage. “That’s a heck of a bright spot. Missouri is a very good team and they have extremely good talent. I think we have to do something about capitalizing on the extra possessions we have. And we have to get off to better starts.”

The loss was the second against a ranked opponent for the Privateers. And it was the second of a three-game stretch in six days.

Wright led the team in scoring with 12 points, all on three-pointers. Brown added nine points and Shania Woods finished with eight. Alyssa Quixley had seven points to lead all scorers off the bench. Brown also had a team-high four assists.

“I think Mariah did a great job of knocking down open shots when she had them,” said Davenport. “That’s something that everybody has to continue to do is shoot the ball with confidence.”

INTERVIEW REQUESTS

All New Orleans players and coaches will be available throughout the 2020-21 season for interviews with members of the media before or after practice and by APPOINTMENT ONLY through the Athletic Communications Office.
