Andrea Gaston

HEAD COACH • 22ND SEASON

One of the most highly regarded coaches in the country, 22nd-year USC Women's Golf Head Coach Andrea Gaston has directed three NCAA Championships teams, five NCAA individual champions, four NCAA Players of the Year, five Pac-12 Golfers of the Year, three Honda Sports Award winners, has been tabbed WGCA and Pac-12 Coach of the Year three times apiece and has built the Trojans into one of the NCAA's powerhouse programs.

Gaston, inducted into the WGCA Hall of Fame in 2010, guided the Trojans to NCAA titles in 2003, 2008 and 2013 and the Trojans finished second by just one stroke in 2010 and 2012 and by two strokes in 2014 -- a combined four strokes over three years. Under Gaston, Troy has made the NCAA Championships 20 years in a row and has finished in the top 5 for the past 12 years (the longest active streak in the country). USC has finished second four times, has 12 top 4 finishes and 15 in the top 5 under Gaston. Additionally, 22 of her golfers have earned a combined 49 All-American honors and the Trojans have totaled 76 All-Pac-12 honors under Gaston as well. She has totaled a remarkable 58 team wins in her tenure as USC's head coach and her golfers have posted 50 first-place finishes (through end of 2016-17).

The Trojans have enjoyed amazing success under Gaston. In the last 12 years, if USC hasn't won the NCAA title, it has come awfully close.

Gaston's 2016-17 squad was modest compared to recent USC teams but still managed an amazing run at the NCAA Championships, reaching the match play semifinals before falling in a playoff hole to

A BLUEPRINT FOR SUCCESS

In 1998, Gaston outlined her "Blueprint for Success" strategy. The strategy emphasized the need for each player to commit themselves to a six-pronged approach that went beyond traditional team goals.

"The Blueprint for Success that I presented set the framework for the future and has steadily paid dividends over the past six years," said Gaston. "It is not just about golfing skill, but also the need for self improvement in conjunction with a vision for a team spirit in a very individual sport."

The USC Women's Golf Team's Blueprint for Success includes:

- Unity (esprit de Corps, camaraderie, respect and trust)
- Skill (talent, ability, expertise and proficiency)
- Commitment (resolution, perseverance, determination, tenacity and sacrifice)
- Willpower (drive, desire, control, self-mastery, discipline and dignity)
- Goals (purpose, objectives and vision)
- Teamwork (coordination, communication, collaboration and continuity)

Northwestern after a quarterfinal win over Ohio State. The squad, which lost All-American Karen Chung halfway through after she joined the LPGA Tour, won three regular-season events and was led by sophomore second-team All-American Robynn Ree, senior honorable mention All-American Victoria Morgan (a former walk-on) and freshman Muni He, also an All-American honorable mention pick. Morgan and Ree were also All-Pac-12 first-teamers and senior Gabriella Then was an honorable mention selection.

The end of the season marked personal news as Gaston revealed to her team that she was battling uterine cancer. Following the season, however, she had successful surgery and is now cancer free while still undergoing preventative treatments.

The 2015-16 season was another great year that fell short of a national crown. Gaston led a USC squad that won six times, including titles at the Pac-12 Championships and NCAA Stanford Regional, before reaching the NCAA Championships match play bracket for the second year in a row, where it fell to Duke in the quarterfinals after finishing third in stroke play. Troy's six wins marked the fourth straight year Gaston's teams have won five or more events and the seventh time in the last nine seasons USC has won at least four times. USC, ranked No. 1 for much of the season, tied for first at the 2016 NCAA Stanford Regional to extend its record NCAA regional win streak to seven and its NCAA best overall total to 12. That followed a Pac-12 title, the program's sixth overall. Gaston led a trio of players to All-American honors as junior transfer Tiffany Chan and freshman Robynn Ree earned WGCA second-team honors while junior Karen Chung was tabbed an honorable mention pick. All three were also All-Pac-12 first teamers while junior Gabriella Then was named honorable mention. USC's 286.52 stroke average was the second-best in school history behind only 2014's 286.26.

Also in 2016, three of Gaston's former golfers played in the 2016 Olympics as golf returned to the Games. Chan represented Hong Kong, former All-American Candie Kung represented Chinese Taipei while former Trojan Victoria Alimonda represented host nation Brazil.

