RADIO & TV COVERAGE

PAC-12 CONFERENCE TELEVISION

Pac-12 Conference television partners ESPN, FOX Sports, and Pac-12 Networks will provide complete coverage of the entire Pac-12 home football schedule during the 2017 season. Pac-12 Networks will air 35 Pac-12 home games, while ESPN and FOX Sports will combine to televise 44 games from Pac-12 home and neutral sites. In addition, one of ESPN's networks will televise the Pac-12 Championship Game at Levi's Stadium in Santa Clara, Calif.

The television arrangement with ESPN and FOX Sports calls for Pac-12 football to receive full national distribution of each game. ESPN will televise on ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU or ABC, while FOX Sports will air its games on FOX or FS1.

Pac-12 Networks was created in 2011 and features one national and six regional full-time native HD linear networks available to video programming operators, as well as a network of digital properties dedicated solely to the Pac-12. The networks televise 850 live events across 27 sports annually and provide 24/7 access to Pac-12 teams and universities.

The Pac-12 digital platform includes Pac-12.com, the official athletic websites of member universities, mobile applications, social media and other innovative digital initiatives across the company.

Highlights of Pac-12 Conference football coverage in 2017 include eight Friday night games, including five on FS1 and three on ESPN. ESPN will also televise one Thursday night game. FOX will showcase UCLA vs. Texas A&M Labor Day weekend on Sunday, Sept. 3.

Five Utah games were picked for early selection, including home games against North Dakota on Thursday, Aug. 31 at 5:30 p.m. MT on Pac-12 Network, San Jose State on Saturday, Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. MT on ESPN2 and UCLA on Friday, Nov. 3 at 7:30 p.m. MT on FS1.

Utah also learned the time and TV for road games at BYU on Saturday, Sept. 9 on 8:15 p.m. MT on ESPN, ESPN2 or ESPNU and Arizona on Friday, Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. MST (PT)/8:30 p.m. MDT on FS1.

The remainder of Utah's game times and TV will be announced six to 12 days in advance. Which ESPN network will broadcast the Utah-BYU game in Provo will be announced after the games on Sept. 2. All of Utah's games will be televised nationally.

While television selections for the first three weeks of the 2017 season have been made, as well as all Thursday and Friday games throughout the season, all remaining television game selections and start times, starting with week four (Saturday, September 23) and running through the final week of the regular season (Saturday, November 25) will be made 12- or six-days in advance.

Additional non-conference road games will be televised as part of other conference or institution television packages. In all, every game involving a Pac-12 team is expected to be televised this season.

(See Pac-12 composite schedule and TV listings on page 7)

ESPN 700 (KALL-AM) has been the radio home to University of Utah athletics since 1951. ESPN 700, which has a 50,000-watt evening and weekend signal, and a 10,000-watt daytime signal, is one of two stations in the Utah Sports Network. The other is KOAL 750 AM in Price. All of Utah's games on ESPN 700 can also be heard live on the Internet at UtahUtes.com. They will also be carried by SiriusXM Satellite Radio as well as Tunein Radio.

Managing the radio network is Utes Sports Properties, a division of Learfield. Utes Sports Properties is in its first year as the multi-media rights partner for Utah Athletics and brokered the most recent contract extension with ESPN 700—a five-year agreement signed in the summer of 2017.

Handling the play by play for the Ute broadcasts is Bill Riley, who is in his ninth year as the "Voice of the Utes." Riley is a 24-year veteran of radio and television and has won numerous awards as both as host and play-by-play broadcaster, including twice being named Sports Broadcaster of the Year in Utah by the NSSA. Riley is joined in the booth by former Ute quarterback Frank Dolce, now in his 25th season as the color analyst. Reporting from the sidelines in his sixth year is former Ute defensive back Bo Nagahi.

Highlighting ESPN 700's game-day coverage are two hours of pre-game coverage and two-hour post-game shows that include live interviews with players and coaches and expert analysis. The Kyle Whittingham Show, hosted by Riley, airs on ESPN 700 every Tuesday during the regular season. The show is broadcast live from 6-7 p.m. MT.

PAC-12 CONFERENCE

CONFERENCE OF CHAMPIONS

Known as the "Conference of Champions," the 501 NCAA team titles won by Pac-12 schools outdistance the nearest conference by almost more than 200. In what was an historic year in 2016-17 as the Pac-12 became the first league to 500 titles, the Conference won 13 NCAA Championships, marking the ninth time overall and the third time in the last four years the Conference claimed double-digit titles. It was also 16th time in the last 17 years the Pac-12 led the nation in NCAA titles won.

The Pac-12's NCAA Championships came in the form of a record 10 in women's sports, two in men's and one combined championship. The 13 titles were one shy of the record 14 the Conference claimed in 1996-97. No other conference has reached double digits in an academic year. The Pac-12 more than doubled up on the next league's title count in 2016-17, with Big 12 schools claiming six NCAA titles.

In addition to the 13 NCAA crowns, Pac-12 teams recorded nine runner-up finishes and at least one team placed in the top four in 24 championships. In eight sports, there were at least two teams among the final four.

Pac-12 teams have won championships in 29 of the 37 Division I sports the NCAA sponsors and has reached double digits in 20 of those sports. All three of the institutions that have won at least 100 NCAA titles all-time are Pac-12 members: Stanford (113), UCLA (113) and USC (104).

The Pac-12's excellence is further proven in the annual NCAA Division I Learfield Sports Directors' Cup competition, the prestigious award that honors the best overall collegiate athletics programs in the country. Stanford continued its remarkable run by winning a 23rd-consecutive Directors' Cup in 2016-17. Five Pac-12 member institutions ranked among the top-15 Division I programs—the most of any conference: No. 1 Stanford, No. 4 USC, No. 9 Oregon, No. 11 UCLA and No. 14 California.

LEAGUE HISTORY

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Pac-12 Conference celebrated its Centennial year in 2015-16. The roots of the league go back to Dec. 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. The original membership consisted of four schools—the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference. The Pac-12 Conference ushered in a new era on July 1, 2011, with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was Commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and the PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU) was formed with Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed Commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, USC, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as Commissioner of the Pac-8.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports.

Thomas C. Hansen was named the Commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years, and was succeeded by current Commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

Currently, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 12 women's sports, with beach volleyball added in 2015-16. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located in the heart of San Francisco in the SOMA district.

2017-18 BOWL GAMES

PAC-12 BOWL ARRANGEMENTS

The Pac-12 Conference has agreements with seven bowl partners for the 2017 season. The lineup is led by the Rose Bowl presented by Northwestern Mutual on New Year's Day, which is the primary destination for the Pac-12 champion. However, in years when the Pac-12 champion is ranked in the top four of the College Football Playoff rankings and/or the Rose Bowl hosts one of the two national semifinal games, the Pac-12's top team could be sent elsewhere. A second Pac-12 team could also be selected for the College Football Playoff.

This year, the College Football Playoff semifinals will be hosted by the Rose Bowl presented by Northwestern Mutual and the Allstate Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day. The College Football Playoff Championship Game takes place in Atlanta, Ga, on Jan. 8.

In addition to the Rose Bowl presented by Northwestern Mutual, Pac-12 bowl partners include the Valero Alamo Bowl in San Antonio (No. 2 pick), the San Diego County Credit Union Holiday Bowl in San Diego (No. 3 pick), the Foster Farms Bowl in Santa Clara (No. 4 pick), the Hyundai Sun Bowl in El Paso (No. 5 pick), the Las Vegas Bowl (No. 6 pick), and the Cactus Bowl in Phoenix (No. 7 pick).

UTAH ATHLETICS HISTORY

Utah claimed its 13th bowl victory since 1999 by winning the 2016 Foster Farms Bowl.

The latest chapter in Ute athletics history began on July 1, 2011, when Utah officially became a member of the Pac-12 Conference. But Utah's reputation as an athletics power was established long before it joined the "Conference of Champions."

Utah had one of its best years ever in 2016-17. In the fall, football won the Foster Farms Bowl was No. 23 in the final AP poll, soccer advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the first time ever, cross country qualified for NCAAs as a team for the second consecutive year, and volleyball made the NCAA Tournament field. In the spring, softball advanced to NCAA Super Regionals for the second straight year.

Football is 661-453-31 in its 123-year history. In the mid-1990s, the Utes evolved into a national force and won nine consecutive bowl games from 1999-2009, tying for the second-longest bowl winning streak on record. The original "BCS Buster," Utah was 2-0 in BCS games with wins over Alabama (2009 Sugar Bowl) and Pittsburgh (2005 Fiesta Bowl). The Utes have finished in the nation's Top 25 eight times, including a No. 2 ranking in 2008 and No. 4 in 2004. Utah has sold-out every game in Rice-Eccles Stadium since the 2010 opener.

Men's Basketball has thrived throughout its history, winning an NCAA Championship in 1944 and finishing as the runner-up in 1998. The Runnin' Utes also won national championships in 1916 (AAU) and 1947 (NIT). Utah has advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 on 10 occasions and is one of seven programs that have reached the regional semifinals at least once every decade since the 1950s. Utah ranks among the NCAA's top 15 in all-time victories (1,779) and winning percentage (.645). Utah's 29 NCAA Tournament appearances and 38 NCAA Tournament wins also rank in the top 25.

Women's Gymnastics boasts 10 national championships and nine runner-up finishes. Utah is the only school to qualify for all 36 NCAA Gymnastics Championships and has captured the most All-America awards. The Red Rocks also claimed the school's first-ever Pac-12 title in 2014 and captured the trophy again in '15 and '17. Utah holds every gymnastics attendance record, including highest single-meet attendance (16,019 in 2015) and highest season attendance average (15,224 in 2017). Utah has led the nation in gymnastics attendance 33 times and won its seventh all-women's sports attendance title in 2016-17.

Women's Basketball has averaged over 20 wins a season since its start back in 1974-75 and ranks 18th in the NCAA in all-time winning percentage (.684). The Ute women have received 17 NCAA Tournament invites since 1982, advancing to the Sweet 16 twice and the Elite Eight once. They have won 22 conference championships.

The Men's and Women's Ski Team has captured 11 NCAA Championships and 12 national titles all time, including the 2017 NCAA crown. Volleyball has participated in 13 of the last 19 NCAA Tournaments with two Sweet 16 finishes. Softball has qualified for the postseason 21 times (16 NCAA Regionals, 2 Super Regionals) and has five College World Series appearances (four NCAA). Women's Soccer has played in the NCAA Tournament seven times since 2002. Baseball has advanced to NCAA Regionals twice since 2009 and won the 2016 Pac-12 championship, the school's first for a men's sport since joining the league.

A TOP 100 UNIVERSITY

Among Utah's nationally-ranked programs are law, pharmacy, mathematics, business, biomedical engineering, family medicine, entertainment arts and engineering.

UTAH TRADITIONS

The University of Utah officially adopted the nickname "Utes" for its athletic teams in 1972. The school uses the nickname with permission of the Ute Tribal Council.

"What is a Ute?" The Utes are an Indian tribe that originally settled Utah. Two of the more common definitions of Ute are "top of the mountains" and "people of the mountains." Other references have Ute defined as "land of the sun." The Utes refer to themselves as "Noochew," meaning "the People."

There are four Ute tribes: The Northern and White Mesa Tribes are based in Utah, while the Southern and Ute Mountain Tribes are in Colorado. The Northern Utes are most closely affiliated with the University of Utah and have a tribal membership of around 3,000. Many of them live on the Uintah and Ouray reservation. The Utes operate their own tribal government, oversee approximately 1.3 million acres of trust land and operate several businesses.

