LADY PACERS HOPE PITCHING AND DEFENSE LEADS TO REGION BERTH IN 2005

usc aiken softball looks to make first ever trip to NCAA tournament

The goals for the USC Aiken softball team in 2005 are very simple.

"We want to finish in the top half of the conference and earn a trip to the regional (NCAA South Atlantic Regional)," said USC Aiken Head Coach Jerry Snyder. "Basically that's all we talk about, getting that shot at a regional, and I really think this is a team that can do that. Once you get to the regional, who knows what can happen?"

Big shoes to fill, Jami Cornwell ended her career as a three-time All-PBC shortstop. (Photo Credit: Jimmy Carter)

Snyder, 376-424 in 17 seasons at the head of the USCA softball program, will welcome back 11 letterwinners, including six starters, from last year's team and add six new players to the mix. However, reaching those goals won't be an easy task and the coach knows his team has some holes to fill.

"We have some big shoes to fill this year," said Snyder of having to replace three-time all-conference shortstop Jami Cornwell. "We've done that as well as we could, there's really no way to fully replace a Jami Cornwell." Cornwell, the Peach Belt Conference Freshman of the Year in 2000, led the team in batting average (.350), runs scored (39), RBIs (38), hits (64), at bats (183) and total bases (101) in 2004 on her way to earning all-region honors. She finished second on the team in home runs (7), slugging percentage (.552) and on base percentage (.385).

In addition to replacing Cornwell, Snyder had to find a way to replace the bat of catcher Jayme Durand, the 2003 PBC Freshman of the Year and a 2003 all-conference selection. In two seasons as a Lady Pacer before transferring to NCAA Division I College of Charleston, Durand set the single season and career records for batting average, slugging percentage and home runs, and the single season mark for doubles.

With that much offensive production gone off last year's team, Snyder knows where the strength of his 2005 squad lies.

"Our strength this year will be pitching and defense. With the addition of Stacie Oakley, this could be the best pitching staff we've ever had here and our defense played very well in the fall and continues to get better and better."

While the Lady Pacers appear to have the pitching and defense to make a run at an NCAA Tournament bid this season, there is one wild card that will be key to this team's success.

"We really have great chemistry, and that's going to carry us very far," said Snyder. "This team has really gelled, there's no negativity and this team gets along better than any we've had here."

Snyder sees defending league champion Kennesaw State as the team to beat in the Peach Belt Conference in 2005, with North Florida close behind. He believes his team can battle USC Upstate and Columbus State for a spot in the top five.

"Kennesaw is always going to be picked at the top, they don't bring in one of the best junior college players, they bring four or five of the best every year," added Snyder.

Maybe knowing that USC Aiken lost so much of its offensive firepower led the Peach Belt's coaches to pick the Lady Pacers to finish eighth this season in their preseason poll.

"It tells me they're putting more stock in what we lost than what we brought in," Snyder said of his colleagues' predictions. "I hope they take us lightly every time we play them because I know the kids on this team are itching to prove people wrong. It's no more than a preseason pick, all that counts is where you finish in the end."

In the end, this team plans to make USC Aiken's first ever trip to the NCAA Tournament.

The following is a position-by-position look at the 2005 USC Aiken softball team.

PITCHERS

The three Lady Pacers that will work the circle this season for USC Aiken will carry a heavy load, but it's a group that has the talent to do what is being asked of it.

The staff looked pretty good prior to the recruiting season, now it looks great. JoAnn Jones and Samantha Blair return from the last year's team. In those two arms, USCA returns 81 percent of its wins, 75 percent of its innings pitched and 82 percent of its strike outs from 2004.

Now, add in Stacie Oakley, a NFCA Junior College All-American, and its clear why Snyder calls this the best staff he's had in 17 years as head coach.

Jones, a 5-foot-11 junior, has led the team in wins the last two seasons. Last year she went 13-13 with a 2.31 ERA and 84 strike outs in 178.2 innings of work. Blair is a 5-foot-8 sophomore and coming off one of the best freshman campaigns a Lady Pacer pitcher has ever compiled. She posted a 12-9 record and a 2.05 ERA with 93 strike outs in just 123 innings.