The 2015 season marked the first year the NCAA Championships was determined by a match play tournament made up of the top eight finishers after 72 hole of stroke play. The Trojans, led by 2015 All-American second teamers Annie Park, Kyung Kim and Then, earned the top seed after running away with the stroke play portion at 40-over 1192 (297-303-298-294) but, after beating Washington in the quarterfinal match, 3-2, fell to eventual champion Stanford by the same score. The Trojans won five times in 2015 (the third year in a row with at least five wins), among them the 2015 NCAA St. George (Utah) Regional, their 11th regional win and sixth in a row. Gaston was named the WGCA West Region Coach of the Year while Park and Kim were both named All-Pac-12 first team for the third year in a row and Then and Chung were All-Pac-12 honorable mention.

Troy got oh-so-close to its fourth NCAA title in 2014 during a record-setting season, but finished second by two strokes. The Trojans were ranked No. 1 throughout the 2013-14 season and Gaston led a squad that would go on to earn a national best five All-American honors for just the second time in program history and the first since 2008. The season was highlighted by junior Doris Chen's NCAA individual title, which was the fifth in USC history, all coming under Gaston's watch. USC's nine wins, including a national best 10th NCAA regional crown, were two better than the school-record seven it won the previous season. The Trojans finished no lower than a tie for second place in the four events it didn't win, which included a two-stroke loss to Duke at the 2014 NCAA Championships. Chen and then-sophomore Kim earned 2014 WGCA All-American first team honors, then-sophomore Park and then-freshman Chung were tabbed as All-American second teamers and senior Sophia Popov was named an All-American honorable mention.

pick. Chen and Park were also two of the four 2014 Honda Sports Award finalists for golf. USC's 286.26 stroke average per round was the best in school history, breaking the record set last year (288.76) by 2.5 strokes. The Trojans also set a record for team rounds of par or better with 21, seven more than last year, the previous best.

The 2013 NCAA Championships season set the bar the highest it had ever been at USC. Troy won a then-school-record seven times, including six of its final seven events, which included USC's fourth conference title, its ninth regional title and a dominating victory at the NCAA Championships. The Trojans shattered the NCAA Championships record for most under par by 15 strokes, winning at 19-under 1133 (284-276-285-288) and their 21-shot margin of victory was the biggest at the NAAs since 2000. USC, the first school to post the low round each day since 1982 (including an NCAA record 276), placed all five starters in the top 17, led by the freshman Park, who won the individual title at 10-under 278. Then-freshman Kim and then-junior Popov tied for sixth at 1-over 289, then-sophomore Chen tied for 15th at 4-over 292 and junior Rachel Morris tied for 17th at 5-over 293. Park, named the 2013 WGCA and Pac-12 Player and Freshman of the Year as well as the Honda Sports Award winner for women's golf, won four times on the year to tie USC's season record and became just the second NCAA woman to win a conference, regional and NCAA titles in the same season. Kim and Park both earned WGCA All-American first team honors while Popov and Chen earned second team status. Gaston earned her third WGCA Coach of the Year honor and her second Pac-12 Coach of the Year nod.

USC's wire-to-wire NCAA title came in the same fashion as its 2003 and 2008 NCAA wins. The 2003 Trojans won by 15 strokes while the 2008 team won by six.

Gaston's 2008 NCAA title squad featured five All-American golfers for the first time in program history. Belen Mozo was named an All-American first teamer while Dewi Schreefel, Lizette Salas and Stefanie Endstrasser were second teamers and Paola Moreno was an honorable mention pick. USC's streak of four consecutive titles (which ended the season) was also a program first. That streak included its third straight NCAA Regional title as well as its first Pac-10 title since 1989. Gaston received her first National Golf Coaches Association National Coach of the Year honor in 2008 to compliment similar awards as 2008 NCAA West Regional Coach of the Year and 2008 Pac-10 Coach of the Year.

Gaston led USC to its first NCAA title in 2003 thanks in part to All-American Mikaela Parmlid's NCAA individual win and Irene Cho, an All-American honorable mention selection, who tied for third. The 2003 squad won four times and finished second three times.

