The Dee Glen Smith Spectrum, completed in 1970, is home to Aggie basketball, volleyball and gymnastics. The arena holds 10,270 and also houses the Ticketing and Athletic Department offices.

The men's team has combined for a 436-105 record since 1970, giving the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum the reputation of being one of the toughest places for opponents to play college basketball.

In Sept. 2002, Utah State added a $1.4 million center-hung scoreboard with four video panels to the arena.

The arena is named for Brigham City native Dee Glen Smith, who built one of America's largest grocery store chains and was a substantial supporter of Utah State University. Smith died in 1984.

For the third straight year, Utah State has led the Western Athletic Conference in number of academic all-league honorees as the Aggies landed 130 student-athletes on the academic all-WAC teams in 2007-08. USU has only been in the league three years as it joined the conference in July, 2005.

Overall, it is the ninth time in the last 10 years that Utah State has had the most academic all-league honorees as it led the Big West Conference in 2000 and 2002-05. In 2001, the Aggies ranked second in the Big West in academic selections.

Additionally, Utah State„s athletics department recognized 152 student-athletes and 14 managers and student trainers for achieving a 3.2 grade point average at the 15th annual Joe E. and Elma Whitesides Scholar-Athlete Luncheon. To be eligible for the honor, student-athletes must have a cumulative 3.2 grade point average or have posted a 3.2 GPA during the last two semesters.

In all, approximately 47 percent of USU„s student-athletes earned a 3.2 GPA to qualify for the awards.

2008-09 Outlook

2008-09 Aggie Outlook

New beginnings. That is what the 2008-09 Utah State women's basketball team is focused on. After losing four of their top five scorers, the Aggies look to rebuild this season with five newcomers. Utah State will have to recover from the loss of Taylor Richards, one of the Aggies most celebrated players. Last season, Richards led the team averaging 9.9 points and 4.3 rebounds per game, and added 75 assists.

In their fourth season in the Western Athletic Conference and their sixth season since the program was reinstated prior to the 2003-04 season, the Aggies look to improve in every facet of the game.

Utah State continues to improve in the eyes of the other eight WAC coaches. This season the Aggies were picked sixth in the preseason coaches poll which is a spot higher than last season and three places higher than the 2006-07 season's predictions.

Head Coach Raegan Pebley

"We expect that our team will continue on its mission to always put academics first, bring pride to Utah State University and continue to progress towards a WAC Championship," USU head coach Raegan Pebley said. "We do these things together and with class, and we love to have fun in the process! We have brought each member of this program, student-athletes and staff, here to Utah State with this in mind."

Utah State welcomes back nine letterwinners from last year's squad that ended the season 9-20 with a 5-11 WAC record. Among the returning letterwinners are one starter, senior guard Danyelle Snelgro (5-5, Altadena, Calif./John Muir HS). The Aggies have three other seniors returning in guard Ana Pares (5-8, Provo, Utah/Timpview HS), forward Shawnta Pope (5-10, Cairo, Ga./Chipola College) and center Ndombe Diop (Dakar, Senegal, Oak Hill Academy/Chipola College). The 2008-09 senior class is Pebley's third group of players that she has developed from freshmen. Between the four seniors, they have played in 187 games and have 85 starts.

"I have a feeling that this year's squad will be a team that leads itself as a group. If everyone stays focused on the fact that the goal is more important than any one player's role, their collective vision will be their leader," Pebley said.

Other returners include junior center/forward Nicole Johnson (6-2, Vancouver, British Columbia/Columbia River HS), sophomore guard Alice Coddington (5-10, Canberra, Australia/Radford College), sophomore forward Amber White (5-10, San Leandro, Calif./San Leandro HS), junior guard LeeAnn Palo (5-6, Woodinville, Wash./Woodinville HS), and sophomore forward Erika Guatavai (5-11, Gunma, Japan/Tokiwa/Daiot Bunka University).

"Every single returner took advantage of their time in Logan over the summer. Not only did we have all of them in summer school getting ahead academically, but they also prepared themselves as a group for fall conditioning. They set the standard of being prepared and even starting the game ahead instead of behind," Pebley said.

