2016 Season Outlook

There is plenty of excitement surrounding Utah State's gymnastics program these days. After all, the Aggies are coming off back-to-back NCAA Regional appearances, a feat Utah State hadn't accomplished since the 2001 and 2002 campaigns.

Under the direction of third-year head coach Nadalie Walsh, Utah State has extremely high expectations for the 2016 season, as well. The Aggies would love nothing more to advance to regionals for a third straight year, something that hasn't been done since the program appeared in 17 straight regionals from 1986-2002.

"I expect the team to be really confident again and take the last two years and use them as stepping stones and keep moving forward," Walsh said. "In the gym, they're very efficient, they train really quickly and get their routines done. We've made a lot of progress and we have a lot of athletes that have come back on more events, which is really good and will allow us to have more depth."

According to junior Bailey McIntire, it's no longer a goal just to make regionals. It's an expectation.

"We are at the point where our goal isn't to make regionals," McIntire said. "We expect to make regionals now and our goal is to place in the top three or four at regionals. That will probably be our main goal for the season, and to just have fun and get to that point."

In Walsh's first year at the helm of the program, Utah State finished sixth at regionals in 2014. Then just last season, the Aggies improved one spot and placed fifth at regionals. Walsh would love nothing more than to see her program continue to improve in the postseason.

"Making it to regionals the first year was a huge victory," Walsh said. "Making it the second year solidified the fact that this team is legit and we're on the right track, and it breeds a lot of confidence in them. So, I don't think trying to make it to regionals is the goal. The goal is placing higher than two teams and opening our perspective so we can begin believing in making a national appearance. The success of the past two years gives us the authority to have this mentality shift. I see our concrete goal being ranked in the top-18 after the regular season so we go into regionals as a seeded team."

The best finish the Aggies have ever had at regionals was third in 1999.

Utah State has placed fifth or sixth at regionals 18 times.

"In 2015, the women did a great job of making sure we didn't have to count any falls or major mistakes at regionals," Walsh pointed out. "This year, we want to go in and have more of a dominating atmosphere about us when we walk in there, regardless of who is there."

What do the Aggies have to continue to improve at regionals and possibly make it to nationals for the first time since 1991?

"We just have to focus on the little things," senior JoAnna Cuba said.

"Some of the things that kind of differentiate us from the bigger schools are minimal things that we're very capable of doing. We have to be consistent at it and hit it every time."

Utah State returns 11 letterwinners in 2016, but the Aggies' depth is already being tested as senior Miranda Kerr (vault, floor) is out for the season due to injury. In addition, sophomore Cidney Robinson (all-around) also suffered a season-ending injury, but chose to leave the team and return home to Chicago, Ill.

"We're going to feel the losses of Miranda Kerr and Cidney Robinson," Walsh said. "Those were two girls that had made leaps and bounds of progress and Miranda has been our leading vault star for the last two years. I'm glad that we have the number of girls that we have because we have a lot of talent and depth, where somebody else is always there to step in."

JoAnna Cuba - Senior

Added Cuba: "That does hurt us, but we have plenty of girls that can step up and fill the holes that we have."

Besides the 11 letterwinners, Utah State also welcomes back three gymnasts who were injured during the 2015 season in junior Katie Brown, and sophomores Miranda Hone and Briel Muhlestein.

Minus Kerr, the Aggies return five seniors in Cuba (bars, beam, floor), Jillian Chappel (vault, beam, floor), Destiny Ezell (floor), McKinzey Martinez (vault, bars, beam) and Michelle Yasukochi (all-around).

"I have high expectations," Cuba said. "We have gotten better the last few years and have gone to regionals twice now, so we're definitely going to try for a third time and hopefully, nationals."

The junior class features four gymnasts in Brown (vault, beam) McIntire (all-around), Charly Belliston (bars, beam, floor) and Hayley Sanzotti (all-around). The sophomore class includes Hone (vault, bars, beam), Muhlestein (all-around), Melanie Oster (all-around) and Keri Peel (bars, beam, floor).

"I expect us to do big things this year," Oster said. "We've got some strong freshmen coming in and then all the people that came back from injuries, we're really going to pull it together this year. Hopefully, we can make nationals if we keep going the way we're going because our progress has already been going crazy from last year's success."

