THE 2016 Pac-12 tournament champion Oregon Ducks saw a record-setting four players named to the 2016 Pac-12 All-Tournament team - Dillon Brooks, Elgin Cook, Chris Boucher and Tyler Dorsey.

FIRST NCAA CHAMPIONS -- THE TALL FIRS

Oregon's 1939 basketball team earned a niche in sports history by winning the first NCAA championship basketball tournament ever held.

With a first unit composed of four native Oregonians and one Washingtonian, Coach Howard Hobson guided the Tall Firs to a 29-5 season record and Oregon's only NCAA basketball title. The starting five listed three All-Americans in 6-foot 8-inch Urgel 'Slim' Wintermute from Longview. Wash., sharp-shooting Laddie Gale, a 6-4 forward from Oakridge and 5-8 guard Bobby Anet from Astoria. In addition, John Dick, a 6-4 forward from The Dalles, earned All-America honors the following season.

The guard spots were manned by Astorians Anet and 5-11 Wally Johansen. The two had teamed since their grade school days in Astoria. For reserve strength, Hobson called on the likes of Bob Hardy, Red McNeely, Ford Mullen, Matt Pavalunas, Earl Sandness and Ted Sarpola. Gale, Wintermute, Anet, Johansen and Mullen played on three consecutive Northern Division championship teams.

The Ducks posted a 10-3 non-conference record, highlighted by a two-week Christmas tour that opened in Madison Square Garden with a 38-36 loss to CCNY and concluded with a 50-46 defeat at the hands of Stanford. In between, however, the Tall Firs won six of seven games giving them a highly respectable 6-3 road mark against some of the nation's finest teams. Oregon powered to the Northern Division title with a 14-2 record, sweeping four-game series from Idaho and Washington and capturing three of four battles each with Oregon State and Washington State.

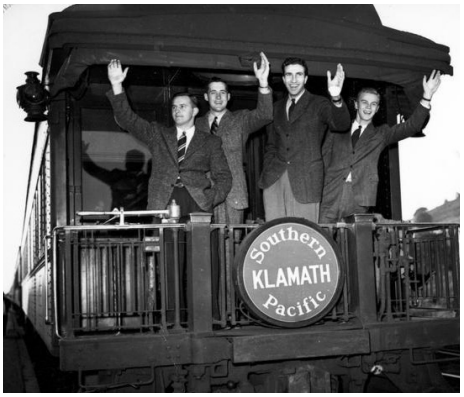

That set the stage for a best-of-three playoff with Southern Division champion California at McArthur Court. Before capacity crowds, the Ducks captured the Pacific Coast Conference title in two games. Gale scored 18 points and Wintermute added 11 as the Ducks won the opener, 54-40, and Wintermute and Dick each tallied 16 points in the 53-47 triumph that put Oregon in the NCAA Western Playoffs. Oregon quickly went to work in the Western Playoffs at Treasure Island, knocking off Texas, 56-41, and dumping Oklahoma, 55-37.

On March 27, the Tall Firs faced Ohio State on the neutral Northwestern University court at Evanston, Ill., for the national title. Dick scored 13 points and Gale and Anet contributed 10 apiece as the Ducks rolled to a 46-33 victory and the NCAA crown.

Huge crowds welcomed them in Portland and Eugene to climax one of the legendary events in the state's athletic history.

Oregon's 2018-19 team held opponents to 66.2 points per game, the fewest by a UO opponent in the three-point-line era. Opponents were held to an average field goal percentage of 39.8, the lowest opponent average since 1962. The Ducks won 10 games in a row to close the season, winning the Pac-12 Tournament title and advancing to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

Oregon legend JORDAN BELL was drafted in the second round of the 2017 NBA Draft. In 2018, he became the third Oregon alum to win an NBA Championship, helping the Warriors sweep Cleveland four games to zero.

Oregon defeated Willamette 38-10 in the first game played at McArthur Court, Jan. 14, 1927.