Along with the nine letterwinners, the Aggies add five newcomers as well as junior center/forward Lydia Whitehead (Nibley, Utah/Mountain Crest HS/Utah) who redshirted last season. The remaining newcomers come from four different countries giving the Aggies and international flare this season. The remaining rookies are sophomore forward Stacey Howard (Queensland, Australia/Northeastern JC), freshman center Banna Diop (Dakar, Senegal/Oak Hill Academy/Chipola College), freshman guard/forward Chelsea Burns (Carlsbad, Calif./La Jolla Country Day), junior guard TaHara Williams (Chicago, Ill./Mt. Notre Dame HS/Colgate) and freshman guard Zana Williams (Vancouver, British Columbia/Kitsilano).

"Our newcomers all bring very specific and unique traits to our program. Chelsea Burns stretches out the defense with her three-point shooting ability, while Banna Diop adds size to our improving inside game. Zana Williams brings creativity, ball handling, and the ability to score, and Stacey Howard's versatility and defensive presence are great assets and additions."

These new pieces along with the returning pieces hope to complete the Utah State puzzle this season.

Guards:

20 - Chelsea Burns, 5-10, FR
13 - Alice Coddington, 5-10, SO
3 - LeeAnn Palo, 5-6, JR
15 - Ana Pares, 5-8, SR
*4 - Danyelle Snelgro, 5-5, SR
2 - TaHara Williams, 5-6, JR
12 - Zana Williams, 5-8, FR

* - returning starter

Guards

The Aggies corps of guards will be led by senior Danyelle Snelgro who is the top returning scorer, averaging 9.9 points per game. Snelgro also had 68 steals and 82 assists for USU last season. She moved into the Aggies' career top 10 lists in both steals and assists with 143 career steals and 208 career assists, respectively.

Snelgro became the second player in Utah State history to earn WAC preaseason all-WAC honors when she was named to the second team. USU great Taylor Richards was named to the second team prior to the 2008-09 season.

"I am really happy for her. She is not in this for individual accolades. She is a player who has an ability to impact the game. I love what she brings to the defensive end. She is very consistenty and is a team player," said Pebley.

Also returning at the guard position is senior Ana Pares who saw action in 28 of the Aggies 29 games. Pares averaged 3.5 points and 0.9 rebounds per game. She shot 38.3 percent from the field and 77.8 percent from the free throw line.

Another member of the experienced group of guards is sophomore Alice Coddington who played in 28 games and started three. Coddington averaged over 15 minutes per game, while averaging 2.5 points per game.

Junior LeeAnn Palo rounds out the group of returning guards. Palo saw time in 15 games last season, playing over 100 minutes. The junior averaged 2.1 points and 0.5 rebounds per game. She also added 10 assists to help round out a solid group of guards.

"We have a refined group in all of the perimeter positions. Each of the perimeter players have the ability to play more than one position and we will utilize them in this capacity," said Pebley.

Forwards/Centers

This year's Utah State team will have an over-abundance of size with five players over six feet tall, led by freshman Banna Diop who stands 6-6. This will help the Aggies not only defensively, but also on the offensive side of the ball.

Junior Ndoumbe Diop, one of two returning starters, gained a wealth of experience in her first season in an Aggie uniform. Diop played in 28 games, starting 12, averaging almost 14 minutes per game. She averaged 2.4 points and 2.3 rebounds per game, while shooting 39.0 from the floor.

Center/forward Nicole Johnson also earned valuable experience last season. The junior played in 26 games, while starting eight. Johnson played over 350 minutes for the Aggies, averaging 2.9 points and 2.0 rebounds per game.

Senior Guard Danyelle Snelgro

Forwards & Centers:

20 - Chelsea Burns, 5-10, FR
42 - Banna Diop, 6-6, FR
*23 - Ndoumbe Diop, 6-3, SR
5 - Erika Gautavai, 5-11, SO
10 - Stacey Howard, 6-0, SO
50 - Nicole Johnson, 6-2, JR
33 - Lindsey (Freeze) Shipley, 6-0, JR
22 - Shawnta Pope, 6-0, SR
21 - Amber White, 5-10, SO
35 - Lydia Whitehead, 6-4, RS JR

* - returning starter

After redshirting last season, junior Lydia Whitehead will finally get to see some time on the court. The Utah transfer has been working with the team and is ready to see playing time.

"We have more size than any team we have had at Utah State and I believe that we are prepared to utilize it. Not only do we have size but each of our 'bigs' have something to bring to the table on the offensive and defensive ends. Our inside game will help us be a more balanced and efficient team," Pebley said.

