DUCKS CARRY NINE-MATCH WINNING STREAK INTO FIRST ROAD PAC-12 ACTION

No. 21 Oregon heads south this week for its first taste of road conference play against Arizona State and Arizona, and does so on an impressive nine match winning streak. The Ducks will take on Arizona State on Friday at 6 p.m. PT on Pac-12 Networks, looking to build on their recent success against the Sun Devils. Oregon has won 14 of the last 16 matches against ASU, including the last two after winning in straight sets last season. ASU currently has a 37-22 advantage in the all-time series. The Ducks will then head to Tuscon to face Arizona on Saturday at 6 p.m. The Wildcats have won the last two meetings against the Ducks, winning in straight sets in 2015, and hold a 44-18 all-time advantage, but the Ducks have won 10 of the last 19 matches.

Jim Moore's club is second in the nation in kills per set at 15.06, trailing only San Diego (15.62), while leading the Pac-12 in that category. The Ducks' .321 team hitting percentage leads the conference and is third nationally, putting them as one of only five teams in the nation to hit better than .300 as a team. Setters Maggie Scott and August Raskie have been stellar at setting up the Ducks' hitters as they have paced Oregon to a mark of 13.86 assists per set, tops in the Pac-12 and fifth in the country. Individually, Ronika Stone (.424) and Kacey Nady (.385) are third and fourth in the conference in hitting percentage, respectively, while Taylor Agost (.367) is tenth. WEEKLY NOTES

VANDER WEIDE CONTINUES TO PROVE SHE'S AN ALL-AROUND PLAYER

Often referred to on the outside as an "offensive weapon," sophomore Lindsey Vander Weide has made it clear so far this season that she is much more than just an outside hitter. Vander Weide has rarely come off the court this year, serving as a six-rotation player while passing from the back row on a consistent basis. Vander Weide is tied for fourth in the Pac-12 with five double-doubles this season, and has posted double-digit digs in nine matches this season, including seven of her last eight. The sophomore also has a service ace in all but two matches in 2016, with multiple aces in four different matches.

FRESHMEN FAB FOUR

Oregon's highly-touted freshman class has delivered on expectations thus far in their first season of collegiate volleyball. Ronika Stone has been stellar, leading the team in both hitting percentage (.424), total blocks (40) and blocks per set (1.38), while providing the team with a noticeable infusion of energy. Stone's .424 hitting percentage is currently third in the Pac-12. Jolie Rasmussen has been very impressive on the offensive end, averaging 3.05 kills per set while hitting .265, and has also shown some ability in serve receive with 1.00 dig per set. Willow Johnson has provided versatility with her left-handed swing on the right side, hitting .309 with 2.15 kills per set while also averaging 0.65 blocks per set. Brooke Van Sickle, the heir apparent to Benson at libero, has been all over the court in her first season, and has averaged 1.23 kills per set and 1.66 digs per set.

AMANDA BENSON EARNS PAC-12 DEFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK HONORS

Senior libero Amanda Benson was named the Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week on Sept. 12, after helping lead the Ducks to a 4-0 week and a sweep in the Nike Invitational. Over the four matches, Benson dug 65 balls, 5.00 per set, while committing only four receiving errors and serving as a fixture in the Ducks' defense. It was Benson's second career Pac-12 weekly honor.

BENSON CHASING UO DIGS RECORDS IN FINAL SEASON

In her senior season with the Ducks, libero Amanda Benson has a couple of UO career digs records within her sights. Benson is currently second on the all-time digs per set list at 4.60, trailing only Katie Swoboda (5.11). Benson is also second on the all-time total digs list with 1,759 for her career. Benson needs 439 digs this season to reach Swoboda's all-time mark of 2,198. Benson currently leads the Pac-12 with 5.22 digs per set. Elsewhere in the UO career record book, junior setter Maggie Scott is eighth with 7.93 assists per set and eighth with 2,141 assists. Senior Kacey Nady is currently fourth with a career attack percentage of .319.

MOORE CLOSING IN ON 600 CAREER WINS

In his 12th season with the Ducks and 28th overall, head coach Jim Moore is just 14 victories away from reaching the 600 mark as a head coach. 234 of those wins have come while at the helm at Oregon, where he has boasted a .676 winning percentage over his 11-plus years. Moore collected a combined 84 wins over four years between Chico State and Northern Michigan before arriving in Eugene, and 84 over four years at Texas, Friday's opponent. Moore started his coaching career at Northern Michigan where he accumulated 123 wins in his first stint with the program before moving to Kansas State, where he won 61 matches over three seasons.

VANDER WEIDE NAMED PRESEASON ALL-PAC-12:

Coming off of a phenomenal freshman season, sophomore outside hitter Lindsey Vander Weide was recognized by the conference's coaches by being selected to the preseason All-Pac-12 team. The Turlock, Calif. native earned All-Pac-12 honors and Pac-12 All-Freshmen Team recognition last season, as well as Pac-12 Freshman of the Week honors twice throughout the year. Vander Weide led the Ducks with 410 points in 2015, finished second on the team with 356 kills, 3.21 kills per set, 253 digs and 21 service aces, and third with 59 blocks.

DUCKS PICKED FOURTH IN PRESEASON COACHES POLL

After a sixth place finish in 2015, the Ducks were picked to finish fourth in the league this season in a poll of the conference's coaches, receiving 95 total points in the poll. Stanford was the consensus at the top of the poll, receiving nine of the 12 first-place votes and 119 points total, while UCLA and Washington each received a first-place vote to round out the top three.

