USC FACES BC IN NCAA FIRST ROUND

• Trojans making school-record 3rd-straight NCAA trip •

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. -- The No. 10 seed USC Trojans (21-12, 9-9/T-5th in Pac-10) will face the No. 7 seed Boston College Eagles (22-11, 9-7/T-5th in ACC) in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at the Metrodome in Minneapolis, Minn. on March 20 at 4:20 p.m. PT. USC has won 20 or more games and reached the NCAA Tournament the last three seasons, both school records. The game is being broadcast on CBS with Gus Johnson calling the play-by-play and Len Elmore providing color commentary.

USC IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT -- USC is 11-16 all-time in the NCAA Tournament, losing last season as a No. 6 seed in the first round to No. 11 seed Kansas State 80-67 in Omaha, Neb. In 2007, USC advanced to the "Sweet 16" as a No. 5 seed by defeating Arkansas and Texas, before falling to North Carolina. This is USC's 15th appearance in the NCAA Tournament (1940, 1954, 1960, 1961, 1979, 1982, 1985, 1991, 1992, 1997, 2001, 2002, 2007, 2008 and 2009). The farthest the Trojans have advanced in the NCAA Tournament is to the semifinals in 1940 and 1954.

BREAKING DOWN THE EAGLES -- The Eagles are 22-11 and are coming off a 66-65 loss to Duke in the ACC Tournament on March 13. The Eagles are led in scoring by senior guard Tyrese Rice who averages 17.1 points and 5.4 assists per game. USC and Boston College have met only one other time and it was in the second round of the 2001 NCAA Tournament, won 74-71 by USC. USC was a No. 6 seed that season and BC a No. 3 seed and ranked No. 7 in the country.

COMMON GROUND -- The Trojans and Eagles have both faced Georgia Tech and San Francisco this season. USC went 2-0 vs. those teams, while BC went 3-0.

ON DECK -- The winner of the USC-Boston College game will play on Sunday, March 22 in Minneapolis against the winner of the No. 2 seed Michigan State-No. 15 seed Robert Morris game for a spot in the Midwest Regional semifinals.

TROJANS AGAINST THE NCAA TOURNAMENT FIELD -- USC has faced nine teams and played 17 games against teams that are in the 2009 NCAA Tournament field, meaning more than half of its 33 games were against teams in the tournament. USC owns an 8-9 record in those games: (Arizona 1-1, Arizona State 2-1, California 2-1, Chattanooga 1-0, Missouri 0-1, North Dakota State 1-0, Oklahoma 0-1, UCLA 1-2, Washington 0-2).

USC CLAIMS FIRST PAC-10 TOURNAMENT TITLE -- USC erased a 15-point halftime deficit to defeat No. 23 Arizona State 66-63 on March 14 at the Staples Center in Los Angeles to capture the school's first Pac-10 Tournament title. The Trojans had trailed since the first minute of the game until Daniel Hackett's free throw with 42 seconds left gave USC a 64-63 lead. Taj Gibson then took over, blocking a James Harden shot and making two free throws to give USC the 66-63 win. DeMar DeRozan scored 16 of his career-high 25 points in the second half to lead USC back. Hackett finished with 19 points and a team-leading six rebounds. Dwight Lewis added 13 points, including a clutch three-pointer with 1:04 left to bring the Trojans within one point. USC was the No. 6 seed and became the lowest seeded team to win the Pac-10 Conference Tournament.

* utilized redshirt season

IN TIM WE TRUST -- Tim Floyd has an impressive track record in the collegiate ranks along with his NBA experience. He brings 21 years of head coaching experience at the collegiate and NBA levels and owns a 327-179 record in his 16 seasons as a college head coach at Idaho (1987-88), New Orleans (1989-94), Iowa State (1995-98) and USC (2005-08). He won his 300th career game on Feb. 7, 2008 at Washington. Floyd posted a 63-37 record in his first three seasons as USC's head coach (the most wins by a Trojan coach in his first three seasons) and is 84-49 overall at the helm of the Trojans. Eleven of his first 16 seasons, Floyd has taken his team into the postseason (8 NCAA, 3 NIT). Floyd has helped the development of his student-athletes at each stop, as 13 players in his 15 years have made it to the NBA, including three players that did not even play high school ball.

DESPITE MISSING PIECES, FLOYD PUTS PUZZLE TOGETHER -- USC was 9-9 in conference play despite having the whole team available for only 5 games. In those 5 games USC was undefeated (5-0) and has since improved to 8-0 with everyone available. Already without forwards Kasey Cunningham for most of the season and Alex Stepheson the entire season, USC was forced to play the first 4 conference games without forward Leonard Washington (high left ankle sprain), and then lost then-leading scorer guard Dwight Lewis (left ankle sprain) for the 2 games in Washington. Sixth-man Marcus Johnson missed 7 games with a strained right rotator cuff and forward Nikola Vucevic missed 2 games with a strained lower back.

TIME TO PUT IT IN NEUTRAL -- USC is 4-2 this season and 15-10 in Tim Floyd's 4 years in neutral site games.

THE MARK OF VICTORY -- USC is 12-0 when holding teams to under 60 points, 14-2 when holding teams to 40 percent shooting or less, 10-2 when committing less turnovers, 17-4 when having a better FT% and 19-5 when taking more FTs.

TURNING OVER A NEW LEAF -- USC committed a season-low five turnovers in the Pac-10 Finals vs. ASU. It was the ninth time in the last 21 games in single-digits in turnovers, after registering 10 or more turnovers in each of the first 12 games. In the first 12 games USC averaged 16.8 turnovers and has averaged 12.4 in the last 21 games (261 turnovers).

JOHNSON MAKING IMPACT -- USC guard/forward Marcus Johnson, who transferred to USC from UConn last year and had to sit out the first semester, has stepped in and had an immediate impact. In his first 14 games, Johnson has averaged 3.6 points and 2.1 rebounds in 13.5 minutes. He scored a season-high 9 points, including a pair of crowd-pleasing dunks vs. Stanford on Jan. 29, then had 3 rebounds and scored 6 points, with another impressive dunk vs. Cal on Jan. 31. He scored 7 points, including the basket to give USC the lead, in the win at WSU on Jan. 24. He scored 8 points at Washington on Jan. 22 and made his first start on Jan. 11 vs. UCLA, scoring 4 points and grabbing 4 rebounds in 17 minutes of action. Johnson played in part of one exhibition game for UConn last season before transferring and thus had to sit out the first semester.

A HISTORY OF WINNING -- The Trojans have compiled a record of 1,458-1,040 in their 103 years of intercollegiate basketball competition. The Trojans have had a .500 or better record in 74 of the first 103 seasons.

TROJANS IN THE RANKINGS -- USC is currently ranked No. 27 in the AP Poll and No. 29 in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll. USC began the season ranked No. 18 in the AP Poll & No. 21 in both the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll & CBSSportsline.com Poll.

PAC-10 BEFORE AND AFTER -- At the annual Pac-10 Media Day held on Oct. 30, USC was picked to finish third in the Pac-10 Conference in a vote by the league media. UCLA was picked first with 379 votes, followed by Arizona State (325), USC (292), Arizona (241), Washington (217), Washington State (188), Oregon (147), California (143), Stanford (115) and Oregon State (40). The actual final regular season standings were: Washington (14-4), UCLA (13-5), California (11-7), ASU (11-7), Arizona (9-9), USC (9-9), Washington State (8-10), Oregon St. (7-11), Stanford (6-12) and Oregon (2-16). USC won the Pac-10 Tournament over Arizona State for the automatic NCAA bid.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR -- USC's roster includes four players from outside of the country. Guards Daniel Hackett from Italy and Ryan Wetherell from Canada begin their third season with the Trojans, while forward Mamadou Diarra of Mali enters his second and forward Nikola Vucevic from Montenegro begins his first season at USC.

INJURY UPDATES -- Kasey Cunningham, injured on Nov. 23 vs. Missouri, had reconstructive surgery to repair the ACL in his left knee on Nov. 26. He is expected to miss the remainder of the season. Ryan Wetherell has an eye injury/blurring...began limited practice the week of Jan. 26.

ROSTER BREAKDOWN

The Trojans have 10 players from California, three from Louisiana and one each from New Mexico, Mali, New York, Italy, Montenegro and Canada.

TAJ HAS BEEN A TOWER OF POWER -- Taj Gibson was diagnosed on Jan. 26 with an pneumonia, practiced Jan. 28 and scored 20 points in 38 minutes on Jan. 29 vs. Stanford, then dropped in 12 points and grabbed 13 rebounds vs. California on Jan. 31. He has averaged 14.3 points, 9.4 rebounds and 2.8 blocks in USC's first 33 games, including 15 double-doubles giving him 31 in his career. Gibson made a run at becoming the first Trojan to average a double-double since Jaha Wilson in 1994-95 (14.2 pts/10.1 reb.). The 25 points on Dec. 15 vs. Pepperdine was a career high and the 18 rebounds on Nov. 20 vs. SHU and Dec. 20 vs. NDSU tied a career high. Gibson has scored in double figures in 29 of 33 games and has 8 rebounds or more in 22 of 33 games. Gibson was named to the Midseason Top 30 for the Wooden Award. Gibson also has been rising up the USC career scoring charts and currently has 1,280 points, 16th all time in scoring by a Trojan. David Bluthenthal (1999-2002) is 15th with 1,313 career points. Gibson also has 890 career rebounds, second all-time by a Trojan.

BLOCK AROUND THE CLOCK -- Taj Gibson was held without a block for the first time this season on Feb. 19 vs. Washington State. In fact, it snapped a streak of 46 consecutive games with at least one block (dating back to the 2007-08 season). At the time it was the longest active streak by any men's college player (courtesy of STATS, LLC). Gibson has bounced back with 25 blocks in the last eight games to give him a conference-leading 92 this season and he broke his school record of 84 set in 2008. Gibson ranks fifth nationally in blocks per game (2.8).

DEMAR IS D'MAN -- Freshman DeMar DeRozan has averaged 15.0 points (361) and 6.2 rebounds (148) in his last 24 games. He reached double figures in scoring 13-straight games before being held to 5 on Jan. 24 at WSU. He scored a then- career-high 22 points in the win vs. ASU on Jan. 15. On Jan. 2 at Oregon, he had his first career double-double (14 pts/12 reb), added his second at ASU on Feb. 15 (16 pts/10 reb), third March 12 vs. Cal (17 pts/11 reb) and fourth March 13 vs. UCLA (21 pts/13 reb). DeRozan set his new career best with 25 points in the championship game of the Pac-10 Tournament vs. ASU on March 14. DeRozan currently ranks 5th all-time in scoring by a USC freshman with 449 points, 5th in scoring average (13.6), 4th in FT attempts (136), 5th in FT made (87), 4th in rebounds (187), 8th in FG% (.525) and 8th in rebound average (5.7).

HE CAN SURE HACKETT -- Junior point guard Daniel Hackett entered NCAA Tournament play T-4th among Pac-10 players with 4.7 assists per game and is 3rd in total assists with 155. He currently has 352 in his career, 6th all-time by a Trojan. Gus Williams (1973-75) is 5th on USC's all-time assist list with 362. Hackett recorded a career-high 13 assists in the game at Oklahoma on Dec. 4. His assist total was the most by a Trojan since Brandon Granville set the school record with 15 vs. Memphis on Nov. 23, 1999. Hackett's 13 assists are tied for the fourth most in a single game by a USC player, along with Larry Friend (13 on Dec. 6, 1985 vs. ASU) and Casey Jones (13 on Dec. 18, 1976 vs. Baylor). He also has 44 steals this season and 104 in his career. Hackett scored 26 points at Cal on Feb. 26 to tie his career high in points.

THE DWIGHT STUFF -- Dwight Lewis miss two games (Jan. 22 and 24) with a sprained left ankle, but bounced quickly with 20 points at UCLA on Feb. 4 and 21 at Arizona on Feb. 12. At Arizona, Lewis hit a career-high 6 three-pointers, including his first 5 attempts in the 2nd half. He then led USC in scoring with 17 vs. WSU on Feb. 19. He has made a team-leading 51 three-pointers this season and 102 in his career for 16th place on USC's all-time three-point baskets made list. Rodney Chatman is 15th with 105 career 3-point baskets. Lewis scored a career-high 26 points in the 74-69 win vs. USF on Dec. 1 and followed that up with 25 points at Oklahoma on Dec. 4, at the time his two best career scoring outputs. He matched his career high with 26 points at Oregon on Jan. 2, including making 4 three-pointers. Lewis scored in double figures in a career-high 9 straight games to start this season and in 25 of 31 games overall. He was held scoreless vs. Oregon State in the regular season finale, his first game without scoring since his freshman season.

ANOTHER MAGIC JOHNSON? -- No, there is only one Earvin "Magic" Johnson, but Marcus Johnson has had quite a magical impact on USC. After sitting out the first semester due to NCAA transfer rules, the Trojans went 7-3 with him in the lineup before he suffered a right rotator cuff injury. While out of the lineup, USC went 1-6. He returned on March 5 and USC has gone 5-0 to push its record to 12-3 in games Johnson is available.

DRIVEN BY DEFENSE -- USC has held 52 teams to 60 points or less in Tim Floyd's first 133 games as USC's head coach, including 13 this season. The Trojans held 20 of their opponents last season to 39.2 percent shooting or less, and have held 68 teams under 40 percent shooting in the first 133 games under Floyd, 16 times this season. USC was outshot from the field just eight times this season (Mizz, OSU, ASU-2, Uof A-2, UW & Cal). USC has had a better shooting percentage that its opponent in 84 of the last 103 games.

WINNING THE BOARD GAMES -- USC outrebounded the opposition in its first 11 games before being beaten on the glass 34-32 by ORU on Dec. 29, but has had a rebounding edge in 26 of 33 games this season. USC has enjoyed a 5.5 rebound edge per game in this season, good for 28th in the country. USC was outrebounded 40-30 by UW on Feb. 21, its largest rebound deficit in a game this the season.

BREAKING DOWN THE LOSSES -- Although USC has lost 12 games this season, they have fallen to some quality teams and 8 of the 12 games were decided by 9 points or less. Through regular season games, the combined record of the teams USC lost to was 257-109 (.702). USC has lost to Seton Hall (16-14), Missouri (25-6), Oregon St. (13-16), Oklahoma (27-4), UCLA twice (24-7), Washington twice (24-7), Arizona (19-12), Arizona State (22-8), California (22-9) and Stanford (17-12).

BATTLE TESTED -- Through regular season games, USC's opponents had a combined 532-372 record (.588), eight of USC's opponents were a combined 84-152 (.356), while the other 22 were 448-220 (.671). Twenty-one of USC's 30 games were vs. teams that were .500 or better and 21 of those were against teams that have won 16 or more. USC's schedule was ranked the 14th toughest by Sagarin. Before the final weekend, USC played 14 consecutive games against teams two games over .500 or better.

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS -- USC has played 13 games decided by 5 points or less (7-6). The Trojans have been within 5 points at some point with under 4 minutes to play in all but two of its 12 losses this season. In 6 of the Trojans' 12 losses, they were within 3 points with under a minute to play. Six of the Trojans last eight losses have come to teams that have won 22 or more games and eight of the 12 teams to beat USC have won 22 or more.

ENJOYING THE HOME COOKING -- USC was 15-2 (.882) at home this season. The loss to UCLA on Jan. 11 snapped an 8-game home winning streak this season and a 12-game home winning streak at the Galen Center dating back to 2007-08, a Galen Center record. The last time USC had a better home winning percentage was during the 1991-92 season when they were 14-1 (.933).

SOME STATS FROM STATS, LLC -- According to Stats, LLC, USC's Taj Gibson enters NCAA Tournament play at the leading active player in the field with a 10.8 rebounds per game average (43 in 4 games). He also ranks 10th in scoring average at 15.3, second in blocks per game with 2.8 and tied for fourth in free throws made with 23.

TROJANS WIN SOME PAC-10 HARDWARE -- USC's Taj Gibson was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Year and was named to the All-Conference second team. Daniel Hackett was also named to the Pac-10 All-Conference second team. DeMar DeRozan was named to the Pac-10 All-Freshman team. All three players were named to the All-Pac-10 Tournament team, with DeRozan being named the tournament's MVP as he averaged 21.0 points and 9.0 rebounds in the three games. Taj Gibson averaged 13.7 points and 10.7 rebounds, while Hackett scored 14.0 points and 6.3 rebounds in the tournament.

STEPHESON WAIVER PETITION DENIED -- Talented forward Alex Stepheson had his transfer waiver petition denied by the NCAA on Nov. 19 and was not be eligible for competition this season. Stepheson had requested eligibility for USC this season after transferring from North Carolina this fall due to family health concerns.

GIBSON JOINS ELITE SWAT TEAM -- Taj Gibson has 245 career blocks, just the fourth Pac-10 player to achieve at least 200 career blocks, the others being Anthony Cook of Arizona (1986-89) with 278, Channing Frye of Arizona (2002-05) with 258 and Michael Stewart of California (1994-97) with 207. Gibson recorded his 196th career block on Jan. 2 at Oregon to surpass Sam Clancy's (1999-02) previous USC record of 195.

MISSING IN ACTION -- USC took just three 3-pointers (made 2) in the win vs. Washington State on Feb. 19. It was the fewest 3-point attempts by USC since also taking three at Arizona on Feb. 16, 1989. USC is 9-4 this season when taking 10 or less 3-point shots.

DWIGHT IS ALRIGHT -- Junior Dwight Lewis scored 13 points in the Pac-10 Championship win vs. Arizona State on March 14 to eclipse the 1,000 points scored mark, now standing at 1,008. He becomes the 34th player in USC history to score 1,000 or more points. Teammate Taj Gibson became the 33rd earlier this season.

COACH FLOYD IN THE NCAA TOURNAMENT -- USC head basketball coach Tim Floyd has taken three different schools (New Orleans, Iowa State and USC) to the NCAA Tournament where he has compiled a 6-7 record. New Orleans was 0-2, Iowa State was 4-3 and USC is 2-2. This is his eighth NCAA Tournament appearance and fifth time taking a team to the Midwest Regional (New Orleans in 1993, Iowa State in 1996 and 1997 and USC in 2008 and 2009). His teams have a 3-4 record in the Midwest Regional. His 1997 Iowa State team advanced to the Sweet 16 out of the Midwest Regional.