Sophomore Amber White looks to have a breakthrough season for the Aggies this year. White played in 24 games last season, starting one. Fellow forward, senior Shawnta Pope also saw playing time in her first season as an Aggie. Pope played in 17 games for the Aggies last season, averaging 2.2 points per game. Rounding out the group of forwards is Erika Guatavai. The native of Japan saw limited time her freshman season, playing in only five games.

The Schedule

This season, Utah State will play 31 regular season home games, including two home exhibition contests With the two exhibitions, the Aggies have 15 games this season at the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum, a place where Utah State won five of its nine games last season. This is the most home games that the Aggies have ever played.

USU could play up to five teams that reached the postseason in 2007-08, including UTEP who ended the season ranked No. 23 in the Associated Press poll. Texas State advanced to the Women's Basketball National Invitational last season. WAC-foe Fresno State earned its first-ever bid to the NCAA Tournament last season. The Bulldogs will host Utah State on Feb. 1 and will travel to Logan to end the regular season on March 7.

Utah State tips off the 2008-09 season with two exhibition games against Montana Tech and Dixie State before starting the regular season against Portland on Nov. 14 in a doubleheader with the men's team which is one of three doubleheaders with the men's team this year.

"Starting the season playing five of our first seven games at home is a huge advantage on and off the court. Our program works hard each season to help set up our student-athletes for success in the classroom and non-conference scheduling plays a big role in that. During the fall semester, our team will not miss one day of class due to team travel," Pebley said.

Junior foward Amber White

Utah State will play 14 games away from the friendly confines of the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. The Aggies' only travel in November will be to the UTEP Thanksgiving Classic on Nov. 28-29. Utah State will start the Thanksgiving Classic against Texas State on Nov. 28. The tournament will conclude with the Aggies taking on either host UTEP or Monmouth. Other non-conference road contests are instate rivals BYU (Dec. 13), Weber State (Dec. 22) and Utah Valley (Jan. 3), along with UNLV.

Before conference play starts, the Aggies will have seven non-conference home games, including Northern Arizona, Idaho State and Montana State-Northern in the month of November. The Aggies conclude non-conference play with Eastern Washington (Dec. 6), Portland State (Dec. 16) and Southern Utah (Dec. 20).

"We are thrilled to have so many home games this season. With seven in the non-conference portion and eight in WAC play, Aggie fans will have an opportunity to see us in action more than they ever have," said Pebley.

As the Aggies enter their fourth season in the WAC, they will once again play a double round robin format playing all eight WAC teams at home and on the road. USU opens conference play on the road on Jan. 3 at Idaho and concludes WAC action at home against 2007-08 WAC Champion, Fresno State. This year's WAC Tournament returns to Reno, Nev., Mar. 10-14 where the University of Nevada will host the tournament for the third time.

This season, the Aggies will play a very challenging schedule and will play on every day of the week.

"February will be a challenging month in our schedule. We play only one game at home during the entire month. Discipline, depth and momentum will help us attack that month with confidence, " Pebley said.

2008-09 Aggie Coaches

Raegan Pebley
Head Coach
Sixth Season
Colorado '97

Utah State's Raegan Pebley (Pee-blee) enters her sixth season as head coach of the Aggie women's basketball program. Pebley was named the head coach at Utah State University on May 1, 2002, becoming the first women's basketball coach at USU in 16 years. She immediately went to work, spending the 2003 season recruiting and rebuilding Utah State's women's basketball program for its inaugural season in 2003-04. The Aggies reinstated women's basketball on March 5, 2002, after the program had been dropped following the 1987 season.

Despite being the third-youngest team in the nation in their inaugural season, Pebley's team soon saw the fruits of their labors as they went 5-13 in the Big West Conference and earned a spot in the Big West's postseason tournament.

Pebley helped the momentum carry over from USU's freshman campaign into its sophomore season as her team doubled its win total from the previous season with nine games remaining on the schedule.

Most coaches would have been satisfied doubling their win total, but Pebley didn't rest on her laurels, coaching the Aggies within one win of tripling their 2004 total (5-22) and guiding them to their second straight Big West Tournament appearance.