In addition to Chen, Park and Parmlid, USC's other NCAA individual title winners -- Jennifer Rosales (1998) and Schreefel (2006) -- both played under Gaston. Like Park, Rosales and Schreefel won their titles as freshmen. Five USC golfers have won the Pac-12 titles under Gaston, including three in a row at one point, all as freshman: Park in 2013, Chen in 2012 and Popov in 2011. Moreno won in 2008 and Candie Kung took first in 2000.

USC has come oh-so-close to posting six NCAA titles under Gaston, with near misses in 2014, 2012 and 2010.

For the second time in three seasons, Troy fell just one stroke short of first place at the 2012 NCAA Championships, finishing second to Alabama. USC won twice on the season, including Troy's eighth NCAA Regional, and had seven top 3 finishes and four top 2s to end the season. The squad featured two All-American first teamers in Chen and Lisa McCloskey while Popov earned honorable mention notice.

USC was dealt a similar fate in 2010, inches away from a national title, and finished second by a stroke to Purdue. Troy won four titles that year, including at the NCAA Central Region and were led by sophomore Jennifer Song, who earned All-American first team and Pac-10 Player of the Year honors and was a Honda Award finalist. Salas, as a junior, earned second team honors.

Gaston directed USC to four wins in 2011, including her second Pac-10 crown and seventh NCAA regional title. The Trojans tied for fifth at the NAAs (though played the event without one of its top players -- McCloskey -- due to injury). Despite falling short of the NCAA title, Gaston's colleagues honored the Trojans' overall strong season by selecting Gaston for her second WGCA National Coach of the Year honor. Salas became USC's first-ever four-time All-American by earning first team notice, as did Popov as a freshman while McCloskey was a second teamer. Salas was named the Pac-10 Player of the year while Popov earned WGCA and Pac-10 Freshman of the Year honors.

In 2009, Gaston's Trojans were again among the top teams in the nation and posted top 4 finishes in all 11 events, including six second-place finishes. The Trojans finished third at the NCAA Championships (after leading after three rounds) and second at both the NCAA West Regional and the Pac-10 Championships. Song was tabbed the WGCA Freshman of Year and earned -- along with Salas -- All-American first team honors while Mozo was a second teamer.

In 2007, Troy finished fourth at the NCAA Championships, led by Moreno, who tied for second to earn All-American first team honors while Mozo was an honorable mention pick.

In 2006, the Trojans finished second (by 10 strokes). Gaston helped guide Cho to one of the greatest individual seasons in Women of Troy golf history. She who won four individual titles to tie a school record, earned All-American first team honors (along with Schreefel, the NCAA individual winner that year) and then took home the Honda Sports Award.

Other highlights under Gaston include Candie Kung becoming USC's first two-time All-American first teamer thanks to standout seasons in 2000 and 2001 and Rosales' NCAA win in 1998 that propelled her to national player of the year honors.

Gaston was a champion as a player, and has solidified the same standing as a coach, joining a small group of coaches who enjoy the same distinction.

It was just a matter of time until the two-time California State Amateur champion (1993-94) transferred her playing success at the highest level of amateur golf to blazing achievements at the collegiate coaching ranks.

Gaston was no fly-by-night in terms of playing success. Her track record prior to her state amateur achievements in 1993-1994 stands out on its own. Prior to those triumphs, Gaston was one of the top players on the San Jose State University women's golf team in the late 1970s. Her best individual finish was a third-place showing at the University of New Mexico's Tucker Invitational, but her biggest collegiate highlight was finishing tenth individually at the NCAA Championships. At that time, she competed with many of the PGA Tour's all-time greats, including Nancy Lopez, Patty Sheehan, Beth Daniel and Betsy King. Gaston also qualified to play in the 1977 U.S. Women's Open.

Gaston, after a 14-year hiatus to pursue a business career, came back to competitive golf in 1992. She was a 1993 USGA Women's Mid-Amateur semifinalist, a top qualifier for the 1994 U.S. Women's Open along with the '93 and '94 Women's U.S. Amateurs, and had back-to-back victories in the 1994 Los Angeles and Long Beach City Championships. To top that off, she even went toe-to-toe with former USC and PGA standout Jill McGill in the 1994 Colorado Broadmoor Invitational, losing to her in a 36-hole championship match.