RYAN FRANCIS REMEMBERED -- This season would have been the senior season for point guard Ryan Francis, a Pac-10 honorable mention All-Freshman team member who was shot and killed while visiting his mother, Paulette, on May 14, 2006 in Baton Rouge, La. Francis' bright smile and big-hearted play has remained with the Trojans since, as he has an honorary locker with his jersey hanging in the Galen Center, his uniform No. 12 is painted on the floor near halfcourt and he was honored posthumously on Senior Night on March 7. His mother was there for the ceremony and was out in Los Angeles following the Trojans during their Pac-10 Championship run. USC Athletics and the Trojan Board of Directors established a Ryan Francis Endowed Scholarship which has met its goal of being fully endowed before he would have graduated.

THE 2008-09 TROJANS -- USC returns three starters from last year's team which went 21-12, tied for third in the Pac-10 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. Leading the way are junior All-Pac-10 forward Taj Gibson, junior guards Daniel Hackett and Dwight Lewis and senior forward Keith Wilkinson. Also key members returning to health this season after injury-marred 2007-08 seasons are forward Mamadou Diarra and guard Marcus Simmons. The Trojans have added seven new players to the 2008-09 roster which returns 10 players from last season's squad. USC's incoming class, ranked No. 7 by HoopScoop, features consensus top five recruit Demar DeRozan. DeRozan was named by CollegeHoops.net as a preseason All-America honorable mention. Also in this recruiting class is guard Donte Smith, forward Leonard Washington, forward Nikola Vucevic, guard Percy Miller and walk-on J.J. Meyers. Another addition is small forward Marcus Johnson who transferred from UConn and had to sit out the first semester.

Nov. 15 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dwight Lewis scored a game-high 18 points to lead USC to a 78-55 win vs. UC Irvine on Nov. 15 at the Galen Center. It was USC's first win in an opener under Tim Floyd, falling at home the three previous seasons, two in overtime. Also reaching double figures in scoring for USC were Taj Gibson (17), DeMar DeRozan (14) and Daniel Hackett (10). USC held the Anteaters to 37.5 percent shooting, while hitting 51.8 percent of its own shots. USC scored the first eight points of the game, but by the 5:16 mark of the first half, the Anteaters had taken a 22-20 lead. Donte Smith then hit a three-pointer to give USC the lead and they finished the first half on a 15-7 run, capped by a buzzer-beating three-pointer from Leonard Washington to go up 35-29 at the break. USC scored the first seven points of the second half and never looked back. The Trojans outrebounded UCI 24-10 in the second half. USC is now 70-33 in openers.

Nov. 18 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

Taj Gibson matched a career high with 22 points to lead USC to a 73-60 win over visiting New Mexico State on Nov. 18 at the Galen Center. Gibson added 10 rebounds and five blocks for his 17th career double-double. USC had a Galen Center-record 10 blocks and held the Aggies to 31.7 percent shooting. NMSU managed only 25.7 percent from the floor in the first half, the lowest by an opponent since holding Oregon State to 22.6 percent on Feb. 23, 2008. USC improved to 2-0 to start a season for the first time since the 2000-01 season when it began 8-0. USC outrebounded NMSU 50-35, the Trojans' most rebounds in a game since Dec. 4, 2007 when they had 52 in an overtime game vs. Memphis at Madison Square Garden in New York.

Nov. 20 • Coliseo de Puerto Rico
San Juan, PR

Taj Gibson's dunk off a missed three-point attempt by Daniel Hackett came just after the buzzer and USC fell 63-61 to Seton Hall in a first-round game at the Puerto Rico Tip-Off in San Juan, PR. USC took a 15-point lead at the half (43-28), but hit only 24.1 of its second-half shots and only 40 percent of its free throws after the break as the Pirates fought their way back into the game. USC did not score a field goal until the 14:19 mark of the second half, while the Pirates hit three straight three pointers to cut the lead to six before Dwight Lewis ended the drought with a layup. SHU took its first lead of the second half on a three-pointer with 1:20 left by Jeremy Hazell to give them a 62-59 lead and they hung on for the victory. Gibson had 19 points and 18 rebounds for USC. Gibson and SHU's John Garcia's 18 rebounds set a new Puerto Rico Tip-Off single-game record. The loss by two points was USC's closest final score since also losing by two points on March 3, 2007 at Washington State in double overtime by a score of 88-86.

With USC's Taj Gibson in foul trouble most of the game, Missouri's forwards DeMarre Carroll (29) and Leo Lyons (13) combined for 42 points and led the Tigers to a 83-72 comeback win in the fourth-place game at the Puerto Rico Tip-Off in San Juan, PR. USC led 59-57 with 10 minutes left when forward Kasey Cunningham injured his left knee and Missouri finished the game on a 26-13 roll for the victory. Cunningham had a career-high 11 points prior to the injury. USC led 43-37 at halftime, but committed 14 second-half turnovers while Missouri hit nearly 55 percent of its shots after the break. Dwight Lewis led USC with 15 points and Gibson had 11 points and 8 rebounds in 19 minutes.

Taj Gibson had 15 points and eight rebounds and USC ran away from Tennessee-Martin 70-43 on Nov. 28 at the Galen Center. USC used a 25-4 run late in the first half to put the game away and take a 40-17 lead at halftime. USC held UT-Martin to 29.0 percent shooting in the game and the 43 points scored were the fewest by a Trojan opponent since Dec. 14, 2006 when USC held Bethune-Cookman to 36 points. Dwight Lewis added 13 points and DeMar DeRozan chipped in with 12. Percy Miller scored on a layup with 1:04 left in the game for his first career points. Marcus Simmons made his first career start and was part of the defensive effort which held UT-Martin's Lester Hudson to 8-for-24 shooting.

Dwight Lewis scored a career-high 26 points to lead USC to a 74-69 victory over USF on Dec. 1 at the Galen Center. The Dons came out on fire, hitting eight of their first 11 shots to open up a 21-10 lead. USF's Dior Lowhorn, who finished with 23 points, hit his first six shots of the game and had 15 points at halftime. The Trojans fought back and on the strength of a 9-0 run to end the half, took a 28-27 lead at the break. The teams traded the lead for the first 11 and a half minutes of the second half, but a dunk by Lewis at the 8:30 mark tied the game at 53-all and another slam by Leonard Washington with 8:03 left gave USC the lead at 55-53 and they held on the rest of the game. Taj Gibson had 13 rebounds and nine points, while Daniel Hackett had a season-high 18 points and six assists. USF stayed in the game by hitting 9 of its first 11 three-pointers and finished hitting 52.6 percent from beyond the arc. USC shot 61.9 percent in the second half and 50 percent in the game.

Norman, Okla.

USC fought back from an 11-point second-half deficit to get within one point, but could not break through in a 73-72 loss at No. 6 Oklahoma on Dec. 4 in Norman, Okla. After trailing 48-37 early in the second half, the Trojans rallied to cut it to one point on five occasions, but each time the Sooners held off the charge. USC made 60 percent of its shots in the second half, but brothers Blake and Taylor Griffin kept Oklahoma in the lead by scoring 14 and 10 points respectively in the second half, including making 11 trips to the free throw line which was one more attempt than the entire USC team after the break. Dwight Lewis led USC with 25 points and Taj Gibson had a double-double with 12 points and 10 rebounds. Daniel Hackett added eight points, seven rebounds and a career-high 13 assists. Hackett hit two free throws with three seconds left to cut the lead to 73-72 and USC was forced to foul OU's sophomore Cade Davis, who had missed only one career free throw attempt. Davis missed both attempts and DeMar DeRozan's three-quarter court heave came up short and the Trojans were saddled with the one-point loss.

Dec. 15 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

USC jumped out to a big halftime lead, but saw the Waves close to within five points in the second half before the Trojans put Pepperdine away 91-77 on Dec. 15 at the Galen Center. USC led 54-31 at the break, but Pepperdine cut the lead to eight points just over four minutes into the second half. The lead stayed in single-digits most of the second half before the Trojans pulled away at the end behind a career-high 25 points from Taj Gibson. For the first time this season five Trojans reached double figures in scoring as Dwight Lewis added 17, Daniel Hackett 16, Leonard Washington 14 and DeMar DeRozan 10. Lewis also had a career-high eight rebounds and Hackett a career-high six steals. USC shot 58.9 percent in the game and outrebounded the Waves 36-25. It was the ninth consecutive game the Trojans had outrebounded their opponents, the most consecutive times in the four years Tim Floyd has been the head coach. USC also improved to 5-0 at home, the most consecutive home wins to start a season since opening 7-0 at home in the 2002 season.

Freshmen DeMar DeRozan (18) and Leonard Washington (17) both totaled a season high in points, combining for 35 to lead USC to a hard-fought 61-57 victory on Dec. 20 at the Galen Center. In a game in which neither side led by more than six points, NDSU took its final lead 57-56 with 1:49 left in the game, but USC scored the final five points on a jumper by DeRozan, two free throws by Washington and a free throw by Taj Gibson. Gibson recorded his sixth double-double of the season as he grabbed 16 second-half rebounds to finish with 18 boards and 10 points. USC trailed 34-29 at the break, only the second time this season they were behind at halftime. The Trojans outrebounded the Bison 27-10 in the second half to finish with a 38-26 advantage on the boards, the 10th straight game with a rebound edge. NDSU entered the game shooting better than 48 percent from the field, but was held to 36.8 percent shooting. They also were averaging 89.4 points per game and were held to a season-low 57 points by the Trojans.

DeMar DeRozan scored eight points during USC's 14-2 run to start the second half and break open a two-point game at the half to lead the Trojans to a 76-57 win vs. Georgia Tech on Dec. 22 at the Galen Center. Dwight Lewis led USC with 19 points and DeRozan added 17. Taj Gibson had 14 rebounds and 15 points for his seventh double-double of the season. USC held GT to 29 percent shooting in the second half and 34.9 percent in the game. USC again won the rebound battle, this time 37-34 to make it 11 straight games. The Trojans improved to 7-0 at home, the best home start since also beginning 7-0 at the start of the 2001-02 season. Daniel Hackett made his first 11 free throws before missing his final attempt which snapped a streak of 19 consecutive makes. The 11 FT made by Hackett tied for his career best. Leonard Washington suffered a high left ankle sprain in the first minute of the game and did not return.

DeMar DeRozan scored 18 and Taj Gibson 16 points to lead USC to its fourth straight win, a 66-56 victory over Oral Roberts on Dec. 28 at the Galen Center. USC held ORU to 39 percent shooting and forced the Golden Eagles into 21 turnovers. The Trojans received a boost in the game from UConn transfer Marcus Johnson who scored six points and had three steals in his first game for USC after sitting out the first semester. USC shot 52.9 percent in the game, the 11th opponent out of 12 it has outshot from the field this season. USC was outrebounded 34-32, the first game all season it did not win the battle of the boards. The Trojans ran their home winning streak to 8-0, the best start at home since opening the 2000-01 season 10-0 at the Sports Arena.

Jan. 2 • McArthur Court
Eugene, Ore.

Dwight Lewis tied a career high with 26 points and DeMar DeRozan notched his first career double-double with 14 points and 12 rebounds to lead USC to an 83-62 win at Oregon on Jan. 2. Daniel Hackett added 15 points, seven assists and nine rebounds in the win. Taj Gibson registered his 195th and 196th career blocks to pass Sam Clancy and establish a new USC record. Gibson also scored 13 points to give him 1,008 career points, the 33rd Trojan to reach the 1,000 points scored plateau. The game was tied at 34 at halftime, but USC outscored the Ducks 49-28 in the second half. USC made 59.4 percent of its second-half shots and 48.3 percent in the game. They also held Oregon to 37.1 percent shooting and outrebounded the Ducks 44-33. USC won its fifth consecutive game and fourth straight game at McArthur Court. It was also the worst home loss for Oregon since 2001 and USC's largest margin of victory over the Ducks since the 1991-92 season.

Corvallis, Ore.

USC let a 15-point second-half lead slip away and fell 62-58 in overtime at Oregon State on Jan. 4 in Corvallis, Ore. The Trojans led 42-27 with just over 12 minutes left in the game, but the Beavers hit five of their final six three-pointers, including one by center Roeland Schaftenaar with 1.4 seconds left to send the game into overtime tied at 54. In the extra period, USC was 1-f-7 while OSU was 3-f-3 from the field. The win snapped a 21-game regular season Pac-10 losing streak for Oregon State. OSU hit 50 percent of its shots in the game to USC's 44.2 percent, just the second time this season the Trojans have been outshot by an opponent. Taj Gibson led USC with 15 points, while Daniel Hackett added 12 and DeMar DeRozan 10. Keith Wilkinson had eight points, six rebounds and a career-high six assists for the Trojans. The loss snapped a seven-game winning streak for USC over Oregon State, the longest for the Trojans in the series.

Jan. 11 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

UCLA's Jrue Holiday hit a jumper with 4:28 left to snap a 53-all tie and Nikola Dragovic followed with a three-pointer to give the Bruins a five-point lead and they hung on for a 64-60 win on Jan. 11 at the Galen Center. The win ran UCLA's winning streak to nine games and snapped the Trojan's eight-game home winning streak. USC trailed by as many as 11 points in the first half, but had closed to within two points at the half. USC then used a 12-0 run early in the second half to earn a six-point advantage. DeMar DeRozan led USC with 15 points, 11 of them in the first half. Daniel Hackett added 13 points and a team-leading seven rebounds. Taj Gibson picked up three quick fouls in the first half and sat out the final 14 minutes of the first half. USC made more baskets (24-21), but the Bruins hit eight three-pointers and made five more free throws for the decisive margin. The attendance was a complete sellout of 10,258 tying the Galen Center record and USC fell to 0-3 in those games.

USC held the Pac-10's top shooting team Arizona State to 34.1 percent from the floor in a 61-49 comeback win at the Galen Center on Jan. 15. DeMar DeRozan scored 19 of his game and career-high 22 points in the second half to help the Trojans overcome a seven-point halftime deficit. Dwight Lewis came off the bench for the first time this season and poured in 18 points, including making a career-best five three-point baskets. Daniel Hackett had six assists and four points, but was the primary defender on ASU's James Harden who was held to a career-low four points (0-for-8 from the field). Taj Gibson added 11 points, 11 rebounds and three blocks for his 24th career double-double. USC began the game 1-for-12 from the field and was shooting 29.2 percent at halftime when they trailed 26-19. The Trojans hit 54.2 percent of their second-half shots and turned the ball over just three times after the break.

Daniel Hackett hit one free throw with 1.2 seconds left and missed the second intentionally to give USC a come-from-behind 65-64 win vs. Arizona on Jan. 17 at the Galen Center. USC trailed by as many as nine points in the second half and by six with just under five minutes to go. Dwight Lewis then scored six straight points, including two after an intentional foul to bring the Trojans even at 58. Lewis actually scored 12-straight Trojan points before Hackett took over. Hackett hit a jumper to tie the game at 64 with 15 seconds left and then after an Arizona turnover, got fouled and scored the game-winning point. Lewis had 21 points to lead four Trojans in double figures. USC has won 5 of the last 6 meetings with Arizona. Arizona hit a USC opponent high of 52.2 percent and hit 6 of its first 8 three-point attempts to build an early 7-point lead.

Already without leading scorer Dwight Lewis who was out with a sprained ankle, USC saw Washington outshoot them 40-17 at the free throw line and fell 78-73 in Seattle, Wash. on Jan. 22. The Trojans held Washington to 37 percent shooting and made eight more field goals than the Huskies, but could not overcome the 19-point advantage at the free throw line. Daniel Hackett scored a season-high 24 points to lead USC and Taj Gibson chipped in with his ninth double-double of the season, scoring 15 points and grabbing 13 rebounds. USC was outrebounded in the game by the Huskies 36-34, just the second time all season the Trojans were beaten on the boards. USC held Washington's leading scorer senior Jon Brockman without a field goal (0-for-8) for the first time since his freshman year.

Jan. 24 • Friel Court
Pullman, Wash.

USC rallied from an eight-point second-half deficit to win 46-44 at Washington State on Jan. 24 to snap a five-game losing streak at Pullman, Wash. Marcus Johnson's short floater in the lane with 49 seconds left gave USC its first lead of the second half at 42-41 and Daniel Hackett scored the next four points from the free throw line to put the game away, before a three-pointer by WSU's Taylor Rochestie at the final buzzer. Hackett led USC with 14 points and Taj Gibson had his 10th double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds. Freshman Nikola Vucevic made his first career start and had a season-best eight points and five rebounds. The win was USC's first when scoring 46 points or less since also winning 46-44 at UCLA on March 8, 1969. USC held WSU to 27.5 percent shooting from the field.

Jan. 29 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

Lawrence Hill's baseline turnaround jumper rimmed out at the buzzer and USC came away with a 70-69 win vs. Stanford at the Galen Center on Jan. 29. The Trojans trailed 38-33 at halftime and the deficit grew to six points with just under 14 minutes to play, before the Trojans rallied. Taj Gibson led USC with 20 points and Daniel Hackett and Leonard Washington chipped in with 12 points each. Marcus Johnson's breakaway dunk at the 7:44 mark broke a 55-all tie and USC never trailed the rest of the way. Stanford made 51.6 percent of its shots in the first half, but were held to 38.5 percent shooting in the second half. USC shot 53.7 percent for the game. USC was outrebounded 31-26, its largest rebound deficit in a game this season. The Cardinal gained its edge with 14 offensive boards. USC, however, did enjoy a 40-18 advantage in points scored in the paint. USC matched a season low with eight turnovers and improved to 8-0 when turning the ball over less than the opposition.

Jan. 31 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

USC's defense held California to 40.7 percent shooting and the Trojans overcame a five-point second half deficit to win 73-62 at the Galen Center on Jan. 31. Cal entered the game with the nation's seventh-best shooting percentage of 49.5 and the top mark from three-point range (47.6 percent), but were held to 12.5 percent (2-for-16) from beyond the arc. A jumper in the paint by DeMar DeRozan tied the game at 50-all with just over eight minutes left in the game, then Dwight Lewis and Daniel Hackett followed with layups and the Trojans never looked back. DeRozan had a game-high 19 points and Taj Gibson had his 11th double-double of the season with 12 points and 13 rebounds. USC had 11 turnovers in the first half, but only three in the second half. The Trojans struggled at the free throw line, though, hitting just 58.6 percent (17-for-29). Cal's Jordan Wilkes had a career-best 16 points.

Feb. 4 • Pauley Pavilion
Westwood, Calif.