Pebley's 14 wins in 2004-05 tied her with Fern Gardner (1975) and Cindy Perkins (1979) for the second-highest single-season win total in school history. With 42 career wins, Pebley is third on the career coaching wins list.

While the Aggies struggled to a 3-24 overall and 2-14 conference mark in 2006, their first season in the Western Athletic Conference, year two in the WAC saw much improvement as Pebley once again came within one win of tripling their 2006 total, as the team went 11-18 in 2007 and 7-9 in the WAC to finish in seventh-place.

In 2008, the Aggies ended the season with a 9-20 overall record with a 5-11 WAC record to once again finish seventh in the league.

Under Pebley's direction six players have earned all-conference honors, including two honorable mention selections in 2004 and three honorable mention honorees in 2005, and consecutive all-freshman team picks in 2005 and 2006.

Student-athletes have also flourished off the court with Pebley at the helm. In 2008, eight players earned academic all-WAC honors, the most under Pebley's tenure. Six players earned academic all-conference honors in 2007, while seven earned the honor in 2006. Five players were awarded academic all-conference accolades in 2005, with two earning the award in 2004.

Additionally, individual career and single-season records have fallen in Pebley's system. Taylor Richards broke the career assists record in 2007 and finished her career with 371. Brittany Hagen became the USU record holder for career three-pointers made in 2005-06 and finished her career with 109 treys. Brittany Phillips ended her career at USU with a 37.9 three-point percentage from 2003-2007 and holds the current career record. Jessica Freeman became the USU career shot block leader in 2004-05 and finished her career with 127, and Ali (Aird) Marchant shot 59.7 percent from the floor in 2003-04 to break the single-season field-goal percentage mark and left USU as the career field-goal percentage record holder, hitting 53.5 percent of her shots.

Pebley is the Women's Basketball Coaches Association conference captain, serving on the WBCA's Foresight Committee. As conference captain, she represents the WAC coaches on topics falling under the umbrella of Division I Women's Basketball such as NCAA legistlation, game rules, initiative proposals, and improving the general communication between coaches and the WBCA.

As a member of the WBCA's Foresight Committee, she supports their goals to have 100% of the women's basketball specific proposals come through the WBCA legislative process so that they can be voted on by the entire WBCA Division I membership prior to reaching the NCAA legislative cycle. This process encourages inclusion and gives "one voice" to legislative issues that directly affect the great sport of Women's Basketball.

A former player for the Utah Starzz of the WNBA, Pebley was an assistant coach for four years at George Mason (1997-99) and Colorado State (1999-2001) before coming to Utah State, as she helped guide CSU to a 48-17 record during her two-year stint with the Rams. She was a four-year letterwinner at Colorado before being a third-round draft pick by the Utah Starzz in 1997. She also spent one season with the Eastern Division Champion Cleveland Rockers in 1998.

Pebley, whose maiden name is Scott, grew up in Orem, Utah and graduated from Mountain View High School, where she was part of two 4A Utah State Championship teams from 1992-93. She earned All-American honors and was a two-time state Player of the Year at Mountain View.

Coaching has been in her family for sometime now as her father, Ray Scott, has coached women's basketball for more than 30 years. He got his start in the late 70's and early 80's with the Dallas Diamonds and New Orleans Pride of the old ABL. He has since coached at almost every level of women's basketball and is currently the head coach at Princeton High School in Princeton, Texas.

Pebley is married to Keith, who is a high school history teacher at Fast Forward Charter School and a defensive coordinator for the Logan High School football team. They have one son, Joseph, who was born July 9, 2003, and a daughter, Harper, who was born Jan. 30, 2007.

Western Athletic Conference
RENO-TAHOE
WAC
2009 TOURNAMENT

In its 47th year, the Western Athletic Conference continues to evolve and features some of the nation's best intercollegiate competition. One thing that remains unchanged is the persistent nature of the nine schools in the WAC to advance their programs to contend at the top levels of the NCAA.

The WAC provides its student-athletes the chance to travel to scenic destinations and gain exposure in some of the nation's most diverse markets. In addition, the WAC's student-athletes work to achieve the highest levels of success with the academic support of their respective institutions.