She then won her two consecutive State Amateur championships (becoming one of the top 10 amateurs in America in less than two years). At that point, Gaston decided to give the professional ranks one more shot. But the opportunity to coach at USC came to Gaston while she was competing on the Futures Tour in 1996. Even while at San Jose State, USC had always beckoned to her. The chance to be a part of the Trojan Family was too good for her to pass up.

Gaston wanted to return USC women's golf to the forefront of collegiate programs and make them a consistent top 10 team. She also knew this was a great opportunity to be a part of the outstanding tradition at USC and be associated with the strong Trojan alumni base.

"I may have walked away from my own dreams as a player, but I have now stepped into an even bigger dream and a bigger vision," said Gaston, who knows of no greater opportunity than to be involved in the shaping and development of young players and to help them prepare for their futures.

Gaston obviously made the right decision. While her playing era has come and gone, the Gaston coaching era is in full swing. And with the players that have come through central Los Angeles lately, Gaston is creating a recruiting legacy that will forever be remembered as the start of a golden era in Women of Troy golf.

It's not the unparalleled success that makes Gaston proudest. Instead, it is her players' day-by-day and year-by-year growth that brings her the most satisfaction.

"Golf is a great avenue for our players' development," said Gaston. "Whether they choose golf as a career path or not, their experience while they're here-- along with their degree from USC--will take them far in life no matter what choice they make. We are continuing to expand our future plans, so I know there's no better time than now to be a part of our program. We are totally committed to the kind of achievement that makes the USC women's golf program one of the best in the country."

Gaston completed her education at California State University, Northridge, graduating with a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1980.

Gaston is also an active participant in the collegiate golf coaching community as a member of the National Golf Coaches' Association and served on the Awards Committee from 2008-2010. Gaston also served on the NCAA Certification Committee and was appointed to the subcommittee focusing on equity, welfare and sporting conduct. She also served on the Collegiate Golf Foundation Coaches Council, the National Tour Committee and the MasterCard Collegiate Golf Rankings Committee.

"It was an awe-inspiring victory. These girls just played amazingly. I know that all year long, they worked extremely hard and were very dedicated and relentless in their work ethic. I also know that Justin Silverstein, our assistant coach, was a huge part of our success this year. We just have an incredible support staff, and I'm very thankful that they all played a very important role, and this truly is a team victory."

Stewart Burke

Assistant Coach • Second Year

Stewart Burke, who brings NCAA coaching and playing experience as well as a reputation as a top recruiter, is in his second season as an assistant coach with USC's women's golf team, joining the staff in November of 2016.

The Scotland native came to USC after spending the previous three years as an assistant coach at Kansas State.

In his first year at Troy, Burke helped USC reach the 2017 NCAA Championships semifinals and post three regular-season wins while senior Victoria Morgan, sophomore Robynn Ree and freshman Muni He all earned All-American honors.

"One of the great successes of our program has been our ability to recruit both here and abroad and bring these bright young stars into the Trojan Family," said USC Women's Golf Head Coach Andrea Gaston, who boasts All-Americans from North and South America as well as from Europe and Asia. "Stewart will not only provide great energy to our current team, he will energize our recruiting efforts, particularly in the U.K. and Europe."

Burke began as an assistant coach for the Kansas State women's golf team in the spring of 2014. He helped the Wildcats post the top two team stroke averages in school history during the 2014-15 and 2015-16 seasons and, including the just-completed 2016 fall slate, Kansas State won three tournaments during his tenure.

He joined Kansas State after three years working as the Director of Recruitment at United Sports USA, a company that assists NCAA Division I coaches of all sports with recruiting the top student-athletes from the United Kingdom and Europe. A partner who helped set up United Sports USA, Burke also previously worked at a similar organization called First Point USA Sport Scholarship Consultants.

Burke played collegiately at Lindenwood University in St. Charles, Mo., where he graduated with a degree in Sports Management in 2007. He served as an assistant coach with Lindenwood's men's and women's golf teams in 2008.