UCLA blitzed USC early hitting five of their first six three-point shots and opening a 36-13 lead en route to a 76-60 win at Pauley Pavilion on Feb. 4. The Bruins hit 58.3 percent of their shots in the first half, but were held to 34.5 percent shooting in the second half, 0-for-8 from three-point range. USC made 46.0 percent of its shots, but was out-rebounded by five and committed a season-high 23 turnovers. Dwight Lewis had 20 points and DeMar DeRozan added 15 points and a team-high eight rebounds. USC played without forward Marcus Johnson who was a game-time decision with a right rotator cuff strain. Taj Gibson jammed his right pinky in the game and was held to two points and four rebounds.

Tucson, Ariz.

Arizona's Nic Wise hit an off-balance three-pointer with 44 seconds left to snap a 76-all tie and the Trojans fell 83-76 in Tucson on Feb. 12. That basket was the 12th 3-pointer made by Arizona, who had begun the game hitting 8 of 9 from beyond the arc to open up an 18-point lead (33-15). USC regrouped to cut the deficit to 3 at the half and was able to build an 8-point lead before Arizona came back. The teams traded leads over the final 9 minutes. Dwight Lewis led USC with 21 points while making a career-best six 3-pointers, five in the second half. Arizona hit 59.1 percent of its shots, while the Trojans hit 51.8 percent of their shots. DeMar DeRozan and Daniel Hackett added 20 points each.

USC erased a nine-point halftime deficit to forge a one-point lead with just under 13 minutes left, but ASU answered with five-straight points and USC went on to fall 65-53 at Tempe, Ariz. on Feb. 15. ASU's lead swelled to 12 before the Trojans mounted another comeback. With the deficit at six points with 48 seconds left, Daniel Hackett appeared to make a basket with a chance to go to the line and make it a three-point game, but one of the officials called it a charge. USC argued that the other official called it a basket to no avail and following two technicals on Tim Floyd, ASU was able to close out the game at the foul line. DeMar DeRozan led USC with 16 points and 10 rebounds, his second double-double of the season. USC was outshot from the field for just the fifth time all season, but the second straight game. Hackett, Taj Gibson and Dwight Lewis all added 11 points.

Los Angeles, Calif.

USC scored just three points in the final 7:28 and were outscored 14-1 in the final 5:52 to suffer its second home loss of the season, a 60-51 setback vs. Washington at the Galen Center on Feb. 21. USC started strong, building a 22-11 lead early in the first half, but Washington answered and took a 31-28 lead into the break as the Trojans hit just 3 of their final 16 shots of the half. The Huskies built the lead to seven points before USC used an 11-0 run with five different players scoring to take the lead back at 39-35. The Huskies tied the game at 50 at the 4:59 mark and all USC could muster the rest of the way was a free throw. Both teams struggled from the field as USC hit 38 percent of its shots and UW 37.9 percent. Dwight Lewis (4-for-15) and Daniel Hackett led USC with 11 points. Quincy Pondexter had a season-high 22 points (10-for-13) to lead the Huskies. USC was outrebounded by the nation's third-leading rebounding team 40-30, including by a 14-4 margin down the stretch.

Feb. 26 • Haas Pavilion
Berkeley, Calif.

USC rallied from a 12-point second-half deficit to force overtime, but fell 81-78 at California on Feb. 26. Leading the Trojans' comeback were Daniel Hackett who tied a career high with 26 points and Taj Gibson who had 21 points and 12 rebounds for his 12th double-double of the season. The difference in the game was at the free throw line where Cal hit 24 of 27 (88.9 percent) and USC hit 16 of 28 (57.1 percent). Cal made all eight of its free throw attempts in the overtime period. Marcus Simmons came off the bench to stop Cal's Jerome Randle and added a career-high six points. USC had only eight turnovers to Cal's 13, but fell to 8-1 on the season when winning the turnover battle.

Feb. 28 • Maples Pavilion
Palo Alto, Calif.

USC appeared well on its way to snapping a six-game losing streak at Maples Pavilion with an 11-point lead and 14 minutes to go, but the Trojans went cold, Stanford got hot and USC was handed a 75-63 loss on Feb. 28 in Palo Alto, Calif. USC hit a miserable 42.9 percent from the free throw line (9-for-21) which kept the Cardinal within striking distance, then five three-pointers made by Stanford over the next six and a half minutes and the Cardinals had captured the lead for good, finishing the game on a 40-17 run. USC made three more baskets than Stanford and outshot them 50.0 percent to 43.4 percent, but the Cardinal made 12 of 22 three-point attempts (54.5 percent) to offset USC's shooting advantage.

Los Angeles, Calif.

USC responded to an Oregon run by outscoring the Ducks 16-4 over the final 3:50 to come away with an 80-66 win at the Galen Center on March 5. Oregon had cut USC's 13-point second-half lead to two points before DeMar DeRozan's jumper in the lane keyed USC's decisive run. DeRozan led USC with 19 points, followed by Taj Gibson with 18 and Daniel Hackett with 17 points. USC shot 58.3 percent from the field, while holding the Ducks to 37.3 percent, the 14th team this season that the Trojans held to under 40 percent shooting from the field. USC made 78.6 percent (22-for-28) from the free throw line, after making 51.0 percent the previous weekend in the Bay Area. Nine different Trojans scored in the game, the first time they had more than seven players score in seven games. Oregon's Tajuan Porter led all scorers with 20 points.

March 7 • Galen Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

USC blew open a close game in the second half with a 15-2 run en route to a 68-52 win vs. Oregon State on March 7 at the Galen Center. Daniel Hackett scored seven points during the run and finished with a game-high 17 points. DeMar DeRozan added 16 points, Taj Gibson 14 and Leonard Washington 10. USC shot 52.1 percent and held OSU to 39.2 percent from the floor. Senior walk-on Terence Green, in his first game of the season, hit a three-pointer at the end of the game to send the Senior Night crowd into a frenzy. Gibson had five blocks in the game to give him 86 for the season and establish a new USC single-season record, breaking his record of 84 set last season. USC tied its season-low output for a half with 18 first-half points, then responded with 50 points in the second half which was its second-highest total in a half this season. USC also held Oregon State to an opponent-low 14 first-half points.

March 12 • Staples Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

USC raced to a 42-27 halftime lead and then held off a furious California comeback for a 79-75 victory on March 13 in the quarterfinals of the Pac-10 Tournament. Taj Gibson (21 points/16 rebounds) and DeMar DeRozan (17 points/11 rebounds) led the Trojans with double doubles. Daniel Hackett added 15 points, nine rebounds and seven assists in the victory. USC outrebounded the Bears 53-27, but was outshot from the floor, 43.1 percent to 42.6 percent. The Bears tied the game at 75-all with 20 seconds only to see Hackett break the tie with two pairs of free throws in the final 20 seconds.

March 13 • Staples Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

USC saw its 15-point second-half lead with 2:44 to go cut to five, but regrouped and defeated UCLA 65-55 in Pac-10 Semifinals action at Staples Center on March 13. For the second consecutive game, DeMar DeRozan (21 points/13 rebounds) and Taj Gibson (13 points/11 rebounds) posted double-doubles. USC outshot UCLA 51.1 percent to 27.1 percent, but committed a season-high 24 turnovers and made just 53.3 percent of its free throws (16 of 30) to keep the game close. The Bruins' shooting percentage was its lowest of the season. USC outrebounded UCLA 43-41 and outscored them in the paint, 32-18. Marcus Simmons was called upon to guard UCLA's talented guard Darren Collison and he held him to four points on 1-9 shooting and forced him into a season-high seven turnovers. The win was USC's 20th of the season making it three consecutive seasons of 20 or more wins for the first time in school history.

March 14 • Staples Center
Los Angeles, Calif.

USC erased a 15-point halftime deficit to defeat No. 23 Arizona State 66-63 on March 14 at the Staples Center in Los Angeles to capture the school's first Pac-10 Tournament title. The Trojans had trailed since the first minute of the game until Daniel Hackett's free throw with 42 seconds left gave USC a 64-63 lead. Taj Gibson then took over, blocking a James Harden shot and making two free throws to give USC the 66-63 win. DeMar DeRozan scored 16 of his career-high 25 points in the second half to lead USC back. Hackett finished with 19 points and a team-leading six rebounds. Dwight Lewis added 13 points, including a clutch three-pointer with 1:04 left to bring the Trojans within one point. USC was the No. 6 seed and became the lowest seeded team to win the Pac-10 Conference Tournament. With the win, USC clinched its third consecutive NCAA Tournament bid, a first in school history. A day after committing a season-high 24 turnovers, USC cleaned things up and made a season-low five turnovers.

Long And Winding Road Ends With Pac-10 Tournament Title

2008-09 Season Summary

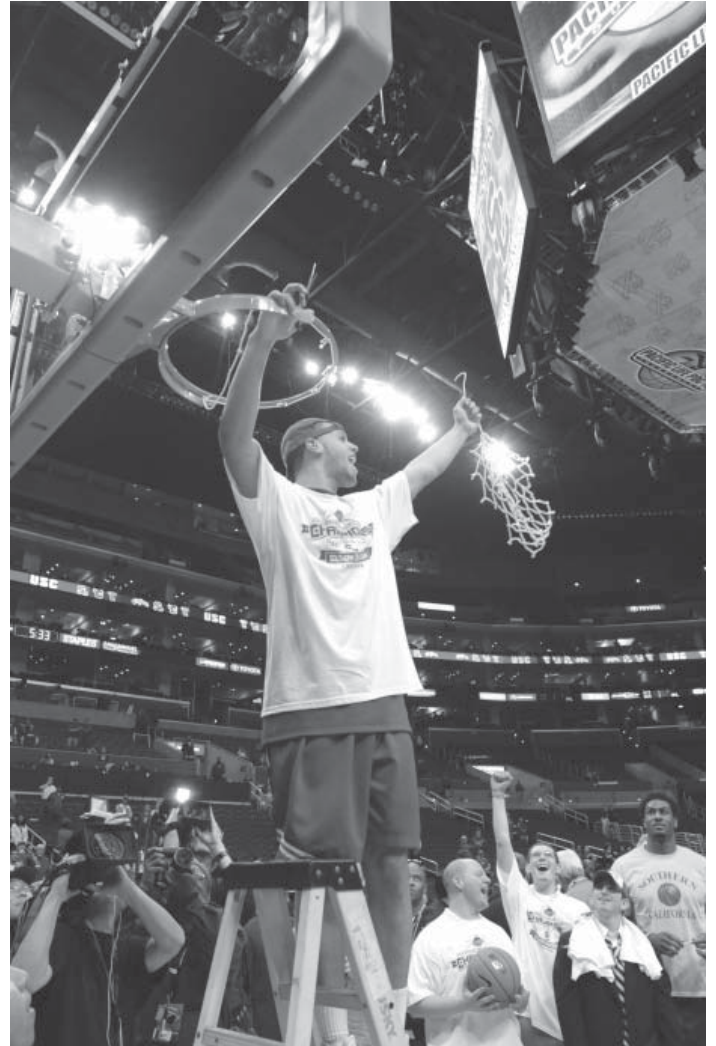

The 2008-09 USC men's basketball season came with great promise, but injuries and a tough schedule looked like they might derail the Trojans. Then suddenly everyone was healthy at once, USC won its first Pac-10 Tournament title and enter the NCAA Tournament on a five-game winning streak, matching the longest of the season...and there certainly could be more thrills ahead.

USC began the season with a No. 18 national ranking and was picked to finish in third place in the conference, its highest predicted finish in years. Despite some early season surprises and setbacks which included forward Kasey Cunningham going down for the season with a knee injury in his third game, power forward Alex Stepheson being denied a transfer waiver which would have allowed him play this season and forward Nikola Vucevic missing eight games while waiting to be certified by the NCAA Clearinghouse, things seemed to be in order. USC went 9-3 in non-conference games including taking then No. 6 Oklahoma down to the wire on its home court and the Trojans reached the halfway point of Pac-10 play with a 6-3 record, just one game out of first place.

However, five of USC's final nine conference games were on the road and USC lost them all, almost always in a frustratingly competitive style. USC then stood at 16-12, 7-9 in the Pac-10 and in desperate need of a home sweep of the Oregon schools.

USC did just that, then followed it up with wins over California, and ranked UCLA and Arizona State teams to win the Pac-10 Tournament Title and the Trojan train seems to be back on its tracks. Not bad for a team that has had at least one key contributor or starter out with injury in 13 of the 18 conference games, including all nine of the losses.

The season has not gone without a myriad of highlights and an assortment of accomplishments, though.

Taj Gibson became the fourth player ever in the Pac-10 to register 200 or more career blocks and he broke the school record for career blocks with his 196 swat at Oregon on Jan. 2, the same day he scored his 1,000th career point. He has gone on to extend both of those marks and currently ranks among USC's top 20 in career scoring. He also was named to the 2009 Wooden Award's Top 30 players at midseason.

Daniel Hackett had 13 assists vs. Oklahoma, the most assists in a game by a Trojan in a decade and has moved up the USC career assist chart into sixth place all-time with over 350 assists in his three seasons. He also surpassed the 100 career steals mark, but it is his grit and leadership which standout, seemingly willing USC to the Pac-10 Tourney title while playing all 120 minutes.

Dwight Lewis really stepped up his game this season and with his 13 points vs. Arizona State in the Pac-10 finals, eclipsed the 1,000 career point mark, becoming the 34th Trojans to accomplish that feat. He also has been rising up the Trojans' career three-point baskets made list, currently standing 16th all-time by a Trojan.

Freshman DeMar DeRozan has been making a steady progression throughout the season and already litters the Trojans' freshman all-time top 10 lists. He and teammate Marcus Johnson have also treated the Trojan fans to some amazing high-flying dunks which no doubt will end up on a poster some where.

Speaking of Johnson, the Trojans discovered him to be a valuable sixth-man whose aggressive style and energy has helped lift the Trojans to some key victories and a 12-3 record in games in which he has been available to play. Unfortunately, ly, he suffered a right rotator cuff strain and had to miss seven games from Feb. 4-28 and perhaps not coincidentally, the Trojans went 1-6 in those contests.

Even now as the regular season transitions into the postseason another sign of optimism for USC has arisen. Guard Marcus Simmons looks like he is finally returning to full health from a high ankle sprain which has hampered him for a season and a half and ultimately required surgery. In the last seven games, Simmons was able to play extensive minutes and scored a career-high six points at Cal on Feb. 26 and followed that up with a new career high of 11 points at Stanford on Feb. 28. His return to health provides the Trojans with a defensive stopper, already having great success vs. Cal's Jerome Randle and UCLA's Darren Collison.

The 2008-09 season may have taken many twists and turns, but the Trojans appear to have learned from their journey and are playing their best basketball of the season. They were able to win 20-plus games for the third straight season and reach the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive time, both of which are school records. Then came the exciting three-game run to the Pac-10 Tournament title, leaving Trojan fans wondering what unexpected thrills await around the next corner.

TIM FLOYD

HEAD COACH • 4TH YEAR

Tim Floyd is in his fourth season as USC's head men's basketball coach and 21st season of head coaching at the collegiate and NBA levels.

Floyd guided the 2008-09 Trojans to a 21-12 record and into the NCAA Tournament for a third-straight season, a school record. The three consecutive seasons of 20 or more wins is also a school record. He further helped put the Trojans on the basketball world map by leading the sixth-seeded Trojans to the Pac-10 Tournament title with a 66-63 win over No. 23 Arizona, following wins over No. 15 UCLA and California. He now has posted an 84-49 record in four seasons at the helm of the Trojans, more wins in a four-year stretch than any previous basketball coach at USC.

In 2007-08 he led USC to a 21-12 record and into the NCAA Tournament, after finishing tied for third in the Pac-10 Conference with an 11-7 record. During his first three seasons with the Trojans he has guided USC to 63 wins, more victories than any other three-year stretch in school history. He also picked up career coaching victory No. 300 on Feb. 7 at Washington. Floyd has guided USC to consecutive 20-win seasons and into the NCAA Tournament in back-to-back seasons for just the third time in school history. This year he will try to set a USC record by accomplishing the feat in three consecutive seasons.

In 2006-07 he led the Trojans to a school-record 25 wins (25-12), a third-place tie in the Pac-10 Conference and a trip to the NCAA's Sweet 16, USC's first NCAA trip since 2002. Floyd went 42-25 in his first two seasons at USC, winning more games in the first two seasons as a head coach than any previous Trojan coach in school history. Floyd led USC to NCAA wins over Arkansas and Texas, before falling in the round of 16 to North Carolina.

He has had great success during his 15 seasons at the college level, going 306-167 (.647). In 10 of his 15 seasons, Floyd has taken his team into the postseason (NCAA-7, NIT-3). He also has aided the development of student-athletes at each stop, as 13 players in his 15 years have made it to the NBA, including three players that did not even play high school basketball.

Floyd was hired on Jan. 14, 2005 to replace interim head coach Jim Saia and took over complete control on April 1, 2005. In his first season at USC, he led the Trojans to a 17-13 record, their best finish since the 2001-02 season and the fourth-best inaugural season by a USC head basketball coach in school history. The team put together a nine-game winning streak, their longest since the 2001-02 season, and defeated three top 25 RPI teams in North Carolina, Arizona and UCLA.

"Tim Floyd has turned our program around in a short time," said Trojan athletic director Mike Garrett. "His knowledge of the game, enthusiasm and relationships he has established with the players, fans and alumni has allowed the USC basketball program to make great strides in a short time. People really like Tim and want to play for him; add to that his background in the NBA and it makes playing at USC in our great new facility, the Galen Center, a very attractive option. We are so glad to have Tim here to lead us into a promising new era."

"There is a wealth of talent to recruit in the Los Angeles area, much more than at any of the college jobs I've had," said Floyd. "And with USC's tremendous national reputation, the pieces are in place for USC to be successful at the national level."

Floyd, 54, served as a college head coach at Idaho, New Orleans and Iowa State before NBA head coaching stints with the Chicago Bulls and New Orleans Hornets.

His first head coaching job was at Idaho, where he went 35-25 (.583) in two seasons (1987-88). In his first season, the Vandals posted their first winning record in four seasons (after three straight last place Big Sky Conference finishes). His 1988 squad was the winningest Idaho team in five years and posted its best league finish in six years.

He then was the head coach at New Orleans for six years (1989-94), posting a 127-58 (.686) mark. During his tenure, UNO advanced to post-season play five times, including NCAA tourney appearances in 1991 and 1993, and won four regular season conference titles. His teams averaged 21 wins a season. He was one of just four Division I coaches to have won four conference championships in their first five years at a school. He was twice named his conference's Coach of the Year (American South in 1989 and Sun Belt in 1993).