The WAC has experienced tremendous success. Over the past six years, it has won 54.5 percent of its bowl games, the third best winning percentage of any conference in the nation. The WAC has sent a total of 22 teams to bowl games (12-10) in that period. Boise State has won 76 games since joining the conference, the most in the nation during that time span (2001-07). For the second year in a row, the WAC sent a team to a BCS bowl game as Hawai'i earned a Sugar Bowl bid this past season following Boise State's unforgettable victory in the 2007 Fiesta Bowl. In men's basketball, the WAC has sent at least two teams to the NCAA Tournament in 23 of the past 25 seasons. Every current school in the WAC has competed in the NCAA Tournament since 1990. In baseball, the WAC has boasted two national champions in the past five years including Fresno State's College World Series victory in 2008. In women's sports, Fresno State softball has competed in every NCAA Tournament ever held while Louisiana Tech basketball has played in all but two.

Current WAC alums have made their presence felt as well. David Carr (Fresno State) was the first player selected in the 2002 NFL Draft. Cheryl Ford (Louisiana Tech) was named the WNBA Rookie of the Year and helped the Detroit Shock win the league's championship in 2003. And in 2004, the United States' softball team won the Olympic gold medal with former Fresno State players Laura Berg and Lovie Jung.

In 2001, the WAC partnered with ESPN for coverage of football and basketball giving the conference national exposure from one of the most respected broadcast entities in the country. The WAC officially added WAC.tv in 2006 to give fans streaming internet access to many of its postseason championships including volleyball, soccer, swimming and diving, basketball, gymnastics, softball and baseball.

The WAC is the sixth oldest among the nation's 11 Division I-A conferences. Its history traces back to July 27, 1962, when the original six-team league of Arizona, Arizona State, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming began competition.

The first championship was held in November 1962, when Arizona won the men's cross country title and New Mexico followed with the first WAC football title. Arizona finished second in the NCAA College World Series and, less than three years later, Arizona State claimed the league's first NCAA title when the Sun Devils won the College World Series trophy. Fresno State was the last WAC school to earn an NCAA team title when it won the College World Series in 2008.

Since 1962, several changes have occurred. UTEP and Colorado State became members in September 1967, while Arizona and Arizona State withdrew on June 30, 1978. The WAC then added San Diego State (1978), Hawai'i (1979) and Air Force (1980). Before 1990, the WAC sponsored championships only in men's sports. However, a merger with the High Country Athletic Conference formed a single conference under one administrative structure, and the 1990-91 athletic year was the first in which both men and women competed under the WAC name. Fresno State was added in 1992, and then in 1996, the women's programs from Air Force and Hawai'i along with six new schools (UNLV, Rice, San Jose State, SMU, TCU and Tulsa) came into the WAC. Air Force, Brigham Young, Colorado State, UNLV, New Mexico, San Diego State, Utah and Wyoming withdrew on June 30, 1999. Nevada (2000), Boise State (2001) and Louisiana Tech (2001) were added while TCU withdrew following the 2000-01 season. The current membership was established on July 1, 2005, when Idaho, New Mexico State and Utah State joined the WAC after Rice, SMU, UTEP and Tulsa withdrew.

The WAC has had just five commissioners in its history. Paul Brechler was named the first leader of the conference and held the position from 1962-1968. He was followed by Wiles Hallock (1968-71), Stan Bates (1971-80), Dr. Joe Kearney (1980-94) and Karl Benson (1994-present).

Presently, the WAC crowns team and individual champions in 19 sports – eight men's and 11 women's. For the men, there are championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, indoor track and field and outdoor track and field. Championships for women are held in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field and volleyball.

The WAC office has been located in the Denver area since the conference's inception with the exception of a two-year stay in Phoenix from 1964-66.

Stan Albrecht

University President

Stan L. Albrecht was named Utah State University's 15th president and assumed his new position on Feb. 1, 2005.

At the time of the announcement, Albrecht was serving as executive vice president and provost at Utah State, a position he held since 2001. He previously served as its dean of the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences from 1998-2001.

During his tenure as President, Albrecht has announced a comprehensive fundraising campaign with an official fundraising goal of $200 million. In March 2008, President Albrecht announced that the university had exceeded the campaign goal only one year after the announcement of the campaign's public phase.

"We have exceeded our initial goal of $200 million, and we're not turning back," Albrecht said. "It's been a very good year. We have announced one transformational gift after another. We have done things - with your help - that will propel Utah State to heights we have not yet imagined."