While competing at Lindenwood from 2003-07, Burke worked at Old Hickory Golf Club in St. Peters, Mo., as the Acting Director of Golf. At Old Hickory, Burke managed personnel, oversaw tournament operations and scoring functions while running the junior summer program, among other responsibilities.

Jim Gormley

Volunteer Assistant Coach • 10th Year

Jim Gormley, who has played professionally for more than 10 years and has more than a decade of instructional experience, is in his 10th year as USC's women's volunteer assistant coach.

Gormley, who became a PGA member in 2003, has been the Head Golf Professional at Palos Verdes Golf Course since 2001. He first started working at PVGC in 1996.

He was named the 2008 Southern California PGA Section Player of the Year, placed third at the 2008 Southern California PGA Section Championship and played in the 2008 Professional National Championship.

In 2007, he was the Southern California PGA Section Match Play Champion and played in the Nationwide's Mark Christopher Charity Classic and the Professional National Championship.

In 2006, he played in the PGA Tour's Nissan Open. He was tabbed the 2005 and 2006 Southern California PGA Metro Chapter Player of the Year and the 2006 Southern California PGA Metro Chapter Golf Professional of the Year.

His professional career has also included stints on the Golden State, Hooters and Canadian Tours.

Gormley played for the Cal State Stanislaus men's golf team in 1991 and 1992, serving as co-captain in the latter year. He received a bachelor's degree in organizational communications in 1992.

Gormley, 44, is married to Mindy Gormley and has three daughters, Megan, 16, Bridget, 13 and Paige, 7.

ALYAA ABDULGHANY

Freshman • 5-0 • Newport Beach, Calif. (Corona Del Mar HS)

THIS SEASON: Alyaa Abdulghany, a prep All-American and national prep player of the year, joins the Trojans as a 2018 freshman.

HIGH SCHOOL: Abdulghany, who prepped at Corona Del Mar High in Newport Beach, Calif., was a three-time Junior All-American first teamer (2015-17), the 2016 USA Today High School Player of the Year and a two-time USA Today All-USA first team pick ... Abdulghany, who has represented the West Team at the Wyndham Cup three times (2015-17), helped lead the U.S. to a win at the 2017 PING Junior Solheim Cup in August as well as the 2016 U.S. Junior Ryder Cup and reached the round of 32 at both the 2016 U.S. Women's Amateur and the 2016 U.S. Girls' Junior (finishing stroke play tied for eighth) ... She won the 2017 Thunderbird Invitational with a 208 (69-69-70), her second AJGA victory and also took first at the 2017 Toyota Junior Golf World Cup with a 281 (76-71-66-68) ... She won the inaugural 2016 California Women's State Open in October at 10-under. Also in 2016, she won the AJGA Junior at Carlton Oaks with a 139 (69-70), was second at both the Junior PGA Championship with a 208 (71-67-70) and the Thunderbird Invitational with 212 (70-73-69) and was third at the 2016 Toyota Junior Golf World Cup at 283 (71-74-68-61) ... In 2015, she won the California state high school title with a 2-under 69 at the Poppy Hills G.C. in Pebble Beach, Calif., reached the round of 16 at the U.S. Junior Amateur and followed it with five consecutive top 10 finishes in junior events, including a fourth at the ANNIKA Invitational.

PERSONAL: She is a business administration major.

Jennifer Chang

Freshman • 5-6 • Cary, N.C. (Athens Drive HS)

THIS SEASON: Jennifer Chang, one of the top juniors in the U.S., is a 2018 freshman early enrollee who will compete for a starting spot in USC's spring lineup.

HIGH SCHOOL: Chang was a two-time prep All-American and her state's first four-time state champion (2014-17) -- and a multiple all-state first-team selection -- at Athens Drive High in Raleigh, N.C. One of the top juniors in the U.S and ranked among the top 100 amateurs in the world, she was a finalist at the 2017 U.S. Junior Girls' Championships and earned an exemption into the 2017 U.S. Women's Am. Also in 2017, she finished second at the AJGA Polo Golf Junior Classic, played at the PING Junior Solheim Cup and participated in her second Wyndam Cup in a row. Additionally, Chang won the Triangle 6 4A Conference tournament with a 10-under 61, the lowest 18-hole score recorded in North Carolina prep history (boys or girls). As a 2016 junior, she advanced to the semifinals of the North and South Women's Amateur, finished second at the World Junior Girls Championship while helping the U.S. to third overall, posted top 6 finishes at a pair of AJGA events and won the North Carolina state high school title for the third year in a row. As a 2015 sophomore, she was second at the AJGA Girls Championship and was seventh at the AJGA Rolex Tournament of Champions.