"The University has made an incredible commitment to basketball...Everything we have asked for, we've been given. There will be no excuses. This program should ultimately become a Top 10 program because of the vast amount of talent and good high school coaching in our region. It's a bunch of malarkey to say you can't be great in both basketball and football. We have watched it happen at Florida, Texas, Oklahoma, Ohio State, Michigan and others through the years. It will happen here." - Tim Floyd

"I'm very appreciative of this opportunity. This is a great time to be at USC. There's a lot of excitement going on at the school, both academically and athletically. I see a great commitment toward making the men's basketball program as good as it can be and that's clearly evident with the new facility that was built."

– Tim Floyd

Floyd then went to Iowa State for four years (1995-98), going 81-47 (.633). He was the only Cyclone coach to ever post three consecutive 20-win seasons and lead the team to three straight NCAA Tournament first round victories. Iowa State rose to No. 4 in the rankings in 1997 and three of his teams finished in the Top 20.

Iowa State won a then-school record 23 games in his 1995 debut season, getting into the NCAA tourney's second round and spending 11 consecutive weeks in the AP Top 25. His 1996 squad bettered that as it won 24 games and captured the school's first-ever Big Eight Tournament championship. That season, he was the Big Eight Coach of the Year and the runner-up for AP National Coach of the Year. His 1997 team went 22-9 and advanced to the NCAA's Sweet Sixteen.

Floyd moved to the NBA as the Bulls' director of operations in the summer of 1998. But soon after when head coach Phil Jackson stepped down and Michael Jordan departed, Floyd took over as head coach for portions of four years (1999-2002) as the club began a major rebuilding process with a young roster. Floyd was hired at a time when the NBA was getting younger and the Bulls wanted a coach who had a track record of developing young players. In fact, two of Floyd's Bulls teams were among the youngest ever in the NBA.

After coaching the Bulls, Floyd took the coaching experience and valuable lessons he learned in Chicago with him to the NBA's Hornets. In his one season as the New Orleans' head coach (2004), he led them to a 41-41 record, and a trip to the playoffs.

Floyd began his coaching career as a student assistant in 1977 at his alma mater, Louisiana Tech. He then served nine seasons (1978-86) as an assistant and top recruiter at UTEP under Don Haskins. While there, he helped guide the Miners to three straight NCAA berths (1984-86), three NIT appearances (1980, 1981, 1983) and four consecutive Western Athletic Conference championships (no team had ever won two WAC titles in a row before then).

Floyd is a native of Hattiesburg, Miss. He spent two seasons as a walk-on at Southern Miss (where his father, Lee was the head coach for 14 seasons) before getting a scholarship to Louisiana Tech. He earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Louisiana Tech in 1977. Growing up, Floyd worked summers for the New Orleans Saints, who at the time held training camp at Southern Miss.

USC Football Coach Pete Carroll –
"He's brought a tremendous change in culture. The kids play with great energy and display great attitude, and they look like they're having fun. He's elevated every aspect of the program."

He and his wife, Beverly, have a 26-year-old daughter, Shannon. His daughter had a brief role and Floyd served as the basketball advisor for the hit 2006 movie Glory Road.

GIB ARNOLD

ASSISTANT COACH • 4TH YEAR

Gib Arnold is in his fourth season as an assistant coach at USC, being named to his position on April 6, 2005. Just prior to the 2006-07 season, Arnold was named as one of the top 25 recruiters in the country by Rivals.com and this offseason he was named by the same outlet as the number three-ranked assistant ready to move up to a head coaching job. In 2008, The Bleacher Report named Arnold their No. 1 "Assistant Who Will Be A Head Coach Soon."

Before joining USC, Arnold spent the 2004 and 2005 seasons as the head men's basketball coach at the College of Southern Idaho and prior to that, was an assistant at Pepperdine, Loyola Marymount, Vanderbilt, Utah Valley State College and Provo High School.

"Gib is an outstanding coach and recruiter," said USC Head Coach Tim Floyd. "I liked his up-tempo style of play of Southern Idaho, because we want to play at a fast pace. And I like his recruiting ties in Southern California, which is such a key area for what we're trying to accomplish here."

Arnold, 39, posted a 57-14 record in his two seasons (2004-05) at CSI, including a 33-3 record during the 2005 season. His 2005 Golden Eagles won the Scenic West Athletic Conference title and the Region 18 Tournament and advanced to the National Junior College Athletic Association tourney, where they finished third. In 2004, CSI went 24-11, won the Region 18 tourney and advanced to the NJCAA tournament.

While at CSI, Arnold produced 17 players that committed to Division I schools. His teams also produced in the classroom - during his two year tenure, his teams hold the highest accumulative team GPA in school history. He was named back-to-back District 13 Coach of the Year.

He spent the previous four seasons (2000-03) at Pepperdine, where his main duties included recruiting and overseeing defensive schemes and pressing.

Working under Jan van Breda Kolff and USC great Paul Westphal, Pepperdine won more

Division I games in his four years than during any other four-year span in school history. Arnold also received much credit for his recruiting while at Pepperdine, signing two WCC Freshman of the Year players and multiple all-conference players. For his work, Athlon Sports Magazine named Arnold on of the top 10 Division I assistants in the country. Prior to that, Arnold was an assistant at Loyola Marymount and Vanderbilt.

Attending Punahou High in Honolulu, Hawaii, Arnold was a prep All-American and Hawaii's high school Gatorade Player of the Year. He began his collegiate career at Arizona State where he was awarded the Citi Scholar Athlete Award.

Transferring to Dixie State College, he was nominated as one of the Men's Student Athletes of the Year. Completing his career at UC San Diego, Arnold helped the Tritons to a school record 17 consecutive wins and a No. 3 national ranking.

Arnold comes from a basketball family. His father, Frank, was an assistant at UCLA under John Wooden (the Bruins won three NCAA titles during his tenure), then was the head coach at both BYU and Hawaii. While at BYU, he guided the Cougars to three WAC championships and to an Elite Eight appearance.

Arnold and his wife, Lisa, have five children: Analise (12), Ashton (10), Ally (8), Addison (6) and Ace (2).

BOB CANTU

ASSISTANT COACH • 8TH YEAR

Bob Cantu is in his eighth season with the USC men's basketball program, and his 13th overall at the collegiate level. Cantu served his first four seasons under former head coach Henry Bibby. In three seasons of working with Tim Floyd, the Trojans have gone 63-37, reaching the NCAA Sweet 16 with a school-record 25 wins in 2006-07 and finishing the season ranked No. 15 in the final AP poll. Last season the Trojans went 21-12 and again advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In May 2008 Cantu was recognized by FoxSports.com as a Top 20 college basketball assistant. Cantu has also been recognized by Hoopscoop as one of the top 25 assistant coaches in the country.

USC's 2008 recruiting class was ranked No. 7 nationally by Hoopscoop. In the last two seasons Nick Young (2007) and O.J. Mayo (2008) were selected first-team All-Pac-10, while Taj Gibson (3rd Team, 2008), Davon Jefferson (Honorable Mention, 2008), Gabe Pruitt (HM, 2007) and Lodrick Stewart (HM, 2007) were also named to All-Pac-10 teams.

In the 2007 NBA Draft, Young was selected No. 16 by Washington and Pruitt No. 32 by Boston and in 2008, Mayo was selected No. 3 by Minnesota. Cantu, who has established himself as one of the premiere recruiters in the college game, played an instrumental role in the signing of Mayo, who was rated the No. 1 player in his class since the 7th grade and was a McDonalds All-American, USA Today All-USA first team and EA Sports National High School Player of the Year. ESPN and Hoopscoop rated the Trojans' 2007 recruiting class, which also included top 10 prospect Davon Jefferson, No. 1 in the country.

In 2006, the Trojans returned only four players and surprised many with a 17-13 record highlighted with wins over defending NCAA champion North Carolina, 2006 NCAA runner-up UCLA, Arizona and Stanford. Trojans Young and Pruitt were named first-team All-Pac-10 and Ryan Francis was honorable mention on the Pac-10 all freshman team. After the 2004 season, Cantu was promoted to Recruiting Coordinator and led the Trojans recruiting efforts. One of coach Floyd's first moves when taking over the Trojans was to retain Cantu. He played a huge role in the transition of the program. Cantu worked with Floyd from February through April on the Trojans' recruiting efforts for the 2005 class. His efforts helped USC secure a Top 10 ranked recruiting class according to HoopScoop. The 2006 recruiting class was even stronger with three top 50 recruits and an overall No. 1 recruiting class in the Pac-10 according to HoopScoop. His on-court responsibilities include working with the perimeter players and assisting with the teams' offense and defense. He recruits high school, junior college and prep schools nationwide, as well as coordinates official and unofficial visits. He also assists with the scheduling of games as well as the teams' academics.

In his first year with USC in 2002, the Trojans made an NCAA Tournament appearance, tied for second in the Pac-10 Conference and reached the Pac-10 Tournament finals while being ranked in the AP Top 25 much of the year and finishing No. 18 in the final poll. The Trojans also produced the Pac-10 Player of the Year Sam Clancy who was drafted by the Philadelphia 76ers

Other highlights include a return appearance to the Pac-10 Tournament final in 2003, as well as beating UCLA five out of six games from 2002-04. The Trojans have split the 14 regular season games with the Bruins in the past seven years. Other notable players during Cantu's tenure include 2004 signee Robert Swift who opted to enter the NBA Draft from high school and was selected 12th overall by Seattle Supersonics, two-time All Pac-10 Player Desmon Farmer and Jeff McMillan, 2004 Pac-10 Newcomer of the Year.

Cantu came to USC after a year-and-a-half serving as an assistant coach at Sacramento State (2000-01). While with the Hornets, his responsibilities included recruiting (he signed one of the top classes in school history), fund-raising (including securing John Wooden for a tip-off banquet), coordinating the team defense, organizing individual workouts, controlling the operation budget and monitoring academics.

Prior to that, Cantu spent three seasons (1997-1999) as assistant coach at Cuesta College in San Luis Obispo, Calif. While at Cuesta, Cantu served as the recruitment and placement coordinator as well as defensive coordinator. Cantu also conducted all individual workouts. In his three years with the Cougars, the team averaged 23 wins and claimed a pair of Western State Conference titles. He also placed 10 players with Division I scholarships.

Before his tenure at Cuesta, Cantu served (1996-1997) as a basketball administrative assistant at Cal Poly. His responsibilities with the Mustangs included film exchange, film breakdown, scouting, assisting in recruiting, and directing the summer basketball camps. Cantu served as director of the camps from its inception and helped raise participation to more than 600 in two years.

Cantu spent three seasons (1993-96) as the Head JV coach and varsity assistant coach at Mission Prep High in San Luis Obispo. He guided the Royals to three league championships. He founded the Fundamental Basketball Camps in 1997 in his hometown of Paso Robles. His camp has become a popular place for kids of all ages to improve their basketball skills.

He was a three-year varsity player at Paso Robles High School before graduating in 1992. He attended Cuesta College and Cal Poly before receiving his bachelor's degree in sociology from Chapman University in 1997. Cantu is single and resides in Marina Del Rey.

RUDY HACKETT

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING MANAGER • 4TH YEAR

Rudy Hackett is in his fourth season with the Trojans as strength and conditioning manager and second as the coordinator of team travel. He brings a wealth of basketball experiences from all levels to the USC program.

He excels in developing and improving individual player's skills and has had success in designing programs that have aided players in getting the most out of their abilities.

Hackett, 55, who was an assistant coach and dean of discipline at St. John Bosco High in Bellflower, Calif., moved back to the United States from Italy five years ago. In Italy he played, coached and taught, but returned to the U.S. so that his son could be exposed to the American game.

The 6-9 Hackett starred as a forward at Syracuse from 1973 to 1975, earning second-team AP All-American honors in 1975 when his team reached the Final Four. He averaged 17.2 points during his career and in 2002 was named an honorable mention on the all-time NCAA tournament team, as he averaged 17.7 points and 11 rebounds in nine postseason games. He also was selected in 2000 as one of 25 Syracuse players honored on the university's all-century team.

Hackett ranks sixth on the Syracuse all-time rebounding list with 990 in his career. His total of 407 rebounds his final season at Syracuse (1974-75) are the most ever by a Syracuse senior and the second-best total in a season, trailing only Derrick Coleman's 422 rebounds in the 1988-89 season. Hackett also scored 709 points, good for a 22.2 average in 1974-75, the eighth most points scored in a single season by a Syracuse player.

Hackett played professionally in the ABA with the St. Louis Spirits in 1975. He spent the next two seasons playing for the New Jersey Nets and the Indiana Pacers. Hackett furthered his 15-year playing career in Europe, playing in the Italian Professional League. He also spent five years coaching in Italy.

Hackett is a native of Mount Vernon, NY and attended Mount Vernon High before heading off to Syracuse. He met his wife, Katia, while playing basketball in Italy. They have one son, Daniel, who is a junior on the USC basketball team. They reside in Downey, Calif.

PHIL JOHNSON

ASSISTANT COACH • 4TH YEAR

Phil Johnson, with more than 20 years of coaching experience in basketball, is in his fourth season as a USC assistant coach. He has worked as an assistant with head coach Tim Floyd twice before, first at the University of New Orleans and then with the NBA's Chicago Bulls.

As Floyd's right-hand man, Johnson plays a key role in preparing the game plans. Along with all of his assistant coaching and recruiting duties, he has an important role of working with the development of USC's big men.

Johnson, 50, was the head coach at San Jose for three seasons (2002-2004), his second stint at the helm of the Spartan's program. He also served as San Jose State's head coach for the 1999 season, before leaving to become an assistant with the Bulls. In 1999, the Spartans won nine more games than they did the previous season, one of the top-20 turnaround programs in the country that season. Included in San Jose's 12 wins were upsets over UNLV coached by Jerry Tarkanian and UTEP coached by Don Haskins, both members of the 700-win club.

Prior to coaching at San Jose State, Johnson served five years (1994-98) as an assistant coach at Arizona under Lute Olson. All five years he worked for the Wildcats, they played in the NCAA Tournament, winning the national championship in 1997. Arizona posted a composite 133-35 record in his five seasons. He also was an assistant coach at Tulsa in 1991 and under Floyd at the University of New Orleans in 1992 and 1993.

Johnson's coaching career began in 1983 at his alma mater, East Central Oklahoma University, where he led the Tigers to conference championships in each of his three seasons (1983-85), reaching the NAIA Division IX finals in 1984.

His first head coaching job, at the age of 28, was at Northern Oklahoma Junior College (1986-87), before moving to Seminole Junior College for three seasons (1988-90). His 1988 Seminole team won a state championship and the 1989 squad was a conference champion.

Lute Olson credits Johnson with developing some of their better big men while at Arizona as an assistant, including Bennett Davison, A.J. Bramlett, Ray Owes, Joseph Blair and Ben Davis, all who were selected in the NBA draft.

Johnson graduated from East Central Oklahoma in 1981 with a bachelor's degree in education. He went on to earn his master's degree in education from Henderson State in 1982. As a player, he was co-captain of the 1979 ECOU team.

Johnson is single and resides in Santa Monica.

DWAYNE POLEE

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS • 2ND YEAR

Dwayne Polee is in his second season as USC's Director of Basketball Operations, being named to the position effective July 1, 2007.

Polee, 45, was an assistant coach at Los Angeles Southwest Community College for the 2000-01 season, helping lead the Cougars to the 2001 California State Championship.

In addition to coaching, Polee's career includes 12 years of experience as a social worker for Los Angeles County, working to positively affect the lives of Los Angeles County residents. He has also served as an instructor the last two USC basketball camps.

Polee, born and raised in Los Angeles, was a legendary high school basketball player in the city. He started as a freshman at Verbum Dei High which was the No. 1 ranked high school team in the country at the time. He then transferred to Manual Arts High as a sophomore and graduated from that school in 1981. As a senior, he almost single-handedly led the Toilers to the 1981 City Championship by scoring a championship-record 43 points in Manual Arts' 82-69 win over perennial power Crenshaw at the Los Angeles Sports Arena before a city finals record 14,123 fans. Polee was named the 1981 Los Angeles High School Player of the Year.

He began his collegiate career at UNLV for the 1981-82 season and averaged 8.4 points and 3.5 rebounds as a freshman. Transferred to Pepperdine for his final three seasons. He averaged 11.0 points and 4.0 rebounds as a sophomore (1983-84), 15.7 points and 3.5 rebounds as a junior (1984-85) and 15.7 points and 2.8 rebounds as a senior (1985-86) at Pepperdine. Graduated from Pepperdine with a degree in Physical Education.

Polee was a third round selection (54th pick overall) in the 1986 NBA Draft by the Los Angeles Clippers. He played in just one game for the Clippers, playing six minutes and scoring two points. He also played professionally for the Colima Lemaneros in Mexico from 1989-91 and was a member of the U.S. traveling team in Europe from 1987-89.

Along with his administrative duties, Polee brings a strong background in working with young players and experience at guard development.

Polee and his wife Yolanda reside in Los Angeles. They have two children, Dwayne Polee, Jr. (16) who is a junior at Westchester High in Los Angeles and Ashli (8).

ADAM KATLIN

VIDEO COORDINATOR • 2ND YEAR

Adam Katlin is in his second season as USC's video coordinator for the men's basketball team and is in charge of coordinating film exchange and breakdown, as well as assisting in scouting preparation.

In his first season at USC, the Trojans advanced to the NCAA Tournament, after finishing tied for third in the Pac-10 Conference. Trojan O.J. Mayo was a first-team All-Pac-10 selection and No. 3 player selected in the 2008 NBA Draft, continuing Katlin's streak of working with some of the top talent in the country.

He served the previous three seasons as a student-manager at Texas, where the Longhorns reached the NCAA Tournament each season, including the Elite 8 in 2006. While at Texas, he worked with 2006-07 NCAA Player of the Year Kevin Durant, LaMarcus Aldridge and Daniel Gibson. Aldridge and Durant were the No. 2 pick in the NBA Draft in 2005-06 and 2006-07 respectively.

Katlin graduated from Texas in 2007 with a degree in Journalism.

He worked the Texas basketball camps the last three years and has worked at the USC basketball camp in 2006 and 2007.

Katlin was born in Highland Park, Ill. and attended Highland Park High, where he played high school basketball and baseball all four years. He was the basketball team captain in his senior season.

Katlin is single and resides in Los Angeles.

SHANE KUPPERMAN

OPERATIONS ASSISTANT • 2ND YEAR

Shane Kupperman is in his second season on the Trojan staff. Kupperman assists the program in all administrative areas, such as travel and academics.