Oakley earned all-American honors after going 20-4 with a 0.54 ERA last season at Young Harris College. The 5-foot-7 right-hander struck out 301 batters in 183.1 innings. Do the math on that and it comes out to 1.64 strike outs per inning.

"Not only is Stacie a good pitcher, she's helped make JoAnn and Samantha better," Snyder said.

INFIELDERS

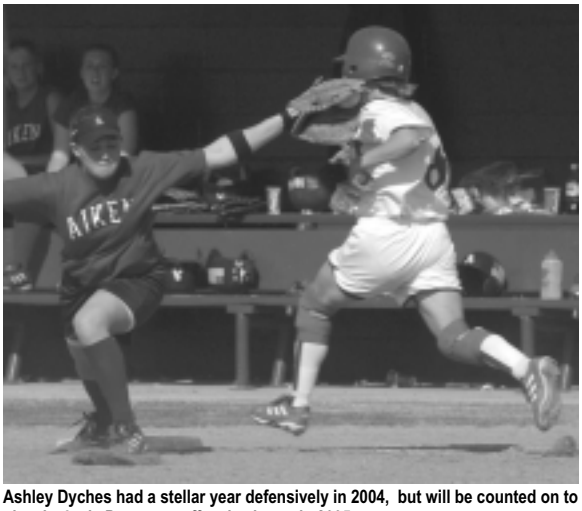

Replacing Cornwell and Durand in the field will be nearly as hard as replacing their bats in the line-up. The two players that will be asked to step into those big shoes are Brittany Paulling, a freshman shortstop from Lexington, S.C., and Karlee Haynes, a junior catcher from Ontario Canada.

Paulling is a two-time all-state performer and a member of the Wildcats' 2000 and 2001 state championship teams. Haynes batted .358 last season at Briarcliffe College and led her team to an appearance in the Junior College World Series.

Haynes and junior Ragen Reeves will share duties behind the plate. Reeves posted the fifth best batting average on the team last season (.278), hit four home runs and drove in 19 runs.

As a freshman a year ago, Ashley Dyches established herself as one of the best defensively at first base in the Peach Belt Conference. She started 52 games last season and will be the starter again in 2005. The team will need steady improvement offensively from Dyches, after hitting .255 with four doubles and 22 RBIs in 2004.

Senior first baseman Jennifer Scott will see most of her game action as the designated player. In her first season as a Lady Pacer, Scott batted .343 with 12 home runs and 32 RBIs. Her 12 home runs broke Durand's single season school record.

Ashley Dyches had a stellar year defensively in 2004, but will be counted on to give the Lady Pacers an offensive boost in 2005. (Photo Credit: Jimmy Carter)

Unfortunately Scott had to undergo hand surgery in the fall and will miss the entire preseason. The hope is to have her bat back in the line up for the first Peach Belt Conference game on Feb. 12 against North Florida.

Sarah Harvey will start for USCA at second base. The junior is a team captain and will be counted on to provide leadership for the Lady Pacers in 2005. The Newberry, S.C., native batted .301 as a sophomore, 118 points better than her freshman season. She also finished second on the team with 15 doubles and drove in 28 runs. Freshman Amber Driggers will be Harvey's back up at second.

Brooke McSwain has been a fixture at third base for three years, starting 144 of a possible 154 games, and that doesn't look to change in 2005. The senior batted .273 with a .313 on base percentage last season. When not behind the plate, Haynes can relieve McSwain at third when needed.

OUTFIELDERS

Snyder has six options in the outfield and will use different combinations depending on the opponent and the situation. But no matter what combination he chooses there will be one constant, speed. Each Lady Pacer outfielder offers the coaching staff speed and defensive stability.

Kelly Ford in right, Temeka Floyd in center and Ashley Garnett in leftfield are listed at the top of the depth chart. Ford, a junior, batted .262 with nine runs scored and four stolen bases in 2004. Floyd, also a junior, appeared in 48 games and scored 15 runs last season. Garnett is making the transition from middle infielder to outfielder. The senior played in only 13 games last season but started 85 games and scored 41 runs in her freshman and sophomore seasons combined.