"The Pride of Utah" Marching Utes began in the 1940s as a military band. In the turbulent '60s, support for the band dwindled, and in 1969, the Associated Students for the University of Utah (ASUU) discontinued its funding. The band was revived in 1976, and since then, the "Pride of Utah" Marching Utes have performed at all home football games, as well as numerous NFL and college bowl games.

To the victor goes the Beehive Boot. The authentic pioneer boot has been awarded annually since 1971 to the Utah school with the best record against instate foes. The schools that compete for the boot are Utah, Brigham Young and Utah State. In its 45-year history, the Beehive Boot has been awarded to Utah 15 times (1978, '88, '93, '94, '95, '99, 2002, '03, '04, '05, '08, '11, '13, '15 and '16), BYU 22 times and Utah State nine times.

The Block U (elevation 5,300 feet above sea level) was built on Mount Van Cott bordering the Utah campus in 1907. Lights on the 100-foot-tall landmark are illuminated primarily for athletic events and to notify people in the Salt Lake valley that the Utes are playing at home (the lights flash after a Utah victory).

Originally built with limestone, the Block U was later replaced by a cement version. In 1969, the design was modified and 124 lights were installed. A fund-raising campaign in 2006 raised $400,000 to renovate the aging landmark. Slabs of concrete and steel rebar now reinforce the 5,000-square feet of surface area. Another major improvement was the installation of light emitting diode (LED) red and white lights, which are controlled through a wireless system.

SWOOP

Utah introduced its mascot (below) in 1996. "Swoop" represents a red-tailed hawk, a bird indigenous to the state of Utah.

MEET US IN THE MUSS

The MUSS, one of the most avid and vocal student fan clubs in the nation, is nearly 6,000 strong at Ute home football games. The name MUSS was originally derived from the school fight song lyrics (… No rival band of college fans dare meet us in the muss). Members now refer to MUSS as an acronym for "Mighty Utah Student Section."

The MUSS turns 16 years old this season. Originally known as the Student Fan Club and the Utah Fan Club, the group adopted the name MUSS for the 2002 football season.

MUSS members are easily identified by their customized tee-shirts and their policy of standing throughout the entire game. They have a number of other traditions during football games, including the Third Down Jump, in which members jump around and make noise every time the opposing team prepares for a third down play. Other rituals include the U of U Chop, which occurs every time the band plays a specific percussion song and involves MUSS members forming a U with their hands and "chopping" to the beat of the music, and the First Down Chant (members raise their hands in unison, yelling "first down," and mimic the referees by pointing their arm in the direction of the first down).

The line of "fives" hanging in front of the MUSS section refers to the False Start Tally. Whenever the opposing team is charged with a false start, the MUSS hangs a numeral five in front of its section indicating a five-yard penalty.

Every time the Utes score, the band plays the school fight song, signaling the MUSS to sing along to the words of the Utah Fight Song. After every game, Ute team members congregate in front of the MUSS section and join in the singing of the Utah Fight Song.

Watch for the MUSS to regularly "Throw up a U," a tradition that began at the Utah women's gymnastics meets in 2001 and soon caught on with all the Ute teams and fans. It involves forming the U mentioned in the U of U Chop and raising it toward the sky.

The MUSS currently sponsors fan clubs for the Utah football, men's basketball, volleyball and gymnastics teams. The football team began sporting a MUSS decal on the back of its helmets in 2004.

UTAH FIGHT SONG

VERSE
I am a Utah man or/fan, sir, and I live across the green. Our gang, it is the jolliest that you have ever seen. Our students are the finest and each one's a shining star. Our yell, you hear it ringing through the mountains near and far.

CHORUS
Who am I, sir? A Utah Man or/Fan am I. A Utah Man or/Fan, sir, and will be 'til I die; Ki-yi!

VERSE
We're up to snuff; we never bluff, we're game for any fuss. No rival band of college fans dare meet us in the muss. So fill your lungs and sing it out and shout it to the sky, we'll fight for dear old Crimson, for a Utah Man or/Fan am I.

CHORUS (same)

VERSE
And when we prom the avenue, all lined up in a row, and arm in arm and step in time as down the street we go. No matter if a freshman green or in a senior's gown, the people all admit we are the warmest gang in town.

CHORUS (same)

VERSE
We may not live forever on this jolly good old sphere, but while we do we'll live a life of merriment and cheer. And when our college days are o'er and night is drawing nigh, with parting breath we'll sing that song: "A Utah Man or/Fan Am I." Go Utes!

With its striking design, stunning mountain backdrop and panoramic views of downtown Salt Lake City and the Great Salt Lake, Rice-Eccles Stadium is recognized as one of the most beautiful college stadiums in the country. While the exterior scenery is captivating, the charged atmosphere inside Rice-Eccles Stadium makes it one of the 25 "toughest stadiums in the country" for opposing teams according to Bleacher Report.

Entering the 2017 season, Utah has played to 44-straight sellouts (41 which exceeded the seating capacity) in Rice-Eccles Stadium extending back to the 2010 opener against Pittsburgh. In its first 19 years, there have been 62 total standing-room-only crowds.

The venue's seating capacity was increased from 45,017 to 45,807 in 2014, and as a result, the top three season attendance averages and 11 of the top 15 single-game crowds in Rice-Eccles Stadium history were recorded in the last three years. The Utes averaged a school-record 46,533 fans per game in 2015, when they also recorded their best single-game attendance mark (47,825 vs. Michigan). Dating back to its 13-0 Sugar Bowl campaign of 2008, Utah's average attendance has exceeded the stadium's capacity for nine consecutive years.

Opened in 1998 on the grounds of the old Ute (1927-71) and Rice (1972-97) stadiums, Rice-Eccles Stadium has seen several upgrades in ensuing years. The latest is a state-of-the-art 122 x 64-foot video scoreboard that rises 137 feet above ground and was completed in the summer of 2016. One of the largest college football video boards in the country, it features a high definition display with a 16:9 aspect ratio. The enhanced software to run the board will deliver some of the best special effects in the sports industry and will synchronize with the LED boards in the north endzone. Another improvement in 2016 was a distributed sound system that enhances the sound quality in every section of Rice-Eccles Stadium while also reducing noise to the surrounding community.

Rice-Eccles Stadium has also hosted a number of other major sporting events, the most prominent being the Opening and Closing Ceremonies of the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games.

The initial groundwork for Rice-Eccles Stadium began in 1996, when Utah Director of Athletics Chris Hill initiated a fundraising campaign to replace aging 32,500-seat Rice Stadium. A lead gift of $10 million soon came in from the George S. and Dolores Dore Eccles Foundation, steered by former Ute All-America skier Spence Eccles.

The total construction costs ran $50 million, of which $20 million came from private gifts, $10 million from athletics department bonding, $12 million from the University of Utah and $8 million from the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Committee.

Preliminary construction work began in the summer of 1997. Two days after the final home game that fall, wrecking crews moved in and demolished Rice Stadium. Only the south end zone bleachers and the Rice name (Robert L. Rice contributed $1 million in the 1972 renovation) would carry over to the new venue. Rising from the rubble less than 10 months later was Rice-Eccles Stadium, an imposing concrete, steel and glass edifice that dominates the Salt Lake skyline.

Visible for miles is the stadium box, located 14 stories above ground and encased in a 400-square-foot expanse of tempered glass. The box is supported by twin towers containing four high-speed elevators. Occupants of the stadium box are treated to sweeping views of the Wasatch Mountains to the east and downtown Salt Lake City, the Great Salt Lake and the Oquirrh Mountains to the west.

The Cleone and Spence Eccles Scholarship Box on Level 4 seats 450 and has indoor-outdoor seating, along with eight suites. The Mezzanine on Level 5 provides another 17 suites.

Level 6 contains the John Mooney Working Press Area, named in honor of the late Ute football writer and Salt Lake Tribune sports editor, and booths for television and radio (among them the Bill Marcroft Radio Booth, named for the former longtime "Voice of the Utes"). The press, TV and radio sections open into the Varsity Reception area, which seats 400 for dining.

The 2016 stadium upgrades were not the first time the scoreboards have been replaced since Rice-Eccles opened its gates. In 2003, the late Larry H. and Gail Miller donated $1.6 million for the venue's first video scoreboard. In 2007, Utah Sports Properties financed an LED board stretching across the top of the north end zone stands, and two LED scoreboards were added to the north corners in 2014. In 2012, an LED board was placed at the bottom of the south end zone stands.

The stadium floor has also changed with the times. A FieldTurf surface with CoolPlay cork infill was installed in September 2015, marking the third version of FieldTurf laid down in Rice-Eccles since 2002. Previous surfaces (dating back to Ute Field) were natural grass from 1927-71 and again in 2000-01, AstroTurf from 1972-95 and SportGrass from 1995-99.

The south end zone bleachers, built in 1982, house the locker rooms, the Gary L. Crocker Stadium Club suite and a band room. The plaza behind the south end zone was dedicated on Aug. 21, 2003 as the 2002 Salt Lake Olympic Winter Games Cauldron Park. The Utah Athletics main ticket office is located on the southwest corner of the plaza.

Fans at Rice-Eccles Stadium were treated to a new 7,800-square foot high definition video board and distributed sound system that were installed prior to the 2016 season. The $13.5 million project was funded by the U. Athletics Department and Auxiliary Services.

SPENCE & CLEONE ECCLES FOOTBALL CENTER

STATE-OF-THE-ART HOME OF THE UTES

- Includes 150,000-square feet of offices, meeting rooms, player and staff locker rooms, players' lounge, auditorium and two outdoor patios.
- All Utah student-athletes utilize the building's cafeteria and technologically advanced sports medicine and rehabilitation center.
- Attached to the 19,000-sqare foot Alex Smith Strength & Conditioning Center. Within close proximity to the 74,000-square foot Spence Eccles Field House.

The Utes call home one of the premier training centers in college football. The Spence and Cleone Eccles Football Center, a 150,000-square foot, $32 million state-of-the-art facility, was officially dedicated on Aug. 15, 2013.

The Spencer F. and Cleone P. Eccles Family Foundation supplied the lead gift for the facility, with additional major grants from the George S. and Dolores Doré Eccles Foundation and the Sorenson Legacy Foundation.

The Eccles Football Center is equally beautiful as it is functional. The three-story structure features two courtyards and large sweeping glass windows, which provide picturesque views of the Wasatch Mountains to the south and east, and downtown Salt Lake City and the Oquirrh Mountains to the west.

The facility includes a 6,500-square foot locker room. Each of the program's 125 players is allocated a custom-crafted locker with roomy and ventilated space, and secure storage for personal belongings. Charging stations for portable electronic devices are also included.

A spacious 3,600-square foot players' lounge, featuring numerous large flat screen HD televisions, billiard games, a hydration station and group study areas, spills out to a sprawling two-tiered observation deck overlooking the practice fields. Providing great views of the Salt Lake valley and Rice-Eccles Stadium, the deck has already proven to be a popular place for team get-togethers and alumni events.

The facility houses over 47,000-square feet of offices, meeting rooms and an auditorium. Each member of the coaching staff is provided with a professional and comfortable office, equipped with the latest technology for maximum efficiency. The building also features a new and expanded 6,500-square foot Utah Football Hall of Fame.

And, the building isn't just for football; the training, rehabilitation and nutritional needs of every Utah student-athlete have been enhanced greatly by the new facility. A technologically advanced 17,000-square foot sports medicine complex, including a dedicated hydrotherapy center, allows the Utah sports medicine staff to utilize cutting edge rehabilitation and therapy techniques. The building also houses a 250-seat cafeteria, serving meals tailored to the specific diets of student-athletes.