Rounding out the 2016 gymnasts are four newcomers, including freshmen Emily Briones (all-around), Sarah Patterson (all-around), Natalie Rainbolt (all-around) and Madison Ward (all-around).

"They are an entire package deal," Walsh said of the four freshmen. "I'm not worried about them with competition in the sense of them getting nervous or not being able to perform because they have really adapted to the environment and added a lot of flair. They trust the upperclassmen and follow their lead and then the upperclassmen respect them already, so it just made the team gel really easy."

Miranda Kerr - Senior

McIntire agreed.

"We love them and they are so much fun," she said. "They all are very talented, so it's going to be exciting because we're going to have a lot of them in our lineups this year. They're just willing to do anything, so it's really fun to have them and their personalities are all bubbly and uplifting and happy all the time, which is nice."

Briones is glad to be an Aggie and is looking forward to helping the program continue to improve.

Michelle Yasukochi - Senior

"I'm really excited to be a part of the gymnastics team," Briones said. "I just want to have great confidence and be strong for the team, and add to their success. They already have a great program going on and I just hope to live up to all the accomplishments they've had."

Utah State will be competing in the Mountain Rim Gymnastics Conference (MRGC) for the third consecutive season. A year ago, the Aggies placed fourth (out of five) at the MRGC Championships with a team score of 195.125. Both Kerr (vault) and Martinez (all-around) earned second-team all-conference honors a year ago.

However, the MRGC will only feature four teams in 2016 as Denver joined the Big 12 following the 2015 campaign.

"It's going to be different because we're used to the five teams, but it's good," McIntire said. "We're excited because we know we can be at the top of the Mountain Rim Gymnastics Conference."

Added Oster: "We can win conference this year, to be honest. We have just as much skill and talent as Boise State. They won it last year, but we're going to put up a good fight this year."

The MRGC Championships will be held at Boise State on March 19. The Aggies open the season at home by hosting Centenary College on Jan. 8. Utah State has a total of five home meets and will also host Kent State (Jan. 15), Southern Utah (Jan. 29), Boise State (Feb. 26), and BYU and New Hampshire on Senior Night (March 4).

Utah State will be away from home seven times during the regular season, beginning with a dual meet at Southern Utah (Jan. 22). The Aggies will face former MRGC foe Denver on Feb. 6, then travel to Oklahoma City, Okla., for a quad meet against Oklahoma, Denver and Southeast Missouri State (Feb. 12).

Utah State will also travel to BYU (Feb. 19), Nebraska (March 6), Arkansas (March 11) and Illinois-Chicago (March 13).

"Our schedule is tough this year and I am excited about that," Walsh said. "It's just going to be part of the process that prepares them to be in the arena with five other teams at regionals and to be able to shoot for being in the top three and having that be a realistic goal."

Walsh's Coaching Experience

2001-2003	Wisconsin-Oshkosh Assistant Coach
2004-2007	Wisconsin-Oshkosh Head Coach
2008-2013	Ball State Head Coach
2014-	Utah State Head Coach

Head coach Nadalie Walsh is in her third season at the helm of Utah State's gymnastics program, which has advanced to the NCAA Regional Championships the past two seasons.

The Aggies concluded the 2015 campaign by placing fifth with a team score of 195.150 at the California-hosted Berkeley Regional. Utah State improved on its 2014 score at regionals by 3.275 points, finishing behind No. 10 Georgia, No. 3 Utah, No. 20 California and No. 15 Boise State. The Aggies finished ahead of in-state rival BYU.

Under the leadership of Walsh, the Aggies defeated BYU in Provo for the first time since 1999 when they recorded a 195.500-195.300 victory on Jan. 23. In that meet, Utah State registered the third-highest beam score in school history with a 49.275. The Aggies defeated the Cougars three out of the four times they faced each other in 2015.

Utah State also notched the third-highest score in school history in 2015 with a 196.350 against BYU on March 13. Two days later, the Aggies recorded the fourth-highest score in school history with a 196.325 at Sacramento State. Utah State also recorded three of the best vault scores in school history, including a 49.225 against BYU on March 13 to rank third all-time in the event. The Aggies also notched a 49.025 (ninth) at Sacramento State on March 15 and a 49.000 (tied for 10th) on March 6 against both BYU and Central Michigan.

