WOMEN OF TROY CROSS COUNTRY

THE 2017 SEASON

USC's young cross country team under the new leadership of first-year coach Patrick Henner was led by junior Amber Gore. She led the team at every meet during the season, including her second-place finish at the season-opening Pepperdine Invitational.

Coach Henner focused on the development of athletes' race strategies and endurance training. The progress was demonstrated by virtually every runner setting a PR by the end of the season. The development during the cross country season bodes well for the 2018 track and field season.

With only one senior and six of the athletes on the roster being freshmen or sophomores, the Trojans seem to have developed a strong foundation upon which to build for the future.

The team also excelled in the classroom once again with Rachel Glynn, Amber Gore, Lauren Maurer and Madison Ricks being named Pac-12 All-Academic honorable mention.

First-year cross country coach Patrick Henner addresses the team at the Pepperdine Invitational in Malibu, Calif.

USC's team of Chloe Berry, Jennifer Daly, Amber Gore, Lauren Maurer and Sydney Tullai toe the line at the start of the Pac-12 Championships held in Springfield, Ore.

KATHERINE B. LOKER STADIUM

Home of USC Track and Field

Katherine B. Loker Stadium was made possible by a generous donation from Katherine B. Loker. The 3,000-seat stadium opened in the 2001 season and was dedicated on May 5 during that year's USC-UCLA dual meet. The track and stadium underwent renovations this past winter. The facility includes track offices, locker rooms, an athlete lounge and meeting rooms. Loker stadium hosted the 2003 Pac-10 Championships, the first time a conference meet had ever been held on the USC campus. USC also hosted the 2013 Pac-10 Championships.

Entering the 2017 season, Allyson Felix has been ranked in the top two in the world in the 200m or 400m dashes 15 times. She has been ranked in the top 10 in the 200m 14 seasons, the 400m seven times and the 100m four times.

Nia Ali:

2016 100m HH Silver Medalist In Rio, 2017 2nd at U.S. Championships, 2017 8th At Worlds

Dalilah Muhammad:

2016 400m IH Gold Medalist In Rio, 2017 U.S. Champ, 2017 Silver Medalist at Worlds

In 2016, Nia Ali became USC's first medalist in the women's 100m HH in Olympic competition. Ali had a time of 12.59 in the final. The sweep for USA was the first ever by one country in the event and just the seventh ever in any Summer Olympic event. In 2016, Dalilah Muhammad destroyed the field en route to the 400m IH gold medal with a time of 53.13, .42 seconds faster than the silver medalist, despite the second through sixth place finishers all running PRs. Muhammad became the first-ever USA woman to win the event at the Olympics and the second Trojan to medal as Natasha Danvers-Smith won the bronze medal at the 2008 Olympics in Great Britain.