Kupperman graduated from Indiana University in 2007 with a degree in Finance. He is currently enrolled in the USC Annenberg School for Communication. While at Indiana, he worked as a manager for the men's basketball team for two seasons under Head Coach Mike Davis. During his undergraduate studies, Kupperman also coached at Bloomington North High School. Over the summers, he coached AAU basketball in New Orleans and has had several of his players play at Division I programs.

Kupperman was born in New Orleans, La and attended Isidore Newman School, where he played high school basketball for all four years. Kupperman resides in Los Angeles.

STAN HOLT

GRADUATE MANAGER • 2ND YEAR

Stan Holt is in his second year with the USC Men's Basketball program. Last year Holt was responsible for on-floor practice coordination, equipment, preparing the locker room and bench area for games, and other logistical duties. In addition to last season's responsibilities, Holt will this season assist with recruiting administrative tasks, organizing the managerial staff, and participating in staff meetings.

Holt earned his bachelor's degree in Psychology, with a minor in Business Administration, in May, 2007. A Dean's List student, he graduated cum laude and is pursuing his master's degree in Post-Secondary Administration and Student Affairs with an emphasis in Athletic Administration.

Before joining the basketball program, Holt was a student manager with the Rose Bowl Champion USC Football team for the 2006-2007 season. Holt coached High School basketball during the 2004-2005 season at Corona Del Mar, Ca., and has coached at over 20 different basketball camps throughout California.

USC BASKETBALL HISTORY

First thoughts of USC Athletics tradition often gravitate toward the gridiron, the white sweaters of the song leaders and the Spirit of Troy, USC's indomitable marching band.

But flash to the hardwood, where the tradition is also quite storied and you can still find the same white sweaters and the same inspiring fight songs. The only thing missing is Traveler, USC's regal white horse, but he likes it better on grass anyway.

USC's men's basketball program has a long and decorated tradition in Los Angeles, the original Southern California powerhouse.

The Trojans started playing basketball in 1907 and have compiled a record of 1,458-1,041 (.583), winning 14 league championships and this season, the Pac-10 Tournament.

By the 1920s, USC established itself as the top team in Los Angeles and won its first Pacific Coast Southern Division League title in 1928. It began a run of 10 league titles in 16 years including a string of five in a row from 1932-36.

Among the early standouts at Troy were future Hall of Famers Jack Gardner and Sam Barry. Gardner played for Barry from 1930-32 but went on to become the only coach in history to lead two schools to the Final Four twice each (Kansas State in 1948 and 1951 and Utah in 1961 and 1966). Barry is USC's all-time winningest coach.

It was in this era when USC ran off a remarkable 42 consecutive wins over rival UCLA from 1932-42, by far the greatest streak in the series.

Two of the game's giants came through in the late 1940s in Tex Winter and Bill Sharman. Winter, who coached collegiately and in the pros for more than 55 years, lettered for the Trojans in 1947 and later received a bit of attention for a little offense he designed in the shape of a triangle.

Sharman was an All-American at USC as a senior in 1950 before becoming a standout player and coach in the NBA. Known as "Bullseye Bill" for his marksmanship at the foul line – a true weapon in the days when every foul resulted in a foul shot – Sharman spent 10 years with the Boston Celtics, winning four NBA titles and going to eight All-Star games. He later went on to coach the Los Angeles Lakers to their first title in 1972 and was a long-time executive with the club.

USC remained formidable during the 1950s and 1960s, the latter decade featuring Trojan stalwart John Rudometkin, whose 18.8 scoring average remains second all-time at Troy for players who played more than one season.

USC surged in the 1970s under coach Bob Boyd. In fact, Boyd led the Trojans to their greatest regular season record ever, a 24-2 mark in 1971 on a team that included the great Paul Westphal. USC won 24 games again in 1974 (featuring the talented Gus Williams) and won 20 in Boyd's final year in 1979.

Stan Morrison and George Raveling followed Boyd with Raveling returning the Trojans to prominence in the early 1990s thanks in large part to the school's all-time leading scorer, Harold Miner.

Miner was named Sports Illustrated's Player of the Year in 1992, leading USC to a 24-6 record and a school-best No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Former UCLA great Henry Bibby took over the USC program in 1997 and kept USC among the top teams in the West.

Included in Bibby's three NCAA Tournament teams was a breakthrough 2001 Elite Eight team, marking the Trojans' furthest foray in the Big Dance in the tournament's current format. Only eventual champion Duke was able to slow the Trojans down.

That 2001 team featured NBA draftees Brian Scalabrine, Jeff Trepagnier and Sam Clancy. The Trojans returned to the NAAs again in 2002, but were a first-round upset victim in overtime to UNC-Wilmington.

The Trojans struggled over the next few years until Tim Floyd became the new coach for the 2005-06 season. He turned the team around immediately going 17-13 in his first season and guiding the 2006-07 Trojans to a school-record 25 wins (25-12). The 2006-07 Trojans were selected to play in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the 2001-02 season and advanced to the Sweet 16, led by first team All-Pac-10 junior swingman Nick Young, who was then taken in the first round of the NBA draft by Washington. USC again reached the NCAA Tournament in 2007-08 with a 21-12 record behind freshman O.J. Mayo, who following the season became USC's highest-ever drafted player when he taken with the third pick in the NBA draft.

USC's third all-time scorer and second all-time rebounder Sam Clancy BREAKDOWN: Paul (Kasey) Cunningham, a 6-foot-7, 225-pound redshirt sophomore forward, is an athletic, physical big man who can rebound and has a knack for scoring. Has spent most of his first three seasons at USC rehabilitating from knee surgeries.

2008-09: Played in four games before reinjuring his knee while scoring a basket vs. Missouri on Nov. 23 at Puerto Rico Tip-Off. He had a career-best 11 points in 14 minutes off the bench in that game. Had reconstructive surgery of the ACL on Nov. 26 at White Memorial Medical Center in Los Angeles.

2007-08: Played in nine games (3 starts) for the Trojans before suffering a season-ending knee injury during practice on Dec. 12. Had surgery on Dec. 28 to repair his left ACL and meniscus. Averaged 2.7 points and 2.6 rebounds per game. Had six points and a career-high 10 rebounds on Nov. 15 at The Citadel, his first career start. Had a career-high seven points in start on Nov. 23 vs. Miami (OH). Also started on Nov. 25 vs. Southern Illinois in the Anaheim Classic title game and scored six points.

2006-07: Sat out the season as he continued his rehabilitation from left knee surgery during his senior year of high school. Continued to round into form and increased his practice load throughout the season, working on his ball handling and outshooting. Made several road trips with the team.

HIGH SCHOOL:

Cunningham averaged 22.0 points, 15.0 rebounds and six blocked shot per game as a senior at Cibola High in Albuquerque, N.M. Led his team to a 13-1 record before suffering a season-ending left knee injury (ACL surgery). Cibola went 8-6 the rest of the season and ranked sixth in the state of New Mexico. Entered the season widely regarded as the top player in the state of New Mexico. Named to the 2005-06 Long Beach Press Telegram's Best in the West second team. As a junior, Cunningham averaged 18.7 points and 14.2 rebounds and was named a first-team Class 5-A all-state selection. He had one game where he grabbed 28 rebounds and another where he pulled down 26.

PERSONAL:

Cunningham was born on July 3, 1988. He is a Social Sciences and History major at USC. His father Paul played basketball at UTEP (1981-84), where he was recruited by Tim Floyd who was an assistant coach under the late Don Haskins.

BREAKDOWN: DeMar DeRozan, 6-foot-7, 220-pound freshman forward, has shown tremendous athleticism, a quick first step and the ability to score. Named Pac-10 Tournament MVP and was named to the Pac-10 All-Freshman team.

2008-09: DeRozan continued to make steady improvement all season, culminating with his being named the Pac-10 Tournament MVP as he averaged 21 points and 9.0 rebounds in USC's run to the title. In the quarterfinals vs. Cal, DeRozan had 17 points and 11 rebounds, then backed that up with 21 points and a season-high 13 rebounds in the semifinals win over UCLA. In the finals vs. Arizona State, he tallied a season-high 25 points on 10 of 16 shooting. DeRozan recorded four double-doubles during the season and scored in double figures in 26 of 33 games, including the last seven. He ranked 8th in the conference with 2.4 offensive rebounds per game and 4th in Pac-10 games only with 3.1 per game. He also hit .525 percent of his shots, good for 8th in the conference.

HIGH SCHOOL: DeRozan was named a 2007-08 McDonald's All-American, 2007-08 Best in the West first team selection and second-leading vote getter, 2008 Parade All-American first team selection and an L.A. Times All-Star. Scored 10 points on 5-for-10 shooting for the West team which fell 107-102 at the McDonald's All-America game. DeRozan also won the Slam Dunk Competition at the McDonald's All-America game, getting perfect scores on his last two dunks. In his final dunk labeled "tap the baby," he bounced the ball off the glass, tapped the board with one hand and dunked with the other. He was also named to USA TODAY's 2008 All-USA second team and invited to play in the Jordan Brand Classic at Madison Square Garden in New York, N.Y. Helped lead Team USA to a 98-78 win vs. the World Select Team at the 11th Annual Nike Hoop Summit in Portland, Ore in April. He scored a team-high 17 points in the game. DeRozan shared the 2008 Southern California Interscholastic Basketball Coaches Association I-AA Player of the Year honors, was named to the California All-State team and was named Moore League MVP. He was ranked as the 2008 No. 1 high school senior basketball player by Draft Express, No. 2 by HoopScoopOnline, No. 3 by Rivals.com, No. 4 by HoopsReport.com, No. 6 by ScoutHoops.com (No. 1 small forward), No. 6 in Sports Illustrated's Tackle Top 25 and No. 8 by ESPN.com. DeRozan averaged 29.2 points, 7.9 rebounds, 3.9 assists and 3.0 steals in leading Compton High to a 24-6 record and its second consecutive Moore League championship. Compton was ranked fourth in the final SCIBCA regular season poll and they reached the DI-AA quarterfinals where they lost 62-55 to No. 5 Santa Margarita, snapping a 14-game winning streak. DeRozan scored 30 or more points 12 times, with a high game of 47 in a 100-88 win vs. Gahr on Dec. 27.

He led Compton back from an 11-point deficit with 1:22 left with a scoring outburst of 16-straight points in a 74-73 win vs. J. Serra on Dec. 15. He finished with 45 points in the win. Five times he recorded double-figures in rebounds, with a game high of 18 vs. Jordan High on Dec. 17. As a junior, DeRozan averaged 22.3 points, 7.8 rebounds, 3.0 assists and 3.2 steals per game to lead Compton to a 26-7 record and the Moore League championship. As a sophomore he averaged 22.6 points and 8.4 rebounds per game and scored 26.1 points and grabbed 8.4 rebounds per game as a freshman. Was coached at Compton High by Tony Thomas.

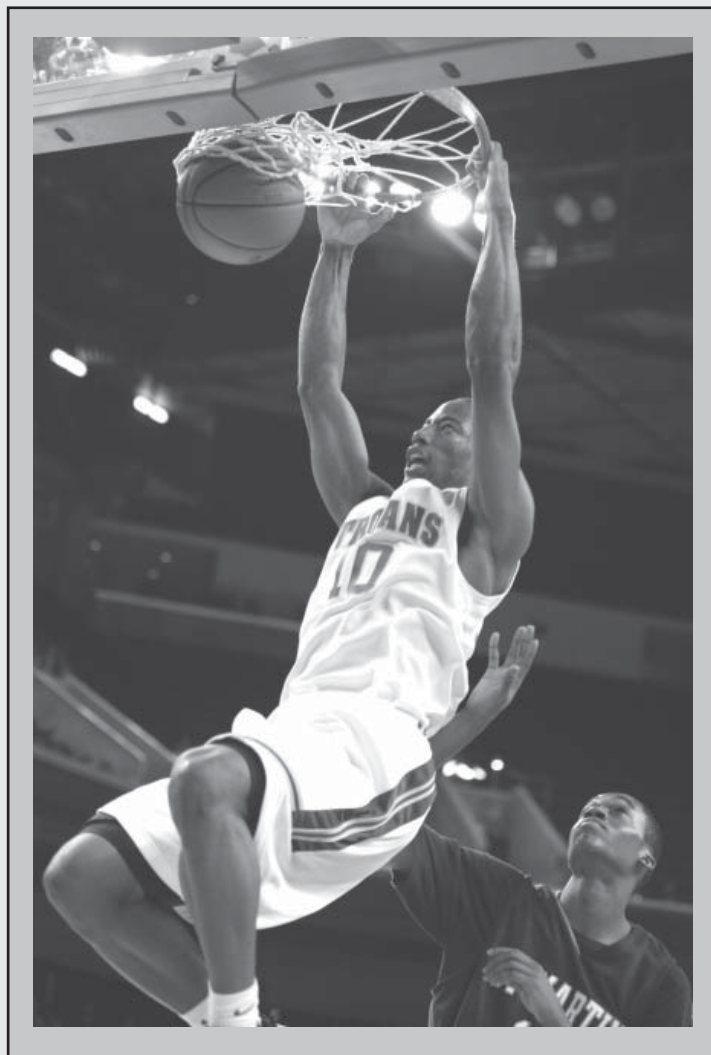

PERSONAL: DeRozan was born on Aug. 7, 1989 in Compton, Calif. He is an undeclared major at USC. His parents are Frank and Diane. His father told the Long Beach Press-Telegram that when DeMar was 10 he started doing 10 toe raises on each of the steps (15 of them) that led upstairs in their house, as well as squats, sit-ups and push-ups before going to bed, without anyone telling to do it. DeRozan first dunked basketball in the sixth grade.

BREAKDOWN: Mamadou Diarra, 7-foot, 230-pound redshirt freshman forward, is an athletic and talented big man who can run the floor and be a strong defensive presence.

2008-09: Played in 12 games and scored eight points in 33 minutes of action. Scored his first career field goal vs. Chattanooga on Nov. 11 and added a rebound and a block. Scored a career-high three points vs. Georgia Tech on Dec. 22 with a basket and free throw, while grabbing a career-best two rebounds. He made 3 of 7 from the floor (42.9 percent) and 2 of 6 from the free throw line (33.3 percent). He finished the regular season with five rebounds and four blocks.

2007-08: Played in three games for a total of 10 minutes. Had surgery to repair a hernia on Nov. 5 and returned to practice in late November. Played in his first game on Dec. 17 vs. Delaware State, making one of two free throws for his first career point. Also was 1-for-2 from the line vs. Cal Poly on Dec. 22. Played in his last game on Dec. 29 vs. UC Riverside and had one rebound in one minute of play.

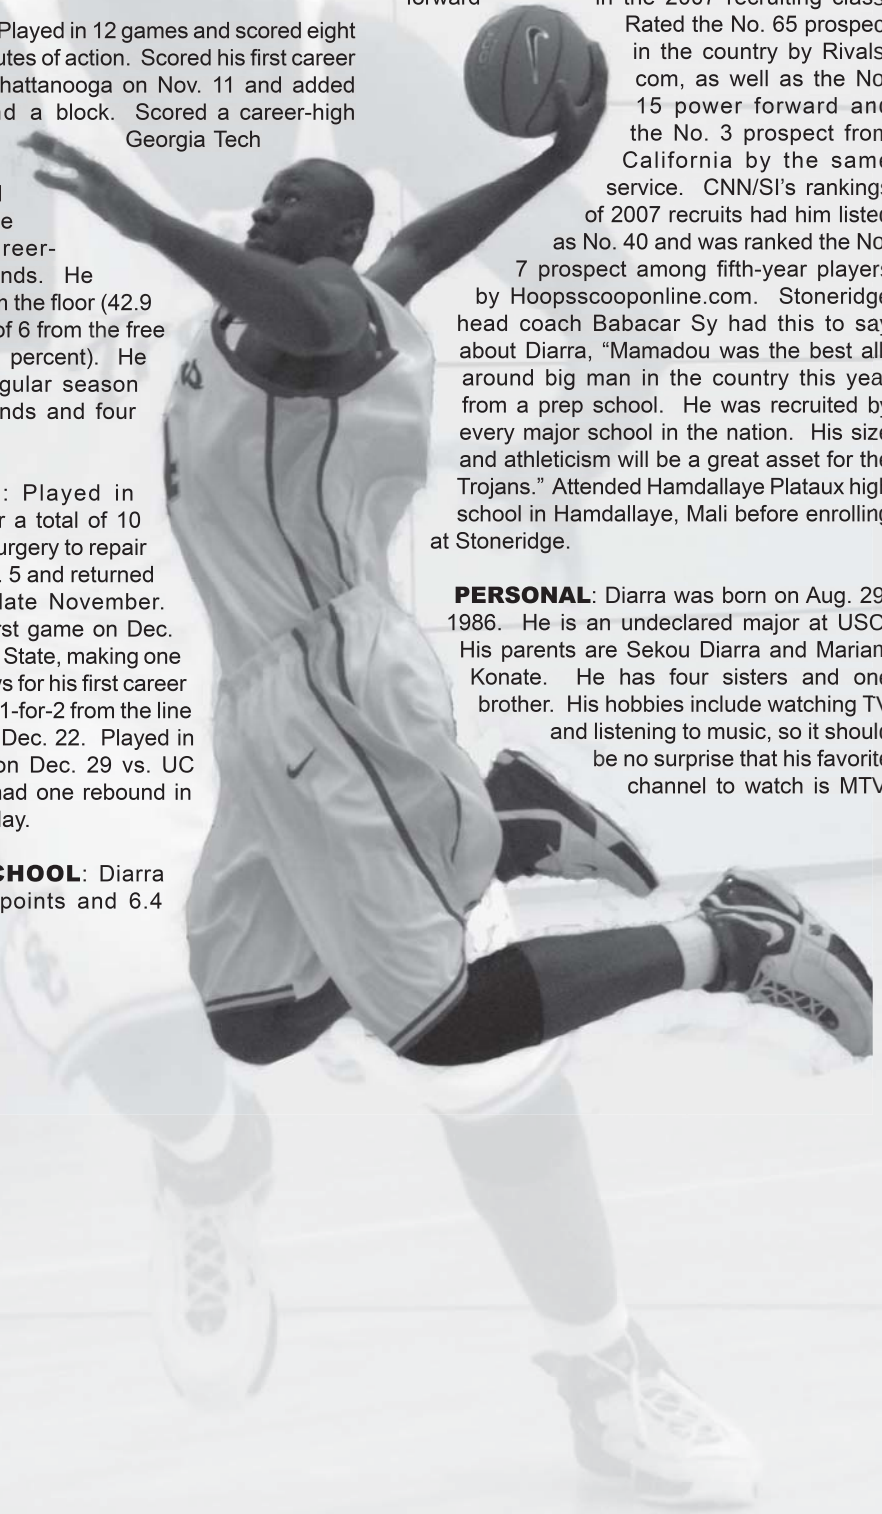

HIGH SCHOOL: Diarra averaged 8.1 points and 6.4

rebounds his senior season at Stoneridge Prep in Simi Valley, Calif. He led Stoneridge in scoring as a junior with an 11.1 average. Hoopmasters.com listed Diarra as the No. 4 ranked power forward in the 2007 recruiting class.