The Eccles Football Center is attached to the 19,000-square foot Alex Smith Strength & Conditioning Center, which opened in the summer of 2009. The Spence Eccles Field House, a 74,000-square foot indoor training facility that opened in 2004, sits adjacent to the new building.

In terms of both amenities and size, the Utah football program is assured of having one of the finest training complexes in the nation well into the heart of this century.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK

THE LOWDOWN
It's a new day for Utah's quarterbacks with the arrival of offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach Troy Taylor, mastermind of the top passing offense in the NCAA FCS at Eastern Washington last fall. Taylor, whose reputation as an elite-level quarterback coach precedes him, has the luxury of three quarterbacks with NCAA FBS experience at his new school. The three-man race was too close to call during spring camp.

HEADLINERS RETURNING
Senior Troy Williams (6-2, 208) started all 13 games last season, passing for 2,757 yards and 15 touchdowns while running for another five scores. Poised in the pocket and mobile, Williams also brings the intangibles of leadership and maturity. Tyler Huntley (6-1, 190, So.) showed enticing talent as a true freshman backup last season. He poses a deadly dual threat with his big arm and explosive run game.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Cooper Bateman (6-3, 217, Sr.), a three-year letterman at Alabama, walked on with the Utes in the spring as a graduate transfer. Bateman's precision passing and decision making soon put him on equal footing with Williams and Huntley.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Troy Williams is the most experienced quarterback of the group and did a solid job for us last year as our starter. Tyler Huntley is a big-play threat with multi-dimensional skills. Cooper Bateman has played for a national championship team. We are very deep at this position."

OFFENSIVE LINE

THE LOWDOWN
Fourth-year offensive line coach Jim Harding—in his first season as assistant head coach—faces the biggest rebuilding task of his Utah career after four of his starters from a year ago were selected in the 2017 NFL Draft. With just one starter returning, competition for the remaining spots will come not only from players Harding has groomed for this day, but the new recruiting class as well.

HEADLINER RETURNING
All-conference candidate Salesi Uhatafe (6-5, 320), a workhorse who led the offensive line in total plays in 2016, will start for his fourth season. After playing right guard his first three years, Uhatafe will move outside to right tackle for his senior season.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Two mammoth newcomers could see immediate playing time. Junior college transfer Jordan Agasiva (6-4, 345, Jr.) will join the team in the summer, while freshman Orlando Umana (6-4, 330) got an early jump on his college career in the spring.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Obviously, we lost a lot of talented offensive linemen to the NFL after last season, but we feel good about the young linemen coming up through the system and the new recruits we added this past offseason. We feel as though we can come away with eight or nine guys that are ready to play, which is what you want on the offensive line."

WIDE RECEIVER

THE LOWDOWN
With balls flying around the field in new offensive coordinator Troy Taylor's fast-paced spread offense, receivers coach Guy Holliday will utilize a fleet of receivers to catch them. Six returners established their place on the depth chart in the spring, but they'll be challenged by some heralded recruits in preseason camp.

HEADLINERS RETURNING
Raelon Singleton (6-3, 212, Jr.), Demari Simpkins (5-10, 181, So.) and Siaosi Wilson (6-2, 193, So.) started in multiple games last year and Singleton ranked second on the team with 464 yards and four touchdown receptions, while averaging a team-best 17.2 yards per catch.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Junior college transfer Derrick Vickers (5-11, 185, Jr.), a two-time all-purpose first-team All-American out of Bakersfield College, is among several new receivers who also excelled as sprinters on their high school track teams.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"This is an offense that allows receivers to have great production and there will be plenty of opportunities for this group to make plays."

RUNNING BACK

THE LOWDOWN
Utah has produced two fourth-round NFL draft picks in the past two years, most recently Joe Williams, who set a school record by averaging 156.3 yards per game in 2016. Fortunately for first-year Ute running backs coach Kiel McDonald, there are more star running backs in the hopper.

HEADLINERS RETURNING
Returning are two punishing runners who had won the starting job a year ago only to lose it to injuries. Junior Armand Shyne (5-11, 210), the team's leading rusher before a season-ending injury in game five, averaged 74.6 yards per game and rushed for four touchdowns. Zach Moss (5-10, 210, So.) averaged 83.7 yards in three games as the starter, but missed the next two games with an injury and spent the rest of the season as Joe Williams' backup.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
After playing in just one game as a true freshman in 2016, Devonta'e Henry-Cole (5-8, 192, So.) served notice in spring camp that he will challenge Shyne and Moss for the lead role as a sophomore. He ran a 4.43-second 40 in the spring and is the fastest Ute running back.

WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Armand Shyne, Zach Moss and Devonta'e Henry-Cole are all talented players who offer us a variety of running styles. Last year showed the depth you need to have at the running back position."

TIGHT END

THE LOWDOWN
Second-year coach Freddie Whittingham got a good look at his young tight ends in the spring and liked what he saw. This season, however, look for veterans to get most of the playing time.

HEADLINERS RETURNING
The key will be keeping senior co-starters Siale Fakailoatonga (6-4, 257) and Harrison Handley (6-5, 250) healthy. Fakailoatonga has missed 20 games in the last two seasons (including all of 2016) with injuries. Handley led Utah's tight ends with 21 receptions for 286 yards and four touchdowns in 2015, but was slowed by injuries his junior season.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Redshirt freshman Bapa Falemaka (6-3, 244) stood out in spring camp in Fakailoatonga and Handley's absence.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Siale and Harrison are definitely the leaders of this group. They are smart, experienced, physical in the run game and outstanding receivers. They will be good mentors to our younger players."

2017 SCOUTING REPORT

DEFENSE

DEFENSIVE LINE

THE LOWDOWN
Three senior starters from last year graduated to NFL teams, joining five other former Ute defensive linemen on current NFL rosters. Look for the pipeline to keep flowing from 'Sack Lake City' to the next level with the 2017 class of defensive linemen—now in their second year under the direction of assistant coach Lewis Powell.

HEADLINERS RETURNING
Three of the best defensive linemen in the Pac-12 Conference return in senior tackles Lowell Lotulelei (6-2, 320) and Filipo Mokofisi (6-3, 295), and senior end Kylie Fitts (6-4, 260). Lotulelei and Mokofisi are both All-Pac-12 honorees (Lotulelei was first team as a sophomore) and Fitts will get his chance to join them on the all-conference team after missing most of 2016 with an injury.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Sophomore tackle John Penisini (6-2, 307) had 40 tackles with 6.5 TFL, three sacks and a forced fumble as a freshman at Snow College in 2015. Don't expect much time to tick off Penisini's three-year NCAA clock before he makes an impact for the Utes.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Our defensive line reloads rather than rebuilds. We have a solid nucleus in seniors Lowell Lotulelei, Filipo Mokofisi and Kylie Fitts along with several talented underclassmen. We expect Bradlee Anae and Leki Fotu, who both played as true freshmen last season, to be impact players this year."

LINEBACKER

THE LOWDOWN
Unlike a year ago when assistant coach Justin Ena had to break in an entirely new linebacker corps, this year's unit returns four experienced players.

HEADLINER RETURNING
Once junior college transfer Kavika Luafatasaga (6-4, 235, Sr.) mastered the playbook, he became a dominating force at rover. Luafatasaga can chase down runners from sideline to sideline and his strong finish last year could be a precursor to an all-conference season in 2017.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
He played safety, receiver and punter at Otay Ranch High School in Chula Vista, Calif., but freshman Devin Lloyd (6-3, 219) will suit up at linebacker for the Utes.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"This position group is much further ahead of where we were last year at this time. Kavika Luafatasaga, Sunia Tauteoli, Cody Barton and Donavan Thompson are now all game-tested veterans."

CORNERBACK

THE LOWDOWN
Cornerbacks coach Sharrieff Shah must fill gaping holes at both corners after three seniors from last year's team advanced to the NFL, including one draft pick. The good news is he has a host of athletic players capable of plugging them, among them a highly-rated recruiting class that could see the field right away. The Utes must also replace a four-year starter at nickel back.

HEADLINERS RETURNING
While most of their game experience has been on special teams, junior Casey Hughes (5-11, 185) and sophomore Julian Blackmon (6-1, 187) had standout performances at corner in the spring.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Four-star recruit Jaylon Johnson (6-0, 181, Fr.) was rated in the top eight in the nation at cornerback by both Rivals and Scout. At the Opening Finals camp, he ran a laser-timed 4.47 40-yard dash and recorded a 38'3" vertical jump.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Although short on experience at the corner position, we feel we have a talented pool of players that possess the speed and athleticism needed to excel in our demanding man-to-man defensive schemes. Our corners will have to learn on the job against some of the best passing attacks in the country."

SAFETY

THE LOWDOWN
Even after losing Marcus Williams a year early to the NFL as a second-round draft pick, defensive coordinator/safeties coach Morgan Scalley will again feature one of the top safety combos in the Pac-12.

HEADLINER RETURNING
Junior Chase Hansen (6-3, 220) will be a preseason favorite for first-team all-conference honors after exploding onto the scene in his first full season on defense. Hansen, who came to Utah as a quarterback, led the 2016 Utes in tackles (90), passes defended (12) and pass breakups (9). The ball-hawking strong safety tied for second in the nation with four fumble recoveries and forced three fumbles.

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Junior college transfer Corrion Ballard (6-3, 205, Jr.) joined the team in the spring and immediately wowed his way into a starting job at free safety. A rangy player with great instincts, Ballard also fits Utah's profile of hard-hitting safeties.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"As good as Chase Hansen was last year, we feel his best football is still ahead of him. The sky is the limit for Chase. Corrion Ballard has a very similar build and style of play as Marcus Williams, and we should once again have an outstanding pair of safeties."

KICKING GAME

THE LOWDOWN
He still has the best punter in the country on his team, but Kyle Whittingham—who coaches the punters and kickers—must find a replacement for school record-holder and four-time All-Pac-12 selection Andy Phillips. Utah's coverage teams and returners are solid under special teams' co-coordinators Sharrieff Shah and Justin Ena.

HEADLINER RETURNING
Junior Mitch Wisnowsky (6-2, 220) won the Ray Guy Award in his first season at Utah and was a unanimous consensus All-American. Wishnowsky led the nation in net punting (44.63), punts of 50+ yards (30) and punts inside the 10-yard line (17), while ranking second nationally in punt average (47.7) and punts inside the 20-yard line (34).

NEWCOMER SPOTLIGHT
Sophomore Hayes Hicken (5-11, 188), a kickoff specialist last season, will compete with incoming freshman Chayden Johnston (6-0, 160) for the placekicking job.

COACH WHITTINGHAM SAYS
"Obviously, we are in great shape at punter with Mitch Wishnowsky. However, we will be breaking in an entirely new placekicking unit after losing four year starters Andy Phillips (at kicker) and Chase Dominguez (at snapper)."

Troy Williams (#3) returns as the starting quarterback behind veteran offensive linemen Jackson Barton (#70) and Salesi Uhatafe (#74).

Kyle Whittingham

HEAD COACH | 13TH YEAR

Kyle Whittingham, the 2008 National Coach of the Year, has participated in more Utah victories than any football coach in school history. Utah has won 189 games in Whittingham's 23 years on the staff, including a 104-50 record in 12 years as the head coach.

Among those head coaching wins is a remarkable 10-1 bowl record. Whittingham owns the best bowl win percentage in NCAA history (91%) and his 10 bowl wins ties him for second among active coaches (one behind Alabama's Nick Saban). Including ties, he is ranked in the top 10 in all-time bowl victories.