Just a year removed from recording the best vault average in school history with a 48.904 in 2014, the Aggies bettered that mark in Walsh's second season at the helm with an average of 48.938. Utah State also put up the fourth-best beam average in school history with a 48.671, highlighted by a season-high 49.275 against BYU on Jan. 23. That score was good for the third-highest in school history. The Aggies recorded the fourth-best floor average in school history, as well, averaging a 48.909.

Sarah Landes led the way for Utah State at Regionals as she finished seventh in the all-around with a 39.175. In 2015, Landes joined Meagan Lewis (2003) as the only two gymnasts to appear in the top 20 season average lists for all four events. Landes averaged a 9.777 on vault (tied for 12th), a 9.721 on bars (20th), a 9.698 on beam (10th) and a 9.791 on floor (12th).

Miranda Kerr and Jillian Chappel tied for 20th on vault with 9.825s, while Landes and Bailey McIntire tied for 14th on bars with 9.800s at Regionals. JoAnna Cuba tied for sixth on beam with a 9.825 and Landes took 10th with a 9.800. McIntire recorded a 9.825 on floor to tie for 13th.

Walsh, who is just the third head coach in the program's 38 years, led the Aggies to a fourth-place finish at the 2015 Mountain Rim Gymnastics Conference Championships as Utah State recorded a 195.125. Landes and McKinze Martinez both earned second-team all-MRGC honors in the all-around, as Landes finished fourth with a 38.900 and Martinez placed fifth with a 38.425. Kerr earned second-team all-MRGC honors on vault as she tied for fourth with a 9.850.

Not only did Landes earn all-MRGC honors in 2015, but she also became the first Aggie to ever receive MRGC Gymnast of the Week accolades after tallying a season-high 39.225 in the all-around in a tri-meet against Boise State and UC Davis on Jan. 30 at the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum.

Following the 2015 campaign, the North Central Region recognized Walsh's assistants, Josh Nilson and Andi Dolinsky-Webb, as the Assistant Coaches of the Year, as well as Utah State Senior Associate Athletics Director Dr. Brian Evans as the Administrator of the Year. It was the second consecutive season the three of them were honored as such.

The Aggies also excelled in the classroom as a total of 13 gymnasts were tabbed Academic All-MRGC.

Walsh guided the Aggies to a No. 5 seed at the 2014 NCAA Regional Championships, the school's first appearance in regionals since 2007. Prior to competing in regionals, Utah State placed fifth at the MRGC

Championships with a season-high score of 196.075, its highest score since the 2003 season.

In her first season at Utah State, Walsh mentored four Aggies to all-conference honors in Landes, Paige Jones, Bailey McIntire and Michelle Yasukochi. Jones earned first-team honors on both bars and floor, and second-team honors on vault. Yasukochi earned second-team honors on beam, Landes earned second-team honors on floor and in the all-around, and McIntire earned second-team honors on floor.

Walsh led Utah State to its best start to a season since 1999 as the Aggies began the 2014 campaign with road wins against Iowa and Southern Utah, and a victory at home against BYU. Utah State reached the 196-point mark in three consecutive meets during the season. Prior to that, the program had hit the 196-point plateau just 10 times. Utah State also tallied the fourth-best floor average with a 48.791 in 2014. This included two Aggies who reached the 9.900 mark three different times during the season.

Prior to Utah State, Walsh spent six seasons as the head coach at Ball State, where she coached six different gymnasts to the NCAA Regional Championships for a total of 10 appearances, as well as four Mid-American Conference individual event champions, including two on bars, one on vault and one on floor. She also coached one MAC Senior Athlete of the Year, as part of eight all-Mid American Conference gymnasts during her tenure at Ball State.

Prior to Ball State, Walsh spent four years (2004-07) as the head coach at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, her alma mater. Before becoming UW-Oshkosh's head coach, Walsh was an assistant coach for the Titans from 2001-03. She coached the 2000 Division III national floor champion as well as the national runner-up in 2001, in helping the Titans to a second-place finish at national in 2001.

A native of Kewaskum, Wis., Walsh earned her bachelor's degree in exercise science and fitness from UW-Oshkosh in 2000. She and her husband, Victor, have three children Aiden (14), Ireland (12) and Valient (11).