Another major initiative under Albrecht's direction has been to strengthen USU's branch campuses to reflect a stronger, more cohesive Utah State University system and provide greater access to higher education opportunities.

As part of his commitment to USU students throughout the state, he helped secure funds to hire 40 faculty members from 2007 to 2009. Most of the faculty members will teach in rural communities served by the university.

"Many of our new professors were hired for our regional campuses and partnership institutions, and this will dramatically impact our ability to extend Utah State's academic reach throughout the state," said Albrecht.

Prior to his arrival at Utah State, Albrecht served as an administrator and professor at the University of Florida from 1993-98. He also served for 18 years at Brigham Young University (1974-92), including three years as academic vice president and associate provost. He began his career as an assistant professor of sociology at Utah State University in 1970 through 1974.

A sociologist, Albrecht has written extensively, including as a co-author of the textbooks Social Psychology and Social Science Research Methods, both published by Prentice-Hall. He has authored numerous scholarly papers on a wide range of topics, including the environment, energy develop.m.ent and rural health.

Albrecht received his doctorate from Washington State University in 1970, a master's degree from Washington State University in 1968 and bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University in 1966. All three degrees were in sociology.

He is a member of the Science Committee for the Minerals Management Service of the U.S. Department of Interior. He has served as a council member of the Society for Human Ecology and as vice president of the Rural Sociological Society.

Albrecht is married to Joyce Albrecht, Utah State's Director of Stewardship Programs.

Scott Barnes

Athletics Director

Scott Barnes has wasted little time since being named Director of Intercollegiate Athletics at Utah State University on March 7, 2008. Since his hiring, Barnes has worked tirelessly to familiarize himself with Aggie Athletics and is confident that USU can continue to grow and become a model program in the Western Athletic Conference.

And Barnes takes over a program that has already had plenty of success stories in the WAC. In its first three years in the league, Utah State has won seven conference championships while its student-athletes have earned 382 various all-conference honors. Additionally, USU has led the WAC in academic all-conference honorees in each of the last three years, including 130 during the 2007-08 academic year. USU's student-athletes also traditionally rank among the best in the WAC with an 82 percent graduation success rate and a cumulative 3.04 grade-point average.

During his first 90 days on the job, Barnes held several town meetings and met with over 150 people associated with Aggie Athletics to get a better understanding of the culture that exists at Utah State as well as cultivating new relationships.

He has also identified several areas that need to take top priority including finishing the Jim and Carol Laub Athletics-Academics Complex at Romney Stadium, increase the department's overall operating budget, increase season ticket sales for football and expand USU's develop.m.ent opportunities.

Barnes is also in the process of executing a newly developed football enhancement plan which includes creating a more balanced football schedule, continued facilities develop.m.ent and investing in football operations.

Prior to joining the Aggie Family, Barnes spent the past two and one-half years as senior associate athletics director for advancement at the University of Washington and was responsible for all external operations for the athletics department with specific emphasis on fundraising, ticket sales, multi-media rights management, marketing, event promotion and communications.

Prior to working at Washington, Barnes spent six years (1999-2005) as the athletics director at Eastern Washington University as he oversaw a program that featured 50 coaches and 14 sport programs for 300 student-athletes. During his tenure at EWU, the Eagles experienced unparalleled success becoming the first athletics program in Big Sky Conference history to win championships in football, men's basketball, women's volleyball and women's soccer in one calendar year. While at Eastern Washington, he hired six head coaches and witnessed four of them earn Big Sky Coach of the Year honors.

Barnes also had tremendous success at Eastern Washington increasing operating funds for the athletics department. He worked to initiate and pass a $20 million Sports and Recreation Center fee referendum and secured a $1 million gift for EWU's stadium renovation, which was the single largest donation for athletics in university history. He also spearheaded a $6.2 million athletic campaign and secured a $3 million university soft drink contract.

During his time at Eastern Washington, Barnes was recognized by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) as the Division I-AA West Region AD of the Year.

Barnes, 46, received his bachelor's degree from California State University, Fresno in 1986, as well as his master's degree in 1993 in physical education with an emphasis in athletic administration. He and his wife, Jody, were both student-athletes at Fresno State as he was a member of the basketball team while she was a member of the track team.

Barnes was born June 23, 1962 in Spokane, Wash. He and his wife have one daughter, Milanna and one son, Isaac.