McArthur Court History

With over 1,000 games contested within its walls, anyone who played in McArthur Court will testify it's a special place. Picture a triple-decked, classically architectured pavilion. From the outside, you heard the roar of the crowd. Inside, it was packed to the roof with the deafening cheers of more than 9,000 boisterous fans. Overhead, three balconies vibrated to the sound of Oregon's pep band and rally squad and the scoreboard suspended over midcourt appeared to quiver. The atmosphere was electric.

That's what it was like playing in old McArthur Court, which was better known by players and visitors alike as "The Pit." Opponents cringed at the thought of playing in Mac Court. Fans speak of it with unmatched reverence.Named after Clifton N. (Pat) McArthur, a student-athlete and the university's first student body president, Mac Court was one of the classic jewels of Oregon's athletic program. Visitors likened the fabled West Coast facility to the old Boston Garden in the east.

McArthur Court was once deemed as a Pac-10 visiting team's least favorite place to play. In 2001, The Sporting News named it the "best gym in America," and in 1995 Sports Illustrated listed it as one of the 12 toughest places in the country to play at the collegiate level. Students sat at courtside and the atmosphere just before the start of a game was tingling. Oregon's fans are an integral part of the ambience. The Ducks ranked annually near the top of attendance figures in the conference and the setting was the favorite of the many television producers and announcers who covered games at Mac Court. The flavor was easy to capture for their audiences.

McArthur Court was built in 1926, with the first game staged January 14, 1927, when the Oregon men's basketball team beat Willamette 38-10, and has since undergone numerous modifications and upgrades. The Associated Students of the University of Oregon decided to "tax ourselves to build what we want" and their desires included an indoor arena. McArthur Court was thus paid for out of a $15 fee imposed by the ASUO. During 1932, one of the worst depression years, the mortgage was burned in a public ceremony after the Court had been completely paid for.

The capacity was raised from its original 6,000 seats to 7,600 with a series of additions between 1934-1953 and another expansion in 1955 upped the capacity to 9,100.
Further renovations allowed for as many as 10,063 fans when the upper two balconies were expanded to encircle the arena, but recent alterations to the floor-level seating have dropped the capacity to its final total of 9,087.

Oregon defeated Willamette 38-10 in the first game played at McArthur Court, Jan. 14, 1927.

Matthew Knight Arena opened its doors on Jan. 13, 2011, to a sold-out crowd of 12,364 as the Oregon men's basketball christened the new palace with a 68-62 victory over USC. The building, named after the late son of NIKE Co-Founder Phil Knight, is located on the east side of UO's campus.

Officials broke ground on Matthew Knight Arena on Feb. 7, 2009, as the 420,000 square-foot masterpiece was constructed in less than two years. Matt Arena was erected to replace legendary McArthur Court, which opened on January 14, 1927. Known as one of the toughest venues in the country for opponents, Mac Court was the second-oldest on-campus arena still in use before Matthew Knight Arena opened its doors.
Also known as "The Pit," Sporting News named it the "the best gym in America" as sports writer and arena researcher Bill Kintner placed Mac Court his top five of college basketball arenas in America for its history, character, and atmosphere.

Mac Court was a passion incubator. The geometry of the place not only shoved fans close to amplify the intensity of emotion, it put fans on top of the action, making them feel like they were an integral part of the play on the floor, and able to usher their Ducks to victory through the force of their energy and collective will. Fans didn't just go to Mac Court to watch a game; fans went to live it.
To recreate the same passion and experience at Matthew Knight Arena, the new venue was fashioned with the same close connection to the student-athletes and the action; by making the fans feel like they are an integral part of the game.
Matthew Knight Arena is a monument to all Oregon fans and their common love for Oregon, and the exciting energy that happens when all join together to cheer for the Ducks.