Overall, he has averaged nearly nine wins a season as Utah's head coach. The Utes have wins over every team in the Pac-12 Conference since joining the league in 2011 and Whittingham's impressive non-conference resume includes a winning record against current members of the other Power Five conferences: 4-0 vs. the Big Ten, 7-1 against the ACC, 1-0 vs. the SEC and 4-3 over the Big 12.

Whittingham came to Utah in 1994 as the defensive line coach and was promoted to defensive coordinator the following year. On December 8, 2004, he was named the school's 20th head coach. His first victory came three weeks later when he co-coached (with Urban Meyer) the 2005 Fiesta Bowl win over Pittsburgh. His first regular-season victory was against Arizona in the 2005 season opener.

In 2008, Whittingham engineered the best season in Utah football history when the Utes finished 13-0 and routed Alabama—a team that spent five weeks at No. 1—in the Sugar Bowl. Utah finished the season with a No. 2 AP ranking and Whittingham was recognized as the National Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) and the Paul "Bear" Bryant Awards committee.

Utah was the country's only undefeated FBS team in 2008 and beat four top-25 teams—two that finished in the top 10. In addition to his national awards, Whittingham was named the Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year.

His success has continued in the Pac-12 Conference where Utah has claimed one South Division co-championship (2015) and has finished in the top three in the South three times (2011, 2015, 2016). The Utes have won all four of their bowl games since joining the Pac-12. Whittingham has been a semifinalist for the George Munger Coach of the Year Award for the past three seasons (2014-16).

His teams have recorded five AP top-25 finishes: No. 2 (2008), No. 17 (2015), No. 18 (2009), No. 21 (2014) and No. 23 (2016). In 2010, Utah finished No. 23 in the Coaches' poll. Utah has appeared in every College Football Playoff ranking since its inception in 2014—finishing No. 22 in 2014 and 2015 and No. 19 in 2016.

Whittingham has also achieved success against AP top-25 teams, logging 13 wins over ranked teams, including victories over No. 4 Alabama (2009), No. 5 Stanford (2013) and No. 8 UCLA (2014).

Whittingham's players have earned numerous individual honors as well. Eleven of his players have made major All-America teams in 13 seasons. First-team All-Americans were Luther Elliss (1994, consensus defensive lineman), Eric Weddle (2006, consensus defensive back), Louie Sakoda (2007, punter; 2008, unanimous consensus place kicker), Zane Beadles (2009, offensive line), Shaky Smithson (2010, punt returner), Star Lotulelei (2012, defensive tackle), Reggie Dunn (2012, kick returner), Nate Orchard (2014, defensive end), Kaelin Clay (2014, returner), Tom Hackett (2014, consensus punter; 2015, unanimous consensus punter) and Mitch Wishnowsky (2016, unanimous consensus punter). Whittingham has also coached three second-team All-Americans in Morgan Scalley (2004, defensive back), Caleb Schlauderaff (2010, offensive line) and Hunter Dimick (2016, defensive end).

Whittingham, who also coaches Utah's punters and kickers, has mentored the Ray Guy Award winner as the nation's best punter in the last three seasons (Hackett, 2014-15 and Wishnowsky, 2016). Orchard was another of his national award winners, receiving the 2014 Ted Hendricks Award as the country's top defensive end.

Whittingham's players have won 70 first-team all-conference awards, including 19 in Utah's first six seasons of Pac-12 play. Among them were three-time first-team honoree Hackett (2013-15) and two-time recipient Lotulelei (2011-12). Utes have also captured three Morris Awards, which honors the Pac-12's best linemen as voted on by the starting linemen on all 12 teams. Utah winners were defensive tackle Lotulelei in 2011, defensive end Orchard in 2014 and offensive guard Isaac Asiata in 2016.

Prior to joining the Pac-12, Whittingham coached a Mountain West Conference MVP in five-straight years from 2004-08: Defensive Players of the Year Scalley (2004) and Weddle (2005 and 2006), Special Teams Player of the Year Sakoda (2006, 2007, 2008), and Offensive Player of the Year Brian Johnson (2008).

Utah has also excelled academically under Whittingham. Since he became head coach in 2005, his players have earned four Academic All-America citations and 218 academic all-conference awards.

Whittingham owns a reputation for developing NFL talent, which was reinforced by a school-record eight NFL draft picks in 2017. Utah's eight draft picks in 2017 led the Pac-12 and tied for third in the country. In 2010, six Utes were drafted, which tied for fourth nationally. As an assistant or head coach, 80 of Whittingham's players have signed contracts with NFL teams. Among them were 45 draft picks—including 13 first or second-round selections—and 36 undrafted free agents.

Whittingham began his coaching career in 1985-86 as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Brigham Young. He spent one season as the defensive coordinator at the College of Eastern Utah in 1987, before a six-year stint at Idaho State from 1988-93.

A linebacker for BYU from 1978-81, Whittingham earned first-team all-WAC and WAC Defensive Player of the Year honors in 1981. He played in the first four Holiday Bowls and was named Defensive MVP of the 1981 game. In 2008, he was inducted into the Holiday Bowl Hall of Fame. After his senior season, Whittingham played in the Hula and Japan Bowls. He played professionally with the Denver Broncos (1982 training camp) and the U.S. Football League's (USFL) Denver Gold (1983) and New Orleans Breakers (1984). He played on the Los Angeles Rams' replacement squad in 1987.

Whittingham graduated from BYU in 1984 and added a master's degree from the school in 1987. Born Nov. 21, 1959, he was raised in Provo, Utah. He is married to the former Jamie Daniels. They have four children: Tyler, Melissa, Alex and Kylie, and one grandchild. Tyler played for the Utes from 2009-11 and Alex is preparing for his senior season at Utah.

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Morgan Scalley

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR / SAFETIES | 10TH YEAR

Morgan Scalley is his second year as Utah's defensive coordinator and his 10th season coaching the safeties. He also served as Utah's special teams' coordinator in 2015 and was the recruiting coordinator from 2009-15.

Preceding his appointment as the safeties coach in 2008, Scalley spent two years in training as a Utah administrative assistant in 2006 and a graduate assistant in 2007.

In Scalley's first season as the defensive coordinator, Utah boasted the Pac-12's best rushing defense and also led the conference in sacks (43) and tackles for loss (101). The Utes ranked in the top 12 nationally in sacks and tackles for loss. Utah ranked fourth in the Pac-12 in scoring defense.

On an individual front, Scalley has coached two All-Americans, four first-team all-conference players and two Freshman All-Americans in his various roles. His first All-American came as the special teams' coordinator in 2015 when punter Tom Hackett was a unanimous consensus All-American and won the Ray Guy Award as the country's top punter. Utah led the nation in net punting in 2015. Last season, defensive end Hunter Dimick was an All-American on three of the consensus teams (second team Walter Camp and FWAA and third team AP) and made seven total All-America teams. Dimick was also a finalist for the Ted Hendricks award, which honors the nation's best defensive end.

First-team Pac-12 players coached by Scalley include Hackett, Dimick and safety Marcus Williams. Scalley mentored safety Robert Johnson to first-team all-Mountain West honors. Safeties Eric Rowe and Brian Blechen were both Freshman All-Americans. Johnson, Rowe, Blechen and Williams all graduated to the NFL after their Utah careers.

Johnson, a fifth-round NFL draft pick in 2010, played three seasons in the NFL. Rowe, a 2015 second-round draft pick, played for the New England Patriots' Super Bowl championship team in 2016. Blechen is preparing for his third season as an undrafted free agent with Carolina. Marcus Williams was a second-round pick of New Orleans in the 2017 NFL Draft. Also hoping to stick in the NFL is 2017 undrafted free agent safety Jason Thompson (New England).

Scalley is widely respected as a recruiter and produced several highly-rated classes during his time as the recruiting coordinator. Rivals.com rated Utah's 2012 recruiting class as the country's 25th best while Scout.com gave the Utes a No. 32 ranking. In 2011, Rivals described Scalley as one of the top recruiters in the Pac-12 and a "recruiting coordinator on the rise."

He was Rivals' non-BCS recruiter of the year in 2010 and one of the top 25 recruiters in the nation overall. Rivals ranked Utah's 2010 recruiting class as the best by a school from a non-automatic qualifying conference and 32nd overall.

PLAYING CAREER

Scalley starred at safety for the Utes and was the 2004 MWC co-Defensive Player of the Year, a unanimous first-team all-conference selection and a second-team All-American by the Associated Press and SI.com. A four-year letterman from 2001-04, he was a second-team all-MWC defensive back in 2003 and an honorable mention all-MWC punt returner in 2001 and 2002.

As a senior, he captained Utah to 12-0 record, a Fiesta Bowl win over Pittsburgh and a No. 4 national ranking in a historic season in which Utah became the first non-BCS team to play in a BCS bowl game.

Scalley was a two-time first-team Academic All-American (2003-04), the 2004 Anson Mount Scholar Athlete of the Year and the 2004 MWC Scholar Athlete of the Year. He was awarded two post-graduate scholarships, including one from the NCAA.

He was presented with the inaugural Pat Tillman award during the 2005 East-West Shrine Game, recognizing him for his character, intelligence, sportsmanship and service.

After graduating Magna Cum Laude from the U. with a 3.96 GPA, Scalley earned a master's degree in business.

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Troy Taylor

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR / QUARTERBACKS | 1ST YEAR

Troy Taylor, who directed the top passing offense in the NCAA FCS in 2016 at Eastern Washington, begins his first season as Utah's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

Taylor came to Utah after a highly-successful season as the co-offensive coordinator, play caller and quarterbacks coach at EWU. The Eagles, who averaged an FCS-best 401.0 passing yards per game in 2016, also ranked No. 2 nationally in total offense (529.6 ypg) and No. 3 in scoring offense (42.4 ppg). Eastern Washington finished 12-2, losing 40-38 in the FCS semifinals to Youngstown State.

Under Taylor, Eastern Washington sophomore Gage Gubrud set an NCAA FCS single-season record by passing for 5,160 yards, while throwing 48 touchdown passes. Gabrud, the 2016 FCS Player of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Columbus, averaged 368.6 passing yards per game, which also led the nation.

Taylor's instant success at Eastern Washington mirrored his lofty accomplishments as a high school coach and founder of The Passing Academy—a highly-regarded elite high school quarterback camp. His offense at Folsom High School in California set state records for passing in four straight seasons, as well as the record for most points scored in a season.

Among Taylor's most notable high school success stories was 2016 Pac-12 Offensive Player of the Year Jake Browning of Washington. Taylor coached Browning from the time he was in fifth grade until he graduated as one of the most prolific passers in prep history from Folsom High. Browning set national records for touchdowns in a season (91 in 2014, tied) and a career (229, in just three seasons). He set a number of California state high school records as well, including season (5,790) and career (16,775) passing yards.

Taylor's first coaching job was at Casa Roble High School in Sacramento, Calif., in 1994 and his first college coaching job was as a graduate assistant at Colorado in 1995. He then spent four years as a Cal assistant from 1996-1999, coaching the wide receivers (1996), quarterbacks (1997-98) and tight ends (1999). He was also Cal's recruiting coordinator in 1999.

Taylor left Cal to become an assistant athletic director at Christian Brothers High School (2000-01) in Sacramento, where he also taught and was an assistant football coach for one season (2000). Before taking the post at Eastern Washington in 2016, Taylor spent seven years as a high school coach and teacher, including two stints (2002-04 and 2012-15) as the co-head coach at Folsom. Folsom went 58-3 from 2012-15, winning four Sac-Joaquin Section championships and the 2014 CIF State Division I title.

Taylor also served as the Cal football radio analyst from 2005-2011.