Josh Nilson

Assistant Coach
Third Year

Utah State, 2010
B.S. Law & Constitutional
Studies

Josh Nilson, who has 10 years of coaching experience, including eight years at Utah State, is in his third season as an assistant under head coach Nadalie Walsh. He will be working primarily with the bars team this year.

During the 2015 campaign, Nilson's vault team recorded the best season average in school history with a 48.938. The old school record of 48.904 was set by the Aggies in the previous season.

Utah State's success on vault in 2015 was aided by recording three of the top 10 vault scores in program history. The Aggies were led on vault by junior McKinzey Martinez, who averaged a 9.802, which ranks as the fourth-best mark in school history.

Nilson also coached Miranda Kerr, who earned second-team Mountain Rim Gymnastics Conference honors in 2015 after tying for fourth with a 9.850 on vault at the conference championships. Kerr had an RQS of 9.835 to rank 20th in the North Central Region. She also tied for 20th with a 9.825 at the NCAA Regional Championships in Berkeley, Calif.

Nilson helped guide Utah State to its second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Regional Championships as the Aggies placed fifth and finished ahead of in-state rival BYU for the fourth time during the season.

Under Nilson, Utah State also recorded two of the top four scores in school history in 2015. In a home meet against BYU on March 13, the Aggies posted a 196.350, which ranks as the third-best score in program history. Two days later, Utah State put up a 196.325 at Sacramento State, which ranks fourth on the all-time list.

Following the 2015 campaign, Nilson, along with fellow Utah State assistant coach Andi Dolinsky-Webb, earned North Central Region Assistant Coaches of the Year honors for the second straight year.

"In regards to Andi and Josh, I am so glad that the gymnastics community can take a look at the new and improved Utah State gymnastics program and send some credit and recognition their way," Walsh said. "I am very fortunate to have such a united staff that goes out of their way for each student-athlete, as well as for the program. They are great at what they do, have kind hearts, are hard-working and have the utmost integrity. I couldn't ask for anything more in my assistant coaches."

During the 2014 season, Nilson coached Utah State to five of the top 10 vault scores in program history, including a 49.275 in a quad meet at UC Davis that ranks second on the list. The Aggies also recorded the best vault average in school history with a 48.904.

Nilson also helped guide Utah State to its best start since 1999 and its first NCAA Regional appearance since 2007. The Aggies finished in first place in four of their first five meets of the season, including winning the first three, and set a season-high score of a 196.075 at the Mountain Rim Gymnastics Championships, which was the fifth-highest score in school history and their highest since 2003. During the season, USU reached the 196-point mark in three consecutive meets.

From 2012-2013, Nilson spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Texas Woman's University. During his time with there, Nilson was named the 2012 USA Gymnastics Collegiate National Assistant Coach of the Year and Midwest Independent Conference Assistant Coach of the Year after coaching the Pioneers' bars team to a 48.440 season average. On an individual level, he coached one student-athlete to the 2012 USAG Collegiate national title on bars.

Prior to his time at Texas Woman's, Nilson spent six years as a part of the Utah State coaching staff. He was an assistant coach from 2009-11 under Jeff Richards and a student-assistant under Ray Corn from 2006-08. Additionally, he coached at the Sports Academy and Racquet Club and the Tytans gymnastics program for three years.

Nilson is married to the former Amanda Corn, who is the daughter of former head coach Ray Corn. The couple has four sons, Tristan (7), Ezekiel (4), Remington (2) and Liam (6 months).

Andi Dolinsky-Webb is entering her third season as an assistant coach at Utah State, where she primarily works with the beam team.

During the 2015 campaign, Dolinsky-Webb's beam team recorded the fourth-highest season average in school history with a 48.671. That mark was aided by a season-best 49.275, which ranks as the third-highest score in school history, against in-state rival BYU on Jan. 23.

Highlighting Utah State's beam team in 2015 was junior JoAnna Cuba, who tied for fifth and led the Aggies with a 9.825 on beam at the NCAA Regional Championships on April 4 in Berkeley, Calif.

Dolinsky-Webb helped guide Utah State to its second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Regional Championships as the Aggies placed fifth and finished ahead of in-state rival BYU for the fourth time during the season.