PERSONAL: She is a Communication major.

Allisen Corpuz

Sophomore • 5-9 • Honolulu, Hawaii (Punahou)

THIS SEASON: Allisen Corpuz, a Hawaii native, looks to build off a strong freshman debut as a 2018 sophomore, now being counted on as a starter.

2017: Corpuz started six times as a 2017 freshman and posted a 73.69 stroke average in 16 rounds and played in 10 match play matches, finishing 7-2-1 ... She had a pair of top 20 finishes, including a tie for 13th at the Pac-12 Preview at 3-over 222 (70-79-73) and tied for 16th at the Windy City Collegiate at 1-over 217 (72-70-75). She was 24th at the Northrop Grumman Regional Challenge at 6-over 219 (71-75-73) ... She went 3-0-1 in four match play matches in USC's title at the SDSU March Mayhem and won all three of her matches at the Great 8 Gifford Match Play ... Among her results after the season was a tie for 32nd at the Canadian Women's Amateur.

HIGH SCHOOL: Corpuz prepped at Punahou School in Honolulu, where she was a three-time AJGA All-American. Her amateur success, however, dates back well before high school as she was the youngest ever competitor in a USGA Championship when she played at the 2008 Women's Amateur Public Links at the age of 10 years, 3 months ... Her 2016 senior year included an AJGA win at the Winn Gripps Heather Farr as well as a win at the Hawaii state championship in which she outlasted her senior prep teammate on the fourth playoff hole. Corpuz also played as an amateur at the LPGA's Lotte Championship at Ko Olina and carded a second-round 72, but missed the cut by three strokes ... She has played in six USGA Championships in all, the second most ever, and posted nine top 10 finishes in AJGA majors to go with more than 15 Top 5 AJGA results. She won the 2014 Hawaii State Open, represented Hawaii in the 2014 Asia Pacific Junior Cup and represented the 'West' team at 2012 AJGA Wyndham Cup.

PERSONAL: Corpuz, born March 20, 1998, is a business administration major.

CAREER NOTES (through 5/17)

Lowest 54-Hole Score: 1-over 217 (2016 Windy City Collegiate)

Lowest Round: 70 (multiple times)

Highest Finish: 13th tie (Nanea Pac-12 Preview)

AMELIA GARVEY

Freshman • 5-9 • Christchurch, New Zealand (Burnside)

THIS SEASON: Freshman Amelia Garvey is a 2018 early enrollee from New Zealand who will compete for a starting spot on the Trojans in her first semester with the squad.

HIGH SCHOOL: Garvey, from Burnside High in Christchurch, N.Z., comes to USC with a full resume of success in New Zealand. The third-ranked amateur there, she was first at the 2017 New Zealand Women's Amateur Stroke Play Championship and also won the 2017 South Island Women's Stroke Play title. A co-recipient of the 2018 Lydia Ko Scholarship, Garvey was selected to represent her country at the Queen Sirikit Cup in China and finished second at the 2017 South Australia Junior Amateur. In 2016, she competed at the Junior World Championships at Torrey Pines and tied for first at the APGC Mitsubishi Girl's Championship in Chinese Taipei. In 2015, she became the second youngest player to win a professional tournament in New Zealand behind LPGA star Lydia Ko after capturing the Sir Bob Charles Tour Autex Muriwai.

PERSONAL: Garvey, born in the U.K., began playing golf in 2006. She is a Communication major ... She lists fellow Kiwi and former world No. 1 Lydia Ko as an inspiration.

AIKO LEONG

Sophomore • 5-5 • Honolulu, Hawaii (Punahou HS)

THIS SEASON: Aiko Leong is a 2017-18 sophomore spring semester transfer from BYU who will challenge for a key role on the Trojan squad.