There are several areas throughout the arena, including the club areas, team spaces and concessions that tie the Oregon brand together. Three major displays on the concourse are the Anthem to the Fan, the Hero Graphics and the Shroud Wall. Each tells different parts of the story. The Shroud Wall is primarily about heritage, energy and progression.
Hero Graphics celebrate Oregon's great student-athletes and great moments--past and present. The Anthem to the Fan is about common devotion. Together, they express the sense of connection and ownership, the unique and proud heritage, the wild passion, and the unrelenting quest for more championships to come. This Land of the Tall Firs is a special place, inhabited by people who care more deeply about a team that fights even harder.

The unique floor design at Matthew Knight Arena is a nod to the Tall Firs, the nickname of Oregon's National Championship basketball squad in 1939. The one of its kind perspective is looking up from a clearing in the forest that celebrates Oregon's beautiful environment.

Matthew Knight Arena provides unobstructed sightlines to the total playing surface for all seats. The lower bowl of Matt Arena is closer to the floor and steeper than Mac Court. The West Endzone seating is as steep as code allows – over 36 degrees.

In addition, Matt Arena has four hustle boards located at the corners of the seating bowl for game stats and 270 degree LED ribbon boards located at front of upper seating bowl.
There are two regulation-size basketball court and one regulation-size volleyball practice courts.

On the floor level, Matt Arena has spacious on-site athletic training and weight training facilities as well as a nutrition bar.
The men's basketball, women's basketball and volleyball team locker rooms and lounges also have state of the art technology for game days, practices and studying purposes.

MATTHEW KNIGHT ARENA FACTS

Matthew Knight Arena is the first LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) Gold certified Arena in the NCAA. LEED provides standards to recognize Green buildings. A kiosk explaining Matthew Knight Arena's LEED features is located on the main concourse near the West entrance.

- There are four times as many toilets as in Mac Court with over 130 women's toilets, 65 men's toilets and 4 family toilets.
- The lower bowl of Matthew Knight Arena is closer to the floor and steeper than Mac Court.
- Over 50 Point of Sale lines are available to purchase food and beverage in 20 different locations.
- Over 200 TVs located in the arena and over 100 of these are located throughout the concourses.
- There are four loading dock bays with room underground to turn a 70" truck 360 degrees.
- The clean span roof trusses are over 260' long.

CONSTRUCTION FACTS

- 1,890 employees worked at the site.
- 330,000 cubic yards of dirt were excavated (that's 30,000 dump truck loads).
- 50,000 cubic yards of rock.
- 39,000 cubic yards of concrete were poured in the arena and the garage (that's 3,900 mixers full).
- 4,840 tons (over 9 million lbs.) of reinforcing steel was placed in the concrete.
- 580,000 lbs. of precast concrete forms the seating bowl.
- Over 2,900 tons of structural steel were placed.
- Over 800,000 man hour.s

KILKENNY FLOOR & MATT LOGO

» The court at Matthew Knight Arena has a fresh new look for Oregon's first season in the Big Ten Conference.

» Highlighting the new Kilknenny Court surface are a more prominent 'O' logo at center court, a reimagiging of the tree design reminding opponents they're playing "Deep in the Woods" when they come to Eugene, and other touches conceptualized by the design team at Van Horne Brands.

» Floor design and concept is a nod to the Tall Firs, the nickname of Oregon's 1939 national championship winning men's basketball team, and three logos on the floor are an homage to the family of former Oregon athletic director Pat Kilkenny.

» More than 270 photos of trees from around the Northwest were taken to incorporate in the design, reinforcing the deep roots of the university in the region.

» The Killkenny Court mark at each end includes a new image blending a shamrock with the Duck foot, honoring the "Lucky Duck" charitable foundation started in 2005 by Stephanie and Pat Kilkenny.

» The unique logo, located near the sideline on each half, spells out "MATT" in a toothy grin reminiscing Matthew Knight - the late son of Nike founder Phil Knight - as a child.

» The surface incorporates a tribute to the arena's namesake, who passed away in 2004. Near each baseline are images of Ducks flying in a "missing man" formation, with a gap in the flying-V formation to symbolize the legacy and memory of Matthew Knight.