Rated the No. 65 prospect in the country by Rivals.com, as well as the No. 15 power forward and the No. 3 prospect from California by the same service. CNN/SI's rankings of 2007 recruits had him listed as No. 40 and was ranked the No. 7 prospect among fifth-year players by Hoopsscooponline.com.

Stoneridge head coach Babacar Sy had this to say about Diarra, "Mamadou was the best all-around big man in the country this year from a prep school. He was recruited by every major school in the nation. His size and athleticism will be a great asset for the Trojans." Attended Hamdallaye Plateaux high school in Hamdallaye, Mali before enrolling at Stoneridge.

PERSONAL: Diarra was born on Aug. 29, 1986. He is an undeclared major at USC. His parents are Sekou Diarra and Mariam Konate. He has four sisters and one brother. His hobbies include watching TV and listening to music, so it should be no surprise that his favorite channel to watch is MTV.

BREAKDOWN: James Dunleavy, a 6-6, 195-pound guard, will add to USC's depth at the guard position. He had good basketball instincts and possesses a good outside shot. Utilized his first season as a redshirt campaign, working on his shot and strength.

2008-09: Dunleavy appeared in his first two games for USC. Played in his first game as a Trojan on Jan. 2 at Oregon and missed his only shot, a three-point attempt. Also played a minute at UCLA on Feb. 4.

HIGH SCHOOL: Dunleavy played at Harvard-Westlake H.S. in North Hollywood, Calif. for coach Greg Hilliard. He did not compete during his senior season due to exhausting his eligibility. Averaged 2.5 points and 0.4 rebounds per game as a junior at Harvard-Westlake as the Wolverines went 27-6. He made 21 of 55 three-pointers for a .382 percentage from beyond the arc.

PERSONAL: James Alexander Dunleavy was born on September 14, 1987. His father Mike is the head coach and general manager of the Los Angeles Clippers and his brother Mike, Jr. is a guard/forward on the Indiana Pacers. Lists his favorite movie as "Inside Man" and his favorite television show as "Entourage." His favorite actor is Denzel Washington. Chose USC because he loves Los Angeles and says Tim Floyd is a great coach. Lists his biggest thrill in sports as winning the CIF Championship in 2005. Says his biggest sports hero is Michael Jordan because he is the best athlete ever. His favorite professional sports teams are the Los Angeles Clippers, Green Bay Packers and New York Yankees. He is an undecided major at USC. He would like to be a sports agent after college.

BREAKDOWN: Taj Gibson, a 6-foot-9, 225-pound junior forward, is a long and athletic presence in the paint at both ends of the court. He is USC's all-time career shot block record holder and ranks third all-time among conference players. He was named 2009 Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Year and to the All-Conference second team. He became the 33rd Trojans to reach the 1,000 career points scored plateau and currently stands 16th on the USC scoring list. He has 31 career double-doubles.

2008-09: Named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Year as he broke his school record and led the conference with 92 blocks and was third in rebounding with 310 for a 9.4 average per game. Also, led USC with 14.3 points per game and was selected to the Pac-10 All-Conference second team. He was named to the Pac-10 All-Tournament team as he posted two double-doubles in USC's title run, while averaging 13.7 points and 10.7 rebounds. He scored a career-high 25 points and added 11 rebounds in the win vs. Pepperdine on Dec. 15. He tied a career high and had a season best 18 rebounds twice, first vs. Seton Hall on Nov. 20 and then again vs. North Dakota State on Dec. 20. He scored in double figures in 29 of 33 games and had eight or more rebounds in 22 of 33 games.

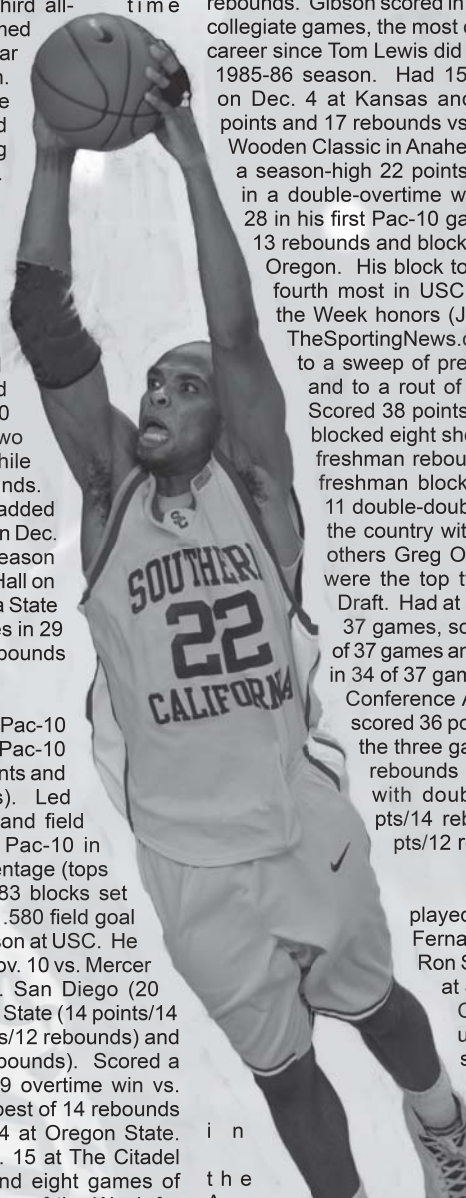

2007-08: He was a third-team All-Pac-10 selection and first-team member of the Pac-10 All-Defensive team. Averaged 10.8 points and 7.8 rebounds in 33 games (32 starts). Led USC in rebounds (259), blocks (83) and field goal percentage (.580). He led the Pac-10 in blocks and was third in field goal percentage (tops in Pac-10 games only at .667). His 83 blocks set the USC single-season record and his .580 field goal percentage is second all-time for a season at USC. He had five double-doubles this season: Nov. 10 vs. Mercer (13 points/14 rebounds), Nov. 22 vs. San Diego (20 points/12 rebounds), Jan. 24 at Oregon State (14 points/14 rebounds), Feb. 17 vs. UCLA (16 points/12 rebounds) and March 8 vs. Stanford (20 points/11 rebounds). Scored a season-high 21 points in USC's 93-89 overtime win vs. California on March 6. Had a season best of 14 rebounds twice, Nov. 10 vs. Mercer and Jan. 24 at Oregon State. Had a season-best six blocks on Nov. 15 at The Citadel and had two games of five blocks and eight games of four blocks. Was named Pac-10 Player of the Week for March 3-9 when he averaged 20.5 points, 8.5 rebounds and 4.0 blocks in a home sweep of California and No. 7 Stanford. Just missed a double-double in USC's Pac-10 quarterfinal game vs. ASU on March 13 with 11 points and nine rebounds. Was held to five points and grabbed nine rebounds in the 57-54 Pac-10 semifinals loss to UCLA on March 14. Again just missed a double-double in the NCAA first-round game against Kansas State on March 20, with 10 points and nine rebounds before fouling out.

2006-07: Named to the Pac-10 All-Freshman Team and honorable mention All-Freshman by Collegehoops.net. Led USC in the season opener vs. South Carolina with 16 points and 14 rebounds, the most rebounds by a USC freshman since Sam Clancy had 14 in 1999. Scored 10 points and grabbed a season-high 18 rebounds vs. Long Beach State on Nov. 24, the most rebounds by a Trojan in a game since Jan. 20, 2000 when David Bluthenthal tied Cliff Robinson's school and freshman record of 28 rebounds. Gibson scored in double figures in his first five collegiate games, the most consecutive to start a Trojan career since Tom Lewis did it the first nine games in the 1985-86 season. Had 15 points and nine rebounds on Dec. 4 at Kansas and followed that up with 16 points and 17 rebounds vs. George Washington at the Wooden Classic in Anaheim, Calif. on Dec. 9. Scored a season-high 22 points and grabbed 10 rebounds in a double-overtime win vs. Washington on Dec. 28 in his first Pac-10 game. Scored 18 points, had 13 rebounds and blocked seven shots on Jan. 4 at Oregon. His block total in that game tied for the fourth most in USC history. Earned Player of the Week honors (Jan. 1-7) by ESPN.com and TheSportingNews.com as he helped lead USC to a sweep of previously undefeated Oregon and to a rout of Oregon State on the road. Scored 38 points, grabbed 18 rebounds and blocked eight shots on the trip. Set the USC freshman rebound record with 321 and the freshman blocks record with 69. He had 11 double-doubles, one of five freshman in the country with that many, joining among others Greg Oden and Kevin Durant who were the top two picks in the 2007 NBA Draft. Had at least eight rebounds in 27 of 37 games, scored in double figures in 27 of 37 games and scored at least eight points in 34 of 37 games. Selected to the Pac-10 Conference All-Tournament team, as he scored 36 points and had 29 rebounds in the three games. Had 51 points and 34 rebounds in the three NCAA games, with double-doubles vs. Texas (17 pts/14 rebs) and North Carolina (16 pts/12 rebs).

HIGH SCHOOL: Gibson played at Calvary Christian in San Fernando, Calif. in 2006 for coach Ron Slater, following two seasons at Stoneridge Prep in Tarzana, Calif. Calvary Christian ended up having an abbreviated season, just competing in the Prep Stars of North America tournament held in London, Canada, where Gibson helped lead them to consolation championship. Gibson averaged 20 points, 12 rebounds and seven blocks per game. Began his high school career at Telecommunications High in Brooklyn, N.Y. Was invited to the NBPA Top 100 Camp prior to his senior season and finished fourth in scoring with a 17.1 average for the week. Gibson was rated the seventh-best power forward and the 32nd player overall by RivalsHoops. Also, USA Today ranked the forward as the 33rd best prospect in the country.

PERSONAL: Gibson was born on June 24, 1985 in Brooklyn, N.Y. Father played basketball for the U.S. Army national team during the Vietnam War. Lists his favorite players as Jamal Tinsley and Lamar Odom. Likes to spend his free time listening to music and reading. Is a Communications major at USC.

BREAKDOWN: Terence Green, a 5-foot-11, 180-pound senior guard, is a hard worker and gives the Trojans depth at the guard position.

2008-09: He played in one game, Senior Night vs. Oregon State on March 7, and made the most of it. He played two minutes and made his only shot of the season, a three-pointer late in the game which set the crowd into a frenzy.

2007-08: He played in seven games for a total of eight minutes, but was almost perfect. Has made both of his free throws, his only three-point attempt and two of three field goals. Scored the first two points of his career by making both free throw attempts vs. Delaware State on Dec. 17. Made his first career field goal (a three-pointer) on Feb. 23 vs. Oregon State.

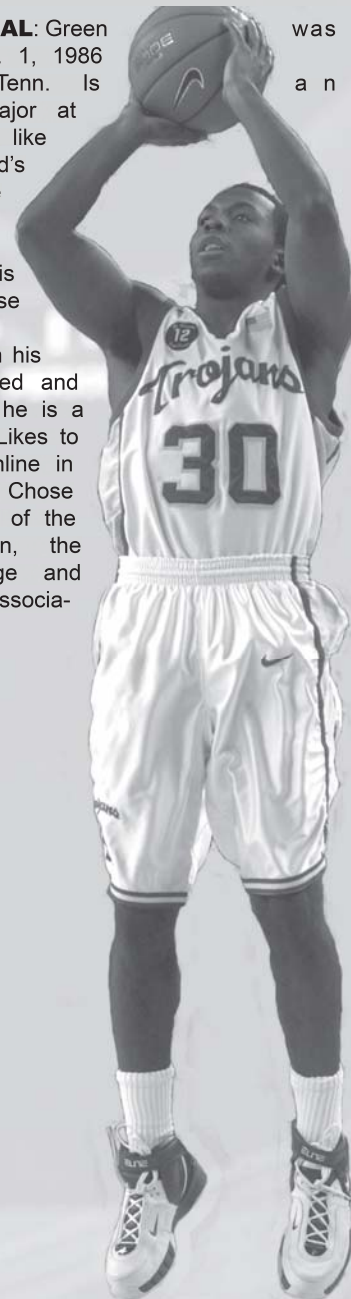

2006-07: Played in three games for the Trojans, appearing against The Citadel, Mississippi Valley State and Longwood. Was 0-for-1 from the field and 0-for-2 from the line. Had a rebound in the games against The Citadel and Longwood.

2005-06: Transferred to USC for the spring semester and practiced with the Trojans as a walk-on player.

HIGH SCHOOL: Green played varsity basketball at Aliso Niguel High in Aliso Viejo, Calif. where he was a teammate of UCLA's Michael Roll. Helped lead his team during the 2004-05 season to a 28-4 record in his senior year. Aliso Niguel defeated

El Toro in the CIF Division I-A finals 67-60, but lost to Clovis West of Fresno, Calif. in the state tournament, 65-48. Was second-team all CIF, All-Sea View League (3 years) and third-team All-Orange County. He was coached at Aliso Niguel by Keith Barnett.

PERSONAL: Green was born on Sept. 1, 1986 in Memphis, Tenn. Is a Economics major at USC. Would like to own his dad's business some day. Lists his biggest sports hero as Chris Paul because he overcame adversity when his grandfather died and also because he is a similar size. Likes to play chess online in his spare time. Chose USC because of the great tradition, the sports heritage and great alumni association.

BREAKDOWN: Daniel Hackett, a 6-foot-5, 215-pound junior guard, is a versatile player with great court awareness and leadership skills. Originally a recruit for the 2007-08 season, Hackett completed his high school work in the summer of 2006 and was granted entrance to USC by the NCAA Clearinghouse a year early. Helped lead the Under-20 Italian team to a bronze medal at the European Basketball Championships in 2007 and was selected to the preliminary roster on the Italian national team. He ranks sixth all-time in assists by a Trojan with 352.

2008-09: Named to the Pac-10 All-Conference second team as he finished third in assists with 155, ninth in steals with 44, 10th with 3.8 defensive rebounds per game and third in minutes played with 37.3 per game. He actually logged 1,227 minutes, more than any player in the Pac-10. He averaged 12.5 points and led USC in assists, steals (44), free throws made (115) and was second in three-point baskets (40). Matched a career high with 26 points in the overtime loss at California on Feb. 26. Had nine rebounds at Oregon on Jan. 2 and vs. California on March 12 in the Pac-10 Tournament quarterfinals. Had a season best 11 free throws made twice, Dec. 22 vs. Georgia Tech (11-for-12) and Jan. 24 at Washington State (11-for-14). Had a career-high 13 assists in USC's 73-72 loss at Oklahoma on Dec. 4. The 13 assists were the most by a Trojan since Brandon Granville had a school-record 15 vs. Memphis in 1999 and tied for the fourth-most ever in a game by a Trojan.

2007-08: Battled through injuries to average 8.6 points, 3.8 rebounds and 3.2 assists in 29 games (26 starts). His .823 free throw percentage ranked fifth among Pac-10 players and his career percentage of .807 from the charity stripe is currently the third best in USC history. Began the season on the shelf with a broken jaw suffered in practice in late September which required his jaw to be wired shut for six weeks. Came back with vengeance to earn SportingNews.com Player of the Week of Nov. 12-18 as he average 21.5 points, 6.5 assists and 5.5 rebounds while making 71.4 percent of his shots in his first two games at The Citadel and at South Carolina. On Nov. 15 at The Citadel he scored a then-career-best 21 points on 9-for-12 shooting. He followed that up with an even better game at South Carolina on Nov. 17, scoring 22 points, grabbing 10 rebounds and dishing out 10 assists. It was his first career triple-double and believed to be the first in USC history. Had 10 points, six rebounds, five assists and sent the game into overtime by making one of two free throws on Dec. 4 vs. Memphis at Madison Square Garden. Had a career-high 26 points on Jan. 26 at Oregon in a 95-86 overtime win, despite battling cramps late in the game. Was injured in a fall while chasing a loose ball on Jan. 31 vs. Arizona two minutes into the game. He was ultimately diagnosed with a stress fracture in his lower back. He played in parts of the next three games before being sidelined for nearly three weeks. He began core strengthening exercises on Feb. 12 and returned to action on Feb. 28 at Arizona to help USC avenge the loss at home when he got hurt, scoring five points in 24 minutes. After the injury he averaged 4.5 points and 2.0 assists, while he averaged 11.1 points and 4.0 assists prior to the injury. He had his most complete game following the injury in the Trojans' NCAA Tournament loss to Kansas State, scoring nine points, grabbing six rebounds and handing out two assists.

2006-07: Hackett stepped into a tough position for the Trojans, earning the starting point guard job at the beginning of the season, filling the void left with the tragic shooting of Ryan Francis in May of 2006 and the academic ineligibility of Gabe Pruitt for the first semester. Scored 13 points and converted two key three-point plays down the stretch in USC's season opening loss to South Carolina. Scored a season-high 18 points, all in the second half, to key USC's comeback win vs. George Washington on Dec. 9 as the Trojans overcame a 20-point deficit in the second half. Was 11-for-11 from the free throw line against GW, the most makes without a miss from the charity stripe by a Trojan since Brandon Granville also was 11-for-11 on Jan. 19, 2002. Had a season-high seven assists in the game vs. Bethune-Cookman on Dec. 14 and matched that total on Dec. 19 vs. Longwood. Began the season wearing No. 11, switched to No. 25 on Jan. 13 the day Bill Sharman's number (No. 11) was retired, then the next game (Jan. 18) switched to No. 13 as Paul Westphal's number (No. 25) was retired. Scored six straight points down the stretch, including the decisive layup with 17 seconds left in the 76-73 win at Cal on Jan. 27. Second to Gabe Pruitt in assists for the Trojans with 103, fifth most ever by a Trojan freshman. Appeared in all 37 games, making 16 starts. Started the first 12 games, then again on Jan. 18 vs. Arizona and March 3 at Washington State. Started vs. Texas in the NCAA second-round game on March 18 and scored a career-high 20 points and the NCAA game vs. North Carolina, scoring five points and dishing out three assists.