BYU: Leong competed in five events as a 2017 fall semester sophomore for BYU, posting a 73.33 stroke average with a pair of top 10 finishes. She tied for sixth at 2-under 211 (70-70-71) at the Coeur d'Alene Resort Collegiate and was ninth at the Edean Ihlanfeldt Invitational at 5-over 221 (75-74-72) ... As a 2016-17 freshman, Leong saw action in four events with a 76.58 stroke average and one top 20 finish. She also earned 2017 WGCA All-Scholar honors.

HIGH SCHOOL: Leong prepped at Punahou School in her hometown of Honolulu, Hawaii, where she was a HHSAA State Championship runner-up, firing a 69-69. She qualified for the 2015 U.S. Women's Amateur as well as the 2015 U.S. Girl's Junior. She also tied for seventh that year at the Big I Championship ... She was named to the Interscholastic League of Honolulu first team three times (2013-15). She was voted the 2016 Most Inspirational Player at Punahou as a senior and was a three-year member of her school's orchestra, playing the viola.

PERSONAL: Leong is majoring in Economics.

DIVYA MANTHENA

Sophomore • 5-8 • Moorpark, Calif. (La Reina)

THIS SEASON: Divya Manthena is a sophomore transfer from Siena College who get a chance to start for the Trojans this fall.

SIENA COLLEGE: As a 2016 freshman at Siena College in New York, Manthena played in four events, tying for 39th twice (at the Bucknell and the Rutgers Women's Invitationals) and tying for 48th at the Grand Canyon Women's Spring Invite ... She made the school's honor roll as a freshman. She did not compete as a sophomore.

HIGH SCHOOL: She received the 2013 USGA/AJGA Presidents' Leadership Award while at La Reina High, which recognizes one male and one female junior golfer who demonstrate leadership, character and community service through volunteerism.

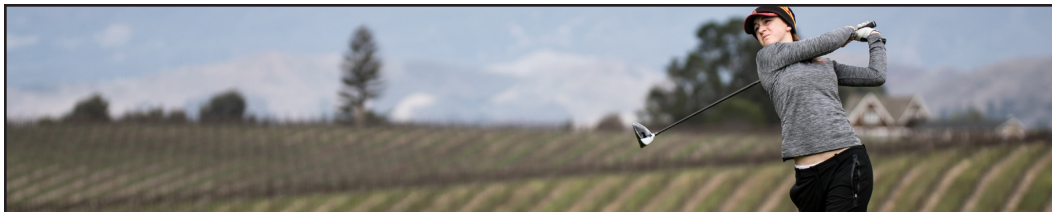

PERSONAL: She is a business administration major ... She was first introduced to golf by her father when she was 7 ... She has been extremely involved in community service for many years and started (at age 13 with the help of her father), a foundation called Krishak, which means "farmer" in Hindi ... She raised more than $40,000 before turning 18 ... She held her first charity golf tournament at 11 and by 13, she held a benefit tournament for the Special Olympics of Ventura County and raised nearly $25,000 ... Born in California, she holds dual citizenship between the U.S. and India ... Her great great grandfather was a freedom fighter in India and her great grandmother started an orphanage and worked for women's rights.

GABI RUFFELS

Sophomore • 5-8 • Moorpark, Calif. (La Reina)

THIS SEASON: Freshman Gabi Ruffels, a 2018 early enrollee and the daughter of a former USC tennis star, is a talented Australian junior looking to make a dent in the Trojans' starting lineup this spring.

HIGH SCHOOL: Ruffels is the daughter of former Trojan women's tennis great and national champion Anna-Maria Fernandez while her father, Ray Ruffels, was also a highly successful professional tennis player. Gabriela Ruffels was also a top-ranked tennis junior in Australia with a national tournament win to her credit and other international success, but she has blossomed in golf. She represented Australia at the 2017 World Junior Girls Championships, was third at the 2017 FGC Junior International and qualified for the Australian Amateur Match Play. In 2016, she represented Australia in international events in Singapore and Thailand, competed in the Women's Western Amateur and was named to the Victorian Women's and Junior State teams. She also qualified for the Junior World Championships and competed at the Australian Amateur.

PERSONAL: She is a Business Administration major.