PLAYING CAREER

A record-setting quarterback at Cal, Taylor later played two seasons for the New York Jets as a fourth-round draft pick in 1990. Taylor led the Pac-10 Conference in total offense in 1989 and finished his collegiate career as Cal's all-time leading passer (8,126 yards) and total offense leader (8,236 yards)—records that stood for 26 years until they were broken by Jared Goff in 2015.

Jim Harding

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH / OFFENSIVE LINE | 4TH YEAR

Following the 2016 season, Jim Harding was appointed as Utah's assistant head coach by head coach Kyle Whittingham. Harding will continue to coach the offensive line in his new capacity—a position he has coached since joining the staff in 2014. He also served as the co-offensive coordinator from 2015-16.

Utah's offensive line has earned a reputation as one of the best in the country under Harding. He has coached five NFL draft picks in his three seasons at Utah, including a school-record four offensive linemen selected in the 2017 draft.

Garett Bolles, first-team All-Pac-12 Conference in his only NCAA season in 2016, was a first-round pick of the Denver Broncos. Three others off Harding's 2016 starting line went in rounds 5-6 of the 2017 NFL Draft: Isaac Asiata (Miami), J.J. Dielman (Cincinnati) and Sam Tevi (San Diego). A year previously, Jeremiah Poutasi was a third-round draft pick of the Tennessee Titans.

In addition to Bolles' first-team All-Pac-12 recognition in 2016, Asiata won the Morris Award, which honors the best offensive lineman in the Pac-12 by vote of the league's starting defensive linemen.

With Harding's linemen opening holes, Utah has boasted a thousand yard rusher for the last three seasons: Devontae Booker in 2014 and 2015 and Joe Williams in 2016. Both were All-Pac-12 Conference selections—Booker was first team in 2014—and Williams set a school single-season record by averaging 156.3 rushing yards per game in 2016. They would become back-to-back fourth-round NFL draft picks: Booker by Denver in 2016 and Williams by San Francisco in 2017.

Before coming to Utah, Harding coached five seasons at Wyoming (2009-13). He served as the Cowboys' co-offensive line coach his first four seasons and was also the run game coordinator in 2012. In 2013, Harding was promoted to co-offensive coordinator while taking sole control of the offensive line. The Cowboys finished 22nd in the country in total offense that season, averaging 472.7 yards a game.

Harding's line allowed just 12 sacks in 2011, which ranked 11th in the nation. Center Nick Carlson was a three-time all-MWC selection (first team in 2012).

Harding's college coaching career began at Missouri, where he was an offensive graduate assistant from 2002-04.

From 2005-08, he coached at Troy High School (Mich.). He was the head coach and defensive coordinator in 2008 after three seasons as the defensive coordinator.

PLAYING CAREER

A four-year starting offensive tackle at Toledo from 1997-2000, Harding set a school record with 46 consecutive starts. Harding was a first-team all-Mid-American Conference selection as a senior in 2000, when he captained a Toledo team that finished with a 10-1 record and a No. 25 ranking in the final Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches' polls. He was named the co-recipient of the Jim Nicholson Award, presented each year to the Toledo player who contributes the most toward the team's success. Toledo won or shared three MAC West Division titles in his four seasons, winning the 1997 and 1998 MAC West Division outright and finishing as co-champions of the MAC West in 2000.

Sharrieff Shah

CORNERBACKS / CO-SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR | 6TH YEAR

Sharrieff Shah, now in his sixth year as Utah's cornerbacks coach, is in his second year as the co-special teams' coordinator. His primary responsibility on special teams is the return units.

Cited by ESPN.com in 2014 as one of "10 coaches who adapt and thrive," Shah has helped his players do the same, developing three cornerback converts into NFL draft picks. Onetime safety Keith McGill was the first Pac-12 cornerback drafted in 2014 when he was selected in the fourth round by Oakland. Rowe, who also began his Ute career at safety, was drafted in the second round by Philadelphia in 2015 and played for the Super Bowl champion New England Patriots in 2016. Most recently, receiver-turned-cornerback Brian Allen was drafted in the fifth round by Pittsburgh in 2017.

Shah's corners accounted for half of Utah's interceptions in both 2012 and 2015. The 2015 Utes led the Pac-12 with 22 interceptions, which ranked third nationally. Utah also led the Pac-12 in passes defended in 2015 with 88—38 of them from the cornerbacks.

In 2016, Utah's 18 interceptions (seven by the cornerbacks) ranked second in the Pac-12 and tied for ninth in the nation. The corners also contributed 26 of Utah's 71 passes defended to help Utah tie for 14th place nationally.

Shah was named "Defensive Backs Coach of the Week" by CoachingSearch.com after wins over Michigan and California in 2015. His corners had two interceptions against Michigan—returning one for a touchdown—and reeled in three of Utah's five picks against future NFL No. 1 overall draft pick Jared Goff of Cal.

Last year, in Shah's first season as the co-special teams' coordinator over the return teams, the Utes ranked third in the Pac-12 and 21st in the nation with a 23.4 kickoff return average. Cory Butler-Byrd and Kyle Fulks both had returns of 90-plus yards, with Butler-Byrd scoring on a 99-yard kickoff return.

Before his promotion to co-special teams' coordinator, Shah served as the lead coach for Utah's punt return unit in 2014 and 2015. In 2014, Kaelin Clay was a first-team All-American and first-team All-Pac-12 return specialist who led the country in punt returns for touchdowns (3). The Utes finished fifth nationally in total punt return yards (386).

In 2015, Utah led the Pac-12 in total punt returns (30) and was second in punt return yards (325). Britain Covey finished second in the Pac-12 in punt returns (21) and average (11.71) and was named honorable mention All-Pac-12 as a true freshman.

After an all-conference career at Utah, Shah took a unique path into coaching. He spent 12 years as a practicing attorney, first as a commercial litigator with Parsons, Behle & Latimer (2001-06) and then as a trial attorney with Siegfried & Jensen (2006-11). He specialized in medical malpractice and catastrophic automobile accidents at Siegfried & Jensen, which is the largest personal injury law firm in the state of Utah.

During his career as an attorney, Shah stayed tethered to the game as a certified agent through the NFL's Player Association (NFLPA) from 1996-2002. He also trained players for the NFL Combine, was a sideline reporter for Utah's flagship radio station ESPN 700 from 2000-11 and a sideline analyst for local television stations KUTV and KJZZ in their Ute broadcasts for three seasons.

As an agent, he negotiated multi-million dollar contracts and represented players in the NFL, CFL and NFL Europe. Among his clients was his brother Karim Abdul Jabbar (now known as Abdul Karim-Al Jabbar), a former running back for the Miami Dolphins, Cleveland Browns and Indianapolis Colts.

PLAYING CAREER

A four-year letterman for the Utes from 1990-93, Shah started three seasons at strong safety before he incurred a career-ending neck injury three games into his senior season. A team captain, Shah was an honorable mention all-Western Athletic Conference safety in 1991 and 1992. He was named the Sports Illustrated National Defensive Player of the Week and WAC Player of the Week in Utah's 1991 win over Oregon State, when he contributed 13 tackles, five tackles for loss, three sacks and two forced fumbles. Shah's performance against OSU still ranks in the top five in Utah's single-game record book in four different categories: tackles for loss, forced fumbles, sacks and total lost yards (30). He also ran indoor track for the Utes, competing in the 60-yard dash and long jump from 1990-92. He qualified for the WAC Indoor Track and Field Championships all three years.

Justin Ena

LINEBACKERS / CO-SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR | 3RD YEAR

Justin Ena (pronounced eh-nuh) undertakes his third year as Utah's linebackers coach. He is in his second year as the co-special teams' coordinator in charge of the coverage teams.

The linebackers have played a big role in Utah leading the Pac-12 and ranking in the top 25 nationally in rushing defense for the past two seasons. The 2015 Utes finished sixth nationally in rushing defense.

Ena has also made an impact on Utah's special teams. Utah was the NCAA's net punting champion in 2016 with a 44.63 average.

Ena coached seniors Gionni Paul and Jared Norris to All-Pac-12 honors in his first season with the Utes. Paul, the team's leading tackler in 2015 with 117 stops, made the first team and Norris (second with 87 tackles) was named to the All-Pac-12 second team. Norris now plays for the Carolina Panthers.

Ena's position has also won three Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week honors—two by Paul in 2015 and one by Sunia Tauteoli in 2016.

Now in his ninth year as a college coach, Ena played four seasons in the NFL from 2002-05 with Philadelphia and Tennessee.

His most recent coaching stop before joining the Utah staff was at Weber State in 2014, where he was the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach. He spent the six previous years at Southern Utah (2008-13)—the last four as the defensive coordinator. He was SUU's special teams coordinator his first two seasons.

Southern Utah achieved NCAA FCS top-25 national rankings on both special teams and defense with Ena as a coordinator, including a No. 1 national ranking in net punting in 2009. Other high national marks included FCS rankings of No. 3 in punt return average and No. 6 in net punting in 2008; No. 9 in punt return average in 2009; No. 17 in scoring defense, No. 21 in total defense and No. 21 in run defense in 2010; No. 13 in sacks per game and No. 19 in pass defense in 2011; and No. 5 in turnover margin in 2012.

The 2013 T-birds finished second in the Big Sky Conference in total defense and third in scoring defense.

Individual honors during Ena's time at SUU included two-year All-America punter Trevor Ward and return specialist Nick Miller, the nation's leader in all-purpose yards in 2008. Other accolades went to All-America defensive tackle Cody Larsen and Freshman All-Americans Zak Browning (linebacker), and James Cowser (defensive end). Browning was the Big Sky's Newcomer of the Year in 2012.

The Thunderbirds placed 12 defenders on the all-Great West Conference team from 2010-11, including 10 first-team selections. Tyler Osborne became SUU's first GWC Defensive Player of the Year in 2011.

PLAYING CAREER

As an undergraduate at BYU, Ena was a three-year starter and three-time Mountain West all-conference linebacker. He then spent four seasons in the NFL, three with the Philadelphia Eagles and one with the Tennessee Titans, playing in 47 NFL games.

Lewis Powell

DEFENSIVE LINE | 3RD YEAR

Third-year Ute assistant Lewis Powell is in his second year as Utah's defensive line coach following one season coaching the tight ends. Powell previously apprenticed at Utah as a graduate assistant coach in 2009 and 2010 and an administrative assistant in 2011. He left for a post as Hawaii's defensive line coach from 2012-14 before returning to his alma mater.

Including his years as a graduate assistant, Utah has played in bowl game all four years with Lewis on the coaching staff (2009, 2010, 2015, 2016).

In his first season supervising the defensive line, Utah had the top rushing defense in the Pac-12 in 2016 and also led the conference in sacks (43) and tackles for loss (101). The Utes ranked in the top 12 nationally in sacks and tackles for loss.

Lewis saw five of his linemen earn All-Pac-12 honors in 2016, including first-team selection Hunter Dimick. A finalist for the Ted Hendricks Award as the nation's top defensive lineman, Dimick was named a second-team All-American by Walter Camp, Football Writers Association of America and four other teams. He was a third-team Associated Press All-American.

Dimick led the Pac-12 in sacks (14.5) and tackles for loss (20.0) in 2016, while honorable mention All-Pac-12 selection Pita Taumoepenu tied for fourth in the conference with 9.0 sacks.

Taumoepenu became the first draft pick of Lewis's young coaching career—selected in the sixth round of the 2017 NFL Draft by San Francisco. Dimick (Jacksonville) and Pasoni Tasini (Arizona) signed undrafted free agent contracts.

Powell also found success coaching the defensive line at Hawaii, which ranked third in the nation in tackles for loss per game (8.3) in 2013.