Sophomore Deidre Simmons started 43 games as a freshman in 2004. She posted a .235 batting average, a .313 on base-percentage and tied for the team lead with 10 stolen bases. Sophomore Ashlyn Allen, a transfer from Presbyterian college and Kasey Mills, a two-year member of USCA's women's basketball team, provide depth in the outfield.

USC Aiken Head Softball Coach Jerry Snyder enters his 18th season with the Pacer softball program. Prior to becoming head softball coach, Snyder worked at the Savannah River Site for E I Dupont until 1987 when he decided to go back to college and get his degree. In 1988 Snyder joined the softball program as an assistant coach and after two weeks at that position he was appointed to the head coaching position and has been there ever since.

Snyder got his start playing softball when he was 12 years old when his father taught him how to pitch. He then went on to play for a men's fast pitch team in his native Short Gap, West Virginia.

Snyder received most of his early coaching experience in the recreational leagues, while he was in college at the University of West Virginia. Snyder also helped North Augusta High School's softball program with their pitchers under former Lady Jackets Coach Beth Meyer.

In 1991, Snyder received his Bachelor's of Science Degree in Physical Education here at USC Aiken and in 1995 earned his Master's in Sports Science from the United States Sports Academy.

From 1988 to 2004 Snyder's overall record totals 376-424-2 and he remembers many highlights that have made the job worth while.

"The biggest highlight since I have been here is my players have graduated, gone on with their lives and have become successful people," Snyder said. "You should measure your success with what your student-athletes do in the classroom, instead of what they do on the field."

Snyder's teams in the past have beaten good Division I teams such as South Carolina State (12-0 since 1994) and the University of North Carolina Charlotte (USCA has won five meetings between the two schools) but the one he remembers the most took place during the 1991 season.

"Beating Georgia Tech in 1991 probably is my biggest athletic highlight since I've been at USC Aiken," Snyder said.

During the fall of 1997, Snyder was honored at the Softball Hall of Fame for reaching the 200 victory mark.

Jerry Snyder and his wife Kelly have two children, Tony who is 17 and James who is also 17. The Snyder family resides in Columbia, S.C.

ASSISTANT COACH RAY BOLEN

Ray Bolen enters his 10th season with the University of South Carolina Aiken's softball program and ninth year as a full-time assistant coach.

Before entering into coaching, Bolen played baseball at USC Salkehatchie in Allendale, S.C. for two years. He then went on to play at USC Upstate for his final two seasons and graduated from USC Aiken in May of 1997 with a Bachelor's of Science in Physical Education.

Prior to coaching at USC Aiken, Bolen was an American Legion baseball coach for eight years. He also coached the junior varsity baseball team at his alma mater, Barnwell High School, for one season.

Bolen is originally from Barnwell, S.C., where he played on two state championship teams for Barnwell High School.

During the 2005 season, Bolen's duties will include working with the Lady Pacers' hitting and the team's infielders, and outfielders.

2004 SEASON IN REVIEW

The 2004 season turned out to be quite exciting for the Lady Pacer softball squad. The team earned two wins over top 25 teams, including USCA's first ever victory over North Florida, ranked fourth at the time. On March 22, the Lady Pacers began play at their new field with a doubleheader sweep of Newberry College.

USC Aiken tied a school record with eight Peach Belt Conference wins and compiled the school's first 30-win season since 2000. By the end of their 31-29 campaign, the Lady Pacers set several new school records, including home runs, hits, doubles and total bases. In addition, head coach Jerry Snyder's pitching staff combined for the most strikeouts in school history.

USCA opened the season with a 10-2 loss to Saint Leo University, on February 6 at the Osprey Classic in Jacksonville, Fla. On the same day, the Lady Pacers defeated Nova Southeastern, 5-2, for their first win of 2004. USC Aiken picked up two more wins before leaving Jacksonville and stood at 3-2 on the young season.