DUCKS LAND NO. 2 RECRUITING CLASS IN THE NATION

A year after assembling the nation's fourth-best recruiting class, the Ducks welcome a four-player class in 2016 that was ranked No. 2 in the nation by both prepvolleyball.com and volleyballmag.com. The quartet of hitters Jolie Rasmussen and Willow Johnson, middle blocker Ronika Stone and libero/outside hitter Brooke Van Sickle is the Ducks' top-rated class ever. Stone is the top-rated individual recruit in UO history, slotted at No. 10 on prepvolleyball.com's prestigious "Senior Aces" list. Stone was a first-team Under Armour All-American, while Rasmussen was a second-team All-American and No. 20 on the Senior Aces list. Johnson was an honorable mention All-American and ranked 27th in the 2016 senior class, and Van Sickle came in at No. 88 among the Senior Aces while also earning first-team All-American honors.

DUCKS LOOKING TO EARN SIXTH STRAIGHT NCAA BERTH

Oregon enters 2016 with its sights set on returning to the NCAA Tournament for the sixth straight season. The Ducks faced off with Wisconsin in the first round of the dance last season, and reached the NCAA Regional round in 2014 after serving as a host school in the first two rounds. The Ducks battled with Nebraska in the second round of the tournament in 2013, a year after the program's most successful season in history in 2012 when it reached the national championship game against Texas. The Ducks started the five-year run in the tournament in 2011 in the first round against Colorado State.

After 11 years at the helm of the Oregon program, head coach Jim Moore has continuously helped the Ducks reach new heights. Under Moore the Ducks have made an NCAA Tournament appearance an annual event, reaching the postseason in nine of his 11 years at Oregon.

Moore has not only led the Ducks to the postseason, but guided them through it. At Oregon, Moore has advanced past the first round in six of the nine years the team has qualified, with a run to the 2012 national championship. The historic 2012 season was a banner year for Moore and the Ducks. UO finished the season with a 30-5 overall record and an 85.7 winning percentage, both of which are school-bests in the NCAA era.

The achievements garnered acclaim for Moore who was named 2012 National Coach of the Year by Volleyball Magazine. The award was the third national honor of his career after being named the 2007 Collegiate Volleyball Update National Coach of the Year in 2007 and the AVCA Division II National Coach of the Year in 1993 at Northern Michigan.

During the 2014 season, Moore passed a major milestone with his 197th win as the leader of the Ducks, becoming the winningest coach in Oregon history. With the team's win against Oregon State on Sept. 24, Moore passed Karla Rice who notched 196 wins during her 10-year stint from 1968-77.

Prior to Moore's takeover at Oregon, the Ducks had gone 14 years without finishing a season with a winning record. In his second year, Moore turned the tables and brought winning fortunes to the UO program and never looked back. The 2006 team won 17 matches (17-12), a mark the team has not dropped below in each of the successive seven years under Moore.

In addition to rebuilding programs and promoting team success, Moore has developed world-class talent at the individual level.

The most recent example is Oregon alum Alaina Bergsma being named AVCA National Player of the Year in 2012. The honor was the first for one of Moore's student-athletes at the Division I level. Moore had previously coached two National Players of the year at the Division II level.

Bergsma was not the only student-athlete to earn national attention in 2012. Lauren Plum joined her as a First Team All-American while Liz Brenner was named All-America Second Team during that season and repeated the honor in 2013 as a junior.

Eleven of UO's 12 All-America honors have come during Moore's tenure, thanks to the history-making careers of Alaina Bergsma (1st - 2012, 3rd-2011), Martenne Bettendorf (3rd - 2014), Liz Brenner (2nd - 2012, 2013) Neticia Enesi (3rd-2008, 2009), Gorana Maricic (1st-2008, 2nd- 2007), Sonja Newcombe (2nd-2009) and Lauren Plum (1st - 2012).

Since the first season of Pac-10 play in 1986, Moore's players have racked up 16 of the Ducks' 23 All-Conference honors courtesy of Bergsma (2011, 2012) and Plum (2011, 2012), Bettendorf (2014), Brenner (2012, 2013, 2014), Meyers (2010), Enesi (2008, 2009), Newcombe (2008, 2009), Maricic (2007, 2008) and Lindsey Vander Weide (2015).

Moore is responsible for 16 of Oregon's 20 honorable mentions from Amanda Benson (2014, 2015), Kacey Nady (2014), Plum (2013), Ariana Williams (2011, 2012, 2013), Haley Jacob (2012), Bergsma (2010), Djordjevic (2009), Meyers (2007, 2009), Katie Swoboda (2008, 2007) and Newcombe (2006, 2007).

Likewise, he has mentored nine of Oregon's 15 all-time Pac-12 All-Freshman Team selections - Vander Weide (2015) Frankie Shebby and Maggie Scott (2014), Amanda Benson (2013), Liz Brenner (2011), Plum (2010), Fischer (2009), Meyers (2007), Newcombe (2006) and Mira Djuric (2005) - and three of its seven honorable mentions - Djordjevic (2006), Enesi (2006) and Swoboda (2005).

The team's emphasis on excellence to academics certainly extends to the classroom. In 2005-06 and '09-10, the team received the AVCA Academic Team Award after it combined for +3.30 GPA's each academic year.

On Pac-10/12 All-Academic rolls Moore has seen 14 student-athletes to Pac-12 awards along with 32 honorable mentions.

Prior to his arrival in Eugene, Moore served as head coach at Northern Michigan (1989-94, 2003-04), Kansas State (1994-97), Texas (1997-00) and Chico State (2001-02). recruiting challenges, his five-year tenure culminated in the Wildcats winning the 1993 NCAA II National Championship. Moore raised the perennial sub-.500 team to national dominance, highlighted by three consecutive trips to the NCAA Division II National Tournament quarterfinals, back-to-back appearances in the national championship match, and finally the 1993 National Championship after a phenomenal season record of 38-1.

Moore and his wife, Stacy Metro, have two children: Matthew and Michael.