PLAYING CAREER

Powell lettered from 2001-03 at Utah, playing on the defensive line. He was named the 2003 Liberty Bowl Defensive Player of the Game in Utah's 17-0 victory over Southern Miss. Utah finished the season with a 10-2 record and was the MWC champion. Following his collegiate career, Powell signed a free agent contract and attended camp with the Cleveland Browns in 2004. He played in the Arena Football League as an offensive and defensive lineman for the Memphis Xplorers (2005) and Utah Blaze (2006-08).

Guy Holliday

WIDE RECEIVERS | 2ND YEAR

Guy Holliday, now in his second season as Utah's wide receivers coach, is approaching a quarter century of college coaching. His 24 seasons on the sidelines include 19 years as a receivers coach and six as an offensive coordinator.

Holliday came to Utah from Brigham Young, where he coached the receivers from 2013-15. His other FBS stops were Western Michigan (2000-02), Mississippi State (2003-06) and UTEP (2008-12). He also coached at Clark-Atlanta (1991), Tuskegee (1992-94), Alabama State (1995 and 1998-99) and Cornell (2007).

Holliday's position played a big role in BYU's No. 21-ranked passing offense in 2015 (296.5 yards per game) and No. 26 passing game in 2014 (278.7 yards per game). He coached Cody Hoffman, the leading receiver in BYU history.

In 2008, Holliday worked with the nation's No. 14-ranked passing offense at UTEP and the Miners ranked 20th in passing offense in 2009. Earlier in his career, he helped Western Michigan win the 2000 Mid-American Conference Western Division title. As the offensive coordinator at Alabama State in 1995 and from 1998-99, the Hornets were one of the Southwestern Athletic Conference's top passing teams. Holliday was also the offensive coordinator at Tuskegee, which ranked in the top 10 in passing offense all three years he was the offensive coordinator.

Holliday has had 22 wide receivers sign with NFL teams, most recently Utah's Tim Patrick, who signed as an undrafted free agent with Baltimore following the 2016 season. Other Holliday-coached receivers who made NFL rosters were BYU's Hoffman and Mitch Mathews; UTEP's Jeff Moturi, Kris Adams, Donavon Kemp and Jordan Leslie (who also played one season for Holliday at BYU); Mississippi State's Justin Jenkins, Lance Long and Brandon McRae; Western Michigan's Kendrick Mosley, Corey Alston, Greg Jennings and Tony Scheffler; Alabama State's J.J. Huggins, Reggie Barlow and Damon Hodge; Clark-Atlanta's Chuck Evans and Millard Hamilton; Tuskegee's Chris Holder and Anthony Mitchell; and Cornell's Bryan Walters.

Holliday has also coached four all-conference players at previous FBS stops: Mississippi State's Jenkins, Western Michigan's Mobolaji Afariogun (at tight end) and Steve Neal and UTEP's Moturi.

Freddie Whittingham

TIGHT ENDS / RECRUITING COORDINATOR | 2ND YEAR

Freddie Whittingham is in his second season as Utah's tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator. He spent four years as Utah football's director of player personnel before making the move to the sidelines.

While he has just one season of coaching under his belt, Whittingham has been immersed in the sport his entire life. His father, the late Fred Whittingham Sr., played in the NFL for nine seasons before embarking on a 20-year NFL and college coaching career, including six years on the Ute staff. Brother Kyle is Utah's current head football coach and brother Cary is the head football coach at Timpview High School in Provo, Utah.

Freddie Whittingham is also well versed in Utah football through his time as its director of player personnel. From 2012-15, he managed all aspects of recruiting administration and organization, directed camps and clinics, and served as the NFL liaison for the Utes.

Prior to joining the Utah football staff in 2012, Whittingham spent nearly 20 years with the McGraw-Hill companies and Simon & Schuster as a sales and marketing executive in the higher education publishing industry. He directed McGraw-Hill Higher Education's West Sales Region, encompassing universities and colleges west of the Mississippi and accounting for annual sales revenues of $100 million.

PLAYING CAREER

Whittingham lettered as a freshman on BYU's 1984 national championship team and was a three-year starting running back from 1987-89. He served as BYU's team captain in 1989, a season in which he was also named a first-team CoSIDA Academic All-American. He was BYU's leading rusher for three consecutive seasons (1987-89), a two-time academic all-Western Athletic Conference selection and BYU's Outstanding Senior Student-Athlete for all sports in 1990. He played on the Los Angeles Rams' practice squad in 1990 and in the World League of American Football in 1991 for the San Antonio Riders and as a member of the Team Dallas practice squad.

Kiel McDonald

RUNNING BACKS | 1ST YEAR

Kiel (pronounced Kyle) McDonald was hired as Utah's running backs coach in January after five seasons in the same position at Eastern Washington, where he was also the co-special teams' coordinator.

While at EWU from 2012-16, the Eagles made the FCS playoffs four times and advanced to the national semifinals in 2012, 2013 and 2016.

While best known for its passing attack (Eastern Washington averaged an FCS-best 401.0 passing yards per last season), McDonald wasted no time shoring up its run game. After inheriting a run game that just averaged 79.0 yards in 2011, McDonald's rushers improved to 183.7 yards per game in his second season.

The EWU running backs also saw their yards-per-carry average jump from 3.0 yards per rush in 2011 to 5.3 yards per carry by 2013—the school's best figure in a dozen seasons. In 2014, McDonald coached senior Quincy Forte to second team All-Big Sky Conference honors when he rushed for 910 yards and nine touchdowns. In 2015, three underclass running backs combined to average 4.9 yards per carry. Eastern's rushers averaged 4.1 yards per rush in 2016.

Before going to Eastern Washington, McDonald spent one season as a graduate assistant offensive quality control coach for Dennis Erickson at Arizona State in 2011. With his hiring at Utah, McDonald succeeded Erickson, who retired after the 2016 season.

The 33-year old McDonald's other coaching experience was as an intern with the San Francisco 49ers in 2010. That season, he also coached the defensive backs and served as the strength coach at San Jose City College.

PLAYING CAREER

McDonald's collegiate playing career began at Sacramento City College, where he was an honorable mention All-NorCal Conference cornerback as a sophomore. He transferred to Sacramento State, where he played in 2005, before graduating with honors (Cum Laude) in the spring of 2006. He finished his career at Idaho, tallying 31 tackles (two for loss), an interception and five pass breakups in 2006.

Defensive Graduate Assistant

Jeremy LaPan, in his third season as an on-field graduate assistant and his sixth season overall at Utah, works with the linebackers and special teams and also scouts opponent offenses.

LaPan earned the opportunity to join the coaching staff after spending three seasons as a Utah football administrative assistant from 2012-14. In that role, he provided administrative support to the coaches over the tight ends, offensive line and special teams.

LaPan came to Utah after finishing his college football career at Montana, where he played offensive tackle from 2010-11. Montana won the 2011 Big Sky championship and advanced to the FCS semifinals his senior season.

LaPan also played two years at Santa Ana College (2008-09), where he was first-team all-Mission Conference and a team captain in 2009. He spent a redshirt season at Utah State in 2010 before transferring to Montana.

LaPan, 28, earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from Montana in 2012 and is currently finishing the graduate program at Utah in sport psychology. The native of Garden Grove, Calif., was born Dec. 16, 1988.

Coordinating the day-to-day logistics of the football team and managing its budget are two of Rudy's primary responsibilities and he also assists with recruiting, team travel, camps and clinics, marketing and public relations, special functions and administrative projects.

He oversaw one of the biggest football facility projects in the nation during the construction of the Spence & Cleone Eccles Football Center, which opened in the summer of 2013.

Rudy played football at Southern Utah where he was an honorable mention all-America West Conference offensive lineman and SUU's two-time African-American Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

Rudy graduated from SUU in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He earned a master's degree in administration of physical education from Azusa Pacific in 2006. ## Chris Hill, Ph.D.

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR / SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT | 31ST YEAR

Just 37 years old when he was appointed as Utah's director of athletics, Chris Hill, Ph.D. has led the school's athletics programs to unprecedented success since his hiring in October of 1987. Now in his 31st year at Utah, he is the nation's longest actively tenured athletics director at the same school in the NCAA FBS.

Hill's most monumental accomplishment was spearheading Utah's move to the Pac-12 Conference in 2011. In their first six seasons in the "Conference of Champions," the Utes have won three Pac-12 gymnastics championships (2014, 2015, 2016), one baseball title (2016) and a football South Division co-championship (2015).

Utah has won 10 NCAA team championships during Hill's tenure—six by the ski team (including the 2017 NCAA title) and four by the gymnastics team. The Utes have also placed second in the nation 16 times since he took the helm, including the 1998 men's basketball team's NCAA runner-up finish and a No. 2 final national ranking by the football team after its win over Alabama in the 2009 Sugar Bowl.

Hill has hired three coaches who won National Coach of the Year honors at Utah: football coaches Urban Meyer (2004) and Kyle Whittingham (2008), and men's basketball coach Rick Majerus (1998).

Hill has served on several national boards, including the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee (2004-09), chair of the NCAA Championships/Competition Cabinet (1997-98) and the NCAA Management Council Administrative Committee. He was on NACDA's executive committee from 2002-06.

The football program, which had not played in a bowl in the 22 years preceding Hill's appointment as athletics director, is 14-4 in bowl games during his term. Utah's other athletic programs have also thrived under his leadership. The men's basketball team has played in 15 NCAA Tournaments—advancing to the Sweet 16 six times and the Elite Eight twice. In 1998, the Runnin' Utes played Kentucky for the NCAA Championship. The women's basketball team also has 15 NCAA appearances, making the Sweet 16 twice and the Elite Eight once. The gymnastics team has made 20 NCAA Super Six appearances while qualifying for the NCAA Championships all 30 years with Hill as AD—and the ski team has finished first or second in the nation 15 times under his watch.

He has received a number of awards, including the following: 2011 National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Under Armour West Region Athletic Director of the Year, finalist for the 2011 Athletic Director of the Year by SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily, 2011 Utah YMCA Man of the Year, 2004 Mountain West Conference's Commissioner's Award, 1981 Milton Bennion Fellowship, 1984 Utah Recreation Therapy Association Outstanding Service award and 1996 Utah MS Sportsperson of the Year.

The New Jersey native was inducted into the Jersey Shore Hall of Fame in 1998. In 2001, the National Consortium for Academics and Sports awarded him its Degree Completion and Outreach and Community Service Honor Award.

Hill has served in five capacities at the U., starting in 1973-74 as a graduate assistant basketball coach on Bill Foster's staff. After coaching boys' basketball at Salt Lake's Granger High from 1975-79 (he was the 1975 4A Coach of the Year), Hill returned to the U. as an assistant coach to Jerry Pimm (1979-81). From 1983-85, he taught in the University's special education department before becoming the athletic department's Crimson Club director (1985-86). In 1987, he was named the director of athletics.

Hill was the executive director of United Cerebral Palsy of Utah from 1981-85, during which time he developed a housing project for people with severe physical disabilities.

As an undergraduate, Hill won three letters in basketball at Rutgers and co-captained the 1971-72 team. His bachelor's degree from Rutgers is in math education (1972). He holds a master's in education (Utah, 1974), and a Ph.D. in educational administration (Utah, 1982).

His wife Kathy, a faculty member in the U.'s Department of Special Education in severe disabilities, received the 2010 College of Education Service Award and the 2012 ASUU Student Choice Award for Excellence in Teaching. They have two children, Aly and Christopher; three granddaughters, Addie, Lily and Ayumi, and a grandson, Jack.