Three weeks later, the Lady Pacers returned to Jacksonville to face fourth ranked North Florida. USCA scored four runs in the top of the seventh of game one to come from behind for the 8-7 win, beating the Lady Ospreys for the first time in 15 games.

On March 5, USC Aiken swept two games from Wingate University, the pre-season pick to win the South Atlantic Conference. Jennifer Scott turned a 3-2 deficit into a 5-3 USCA lead with a pinch-hit three-run home run in the bottom of the fourth inning of game one.

Freshman Samantha Blair tossed a no-hitter on March 9 against Mars Hill College. Blair struck out nine batters over seven innings and allowed one un-earned run.

J.H. Satcher Field, the former home of the Pacer baseball squad, officially became the new home for the USCA softball team on March 22. The Lady Pacers celebrated the day by defeating Newberry College 8-0 and 4-3. With one out in the bottom of the first inning of game one, Jami Cornwell drove a 2-2 pitch over the left field fence for the first hit and first home run at the Lady Pacers' new field. By the end of the season, USCA had won seven of the 10 games played at J.H. Satcher Field.

Two of the three losses came against number one ranked Kennesaw State University on March 28. In game one, the Lady Pacers trailed the top-ranked Lady Owls by just one run before KSU exploded for four runs in the seventh inning to claim a 5-0 victory.

USC Aiken picked up its second win of the season over a top 25 team on April 6 when the Lady Pacers beat 24th ranked Georgia College & State University, 4-3, in the second game of a PBC doubleheader.

After finishing the regular season with a 29-27 record, USCA earned victory number 30 with a come from behind win over UNC Pembroke in the first round of the PBC Tournament. Trailing 3-0 the Lady Pacers pushed across seven runs in the bottom of the sixth inning and won 7-3. Cornwell and Jayme Durand combined for three extra base hits and four RBIs in the seventh inning.

USCA fell to top-ranked Kennesaw State and Lander University to close out the PBC Tournament and its 2004 season.

The Lady Pacers 31 home runs, 451 hits, 71 doubles and 631 total bases set new school marks. The pitching staff's 216 strikeouts also broke the school record.

After batting .350 with seven home runs, 14 doubles and 38 RBIs, Cornwell earned All-PBC honors, making her the first USCA softball player to be named all-conference three times. She was also named Academic All-District III First Team by CoSIDA and All-South Atlantic Region Second Team by the NFCA. At USC Aiken's annual awards banquet, Cornwell's number 20 softball and basketball jerseys were retired. Junior Jennifer Scott and sophomore Jayme Durand joined Cornwell on the All-South Atlantic Region Second Team.

THE PEACH BELT CONFERENCE

Since its inception in 1991, the Peach Belt Conference has become one of the elite conferences in NCAA Division II. Now in its 14th full year, the league has claimed 21 national championships and 16 national finalists.

In 1991, the conference held championships in men's and women's basketball then expanded to 11 championships in 1991-92. With the addition of women's soccer in 2000, the PBC now sponsors championships in 12 sports, six for men (baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, and tennis) and six for women (basketball, cross country, softball, tennis, volleyball, and soccer).

The idea for the formation of an NCAA Division II conference was discussed in November 1988, in Greenville, S.C., with 11 schools represented at the meeting. Five of the colleges at that first meeting, along with two other schools, formed the new conference when USC Aiken hosted another meeting on December 3, 1989.

The seven charter members were Armstrong Atlantic State University, Columbus State University, Francis Marion University, Georgia College & State University (GC&SU), Lander University, USC Aiken, and USC Upstate. The name Peach Belt Athletic Conference was adopted in January 1990 and revised to Peach Belt Conference in June 2000.

Augusta State University applied and was accepted in November 1990, with the effective date of membership on July 1, 1991. With the addition of Augusta State, the Peach Belt Conference had four members each in Georgia and South Carolina. Another college joined the Peach Belt on July 1, 1992, when UNC Pembroke officially became a member. Kennesaw State University became the tenth full member of the conference on July 1, 1994 and Clayton College & State University joined the league on July 1, 1995. The conference expanded to 12 members with the addition of the University of North Florida on July 1, 1997.

