*1902 marked the first year a woman applied to compete in the World Championships. At that time there was no provision in the rules for such an occurrence, and it was not until 1903 that the congress decided that ladies should not be permitted to compete at international men's championships. The ladies event was introduced at the 1906 World Championships.

2007 was the first World Championships not to include a qualifying round, thus IJS scores reflect only the short program and free skate.

U.S. CHAMPIONSHIPS - MEDALISTS

*In June 1994, a U.S. Figure Skating hearing panel stripped Tonya Harding of the 1994 U.S. ladies title for her involvement in the Jan. 6, 1994, attack on Nancy Kerrigan. In August 1994, U.S. Figure Skating's Executive Committee voted to leave the title vacant.