Under Dolinsky-Webb, Utah State also recorded two of the top four scores in school history in 2015. In a home meet against BYU on March 13, the Aggies posted a 196.350, which ranks as the third-best score in program history. Two days later, Utah State put up a 196.325 at Sacramento State, which ranks fourth on the all-time list. Following the 2015 campaign, Dolinsky-Webb, along with fellow Utah State assistant coach Josh Nilson, earned North Central Region Assistant Coaches of the Year honors for the second straight year.

"In regards to Andi and Josh, I am so glad that the gymnastics community can take a look at the new and improved Utah State gymnastics program and send some credit and recognition their way," head coach Nadalie Walsh said. They are great at what they do, have kind hearts, are hard-working and have the utmost integrity. I couldn't ask for anything more in my assistant coaches."

During the 2014 season, Dolinsky-Webb helped Utah State to the best beam average since 2005 with a 48.204, which ranks as the seventh-highest in school history. Dolinsky-Webb also helped guide Utah State to its best start since 1999 and its first NCAA Regional appearance since 2007. The Aggies finished in first place in four of their first five meets of the season, including winning the first three, and set a season-high score of a 196.075 at the Mountain Rim Gymnastics Championships, which was the fifth-highest score in school history and their highest since 2003. During the season, USU reached the 196-point mark in three consecutive meets.

Following the strong 2014 campaign, Dolinsky-Webb and Nilson were selected as North Central Region Assistant Coaches of the Year.

"I'm honored to receive this award along with Josh," Dolinsky-Webb said. "It has been an incredible year working with this talented group of athletes. The success we've had in just one year reflects the dedication and drive of our team and our staff."

Prior to Utah State, Dolinsky-Webb spent a year in Dublin, Ireland, where she received a second master's degree in Medieval Literature and Culture from University College Dublin.

In between her schooling and individual gymnastics participation, Dolinsky-Webb has also coached at the club level since 2001.

Dolinsky-Webb has a long history in gymnastics as both a competitor and a coach. She attended and competed at UC Davis from 2004-09 and was named the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Gymnast of the Year in both 2007 and 2009. She graduated from UC Davis in 2009 with a degree in English.

Dolinsky-Webb continued her education and began her coaching career at Ball State, where she was a graduate assistant under Walsh. While coaching from 2010-12, she earned her master's degree in English from Ball State.

The native of Loma Linda, Calif., is married to Kevin Webb. The couple resides in North Logan.

Accomplishments

- For the first time since 2001-02, Utah State competed in the NCAA Regionals in back-to-back years. The Aggies improved on their 2014 score by 3.275 points, on their way to finishing fifth at the Berkeley Regional behind No. 10 Georgia, No. 3 Utah, No. 20 Cal and No. 15 Boise State. The Aggies finished ahead of BYU.
- Utah State had three student-athletes earn all-conference honors as senior Sarah Landes and junior McKinzey Martinez both earned second-team honors in the all-around, while junior Miranda Kerr earned second-team honors on the vault.
- Utah State hit its stride at the end of the regular season as the Aggies recorded two of the top four scores in school history. In a home meet against BYU, Utah State posted a 196.350, which is good for the third-best score in program history. Two days later, the Aggies put up a 196.325 at Sacramento State, which ranks fourth on the all-time team score chart.
- For the second-consecutive season, Utah State recorded the top vault season average in school history, as the 2015 Aggies topped the 48.904 2014 average with a 48.938 average. The success on vault was aided by recording three of the top-10 vault scores in the program's history. USU was led on vault by junior McKinzey Martinez, who averaged a 9.802, good for fourth-best in school history.
- Utah State also put up the fourth-best beam average in school history, a 48.671, aided by a 49.275 season-high against BYU on Jan. 23. That score was good for the third-highest beam score in school history. The Aggies were led by senior Sarah Landes and junior McKinzey Martinez, who both tied for first on the event with a 9.875.
- The Aggies recorded the fourth-best floor average in school history, as well, averaging a 48.909, topping 2014's average of 48.791. The Aggies were led on floor by sophomore Bailey McIntire, who posted the fifth-best average in school history on the event with a 9.838. Utah State's season high of 49.300 came at the San José State quad meet.
- Utah State's gymnastics staff was well-represented in the North Central Region seasonal awards as Josh Nilson and Andi Dolinsky were named Assistant Coaches of the Year for the second year in a row and Dr. Brian Evans was named the Administrator of the Year for the second-consecutive year.
- In 2015, Sarah Landes joined Meagan Lewis (2003) as the only two gymnasts to appear in the top 20 season average lists for all four events. Landes averaged a 9.777 on vault (tied for 12th), a 9.721 on bars (20th), a 9.698 on beam (10th) and a 9.791 on floor (12th).
- Utah State recorded a 195.125 at the Mountain Rim Gymnastics Conference, placing fourth ahead of BYU for USU's highest finish in the MRGC.
- Utah State had 13 gymnasts honored for academic excellence by earning academic all-MRGC honors.

