RISING STAR

- For the first time this season, the Toreros took home a weekly West Coast Conference honor, as freshman Veronica Sheffey was named the WCC's Freshman of the Week on Jan. 2.
- A native of Woodinville, Wash., Sheffey turned in a career weekend in the wins over Saint Mary's and Pacific, averaging 11.0 points per game, 4.0 rebounds per game and 3.0 assists per game as part of a 2-0 week for the Toreros.
- Sheffey was particularly impactful in the win over Saint Mary's, going for a career-high 17 points and six rebounds, while scoring 16 of her 17 points in the fourth quarter and overtime to propel the Toreros back from an early 16 point deficit. Sheffey also recorded the game saving block on the Gaels final shot attempt of regulation.
- Sheffey joined the program this season after a prolific high school career at Sno-King Academy. The 2022 4A Player of the Year, Sheffey is a talented guard that scored over 1,000 points in her career, while being named a two-time Defensive Player of the Year and helped Sno-King win the 2022 state title.

LAST TIME OUT

- San Diego built an early advantage and would never trail, going on to earn a wire-to-wire, 58-51, victory at Pepperdine on Thursday.
- Kiera Oakry would lead the way on offense once again, scoring 15 points with 14 of them coming in the opening half.
- The win was the third wire-to-wire win of the season, joining the Biola and CSUN wins, and was the first WCC road victory of the year.

PLAYING PERCENTAGES

- The Toreros are finding success when they prevent the three point shot this season. San Diego is 7-0 when they hold their opponent to a .300 three point percentage or lower and 2-8 when opponents go any higher. Coincidentally, three of the seven wins in the metric came in which the Toreros also held their opponent under 50 points.

MEETING THE CHALLENGE

- The Toreros continue to pride themselves on their defense and have gotten off to another strong start on that side of the ball. San Diego leads the West Coast Conference in turnover margin (1.82) and ranks third in turnovers forced per game (16.88). In addition, the Toreros are third in scoring defense (62.3).
- The Toreros find their success when they hold defenses under 60 points. San Diego is 6-2 on the season when achieving this metric, losing the two games by a combined 13 points.
- San Diego is also finding success on the glass, ranking second in the WCC and ranking 68th nationally in offensive rebounds per game at 13.6 and 101st in the nation in rebounding margin.

BULLY BALL

- San Diego has proven to be adept at drawing contact in the paint, where they generate a number of chances at the free throw line. Kiera Oakry is a big part of this, ranking third in the WCC and in the top-100 nationally in free throws made. As a team, the Toreros lead the WCC in free throws attempts per game (19.06) and are third in makes per game (13.00).

- 107 Games Played

Now in her sixth season in San Diego, Myah Pace continues to leave her footprint on the University of San Diego record books and is in pursuit of several all-time marks.

The Oakland, Calif., native is seeking to become just the 22nd player in program history to reach 1,000 points and one of an even smaller handful with 1,000 points and 500 rebounds. Pace would also become the 14th Torero to reach 1,000 points under head Coach Cindy Fisher.

After missing all but one game of last season due to injury, Pace has another opportunity to climb several different all-time lists as a Torero. Pace ranks in the top-10 all-time in assists, steals, made free throws, steals per game, assists per game and assist to turnover ratio. Pace is also knocking on the door of the top-10 in points and rebounds, with eyes on reaching those levels by the end of the 2022-23 season.

Pace could potentially reach 1,000 points during this three-game road trip, with additional eyes on eighth place in assists and made free throws and entering the top-10 in offensive rebounds.