HIGH SCHOOL: Hackett played high school ball at St. John Bosco. Was a first-team selection on the Division 2A All-CIF team in 2004 and 2005. Named to the Press-Telegram Dream Team first-team. Averaged just better than 20 points a game. Averaged a triple-double in the final three regular season games and during St. John Bosco's two playoff games. Was ranked the sixth-best 2007 prospect in California by Rivals.com. Helped lead the Southern California All-Stars to the Reebok Big Time Tournament championship in Las Vegas and to an undefeated season. Was named MVP of the tournament. Also played at the NBA Players Association Top 100 Camp and finished as the second-leading scorer at the camp (13 ppg). Was a 2003 member of the CIF All-Academic Team.

PERSONAL: Hackett was born on Dec. 19, 1987. Grew up in Italy where his father Rudy (USC strength and conditioning coach) was a player and coach. His family moved back to the United States three years ago. Speaks Italian fluently. Is a Social Sciences and History major at USC.

BREAKDOWN: Marcus Johnson, 6-foot-6, 210-pound senior forward, became available to compete in the second semester after transferring from Connecticut. He brings a smothering defense and an aggressive style to the Trojans. Johnson is a dangerous threat in the open court. In his two-plus seasons at Connecticut, Johnson averaged 4.9 points while shooting 50 percent from the field in 51 games, went 12-3 in games that were available to play. USC Johnson was 2008-09: Johnson averaged 3.6 points and 2.1 rebounds in 14 games (one start), but added a lot of intangibles and leadership to the squad. Played in his first game for USC after sitting out the first semester due to transfer rules on Dec. 28 vs. Oral Roberts and had six points, two rebounds, and three steals in 19 minutes. He then grabbed five rebounds in the games at Oregon on Jan. 2 and at Oregon State on Jan. 4. Helped lead USC to victory at Washington State on Jan. 24, hitting the go-ahead basket late in the game and finishing with seven points. Had a season-high nine points in the win vs. Stanford on Jan. 29. The Trojans went 7-3 before he suffered a right rotator cuff strain with caused him to miss the entire month of February in which USC went 1-6. He returned for the final two regular season and three Pac-10 Tournament games in which USC compiled a 5-0 record.

2007-08: Played in one exhibition game for UCONN for a total of six minutes, scoring three points and grabbing three rebounds in a defeat of Assumption College, but in the process lost a year of eligibility. His time was limited in the Assumption game and caused him to miss UCONN's other exhibition game due to an injured right elbow. Transferred to USC and began taking classes in the 2008 Spring semester.

2006-07: As a sophomore appeared in all 31 games, starting at small forward in 19 contests. Averaged 5.5 points, 3.0 rebounds and 16.7 minutes per game. Reached double-figures seven times, while leading the team in steals on eight occasions. Started and had four rebounds, four points, two blocks and two steals in the opener vs. Quinnipiac on Nov. 10. Tallied 10 points and four rebounds vs. Central Arkansas on Nov. 17. Scored 10 points on 5 of 8 shooting and grabbed a career-high eight rebounds in win vs. Mississippi on Nov. 19. Again hit 5 of eight shots and scored 14 points, with six rebounds and three assists in win vs. Albany on Nov. 26. Reached double-figures again with 11 points vs.

Texas Southern on Dec. 3 and 10 points and a career-high tying eight rebounds vs. Northeastern on Dec. 6. Again had eight rebounds and scored a season-high 16 points on 8 of 11 shooting in loss at West Virginia on Dec. 30. Scored in double-figures for the last time with 10 points and three rebounds in win vs. Syracuse on Feb. 5. Had eight points and a career-high three blocks against Syracuse in the BIG EAST Tournament on March 7.

2005-06: Played in 20 games as a freshman, starting five. Averaged 3.8 points on the year, but scored 13.2 ppg in his five starts. Came off the bench in the opener at Pepperdine on Nov. 19 and had two rebounds and an assist in 10 minutes. Scored his first career points on a three-pointer vs. Texas Southern on Dec. 2. Made his first career start and scored a career-high 20 points on 9-for-13 shooting in win vs. New Hampshire on Dec. 18. Started the next four games and scored 13 vs. Morehead State, 14 vs. Stony Brook, 17 vs. Quinnipiac in a career-high 29 minutes and two at Marquette.

In the five starts, Johnson averaged 13.2 points and hit 60.0 percent of his shots (27-for-45).

HIGH SCHOOL: A consensus Top 100 national recruit, ranked by Rivals.com as the No. 18 shooting guard and by Scout.com as the No. 22 small forward in the class of 2005. Was a two-time All-State and All-City selection while playing for Westchester High in Los Angeles, the same high school that produced former Trojan and current NBA player Gabe Pruitt. Westchester was a three-time state champion and among the nation's top-ranked teams while Johnson was there. He averaged 18 points, six rebounds and three assists as a senior. He was coached at Westchester by Ed Azzam.

PERSONAL: Marcus Joseph Christopher Johnson was born on February 13, 1987 in Los Angeles, Calif. He is the son of Thomas Johnson and Chrissina Johnson-Austin. He has five siblings: Stephen, Roman, Comesha, Jy'Aire and Zion.

BREAKDOWN: Dwight Lewis, a 6-foot-5, 215-pound junior guard, is an explosive scorer with a good mid-range game and the ability to defend on the perimeter. He ranks 16th on USC's all-time three-point baskets made list with 102 and in USC's Pac-10 Finals game became the school's 34th player to reach the 1,000 career points plateau.

2008-09: Was USC's leading scorer for most of the season, but finished second with a 14.1 average. He scored in double figures in 25 of his 31 games and posted six games of 20 or more points. Had a career-best 26 points on 9 of 16 shooting vs. San Francisco on Dec. 1. Matched that total with 26 points at Oregon on Jan. 2 in the Pac-10 opener. Also had a 25-point game in USC's one-point loss at Oklahoma on Dec. 4. Made a career-high six three-pointers and finished with 21 points at Arizona on Feb. 15. Scored 13 points and had three assists in USC's Pac-10 Finals win over Arizona State to give him 1,008 career points, the 34th Trojan to reach that level. Made a career-best 10 free throws (10-for-12) in the win vs. Arizona on Jan. 17.

2007-08: Scored in double figures in 18 of 33 games. Has started 32 of 33 games off the bench at Stanford and was second on the team in shots taken (293) and (31). His career high freshman was 14 and he passed that in the first game of the season with 15 vs. Mercer on Nov. 10. Then scored 18 points on Nov. 17 at South Carolina and on Dec. 17 vs. Delaware State (8-for-9 from the field). Scored a career-high 24 points on 8-for-14 shooting from the field and 6-for-7 from the free throw line at Oregon on Jan. 26. Scored 21 points in the overtime win vs. California on March 6. He had a career-high six rebounds in that game and matched that with six boards vs. Arizona State in the Pac-

10 quarterfinals on March 13. Had eight points, an assist and a steal in the NCAA Tournament loss to Kansas State.

2006-07: Lewis was one of the more pleasant surprises for USC in his first season. Came off the bench and scored 12 points on 6-for-9 shooting and had four rebounds in the win vs. St. Mary's on Nov. 18. Made his first start on Nov. 24 vs. Long Beach State and had seven points, four rebounds, three assists and two steals. Matched his season highs in rebounds (5) and assists (3) while scoring 11 points in the win vs. Bethune-Cookman on Dec. 14. Scored 11 points in 21 minutes vs. Washington State on Dec. 30. Started again on Jan. 4 at Oregon and had 10 points and five rebounds to help the Trojans snap the Ducks' 13-game winning streak. Scored 11 points and was a season-best 3-for-3 from three-point range on Feb. 1 vs. Oregon State. Scored a season-high 14 points on 5-for-7 shooting on Feb. 24 vs. California. Started twice in USC's first 15 games and nine times in the last 22 games. Played in all 37 games and reached double figures in scoring eight times.

HIGH SCHOOL: Lewis played his senior season at James Taylor High in Katy, Tex., after being uprooted by hurricane Katrina. Lewis helped lead James Taylor High to a 17-10 record by scoring 21 points per game and was named first-team all-region. He was ranked by Rivals.com as the No. 44 shooting guard in the Class of 2006. As a junior at Archbishop Rummel High in Metairie, La., he averaged 27.5 points, 9.7 rebounds and 4.5 assists per game. He was named first-team all-state by the New Orleans Times-Picayune. Was a fourth-team selection Parade All-American for the 2004-05 season. He was coached at Archbishop Rummel High by Steve Alfonso.

PERSONAL: Lewis was born on Oct. 7, 1987. He is a Social Sciences and History major at USC. Lists his favorite movie as "How High." Says his favorite current basketball player is Ryan Wetherell and his favorite all-time as Michael Jordan. Likes to play video games in his spare time.

BREAKDOWN: Joel "J.J." Meyers, Jr., 6-foot-2, 175-pound junior guard, will add to the Trojans depth in the backcourt after transferring to USC. He attended Loyola Marymount from 2006-08, but did not play basketball.

2008-09: Transferred to USC from Loyola Marymount. Suited up for LMU as a freshman, but did not play basketball as a sophomore. Did not play in a game this season. Had a rebound and an assist in the Cardinal & Gold Scrimmage on Oct. 26.

HIGH SCHOOL: Meyers attended Campbell Hall High in North Hollywood where he graduated in 2006. He played guard for Campbell Hall for three seasons and was a member of the 2005 Division IV State Championship team which defeated Berkeley, 74-53, at Arco Arena in Sacramento. His team went a perfect 32-0 to capture the state title. He made 50 percent of his shots as a junior and was fourth on his team in scoring as a senior, averaging 12.0 points, six rebounds, assists and two steals. He was All-Olympic League and led the conference in steals and charges. Meyers was also named second-team All-CIF and to the All-Academic team. Had a career-best game of 25 points during his senior season.

PERSONAL: Meyers was born on Jan. 8, 1988 in Los Angeles, Calif. Likes listening to music, playing volleyball, going to the beach and playing video games. His favorite foods are sushi and lobster. Would like some day to attend a World Cup soccer match and to travel to Spain, Australia and Italy. Lists his biggest sports thrills as winning the state championship at Campbell Hall and watching Kobe Bryant score 81 points against the Raptors. Says Kobe Bryant is his biggest sports hero because he is the most focused athlete he has ever seen. J.J.'s father, Joel, is the television play-by-play announcer for the Lakers and a longtime national sports broadcaster. J.J. is a history major at USC and would like to become a sports agent or attorney.

BREAKDOWN: Percy Romeo Miller, 5-foot-11, 170-pound freshman guard, is extremely quick and unselfish point guard who plays exceptionally hard and likes to get his teammates involved. Miller thrives on defense and is a three-point specialist.

2008-09: Played in six games for USC in his freshman season. Played three minutes in the opener vs. UC Irvine and had a rebound. Made his only basket of the season vs. Tennessee-Martin on Nov. 28. Went 1-for-2 from the free throw line and had a rebound at UCLA on Feb. 4.

H I G H

SCHOOL: Miller averaged 13.9 points and 5.6 assists his junior season at Beverly Hills High in Beverly Hills, Calif. to earn All-CIF honors. He played at the 2006 ABCD Camp as one of the top 200 high school basketball players. He averaged 8.6 points and 9.0 assists as a senior, but was limited to eight games and played limited minutes due to a strained hip flexor and bruised right knee. He ended up sitting out the remainder of the season to prepare for college. Led Beverly Hills High in one of their biggest in-state tournament victories by averaging 18 points and 8.9 assists. Was named an MVP at the Michael Jordan Camp and named the top Defensive Specialist. Won the Big Time three-point competition as a sophomore, defeating ASU's James Harden. Miller also helped lead his AAU team to two national titles.

PERSONAL: Miller was born on Aug. 19, 1989 in New Orleans, La. He is the oldest of seven children from parents Percy, Sr. and Sonya Miller. His father, also known as Master P, is a rapper and very successful business entrepreneur. His father also shares a passion for the game of basketball and signed contracts with the Charlotte Hornets and Toronto Raptors, but never played in an NBA game during the regular season.

Percy is a three-time platinum certified hip-hop artist that has sold more than 1.5 million CDs. He became the youngest artist to have a Billboard No. 1 single when "My Baby" topped the charts when he was 11, breaking the mark held by Michael Jackson. He also has been acting since the age of 11 and starred in the Nickelodeon show "Romeo!" from 2003-06. He also appeared in such popular television shows as "The Huggles," "The Proud Family" and "One-on-One." In addition to his five CDs and successful television show, Miller starred in the Hollywood Box Office blockbuster feature film "Honey" alongside Jessica Alba. He also is a successful business entrepreneur who has released books and has a clothing line.

Miller also believes in giving back to the community and is involved in a variety for charity endeavors and this past summer along with his father received the key to the city in Memphis in recognition of their "Let the Kids Grow" educational program.

BREAKDOWN: Marcus Simmons, a 6-foot-6, 200-pound sophomore guard, is a versatile player with superb defensive instincts. He has the ability to lock down the opposition's top scorer. He can play various positions on the court and is a tireless worker. He was expected to contribute right away for the Trojans last season, but was hampered by an ankle sprain all of last season. Eventually had surgery on Sept. 16 to remove additional bone growth in his left leg due to complications from his ankle injury last season. Was not healthy enough to play significant minutes early in the season, but has been a key member for USC down the stretch as a starter or coming off the bench.

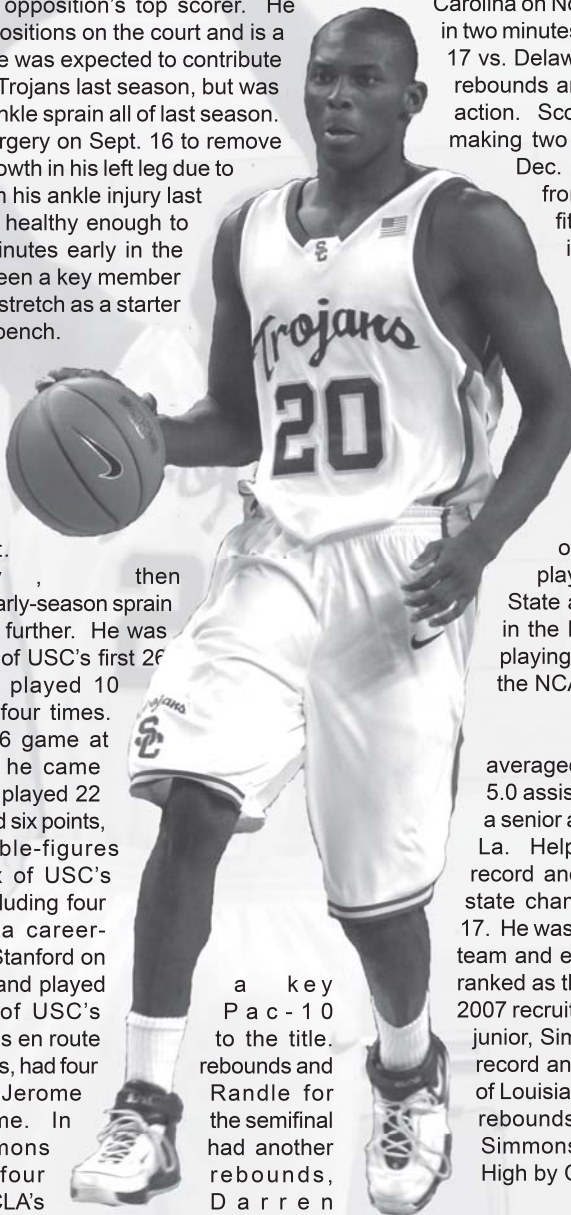

2008-09: Was slowed in the beginning of the season as he rehabilitated his ankle due to the Sept. 16 surgery, then suffered another early-season sprain which slowed him further. He was able to play in 18 of USC's first 26 games, but only played 10 or more minutes four times. Since the Feb. 26 game at California where he came off the bench and played 22 minutes and scored six points, has played double-figures in minutes in six of USC's seven games, including four starts. Scored a career-high 11 points at Stanford on Jan. 28. Started and played roll in all three of USC's Tournament games en route. He scored six points, had four contained Cal's Jerome much of the game. In vs. UCLA, Simmons six points and four while hounding UCLA's Collison into 1-for-9 seven turnovers.

2007-08: Suffered a high ankle sprain in the preseason which limited his practice time before the season, then continued to experience pain throughout the season. Appeared in a total of 15 games and played 101 minutes. Played in his first game on Nov. 15 at The Citadel and had two rebounds in nine minutes. Played at South Carolina on Nov. 17 and had three rebounds in two minutes. Did not play again until Dec. 17 vs. Delaware State when he had three rebounds and an assist in 13 minutes of action. Scored his first career points by making two free throws vs. Cal Poly on Dec. 22. Was out of action again from Jan. 24-Feb. 23, but was fitted with a new ankle brace in mid-February and made steady improvement after that. Had a season-high four points and five rebounds in a season-high 16 minutes on Feb. 23 vs. Oregon State. Also played 16 minutes on March 1 at Arizona State and had two points, two rebounds and two steals. Played in all three of USC's postseason games, playing three minutes vs. Arizona State and two vs. UCLA (one steal) in the Pac-10 Tournament and then playing a minute vs. Kansas State in the NCAA Tournament.

HIGH SCHOOL: Simmons averaged 18.0 points, 8.0 rebounds, 5.0 assists and 3.0 steals per game as a senior at Peabody H.S. in Alexandria, La. Helped lead Peabody to a 37-4 record and the 2006-07 4-A Louisiana state championship, winning their last 17. He was selected to the All-District 4-A team and earned All-State honors. Was ranked as the No. 47 small forward in the 2007 recruiting class by Rivals.com. As a junior, Simmons led Peabody to a 34-5 record and a No. 2 ranking in the state of Louisiana, averaging 18.0 points, 7.0 rebounds and six assists per game. Simmons was coached at Peabody High by Charles Smith.

PERSONAL: Simmons was born on January 28, 1988.

BREAKDOWN: Donte Smith, 5-foot-11, 180-pound freshman guard, has good court awareness and knows how to run a team. He also has the ability to stretch defenses by hitting the long three-point shot.

2008-09: Played in 24 games for USC and made three starts. Saw his role diminish as the Trojans reached Pac-10 play. He appeared in all 12 of USC's non-conference games and averaged 3.4 points in 14.4 minutes per game. He played in 12 of USC's 18 Pac-10 games and averaged 1.2 points and played 5.0 minutes per game. Scored a season-high nine points vs. Seton Hall on Nov. 20. Recorded a season-best five assists vs. Missouri on Nov. 23. Is third on the team in three-pointers made with 12 and seventh in assists with 22. Made 80 percent of his free throws (8-for-10).