UTAH STATE GYMNASTICS WALL OF FAME

The Wall of Fame was dedicated in 1985 to honor past gymnasts for their accomplishments in the gym, in the classroom and for their overall contributions to the program.

A Utah State gymnast must do one of four things to be nominated to be honored on the Wall of Fame: graduate from USU after competing for four years; qualify for the NCAA championships as an individual; earn All-American status; or represent the gymnast's home nation in international competition.

The coaching staff nominates gymnasts, and a committee subsequently votes on those nominees.

STAN ALBRECHT

University President

Stan L. Albrecht was named Utah State University's 15th president and assumed his new position on Feb. 1, 2005.

At the time of the announcement, Albrecht was serving as executive vice president and provost at Utah State, a position he held since 2001. He previously served as its dean of the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences from 1998-2001.

Albrecht has had many successes during his tenure as president. Under his leadership, the university launched a comprehensive fundraising campaign that raised $500 million at its completion in October of 2012.

Undergraduate Kathryn "Katie" Sweet is a 2015 Goldwater Scholar and, for the second consecutive year, student David Griffin received honorable mention in a prestigious national competition that recognizes outstanding achievements in science and mathematics. With this year's honorees, USU boasts 24 Goldwater Scholars and 12 honorable mention recipients since 1998.

Changes on campus are happening as well. Ground was broken for the new, state-of-the-art Huntsman Hall, a $42 million, 117,000-square-foot addition that will wrap around the south and west sides of the George S. Eccles Business Building. Jon M. Huntsman, Sr. is the lead donor for the new building, scheduled to be completed in the fall of 2015. And Jon M. Huntsman School of Business alum Jeffrey Clark and his wife, Bonnie Clark, have provided a $6 million leadership gift to help establish the Jeffrey D. Clark Center for Entrepreneurship in that college.

Students will also be excited that construction is well under way on the USU Student Recreation & Wellness Center (SRWC) building. USU students voted in favor of a new recreation and wellness center in the spring of 2012, but the building has been a work in progress for nearly a decade. Students will have full access to the building in fall 2015, which is the anticipated completion date.

These many notable accomplishments indicate that USU is on par with some of the leading institutions for higher education in the nation

A sociologist, Albrecht has written extensively, including as a co-author of the textbooks Social Psychology and Social Science Research Methods, both published by Prentice-Hall. He has authored numerous scholarly papers on a wide range of topics, including the environment, energy development and rural health.

JOHN HARTWELL

University Vice President/
Director of Athletics

John Hartwell was named Utah State's Vice President and Director of Athletics on June 2, 2015 by University President Stan L. Albrecht.

Hartwell comes to Utah State after spending the past three years as the Athletics Director at Troy, where he laid the groundwork for the future of Trojan Athletics by spearheading several significant upgrades to its athletic facilities, including the addition of a new $2 million practice facility for the golf teams, a $3 million renovation and expansion of the softball facility and a $2.1 million improvement to Veterans Memorial Stadium, while also securing funding for lights to be installed at the soccer and track complex. Hartwell also unveiled the North End Zone Project for Veterans Memorial Stadium, a $20 million project that will be the new home for Trojan football.

During the 2014-15 academic year, five Troy programs competed in postseason play, highlighted by a pair of Sun Belt Conference championships by the women's golf and men's tennis teams, while the women's basketball team won 20 games for the first time since 1996-97 and made just its second postseason appearance in school history. Within the past year, three of Hartwell's new coaching hires - Beth Mullins (softball), Scott Kidd (men's tennis) and Bart Barnes (women's golf) - have been named Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year, including back-to-back awards by Barnes.