Aly played soccer for the University of Oregon and has a master's degree in social work from Utah. She teaches students with severe disabilities in the Salt Lake City School District. Christopher holds a bachelor's and law degree from the U. He works in business strategy for ESPN and is married to Darci Motoki, who received her bachelor's degree from Boston College and her master's degree from Claremont Graduate University. She is a consultant for Accenture.

BOULDER, Colo.—Red zone failures and dropped balls derailed No. 21 Utah in a 27-22 loss to No. 9 Colorado. While exceptional play by Utah's special teams and defense kept the game close, the offense sputtered on five trips inside the red zone, producing just one touchdown, three short field goals and a turnover on the Buff 2-yard line. Utah's touchdowns came on a first-quarter 55-yard punt return by Boobie Hobbs and a touchdown reception by Demari Simpkins with 1:34 remaining in the game. The Utes had a chance to tie the score on the first play of the fourth quarter when Kyle Fulks returned a kickoff 93 yards to the Colorado 3-yard line, but instead were forced to settle for a field goal. Joe Williams rushed for 97 yards, while the defensive leaders were Chase Hansen (13 tackles, 1 TFL, 1 forced fumble), Kavika Luafatasaga (10 tackles, 2 TFL 1 forced fumble) and Hunter Dimick (3 pass breakups, 1 TFL and a half sack).

EL PASO–Predicted as the most even match-up of the 1938 bowl season, Utah blasted the forecasters and New Mexico, 26-0, on Jan. 2. Utah, the old Big Seven champion, struck early. Tom Pace capped a 58-yard drive with a 15-yard touchdown run off a lateral from Ray Davis midway through the first quarter. With a minute remaining in the period, Ray Peterson intercepted a Lobo pass on the Ute 40-yard line and returned it for a second score. Peterson crossed the goal line again in the second quarter, on a fourth-down, 1-yard plunge.

New Mexico's highly-touted aerial attack never advanced past Utah's 40-yard line. As for the Utes, halfback Clarence Gehrke finished their scoring with a 10-yard dash. New Mexico, co-champion of the old Border League, gained just 153 yards of total offense to Utah's 384.

Atlantic City, N.J. - Dec. 19, 1964

Inside The Game
Utah beats West Virginia in the first indoor major bowl game.

ATLANTIC CITY–Utah never trailed in its 32-6 victory over West Virginia in the 1964 Liberty Bowl–the first indoor major bowl game ever held. A national television audience and 6,059 fans in the Convention Center watched Utah score first on a 29-yard field goal by All-American Roy Jefferson. Jefferson, who also booted a 32-yard field goal, left the game in the first half after separating his shoulder.

But Utah had plenty of firepower left. Halfback Ron Coleman sprinted 53 yards for a touchdown on a day which saw him lead all rushers with 154 rushing yards. Andy Ireland added another long TD dash for the Utes–his went for 47 yards–while quarterback Pokey Allen contributed an 11-yard touchdown run.

The Ute offense, featuring a two-quarterback attack, closed its scoring with a 33-yard touchdown strike from Richard Groth to Bill Morley. In all, the Utes totaled 466 yards of offense.

The Utah defense also did its job, holding the Mountaineers scoreless until the waning minutes of the third quarter. West Virginia's Allen McCune hooked up with receiver Rich Juriga with 5:30 to play for the Mountaineers' sole touchdown. Utah's backfield intercepted four McCune passes.

The Liberty Bowl win capped a 9-2 season for coach Ray Nagel and the Utes. It would stand as the most wins ever by a Ute team for 30 years.

TUCSON–In the early going, Utah played the part of a team that hadn't gone "bowling" for 28 years. But the Utes made up for lost time quickly and nearly upset favored Washington State in one of the most exciting games of the bowl season. After jumping to a 21-0 first-quarter lead, WSU barely held on for a 31-28 win in the Weiser Lock Copper Bowl.

The Utes, who seemingly gave the game away in the first quarter, became acclimated to postseason play in the second and third stanzas, roaring back to tie the score at 28-28. Defense ruled in the fourth quarter and a WSU field goal proved the game winner.

Frank Dolce hit Sean Williams for Utah's first score, a 10-yard pass play. Six minutes later, Keith Williams scampered into pay dirt from 25 yards out to narrow the gap to 21-14. After a 48-yard touchdown pass by Washington State's Drew Bledsoe, Dolce countered with a 49-yard strike to Henry Lusk, who plucked the ball from a defender's hands in a leaping end zone catch.

An 8-yard TD run by Pierre Jones narrowed the gap to 28-26, and a successful two-point conversion from Dolce to Scott Murry tied things up, but only for 20 seconds. Washington State responded with a 22-yard field goal to go ahead 31-28. Utah's Chris Yergensen's 20-yard field goal attempt with 3:19 remaining in the game was wide left and the Utes came up short.

Anaheim, Calif. - Dec. 30, 1993

Inside The Game

Utes dominate the second half but run out of time against the Southern California Trojans.

ANAHEIM–On paper, the Freedom Bowl match-up looked mismatched–the tri-champion of the Pacific-10 Conference (Southern California) against the Western Athletic Conference's fourth-place finisher (Utah). On the field, the pairing looked even worse, at least for two quarters.

Then Utah came alive. When USC jumped to a 28-0 halftime lead, Utah appeared headed for a lopsided loss. Offense? The Utes managed just 101 yards of total offense and failed to cross midfield in the first half. Defense? The Utes gave up 296 yards and four touchdowns. Over? No way.

Led by eventual Freedom Bowl Offensive MVP Henry Lusk, the Utes charged back to within a touchdown of the Trojans, with the ball and a chance to win at the end. Lusk caught six second-half passes for 140 yards and a 59-yard touchdown to help the Utes climb within seven (28-21). In the meantime, Utah's defense slammed the door on USC's vaunted offense, holding the Trojans scoreless in the second half. Junior defensive end Luther Elliss had a huge game for the Utes, with five tackles for lost yardage, two sacks (12 yards) and two pass breakups. Former Trojan Adam Swaney had a career day as a Ute, with four tackles for loss and three sacks (16 yards).

Quarterback Mike McCoy's Hail Mary pass with 0:08 was picked off as time ran out, averting Utah's upset bid.

Anaheim, Calif. - Dec. 27, 1994

TD pass on fourth down gives Utah the win over Arizona in a matchup between ranked teams.

ANAHEIM–In a remarkable ratio of points to yards, Utah won the Freedom Bowl over Arizona, 16-13, despite accumulating just 75 net yards against Arizona's famed Desert Swarm defense. Utah, which managed just five first downs and six rushing yards all night, seemed doomed to its second straight Freedom Bowl defeat when quarterback Mike McCoy found himself in the grasp of a Wildcat defender on fourth-and-goal. But McCoy made a desperation heave on his way to the ground and freshman Kevin Dyson streaked through a crowd of Wildcats to make a game-winning catch with 3:34 left.

Ironically, the hero's mantle and the game MVP award went to neither of the above. Freshman Cal Beck took an Arizona kickoff and sprinted 72 yards to the Ute 5-yard-line with 4:00 remaining. McCoy and Dyson punched it in from there.

Equal credit should go to the U. defense, which limited Arizona to two field goals and a touchdown, for the first Utah bowl win in 20 years. The Wildcats gained only 184 total yards against the Luther Elliss-led Ute defense and converted on just 3-of-13 third down attempts. They failed to score in the second and third quarters, and their sole TD came on a deflected pass in the first quarter.

Tucson, Ariz. - Dec. 27, 1996

Inside The Game
Red zone woes by the Utes, combined with too much Ron Dayne, led to loss to Wisconsin.

TUCSON–The ballyhooed battle between the nation's two biggest collegiate running backs never materialized, as Utah lost star runner Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala to a first-quarter ankle injury. Wisconsin's Ron Dayne held up his end of the bargain, however, rushing for 246 yards and three touchdowns in a 38-10 Wisconsin win.

Offensively, the Utes rang up more net yards (430-365) and more first downs (26-16) than the Badgers, moved inside UW's 5-yard line twice and inside the 20-yard line another three times, but four interceptions spelled their doom. In his final game, U. quarterback Mike Fouts completed 27 of 49 passes for 327 yards, but was picked off four times. Terence Keehan and Kevin Dyson had big receiving nights–catching six passes each for 100 and 95 yards, respectively. Juan Johnson scored Utah's only TD of the day on a 1-yard run late in the third quarter. Johnson accounted for 88 of Utah's 103 rushing yards.

Utah's defense held Wisconsin to just 16 passing yards on 2-of-6 passing, but could not stop the run–allowing 349 yards.

Mike Anderson's big day led Utah to the first bowl win for the new Mountain West Conference.

LAS VEGAS–Running back Mike Anderson and a punishing defensive effort led to the first bowl win for the new Mountain West Conference, courtesy of Utah. The Utes, tri-champions in the league's inaugural season, beat Western Athletic Conference co-champion Fresno State, 17-16.

Statistically, Utah trounced the Bulldogs, winning the total offense battle 548-279. But a spate of special teams breakdowns, including a 75-yard blocked field goal returned for a touchdown by FSU, kept it close.

Anderson and running mate Omar Bacon stole the show in their final collegiate game. Anderson set a Las Vegas Bowl rushing record with 254 yards and scored both of Utah's touchdowns. He also had the day's most impressive run–a 76-yard sprint from the line of scrimmage on Utah's first offensive down. Bacon chipped in 91 rushing yards.

T.D. Croshaw started the game at quarterback but left with a shoulder injury after just one quarter with the game tied 7-7. Darnell Arceneaux relieved and led Utah to victory.

Cletus Truhe had two field goal attempts blocked, but made the game-winner, a 33-yarder with 5:03 remaining. Fresno State's final drive was stopped by Andre Dyson's pass breakup on fourth and seven. Kautai Olevao and Kimball Christianson each had seven tackles for Utah.

Utes ruin the Carson Palmer-led Trojans' Christmas by shutting down their offense.

LAS VEGAS–Utah scored on its second drive in the Sega Sports Las Vegas Bowl on Christmas Day, then relied on an incredible defensive effort to beat favored USC for the first time since 1916.

Ryan Kaneshiro's 26-yard field goal at the end of the first half completed Utah's scoring, but 10 points was enough for the swarming Ute defense. A year later, quarterback Carson Palmer would win the Heisman Trophy while leading USC to the national championship. But against the Utes on this day, the Trojans netted just one yard rushing and 151 total yards. USC logged its only TD on its first drive of the second half before the Sheldon Deckart-led U. defense slammed the door again.

Deckart's six tackles, which included two for a loss and two sacks, led a ferocious Ute pass rush that sacked Palmer five times and tallied nine tackles for loss.

Adam Tate closed his career with a 103-yard rushing day and the Utes' only touchdown. Dameon Hunter (94 yards) was the game's MVP.

MWC champion Utes shut out C-USA champion Southern Miss in the Liberty Bowl.

MEMPHIS—The Southern Mississippi defense received most of the hype coming into the Liberty Bowl, but it was Utah's defense that carried the day in a 17-0 victory. The blitzin' Utes teamed up for five sacks and 10 tackles for loss, causing first-string Golden Eagle quarterback Dustin Almond to lose his cool and backup Micky D'Angelo to leave the game with a concussion.

And, if holding the Conference USA champion to a paltry 11 first downs, 49 rushing yards and 213 total yards wasn't enough, the Ute defense also came to the rescue of its struggling offensive teammates. Late in the second quarter, safety Morgan Scalley sacked Almond, who fumbled. Ute Lewis Powell recovered the fumble on USM's 17-yard line to set up the only offensive touchdown of the game. Utah's other touchdown was scored by none other than Scalley, who scooped up a fumble forced by safety Dave Revill and returned it 74 yards for a touchdown with 1:36 remaining.