Former Augusta State basketball coach and athletic director Marvin Vanover was named interim commissioner in April 1990, and served in that capacity until his appointment as the conference's first full-time commissioner in July 1991. The conference office is in Augusta, Ga., and houses the commissioner and his staff.

NCAA Division II Champions: Armstrong Atlantic State (Women's Tennis 1995 &1996); Columbus State (Baseball 2002, Golf 1992, 1994 & 1997); Francis Marion (Golf 2003); Kennesaw State (Baseball 1996, Men's Basketball 2004, Softball 1995 & 1996, Women's Soccer 2003); Lander (Men's Tennis 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999 & 2000); USC Aiken (Golf 2004).

NCAA Division II Finalists: Armstrong Atlantic State (Women's Tennis 1997, 1998, 1999 & 2002); Columbus State (Golf 1998); GC&SU (Baseball 1995, Softball 2003); Kennesaw State (Baseball 1998 & 1999, Softball 2000); North Florida (Golf 1997); USC Aiken (Golf 1995, 1996 & 1999); USC Upstate (Men's Soccer 1995 & 1998).

The University of South Carolina Aiken was chartered under authority granted by the General Assembly of South Carolina and the Aiken County Commission for Higher Education in 1961 after entering into an agreement with the University of South Carolina to establish a two-year center in Aiken.

The Aiken Center opened its doors in September 1961 to 139 students. Temporarily housed in Banksia, a renovated mansion in the City of Aiken, the Center consisted of three full-time faculty members (one of whom served as Director of the Center) and one secretary.

Initially, the school offered only freshman and sophomore level courses but throughout the sixties, the size and reputation of the Center grew as word of its excellence spread among its constituents. In 1968, the Center underwent an institutional self-study and was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools as a branch of the University of South Carolina and as a junior college. The first associate degrees were awarded in June 1968.

The campus of USC Aiken moved from Banksia to its present site in 1972 and physical changes began to occur rapidly. At first, the permanent campus consisted of 100 acres and one multipurpose building which housed all university operations. A library was completed in 1975 and additional land was donated increasing the campus to 144 acres. In October 1977, a Student Activities Center was opened. A classroom building was occupied in 1978 and one year later, an auxiliary services building was added.

An apartment complex for students, Pacer Downs, was ready for occupancy in fall of 1984. More constructional additions to the campus included completion of the Etherredge Center, Ruth Patrick Science Education Center, the Business and Education Building and the Alan B. Miller Nursing Building. Additional land was acquired increasing the campus to 400 acres.

Academic and organizational changes also occurred rapidly. The faculty formalized its organizational structure and redefined its role in the governance of the institution in 1974-75. Also, the students reorganized their governing body and more precisely defined their role on campus; the administration and staff structures were overhauled and expanded to meet the demands of the growing academic programs.

When the full-time equivalent student enrollment reached 1,066 in the fall of 1975, the Aiken Campus was permitted to plan for senior level courses, as well as create a number of baccalaureate degree programs. In that same year, USCA received approval as a four-year branch campus by the Board of Trustees of the University of South Carolina and USCA was designated a Recognized Candidate for Senior College Accreditation. In September 1976, the Board of Trustees granted academic autonomy to the Aiken Campus. The first bachelor's degrees were granted in May 1977 and USCA became a fully accredited senior college.

Presently, the college community is comprised of more than 3,300 students, over 100 full-time faculty, approximately 110 staff members, and 28 administrators. USCA awards bachelor's degrees in more than 20 major areas of study, an associate degree in nursing, master's degrees in two areas, and offers a varied program of continuing education courses for the wider community.

Today USC Aiken offers students a liberal education designed to develop an understanding of human experience which will equip them for life in a free society. To accomplish this, the University provides students with an opportunity to discover learning processes which enable them to grow personally and socially. It promotes students' interaction within a community of active scholars and artists, and it encourages students to use the knowledge which they gain to deal with the problems of a changing world.