Under Hartwell, Troy Athletics saw a significant enhancement in fundraising and external relations as he completely overhauled Troy's External Affairs division of the Athletics Department to increase revenues and enhance the fan and game day experience. As part of this makeover was the creation of a new external model, which included the addition of a Senior Associate Athletic Director for External Affairs; bringing corporate sponsorships in house with a partnership with Rockbridge Sports Group; and the development of the Troy Affinity Program to further engage Troy students in athletics.

Hartwell's strong business background also proved to be valuable at Troy as he negotiated a new footwear and apparel deal with Adidas, while also securing home-and-home football games with Duke and North Carolina State in addition to yielding a home basketball game with Mississippi. Hartwell's tenure at Troy also saw a record number of student-athletes earn a 3.0 grade-point-average, an upward trend in APR scores and additional staff positions in Troy's academic support department. During the 2014-15 academic year, Troy student-athletes finished with a 3.01 cumulative grade-point-average and over 57 percent of Troy's student-athletes had a 3.0 GPA or higher.

At Troy, Hartwell served on the NCAA Division I Basketball Issues Committee, the Division I-A Board of Trustees Executive Committee, and the NCAA Division I Council as the Sun Belt Conference representative. He has also been an instructor at the Division I-A Institute for aspiring athletic directors the past two years.

Prior to being the Director of Athletics at Troy, Hartwell spent nine-plus years at the University of Mississippi, where he was the Senior Executive Associate Athletics Director, serving as the number two administrator in athletics.

Hartwell served as the Treasurer and Chief Operating Officer of the Mississippi Athletic Association Foundation, a 501 (c)(3) organization that generated over $17 million annually for the Ole Miss Athletics Department through priority seating and major gifts.

He was responsible for the day-to-day administrative oversight of the football, men's basketball and baseball programs, along with sport oversight of the softball and men's and women's track & field and cross country programs. Hartwell also oversaw the Rebels' business office, ticket office, equipment room, merchandise sales, concessions and football scheduling. Hartwell scheduled several marquee football games for the Rebels, including a home-and-home series with Texas that began in 2012.

Hartwell managed the growth of the Ole Miss athletic budget from $26 million in the 2003 fiscal year to over $47 million in the 2012 fiscal year. He also chaired the search to hire men's basketball head coach Andy Kennedy in 2006. He was heavily involved in negotiations that increased revenues with contracts for apparel and footwear (Nike), merchandise sales (Sports Avenue/LIDS), concessions (Centerplate), wireless provider (C Spire) and video boards (Daktronics). He served on the Southeastern Conference Ticket Committee and started the annual SEC Chief Financial Officers Forum.

A 1987 graduate of The Citadel, the 50-year old Hartwell spent four-plus years as a certified public accountant with Ernst & Young before returning to his alma mater to serve as the Director of Internal Audit in 1991. From 1994 to 1997, he was in private business as the Chief Financial Officer for a $36 million beverage distributor on the South Carolina coast.

Hartwell's direct experience in athletics administration began as the Assistant Athletics Director for Business at Georgia State in 1997. He was promoted to Associate Athletics Director for Internal Affairs in 1999, and his responsibilities expanded to include sport supervision for baseball, men's and women's golf, men's and women's track & field and cross country. He also had oversight over the Panthers' athletic facilities and game management in addition to his previous responsibilities of all financial aspects of the department. While at Georgia State, Hartwell earned a master's degree in sports administration.

Athletics has always been a big part of Hartwell's life, starting in high school where he was an all-state basketball selection at UMS-Wright in Mobile, Ala. The 6-foot-7 forward played alongside current North Carolina State head coach Mark Gottfried in high school. Hartwell went on to play collegiately at The Citadel, where he was a three-year starter, a four-year letterman and captain of the team as a senior in 1987. Current Tulane head coach Ed Conroy was a collegiate teammate of Hartwell.

Hartwell is married to Dr. Heather Seale Hartwell, and they have two daughters, Lauren (6) and Madison (3). Hartwell also has a 23-year old son, Hunter, a recent graduate of Vanderbilt who works for Deloitte Consulting.