NCAA Individual Champions

Doris Chen
2014

Doris Chen capped her second season as an WGCA All-American first teamer by winning the 2014 NCAA Championships individual title by two strokes at 6-under 274 (67-72-68-67). Her three sub-70 rounds matched her season-total heading into the championships as she picked up the second win in her career. Chen had four top 10 finishes on the season, including three in the top 3, and was a 2014 Honda Sports Award finalist for golf as well as an All-Pac-12 first team pick. She posted career highs as a junior in stroke average (72.38), rounds in the 60s (six) and in rounds of par or better (16).

Annie Park

Annie Park completed one of the best seasons in women's collegiate golf history -- as a freshman -- with a six-stroke victory at the 2013 NCAA Championships at 10-under 278. She became just the second woman to sweep all three postseason events (conference, regional and NCAA) in the same season, which helped her tie USC's school record for wins on the season (four). She was named the WGCA and Pac-12 Golfer and Freshman of the Year and then won the Honda Sports Award for golf.

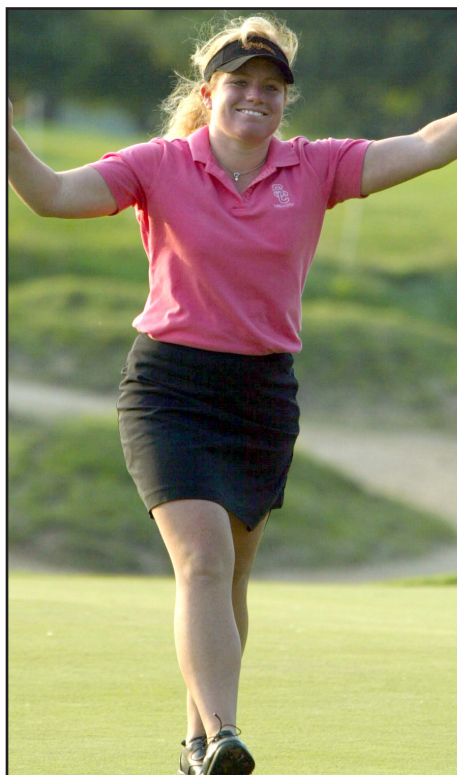

NCAA Individual Champions

Dewi Claire Schreefel
2006

An All-American as a freshman, Dewi Claire Schreefel fought to find her top form as a sophomore until late into the 2006 season. A sixth-place tie at the NCAA Central Regional catapulted Schreefel into the NCAA Championships. Solid first and second rounds kept her within reach of the leaders and a third-round 70 brought her to within three strokes. She took the lead halfway through the final round and held off a host of challengers for the NCAA title.

Mikaela Parmlid
2003

Mikaela Parmlid left behind a legacy at USC that will be tough to surpass. Besides winning the 2003 NCAA individual title at Purdue's Birk Boilermaker Golf Complex, the "Swedish Sensation" was also a two-time All-American first-team selection and USC's first-ever winner of the Honda Award given to the nation's finest female collegiate golfer. Her other feats include Women of Troy standards for most wins in a season (4) and career (5). She has now moved on to the LPGA tour.

Jennifer Rosales
1998

Jennifer Rosales made her presence known in her 1998 freshman season by walking away with the individual title at the NCAA Championships in Madison, Wisc., where she shot a record-breaking 9-under par. In her sophomore season, Jennifer Rosales was the top Trojan golfer in all 10 tournaments for the season on her way to being named collegiate "Player of the Year." She is now a top player on the LPGA circuit.

2009 -- Jennifer Song (champion)
2008 -- Lizette Salas (medalist)
2001 -- Candie Kung (champion)
1994 -- Jill McGill (champion)

Jennifer Song became the first woman in 21 years -- and only the second woman ever -- to win two USGA titles in the same season when she claimed the U.S. Women's Amateur and the U.S. Women's Public Links in the same season in 2009. She was also the low amateur at the 2009 U.S. Women's Open.

Where Are They Now?

USC has not only established itself with an outstanding tradition of golf success, while several former Trojans have continued their golf careers on the professional ranks, others have become successful in the business world. Either way, the Women of Troy have continued to represent themselves, and their university, with pride and distinction.