2007-08: Served a redshirt season at Mt. San Antonio College so he could transfer to USC and play immediately.

2006-07: As a first-year player at Mt. SAC, he averaged 21.7 points per game with a single-game high of 37 points. He made 100 three-point shots and hit nearly 50 percent from three-point range. Was rated at the No. 1 junior college player by the Jerry Mullens Report. Scored 22 of a game-high 33 points in the second half to lead Mt. SAC to a come-from-behind 80-72 win at Cerritos College on Jan. 3, 2007. Was the second-leading scorer among California JUCO players. Participated in the Top 20 All-Star Game held in Fullerton, Calif. and scored 15 points, grabbed eight rebounds and dished out eight assists to help lead his team to a 135-127 victory.

The game was tied with less than two minutes left when Smith was fouled and hit both free throws, then he had a long pass which resulted in a dunk to seal the victory. Also stood out at the 2007 Fullcourt Press JUCO/Unsigned Senior Showcase in Long Beach on July 28. In the first game, he scored 15 points and had nine assists to lead the Compton Magic to an easy win. In the second game, Smith nailed the winning shot, a baseline fallaway jumper, in a 83-82 victory. He finished with 24 points, six assists and five steals in the win.

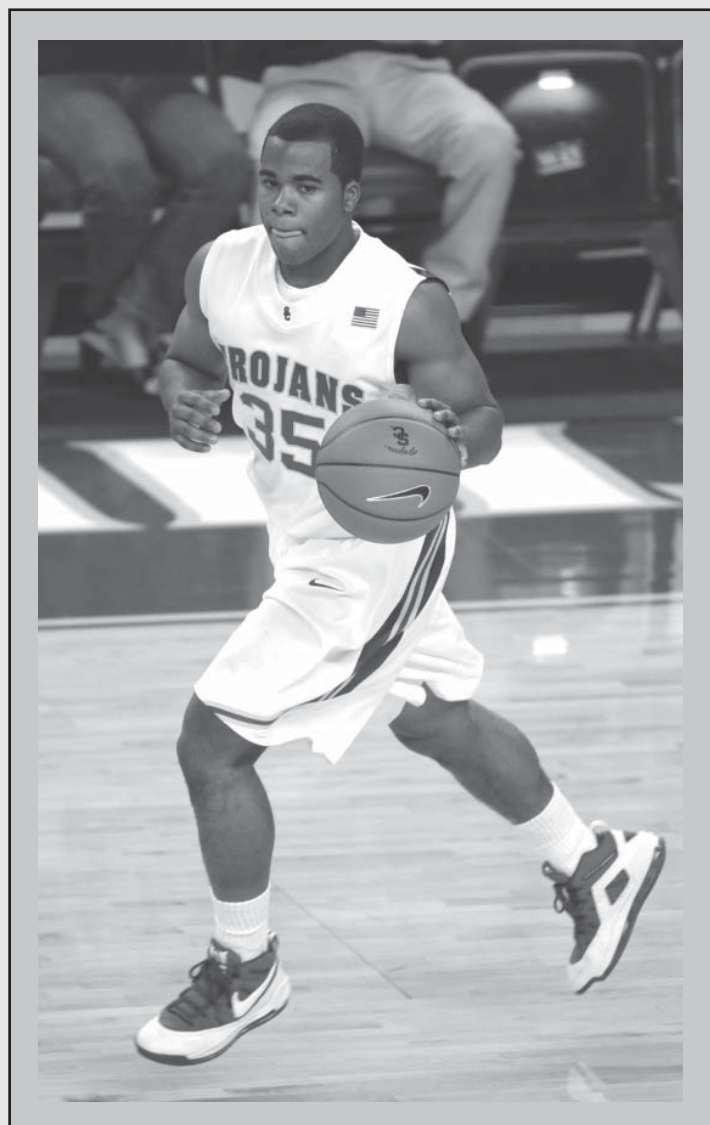

HIGH SCHOOL: Smith spent his senior season at Diamond Ranch High in Pomona, Calif. and averaged 18.4 points, 3.2 steals and 4.2 assists per game. He also hit 58.0 percent of his three-point attempts. Smith's coach at Diamond Ranch High was Ed Taylor.

PERSONAL: Smith was born on April 23, 1998 in Pomona, Calif. His favorite NBA player is Chris Paul.

BREAKDOWN: Alex Stepheson, 6-foot-9, 235-pound junior forward, is a solid defender, rebounder and shot blocker. Has been doing extra work on the offensive end to improve his scoring. Transferred to USC to be closer to his family due to several health concerns. Ineligible for competition this season.

2008-09: Had his transfer waiver denied by the NCAA on Nov. 19 and has to sit out the season due to transferring from North Carolina to USC.

2007-08: Appeared in 37 games for the Tar Heels, averaging 4.3 points and 4.5 rebounds. Averaged 14.5 minutes per game and hit 53.9 percent of his shots (69-for-128), including making 26 of his last 35 shots (74.3 percent). Ranked third among the Tar Heels with 33 blocked shots. Was North Carolina's leading rebounder in six contests with a high of 11 rebounds on Jan. 31 vs. Boston College. He averaged 6.0 points in the 2008 NCAA Tournament, including back-to-back double figure scoring games against Mt. St. Mary's (12) and Arkansas (10). He was the Tar Heels' defensive player of the game against the Razorbacks and against Washington State in the Sweet 16. Against Arkansas, he was 5-for-5 from the floor with five rebounds and two blocks. In the win vs. Washington State, he had four points, five rebounds and three blocks in 18 minutes.

2006-07: He played in all 36 games as a freshman at North Carolina, averaging 2.1 points and 2.2 rebounds in 6.4 minutes. Scored in 21 of 36 games played. Scored eight points vs. UNC-Asheville on Dec. 16 and vs. Penn on Jan. 3. He had six points and five rebounds in the win vs. Florida Atlantic on Dec. 19. Grabbed six rebounds against Gardner-Webb on Nov. 19, UNC-Asheville and Dayton on Dec. 31. Had a season-high eight rebounds and scored three points in win at Wake Forest on Jan. 24. Scored a season-high 10 points on 5 of 7 shooting in win at Arizona on Jan. 27. Only played one minute and did not score in UNC's comeback win vs. USC in the Sweet 16 on March 23. Had six rebounds in eight minutes of action in the NCAA regional final vs. Georgetown on March 25.

HIGH SCHOOL: Was a fourth team Parade All-American at Harvard-Westlake High in North Hollywood, Calif. Averaged 20.4 points and 17.8 rebounds as a senior. Grabbed 20 or more rebounds in 16 games as a senior. Broke the Harvard-Westlake school record for rebounds in just three seasons, shattering the record held by former Stanford center and Minnesota Timberwolve Jason Collins. Set the school single-game rebound record with 32 and followed that up with games of 31, 23, 28 and 21 rebounds. Was named the Co-MVP of the Roundball Classic in Chicago, Ill. after he had 15 points and six rebounds. Averaged 17.0 points and 14.4 rebounds as a junior. Led Harvard-Westlake to a 26-4 record and the California Southern Section title in 2005. His team lost the state title game by one point. Was ranked the No. 41 prospect in the 2006 recruiting class by Rivals.com and No. 55 by ScoutHoops.com. He was coached at Harvard-Westlake High by Greg Hilliard.

PERSONAL: Stepheson was born on Aug. 7, 1987 in Los Angeles, Calif. Last name is pronounced STEEVIS-son.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR - USC has long prided itself on its diverse student body. The university has attracted more international students over the years than any other American university. Currently, 12 percent of USC's students represent approximately 115 countries. Vucevic continues a strong Trojan basketball tradition of scanning the globe to bring in top-notch talent. Joining Vucevic of Montenegro on this year's team is Mamadou Diarra of Mali, Daniel Hackett of Italy and Ryan Wetherell of Canada. During the 2006 and 2007 seasons, Abdoulaye N'diaye of Senegal was a key member of Tim Floyd's squad.

BREAKDOWN: Nikola Vucevic, 6-foot-10, 220-pound freshman forward, is a multi-talented big man who demonstrates a great feel for the game.

2008-09: Missed the first eight games of the season while waiting to have his amateur status confirmed by the NCAA Clearinghouse. Averaged 2.5 points and 2.7 rebounds in 21 games, three starts. Played in his first game as a Trojan on Dec. 15 vs. Pepperdine and had two points, two blocks and two rebounds in six minutes. Made his first start of the season on Jan. 24 at Washington State and was instrumental in USC's 46-44 win with a season-high eight points and five rebounds. Also scored eight points on Feb. 4 at UCLA and in his second start of the season on Feb. 19 vs. Washington State. He had a season-best seven rebounds in that game and matched that total on March 5 vs. Oregon. Made 57.1 percent of his shots from the field (24-for-42).

HIGH SCHOOL: Vucevic averaged 18 points and 12.0 rebounds as a senior at Stoneridge Prep in Simi Valley, Calif. under coach Babacar Sy. He was the leading scorer, rebounder and team captain. He arrived at school in October from his native Montenegro. Ranked by HoopsScoopOnline as the No. 26 fifth-year senior in the country.

PERSONAL: Vucevic was born on Oct. 24, 1990 in Switzerland and was raised in Belgium where his father was playing professional basketball. Vucevic's father, Borislav, played professionally for 24 years and was a member of the Yugoslavian national team. He also coached professionally in Belgium. Nikola's mother also played professional basketball in Bosnia. They moved to Montenegro when Nikola was a teenager. In 2007 was voted the best young player in Montenegro and is a current member of the U18 national team. Was ranked as one of the top four players in Montenegro in 2005 and 2006.

BREAKDOWN: Leonard Washington, 6-foot-7, 230-pound freshman forward, is a fierce competitor who plays with intensity and is a strong rebounder. He is a good low post player and has the ability to take the opponent off the dribble.

2008-09: Washington made an immediate impact as a Trojan during the first 10 games before suffering a left ankle sprain in the first minute vs. Georgia Tech on Dec. 22. He missed the next five games. Before the injury, he averaged 9.8 points and 6.7 rebounds per game while scoring eight or more points in nine of his 10 games. In the 17 games since the injury he has averaged 4.2 points and 2.6 rebounds and reached eight points or more three times in 17 games. He had a season-high 12 rebounds vs. Chattanooga on Nov. 21. Scored a season-best 17 points on Dec. 20 vs. North Dakota State. He played in all three Pac-10 Tournament games, scoring six points and grabbing five rebounds in the quarterfinal win vs. California on March 12. He is fourth on the team in rebounds with 114 and third in blocks with 10. Has made 50 percent of his three-point attempts (4-for-8).

HIGH SCHOOL: Washington averaged 22.0 points and 13.0 rebounds his senior season

(2006-07) at Mt. Washington Marion High in Louisiana. He was a Louisiana all-state selection as a junior and senior. Was ranked by HoopScoop as the No. 54 recruit in the 2007 class. Led Washington Marion to the Louisiana state finals in 2006-07 vs. Peabody High and current teammate Marcus Simmons. Washington was coached at Marion High by Mack Guillory.

PERSONAL: Washington was born on July 25, 1988. Likes riding horses, fishing and anything outdoors. Favorite NBA team is the Celtics and his favorite players are Kevin Garnett and LeBron James. Likes to listen to rap music. Lists his favorite meal as red beans and rice.

BREAKDOWN: Ryan Wetherell, a 5-foot-11, 175-pound junior guard, adds to the Trojan mix at the point guard position. He is a speedy and tough competitor known for his hustle. Had emergency surgery last May at Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles to remove an abscess in his neck which was putting pressure on an artery in his throat which caused his chest to swell.

2008-09: Was diagnosed with an eye problem which caused blurring and had to redshirt this season. Began limited practice with the team at the end of January. Did play in the Cardinal & Gold Scrimmage before the season and had eight points, two assists and a steal.

2007-08: Appeared in 15 games, totaling 56 minutes of action and scored five points. Was called into action as the backup point guard while Daniel Hackett was out of the lineup due to injury. Had a rebound, assist and steal in the opening loss to Mercer on Nov. 10. Scored his first points of the season and had a career-high two rebounds on Jan. 24 at Oregon State. Also grabbed two rebounds, had a career-best two assists and hit his first three-pointer of the season while playing a career-high 17 minutes vs. Oregon State on Feb. 23. Played in just two more games after that, March 1 at Arizona State and March 8 vs. Stanford.

2006-07: Appeared in 15 games and played a total of 49 minutes. Played a season-high 13 minutes in the win vs. Mississippi Valley State on Nov. 28, hitting two free throws and grabbing a rebound. Scored a season-best three points and had an assist and a steal in four minutes vs. Bethune-Cookman on Dec. 14.

Had two points and two assists and played nine minutes in the win at Oregon State on Jan. 6.

Scored in five of the first eight games in which he appeared. Scored a point in USC's 77-60 win vs. Arkansas in the first round of the NCAA tournament, making one of two free throws.

HIGH SCHOOL: Played three years of varsity basketball at Sir Winston Churchill High in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Was the starting point guard and was team MVP his senior season.

Was awarded the Sir Winston Churchill Athlete of the Year his senior season. Earned a Calgary A Channel Player of the Month Award during his senior season. Averaged 30 points and eight assists a game. Helped lead his Junior Trojans club team to the provincial championship three years in a row, earning team MVP honors each year (2004-06). Wetherell's AAU coach was John Hegwood.

PERSONAL: Wetherell was born on Feb. 12, 1988. Is a Communications major at USC. Lists Michael Jordan as his biggest sports hero for his style of play, work ethic and for being the best to play the game. Lists his favorite movie as Wedding Crashers.

BREAKDOWN: Keith Wilkinson, a 6-foot-10, 225-pound senior, has an excellent outside shot for a big man. He has the ability to open up the defenses by drawing them out in coverage. He is very active without the ball and makes good decisions. His role on the team has steadily increased since his freshman season. He will become the first player to spend four years under Tim Floyd as they both came to USC for the 2005-06 season.

2008-09: Was utilized by coach Tim Floyd as both a starter and substitute off the bench and provided a steadying influence whenever called upon. Played in 30 games and made 12 starts, while averaging 2.8 points and 2.6 rebounds. Had a season-high eight rebounds and five points in a start vs. New Mexico State on Nov. 18. Came off the bench to score eight points while making both of his three-point attempts in the one-point loss at Oklahoma on Dec. 4. Tied a career high with nine points on Jan. 11 vs. UCLA. Averaged the fifth-most minutes by a Trojan this season with 19.1 per game.

2007-08: Appeared in 30 games, making three starts and averaging 2.5 points and 2.8 rebounds per game. Saw his role increased in the last six games of the season, averaging 4.3 points and 3.3 rebounds while playing more than 19 minutes a game. Grabbed four rebounds or more in nine games. Started the Trojans' opener vs. Mercer on Nov. 10 and had five rebounds, an assist, a block and a steal in 11 minutes played. Started the Anaheim Classic championship game against then-No. 19 Southern Illinois and had three rebounds and a block in eight minutes. His last start was on Jan. 5 at Stanford and he scored three points, had a block and four rebounds. Had a career-high 11 rebounds on Feb. 21 vs. Oregon in 23 minutes. Scored a season-best seven points on March 6 vs. California. Hit a career-high two three-pointers and finished with six points on March 14 vs. UCLA in the Pac-10 semifinals. Played 21 minutes against Kansas State in the NCAA first-round game and had two points, two rebounds and a steal.

2006-07: Had five points and seven rebounds and hit his second career three-pointer on Nov. 28 vs. Mississippi Valley State. Scored six points and grabbed six rebounds in 11 minutes of action against Longwood on Dec. 19. Made his first career start in Las Vegas at the Las Vegas Classic vs. then-No. 8 Wichita State, scoring four points, grabbing one rebound and hitting two clutch free throws late in the 60-56 win. Started the Pac-10 opener vs. Washington on Dec. 28 and scored five points and pulled down five rebounds in the double-overtime win. Also started on Dec. 30 vs. Washington State and did not score, but grabbed a career-high eight rebounds. Hit a clutch three-point shot with USC clinging to a two-point lead late in the 80-73 win vs. Arizona on Jan. 18. Had seven rebounds and two points in 15 minutes against Arizona State on Jan. 20. Started and scored a career-high nine points, grabbed three rebounds and had three assists at Washington on March 1. Had four rebounds and five points, including a three-pointer in the second overtime at Washington State on March 3 which gave USC its last lead. Played more than 10 minutes in all three of USC's NCAA tournament games.

2005-2006: Appeared in 19 games, all of the bench, and averaged 1.1 points and 1.4 rebounds per game. Scored his first two points and grabbed three rebounds in eight minutes of action vs. UC Riverside on Nov. 30. Scored four points and had two rebounds in win vs. North Carolina A&T on Dec. 23. Came off the bench and played 25 minutes on Jan. 7 at Arizona, scoring a season-best five points, after playing just 31 total minutes in USC's first 14 games. Also hit his first career three-pointer in that game which gave the Trojans a 25-24 lead late in the first half. Had four points and a season-high nine rebounds on Feb. 2 vs. Arizona, while playing a career-high 32 minutes. Made 75.0 percent of his free throws (6-for-8) in his first season.

HIGH SCHOOL :

Averaged 16 points and eight rebounds per game for Capistrano Valley High School in Mission Viejo, Calif., during his senior season. Led his team in rebounding (230) and three-point baskets made (55). Finished second on his team in points (471) and blocks (37). Scored 20 points per game to lead Capistrano Valley to Div. II AA semi-finals, where it lost to champion Dominguez, 57-54. Was McDonalds All-American nominee. Played for Branch West Team Reebeck and helped lead his team to a 14-2 record in four tournaments. Hit six consecutive three-pointers and finished with 24 points in a 93-59 drubbing of the highly regarded N.Y. Ravens. Also played middle blocker on the Capistrano Valley volleyball team. His high school basketball coach was Ryan Mulligan.

PERSONAL: Wilkinson was born on May 7, 1987. His father, Jerry, is 6-9 and played four years in the NFL as a defensive end for the Rams and Browns. He was drafted by the Rams in the fourth round of the 1979 NFL Draft from Oregon State. Is a Communications major at USC and would like to be an ESPN announcer following his playing career. Not surprisingly, his favorite television show is Sportscenter. List his favorite food as teriyaki steak. Says John Elway is his biggest sports hero.