Although Utah never got untracked offensively, Brandon Warfield and Paris Warren both had memorable games. Warfield was named the Liberty Bowl offensive MVP after rushing for 91 yards and the game's first touchdown. Warren had 5 receptions for 72 yards to become Utah's single-season receiving record-holder (76 receptions in 2003). Bryan Borreson's 19-yard field goal in the fourth quarter gave Utah a 10-0 lead and some breathing room.

Ray Holdcraft led the defense with 8 tackles, 4 solo, and 2.5 tackles for loss. Revill had 2 sacks and Powell was the game's defensive MVP after recovering 2 fumbles.

The BCS busting Utes finish a perfect 12-0 season at the Fiesta Bowl on New Year's Day.

TEMPE—In the first BCS game ever for a non-BCS school, Utah steamrolled over Big East co-champion Pittsburgh, 35-7, in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Led by offensive co-MVPs Alex Smith and Paris Warren, Utah jumped to a 28-0 lead before Pittsburgh's only score of the day.

Warren's 15 receptions, which went for 198 yards, was a Fiesta Bowl record. Smith was unstoppable, completing 29 of 37 passes for 328 yards and 4 touchdowns (no interceptions). Utah's marvelous Heisman Trophy finalist QB also led all rushers with 68 net yards.

Equally responsible for Utah's blowout victory was the defense, which set a bowl record with nine quarterback sacks. Nose guard Steve Fifita, the defensive MVP, had 5 tackles, 2 tackles for loss and a sack. Safety Eric Weddle led the defense with 11 tackles, a sack and a pass breakup and senior linebacker Tommy Hackenbruck had a monster game in his final Ute outing. Included in Hackenbruck's 10 total tackles were 3 sacks for 29 yards.

The Utes enjoyed a home field atmosphere as the vast majority of sold-out Sun Devil Stadium was red-clad. All estimates suggest it was the largest gathering of Ute fans ever to watch a Utah football game.

San Francisco, Calif. - Dec. 29, 2005

Utah erupts against the nation's 12th-ranked defense for an upset win over Georgia Tech.

SAN FRANCISCO—Brett Ratliff and Travis LaTendresse roasted the nation's No. 12-ranked defense and led Utah to a 38-10 upset win over No. 24 Georgia Tech in the Emerald Bowl.

The Utes jumped out to a 20-0 lead just minutes into the second quarter before Georgia Tech made a little run by scoring all 10 of its points. A field goal with 0:03 left in the first half would mark the end of Tech's scoring for the night, however.

Ratliff's 30 completions, 381 passing yards and four touchdowns shattered the Emerald Bowl records, as well as setting new school and Mountain West Conference bowl records. LaTendresse, the game's offensive MVP, burned the Georgia Tech secondary with a bowl-record 16 receptions for 214 yards and four scores.

Quinton Ganther rushed for 120 yards and a touchdown in his final game as a Ute. Utah's defense–every bit as dominating as the offense–was spearheaded by defensive MVP Eric Weddle's superb performance against Tech's All-America receiver Calvin Johnson. Weddle hounded Johnson into a two-catch, 19-yard game. Weddle rarely left the field–also playing quarterback and on special teams. Steve Tate led Utah with 10 tackles and picked off his first career interception, which he returned 45 yards.

All-American Eric Weddle rushed for a TD and ended the game with an intercpetion.

FORT WORTH, Texas—Utah extended its bowl win streak to six in a row with a convincing 25-13 victory over Tulsa. In his last game as a Ute, consensus All-America defensive back Eric Weddle showed why he was considered the most versatile player in the nation. Weddle rushed for the game's final touchdown and then intercepted a pass on the last play of the game. He finished with six tackles, a half sack, a fumble recovery and an interception, while rushing for 56 yards and a touchdown. He also held for Utah's four field goals.

As good as Weddle was, the MVP honors went to sophomore kicker/punter Louie Sakoda, who made all four of his field goal attempts and a PAT to account for 13 of Utah's 25 points. Sakoda, who made a career-long 45-yard field goal on his first try, also kept Tulsa on its heels with his punting: He averaged 47.3 yards per punt and placed two of his three punts inside the Tulsa 20-yard line.

Brett Ratliff engineered a Utah offense that out-gained Tulsa 405-254. He completed 23-of-34 passes for 240 yards and a touchdown pass to Brent Casteel. Steve Tate led the defense with 10 tackles and a sack.

SAN DIEGO—Poinsettia Bowl offensive MVP Brian Johnson put on a second-half passing clinic, defensive MVP Joe Dale made a game-saving interception with less than a minute remaining, and Utah edged Navy 35-32 in the first bowl game of the season.

Stymied on the ground in the first half, Utah turned to Johnson's arm after the break. He connected on 20 of his final 22 pass attempts including 11 straight completions. Johnson also rushed for 69 yards and a touchdown.

A 28-point second half rallied Utah to a 35-25 lead with 1:27 remaining in the game. But Navy struck back with a 58-yard pass play to narrow the gap to 35-32. The Midshipmen recovered their onside kick and advanced into Utah territory before Dale's first career interception on the 31-yard line sealed a Ute victory.

Dale finished with a career-high 12 tackles. Paul Kruger added 10 tackles and a sack. Darrell Mack rushed for 76 yards and two touchdowns.

NEW ORLEANS—No. 7-ranked Utah, playing in its second BCS bowl game in five years, stomped heavily favored and No. 4-ranked Alabama 31-17.

The Utes, who finished as the only undefeated FBS team in the nation, scored on their first three possessions to take a 21-0 first quarter lead. Alabama made a run in the second and third quarters, trimming Utah's lead to 21-17, but could not find the end zone for the final 25 minutes.

Sugar Bowl MVP Brian Johnson feasted on the nation's No. 3-ranked defense, completing 27-of-41 passes for 336 yards and three touchdowns. Freddie Brown had a career-high 125 receiving yards, and Bradon Godfrey, David Reed and Brent Casteel all caught TD passes.

The Ute defense was just as overpowering, sacking Alabama QB John Parker Wilson eight times (three by Stevenson Sylvester) and intercepting him twice (both by Robert Johnson). Utah also stymied a Tide run game that was averaging 196 yards per game, but could get just 31 against the Utes. Sylvester and Mike Wright had seven tackles each. Kepa Gaison and Sean Smith combined for 12 tackles and three sacks.

SAN DIEGO—After spotting Cal a 14-0 first-quarter lead, No. 23 Utah scored 27 straight points and cruised to a 37-27 victory in the Poinsettia Bowl. Utah extended the nation's longest active bowl win streak to nine games with the win.

Freshman quarterback Jordan Wynn initiated the comeback after throwing an interception that Cal returned for a touchdown. Wynn recovered quickly and finished with 338 passing yards, three touchdowns and the Offensive MVP trophy.

Defensive MVP honors went to Stevenson Sylvester, who led Utah with eight tackles, and whose interception and 27-yard return for a touchdown in the fourth quarter gave Utah a 37-21 lead and doused any Cal hopes for a comeback. Also intercepting a fourth-quarter pass was Robert Johnson. Utah's defense was in the Cal backfield for most of the night, recording four sacks and nine tackles for loss.

For the offense, David Reed set school records for receptions and receiving yards in a season by catching six passes for 103 yards, while freshman tight end Kendrick Moeai made two touchdown grabs.

LAS VEGAS—Utah's defense started fast, but the offense led by backup quarterback Terrance Cain couldn't keep pace and Utah lost 26-3 to 10th-ranked Boise State in the Las Vegas Bowl.

On the game's first drive, Lamar Chapman sacked Bronco quarterback Kellen Moore, jarring loose the ball, which was recovered by Neli A'asa at the BSU 20-yard line. Utah couldn't capitalize on its field position and first-team all-Mountain West Conference kicker Joe Phillips missed a 39-yard field goal—his first miss inside 40 yards all season.

Other key defensive plays in Boise's scoreless first quarter included forcing the Broncos to punt, stopping them on downs and an interception by Chaz Walker that he returned to the BSU 32-yard line. The interception set up Utah's only score of the day—a 44-yard field goal by Phillips. Utah would not score again while mustering just 200 yards in total offense. Walker led Utah with 10 tackles, an interception and a forced fumble, while Chapman added nine stops, a sack and a forced fumble.

LAS VEGAS—Bowl MVP Travis Wilson passed for 158 yards and a touchdown and rushed for 91 yards and three scores to lead Utah to a 45-10 rout of Colorado State.

Devontae Booker rushed for 162 yards and a touchdown and Kaelin Clay led the receivers with 63 yards.

Utah's defense kept the Rams out of the end zone for the final three quarters, stuffed the CSU run game to the tune of 12 net yards and allowed just one third down conversion in 10 attempts. Jared Norris had eight tackles, while Jason Fanaika, Pita Taumoepenu and Nate Orchard all recorded sacks.

ZANE BEADLES

Offensive Line
2005-09
2009 All-American

Offensive tackle Zane Beadles was a first-team All-American by the FWAA, College Football News and Phil Steele as a senior in 2009. He was a second-team Walter Camp and SI.com All-American, and made the Sporting News' third team. The four-year starter was a three-time all-conference selection, making the first team in 2008 and 2009, and the second team in 2007. Utah won 47 games (47-17) during his five years on the team—the second-most victories in a five-year span in school history. A finalist for the Lowe's Senior Class Award and Wuerffel Trophy, he was also a second-team 2009 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American and one of just 12 football players to win an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. He served four years on Utah's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC). He was a second-round draft pick of the Denver Broncos in 2010, where he started for four seasons, including the 2013 Super Bowl, before signing with Jacksonville.

SHAKY SMITHSON

Punt Returner
2009-10
2010 All-American

After leading the nation in punt return average (19.1) and punt return yards (572) as a senior in 2010, Shaky Smithson was named a first-team All-American by the Walter Camp Foundation. Smithson, who also played wide receiver, was a first-team All-America all-purpose back by Scout/FoxSports.com. His other All-America accolades included second-team Phil Steele and CBSSports.com, third-team Rivals.com and honorable mention SI.com. The only player in Utah history to reach 500 yards in punt returns in a single season, his 572 yards set an MWC record. He averaged 44.0 yards per game in punt returns and was the only player in the country with four 100-yard punt return games: 145 vs. Iowa State, 140 vs. New Mexico, 128 vs. UNLV, 111 vs. Wyoming. He returned a punt for a touchdown in back-to-back weeks against UNLV and New Mexico and made it to the 2-yard line against Iowa State. He also led Utah with 21 kickoff returns for 507 yards (24.1 average) and was named the MWC Special Teams Player of the Week three times.

After shattering several NCAA kickoff return records, Reggie Dunn was named a first-team All-American by Athlon, ESPN and CBSSports.com. He was a second-team All-American by Scout.com/FoxSportsNext.com and honorable mention by SI.com. He also received the 2012 College Football Performance Award (CFPA) Kickoff Returner Trophy and was selected to the All-Pac-12 Conference first team. Dunn had more 100-yard kick return touchdowns than any player in NCAA history in a game (2), season (4) and career (5). Against Cal in 2012, he set NCAA single-game marks for most 100-yard kickoff returns (2), kick returns any distance for a touchdown (2) and kick return average (74.0). His 51.3 yard season average would have easily led the nation had he met the minimum of 1.2 returns per game, but he had only 10 returns—four of which he turned into touchdowns. He was the Pac-12 Special Teams Player of the Week against California and Washington State and was also named the CFPA National Special Teams Player of the Week in those games.
